VERY SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

While trying to drive a cow from his field last Monday morning Mr. A. S. Carstensen, a farmer living on the Chas. Lasky farm, about six miles northeast of Colorado, met with a very painful and serious accident. The cow was in ugly mood and the presence of a dog, which accompanied Mr. Carstensen, added to her irritability, and she showed fight. Charging Mr. Carstensen, the cow gored him directly under the ribs on his left side, and swung him clear of the ground. The faithful dog here came to his master's rescue and attacked the infuriated cow on her heels. This drew the cow's attention to the dog instead of Mr. Carstensen, whom she threw on the ground and made off.

Medical attention was had quickly as possible, and soon physicians were attending the wounded man. The horn of the cow had gone in just below the lowest rim of the ribs and ranged upward, penetrating the left lung and tearing a large hole in the walls of the thoracic cavity, through which part of the lung was drawn and protruded considerably. After the operation the patient rested easy and at this time his condition is very promising.

This was almost a miraculous escape from death, and is another instance of the faithful service of a dog and loyalty to its master. The wounded man is himself exceedingly thankful that results were no worse. Later—Despite the encouraging condition of the patient on the day following the accident, he began to sink rapidly Tuesday night and died at 3:30 Wednesday morning. Interment occurred in the Odd Fellow's cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Mr. Carstensen leaves a wife and several children to mourn his distressing death, to all whom the Record extends sincere sympathy.

"Made in Loraine"

W. L. Edmondson came up from Loraine early Tuesday morning with his auto loaded to the guards with products of his irrigated two-acre patch in the town of Loraine. He had watermelons and cantaloupes. Fine as were ever grown, great bunches of grapes that would do credit to California and tomatoes large as one's fist—all of the very finest quality. This is but the beginning of what these two acres will do all during the summer. Mr. Edmondson has an ideal irrigation plant and system and never fails to make good on raising whatever he wishes. Although it cost considerable money, time and work to install such a system and plant as Mr. Edmondson has, yet the returns are continuous and certain. There is no chance about it; a good crop is assured. If proper care and cultivation are given. We dare say these two acres of irrigated land pay better dividends than many farms of 40 and 80 acres in Mitchell county. And what Mr. Edmondson has done on his two acres can be done by anyone; not on so elaborate a scale, perhaps, but the certainty of production is the point we wish to emphasize.

DEAD SHOT FOR SNAKE BITES.

An old pioneer, who was in this country when there were ten snakes to where there is one now, and who has seen hundreds of men bitten by all kinds of venomous snakes, and has been bitten twice himself, and suffered no harm, asks that the following recipe be published, that people may preserve it and have it handy in case of a snake bite:

Break an egg into a cup and beat it up just a little, then stir thick with gunpowder so it will spread on a cloth. Apply to the wound and change every half hour for two hours, then every hour for six hours. Give the patient a little whiskey, or some good stimulant that has whiskey in it.

This prescription is highly recommended, not only for the bite of poisonous snakes, but for the sting or bite of a traulula spiders, centepede or other poisonous insects.

OPENS ITS OFFICE.

Big Springs, July 11.—Offices for the new railway to be built from Tucumcari, N. M. to San Antonio, through Big Springs were opened in the West Texas National Bank building in this city this morning.

It is expected that developments in the construction of the proposed line will take place rapidly from now on.

A personal altercation at the depot Wednesday morning, between two members of the T. & P. bridge gang, resulted in a cracked head requiring several stitches, for one of the participants, and the pleasure of digging up a little grist for the "hopper" of the mills of justice, for the other, which on the authority of the poet, "grinds exceeding small."

Get Payne's prices on your next bill you might save some money.

Congressman, W. R. Smith is out in an interview strongly endorsing an immediate change in our national currency system. He says:

"First and most important of all, we have contended that the control of our currency should be taken from the banks and lodged in the government; that all currency should be issued by the government and not by the banks and that the issue must be controlled by public officials and not by private individuals. This change alone, in my opinion, would transfer the money power from New York to Washington and thus deal a death blow to the so-called 'money trust.'"

COLORADO WINS MORE BALL GAMES

THE CLERKS WIN FROM BIG SPRING CLERKS.

Four Hot Games With Roscoe. Colorado Gets Three. One Player Hit on Head and Knocked Out.

The Clerks' team of Big Spring having won a game from the Colorado Clerks on July 4th came over last Friday to give our boys satisfaction.

Much enthusiasm was shown and the business houses closed at 5 o'clock to give the boys a chance to warm up. Big Spring thought they had the game by long odds, but when they got warmed up in the game they changed their minds. The home team was composed entirely of Clerks, only one of which plays in the first team of Colorado, but they had some good ball players just the same. We give the lineup of the teams, showing the score, but as the score card does not show the hits or errors, we cannot give the details of the game:

Big Spring got 7 hits, Colorado 12. Preston Scott, umpired the game. This makes horse and horse for the Clerks' teams, and we hope to see them play off the tie soon.

Colorado vs. Roscoe.

A series of three games was matched with Roscoe which were played Monday Tuesday and Wednesday. Roscoe had gathered up a good team, having selected players from Merkel, San Angelo, Loraine, Baird and the big twirler, Quattlebaum from Abilene. They could not bluff the home boys, who lined up their regular local team, all Mitchell county boys, and went to them, with the determination to show them a few pointers, or get beat in trying.

The first game was called at 5:50 Monday evening and the line-up, giving the runs, errors and hits is given below:

Struck out by Quattlebaum 11; by Scott 7; Home run by Morgan in second inning. Umpire, Lee Jones, score, Colorado 0; Roscoe 1.

The Colorado team had been strengthened by putting Frank Hughes behind the bat, as he is not only a good catcher, but he is right in the game all the time, and he seemed to get better team work than usual.

On Tuesday the game was not so closely fought and Morgan could not put 'em over with that vim and curve that Quattlebaum had. "Scotty" did some pretty pitching in the first game and he was backed up by the entire team, not an error being made. The one score that was made by Roscoe on a doubtful ball—the left fielder thinking it was a foul, did not run it down, and Morgan paced around with a home run, to his credit after the umpire called it a fair ball.

The second game line up was as follows:

Colorado	R	E	BH
Lovelace, s. .... 0	1	1	1
Crawford, 2b. .... 0	0	1	0
Farrar, 3b. .... 0	0	0	1

Woodrum, 2b. .... 0	2	1
Butler, cf. .... 0	2	1

Score: Colorado 3; Roscoe 3; struck out by Cooper 9; Morgan 6; Morgan hit three batters and walked one. Cooper walked 0. In third inning Watson was retired and Shaffer caught. In seventh Boring was hurt and Watson took his place. In seventh Bodine hurt his ankle on slide in home and Scott took his place. Umpire, Jack Farmer.

The boys did themselves proud in this game, holding the visitors out until the ninth when they got out three good hits and put over three earned runs.

Cooper was in fine form and fooled them a plenty on that swift ball. He never hit a man nor walked one.

Roscoe's game was rotten all around as the error score will show, all of them getting an error except Boring on first base.

The lineup for the third game was about the same except the pitchers were changed. Quattlebaum of Abilene was in the box for Roscoe, and Rarrey of Pecos for Colorado.

This is the first game of the season where the Colorado team sent out of the County for a player.

The game started off nicely, first and second inning being goose eggs for both teams. In the first half of the third Quattlebaum went to bat for Roscoe, and in trying to dodge one of Rarrey's swift in curves was hit over the eye and knocked senseless. He was carried to Dr. Phenix office in an auto where he soon recovered sufficiently to go to his hotel. His hurt was not serious, but will retire him from the box for a few days. The accident was much regretted by the Colorado team and especially by Mr. Rarrey.

Roscoe not having another pitcher equal to the occasion, forfeited the game 9 to 0 in favor of Colorado.

Having an immense crowd present the largest of the season—the boys did not want to disappoint them, so they loaned them Mr. Farrar, one of Colorado's best players, and a pitcher from who laid the chunk.

The new game was played as smooth as the big leaguers could do it up to fourth inning when Roscoe scored, and in the fifth Colorado crossed two over the home plate. The rest of the innings were shut outs, and the game closed 2 to 1 for Colorado.

This was a series of pretty games and the Colorado boys did themselves proud. The visitors were nice quiet boys, and made many friends here, while the accident in the third game was much deplored, there was no trouble nor accusations of foul play as it was plainly an accident.

Colorado's standing in the West Texas League is as follows:

No. Games Won-Lost	Loraine	Hamlin	Big Springs	Toyah	Baird	Westbrook	Merkel	Roscoe	Total

Pecos Coming.

Next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a series of three games will be played with the famous Pecos team. This promises to be the biggest chunk Colorado has yet bitten off. Mr. Rarrey will pitch for Pecos and besides our own fast boys Colorado has the promise of Mr. Quattlebaum for at least one of the games. These are considered the two best teams of the West and it will be a battle worth seeing.

A WEEK ON THE RANCH

A. L. Whipkey, the "ramrod" of the Record's mechanical department, could no longer restrain that hunch that the fishing was good, and on last Thursday afternoon, accompanied by Robert as a mascot, went down to McKenzie's ranch and practiced the principles of the immortal Isaac Walton.

The object was to get out of town and take a few days rest, he not having had a day off in three years. This ranch is an ideal place for this purpose and Mr. and Mrs. "Mac" certainly know how to make their friends feel at home. We slept out under the stars for greater comfort and the only difficulty about this was to keep the wind from blowing us out of the bed. The fine large ranch house equipped with every modern convenience is certainly an ideal place. The Rhode Island Reds were just good and ripe as were "roastin" ears, beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, cantaloupes and other good things. We rode after cattle one day, helped cut some feed, and spent one day over on the Mountain at Jackson Springs, where 31 years ago Mr. McKenzie settled on the ranch in a little dug-out in the side of the hill. This spring is a famous place in that country, being the only running water for miles. A bold stream of good pure cool water flows from the foot of the mountain, runs perhaps 100 yards and goes back into the ground. It has never been known to fail, and was, many years ago, a camping place for Indians, many evidences of which still remain. Several of their mills, where they ground their corn, are on a shelf of rock—also a whet rock where they shaped and sharpened their arrow points.

Of course we went fishing one day, and Master Robert, after catching the same turtle three times, landed the first fish. We caught 20 in about two hours and motored back home and cooked them for dinner. The genial foreman of the ranch, Ollie P. Ford, showed us a good time, though very busy just now cutting feed. He took us rattle snake hunting, helped us gather wild grapes, and initiated us in broncho busting. The only thing that bothers Mr. Ford, he says, is that he can't come up to see the ball games. He is a great fan. This little trip was much appreciated by the Record man and Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie and Miss Hazel will always be remembered as people who can give their liberal hospitality in a way that makes the recipient feel perfectly at ease.

Crops down in that country are not quite as good as around Colorado, but are very fair, and with another good rain will turn out fine. Grass is not very good though cattle are looking well and most of them fat, especially the full blooded shorthorns, of which Mr. McKenzie is making a specialty. He has some very fine young cattle of this breed and is contemplating taking some to the stock show.

After leaving the graded road, which only extends about 12 miles, the going is something fierce. The big bridge across Red Bank Creek is washed out and the ford almost impassible. A number of crossings are very bad, and as there is no gin in that country all the cotton has to be brought to Colorado but in the present condition of this road it will be impossible to haul a bale of cotton over it. It seems to us that the county ought to get busy on that end of the road and if they cannot grade it to the county line they could at least fix some of the crossings and put in two or three bridges and a number of culverts and make it passible. If Colorado wants to hold this trade, she should get busy and see about this road.

Prosperity For One Is Prosperity For All

By HOLLAND.

If you are a farmer the value of your farm depends on the value of the adjoining farm, and the value of both depends on the value of property in the nearest village or town. Farms near prosperous towns are always more valuable than those near dead or dying settlements. And this is true without regard to the fertility of the soil.

The farmer depends on the town just as the town depends for prosperity on the farmer. Their destinies are interlinked; their interests are common. What hurts one hurts the other. Poor crops will affect the city resident who does not even raise radishes, and depressed business affairs affect the farmer who depends on soil, weather and muscle for his living.

Money sent to mail order houses helps to turn thriving towns into dead hamlets. It thereby depreciates the value of farm land. It decreases the population of the towns that most directly use the products of the farm. It lowers the price for butter and eggs, for chickens and for fruits and vegetables.

So, Mr Farmer, if you deal with a mail order house in a distant city you are taking a course that takes from the value of your farm, that renders it less desirable as a place of residence and less productive of profit. You can't follow a system that injures your neighbors without being compelled to shoulder some of the expense yourself. Take the safer course and SPEND YOUR MONEY WHERE YOU MAKE IT.

There were fifty nine students enrolled. Thirty-three took the examinations for second grade certificates, two took all of the second and first grade subjects, and nineteen took examinations building either for a first or permanent certificate. Every one who started in on the examinations Monday morning stayed until the end.

This student body represented one of the most studious bodies ever gathered together in a summer normal, and under the direction of Supt. E. A. Watson of Snyder, Supt. G. L. Panor, of Trent and Principle L. E. King of Houston Heights High School, the students have done excellent work.

The student body and faculty deeply appreciate the courtesies shown them by the people of Colorado.

Texas Leads All Other States In Beef Cattle Production.

For a generation or more Texas has lead every state in the union in her production of beef cattle. At the opening of 1913 there were over five million head of beef cattle in Texas, Iowa came second with two million six hundred thousand head of beef cattle. This shows how completely Texas as out-distances the other states in cattle raising.

A marked feature of the cattle industry of the Lone Star State is the steady improvement in the quality of its herds. For the past ten to fifteen years ranchmen all the way from Panhandle to the Lower Gulf Coast Country have purchased thousands of pure-bred bulls in the North and as a result of this farsighted policy the beef cattle that Texas is today sending to northern markets are showing up better than ever before in the history of the State.

From 400,000 to 600,000 Texas cattle find their way each year to northern markets. In fact, if it were not for Texas the consumers in the United States would be lamentably short of beef steaks and roasts.

For the purpose of encouraging the ranchmen of Texas to continue to improve the quality of their cattle, the St. Louis Live Stock Exchange has offered special prizes for Texas cattle at the Feeder Cattle Contest to be held at the St. Louis National Stock Yards, September 1 to 26, inclusive. It will be possible for any Texas ranchman to win as high as $200.00, including sweepstakes, on a single load of Texas steers. Secretary H. F. Parry of the St. Louis Live Stock Exchange, says that he looks for an exceptionally strong exhibit of Texas steers at the coming Feeder Contest.

STAGE HAND IN ACTUAL LIFE PLAYS HEAVY ROLE

Fred Gleason, stage hand, played "heavy" in a melodrama in real life Sunday, according to developments in corporation court Monday morning. It was not the first time Gleason has been in the police spotlight.

Several months ago he was shot at three times by his irate wife in front of the Savoy theater. Her aim was faulty and he escaped.

Sunday afternoon he visited the rooming house at Fifteenth and Commerce street which is run by Mrs. Gleason. An argument ensued (act 1, scene 1) and noises of a scuffle penetrated off stage. Patrolman Hollowell, playing "leads" entered (by U. E.) and placed a heavy hand upon Gleason's shoulder. Gleason made bond (act 1, scene 2) and, it is alleged, made an impressive entrance at the rooming house some time about the hour "when churchyards yawn and graves give up their dead." According to the police prompter, he was accompanied by J. C. Daniels and J. M. Brown.

Act 2, scene 1, was staged at headquarters, where the three men were charged with disturbing the peace. The curtain will be rung down on act 3 when the case comes to trial in corporation court, postponement having been granted Monday at the request of defendant's counsel.—Ft. Worth Record.

We have just secured by a lucky turn, 160 acres of proven oil land in the Petrolia Oil Field. Oil has been found on this land and we are willing to guarantee to find oil in paying quantities before claiming your money. We will begin to drill the first of the Forty wells which we have agreed to put down on this tract, within the next ten days. We expect to be producing oil in paying quantities within 90 days, and if we do not do so, we ask no money. In addition to the 40 wells we have agreed to drill on our 160 acres at Petrolia, we are now drilling a Deep Well for oil on Pumpkin Ridge, about 6 miles north of Petrolia, Clay County, Texas, where we own and control 3811 acres. We will sell you stock at $10 per share, and will deed you a lot 20x30 feet near our drilling well, and will give you an interest in the 3811 acres, as well as an interest in the 40 wells to be put down on our 160 acres at Petrolia. You may pay 1-4 cash, balance in 30, 60 and 90 days. We will return cash deposit at the end of 90 days if we haven't struck oil in paying quantities on our land. ### COUNTY COMMISSIONERS' COURT

The business of the honorable Commissioners' Court at its regular July term, was all but wholly taken up by the rabbit industry. No less than 14,523 rabbits and 34 coyote wolves were accounted for. This decimation of the bunny tribe cost the county $362.26.

Beyond the allowing of a few routine accounts, the business for July has been exceedingly light. Accounts allowed were as follows:

- Crystal Ice Company, for ice for month, $2.60.
- J. Riordan & Co., electric light globes, $2.50.
- Floyd Beall, for drugs for county's use, $7.25.
- Jas. H. Hall, for groceries for county's use, $1.65.
- Colorado Steam Laundry, for laundry work for county, $1.45.
- C. H. Lasky, merchandise for county's use, $9.85.
- Chas. M. Adams, for merchandise, for county's use, $13.25.
- W. H. Moeser, for repairs done on water wagon, $1.50.
- Dorsey Printing Company, for stationery and supplies, $20.20.
- Hargreaves Printing Company, for legal blanks, $6.57.
- Geo. D. Banard & Co. for supplies for county, $1.50.
- Maverick-Clark Litho Company, for legal blanks, $1.60.
- Petition of W. M. Richards et al. was passed to February meeting.
- Returns of the special election in school district No. 22, voting a special maintenance tax were canvassed and there were found to have been 7 votes in favor of tax and none against it.
- Returns of election held in school district No. 16 for purpose of increasing tax from 30 to 50 cents, were canvassed, and 10 votes were found in favor of increasing the tax, and none against it.
- B. O. Joyce was allowed $6.00 for supervising road two days.
- The county judge was authorized to purchase two school house bonds of $2,000 each with money out of the sinking fund of road district No. 1, and to place said bonds to the credit of said district in the county depository.
- County treasurer, J. E. Stowe was ordered to open an account with the county depository of sinking fund of road district No. 1 said account to be kept separate and apart from any that might accrue in said road district No. 1 except such funds as are levied and collected for said sinking fund.
- It was ordered by the court that a nurse be secured for Mrs. Maggie Fowler, and the county clerk instructed to issue warrants to cover expense on order of county judge.
- Per diem being allowed each member of the court, same adjourned to next meeting.

VISIT THE COTTON MILLS IN POST CITY

Dr. S. R. Cates and Niece Take Trip To Plains Country—Had A Fine Trip.

Ablene, Tex., July 9.—Dr. S. R. Cates and niece, Miss Quinta Cates of Winfield, Kansas, who has been in Abilene for a month visiting her uncle returned from a trip over West Texas Monday night. The trip was made primarily that they might inspect the cotton mills at Post City and see the irrigated farms on the plains. The cotton mill is not running at full capacity, but enough was working to afford a thorough examination. They visited at Lubbock and Littlefield, a big barbecue and town lot sale were put on at Littlefield on the Fourth, where there was some good "broncho busting" and other amusement.

Crops on the plains are about two weeks behind this section of the state but cotton and feed are looking fine. Small grain was a failure out there this year.

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

Kansas City Stock Yards, July 14, 1913. Cattle receipts were better distributed through last week than usual and dealers say it benefited prices. They would like to see cattle come in that way every week. Grass cattle which have been selling 75 cents to $1.50 higher than a year ago, declined 15 to 25 cents last week, while fed cattle, both steers and she stuff, which have been selling 50 cents to a dollar lower than a year ago, got a seasonable advance of 15 to 25 cents. Stockers and feeders lost their gain of the first of the week. Quarantine cattle acted independent of the general market, and sold 25 to 40 cents higher all around. Killers have gotten a line on how the grass quarantines are riding and are not afraid of them. Supply here today is 17,000 cattle, including 226 car loads of quarantine cattle, and receipts were liberal at other points. Fed cattle are about steady today, top steers $8.85, grassers $10 to 20 lower. Corn crop conditions are generally satisfactory, and country buying already shows signs of being heavy this fall. Illinois and Iowa buyers threaten to go around the markets this fall, and buy their cattle direct from owners in the country, hoping thereby to escape competition from the killers on the markets, which will be keen on all fleshy animals this fall. Bulk of the fed steers today $7.80 and upwards, grassers $6.00 to $8.25, quarantine steers $5.60 to $8.15, stock steers $5.50 to 7.60, feeders $6.75 to $7.75, cows $5.00 to $7.00, heifers $4.50 to $8.65, veal calves up to $9.25.

Hog conditions justified a good rise last week, but packers managed to vent all but a moderate gain. Most of the crop is required for fresh meat trade, eastern demand being heavy. Provisions experts say strong hog prices may be expected ahead, particularly if receipts continue light. Runs are liberal today, and prices are 5 lower, but it does not destroy the faith of most dealers, who are on the bull side of the market. Receipts 7000, top $8.87 1-2 bulk $8.50 to $8.87 1-2. Sheep and lambs sold higher last week, a little lower today, receipts 7000. Native spring lambs bring $7.65 to $8.00 today, of quality, ewes around $4.25, New Mexico sheep, 87 pounds, $4.50, goats worth $3.25 to $3.85.

The Horse and The Automobile.

The number of horses on the farms and ranges of Texas has decreased 99,364 head during the past ten years, and the automobile is said to be responsible for these conditions. An argument in favor of "Dobbin" is that his value has increased 164 per cent during this period while the average value of an automobile has depreciated $887.

The horse has practically held his own in Mitchell County although our records show a large increase in cars in this county. We have in Mitchell County 4430 horses according to the latest census reports and their total value is given at $301,649.

COLORADO, TEXAS JULY 18, 1913.

The alfalfa crop at Hereford has been cut, baled and sold at the highest price paid for alfalfa hay here on the local market. The yield was from one-half to two tons per acre, according to whether dry land alfalfa or irrigated alfalfa, and brought $5 and $16 per ton.

Don't confine within the four walls the healthful, active, growing little body, and above all, give the little weak, delicate body fresh air and a plenty of God's out-of-doors. Three cheers should be given to the colleges that have and are fast realizing this fact.—Mrs. W. S. Mullins, Cliftonville Miss.

The teachers of the rural South are studying their profession as never before. I believe that no class is struggling harder for improvement and advancement. Certainly none is working under greater difficulties, and they need and deserve the sympathy and co-operation of the home, without which the efficiency of the best teacher is crippled.—Leonie H. Elliott

When your son shows to you that he is eager to go to college and get a better training in agriculture, don't turn him down and say, "No, I never went to college and I am a good farmer." Experience is the best teacher, but the professor of agriculture at a good college can teach your son in four years as much and more than Professor Experience has taught you in forty.—D. M. Clements, Lynchville, Texas.

If we can once produce more feed than the livestock already in the South can consume then there will be some prospect for largely increasing our livestock production but as long as practically every Southern state buys feed for livestock, those who produce more feed than they need at home will believe it is more profitable to sell it than to feed it to livestock. We must produce the livestock feed produced by our cities and towns and absolutely cease buying hay and corn from the Northern States before livestock raising will be very largely increased. We do not need more livestock to consume the feed produced on our farms, but we need more feed grown on our farms to increase soil fertility.

The man who studies the work of successful farmers with a view of adopting any of the particular methods employed is not likely to get the most good from his investigations; but the man who studies the methods of a large number of successful farmers with the purpose of learning facts which he can apply in his own work is likely to obtain much good from his studies. This is the true function of the teacher of agriculture to study farming as a whole collect facts, and give them to those seeking information. The man who depends on his own experience alone, either as a farmer or as a teacher, will make many unnecessary mistakes.

In communities having a large negro population, the plan is being advocated of having negro farmers buy land in communities to themselves, instead of mixing in with white ones. Such plan it not being proposed out of hostility to the negro. It would help both races. The school question alone in mixed communities is of no small importance. Where equal in numbers each race can have school only half as long as they would have if divided. Separation into neighborhood groups along social and economical lines will come in this country, and will make the south a different place. Nothing will tend more to abolish the various race conflicts than such segregation.

The resignation of Attorney General McReynolds would doubtless meet the approval of the majority of the friends of the Wilson administration.

DOES IT SEEM FAIR?

The Record has been time and again surprised at the apparent lack of appreciation on the part of the business interests of the town, of the services the paper has tried to perform for the town, for the merchants and other business interests in it. The Record has never accepted an advertisement which it considered in competition with any line of business already established in the town of Colorado, and has week after week preached the gospel of trading strictly at home. The Record would do this same thing if the paper did not carry a single advertisement from the merchants or other business interests of the town. The paper would not deserve the support of the local merchants and professional men if it encouraged the people to trade with every stranger and rank outsider who blew into town. The paper has stood for the home enterprises because to the home enterprises it looked for support and encouragement. We are satisfied this paper never failed in its civic duty. It has not only tried to keep pace with the development of the town and county, but believe it has kept just a little in the lead. It has invested every dollar it has made since its establishment in the community, and tried to get others to do likewise. Its slogan has been "come on", rather than "go ahead."

But has the business interests of the town been as loyal to the Record as the paper has to the town? Has the service been reciprocal? There are people in town who have never run one line of advertising in the Record or had one sheet of stationery printed by this office. Some of them claim "advertising don't pay," and to show the consistency of their belief, will pay the first faker who strikes the town one to two or more dollars to put their name and business on a card, which the faker jells them will be hung in every business and public place in town. After collecting from $50 to $75 for such promised service the faker will come to this office and have, never more than 25 of these big (?) cards printed, after jewing us down to the lowest figures by threatening to have it done in some other place, for which he never pays over $5. He pockets the balance and seeks other suckers. If the Record were to solicit advertisements for this same kind of card or use these methods, the merchants would call it grafting, pure and simple.

In the first place, the Record could not do such tricks without laying itself liable to the charge of working the very people who accord it legitimate support. It can not compete with these fly-by-nights because it would be double crossing its own friends. But the local business men who do patronize them fail to recognize this aspect of the case, and forgetting the loyalty of the paper to the town, they patronize these fakes to the detriment of the home paper, which spends its money, its time and whatever talent it possess, in fighting for the interests of the home business men. We ask you the simple, direct question—does it seem fair?

The Boll Weevils have made their appearance in Eastland county and their presence is giving the people much concern. It was believed for a long time that an altitude of 1000 feet was too high for the propagation of the boll weevil, but they seem to be coming westward every year despite the increasing altitude. Early maturity of the cotton and unceasing watching for and burning of the punctured squares seem to be the most approved and successful method of getting rid of this great pest to the cotton crop.

It is safer to trust your eyes than your ears when a man argues religion while his wife carries in the water and wood.—Ram's Horn.

Russia has been given full power by all the belligerent Balkan states and Greece to settle the matter at dispute and end the war which is bankrupting all these countries.

El Paso is an enterprising place and makes "grist of everything" coming into its mill." Expecting daily a battle to be fought between federals and the rebels over the possession of the town of Juarez, seats and standing room on top of the highest buildings of the town have been sold from $25 to $1 from which the fight can be witnessed. If no fight takes place, the money will be refunded. Bets are also being made on the fight's ever coming off and books opened. If the fight does occur and a few bullets stray over the river and find mark in the person or persons of the curious on top of the high buildings, there will be another howl about the wanton shooting of American citizens and claims for indemnity set up.

Voters who oppose the bond issue amendment are not opposed to the cause of education in the state, nor to extending the scope and usefulness of her educational institutions. Not at all. They are opposed to it, because it would be placing too much power as well as temptation in the hands of a little more than 100 men. Legislatures have been corrupted and bought in many states, but there is no record of the people of an entire state being corrupted or bought at the polls. To give the legislature power to issue bonds for any amount, or even a limited amount, would be as poor business as electing a state treasurer and requiring no bond of him. It would be poor business.

H. H. Mobley, of Prairie Grove Ark, president of the state farmer's union, was summoned before the senate investigating committee to testify as to the meeting of a committee of the national farmers' union at New Orleans, at which a scheme was discussed to increase the consumption of cotton, and the influence brought to bear on that committee. Mr. Mobley said: "I am very slow to make accusations, but I have come to know that at all our meetings, state and national, we are surrounded by men who want us to do something for their interests." This statement by Mr. Mobley hits the very bull's eye of the trouble. This is particularly true of legislatures, both state and national. Wherever a law making body is met, there also will be found the lobbyist—men who undertake to get something done for their own or another's interest.

There is now being promoted another automobile highway across the state of Texas, from Texarkana to El Paso. There are two routes considered up to this time: both running by way of San Angelo where it would connect with the Colorado-to-Gulf Highway already determined upon. There is no reason why such a highway should not run parallel with the Texas & Pacific Road practically all the way. It would cross the Colorado-to-Gulf highway at Big Springs, and come by way of Colorado. The benefit of these automobile highways to the town through which they run will increase with the importance of the automobile industry, and do as much as a steam road to build up the rural communities. They render easier all social and commercial intercourse between communities and increase the market value of every acre of land near which they run. It might be to the interest of Colorado to look into this proposition before it assumes definite shape and its log fixed.

The Bulgarians are likely to lose all the respect and sympathy the world entertained for them in their struggles against the "Unspeakable Turk," in their war against Serbia and Greece. So long as these nations fought a common foe they worked in unison and harmony; but no sooner had they driven the Turk out of Europe than they began to bicker and quarrel over the distribution of the territory secured. Like all internecine wars, the fight on now between Bulgaria on one side and Serbia and Greece on the other, surpasses in cruelty and barbarity anything that happened in the war with Turkey. It is to the eternal shame of the greatest powers of Europe that they will allow this unnecessary and unnatural warfare between the Balkan states. But each one has hopes that in the wreck which will inevitably occur, of these small nations, its own interests will be served.

The beautiful embossed stationery heretofore supplied members of both houses of congress, will hereafter be abolished and they must worry along with plain, every-day printing. The joint committee on printing discovered that 11,000,000 embossed pieces of stationery had been turned out by the government printing office at an extra cost of $32,000. This retrenchment is resented by the senate.

TOO MUCH RED PAINT.

The Fort Worth Record has evidently laid in a long supply of lurid paint—and faith, she's a-using hit. That paper is running a series of articles, fenced around, on the first page, booming Texas, and no little country sheet ever published in a "future greatest city" of West Texas can lay it over the Record in spreading it on thick. "Garden spot of the world" is the mildest and most timid simile it uses in comparison. Texas is a big job—it is a generic term and relates to a group rather than an individual. One might as well apply the conditions of Ohio to all the middle states, as those of "East-Central, South or Western Texas to the whole state. The visitor who traverses that section of the state laying between Texarkana and Houston and acquaints himself with the conditions and topography of each county has as little idea of what exists in Central, South or West Texas as if he had never crossed the state line. And there is an empire embraced in each division. There is little in common between them. The topography, the soil, climatic conditions and vegetation, all differ. Methods means and lines of endeavor which would be successful in one of these grand divisions, would likely prove failures in the other. The people of each emigrated from different sections of the United States; were reared under different traditions and have different views on many aspects of life; different standards of life, and in some instances, of morals.

Set an eastern reader of the Fort Worth Record down in the middle of Culberson county and have him travel about 500 miles in any direction, and the vision he'd have of "the garden spot of the world" would come to him only in dreams. The state of Texas has suffered at the pens of those who meant to advance the state's best interests, by so glaringly overcoloring its advantages and ignoring the disagreeable features. Nothing with them is comparative; every adjective is used in its superlative strength. Every town is made the "best in the state"; every improvement is announced as the "finest in the state", until words which are intended to convey conviction, lose all meaning and power. They mean absolutely nothing. Instead of attracting the attention of a prospector or visitor, such claims not only overshoot the mark, but create suspicion in the mind as to the truth of the state's real advantages.

Today's lessons are linked to yesterday's and tomorrow's will be linked on to today's. If a child misses school two days this week, and if the same thing occurs week after week, the chain becomes hopelessly broken. For the child has not the patience nor skill to take up the broken links and the teacher, already over-worked, finds it impossible to give him the extra attention he needs. So he drags on, going over the same lessons year after year till he is glad of an excuse to quit school. The estimate value of a day in school is ten dollars. Think of those things when about to keep Jonnie or Susie at home to do a five-cent errand or because the weather isn't just right. When the weather is rough, get out the mules and take the children to school. Yes, it's some trouble. But anything that's worth while is, and some of the best things come by way of self-sacrifice. Anyway, try it, Mr. Farmer, it will add much to your self-respect; and the teacher as well as your children will rise up to call you blessed.—Leonie H. Elliott, Lattimore, N. C.

The educational condition in Texas is not nearly so bad as many of the advocates of the bond issue amendment would paint it. Just look at Georgia. The school teachers of that state have received no pay for their services since the first of this year. The scrip received in lieu of pay, they have been compelled to shyllock for 10 to 25 per cent. The trouble in Georgia is with the system in force rather than with the impoverished condition of the state treasury, for Georgia is one of the richest states of the southland.

If the foreman of the Fort Worth Record was not fired last Thursday morning by the management, then Chairman McCoombs of the national democratic committee ought sue that paper for criminal libel. Over the article announcing the successful operation on Mr. McCoombs for appendicitis at Paris, was the picture of a French aviator with an unpronounceable name, all togged out in flying gear; while over an account of the hair-raising stunts of the flying Frenchman, perched the sober face of Chairman McCoombs. It was as bad a mix-up as ordinarily happens in a daily newspaper office. But such slips will occur.

Of course there are ways by which people stopping at hotels and wishing a "night-cap" before retiring, can get it, but the general run of business has been materially cut down by the operation of the law.

AN OBJECT LESSON

The experience of the past two weeks has been a great object lesson to the farmers of this section. It has been the greatest argument for the necessity of irrigation we have ever seen. On July 4th, the crop conditions of Mitchell and all surrounding counties, had never been better. We dare say more farmers had expressed satisfaction with the promise and condition of their crops, particularly of their cotton crop, than ever before. Every body realized that to keep this condition up, more rain was absolutely necessary. If the rains came, we would have enormous crops of all kinds; if they did not, the fine prospects would be ruined. Unfortunately, the rains did not come, but instead, a succession of dry, hot windy days, which have very materially damaged the feed crop and caused the cotton to shed much of its fruit. Of course, a good rain this, or next week would do great good and stop the deterioration of the cotton and help late feed. But the fine prospect of two weeks ago is gone, and lack of water at the critical moment caused it.

Irrigation would prevent all such calamities as this. Even though only a tenth part of the present acreage were planted and put under irrigation, the results would be absolutely certain. There would be no gambling chances about it, but certain results from certain causes.

The State university has established another school under its direction—that of journalism. It was in response to a popular demand from all over the state. The Woman's Press Association of Texas, Lieut-Governor, Mayes, and the students of the university who are interested in journalism, have been insistent in their demands for the establishment of such a school as a state institution. The school will be firmly entrenched from the beginning, as it is intended to have a professor and two competent instructors in charge. We assume the school will be modeled in its practical work, after that of the University of Missouri.

That Missouri judge who classified a razor as a "toilet article", certainly never saw one in the hands of a roustabout nigger at a Saturday night festival. It belongs in the class with gattling guns, dynamite and Colt's 45.

There's no use trying to deny it or refuse to recognize it—the fact stares all of us in the face. Its dull and the condition is perfectly natural at this particular season and under the present circumstances. With the present promise of an unusually good crop, no farmer is losing a moment from his crop. He's making hay, maize, kaffir corn, cotton and watermelons while the sun shines and the ground holds moisture. He is hardly seen in town on Saturday afternoons, so busy is he with his crops. It is dull just now that things may be lively; this fall. Crops have not yet been laid by, and until they are farmers will be very busy and business will continue dull.

Cholera promises to do for the Balkan war what all the powers of Europe seem unable to accomplish. As many lives have been lost by the ravages of cholera since the beginning of the war, last fall, as by bullets. Unless peace can be arranged, it is feared the disease will soon get beyond control and spread over all Europe and Asia minor.

Should a vacancy occur in the senate from this state just at this time, it could not be filled either by the governor or the legislature, under the new direct election amendment to the constitution. The amendment provides that when a vacancy occurs in any state, a popular election shall be held to fill such vacancies, or the legislature may empower the governor to make a temporary appointment, but if the vacancy should occur before the legislature meets, there would be no way of filling it.

MRS. SMITH ENTERTAINS.

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season was given by Mrs. W. R. Smith last Friday evening in honor of Mrs. C. C. Blandford and Mrs. V. O. Marshall. Everyone is always glad to be invited to the hospitable home of Dr. and Mrs. Smith but to be given the pleasure of meeting not only the hostess but one of Colorado's most honored ladies who resided here so long and have the opportunity of greeting a new resident who is a dear friend of Mrs. Smith and was closely associated with her in El Paso, was indeed a pleasure.

Mrs. Blandford now of Arlington, was associated with so many good objects while here that all her friends are glad to meet her and talk of their many pleasant times spent together.

Mrs. Smith was assisted in greeting her guests by Mrs. C. T. Harness and her sister, Mrs. Cliff Beal. The porch and house were decorated with ferns and cut flowers which grow so profusely in West Texas and gave a cool refreshing tone to the hot afternoon.

"42" was the game of the afternoon and tables were on the lawn and in house to accommodate all. Many games were enjoyed so much that time and heat were forgotten and going home time came all too soon.

Mrs. R. D. Shook proved to be the most skillful player and was given a suitable reward for success. The honorees were both given remembrances of the afternoon which will always remind them of the pleasurable occasion.

The hostess, after seating the guests on the beautiful lawn served ice cream and angle food cake. She was assisted by her daughters, Misses Nellie and Lola Bess and their friend from El Paso, Miss Alice Kendrick. Dr. Smith came in for a while and all the ladies esteemed it an honor to tell the good doctor of the good time they had as he is truly a friend of all.

All went away feeling glad to have been in Mrs. Smith's home, glad to have seen Mrs. Blandford again and glad to add Mrs. V. O. Marshall to their list of friends.

SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES.

The Fairview School gave the county officials a hearty welcome Sunday afternoon and entered heartily into the graded Sunday School work. Besides the officers who have gone regularly on these trips, Mrs. J. G. Merritt and Mrs. Lyon attended Sunday.

Mrs. Lyon made a splendid talk on the "teen" age and told of the importance of the training for the boy and girl at that age. Mrs. Merritt made an interesting talk on Missions and told of the many reasons why the foundation for Missions should be laid in the Sunday School. There were good classes in all departments but the class of young men perhaps appealed to one's pride most of all. To see fine, earnest intelligent young men enlisted in Sunday School work is worthy of anyone's admiration and Mr. Goodwin is to be congratulated on being Superintendent of such a fine school. With Claud Hooks as assistant, Aubert Williams Secretary.

Mrs. John Sims, Home Department and Cradle Roll and Miss Geo. Goodwin, Mrs. Buckler, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. W. E. Berry, Mrs. Hicks and Mr. Judkins as teachers this school should continue to grow. The card system of keeping records was adopted and also the school is to have Star Sundays. Our best wishes go with this school.

The Christian School had an interesting teachers' meeting Sunday afternoon and greater things are being planned for the school.

The Methodist school is making a great effort to add fifty new members this Summer and the event is to be honored by a lawn party.

An interesting teachers' meeting was held in the Baptist Sunday School rooms Monday evening. Supt. Webb asked the teachers to visit the town into districts and make a house to house visitation this week to encourage the regular attendants, strengthen the weak and secure new pupils.

SLUMBER PARTY.

Mrs. C. T. Harness entertained eight girls with a slumber party one night last week in honor of her sister Miss Nora Blandford. They had a "spread" on the lawn and giggling time all through the night, which constitutes a good time for young ladies who can talk over school days together.

scholarship affiliation, confidence, persistence and development and but few have all those qualifications... Teaching is not all what some would have you think, all roses without thorns. There is work in it to be done the teacher who makes a success of this work, must possess sound judgment, they must have a knowledge of human nature and know the motives that influence it. In teaching a Sunday school class the strongest talent should be found in the Superintendent for the teacher in a Sunday school is what the soul is to the body, what the mind is to man, that the teacher is to the school. The teacher that does the most talking is not always the most successful. Success depends largely upon the firmness of the teacher, for all the great teachers of the past have been men and women of great firmness. Sympathy is a trait of character that every teacher possess, for it gives the teacher the power to enter into the feelings, to understand and share the joys and sorrows, the difficulties, perplexities, victories, and defeats of their pupils. A teacher lacking the sympathy never becomes popular, no matter how honest they may be. They cannot win the hearts of their pupils sincerity of purpose is another character of the successful teacher have a work to do, be loyal to your work believe in it, give your heart to it, and you will succeed for oftentimes their teaching is the making of great men and noble women. He must be close observer and see that good comes from this work, any one lacking such sincerity, has no place for a teacher in a Sunday school. There is two excuses used by parents who are careless of the spiritual training of the child, one is that they can teach their children all they need to know at home. The other that the Sunday school gives their children all the religious instructions that they need. Possibly both statements may be true, but no fact is more lamentable than this, that in 95 per cent of the families of America, the home fails in this most important duty. Parents who value the religious life send their children to Sunday school. Those who do not neglect them both at home and abroad, and as a consequence a large per cent of our modern children are destitute of moral training, for neither home or school without the help of the other is sufficient for the work of a child religious training. The Sunday school and home should work together, for the more the influence is felt through the week the greater service will it render on Sunday, to the home and the child. Then friend let us work still harder and bring every man and woman, boy and girl in this community into our Sunday school. Let us study more, read the Bible more, and I feel sorry for the person who does not read the Bible every day. I often wonder why they deprive themselves of its strength and of the pleasure, for it is one of the most singular books in the world. For every time you open it some old text that you have read a score of times suddenly beams with a new meaning and there springs out upon the page to you, something that you never saw lie upon it before. There is no other book that I know of which this is true. There is no other book that yields its meaning so personally that seems to fit its self so straight to the very spirit that is seeking its guidance. So when we teach our children to read this precious book, let us teach them right, let us leave out some of the dogmas and man made law rules, and teach them the Bible straight. Let us bring them in contact with scripture, that it will yield its meaning to their hearts, and to their minds. Make it their companion book. Their text book, and the rest will take care of itself, for who shall dare to guide another human spirit in the same old path that we have trodden. Then let us merely take those whom we have taught to the road, and say, here is the way of life, walk ye in it. Don't follow us, don't look to us as examples, of the consequence of our teaching for we admit we have done wrong. Walk ye on the road we show you, it will lead you to the great city of Light. Friends there is great problems before us today, and those problems will need purity of spirit and integrity of purpose, such as has never been called for before in the history of this country, and some of those can be worked out through our Sunday schools, for we all know that all

Lecture By W. E. Berry at The Fairview Sunday School Picnic May 29, 1913.

Friends and neighbors, we ought to feel that we are permitted to meet here once more on this beautiful May morning also the majority of the community with us. It has took time and patience to do this and we know that the Sunday School has been the means of bringing this about, for a good conscience is like a whirlpool drawing in all to itself which, otherwise would pass by. I have visited Sunday schools in several parts of the world and found out there are many different ways in its managements, never seen one yet but improvements could be made. We could make some here, the lessons should be reviewed every Sunday by the superintendent and the teachers, in their turn the little folks should be learned the Lord's Prayer and Ten Commandments, classes No. 2 and 3 should be taught the names of Bible characters and a short sketch of what they have done. The other classes should give their own class questions to be answered on the following Sunday, the Superintendent should give some main questions to be answered by the whole school, every class should read the lesson carefully before the question is asked, one full hour should be spent on the lesson every Sunday, too many chapters are read at present, read less and study more, one chapter well studied is worth a dozen merely read, let the teachers review those that read so many and see if they really know anything about what they have read. The old saying is give us your convictions as for doubts we have plenty of our own. 10 rules could be laid down here that would be a benefit to our school if we was to adopt them.

1. A better understanding of the real nature and purposes of the Sunday school. For the school is no nursery for children, it is a studying and teaching service for Christ and his followers.
2. Every church member should be in it, but at present take the world over, only one church member in five has anything to do with the Sunday school.
3. Every boy and girl at the age of accountability should have its text book, the Bible, and become familiar with it as early as possible.
4. The building should be adapted to the purpose of the school, that each class shall not interfere or molest the other class near them, let each class separate as much as possible.
5. All teachers should be well trained for the time is coming when teachers will hold diplomas certifying to their ability as Sunday school teachers.
6. The pastors in their work, should help us for as a man of education, he could enlighten us on the lessons.
7. The school should be managed as a business institution, and should be carried on in a business manner.
8. The Superintendent should strive continually to impress on the minds of the pupils the necessity of Bible study.
9. The Sunday school should use all the latest and up-to-date literature for we live in an enlightened age and we must keep pace with the world on those lines.

10. The Superintendent should ask the County Sunday School Board to visit us at times during the year, also some of our members should visit other schools in the county, some points may be gathered from those visits.

Now let us wake up and do something, lots of people will tell you what they have done, but you know that there is nothing as dead as yesterday, and no day as good as tomorrow, lots of people don't know this, no one cares who you was last week, or a year ago. They want to know who you are and what you are doing today and which way you are headed for, and at what height you have your mark set at. If you want an audience to listen what you did last year, go talk out in the cemetery then, tombstones got plenty of time to hear all about it and you get more whistling and cheering out of them, than you will from live ones. You can fool your own self by looking at the album with your picture in it, but all others will laugh and shut their eyes when you try to show it to them. If you ever did anything worth while and still got the real stuff in you, the same will keep you busy getting ahead right now, and you will forget you had an album. There is only one thing about a person to remember unless he is dead and that is what he is doing, saying and acting, today. This will tell the tale, this bunk a boob about what you used to be, don't count now, and don't get you nothing. Did you ever drink fizz water from a soda fountain that was left out over night in a glass? It tastes like an old rubber boot, well friends that is the kind of taste you make in everybody's mouth when you bore them, telling what you done 10 years ago. If everybody bragged about what they used to be, there wouldn't be enough breath left to Hello in a telephone. So don't stand in the doorway, you rail people move up and give the post people a chance. Move up, plenty of room up on the top ring of the ladder for every one, throw upon this surrounding, the sun shine or the shadow that exists in the soul. Life is divided into 3 terms, "that what is" "which was" and "which will be". Then let us learn from the past to profit by the present and from the present to live for the future, for you know it takes a life time to build a character, but it takes only one moment to destroy it, then how sensitive is righteousness, how restful is the spirit of purity and nobleness, for our life is a web woven by the hand of God, the thread reaching from birth unto death. The wool is trouble but it still runs with its warp and is intrwoven with comforts during life. If we want to do a thing we must have confidence that we can do it, for confidence is an element that has much to do with the success in teaching in a Sunday school, and there are more failures due to lack of confidence than any other one thing. For confidence has made great men in every profession of life and many teachers have all other qualifications to teach save this one. Like all other virtues it can be cultivated. Teaching Sunday school today means ability our schooling and all our thoughts come from this incomparable and unimpeachable book, the Bible, the word of God. If we cannot derive our strength thence, there is no source from which we can, and I hope we shall leave this meeting today, more inspired with the feeling, that the providence of God is the foundation of all affairs and that those can guide and only those follow who take promises of God from the sources where it is rightly interpreted. I feel proud today that I am permitted to take part in this great Sunday school work, and I oftentimes think of those people in Lands where I have traveled, that have none of these Sunday schools or churches. We ought to give thanks that we live in a country of Sunday schools and Bibles. I often think that our Sunday school lesson could be made more simple reading and interpretation of the bible, and fewer golf topsail, Sunday school lessons, for some of our lessons don't yield the meaning of the text that it is trying to interpret. If you will only give these little folks the pure bread itself, you won't have to ask some inept Chemical analyst to tell them how the bread is made up. Then let me urge again, let us get down to hard pan again, that we regard the whole busness of the Sunday school as the familiarizing of the children of the United States with the word of God. Don't let us cheaper it with our explanation, give it to them straight. It is not too strong meat even for babies. It will set well on any stomachs no matter how tender give it to them unadulterated, pure, unaltered, uncheapered and see it work throughout the whole nature, did you know that it is very difficult for a man or boy who knows the scriptures well, to ever get away from it. I know this from experience, for it will haunt him like the memory of his old mother, and reminds him like word spoken from his father and it forms part of the warp and woof of his life and when any thing of a dangerous nature comes up it will stare him in the face.

In regard to games and amusement I have this much to say, that base ball, 42 and dancing all have their followers, for, or against, all good in certain ways, and all wrong in others. If carried on merely as an amusement and kept within those limits it is all right, and we should avoid antagonizing or criticising until we have asked ourselves those three questions first, would Jesus have me do this, if he was here, Second, what effect will my indulgence have upon others. Third, how will it effect myself. For you know that each one has an influence upon others, either directly, or indirectly, and eternity alone will reveal the effect of any ones cause or action for good or evil upon others. I heard a man say once, "Do not go anywhere that you cannot take God with you". Many things are not wrong in themselves but when abused, the evil is always apparent, anything done to excess is wrong. Base ball games some say are educational and a muscle maker and give health and strength to the body. President Wilson says this much for base ball, "So far so good" But where vulgarity, swearing, slang quarrels and money put up to be played for is done, it is an evil. Dancing may be an innocent pleasure to some, but when a young man goes to a dance with his pockets full of booze with the sole intention of ensnaring or entrapping a young innocent girl, you are doing worse than gambling and it is an ugly evil.

42 games may be good in certain ways and may help to develop the thinking powers and learn people to count. But this game always looks to me as an entering wedge to the first step in the line of gambling, and in general, leads to cheating, swearing, anger and oftentimes winds up with money being put up to be played for. But still young people must have something of some kind, they cannot remain idle. For the old saying that all work and no play will make Jack a dull boy and all work and no school makes Jack a fool." Now friends I hope we will be all benefited and enjoyed ourselves here today, hope that we have heard and learnt something that will be useful to us in the future, and may we as a Sunday school keep up the great Sunday school work, hope that the next generation will take up this work, when we are gone, hope that wealth and honor will drift your way and financially be your portion, and that love will illuminate your pathway along the journey of life, for where christianity teachings hold sway, is brotherhood among men fully realized, for continual kindness melts even the hardest hearts, for all human love is reflections of Gods love. Then let us not try to escape our work nor to shirk it, above all let us not fail to see it. That we are alive today is proof, positive that God has something for us to do today. Then let us ask ourselves as we arise each morning "what is my work today" for God puts each fresh morning each a new chance of life into our hands as a gift to see what we will do with it. "Gamble not, swear not" is a maxim we ought to preach. Let our watchword be dispatch, and practice what we teach. Never let your Sundays like sun beams pass you by, for you never know what you have lost till old age pass you by. And when you come to Sunday school, on all good things give your consent for a smile is worth a thousand dollars and it don't cost a cent.

W. E. BERRY Raubler.

REV. J. N. CAMPBELL CALLED AND ACCEPTS. At a meeting of the church some two weeks ago, Rev. J. N. Campbell of Fort Worth was unanimously called to the pastorate of the First Baptist church at this place.

day he preached here again and accepted the call. He, with his mother and two sisters will move here this week and occupy the manse.

Rev. Campbell comes to this church backed by the very highest endorsements as to his character and ability as a preacher. His several years training under Dr. H. B. Carroll alone would be ample endorsement in itself that he is well and thoroughly grounded in biblical scholarship.

The church has now a sacred responsibility in how they stand by this young man and uphold his hands. Without the hearty co-operation of his congregation, he can do but little. If this is done, the Record believes he will more than meet every hope and expectation of this church.

Rev. Mr. Campbell will occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church next Sunday, at 11 o'clock a. m. and 8:15 p. m. A most cordial invitation is extended everybody to come and hear the new pastor and make his acquaintance.
