BAILEY ANNOUNCES FOR GOVERNOR

Gainesville, Feb.—Urging that "it is quite important to elect a Legislature of the right kind as it is to elect a Governor of the right kind," former Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey of Gainesville made his formal announcement as a candidate for Governor in a statement issued this morning.

He discussed briefly his belief that "the expenses of our State government can be reduced 50 per cent and I am certain that they can be reduced 33 1-3 per cent," but dismissed State politics with the declaration that the "first matter before us is, of course, the election of delegates to the national convention and until that is disposed of I shall address myself to questions of national importance." But, he added "that immediately after the present conventions are held on the first Saturday in May I shall take up questions of State policy and lay before the people of Texas my views on them."

Bailey's statement that he will make the race follows a declaration that he had hoped "those who believe in the fundamental principles of the Democratic party could unite in supporting the candidacy of some other citizen for the governorship of Texas but friends in whose judgment I have the utmost confidence insist that the only way to avoid a division over candidates among the men who cherish our principles is for me to make the race."

"I still believe they are mistaken," continues the statement, "but I do not at liberty to oppose my single argument against the practically unanimous judgment of men who are as much interested as I am in reviving the real principles of the Democratic party. I have, therefore, consented to become a candidate for Governor of Texas."

Plan for Help

Then he said: "The people of Texas must not forget that it is quite as important to elect a legislature of the right kind as it is to elect a Governor of the right kind; for no Governor, whatever his ability and his patriotism may be can while our principles were sufficient accomplish much without the aid of our legislature. For instance, I believe that the expenses of the State government could be reduced 50 per cent and I am certain that they can be reduced 33 per cent without impairing its efficiency; but the Governor cannot, of himself alone, reduce those expenses. He might veto the appropriation bills, but so long as the law authorizes extravagant expenditures, the law must be obeyed, and the only orderly way in which the public expenditures can be reduced is to repeal or amend the law authorizing them and the Legislature must initiate in any repeal or amendment of existing law.

"When the expenditures of the government are reduced a corresponding reduction in our expenses would follow, as a matter of course; but until the Legislature passes and the Governor approves laws to reduce our expenditures, we cannot reduce taxation."

"No matter how many useless offices exist, the Governor cannot abolish them and so long as he has taken an oath to execute the laws, he must continue to fill them, even though he may know they are useless. It is not within the power of the Governor to abolish useless offices."

"Keeping these things in mind, I say frankly to the people of Texas that if I were able to do all that my partial friends claim I can do, my election would not relieve this condition, unless the people elect a Legislature who is ready to co-operate with all earnestness in that work."

Bailey assailed "Progressive Democracy" as exemplified in the present National administration, scored governmental "extravagance," taxation and the League of Nations, and pronounced the Federal prohibition and woman suffrage amendments invasions of State Rights.

"These principles were once cherished by every man in this country who called himself a Democrat; but within the last five years a strange sect, calling themselves 'Progressive Democrats,' has arisen among us, and their leaders boldly proclaim that in the days of our fathers, they cannot be applied to the conditions under which we now live."

Principles Don't Change

"They are immutable as truth and justice; but 'disregarding that obvious and vital truth, these prophets of a new cult, when they came into power now almost seven years ago, proceeded to substitute 'progressive democracy' for Democratic principles."

"That was an experiment in 1913. It is an experiment now, and the result is an almost universal discontent. What else but evil could a Democrat have expected when he saw the principles of our party abandoned and Socialistic vagaries adopted by those whom we had chosen to conduct the Government?"

"Like Drunken Sailors"

"They are spending our money like drunken sailors. They are wasting much of it in enterprises which do not relate to any proper function of Federal government, and they are worse than wasting much of it in multiplying offices until we now have more than 700,000 Federal office-holders."

Bailey declared a bill passed by the House of Representatives and pending in the national Senate, would, if made a law, fix $3 a day as the minimum wage to any person employed by the United States, except in the Army and Navy. "Under it," he said "the negro men who clean out the cuspidors and the negro women who scrub the floors of our Federal buildings would be paid more than the white school teachers of Texas."

To supply the money for the governmental expenses, taxation in this country is rapidly approaching the point of confiscation," He declared himself opposed to many war taxes and said the income tax rate ran too high and the exemption too low.

He explained just what was meant by State rights, and then took up the Federal prohibition amendment, which he declared "was not a question of prohibition; 'it is a question of state rights.'"

"Never until Mr. Wilson became President were the advocates of Federal prohibition able even to bring that question to a vote in either house of Congress. The amendment was ratified by every Southern State, although we were pledged by our principles and our traditions to oppose all Federal interference with our local affairs."

"Suffrage Greater Evil"

"Much as I deplore Federal prohibition, I feel sure that woman suffrage will prove the greater evil; because Federal prohibition is not apt to affect national legislation or other questions and Federal woman suffrage is certain to do so. Fifteenth amendment, the country has acquiesced in partial suppression of the negro vote in the South, upon the ground that it was largely a local matter with our people. But when Southern Democrats, themselves, have made the question of suffrage a national one by coercing unwilling States to extend the franchise to women, we can no longer ask that we be left to deal with it purely as a local question; and if the Republicans carry the next Presidential election, with both houses of Congress, it is practically certain that they will pass a Federal election law, or a law to enforce the Fourteenth amendment with respect to our representation in Congress. They may do both, and what argument will we make against them? If we say that suffrage is a local question, they will reply that we have voted to make it a national question; and the South will some day repent in sackcloth and ashes the folly of these supremely stupid Congressmen."

Mentions Texas Senators

"Within two weeks after our State election," he continued, "the Senate of the United States voted on the question of submitting the Federal suffrage amendment, and both Senators from Texas voted for it, their votes helping to give it the necessary two-thirds of the Senate."

The Child labor law, the speaker declared another invasion of States rights; and also warned against the "advocates of centralization now systematically at work to clothe the Federal Government with an exclusive power to regulate all commerce—in interstate as well as interstate and foreign," with consequent nullification of the power now held by the various State Railroad Commissions.

There are "three fundamental and inseparable objections to the League of Nations. The first is that it surrenders a part of our sovereignty into the keeping of a European Council; the second is that it involve us, so long as it exists, in European complications; and the third is that it obligates the United States to furnish soldiers for wars in which we might not have the remotest interest. If either one of these objections can be sustained, no American statesman can justify himself for voting for this League of Nations; and if all of these objections can be sustained, it is the most indefensible proposition ever presented to the American Senate for its approval."

Quotes Washington

"If this League of Nations did not compromise the sovereignty of the United States, I would still oppose it; because it will involve our country in every European complication which occurs so long as we are members of it. In that imperishable message known as his farewell address Washington advised his countrymen against European alliances, and all of our great statesmen since his time have united in extolling the wisdom of Washington's advice."

"BAILEY CANNOT BE A CANDIDATE"

PAT M. NEFF, CANDIDATE FOR GOV SPEAKS AT HILLSBORO

ARRAIGNMENT IS SEVERE

Says Ex-Senator Legally Disqualified
By Constitution from Becoming Governor of Texas Not being a Citizen

Hillsboro, Texas, Feb.—Hon Pat M. Neff of Waco, candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, spoke here this afternoon and arraigned the Hon. Joseph W. Bailey for the latter's opposition to progressive ideas of government.

He declared Bailey is legally disqualified by the constitution to become governor of Texas. He declared the former senator has lived as a private citizen for the past ten years in Washington, maintains his law office there and all his interests are outside Texas.

"We are witnessing in Texas today," said Mr. Neff, "an Ex-United States Senator, who for more than twenty years was the recipient of high honors at the hands of the Democratic party, now seeking to destroy the party that made and honored him. Last year in New York Mr. Bailey said: 'The organization of the new party is inevitable.' He came to Texas and said he was ready to get out of the party and organize a new one. He soon discovered he was too weak to split the party and therefore he announced for office within the party. He would today join any party that offered him either power, place or pelf. He looks out for but one party and that is himself."

The Ex-Senator is opposed to the present administration, an administration that, has accomplished more during the past five years than has been accomplished by any other government on earth during any fifty consecutive years in the history of the world. He bases his opposition among other things, on the fact that the president of this Republic bought two more automobiles than he should have bought; because the government contracted for more saddles than horses during the war; because autos were permitted to stand out in the rain in France; because the government spent too much money before actual fighting commenced on the western battle front because the government ought to have won the war with one million soldiers in France instead of two million.

"From the day that this government declared war in behalf of human liberty, up to this hour, Bailey's voice has never been heard to utter but one kind word in behalf of his government, his party, or his president, and that was when Wilson ve-

DIED

William Roscoe Gross died last Saturday from the effects of an operation a few days before. He was buried Sunday in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. He leaves a wife, mother, father and brothers and sisters to mourn his departure. He was just in his early manhood being only twenty years of age. The Record joins the many other friends in extending sympathies in this dark hour.

DIED

Again the Angel of Death entered the Cranfill home and this time a son was taken. Aged 16 years. He was buried at White Church in the Longfellow community beside his father who preceded him only a few days. Hearts breathe in sympathy for the loved ones who are called upon to mourn.

Miss Eva Walker renews for the Record this week from Ft. Worth. The Walkers lived here several years ago and still call Colorado home.

Bailey Cannot Be Candidate

toed the war-time prohibition law. According to Bailey's opinion, that is the only meritorious thing this worldwide citizen has done for humanity since he became the spokesman of the American Republic.

"The people of Texas will never be brow-beaten or bamboozled into the election of any man for governor who belittles women, berates preachers and bemoans the church. Mr. Bailey threatens to run the preachers out of the country because they do not believe in him and have the courage to say they do not. I prefer to take my stand with the preachers who pray for part of the people all of the time and all of the people part of the time.

"No man should be elected governor who is merely a negative quantity. Mr. Bailey does not stand affirmatively for any kind of constructive legislature. He is opposed to everything. He is a knocker. Mr. Bailey approves the conduct of no living statesman except himself. He praises the dead, alone. He is the only living statesman, all others are dead. He works with his face to the past and his back to the future.

"Politically speaking, Bailey is satisfied with everything except the League of Nations, the national administration, the state administration of the United States, Congress, the two Texas Senators, the eighteen Texas Congressmen, the State Legislature, prohibition, woman suffrage and the enforcement of the prohibition law. Joe is highly pleased with himself.

"Mr. Bailey is very much worried because prohibition has been written into both the federal and state constitutions. He wants to be governor of Texas to see if he cannot correct this great fundamental wrong that has been done to the people. With pathos in his voice and dollar marks glistening in his tears, he says it is too bad, too bad, that we have prohibition. He seems to think with the power of the governor's office at his back he can create a political rebellion and restore booze and boodle as the boss of the people. He interprets liberty to mean license to sell liquor. If he does not know that prohibition is a dead issue, too dead to skin, and that prohibition will remain with the people of Texas as long as grass grows and water runs then he has not sufficient judgment to be governor of the most insignificant country in the world."

"Mr. Bailey says the prohibition has come to Texas to expel new. Nay, verily. The progress of reaction are as old as humankind. They are summed up in the little word "anti". For many years Mr. Bailey has consistently followed the principles of reaction. He has been against every wholesome constructive measure proposed by the Democratic party, until he has become hardened into a fixed attitude of antiisms, and his antics are the agonizings of a regular Aunt Nancy.

SOLDIERS IN POLITICS

Gen. Leonarw Wood got into the United States Army through political influence and he has been playing politics ever since he was commissioned as a colonel of volunteers. There is no reason, therefore, why he should feel impelled to retire from the army now that he is an aspirant for the Republican nomination for President.

In fairness to Gen. Wood it ought to be said however that the precedents are all on his side. Zachary Taylor was a Major General when he was nominated by the Whigs in 1848, although Taylor had not been an active candidate and he refused to pay the postage on the letter notifying him of the nomination. The classical examples, of course, are Grant and Hancock, the former being General of the Army when he was named by the Republicans in 1868 and the latter being a Major General when he was nominated by the Democrats in 1880.

Gen. Wood would certainly be under no obligations to resign from the army in advance of a nomination. Such a sacrifice is not exacted even from Justices of the Supreme Court. The only question in respect to the propriety of the Wood candidacy is whether the General is neglecting his public duties to promote his personal political interests. If so, he is behaving more like a Senator than a soldier.

The Oklahoma legislature will meet next week for the purpose of ratifying the national woman's suffrage amendment. It will do the job promptly. That will leave only four more states necessary. They will be forthcoming within a month. Carry the news to Joe, Jim and Bob. Women will vote for president in every state in America next November. This is a long step toward sure enough democracy. —Plainview News.

MIGHT BE "PUSSY'S" COUSIN

Though Civet Cat Makes Its Home in the Open, and Is Larger Than House Pet.

Ever meet a bassarisk? No, not a basilisk; that is something different. A bassarisk is a ecomistle.

But the animal is better known as the "civet cat"—though why so called nobody knows, inasmuch as it is not a civet and not a cat.

It is a strange little creature, related to the raccoon, with a very long bushy tail ringed in black and white. Sometimes it is called a "ring-tailed cat" and sometimes a "cat squirrel"—the latter designation bestowed on account of its squirrel-like habit of climbing trees and nesting in hollow branches.

Like a cat, it catches rats, mice and small birds. It is about 16 inches long, not counting the tail, which measures another 16 inches. In color it is brownish gray. It is a night prowler, like a cat, and often makes its home in outbuildings and deserted ranch houses.

The civet cat ranges from Mexico and Texas to California and as far north as southern Oregon. Occasionally it is kept in captivity, making an attractive and interesting pet.

REALLY OF ENGLISH ORIGIN

Punishment by Tarring and Feathering First Instituted by King Richard Many Centuries Ago.

Throughout the English-speaking world there seems to be a widespread impression that the punishment of tar and feathers is something peculiarly American and that the practice originated with and is confined to mobs in the wilder or more remote sections of the United States. But the practice did not begin in America and is, in fact, English in origin.

The first known use of tar and feathers was in the British navy, 700 years ago. It is on record that in 1318 Richard of the Lion Heart, when about to start on the Third crusade, ordered that such of his sailors as were found guilty of theft should be covered with "boiling pitch" and feathers or down be then strewn upon them.

This ancient employment of boiling pitch of course meant death, while the modern application of pitch heated only enough to run and smear is not necessarily fatal. The modern American practice is, therefore, a more merciful adaptation of an ancient British substitute for the usual hanging of a thief.

All Should Toil.

Ideal social progress requires the productive activity of every human capable of adding to the general total. This is Utopian. It ought not to be so much of a dream, but it will be what it is so long as human nature remains what it is. Men differ so much. Some acquire laziness and some are born lazy. But the results are the same. You even have aristocratic loafers who pull all sorts of hereditary stuff in make-believe attempts at superiority. They would have you subsidize them, and guaran-

LONE STAR LOCALS

The past week has just been beautiful weather, and everyone is enjoying the sunshine. It seems like spring time again, and really it isn't many days until spring. The farmers are going to have to rush their plowing, so as to be ready when the time comes to plant, as last week was so pretty there was lots of gardening done. We hope this beautiful weather continues.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin entertained with a party Saturday night. Everyone had a real jolly time.

Miss Eunice Long was a dinner guest of Miss Mae Preston Sunday.

Misses Lillian Porter, Willie Harris and Nannie Lou Taylor were the guests of Misses Eldie and Lillie Richburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Price motored over from Colorado Sunday and visited in this community Sunday afternoon.

Scenes Set for Visitors.

In the little Barbary coast town of Biskra the Moorish coffee houses with Arab customers and Turkish atmosphere seem like set scenes in a stage production, while the far-famed dancing girls obviously exhibit their skill for the pleasure of the foreigners alone. Without the foreign visitor Biskra would be an ordinary oasis town on the edge of the desert.

Since Robert Hichens' "Garden of Allah" was written with Biskra as the background, many people have come to visit the scene of the story. Others come on doctor's orders, for the climate is said to be beneficial to rheumatism and other diseases. Others come merely to see the sights, which are widely advertised.

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

ASK FARMERS TO HOLD ALL COTTON

County Institutes Wants Price of Forty-five Cents, Basis Middling

At a meeting Saturday of delegates farmers and others, from various farmers institutes of Taylor county, a county institute was organized.

W. B. Yeary, cotton marketing specialist and D. J. Neill, field worker of the state department of agriculture made addresses. Statistics were read showing that three fourths of the 1919 crops had gone to the ginners during the first six months of the cotton year, and stocks in the spinners hands extremely short for this season of the year; that both foreign and domestic spinners are staying out of the market as much as possible in order to prevent the price from advancing to the figure the farmers are asking for it; that all that is now needed to sell the remainder of the crop for its full value is for these holding cotton to understand each other and withdraw all cotton from market, which they can now do since the unsold cotton is in strong hands. The following resolution was adopted.

"Resolved that Taylor county's holders be urged to withdraw all cotton from the market for not less than 45 cents basis middling seven eighths of an inch staple, and that graders be secured to go to every town and farm in the county and grade staple and list every bale in the county. For this purpose the department can supply several men.

"We urge every county in the state and especially in West Texas to do likewise and report it to the department at Austin.

"We are of the opinion a conspiracy exists, against the farmers receiving the price they ask for their cotton which is shown from returns of cotton recently shipped to Houston and Galveston, which have netted from $20 to $38 per bale more than was offered for it at home. This we consider a shame upon the business ability and public spirit of Texas and should be resented and corrected by all classes.

"Resolved further that we ask our candidates for governor and the legislature to come clean and open and state where they stand on marketing farm products and their plans. Also that we ask the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to take up this work and push it in co-operation with the department."

A FARMER WRITES HIS VIEWS Editor Colorado Record:

We notice your articles on the great abounding prosperity, the great wealth of the farmer and the wonderful possibilities of Mitchell County and they are all right, and your article on the cotton situation was greatly appreciated. I write in to say the greatest problem the farmer has before him now is the marketing of his products.

Today most people believe the farmer is getting wealthy growing cotton. As a matter of fact he is making no more with forty-cent cotton today than he was with fifteen cent cotton a few years ago. Many planters are showing less actual profit on their 1919 production than they showed in former years. The greatest need of the farmer today is not better knowledge of production, but better knowledge of disposing of his production.

The Extension department is giving the farmer a practical education along this line through their county agents.

In regard to cotton the county agent is ably assisted by the cotton classifiers sent out by the Bureau of Markets.

Some Counties have these classifiers and agents.

After a few years' education in selling their products to the best advantage the county will see great benefits in increased deposits in her banks that no outside help will be needed. Once the farmers and merchants have realized the possibilities of greater returns through proper marketing they can maintain their own selling agent without supervision from the state or federal government.

Mr. Editor, let your articles along this line continue; they are appreciated by all progressive farmers.

A. FARMER

TWO DEMOCRATS

By a strange coincidence, two conspicuous public men, both claiming to be Democrats, set forth on the same day the principles which, as they view the situation, their party platform this year should present as Democratic doctrine.

Vice President Marshall emphasizes the rights of the individual; home rule for the States; equality before the law; resistance to the centralizing tendencies of the times; the vigor and independence, each in its own sphere of the legislative, executive and judicial departments; expenditures limited to public purposes and applied with strict economy; taxation fairly laid without the taint of privilege; just regulation of all public utilities, and the discouragement of class prejudices and interests in all their forms. On these lines he would rebuild the American political structure as it was in the beginning.

From William J. Bryan we learn that the Democratic National Convention is to be a combination of the Populist, Prohibition, Labor and Woman-Suffrage Parties. Its platform will be filled with class consciousness. It will promise many social and political sure-cures calculated to array the poor against the rich, to centralize power, to promote public ownership, to discourage certain kinds of profiteering and to confine governmental activity in industrial disputes to investigation and the recognition of strike-picketing, which he calls peaceful persuasion. Putting Prohibition and Woman Suffrage first, however, he would have the party of self-governing States surrender its charter of faith and freedom and become a mere pander to nationalistic creed and greed.

It is impossible to reconcile such announcements as these. The fact that they are uttered by men hailed everywhere as Democrats shows once more the impending bankruptcy of the organization. No compromise can quiet, no meaningless words conceal, an irrepressible conflict.

LET "DANDERINE" BEAUTIFY HAIR

Girls! Have a mass of long, thick, gleamy hair

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty. You can have lots of long, thick, strong, lustrous hair. Don't let it stay lifeless, thin, scraggly or fading. Your hair needs this stimulating tonic then its life, color, brightness and abundance will return—Hurry!

The News regrets Bailey will be a candidate for governor, for it means a bitter campaign yet it had rather have him in the race with the issues clearly defined than have him and his bunch' bushwhacking. He will not get many votes on the Plains, where people are clean and intelligent; where people are in favor of prohibition and woman suffrage, and are opposed to his undemocratic denunciation of the work of the democratic administration—Plainview News.

CAN'T CONVICT UNDER THE DEAN LAW

District court in Midland had only bootlegging cases for consideration this week. The judge instructed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty," not for lack of evidence, but for the reason that the Dean law, in the language of Judge Gibbs, "is so strong that it is weak." A conviction under the Dean Law seems utterly impossible. Judges all over Texas have rendered opinions adverse to it, and among them some of our most ardent prohibitionists. One judge remarked to us: "In my opinion Texas has no prohibition law except the federal law enacted by congress." Over enthusiasm and extreme measures constitute the deficiency in the Dean Law, and a Waco judge, in an opinion recently rendered, declared the whole enactment unconstitutional. The man who buys or takes a drink of whiskey is equally guilty with the bootlegger, and corroborative evidence, necessary under the Dean law, is next to impossible to secure. But the bootlegger need not perk up at this. There is a federal law to reckon with and it is when you run afoul of it—well, you'll be taken care of, good and proper.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

The interscholastic league will be held Saturday, March 27 at Colorado, Texas. In case of inclement weather the meet will be held the following Saturday, April 3.

Track events will be held at baseball park beginning promptly at ten o'clock. Other announcements will be made during the day. All teachers are asked to send a list of their contestants to the respective directors.

The following are the directors:
Director of Public Speaking—Charlie Thompson, Colorado.
Director of Athletics—D. M. Beights Westbrook, Texas.
Director of Essay Writing, Mrs. Eugenia D. Weeter, Colorado.
Director of Spelling—Miss Florence McAfee, Westbrook.

Every one is urged to be present. Most all the schools of the county have joined the league and to those who have not, send the name of your school with a dollar to E. D. Shurter, Austin Texas and be one of us.

Hides became so valuable that a man got paid for his time at $2 a day taking the skin off the heifer that had fallen and broken its neck, the price of shoes began to go skyward. The makers said the great increase in the price of hides made it necessary to add $1 and $3 at a time to the price of their shoes, and made it very plain that the farmer, least of all, should not complain; for was he not getting his in the high price of hides?

The bottom dropped out of the hide market several months ago. The same green hide that brought the farmer 45 cents a pound at his home market when shoes were selling for from $4 to $6 a pair, is now grudgingly handled by the local buyer at 18 cents a pound—less than half. The same shoes that sold for $4 to $6 a pair when hides were worth 45 cents a pound, now cost $8 to $12 a pair.

with hides 18 cents a pound. The makers now say the hide has little to do in determining the price of shoes, that it takes very little hide to make a pair, anyway. The man who has to buy shoes for a family of six lusty youngsters can believe that all right; he knows that only the unlimited and uncontrolled gail of the profiteer is what is now determining the price of shoes.—Capper's Farmer.

MITCHELL LODGE 563

A. F. AND A. M.

For quite a number of years the Masonic Lodge of Colorado has held the distinction of being one of the brightest lodges and one of the most progressive lodges in the West. This lodge in the unwritten work had a most excellent team and is frequently called to neighboring lodges to put on the work. Many of our readers are Masons, in fact nearly everybody here and at Loraine belong to the order and for that reason we publish a record of the order in heroic days of yore.

In these days when the Nation appears to be turning with new interest to the faith of its founders, and time-honored maxims and slogans are once more coming into use, many a reader of history, refreshing his knowledge of the early struggle for independence will, no doubt, come upon the well-known triad, "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity," without discovering anything, in the early popularity of these words, to suggest a Masonic relationship. Probably there are even members of the Masonic order who have never concerned themselves with such an implication. Yet anyone, within or without the fraternity, taking the trouble to search for facts will very likely be surprised to find how generally the leading men concerned in establishing the United States as a Nation were Masons. All the familiar historical incidents, when re-read in the lights of Masonic facts, assume a new interest, if not a new significance. "Paul Revere's Ride," so well celebrated by Longfellow's verses might be famous, likewise, as a Masonic exploit. Not only was Revere himself a Mason, but so was Robert Newman, who hung the signal lantern in the Old North Church, and so, also, was William Dawes, who gave the alarm by way of Roxbury, as Revere did by way of Charlestown. James Otis, the Bostonian, whose pamphlets inveighed against the arbitrary measures of the crown paved the way for revolution, and Patrick Henry, whose eloquence in the Virginia House of Burgesses helped to bring the South to the support of the cause, were Masons; so were Samuel Adams, Joseph Warren and Josiah Quincy, who joined with Otis and Revere in laying plans for the revolution at the Green Dragon Inn. The famous Boston Tea Party, according to the information gathered by Madison C. Peters, in preparing a little volume on "Masons as Makers of America," was projected in the residence of a Mason and its decent upon the ships at T. Wharf was led by members of St. Andrews Lodge, headed by Paul Revere, then one of its junior officers.

It is a matter of fairly common knowledge that Masonic names were numerous amongst the signers of the Declaration of Independence. As a matter of fact, there were fifty-six signers, and all but six were members of the fraternity. The signers of the completed document, formally representing Congressional action was a Mason, John Hancock. Masons who took a hand in drafting the Declaration of Independence were John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, Roger Sherman, of Connecticut, and Robert Livingston. Some say that Thomas Jefferson, also a member of this committee, was likewise a Mason. Certainly Richard Henry Lee was. He drew up the preliminary resolutions on independence. And Masons largely composed the convention which met at Charlotte, North Carolina, in May, 1775, to prepare the so-called Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence on lines similar to those followed later in the principal declaration. With such a showing in the preliminaries of national experience, Masonic participation was only to be expected in the actual inception of government. It is not surprising, therefore to find that fifty Masons sat in the Constitutional Convention in a total membership of fifty-five; or that Masons and Masonic paraphernalia played an important part in the inauguration of the first President, himself a member of the order. Or, even that the governors of all the thirteen states at that time were similarly distinguished.

Perhaps the most striking prevalence of Masonry, however, was in the personnel of Washington's army. Of his twenty-nine major-generals, 20 were Masons. That their pledges of fraternal support might have counted heavily to his benefit in trying days that were to come can, perhaps, be inferred from the fact that of the non-Masonic major-generals, one was Le, notorious for his Monmouth failure; another was Gates who constantly plotted to undermine and supplant the commander-in-chief; the third was Thomas Conway, of the infamous Conway, cable; and the fourth, Thomas Mifflin, whose negligence as inspector of the army made his dismissal necessary. In the whole list of Washington's brigadier-generals, numbering over sixty, only one, Stephen Moylan, was without Masonic degrees. Many Masons gave distinguished service. There was Ethan Allen of Ticonderoga fame; Captain Corcoran of Allen's Green Mountain Boys; Colonel William Barton, capturer of General Prescott of the King's forces; and Henderson, the hero of Harlem Heights, who captured by the British, was paroled through the interposition of a Masonic brother, Robert Morris, the financier of the Revolution, was a Mason; so was a Polish Jew named Haym Salomon, a Philadelphia, who is said to have given upward of $650,000 to the support of America in the great struggle. John Marshall, Alexander Hamilton and James Madison all were Masons. It is a record that may well lead members of the order to look to their laurels.

RASCALS

Biliousness, Headache, Colds, Constipation, driven out with "Cascarets"

Why take nasty cathartics, sickening salts, or stomach-turning oils to drive these rascals out? Let gentle, harmless Cascarets remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, your skin yellow, your breath offensive, and your stomach sour. Cascarets never gripe, never sicken, never inconvenience. They cost so little and work while you sleep.

A farmer has sent in this question about his income. "I made 22 bales of cotton last year, off my place. I have sold ten bales and am holding twelve. Do I have to report these 12 bales as income when I have never received any cash for them?"

Here is our answer. No you have the option of making your return on cash basis or an accrual basis. The farmers' schedule, Form 1040 F calls for you to make return of produce on hand at the beginning and end of the year. That means reporting your income on an accrual basis, but there is nothing in the law requiring you to follow this basis rather than the cash basis provided your books of accounting are so definite that you can make a true report reflecting your actual income in a cash basis correctly. Most farmers in this country are in the position of having nothing on hand Jan. 1, 1919 and therefore can readily use the cash basis. The trouble will be that in future years you may forget that you did not report the cotton on hand as income and checking up your returns with your accounts may reveal the oversight and cause trouble. Before making a report on a cash basis you should, in case you are not familiar with the difference between cash and accrual and the use of inventories, have some merchant or banker or other person who understands accounting set you straight.

MITCHELL COUNTY

Future Prospects, Present Conditions and Splendid Opportunities for Home Seekers.

The Colorado Record, the Greatest Optimist in the West, Believes Prosperity has come to stay.

The biggest and most enthusiastic enterprise in Mitchell County and Colorado is the Record. Sixteen pages backed up by the business men of which the Record is proud.

For the past fifteen weeks we have striven, to exploit the resources of Colorado and Mitchell county. It has been a great pride for us to do so because we believe in Colorado and the County of Mitchell and the past year has proven what Mitchell County can do if given half a chance.

There have been days of despondency and weeks of disappointment. Pessimists abounded throughout the county. But the Indigo days have passed. The day of prosperity always comes to those who "stick", and the farmers and people of Colorado and Mitchell county stuck and are now getting repaid for their perseverance.

Such perseverance and dependency on the ability of the soil and the farmers of Mitchell county is what is making the control the place it is today.

Some people object to the close conservatism of the business men of the county, especially those who have been pioneers of the town and county. But this is not a bad fault. Those business men do not enthuse over "prospects" they demand results, and the year 1919-1920 has been years of results.

The building activity is due to start but the unprecedented high price of all kinds of building material and scarcity of labor has somewhat retarded this development; but with the coming of oil developments and the influx of eastern money now pouring into the county via new people who are buying our farms the building of new homes and establishing of new enterprises will come.

Business conditions are better and more stable. Banks are looking to the middle west and the east for the placing of the cotton money. There are few loans to be made here now. The farmers are in better financial condition than ever before.

And the coming year will be another prosperous year. There is danger of the cotton grower putting out too much land, more than he can handle, but that is not a bad fault in the principle of the thing. It shows the progress of the farmer.

Never before in the history of Colorado have the merchants bought larger stocks. They anticipate higher goods in the fall.
This 45c cotton is bound to come back in High priced goods and for that reason the merchants are now buying large quantities of fall and next winter stocks. They are getting restocked after the first few weeks of the cotton and other crop money came in.
The stocks were stripped. Business was better than they anticipated.

It was thought that it would take five years for Colorado and Mitchell to come back after the drought—but it came back in 30 days.

There is sufficient season in the ground now to produce a big crop of cotton and all feed crops next year, even with just a few showers during the season when the rains are needed.

Just now the Colorado Banks through the assistance of county Agent Dulin are financing the farmers in the way of restocking the county with hogs. Two cars of brood sows and four registered males have been bought and shipped here, they are Duroc and Polan China of the big bone breed and the very best. These hogs are to be distributed out among the farmers for breeding purposes. Mr. Dulin says he will now reorganize the boys pig club and by next fall will make a hog showing in Mitchell county of which all citizens will be proud.

The range is being restocked, and if the replenishing continues as it has in the past few months, the range will again be dotted with the hoofed animals.

Colorado and Mitchell county are facing an era of prosperity that will be more than the most fanciful deramer dreamed in his loftiest flight midst scenes of flower bedecked prairies swept by gulf laden zephyrs, a fit garden for the Gods.

Come to Mitchell County.

BLUE SUNDAY IN FT. WORTH

One hundred and fifty arrests were made by the sheriff's office Sunday for violating the closing laws. The arrests included; Transfer men who were moving families, carpenters doing rush work, cold drink stand proprietors, grocery men. Some paid their fines and were released; others gave bond.

Fort Worth spent its first "Blue Sunday" under cloudy skies.

Drug stores were shut tight, fruit stands were locked, cigar and tobacco dealers refused to sell anything—Theaters and picture shows didn't open.

Garages Can't Open.

Owners of several garages called the District Attorney's office Saturday. They asked if they would be violating the law if they opened their doors Sunday to permit automobile owners to bring in or take out their cars. They were told that the person or persons who opened the garage would be working on Sunday and therefore be subject to arrest.

Grocery stores are given permission by the law to remain open Sunday mornings until 9 o'clock.

Dr. Guy O. Shirley, chairman of the One Hundred Per Cent Enforcement League recently tendered the league's services to the Sheriff in enforcing the law, providing that no one set of establishments would be discriminated against.

CENSUS REPORTS BEGUN: CAPITAL UP 32 PER CENT

Washington, Feb.—Cincinnati, O., has a population of 401,158, and Washington, D. C. 437,414, the census bureau announced Saturday night, making its first public announcement of results of the 1920 enumeration. This shows an increase for Cincinnati of 37,567, of 10.3 per cent, as compared with the 1910 census. The increase for Washington is 106,345, or 32.1 per cent, as compared with 1910.

PROPOSE ROAD FROM ABILENE TO CROSS PLAINS

Abilene, Feb.—A railroad to run from Abilene to Cross Plains and connect with the Katy's spur is being agitated here.

With the bringing in of the Vestal well, northwest of Cross Plains, Abilene citizens at once revived talk of this road, which has been under consideration for some years. The distance is about thirty-five miles and the territory offer no uncommon engineering difficulty.

It has been suggested that the Katy might take over such a line in time and extend it through Abilene to Rotan to connect with the Waco-Stamford-Rotan branch.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. SPRING FASHIONS IN READY TO WEAR

Notes Taken in New York By F. M. Burns

Mr. F. M. Burns of the big dry goods Emporium who returned last week from New York. In speaking of the New Spring goods and fashions Mr. Burns said:

"Every manufacturer whom I questioned emphasized the fact that not only were orders being placed unusually early, but every indication pointed to a remarkably successful season in ready-to-wear apparel. Perhaps a great measure of the activity is due to the undeniable charm and novelty of the new fashions.

Suits

"The narrow shouldered, close sleeved effect is essential to an appearance of smartness in strictly tailored and semi-tailored suits. Straight lines are still retained in some models for the woman who finds rippled or pleated pelpums unbecoming. They have been made very attractive, however, by the use of embroidery, groups of pin tucks, band trimpings made up of narrow silk braid, or bright shiny buttons set in close rows in the pockets, sleeves and pelpums.

"Except for strictly tailored models, almost every suit shows an exceedingly narrow cloth belt which either crosses in the front and is buttoned at the sides, or in the dressier models, ties and is finished with ornamental drops of tassels.

"Collars may be the mannish notched type, shawl roll reaching bust line or below, or the long Tuxedo effect, which permits the use of a contrasting embroidered vest or reveals a soft blouse. The Tuxedo models usually fasten at the waist line with one or two buttons.

Tricotine still leads in the higher priced garments, with serge and Pioret twill close seconds. Navy blue is the most popular color, with some tan and biscuit in demand. For sport wear light wool jerseys are very popular.

Coats

"Coats are exceptionally popular in connection with the demand for taffetas, georgette and satin dresses. Sport coats are knee, three quarters, or full length and are chiefly made in polo cloth, light weight boliva, velours and Camel Hair. Perhaps the most popular coat of the season is the tan Polo cloth for it is within the means every one, as it comes in inexpensive as well as expensive models. It is made with raglan or set in sleeves, large convertible or notched collars, patch pocket, and large semi-circular back or belted effects. The latter are very practical. The belts are narrow and are of cloth or leather.

"Buttons are used sparingly as a rule.

Dresses

"Taffetas, satins, charmeuse and Georgette give a delightful range of choice in the ready to wear frock and lends themselves admirably to the new silhouette.

Taffetas are remarkably popular, and are moving much earlier in the season than ever before. The colors most favored at present are dark blue brown and black. There are many models with single, double or triple tunics, trimmed on the edges with pleatings, ruchings and puffings applied in various ways. There are also long hip tunics that look very smart with a narrow foundation skirt. Draped hip effects are also used, and are charming on a youthful figure. The sleeves are almost invariably elbow or three quarter length, and the bodice semi if not quite close fitting. Neck openings are rarely untrimmed, and a small collar of self or contrasting color or a trimming like that on the tunic is applied to the sleeves or neck opening. Some tricotine and light serges will be worn.

Blouses and Skirts

"Blouses are calculated to open the pocketbook of every lover of the exquisite and whether the price be large or small the daintiness and smartness of design are there. Blouses of Georgette are beaded by hand or machine, or inset with lace. They come in long models to wear with semi tailored suits, and the short sleeved slip-over or buttoned down the back effects with or without pelpums. The long sleeved blouses usually have a Tuxedo collar or shawl collar of lace, lace and georgette, or embroidered georgette to fit over the suit collar, the necks without collars are also shown.

"Skirts are also shown in a great variety this season. At present plaid or striped wool skirts are most popular, but there is a great interest in silk and satin sport skirts and fine black faille.

"Plaids are as popular as ever and come in subdued or brilliant effects. Some of the best combinations are black and white, brown bisque and Copenhagen, gray, blue and red. Some large checks are shown, a gray and tan being very pretty."

WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD HE ASSERTS

Howard Gains Fourteen Pounds Talking Tanlac and Lays Aside Cane

"I've gained fourteen pounds in six weeks taking Tanlac and now I'm a well man," said Henry S. Howard, a well-known farmer and stock raiser of King Hill, Idaho.

"I suffered from rheumatism and indigestion twelve years," he continued, "and could hardly eat a thing because everything went against me and I had no appetite. Every joint in me was swollen with rheumatism and hurt so I could hardly bear to be touched. I was in such a bad fix I couldn't work and had to use a walking stick to get along. The first bottle of Tanlac made a great change in my feelings, my rheumatism soon left me and I threw my stick aside. For now I can walk as well as anybody."

"And eat—why, I just can't get enough and I feel like I could do as much work as I ever could. Tanlac is worth its weight in gold, and it has convinced me that there's at least one medicine that will do what they say it will and I want to do my part in letting everybody know about it."

Tanlac is sold in Colorado by W. R. Charters.

WOMEN DENOUNCE BAILEY

San Antonio, Feb.—Characterizing Joseph Weldon Bailey as a "back number, chewing the rag of dead issues," and a man who would endanger progressive legislation, about forty women of San Antonio assembled in mass meeting Saturday to adopt resolutions opposing the candidacy of the former Senator for the governorship.

G. WASHINGTON'S THROWING ARM

The Father of His Country not only was a soldier and a statesman, he was an athlete and a sportsman and when he entered contests either in sports or in national affairs he believed in being in condition to win. He was a broad jumper of wide repute and he had a whip which any big fliedler would envy.

It is well authenticated that George once covered over 23 feet in the running broad jump and he did not have to climb into the track regalia and the spiked shoes to do it either. He simply doffed the blue coat and the flowered waistcoat, loosened his stock and hit the take off. After which he collected the prizes.

It also is recorded that he once won a wager from some of his sporting friends my throwing a silver dollar across the Potomac River at a point where the distance between banks is about the same as that required to relay one of Babe Ruth's clouts from the right field fence to the plate.

The chance George took on that occasion did not belie his well known habits of carefulness and thrift. He knew he could throw the dollar across the river, but you can lay a safe bet that he didn't use dollars to practice with, and it is highly probable that he had a black boy on the other bank to pick up the coin after he had collected his bets.

Sunday last was Washington's birth day, and was observed here by the banks and post office on Monday.

MOTHERS OF TEXAS, PREPARE

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, and when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. Many women in Texas would testify just as do the following:

HOUSTON, TEXAS.—"When I was a young girl I suffered from irregularity and pain. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription relieved me of all pain and regulated me so that I was completely restored to health. Since I married, whenever I have needed a special tonic I have taken 'Favorite Prescription' and have been amply repaid for the comfort and strength it has given me."—MRS. M. FREEMAN, 414 Marie Street.

WACO, TEXAS.—"It is a pleasure to me to recommend a medicine that has been of such great benefit to me as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was while raising my family. I have taken this 'Prescription' as a tonic during expectancy and I know it helped me in every way. It is an ideal medicine for the mother to be."—MRS. BEULAH OWENS, 313 North 4th Street.

GALVESTON, TEXAS.—"When I was quite a young girl I had a terribly nervous spell. My stomach was affected so that I craved food all the time, and I could not sleep at night. My doctor advised me to take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription (sold by druggists), and before half the bottle had been taken I lost all the abnormal appetite and was able to rest well at night. I have never had such a condition since that time so can honestly say that the 'Favorite Prescription' cured me of my nervous ailment."—MRS. ELLEN LASWELL, 1614 19th Street.

Carrying a Ton a Mile for less than a Cent

Freight rates have played a very small part in the rising cost of living.

Other causes—the waste of war, under-production, credit inflation—have added dollars to the cost of the necessities of life, while freight charges have added only cents.

The average charge for hauling a ton of freight a mile is less than a cent.

A suit of clothing that sold for $30 before the war was carried 2,265 miles by rail from Chicago to Los Angeles for 16½ cents.

Now the freight charge is 22 cents and the suit sells for $50.

The cost of the suit has increased 20 dollars.

The freight on it has increased only 5½ cents.

Other transportation charges enter into the cost of the finished article—carrying the wool to the mills and the cloth to the tailors—but these other charges amount to but a few cents more.

The $10 pair of shoes that used to sell for $5 goes from the New England factory to the Florida dealer for a freight charge of 5½ cents—only one cent more than the pre-war rate.

Beef pays only two-thirds of a cent a pound freight from Chicago to New York.

American freight rates are the lowest in the world.

1,500,000,000 Miles of Evidence

Statisticians calculate that Maxwell cars the world over traveled 1,500,000,000 miles last year. What a gigantic test of gears, bearings, axles, crankshafts, and the 3,000 other pieces of steel in a Maxwell car!

Had these metals shown a single chronic weakness their makers would have suffered a far-reaching penalty.

Instead these 1,500,000,000 test miles—equal to 57,000 times around the equator—put a great premium on the Maxwell.

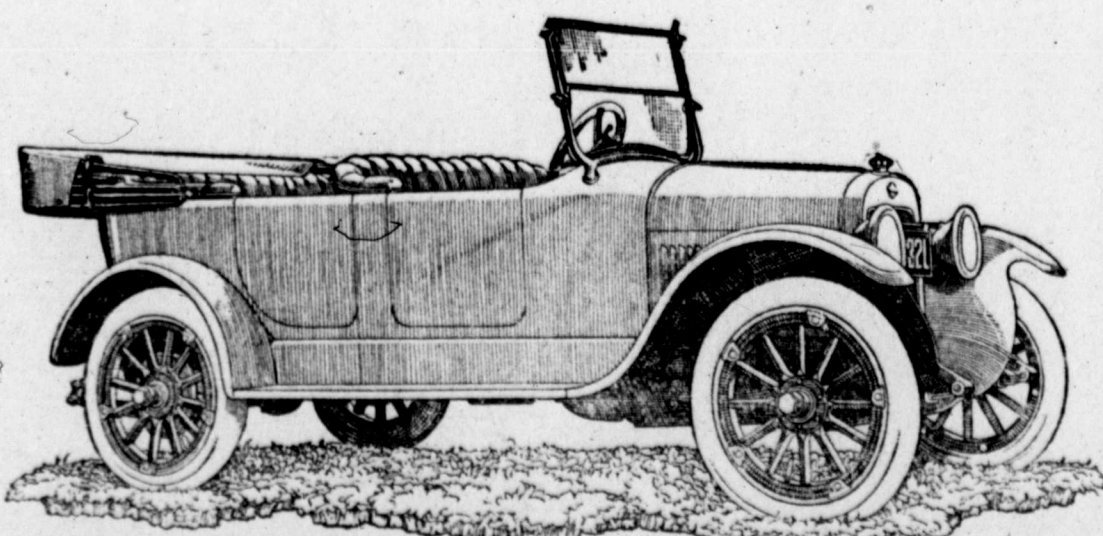

So great that it is becoming more and more difficult each day to get a Maxwell.

To fill this ever-growing and friendly demand for Maxwell, 100,000 are being built this year, bringing the total of Maxwells now in use on the road to 400,000. The 100,000 will fall far short.

Possibly 40,000 persons will have to purchase a second choice car.

To be sure of your first choice see the Post-War Maxwell without delay.

PRESS COMMENT ON LANSING RESIGNATION

The President has done nothing which the executive of a private corporation would not have done. Many an able cashier of a banking institution or vice president of a railway company has suffered the fate of this secretary, for less cause. It happens every day and it will not cease to happen so long as strong men shall be chosen for executive posts strong in legal authority. There may be differences of opinion with regard to the wisdom of the American Constitution that makes Cabinet officers, outside of their departmental duties, bell-hops but that is about what it does. If the people don't like the Constitution, they can change it. We think, though that they would not like junta government.

Through the unpleasant smoke of the incident gleams the pleasant fact that Woodrow Wilson is again in pretty good health. He knows exactly what he wants. When the people know that a head is at work in Washington their faith does not fail. The heart of the President is with them. —Columbia State (Dem.)

The President uses no harsh language and expresses kindly personal feeling that show him to be a most patient man. Many Presidents would have forced this rupture long ago under the circumstances related by Mr. Wilson. Mr. Lansing is let down with a heavy thud, but just imagine what Colonel Roosevelt would have done in similar circumstances. —Birmingham News. (Dem.)

Apparently the President takes the amazing position that he personally is the Government and that in his illness the Government cannot perform its functions.

This is merely another manifestation of his whole theory of autocratic personal government. No old world ruler of the old regime was ever more arbitrary, or less given to taking advice. He has regarded his Cabinet as a group of clerks. After the sinking of the Lusitania he refused to consult them before making his speech. During the important Mexican negotiations early in his administration there were weeks when he never saw a cabinet officer. There is ample authority for the statement that not a member of the Cabinet knew whether in his absence Congress in April, 1917, he would advocate a declaration of war, or merely a continuance of half-way measures. —Kansas City Star (Ind.)

This has been one of Mr. Wilson's difficulties in his executive office. He does not invite or accept the co-ordination of associates.

Whether other members of the Cabinet will follow Mr. Lansing's resignation remains to be seen. Unquestionably the executive has raised a point that will call for explanation on the part of the members of the Cabinet, as to why they participated in these conferences, which he denounces as contrary to Constitutional authority of custom, despite the fact that similar conferences were held during the administration of Taylor and Garfield. —Chattanooga News. (Dem.)

It is more than apparent that a convenient time has merely been chosen to end unpleasant official relations. A Cabinet member, theoretically, is considered an advisor to the President. An advisor need not necessarily be at all times in accord in matter of opinion. It is plain that the differences between the President and Mr. Lansing had grown deeper than a mere occasional divergence of opinion. From the superficial explanations, it is scarcely possible to express an opinion of merit. The incident probably will be made a great deal more of than it actually amounts to. Fallings out in the official family in Washington are not uncommon. Only on the eve of political elections do they assume the proportions of grave import. —St. Louis Star (Ind.)

Hasty judgment on incomplete evidence is always to be shunned. But if the President has stated fully his side of this unfortunate situation, we can but feel that he has misunderstood Mr. Lansing's conduct and motives, certainly insofar as the latter's calling of Cabinet meetings was concerned. Even had there been no precedents for the Secretary's course in that matter (and it appears that in at least two historical instances he found a guiding example) would not common sense and the exigencies of the situation have prompted him to the very path which he pursued and which apparently had the entire Cabinet's concurrence? However viewed the incident is highly regrettable in all its circumstances. —Atlantic Journal (Dem.)

If fault there is in this matter it cannot rest upon Mr. Lansing alone. All the Cabinet officers, it seems, agree with him in taking this course, agreed that it was wise and necessary and they can hardly fail to share in the responsibility and in the President's condemnation. The letter to Lansing is indeed an attack upon his whole Cabinet, and the country, we believe, will in this matter approve the Cabinet and condemn the critic. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Rep.)

According to the President nothing could be done unless he was present, and consequently there "could be no disadvantage in awaiting action," since no action in his absence would be valid.

This would literally mean that if the President could not be present, matters could and should be allowed to go to smash, because the Cabinet could not interfere, no action being allowable without Presidential knowledge and co-operation.

If that is true of the administrative form, then it is apparent that there is need of some immediate change and improvement. The Government of the United States should be placed in so dangerous a position—ceasing to function upon the occasion of the inability—long or short—of the chief executive. —Mobile Register (Dem.)

Mr. Lansing's position has from the first been impossible. Disagreeing as he has with Mr. Wilson he should have resigned long ago; if he felt that this was not patriotic during the war there would have been opportunity after the Armistice was signed. The correspondence that is given out today is painful to read and one wishes that Mr. Lansing had made it unnecessary by terminating long since a relation which every observer knew could only grow more disastrous the longer it grew. —Youngstown Daily Vindicator. (Dem.)

While it was Mr. Lansing who called the Cabinet together during the President's illness, when all were shut off from access to him, yet all the members met and not only consulted but took action, thereby equally with the Secretary of State violating what the President holds to be the traditions and properties of their offices. In decency toward Mr. Lansing and themselves the entire Cabinet seems to be faced with the question squarely of giving up their posts. —Topeka Daily Capital. (Rep.)

Mr. Lansing, Constitution or no constitution, acted in the right. And Mr. Wilson, in his stand for precedent, is acting in a narrow minded and reactionary manner.

Mr. Wilson by his arbitrary break with Secretary Lansing has done an irreparable damage to himself and has demonstrated that he is a very sick man. —Quincy Journal (Ind. Dem.)

Wilson wanted more than Lansing's resignation. He wanted to punish him, to beat him up, to mash him. He wanted to shatter his prospects, as well as eject him from his job. To have merited the fearful castigation inflicted upon him, Lansing must have done something that in the mind of the President, involved dishonor. Mere incompetence could not justify such treatment. Lansing, in the eyes of the President, must have been guilty of betrayal of trust of the gravest nature. We say that no such action has been revealed in the correspondence. But how do we know? Suppose in the President's mind that amounted to treason against the Secretary's chief? In that case, what are we to think of the state of the President's mind?

There is indeed something yet to be revealed, but we are not at all certain that it is any delinquency of Lansing's. —Greensboro Daily News. (Ind.)

OLD TIMES

Pittsburg Gazette; These are the best times the country ever saw, and yet, once in a while reference is made to the "good old times." Old men will tell you in the so-called good old times there was little to contribute to convenience, comfort or luxury. There were few railroads and telegraph lines, no telephones, no electric lights or electric power, no sewing machines, no bicycles or automobiles. But the people had plenty to eat and looms and spinning wheels were plentiful, and it was uncommon for a man to have lots of money in his jeans with cotton at five cents a pound.

One reason why the old times seemed better than the new times was because nearly everybody worked then. Our leisure classes were not so much in evidence. Work was not regarded as punishment. Economy was not accounted a vice. A substantial family thought it was contributing sufficiently to evidences of its affluence and love of splendor when mother and the girls rode to church on Sundays in a two horse hack. All money came as the price of toil, and toil was honorable in proportion as extravagance was unusual. But living conditions, except the mental easement was hard. The standards of living was far from high. Schools were far between and illiteracy abounded. Books, newspapers and magazines were scarce. The principal masculine conversation was horse talk. The women talked dress cut and other things in whispers, just as they do now. Woman is always modern, bless her heart. Those were the good old conservative days. New ideas and new machines were unpopular. Over there in Camp County, Mr. Gazette, when a pioneer but progressive citizen, Mr. Lockett was erecting the first steam gin in that part of Texas his neighbors advised against it, saying sparks from the furnace would set fire to the cotton. Mr. Lockett answered that he would place the engine house fifty feet from the gin house and connect them with a line shaft. Ha, ha, said the neighbors; ha, ha! A line shaft fifty feet long will twist in two in there's power enough behind it to start the gin. —State Press in Dallas News.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, contain no harmful drugs and most effectual in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.

HUNGER KNOWS NO ARMISTICE

NEAR EAST RELIEF

This picture, painted especially for the Near East Relief by M. Leone Braker, vividly portrays what words fail to express—the horrible suffering of the women and children of Armenia and adjacent countries. Peace has blessed Europe and America for more than a year but in Western Asia conditions more frightful than any war time experiences of the martyred populations of Belgium and France still exist. Thousands of women and children escaped massacre by the Turkish soldiers only to face the terrible agonies of death by starvation. At the present time it is estimated that 1,250,000 adults and fully 250,000 orphaned children are completely destitute and in imminent danger of death by starvation and exposure.

The Near East Relief, 1 Madison Avenue, New York, is at present the only organization giving aid to these suffering people and lack of funds still prevents the reaching of more than a small part of the stricken people.

THE GOLDEN PAST

Distance lends charm to the landscape of the past and the older one gets the more he is inclined to woo the golden dreams of youth and live in the after glow of yesteryears. Cave Creek, the home of my youth, now that I am approaching the sear and yellow leaf, is looming larger and larger on my mental horizon. Dear reader, if you only knew of the glorious days, the happy hours, the all round hilarious good times and soul stirring events that took place on Cave Creek away back in the 80's you would know why I am so bored with the common things of this degenerate age. To day we have nothing to interest and entertain us but moving pictures and base ball and flying machines and automobiles and short dresses and musical concerts and stirkes and high prices and railroad wrecks and woman suffrage and classical music and divorces and murders and debts and rheumatism and bath tubs and a few other things such as wireless telegraph, adding machines, typewriters, sky scrapers, appendicitis, prohibition, oil stocks, astigmatism and doctors who cure all your ills by pulling your legs and adjusting our back bones. But what does this amount to when compared to the old square dance, the camp meetings, the shoutings, the religious debaters, the sipping school, the courtship, the school concerts, the candy pullings, the spelling matches, the fist fights, the gander pullings, and the horse races we used to have on Cave Creek, to say nothing of the old swimming hole the country fiddlers, the coon dogs the melon raids, the school house debates, the wagon circuses, the annual predictions of the world coming to an end and the sweet scent of Hoyt's German cologne.

Who can blame us for wanting to go back to the days of the golden past—to the spring time of gladness and youth? Who is so base as to deny me the sweet privilege of once more stealing out the family mule after all the folks have gone to bed and going in a high lode to a country dance and getting a partner and dancing till rosy morn. It's no one's blame business if I meander back down the trail of the misty past and meet again the old boys at the swimming hole and play alligator and throw mud and tie knots in the legs of some of their cottonade breeches. Who is the tattle-tale to go and tell our daddies if we tie another can to the tail of Aunt Sallie Smith's dog and steal a few more watermelons from old stingy Bill Jones? Who can keep me and the other boys from jumping out at the window when old parson Meadows in his sermon comes to the minor prophets? Didn't we stay with him through the major prophets and keep our seats while Samson was slaying the Philistines by the thousands with the jaw-bone of an ass? Go and tell our daddies if you want to, you old tattle tale, but we'll get even with you sometime, you just see if we don't.

Oh, if Ponce De Leon had only discovered that fountain of youth, that all who drank its sparkling water should have perennial youth. Old age is the unheeded spectre that stands in the pathway of youth and dogs his footsteps at every turn of the road no matter where it leads. He plays no favorites and lays his palsied hand on prince and peasant, on rich and poor, for age is blind and deaf and dumb and can not be bribed and none can stay his withering hand. But even Old Age—the toothless, hairless rheumatic old wreck standing at the end of life's road—can not hold in thrall sweet memories of the past. Death, his twin brother, comes at last and whispers some times gently and sometimes rudely, "Time's up old fellow," and then the procession to the grave yard, a few tears and little later on a marble slab costing about $78.50 and the world moves on as though he had never lived.—Joe Sappington.

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' "sauced-up" tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

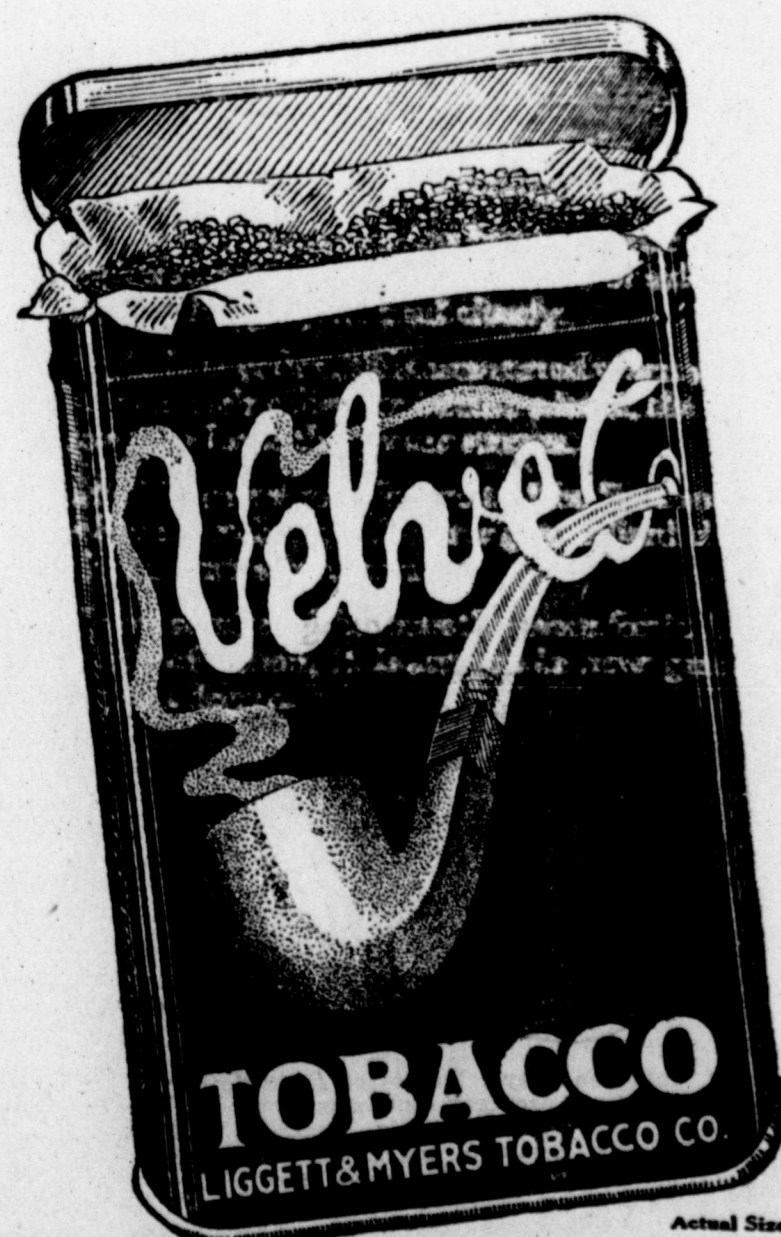

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

What Fordson Service Will Do For You

There are two big factors to consider when you are buying a Tractor—both equally important—Tractor itself and the service rendered.

A Tractor which is standing idle because the service station is far away or because the dealer has not the proper parts is a poor investment, no matter how well the Tractor itself may be made.

Fordson tractors are selling by the thousands every month and are giving universal satisfaction all over the world because of this:

The Tractor itself is made as durable, dependable, efficient and economical as the best engineering skill, the finest materials and workmanship can make it.

And added to this, wherever a Fordson Tractor is sold you will find parts and service as quickly and easily available as the kerosene you put into the tank.

Our service means this to you: First, that we will thoroughly instruct you how to get the most out of your tractor—how to operate it properly so as to avoid trouble—how to make minor repairs and adjustment so that only on rare occasions will you have to call for help.

Then when you do require help for repair work or parts you will find us ready at a moment's notice. Our stock of parts is complete, our mechanics are experts.

Fordson service is delivered to your farm.

To own a Fordson means that you own a durable, dependable, economical Tractor that will serve you every working day in the year.

The Fordson Company make it durable and dependable. We keep it so.

$55,000 IN PRIZES INCLUDED IN STOCK SHOW PREMIUM LIST

M. SANSOM JR. SECRETARY-MANAGER OF FORT WORTH EXHIBITION—ALL DEPARTMENTS ARE AMPLIFIED. SHOW DATES MARCH 6-13.

M. SANSOM, JR.
Secretary-Manager

A larger premium list than ever before in history, amounting to approximately $55,000, has been hung up for the various classes of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, which will be held at Fort Worth March 6-13. Many new classes have been created and the exhibition has been amplified in every way.

M. Sansom Jr. is secretary-manager of the show again this year. Mr. Sansom is a leading stockman, with a wide knowledge of the needs and likes of the stock industry of the Southwest. He is being assisted in the preparations for the show by R. H. McKinley, assistant secretary-manager, and Claude R. Hamilton, advertising and concessions manager.

Early appointments for the various cattle divisions of the show are as follows:

Cattle—John I. Burgess, director in charge; Harry D. Henderson, general superintendent; Ward Farmer, department manager; Dr. N. F. Williams, official veterinarian.

Shorthorns—G. E. King, Taylor, superintendent; Dale Bellows of Maryville, Mo., judge.

Herefords—John P. Lee, San Angelo, superintendent; F. W. Natta, Fowler, Ind., judge.

Aberdeen Angus—W. H. Hill, Christoval, superintendent; P. J. Donohue, Holbrook, Iowa, judge.

Red Polled—J. W. Mann, Waco, superintendent; John C. Burns, Texas A & M., judge.

Jerseys—E. A. Corbett, superintendent; Hugh Van Pelt, Wate, Iowa, judge.

Holsteins—Mrs. Juliette B. Crabb, superintendent; W. L. Blizzard, Stillwater, Okla., judge.

Carlot Cattle—George Mills, St. Louis, and William F. Fletcher, Kansas City.

A unique feature of this year's premium list is that it has a classification for Brahma cattle. This has never been done at any previous stock show in the world.

G. E. King of Taylor, Texas, will be superintendent and Henry Howell of Fort Worth, judge.

Every department of the great exhibition will be improved this year. The live stock exhibition easily will be the best ever held in the South, according to the best-posted authorities. The Rodeo will stand alongside of the very best in the land and, in many features, will outclass all others, even the superb Cheyenne Round-up.

J. George Loos has a twenty-car carnival ready to open at the Fort Worth show. This carnival will be the best ever seen at the stock show and will include several attractions that will be brand-new to stock show visitors.

The stock show has taken over direct control of the poultry show and the event bids fair to eclipse previous performance, both in number and quality of entries.

Exhibitors, on entering the Coliseum grounds, should go immediately to the window of the building marked "Information." There, they should ask for Hamilton and they will be directed immediately to their proper department manager. System will be the keynote of the handling of this year's show.

This will be a "clean" show. However, there will be a sales division on the regular stockyards for bulls from below the line.

Dates of cattle auction sales during the show have been set as follows: Aberdeen-Angus, Tuesday, March 9, 2 p. m.; Hereford's, Wednesday, March 10, 2 p. m.; Holstein, Thursday, March 11, 9:30 a. m.; Shorthorns, Thursday, March 11, 2 p. m.; fat steers, Friday, March 12, 9:30 a. m.; Jerseys, Friday, March 12, 2 p. m. C. M. Evans of Texas A. and M. will be superintendent of the sales department.

CHALMERS

EVERYTHING in this Chalmers is new except the chassis. It has a new bonnet line, new coach line, new windshield, new top, new seat and seat springs.

They catch your eye, those lines, though they are marked by a reserve of rare good taste.

But in those multitudes of little details the real elegance is expressed—door handles, square doors, low sitting position, deep tilt of the cushions, the rug on the tonneau floor.

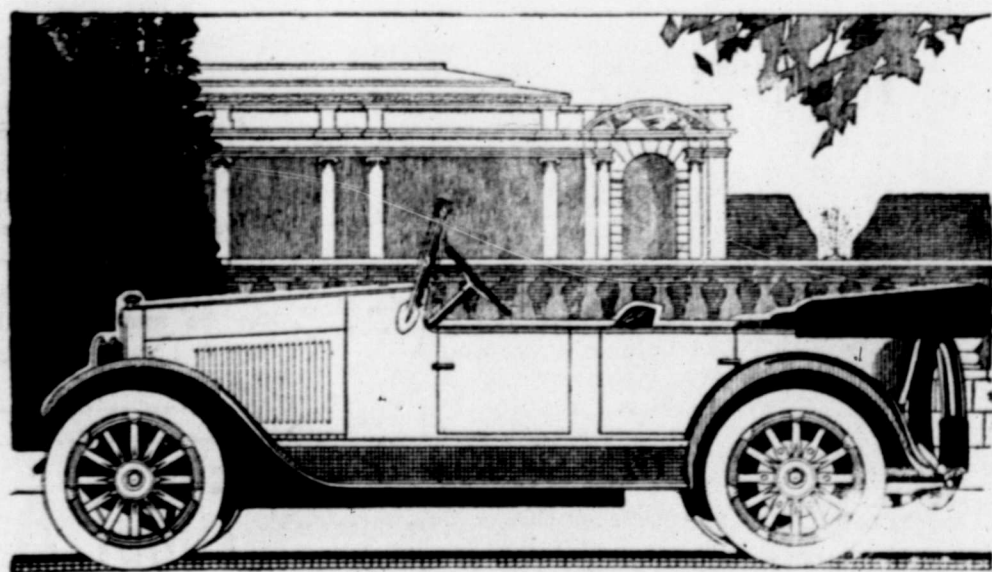

Quality First

A volume easily may be written about them, and any one of them may alone tempt you to ownership.

Then when you've had your first ride, when you've felt the influence that Hot Spot and Ram's-horn have on the action of its master engine, when you've noted the utter silence, easy starting, the ready response, the easy effort "up underneath the bonnet" you, too, will say Chalmers is one of the few great cars of the world.

A CONDITION FOR SERIOUS CONSIDERATION

Probably there is no other one thing that is hindering the development and progress of West Texas at present than the extremely high prices of building material. We know that this is keeping many from building in Colorado, and we are quite sure that the same condition is true in most every town in West Texas. Building materials have advanced within the past few months to almost a prohibitive price.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been doing many good things for the advancement of the Western part of the state, and has, no doubt accomplished a great deal along that line, but we believe if they could take up this important matter there might be some relief furnished. We are not in position to say who is to blame for the extreme high prices.

We realize that the demand has much to do with it, and the scarcity and high cost of labor add to the cost of production but this is true in every line of business and industry; but from what we have heard of the cost of building material the advance in this line have been much greater than possibly any other. If there is any possible relief, we should have it, for West Texas is just now almost at a standstill so far as building is concerned and all on account of the extreme prices of lumber, etc.

Thousands of dollars worth of buildings have been figured on this year in Mitchell County, but recent advances have knocked all the pep out of many of the people who have been figuring on buildings. Many business houses would be started at once if there was any hopes of the market even remaining where it is now, but taking the past ninety days as an example, before the material could be bought there would come a raise in prices that would stun the most healthy building constitution. Every commercial club in the country and every organization that has for its purpose the upbuilding of the country, should at once line up in the combined effort to correct this condition if such can be done, as it is standing in the way of a wonderful development in the west.

Let West Texas have the material at reasonable prices and her population and commerce will double within a short time.

CHRONIC CONSTIPATION

There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets afford a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not likely to be followed by constipation.

Then too, those parts are Ford-made—each according to its use—so that they are exact duplicates of the original parts now in your car, and will give the same constant, hard wear.

Our shop is equipped with up-to-the-minute tools and machinery, specially designed, so that we can properly and promptly take care of your repair work—from a minor adjustment to a complete overhaul. And the mechanics who will do the work for you are men who understand the Ford mechanism and who know the Ford way to do the work.

We are Authorized Ford Dealers; We not only give Ford service but we sell Ford cars and Fordson Tractors as well. So, it is easy to understand that we have more than a passing interest in your car. HENRY WATTERSON AT EIGHTY

The perennial intellect of Henry Watterson is so much associated with age that a public accustomed to think of him without regard to the flight of time will learn with some surprise that the veteran editor is now eighty years old. In years, indeed, he is now one of Webster's venerable men who have come down from a former generation; but in all the attributes for which he has so long been distinguished he is still in the popular mind the picturesque and forceful personality of Cleveland's day or even of Grant's, the last of the old order of American editors, a great figure from the past surviving with his earlier fame undimmed.

It is a rare dispensation of fate, a crowning reward of a singularly eventful life. Here is a man mixing with the great grandsons of the men of his own generation who as a boy knew John Quincy Adams and has personally known every President of the United States from Pierce to Wilson; who has witnessed at close range the making of more history than probably any other of his American contemporaries in public life, and whose serious part in it reflected unusual lustre on his profession. Times change and personal reputation with them, but the unique place of Watterson and the Courier-Journal in moulding American opinion through half a century of unequalled development is probably secure.

Henry Watterson at eighty years in the land where Ponce de Leon sought the fountain of youth may be said to have realized the Spanish explorer's dream, but with the difference that he found the recipe in his inner consciousness.

Hudson Also Supreme in Distinction

The Super Six Has Always Been the Pattern Car. Its exclusive Motor for Five Years Has Given it Mastery in Performance and Endurance

It was never sought to develop the Hudson Super-Six as the greatest speed and power car in the world.

It is true that in speed—in hill climbing—in quick acceleration—no stock car ever matched it. Official records show that. But they are incidental. They were made in tests to prove Hudson endurance.

Surely these great performance qualities are enough to account for Hudson's five years of leadership as the largest selling fine car in the world. Any owner would take pride in a car that none has equalled in any worthwhile performance record.

Yet a large class of Hudson buyers selected it for an altogether different quality.

A Distinctive Design An Exclusive Motor

Thousands chose it with an eye single to its beauty, charm and notable appearance. They hold none can surpass it in distinction. For the Hudson looks its supremacy in every line.

But it is idle to think that those who primarily seek fine appearance in a car, do not value the mechanical superiority of the Hudson Super-Six.

Granted you will never require such great speed, yet Hudson's capacity means less than half load in ordinary driving. It insures absolute freedom from strain.

That extra reserve power means much on hills. It means much in flexibility and in quick response. It saves much changing of gears. It means utter smoothness—due to less vibration, than any other type ever achieved.

That, too, is a matter of record. The official proofs are open to all.

Perfected Mechanism Makes Such Luxury Possible

In the exclusive Super-Six motor vibration is reduced almost to nil. Motor efficiency is increased 80 per cent. Motor power is increased 72 per cent without added size or cylinders. Endurance is almost doubled. The Super-Six principle would add these advantages to any conventional type, six cylinder motor. But no other can use it.

Its type gives Hudson every advantage. Why accept a lesser car?

You will find in the Hudson all the beauty and luxury that imagination and skilled workmanship can create.

See How It Leads all Fine Cars

Note how it predominates wherever fine cars are seen. Outside of the clubs, the opera, the theatre; in the fine residence streets and on fashionable boulevards observe how it outnumbers two, three and even four to one, any other make of fine car.

The supply of Hudsons has never been sufficient for the demand. Thousands have waited months for certain wanted models. You can insure yourself against disappointment in delivery only by placing your order well ahead of the time you will require it.

NEELS HOT AIR FROM WATER VALLEY

I am sorrow to read of so much flu and so many deaths in Mitchell County. There is very little flu here for which I am thankful. Crop preparations are very backward here, lots of feed in fields yet to have out. Very little plowing done yet, not much oats being sown that I can see. Am sowing 13 acres myself for hog pasture. Have purchased a good start of registered big bone spotted Polan Chinas, the best hogs I have ever owned. They came from Kansas. A sure proof that they are fine. Each time I get the Record, I read of so many putting in new grocery stores and new garages and new auto agencies and such like it makes me sick to think that I have got to be a Prodigal Son (of a gun) and feed hogs when I could go back to Colorado and live fat without work. I was born tired any way. I am tired, tired, tired so often. I wish I could be retired. If you know of a job up there that I might get without work let me know. Sam Wulfjen has either lost his sense or is awful smart, or wants to beat me raising Neel's mellons, mabe I can get his job. I don't want a job in a printing office. Sure I would run for office, but there is no more offices to be had. If there was a car of some make not being sold by an agent in Colorado I might take that agency and move back. I am just finishing gathering pecans. Have 1000 lbs now

BAPTISTS PLAN TO FIGHT BOLSHEVISM

SYSTEM IS RECOMMENDED FOR PREVENTION OF RADICALISM
IN THE SOUTH.

AMERICANIZE FOREIGNERS

Teaching Them English and Ideals of United States and Christianity is Part of Program of 75 Million Campaign.

Southern Baptists have no sympathy for the I. W. W.'s, Bolsheviks and bomb throwers, and while radicals of that type are not numerous in this section of the country as yet, it is the hope of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign to make the spread of such destructive propaganda here impossible by so pervading with the gospel all centers where radicalism might expect to obtain a foothold as to make it impossible for the professional agitators to receive a sympathetic hearing. In other words, it is the hope of the campaign to so extend the work of Americanizing and Christianizing the foreigners living within the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention that they will measure up to the highest standards of patriotism and religion.

There are 4,000,000 persons of foreign birth and children of foreigners living within the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, and while considerable work has been done already along the line of teaching Americanism and the Christian religion to these people, this work will be greatly enlarged as a result of this campaign.

In the Southwestern states there are 1,000,000 Mexicans, 600,000 living in Texas, 200,000 in New Mexico, 75,000 in Louisiana and a large number in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri. Because of the growing importance of the Mexican work the campaign has appropriated $575,000 to it alone for the next five years.

But the Americanization and evangelization of the foreigners is not confined to Mexicans. This work is carried on also among the newly-arrived immigrants at the various Southern ports, among those of foreign birth in the mining districts of Alabama, Oklahoma and Illinois and among other groups of people of foreign birth in Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Maryland and Virginia. Some of the state or organizations carry on work of their own among these people, while in many places the program is carried out cooperatively between the state mission boards and the Home Mission Board. In many instances a large work is done by the latter agency alone.

Believing that both Americanization and evangelization can be accomplished most effectively by first reaching the children, Baptist agencies have established schools where the English language is taught, along with American and Christian ideals. Such schools are already being conducted with great success among the Italian and Cuban children at Tampa, Fla., for French-speaking children at Church Point, La., for Mexican children at El Paso and other Texas points, while community center work is carried on extensively at many of these points and at numerous towns and mining centers where people of foreign birth make up a large percentage of the population, the social work of this character being conducted by Baptist women.

Large results are expected to follow the work of the Baptist Bible Institute at New Orleans, where instruction is given in English, French, Italian and Spanish. All foreign-speaking people are required to take some English work and the Bible is taught in certain practical subjects to them in their own languages, thus facilitating their grasp of it. Practical Christian activities are also required of all the students, some of whom are training for foreign mission work and others for service among the peoples of foreign birth in this country. Patriotism and high ideals of Christian civilization are given emphasis throughout the institution and it is the belief of those familiar with its work that it will prove a potent factor in the Americanization and Christianization of the peoples of foreign birth in this country.

SCHOOL NOTES

The High school met in the auditorium, Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 1, for the purpose of organizing a students council. Green Coon was elected president, Jewell Pierce Secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Anthony, yell leader and Ruby Templeton reporter. A committee was selected to secure yells for the spring activities. As there was no further business to be attended to the meeting was adjourned.

The purpose of the organization is co-operation and "pep" and we feel sure that it will greatly benefit our school.

The teachers and business men of the town are showing great interest in the League work for this year. Four medals have been offered for the winners in the local try out as follows;

A medal for the winner in the Senior girl's declamation contest by Miss Marie Coffee; A medal for the winner in the Senior boy's declamation contest by Mr. Benton Templeton; A medal for the winner in the junior girls' declamation contest by The Martin Drug Store; A medal for the winner in the Junior boys' declamation contest by the Loraine Mercantile Company.

In addition to these prizes two traveling expense prizes are offered. The First State Bank offers the traveling expenses prize of five dollars to the winner in Spelling and the Hutchins and Hall Drug Store offers the traveling expense prize of five dollars to the winner in extemporaneous speaking.

These traveling expense prizes will be used to defray the expenses of the contestant to the county meet.

We all feel somewhat relieved this week since we passed the crisis of mid-term exams last week and landed safely on the beginning of the second term. Naturally we have all resolved to apply ourselves more closely to our studies in the following term.

The school girls' team competed with the town girls' team in basketball, on the town court, Saturday afternoon. The score was seven to five in favor of the school team.

Our boys' basketball team journeyed to Foch last Saturday and "fohed" back another victory for Loraine. The score was fifty one to twenty-seven.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

Counting it only in dollars and cents, how much did that last cold cost you? A man may not always stop work when he has a cold, but perhaps it would be better if he did. It takes about ten days to get completely rid of a cold under the usual treatment. That time can be much shortened by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and proper care of yourself, in fact, a bottle of this remedy in the house is a mighty good investment during the winter and spring months.

THE TEXAN

Texans Now in Service are Delivering the Goods

The TEXAN is not an experiment. It is a recognized leader among the medium priced four cylinder cars.

The TEXAN engineers, seeing the growing demand for such a car began the most exhaustive tests which have since resulted in the success of the TEXAN.

By buying absolutely proven standard parts, in open market—as practically all northern and eastern manufacturers do, shipping them direct to Fort Worth in economical knocked-down form, assembling them under trained and expert engineers, it is possible to produce a car in our own market of unusual value and at quite a saving.

The Texan Motor Car Association was organized in 1917 and began production in the latter part of 1918. Despite the war time scarcity of materials and labor, 705 cars were turned out before December 31, 1919. The factory plans to build between 3,200 and 4,000 automobiles during 1920.

All of these cars could be disposed of on the foreign markets, but the company prefers to sell them at home.

The TEXAN is a Southern product, and is built to meet the general and specific requirements of Southern roads.

The TEXAN looks good and is good. It is priced right.

WAYSIDE WAIFS

The average married woman is of the opinion that wives are entitled to a lot more sympathy than widows.

In most every town there is a bunch of men who do not have to take lessons to learn how to loaf in first-class. The man or woman who is not better off next month than he is this has only himself to blame.

There was a time when every time we saw a red-headed girl you would see a white horse. But nowadays every time you see a red-headed girl you see nine Fords.

Don't you reckon that mules often think that men are very stubborn masters?

A Sweetwater preacher says the automobile is a menace to religion. Guess he is right about it, for a fellow can't think of many scriptural quotations when he has a blow-out or gets stuck in a mudhole.

This would be a nicer world if we were as regular in leaving unsaid the things we should not have said as we are in leaving undone the things we should have done.

CAPT. R. A. JEFFRESS

A Pioneer Coloradan Quietly Passes to the Great Beyond

Capt. R. A. Jeffress died at his home Monday night after a few days illness and several weeks of failing health. The funeral services were held at the family residence Thursday at 3 p. m. conducted by Rev. D. H. Hardison. He leaves a wife and four children, three sons and one daughter and two little grandchildren all of whom were here for the funeral.

Robert Alexander Jeffress was born in Notaway county, Virginia, August, 1848, and began his education in Chestnut Hill School House near his father's home, his first teacher being Wert Davis, who taught him to read and write.

Mr. Jeffress next became a student in Union Academy, situated near the town then known as Blacks and Whites but now called Blackstone, Virginia. There he acquired the greater part of his education but later attended the Virginia Military Institute. He went to Lexington where he remained for several days. The war was in progress and the barracks of the school had been burned, which caused the school to open later in Richmond, being located there temporarily. Mr. Jeffress remained there for a time in 1864, but accommodations were so poor that he returned home. His father afterward gave him the choice of returning to the institute when it was again placed in good running order at Lexington or to go west, as he was then thinking of doing. Mr. Jeffress made choice of the latter course and from that time forward has been dependent upon his own resources, working his way upward through the inherent forces of his character and his recognition and utilization of opportunities. He left home in May, 1869, and went to Helena, Arkansas, joining a friend, Rev. Thomas Ward White, who then had charge of the public schools in Helena. Mr. Jeffress assisted Rev. White in running the school for a while and afterward accepted a school thirty miles west of Helena in Phillips County where he taught for one session. Having trouble to get his warrants cashed and secure money he became dissatisfied and returned to Helena, where he obtained a position in a store, selling feathers, buttons and ladies' goods. That did not prove congenial and he made arrangements to leave Helena but with no definite point in view. He had his trunk packed and put on the cab and all the time was debating whether to return to Virginia or to go to Texas. When the cab was on the way to the depot he decided in favor of the latter place and told the cabman to drive him to the New Orleans depot, where he secured a ticket for Texas over the Morgan road to Brashear City, thence to Galveston he was caught in a storm in the passage. This was his first experience at sea and at length he arrived safely at his destination in February, 1870. He went to LaGrange, Fayette county, traveling by stage the most of the way and in that vicinity taught school for one session. He afterward went to Bastrop and while on his way in search of a school in that county he accidentally met his old Virginia friend, Major Louis C. Wise, now of Abilene, Texas. He was very homesick and discouraged about this time and was more than delighted to meet Major Wise, who was then teaching at Hills Prairie, Texas, and who invited Mr. Jeffress into the school house saying that he had only one more class to hear and then he would be through for the day and invited Mr. Jeffress to spend the night with him. The latter accepted the invitation and while seated in the school house he saw in that class as he afterward told Major Wise, fourteen of the prettiest girls he had ever seen in his life. The sequel of all this was that one of the girls afterward became his wife.

About that time Mr. Jeffress arranged to become teacher of a private school at the residence of Judge Lyman in Bastrop county, not far from where Major Wise was employed, so that the two gentlemen saw each other frequently. While filling that position he became acquainted with R. J. Swancoat, an Episcopal minister, who occasionally visited the Lyman family and preached in the neighborhood. Mr. Swancoat then had charge of the leading school in Austin and invited Mr. Jeffress to go to Austin and take a position in his school. The offer was accepted and Mr. Jeffress remained with Mr. Swancoat until he closed his school. Later Mr. Jeffress taught school in Cedar Creek, Bastrop county, about twenty miles from Austin, and while there became acquainted with Miss Bettie Moncure, one of the pupils formerly in the school taught by Major Wise. Her father was Captain John J. Moncure of Virginia, who had been in Texas many years and the daughter was born and reared in this state. The marriage resulted from this meeting and was celebrated on Jan. 1st 1873. After a brief illness, however Mrs. Jeffress died on the 13th of December, less than a year after their marriage.

Mr. Jeffress in his grief went to Austin to pay a visit to his life long friend, Major Wise, and was there during the great excitement when E. J. Davis was retaining possession of the reins of government and Richard Coke and R. B. Hubbard were inaugurated as governor and lieutenant governor of Texas. After being in Austin a few weeks Mr. Jeffress returned to his old home in 1874, where he spent several months, returning to Texas in 1874. He then spent a short time with his father-in-law, Captain Moncure, of Bastrop county, after which he went to Comanche county, where he again taught school for a time. He then took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in Comanche county in the spring of 1875. Soon afterward he accompanied Judge J. P. Osterhout, the presiding judge of the district to Shackelford county, going there to hold the first district court ever convened in that county. Among the prominent lawyers of the party were: Colonel Lowery of Belton; Colonel W. S. J. Adams of Comanche; H. H. Neil, now associate justice of the court of civil appeals of San Antonio; N. R. Lindsay now district judge of the Comanche district. The party went to Gort Griffin where court was held. During that term there were many indictments found by the grand jury and all the visiting lawyers were kept busy during the entire term of court. Mr. Jeffress was employed on some of those cases and finally decided that it would be a good place to locate, which he did, entering upon the practice of his profession at Fort Griffin. After he was there for a time he was elected prosecuting attorney for Shackelford and the attached counties, the other counties being attached to Shackelford for judicial purposes, as they were unorganized.

Mr. Jeffress served as county attorney there until the 17th of January, 1877. On that day occurred the most memorable incident in his career Fort Griffin being a frontier settlement had the reputation of being one of the roughest places in the West. One night after he and a party of his fellow lawyers and associates had returned from Albany, where the county seat had recently been moved, a message was sent to the sheriff of the county that a crowd of tough characters were drinking, carousing and shooting through the town. A party was organized including the sheriff, his deputy, Mr. Jeffress and others, and they went in search of the desperadoes in order to effect their arrest. They were located in one of the saloons, in the rear of which was a sort of theatre where a performance was given every night. A fight ensued between the officers of the law and the ruffians in which the lights of the place were extinguished and bullets were flying in every direction. Mr. Jeffress was struck with a ball from a forty-five caliber revolver, it passing through his body just above the heart and lodging near the shoulder blade right beneath the skin. A long and tedious illness followed and although medical and surgical care was provided, his life was despaired of by the physicians in attendance. His father was summoned from Virginia and came to the bedside of his son, remaining with him as long as he could and then bidding him good-bye never expecting to see him again on earth, but fate had ordained otherwise and at time wore on he began to improve and finally was able to make a journey back to his old Virginia home, but his services as prosecuting attorney of the county was ended by that shot.

While Mr. Jeffress was at home the family physician, Dr. Agnew, made an examination and changed the course of treatment from that followed by the Texas doctors. After two months Mr. Jeffress was much improved and felt quite himself again, save that the wound continued to discharge. In the course of time a piece of bone came out and then the wound healed.

While in Virginia at that time Mr. Jeffress met the lady who is now his wife and whom he married on the 17 of September, 1878. She was formerly Miss Ida Wootton and was born and reared in Virginia. In the same year he returned with his wife to Texas, reaching Albany in October, after making the trip overland from Fort Worth, as there was no railroads at that time West of Fort Worth. He continued in the active practice of law in Albany until the spring of 1881 when he removed to Colorado, Texas, where he has since remained and has occupied his present office since 1886. His practice for several years has largely been office practice, although he has tried some important civil and criminal cases. He was appointed agent for Senator Joseph E. Brown of Georgia, having charge of all of his property in Texas. He took charge August 16, 1881, and served as Senator Brown's agent until his death, November 30, 1894, since which time Mr. Jeffress has represented the executors having charge of the Texas estate. He has also represented the estate of Hon. Edmund W. Cole of Nashville, Tennessee, and Hon. L. N. Trammell of Georgia, who was for many years chairman of the railroad commission of that state. He was also representative of Col. H. R. Duval of New York, former president of the Florida Central and Peninsular Railway Company, and these varied interests brought to him a good financial return.

In the family of Judge Jeffress there are four living children, three sons and a daughter; Emmet Calvin, Corinne, Prentiss Clark and Wootton Walton. Judge Jeffress was a refined and highly cultured gentleman of the old Virginia school and displayed many of the excellent traits of character that characterized his father's life. He had a high sense of honor and justice and in all of his dealings with his fellow-men had the unqualified confidence and esteem of those with whom he had been associated. He was one of the oldest attorneys in point of residence in Colorado where he built up a successful law practice. It is ever a pleasure to meet with men of this type, men who stand for advancement in all that develops character and that works for good citizenship and for high ideals in private life.

PROPOSED FISH HATCHERY FOR CHRISTOVAL.

Hon. Chas. B. Metcalf has received a copy of a bill introduced in Congress by Congressman Hudspeth, for establishing a fish hatchery at Christo- val, which has been referred to the committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. The following is the proposed bill:

"That the sum of $50,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary be, and the same is hereby authorized to be appropriated for the establishment of a fish-culture station at Christo- val in Tom Green county, Texas including the purchase of necessary lands for said site, construction of building and equipment, said station to be for the purpose of rehabilitating the waters of the Concho, Colorado Pecos rivers and other streams in western Texas, and for the purpose of cultivating and propagating the different species of fish in said streams.

"Provided that the operations of said hatchery may be suspended by the Secretary of Commerce whenever, in his judgment, the laws and regulations of the State of Texas affecting the fish cultivated are allowed to remain so inadequate to impair the efficiency of said hatchery."

Every person in West Texas who is interested in fish, should write to his congressman to support this bill.

BAILEYITES WILL ATTEMPT TO CAPTURE LEGISLATURE

Mr. Bailey's friends are making arrangements for State campaign organization, and for an organization in every legislative and senatorial district, a "Bailey principles" candidate will be put in the field, and the campaign will be waged, not only to elect Bailey Governor of Texas, but to elect a Senate and House of Representatives composed of men who stand as he does upon the Fort Worth principles."—Dallas News, Feb. 17.

THAT PETRIFIED LIZZARD

Last week John Lane, Otto Jones, E. M. Baldwin and Frank Smith were appointed as a committee to investigate the finding of a 36 foot long petrified lizard by an oil scout on the Spade ranch. Frank Smith absolutely refused to serve on the committee because John Lane had intimated that Franks recent purchase of a Hereford Bull was camouflage. Otto Jones the chairman of the committee said the whole shooten match refused to act until they found out what brand this Lizzard seer had been drink- ing so they could get some of it and see things also.

Mr. H. B. Iglehart of the Shepherd community died Thursday, Feb. 12 and was buried Friday in the I. O. O. F. cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Green of Loraine. Mr. Iglehart was 44 years old, was born and reared in Delta county, Texas. He came to this county nine years ago and has been one of the counties best citizens since. He was a member of the Baptist church at Shepherd and has lived a devout Christian life. He leaves a wife and four children, three girls and one boy who are all at home to mourn his departure and who will miss the fathers advice and counsel. While their loss is great yet we do not understand Gods will but we know he doeth all things well and will in his own good time reveal unto us the full meaning until when we must bow in humble submission to his will. The Record extends sincere sympathy in this dark and trying hour.

John Deere Disc Plow

ESPECIALLY BUILT FOR TEXAS

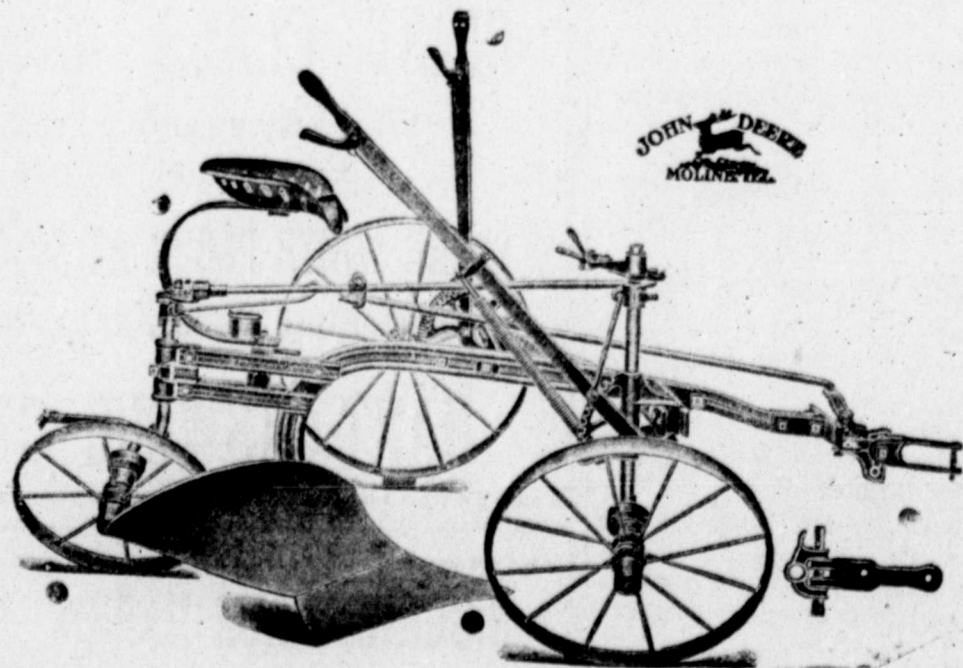

The John Deere Disc Plow opens a full width furrow of uniform depth the first and every time around the field, and makes deep square corners turning either right or left—convenient levers make this fine work possible.

Cut of each disc can be set at 8, 10 or 12 inches—the design of the frame permits this.

Plow is held to its work by weight of driver and down pull of team on the hitch—not by useless weight on the frame.

John Deere Sulky Plow

ESPECIALLY BUILT FOR TEXAS

Adjustable scrapers keep discs clean and assist in turning and pulverizing the soil. 24 inch discs are the regular size discs for the John Deere.

Weight of operator, down-pull of team on high hitch and setting of discs force discs into the hardest ground.

Special hanging lever controls furrow wheel. Plow can be made to take more or less land quickly and easily.

TO THE TAXPAYERS

OF LORAIN
The City Treasury now has in the General Fund $1046.48. Water Works Fund $218.96. Making a total of $1265.44

The outstanding accounts amount to approximately $150.00 with nearly $100 taxes yet to collect mostly non-resident. To take care of interest and sinking fund of the water works will require about $475.00. It is the intention of the Council to make such street improvements as the funds will warrant as rapidly as the labor can be secured. The Stock law will be rigidly enforced after March 1. Mr. Peach will look after the stock and pen any he may find running at large.

The Council requests that no streets or sidewalks be cultivated and no cane or other tall crops be planted on vacant lots near other people without their consent.

We expect a clean up day soon. Gather all tin cans and other rubbish and place same where it can be carried away. The Council desires the co-operation of the entire citizenship in the enforcement of the stock law and the other suggestions above mentioned.

Yours for a greater Loraine,
City Council of Loraine.
