TEACHERS INSTITUTE IN SESSION HERE THIS WEEK

The Annual Meeting of the Mitchell County Teachers Institute is Well Attended.

The annual meeting of the Mitchell County Teachers Institute is being held at the school house this week. It is well attended and the program is being carried out in a most satisfactory way. All the teachers are alive, wide awake teachers and seem to know their business. From time to time home folks have added to the program in the way of readings, music and talks. On Monday Miss Driver, public health officer of Austin, addressed the body. She is available any time the parents are ready for her to help instruct in prevention and care of the sick in epidemics.

On Wednesday Mr. Mikesell of the extension department of Department of Education of Austin, brought a message of inspiration and instruction to all who heard him.

The organization was perfected Monday with the following officers: Miss Florence McAfee, president; Miss Omeira Terry, secretary.

TEXAS & PACIFIC RAILWAY RELIEVES CAR SHORTAGE

As the result of representations made to the general offices of the Texas & Pacific Railway Company at Dallas and the district offices at Big Springs by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, the company is now furnishing cars at Colorado for loading out sand and gravel in a much larger number than heretofore. During the month of September twelve such cars were furnished Colorado. During the month of October a total of forty cars were furnished and during the first four days of this month twenty-one cars were furnished.

W. S. Cooper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, stated Wednesday that this city was indebted to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for this material improvement in facilities for handling sand and gravel out of Colorado. Six weeks ago when the first petition was filed with the railway officials for relief from the car shortage here, the Traffic Department of the West Texas Chamber, with offices at Fort Worth, also took up the matter and the traffic manager, Ed P. Byars of Fort Worth, personally pressed the claims of this city, demanding if possible that some relief be given.

"I regard affiliation of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce with the West Texas organization one of its most powerful assets," stated the secretary. "There are several instances wherein this affiliation has resulted in direct good to this city and county. Among these was distribution of descriptive literature at a number of state fairs in the North and Central States during recent months, acting as a clearing house in furnishing cotton pickers and the dissemination of publicity of the county from its offices at Stamford."

THE PHILOSOPHER.

American Legion Weekly: "Help! Help!" screamed the terrified young man who had just fallen over the edge of the wharf. "I can't swim!" "Wot of it?" asked the stevedore mildly, taking his pipe out of his mouth. "I can't neither, but I ain't yellin' my head off about it!"

FIRST SNOW OF SEASON FRIDAY

FREEZE THURSDAY NIGHT OF LAST WEEK DESTROYS VEGETATION.

The first snow of the season fell during the night Friday and at intervals throughout Saturday. The fall however, was light and soon melted away. The first freeze to be noticed at Colorado this fall was on Thursday night of last week. Vegetation was destroyed and several citizens of Colorado reported Friday morning that their water pipes had burst from freezing.

The cold weather extended well into this week, but no damage to livestock interests in the way of cattle losses were reported to the Record office. As a general rule, range cattle are in excellent condition, the pastures are fine and no material losses are being anticipated by cattlemen during the winter months.

Farmers continue to be delayed in gathering their cotton and feed crops because of weather conditions. Prior to the freeze and snow, showers were reported in many communities of the county during the past several days, making work in the fields, especially picking cotton, very impractical. The fall precipitations have placed a good bottom season in the ground and prospects are promising of a good year in 1921.

SECOND LYCEUM NUMBER REPORTED MARKED SUCCESS

The second number of the Dixie Lyceum Course at the High School auditorium under direction of the faculty was given Thursday evening of last week in a wonderful musical presentation by the Virginia Girls. This company of artists made themselves very popular with the large audience that crowded the auditorium and balconies at the high school building. The program was not entirely instrumental, but these renditions were interspersed with songs and other diversions.

Prof. E. F. King, who is directing the lyceum course, stated Saturday that approximately $45 was realized from the sale of tickets Thursday night, which in addition to funds received through the sale of season tickets places the total amount of receipts at almost $900. "We expect to realize $1000.00 from the four numbers of the course," Mr. King stated.

Toots Paka and her Hawaiian troupe will be the next company to visit Colorado on the lyceum course. Toots Paka, with her Hawaiian troupe, form a notable feature on every community program that is fortunate enough to secure their appearance. The Prima Donna and her company have entertained the best audiences in America on her various transcontinental tours. Their work, both vocal and instrumental, is refined, and full of that weird, fascinating, soft and soothing rhythm of the native melodies peculiar to the folk music of this music loving people.

MARRIED.

At the court house Tuesday 4:30 p. m., Mr. Pauleo Martinez to Miss Tulliana Bonilla, Rev. D. R. Hardison performing the ceremony.

FARMERS GIN CO. AGAIN REDUCES GINNING PRICE

In a recent issue of The Record was noticed an article about the reduced price of ginning, comparing ginning rates of Colorado with those of other western towns. In this article the Williams' Miller Gin Co. seemed to receive the praise for the reduction. This being the case, we wish to state it to be a bad mistake. The Farmers Gin Company was the first to lower the price of ginning, the other gins following suite. We have again lowered the price $2.00 per bale, making ginning and wrapping $1.00 per hundred. We ask the co-operation of all farmers, so that we may help them.

EMPIRE COMPANY WILL DRILL HERE

FORT WORTH CONCERN TAKES CONTRACT FOR DORN AND SMITH WELLS

C. L. Nabers of Fort Worth, president of the Empire Oil and Development Company, was in Colorado Thursday of last week and confirmed the report that his company had contracted with the Underwriters' Company to drill two wells, the Smith No. 1, six miles west of Colorado, and the first well to be drilled on the Dorn Tract, seven miles southwest of Colorado.

The rig for the Dorn well arrived in Colorado several days ago and will be strung within the next few days. A string of tools for this well has been shipped from Ranger, according to information given the Record. Tools for the Smith test had not arrived Wednesday and it was not known just when this well would be spudded. The rig at this location was completed several days ago.

Mr. Nabers stated Thursday that his company was becoming identified with development in the Colorado field with every assurance of success, in so far as surface geology and logs of the wells already drilled in this county would suggest. He is of the opinion that the wells at Westbrook and Iatan are edge wells and that drilling further east should penetrate the apex of oil bearing sands.

"I am coming to Colorado to become one of you," Mr. Nabers stated to a representative of the Chamber of Commerce. "The ultra-conservative policy of your chamber, your city and operators in this field are to be commended, for many men, like myself, found conditions here even better than you had claimed for them. The conservative developer and investor prefers to identify himself and his capital with such a citizenship and such a policy as I find you have here."

CITIZENS COMMUNITY CLUB ORGANIZED AT WESTBROOK

Westbrook Citizens Community Club is the name of a commercial organization formulated at Westbrook Tuesday night. The organization was perfected for the purpose of furthering the commercial, educational, social and other interests of that town and community.

The organization was completed at a mass meeting of citizens at the Westbrook school house. The meeting was called to order by J. D. Spann, who outlined the purposes for which the meeting was called. On motion of Mr. Spann, Rev. A. D. Leach, pastor of the Baptist Church at Westbrook was elected temporary chairman. C. E. Danna was elected secretary.

Addresses were made by Mr. Spann, Rev. Leach and Rev. Terrell of Westbrook, and W. S. Cooper, W. A. Dulin and Judge Hall of Colorado, who attended the meeting through invitation.

Several annual members were secured and constitution and by-laws adopted. Nine directors were elected.

CITY COUNCIL DECLINES LIGHT COMPANY PETITION

A petition of the West Texas Electric Company, asking for a flat rate of $1.00 each for the street lights in Colorado, was declined by the City Council at a meeting held Tuesday night at the City Hall. There are approximately one hundred street lights in the city. L. A. Costin, city secretary, stated Wednesday, and under the present contract with the light company the city is paying $75 per month for the service.

It is stated that management of the West Texas Company has filed notice with the City Council that it will be impracticable for them to continue the service at the old rate and a further demand for the increase will be made. This, it is stated, will be opposed by the City Council.

MARRIED.

On November 10th, Mr. J. E. Felts to Miss Effie Viola Yarbtor, Rev. D. R. Hardison performed the ceremony. A few good friends were present to witness the ceremony and to wish them a good time in life.

MISS FANNIE BESS EARNEST WINS ROLL CALL PRIZE

The team of High School girls under direction of Miss Fannie Bess Earnest won the prize offered by the roll call director for the largest number of Red Cross buttons to be sold in Colorado Saturday. Miss Earnest and Miss Opal Low were captains of two teams composed of High School girls to conduct a campaign for enrollment of members in the Red Cross in the down town district Saturday. They maintained a both in the lobby of the post office and most of the memberships were secured there.

These young ladies were greatly handicapped in their work Saturday on account of the bitter cold and the snow, which fell at intervals throughout the day. They braved the elements, however, and during the day secured a total of 132 members. Of this number the team under direction of Miss Earnest secured 73 and that of Miss Low 59.

They are pressing the membership sale during this week and will be at the post office booth throughout the day Saturday. "Join the Red Cross and be a friend to humanity" is the slogan, and every citizen of the county is urged to enroll their names as members of this benevolent organization before the drive ends, November 25th.

RAINS HALT COTTON HARVEST; PICKERS REPORTED SCARCE

The recent rains over this section have been followed by a week of cloudy weather that has considerably checked cotton picking and harvest. Some cotton continues to come in and a number of gins have made several runs, overhauling and repairing machinery between times in preparation for the heavy run of cotton as soon as this weather breaks.

Cotton pickers continue to come in over the section, but there is still a very active demand for at least 1,000 in and around Colorado alone. The Chamber of Commerce has placed a considerable number of pickers and is still endeavoring to meet the situation.

Little maize, kaffir corn or other sorghum feeds have been moved as yet, due to the rush of getting cotton out and the low price prevailing. Many farmers prefer to feed the grain in the field by grazing than to pay the cost of heading, threshing and marketing at the present price.

The continued low prices of cotton and feeds have tended to encourage interest in diversified farming for this section, taking into account the dairy cow, better grade hogs, sheep, poultry and kindred lines of the old method of farming.

MARRIED.

On November 13th Mr. James L. York was married to Miss Opal Cum-

FOSTER WELL AT IATAN MAKES GOOD SHOWING

After Being Shot Last Sunday, It is Estimated That It is Good For Four Hundred Barrels.

We have it from a reliable source that Foster Well No. 1, at Iatan, was shot last Sunday, and after being cleaned out, oil rose 400 feet in the hole.

A two-barrel bailer was put to work, and after many hauls, it failed to lower the oil in the well. Experienced oil men estimate that the well as it now stands, is good for 300 barrels per day.

As only 22 feet of the oil sand has been penetrated, it is not known what the well would produce if fully developed. We learn that the operators plan to drill other wells near this one and use oil out of No. 1 for fuel.

A car of fuel oil for the Sterling Oil Company arrived this week and is being hauled out to the drilling site. The heavy rains have interfered with the hauling, but as soon as the roads dry up, the work will go forward rapidly.

Ben Harlan, manager of the Sterling Oil Company, came in Wednesday and expects the drilling to begin within the next few days. The well is located 14 miles south of town.

We learn that drilling on Cushing No. 1 has been suspended on account of the failure of casing to arrive.

The McCarley Oil Association, drilling on the Douthitt ranch, 22 miles northwest of here, is undergoing reorganization and it is hoped that operations will be resumed in the near future.—Sterling City Record.

PROPERTY OWNERS TO DISCUSS EXTENSION OF WATER MAINS

A mass meeting of citizens owning property in Northeast Colorado will be convened this afternoon at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, to discuss plans for laying an extension of the water main from the present terminus, corner Fourth and Locust streets.

The plan, if it should materialize, is that all property owners interested in the extension pool together and finance the project, taking water vouchers from the city as payment of amount subscribed. Property owners in that section of the city and Mayor C. M. Adams will be urged to attend this meeting, it was announced Wednesday.

Minings, Rev. D. R. Hardison performing the ceremony that consummated their vows. We trust that their lives may prove a great blessing to themselves and their friends.

MOVING IN.

The movement of farmers into West Texas from other parts of the state, Louisiana, Oklahoma and elsewhere is assuming large proportions. It is also noticeable that the number of inquiries for West Texas farm lands from Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Tennessee is increasing, and a considerable number of young men from those states are purchasing land in West Texas.

High land values in the Middle West and the Central South are a factor in the exodus of our farmers from those regions. The best way in the world to "kill" the immigration of farmers to West Texas, and to nullify the vast exhibit and immigration work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, conducted at great expense, is to unduly "boost" farm land values in West Texas. Let us all remember that essentially "high land value regions" are a vital cause in the retardation of agricultural immigration. Farmers of the younger type are looking for good land at relatively cheap prices. The tendency in some parts of West Texas to "cash in" at once on the present considerable land purchasing movement is unhealthy and unwise. It is much better to promote progress thru continuous land buying at good prices than to possibly retard the buying movement by asking far too stiff prices. In West Texas as a whole, land prices are extremely reasonable, and there can be no doubt in the world but that excellent farm land is purchasable at lower cost than anywhere else in the United States. Let's keep the price in line! It attracts immigration, causes new farms to go in, and builds up permanent values for the future. It also causes the purchaser to ultimately get the benefit of increased values, making him better satisfied as a purchaser, and the owner of great wealth, itself of course the basis of extended credit, etc. Practically all of the large land owners in West Texas are offering their lands for sale at prices so low, compared with results obtained from the cultivation of such lands, that it is almost impossible for other regions of the United States to compete with us. The required investment for the development of agricultural land in West Texas is much lower than in California, the Pacific Northwest, Florida or elsewhere. Notwithstanding this fact the annual cash turn-over from products raised on West Texas lands, such as wheat, the sorghum grains, cotton, etc., is greater than in the regions named. These facts operate powerfully in our favor in the farm immigration movement. Many young farmers unable to obtain land "at home" at prices within their reach, find it possible with the means at hand to purchase and develop West Texas lands when it would be utterly impossible for them to do likewise in the case of California, Pacific Northwest or Florida lands.

West Texas must continue to attract farm land purchasers if she would continue to progress. Only a small part of her immense territory is now under cultivation. The agricultural immigration movement must be handled carefully and delicately. It must be remembered that the 1920 census has shown a gigantic movement from the farm to the city; and the West Texas land owner seeking to sell and have the land which he sells developed is competing all the time with the "farm to the city movement." It is our most serious competition. The European war caused West Texas to lose possibly not less than 50,000 immigrants, representing in men from rural districts of the country who were attracted to "city life" by reason of contact with it thru the war but who otherwise would in the nature of things have become permanent agricultural developers.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce does not under estimate the growing difficulties connected with the agricultural immigration movement. The price of land is a mighty factor, but it is not the only factor. The actual "potential" agricultural immigrant is becoming scarce. We may have to turn to the foreign immigrant from Europe as a developer of our soil. The native-born American is getting harder and harder to "interest" in and hold on the farm.

WHY THE SECRETARY DOES NOT SEE YOU AS OFTEN AS YOU WOULD LIKE

"Come here, you" was the way the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce hailed a reporter for the Record as he was passing through the former building in which are located offices of the Chamber of Commerce, one morning this week. The reporter was in a hurry, trying to run down a delinquent subscriber and locate an advertiser in order to get his copy for a $5.00 display and get the sheet out on time.

"I had a business man to ask me on the street this morning why it was that I had not been around to his place of business lately and I want you to just look over a few things in this office and tell the world the sad sad truth. See this stack of carbon copy letters. One hundred and forty-one of them on just about as many subjects. Can you tell me where I can get a job as blacksmith, stationary engineer, pressman at a gin, painter, carpenter, cold storage superintendent, veterinary surgeon, electrician, a woman with three daughters that get work and guarantee her $100 a month, if a man by the name of Esaw Greasum lives here, what land five or six miles west of town is worth, where there is a place to rent on the halves, light housekeeping room, somebody that needs a man with a tractor and plows to break his land, how much tax are due on Block 27 Section 6, is the oil being pumped from the Underwriters' well real production or are they pouring petroleum into the hole and then pumping it out again, why is it that sand in the Underwriters' well is hard and that in the Foster No. 1 is soft, of the various operations in the Mitchell County field, which is the most reliable, how many residences will be constructed in Colorado during the next twelve months, will one of the wells now drilling in that county come in a big gasser so that your town will have cheap fuel for a factory, how far is it to water at Loraine, is Colorado a good place for traveling tent shows—and a few other kindred matters.

"That is a fair sample of the 12 to 30 letters we get a day to answer. In addition to that we have sent out large numbers of form letters, 2000 "Development" Essays and "Home Ownership Pointers," an 8-page folder, to various parts of the United States, sent in 15 to 20 news items to the daily papers, only to have many of them find their way to the waste basket; had on an average of fifteen callers a day after various kinds of information or problems; looked after Chamber of Commerce collections, new members to look up and old ones to prod up.

"And while we are resting we are assisting in putting over the Fourth Red Cross roll call, making trips to Loraine and Westbrook, and other near-by communities, attending meetings of the committees, furnishing copy for the local paper and assisting in the mechanical department on press day, and acting as secretary of the Mitchell County Advisory Board, Salvation Army, and trying to get around to a few of the larger problems immediately ahead of the Chamber of Commerce in the interest of Colorado and Mitchell County.

"After all of this is out of the way we try to get around to meet the various merchants and discuss with them some of the problems that are to come up in the future Chamber of Commerce work. But I am glad to see it thus," he continued after a yawn. "for when this office is always busy it is the best evidence in the world that we are accomplishing at least a part of the duties that are ours and a busy office is evidence of a busy business—showing that the Colorado Chamber of Commerce is located in a real live town."

He had a lot more to say, but for once came in about that time looking for cotton pickers, and we left it with them.

TRAINING LITTLE CITIZENS.

The Sleepy Hour

By Luella A. Palmer, author of Play Life in the First Eight Years.

I often wonder if mother realizes what that last kiss and tender pat means to a child as she tucks him into bed. Perhaps the caress would be given oftener and with added gentleness if she knew what an influence it had upon the unfolding of a little new life.

Over and over the brain repeats during the night the events of the day, twisting them into fantastic shapes. These ideas float through the mind of the child for eight to ten hours of the twenty-four—during one third to one-half of his life. Whether the fancies will be happy or sad is often determined by the last half hour before sleep begins. And the repetition of the ideas influences a child's temperament making it more cheerful or pessimistic.

That last half hour is often a tax upon the patience of the mother and older people. The child is tired, and activity of the day has exhausted him and he relaxes control over himself; he becomes nervous and excitable or sluggish and obstinate. The adult is also not so well poised as during the day and the sleepy time is often a period of conflicts.

What is the result of discipline just before sleep? When a child has been very naughty and received some physical correction and had a good cry, he falls into a deep sleep. There is a certain soothingness about the finality of this treatment; he has been upset, in an irresponsible, capricious frame of mind during his naughtiness, then in a state of suspense as to the outcome, and the punishment has settled his uncertainty, there is a promise that life will run smoothly in the morning. The hard cry exhausts the child physically and he is in a state for rebuilding sleep.

There is another kind of crying to sleep which does not bring rest and health. When a child has been just a little petulant or reluctant to obey, not naughty enough to be dealt with severely, the adult sometimes speaks harshly or finds fault with the child and insists on exact compliances with commands. The little one goes to bed in a bad humor and cries fretfully. An elder child will toss restlessly. The sleep is light and unrefreshing, there is a feeling of something wrong with the world that he cannot help or explain. Even if the displeasure incurred does not cause the child to cry himself to sleep, if that last event in the day has been disagreeable and no reconciliation has followed, the unhappy mood colors the night's dreams.

What shall we do? Shall discipline weaken at the end of the day or shall we hold strictly to our rules? Shall we allow the child to be disobedient, or insist upon compliance at the expense of everyone's happiness? What is truly best for the child's good?

The best attempt at solution is prevention of the difficult situation. The sleepy mood of the child should always be considered before any requests or suggestions are made. Evening is not the time for correction if it can possibly be postponed. Of course real naughtiness must always be dealt with positively on the spot by an appropriate consequence. But a child should never go to sleep without the forgiveness and sympathy of the person who has been compelled to inflict the punishment. Comfort and love should go with him into the land of dreams. Often we can afford to let the correction of little perverseness and mischief wait over for the morning.

One little tired "cranky" child refused to put his toys away. The wise mother said, "Mother will do it tonight and we will talk it over in the morning." After breakfast the heart to heart talk came, he was in control of himself then and could reason clearly. The conclusion reached was shown in her final sentence: "Tonight you will put your toys away because you must take care of your own property. Mother has the whole house and you and Daddy to look after." With his mind firmly made up and strongly set during the day, there was no further trouble about the responsibility for clearing away the toys.

Few children express in words what they feel about the goodnight caress but one mother was rewarded one morning by a voice beside her bed saying, "Mother, I just always have to hug you first in the morning, 'cause you always hug me last at night."

The influence of that hour may last through adolescence and youth. One grown up son away at college wrote to his mother, "Do you remember how after I had been naughty I was always sorry, but I could not say a word until I had plumped down into your lap before going to bed and bored my head into your neck? I would be pretty big lapful now, but I wish I could try it. It was not even the same after I got big and set on your bed telling you about parties and things."

It is the sleepy hour that intimate little confidences are given and quaint ideas expressed that lie too deep to be said in the midst of the happening of the day. The mother who pauses to lend a sympathetic ear to little

FATHER OF COUNTY JUDGE CONTINUES VERY LOW

County Judge, J. C. Hall returned Friday from Miles where he had gone to be with his father, J. M. Hall, who during the past several days has been very low with brain fever. Judge Hall states that attending physicians have diagnosed his father's illness as the direct result of an attack of influenza, of which he suffered last year. The father of the County Judge is not expected to recover, it is announced, and during the past two weeks his condition has been regarded as critical.

GOVERNMENT COTTON REPORT SHOWS 9,874 BALES GINNED

The tabulation of telegraphic summary reports on cotton ginned as given out by the Department of Commerce at Washington, shows that a total of 9,874 bales were ginned in Mitchell county prior to November 1, from the crop of 1920. The report shows that 3,273 bales were ginned for the same period during 1919.

According to this same report, which was received Monday, a total of 5,879 bales were ginned in Howard county prior to November 1, from the crop of 1920. For the same period last year Howard county had ginned 1,870 bales.

A GOOD DEMOCRAT.

The election is now over and Warren G. Harding is to be the next president of the United States and Pat Neff is to be governor of Texas. While the republicans won out by a big majority, they failed to break the solid south. The democrats had their turn at the bat and they wrote laws upon our statute books that are good and wise and will never be repealed. The youth of coming generations will read of the Wilson administration as the greatest of all. While we are a democrat and stand for all the world means, we are going to be loyal to Mr. Harding and help him all we can to give a good administration, just as we would expect him to do had Mr. Cox been elected. It is all over now, and we are all Americans. Let us forget our animosities and boost for the common cause.—Bill Kellis.

DON'T BLAME THE CHILD

Don't scold your children for lack of control over the kidney secretions. It is not always the children's fault—in many cases it means weak kidneys and can be readily righted. Read this Colorado mothers advice. Mrs. R. L. Spalding says: "About three years ago my boy was troubled with his kidneys being too active and the secretions passed too freely. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and can gladly say that one box regulated his kidneys and cured him entirely."

Only a Cold.

Are you ill? Is often answered—"Oh, it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of cold appear take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off.

A Cost Sale

The custom and conditions are such that the Farmers are having to take a loss on their cotton and in a like manner the merchants are having to take their loss also, and as sales are being pulled off by others, and we feel it our duty to do as much for our customers as any one will possibly do for theirs. To avoid any additional expense to be added to the cost of our goods, we deem it best for us and a benefit to you to leave off the expense of hiring extra help, to string up our merchandise all over the house, putting out large circulars by private conveyance or airplane, which you naturally believe the consumer has same to pay for. As above stated, to avoid this expense, we hand you our cost mark, proving to you that you can own our goods as cheap as we can.

This Sale Begins Saturday Nov. 20th.,

and will last the rest of this year. Bring this cost mark with you so as to compare same with the cost on your goods.

ANOTHER TRUMP FOR THE LIBERTY MOTOR

Army Planes Whiz Over Glaciers and Wooded Wilderness.

Ford-built Liberty Motors carried the four Army airplanes which on October 20 completed the 9,000 mile journey from Mitchell Field, Long Island, to Nome, Alaska, and return. The fleet was greeted over New York City by a flotilla of forty army planes which escorted it to Mineola. The returning planes touched their wheels to earth at 3:15 in the afternoon.

The Alaska Flying Expedition, commanded by Captain St. Clair Street, undertook the journey to demonstrate the durability of modern airplanes and motors, and to effect the establishment of an aerial route to the Northwestern corner of the American Continent and Asia. Such a route would bring mail from Alaska to the States in two or three days, whereas the present method of transportation requires thirty days.

"Talk about service," said Captain Street. "Those planes and motors sure stood up. Why, the only trouble we had on the entire trip was caused by the worst bit of weather I've ever flown through or want to fly through. We had everything—rain, snow, hail and sleet, clouds, fog and mist. But we kept right on flying."

"The 230 miles of glaciers we traversed was a wonderful sight, but there would have been little hope for rescue had we cracked up in that wilderness. Altogether, it was a rough trip. I never want to fly through such weather again, but the planes stood it magnificently. Instead of battered hulks, flopping to earth after winded flight, they looked brand new. Even the turnbuckles were polished and the motors looked as if they had just come off the testing blocks."

"We never changed a spark plug. Never a cylinder missed on us the entire trip. The motors are in as good condition today as when we set out."

Before the flight, all the pilots asked for ships equipped with Ford-made Liberty motors.

Due to the nature of the work which engaged the expedition, the fleet required a period of three months to complete the trip. Since all the original motors completed the journey without repairs or replacements, this is believed to be a record for aerial navigation. It will be recalled that during the war it was generally the practice to overhaul the airplane motors after approximately each twenty hours of flight.

This is the second notable event in which Ford Liberty motors have figured prominently, the first being the trans-Atlantic jump of the Ford-Liberty equipped N. C. 4, a feat which commanded world-wide interest. 1tp

FOURTH RED CROSS ROLL CALL TO START SATURDAY

Rev. S. H. Young, pastor of the Methodist Church at Loraine, was in Colorado Saturday. Rev. Mr. Young is captain of the Fourth Red Cross roll call at Loraine and stated that he would have his teams ready to carry the message of the "Greatest Mother" throughout that town by Saturday. Sunday school classes of the town, he stated, were co-operating in the work, and would make a complete canvass of both the residence and business sections.

It has been stated by some citizens of Loraine that plans are being formulated for organization of auxiliary chapter there, in that affairs pertaining to Red Cross work handled locally rather than under the present plan, through the county chapter.

APPRECIATES THE RECORD

Art R. Bailey of Houston expressed his appreciation of the Colorado Record for its authentic policy in giving oil and other general news of Mitchell County. In a letter received from Mr. Bailey Monday, he states among other things: "I receive the Record regularly and wish to commend your reports on the oil situation. I am glad to see that Mitchell County is fast coming into its own and hope to see a real oil boom there in the near future."

Thursday, November 18, 1920

In order to keep pace with the downward trend of prices, we have decided to give our customers, and the people generally the benefit of

25 Per Cent Reduction on Our Entire Stock of Merchandise

This means more to the public than the ordinary Sale, as we have always endeavored to mark our goods at a reasonable profit, as hundreds of our satisfied customers for Thirty-one years will testify. Therefore, when we make a reduction of 25 per cent, it makes our prices exceedingly low. In fact some of the items in stock affected by this reduction will sell for while a great many items will sell at or near cost.

The buying public will easily see that this is an opportunity to purchase their winter needs at abnormally low prices. It is easy enough for a merchant to advertise a $90.00 suit for $45.00, because he has added a big percentage of profit to the cost of that suit, therefore he can make a big noise when he advertises a reduction. But the true test consists in a liberal reduction on merchandise conservatively priced. On this basis we ask the patronage of the people of Mitchell and adjoining counties.

If you will carefully examine the figures made by some of our competitors, you will find their quoted prices show very slight reductions from their regular prices. Here you get

THE ROLL CALL BEGINS.

Its appeal based upon a record of solid achievement during the last year in putting under way its peacetime program of service, the Fourth Roll Call of the American Red Cross began last week. Throughout the length and breadth of the land and even in the far-off possessions of the United States the American people are being given the opportunity to renew allegiance to their Red Cross through the payment of dues for the coming year. An audit membership of approximately 19,000,000 resulted from the Roll Call last year and preliminary reports from all parts of the country indicate that this extent of support will be maintained and possibly exceeded for 1921.

"The Red Cross came to its Fourth Roll Call with its war task still unfinished and its peace program rapidly developing," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, Chairman of the Central Committee, in a message from National Headquarters. "Never were the world and national needs so pressing and the corresponding opportunities for service so great. It is only too evident that the world has not been able even to approach re-establishment after the war. Widespread distress and sickness stare us in the face in Europe and the Red Cross is carrying on to the extent of its resources, in an attempt to answer the call for help. How permanent and far reaching that answer shall be depends upon the mind and the conscience of the American people.

"At home the wounded and sick soldiers and sailors in hospitals and elsewhere are still numbered by the thousands. The Red Cross cannot demobilize its forces organized to stand by those who gave their best for their country and extend what aid and comfort may be possible.

"An attempt to build up the health of the country, which is the outstanding feature of the peace program of the Red Cross, is taxing the energies of the organization. Demands for visiting nurses come from every corner of the United States and every effort is being made to supply that need, the filling of which is vital. The organization of Health Centers is opening up a new conception of community welfare everywhere. The new public philosophy of not merely curing the sick, but of keeping people well is opening limitless lines of possibility.

"The Junior Red Cross is developing in the school children of the country ideals and habits of sound citizenship which means more, perhaps, than anything else for the future safety of our American democracy. Home Service is still a necessary function of the Red Cross, for there are thousands of families of soldiers and sailors which are still in need of friendly counsel and relief. Along its historic line of activity and usefulness the Red Cross is organizing and standardizing its capacity for Disaster Relief, so instead of waiting for the calamity to transpire and then organize methods and forces, there shall be in constant readiness a trained organization ready upon a moment's notice to carry its work of mercy anywhere.

"So throughout the entire land the Red Cross is striving to salvage the spirit of co-operation aroused by the war and to turn it to the public good. To this end it needs the service and co-operation of every man, woman and child in the country."

The drive in Colorado is now on in full blast, and committees are reporting very successful work. Colorado has always gone over the top in all Red Cross and War Work, and we must not fail this time. Don't wait for some one to solicit you for the dollar, but walk up and pay it like a man. Let us increase the membership in Colorado by at least 100 over what we had last year. A "heart and a dollar" is all it takes.

THE PITY OF IT

Last week Amrillo was the scene of one of those distressing trials brought about by the everlasting triangular tragedy, and a casual observer stepping into the district court room at any time during the proceedings, might easily have imagined that some theatre company was presenting some particularly interesting and thrilling production.

Men old enough to know better, neglected their business and got in early in order to obtain a front seat; women with babies in arms and older youngsters crowded in provided with pacifiers and candy to insure quiet on the part of the children that they might not miss a word of the sordid and disgusting testimony; young girls from ten years old up were numerous and boys, too, intent on hearing the revolting story in all its details, all crowded in until standing room was at a premium and many, perforce, had to be turned away.

Why all this insatiable curiosity for the vulgar and indecent? Only a few in the audience were interested because of personal acquaintance with the principals in the affair, yet a multitude of supposedly sane and civilized people swarmed and buzzed about the court house like vultures scenting the loathsome carcass of a dead animal.

And even those who stayeth at home were regaled with the repulsive story in its minutest details by the daily papers—papers which assiduously pursue a policy of refraining from giving the names of speeders' and minor law breakers or fear of "hurting somebody's feelings." But they "played up" the trial in fine shape. Reporters were instructed to "cover" it thoroughly in order that no juicy morsel of "human interest" should be missed.

A glorious and edifying spectacle, truly.

Surely there can be little of beauty and joy of living, not to mention natural modesty and refinement, in the lives of grown men and women who can find pleasure in listening to such pitifully sordid stories of do-

OIL MEN FROM MANY FIELDS COMING TO COLORADO; OUTLOOK OPTIMISTIC

During the past week the presence of oil men from various parts of the South and the Southwest have been noticed in Colorado, many of them representing either some of the big "Old Line" companies or strong capital bent upon getting a hold onto development property in the Colorado field. Prominent operators in the Louisiana and Tulsa fields, and from Burkburnett, Wichita Falls, Ranger and Breckenridge were either in Colorado during the week or had representatives here. Some of these men have already expressed their intention of becoming identified with the development of the field here and within a few weeks, it is expected that many new faces will be found among the citizenship of the city.

In conversation with some of these men, we became to a still greater degree as believing the potential values in this field have not yet been drilled into. The opinion of operators and geologists who have studied the wells at Westbrook and Iatan already in is that these are "edge wells" located on the western edge of the oil bearing sands, was acceded to by several of these men during the week. One of them, after having made a study of the logs of the two producing wells in the county, authorized the statement that his opinion was that a big producer would be brought in by drilling only a few miles east from the Underwriters discovery well, probably in the vicinity of the Smith No. 1, six miles west of Colorado. Another was of the opinion that the big producing field to be discovered in Mitchell county would be found several miles east of the Underwriters' well, probably in the vicinity of Colorado or along the immediate vicinity of the Colorado river. The suggestions of these two men should cause unusual interest to center on wells to be spudded on the Smith tract and also on the Dorn tract, six miles southwest of town.

Still another prominent developer, an operator in the Mid-Continent field advanced the conclusion that the real big commercial field to be brought in in Mitchell County will be east from Colorado, approximating a survey of the Marthon fold made through the county from South to North. This survey, he stated, indicated that the fold was under the town of Loraine. The opinion of this man, if we are to consider it as being the belief of an oil man who should know what superficial and other conditions indicate, will result in renewed interest in the Travellers well on the Landers ranch, seven miles south of Loraine. This well is over 2000 feet down and should be in the vicinity of the pay within the next few days.

Another of these men who conducted a special investigation into the log and surrounding geology of the Iatan well, stated that sand taken from this well was "just as pretty as any sand I have ever seen." He found the sand loose in formation and heavy in oil, with an excellent showing of gasoline. This gentleman stated that just why this well was shot was full of mysteries to him, since his experience in drilling in wells had caused the conclusion that best results are to be had without the nitro shock, in cases like this in which the sand is loose.

One of these developers authorized the statement that his company would come to the Colorado field within the near future and sink at least two wells. "You most assuredly have an oil field here," he stated to a representative of the Chamber of Commerce, "and had just as well commence to make ready for a big oil boom, for it is coming."

Among the handicaps so acute at present in Colorado is the shortage of homes for families desiring to make this city their home. A representative of the Chamber of Commerce who recently conducted an investigation into this problem estimates that 200 additional residences are needed to care for present needs. It was found that in many sections of the city families were living in crowded quarters, at several places there being two families occupying the same house, which under normal conditions was only large enough for one. But the most undesirable feature of this problem is shown in a compilation of the large number of families who cannot move to Colorado because there are no rooms or residences for them. There are already several men operating here whose families are making their homes in near by towns, and in some instances we received the information that families already living at Colorado would soon be compelled to move elsewhere because the residence in which they had been living was sold and possession must be given to others.

Every indication points to a greater Colorado, made so by the fact of becoming the distributing point and commercial center of a new oil field.

WINNIPEG MAN HAS GAINED 25 POUNDS
All His Troubles Were Overcome And He Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac

"I have gained twenty-five pounds by taking Tanlac and never felt better," said E. J. Coleman, well-known painter and decorator, of 195 Michigan Ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"About a year ago I had double pneumonia," said Mr. Coleman, "and it left me a wreck. I was too weak to walk by myself and my stomach was in such bad shape I could hardly eat enough to keep a bird alive. My nerves were so shattered I almost collapsed when a friend one day unexpectedly slapped me on the back. It was out of the question for me to sleep at night. I was even afraid to be alone in the dark and had to have someone in the room with me all day. My kidneys were so out of order that I had a pain across my back nearly all the time and I lost so much weight I actually looked like a frame.

"I had taken so much medicine without getting better that I was discouraged and when my folks brought me a bottle of Tanlac I didn't want to take it; but finally I tried it and, much to my surprise, I began to improve right away. Now I am on my fourth bottle and am so well I can do as hard a day's work as any man. I eat heartily of anything I want and never have the slightest pain or trouble of any sort whatever now. As long as I live I'll never be able to praise Tanlac enough for what it has done for me."

BUFORD SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY.

Miss Orlena Elliott, the teacher of the Buford School, was a caller at the Record office Wednesday, and asked us to say to the people of that community that all patrons are urged to be at the school house at Buford on Monday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock. Miss Elliott is a pleasant little lady and seems to look forward with much confidence as to the success of this school.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM TO BE RENDERED BY JUNIOR CLASS

Miss Sallie Herrington, superintendent of the Junior department of Methodist Sunday School, has announced that a Christmas program was being prepared for rendition by classes of the Junior and Intermediate Departments. Miss Herrington has not yet announced the exact date on which this program will be rendered.

Under direction of Miss Herrington and her corps of teachers, these departments in the Methodist Sunday School have attained a very interesting degree of merit. For some time past the children have featured in special song and reading programs, given once each month in the church auditorium.

DIED.

The little two and one-half months old boy baby of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield last Friday morning and was taken to Westbrook and laid to rest in the cemetery near their home. The little one was brought here that it might be near the doctor to have constant care. All was done for the little one that loving hands and medical skill could do, but God knew best and took the little flower where there is no sickness nor pain, nor death. Friends here extend sympathy to the grief-stricken father and mother.

"Remember, the world owes you a living, but it's up to you to collect."

$10,000,000.00 LOSS ON FARM MACHINERY.

The Government estimates a greater loss than above mentioned, due to the fact that farmers do not shelter their machinery; then oil, paint and repair it during the idle winter months. If you share in this loss, stop it. Think of saving time and money. For farm machinery goes to pieces fast out in the open. Think of the satisfaction and convenience of having everything in "ship shape" condition in the spring, ready to dig into the fields with good tools.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars. . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

Reduces Rate of Ginning

In a recent issue of the Record was noticed an article about the reduced price of ginning; comparing ginning rates of Colorado with those of other Western towns. In this article the Williams, Miller Gin Co. seemed to receive the praise for the reduction. This being the case, we wish to state it to be a sad mistake. THE FARMERS GIN CO. was the first to lower the price of ginning, the other gins following suite.

We have again lowered the price $2.00 per bale, making ginning and wrapping $1.00 per hundred.

We ask the co-operation of all farmers, so that we may help them.
