DISTRICT COURT CONVENES.
Judge James L. Shepherd Opens the Regular December Term of the District Court.
Monday morning, Dec. 16, Judge James L. Shepherd opened the regular December term of the Mitchell County District court.
District Attorney, R. N. Grisham was present and the court was opened by Sheriff G. B. Coughran, assisted by Preston Scott, deputy. Earl Jackson, clerk of the court, had everything in readiness and the court got down to business at once. The grand jury was organized as follows:
J. A. BUCHANAN,
J. W. BIRD,
I. C. SHEPFIELD,
H. C. BEAL,
L. L. BEDFORD,
N. T. WOMACK,
R. N. GARY,
D. N. ARNETT,
J. M. BAKER,
S. H. HART,
A. J. COMPTON,
J. D. FAULKNER.
The Judge delivered an oral charge, very comprehensive in its scope, and the grand jury retired and elected J. A. Buchanan foreman, and went to work. On Wednesday they made their first report, finding three true bills, all felony cases. The grand jury will probably adjourn this evening until after the holidays.
Walter Carter was appointed court stenographer and sworn in.
Judge W. W. Beall, the incoming judge, also W. P. Leslie, the incoming District Attorney, were present, but will not likely be sworn in until next week.
The criminal docket was set for Friday, January 3.
Monday morning the appearance docket was called and this week quite a number of minor cases were disposed of by trial, continuance, dismissal, compromise, etc.
The Bill Echols murder case on change of venue from Howard county, is set for Jan. 6. The A. H. Payne case, new trial, is set for Jan. 9th.
The True case, on change of venue from Howard county, is set for January 13th.
The Guy McGee case was argued before the Supreme Court last week at Austin, but no decision has yet been handed down.
The Bill King case, charge of assault with intent to murder, is set for Monday, December 23rd.
The list of jurors for next week is as follows:
D. P. Bohanan, J. L. Doss, B. L. Wulften, W. H. Hurd, W. E. Smith, Alfred Kidd, R. S. Byrd, W. H. Moerer, C. L. Grable, C. E. Sprull, S. A. Compton, Tom Evatt, O. H. Majors, C. M. Thompson, Jos. E. Meador, A. H. Nesmith, W. W. Porter, J. L. Bird, J. L. Moats, A. A. Dorn, W. H. Pond, J. O. Howell, O. O. Shirliff, G. E. Goodwin, J. M. Green, F. E. Crabtree, H. L. Hutchinson.
Christmas Cantata.
Dr. and Mrs. V. O. Marshall have trained the choir and children of the Christian church in the Christmas cantata, "Glad Tidings," which they will render next Sunday night at 7:15 o'clock at the Christian church. The church will be appropriately decorated with evergreens, and the service in all its appointments will emphasize the real purpose of Christmas. The public is invited to enjoy this feast of Christmas in sacred song.
District court convened in regular session last Monday with Judge J. L. Shepherd on the woolstack and District Attorney, Grisham in charge of the prosecutor's dock. It is likely the present judge and prosecuting attorney will not complete this term of the court, but allow their duly elected and qualified successors, Judge W. W. Beall and District Attorney, W. P. Leslie, to finish the term. The apportionment of time for district court in this county is six weeks, but much of that time is taken up by cases transferred from other counties.
The choir and members of the First Christian church will give an entertainment Sunday evening, consisting of Christmas carols, solos, duets, quartets and congregational singing. The choir of this church comprises several of the very best singers and musicians of the town, and all who attend this special service may be confident of a most enjoyable hour or two. The public is cordially invited to worship with this congregation on that evening.

A Home Product

DO you realize that your cistern is no better than the condition of the water in it? The condition of the water running into the cistern is no better than the condition of the roof or other water shed, which is rarely clean or sanitary. So, it's a matter of health or illness—the water in your cistern.

Winn & Payne have studied the condition and needs of this question and have devised and are manufacturing a filter to be attached to the down water pipe, which filters every drop of water running into the cistern. It settles the water first, then percolates it. It is simple, easily cleansed, large, and cheap for the service it renders. It meets every demand of the conditions for having good cistern water in West Texas. They invite every one using a cistern to examine this filter, at their business place on Front street.

The foregoing pertains to the rooms below the High School. In the latter besides having the regular literary program, an old time spelling match will be held, and refreshments served. The holidays will close Monday, January 6th, 1913.

BREWSTER COUNTY BUDGET

(Clippings from the Alpine Avalanche of Nov. 28, 1912.)

BREWSTER COUNTY.
This is the largest county in the State of Texas, containing 3,300,000 acres. Our principal industry is raising cattle, horses and sheep. The southern part of the county has valuable mineral districts, and is a heavy producer of quicksilver. Some large bodies of coal have been partially developed, and a railroad has been surveyed to these coal fields. In the eastern part of the county oil has been found at shallow depths and development work goes steadily on, by men who know the oil business. The greater part of Brewster County is mountainous, with beautiful valleys. These valleys produce wonderful crops of kafir corn, milo maize, alfalfa and grama grass hay; potatoes, melons, Bermuda onions. All vegetables and truck farm crops grow to perfection. The pear, grape, peach and plum have a flavor and coloring that is not excelled anywhere, and our apples are classed with the best grown in the States of Oregon or Colorado. The county is settling up rapidly and all the more valuable State land has been homesteaded. In the past year good ranch land has doubled in value, and fruit, alfalfa and truck-farm land that sold three years ago for $.50 to $4 per acre, is now selling at $10 to $40, according to location. Fifteen years ago large tracts of land all over Brewster County were sold at 35 cents per acre. A few years later the same lands were sold at 75 cents per acre. Today this same land is being sold at $1.50 to $8 per acre. In a short time it will again change owners at $5 to $20 per acre. Population is increasing very rapidly. There is no increase in the amount of land.

Alpine, County Seat of Brewster Co. Alpine, Brewster County, Texas, elevation 4,476 feet above sea level. Located in the "lap of the mountains," and usually described as the "Roof Garden" of Texas, is known as one of the healthiest spots to be found. Many people from all parts of the country come to Alpine to spend a vacation summer and winter, and return home to tell their friends that they feel like they had been "made over." There is neither extreme heat in summer nor cold in winter. One sleeps under a blanket all summer, and very little more is required in winter. Malaria, mosquitoes, etc., are unknown here. It is a joy to live in this climate. Alpine has all modern improvements. All religious denominations have a house of worship. We have an independent Taxing District and a $35,000 High School building, with all the latest educational equipment, only recently occupied. Our total tax rate, for all purposes, in Brewster County, is a little over 85 cents on the $100 valuation---the lowest tax rate in Texas. No liquor is sold in this county. Our jail is seldom occupied. Our railroads are the G. H. & S. A. (Sou. Pac.) east and west, and the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient (now building into Alpine) gives us a short line to the north and east. Town property is rapidly increasing in value, with the steady inflow of new people, who are building new homes. Our excellent public schools are a splendid attraction for families.

Testing Out the Bird Mine.

James Lafarelle and Dr. W. B. Phillips, the latter gentleman being one of the best known geologists in the South, began work this week on the Bird mine and will thoroughly test it out. It is the intention of these gentlemen to sink test shafts and to find out beyond a question as to the value of the property, and if it pans out as they expect, a large force of men will be put to work in the near future.

Orient to Develop Alpine Property.

Last Friday, Mr. Gulon Gregg, traveling townsite agent of the Orient, arrived in Alpine and at once got in touch with those who are to assist in developing the Company's interests here.

When questioned by the writer as to his first impression of Alpine and his opinion as to the future of the town, he said: "I hardly know how to express in words, my first impression of your beautiful, picturesque little city, for it is beautiful beyond description. In all my travels throughout West Texas, I have never seen a more ideal location than you have here, and unhesitatingly I can say that it is ideal. With the grand climate, beautiful scenery, and, best of all, the plentiful supply of pure water, it at once impresses the stranger as an ideal place for a home. Yes, I am enthusiastic and so will others be, when they come and see for themselves."

"We are now preparing to put our own property here on the market and to successfully do so, will inaugurate an advertising campaign that will reach hundreds of thousands of investors who have their eyes on the West. In addition to the use of prominent newspapers we will circulate attractive booklets and maps, showing every advantage of your section."

Will Develop Caruthers Mine.

A lease was filed at the court house this week by the terms of which W. W. Turney and W. H. Caruthers leave to A. M. Turney for a period of twenty years, what is known as the Caruthers mine, located about twelve miles east of Alpine. At one time this mine was operated on a small scale and the ore sold on the market for $80 per ton. Mr. Turney says at present, he is not in a position to give out his plans but that he expects to begin work in the near future. This property is a silver and lead mine and some of the best experts in the United States have pronounced it a valuable property.

That corn can be successfully grown in Brewster County, was amply demonstrated this year by Mr. C. F. Kimball on his ranch northeast of Alpine. The variety is somewhat like Indian corn only the ears are much larger. Mr. Kimball says the land on which it was raised was not irrigated and only had one overflow.

Alpine is on the eve of a great development, and those who do not acquire real estate now, will have lots of time to repent of their folly.

The Original Chinch.

If there is anything on earth that gives us a longing for eternal rest and deep, damp solitude, it is a man who comes to a town or country, builds up a big paying business and grows rich and then squats down on the gold like a hen on a door knob, and is too stingy to let the gravel grind in his own gizzard. A real, genuine, 18-karat, stingy, selfish man can't be honest, and if he ever gets to heaven and has wings, he will fold them up and walk for fear he will ruffle a plume or lose a feather. The kind of men who build up a town and country and enjoy life and make the best citizens are the enterprising, energetic and liberal men who believe in living and letting others live; and who do not, when they get a dollar, squeeze it until the goddess of liberty feels like she had on a corset. Such squeezing is what causes hard times and stops the circulation of the American Eagle. If it were not for our broad-gauged, enterprising men, it would be impossible to build a prosperous town or city.--Ex.

For Your Scrap Book.

A bashful young man recently got married and a few days afterwards he delivered himself thusly to a sympathizing friend: "You know how bashful I am," he murmured. "The girls just worried the life out of me. When I stood up to get married they all giggled, and when the minister asked me if I'd take this woman to be my wedded wife? I said 'puty well, thankee,' and when he pronounced us man and wife, and said, 'what God has joined together let no man rip apart,' and I broke down and bawled.

Oh! it was horrible! But that's nothing to what's to come. 'Bout eleven o'clock the old man sez, sez he: 'Your room's head o' the stairs.'

"I was so skeered that when I tried to stand up my legs gave way and I fell, and I fell over the dog and got bit in three places. I waited 'till everybody'd gone to bed, then crawled up stairs and shivered. It's no use, sez I, what's got to be hez. So I tuck off my clothes in the dark and shut my eyes. Then I made a break for the door; I found the bed and pulled the cover over my head an' laid on the front rail. In the morning I peeped through my fingers to see if I could dress and get out 'fore she woke up; and hang me if I wasn't in bed with the old man an' woman."

Attainment of a four-billion-dollar foreign trade by the United States in 1912 will be one of the most noteworthy facts for historians to record at the beginning of the new year.

I'd gladly take a licking, And maybe I'd take two, If I could be the Red Cross Seal On the back of my letter to you!

Make your town a place where people are glad to live; not a stopping place in the journey through life where everyone is looking for a chance to change residence but a garden of eden, as it were, where peace and prosperity go hand in hand.
