WILSON WINS FOR SECOND TIME

Presidential Contest Most Exciting Political Event in History of the Nation.

OVER SIXTEEN MILLION VOTES.

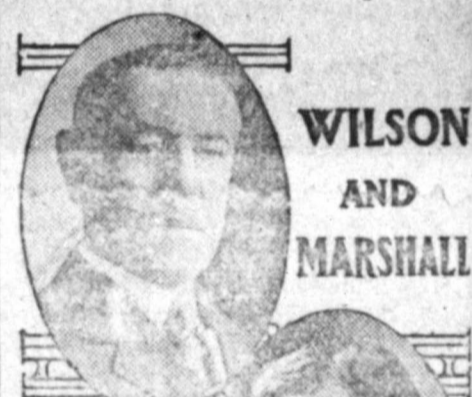

New Hampshire the Only Eastern State Carried by the President, but in the West He Is Victor in a Number of the Commonwealths—Women for Chief Executive—South, Except Weest Virginia, Solidly Democratic

After the most exciting week in the political history of the United States ament the national election, beginning with Tuesday night, when it appeared, based on the returns obtainable up to Monday noon, that Hughes and Fairbanks had won, only to be followed with later reports showing that Wilson and Marshall would be their own successors, the figures of the electoral college vote giving up to noon Monday California to the Democrats, insuring their election, and New Hampshire's votes going to the latter's column by the close margin of 63 plurality.

There was but one state yet to receive final returns from Minnesota, in which the Republicans had a small lead.

There were over 16,500,000 votes polled, with Wilson having over 400,000 plurality over Hughes.

The Democrats carried but one Eastern state—New Hampshire, and as above stated, by a slender margin in the West, however, the president was strong, carrying California, Colorado, Arizona, North Dakota, New Mexico, Montana, Nevada and Washington, while he got every Southern state except West Virginia, Kansas, Missouri, Ohio and Idaho also went into the Democratic column. With Minnesota still in the doubtful column with her 12 votes, the Democratic ticket had 276 electoral votes, or ten more than necessary to elect.

WILSON AND MARSHALL

FOR PEACE PREPAREDNESS AND PROSPERITY

Up to Monday noon Hughes was leading in Minnesota by 497.

That the votes of the women in the state where they are permitted to vote were largely, with the exception of Illinois, favorable to President Wilson, was evidenced by the returns They, according to R. B. Howell, Republican national committeeman for Nebraska, which also went Democratic showed that they had the balance of power and used it in behalf of Mr. Wilson. The argument that appealed to the women, Mr. Howell said, was "He kept us out of war."

Former Governor Lee Cruce of Oklahoma, who made speeches in Arizona, New Mexico and Kansas for the Democratic ticket, says the election lesson is the "patriotic attitude of the women voters in the West."

"The votes of women are responsible for the great Democratic gains in the West," said he. "These women voted for Wilson because they want the nation to be at peace. The returns show that their votes were not cast as the votes of their husbands and fathers; were, nor for any particular political party. The result in Kansas shows me that women voted for peace—for Capper, Republican, and Wilson, Democrat. The intelligence and patriotism of the women voters of America in the recent election where there were issues to try those things have been proven. It is my opinion that President Wilson now owes it to the women of America who have been asking for the ballot to recommend a change in the constitution to that end."

NARROW MARGIN OF CONTROL
Politicians Deeply Interested in Uncertain Situation in House.

Although the congress elected Tuesday will not meet under ordinary conditions until December, 1917, politicians in Washington already are deeply interested in the fact that the returns indicate a narrow margin of control in the house of representatives.

Up to noon, Monday, the Republicans seemed to have four or five majority.

Under the present rules of the house, the speakership is more of an honor than a post of power, but the first sharp contest will be over it.

Champ Clark, present speaker, is certain to be supported by the Democrats and the Republicans may center on the candidacy of Representative James Mann of Illinois, the present minority leader, and the winner probably will be determined by the vote of less than half a dozen members not named with either great party.

If election returns show the house is Republican, an echo of the forth coming struggle probably will be heard in the session which begins next month with the Democrats determined to put through all possible legislation on the presidential program while it controls the senate and house.

ECKHARDT CLAIMED ELECTOR.

Opinion is expressed at Austin that the contention of George F. Rock, hold of Dallas, vice chairman of the Republican party of Texas, that Robert J. Eckhardt of Taylor is disqualified to serve as Democratic presidential elector because he is a member of the state senate, is wrong. Mr. Eckhardt was elected state senator to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator T. H. McGregor of Travis county, since which time there has not been a session of the legislature. It is pointed out that Mr. Eckhardt had a legal right to accept the nomination of elector, even if he is a state senator, and that upon his election as elector he can abandon the office of senator.

The law authorizes the victorious electors, in this case the Democrats, to select an elector or electors who are absent for any cause or who may be "disqualified." This mandate is found in Article 3182, Revised Statutes which uses the following language:

"If any person so chosen elector shall, by death or other disabling cause, fail to attend by the hour of 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the day fixed by law, and vote as required by law, or if any such person shall be legally disqualified to serve as elector a majority of the qualified electors present, after having convened, may appoint some other person to act as elector in the place of any such absent or disqualified person, and shall immediately report their action to the secretary of state."

F.M.BURNS

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO.

From the Files of the Colorado Spokesman of August 10, 1901.

The leading local news feature of this date was the resignation of Mr. Delling as sheriff of the county. Mr. Delling gave as his reason for so doing, that of "dollars and cents." His ranch interests, which demanded his attention, had to be looked after to prevent loss. The emoluments of the office at that time were not what they are today. There was a wild and reckless scramble for the office made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Delling. Among the aspirants we note the names of Earl Morrison, Ben Kennedy, Bob Crump, Joe Howard and William Cox.

The cold storage plant in the Gilbert & Watson meat market had just been installed and the paper lauded it to the celestial constellation as being the "best, most up-to-date and commodious plant of its kind west of Fort Worth." In sweeping into his peroration touching the advantages of the cold storage to the people of Colorado, the editor declares: "It is easy to see that Colorado people will at once appreciate a cold storage and give it their heartiest and most generous patronage, and that its enterprising proprietors deserve an overflowing measure of success." (For further information regarding the overflow, anxious ones may address H. D. Gilbert, who yet tarries at Abilene, Texas, in the butcher business.)

Henry Doss and Artie Bailey left on July 26th, as chambermaids for ten cars of cattle bound for Chicago. They too in Milwaukee, made famous by one Mr. Schlitz. Henry returned a few days earlier than Artie, who "dropped off for a few days in Fort Worth." Henry reported things as being "kinder tough in old Missouri, but as looking better in Illinois."

The paper was then in the midst of the disease that sooner or later afflicts every country newspaper published since the days of old Benjamin Franklin—Self Laudation—as witness the following: "The Spokesman has been the recipient of showers of compliments the past two weeks, and it is now generally pronounced the best weekly newspaper published in Texas. Old timers who have watched the rise and fall of evanescent newspapers enterprises, have decided that Colorado has not only the best local newspaper she ever had, but the very best in the state." (We omit the blushes that are supposed to accompany this admission.) The success of the paper at this time, seems to have been actually embarrassing to the publisher and owner.

Captain Jas. I. Shepherd had just returned from Galveston, where he attended a meeting of the state bar association, and reported that city as fast rebuilding after the fatal storm of eleven months before.

Internal trouble at the Colorado salt works plant was thus mentioned: "Trouble at the Colorado Salt Works has been brewing for some time, all which, report says, arose in the family, and was the result of an attempt by some of the directors to make a change in the business management. Mr. Brand has held this position for some time and is a stockholder and director. J. M. and E. E. Radford, it is said, attempted to put in as business manager, John Miller, and having a majority of the vote, so decided to do. Mr. Brand refused to vacate, and an injunction was issued restraining the business from further operations. The matter is now in the court."

The "biggest rain in the entire history of this section" was reported as fallen at Marfa, that week.

After a continuous service of more than 18 years, local agent, W. A. Crowder, at the T. & P. station, "drew out the coupling pin on last Monday and took a siding for a month or two. He left with Mr. Walker for a fishing and general recreation amid the Davis mountains." Agent Crowder still abides with us in health, good spirits and devotion to his duties. His layoffs are like the visits of angels—mighty skuse. But he is the same affable to public and loyal to road agent he was when he first entered its service, which was more years ago than we would be guilty of telling on him.

John Person had just returned from an extended commercial pilgrimage overland, embracing a part of Oklahoma, and was pregnant with news of the "condition of the country." He travelled and brought forth the information that "his territory was in most excellent shape and business prospects in all lines never better."

Jim Scott, an expert well driller, had returned to the Beaumont eldorado and expected to start toward China by way of Spind'top the next week.

The present Alamo hotel was then run under the name of the Stockman's hotel and Dunbar Cafe. Elegantly furnished rooms for 25c.

The Orient railroad was assuming the importance of an "assured enterprise."

Geo. Oederbolz had arrived from Calvert to take a position in a local store.

D. T. Bozeman, the Sage of Cuthbert, was even then breaking out in print as the "occasional correspondent from that place. Victor Diedrich was just beginning to see visions and dream dreams." Earnest Radford was tried in justice court for assault upon the person of Andrew Cooksey. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gilbert were being congratulated upon the advent of a son and heir.

SAME OLD CAUSE— SAME OLD RESULT.

In commenting on the aftermath of the last carnival's visit to the town of Winters, the Western Evangel, a church paper published at Abilene, makes the following meaningful comment:

Some Winters people do not feel happy about the carnival's visit. The fruit of its sin will be cropping out into the third and fourth generation. While the public schools and the churches, the most valuable assets of the community, are trying to lift the moral tone and enhance all the vital and legitimate interests, somebody with the authority, temporarily, sold out the interests of the whole broad community for a mess of pottage—and what a mess he got!

A question forces itself on one's attention as he cogitates about the lawlessness of the Carnivals and the flagrant maladministration of peace officers in this connection, and that question is: Why do not Grand Juries investigate such immoral invasions of the country and be as quick to bill those responsible as they are to stick it to a transient negro for "shakin' de bones." O consistency, thou art a jewel—because of rarity.

Speedy and Easy Riding

There's little comfort in most low priced cars. You can't use their speeds. They jostle you—they ride roughly—they don't hold the road.

The $635 Overland is different. It is not only the speediest of low priced cars—

But you can use the full speed of its powerful motor when you need it.

It has long 42-inch, easy riding, shock absorbing cantilever rear springs. In addition the 75 B Overland is a longer car—104-inch wheelbase. And it has 4-inch tires.

Its smoothness and ease of riding at any speed would do justice to a much larger and heavier car.

Come in and let us demonstrate. That's the best kind of proof.

Railroads' Failure to Accept Adamson Law Means Strike

New York, Nov. 13.—Failure of the railroads of the country to live up to the spirit and intent of the Adamson eight-hour law will result in the strike vote of the four big railroad brotherhoods being put into effect, it was announced here today by William G. Lee, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, after a three-hour conference between brotherhood and railway representatives.

The conference was called to discuss and if possible reach some agreement or conclusions as to working out the provisions of the law which goes into effect Jan. 1st. The strike vote referred to by Lee is that taken prior to the conference between the railroads and brotherhood heads and President Wilson which was followed by the passage of the Adamson law, after the brotherhoods had threatened to put the vote into effect at once.

When the conference adjourned today for luncheon it was stated by brotherhood representatives that so far nothing had been accomplished.

The brotherhood representatives said they had worked out an interpretation of the eight-hour law, but they had refused to divulge it for the reason that the roads, or some, had announced their intention to fight.

"The strike vote is still in effect," said Lee, "and if the roads do not live up to the very spirit and intent of the law, there is no reason why the brotherhoods should not take advantage of their strongest card. This time there is nothing that can stop them."

Lee added that any attempt at subterfuge by the railroads in placing in effect the eight-hour law will be met with instant action by the brotherhoods.

The Texas Order of the Eastern Star will establish a home for widows and orphans of the order, and the sum of $100,000 will likely be expended on the necessary buildings, etc. In the matter of locating institutions of this kind, population, railroad facilities nor accessibility, cut a deciding figure. The healthfulness of the location, the inducements, all else being equal, should at least be in the running. Colorado has a large and active chapter of the Eastern Star. No town can offer better inducements as to health, educational and religious advantages than Coorado.

When the final location of this home is decided, the Record hopes the chances of Colorado will be well considered.

My back was weak and lame and ached. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and highly colored. One of my friends who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results advised me to try them and I got a box. They helped me, so I got still another box, which relieved me of the complaint. I am glad to recommend such a good medicine as Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone."

The rumor is accepted in political circles that Secretary Houston of the Agricultural Department, will be elevated to a higher position in President Wilson's cabinet. MAY TAKE SOME ACTION.

Willcox. (However, Not Specific as to the Method to be Pursued.)

Vaguely and inferentially, Republican Chairman Willcox intimated the national committee may take some action over the disputed defeat of Charles Evans Hughes before the official figures are compiled.

"We will pay attention to every phase of the situation," he said after conferring with Hughes. "When I say we will wait for the official figures, I do not mean that we may not do something in the meantime."

He was not specific, however, as to what, if any, action he contemplated other than the watchful waiting he has mapped.

His statement was interpreted in some quarters as significant from the fact he had announced receipt of charges from many quarters that frauds were perpetrated in the elections in California and elsewhere. These charges have been forwarded to various state chairmen for what they may be worth. Willcox himself, however, has not endorsed any of the claims, contenting himself with saying that he does not believe the present election machinery is as susceptible of corruption as in the past.

"I do not claim any fraud," said Willcox, but with so many districts and so many votes, a miscount of a few in each district means much. We want the states to get an official count before we do anything. When that has been taken we will judge as to the correctness of the vote and as to any future steps."

Willcox stated Sunday he would remain in New York until the official count in California was announced.

FIRST CONGRESSWOMAN.

Miss Rankin Will Assist Over Four Hundred Men Enact Legislation in Lower House.

Messages of congratulation from suffrage leaders in many parts of the country poured into Missoula, Mont., for Miss Jeanette Rankin (Rep.), the first woman to be elected to congress.

"I felt that the women would stand by me," Miss Rankin said. "It is wonderful to me to think of having the opportunity of being the first woman to sit in congress with 434 men."

Miss Rankin is small and light. She is a graduate of the University of Montana and the School of Philanthropy of New York City.

PARKER ISSUES STATEMENT.

John M. Parker, who was the nominee of the Progressives for vice president, issued the following statement at New Orleans on the result of the election:

"President Wilson's re-election is an emphatic protest of the West and the South—particularly of the West—against the domination of the old guard Republicans. It is a new declaration of political independence, which means much for the future prosperity and welfare of the Nation."

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if Cross, Sick, Feverish, Constipated

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt. Adv7

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1916.

Wheat at $2 per bushel, flour at $11.50 per barrel and turkeys at 21c the pound live weight, with the cranberry market to hear from, is not a very pleasant prospect for Thanksgiving feasting.

The criticism that Wilson was not the choice of the majority of the voters of the nation, is forever laid. His recent victory was not alone greater than his first one, but a decided vindication of his policies.

Mayor Henry D. Lindsay of Dallas had about recovered from his attack of gubernatitits of last year, when he was found to be broken out with the itch for a cabinet position—secretary of war, preferably.

The vote of Kansas and the part contributed to the democratic victory by the vote of the women of that state, do much to efface our life-long prejudice against "Bleeding Kansas." Wilson was endorsed as was Capper, the republican governor.

Wilson received nearly one million more votes in the recent election than were cast four years ago for Taft and Roosevelt combined. His gain over his vote in 1912 was three times as much as was ever gained by any president running for election.

The Dallas News of last Friday carried a cartoon that well expressed the situation. Old Father Knickerbocker was sulking in his seat with his 45 electoral votes uncast in his hand, while he thus soliloquized: "Time was when I decided this matter, but now—" and in the offing a number of women could be seen haranguing the college.

And Uncle Joe Cannon has more "comebacks" than a black cat has lives. He was re-elected to congress from the Danville, Illinois, district with a bigger margin of safety than common, and the probability is his constituents will keep the dead game old sport in congress the balance of his life. He is only 82 and spry as a redbird.

While we think of it—let's get round to that poll tax receipt for next year soon as possible. Just think of the dividends you realized on the one-six-bits you invested in the last receipt. It, with a few more like it, made Woodrow Wilson president for four more years of these United States. And that's something everybody's $1.75 can't do.

The new alignment of the South and West against the East and Wall street, presages good for the nation. Aside from the fact of the victory itself, the most pleasing feature of it was that it was achieved in the face of the strongest opposition Wall street and the entrenched big interests could put forward. It marks the emancipation of the democratic party from the domination of the East. Mr. Wilson is president by the votes of the agricultural districts of the nation. The president of the people, by the people and for the people.

Did you ever notice, with what malicious persistence Christmas always finds the rank and file of us broke flatter'n a flounder? Remorse compels us to make most solemn resolutions of amendment on New Year. Some of us really go so far as to put a dollar or two in the savings bank, and speculate while laying awake nights on the things we will do by next Christmas. Then comes along the tempter who tells us that the measly few dollars we are pinching in the bank wouldn't smear the board; take 'em out. It will be easy to replace such small sum. And Christmas finds us broke again, flat as a flounder.

The de facto government of Mexico has notified all foreigners owning mines in Mexico that unless the same be opened and operated by January 14th prox. the property would be forfeited to the Mexican government. This would be a game of "heads, I win; tails, you lose," for Mexico. If the mines are opened and operated, the output will be taken and if they are not, the mines will be taken.

State superintendent of public buildings, Owens, died at Austin Wednesday. Another good job to fill.

THE WORK OF A GHOUL.

The animal that preys upon the decaying dead of other animals is a hyena. Its human counterpart is called a ghoul. He may either rob the dead for the sake of gain, or he may violate the sanctity of the grave by dragging buried memories forth and playing the role of Judas Iscariot for thirty pieces of silver, to the high priests of politics or as a sacrifice upon the altar of thwarted ambition.

When a cemetery is invaded by a ghoul to further bolster his hatred of a man, and to secure votes for the man opposing him, it is time for the people to stop long enough to think for a moment. Nobody in God's world could have been induced to write an article accusing President Wilson of neglecting the grave of his first wife except Tom Watson. It is a known fact the home life of the President and his first wife was one of happiness and congeniality.

To Thomas E. Watson of Georgia, one time member of the national congress and presidential nominee on various hybrid tickets, was left an act from which all other men shrank as from a branding iron; but which Watson performed with a satisfaction that well comported with the indictments now pending against him in the federal court, for sending obscene matter through the mails, and for which he will stand trial on November 27th.

Watson published in his paper that President Wilson had neglected the grave of his southern wife; that no tombstone today marked her last resting place, etc. His information on these points, it seems, had been gathered from the sexton of the Rome, Georgia, cemetery.

A citizen of Colorado became interested enough in the matter to write a personal friend in Rome for the absolute facts in the case, and he received a reply last week based upon personal investigation and recorded facts, which are as follows:

There is not today any kind of stone to mark the grave of Mrs. Wilson for this reason—Soon after her death, Mr. Wilson sent for a sculptor and had designs drawn and submitted to him for a marble inclosure of the entire Axon lot in the cemetery, which is under the direct care of the Ellen Axon Wilson Memorial Association, of which Mrs. L. A. Roundsville, of Rome, Georgia, is president. The completion of the memorial which President Wilson selected for his wife, will require several years, part of the work being done in Italy. The lot is perfectly kept, shipments of flowers being received almost daily, which are placed on Mrs. Wilson's grave by the association. The name of the New York sculptor who has the contract is Herbert Adams, 131 West 11th street, and after receiving the contract for the memorial, requested a plat of the lot for the purpose of designing the memorial accordingly.

Whereupon the following order was made upon the docket of the commissioners' court:

"On motion of Commissioner Arington, the superintendent of public works, Hoop, was requested to make drawings of Mrs. Wilson's lot and surroundings, in Myrtle Hill cemetery." Even sexton C. L. King, himself, from whom Tom Watson assumed to get his information said, when interviewed: "I have never felt that Mrs. Wilson's grave was being neglected. Flowers come regularly from the White House, and particularly on her birthdays, anniversaries of her death, Easter and Christmas." It is of record in Rome that for a year the preparatory work of a fitting memorial to the President's wife has been going on. The order for the memorial is in the hands of the sculptors and artists, and will in due time mark the resting place of the wife of the President. Yet, in the face of these facts, Tom Watson, Georgia's greatest menace, comes forth with a libel and slander so vicious and low down that it should shame every self-respecting Georgian.

And it was done to make votes for the republican candidate for president!

It seems to the Record that a local building and loan association, composed wholly of people who want to build homes, and can furnish only the lot, would prove a good investment as well as a great civic help. When a large part of the membership of building and loan associations is composed of those who pay in their money solely as an investment, the per cent of members who want to borrow is small. Every member should be a prospective borrower to build or improve a home. Under these conditions every dollar keeps at work until the entire series is liquidated.

Chairman Wilcox and Candidate Hughes show themselves to be bad losers. If they defer offering propositions to the successful candidate, it will be too late to take and form don'tcherkeke.

AN EXPLANATION IN JUSTICE.

The Record's article last week in reply to an inquiry sent in by a citizen of the town, as to why the proceedings of the city council were not published, was misinterpreted by some and construed into a reflection upon the motives of that body.

Nothing was further from the intentions of the article, and we cheerfully disclaim any motive other than an honest and open one. We believe the course of the Record in advocacy of the re-incorporation of the town, its ready acquiescence in and support of every measure, ordinance and tax levy tending to benefit the community, proves that the paper is the friend of our municipal government. Through all its phases of litigation, the Record followed the suit against the city over the old drainage and sewerage bonds with much interest, and published all the information on the subject it could secure.

When the suit was finally determined against the city, the attorneys for the bondholders came to Colorado to arrange for payment of the bonds, etc. And on April 21st last the Record published the following editorial comment:

"The bondholders, through their attorneys made the proposition, that if the present town of Colorado would refund the bonds, bearing 5 per cent interest, a term of 27 years would be allowed for their redemption. The aggregate amount involved in this set of bonds is about $47,000 with accrued interest. To discharge this debt within that time would require an additional tax levy not exceeding 32 cents on the $100 valuation, which in addition to the present levy would necessitate a total tax levy of 97 cents on the $100 valuation."

In the Record's article last week, we referred to the collection of this amount as being a surprise to many tax payers. It was not until a few weeks ago that the Record learned that the levy had been actually made and its collection approved by the attorney general, although our files show that the proposition had been made to the city and the matter discussed. In fact, we had forgotten that this proposition had been published in the Record.

The Record is run by fallible humans, just like any other business in Colorado. We make mistakes, but always cheerfully make the amendable honorable. No information has ever been refused by the City Secretary when asked for it, and the implied criticism by the Record was without a tincture of sinister motive.

DIVISION THE REMEDY.

Col. Lee J. Rountree in the Georgetown Commercial, opines thusly: "From now on it will cost $100,000 to be elected governor of Texas. But few pore men can afford to run for the office." Why except the "few?" That would exclude all men except those having a hundred thousand dollars or friends who had it, and were willing to invest it on the pre-election assurance of receiving proportionate favors in return. If it now costs anything like the above amount to be elected governor of the state of Texas, what will be the cost when the state has doubled its population, and two or more races are necessary to even visit each county once? One of two things is inevitable—the tenure of the governor's office must be lengthened with greater pay, or the governor be mortgaged to those supplying the sinews for his election.

The state is so big that its machinery is a handicap. The framers of the resolution that admitted the state into the union, foresaw the necessity of division and so provided. There is as little in common between West Texas and East Texas, North Texas and South Texas, in interests, climatic conditions, traditions and habits, as between the most diverse states in the union. We of this section are now clamoring for a separate Agricultural and Mechanical College, basing our strongest argument for the appropriation upon the admitted fact of diversity in educational needs and conditions. Sentiment has been the only cohesive force that has kept the state intact up to now, and the rapid growth and development of the western half of it particularly, will gradually work the final disintegration.

COLORADO'S NEW PAPER.

Last Saturday evening, the resuscitated Colorado Clipper, Vol. 12, No. 37, made its appearance on the streets, with Tom P. Cooper as editor and Ray Cooper, the former's son, as business manager. The Clipper was the first regular weekly paper published in Colorado, and passed through many hands and fortunes before absorption by the West Texas News, which was conducted by Mr. T. P. Cooper prior to the time of his selling out and the paper's absorption by the Record.

THE NATION'S ENDORSEMENT.

The winning votes for President Wilson came from the most unexpected quarters. States counted as certain for him gave their vote to Mr. Hughes and many conceded by democratic leaders to the republicans, went democratic.

There is one particular feature of the election result that stands out as new in the history of political parties and of this government. President Wilson has been re-elected by the votes of the south and the west. The east went solidly for Mr. Hughes. Mr. Hughes had behind his candidacy the money power of the country; Mr. Wilson was backed by the people at large. Never before was it so clearly shown, in fact it never before happened, that the people were independent of Wall street and the money power in the selection of their chief executive.

From this may be drawn a lesson which can only promise to lead to still better days of prosperity in the country than those now prevailing. The transformation is explainable only on the basis of the people in the west and south being satisfied with the legislation enacted by a democratic congress, with its resultant prosperity.

Even in the south and west, where the policy regarding Mexico was supposed to be the most unpopular, the president received hearty endorsement and in the east, the feeling against him by reason of his alleged friendliness toward Great Britain, appears to have carried more weight than in the west and south, although it is the people of the east who have been the greatest beneficiaries through the open shipments of war munitions to that power.

The people are enjoying a prosperity under democratic legislation that they never before experienced and the further fact that they are pleased that the president has been able to keep the nation from being embroiled in a war, with either Mexico or European countries.—Austin American.

with live local reading matter and a generous amount of advertising from the leading business firms of the town. Mr. Cooper was for several years engaged in the newspaper business in Colorado, going from here to Groveton in 1908 and returning here from Miles, Texas, recently. We trust the Clipper and the Record may rebuild together, the supporting community and county, in that unity and pleasantness so much and so loudly extolled by the Psalmist. There is a constructive work here for both papers.

A CORRECTION.

In last week's report of the local chicken show it was stated that Mr. Burkhardt exhibited his Rhode Island Reds. We have learned since that while Mr. Burkhardt did have a pen of chickens on the ground for inspection, they were not in the show. He was asked to assist in the judging and hence was barred from the show. All fanciers of the Reds will be interested in a bit of printed matter pasted on Mr. Burkhardt's coop in which he makes the following special offer to parties purchasing eggs for hatching: To the party producing the best pair of Reds from eggs from his pens he will give as a premium a $5 cockerel, for the second pair, a $2.50 cockerel. All birds competing to be exhibited at the Colorado chicken show in the fall of 1917.

While strolling through the court house park one day recently, memories of other days were stirred by the sight of the bandstand and the place where the fountain had been and where the festive gator disported himself in the sunshine. Approaching the pickets that now surround the fountain basis, we were surprised to find it covered with a living coat of green—yep, verily, simon-pure turnip greens, with promise of fast-coming turnips. We reflected that this was a public turnip patch, and as such, to the earliest comer belongs the greens. That's democratic doctrine and practice.

THOMAS BRENNAND, SR., IS DEAD

Last night, at 12:30 o'clock, Thos. Brennand, Sr., died at his home here, from injuries received in a fall from a ladder about two weeks ago. Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Malcolm Black, assisted by Revs. Everitt and McWhorter, at the Baptist church this afternoon at 1 o'clock, after which the remains will be taken to Colorado, where interment will be made tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

Deceased was born in the county of Yorkshire, England, December 17, 1834, and came to America in 1858. In 1862, he married and settled in Wisconsin. He came to Texas in 1876, and settled in the Concho country in 1879, where he resided until his death.

He was twice married. By his first wife there were six children, four of whom survive him as follows: W. H. Brennand, of Roswell, N. M.; T. G. Brennand, of Sterling City; Mrs. J. A. Robertson, of Chase City, Va.; and R. S. Brennand, of Colorado.

His second wife, "Aunt Mary" Brennand, died here more than a year ago. He was the first county commissioner to represent precinct number 4, and was present as a member of the Commissioners' Court at its first sitting at the old Kildare ranch in 1891.

(Thomas Brennand was always a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a friend to the man who was "down and out" and needed a friend. His simple, unassuming and kindhearted ways made friends of all who knew him.

All Sterling mourns the loss of a good citizen, and we join these who mourn. To his bereaved children, the News-Record offers sincere sympathy in this hour of sorrow.—Sterling City News-Record.

His body, accompanied by his loved ones and friends, was brought to Colorado Friday evening and remained at the house of his son, R. S. Brennand, here until Saturday afternoon, when it was laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery beside his wife. The funeral services were concluded at the grave by Rev. Black of Sterling.

THE NEW OFFICIAL BROOM.

There is an air of briskness, industry and an impression of "what can I do for you" about the court house that smacks of the efficiency of the "new broom." District and County Clerk, W. W. Porter is as urbane as a muskovy drake. Mr. Jim Smith fits the dignity of his position like a bug's undershirt. William Rufus Morgan was dressed in his best Sunday clothes, and by his opulent men evinced the fact that he "carried the bag." The new commissioners, Lay Powell and Mr. McCarley, fairly stooped with the burden of responsibility resting upon them. Even the holdovers, which includes sheriff Cooksey, County Judge Bullock and Janitor Henry Winston, seemed to catch the infection and bestirred themselves with noticeable zeal. The new officials are taking hold and getting in the collar with an enthusiasm that augurs well for the administration of county affairs. Judge Fred Meyer made requisition for certain blanks before he had warmed the wool-sack with a single case, while Constable Mike Ratliff reminded us of his Arkansas counterpart when called upon to serve his first writ. He was hailed by a friend as he went tearing down the road to "wait just a minute." "Wait, the devil," he said. "Don't you see I'm busy'ern a hunting dog."

HER SON SUBJECT TO CROUP.

O HENRY'S PRISON LIFE.

That O. Henry as a short-story writer coined many of his own experiences while a prisoner in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary has just come to light. The episode in his life, now revealed, would have meant ruin for the ordinary man of imagination and sensibility. To him it was a period of inspiration that served to launch him on a career in which he won fame and success.

The early misadventure that eventually led to his conviction for embezzlement was the turning point in the life of an obscure clerk. If he had not explored the strange corners of South America, and not mixed with all sorts of characters, if he had not been impelled to return for trial and had not passed several years in the company of convicts, he could never have been the same O. Henry over whose tales so many readers have gratefully found relief from the dullness of their own days. Possibly the impulse and the opportunity to write might have come to him if he had remained indefinitely a clerk in a bank at Austin, Texas. But the facts are stronger than theories.

Society hesitates to admit that in such circumstances, it was cruel and unjust. It consoles itself that O. Henry was of too robust a constitution and too clearly favored by fate to have been suppressed under the weight of untoward circumstances. But it is late in the day for it to take any credit to itself for helping him to develop himself. He survived misfortune and found the direction for which nature destined him, but it was in spite of society's unfriendliness.—New York World.

CLEANSER YOUR HAIR
MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL,
THICK, GLOSSY, WAVY

Try This! All Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanser" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed. Adv7

THE NEW PINK PEST.

San Antonio, Nov. 12.—The cotton crop of the United States is menaced by the worst pest in its history—the pink boll worm," according to a statement made here last night by W. D. Hunter of the federal agricultural board, department of agriculture, Washington, who was sent south to make an investigation with a view to preventing the pest getting into this country from Mexico. He will hold a conference here with four other experts dispatched to various points in Texas and along the border and leave for Washington to make his report.

"The pink boll worm usually cuts the crop in half in infected districts," declared Hunter.

"If the worm gains place in the United States, it would cost this country a billion dollars annually," continued Hunter.

WAR MAY CONTINUE UNTIL 1918.

New York, Nov. 12.—J. L. Garvin, writing in the Observer, predicts that unless the entente allies come to more vigorous decisions, the war will be prolonged far into 1918, "as the result of the new outbursts of German energy on all sides and the unity of direction under Von Hindenburg."

"The allies in the east have perpetrated almost every blunder left to them to commit," writes editor Garvin, "after a previous record of mismanagement that seemed well nigh exhaustive. The prospect is not disastrous, but is disagreeable, as the fault is repairable at the cost of several million avoidable casualties and thousands of millions in money which might have been saved. The glorious chapter of the allied offensive on the Somme is closed. The new chapter is beginning, as the Germans have fully recovered their morale. There will be no breaking through by the allies this year, nor will there be any extensive withdrawal of the German lines between Arras and Noyon."

HUSBAND RESCUED
DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Patron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its firing me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. There is an air of briskness, industry and an impression of "what can I do for you" about the court-house that smacks of the efficiency of the "new broom." District and County Clerk, W. W. The new commissioners, Lay Powell and Mr. McCarley, fairly stooped with the burden of responsibility resting upon them. Even the holdovers, which includes sheriff Cooksey, County Judge Bullock and Janitor Henry Winston, seemed to catch the infection and bestirred themselves with noticeable zeal. The new officials are taking hold and getting in the collar with an enthusiasm that augurs well for the administration of county affairs. O HENRY'S PRISON LIFE.

That O. Henry as a short-story writer coined many of his own experiences while a prisoner in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary has just come to light. The episode in his life, now revealed, would have meant ruin for the ordinary man of imagination and sensibility. To him it was a period of inspiration that served to launch him on a career in which he won fame and success.

The early misadventure that eventually led to his conviction for embezzlement was the turning point in the life of an obscure clerk. If he had not explored the strange corners of South America, and not mixed with all sorts of characters, if he had not been impelled to return for trial and had not passed several years in the company of convicts, he could never have been the same O. Henry over whose tales so many readers have gratefully found relief from the dullness of their own days. Possibly the impulse and the opportunity to write might have come to him if he had remained indefinitely a clerk in a bank at Austin, Texas. But the facts are stronger than theories.

Society hesitates to admit that in such circumstances, it was cruel and unjust. It consoles itself that O. Henry was of too robust a constitution, and too clearly favored by fate to have been suppressed under the weight of untoward circumstances. But it is late in the day for it to take any credit to itself for helping him to develop himself. He survived misfortune and found the direction for which nature destined him, but it was in spite of society's unfriendliness.—New York World.

CLEANSES YOUR HAIR MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL, THICK, GLOSSY, WAVY

Try This! All Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed. Adv 7

THE NEW PINK PEST.

San Antonio, Nov. 12.—"The cotton crop of the United States is menaced by the worst pest in its history—the pink boll worm," according to a statement made here last night by W. D. Hunter of the federal agricultural board, department of agriculture, Washington, who was sent south to make an investigation with a view to preventing the pest getting into this country from Mexico. He will hold a conference here with four other experts dispatched to various points in Texas and along the border and leave for Washington to make his report.

"The pink boll worm usually cuts the crop in half in infected districts," declared Hunter.

"If the worm gains place in the United States, it would cost this country a billion dollars annually," continued Hunter.

WAR MAY CONTINUE UNTIL 1918.

New York, Nov. 12.—J. L. Garvin, writing in the Observer, predicts that unless the entente allies come to more vigorous decisions, the war will be prolonged far into 1918, "as the result of the new outbursts of German energy on all sides and the unity of direction under Von Hindenburg."

"The allies in the east have perpetrated almost every blunder left to them to commit," writes editor Garvin, "after a previous record of mismanagement that seemed well nigh exhaustive. The prospect is not disastrous, but is disagreeable, as the fault is reparable at the cost of several million avoidable casualties and thousands of millions in money which might have been saved. The glorious chapter of the allied offensive on the Somme is closed. The new chapter is beginning, as the Germans have fully recovered their morale. There will be no breaking through by the allies this year, nor will there be any extensive withdrawal of the German lines between Arras and Noyon."

HOW APPENDICITIS CAN BE PREVENTED.

Colorado people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-I-ka often relieve or prevent appendicitis. NATURE WARNS AGAINST USING CALOMEL

The sickening, nauseating feeling that follows the use of calomel is the natural result of disarranging your entire system. Doctors everywhere are agreeing that the action of calomel is much too strong, and leaves the body sick and weakened.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

TO CHANGE MEXICAN POLICY.

Senator Morris Sheppard Says He Looks for Different Program in Near Future.

Houston, Nov. 12.—Intimation that a change in the Mexican policy of the Washington administration may come within a short time was made by Senator Morris Sheppard here Saturday. Senator Sheppard said that now that President Wilson's hands are untied and he has a free rein, he can give more attention to Mexican affairs. Sheppard acknowledged that Carranza's government has made no visible headway within the past few months, and that there is no prospect of betterment in the situation over the border. He declared that he would stand by the President, either for intervention or for any other step which the administration might take.

Among the pieces of legislation which will be presented or advocated by Senator Sheppard at the next term of congress will be a bill to extend the postal savings bank operations and allow rural and urban carriers to accept deposits for postal savings banks. He would also increase the rate of interest, a bill to assist, as far as practicable, homeless men to acquire land, will be introduced by him.

Eight different companies are now presenting D. W. Griffith's mighty spectacle "The Birth of a Nation" in as many different sections of the country. They are breaking the record in every theatre they are being presented in. To be here Nov. 27-28.

RULING IN LIBEL CHARGE.

Louisiana Supreme Court holds Newspaper Must Be Sued in Place of Publication.

New Orleans, Nov. 12.—Louisiana's supreme court put a stop to the practice recently attempted of prosecuting newspaper publishers for criminal libel in the parish in which the person alleged to have been injured resides, in a decision handed down the other day.

"The parish in which the offense was committed by the proprietor or publisher of the newspaper, if the article published was libelous, is that in which the newspaper was printed and published and the prosecution should take place in that parish only."

Such is the conclusion of the supreme court, only one judge, Chief Justice Monroe, dissenting.

The decision was handed down by Justice O'Neill in the cases of Dr. Clarence Pierson, superintendent of the Insane asylum at Jackson, against D. D. Moore, managing editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, and W. J. Leppert, who wrote the Times-Picayune's expose of alleged conditions in the asylum some time ago.

The two were prosecuted by Dr. Pierson in the parish in which he resided, and they took exception to the jurisdiction of the court.

The lower court refused to entertain this plea, and an appeal was made to the supreme court for a writ to prohibit further trial of the case. This writ, in each instance, was made absolute.

The syllabus of the supreme court goes into the newspaper libel situation at length. Among other things that the court decides is that the publication of several copies of a paper, and the mailing thereof to subscribers, does not constitute separate offenses in libel cases.

The Record has received a lot of high grade typewriter ribbons. We have half dozen ribbons (wide) for the 6 and 7 Remington and Dinsmore machines which will be sold at a bargain.

For Winter Colds

You need a real tonic. Strength is required to overcome the trouble. Let that tonic be one that is especially valuable in catarrhal conditions, and you can conquer the cold. A cold is acute catarrh; it may become chronic. Chronic catarrh frequently becomes systemic, involving the stomach and the intestinal tract as well as the nose or throat. It means stagnation.

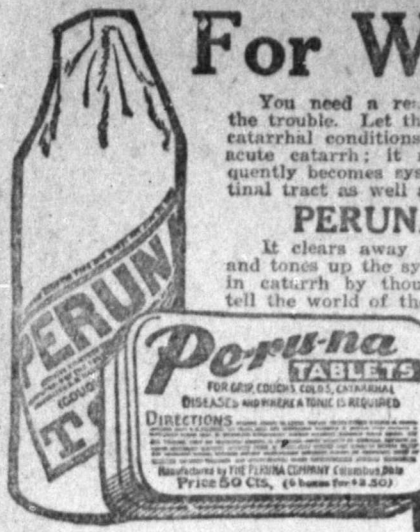

PERUNA IS INVIGORATION

It clears away the waste matter, dispels the inflammation and tones up the system. For forty-five years it has been used in catarrh by thousands of grateful sufferers, who willingly tell the world of their relief. Peruna's long history of helpfulness is the best evidence that it is what you should take.

Liquid or tablet form for your convenience.

Manalin is the ideal laxative and liver tonic. In tablet form it is delicious to take, mild and effective, without unpleasant effects, and will not form a habit. Liquid, 65c and $1.00; tablets, 10c and 25c.

If the owners of many vacant lots in Colorado would erect comfortable, convenient and attractive little cottages or bungalows on them, the Record believes the property would sell like hot cakes at the country fair. But get this hint—the time and the conditions have long since passed when anything that will keep off the rain and keep out part of the cold, will be accepted by the average tenant or home buyer as an equivalent for his money. The bath room is now considered by the dependable tenant or buyer, as necessary an adjunct to a home as a front door or veranda. The more attractive and convenient a property is, the greater the chances of selling it to a person who will not only appreciate its advantages but pay for them with greater certainty and promptness. Just anything in the way of a shelter from the elements, is no longer considered, a "home" in West Texas. "Utile cum dulces" is becoming more and more the standard.

FULL GROWN BOB CAT.

A genuine, full grown bob cat is not to be seen in every gulch or canyon these days. The cat was not injured by the trap and will be caged and kept at the Reeder & Pickens market.

Calomel DYNAMITES

A SLUGGISH LIVER.

Crashes into sour Bile, Making You Sick and You Lose a Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children they like it.

Decapitated by Drop From the Gallows.

Silver City, N. M., Nov. 10.—Lucius C. Hightower, convicted of the murder of his wife, Mrs. Sallie Hightower, at the Tyrone mining camp in November, 1915, today paid the penalty for his crime on the gallows. The execution took place in the courtyard at 7:15 this morning, the drop of six feet decapitating Hightower, death being instantaneous because of his weight, being over 200 pounds. Hightower went to the gallows without a tremor.

SOME RATTLES.

Eight men went rattlesnake hunting down on Morgan creek last Monday. They prospected but one den, and with a long hooked-end wire tied to a stick, they caught 85 rattlers and one coachwhip. The rattlers ranged in size from little ones with only two rattles to old timers with a dozen of them. From this same locality, and possibly same den, Mr. O. O. Shurtliff, several years ago killed 13 rattlers, every one of which was between 5 and 6 feet in length, with heads measuring four and a half inches across. Morgan creek seems to be a favorite breeding place for the crotalus horridus.

Mr. G. W. McCroskey:
Dear Sir.—I am so well pleased. I had indigestion for a long time, and in September I began taking your tonic and took two bottles, and have not been troubled since; besides, I had smothering spells and shortness of breath. The doctor called it neuralgia of the stomach, and it cured me, and I have not been bothered since.

Calomel DYNAMITES

A SLUGGISH LIVER.

Crashes into sour Bile, Making You Sick and You Lose a Day's Work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children they like it.
