ENGLAND SENDS ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY

Germany Has Declared War on France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—Associated Press reports German Embassy served notice here that a state of war exists between Germany and France. This notice is equivalent to a declaration of war on the part of Germany. A German aeroplane last night dropped three bombs on the French fortified town of Luneville, which resulted only in property damage and no loss of life. The French commander-in-chief has left for the frontier.

The Germans have crossed into France at three points, Marsella, Longlaville and Cirey Sur-Vezouze. There they harassed the French outposts all night, but no engagement of any consequence was made.

London, Aug. 4—Great Britain today sent Germany practically an ultimatum demanding that she give a satisfactory reply by midnight on the Belgian neutrality question.

Premier Asquith confirmed the news of the ultimatum to Germany.

The House of Commons today passed a bill voting five hundred and twenty-five million dollars for emergency purposes and passed several bills in five minutes without a dissenting vote. The King issued a proclamation mobilizing the British army.

Germany announced to France that she considered herself in a state of war with France. French airmen are reported to be raiding German territory today.

Diplomats have confirmed reports that the Turkish army is being mobilized and will fight with Germany.

It is reported that Germany has declared war on Belgium and threatening to annex Belgium Congo.

Paris, Aug. 4—The French Foreign Minister today announced that "War is declared." This he said, was done by Germany breaking off diplomatic relations. He said that the Germans executed President Sain of the French Society in Metz.

Bar Harbor, Maine, Aug. 4—The gold laden Kron Prinzess Cecile, the richest war prize ever at sea, slipped to make her concealment almost perfect. She painted her white funnels black, and shrouded her portholes to conceal her lights. On Sunday off Newfoundland, a French cruiser tried to find her but the fog banks saved her.

More than a billion dollars are made available by a bill which passed the House today increasing the currency issue of the federal reserve system.

London, Aug. 5—Although five great powers are now actually fighting, important developments are few.

Germany is completely cut off by wire cable being gone. The German armies are steadily advancing both against Russia and France.

Business is almost suspended here as the government is commandeering all means of transportation.

In China the Germans have mounted guns on German liner, and their fleet sailed north.

Japan extinguished all lights on the Siberian coast last night. This is taken to mean that Japan is evidently preparing to participate in the fight supposedly with England according to her previous announcement.

Stranded American millionaires are charged by steamer Viking at the rate of five hundred dollars per berth to return home. Some speculators are offering one thousand dollars per room and five hundred dollars for sleeping space.

London, Aug. 5—England declared war on Germany last night but no German declaration of war on England has yet been received.

PRESIDENT WILSON OFFERS MEDIATION TO THE EUROPEAN NATIONS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—President Wilson today offered mediation to the powers of Europe now engaged in war. The hope that the President's offer of mediation will be accepted is based on the fact that under the Hague Agreement they can accept without changing the present military status. Secretary of State William J. Bryan has summoned a meeting late today of all the representatives of the foreign powers here.

The Big Boys from Thurber Puts One Over on Colorado in the Series of Three Games.

The first day's game, while going to Colorado by 6 to 2, was in the main a very close game, all the scores being made by both teams in one inning, the eighth. Big Muns was in the box for Colorado, while Anderson was back stop, with this battery, and a good line up in the field, Colorado had a mighty good team. But they had nothing on Thurber's battery, which consisted of McKenzie and Shafer. McKenzie gave place in the eighth inning to Bradier.

It was mostly a pitchers battle, and they were about equal. Muns apparently having the best of it on account of control and wind. The line up was as follows:

But they had nothing on Thurber's battery, which consisted of McKenzie and Shafer. McKenzie gave place in the eighth inning to Bradier.

Both teams showed up Tuesday afternoon with the determination to win. Thurber for Colorado was Polychek and Anderson; and for Thurber Winters and Shafer. Again the teams were pretty evenly matched, and the game started off slightly in favor of Thurber. But it was tied 3-3 at the end of the seventh inning, but in the eighth Thurber scored 3 more making 6-6, while Colorado was shut out up to the last of the ninth when she scored two, and it looked like they could easily get a couple more, but Vaughan was caught trying to steal third, which put the side out and left the score 6 to 5 in favor of Thurber.

This was a close, exciting and well played game, being only four errors on each side. Most of the runs were well earned. One of the features of this game was when Anderson put the sphere over the right field fence and trotted around. It was unfortunate that no one was on bases at the time.

The third game was not a good one in any sense of the word. The Colorado boys went to pieces and could not even interest the visitors. The principal reason of this was the fact that Mus was to have pitched this game, or at least part of it, but he was sick and could not go in. This left Colorado without a pitcher who was in shape. Anderson went in the box, but he had been catching the past two games, and was in no condition. He had no control and was not in form at all; but notwithstanding this, he could have held the game down to a reasonable defect had his infield backing been up to their former playing. But it seems they lost confidence in themselves, and could not get into the game with any spirit. Stewart went in the box in the seventh, but it was no use; they couldn't sgtop a ball nor throw them, so that Thurber made a race track, and after Colorado got two in the second inning, they failed to score again, while Thurber piled up eighteen. THIRTY-ONE YEARS AGO IN COLORADO

Doings of Folks and Conditions Worth Publication When the Town was a Mewling Infant.

Mr. J. W. Smith kindly loaned us a copy of the old Colorado Clipper of July 7th, 1883, which proved most interesting reading, and from which we extracted many facts of local history.

Now that we have located Dr. Tolar, it is our purpose to write him and request him to give us a reliable history of the establishment of the first newspapers in the town of Colorado.

Let us hope that the old Colorado Clipper will be able to do this for us, and that the town of Colorado will be able to do this for us.

On the completion of the telephone Monday, a prominent local firm called upon the postmaster to ascertain whether there was anything in their box.

Real estate values, that once can be judged by the following: "My dear Harrie found the lot on the corner west corner of Second and Walnut streets."

leadin' hostility of the city at that date, although the St. James was opened soon afterward with a blaze of glory.

An appeal was made to the people in this issue of the Clipper for a circulating library and public reading room. This appeal has never been met to this good year of grace, 1914.

The following excerpt is from the Runnels Record and is interesting only in showing how much conditions and opinions have changed since that time.

The Mitchell County Wool Growers Association had an important and interesting meeting on the day the Clipper was published.

The regents of the State University were "getting their" about this time where Lizzie wore her beads, for failure to put the medical department on its feet.

We take the following notice of the town from a neighboring exchange: "Colorado City, Texas, a town but three years old, has a population of 5,000, street cars, telephone, water works, a fine opera house that cost $37,000, and is growing very rapidly.

It was about this period in the yeasty evolution of society when the "dude" and his feminine counterpart, the "dudine" were flung into the spotlight as a target for every would-be wit and funny paragrapher.

FEATURE BILL SECURED. Four Bands, 160 Musicians, Will Furnish Music at Coming State Fair.

Dallas—An all-star bill for the Coliseum program at the 1914 State Fair of Texas, which begins Saturday, October 17, is announced by the management.

Among the special attractions are: Madam Susanna Lehman, world famous vocalist; the Wirth Family, acknowledged to be the greatest of all square-dancers; Power's Educated Elephants, for seven years a New York Hippodrome act, including the baby elephant "Baby Mine" handled by Julia Powers.

HON. WILLIAM I. YOPP, President of the State Fair of Texas.

W. I. Yopp, prominent in the cotton seed oil business of the state, and for years director in charge of the livestock department of the State Fair of Texas, is directing the destinies of the 1914 meeting, which begins Saturday, October 17.

DISPLAY OF FINE ARTS. Julian Onderdonk in New York Selecting American Masterpieces.

Dallas—There is now in New York a prominent artist, Julian Onderdonk, by name, who is visiting the studios of the greatest American artists, selecting the very best of their paintings to be shown at the 1914 State Fair of Texas, which begins Saturday, October 17.

BOY CORN GROWERS. Will Exhibit at State Fair For $300 in Prizes.

Dallas—To the Texas boy who grows corn the knowledge that he has a chance at a good share of $300 in prizes offered at the 1914 State Fair of Texas—October 17 to November 1—is an inspiration that makes him work all the harder under the scientific direction of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Hundreds of them are busy in every section of the state preparing for this year's club contests. They have all the benefits of last year's contest to start with and some of the heaviest acreage yields in years are reports.

PARADE AT STATE FAIR. Daily Panorama of Amusement and Entertainment Features Provided For.

Dallas, Texas—If Secretary W. H. Stratton of the State Fair of Texas carries out his present plan, visitors in attendance at the 1914 meeting, which begins Saturday, October 17, will be given a complete panorama of the amusement and entertainment features at the coming exposition in the form of a big daily parade, which will begin with Press Day, Monday, October 19.

Where summer fashion turkey trots, And rivulets of gasoline. Will watch for blemishes and spots. The love that changeth with the moon Will bloom again by blights and bays. The spinster will achieve the boon Of being loved for seven days. The summer man will softly urge His ring around from peach to plum. And some grass widow will emerge Displaying it upon her thumb.

The festive calf will wrap his tail around his withers swatting flies, and nothing cooling shall avail against the fury of the skies. The swimming hole will get so green the boys will have to skim the scum, the fragile flowers on the scene will sadly curtsy and succumb, the ambulance will dash about for folks who monkeyed with the sun, the weary hired man will shout for gladness when the day is done, the soda fountain clerk will shove the more impatient off the bar, and men will get some notion of exactly where the wicked are.

But let the sky catch fire and burn, Or let the sun become a ball Of fire works, we shall discern The pleasant imminence of Fall. The thought of Autumn shall sustain Our courage when the day is hot— To hear the cider press complain Shall ease and temperize our lot. If old Ulysses went through hell Sustained by thoughts of Mrs. U. We probably can do as well For Autumn coming into view.

It was on Aug. 3d that Columbus set sail from Spain to discover America for Mr. Rockefeller, and the Standard Oil magnate will therefore observe the day with an extra round of golf. He can do this inexpensively, and get a little exercise out of it as well. Mr. Rockefeller likes to get a little something out of whatever he does. After the game he will try to make the day of advantage to everybody by giving out an altogether new statement with respect to what we should do with our pennies. This will not conflict with either of the two statements already issued, and will be his final conclusion as to what we should do with them.

Columbus was 70 days crossing the Atlantic, and will be at sea in an anniversary way until Oct. 12. Lieut. Porte, who will start across in an aeroplane about Aug. 5, when the moon is full, expects to make the passage in 36 hours. However, he will have a crew of but one man to keep in subjection, whereas Columbus had some 60 or 60, including several Industrial Workers of the World. He could have discovered America some 30 days earlier than he did but his men only consented to land when the food was exhausted and they smelled coconuts. His performance is not to be judged by anything done in that line today, unless the expedition should be joined by Upton Sinclair or the Rev. Bouck White.

And then T. Lipton's spread of sail Will raise the lights of Gotham town. And Uncle Sam shall rush to nail The celebrated trophy down. No boat they ever did invent Could take it back across the sea. But no doubt Tom will be content

To get a good boost for his tea. The dog days will end Aug. 11, when the dog star shall cease to rise with the sun. Dogs will at once resume their former pleasant associations with man, dogcatchers will abandon that ignoble profession for horse trading or some other reputable avocation, and madstones will go into retirement. On the 20th the month will pass out of the influence of Leo the Lion, the fifth sign of the zodiac, and enter the dominion of Virgo the Virgin, the sixth sign. People born under Leo are very bold, and usually get a lower berth when they are out on a summer trip. Virgo people, upon the other hand, are very pure-minded and believe the man is telling the truth when he says he hasn't any more lovers.

On Aug. 21st there will be a total eclipse of the sun, but it will be visible only in Russia. At Minsk, Russia, it will continue for two and one-fourth minutes but there will be so little to see in Minsk after it passes that almost nobody will go. Unless Mr. Wilson thinks of something else, Congress will adjourn about the 25th, when the members will go home to see if their wives waited for them or got married again.

And then September's oriflamme Shall go sedately up, And old John Bull and Uncle Sam Shall wrestle for the cup.

NOT SO STRANGE AFTER ALL.

You may think it strange that so many people are cured of stomach trouble by Chamberlain's Tablets. You would not, however, if you should give them a trial. They strengthen and invigorate the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. Mrs. Rosie Rish, Wabash, Ind., writes, "Nothing did me the least good until I began using Chamberlain's Tablets. It is decidedly the best medicine for stomach trouble I have ever used." AUTO. ASSOCIATION MEETS.

Persuant to a call of the president, the Mitchell County Automobile and Good Roads Association met in the office of Judge C. H. Earnest on Monday of last week for the consideration of several important matters.

The prime business of the meeting was to investigate the conditions at Seven Wells with a view of securing control of that property and making it a resort for the general public.

On motion and second, the chair appointed a committee consisting of Dr. P. C. Coleman, J. L. Doss and A. J. Coe to see Mr. Wulfjen and ascertain if this Association could lease and convert it into a park and pleasure resort. This committee will report the result of its investigations to the Association at the earliest time.

A committee was appointed to secure information regarding the Goodrich signs which that company offers to donate for the logging of the public roads if the Association will see to putting them up. This committee consists of F. S. Keiper, J. C. Prude and B. B. Byrne.

The sign committee for the Snyder and Sterling roads consists of H. C. Doss, R. P. Price, O. E. Avery.

Committee for the Cuthbert road, N. T. Womack, Geo. Goodwin, Dr. Willis R. Smith.

Committee to look after the condition of culverts, Joe Smoot, N. T. Womack and Geo. Goodwin. South to Hastings hill, J. C. Irwin, Jess Gage.

Committee from Colorado to Hastings hill, Frank Miller, H. C. Doss, J. E. Stowe and G. W. Womack.

Committee from Colorado to Lorraine, J. R. Ledbetter, Dr. T. J. Ratliff, S. E. Brown and Hubert Toier.

Committee on Seven Wells road, J. C. Prude, F. E. McKenzie, H. Cook and W. P. Ruddick.

Committee on Sterling road, John Lane, Frank Smith, Ben Plaster, Bob Gary.

Committee on Westbrook road, F. M. Burns, J. H. Cooper, J. M. Page and J. W. Bird. J. H. Bullock.

Several good talks were made on the subject of good roads, and after adjournment Mr. F. E. McKenzie made the proposition that if the Mitchell County Association would agree to go out on the Coke county road and put it in good condition for auto travel, he would get the Coke county auto owners to work the lower end of the road and where the two forces met there would be (McKenzie) have the fatted calf barbecued and all the appurtenances to such occasions appertaining provided.

August gets its name from Augustus Caesar, who invented watchful waiting. He was a great-nephew of Julius Caesar, and came to the throne at a time when the situation in Egypt was about as delicate as any in Roman history. Mark Antony, the Governor of that province, was dancing the tango every night with Cleopatra in the royal palm garden, and the affairs of Rome on that side of the Mediterranean were fast going to pot. The Senate wanted to fire Mark, but Augustus knew better. It was the height of the Chautauqua season, and Mark was the best orator in Rome. Augustus knew very well that if he were deposed he would take to the circuit and plunge the empire into civil war. He advised watchful waiting. A keen student of human nature, he knew it would not be long until Cleopatra would ask Mark to give up Rome for her, and that there would then be a fight in which the Egyptians, who smoked cigarettes, would be opposed by the Romans, who smoked cigars. It turned out exactly as he thought, and after losing the battle of Actium, in which their flat-chested cohorts were easily defeated by the legions of Rome, Antony and Cleopatra leaped from one of the pyramids into the River Nile. Rome, always grateful to those who preserved peace after the long series of wars which led to the assassination of Julius Caesar by Brutus and other peace advocates, changed the name of the sixth month in the Roman calendar, Sextilis, to August. Thus two Caesars have their names perpetuated in the months of the year, the one addicted to conquest and controversy, and the other quietly sipping his grape juice.

The busy Congress shall desist From work and worryment at last, And file a tabulated list Of all the legislation passed. The Congressman who never rose To say a word shall do the rest, And rapt chautauqua at the close Shall pin a medal on his breast.

The way was long for those reforms in which the party calls us best, and many evil-looking storms have rendered perilous the quest; but having anchored at the last where all is quiet and content, we shall not turn to look aghast upon the way the matter went. It is enough that we should know how watchful waiting won the day, how Huerta quitted Mexico and what the other powers say; that currency has been reformed and never shall be scarce again; that all the trusts are being stormed by Prudence and her merry men; that evildoing is controlled, the giant Privilege is dead, and all remains for us is hold on tight and catapult ahead.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side. The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

RAINFALL FOR COLORADO THE LAST TEN YEARS.

This record was made from the Government Gauge, now in charge of Rev. H. G. Hennessy.

Table with 12 columns (Year, Jan, Feb, Mar, Apr, May, June, July, Aug, Sep, Oct, Nov, Dec, Total) and 11 rows of data from 1904 to 1914.

COLORADO, TEXAS, AUGUST 7, 1914.

The Mexican back yard squabble is now crowded next to the patent medicine advertisements in the daily news columns. There is a sure enough war on the reel now.

The Panama canal will be opened for the commerce of the world on the 15th of August. Lake Gatun has risen only sufficiently to give 30 feet of water in Culebra cut, and all vessels drawing less than that depth can, after that date, pass through the canal.

Nobody doubts that war is hell, but its made worse on the long distance non-combatants by being pulled off in countries where all names look like the alphabet run through a sausage grinder, while the man who attempts to pronounce them is taking chances with the jaw bone of that animal with which Samson slew a thousand Philistines.

The month of August is the most sweltering, fermenting and germ propagating month of the year. It should be the clean up and keep clean time. See that no stagnant water stands about the premises, and that no watermelon rinds are left to sour about the place.

Read the article regarding the cause of the war between Austria and Serbia. An understanding of the causes and relations back of the present trouble will illuminate and explain all the newspaper accounts of the war's progress. Consult a good map of Europe learn how to pronounce names twice the same way, and you will be prepared to follow the march of events with much more intelligent interest.

A deal has been practically closed whereby East Texas buyers purchase 50,000 head of the Terrazas mavericks, which were appropriated by the Constitutionalists. The deal was made through Villa, the shipments will be made through El Paso. The price will range about $15 per head, the deal aggregating $750,000. It is reported that Gen Luis Terrazas, the rightful owner of the cattle, will be allowed 30 per cent of the proceeds in order to prevent his attorneys from any attempts to stop the cattle at the border.

It might pay to look around for a bargain in resurrection robes. The Millennial Dawners, Millerites or other Ites, have fixed upon another date for the end of the world and the fullness thereof. This time it is October 20th, next. If only those who hold to this cult could be translated and the rest of us left to run our course to the end, the going hence of the Millennial Dawners would be no more important incident than its value as a news item for the daily papers. The Millerites threw a scare into the credulous element about fifty years ago by setting a day for the coming of the world to its end. A zealous few of them robed themselves in garments white and in order to get a good toehold start in their ascension to glory, climbed to the roof of houses and at the appointed moment, sure of their upward flight, jumped off and—hit the ground, of course, with a thud.

Just at the time we expected the h.c. of l. to get it in the neck with the advent of the watermelon season, here comes along this European war scare and puts the price of wheat away up and that of cotton away down. Oh, for the good old persimmon, paw-paw and huckleberry days of the pine clad hills and vine-shaded dell's of old Mississippi, where 'one could begin in the early spring on May apples and haws; be sustained during the summer on melons, berries and picnics and come under the wire in October sleek and strong on a diet of huckleberries, 'possum grapes, muscadines and congestive chills. That's what we call living—and then some.

TO STRAIGHTEN THE SHADOW OF A CROOKED STICK.

We have always believed that the state of Texas was too big a machine for the hired men we have had so far to keep the taps all tight and all the bearings greased. There has been a looseness about attending to the state's business—so much lost motion; too much "let it go at that" policy, until the business of conducting the affairs of the state has become one of merely perfunctory service. Everything is on a big, loose and sloshing scale. The condition puts in mind of the rear view of the average Greaser, whose britches seem always just in the act of dropping off. He reflects the national spirit of his country. He's not girted up. But we started out to say something about the $3,000,000 (?) state capitol at Austin. This rambling pile of architectural hysteria has been built about twenty-five years. It was condemned two years ago as unsanitary and unfit for the transaction of the state's business. Even the Texas legislature fled it as a pestilence, after two members of that body succumbed to a malady contracted within the walls of the building.

We learn now that an appropriation of from $500,000 to $1,000,000 will be asked from the next legislature to repair and refurnish the state capitol. Think of it, poor folks; one million dollars for repairs within a quarter of a century after its building. The building of the house was a shameless job to begin with. It is called a Three Million Dollar capitol only for the reason that it was paid for with 3,000,000 acres of the finest land in the panhandle of Texas, valued by the state at $1.00 per acre; but as conditions exist today it has cost the state more than $20,000,000. It was vaunted as the "seventh building of the world in size." True, the exterior lines are imposing and in keeping with the pretensions of the commonwealth, but as one enters the door the "four-flushing" becomes apparent. The building is neither safe for human life nor the preservation of records. Its wooden floors and endless wainscoting are a constant menace by conflagration and disease. Something ought to be done for the old trap, but to spend one million dollars on top of the undetermined original cost, would be sending good money after a bad job. The capitol building of Mississippi cost only one million dollars, as did that of Arkansas, and either is a better building than the one at Austin. It will be a hard job to straighten the shadow of a crooked stick.

THEY ARE TOO CLOSE NOW. We understand that a local option election is brewing in Nolan county. A saloon in Nolan county is no worse than a saloon in Tarrant. Nolan county folks seem to like Tarrant and Dallas county saloons, as they have voted to retain them. We wonder if they will like the Nolan county variety as well. We will see—Roscoe Times. God forbid! We hoped this ghost had been most effectually laid in West Texas until statewide prohibition prevailed. The threshing over of this old straw every few years is nothing short of a calamity to the social and moral pulse of a county or community. A saloon in Nolan county is infinitely worse for the people of Nolan county than ten such joints in Tarrant or Tom Green counties. Even the most generous patrons of the saloons had rather have their own homes free from the curse, but want to keep it handy in some neighboring town. The people of Nolan county will not like the saloons right under their noses as well as they do those in Fort Worth. They want the other community to bear the burdens and eat the fruit of the traffic. Better a dozen blind tigers and twenty bootleggers in a community than one legalized open saloon. The bootlegger and blind tiger have nothing behind them but their victims' appetite for their stuff; they know they are under the ban, always without money and are afraid to show their head or make any kind of fight. They are pariahs and already penalized. But the legalized, gilded and marble finished open saloon rears its protected front and defies both law and public decency. It pits its influence against that of the home, the wife and mother and openly takes the money that would otherwise go to ill fed and meagerly clad children. A saloon is a saloon, as to its morals and its work, but an open saloon in Nolan county would be infinitely worse for the people of Nolan county, as well as for the people of Mitchell county, and every contiguous county, than all the saloons of Fort Worth or San Angelo.

It has always been unthinkable to us that a man with two good hands, legs and any appreciation of the comforts and conveniences of life, would live on a place of his own for years without planting shade trees around his home. Much of the discontent and desire to move manifest in the people of West Texas has its root in the fact that they dwell in camping places rather than live in homes. Who can blame the wife for grumbling to her liege lord when the work around the home is made more arduous by lack of shade and the comfort and attractiveness such improvements insure. No wonder the children chafe under the home restraints and leave just as soon as they can make their way alone. Make the home comfortable and attractive to every member of the family, and not only will they turn to it as the happiest place on earth, but it will keep them from many temptations which assail the boys and girls who go outside their home for the pleasures that could be so easily provided at home. An attractive and convenient home—one of which both wife and children are proud—is a better investment for the head of the family than stock in the best saving bank in West Texas. Such investments pay dividends that can not be lost and no adversity can cripple.

EVERYBODY LEND A HAND. A Day of Road Working and a Barbecue and Dinner—A Matter of Interest to Every Coloradan.

Thursday, August 13th has been set for work on the road (Robert Lee road) between Red bank and the McKenzie ranch. This work will be done to facilitate transportation of farm products from that section of the county to the Colorado market. There will be no inconsiderable amount of cotton raised down in that part of the county, as well as other products, this year, and it will be hauled either to Colorado, Bronte or Robert Lee. The market that furnishes the easiest and quickest transportation will get the bulk of this business. As is well known the county road crew has not worked this road further than about 10 or 12 miles out from Colorado, and it is in bad condition. It needs a number of new culverts and some grading, however, these two items will be attended to by the county at once. The work to be done on this occasion will consist of clearing off the brush and grubs from the road; and putting it in such shape that later on the county can grade it and put it in first-class condition.

Free transportation in automobiles will be furnished all who will volunteer to help; forty or fifty cars will assemble at the two garages at 7 o'clock Thursday morning sharp. And it is hoped that enough men will be there to fill them all. While a barbecue has been arranged for by Mr. McKenzie, those who can do so are asked to take a basket of lunch so that there will be an abundance of dinner for all. Plenty of ice water will be furnished. Be sure and bring a sharp ax or grubbing hoe, or both, as the work will consist mostly of clearing out the brush.

A limited fund has been subscribed with which to pay for the work of a few men who are willing to help but are not able to lose the time.

The Good Roads Association insists that all members be on hand with their cars and also furnish a man. The importance of being at the garages promptly at 7 o'clock is urged as it is a long trip down there and to finish up the work in one day we will have to get on the job as early as possible.

While this part of the county is not as thickly settled as the northern end there are quite a number of good farms in that community and they deserve at least passable roads over which to haul their products to Colorado. The county road working crew have been busy on more important highways, but we are assured that this road will be put in passable shape now in the way of culverts, bridge approaches, etc., and later on will be properly graded to the county line.

Again we want to urge everybody in town to take a day off, go with us and clean out this road, and at the same time have a day of outing and exercise. Remember the day—Thursday the 13th, and the hour, 7 o'clock a. m.; and the place to meet at either one of the garages. Don't forget your ax or mattock, and a lunch, which latter is to be added to the barbecue for a big dinner for everybody who attends.

President of the Good Roads Association, and Committee.

MITCHELL COUNTY CONVENTION Endorses Wilson Administration—Delegates Appointed to the Various Conventions.

The Mitchell County Democratic Convention, met at Colorado, in the district court room at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, August 1st, 1914, and was called to order by county chairman, J. A. Buchanan.

L. W. Sandusky was elected permanent chairman and George E. Goodwin secretary.

The chair appointed the following as the credential committee: P. C. Coleman, C. H. Earnest and T. J. Coffey.

Pending the report of the credential committee, a motion by Judge R. H. Looney prevailed that Chairman Sandusky address the convention on the state of the country and for the good of the party. In his habitual way and inimitable style, Mr. Sandusky stirred the convention to a high pitch of patriotic enthusiasm.

M. Zellner was next called to the floor and made a splendid talk upon the virtues, province and opportunity of democracy.

The report of the committee on credentials was read and on motion was received.

The following delegates were appointed:

To the State Convention:—J. C. Prude, J. L. Doss, C. H. Earnest, Breedlove Smith, Earl C. Callaway, R. H. Looney and R. T. Coffey.

To the Congressional Convention:—P. C. Coleman, M. Zellner, R. H. Looney, J. A. Buchanan, D. T. Bozeman, Geo. Goodwin, J. A. Dorn, J. H. Airhart, S. E. Brown, A. Petty, Mr. Jones, R. G. Smith, Breedlove Smith, T. J. Matthews and L. W. Sandusky.

To 1st Judicial District Convention: W. P. Leslie and T. J. Coffey.

To 2nd Judicial District Convention: L. W. Sandusky and C. H. Earnest.

To the State Representative Convention, 121st District:—R. G. Smith, J. D. Westfall, P. C. Coleman, M. Zellner and S. E. Brown.

The motion prevailed that all delegates vote as a unit in all conventions.

The following resolution was offered by P. C. Coleman and unanimously carried:

"Resolved that we send greetings to our Democratic President, Woodrow Wilson, and congratulate him on the remarkable achievements of the government in behalf of the people under his administration. We wish to express our approval of the tariff and currency laws, the repeal of the Panama Canal tolls exemption, the Alaskan Railway bill, and the course of the administration in all things pertaining to the difficult Mexican situation, as well as its anti-trust program as presented in bills now pending in congress."

The following resolution was offered by Judge C. H. Earnest and unanimously prevailed:

"Whereas, the democrats of Mitchell county in convention assembled, realize and appreciate the services of Hon. W. R. Smith in the congress of the United States during the past twelve years, and desire to give expression; therefore, be it Resolved, That said faithful and untiring services in behalf of his constituency, be in all things approved and ratified, and we heartily ratify the action of the democracy of this district in again returning him to congress."

Dr. P. C. Coleman addressed the convention in a very hopeful and stimulating talk after which the convention adjourned.

INFORMAL DINNER.

Last Thursday evening at seven o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Shropshire gave an informal dining to the latter's business associates of the Colorado Mercantile Company, the only other guests being Messrs J. W. Nunn and A. H. Weston. No ladies were present at the board except in the swift and silent offices of Hebe. Aside from the delightful repast, a most enjoyable time was spent afterward when the gentlemen were joined by the ladies and the play of wit and fancy had free rein. The personnel of the guests was: R. P. Price, T. H. Roe, Leslie Crowder, John Holt, Will Fox, J. W. Nunn and A. H. Weston.

G. F. C.

Mrs. Edgar Majors was hostess for the G. F. C. last week. The guests were her aged grandmother, Mrs. Ratliff, and aunt, Mrs. Eula Lee Ratliff of Paris, Mesdames A. J. Coe, R. W. Mitchell, John Daniel, Oscar Majors, Willis R. Smith, H. B. Broadus, T. J. Ratliff, M. Carter, Beckner, and Miss Eva Jackson. During the games lemonade was served and at the close ice cold watermelon was enjoyed.

CENTRAL CIRCLE ENTERTAINS.

The members of the Central Circle of the Methodist ladies, entertained their husbands last Friday night on the lawn at Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jackson's, which was lighted and seated for the occasion. Besides the members and their husbands, Dr. and Mrs. Henix, Mrs. Leslie Crowder, Lewis Major, the Misses Buchanan and Claudia Smith were guests. Enjoyable readings were given by Mrs. Sprull and Miss Jo Dry. Afterwards much fun was had in guessing charades. When seven ladies rose the pastor was the first one to guess "seven-up," and more of like nature. Ice cream and two kinds of home made cake were served.

Miss Jessie Person entertained a crowd of girls with a picture show party Monday evening in honor of Miss Nora Blandford of Polytechnic, and who, until last year, lived here. After the picture show, cream and cake were enjoyed at Ben Morgan's. The girls were Misses Nora Blandford, Fannie Farmer, Jeannette Earnest, Mildred Coleman, Ruth Ford, Humphreys and Jessie Person.

A PLEASANT EVENING.

Miss Frances Riordan entertained in an informal way all the force of workers at the B. F. Mills Millinery store, on the lawn last Friday evening. All care and work were forgotten and nothing but the true hospitality of Miss Frankie and her mother and sisters were even thought of. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and games, and will be an oasis to these busy workers these hot days. Cooling and appropriate refreshments were served.

C. W. B. M.

Mrs. Leslie Crowder was hostess for the Colorado Auxiliary to the C. W. B. M. Monday afternoon, with Mrs. W. R. Smith as leader. The subject was "The Story of our Forms of Mission Work" with this scripture as the key note: "I can do all things through Christ who strengtheneth me."

Roll call, great christian preachers. The field reports were interesting and encouraging. A sketch of the forms of work conducted at the C. W. B. M. which is located at Indianapolis, Ind., was given by Mrs. A. J. Coe, which was both interesting and instructive. Coming in touch, as it were, with the noble christian women at headquarters and knowing something of their trials and triumphs, cannot fail to strengthen and encourage the workers here.

Extracts from the Missionary Hand Book were given by Mrs. Ed. Jones and was enjoyed. Mrs. Stowe sang very sweetly an appropriate solo. The bible questions were from Jeremiah.

Mrs. Crook was received as a new member and Miss Roda Sheppard was the guest of the afternoon. At the social hour ice cream and cake were served.

TENNIS.

Mrs. Max Thomas chaperoned a crowd of young ladies to Big Springs Tuesday to "root" for the Colorado boys tennis club, playing against the Big Springs boys. They were Misses Lois Prude, Byrd Adams, Juanita Shropshire, Maggie Figh, Eleanor and Mildred Coleman. The young men who took part in the games were Messrs Dawes, Breedlove Smith, Thomas Coffee, Thomas R. Smith, Bruce Phenix and Lettwich Shepherd. Myron Smith and Joe Smoot went up in the afternoon in their cars and brought the young ladies home.

500 CLUB.

Mrs. Staten Hamner was hostess for the 500 club at Mrs. Prude's Tuesday. Besides the regular members the players were Mesdames Burns, Bailey, Looney, Lindsay, D. N. Arnett, Jr., Steoham Beal, C. M. Adams; Misses Margaret McComas and Louise Moorar. Mrs. Burns won the guest prize and Miss Bernice Terrell the club prize, both silk hose. Mesdames Smoot, Meeka Boren and V. W. Allen were guests. Sandwiches, olives, wafers, ice tea, orange ice and cake were served. Miss Lois Prude is hostess next week.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET.

The Methodist Young Peoples' Missionary Society met with Miss Sallie Herrington Tuesday. Mexico of Today was studied. The young ladies decided to give a parlor play soon on a lawn and are now practicing for it. Mrs. Hughes of Sweetwater was an appreciated guest. Light refreshments were served at the social hour.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church met at the church Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. G. Merritt, first vice-president, presiding. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. W. L. Does with scriptures bringing out the thought of Christ encouraging missionary endeavor. The program in the Missionary Voice was carried out. Subject, Economic Needs of Brazil. Misses Ella and Jo Dry had a debate on, Resolved that the Economic Needs of the United States is a Greater Problem than those in Non-Christian Lands. Mrs. J. T. Davis gave a paper of the Economic Needs in Brazil. The social conditions of both at home and abroad were discussed. Mrs. Hughes of Sweetwater was a guest.

THE BAPTIST MEETING.

The meeting at the tabernacle conducted by the Baptist denomination, is growing in interest every service. The preaching is being done by Dr. C. B. Williams of Fort Worth. Dr. Williams is not only a scholar but he is a man of great spiritual power and preaches the gospel in its purity and simplicity. He began his sermon Tuesday evening by preaching on Pentecostal Revival, bringing to the christian's mind the necessity of the power of the Holy Spirit if souls are to be won to the Saviour.

On Wednesday morning he talked on "How to Win Souls to Christ," and on Wednesday evening "The Church's Supreme Need." This was a deep, spiritual sermon indeed, and no one in the congregation but had, deep in their hearts, a desire to lean on God and His power, and to be of greater use in His kingdom. On Thursday morning he talked on "Fishing for Men," and all christian workers were greatly strengthened by this practical talk. The singing is being conducted by Dr. V. O. Marshall who is not only a singer of ability, but sings with the "spirit and understanding." All singers are cordially invited to assist. The music is being conducted by Miss Whipkey, pianist; Lee Jones, cornet; Ed Jones, violin. Everybody is urged to attend these meetings and listen to this good man.

It will do you good to be there. The tabernacle is cool and pleasant; the services are not long, and it is a good place to spend these warm evenings. Everybody come.

A JOLLY PICNIC.

On August 2nd a jolly crowd passed the day down on the mouth of Red Bank. At noon a sumptuous dinner was spread and enjoyed by all. Swimming and swinging was great sport.

Among the merry crowd were Mr. Will Cooper and family, Mr. Green Delaney and family, Mr. Nessmith and family, Mr. Robert Cooper and wife, Mr. Jule Henderson and wife, Joe Justice, Armond and Oland Earnest, Mr. Hunt and family, Mr. Andrew Kellet and wife, and Miss Virginia Hays, one of Colorado's hello girls.

BUFORD NOTES.

The health of the community is fine. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins and friends in this community this week.

Mrs. Palmer's father and mother from Brown county are visiting here, and are expected to stay quite awhile. People of this community are very busy now, cutting their feed.

The Buford people are taking in the big meeting this week. Everybody is having a nice time as it is cool and pleasant.

Literary society at Buford Friday night was fine. On account of the meetings we will call our literary off for awhile.

Uncle Bill Cunningham and family, and Mr. Sam Palmer and family, made a fishing trip to Cedar Bend last Tuesday and had a fine time. The largest fish that was caught weighed 10 1/2 pounds.

Brown and Blue Eyes.

LONGFELLOW LOCALS.

The time has now come for the "big meetin'," and I suppose everyone is planning to go, or are already going. A crowd from here attended services at Buford and Union Chapel Sunday.

Miss Jennie Barnett of Colorado visited her brother a few days this week.

A crowd from here went down to Gary's ranch last week to worry the finny tribe for awhile. The caught lots of fish and had a big time.

Mr. and Mrs. Roden Pickens are entertaining a little lady in their home, named Juanita. She arrived on Monday.

Mr. Will Wilson is visiting at Big Springs this week.

Mrs. Fern Caswell and sister, Miss Lois, were the guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Britton, Sunday.

Mr. A. C. Costin of Plainview visited his daughter, Mrs. Pickens, Saturday.

Everybody is invited to come and take a part in the singing next Sunday. SUNSHINE

In no event can the European war adversely affect Texas business conditions. Our crops are abundant; the world will all the more demand our foodstuffs and by the time our cotton flurry will have passed and our great staple will bring its true economic value. As Secretary McAfee explains, the Aldrich-Vreeland emergency act is still in effect, the new banking and currency system will be in operation in a few weeks, there is plenty of gold in the treasury vaults and government funds for crop moving will be deposited in the banks as announced several days ago. With such facilities it is impossible for any embarrassment to befall our financial institutions, our merchants or our industries.

Our cream is the only pure cream in town, so eat nothing else.—Colorado Creamery.—Flem McSpadden.

Mrs. J. H. Bullock has been quite sick for the past ten days, but is reported much better now.

Are you interested in the welfare of Colorado? If so attend the public road working next Thursday. Free dinner, free ice water, free transportation in automobiles.

Order a quart of cream for dinner, or come to the factory and get it for less.—Colorado Creamery.—Flem McSpadden.

Thos. P. Cooper, editor of the Miles Messenger, is visiting relatives and friends in his old home this week.

Judge A. J. Coe left Wednesday night for Dallas to attend the state convention of county judges.

Get a brick for dinner at Colorado Creamery, they are the best.

WANTED:—250 men to go and help clean out the Robert Lee road, next Thursday. See particulars in another column.

Hall DeGarmo is visiting relatives in Sweetwater this week.

Sam and Alex Franklin of the Plainview neighborhood visited their brother, C. E. Franklin, this week.

FORD

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Buyers to Share in Profits Lower Prices on Ford Cars

Effective from August 1, 1914, to August 1, 1915 and guaranteed against any reduction during that time:

Touring Car	$490
Runabout	440
Town Car	690

F. O. B. Detroit, all cars fully equipped. (In the United States of America only.)

Further, we will be able to obtain the maximum efficiency in our factory production, and the minimum cost in our purchasing and sales departments if we can reach an output of 300,000 cars between the above dates.

And should we reach this production, we agree to pay as the buyer's share from $40 to $60 per car (on or about August 1, 1915) to every retail buyer who purchases a new Ford car between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915.

For further particulars regarding these low prices and profit-sharing plan, see the nearest Ford Branch or Dealer.

Ford Motor Company A. J. HERRINGTON

Attention is directed to the new ad of A. J. Herrington in this issue of the Record. The price of the Ford-car has been materially reduced and the Ford Company is dividing its profits with its customers. If you have ever considered the purchase of a Ford car, now is the time to investigate it. See Mr. Herrington for particulars and a thorough demonstration of the merits of this universally popular car.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. James, of New Mexico, have moved to Colorado and will make this their home. Mrs. James was reared here and will be remembered as Miss Ruth McComb, who lived in East Colorado. Her many young friends welcome her back home.

Mrs. M. J. Culp has gone to Nadine, N. M., where she will spend some weeks visiting one of her sons. She left strict instructions that the Record should follow her.

Mr. J. E. Lattimore, manager of the Thurber hall team, visited his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McSpadden while the team was in Colorado.

Henry Cook and family of Silver, visited relatives in Colorado, Saturday.

D. L. Harrod and family of Silver were the guests of D. L. Buchanan and family last week.

Little Miss Lois Whipkey returned from her visit to Snyder last week.

Mrs. S. D. Vaughan returned home yesterday from a visit with relatives and friends at her old home in Leander.

W. W. McClellan of Lewisville, Tex., only brother of, and brother of the only E. M. McClellan, is visiting the latter. He is accompanied by Lem Nash, an old time friend of Mr. McClellan.

Mrs. E. B. Morgan is visiting relatives at Plainview.

If you want to help the community, in the south part of the county, as well as Colorado, attend the big public road working next Thursday.

FEWER DEATHS FROM HEAT PROSTRATIONS

Notwithstanding the fact that the heat has been unusually oppressive throughout the country this summer, comparatively few deaths from prostration have been reported. There can be no doubt, but what this encouraging fact is due to the increasing use of the electric fan, particularly the portable buzz fan, which is fast becoming as essential to the comforts of the home, and the office, as ceiling fans have been for many years to business houses. Among the long list of modern conveniences it would be difficult to find one that gives so much of comfort and luxury for such a nominal expense as does this little breeze maker. Men are fast realizing that the busy housewife stands in as much need of pleasant working conditions as do other people. If she has a few pieces of delicate fabric she would iron herself, is it enough that she is provided with an electric iron? Why not add the fan whose cooling breezes prevent the otherwise inevitable perspiration, weakening to the vitality and damaging to fabrics? Or when the faint would take a much needed siesta, how much more she would enjoy it and be benefited by it with a gentle oscillating zephyr playing over her recumbent form?

The Westbrook-Broome Electric Company make a specialty of all of the electric devices and appliances, and have a complete assortment of these fans at prices so moderate as to be in the reach of every one. Why hesitate? She deserves it.

Demountable rims; safety tread on rear; one man type top; built-in rain and clear vision ventilating wind-shield, attaching rigidly to top; full floating rear axle, shaft locking into taper hub; full equipment of 13 Timken roller bearings; irreversible steering; flush dash equipment; extra rim and carrier; 24 finishing operations in painting bodies Studebaker blue.

THE NEW Studebaker AUTOMOBILES
ONE-PROFIT CARS BECAUSE THEY ARE STUDEBAKER MANUFACTURED CARS

Today—or tomorrow—go to the Studebaker store and see the new Studebaker models, FOUR and SIX.

Two types of each—five-passenger SIX and seven-passenger SIX; FOUR Touring Car and FOUR Roadster. You will find them competing with cars that sell at prices $500 higher; and you will also find them showing higher quality throughout.

Studebaker prices are lower because these cars are completely manufactured in Studebaker plants, carry but one profit, and impose no middleman's tax on the buyer.

There is only one way by which Studebaker quality can be put into a "Four" or a "Six" to sell at Studebaker prices.

That is the Studebaker way, which means complete manufacturing and elimination of the parts middlemen and their extra profit; not the assembled of semi-manufactured way.

Complete manufacturing, its economies and the excess value it puts into the cars represent the Studebaker Ideal.

In the case of the Studebaker millions of dollars are invested in plants, machinery and special equipment.

Our huge production and sales turn our investments into manufacturing economies—we can well afford equipment the cost of which must be prohibitive to any producer whose output is smaller than Studebaker.

For example, we maintain the largest and most completely equipped laboratories in the automobile industry, which not only work out the special formulae for Studebaker steels, but test and analyze the steels to be certain they are up to specifications.

We maintain huge heat-treating plants for the heat-treatment of vital parts, like gears, axle shafts, front axles, etc.

We make our drop forgings in our own forge shops.

We cast and machine and build complete every Studebaker motor.

We make our springs in our own spring plant.

We make our bodies and tops in our own body and top factories.

In short, we make a greater proportion of the parts for Studebaker cars than any other producers make for their cars.

And being complete manufacturers, we can and do make the parts of Studebaker cars of better, stronger, longer wearing materials; and put better value into the cars at a stated price.

Ride in the new Studebaker and you will see the result of Studebaker complete manufacturing.

If you are not expert enough to appreciate this value, ask the advice of some man who is expert.

He will tell you that the way the Studebaker sticks to the road is due to its perfect balance, and that, in turn is due to scientific design—complete manufacturing.

But we do not want or ask you to consider Studebaker Cars solely on price.

If you ask why they are better—why they give and always have given thorough satisfaction—consider the aims, ideals and honesty of purpose behind them; the quality of Studebaker materials; the vast extent and intensiveness of Studebaker manufacturing methods; the excellence of their engineering design; and the fact that in each and every important or vital particular these cars welcome comparison with the highest priced.

He will tell you that the lack of vibration is due to perfect fit and alignment of parts—again the result of complete manufacturing.

You will learn that heat-treatment of parts makes them stronger and last longer.

And you know that light weight means economy of gasoline and oil and tires.

Through motor refinements and up-to-date designing these cars have power in excess of all requirements.

You will be delighted with the clean simplicity of the motors; their perfect accessibility; and you will see that you can care for a Studebaker with the least time and effort.

We would advise you to waste no time in seeing the new cars.

Delivery can be had at once of either model; and the best motoring season is before us.

When you shop around, keep your mental impressions of Studebaker value always before you for comparison; and remember that this value is the great result of Studebaker volume and Studebaker complete manufacturing.

ERWIN-PHILLIPS

One of the prettiest home weddings that has yet occurred in our little town, was that of Miss Bettie Erwin and Mr. John George Phillips, Jr., of Mexia, on Wednesday evening the 29th at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of about twenty-five guests and relatives. The home was artistically decorated in white and green. The bridal arch was especially pretty from which an aisle of white ribbons extended to the door through which the bridal couple entered, preceded by Misses Willie Gregg and Sloan Erwin, who held the ribbons throughout the ceremony. Miss Wanda Altman played Mendelssohn's march before and after the Flower Song, while Rev. J. W. Haggard performed the ring ceremony.

After this the guests were ushered to the home of Mrs. Allie M. Erwin where on the lawn the happy couple received congratulations, and all were served to brick cream on grape leaves, and bride's cake. Here also, the guests inscribed their names in a guest book, a gift to the bride. The bridal gown was of white crepe de chine over mesaline, with lace and pearl trimmings; the veil of white chiffon was caught with pearl ornaments. The traveling costume was a blue brocaded coat suit, worn with white chiffon crepe waist, with hat and gloves to match.

Miss Bettie is one of our home girls, who has been reared here and graduated from the school and represents one of our best families. Mr. Phillips is engaged in the mercantile business in Mexia and is highly spoken of.

They left on the east bound train for Dallas and other points before going to Mexia, where they will reside.

Information of Priceless Value to Every Colorado Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a nearby resident who has used them and publicly tells of the benefit derived.

Mrs. S. P. Daily, Big Springs, Texas, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have done me a great deal of good whenever I had occasion to use them. My kidneys were disordered and acute pains darted through my back. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage. The first few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills helped me and two boxes cured me. Another of my family has also taken Doan's Kidney Pills with success. You are at liberty to continue the publication of my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills." Price 50c, at all dealers. HOW TO GET STRENGTH after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness. Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

ELECTION RETURNS CORRECTED.
Last week in our table of election returns of the primary, we had several errors: Congressman's vote at Jagan was given as 1 and it should have been 11. The total was correct. We said Stowe and Congressman Smith came in with the second largest vote, when it should have been Stowe and T. R. Smith. We said M. D. Cranfill, Earl Jackson and W. P. Leslie each received the full vote at Loraine, 258. Mr. Stowe received at Loraine 261; the first three mentioned lost 3 votes each at this box.

We had W. C. Morrow out at Westbrook elected public weigher, when in fact Millard Conoway was elected. Our report left the Cuthbert vote out entirely in this race.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF AUTOMOBILES.
Filling station has been established at my garage, for the advantage of the general public, where gasoline can be had at the lowest price. The plan upon which this station will be conducted is the same as in all the larger places. Coupon books will be sold for the cash, and the coupons will be accepted in payment for gas as the consumer uses it. Those who buy the coupon books will get their gas at 10c per gallon, while it will be 13c to all others. This difference is made from the fact that when you buy a coupon book it is the same as buying gasoline by the barrel, giving the purchaser the barrel or wholesale rate.

I have been working for a long time to get this station established here for the benefit of my customers, and users of gas will find it not only a great saving, but much more convenient. This plant will be ready for business August 1st, and we ask that not only our regular customers, but the public in general will take advantage of it.

RACE HATRED THE CAUSE OF AUSTRO-SERVIAN WAR

RECENT ASSASSINATION OF CROWN PRINCE AFFORDED EMPEROR PRETEXT FOR QUARREL

The impending conflict in Europe between Austria-Hungary and Serbia, which has involved practically all of Europe, is inspired by no momentary pique of Austria against Serbia. While the surface causes of the struggle are events of recent days the real motive is far more deep-seated. The hatred of Serb for Austria has come to be an inherent trait of the people of the little Balkan kingdom, engendered by more than two centuries of enmity. Acts of the larger nation have fanned the smouldering coals from time to time until the spark of flame of last month which sent the Crown Prince of Austria-Hungary down with an assassin's bullet in his body; but that was but the outcropping of a blaze that has been smoking for generations. Russia's coming to the aid of her little Slav brother has involved members of both the triple alliance and the triple entente. Thus Europe faces a war that will involve more men than any conflict in the world's history. Austria-Hungary, Germany and Italy, comprising the triple alliance; Russia, France and England, members of the triple entente; these are the main factors in the threatened struggle. And it is not hard to see how Greece, Bulgaria, Roumania and Montenegro, with possibly Japan, would be involved on the side of Russia. That Turkey will overlook such an opportunity to recoup her losses of territory to the Balkan States is not likely, and it is not difficult, with a knowledge of the various alliances, the ties of blood and religion and commerce, that bind European Nations one to another, to imagine a veritable world conflict.

Kinship of Serb and Russ.

In this connection, a word regarding the racial ties. Where does Russia come in? The Serbs, or Servians, the European Russians, the Bulgars, the Croatsians, of Serb blood but under Austrian rule, are all members of the great human family known as the Slav. Kinship of centuries binds Russia to Serbia, and subjects of the Czar have long considered Serbia in the light of a little brother; that Russia has not been a shining light as a big brother is a matter of history, but the kinship of blood and religion exists. On the other hand, Germany and Austria are very close akin. These two Nations are members of another great human family, the Teutons, which includes all German-speaking peoples, Belgians, Dutch, Tyrolese, and in which the Scandinavians are a sort of half brother.

The Serbs are a proud people. Their racial purity, even where they have migrated to other lands, is unique. The free air of the mountains and plains of their land has given into their blood. In war they have ever been ready and able to hold their own. They have a dream of empire that has never faded, but which now seems about to be dissipated forever.

The present trouble really dates back to the year 1691, when the Croatsians, a branch of the Serbian family, moved to what is now Hungary, across the Danube. Though under Austria-Hungarian rule for over two centuries they are still, to all intents and purposes, Servians, loyal to their Serb ancestry. They outnumber the German-speaking population of Hungary. Such a condition could not breed loyalty and fealty to Austria, nor could it fail to engender a feeling of enmity of Serb against Austrian and of Austrian against Serb. It might roughly be compared to the conditions in Texas in 1836 and the years preceding; Texas settled up with families from the United States, could make little pretense of love and loyalty for the Mexican Government, under whose flag she was. The political tie was there, but it was quickly severed. Thus Austria has for years suffered under the knowledge that a very considerable part of her population was disloyal even though that disloyalty was seldom expressed openly.

Austrian Control Comes.

It was in 1878, however, that the first chapter of the present trouble was really written. In that year the Slav provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina rebelled against Turkey and, aided by Russia, attained their independence. A congress of nations at Berlin turned them over to Austria-Hungary, which was to establish a sort of military protectorate over them. For thirty years, the Austrian Government administered that trust faithfully and wisely, introducing many reforms and greatly bettering the conditions of the populace, establishing schools, building railroads and otherwise bringing benefits to the country. In 1908 they were formally and arbitrahad been the idea of the Nations, when Austria-Hungary's work of reformation was done, that the independence of the provinces was to be restored to them. Austria, partly no doubt with selfish motives and partly with the fear that Turkey, blossoming forth with the regeneration of her reform movement, might demand that the promise of evacuation be kept, calmly annexed the provinces.

The smouldering hatred of Serbian for Austrian flamed. It had been part of Serbia's dream of empire that she, uniting with the Herzegovians and Bosniaks, should form with them a new kingdom in Southeast Europe. Alike in language, characteristics, religion and race, these three peoples might easily have been welded into one. Small wonder it is that Serbia burned with a hate for Austria. But Austria had the powers at her back, and when the little Nation across the Danube began warlike preparations, the powers of Europe, in the parlance of the day, told her to behave herself. There was nothing to do but comply, but the wound did not heal.

Effects of Turkish War.

Then came the war between Turkey and the Balkans, too recent to require extended review here. Turkey went down to defeat and became a mere speck, so far as territory went, on the map of Europe. Serbia, when the partition of the northern territory of Turkey began, demanded a slice that would give her a port on the Adriatic Sea. Austria was not slow to realize the danger to herself, both commercially and otherwise, from such an acquisition by Serbia. With a port on the Adriatic, Serbia might compete for the trade of that section of the world; she could establish a navy. It was a move fraught with dire possibilities for Austria and Austria knew it. She notified Serbia that she could not extend her territory to the Adriatic.

Serbia's anger again leaped to blood heat, but to no avail. When she defied Austria, that Nation, figuratively speaking, peeled her coat and rolled up her sleeves, preparatory to administering chastisement and enforcing her demand. Serbia, bleeding and torn from her costly participation in the war with Turkey, was in no position to fight. She gave in.

Assassination Affords Pretext.

Such were the events that fomented Serbian and Slav hatred of Austria, culminating in that tragic affair of last June which left the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife cold in death. Over here on the Western hemisphere folks saw only the surface outcroppings, but there was much more beneath the surface.

In Bosnia and Herzegovina the anti-Austrian feeling was manifested with little attempt at disguise. The conditions there are somewhat analogous to those in Alsace-Lorraine, which is French in language and breed and religion, but under German control and almost outspokenly anti-German in its sympathies. Into the hotbed of anti-Austrian sentiment came Serb agitators, preaching what has been termed the Pan-Slav propaganda. This was nothing more or less than a revival of Serbia's dream of a Slavonic Empire in the southeast of Russia. That the assassination was inspired by this propaganda can not be denied. Serbia's joy over the slaying of the Crown Prince was not even thinly disguised, for while Francis Joseph, the Emperor, was anti-Serbian, his son was far more bitter and vindictive than he.

Austria demanded punishment of those back of the assassination and also demanded that the Pan-Slav agitation cease forthwith. The demands were couched in words that left no middle ground. Austria was showing her teeth. Serbia's answer, whatever it may have been, was "unsatisfactory." The Serbs are not a servile people. National tradition and pride forbade that she should yield, battered and bruised though she was from her recent fight with Turkey. Then came Austria's declaration of war.

Other Nations Involved

If Europe as a whole becomes involved the advantage will be with the opponents of Austria-Hungary. Even with Germany and Italy on her side, she can not hope to compete with the massed strength of practically the rest of Europe and possibly Japan, which nation will probably come to the aid of her ally, England. It will be something of a free-for-all, for while the alignments are such that the issues between the two factions will be clearly drawn, it is not to be believed that the opportunity to settle some ancient Greece, for instance, has signified that she would feel in duty bound to assist Serbia. Greece already has a war on with Turkey, though little has been heard of it on this side of the water. Montenegro is already in the scrap, tooth and toenail, and Bulgaria and Roumania are very present possibilities as Serbian allies. Should all the nations of the Balkan Peninsula become involved there is little doubt that Turkey will make an effort to get back some of the territory wrested from it; at any rate, the Ottoman Empire will profit by Greece's participation. Russia and Austria have not been on friendly terms for many years and the Czar has more than one grievance for which to seek redress.

France has not shirked hostilities with Germany, with which nation her relations have been somewhat threadbare since Napoleon's time. Italy, of course, as a member of the Triple Alliance, will side with Austria and Germany. These are strange partners in blood for Italy, but the tie that binds the three together is an effective one, although the agreement which formed the Triple Alliance was supposed to expire in June of this year, there can be no doubt that it still is in force to all intents and purposes.

England, with Ulster and the militants on her hands, seems to be in poor condition to face a war. Yet influence of such a conflict has apparently shelved internal difficulties for a while. Dispatches say the militant suffragettes have agreed to make no more trouble until the international troubles were settled and the Ulster problem will likely be allowed to remain in statu quo also until the weightier matters have been settled.

Nations Prepared for War.

As to the fitness of the several nations for war, authorities differ. Russia, not yet recovered from the struggle with Japan and with an immense war debt, nevertheless has her fighting force on both land and sea in good condition. Austria-Hungary and Germany are well prepared. France is said to be well organized as to her military, but she, with Germany and Austria, is heavily in debt. Italy has had too many troubles in the last half decade with Turkey and Tripoli to be in the best of shape. There can be little doubt, taking the two factions each as a whole, that the advantage on both land and sea is with the opponents of Austria and the Triple Alliance. In aerial equipment the advantage is the other way.

The conflict, if it really does involve Europe as a whole, will be different from anything the world has ever seen. All science and modern inventions have done in the last decade in the matter of war machinations will be brought into play. That the airship will play an important part—in fact, is already playing an important part—is certain. New and powerful artillery, ingenious forts and defenses, all the possibilities of the airship and the wireless telegraph—these will come into action. Under these conditions the world may well prepare for the most sanguinary conflicts yet revealed by the curtain of history.

GOOD SUGGESTION TO COLORADO PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-I-ka, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowels so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Colorado agents for Adler-I-ka. W. L. Doss.

You are missing a great spiritual feast if you don't hear Mr. Williams at the tabernacle.

Mr. Thornton, who died a week ago last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Webb in East Colorado, from injuries received by the overturning of the medicine wagon he was driving, was comparatively a stranger here. It was learned, however that his mother lived at Santa Anna, and that his sister was attending school at Abilene. Mrs. Webb communicated with these parties, and the sister came up and was with him a few days before he died. The remains were taken to Santa Anna for burial.

The Baraca class meets at the Baptist parsonage at 10 o'clock next Sunday. Let everyone come. We will have Dr. C. B. Williams with us as teacher. Our lesson was good last Sunday, and the attendance was good, so let us try to make it larger next Sunday. Come early and bring some one with you, all are welcome, strangers especially. Secretary.
