A PATHETIC CASE

Austin, Texas, Sept. 23.—Pathetic in the extreme was a letter which the Board of Pardon Advisers received today from a helpless mother who is pleading for a pardon for her husband. With simplicity, but forcefulness she wrote the Board of Pardon Advisers that since her husband was sentenced, she has been making a superhuman effort to support their babes, but has gotten to the place where she cannot do so. She suggests that her husband can, and if the board will permit, she will gladly serve the rest of his term if they will release him so that he can get meat and bread for her children.

The case is a sad one and the appeal of the mother for her babies and her proffered sacrifice is scarcely less pathetic than the conviction of her husband, who was sentenced for stealing some bacon which he traded for groceries that his children and wife might not go hungry.

In Statute Quo

There has been filed a contest in the District Court here of the late school bond election and the matter of issuing new bonds for a Central High School building will be held up until the Court, which convenes in December, decides the matter. It is contended that the illegal votes thrown out by the election judges, were legal and if they had been counted would have defeated the bonds.

It is urged by some who favor the bonds that the quickest way out of the dilemma is to confess judgment and then hold the election over again.

Judge Ed. J. Hamner is the attorney for the contestee, while Judge Royall G. Smith has been retained by the board. As the matter stands, nothing will be done until the December term of court.

Robt. M. Webb of Colorado City.

Candidate for United States Congress from this, the 16th., District, Texas for over 28 years. Some facts in the life and business career of one of West Texas' most honored citizens. When a man by reason of personal achievement or preferment at the hands of his fellows, steps into the limelight of publicity, there is always an interest attaching to him such as his personality, his habits, etc., and people ask, who is he, where was he born, how old is he, and what has he done? as an evidence of what we may expect in the future.

The subject of this sketch, could no more help being a Republican than he could being born in New York City in 1863—there are generations of Republicans behind him, so that he is in his natural element politically.

Mr. Webb came to Texas in 1881, and settled near Buffalo Gap, then the County seat of Taylor county. The Texas & Pacific railroad only came west as far as Weatherford in those days, and he had to come to Eastland on a construction train, finishing this trip to Buffalo Gap by mail hack via Belle Plain, then the county seat of Callahan county. He removed to Mitchell county in 1883, where he worked on the Van Tuij ranch for some time. He was called to New York on the death of his mother and returned again in 1907 to Colorado City, where he has lived up to the present time, gaining a vision of the vast state and its needs.

In 1899 he acquired the Colorado Waterworks, which had been closed down for some time. Two years later he took over the Colorado Electric Light and Power Co., and in 1902, he organized the Texas & Pacific Telephone Company building the exchanges in all the towns along the T. & P. R. R. from Abilene to Big Springs, connecting them with toll lines.

These three properties brought up from almost nothing are today worth over $150,000.00 of which he owns a substantial interest, and his efficient management of these public utilities has been one of the strong points of Colorado's success as a town of progress and civic pride.

His efforts to advance his party have not been without honor. In 1902 he held his first political position, being appointed road overseer by the Mitchell county Commissioners and he gave Colorado the best cleaning up it has had before or since.

About this time he organized the Colorado Fire Department of which there was serious need and he was its first president, holding this place for over six years.

In 1906, Mr. Webb was elected chairman of the County Republican Organization, and two years later was promoted to the chairmanship of the District in the state.

In 1908 he was elected president of the Commercial Club, having been its secretary for a year, and during his presidency the club reached the height of its usefulness and the high water mark of its popularity.

He is as progressive as he is loyal, an ardent admirer and close follower of Mr. Theo. Roosevelt, and attended the banquet and love feast given him at Dallas some years ago.

Mr. Webb is a strong believer in "My Policies" in "clean politics" and a "square deal," and is in thorough sympathy with the insurgents. He is a man of action, one who does and is doing things, and has worked hard to help build up his own town and the West.

There are a great many things needed in this Western country, such as Federal buildings in many of the towns, new laws for the relief of the cattle industry, and the great possibilities of irrigation in this dry section of ours need only Federal aid to make it equal to the irrigated sections of other states. In view of the fact that Mr. Webb has lived here in Texas, so many years, is familiar with the crying needs of the West, and in harmony with the administration at Washington, it is only natural to suppose that he would be able to secure the aid needed for our natural development and we commend him to the voters of the 16th. Congressional District as a candidate for Congress.—Ex. Abilene Daily Reporter, Oct. 4.

Osification of Conscience is a disease that infects most of the human race.

AMARILLO WET, STATES COURT ANOTHER ELECTION PROBABLE

Action of Attorney General in the Matter May Put a Different Light on Situation; Row Started in 1907.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 15.—The Court of Civil Appeals of the Second District today overruled motion of appellants for rehearing in the Celebrated Amarillo Prohibition contest, styled Savage, vs. Humphreys.

Today's decision places Potter Co. in the wet column, regardless of the election held in August. If the contention of the anti-prohibitionists is sustained that the August election is valid, the pros may call another election.

Then there is Attorney General Lightfoot to be considered. If his opinion is held that the election is void, then a second election will be necessary as part of the order by Potter county District Court in the case. The controversy started in 1907, when the County Commissioners declared that the antis had won a local option election. The Pros contested the election and while a decision was pending another election was held, which resulted in a victory for the antis by a narrow margin.

Broom Factory Output Sold.

A deal has recently been made, whereby the wholesale grocery firm of J. M. Radford has agreed to purchase the entire output of brooms, manufactured by the Big Springs Broom Factory. While the firm is starting out on a small scale this year, their output being in the neighborhood of forty dozen brooms per week, they will if a sufficient amount of broom corn is planted in this section next year, install several new machines and otherwise improve the factory in order to supply the demand for brooms.

The broom factory at Wichita Falls is one of the biggest industries in that city and there is no reason why the Big Springs Broom Factory cannot be built up likewise as the product of the home factory shows to be superior to those formerly sold to the trade here.

The broom factory will help build up our city, as well as this section, so boost it along and plant more broom corn next year and let the factory and the Big Springs Country grow.—Big Springs Herald.

Mr. C. K. Sloneger.

The world seems dark and life not worth living to the person who suffers from indigestion and stomach troubles year in and year out in spite of his efforts to be cured. But it is all a question of being fortunate enough to strike the right medicine. C. K. Sloneger, Liberty, Ind., says the right medicine for indigestion and stomach trouble is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which cured him. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed, and if you want to try it before buying, send your address for a free sample bottle to Pepsin Syrup Co., 119 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill. It is sold by all druggists at 50 cents and $1 a bottle.

To the W. M. Wardens and Brothers of Mitchell Lodge No. 563, A. F. & A. M.

Whereas, the mallet of death has again been dropped in our midst and our beloved brother, W. H. Goodwin has been called to that higher Lodge, to which he has long been advancing and Therefore, be it resolved that in the death of Brother Goodwin, Mitchell Lodge, has lost one of its most useful members, our town and county, one of the best citizens, whose memory we revere and death we deplore.

STREIGHT MOTION OVERRULED

Trial of Alleged Murderer of Her Husband Will Commence Monday at Waco.

Waco, October 15.—Judge Richard Munroe in the Fourth District court this afternoon overruled the motion made by counsel for the defense for a change of venue in the case of Mrs. Minnie Streight, charged with the murder of her husband, T. E. Streight, editor of the McGregor Mirror and one of the best known and most popular newspaper men in the State.

The examination of witnesses to determine whether or not a fair trial could be had in McLennan county, lasted five days. The trial proper will commence Monday.

Judge Monroe Denies Motion For Continuance

Waco, Oct. 17.—Judge Richard Munroe of the 54th. District court, this morning overruled a motion for continuance, sought by the defense in the case of Mrs. Minnie Lee Streight charged with the murder of her husband, T. E. Streight at McGregor.

The defense then moved to quash the venire of 150 men summoned for jury service, on the ground that clerical errors had been made in preparing and serving notices on them. At noon no action had been taken on this motion but it is expected that the case will go to trial this afternoon.

Mrs. Streight was apathetic through out the proceedings last week and this morning. She leans against a pillow with closed eyes most of the time, rarely smiling.

No Jury Yet Obtained

Waco, Oct. 17.—The work of impaneling a jury in the case of Mrs. M. L. Streight of McGregor, charged with the killing of her husband, began in Judge Monroe's court this afternoon. When court adjourned about one-fourth of the special venire of 150 men had been exhausted without obtaining a single jurymen. This work will be resumed tomorrow morning and it seems likely that it will be necessary to summon more men from which to select a jury.

Waco, Oct. 18.—Late this afternoon the special venire in the case of Mrs. M. L. Streight was exhausted, six jurors having been secured, four of whom were selected after 4 o'clock. Sheriff Tilley has been instructed to summon twenty-five additional talesmen for jury service, these to be on hand Thursday morning. A larger number of jurors was secured from the special venire than was generally expected. As much time has been consumed in the preliminaries in connection with the case, Judge Monroe will probably order night sessions until all testimony has been presented.

Mrs. Streight reclines on a cot just inside the bar, the first time in many years a defendant in a murder case has assumed a recumbent attitude while the trial is in progress.

BEAUTIFUL HOME WEDDING

Friday evening the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Dupree was the scene of an interesting event, when their daughter Hallie became Mrs. Harry Shipman. The parlor was decorated with growing plants and white cosmos, while in the dining room, where the gifts were displayed, a gorgeous fern filled the center of the table and bowls of flowers were placed in all available places. As the guests entered the porch, they were invited to register in the beautifully decorated guests' book. Mrs. J. R. Collier presiding over this. Mrs. A. J. Payne and Mrs. Morrill greeted the guests at the door and soon the parlor and halls were filled with friends who had gathered to witness the happy event.

Promptly at 7:30, the hour appointed, Miss Stoneroad seated herself at the piano and accompanied Miss Mary Coe, who sang most sweetly, "The Liferoad" a marriage song by Sidney Lanier. The solemn, beautiful words of this had hardly died away when Miss Stoneroad began the wedding march and Misses Van Tuij and Elinor Dupree marched in carrying the white ribbons, which marked off an aisle for the rest of the bridal party. Misses Doss and Walfjen came next, then Misses Dozier and Mary Coe followed by the bride and groom. The young ladies filled up the bay window, making a rainbow of more beauty, than any ever seen in the sky.

The contracting parties stood just in front of them, and the impressive marriage service was read by Rev. W. M. Elliott. As the Amen was spoken, the groom greeted his wife with a kiss, which was speedily followed by others from her family and friends, in the confusion, even the blushing groom, received a few. The congratulations were most hearty and sincere as Miss Hallie has endeared herself to all in the few years she has dwelt among us and the highest praise that can be given is to say, she was loved best by those who knew her best. Mr. Shipman, a mining engineer of Bisbee, Arizona was such a pleasant gentleman that her friends were all delighted with him and only regretted that they could not know him better.

The Bridal party and young men repaired to the dining room where delicious ice and bride's cake were served by Mrs. Ed. Dupree, Mrs. Tom Morrison and Misses Minnie Dupree and Pauline Payne. The wedding bouquet was thrown by Mrs. Shaw and caught by Prof. Dawes, who presented it to Miss Mary Coe. Mr. Elliott took out the marriage service and offered to make her the next bride, but she asked for time to consider. The pretty gifts which filled the dining table were much admired. They were of silver, china and cut glass and were all useful as well as beautiful.

The bride who was married in her traveling dress, an elegant tan pongee, with trimming of buttons and dainty lace, had only to don her hat and long coat of pongee, which matched her dress to be ready for her journey west. The guests accompanied the bride party to the train, Mrs. L. C. Dupree going east to accompany a dear friend, Mrs. Merchant of San Angelo, to Rochester, Minn., where she goes for an operation, was said goodbye to first, then the west bound train came in and Mr. and Mrs. Shipman were bidden adieu amid showers of rice and good wishes.

The happy couple start out on the journey of life with the good wishes of a host of friends and relatives and the only change that is hoped for is a change of residence which will give them both to us.

Miss Fulcher of Cobasset, a very dear friend of Miss Dupree, Mrs. Cushing, also of Cobasset and Mrs. George Dupree of Fort Worth were the out of town guests and Mrs. Potter of Big Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Shipman expect to remain in Bisbee until the New Year when they may go to South America.

A DREAM OF A RAMBLE THRO' EDEN.

Long vanished years ago, in dreams,
I trod the paths of Eden's garden;
The flush of dawn was all aglow,
Athwart the Eastern Heaven—
Fleecy clouds of pink and purple,
Above the horizon billowed.
Breezes balmy, with perfume laden,
Whispering thro' the leafy trees,
Fanned my cheek as soft as zepher,
Fan the cheek on summer eves.

Songbird notes of morning greetings
To young and mates, came from the bowers;
Scattered dewdrops like fair jewels
Crystallized the fruits and flowers.
Fruits divine! the trees were laden,
Luscious, rosy, golden.
Pendant from the verdant leaves,
Purple fruits with hidden wines,
Of clustering fragrant bunches,
In the cool and shadowy vines.

Toward the opening morn, I wandered on,
In dreamy, blissful ecstasy.
Through fragrant flowers of beauty
rare,
Of tints that rivaled the rainbow's ray,
On either side a garden grew—
A garden of roses.
From bursting buds with dewdrop
full
Rich perfume filled the air,
A garden of roses in the Garden of Eden.

What Heavenly scene more fair?

I wandered on and on enraptured
When sudden across my winding road,
Its deep green waters murmuring low,
A gleaming shining river flowed.
Tall and beautiful greenwoods lined its massy, flowery banks.
The lillies bloom, neat rushes, tall
Their beauty, none can know.
I gazed at sky and trees and flowers,
Within the shadowy depths below.

O'er all this heavenly scene enchanted
I mutely stood and gazed afar—
Across the river an beyond the vale,
A distant mountain in the morning air Rose bold in misty purple, whose snowy crest,
Did rift the clouds,
That hid in part its cap sublime—
My eyes aloft, with rapture, burst my heart

Oh! heavenly joys of eternal time,
Can mine, of Thine be thus apart?

Sudden behind me I heard a voice,
In cadence sweet and low,
Like the ripple of moonlit waters,
Saying "Peace be to Thy Soul."
I turned and saw a heavenly creature
Of angelic face and mien,
Around his head, a halo sprang,
With a shining radiance glowing.
His pure white robes in fleecy folds,
Down to the ground a flowing.

His smile was sweet, his fact as fair,
Forth to me he held his hand,
And in that same sweet voice of melody,
Like Aeolian harps of night winds fanned
With mingled pity, he spoke again,
"Peace be to Thy Soul."
In meekest, humblest adoration,
Full, prostrate to the ground I bowed.
To worship this, the Son of man,
Divinest creature of Heaven endowed.

He took me by my hand, closed my eyes,
As forth he led me from the bowers,
We wandered far, I knew not whither,
Far from the perfumes of the flowers,
I heard no more the sound of rippling waters
Or songbirds caroled notes
Soft his steps, as sudden were stopped
His hand, he laid upon my head,
And in that same sweet voice so low,
"Peace be to Thy Soul" He said.

The prosperity of Texas farmers in the districts where good roads have been built, has increased by leaps and bounds and the interest which the farmers are taking in the subject and the manner in which they are co-operating with the commercial organizations in securing better highways, augurs well for the future prosperity of the agricultural interests.

Send Get One.

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 21—The Texas Commercial Secretaries' Association has just issued a neat eight page pamphlet, giving names and addresses of all Democratic candidates for the 32nd Legislature of Texas and also a list of Republican candidates in districts that have heretofore sent Republicans to the Legislature. The record of membership in previous legislatures is also shown in this pamphlet. There will be 22 Senators in the 32nd Legislature who were members in the 31st. The total membership of the Senate is 31. There will be 62 members of the House who were members of the 31st Legislature. The total membership of the House is 133. The election may slightly change the figures relative to the record of members in the 31st Legislature who will occupy seats in the 32nd, as in some instances Democrats may be elected from Republican districts or vice versa.

The new membership has among its numbers some of the most progressive citizens in the state and the Legislature, as a whole, will constitute one of the strongest bodies of law givers ever assembled at Austin.

The pamphlet contains information useful to those who desire to communicate with the members of the 32nd Legislature and cannot be obtained from any other source. The pamphlets are for free distribution and can be secured on application to the headquarters of the association in this city.

WHO ARE "THEY"?

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
We all have a way of saying "they say" this or that or some person or some thing and accepting it ourselves as authentic when someone says "they say" to us.

But if we stop to inquire into the exact source of the information, either we would be unable to trace it back to anyone other than that elusive individual, "They say," or we will find back of it the unkind gossip of some enemy.

And just because "they say" fails to put the blame of a falsehood on any one person's shoulders it really is the most dangerous of statements and one of the hardest to refute.

So let us beware of believing "they say" stories. Let us treat lightly all gossip introduced by the words "they say," or if this gossip makes us suspicious of its object—and it is natural and human that it should at times—let us suspend judgment until we KNOW. In other words let us do the object of "they say" the justice to investigate until we find someone who is in position from actual knowledge and whom we can trust, to make a positive statement over his own name as to the truth or falsity of the
"they say" story.

The writer has been led to pen this little lesson in practical fairness by reading a little book issued by the Coca-Cola Company of Atlanta, Ga., entitled "The Truth About Coca-Cola." That truly delicious and wholesome beverage has for so long been the subject of "they say" stories in which all manner of untrue and detrimental things about Coca-Cola have been circulated that the manufacturers have been forced to issue their book giving authentic information about this beverage. And the information therein contained does not rest its case on any "they say" statements, but bases its arguments on analyses and statements of chemists and scientists occupying the highest positions in America.

This is a most interesting book—a fine study in dignity in refuting falsehoods—and a book of information that all should read. You will find it well worth your while to write and ask the Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga., to send you a free copy.

STATE FAIR HORSE SHOW.

Splendid Program Arranged—$2,000 in Premiums Offered.

Dallas, Texas—One of the great features of the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas at Dallas, which opens October 15 and continues sixteen days, will be the four night horse shows. These shows will be given on the four last week nights of the fair. Prizes totalling $2,000 in value will be distributed. The prizes aggregate $1,500 for roadsters, $2,500 for heavy harness horses, and $1,500 for saddle horses. In addition liberal prizes are offered for horses of all ages in the breeding classes.

Anticipation will never surpass the excitement of the horse shows. The splendid animal show has no rival in the popularity enjoyed with all classes. Those participating in the show rings at the fair this year must show five distinct gait, viz: First walk; second trot; third rack; fourth canter; fifth, running walk, fast-trot or slow pace, if they desire to show for some of the richest premiums offered.

The fair management is especially gratified at the number of applications made for entering heavy harness horses. Some of the great fanciers of the North and East are coming. A telegram was received from W. E. Brown of New York, asking that a list of prizes be sent him. He notified the management that some of the horses participating in the Madison Square show in New York will be sent to Dallas.

Brilliant, indeed, promises to be the horse shows. They will be given in the new coliseum arena, which is 90x150 feet in dimensions. A splendid program will be condensed between each ring by Thomas' band; and, in addition, Chumley's troop of Arabian horses will give a variety to the exhibition.

FEATURES AT FAIR.

New and Interesting Attractions and Features Have Been Received.

Dallas, Texas—In addition to the fact that there will be an extraordinary display of livestock and agricultural products at the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas, which opens at Dallas, October 15, and continues sixteen days, the management this year has arranged for many features which not only add to the importance of the fair from an educational standpoint but will also give an interesting and profitable program to the general public.

These features are all of an educational value. Principal among them are: A United States naval exhibit; a display of the geological and mineral resources of the state; a fishery exhibit; a model cotton farm; a good road park; manufacturing machinery in operation; and an old-fashioned town square, the kind so popular in the States before the war.

United States Naval Exhibit.

Lieutenant Adolphus Andrews, to officer in the United States navy, is in charge of this exhibit. Every patriotic citizen takes pride in the war fleet of Uncle Sam. Individual members of the "White Squadron," from the loyalty battleship to the mysterious little submarine, have their own special interest in the exhibit. That is why an exhibit in this new department is assured. There will be models of every instrument of warfare, from the big slow-moored gun to the deadly torpedo. In glass cases, miniature replicas of some of the finest vessels in the navy, will be exhibited. The mechanism of the submarine, the latest development in warfare, will be explained. Linked with this, many pictures of the maneuvers of the North Atlantic squadron off Hampton, Va., will be produced. This production will be realistic in the extreme, and of interest to all.

Minerals of Resources.

Few Texans realize the richness of their state from a geological and mineral standpoint. To forcibly impress this upon the minds of visitors and to direct their attention to the opportunities offered in the development of these resources, Dr. William B. Phillips, director of the Department of Geology of the University of Texas has arranged to exhibit at the fair the collection of Texas ores and woods belonging to that institution. The management, delighted with this offer on the part of Dr. Phillips, has set aside a space of sufficient size, admirably located for the exhibit.

Under the management of the Department of Fisheries of the United States Department of Fisheries of the United States has been installed in the Exposition building. This is directly in the center of what was known last year as "Mussel Hall." It is octagonal in shape, built of glass and stone, filled with running water, and it will be exhibited all the fish native to the creek, lakes and rivers of Texas. The exhibit will be sent to Dallas from San Marcos and will be under the supervision of John L. Leary of the Bureau of Fisheries.

Features for November.

Indeed, so numerous are the new features at the fair this year that it is a hard matter to list them at all. Good Roads Park should, however, not be overlooked. This park as its name implies is to demonstrate the great benefit derived from good roads, and at the same time exhibit in a practical manner for educational purposes the various kinds of road material and road building machinery. Professor Robert J. Purke, manager of highways of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Austin, will be in charge of this exhibit. Professor Purke promises this more to be the most beneficial ever exhibited under the auspices of the exposition. Macadam, bitulith, all-weather, brick, wooden blocks and all other classes of road materials will be exhibited here.

Special days will be held at the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the State Fair of Texas, which opens at Dallas October 15 and continues sixteen days. The management of the fair will be in charge of the fair which will be held on the four last week nights of the fair for which Band Thomas is arranging special programs to be given Monday, after-noon and evening.

COLONEL ANDREW JACKSON HOUSTON.

Col. Andrew Jackson Houston was born at Independence, Washington County, Texas, June 21, 1854, and received a common school education.

While in the practice of law, as well as while in the civil service and military service, he has been a close student of public questions, both State and National.

His father was Sam Houston, who was an officer in the First Infantry, United States army, a member of Congress from, and Governor of, Tennessee, commander-in-chief of the army which secured the independence of Texas from Mexico, and the first and the third constitutional president of the Republic of Texas, who effected the annexation of Texas to the United States, was the first United States Senator elected from the State and twice re-elected, was elected Governor of Texas as a Union man and was deposed by the secession convention, because he refused to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederacy. Long before the sorrow which the Civil War brought upon Texas, had passed, the sentiment which had supported Sam Houston during the many years that he had guided the destiny of Texas, began again to show itself. In 1879, during the administration of Governor O. M. Roberts, who had been president of the secession convention, the legislature established the Sam Houston Normal Institute, the most important of all the great educational institutions of the State. In 1893 the legislature placed his statue in Statuary Hall of the capitol at Washington. In 1901 the legislature made an appropriation of $10,000 to begin the erection of a monument to his memory. One of the principal cities of the State was named for him, and the United States Government named one of its most important military posts for him at San Antonio.

Andrew Jackson Houston has always voted for Prohibition as a principle, and in 1887 canvassed for it from Dallas. While in attendance as a delegate at Republican State Conventions he has invariably opposed every anti-prohibition plank in the platform and, finally, finding the sentiment of that party to be opposed to State-wide Prohibition, he severed his connection with them and attended as a delegate to the State Prohibition Convention at Dallas. He was there requested by the chairman to address the convention. During his speech he so enthused the audience that there was passed among the delegates that Houston was the man to head the ticket.

Colonel Houston has been an active worker along all lines looking to civic betterment, and to the moral upbuilding of his city and state, and is prominently identified with almost every work for the moral and physical good of all the people.

Among other things it may be stated that Colonel Houston has always been an active member of the Y. M. C. A. and the W. C. T. U., was one of the organizers, and is vice-president of the Anti-Saloon League at Beaumont; is one of the three members of the board of advisers of the United Charities of Beaumont; president of the Beaumont Civic Federation, 1908-9; is the Texas member of the board of Governors of the Lakes to the Gulf Deepwater Association; was member of the committee of the association to present the report by its convention to the President, the Vice President, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives; member of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce; Chairman of Committee on Conventions; Chairman of Committee on Education of new market houses, lately completed; Chairman of Committee on establishment of poor farm; Chairman of Committee on union station; Chairman of Committee on fine arts of the Southeast Texas Fair, 1909; first president of the Texas Federation of Arts, 1909-10, and associate member of American Federation of Arts.

Colonel Houston assisted to organize and named the first president of each of the following organizations: Jefferson County Drainage Association, the first in the State; the Gulf Coast Drainage Association; the Jefferson County Good Roads Association; the Citrus Fruit Growers' Association. He has always attended the Baptist Church. He is a Pythian and a W. O. W.

Colonel Houston was admitted to the bar at Tyler, Tex., in 1878, and practiced law there until appointed clerk of the United States Circuit Court at Dallas in 1879. In 1889 he resigned as clerk of said court, after ten years' service, and practiced law at Dallas and Beaumont until appointed United States Marshal in 1902.

In 1873 Colonel Houston organized Company A, First Regiment of Infantry, Texas National Guard. In 1884 he organized the First Texas Cavalry, Texas National Guard, and commanded it in 1884-85, and 1895-96. In 1885 he organized the Fourth Regiment of Infantry, Texas National Guard, and commanded it 1885-92. In 1897 he organized and commanded Troop C, First Texas Cavalry.

According to the official reports, the First Battery of Artillery, the regiment of infantry and the troop of cavalry, during the years named, were reported as first in organization, administration and discipline.

Besides this, Colonel Houston has taken some part in politics, being in 1890 chairman of the Republican Executive Committee of Dallas County, in 1892 nominee of the White Republicans for Governor, President of the Republican League Club of Texas, in 1905 Chairman of the Texas delegation to the National League Convention at Denver, in 1896 Republican nominee for Congress, Beaumont District.

EXIT.

With last week's issue of the Record, my connection with the paper in an editorial capacity ceased by my voluntary resignation. I shall however, always retain the liveliest interest in its success, and stand ready at all times to lend a helping hand.

It is with deep regret I quit newspaper work, as it appeals peculiarly to my tastes and temperament; I shall remain in Colorado however, and be ready to serve my friends in any capacity, I can.

During the past four and a half years, my association with the management of the Record and its clientele, has been most harmonious and pleasant, and I wish to express my appreciation to both, for their tolerance of mistakes, sympathy and encouragement. I gave to the work the best there was in me, and I crave no greater meed of praise than that measure of effort inscribed upon the tombstone of "Three Fingered Pete" of Arizona:

"He Done His Damdest."

A. H. WESTON

The Record regrets that Mr. Weston has seen fit to sever his connection with us. His place will be hard to fill. The past four years of his work with us has been quite satisfactory; as stated above, we regret to lose him. He is a fearless writer of known ability, a good office man and above all, a gentleman. The Record wishes for him, abundant success, in whatever field of labor, he may enter.

To Our Subscribers.

The Record has said but little about paying for your paper, but now we wish to urge our readers to please call at the office or see the Record man on the streets and pay him the one or two dollars due. We have over 1000 subscribers who owe us from one to two dollars each and if all would pay up now we would be able to pay our debts and get out a much better paper.

Friends, this request means only one or two dollars to each of you while it means more than a thousand dollars to us, and we kindly ask one and all to help us now in time of need.

Probably a great many people would prefer to vote for Bryan as a Prohibitionist, rather than a Democrat. He is not a visionary man in this, simply a moral one looking for advancement and progress along moral lines.

Its dull day when citizen Teddy Roosevelt can't keep on the front page, with his picture for full measure. As an advertiser, he is par excellence. Had he only thought to arrange a wreck and high fall from the flying machine, his audience had thrown fits and fell in 'em.

Coming to us this week as an exchange, we find the Tribune from the fast growing town of Fluvanna. R. S. Jackson, an old Snyder newspaper man is editor and the new founding starts off bright, breezy and full of the stuff that makes a newspaper man smile. Jackson deserves better success than was accorded the Herald.

We invite the attention of those who will appreciate its truth to the article: "Is the home worth the price?" from the pen of the wife of a renter. She lays bare all the sophistry of "the unattainable aspiring to the unattainable. There's no more important economic question pressing upon the people of West Texas today, than the one she discusses. Be sure to read her contribution; it is a valuable viewpoint from which to see this socio-economic problem.

West Texas a Joke for East Texas.

(El Paso Times)

Our esteemed friend, the Keeper of the Book of Jefferson and likewise, the genius who presides over the editorial columns of the Waco Times Herald—may he and it (though often badly mistaken) never grow less—thus facetiously rebukes the Times and West Texas for presuming to protest against discrimination and injustice.

"But it is news to us that West Texas is an entity which can claim public lands. We have been under the impression that Texas had full ownership of all public lands from the Red to the Rio Grande. But here comes our El Paso brother and dispels this illusion; West Texas has her public lands. Then why does she entrust their keeping to East Texas? Why doesn't she picket her own?"

And it likewise appears to be news to the esteemed Times Herald that West Texas has any rights that East Texas or (which is the same thing) the state government is bound to respect. Because the state owns the lands, there is no just reason why they should be squandered to the advantage of East Texas and the impoverishment of West Texas. The Times does not claim the public lands as belonging to West Texas exclusively and our contemporary misquotes us again. But suppose they were, how would West Texas be able to "picket her own" against the overwhelming strength and the insatiable appetite of East Texas? If West Texas has no interest in the public lands, then East Texas has none to the millions of acres in West Texas that have been given to railroads for East Texas.

Our contemporary dismisses the matter of the monopoly by East Texas of the state's flicers by asking: "When has West Texas put forward a favorite son for political honors?" When has West Texas put forward a favorite son for political honors with the hope of landing him or who was not defeated by a favorite son of East Texas? When did West Texas ever ask for a state institution or a share in appropriations for any public object and get it?

What is the infamous I. & G. N. Bill if not legislation for direct benefit for East Texas and her swarms of damage suit lawyers? As for other legislation for the direct benefit, we refer to the fat statute books. The legislators who fatten these books, it is true did not have the hardihood to label these laws "East Texas Laws" but their effect is just the same and our contemporary knows it.

"What is there to keep you trans-Pecos people, brother beloved" says our contemporary "from developing your stores of oil, coal, gold, silver, lead and copper? Where rests the ownership? What would you have us do? Sit alongside brother beloved, and let us receive in our good ear your tale of woe; maybe we have been asleep at our post of duty and should be put in the guard house for a couple of weeks."

The only thing that keeps trans-Pecos people from developing our vast mineral resources is East Texas which persistently kills every mining law that is proposed under which their development would be possible. All we would have you do is to give us liberal mining laws that would permit our mineral resources to be developed to the enrichment of the whole state. Our contemporary and its east Texas constituency have been guilty of a worse crime than being asleep at its post. It has been very much awake, building a Chinese wall to shut out development from West Texas.

Our contemporary can not seriously deny that gross injustice has been shown to this section of the state.

It will not deny that East Texas, by reason of its ability to outvote West Texas, has procured the enactment of laws that, while benefitting East Texas, have proven most injurious to the interests in this section. It can not and will not deny these things, because they are true and whatever else may be its faults, untruthfulness is not one of them.

"As for the damage suit industry," says our contemporary, "that illusion calls for the Ranger force and the National Guard. We count that among our most valuable assets, and your infidel assault will be resisted to the death."

The threat of the Rangers has no longer any terrors for us, since that relic of reconstruction days will soon have become a thing of the past. The only thing that makes the heart of West Texas quail is the threat of a session of the legislature, because we have long since learned the source from which our wrongs emanate.

A bad road is an utterly worthless asset to the industrial ledger of a community, and one mile of bad road offsets the value of three miles of good roads. Build good roads and help Texas grow.

The harshest critic is always the most ignorant.

Homogenius, Oh Yes.

For the edification of those who claim that the people of Texas are of one mind, like interest and equal reverence for traditions, the following skit is to the point:

"The bigness of Texas is evident from a cursory examination of the map. But its effect upon the people of that state is not generally known. It is about 600 miles from Brownsville at the bottom of the map to Dallas, which is several hundred miles from the top of the map. Hence the following conversation recently in Brownsville, between two of the old time residents:

"Where you been lately, Bob? I ain't seen much of you."
"Been on a trip north."
"Where'd you go?"
"Went to Dallas."
"Have a good time?"
"Naw; I never did like them damn yankees, anyway."—Everybody's.

"How many children I ave you, Mistress Murphy?" asked the genial census enumerator.

"Foive, please God; two living, two dead and wan in Sweetwater, sor."

The happiest man in the land today is the successful farmer. He sits under his own vine and fig tree, undisturbed by the maddening noise of the city. Banks fail, railroads go into hands of receivers booming towns collapse, all business stagnates. But the wise farmer can snap his finger at these things. He is the monarch of all he surveys on his broad acres. And his boysetaoinshrdtcmfwyppvbg

"Ever see a bald headed woman?" is the senseless question going the round of the country press. No! nor will any one else until the supply of hair,—feminine, equine, bovine and quinine gives out.

THE ALARMING INCREASE OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

"He died of Bright's Disease." Hardly a week passes that this statement is not made in reference to some prominent citizen.

The increasing prevalence of this disease makes the present time seem most opportune for discussion in the hope that some who are unconsciously afflicted with this dreaded disease may receive timely warning.

A prominent citizen residing in a nearby town informs us that he suffered for nearly a year from Bright's Disease, but that he recently affected a complete cure.

"What seemed to be the first indications of the trouble," was asked.

"They seemed hardly worth noticing. My digestion bothered me at times, my stomach seemed out of order, and I had occasional backaches, but I thought it was due to too much work."

"Did you take anything?"

"I did not. Later, my strength failed me, I had severe pains in the back and noticed some irregularities of the urine, I couldn't sleep well at night. I then used some simple remedies, but without benefit."

"Did you realize that your trouble was Bright's Disease?"

"I never thought of such a thing. Finally, my condition became serious. My back ached all the time, I had shooting pains in my joints and a weak tired feeling at the knees, a little work played me out completely. I then began doctoring for kidney trouble but did not improve very much."

"Did you have any trouble with your heart?"

"Yes. I had spells of heart throbbing and a nervous faint feeling. I thought I had heart disease and treated awhile for that. Nothing seemed to help me. I had to give up trying to work."

"How did you affect a cure?"

"A friend of mine persuaded me to try Prickly Ash Bitters. I bought a bottle of my druggist. After taking it a week I began to feel some better, my urine became more natural and there was a gradual lessening of my misery. I kept on taking Prickly Ash Bitters for several weeks and I could feel my strength returning—slowly at first—but increasing daily. I am now entirely cured of my trouble and able to do a full day's work without the least fatigue. I consider Prickly Ash Bitters the grandest kidney medicine in the world."

Thousands of people attest in like manner to the wonderful benefit derived from Prickly Ash Bitters. It is a time tried and successful remedy for Bright's Disease or any disorder of the kidneys.

Prickly Ash Bitters is in every sense a system tonic and regulator. It possesses important properties for curing ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels in addition to its great power in the kidneys. It is a valuable article to keep at home, where a dose or two can be taken whenever needed. When used for any disorder in the kidneys, stomach, liver or bowels it is the right medicine in the right place.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Thursday, the Central Circle of the Methodist church entertained the other members of the Home Mission Society most delightfully at the parsonage. A short business session of the Circle was held, the Chairman, Mrs. Jackson, presiding. This was a yearly meeting, the organization having been in existence one year. The minutes showed fine work done, over $150 having been turned into the Society's treasury. Social meetings having been held every three months, in which the husbands were the honored guests. At the close of the business session, cards were passed on which were asked questions to be answered by words beginning with the initials of one's name. Lots of thinking was done to find the right word and the reading of the answers caused great merriment. Dainty cake and cream were served after which the hostesses were bidden adieu and thanked for a lovely afternoon.

If wool is low, cotton will be also. If the farmers want cheap cotton, vote for free wool, the Democratic policy. adv. (?)

An Eye Opener.

What an East Texas County Can Do.

Smith county shipped this year 1916 cars of fruit and vegetables or 100 solid train loads. In addition to this it shipped by express 207,200 crates of fruit and vegetables, or over 230 solid cars.

Grew 29,500 bales of cotton in one season.

Twenty-three forage crops have proven a success in our soil.

Our mild climate enables us to produce these crops nine months of the year. Our grasses are unsurpassed and will sustain two head of cattle per acre.

A splendid water supply from running streams and springs, abundant supply of the various hardwood timbers. For health, the county ranks as one of the first in the state, and its altitude is higher than that of the city of Ft. Worth.

School facilities unsurpassed. Twenty-one modern school buildings erected during the past year. Eleven hundred ninety-five scholastic increase during the past year. Values of land vary from $5.00 per acre to $30 per acre, according to improvements and distance to local market.

Our farmers are in a prosperous condition as a result of being able to market money producing crops nine months in the year.

Our splendid bank deposits throughout the county are conclusive evidence of the prosperity existing among our people.

Fill in your name, address, and what you are interested in mail to Commercial Club, Tyle Texas and receive pointed facts and figures that will convince you of Smith County's wonderful possibilities.

J. R. Ledbetter sold to H. L. Buchanan last week, two fine pigs, one of the Duroc-Jersey and one of the Poland China breeds. Since Mr. Ledbetter has begun the raising of these fine hogs, the demand for them has been greater than he is able to supply. And in this connection, it might be well to state that many people in and around Colorado are sending off for blooded chickens. We asked one of those who was sending off for his chickens, why he did not buy them from home raisers. His reply was that no one around here was careful enough in the raising of blooded chickens to produce an unquestioned breed. Most of those who assayed the raising of blooded chickens to sell, had several breeds in the same place, and none of them pure. If this be true, there is money in the business for some one who will raise one pure breed and strain of chickens—and let the people know his business. The trouble is that most people do no more than just play at chicken raising.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.
The beautiful October days mark an important date with club women. Their holiday ceases and they return to their studies; and right good it is to get together again and discuss the beauties of Shakespeare, and the pleasures of history. The first Friday in the month was the opening day. The Hesperian met with Mrs. W. L. Doss in an open meeting, with she, Miss Doss, Mesdames Brennan, Collier and Broadbent as hostesses. An interesting program was beautifully rendered. There was music, both vocal and instrumental; a fine paper on why we study Shakespeare, was read by Mrs. Collier. Miss Dry, the outgoing president, expressed her appreciation of the help and support of her fellow workers and was presented with a dainty pin as an expression of the club's appreciation for her. Mrs. Shepherd gave a splendid president's address which inspired each member to do better than ever before. Miss Hallie Duggan was an honored guest who was presented with a little remembrance.

At the close of the afternoon the company was refreshed with delicious cream and cake.

Friday the Club met with Mrs. Collier and the regular work began. The only visitor was Mrs. Hart and she entered into the lesson with enthusiasm. After the business was over post cards were passed and all were asked to write one to Mrs. J. Gilmore Smith, who was a much enjoyed member last year.

Before leaving the ladies were refreshed with punch, so good that the bowl was emptied before the last good bye was said.

The Standard went right in to work at the first meeting and from the pleasure derived from this meeting it would seem that a vacation had added zest to both hearers and those on the program. Mrs. Bailey's quiz was especially praised. The only cloud was the absence of several members on account of illness. Last Friday the members met with Mrs. Gary, enjoying the drive out there, the Club, and the delightful social and refreshing session which followed, also the lovely drive home in the cool of the afternoon. So once again the Club women are busy and happy while on knowledge and good works, intent.

The Home and Foreign Mission Societies of the Methodist church have a membership campaign on for October, November and December and they hope to get every woman in the church to become a member of both societies. So it is through them that the Missionary work of the church is done and it should be the pleasure of every woman, as it certainly is her duty to help not only with her money, but with her time and herself. It is said that if the heathen countries are not made Christian, it will be the fault of the home church. Are you doing your best? If so get ready for November 17. If not, look forward to November 17.

Confederate Daughters
The Daughters of the Confederacy held their annual election of officers at the October meeting which was held with Mrs. George Smith. Mrs. Merritt was made president. Mesdames Gustine, Reese and Allen continued as vice-presidents, Miss Dry, Secretary, Miss Dupree, treasurer, Mrs. Looney, historian.

The meetings will be held on the second Monday in each month at the home of the members, beginning with Mrs. Annie, who will have the November meeting. The ladies will meet as early in the afternoon as possible with their sewing and a program prepared by Mrs. Looney will be given. It is hoped by thus combining business, pleasure and study to interest all and that the organization may regain the membership who have lost interest. Mrs. F. B. Whipkey, the outgoing treasurer will collect all back dues and have the funds in good shape to turn over to the new treasurer. It is hoped that every Southern woman will feel this work to be her sacred duty and join with these good women to make the last days of our old heroes and their helpless wives the happiest days of their lives.

2.26 INCHES OF RAIN HERE.

THE RAIN IS GENERAL THROUGHOUT WEST TEXAS

Telephone Reports From Surrounding Sections Indicate That Last Night's Downpour Was of a Wide Extent.

Official figures from the United States weather bureau Thursday morning gave a total rainfall of 2.26 inches. Temperature at 7 a. m. Thursday 39 above zero.

Long distance telephone reports indicate that the rain has been general. Passengers on the 9:43 east bound Texas & Pacific this morning report rain at all points and creeks are said to be booming.

Elkots, Trent, Merkel and Tye report heavy rains.

Reports from points on the Orient indicate that rain fell in a radius of one hundred miles, as far north as the Texas border.

The Southwestern Telephone Company furnishes the following reports: Heavy at Big Springs, Clyde and Baird.

Heavy at Anson, Hamlin and Stamford, also at Ballinger, Winters, Bradshaw, and Orval.

Rufalo Gap, Caps, Potosi and Iberia have had good rains.

If reports are correct, a heavy rain is falling at Stamford, where it is sorely needed.

A Snyder dispatch says a cold norther is blowing there and the temperature fell forty degrees over night. Rain is also falling, not only there, but over the entire surrounding country.

At Quanah, the temperature dropped twenty-five degrees, and a slow rain is falling over the adjacent territory.

Big Springs, Oct. 19.—Rain has been falling here through out the morning and the indications are that the fall will continue heavily until night.

Soash, Midland, Odessa, Stanton and other points report rainfall.

All Floyd county received abundant rainfall last night and this morning and at the hour of filing (10:30 a. m.) rain was still falling.

Incomplete reports indicate that the rain fell last night at Lubbock, Plainview, Brownfield, Petersburg, Hale Center and adjacent territory.

COUNTY COURT

The regular October term of the County court convened on Monday with Judge A. J. Coe on the bench, County Clerk Bullock and Sheriff Coughran in their places.

The docket was arranged, cases set, when court adjourned until Tuesday.

Tuesday morning the case of the State of Texas vs Chas. McGuire, charged with failure to have the marks and brands of animals slaughtered inspected. This case was continued by agreement until next term of court as was also the same kind of a case against H. B. Broadus.

The next case was the State of Texas vs C. L. Grable, charged with failure to have the hides of animals for slaughter, inspected.

The law says that all butchers must have the hides and ears, all marks and brands inspected, of animals slaughtered within 20 days after slaughter by some magistrate. Mr. Grable was indicted by the grand jury for failure to do this, was tried by a jury and convicted and fined $20.

O. C. Davis who run the Central Market was also tried for the same offense, convicted by a jury and given the same fine.

On Wednesday Mr. Grable was again arraigned before the court on an indictment for failure to file a butcher's bond.

The law says all butchers must file with the county clerk, a bond, approved by the county judge in the sum of not less than $200 nor more than one thousand dollars. This, it seems, has never been done. The case went to the jury late Wednesday evening and they returned a verdict in thirty minutes of guilty and assessed his fine at $5.

Both cases will be appealed. The probate docket will be reached today. (Friday.)

IS THE HOME WORTH THE PRICE?

An Interesting Discussion of The Question by One Who Bears The Brunt of The Struggle.

Doesn't it seem strange, considering how many tenants there are, and always will be, that every little land owner who writes for a farm paper must needs give them one and all a kick down hill? Then one and all proceed to tell you what a renter should not buy and assure these same folks how easily they could buy a home.

Yes, I want to say, that after 20 years experience, I have seen some of these homes that were bought at the expense of the life blood of the wife and children and my husband and I considered it too great a price to pay. I have seen grown boys and girls compelled to go barefoot in company, because dad was sure going to own a home. I have seen them denied the barest necessities for the same reason, until the work turned and they ran away. I have seen a girl dressed in such a fashion that her associates were of a lower level, because her equals would not have her with them, yet when she married beneath herself, her parents cast her out and have never spoken to her since. Oh, yes, they gained land and the younger children have all the things denied their eldest sister, and her name is never mentioned; but wouldn't a little tenant farm and a bright and cheerful home have been fairer to all? I have seen the boys run away from home before they were grown because after years of sweat and toil, dad gave them a stick horse instead of a bicycle and the girls took the girls' only remedy, they a happy girlhood in the place that should have been a home, but was only a place to see how much work could be squeezed out of one.

No body would like a home of their own any better than myself. I love to plant and beautify. But to own a home at the cost of everything that makes life pleasant to my children would be to squander hopes and God-given impulse that can never be replaced.

The farm which we rent is two miles from a growing town. Of our children, four are in the public school from the ninth grade to the third. They make good reports, always anxious for school to begin, strain every nerve to have them start as soon as possible, and once started, not-

A RENTER'S WIFE.

Bear Has Duel With Cat

Waco, Texas.—Walter Stricker returned from an outing in the region west of the Pecos, bringing among other trophies, a young bear about half grown, and between this bear and a cat in the back yard at Mr. Stricker's residence, a duel occurred, fierce while it lasted, the cat losing its life in the encounter. The bear was peacefully eating grapes, when the cat approached with back bowed and tail erect, hissing vindictively. The bear cub arose to a standing posture and the cat leaped straight at the breast of bruin to be folded in an embrace that proved fatal. The bear came off from the encounter unharmed, and after the brief combat resumed his feast on purple grapes just as if nothing had occurred to disturb him.—Dallas News.

"If decent people would refuse to look at such newspapers, the thing would right itself at once."

The quoted sentence is a significant expression of Mayor Gaynor's in a recent letter to his sister and published in the New York Evening Post. The yellow journal was the subject of Mr. Gaynor's criticism. He is eminently right. The papers carrying whiskey advertisements, the straight saloon organs, indecent and immoral theatrical performances, the too suggestive and often positively hurtful moving pictures, abominable fashions and all the rest of the list could be reformed and purified if only "decent people" would take Mayor Gaynor's advice.—Western Evangel.

Mr. I. B. Hardy, who lives 4 miles north on the Snyder road, on the Rogers farm, brought to this office last Monday, a dozen as fine heads of Milo Maize as Mr. Anybody can raise. Mr. Hardy says he has 60 acres of this, also 20 acres of sorghum and would make plenty of feed to do him.

He said he had a very fine turnip patch and his field of black eyed peas were simply fine. He also stated that he had some cotton that would make a half a bale to the acre if we had a real late frost. Mr. Hardy said his maize was planted in July and part of it from seed raised this year. All of which shows that some people can do well even without rain. The Record has the heads at this office on exhibition for all who care to see them.

Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty, wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,

One glistening mass of roses pure and white,

And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"
