

G. F. C. Honor Miss Looney.

Last Friday the G. F. C. had a special meeting with Miss Irene Whipkey in honor of Miss Looney, the popular young lady who became a bride this week. After several games of 42 the prizes were announced. Miss Mattie Shuford won the royal prize; Miss Roxie Coughran the lone hand and Miss Pauline Hargitt, of Arlington, the guest prize. After a salad course was served the young ladies all grouped themselves in the parlor and at a signal by the president, Miss Moor, came forward and presented Miss Looney with a beautiful Navajo rug as a token of the high esteem this young lady is held in this club. She said:

My Dear Juliette: We are gathered here today not only for our usual game of "42," but to extend to you our heartiest congratulations upon the most-momentous period that can come into a girl's life when.

"The holiest vows a man can make
The golden thread in life,
The bond that none may dare to break
That bindeth man and wife."

To the majority of our club you have been schoolmate, comrade and chum; we have shared our mutual woes and pleasures of childhood and young womanhood, and the tie that binds has only been strengthened and made brighter by the golden chain of friendship and though you go from our midst to make your home in another city, the chain will not be broken, but will hold you with its golden links, and will help you to enlarge your sphere of usefulness and joy. While "God moves in a mysterious way his wonders to perform," woman moves in a way of loveliness, sweetness and sympathy which performs a wondrous work having the appearance of an inspiration which comes from the Giver of all good and perfect gifts.

And now we ask you to accept this little gift that expresses all the love and good wishes that can come from pure and unselfish hearts, the real love of your G. F. C. members. The world moves on, conditions change and children wander far from the early home and scenes, but whatever the associations, let the thought creep in of

"One little but among the bushes, one that I love,

Still fondly to my memory rushes, no matter where I rove

When shall I hear the bees a hummin'
All around the comb,

When shall I hear the lark's tunmin'
Down in my dear old home."

And may the richest blessing of Him who at Cana's wedding feast did as a guest appear be with you both and grant you the peace that dwains upon eternal love and life.

The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. S. D. Vaughan, Misses Jessie Person, Mildred Coleman, Marguerite Looney and Miss Mary Boren of Sweetwater; Miss Ruth Rowley of Buird; Misses Nora Sue Blandford and Pauline Hargitt of Arlington and Miss Emma Vaughan of Georgetown.

DANGEROUS CALOMEL
GOING OUT OF USE.

A Safer, More Reliable Remedy Has Taken Its Place in the Drug Store and in the Home.

A few years ago, men, women and children took calomel for a sluggish liver and for constipation. They took risks when they did so, for calomel is a dangerous drug. Your family doctor will be the first to tell you this if he discovers you dosing yourself with calomel.

But the drug trade has found a safer, more pleasant remedy than calomel in Dodson's Liver Tonic.

Floyd Beall tells us that his drug store sells Dodson's Liver Tonic in practically every case of biliousness and liver trouble where calomel used to be taken.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a vegetable liver tonic that is absolutely harmless for children and grown people. It sells for 50 cts. a bottle and is guaranteed to be entirely satisfactory by Floyd Beall who will refund your money with a smile if it does not give quick, gentle relief without any of calomel's unpleasant after-effects.

Birthday Party.

Last Friday was little Miss Evelyn Kelper's fourth birthday, and of course, something out of the ordinary had to be done, so twelve little girls were invited to help make memorable the day. Games were played until all were tired and then they were refreshed with birthday cake and ice cream. The guests left suitable gifts as a token of their good time and with love. Miss Evelyn, which are prized very highly by the hostess, Mrs. Kelper who assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Weston Scott.

George P. Arthur Poisoned.

News was received here Saturday, which was verified by dispatches in the daily papers, that George P. Arthur known to many people here, had died suddenly the day before at Midland from the effects of drinking what he must have thought was alcohol. It seems he went to Dr. Lynch's office asking for a drink of alcohol which the doctor said he did not have. Seeing a bottle containing a colorless liquid, Mr. Arthur picked it up and took a drink. He was immediately seized with cramps and convulsions, which ended in a few minutes in death. Mr. Arthur was recently in Colorado in the interest of a cotton chopping machine of his own invention, from which he expected to realize a fortune. The liquid he drank was a solution of carbolic acid.

A crowd of Cuthbert "fans" went to Westbrook Saturday to see a ball game between the two places. In the first few innings the game was pretty rotten, but after the players had warmed up it was exciting. At the ninth inning the score was 3 to 5 in favor of Westbrook and Cuthbert would doubtless have beaten them as there were runners on third and second bases and the best batters up. However a dispute arose as to whether a Cuthbert player had been put out, and being unable to settle the matter the game was abandoned. The batteries were as follows: Cuthbert, Claude and Ralph Hicks; Westbrook, Bassinger and McCollum.

A number of Colorado people came out Sunday afternoon to assist in grading the Cuthbert Sunday School. Those present were Dr. Codeman, Mr. Jackson, Robt. M. Webb and wife, Mrs. Whipkey, Mrs. Harness and Miss Nellie Riordan.

HUSBAND RESCUED
DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Shower for Miss Looney.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Burns delightfully entertained for Miss Juliette Looney, our June bride, with a miscellaneous shower. In the hall was a receiving line, in which stood Miss Looney, Miss Rowley, Mrs. Allen, Miss Boren, Mrs. Marcus Snyder, Miss Hooper and Miss Marguerite Looney. The guests were stationed in the large reception hall and parlor. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. Floyd Beall and Miss Nora Blanford, Miss Marguerite Looney sang beautiful "A Bowl of Roses," and the prettiest little negro lullaby "Mighty Lak a Rose." Mrs. Beall played the wedding march, the reception party marching through the parlor into the dining room, the double doors of which were now thrown open. The table was inexpressibly dainty. On the lacy white cloth were piled the gifts wrapped in white and tied with pink, over all was an immense pink umbrella with streamers of pink baby ribbons. Mrs. Prude made the presentation speech saying the clouds had tried to send the showers, but had failed, but now knew the cause; they had all been "showered" on Juliette. The young ladies of the bridal party opened the lovely things, which were placed in a basket at the bride-to-be's feet. There was everything, the most fastidious could wish, handsome linens, pretty trifles and the more substantial, still quite as pretty useful things. The married women present sighed and wished they might be young again and be Mrs. Burn's friend; then they wished that they might be so fortunate as to become a bride. A refreshment course of ice, silver and gold cake was served. On returning to the parlor, Miss Looney sang two mighty pretty songs, which all enjoyed. She was beautifully dressed in an imported lace gown with trimmings of black and green and never looked sweeter or more charming in her life. It was indeed a pleasant occasion for a most delightful person.

Resolutions of Sympathy.

Whereas, God in His infinite wisdom has removed to heaven, Mr. W. V. Johnson, the most devoted and much loved husband and father of two of our most esteemed members; therefore, be it Resolved, First, that the Robert E. Lee Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, express deep appreciation of his worth as a kindly, cultured christian gentleman, of his invaluable service, superb liberality and great loyalty to us.

Second, That while we shall miss the "touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is still," we rejoice that this valiant spirit may owe us some more congenial clime, "rest under the shade of the trees."

Third, That we extend to his devoted wife and daughter our tenderest sympathy in their irreparable loss; that we commend the Heavenly Father, in whose loving care their loved one now rests, as the guide and stay around whom their bruised hearts' tendrils may find solace and support.

Fourth, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to our beloved members, his wife, Mrs. Johnson and his daughter, Mrs. V. W. Allen; that they be spread upon the minutes of this chapter and published in the Colorado Record.

MRS. J. L. SHEPHERD,
MRS. F. M. BURNS,
Committee.

Dr. Phenix tested out the big 4,000 gallon per minute centrifugal pump recently installed on his farm, last week. The ditch that carries the water from the pump discharge to the laterals, is about eight feet wide by three feet deep, and when the pump got down to full capacity delivery, it is said that this ditch would not hold the volume of water discharged into it. When this test was made there was but little water in the river, but sufficient to demonstrate the ability and capacity of the pump to furnish far more water than the crops on the land will ever require. In installing a pump of his size and power Dr. Phenix had in view the furnishing of water to all the land he might sell from his holding. He will sell any amount of land and a perpetual irrigation right goes with it. He guarantees to furnish all the water the crops on the land he sells will require. With the producing power of this land already demonstrated under irrigation, it looks to us like a fine proposition for the man wanting to farm. A crop, and a good one, is assured if the owner will but work. The Record hopes Dr. Phenix will have unbounded success in his promotion; for he, has done more than all others combined, to demonstrate the great value and feasibility of irrigation in the Mitchell County.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Sunday two cars full of Sunday School workers and organizers had the good fortune to be invited to Cuthbert to assist in grading their school.

A good school was already in that community so the work was quickly accomplished.

The efficient President Dr. Coleman explained the work, and the work grows on the good doctor, and then Secretary Robert M. Webb rolled out his talk on graded schools so smoothly that every one was ready to help in the work.

Representatives from the Home, Cradle Roll, Beginners and Primary departments were there and presented the work.

Mr. Jackson, the fluent Temperance Chairman, was there and made what he termed a temperance announcement.

The school has an efficient corp of workers with Mr. N. T. Womack Supt., Miss Flora Bozman, Secretary; Mr. George Womack, Bible Class Teacher; Mr. Rupert Womack, in charge of the Baraca Class, Mrs. Robert Smith the Philathea's, Mrs. S. A. Saddler and Mrs. Fountain Crabtree the Juniors, Mrs. Etta Moore the Primaries, Miss Jewel Wheeler the Beginners, Mrs. Ed Womack the Home and Cradle Roll departments, we prophesy for them a prosperous school. Three bright, sweet little babies were present, and were entered the first ones on the Cradle Roll.

Mrs. Jackson, mother of M. K. and Mrs. M. K. Thomas and little daughter were visitors with the Cuthbert Sunday School last Sunday.

The Christian School are preparing a children's day programme to be given in July.

The measles seems to have spent its course as the Primary department was noticeably full last Sunday or else the little folks were looking to the ice cream at the lawn party.

The county officers are under obligations to Mr. Joe Smoot for a ride in his nice new car to Cuthbert. Those kind of workers are appreciated.

DANIEL DOINGS.

Mr. William Murphy and family visited at Westbrook Saturday and Sunday.

Prof. Smith and Mr. Simmon's went to Dunn Saturday and returned Sunday.

Mr. Floyd Murphy was seen in Daniels last week.

Mr. John McNew and family of Cuthbert, were in the Daniel community Sunday.

Messrs Carrell Simmons and Reuben Westfall are at Colorado attending the Summer Normal.

The Sunday School, Sunday, voted to send money to the Baptist S. S. Board, Nashville, Tenn., to send bibles to those who have none.

The singing class met at Mr. Ellett's Sunday night. Why yes—we've got a singing class.

This is an up-to-date community—only we have no phones no store, no baseball.

This scribe has been rounding them up about that "mail order" business. But we are in between Westbrook, Iatan, Cuthbert and Vincent, and all four are clamoring for our trade, each one claiming to be our "home" merchant and none of them will advertise in the Record.

Then there is Colorado advertising on the gate posts!! These merchants ought to let us know what they've got. We have not got time to examine fences for information.

Crops are fine, but don't let President Pete know about it he'll take the all overs.

Safe Blown at Ira.

News of the cracking of the safe of C. L. Norris at Ira, by burglars was received here last week too late for publication. The door of the safe was blown off with nitro-glycerine, showing it to be the work of professional cracksmen. There was but little in the safe at the time of value. The robbers got about $2 in money, two small checks which were made payable to order and a number of watches. Up to this time no clue has been found to the identity of the parties.

Local people are surprised at the QUICK results received from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka, the German remedy which became famous by curing appendicitis. W. L. Honoring Miss Looney.

On last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Prude were "at home" in their hospitable home, to the young people of the town in honor of Miss Looney. Dapcing was the program of the evening and was thoroughly enjoyed by all till the going out of the lights all too soon for the gay dancers. The house and porch were decorated with blackeyed Susans that are at present West Texas flowers. Delicious punch was in abundance on the front porch and was partaken of freely. Before leaving, ice cream and cakes were served and the merry party wished Miss Looney might be honored every evening.

There are no snakes in Texas, and the earth is covered with a carpet of green the whole year round, and we all celebrate Saint Patrick's Day.

In Mitchell county there are eight persons of Irish decent and of this number three were born in Ireland and later moved to Texas and five have parents that were both born in Ireland. The Federal census reports which have just been issued, show

COLORADO, TEXAS, JUNE 20, 1913.

Don't bleed your own town to fatten some other—trade at home with your friends.

Even "Uncle" Joe Cannon praises the patriotism and honesty of President Wilson.

Silage is nothing more nor less than green stuff canned, just as the housewife cans fruit and vegetables.

The success that will attend the Wilson administration will be largely due to the influence of Texas men.

That question we have heard quoted since boyhood, about "what so rare as a day in June," has been answered by the recent frost in the Eastern States.

One horse-man trying to fill 10-horse places is the cause of the greater part of our political and economical troubles. Cheap men and cheap methods are dear at no price at all.

"It's an evil bird that fouls its own nest," and the fellow who knocks the community in which he lives and to which he looks for food, shelter and clothing, is no less evil in fouling his own nest.

The citizen of a town who will not stand up and root for his town, should not feel peeved if the town should lay down on him in a pinch. He gets out of the town about what he is willing to put into it.

The National sin of America is "splurge." We are foolishly extravagant, both individually and collectively. We need to return to that primitive simplicity when a man or woman was not afraid to confess he or she was poor.

Fuelers are already being sent out by those who aspire to represent this district in Congress next time. They are counting largely on grooming by the disgruntled element, chiefly the host of disappointed postoffice seekers in this district.

Col. R. T. Milner, for the past five years president of the A. & M. College, filed his resignation with the board last week, to take effect immediately. Col. Milner made no public statement as to the causes of his step. He will return to his home at Henderson and give attention to his farm.

Now comes Ex-Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey and damns the tariff bill as both "sectional and discriminatory." He sees a menace to both farmers and stockmen in the double reduction of all import duties. In short and simple, he aligns himself squarely with the high protectionists.

The rate at which the farmers and stockmen are shipping their veal calves to market presages a decided and unremediable shortage soon in the beef cattle supply. If a farmer sells all the eggs his hens lay, he can't expect to do much of a business in selling fryers and broilers.

Instead of kicking the town, kick yourself, particularly one good hard vicious kick, if you send money out of town to some foreign mail order concern, which doesn't care a tinker's d— about you or your business; all they want is your money. When they have sucked you dry as a bone, they'll tell you then, to trade with your home merchant.

If any discriminations are to be made by our laws, why not let it be for the benefit of the under fellow and not for the benefit of those who do not need help. But the unscrupulous has never asked any kind of discrimination; he only asks an equal showing before the law, in the marts of the world and at the money lenders. Give him his equal showing and he will take good care of himself.

It is not enough to swat the fly. The harm has been done when they are allowed to breed. They should be starved and not allowed to breed, by removing everything in the way of filth in which they can breed. After the fly is hatched it is too late to begin a war on him. He should never be allowed to get here. Millions upon millions killed every day hardly makes a showing in diminishing their number. The greatest safety lies in not allowing them to breed. Like mosquitoes, they must have breeding places. Do away with these and you have done away with the flies.

The cigarette smoking boy is like a wormy apple; he drops long before harvest time. They rarely make failures in after life, because they never have any after life. The boy who begins smoking cigarettes before his fifteenth year, never reaches the life of the world. When other boys are taking hold of the world's work and being promoted to positions of honor and responsibility, he is concerned with the undertaker and sexton. Cigarette smoking and tipping are becoming as much tabooed by the big commercial and industrial interests as petty crime. Notice how many of the daily want advertisements contain this significant line: "No cigarette fiend or boozier need apply."

If you own your land, even if it be never so little, make a home instead of a mere shelter. Beautify it much as possible. Plant out trees—more trees—every year. You can always sell a nice young shade tree. Contentment and prosperity can hardly abide in a desolate looking place that many people call home. It requires but little work to make a home attractive and pleasant. Boys and girls will not want to leave as soon as they are old enough to work for themselves or to marry. A town or country home with an abundance of nice shade grass is worth more as an asset to sell or trade, than a barren one. Every human being loves trees and growing vegetation, no matter what it is. Vigorous weeds are an asset over a slick place on the earth, and is more readily sold.

The St. James rubbish has been removed and instead of a great pile of brick, mortar, iron piping, old stoves, bedsteads, etc., there now is presented quite a depression inside the sidewalk. There are some apprehensive souls who ever on the alert to locate and invite trouble, are afraid that a big "frog pond" will be the result and that an epidemic of sickness ensue. That a frog pond will be formed at that place by the excessive rains, is about as far-fetched a fear as that entertained by the girl who had a backward and bashful beau, who refused to come to the one important question. As they sat by the fire one cold night, she suddenly burst into a paroxysm of weeping and refused to be comforted. After vainly trying to find out the cause of her tears and woe for some time, she finally confessed between sobs: "Oh, John, I was just talking, suppose you asked me to marry you and I had said yes; and we was married—and we had a little boy named John—and he was to fall in the fire and get burned to death—I just couldn't stand it at all—Boo-boo." Let the frog pond come, if the rains have to make it.

In the lower right hand corner of the first page of this paper is an ad which every business man should read. Arrangements have been made with an expert ad writer and each week a new ad will appear in this same space, and everyone of them will be worth reading. It will pay any man to advertise if it is done right, and the old saying that people do not read ads has long since been proven false.

The Well Will Be Drilled

The paragraph in this issue of the Record about encouraging rumors of the experimental well reaching us, had hardly been put in type, when Mr. C. C. Wyatt came into the office and quietly handed us a contract to read. It was executed between Ratliff and Wyatt, parties of the first part; J. L. Mills, party of the second part and several subscribers to the necessary fund for installing the well, as parties of the third part.

This contract specifies that for the consideration of $2,500, Ratliff and Wyatt agree to sink a well on the Mills place near the railroad tank, fully equip and house the well and deliver it to Mills furnishing 500 gallons of water per minute. This done, Mills agrees to take over the well and reimburse every subscriber to the fund to the amount of his individual subscription.

In the event the well will not furnish this amount of water, Mills will take the well, with smaller pump equipment and reimburse the subscribers in proportion as the amount of water is to 500 gallons. Up to the time we saw the contract, only a few people had been seen yet $1,600 had been subscribed to the fund. At this rate the money will soon be in hand and work begun. No date has yet been fixed for beginning the work, this being contingent upon the subscriptions. But it now looks as if the experimental well will soon be a reality, and we shall know whether there is sufficient water under us to justify sinking wells for irrigation purposes.

We have read in several papers published in central Texas and East Texas that "conditions in West Texas were very unpromising." A citizen of that section who owns a ranch in an adjoining county to Mitchell, has just returned home from a trip to his ranch and takes back the report that the prospect for a crop is rather gloomy; that grass is dying and cattle are suffering. It is true that such conditions may exist on that particular man's place, but it is not the condition over 75 per cent of the surrounding country. We happen to know where this particular ranch is located, and also people who live almost next door to it. They say there are spots which need rain, but as a general rule the crops all around them are in good conditions, clean and growing well. Yet, the harm has been done. Everyone who reads the report of the pessimistic fellow from East Texas, will conclude that it represents the condition existing all over West Texas, and they will repeat it until it becomes the general opinion of that community that crops in West Texas and Mitchell county in particular, are in a bad way.

There is a site on the Colorado river about three miles North of town where nature has met the efforts of man more than half way for the building of a dam which would impound water enough to irrigate hundreds of acres—yes, thousands of them—of land lying on both sides of the river. The time will come when such advantages will be sought for and all available sites for building irrigation dams be secured and controlled by foreign companies. If we wait till outsiders come in and get control of natural advantages we shall have to pay whatever price they demand for the very things we now own ourselves. It would not require very much capital, we understand, to construct a dam at the above place sufficient to irrigate much of the land lying on both sides of the river for some distance below the dam. Other communities below us are moving in this direction, and under the new laws governing irrigation districts can be formed and a special tax levied for the purpose of building dams and installing irrigation systems. Co-operation is the only means by which any irrigation system of any extent can be promoted and maintained. The individual farmer can, at best, irrigate but a few acres with any system he is able to install, hardly more than enough for a garden or a truck patch. He must continue to be a victim of the doubts, fears and uncertainties of the old system, or join with his neighbors in the promotion of a project that will serve a whole community. It would be well to consider these things, now.

A CHALLENGE.

The Colorado Base Ball team, first nine, issues a challenge to any team in West Texas for a three day's game on the Colorado diamond. We have the chip on our shoulder and dare any one to try to knock it off. Phone wire or write E. H. Winn, Manager.

We learn that Gov. Colquitt refused to pardon the 20-day jail sentence imposed upon J. M. Terry by the county court and affirmed by the court of appeals.

PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

Copyright, 1913, by Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

DESIGN of the Motor Building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. This structure will be one of the largest of the exposition palaces, approximately 275 feet front by 800 feet deep, covering about 210,000 square feet, or more than five acres. The dome, which surmounts the center of the front portion of the building, is 130 feet high and surmounted with a turret composed of the prows of modern motor boats, each carrying a searchlight. This point will be used by Mr. Ryan, the chief of illumination of the exposition, for the purpose of lighting up the grounds and adjacent buildings. Other groups at the base of the building will convey, allegorically, the uses of electricity, gas and other mechanical devices which compose the motor. Its modernity is in harmony with the nature of the exhibits which it will house, and its triumphal character is emblematic of that triumph of modern transportation, the automobile. The groups of statuary surmounting the attic will be allegorically carried out to typify the triumph of the motor over the elements. The main group in front will be a sort of quadriga of automobiles typifying the conquest over the land. On the sides will be allegories of the motor boat and the aeroplane, respectively, typifying the victory over the sea and air. On either side of the entire length of the building there will be a frieze 10 feet high in bas relief, giving the history of transportation from the early log cart up to the most modern development of the automobile.

MAGNIFICENT STORY IS THAT OF STUDEBAKER "30"

An Appreciation, Not An Obituary, of a Model No Longer on Sale.

With the Studebaker "25," "35" and "Six" making happy thousands of owners in all parts of the United States and in foreign lands, it behooves the entire Studebaker organization to join in an informal but heartfelt tribute, to the passing from the factory and showroom of a great car—the Studebaker "30," known in factory parlance as Model "A."

The tribute is not an obituary but an appreciation. For the good old "Thirty" still goes marching on, and it would be a rash man who would predict that in ten, twenty—yes, even fifty—years hence these veteran cars, not one of which has yet worn out in service, will have ceased to populate the highways of this broad land.

On the Studebaker "30" was built the business prosperity of Studebaker in the automobile field. For five years it was the most popular car of the most popular class developed by American engineering and manufacturing. Its passing from Studebaker showrooms justly calls for a short review.

Manufacture of the "Thirty" was begun in 1908 in what is now the Brush street wing of Plant 1. The car was a sensation in values from the start—a 20-horsepower car with five-passenger body at $1,250. The first cars in that run were painted red. So far as the Detroit headquarters has been able to find out, not one of these cars has ever worn out in the service of its owner. A few have been burned up, a few dropped off mountains or otherwise wrecked. But, except in isolated instances where similar "Thirties" are still faithfully on the job, many of them with records like that of Atlanta's famous "Bullet" which boasts more than 130,000 miles and still acts young.

Dealers flocked to the standard; friends for the car multiplied; its reputation grew and with it the demand. A "Thirty" was, in 1909, the pathfinder and pilot car for the toughest Glidden on record. That year the factory built and sold more than ten thousand cars, all on the same Model "A" chassis and nearly all of them with touring body.

In 1910 a vastly greater manufacturing equipment was added. The "Thirty" became a manufactured, instead of an assembled car. Its quality tire selling organization to retain of that year won a wonderful reputation for speed as well as durability. It also added so consistently to its factory's reputation as to enable the popular confidence despite the fact that, during this period, the factories in Detroit were busy solving the problems attendant on the first appearance of the Studebaker "20," destined to become eventually a mighty running mate for the older and larger car.

With an improved body and fore-doors, as well as some minor mechanical refinements, the "Thirty" made another great campaign in 1911. Still further refinements added for 1912 brought the car—still Model A—to its limit of perfection with a lengthened wheel base, more elaborate upholstery, a cowl dash and other elements of elegance it had not before included.

Long after the date first set for the end of the factory run, dealers continued to demand these cars. As a result the factory prolonged its run until the last possible moment before changing to the production at Plant 1 of the Studebaker "35" and "Six," even accumulating at its branches a reserve stock to be used in tiding its dealers over the interim that must always elapse in a production change. Long ago, these cars were sold. For months there has been no new "Thirty" in the glittering row that is always in evidence between the factory and the shipping platforms. But, in the hands of their owners, these cars will long remain a thing of joy, each one a testimonial of honest construction, correct engineering and graceful outline.

As long as there is a Studebaker "Thirty" in the hands of an owner, he will be able to secure the same service from The Studebaker Corporation as was at his disposal in the days when the car was the Studebaker leader in active sales.

Among the members of the great organization which produced and marketed the "Thirty" car, it will always remain as nearly an object of affection as is possible for any inanimate object. Undoubtedly Model A could have been continued, virtually unchanged, through many a year, and with constantly growing prestige. But the world moves and so does the progress of automobile design. At that it took a Studebaker car to supplant the grand old "Thirty"—a car with a more powerful motor; a more luxurious body; improved mechanical features all through; accessibility which in the days when the "Thirty" was designed, had not yet been worked out even in the designers' brains; and equipment which, five years ago, would have been deemed visionary.

PLAINVIEW POINTS.
We are all preparing for the revival services to be held at our school house. The Methodists begin the third week in July and will continue one week, then the Baptists start the second Sunday or the Saturday preceding the second Sunday in August. Bro. Plante is the Methodist pastor and Bro. Leach the Baptist. Bro. Leach will be assisted by Bro. Lindley of Sweetwater. We are expecting a great revival here this summer and are working and praying to that end, which is the best way to get it.

I have a suspicion that Mrs. Leach is preparing something nice for the young folks and maybe some older ones as well. Wonder what it is?

Sweetwater, Texas, May 23rd, 1913.

Grogan Wells & Boone Institute of Massage, Sweetwater, Texas.

Gentlemen:-

On the 29th day of April, 1913, I entered your institution and began taking your treatment, and left the institution on the 9th day of May, 1913.

I had a very severe case of rheumatism for which I had been unable to get any relief whatever; and in addition to this, for fifteen years I had been unable to put my right hand to my head on account of a dislocation of the shoulder. After a ten days course of treatment I am entirely relieved, have good use of all my limbs and feel like a new man.

My general physical condition had also affected my eyes until I could hardly read, even with glasses, but now they are as good as ever, as remedying the other ailments of my body has removed all defects from them.

I heartily and conscientiously recommend the Grogan Wells and Boone institute of Massage to all sufferers.

Respectfully,

(Signed) M. L. Bennett.

The Record believes if the matter were put up to the owners by the concerted action of the business interests of the town, in the proper light, the St. James corner would be rebuilt. It is too valuable and available property to be unimproved. Even one business house on the corner, or two, would be a great improvement and would rent at good figures to desirable tenants. With that much rebuilt, it would not be long till all the vacant lots would be filled.

The Record wishes to publicly commend the returning good sense and judgment of several young ladies of Colorado who are not being afraid to walk naturally and comfortably. Some of them have discarded the absurd and unnatural French heels in the middle of the foot and are wearing low, flat and broad heels, or no heels at all. Their walk is more comfortable, their carriage more graceful and natural. It is certainly a hopeful sign for the future. Now, if they will only do their hair as best becomes their individual fitness, they will have taken a long step toward emancipation from Dame Style, the despot.

He bought a gasoline engine from the Record to go into the irrigating business and promised to show us just what he could do in the truck raising line. One of the onions measures five inches in diameter and nearly sixteen around, and—believe us—they are considerable onions. Our hat is off to friend Lowder, and if ever he wants a certificate as to his ability to do good in the irrigating business, he can command us. IRRIGATED LAND.

A nice store building erected on the corner of Second and Walnut streets would have half a dozen offers for occupancy at good figures. And a store next the corner would hardly go begging for renters. The Colorado Social Club has installed a mechanical piano in their dancing hall to furnish the rhythm for their Terpsichorean excursions. If last Tuesday all day long and Tuesday night be an earnest of the use it will receive, may the good Lord have mercy on the nearby neighbors and make 'em thankful for what they are about to receive. We once roomed just across the street from a mechanical piano in a pool hall. At first we congratulated ourself on having music to lull us to sleep. It soon grew old; then very old; then a nuisance; then a d-d nuisance, and in less than two weeks it was in our heart to shoot the owner's cat or poison his dog. Mechanical music is like honey—wild honey. Its mighty sweet and good at first few tastes, but one soon gets a plenty, and then he doesn't want to hear the word "honey" for six months.

As there is much doubt and confusion in the minds of those who have to buy them, a published list of the approved and adopted text books in rural and city schools would serve a righteous end. If anyone has an authentic list, we would be glad to publish it, so that every school patron, teacher and pupil might know just what books and at what price, they would have to have.

From what we have been able to learn, there has been a good acreage of peanuts planted in Mitchell county this year. Several farmers have reported from ten to fifty acres planted and that they are doing well. They are good drouth resistors and are specifically, a lazy man's crop, good food for both men and his humble brother. With peanut factories all around us, a brisk demand and a fair price, the homely nut ought to prove a profitable crop this year.
