ANOTHER CALIFORNIA LETTER: WHIPKEY STILL "SEEING THINGS"

TELLS OF THE ROADS, PARKS, WAR CAMPS, PLACES OF PUBLIC INTEREST; SAW MOVIE STARS AT WORK;
SAN DIEGO AND LOS ANGELES

Again will write from the Golden West. San Diego is some town; made up mostly of tourists, here for the winter. I will write of the town later on. Suffice to say now that I have visited all the important places and places of note, and will leave tomorrow for Los Angeles.

Spent one day on the boat Estrella on a cruise out on the great Pacific; and visited the famous Ocean Beach. The trip was a most enjoyable one as well as educational. Passed gun boat row; saw the great battleship, Oregon; went to Coronado City; saw a submarine; passed a great log raft towed down from the Columbia river. It contained 5,000,000 feet of lumber. The raft was over 900 feet long and the chains that bound it together weighed 250 tons. Saw the famous tented city and Hotel Coronado; the Silver Strand; and an excellent view of Exposition Park; visited North Island. This is the home of the Government Aviation School. Airplanes here are as common as automobiles; some fifteen or twenty up in the air all the time. Went to "Old Town." This is the old, or first San Diego of California; the Plymouth Rock of the Pacific, where civilization began on the Pacific coast. Remember that it is the first point of land touched by the little sailing vessels, where Cabrillo landed in 1542. Nearly 400 years ago here the first mission was built; here the first field was planted; here was established the first trading post on the Pacific coast; here the Spaniards traded with the Indians for horns, hides, furs, etc. Those of our readers who have read Richard Dana's book "Two Years Before the Mast," will recall that the scenes were laid at old San Diego; and I visited the authors home on the place where he wrote the book at that time. Roseville, a few miles further down the bay, is the home of Lyman T. Gege, former Secretary of the Treasury under Cleveland. I also visited here; also the great naval coaling and quarantine station; Point Loma, and the oldest and first light house built on this coast.

The ocean is too big for me to try to describe. Its grandeur and power makes one stand amazed and can not help but admire its sublimity and powerful greatness. I visited the far famed Balboa Park, the old exposition grounds, the fisheries; the great Spreckles Theatre, Plazas, Rivers and Lakes; and it is all one grand panoramic view, most wonderful and beautiful. I assume that Record readers are more interested in the country here than they are in the towns, so will devote a part of this letter to the trip by automobile from El Centro to San Diego, a distance of 126 miles, schedule time 6 hours, but if you could see the mountain passes, gorges and canyons through which you have to pass you would rather make it ten hours instead of six. As we leave the valley, we note that it is another one of those perfect and lovely days which is typical of Southern California. The mountains stood out clear and beautiful as purple cameos, while the distant desert sands sparkled and glistened in the ever present sunshine, and the springing alfalfa among the sage and chapparal, along the way, reminded one of the fabled Elysian Fields of beauty and glory, where peace and happiness reigns supreme and sweet contentment holds its sway. In other words the valley is as green as New England in May.

Going west 25 miles from an altitude of 52 feet below sea level we pass out into the mountain passes, gorges and canyons, and finally to an altitude of 4035 feet above the sea. Here one must put on their wraps and overcoat. The road, a state highway, is perfect, built through the mountains that look to be impassable. It winds in and out, up and down, round and round, hairpin curves, fishhook bends, safety-pin loops, until one is dizzy, amazed and bewildered. After passing over the highest summit you start down the great Pacific Slope. Up to this time the country is barren, only desert sands, shrubs and rocks, mountain high. After passing down the slope you come to and cross many mountain streams, all fed by springs and the mountain snows, and it is in the valleys of these streams that you behold the most gorgeous and luxurious growth of farm products and gardens in the world. I went through one olive orchard said to have 10,000 bushels of olives. I went through the great Spreckles sugar beet ranch.

Forty-four miles out from San Diego on this road is the source of the city water supply, taken from a huge spring and flumed 44 miles into the city, and so great is the pressure that locks or small dams had to be built in the line, to relieve the pressure from the flume.

You encounter on this road a place seven miles long that has 177 sharp curves, all dangerous and difficult. In a distance of 20 miles the railroad has 27 tunnels.

To visit California and not visit the Spreckles interests is to miss much. The three brothers are multimillionaires, with blooded cattle on their great ranches, poultry farms, sugar beet industry, hotels and theatres, all of them the finest and the best. I went to the Spreckles Stadium here last night to see Geraldine Farrar in "Just Silva," and paid 75c for a fourth balcony seat.

I visited Camp Kearny. Here are 18,500 soldiers, all soon to be demobilized. Went over to the Aviation School; also the Naval Post. Frank Crawford's boy is here in the navy but of course I could not find him. Mrs. H. M. Berry (formerly Miss Hattie Petty of Westbrook) lives here but I could not locate them. Mr. and Mrs. Pidgeon are here and seem to be well located and doing well.

The great Naval and Army Aviation School; Balboa Park; the heavy artillery coast defense at Fort Rosecrans and Radio Stations at Chollas and Point Loma, are all huge affairs and very interesting to visit.

As most of the population here are tourists (like myself) there are always great crowds coming and going to these places.

In the way of sports, man's natural craving for play may be satisfied in various ways. There is canoeing and boating in the bay; one may bathe in the bay, the ocean or any of the warm water plunges; International polo and the great golf links; yacht club regattas, swimming races, and fishing. Here one breathes in the very freedom, freshness, life and vigor of God's great out of doors.

I fished one day at Sweetwater dam 23 miles in the mountains. Here is the greatest sport of the trip. Black and Fountain Bass, speckled Trout and Sun Perch in boundless profusion. Here is the place you have to get behind a tree to bait your hook—and there are no trees.

Balboa Park
In Balboa Park, covering 1,400 acres in the center of the city, the citizens of San Diego invested $3,000,000 in building the San Diego Exposition and improving the 615 acres of grounds. Other counties and states invested $2,000,000 in buildings, all of which were later presented to the city, so that San Diego now has attractive improvements worth over $5,000,000. The wonderfully beautiful grounds and buildings with their valuable scientific contents, remain a perpetual memorial to the energy of its founders, and a permanent park improvement of the city. During the next seven years in improving Balboa Park the city has set out over half a million trees, flowering shrubs, palms

SHE KEPT THEM ON THE JOB

MEAT PRODUCERS DID FULL DUTY

Increase in American Hogs Will Help to Meet World Fat Shortage.

FARMERS SAVE SITUATION.

Government Justified in Stimulation of Pork Production—Sevenfold Increase Over Pre-War Exports.

Through increased production and conservation we will be able this year to export seven times our pre-war average exports of pork products. With the heavy demands added in caring for the millions who have been freed from German oppression, the Department of Agriculture and the Food Administration are justified today in our every action of stimulation of hog production. In the coming year the greatest world shortage will be in fats, and pork will help to save this situation. The efficacy of the policy of stimulated production has built up in this country supplies which will enable us to supply a very large part of the fat deficiency of the world. In beef there must be a shortage in Europe, due largely to limited refrigeration ship capacity. All freezer ships available, however, will be filled by America, Argentina and Australia.

The contribution made by the producers of this country to the war program as applying particularly to animal food products is illustrated by the following:

Reports compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate an increase in cattle of 10,238,000 head and 12,441,000 hogs. These figures were compiled to January 1 last.

In this period there was a decrease in sheep of 819,000 head. The indications are that this decrease will show an increase, according to recent reports.

Since January 1 unofficial information indicates an increase in hogs of not less than 8 per cent, and not more than 15 per cent, as compared with one year ago, with an increase in the average weight.

Following the request of the U. S. Food Administration for an increase in hog production for marketing in the fall of 1918 and the spring of 1919 the increase may yield not less than 1,000,000,000 pounds more of pork products than were available last year. Without this increase the shipping program arranged by Mr. Hoover regarding animal food products would have been impossible.

The dressed hog products during the three months ending September 30, 1917, amounted to 908,172,000 pounds, while for the corresponding months of 1918 the dressed hog products totaled 1,277,589,000, an increase of over 374,000,000 pounds for the quarter.

SUGAR SHOWED OUR BACKBONE

American Willingness to Give Up Luxury Demonstrated Nation's War Conscience.

STAND WITH THE ALLIES.

By Reducing Consumption People of the United States Averted a Famine at Home in Spite of Low Supplies.

The fact that the people of the United States were able to reduce by more than one-half million tons their July, August, September and October consumption of sugar proves conclusively that their war conscience was thoroughly awakened and that the country as a whole stood ready to follow the injunctions of the Government.

Our normal consumption of sugar in the four-month period beginning with July has been 400,000 tons per month, a total of 1,600,000 for the quarter year.

In July, when our sugar stringency began to reach its height, consumption was reduced to 200,000 tons. In August only 325,000 tons went into distribution and in September only 279,000 tons. In October the distribution fell to 230,000 tons.

If the general public had failed to observe the injunctions of the Food Administration this country would have been in the throes of a sugar famine before the end of August. Our visible supplies were so low as to bring great anxiety to those familiar with the sugar situation. They feared that it would be absolutely impossible to reduce consumption to a point where sugar would no longer be a mere luxury in the American diet.

Few accomplishments of the Food Administration will stand forth so predominantly as this reduced consumption of sugar. By it we have been able to bridge over the period of stringency until the new beet and Louisiana cane sugar crops were in sight.

Now the nation is in a position so that if we choose we may return to our normal home use of sugar, and Europe, with the release of ships to go far afield, can maintain its recent restricted rations. If, however, those nations are to increase their use of sugar very considerably it must be by our continued sharing with them through limiting our own consumption.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND PARTY SAIL FOR EUROPE WEDNESDAY

LEAVES NEW YORK HARBOR AMID CHEERS OF MULTITUDE OF PEOPLE; WILL LAND AT BREST, FRANCE DETERMINED TO CRUSH KAISERISM

New York, Nov. 4.—Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, sailed today for Europe to participate as one of the five representatives of the United States to the Peace Conference to be held in France. The transport, George Washington, got under way at 10:15. Prior to the President's departure, it became known that he goes determined against militarism in any form. The crushing of Prussian militarism was a part of his plan for the future peace of the world.

With the President waving his hat to cheering throngs aboard river craft which crowded nearby waters, the George Washington turned her head toward the sea. The big ship backed more than halfway across the river before she turned and when two destroyers and a naval tug took her in escort the maneuver was witnessed by a multitude of persons crowding the roofs and upper windows of New York skyscrapers and piers on both sides of the Hudson.

A squadron of airplanes dropped from the clouds and executed loops above the president's ship.

The liner was convoyed to the sea with the bands playing and with harbor craft dipping flags and tooting whistles.

When some of the crowd wished the President "Good luck" and a "Pleasant voyage," Mr. Wilson smilingly called back "Thank you."

Off Staten Island whose shores were lined with spectators, the George Washington met its ocean convoy, the dreadnaught Pennsylvania and five destroyers, trim in new coats of battleship gray.

As the squadron passed through the gate in the submarine net across the Narrows, several thousand school children on the shore were transformed into a sea of waving flags.

Across the waters of the Hudson just as the liner was about to sail there came the roaring cheer of more than 2,000 American soldiers returning to American shores on the British transport Lapland.

The President's party included two other members of the American delegation, Secretary of State Robert Lansing and Henry White, former American Ambassador to France and Italy. Col. T. M. House and Gen. Tesker H. Bliss the other two members are already in Europe.

EVERYTHING CLOSED ACCOUNT INFLUENZA

After a meeting of the school trustees, the county health officer, the physicians and city officers, it was decided to put the ban on all public gatherings, the public school included until after the holidays. School was dismissed Monday at noon, and many of the teachers have left for home, to spend the holidays. The picture show is taboo, and will not open up before Christmas. All the churches and Sunday schools will suspend their services until further notice. No public meetings will be held, and the people in general are cautioned about congregating together.

While there are not many serious cases just at this time, scarcely a family but has some member, who is sick, and in several cases the entire family. As the weather has been cold and disagreeable, and especially favorable for pneumonia, it was thought best to put on the lid again. Parents are expected to keep their children off the streets, except when absolutely necessary to go on business. It is requested that no parties, or gatherings among the young folks be indulged in, until the ban is lifted.

There are so many cases of sickness of different degrees, that it would be impossible for the Record to mention them all.

The last few days have been bright and clear, and gradually getting warmer, and it is believed that if the weather continues fine that many of the cases will quickly recover.

A CORRECTION.

As is usually the case with a large list of names, where taken by a number of different committees, there were several omissions from the list of subscribers to the United War Works fund as published last week in the Record. We want to say that "the printer" is not to blame in this instance as the list was printed just as handed in. However, we are sure the committees did the best they could and certainly no name was left off intentionally. We add below a few that should have appeared last week, and there may be more, but are unable to know who they are:

NO PLACE FOR A PRESIDENT

The main objection to the presence of President Wilson at the Peace Conference, as we view it, is that by his commanding personality and power he would eclipse any other representative of the United States. If he goes nobody else need go, and in our opinion, that is not exactly as the American people would have it, or as Mr. Wilson himself, confronted as he soon will be by a Congress politically opposed to him, should wish to have it.

In many ways it might have been better for all concerned if, on our declaration of war, some Republicans of unquestioned singleness of purpose had been taken into the Cabinet. Whether the fact that this was done was wise or unwise in the circumstances may be left to those who like to pursue disputations that can lead nowhere, but as to American representation at the peace table we hold firmly to the belief that it is best for the United States, best for the cause which the United States has so powerfully forwarded and by all means best for the Administration of Mr. Wilson, which still has more than two years to run, that it should be so far removed from partisanship as to be assured of unlimited popular confidence and support.

As bearing on this point, danger signals are flying everywhere. The reactionary wing of the Republican Party graciously led now by Theodore Roosevelt, arm in arm with Messrs. Penrose, Smoot and Lodge, has never been satisfied that we have had war enough, and we may be sure that it will not yield readily to any decent peace. As to the war it has been full of falsehoods and belittlements. As to the peace, especially if it be a just peace, there can be no doubt that these gentlemen will assail it untruthfully and vindictively.

Why? Because they want war after the war: because they have no faith in the mighty forces now triumphant; because they are more intent upon a party victory in 1920 than upon national victory now, and because, having misrepresented the war in all its phases with some apparent success, they will decry the peace in the selfish hope that popular bedevilment will in some manner serve their envy, jealousy and malice.

President Wilson can spike very one of these wretched guns of faction and detraction by remaining in Washington and sending to the Peace Conference Republicans as well as Democrats, who will have no purpose but peace and progress and no hope of reward but the approval of their fellow citizens without regard to party. A peace so made and subscribed to will be ratified even by a Republican Senate, and no mischief-maker or political backslider or purveyor or falsehoods can prevail against it.

This is the principal reason why the President should not go to the Peace Conference. Honestly represented there by Republicans and Democrats of good character and correct motives, he will triumph abroad and he will triumph at home. Undertaking a task not embraced in his executive duties, and subject to all forms of misrepresentation, he will expose himself to every evil influence that desperate politicians can array against him.

The time to beat Theodore Roosevelt and all the other heroes of hatred and turmoil is now, and it can be done by a reasonable concession to Republican opinion which is neither Prussianized, nor vindictive, nor reactionary.—N. Y. World.

BANKHEAD HIGHWAY.

Efforts to Make it a Military Highway Now Withdrawn.

The Bankhead National Highway Association early in September sent a special committee headed by its secretary, J. A. Rountree, to Washington for the purpose of arranging for a hearing before the Military Committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives to present the claims of the Bankhead National Highway as a military road. Arrangements were perfected with Senator Chamberlain, Chairman of the Military Committee, to receive the delegation from the various states on December 13th. A large number of Chambers of Commerce, civic and business associations, good roads and automobile clubs and local units of the Highway throughout the states through which the highway passes have arranged to send representatives to Washington. Sec. Rountree has received several thousand petitions, resolutions and editorials endorsing the movement.

Since these arrangements have been perfected, peace has been declared and the necessity for a military road from Washington has ceased. Secretary Rountree wrote to Senator J. H. Bankhead, asking him, since peace has been declared, what steps should be taken in regard to the hearing. In reply he has received the following telegram:

"Mr. J. A. Rountree, Sec. Bankhead National Highway Association, Birmingham, Ala.—Letter received. Have made careful investigation of situation regarding Chamberlain and Dent Bill. Now that war is over it will not be considered. We are preparing comprehensive bill appropriating $100,000,000 for roads general in scope. I do not hesitate strongly advising calling off hearing Dec. 13, which will incur needless expense to numbers of our good roads friends. As Chairman of Postoffice Committee would not consider hearing for any special measure now. At later date would suggest representatives and committees appearing in Washington to push general measure referred to. (Signed) J. H. Bankhead."

After receiving the above telegram T. S. Plowman, President Bankhead National Highway Association, gave instructions calling off the hearing on Dec. 13th, and Secretary Rountree has sent telegrams and messages in accordance with Senator Bankhead's telegram. Thus it will be seen from Senator Bankhead's telegram, that he is actively at work for good roads legislation and the friends of the Bankhead National Highway may rest assured that it will be taken care of in the general bill.

SWEETS OF VICTORY

"The Chocolate Soldier" was a term of derision, but the soldier's chocolate is a military necessity. It satisfies the soldier's sweet tooth and at the same time gives him something to fight on when meals cannot be considered in the heat of battle. For one month the Y. M. C. A. with the American Expeditionary Forces ordered 15,000,000 bars of chocolate, 2,500,000 packages of gum and 8,000,000 packages of biscuits. For the chocolate and the biscuits were needed 1,360 tons of sugar and 450 tons of flour, enough to fill 181 French freight cars.

TEXAS PHYSICIAN DECLARES TANLAC IS WITHOUT EQUAL

Says It's Best Reconstructive Tonic To Be Had For Building Up Influenza Patients.

The following letter from Dr. J. W. Sandlin one of the most prominent physicians of Southern Texas, was recently received at the Tanlac office and gives indisputable evidence as to the value of Tanlac as a reconstructive tonic for persons who are recuperating from the after effects of Spanish Influenza. His letter follows:

Humble, Texas, Nov. 5, 1918.

"Dear Sir: Just a few lines in reference to Tanlac. I have found your preparation to be a wonderful reconstructive tonic, and in my opinion it has no equal in its line. I have found it to be the best tonic to be had to build up my patients who have had Spanish Influenza. I have treated within the past month about fourteen hundred cases, and have never been able to get sufficient Tanlac to supply our people.

"Yours very truly, (Signed) Dr. J. W. Sandlin." Dr. Sandlin not only enjoys a very large practice as a physician, but he is also a man of wide influence and ranks as a leading citizen of the enterprising little city of Humble, Texas. As a practicing physician of sixteen years' experience Dr. Sandlin was quick to recognize the superior tonic properties of Tanlac over other remedies and unhesitatingly and voluntarily gave Tanlac his unqualified indorsement.

Tanlac is sold in Colorado by W. L. Doss; Lorraine by Garland & Elliott; in Westbrook by J. H. Board. Adv.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

Is The Test of Time. Many Colorado People Have Made this Test.

Years ago this Colorado citizen told in a public statement, the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Colorado reader demand more convincing proof? It's Colorado testimony—it may be investigated.

J. W. Nunn, Second street, says: "I suffered terrible agony from my kidneys and nothing did me any good until I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box. I used them as directed and they soon cured me of the attack."

By the maturity date of 1918 War Savings Stamps, Jan. 1, 1923, this investment of $2,153,958.25 will pay the owners approximately $343,216 in interest. ### Few Escape

There are few indeed who escape having at least one cold during the winter months, and they are fortunate who have but one and get thru with it quickly and without any serious consequences. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and observe the directions with each bottle, and you are likely to be one of the fortunate ones. The worth and merit of this remedy has been fully proven. There are many families who have always used it for years when troubled with a cough or cold, and with the very best results. (Adv.)

It is estimated by the Bureau of Crop Estimates that stock hogs in September 1, 1918, numbered 65,666,000, an increase of 4,848,000 in a year.

An International Service Built on Tiny Profits Per Pound

Some industries have been able to get in step with war demands more quickly than others.

In many cases mighty plants have sprung up—but at a prodigious cost.

The packing industry was able to adapt itself to unheard of demands more quickly, perhaps, than any other industry. And this was because the vast equipment of packing plants, refrigerator cars, branch houses, etc., had been gradually developed to its present state of efficiency, so that in the crucial hour it became a mighty international system for war service.

And how had this development taken place?

Not by making vast inroads into the capital wealth of the country, but largely by using, from year to year, a portion of the profits, to provide for expansion.

Swift & Company's profits have always been so tiny, compared with sales, that they have had practically no effect on the price of meat (amounting to only a fraction of a cent per pound).

And yet the owners of the business have been content with reasonable returns on their capital, and have been able, year after year, to put part of the profits back into the business to provide for its expansion.

These fractions of tiny profits have been repaid to the public many fold in the form of better service, and better and cheaper meat, and made it possible for Swift & Company to meet, undaunted, the sudden cry for meat for overseas.

Could any other method of financing a vital industry involve less hardship to the people of the country? Could there be a better instance of true "profit-sharing" than this return in added usefulness and in national preparedness?

HEALTH TALK SPANISH INFLUENZA OR GRIP

BY DR. LEE H. SMITH.

An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a pleasant laxative should be taken. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath.

To prevent the attack of bronchitis or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and, as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system and increase the vital resistance. The fever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets, but in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of salaratus has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Ironic" Tablets, or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

PLANS ARE MADE TO RETURN WAR WORKERS

Washington, Nov. 25.—Plans to assist in the return home of thousands of war workers in Washington soon to be released by the transaction of government bureaus from a war to peace basis, were considered at a conference today of personnel officials of the war department.

J. C. Schofield, chief clerk of the department, was directed by Secretary Baker to prepare recommendations as to methods of aiding the workers. Mr. Baker said it would be "tragical" to have the workers, many of whom, he said, came to Washington to work for the government from purely patriotic motives, thrown suddenly out of work. Suggestion has been made, officials say, that provisions be made to supply transportation home for the employes or that some bonus be paid as recompense for short discharge notice.

FROM WILL CLAYTON.

To the Record:—I have just finished reading every line in your paper under date of Sept. 6, 1918, and I see where the Record is sending 27 papers to 27 soldier boys in France and you have never heard a word from them. I am sure that I am not included in that 27, but don't think for a minute that you can say that and let me read it and get away with it. I however don't claim Colorado as my home any more, but I am interested in the town, as my father lives there and I have quite a few friends still living there. It is ever near and dear to my heart and I very often think of dear old Colorado and the good old days that I spent in and around it.

I have been in France quite awhile, coming over with the 36th from Camp Bowie, we have been in and had our baptism of fire, and right here let me tell you that old man Sherman did not make a mistake when he said war was hell; it is hell, and if there is anything worse than hell, why that is war. I wish you could see with your own eyes, what the Germans have done. I will not make an attempt to tell you, I can't, but you can draw on your imagination and I don't believe you will be deceived.

Now I am not a Loraine boy but if Miss Irene Garland wants to hear from France tell her to write to me and I will do my best to fill my part of the contract.

Tell my father to send me the Record by First Class Mail, then I am sure of getting it.

Fritz is beginning to throw those shells, so guess I had better hunt a hole. Best luck to you both and to Aunt Rose (Mrs. F. B. Whipkey), I am, as ever, your friend,

THE SOLDIER SPEAKS

We have fought your fight, we have spilled our blood,
And the graves of our pals are green;
We have gone where you sent, thru battle and scourge,
And we've come through with Victo-tory clean.

The years of our lives are shortened
by far
That the hopes you cherished might bear,
And all we ask, that the fighting is done,
Is treat our dead pals square.

And "Brotherly Love" may go for some,
Who haven't been seered by flame;
And petting the Hun may do for the breed
Who answer a coward's name.
But ask us to take the hand of a beast,
While our comrades' blood drips red,
And we'll say to the teeth of such infamy:
"Remember the boys who are dead."

There may be those who would build their wealth
With trappings of German mold,
And maybe there live a pitiful few
Who would revel in Prussian gold;
But the men in the trenches in Flanders field
Are strong in the pride of race,
We are journeying back to the West-
ernland
To look our friends in the face.

We are coming back with the joust with death,
To the old remembered ways,
To tread in the paths of ambient
peace,
And we seek neither honor nor praise
But the ghosts of the pals we left behind
Call out from the new turned loam,
And all that we ask, is remember the boys—
Our pals who will never come home.

KEPT PLEDGE TO SEND BREAD

American Nation Maintained Allied Loaf Through Self-Denial at Home Table.

AVERTED EUROPEAN DESPAIR.

With Military Demands Upon Ocean Shipping Relieved, World is Able to Return to Normal White Wheat Bread.

Since the advent of the latest wheat crop the only limitation upon American exports to Europe has been the shortage of shipping. Between July 1 and October 10 we shipped 65,980,305 bushels. If this rate should continue until the end of the fiscal year we will have furnished the Allies with more than 237,500,000 bushels of wheat and flour in terms of wheat.

The result of increased production and conservation efforts in the United States has been that with the cessation of hostilities we are able to return to a normal wheat diet. Supplies that have accumulated in Australia, Argentine and other hitherto inaccessible markets may be tapped by ships released from transport service, and European demand for American wheat probably will not exceed our normal surplus. There is wheat enough available to have a white loaf at the common table.

But last year the tale was different. Only by the greatest possible saving and sacrifice were we able to keep a steady stream of wheat and flour moving across the sea. We found ourselves at the beginning of the harvest year with an unusually short crop. Even the most optimistic statisticians figured that we had a bare surplus of 20,000,000 bushels. And yet Europe was facing the probability of a bread famine—and in Europe bread is by far the most important article in the diet.

All of this surplus had left the country early in the fall. By the first of the year we had managed to ship a little more than 50,000,000 bushels by practicing the utmost economy at home—by wheatless days, wheatless meals, heavy substitution of other cereals and by sacrifice at almost every meal throughout the country.

In January the late Lord Rhonda, then British Food Controller, called that only if we sent an additional 75,000,000 bushels by July 1 could he take the responsibility of assuring his people that they would be fed.

The response of the American people was 85,000,000 bushels safely delivered overseas between January 1 and July 1. Out of a harvest which gave us only 20,000,000 bushels surplus we actually shipped 141,000,000 bushels.

Thus did America fulfill her pledge that the Allied bread rations could be maintained, and already the American people are demonstrating that, with an awakened war conscience, last year's figures will be bettered.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER! THE CROSS CHILD IS BILLIOUS, CLEAN LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

Look at Tongue! If Coated, Clean Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but set the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup. Adv2 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

and tropical and semi-tropical plants, comprising over seven hundred varieties, and constituting one of the most beautiful and extensive horticultural displays to be found in the world. The park is within short walking distance of the business section of the city; is surrounded by high class residences and by lines of the electric street car system, a line of which runs north and south nearly through the center of the park. Various portions of the 800 acres remaining outside the exposition grounds are already improved along lines in harmony with the high and appropriate standards established, and the work is being advanced steadily.

Los Angeles
I boarded the Big King observation-tourist car and came up here from San Diego, making the run in five hours, 125 miles. The roads are all paved and oiled and are as smooth as a polished floor.

Leaving San Diego we came up the coast line for miles; then out through the mountains, through passes, over canyons, bridges, and through tunnels for many more miles. About 50 miles below Los Angeles the road leaves the ocean and runs for miles through the most beautiful country one could ever hope to see.

The road is bordered on one side with a beautifully trimmed hedge of American Beauty roses, and on the other side with geraniums; on either side there are miles and miles of orchards as far as one can see. These orchards are English walnuts, orange-lemons, persimmons, figs and grapes; also grape fruit. The walnuts are all gathered, the oranges are just turning ripe, will commence to pick about December 20th. This was a most wonderful sight and a drive worth taking.

Found Los Angeles all here, or so it seems, for it is a city of 650,000 people, the largest city the writer has ever in. They claim to be the largest city in amount of land in the world, as it takes in 184 square miles. It is estimated that 10,000 idle people or tourists, are here every day; all sight seeing and pleasure hunting. Every known device and scheme ever thought of is here to part you from your coin—and you part. Yet everything here is comparatively cheap; fruit and the restaurants are remarkably so. There are the finest hotels here in the world, and one can get elegant service for $1.00 per day. The largest cafeteria in Southern California is here and you can get an elegant meal for 40 to 60 cents. But you can also pay on up to the limit of your pocket book if you want to.

Everybody is looking out after the tourists, and you can hire autos, the $5,000 to $8,000 kind very reasonable. I took a 65 mile trip today and visited many places of interest, at an expense of $1.00. One trip is 165 miles all day drive, for $5; another trip I went on, 90 miles, for $1.50. This includes a guide and passes into many excursions on the trip.

I spent a day in beautiful Pasadena on millionaire row; visited the Alhambra Busch home and sunken gardens. This is as perfect as the landscape gardeners can make it. The head gardener draws a $10,000 salary and it costs over $10,000 a year to keep it up—but what is that when Mrs. Busch is rated at 95 millions.

I visited the far-famed ostrich farm, also the alligator farm. Went to the home of Robert J. Burdette; Canfill, the race horse millionaire, and other noted, and much talked of slow places, but strange to say these people had never heard of me. I went around the 1 1/8 mile track on which Barney Oldfield made his world record; went to Ocean Park, San Monica, Venice and Long Beach; went all through Nat Goodwin's famous Ship Inn. Here Nat, with his seventh wife, ruled the roost, but when this part of California went dry he lost his license and down went his business to the bottom of the sea. Went all over the exclusive Beverly Hills, and visited the 101 ranch, and saw the Keystone people making a ranch scene film. All these places are of note, and are visited by thousands of people every day, and I shall try to write of them separately after I return home. It is too expensive to stay out here and do so.

The best trip for me so far, was to Culver City, the home of many of the big film companies; and also the homes of the movie stars. I met personally Douglas Fairbanks (the Los Angeles court granted his divorce today); visited the home of Mary Pickford; W. S. (Bill) Hart; Charley Chaplin, and saw Jack Pickford at work in a scene. Visited the studio of Jesse H. Lasky, Thos. Ince (Triangle) Vitagraph and Selig, also the Keystone.

It is wonderful how they make these pictures, and I will try to describe this work later on.

On our return to the city was shown the former home of Jim Jeffress, also that of Jack Johnson when he tried to break into Southern California's society.

I have been in California two months now, and the weather has been most delightful. Every day is just alike, warm and sunny, midst a profusion of flowers and tropical fruits.

Our observation is that when a woman is raising five or six children she hardly ever regards herself as a mollycoddle.

The wheat field of the United States in 1918 was four-fifths the size of the Kingdom of Austria and more than eight times the size of Belgium.

The United States Department of Agriculture is at the service of every farmer. Not every farmer, however, takes advantage of that service. The department's advice costs the farmer nothing, but the assistance given may save him a great deal—both in time and money.

The official call for the payment of W. S. S. pledges has been issued by the Government, which now needs every cent pledged in War Savings Stamps to take care of our soldiers and sailors and bring them home. As you know, the bill is $50,000,000 a day or $1,500,000,000 a month.

The soy bean is a very profitable crop when grown for seed, and the seed-growing industry is being developed in many cotton-growing sections and in the southern part of the corn belt. The character of growth, its uniform maturing habit, and its large yield of grain recommend the soy bean for seed production.

Mr. McAdoo has for several years been in close touch with American politics and has had the opportunity to see into the inner workings of the government and has had the benefit of the ideas of the greatest President in history and there are reasons for believing that he is the best equipped man in the nation now available for the place in 1920. He has the confidence of the workers and thinkers in every branch of the government and in all industrial lines.

"What caused Mr. McAdoo to resign?" We are sure that we do not know. Perhaps it was over work, or perhaps he feels that he has lost enough of his personal fortune in order to serve his country. Whatever the cause the country is losing, in our opinion, the greatest financier in the world. McAdoo should be elected President to succeed Mr. Wilson, and to finish the work the President has begun. If the people will elect him in 1920 to follow Wilson it will mean almost as much to the welfare of the country as the present administration. We are for Mr. McAdoo for President.—Abilene Reporter.

Mr. McAdoo told us plainly why he resigned. Why doubt the truth of his statement? He declared that he was compelled to resign in order to repair his finances. His resignation, however, has brought on much talk about his being the next Democratic nominee for the Presidency. McAdoo is an able financier and would doubtless be a crackerjack President.—Roscoe Times.

IS THIS CONSERVATION?

This war has taught our country the great lesson of economizing in space. Take for instance, macaroni. Heretofore this article of diet has been made with a hole in the center, giving it the appearance of a pipe stem. There is no reason why macaroni should need ventilation any more than cheese or bologna sausage. The hole was only an ornament, and served no good purpose. Macaroni needs no ventilation, neither is it necessary to look through the stem in order to give it a flavor. We have simply been wasting space in its manufacture. Under the new order macaroni is made in solid stems and you can pack twice as much of it in a box. The doughnut has also disappeared. Formerly the doughnut was made in the shape of a washer, but nobody was ever able to give a good reason why a hole was left in the center. It does not need it any more than does a cookie or a biscuit. Let us save space by knocking out the holes.

This of course does not mean that peekaboo waists will have to go. The holey waists require no more space than solid ones, and the holes in the waist serve a good purpose. Some people look through them.—Honey Grove Signal.

We think the Signal is going just a step too far on the conservation idea. What would macaroni be without the hole—it would not be macaroni at all, and we venture not a dago in this country would touch it if the hole were stopped up. And ye gods, to even suggest "cutting out" the hole in the doughnut. This would abolish the doughnut entirely, because without the hole, it would not be a doughnut. The hole in the doughnut is an American institution, handed down from the first Thanksgiving day of the pilgrim fathers, and war or no war, it should not be abolished. As to the holey waist, that's another matter entirely and does not cut any figure (but sometimes helps to show one). If it takes less material to make a waist with holes in it, let us have the holes, and the larger they are the better. Some women, however, find it necessary to put another waist under the holey one to stop up the holes, so there is not much economy in this matter. Of course not all do this, but some do, and this necessitates two waists where only one grew before.

However, we will let the Signal fix up the matter about the waists, but we emphatically do not want the hole taken out of the doughnut.

While a great number of our subscribers have paid up and many of them from one to two years ahead, there are still many who have not done so. According to the ruling of the War Industries Board we will not be allowed to carry them longer than January 1st. So look at the figures on the label following your name, which will show when your subscription expired, and if it is behind, please come in and pay it up, otherwise we will have to discontinue the paper; which we do not like to do, as we know our readers want it.

THE PRICE

This Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays should mean more to us than any of the two hundred-odd that have passed down into history since the coming of the Pilgrims and the establishment of the annual custom of giving thanks for the fortunes of the year gone by.

This year myriads of men, your brothers of blood and racial ties, have answered the long roll and lain down to sleep to long sleep till the coming of the end of time. Sixty-nine thousand Americans have died that there might be "peace on earth, good will to men" this year. They have died or suffered death that we and countless others like us might lift up our voices in thanksgiving as free citizens of a free country in a land where democracy rules unmarred by the filthy boot marks of the Hun.

Blood has run a crimson flood in Flanders; our countrymen, men from this very county, have swelled the red inundation with the pumpkins from their hearts. Our country, our motherland where we have lived and played and progressed, has spent its shining treasure upon us with a hand that has hesitated not at the cost but has guaranteed us life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In countless millions, our beloved country has spent its dollars to keep harm and Hun from us.

BACK TO A PEACE BASIS

Getting the country back from a war basis to a peace basis is bound to take time and to involve various conflicts of civil and military authority. Of this there is an example in the rebuff of customs officials by soldiers guarding a North River pier, who not only threatened the officers with arrest but obliged the Collector himself to apologize in order to secure admission to the pier.

The irritating effort of the experience on official dignity can readily be understood. Its excuse, of course, is to be found in a military vigilance long maintained and not subject to instant relaxing.

Yet in all such clashes of authority it is proper now to give the benefit of the doubt to the civil authority. This, after all, is a Republic and not a military nation. It took up arms because it had to, and the necessity being now practically over, the return to a peace basis should be effected as speedily as is possible and with the least possible friction between different representatives of national authority. And in reaching that result a little tact will go a long way.

APPRECIATION.

To the Editor of the Record:

I want to thank you most heartily for the splendid cooperation rendered by you and your paper during the United War Work Campaign and during the publicity program which preceded the actual drive.

The newspapers of the Southern Department certainly were faithful to the cause, and I speak for the United War Work Campaign organization, and am sure for the sailors and soldiers to be benefited, when I send you this word of sincere appreciation. Your paper should feel a personal sense of gratification over the fact that the Southern Department led the entire nation in prompt over-subscription to this great fund, inasmuch as you had a conspicuous part in bringing about these satisfactory results.

I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you at some future time and personally expressing to you and your staff my appreciation for your kindly attitude toward me in the responsibility that I had for the publicity of the campaign in the six southwestern states of the Southern Department. ### DEATH OF J. T. WRIGHT

Mr. J. T. Wright, of the firm of Ausley & Wright, died Sunday of pneumonia.

This was a shock to the entire town for he was robust man and the picture of health and in the early prime of life. He was taken with influenza and later developed pneumonia. All was done for him that loving, tender hands could do, but all in vain. Death claimed him for its own.

Mr. Wright came to Colorado from California only a few years ago and has been one of her most successful business men. He will be missed from business circles.

He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and will be greatly missed there.

He was born June 20, 1887 and died December 1, 1918—being a little more than thirty-one years of age.

The funeral service was held at the Presbyterian Church Tuesday, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Guy B. Duff and the body was laid to rest in the L. O. F. cemetery to await the resurrection morn.

He leaves a wife, children, father, mother and other relatives to mourn his untimely going.

The Record joins the many friends in extending sincere sympathy to those who mourn.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

As has been customary in Colorado for years past, a union Thanksgiving service was held by all the churches. The services were held at the Christian Church. The music was of a patriotic and deep spiritual nature, and was furnished by the singers of the different churches. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. P. Garvin, pastor of the M. E. Church. His theme was Thanksgiving, and he used the 107th Psalm for the scripture lesson. He called attention to the many, many things as a Stat and Nation, we had to be thankful for.

While this has been a year of great rejoicing, yet it has also been a year of great sorrow to almost countless hearts, and it will take the abiding presence of God for those hearts to be able to have the spirit of true Thanksgiving.

COMMON SENSE COLLECTIONS By W. C. Garrett.

I am persuaded that many people often disregard the smaller things of life and let scores of fine opportunities to do noble deeds pass by while we look for some larger and more noticeable thing to do.

If we would use the smaller opportunities as they come to us, they would often lead us to larger ones. People who show themselves unwilling to perform the little tasks are not at all likely to be called to greater ones. The person who can fill the high position, but is willing to serve in the more humble sphere, making for himself no reputation, thinking all the while of others, is in every way a greater and more worthy person than that one who will only do the noticeable things.

The world needs more soldiers than generals; more men to do the fighting than men to tell others how to do it.

Brother, sister, suppose you and I put a new program into our calendar for next year. It will doubtless make our lives more useful and certainly happier. The following program would be a good one:

- Be the best you can, being what you are.
- Shine like a glow-worm if you cannot be a star.
- Work like a pulley, if you cannot be a crane.
- Be a wheel greaser, if you cannot be a train.
- Be a pliant oar, if you cannot be a sailor.
- Be a little needle, if you cannot be a tailor.
- Be a cleansing broom, if you cannot be a sweeper.
- Be a sharpened sickle, if you cannot be the reaper.

The Record folks this week had a taste of a sure enough yam sweet potato raised in Hopkins County, baked by Mrs. A. E. Maddin and done to a turn. They were sent to Mr. Ode Rowe from his brother who had a little patch that yielded over a hundred and thirty-five bushels.

THANKSGIVING PARTY.

Last Thursday evening, the Baptists, with the B. Y. P. U. as hosts, enjoyed a Thanksgiving party at the church. Supper was served in the Sunday school rooms, and after a social hour all went in the main room for a program. This consisted of Thanksgiving songs, readings and talks. Miss Irma Quinney read the "Wounded Soldier," as Miss Daisy Adams accompanied with soft music. Miss Myrtle Barber told of some things for which to be thankful. By request Mrs. Geo. W. Smith read a paper on Thanksgiving, which she had recently read at the Missionary Society. Misses Daisy Adams and Edna Smith sang a duet that was much enjoyed. The pastor then said there was a place on the program for talks from those in the audience who wanted to express their thankfulness. Mr. W. E. Watson was the first to respond, and he was so overflowing with thanksgiving that others caught the spirit. Mr. H. F. Wheeler, S. D. Wood, Mr. Jenkins, and others followed with words of praise and thanksgiving. Altogether it was an enjoyable meeting and gladdened the pastors heart to mingle with his church in a social meeting.

ENTERTAINS AT DINNER.

Mr. and Mrs. Q. D. Hall entertained with a turkey dinner on December 1, first in honor of the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Hall, parents of Q. D. Hall; also the 14th wedding anniversary of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shepperd. Covers were laid for twelve, there being four generations at the table. The combined ages of four oldest reaching 331 years. Mr. M. T. Hall being 88; Mrs. M. T. Hall 83; Mrs. L. P. Adamson, 79, mother of Mrs. Q. D. Hall; and Mrs. L. H. ### SIDNEY SHUFORD WOUNDED.

Mrs. Tom Hughes informs us that they have been advised that her brother, Sidney Shuford, who has been in France for some time, was wounded October 8th. The wound, however, seems to be slight as he is recovering rapidly. Sidney lay on the battle field twenty-eight hours before he was picked up and taken to the hospital. The friends of this family will be glad to learn that he is recovering, and more than likely will be among the first to come home.

DIED.

Mr. M. P. Brown died at his home in the Spade community Monday, after an illness of several weeks. He was in his seventy-fifth year and one of the leading citizens of the community.

He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his departure.

While he was sick two of his daughters, Mrs. Ruben Ratliff and Mrs. Joe Northcutt, who were nursing him, sickened and died. They both leave husbands and several children. They were all substantial citizens of the Spade community, and they were laid to rest in the Spade cemetery.

The Record with the host of friends and relatives of these families, extends to them sympathy, in the loss of the father and two daughters from one family.

HONORING MISS BELL.

Miss Jeanette Earnest entertained the young ladies of the town at her home Wednesday afternoon, honoring Miss Annie Mary Bell of Tyler. They brought their sewing and fingers kept time to the lively conversation, and the time for home going came all too soon. Gelatine and cake were served.

LOCAL DRAFT BOARD TO BE DISCONTINUED.

The Local Draft Board has been notified that in a short time all the members will be retired except the chief clerk, Mrs. Brooks Bell, who will be retained for some time. The local board will have nothing to do with the demobilization of the army, except to register the discharges. Mrs. Bell will continue in charge of the management of the offices of the Board until officially notified to close the offices permanently.

Mrs. Lawrence Simpson and the children left Tuesday for Lees, to visit the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Lee.

WOUNDS AND HONORS.

Mr. Quinney has just received a letter from John Worrell, his nephew who has arrived in New York from the front in France. The Record stated some time ago that Worrell had been wounded in battle, and it seems that he is still unable to get about. The trouble is in his spine and as yet he cannot walk. He is in the government hospital at New York, but will likely be moved to Texas at an early day.

Mr. Quinney has also heard from his son Gilbert, who is still in France. Just before going into the last big battle he was made a Corporal, and awarded the Cross for distinguished service, and was to be decorated on his return from the battle. Another son, Lloyd, had received the distinguished service cross some time ago. Mr. Quinney has three sons in France and the nephew in New York, all of whom have been in the very thick of the fighting.

She was buried at Spade Tuesday, the funeral being conducted by Rev. Guy B. Duff.

Hearts go out in sympathy to this young husband in his sad hour.

MUST INCREASE FOOD EXPORTS

America Called on by End of War to Supply Added Millions.

ECONOMY STILL NEEDED.

Over Three Times Pre-War Shipments Required—Situation in Wheat and Fats Proves Government's Policy Sound.

With the guns in Europe silenced, we have now to consider a new world food situation. But there can be no hope that the volume of our exports can be lightened to the slightest degree with the cessation of hostilities. Millions of people liberated from the Prussian yoke are now depending upon us for the food which will keep them from starvation.

With food the United States made it possible for the forces of democracy to hold out to victory. To insure democracy in the world, we must continue to live simply in order that we may supply these liberated nations of Europe with food. Hunger among a people inevitably breeds anarchy. American food must complete the work of making the world safe for democracy.

Last year we sent 11,820,000 tons of food to Europe. For the present year, with only the European Allies to feed, we had originally pledged ourselves to a program that would have increased our exports to 17,500,000 tons. Now, to feed the liberated nations, we will have to export a total of not less than 20,000,000 tons—practically the limit of loading capacity at our ports. Reviewing the world food situation, we find that some foods will be obtainable in quantities sufficient to meet all world needs under a regime of economical consumption. On the other hand, there will be marked world shortages in some important commodities.

Return to Normal Bread Loaf.

With the enlarged wheat crops which American farmers have grown, and the supplies of Australia, the Argentine and other markets now accessible to shipping, there are bread grains enough to enable the nations to return to their normal wheat loaf, provided we continue to mill flour at a high percentage of extraction and maintain economy in eating and the avoidance of waste.

In fats there will be a heavy shortage—about 3,000,000,000 pounds—in pork products, dairy products and vegetable oils. While there will be a shortage of about three million tons in rich protein feeds for dairy animals, there will be sufficient supplies of other feedstuffs to allow economical consumption.

In the matter of beef, the world's supplies are limited to the capacity of the available refrigerating ships. The supplies of beef in Australia, the Argentine and the United States are sufficient to load these ships. There will be a shortage in the importing countries, but we cannot hope to expand exports materially for the next months in view of the bottle neck in transportation.

We will have a sufficient supply of sugar to allow normal consumption in this country if the other nations retain their present short rations or increase them only slightly. For the countries of Europe, however, to increase their present rations to a material extent will necessitate our sharing a part of our own supplies with them.

Twenty Million Tons of Food.

Of the world total, North America will furnish more than 60 per cent. The United States, including the West Indies, will be called upon to furnish 20,000,000 tons of food of all kinds as compared with our pre-war exports of about 6,000,000 tons.

While we will be able to change our program in many respects, even a casual survey of the world supplies in comparison to world demands shows conclusively that Europe will know famine unless the American people bring their home consumption down to the barest minimum that will maintain health and strength.

There are conditions of famine in Europe that will be beyond our power to remedy. There are 40,000,000 people in North Russia whom there is small chance of reaching with food this winter. Their transportation is demoralized in complete anarchy, and shortly many of their ports will be frozen, even if internal transport could be realized.

To Preserve Civilization.

At this moment Germany has not alone sucked the food and animals from all those masses of people she has dominated and left starving, but she has left behind her a total wreckage of social institutions, and this mass of people is now confronted with absolute anarchy.

If we value our own safety and the social organization of the world, if we value the preservation of civilization itself, we cannot permit growth of this cancer in the world's vitals.

Famine is the mother of anarchy. From the inability of governments to secure food for their people grows revolution and chaos. From an ability to supply their people grows stability of government and the defeat of anarchy. Did we put it on no higher plane than our interests in the protection of our institutions, we must bestir ourselves in solution of this problem.

Death of J. E. Sweat

Mr. J. E. Sweat, a well known and highly respected citizen of the New Hope community, passed out into the great beyond Wednesday afternoon, November 27th, at 4 o'clock. He was born in Panola County, Texas at the age of 17 he was married to Miss Fannie Miller and to this union one child was given, Mrs. Ada Phillips, who was at his bedside when death came. He moved to Mitchell County twenty-six years ago and has made it his home ever since. At the time of his death he was visiting his niece, Mrs. Susan Vaughan of Big Spring. He was taken with pneumonia and only lived a few days. His body was laid to rest in Itan cemetery Thursday morning to await the resurrection. Besides his daughter, Mrs. Ada Phillips, he leaves a number of relatives and a host of friends to mourn his death.

The flu is still prevalent in and around Westbrook. For awhile it seemed to be on the decrease, but since the bad weather a number of new cases have developed. Those on the sick list this week are: G. T. Warren, slightly improving; A. F. Bledsoe and family, improving; Mrs. J. R. Oglesby, very sick; Mrs. J. M. Byrd and four children, very sick. Other new cases that are very sick are Misses Ethel, Willie and Mackie Calaway and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Donaldson.

On account of the local weather and sickness very few were able to attend the Thanksgiving services Thursday. There are many, many things that we have to be thankful for and Bro. Leach made an excellent talk on the subject. He also filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning with another good sermon.

Bro. H. W. Hanks made a flying trip to Sweetwater the first of the week, going down on No. 26 Monday and returning on No. 25 Tuesday.

The Victory Boys went "over the top" Friday night with their Box Supper. They made $8.25.

Henry Leach returned from Bisbee, Ariz., Friday where he has been at work for several months.

A. M. Bell came in Monday from Fort Worth.

Guy Hooks of Cuthbert, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. E. V. Bell.

Bro. Hanks will fill his regular appointment at the M. E. Church Sunday. You are invited to attend.

J. T. Smith has sold his grocery store to I. W. Ramsey. Mr. Ramsey took charge of the business Monday. Mr. Smith will leave in a few weeks to make his home in Ft. Worth.

Mrs. M. E. Williams and little son C. S., left Monday for Midland. Mr. Williams will follow in a few days.

No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

STATE UNIVERSITY TO CLOSE TILL JAN. 3

Austin, Dec. 3.—Decision to close the University of Texas until Jan. 3 was reached at a meeting of regents, deans and physicians of that institution this morning. The reason for closing is not stated in the formal resolution adopted by the regents and faculty members, but the step was taken on the advice of physicians following development of a number of influenza cases in Austin.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS NEW PICTURE SHOW HOUSE

Mr. Charley Taylor, manager of the Opera House picture show, tells us that he has bought the entire out fit belonging to the old theatre next door to the postoffice, and will move into this building.

Mr. Taylor had two objects in view in making this move. The first one is that this being a brick building, and a smaller one, it can be warmed and made perfectly comfortable for his patrons, while the old opera house could not be kept warm and patrons were not comfortable of a cold night. His second object is to have two projecting machines in operation so that there will be no wait between reels, thereby giving better service.

Mr. Taylor, having to close his house for a couple of weeks on account of the influenza epidemic, will take advantage of this spare time to fix up the new house in first class style. It will be thoroughly cleaned, fumigated and made perfectly sanitary. New heating stoves will be installed, and every means will be used to make his patrons comfortable and at ease during his performances. He will remodel and decorate the front, overhaul and equip both machines, and make it an up to date theatre in every respect.

Mr. Taylor has the reputation all over West Texas of giving the latest and best pictures obtainable, to his patrons, and now that he can fix up a comfortable house for them, he feels that his efforts will bear the fruit of a better patronage.

He says that it is now his intention to reopen his show in the new house with a Christmas afternoon matinee, and night, showing "Gerard's Four Years in Germany." This is one of the greatest pictures of the age, and has had wonderful success in the larger cities. It will cost him quite a sum to get this picture, but his motto has always been that there is nothing too good for Colorado people.

Mr. Taylor is a hustler, and with the class of pictures he has been giving the people, we predict for him a great success, when times get back to normal conditions.

LETTER FROM CARL PHENIX

Since Wilson has rejected the armistice I don't know what sly trick the Kaiser will pull off next. I hope the Allies march into Berlin before the game is up and they will do it to if things keep going good. I guess the U. S. population is very jubilant over the many successes.

We received the two "Records" you sent or had sent, and they are always thoroughly devoured—advertisements and all. Your letter came with the cotton sample enclosed. I am glad and thankful that our crop is no worse than it is. Some day the old county will bloom out with lillies and daisies of the fields and enticing blades of grass for cows and calves to feast upon again. A reward awaits those who "don't give up the ship." I still have fond remembrances of old Mitchell as being one thriving old county and the time is coming again.

I enclose a few more pictures. I got the cards when passing through Orleans and have been there about four times. The cathedral is beautiful. In my rounds I have seen some wonderful cathedrals and have been in a great number of them. The Notre-Dame is wonderful. I was in it on Sunday during a Catholic service and heard the pipe organ and the chanting. The art and architecture as well as sculpturing are grand. No doubt you know where the Notre-Dame is. I see it most every day. I have seen many times the Church of St. Gervais that "big Bertha" smashed a shell through killing ninety of the congregation. I have a little souvenir stone I picked up from the wreckage there. Meaux is another interesting town with a wonderful and old cathedral. Nearly all French towns have cathedrals. Meaux, you will remember, was one of the towns captured in the Kaiser's most extreme push of 1914. He was getting right at Paris when the French put him to flight. I have been in Meaux six or eight times. I have been in Chateau Thierry twice and to Lizy, Chegy, Mezy, Fossy and other places.

I took a snap shot of an old Chateau where Napoleon spent his last few days before being sent into exile, but the picture was no good.

I'd like to see my latest nephew and the other little rascal too. Send the boys and girls our love.

With love, your son,

CARL.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts Like Dynamite on a Sluggish Liver and You Lose a Days Work

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

THE FARMER MUST HAVE RUGGED HEALTH

Many Break Downs and Failures Due to Exposure and Hard Work

Catarrh in Some of It's Many Forms Claims Thousands

Every farm family has its medicine cabinet and in almost every one will be found a bottle of Dr. Hartman's World Famous Peruna. For coughs, colds and catarrh it is invaluable. It's use is indicated in all cases of catarrhal inflammation and congestion whether of respiratory organs, stomach, bowels or other organs of the body.

Mr. W. J. Temple of 309 Lincoln Ave., Delaware, Ohio, suffered for years with inflammation of the mucous linings of the stomach and bowels. According to his own story he did not eat a meal for five years without distress. He says: "I am a farmer and must be exposed to all kinds of weather. After years of suffering, a druggist recommended Peruna. I took all together five bottles and am a well man. Formerly, I could not do a day's work. Now, farm work does not fatigue me in the least. Peruna is the best medicine and tonic on the market. Time only strengthens my admiration for it, especially for catarrh and colds."

Peruna is sold everywhere. You may buy it in either liquid or tablet form. Ask for Dr. Hartman's Well Known Peruna Tonic and if you are seeking health take nothing else. Insist upon Peruna.

If you are sick and suffering, write The Peruna Company, Dept. 77, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

WOUNDED TO BE PLACED IN 300 MILES OF HOME.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Plans under which all wounded men returning from France will go to hospitals within 300 miles of the homes of their nearest relatives were announced today by the War Department.

The wounded will be received on their arrival from France in fifteen institutions now ready for them with a bed capacity of 22,068. From the ports the men will be taken on specially fitted trains to one of sixteen localized hospital groups, where assignments will be made in such a way that each of the wounded men will go back to the region from which he entered the service. Group No. 15, relating to Texas, will be as follows: General hospital, Corpus Christi, Texas and base hospitals at Camp Logan, Travis, MacArthur, and Camp Bowie and at Fort Sam Houston, Fort Sill and Fort Bliss.

STATE UNIVERSITY TO CLOSE TILL JAN. 3

Austin, Dec. 3.—Decision to close the University of Texas until Jan. 3 was reached at a meeting of regents, deans and physicians of that institution this morning. The reason for closing is not stated in the formal resolution adopted by the regents and faculty members, but the step was taken on the advice of physicians following development of a number of influenza cases in Austin.

When the Indians taught the white settlers of this country how to raise corn, no flight of the imagination could have foreseen the crop of 1918 covering nearly 178,000 square miles or nearly as much land as there is in Germany.

MUST INCREASE FOOD EXPORTS

America Called on by End of War to Supply Added Millions.

ECONOMY STILL NEEDED.

Over Three Times Pre-War Shipments Required—Situation in Wheat and Fats Proves Government's Policy Sound.

With the guns in Europe silenced, we have now to consider a new world food situation. But there can be no hope that the volume of our exports can be lightened to the slightest degree with the cessation of hostilities.

With food the United States made it possible for the forces of democracy to hold out to victory. To insure democracy in the world, we must continue to live simply in order that we may supply these liberated nations of Europe with food.

Last year we sent 11,820,000 tons of food to Europe. For the present year, with only the European Allies to feed, we had originally pledged ourselves to a program that would have increased our exports to 17,500,000 tons.

Return to Normal Bread Loaf. With the enlarged wheat crops which American farmers have grown, and the supplies of Australia, the Argentine and other markets now accessible to shipping, there are bread grains enough to enable the nations to return to their normal wheat loaf.

In this there will be a heavy shortage—about 3,000,000,000 pounds—in pork products, dairy products and vegetable oils. While there will be a shortage of about three million tons in rich protein feeds for dairy animals, there will be sufficient supplies of other feedstuffs to allow economical consumption.

In the matter of beef, the world's supplies are limited to the capacity of the available refrigerating ships. The supplies of beef in Australia, the Argentine and the United States are sufficient to load these ships. There will be a shortage in the importing countries, but we cannot hope to expand exports materially for the next months in view of the bottle neck in transportation.

We will have a sufficient supply of sugar to allow normal consumption in this country if the other nations retain their present short rations or increase them only slightly. For the countries of Europe, however, to increase their present rations to a material extent will necessitate our sharing a part of our own supplies with them.

Twenty Million Tons of Food. Of the world total, North America will furnish more than 60 per cent. The United States, including the West Indies, will be called upon to furnish 20,000,000 tons of food of all kinds as compared with our pre-war exports of about 6,000,000 tons.

While we will be able to change our program in many respects, even a casual survey of the world supplies in comparison to world demands shows conclusively that Europe will know famine unless the American people bring their home consumption down to the barest minimum that will maintain health and strength.

There are conditions of famine in Europe that will be beyond our power to remedy. There are 40,000,000 people in North Russia whom there is small chance of reaching with food this winter. Their transportation is demoralized in complete anarchy, and shortly many of their ports will be frozen, even if internal transport could be realized.

To Preserve Civilization. At this moment Germany has not alone sucked the food and animals from all those masses of people she has dominated and left starving, but she has left behind her a total wreckage of social institutions, and this mass of people is now confronted with absolute anarchy.

If we value our own safety and the social organization of the world, if we value the preservation of civilization itself, we cannot permit growth of this cancer in the world's vitals. Famine is the mother of anarchy. From the inability of governments to secure food for their people grows revolution and chaos. From an ability to supply their people grows stability of government and the defeat of anarchy. Did we put it on no higher plane than our interests in the protection of our institutions, we must bestir ourselves in solution of this problem.

WESTBROOK ITEMS

Death of J. E. Sweat. Mr. J. E. Sweat, a well known and highly respected citizen of the New Hope community, passed out into the great beyond Wednesday afternoon, November 27th, at 4 o'clock.

The flu is still prevalent in and around Westbrook. For awhile it seemed to be on the decrease, but since the bad weather a number of new cases have developed. Those on the sick list this week are: G. T. Warren, slightly improving; A. F. Bledsoe and family, improving; Mrs. J. R. Oglesby, very sick; Mrs. J. M. Byrd and four children, very sick.

On account of the local weather and sickness very few were able to attend the Thanksgiving services Thursday. There are many, many things that we have to be thankful for and Bro. Leach made an excellent talk on the subject. He also filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning with another good sermon.

Bro. H. W. Hanks made a flying trip to Sweetwater the first of the week, going down on No. 26 Monday and returning on No. 25 Tuesday.

The Victory Boys went "over the top" Friday night with their Box Supper. They made $8.25.

Henry Leach returned from Bisbee, Ariz., Friday where he has been at work for several months. A. M. Bell came in Monday from Fort Worth. Guy Hooks of Cuthbert, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. E. V. Bell.

Bro. Hanks will fill his regular appointment at the M. E. Church Sunday. You are invited to attend.

J. T. Smith has sold his grocery store to I. W. Ramsey. Mr. Ramsey took charge of the business Monday. Mr. Smith will leave in a few weeks to make his home in Ft. Worth.

Mrs. M. E. Williams and little son C. S., left Monday for Midland. Mr. Williams will follow in a few days.

GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY

25-Cent Bottle Destroys Dandruff and Doubles Beauty of Your Hair.

Within ten minutes after an application of Dandrine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Dandrine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Dandrine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Dandrine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Dandrine.

LETTER FROM CARL PHENIX

Since Wilson has rejected the armistice I don't know what sly trick the Kaiser will pull off next. I hope the Allies march into Berlin before the game is up and they will do it to if things keep going good. I guess the U. S. population is very jubilant over the many successes.

We received the two "Records" you sent or had sent, and they are always thoroughly devoured—advertisements and all. Your letter came with the cotton sample enclosed. I am glad and thankful that our crop is no worse than it is. Some day the old county will bloom out with lillies and daisies of the fields and enticing blades of grass for cows and calves to feast upon again. A reward awaits those who "don't give up the ship." I still have fond remembrances of old Mitchell as being one thriving old county and the time is coming again.

I enclose a few more pictures. I got the cards when passing through Orleans and have been there about four times. The cathedral is beautiful. In my rounds I have seen some wonderful cathedrals and have been in a great number of them. The Notre-Dame is wonderful. I was in it on Sunday during a Catholic service and heard the pipe organ and the chanting. The art and architecture as well as sculpturing are grand. No doubt you know where the Notre-Dame is. I see it most every day. I have seen many times the Church of St. Gervais that "big Bertha" smashed a shell through killing ninety of the congregation. I have a little souvenir stone I picked up from the wreckage there. Meaux is another interesting town with a wonderful and old cathedral. Nearly all French towns have cathedrals. Meaux, you will remember, was one of the towns captured in the Kaiser's most extreme push of 1914. He was getting right at Paris when the French put him to flight. I have been in Meaux six or eight times. I have been in Chateau Thierry twice and to Lizy, Chegy, Mezy, Fossey and other places.

I took a snap shot of an old Chateau where Napoleon spent his last few days before being sent into exile, but the picture was no good.

I'd like to see my latest nephew and the other little rascal too. Send the boys and girls our love.

With love, your son,

CARL.

CALOMEL SALIVATES AND MAKES YOU SICK

Acts Like Dynamite on a Sluggish Liver and You Lose a Day's Work

There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel.

It is a pleasant, vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot salivate.

Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless.

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.

CHANGE OF BUSINESS NEW PICTURE SHOW HOUSE

Mr. Charley Taylor, manager of the Opera House picture show, tells us that he has bought the entire outfit belonging to the old theatre next door to the postoffice, and will move into this building.

Mr. Taylor had two objects in view in making this move. The first one is that this being a brick building, and a smaller one, it can be warmed and made perfectly comfortable for his patrons, while the old opera house could not be kept warm and patrons were not comfortable of a cold night. His second object is to have two projecting machines in operation so that there will be no wait between reels, thereby giving better service.

Mr. Taylor, having to close his house for a couple of weeks on account of the influenza epidemic, will take advantage of this spare time to fix up the new house in first class style. It will be thoroughly cleaned, fumigated and made perfectly sanitary. New heating stoves will be installed, and every means will be used to make his patrons comfortable and at ease during his performances. He will remodel and decorate the front, overhaul and equip both machines, and make it an up to date theatre in every respect.

Mr. Taylor has the reputation all over West Texas of giving the latest and best pictures obtainable, to his patrons, and now that he can fix up a comfortable house for them, he feels that his efforts will bear the fruit of a better patronage.

He says that it is now his intention to reopen his show in the new house with a Christmas afternoon matinee, and night, showing "Gerard's Four Years in Germany." This is one of the greatest pictures of the age, and has had wonderful success in the larger cities. It will cost him quite a sum to get this picture, but his motto has always been that there is nothing too good for Colorado people.

Mr. Taylor is a hustler, and with the class of pictures he has been giving the people, we predict for him a great success, when times get back to normal conditions.

THE FARMER MUST HAVE RUGGED HEALTH

Many Break Downs and Failures Due to Exposure and Hard Work

Catarrh in Some of It's Many Forms Claims Thousands

Every farm family has its medicine cabinet and in almost every one will be found a bottle of Dr. Hartman's World Famous Peruna. For coughs, colds and catarrh it is invaluable. Its use is indicated in all cases of catarrhal inflammation and congestion whether of respiratory organs, stomach, bowels or other organs of the body.

Mr. W. J. Temple of 209 Lincoln Ave., Delaware, Ohio, suffered for years with inflammation of the mucous linings of the stomach and bowels. According to his own story he did not eat a meal for five years without distress. He says: "I am a farmer and must be exposed to all kinds of weather. After years of suffering, a druggist recommended Peruna. I took all together five bottles and am a well man. Formerly, I could not do a day's work. Now, farm work does not fatigue me in the least. Peruna is the best medicine and tonic on the market. Time only strengthens my admiration for it, especially for catarrh and colds."

Peruna is sold everywhere. You may buy it in either liquid or tablet form. Ask for Dr. Hartman's Well Known Peruna Tonic and if you are seeking health take nothing else. Insist upon Peruna.

If you are sick and suffering, write The Peruna Company, Dept. 77, Columbus, Ohio, for Dr. Hartman's Health Book. The book is free and may help you. Ask your dealer for a Peruna Almanac.

The many friends of Mrs. F. M. Casey, who formerly lived near Loraine, having spent ten years here, but at the time of her death was living with her family at White Flat, Texas, ten miles north of Matador, were grieved to learn of her death. A husband and seven children, the youngest only 15 months of age, are left to sorrow and to mourn their loss, which can never be replaced. Home is no longer home when the mother has departed, and all who knew Mrs. Casey knew her as a devoted wife and mother. Mrs. G. J. Richey, who is a relative of the deceased was summoned to the death bed, but on account of inclement weather was unable to go.

Mrs. Charlie Reeder received a letter informing her that her sister Miss Annie Norman was ill at Bonham, Ok., where she was called on account of the death of another sister Mrs. Lem Duren. Mrs. J. D. Norman was detained at that place. She will return home when Miss Annie is better, and will bring Mrs. Duren's children to make their home with her.

Mrs. Granville Anthony's Sunday school class met in a pleasant study session at the Methodist parsonage Friday evening, Nov. 29. The hour was profitably as well as pleasantly devoted to study of the Sunday school lesson after which refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by Miss Edith Moody.

Loraine is still very fortunate with regard to the influenza situation. While Dr. Martin reports a number of cases in this vicinity, none have developed seriously. The public school has not yet had to close. Dr. Martin visited the school Tuesday and recommended the greatest precautions, and instructed the youngsters in the use of antiseptics. He stated that he did not consider it necessary to close the school at present.

T. J. Davis and Malcom Blakely returned Tuesday from a hunting trip to South Texas. The trip was not in every respect a pleasant and successful one on account of bad weather.

In France, Oct. 29, 1918. Miss Irene Garland, Loraine, Tex.

Dear Friend—Guess you will be surprised to hear from me. How are you by this time? Fine I hope. I am getting along fine and am doing some real soldiering now. I received some papers from home, and another sent me a Colorado Record which I was glad to receive—don't think I missed reading a line. Especially did your piece in the Soldiers' Corner appeal to me. Lots of letters from home telling of all the local happenings, brings cheer to us from far away; that's what counts and helps us to make better soldiers.

We are indeed proud of the way the dear people at home are backing us up in various ways, and they can depend on us to do the rest. We are whipping the Germans clean off the map over here, and ere given up to be the best soldiers on earth. I fail to find my name on the list of men in service from Mitchell county—would like to see my name there. "I am only a volunteer."

It is now getting late and cold, so must close and roll up in my blankets to keep warm. Give my best regards to all my friends there, and tell them to write to us. I hope it won't be long until we come marching home. With love and best wishes, I am, our friend

CLAUDE E. NEELY, T. M. C. 777828

O. C. T. M.—A. P. O. 717 American Expeditionary Forces (Note—The publishers of the Record are glad to add the name of Mr. Neely on the honor roll).

Peter Radford of Fort Worth, ex-president of the Texas Farmers' Union, died suddenly December 1st, in a hotel at Madison, Wisconsin, where he had gone to attend state meeting of the National Equity. Funeral services were held at Whit, his old home, Thursday, Dec. 5th. Deceased was elected president of the State Farmers' Union in 1911 and served two terms. He was well and favorably known to many of our Loraine citizens.

A Letter From Tim.

Below is given extracts from a letter dated Oct. 29, from Tim Garland, Base Hospital 66, A. E. F., who has been overseas since Dec. 1, 1917, to his sister in Loraine.

"Your letters (four of them) came and I enjoyed them very much. I suppose the delay was caused by my transfer to the Hospital. I am glad to know you are well and at our home. That place would sure look good to me. The war situation looks good now and I hope it will not be long until we go home.

You may send me some Enders razor blades. I can't get them in France. I had a long letter from Miss Annie Gregg, also one from Bill Pettit—Bill says he is somewhere in France. I suppose around the tomb of Napoleon or the home of Joan of Arc, or some other place. He said he would meet me and we would have a reunion. He may know how he is going to meet me, but I shall certainly have to have more definite directions than somewhere in France.—I'd surely love to see Bill, however.

I have been in swimming in the famous old rivers—the Meuse, the Marne and the Moselle.

I did stretcher bearer work for the W. S. Marines in the big German drive on Paris last June. I have been in several of the drives since then. I know you will recall them. I was on the scene when the tide of battle turned and the Allies took the offensive. I saw the Americans put on the most terrific barrage that forced the Germans from St. Mehiel salient, Sept. 12. It seemed that it was impossible for any living thing to exist, and then after five hours of it, I saw the infantry go over the top, and presently there were long lines of German prisoners marching to the rear. I was notified that day that my transfer had come, but I preferred to remain and see it out, and I did so. I was there about four days, and then came to Hospital 66, where I suppose I will remain until it's over—"

DEATH OF MRS. NORTHCUTT

Friends and relatives of Mrs. J. C. Northcutt were shocked to hear of her sudden death which occurred Sunday, December 1st, of pneumonia.

Mrs. Northcutt was from home when death claimed her, having gone to nurse members of her family who live some distance from Colorado City, and of whom there were a number of cases of influenza. Mrs. Northcutt developed pneumonia and death came only after two or three days of illness.

The sympathies of Loraine and vicinity are extended to the bereaved ones.

On December 2nd the War Department announced that the Steamer Kroonland had sailed from a French port on Nov. 29 with 1349 soldiers returning home. There were 704 sick and wounded among them.
