WILKES-KINNEY.

Another wedding of interest took place in Big Springs on the same day as that of the Boatright-Nunn wedding and was one of the important nuptial events of the week, owing to the large circle of friendship enjoyed by the families.

At 6:20 Wednesday morning, June 29th, Mr. Sam C. Wilkes, Jr., of Post City and Miss Ira Kinney of Big Springs, at the home of the bride's mother, forsook the state of single blessedness and took upon themselves matrimonial dignities.

The bride, who is a very pretty girl of the brunette type, was gowned in a becoming costume of brown silk, her travelling dress, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and ferns. She was unattended except by the little ring bearer. Miss Harrington played Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the Presbyterian minister, Rev. Mr. Thomas, performed the ceremony.

The house had been prettily decorated for the occasion, with a beautiful profusion of cut flowers and palms, and the bride was very fair as she stood under the arch of lilies of the valley and ferns, and heard the holy man of God ask the blessing upon these, thy servants; and as Isaac and Rebecca lived faithfully together, so these persons may surely perform and keep the vow and covenant betwixt them made. After the congratulations a substantial wedding breakfast was served, and the happy young couple boarded the Texas & Pacific train for Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes will make their home at Post City, followed by the best wishes of a large community.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilkes, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkes, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Coggin were in attendance and accompanied the happy ones to Colorado, where, at 8 o'clock p. m. they all attended the wedding of their niece and cousin, Miss Suddie Nunn, and all left on the nine o'clock train for their several destinations.

"O, hear the chiming of the wedding bells

Their tender ringing bells,
All the fond greetings I would send to thee,

The wish that life may be
Sweeter and brighter far
Than all thy brightest hopes and dreamings are.

And though in after days thy steps may go

Whither thou dost not know,
May these sweet chimes still linger in thine ear

Filling thine heart with cheer,
And ne'er a tone of pain
Mar the glad music of thy life's refrain."

FARMER-BARNHILL.

Love has a way of laughing at other things than lock-smiths. The printer quite often is given the ribbles as well and has his enterprising curiosity frosted and nipped to the ground. However, he generally comes in for a fair share and in good time for the "cake and congratulations."

We had long suspected that friend John Farmer was trying to break into the benedict preserves, but at the merest mention of the subject he would ever fly the track and beg the question. No, he always averred, no time had been set or even discussed; and so we were thrown off guard. But on Sunday, being a conjunction of the day before the Glorious Fourth, the regular appointment of the pastor of the Christian church at this place, and a visit of John's brother from Hillsboro, and other zodiacal contingences, the conditions must have been auspicious for the consummation of his hopes and the realization of mutual plans. When we were informed on Monday morning that he and Miss Hattie Barnhill were married at the home of Mr. L. H. Weatherly, by Rev. H. C. Ford of Big Springs, on the night before, we were not surprised, only disappointed to think he could suspect us of not being able to keep a secret. However, we expect to get even some of these days by accepting a self-extended invitation to dine with the happy twain.

Both these young people are well and most favorably known in Mitchell county, and their friends rejoice with them in the wisdom and felicity of the step they have taken. Mr. Farmer has established himself firmly in a paying business, by his uniformly fair and pleasant dealings with the public. Miss Hattie Barnhill has been practically reared in this community, and enjoys a large circle of friends and well wishers who will share every success and joy that comes to her in her new relation.

BOATRIGHT-NUNN.

A wedding around which centered a great deal of interest, was that of Miss Suddie Avery Nunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Nunn, and Mr. Will Boatright, on Wednesday last. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Vivian Shropshire, and was witnessed by about seventy-five guests, including relatives and intimate friends of the family. The decoration of the reception suite was effected in green and white, with a tasteful arrangement of ferns and roses. "Happy the bride the sun shines on," and surely the beauty of the June sunlight was rivalled by the brightness in the eyes of the winsome bride, as she donned her wedding gown of shimmering white silk, with trimmings of real lace and pearls, and approached the marriage altar, carrying a shower bouquet of brides roses and ferns. Above the improvised altar was suspended a cluster of wedding bells; and the simple manner in which the wedding rites were celebrated, was heightened in its impressiveness by the very manifest happiness of the two young people in the spring time of their love. Miss Ruth Blandford accompanied by Miss Byrd Nichols, sang in her sweetest voice "O, Promise Me," and then Miss Nichols began Mendelssohn's wedding march, and the wedding party entered.

An aisle had been formed by two little ribbon bearers, Annie May Mann, and the bride's little brother, Robert Nunn, and walking before the bride and groom was little Mary Roberts Terrell, carrying a basket of flowers, which she proceeded to strew in their pathway. Then came the bride and groom and took their places under the arch and bells, and while Miss Nichols played very softly in monotone, they, who were twain, stood before God's minister, Rev. Holmes Nichols, and made vows by which they became one.

"Sweet is the music's peal and pleading,
Sweet its exultant throb and thrill,
Sweet is the calm and hush succeeding Sweetest of all is the bride's "I will."

After the wedding, a reception followed and Mrs. Nunn was assisted in entertaining by her daughter, Mrs. V. Shropshire, Mrs. S. T. Shropshire, Miss Cecel Nunn, Miss Elolse Shropshire, Miss Lena Moffat of Waxahachie and Miss Lena Moffat of Waxahachie. A large array of handsome gifts accompanied the good wishes of a host of friends, and notable are the exquisite silver bread tray given by the U. D. C., and the silver service from the Eastern Star. A check for $50 was given the bride by her uncle, S. C. Waldo, of Post City.

For a going away gown the bride favored a blue Shantung silk with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Boatright left Wednesday night for their home at Mary Neal, to which few home many good wishes accompanied them.

AN UNFORTUNATE SHOOTING

An unfortunate shooting occurred a few miles south of Van Horn, El Paso county, on the 29th ult., in which D. H. Snyder shot Don McCarroll, a well driller, three times. It appears that the men had been joking each other pretty roughly the evening before, and possibly each was a trifle sore over the occurrence. While Mr. Snyder and four others were waiting for breakfast, McCarroll and another man entered the room. Witnesses to the shooting, say that McConnel picked up, either a door bar or a rasp and made as if to assault Snyder, who, believing his life endangered, rose and shot him.

McConnel, accompanied by a physician, was put on a sleeper and taken to the hospital at El Paso, for surgical treatment. Two of the shots which took effect, were of a superficial nature, while one of them went through his abdomen, which last, may prove of fatal consequence.

Mr. Snyder was taken to El Paso, where the grand jury indicted him for assault with intent to murder. He was allowed his liberty with bond in a small sum.

RAILROAD PROSPECTS PICKING UP

Committee to Issue $300,000 in Stock, to be Paid for in 1, 2, 3 and 4 Years.

The Railroad committee of Colorado City, composed of Messrs C. M. Adams, E. E. Radford, J. A. Buchanan and Dr. P. C. Coleman, met with the local railroad committee in the office of S. B. Kemp, Tuesday afternoon. Dr. S. C. Parsons of San Angelo, was invited over and made one of the Robert Lee committee. The building of the road, plans of proceeding were threshed out completely and to the satisfaction of every one. It was the universal opinion of the committees that the road could be built by the people of Coke and Mitchell counties with but little cost and eventually make a handsome profit on the investment.

At this meeting a committee was appointed to be composed of three men from Colorado, two from Robert Lee and one from San Angelo, to go in person to railroad parties we are now figuring with on building the line and put the matter up to them and should they not agree to make contract at once the plan of building it with home capital will be at once started. The plan of building is about as follows: The committee suggested the issuance of $300,000 in stock, 15 per cent to be paid down and the balance in 1, 2, 3, and 4 year years. The grading to be done, as much as practicable, by Mitchell and Coke county farmers, part pay to go on partial payment of stock. All supplies to be furnished by Robert Lee and Colorado City merchants.

The proposition uppermost in the minds of the promoters is to invest home labor, material and money without any chance of loss. The road is to be first completed to Robert Lee then extended to other territory that will offer the best inducements.

The bonus asked for with right-of-way, depot grounds and town sites will be practically the same amount as raised at first. Before any grading is done all bonuses to be secured, all deeds of townships, right-of-way and depot grounds to be placed in the banks at Robert Lee and Colorado.

The time for the completion of the road has not been decided on, but plenty of time is needed to assemble both money and material. The greatest point in every enterprise is being properly prepared.

Children, you had as well get ready to move, this road is going to be built."

The above, taken from the Robert Lee Observer, clearly indicates the sentiment of the people of that county on the railroad question. They are determined to build the road, and if they cannot arrange with some firm of contractors to do the actual work, then the work will be done by home people entirely. In this way, every dollar of money paid for the construction, will find its way ultimately back to the same people who first paid it out. Can any proposition be fairer or safer than this?

Let one mile of this road be built, and there will doubtless be both men and money forthcoming to put the proposition through, but so long as other people, interested in other railroads, see that actual work is not begun, just so long can the enterprise be kept in abeyance. If we will only take the initial plunge, we will find that the water is not half so cold as we feared it might be.

The securing of this road would be worth more to Colorado and Mitchell county than anything that could happen to us. Let us not waste time, energy and money on other things, which will be of but doubtful expediency and profit, but bend every effort to the landing of this railroad.

Mrs. W. O. Wheatley, of Arizona, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Austin Rountree, returned to her home this week.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

President Joseph E. Ransdell of the National Rivers and Harbor Congress was greatly pleased when word came from the White House that President Taft had signed the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill. Several days previous to the adjournment of Congress there were vague rumors afloat about the halls of legislation that the president was seriously contemplating vetoing the bill because of certain items in the bill, that, notwithstanding the endorsement of the Board of Army Engineers, emphasizing the "dribbling" policy which had been an inheritance from former bills.

President Ransdell said that the organization, of which he was the head, viewed with great surprise the efforts of parties and interests to prejudice the Chief Executive against the bill. He said that he was very much delighted to know that the broad, judicial mind of the President enabled him, after careful examination, to sanction the bill. "We believe that it is in many respects the best River and Harbor Bill ever enacted," said Mr. Ransdell. "It embodies three definite plans:

First—It is so written that hereafter a River and Harbor bill must be passed every year just as are other great appropriation bills, such as the Army, the Navy and the Postoffice.

Second—It fixes a definite time for the completion of great projects such as the Hudson River and the Ohio, which under the 'dribbling' policy of former River and Harbor bills would require an indefinite time to complete. An important provision is made for the vigorous prosecution of smaller projects.

Third—It carries a larger sum for the current year than ever before thereby placing River and Harbor appropriations on a higher and more business like plane"

Supervising Architect J. Knox Taylor has started his force to work in the preparation of advertisements to be inserted in the various newspapers of the country inviting proposals for the sale of property for sites for the 270 postoffice buildings authorized by the omnibus public building bill. Mr. Taylor said they expect to be able to put out these advertisements in batches of thirty or so daily until all the 270 have been completed and allowed to run for the thirty days required by law. Then the proposals will be opened in the order in which sent out, bids tabulated and special agents sent forth to look at the sites offered. It will require his special agent force practically all summer as well in the fall to investigate sites which will be offered in various localities and will be well into the autumn before even the first site is purchased. Even after the purchase there is the Attorney General's force to investigate the title, whether a true and valid title may pass to the United States. Therefore one may figure that no site offered will finally pass into the possession of the United States much before the beginning of the new year. Then again, there is bound to be contests, as for instance the Department may decide upon a certain site as just what they want and the owner for one reason or another may not wish to sell, then if the government is insistent condemnation proceedings are instituted and this causes more delay.

The machinery for the establishment of Postal Savings Banks throughout the country will shortly be started, the Post Master General already having taken up the subject with some of the Bureau Chiefs and it is believed that by the end of July the postoffices, in the larger cities will have started in the work of taking care of the people's money who desire to use the banks as a medium for their deposits. The operation of the law will be watched with a great deal of interest and as Senator Carter has said it is one of the great pieces of constructive legislation this or any other congress has put upon the statute book and "wherever the law needs strengthening I have no doubt but that it will be done in a manner satisfactory to the whole country. I believe the Postal Savings Banks will become as much a factor with our people as the rural mail carrier or the city mail carrier."

Mr. Y. D. McMurtry returned Wednesday night from a month's visit to his old home in middle Tennessee. He looks much improved in health and can take hold of business in west Texas as now with a firmer grip and enthusiasm.

TWO LOBOS CAPTURED.

Two big lobo wolves had been depredating on the calves and colts in the HS pasture and dealing misery generally as well as evading all efforts on the part of the vicinity to discourage their depredations. At last a reward of $60 was put up for the scalps of the marauders.

Marion Mitchell, the prince of trappers, took a fancy to that $60 and decided to go after it. Enlisting W. A. Jackson and his two dogs, "Bigus" and "Queen," they started out after the prize. They returned Tuesday with the skins of the two big brutes and a check for $60.

The same trap was used to catch both wolves, which proved to be the largest ever captured in this country. The male of the pair was over seven feet from tip to tip, and would probably have tipped the scales at 200 pounds.—Sterling City News-Record.

GOOD MONEY FOR THE ORIENT.

Cable advices received from London announce the sale on the London market of $5,000,000 in first mortgage 50 year gold 4 per cent bonds of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Company. The sale was transacted by Arthur E. Stilwell, president of the railroad, and Edward Dickinson, vice-president and general manager.

A syndicate of prominent English brokers purchased the bonds. Stilwell says the sale will result in the completion of the extension of the line from San Angelo to Del Rio, and the 11.1/2 of the southern end of the line with the National Mexican railway. This will give a direct connection from Kansas City to Mexico City.

County Treasurer Patterson and Judge Crockett went to Snyder on the Fourth to help the patriotic in that hustling burg celebrate.

Misses Lella and Irene Whipkey entertained a little house party during the carnival days. Miss Mary Musgrove and Miss Fay Dulaney of Sweetwater and Miss Velma Wasson of Big Springs, were the guests, and on Sunday Messrs Paul Matthis and "Bill" Barrow of Sweetwater, spent the day. The girls had a jolly time, and took in the carnival, had picnics on the bluffs and, as they expressed it "bushels of fun." Miss Dulaney is spending this week with her uncle's family, Dr. S. F. Dulaney, while Miss Musgrove spent a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Burwell Cooper.

We not only entertain angels unawares at times, but snub millionaires unbeknownest. Who would have suspected the truth, when daily, for so, these twenty-five years, his sturdy form has been seen trudging his homeward way? The fact that Jake Maurer owns an automobile, was learned by an accident. It leaked out through an application made by a professional "Shoo-fer" for the position of driver of the machine. Alas and alack! How little we know the most intimate of our fellows. This incident is an emphasis of the adage that to hear the local news, one must go abroad.

A letter from Rev. Oscar W. Dean of Hereford, is to the effect that it will be impossible for him to come to Colorado next Sunday, or at any time in the near future. A wire has been sent Rev. Carroll Smith at Bartlett, inviting him to preach here Sunday, but likely no answer will be received before the Record goes to press. We hope the Baptist brethren may be able to secure a good pastor soon. If the ministry at large knew what a splendid place the Colorado pastorate is, there would be many to accept an invitation to "come preach for us."

John Person, the factum factorem of the busy young town of Burnham, is a Colorado visitor this week and reported everything lively and the goose as honking high. The big hotel there is finished, and affords a fine opening for some boniface who wants to grow up with the country while growing rich. There has been enough rain in that locality to keep things growing and the spirits of the people tranquil.

Markets

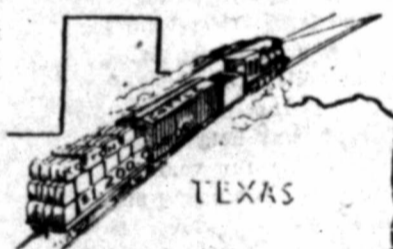

It is as important to properly market as it is to properly raise farm products. We are a producing country and therefore interested in markets and market facilities for our products. The world's average is two acres of cultivated land per capita while in Texas we have seven acres of cultivated land per capita leaving a surplus production of five acres of cultivated land for each individual which must be sold. The world's average in consumption of cotton is thirteen bales per 1,000 population; in Texas we raise one thousand bales of cotton per one thousand population or one bale per capita. We have a surplus production of 987 bales of cotton per one thousand population for sale. Texas produces 20 per cent of the cotton of the world and on a per capita basis uses one fourth of one per cent. We not only produce a large surplus but, through lack of diversification, concentrate our production, making a deficit in certain lines of production, equally as abnormal as our surplus production in other lines. We are a people of producers and interested in receiving a high price for our products. An increase of one cent per pound in the market price of cotton on 1908 basis of production will place in the hands of the Texas producers of cotton $20,000,000 and take out of the pockets of the Texas consumers of cotton goods $250,000 leaving a trade balance of $19,750,000 in our favor, says the Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association.

"Balance in Favor of Texas Producer."

Our prosperity depends upon the producer getting a high price for his products. The Farmers Associations, Fruit and Truck Growers Associations and all organizations and influences that tend to raise the price of products should be encouraged by all the people.

Texas is more seriously in need of factories than perhaps any other state in the union. Our principle products are cotton and cattle and the entire output of the cotton field and the ranch must pass through the factory before it is consumed. The Texas farmers ship $1,200,000 of raw material daily to the factories out side the state and buy a portion of this back as a consumer.

"Raw Material Leaving Texas Daily."

The farmer must pay the freight to the factory and although his products may cross the ocean he must foot the bill every mile of the way. By moving the factory to Texas we move the market to Texas, and eliminate the expense of transportation.

Hon. G. C. Rankin, Washington, D. C.

Men in high life, who are at a constant nervous tension, soon suffer from indigestion. Hon. George C. Rankin formerly of Monmouth, Ill., now holding a high position with the government at Washington, became afflicted in that way. LORAIN LETTER

Mr. and Mrs. M. Zellner returned Sunday morning from a trip to California. They visited San Francisco, Los Angeles, Redlands and other places of interest and are loud in praise of the beautiful, flowery, sunset land. The climate is delightful and conducive to health and longevity. They saw many hoary heads wearing youthful looking faces, and with active step. On the beach of the ocean in the southern part of the state, the air is very balmy. People lie down on the sandy beach and sleep, even in the noon-day sun. At times the beach is lined with people thick as turtles on a log, for this sun bath. The spirit of his boyhood returned and Mr. Zellner could not resist the temptation of wading in the peaceful waters of the great ocean. California has lately commenced the cultivation of cotton along the Colorado river, that rivals the Egyptian staple, hence her products are so varied that she can live independent of other sections. Mr. and Mrs. Zellner returned much improved in health.

Tom Cowan of Sweetwater visited relatives and friends here Saturday and Sunday.

Ed. Garland of Lamesa was here last Friday on business.

D. C. McRae and J. R. Hall attended district conference at Stanton this week.

Eld. Lawrence is holding a protracted meeting in Loraine under an improvised arbor. Rev. Lawrence is an earnest and forceful speaker and will do much good toward building up the membership in the faith. Come out and hear him.

J. W. Baker from Arkansas, brother of our postmaster, has become a resident of Loraine, and will assist his brother in the postoffice.

Jasper McGee and wife, parents of Mrs. J. M. Templeton came in Tuesday morning from Hillsboro. They report crop conditions in that section very good.

Arlie Martin and Grady McRae spent Tuesday in Roscoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Gregg are entertaining an honored guest at their home—Judge William Poindexter, Jr., arrived July 4th.

A great many Lorainites attended the mid-summer carnival at Colorado.

Mrs. W. A. Adams chaperoned a jolly crowd of young folks to the park Monday evening the 4th. They carried their supper along and after partaking of a bountiful feast and having a splendid time they returned home.

On Sunday morning July 3, about 11:30 o'clock Mr. H. R. Looby passed peacefully away at his home in Loraine. Mr. Looby's health failed some two years ago, suffering with dropsy, the never complaining, always looking on the bright side of things, and by his cheerful, jovial disposition he won many friends. On the night before his death he did not rest well, but on Sunday morning seemed to be in his usual health. Sitting on the side of the bed talking to his wife and two little children, his head drooped forward and death ensued without a struggle. In the passing of Mr. Looby Loraine has lost one of its oldest citizens, he having served in the capacity of telegraph operator, agent and general manager for the T. & P. railroad at this place long before a town was thought of.

Funeral services were held at the residence by Elder Lawrence, after which the remains were taken charge of by the Masons and Woodmen, and were followed to the grave by a large number of friends, the Masons taking the lead in the burial services. He was laid to rest in the Loraine cemetery, Monday July 4th. We deeply sympathize with the wife and little children in their loneliness and sorrow.

Mrs. G. J. Irvin of Roscoe came in Tuesday morning to visit with Loraine friends this week. Mrs. Jessie Smiley is visiting her son Mack Smiley at Roscoe this week. Mrs. O. Mitchell and children came in Monday night to join her husband at this place. They will occupy the McDonald place near Dr. Avant's.

C. P. Beeville of Bowie county, brother-in-law of Dr. Hays, who has been attending the bedside of the latter, returned home Monday. The doctor is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis went to Colorado Saturday evening, drove over to the picnic grounds and remained to see the fire-works display, after which they spent the night with their old friends Mr. and Mrs. F. D. S. Pond, returning home the next morning. They took the road leading to the neighborhood of their old home near Lone Wolf mountain. The crops along the way were in better condition than was expected. They saw cotton blooming and maize maturing heads, and with seasonable rains a bountiful crop may yet be raised.

One of the most delightful affairs that the young people have enjoyed for some time was the entertainment given by Miss Juanita Adams Tuesday evening. The yard was lighted by Japanese lanterns, and the young folks enjoyed out of door sports and games, and delightful music. Refreshments were served the guests before departing. Thus one more pleasant evening was added to the lives of those happy young people.

A careful survey of the surrounding lands of Loraine reveals the fact that much of the territory adjacent is first class fruit land, and can be made to yield handsome dividends by irrigation. For instance, black and dew berries, always a success with irrigation, can be made to net two hundred dollars per acre with sub-irrigation ditches, which is not patented, construction of which can be had for one hundred dollars per acre. Berries yield handsomely the second year after planting. This industry alone would do much towards giving work to many a lean pocket-book.

The same method of irrigating berries would also grow fine alfalfa with a slight increase in cost, the ditches having to be closer together.

In order to successfully run a creamery a supply of green food must be available and this can be had in the territory of Colorado. Colorado also has the advantage of cheap sand and gravel for making tiling for the underground ditch. The tiling is made like a trough, known as half tiling, and is turned top side down along in the ditch and then covered with dirt. This leaves an open space under ground for the water to run.

Now, try this, Mr. Farmer, as an experiment. Make troughs of 1x4 inch strips, dig ditches four or six inches deep, having ditches run nearly on a level, just enough fall for the water to run, place troughs top side down in bottom of ditch having an opening on the higher ground to receive the water. Let the trough lap a couple of inches when placing in ditch, and protect the openings on the sides at the bottom by placing old straw, stalks or any coarse material to prevent the soil from working under the trough. The whole is then covered with dirt.

WESTBROOK ITEMS.

(Mitchell County News).

Messrs. Weatherford & Worrell who have the sub-contract from Will Flippen to move the old school building to the new site, arrived Tuesday with their outfit and are at work preparing the building for its journey two blocks north.

A. W. Marsh brought to our office Tuesday well developed heads of maize that he planted in March. He has about sixteen acres of this early crop and the late rain will make his younger feed crop produce well.

A 3-year old child of S. C. Brown, who lives three miles north of Westville was kicked on the head by a mule, fracturing the skull about four inches and causing the brain matter to ooze out. Drs. Edwards and Lindley attended it, and at last reports it was resting well.

A board of equalization composed of E. S. Hudson, Emmett Hamilton, C. B. Hooper, C. H. Arrington and H. A. Lasseter, who is ex-officio secretary, have been appointed by the School Board to equalize the value of property subject to the special school tax of Westbrook Independent District.

W. L. Joyce, wife and children had a narrow escape from drowning while returning home from Spade Sunday night. While crossing a draw that was swollen by the rain, he got off his course and his team went into a deep hole near the road, turning his vehicle over spilling the occupants out in deep water and it took heroic efforts on the part of Mr. Joyce to save his family. The team was saved but the vehicle was badly torn up in the mixup.

A fine shower fell here last Sunday night and while in some localities it was light, many of the farmers got a good season in the ground.

Another rain came Tuesday night that covered a territory that the other rain did not reach, but several farmers received the full benefit of both rains making the ground 'too wet to plow.

Among the farmers who got a heavy rainfall are G. E. Skelton, E. F. Baker, Judge McCallum, J. C. Bullock, J. T. Candler, S. E. Perkinson, W. J. Boyce, F. M. Thompson, T. L. McKinney and D. A. Neel. The rain fell very heavy in the Westville neighborhood.

A Bargain for Printers.

Owing to the installation of our Linotype we have about 400 pounds of Century expanded 10-point type and 300 pounds of 8-point, which has been used only two years. This type is good as new and will be sold at a bargain with the cases. Prefer to sell all to one party, but will sell in smaller lots.—Address the Record.

COLORADO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 8, 1910

Don't neglect to vote tomorrow on the road bond issue. It is the duty of every voter in the district to go to the polls and cast his opinion of the matter.

Few people knew that an election was to be held Tuesday for the issuance of $10,000 school house bonds, with which to rebuild the school house which was burned, but every man, woman and child in the town knew that a prize fight between a white man and a negro would occur on Monday, at Reno, Nevada, nearly a thousand miles from home, and an affair in which they had not the slightest or remotest interest.

The carnival is an incident of history, and in a general summing up, it appears almost marvellous that some serious accident did not happen, when we consider the crowds, the rushing wheezing and disdainful automobiles, the nervous horses and the many other elements of confusion and noise that entered into the tout ensemble of the affair. To the splendid management, no doubt, is due the credit for no serious accidents or troubles.

Chief Justice, Melville Weston Fuller of the United States Supreme Court, died at his summer home at Bar Harbor, Maine, of heart failure, Monday morning. He was apparently in the best of health, and his death came as a shock to all his friends and the country at large. He had been chief justice twenty-two years, only chief justice Taney and Marshall exceeded him in length of service.

The people of Colorado were much edified last Sabbath by a magnificent sermon at the union tabernacle at 11 o'clock, by the venerable Bishop Key. Though he was superannuated at the last general conference, having reached the age of 80 years, the Methodist church possesses no more valuable asset in brains, and all that goes to build the walls and ramparts of Zion, than Bishop Key. His mind is as bright and active, his perception as clear and his logic as unassailable, as twenty years ago; while his experience gives to his thought the fullness and ripeness of the perfect product. He is not an overripened, sickled sheaf yet, but the sound, growing grain.

A red sand storm from the east struck this town yesterday to the great disgust of the average housekeeper. A cloud of red dirt apparently not over a hundred feet, seemed to have dragged itself along the ground and when it struck town it moved things for awhile. This is the first of its kind ever seen here by the oldest timer.—Sterling City News.

Don't think, Brother Kellus, it came from Mitchell county. No sir-ree. That same blanket of red dirt struck Colorado just as the carnival was beginning to hum, and the way it scattered the crowd was a sight. It evidently came from up Amarillo way, where all our windy afflictions start.

That prohibition does prohibit to a considerable extent was thoroughly demonstrated the three days of the Colorado carnival. The writer was on the grounds most of the three days and evenings, and saw only one man under the influence of liquor, and he seemed to be so ashamed of himself that he was very quiet and orderly. Would the conditions have been the same had Colorado had open saloons? We leave it for those to answer who have been to such places, when the calaboose or jail was filled with drunks every day.

Now that the ice plant and creamery are in active construction, it might be well for the people who expect to furnish milk for the running of the creamery to arrange for a sufficient number of cows to keep the enterprise running. Unless there can be had enough milk to keep the machinery running on full time, there can be no reasonable expectation that it will pay. It is just as incumbent upon the people who build the mill to expect the people it serves to furnish the grain, as it is on the man who owns a saddle to have a horse. Let's not let the enterprise fall down after being built for lack of support. The promise of abundant rain in this section, is a prophesy of sufficient grass to maintain several cows where now only one or two are kept. Be prepared to give the creamery a fair try out and test. It is up to the people of this community to do this much at least. Look to your cows. We have been crying for industrial enterprises, and now that a fair start has been made in that direction, we should see to it that what we have invited, is generously supported and sustained.

The consensus of opinion expressed by the people who attended the carnival was that the affair was a success from start to finish. No other affair of similar nature ever held in this county, was so satisfactorily conducted, never was there less confusion, fewer hitches nor one so free from all those disturbing incidents that make women and children unaccompanied by gentlemen feel apprehensive. To no one man does so much credit belong for the success of the undertaking than to manager G. L. Wallace. He was the "mainest guy" in the whole works, was everywhere at just the right time, possessed his soul in patience, wore his most ineffaceable smile and answered every question put to him at once. He has shown himself perfectly capable of handling a much larger proposition than the Colorado carnival, and the thanks of all who attended are due manager Wallace for his efficient work in making the carnival the success it was voted to be.

We rode out to the site of the proposed dam across Lone Wolf creek, and over the section that will be covered by the back water. It seems an ideal place for a dam, there being a rocky bluff on both sides of the creek, and a firm rock bottom for some distance above and below the dam. There are several sipe springs along the course of the creek, and with a dam twenty-five feet high, the water would be backed nearly to the Snyder bridge. A thirty foot dam would send the water beyond the bridge, and the springs would more than renew the evaporation. Such a supply of water, convenient to the city of Colorado, would be of inestimable value to the community. It would be as great an asset as that same amount of bank stock as a dividend producer, say nothing of the pleasure element of the enterprise. If possible, neighbors, let's have the lake.

Colorado is as good as any town in West Texas as regards natural advantages of location and surrounding territory. If there were a man or a number of men in Colorado, who had the money to put behind the town and pull off anything the town needed, Colorado would forge to the front rank in two or three years. Given the supply of good water Colorado has, the magnificent agricultural land surrounding it, such men as the Swensons, Post or Ellwood could do more in ten years with Colorado, than they have accomplished where they did invest, in that length of time. Money and nerve would build here a city of twenty thousand inhabitants in less time than other towns have been in acquiring half that number. Give us men with money and who have the nerve to salt it down for a few years and reap a harvest of gold as great as the tith of Cadmus from the dragon's teeth.

MILO LIGHT BREAD.

This is not a recipe to make bread but a little story about something worth while. Some weeks ago A. J. McElhenie, a real estate booster for Hereford, but whose home is at LaSalle, Illinois, shipped a quantity of Milo Maize to his Illinois miller who ground the seed into flour. Mrs. Mc-

Elhenie, being an expert in the culinary art and particularly in making light bread, made a batch of this milo flour into bread. It was delicious declares Mr. McElhenie, her husband. Far better than rye bread and as good as hard wheat bread. Mrs. McElhenie will make a trip to Hereford soon and she has an invitation to show some of her milo bread. The Brand editor will do the tasting and be the judge.—Hereford Brand.

SWEETWATER WINS AGAIN.

Once again the case of the Orient Railway vs. the town of Sweetwater, in which the railroad company seeks to move the general offices, shops and round house from Sweetwater to San Angelo, has been passed upon, this time by the court of civil appeals. An injunction which was granted by the district court will now take effect, but will quite likely be superseded by an appeal to the Texas supreme court, where a further fight will be made by the road against removing the general offices, shops and round houses from San Angelo, where they are now located.

The case was a peculiarly complicated one. The railroad has been known at various times as the Colorado Valley railway, the Panhandle & Gulf railway, and the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient railway. The city of Sweetwater has endeavored throughout to hold the company to original contracts made with the first company. The railway company contended that although the name of Sweetwater was placed in the original charter as the place for the shops and offices this did not necessarily mean that they should be permanently located at Sweetwater, as the law gives the railway company the power to amend the charter.

Sweetwater raised a large bonus and gave other considerations in the way of real estate, right of way and depot grounds in order to hold the shops and offices.

THE ROAD BOND ISSUE.

Pursuant to an order of the Commissioners' Court, an election will be held Saturday (9th) to determine whether the people of a certain road district, the bounds and limits of which are fully set forth in the published order, will vote a tax upon their property in the form of a bonded indebtedness, in the sum of $30,000, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, maturing forty years from date, for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof. The petition for this election was signed by more than fifty of the qualified voters of said district for the 9th day of July, 1910.

The Record, for one is heartily in favor of the bond issue.

No town or county can be better than the roads they support. Bad roads have been no small factor in diverting much of the trade that should have come to Colorado and Mitchell county, to other towns and counties. They have ever been the heaviest tax the farmers and all others who own and use vehicles have to pay; and this bad road tax is compulsory. This is the main reason why we are so indifferent to the burden it imposes. It can be thrown off only by building good roads.

There is no internal improvement that will add so much to the value of farm lands as good and easy roads. It brings every acre of land nearer the railroad by making transportation easier and quicker. This, however, is a question that each voter has the liberty and right to decide for himself, and the Record believes the good judgment of the voters of the above district will solve the question in its relation to the present condition of the county, to the best advantage of all.

That good roads can be made in this county has been thoroughly demonstrated on the streets of Colorado. The material is right at hand, not only for the city streets but almost all over the proposed road district. The money paid out for men and teams to place this material on the roads, will be paid to the farmers of the district, as the contracts will be let to them or provision made that contractors are to employ only local men and teams. The bad places on the roads of this district could be made as good or better than the good places are now with the money provided by the bonds. The tax payers have forty years to pay it back, and the increase of the taxes would be so small to the individual as to be almost unnoticeable. Most of the objection to the bond issue comes from the farmers, when they should consider that of the proposed road district, the greater part of the taxable values are in the city, and therefore the town would pay most of the taxes. Let the town and country get together on this proposition, vote the bonds and build some good roads. If this is done, other districts will be laid out and voted upon, and soon the entire county will have good roads. Let us put old Mitchell in the van guard of "Good Roads for West Texas."

To the credit of the state, Texas is the first state to move in the prohibition of the exhibition of the pictures of the whiteman-nigger prize fight. Even from South Africa comes an earnest protest against the exhibition of the pictures in that country. From Austin comes the positive assertion that among the very first propositions Governor Campbell will submit to the legislature at its called session, will be a stringent law prohibiting the exhibition of the moving pictures of this fight. From Maine to Texas; from every moral and religious organization in the country, comes an earnest protest against these exhibitions, and if the fight served no other purpose than exciting a widespread awakening to the brutality and depraving effect of a white man going into the prize ring with a nigger, the incident of the fight shall have not been barren of good. No incident of recent years has been the occasion of fanning the smoldering embers of race prejudice into a fiercer flame than this same prize fight. It was a deplorable thing for the morals of the whole country. We trust it was the last—the very last—positively the very last.

A sharp readjustment of prices of all the commodities that enter into the cost of our daily living, is now in progress. The consuming power of the people had reached a low point, and high prices were seriously disturbing trade conditions. These two factors combined serve to bring about a decided decrease of consumption, and production decreased in turn. A sharp competition has marked the trade throughout the country with a general tendency toward reduction of prices. This reduction was necessary to stimulate trade. Things bid fair at this time to assume normal conditions. The general assurance of good crops will further tend to hasten a still further reduction.

Home Course In Live Stock Farming

IX.—Care and Feed of the Dairy Cow.

By C. V. GREGORY, Author of "Home Course in Modern Agriculture," "Making Money on the Farm," Etc.

Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.

THE dairy barn may be either part of the general farm barn or a separate building. In the former case the part of the barn where the cows are kept should be partitioned off from the rest to keep out dirt and odors. There should be plenty of light. An occasional coat of whitewash will make the barn lighter and cleaner. Where there are two parallel rows of cows they should face outward. In this way the manure will be kept at the center of the barn instead of being splashed along the sides. The cows can be run in and out handier and be milked more conveniently. The manure can be easily cleaned out with a wheelbarrow or an overhead litter carrier. The floors should preferably be made of cement, with fairly deep, wide gutters of the same material. Plenty of bedding should be used to soak up the liquid manure.

Ventilation

Provision for some sort of ventilation should be made. The plan of having the windows placed high and so arranged that they swing in at the top provides good ventilation, especially if there are windows on both sides. Triangular pieces of board at the sides of the windows prevent drafts and cause the air to be forced upward toward the ceiling, where it is distributed all over the room. The King system of ventilation works well where the barn is tight. Flues for impure air open at the floors and extend up to cupolas in the roof. The pure air flues open near the ground outside and at the top of the room inside. This secures a constant circulation of air without drafts.

In a frame barn these flues can be made by boxing in the space between two studdings. Iron swing stanchions cost very little more than the old fashioned wooden ones and are a great deal more convenient and durable. The mangers may be made of cement, in which case they may be used for watering the cows in extremely cold weather. If the farm is provided with some sort of water system a pipe can be laid to one end of the manger, so that water will be constantly on tap either for flushing out the manger or watering the cows. With a short piece of hose the floors and gutters can be flooded occasionally and thus kept clean and free from bad odors. Both the floor and gutters should have sufficient slope to carry the water off.

Where the cows are watered from a tank, as they will be most of the time, some means of heating the water should be provided. If the cow has to heat herself it is with corn as fuel, instead of with coals, as where a tank heater is used. If the tank is banked and covered, a little fire every morning will keep the water at a comfortable temperature. The dairy cows should receive salt regularly. It is necessary to the process of digestion and causes an increased milk flow. A self feed covered salt box somewhere in the yard will provide a constant supply of salt without waste. Care should be taken not to let the box get empty, and if it should happen so the cows should be gradually accustomed to salt again before they are given all they will eat.

Regularity in Milking and Feeding. Regularity in milking and feeding is essential. Irregular milking always reduces the yield. Be sure to milk thoroughly, manipulating the udder to be sure that all the milk is withdrawn. Nothing will cause a cow to dry up more quickly than leaving a little milk in the udder each time. The udder should be wiped with a damp cloth before milking to remove dust and dirt. Each particle of dust carries thousands of bacteria. Cleanliness is the first essential in producing high class dairy products. The feeding should be done immediately after milking, especially if silage, turnips or other strong smelling feeds are used. If fed at this time there is little danger of tainting the milk.

The heifers should be milked for as long a time as possible during their first milking period. If they are allowed to go dry after five months or so they will never prove profitable dairy animals. It is the cow that keeps up a good milk flow ten or eleven months of the year that adds to the dairyman's profits.

Kindness is an essential point in handling dairy cows. Any unnecessary roughness causes the cow to hold up her milk and reduces the profits.

Feeding.

For three days before and three days after calving there is no better ration for the dairy cow than a mash of two pounds of bran and one pound of oil meal, fed twice a day. Do not be in too big a hurry to get the cows on full feed after calving. The ration should be increased gradually and slowly from five to six pounds daily to all the cows can profitably use. An increase of half a pound every alternate day is sufficient. This increase should be kept up as long as the milk flow continues to get larger. When the point is reached where increases in feed do not produce corresponding increases in milk flow the feed should be gradually decreased again. The first few pounds decrease will not affect the milk flow. When the point is reached where a further decrease in feed causes a lessened milk flow the most profitable ration for that particular cow has been determined. It takes a little extra work to do this weighing, but after the best sized ration for each cow has been determined the approximately correct amount can be measured out each time with little trouble. It pays to feed the cow all she can use profitably. It costs just so much to keep her anyway, and all the feed that she can use to advantage over that amount adds to the profits.

During the summer the feeding problem is a simple one. With plenty of good pasture, supplemented in dry times by some forage crop and some sort of protection from flies, the milk flow will be kept up to a profitable standard. In the absence of forage crops silage can be profitably substituted.

It is in winter that the highest prices for dairy products are secured, and if the cows freshen in the fall the main part of the year's product will come at this season. The problem of winter feeding is one of the most important with which the dairyman has to deal. If you have plenty of good clover or alfalfa hay and silage the problem is more than half solved. From thirty to forty-five pounds of silage and ten to twenty pounds of clover hay a day will make up the bulk of the roughage needed. A rack in the yard filled with corn fodder or oat straw will add variety to the ration. Where silage cannot be obtained a plentiful supply of pumpkins, squashes, turnips or mangels should be at hand to supply the succulent part of the ration. Without some such feed the cows will not do their best.

Mixing the Rations.

Although dairy cows can handle large amounts of rough feed, they need considerable grain in addition during the winter. Corn, because of its cheapness and high feeding value, will generally form the basis of the grain rations. Because of its high percentage of carbohydrates and fat some feed rich in protein should be fed with the corn. Oats are good, but they have only enough protein to make a balanced ration in themselves, and in addition they are generally too expensive to be fed in large amounts. Bran is one of the best of supplementary feeds when it can be obtained at fair prices. A little oilmeal, not over two pounds a day, has a laxative tendency and tends to keep the cows healthy. Cottonseed meal is used considerably in the south. It not only balances the corn, but also gives hardness to the butter, so that it will not melt so easily. Gluten feed is usually a cheap source of protein, but is unpalatable if fed in large quantities. The following are a few sample rations that will serve as a guide in mixing feeds:

Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution Authorizing the Establishment of a Home for Widows and Sailors.

House Joint Resolution No. 7.

Joint Resolution to amend Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, so as to authorize the grant of aid in the establishment and maintenance of a home for the disabled and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers and sailors and such women as aided the Confederacy, and making an appropriation.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3. Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, associations of individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age or whose disability is the approximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances who have never married and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since March 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers or sailors anterior to March 1, 1880; provided, said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month, and provided further, that no appropriations shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified in excess of five hundred thousand dollars for any one year.

And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided, the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for any one year, and no inmate of said homes shall be entitled to any other aid from the State; the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home; and provided further, that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity.

Sec. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas at the regular election of State officers, in November, 1910.

The sum of $5,000.00 or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses of carrying out the provisions of this Resolution.

SCHOOLS TO BE SEGREGATED.

Corpus Christi, Texas, July 6, 1910.

In a statement issued following a meeting just held at Houston, the Executive Committee of the Texas Industrial Congress emphatically endorses the proposed constitutional amendment to provide for the segregation of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College from the State University.

The statement sets forth the fact that agriculture is the great basic vocation of Texas, that the prosperity of those engaged in all other lines of activity in the State is proportionate to the prosperity of the farmer and that, in consequence of these facts, the betterment of all conditions affecting the farmer should be the first interest of the people of Texas.

It is pointed out that the A. & M. College will never be able to render the fullest possible measure of service to the State until it is placed upon an independent basis and made the object of more liberal appropriations at the hands of the State to the end that it may be equipped for more comprehensive, practical and effective work.

At the next convention of the Congress which will convene at Houston, beginning November 15th, it is almost certain that steps will be taken to throw the full force and influence of the entire organization to assure the passage of the amendment. Present indications are that the convention will be the largest gathering of any kind ever held in the State.

"Never Had a Sick Day."

You hear lots of people say they never had a sick day in their lives. Ask them further and you will find out they never have constipation and that they can easily digest everything they eat. That is the keynote of health—perfect digestion, perfect elimination. To obtain these, use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which cures all stomach, liver and bowel troubles in old or young. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed, and if you want to try it before buying, send your address for a free trial bottle to Pepsin Syrup Co., 119 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill. It is sold by all druggists at 50c and $1 a bottle.

TELL IT TO THE MAYOR.

If you don't like the way That the city today Is run by the men who have charge: If a copper is rough, If conductors are gruff, If your meat bills are growing too large, If the people up stairs Grind out phonograph airs, Till of patience you haven't a sign, Don't worry and pout Or go heaving about— Just drop Mr. Adams a line!

If you go to a show To get rid of your woe And the comedy is mournful and sad, If you're filled with chagrin When the Giants don't win, If the bones are too thick in your shad, If a butting-in cop Makes your motor car stop And the court makes you shell out a fine, Don't get surly and "cuss," Don't go making a fuss—

Just drop Mayor Adams a line!

For our hard-working Mayor Every minute is there— His address you should know, City Hall; He's a phone too, you know, Number so, so and so; Which in moments of haste you can call; He's a phone at home too, Maybe "three nine six two"— So you needn't get grouchy or whine, And remember when next By troubles you're vexed, Just drop Mayor Adams a line!

We understand that the School Board has adopted the plans for the new school building, and now that the bond issue has been legally voted upon and carried, they will push the matter through as rapidly as possible, and as soon as the contract can be let, work will commence. It is unfortunate that the delay occurred, but by making every day count, they can have the new building ready by Christmas at the latest. It is needed very badly and Colorado people will be glad to know that nothing now remains to be done but the actual building.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE

Just after the fire works display Saturday night, while Mr. W. W. Porter was loading furniture to bring to town, from the carnival grounds, a chair fell from the load and struck one of the horses hitched to the wagon. Immediately the team bolted and struck out down toward the bridge, which, together with the street down which they ran, was crowded with vehicles and pedestrians. Owing to the fact that the team was familiar with the route over which they had traveled several times daily, they kept to the street, but scattered chairs and furniture galore like a pin wheel scatterers fire. When the runaway team came to the bridge over the river, the passageway was crowded with vehicles, men, women and children pedestrians. All the buggies and carriages save one were able to get out of the way of the oncoming team. A buggy in which were Mrs. Henry Cook and a child, was struck and the occupants thrown out on the bridge and as the lady held onto the lines, she was dragged for some distance across the floor of the bridge. No serious hurt was sustained, fortunately, but the buggy had the hind wheels shattered to smithereens. It was hardly short of a miracle that something much more serious did not happen during the carnival. Had the team started any other way than the one they took, hundreds of helpless men, women and children would have been stamped and probably fatally hurt. Perhaps fifty people were narrowly missed by the flying team and heavy float. One young lady was struck and knocked clear of the road, but was not injured in the least. The darkness only added to the danger. We are glad to report this accident was not worse and that it was the only one that occurred during the three days of the carnival.

Witzen Bros. have given up the agency of the Abilene Ice Co., and G. L. Wallace has undertaken to deliver the last arriving car loads of ice. The chief reason for the former people giving up the handling of the Abilene product, was that having no storage vault, the loss was so great that they could not fulfill their contracts at the contract price without great loss. Orders have been given the contractor for the new ice and creamery building to rush the completion of the cold storage vault, that the ice shipped in to Colorado may be stored and handled without loss by melting.

Dr. R. C. Armstrong, representing the Sunday League of America, preached at the union tabernacle Sunday night, to an appreciative audience made up of the congregations of all the other churches. He inveighed heartily against the present day desecration of the Sabbath day and fervently believes that many of the calamities that come upon us result from the who'se and bodless violation of the commandment to observe the Sabbath holy unto the Lord. He is going over the state, without salary or the assurance of support, creating sentiment, to the end that the people may demand of their representatives, more stringent laws on this point. At the conclusion of this discourse, he asked all who endorsed his position and a more sacred observance of the Lord's day to rise, when practically the entire audience rose to their feet.

A Cough, A Cold

And then no telling what—unless you use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It is the best ask your neighbor. Look for the Bell on the Bottle. Sold everywhere.
