ATTORNEY GENERAL ANNULS SCHOOL BONDS

The bond issue of $30,000, voted recently by the Colorado Independent School District, are void, according to a ruling of the attorney general last week. The attorney general's departure ruled that since the petition filed with the school board asking for the election did not specify the tax rate to be voted to carry the interest and sinking fund for the bonds, the issue was not adopted as the law directs.

This clause, however, was passed by the last legislature and had only been in effect a few days when the election was held. The school board, not having the opportunity of obtaining a copy of the acts of this legislature, because it was not at that time from the press, did not know of this provision. The board did, however apply to the attorney general for information on some technical points involved before acting upon the petition.

Previous bond elections did not require that the rate of interest to be voted be cited in the original petition, H. L. Hutchinson, president of the school board stated Monday and the first intimation they had that such was required came in a report from E. Frank King, who returned from Austin Saturday.

Hon. Clarence Ousley Speaks to Large Crowd on Cooperative Marketing Plan

Speaking on the subject of marketing the two principal commodities of this county, cotton and cattle, Hon. Clarence Ousley of Fort Worth, formerly assistant secretary of agriculture, Wednesday afternoon addressed a large crowd of bankers, farmers and merchants in the district court room at the court house.

In speaking of the financial stringency through which we are passing, Mr. Ousley expressed the belief that the crisis has not yet been reached. "But we will pass the crisis successfully by following a policy of conservatism and business principles through the marketing of our commodities and by employing business methods on our varied affairs."

On August 1, 1920, there remained unsold a total of 5,800,000 bales of cotton, Mr. Ousley stated. To this was added the production of 13,150,000 in 1920, making a total of 19,000,000 bales for the year. He predicted that by August 1 of this year the end of the cotton year, we would sell 10,000,000 bales, leaving 9,000,000 bales of old cotton unsold in the hands of the producer.

Mr. Ousley estimated that cotton production in Texas this year was 25 per cent and stated that in many sections of the South the crop would be short, from depredations by boll weevil, drouth and the effects of too much rain in some localities. The crop this year will approximate eight or nine million bales, he estimated, placing the cotton on hand to be sold next year at seventeen million bales.

"If the bankers and merchants of Mitchell county to whom the cotton farmers are in debt, wish to realize full collections this fall, they will serve their own interests by prompt intelligent action on the part of the bankers and merchants to realize a fair price for cotton," he said. "The only feasible plan now offered to realize such a price is that offered by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation."

He cited the success attained by the farmers of Germany, Japan, the Danes, the tomato growers of East Texas, the California growers and others who have formed strong organizations and pooled their commodities, selling direct to the customer, or the customers representative. He made a strong appeal to the farmers to sign the cotton contracts at once. "The manufacturer knows the value of his product when he goes on the market to sell. We cotton farmers are manufacturers, since we produce cotton fiber, but do we know anything at all about the value of our product when we place it on the market? There is a premium of $30 a bale for one and one-sixteenth inch staple cotton. Have you any such staple in Mitchell County?" Ousley asked of W. A. Dulin, county farm agent. To which Mr. Dulin replied: "Plenty of it." "How many farmers of Mitchell county have received this premium of $30 a bale for this cotton?" he asked, to which there was no reply.

Mr. Ousley stated that through waste and graft the cotton farmer paid out three cents a pound for every bale of cotton he sold. "We have been doing this for one hundred years and it is high time that a change was made," he continued. "By pooling our cotton and selling it systematically throughout the year, as the mills need it, this waste would be eliminated and the market would never be glutted."

He urged that the bankers and the business men cooperate with the cotton farmers in providing adequate warehouse facilities at Colorado. "There should be warehouses here and at Sweetwater that would conform to the provisions of the Federal bonded warehouse law," he said.

In speaking of the credit rating of the South, Mr. Ousley stated that the cotton growing area of America was classified "yellow" by authorities considered experts on resources of credit, while the corn and small grain belts of those states farther north were classified as "blue," meaning their credit was better than ours. He appealed for cooperation of every interest in removing that blot from the South. "The people of the South are just as good citizens as those of sections where corn and wheat is grown and our soil and climate is just as good as theirs, but our credit is much inferior. I draw the conclusion that they are employing better business methods than we."

Mr. Ousley was introduced by Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who paid a tribute to Ousley as a statesman, in peace time and in war.

LOCAL BANKERS ENDORSE FARM BUREAU MOVEMENT

J. M. Thomas, active vice president of the Colorado National Bank, and T. W. Stonerod, Jr., cashier of the City National Bank, both of this city, pledged their endorsement of the Farm Bureau cotton growers marketing association, as fostered by the Farm Bureau Federation, in the following statement, made public Thursday morning:

"We have carefully examined the plans and contracts of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Growers Marketing Association, and do hereby state that we approve the entire plan and pledge our customers and friends financial and moral support and agree to cooperate with the farmers in financing and marketing their cotton according to this plan. Warehouse facilities must be adequate."

E. E. Brown, president of the First State Bank at Lorraine, authorized the statement last week that he was endorsing the movement and would actively cooperate with the farmers of Mitchell county under similar plans as promised by the banks at Colorado.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY MAKES CONFERENCE REPORT.

The Woman's Missionary Society had charge of services at the First Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, when reports of the Annual Conference recently held at Quanah were given.

REV. DUFF RETURNS FROM ASSEMBLY AT ST. LOUIS.

Rev. Guy B. Duff, pastor of the Colorado Presbyterian church returned the latter part of last week from St. Louis, where he had been attending the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church, U. S.

Mr. Duff made a report to his congregation last Sunday morning, in which report he spoke of the great Pre-Assembly Evangelistic Conference held on the day before the Assembly convened. He made mention of the excellent addresses made by such men as Dr. Vandermulen, president of the Kentucky Theological Seminary, Dr. Caldwell of Waco, Mr. McMillan of Milwaukee, and many others, both ministers and laymen.

There were in attendance at the Assembly some 325 or more commissioners and visitors, of this number 282 were commissioners. The statistical reports showed 24,294 to have been added to the church on profession of faith during the year. The total enrollment now exceeds four hundred thousand.

The financial report was the best ever made by the church. The total contributions to all causes amounted to $12,124,891, or something more than $35 per member throughout the church. The per capita gift to benevolences was $4.89, the largest amount per capita ever contributed by any church to benevolences.

The one sad note sounded throughout the Assembly was that of the death of candidates for the gospel ministry. The church needs at least one thousand young men and women studying for the ministry and mission work.

The Assembly heard, with great interest, Dr. Robert E. Speer, president of the Federal Council of Churches in America, Dr. Jas. I. Vance, chairman of the Assembly Foreign Mission committee, Dr. J. R. Fleming of Scotland, Dr. Yonan of Armenia, Rev. V. Losa of Bohemia and many others, all of whom brought great messages.

Many items of business of great importance to the church and the Kingdom of God were transacted. The Assembly was known as a "working assembly" rather than a "talking assembly."

The next meeting will be held in Charleston, W. Va.

BURGLAR ATTEMPTS FORCING SAFE AT LAMBETH OFFICE.

An attempt was made to burglarize the safe in the O. Lambeth office Monday night. The intruder employed use of a sledge and chisel and was successful in removing the dial knob from the safe door, but was unsuccessful in opening the safe.

Sheriff Chesney stated Wednesday afternoon that no arrests in connection with the attempted burglary had been made.

BANKERS HEAR HARDING SPEAK AT SAN ANGELO.

T. W. Stonerod, Jr., and J. M. Thomas were in San Angelo Monday to hear the address of Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Banking System. Gov. Harding has promised financial relief to the cattle industry of the Southwest.

Mrs. Jake Maurer was called to Snyder last Thursday to the bedside of her friend Mrs. Wright Moorar who died Friday. Mrs. Moorar lived here years ago.

ORAN HOOKER REMAINS BURIED WITH HONORS

The procession that formed in line Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hooker to follow the remains of their son, Oran C. Hooker, to I. O. O. F. Cemetery is said to have been the longest ever witnessed in this city. The continual stream of automobiles formed a line more than one mile in length. Every store and office in the city closed during the hour in which the services were held.

The services were conducted under direction of Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, assisted by members of the posts at Big Spring and Lorraine. Those having a part in the services at the grave were Key Hooks Dr. T. J. Ratlic, post chaplain; Judge James T. Brooks of Big Spring, Rev. C. L. Browning, Harry K. Shields, a special chorus, a firing squad under command of Lister Ratliff; and Leland Stone of Big Spring, who acted as bugler and sounded "taps."

Judge Brooks, who was captain of Company D, 117th Supply Train of the 42nd, or famous Rainbow Division, in France of which Oran Hooker was a member at the time of his death, paid a beautiful tribute to the sterling qualities of the boy. Rev. C. L. Browning, pastor of the First Methodist church, read a paper at the grave in which the noble characteristics of Mr. Hooker were recited. Harry K. Shields sang with all the melody of the meadow lark that beautiful solo "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," every line and verse of which seemed to have a special setting in making the funeral services sacred and impressive.

It was to be noted that as the addresses were being delivered, the songs and the solo sung, the salute fired and as taps sounded many of the large concourse of people who had come not only from the city, but from practically every community of the county and from points beyond Mitchell county to pay honor to the memory of Oran Hooker, stopped to brush away an unbidden tear, demonstrating in a silent, though indelible manner, something of the esteem in which he was held by the people who knew him.

FELT LIKE AN IRON BAND AROUND HEAD.

Mrs. Osborne Says, She Shudders When She Thinks How She Suffered.

"For years," said Mrs. V. B. Osborne, of 718 Lancaster Ave., Lexington, Ky., "I have been in a run-down condition; nervous, weak and dizzy. I was actually so nervous that any sudden noise or excitement would produce a palpitation of my heart that frightened me. I absolutely could not climb stairs, for to attempt such would thoroughly exhaust me.

"I had nervous headaches and when they came on it seemed that an iron band was drawn tight around my head. I now shudder when I think of those headaches. My stomach was weak and I could not digest the lightest food. Any food of a solid nature caused nausea and the sickening sensation remained for hours.

"My misery was almost unbearable. My sleep was never sound and I was on the verge of giving up in vainly sought treatment in Cincinnati but nothing helped me one particle. I was on the verge of giving up in despair when a neighbor pleaded with me to try Tanlac. I obtained a bottle of the medicine and began its use.

I began improving at once and soon felt my nervousness and dizziness disappearing. Then my headaches left me and I realized my strength had returned. My appetite and digestion improved and I am now so much better in every way. This Tanlac is a wonderful medicine and the only one that ever really helped me. I hope every poor woman who is suffering as I did will try it." Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

COLORADO RECORD AND DALLAS SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS $2.75.

ORAN CLIFTON HOOKER.

Oran Clifton Hooker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hooker, was born March 7, 1897. He was reared near Colorado, receiving most of his education in the public schools of this city.

Trained by earnest Christian parents, Oran became a Christian when but a mere lad, and lived a life consistent with his profession till the day of his death.

Looking to a life of large usefulness, he entered one of our church colleges, and while fitting himself for life in this school, the call of his country was heard; and like a loyal son of the Stars and Stripes, he responded. Being under the draft age, he volunteered his services, was accepted, assigned to the Supply Train of the army; and soon after his enlistment, with his company—the Motor Truck Company made up at Big Spring—he was sent to New York for training. In November, 1917, his company sailed for France, landing there in due time, with no unusual incident on the voyage.

From a letter written "somewhere in France," dated December 14, 1917, and signed by Lieutenant Jas. Brooks, the following facts relative to his last days have been gathered:

1. Oran was not well when his company landed in France. But not complaining to his superior officer or his fellow-soldiers, his sickness was not considered of a serious nature. For a month before his death he had been excused from any laborious duties, allowed to rest in his tent, receiving every attention thought to be necessary for his recovery. At the dinner hour, December 10, 1917, Lieutenant Brooks had a talk with him and instructed one of the boys to take him for a walk. After the walk, he expressed himself as feeling better. In the evening of the same day he ate a hearty supper and said that he felt much better. At six o'clock the next morning, one of the boys had a talk with him, found him feeling well and in good spirits. But at nine o'clock of the same morning, December 11, Lieutenant Brooks found him dead in his tent. All the evidences showing that, after his conversation with his fellow soldier at six in the morning, he had gone to sleep again, this sleep proving to be the last long sleep from which he never waked.

2. With Christian rites and military honors, his body was laid away near the village of Saint Elin. There for more than three years, visited by the grateful French people, bringing wreathes of fresh flowers, baptized with the tears of sympathetic hearts, his body rested under a rich carpet of velvet moss, extending the full length of the grave and formed in the shape of a cross, at the foot of which was placed a sacrament cup from whose lips a stream of mossy tendrils hung like flowing sacramental blood.

Though sleeping well in this American cemetery planted in a little French village, there were yearning hearts at home who longed to make a grave for him in his native land, and native town. A mother's love is never satisfied till it can see and touch the resting place of her dead child. For this reason the moss-carpeted bed in the French village must give up its three-year sleeper; and to soothe the aching heart of a mother, the War Department of the United States provided ship and passage for the sleeping dust of the boy whose form and resting place a mother might never see. And today, though grateful for the once moss-covered bed in France and the tender ministrations of the sympathetic hands and hearts of the French people, the dead body of Oran Hooker has come back to home and mother; and surrounded by friends and loved ones, with the highest honor which his country and comrades in battle can confer upon him; with the love of his boyhood friends and the benedictions of the church of which he was an honored member to the day of his death, we are again laying his body to rest where it will sleep till awakened by the sound of the trumpet in the Last Day. In this climate his grave may not be moss-covered; French poppies may not bloom under the magic touch of French skies and French breezes, but it will be close enough for mother's eyes to see, and for mother's hand to touch. This will be sufficient compensation for disturbing his slumber and bringing him from France to America—to his native Lone Star State, to his native town, back to his own people—where those who knew him best and loved him most can visit his grave and water with their own tears other flowers planted on the grave which they can see—and touch.

of a mother. God bless all the mothers who lost boys in camp or in battle fields of the World War! The boys gave all they had—their youth, their ambition, their crown of life which they had begun to weave, their very life blood—but their mothers gave more than any boy could possess—a mother's love—a mother's heart! Mother of Oran Hooker, the bringing of the body of your boy from France to America has not compensated your loss, but it has somewhat assuaged your sorrow and soothed your bleeding heart. Though suffering a mother's anguish for a sick child a mother's touch will help both child and mother. Though weeping as only a mother can weep over the death of a dead boy, if she can but touch his dead body death will become a sacrament to her and him. Though, after the body has been hidden in the silent chamber of the dead, if the mother can but look at the grave, drop thereon a mother's tear, and lay thereon a withering flower, the grave will become a holy shrine where she may gather new strength and listen to the most thrilling music that ever comes to a mother's ear. As the touch of a mother's hand makes soft the dying pillow of her boy, will not the touch of mother's hand rob this new-made grave of any ghostliness suggested by death? Since mother's eyes can see it and her loving hands touch it, will it not be more beautiful to all who have felt the thrill of a mother's love? Her eyes and touch will always make this mound of earth a prophecy of a better life—a home where wars never come and battle fields are unknown. When nations learn war no more; when the sword is converted into a plow share, and the spear into a pruning hook, the wonderful miracle will be wrought by the tears and broken hearts of motherhood. But Oran will be not rest better because he is in America—because his mother can see and touch his grave? If a mother's touch can transform a grave into a spot of hopeful beauty, may not her touch cause the dust within to sleep more peacefully? May this second grave of the same fine, noble, patriotic boy who gave his life for America, be a comfort to his father and mother while they live; and may this son—this same splendid boy whom they gave to their country, to their church and to their God, be returned to them in the Sweet Bye and Bye, where the good-bye is never said and where partings are never known! IN SOCIETY AND AT THE CLUBS

Auxiliary to Legion Meets.
The auxiliary to Oran Hooker Post met at the Baptist Sunday school rooms last Saturday. There was a large number in attendance. Mrs. Nunn, Mrs. Shropshire, Mrs. Logan Spaulding, and Miss Omeira Terry were reported as new members since last meeting. A letter was read from Miss Madlox, state secretary, telling of the various needs of the disabled soldiers in hospitals. The auxiliary voted to send $50.00 to be used as needed and decided to send same each month to help cheer and alleviate the suffering of our boys. The poppy committee reported $52.20 from the sale of poppies which had been sent to orphans in France. A representative from the Post was present and stated that the club rooms would be ready soon. The auxiliary decided to have an "at home" for the Post some time the first of July, the date to be decided later. The finance committee advised a luncheon to be given down town, Saturday, June 18th. This was agreed upon and committees appointed to have charge of it. Miss Ethel Pritchett was elected assistant treasurer.

CENTRAL CIRCLE.
The Central Circle of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Q. D. Hall Monday afternoon. Besides the usual business a shower was planned for Miss Grace Browning, daughter of the pastor, who is to marry on Saturday.
Mrs. W. H. Garrett made a good and encouraging report of the Juvenile work. She asked for the help of the mothers in a candy sale and pie social to be given soon. She reported having sent $5.00 to Thurber for the Deaconess to use for carrying on the work there. At the social hour the hostess served black and white cake and home made ice cream.

Count that man idle that might be better employed.

Merry Wives.
Mrs. Vivian Shropshire was hostess for the Merry Wives Wednesday. Her guests were Mesdames H. C. Doss Pearl Shannon, B. F. Wilson, R. L. Spalding, Coleman Smith, J. P. Nunn Jack Carter, Taylor of Temple, and Misses Dry, Inez Nunn and Keck. Refreshments of pear salad, wafers, ice tea, banana ice cream and home made cake were served.

OUT BUFORD WAY.
We are glad to note that Bernie Grable has largely regained his former health, and was able to go home Sunday. Since leaving the sanitarium, he has been recuperating in the home of Mrs. Pat Cranfield.
Grandfather McGuire is still very feeble, getting but very little rest. He is at the home of one of his daughters, Mrs. M. C. Holt.

Bro. Leach came Saturday night and brought with him Bro. Tyson, the missionary preacher for Sweetwater Association. He had quite a collection of good books.

Some wonderful and startling facts from the pens of some wonderfully brilliant authors. Bro. Tyson preached Saturday night, and Sunday at eleven, to a house full of folks. Both preachers helped us during the Sunday school hour, and we had the best attendance record we have ever had. Nearly 140 in the Sunday school and we've just started too. Look out, you city Sunday schools! We are after you.

And you just "orter" been there when the good mothers, and our girls got through putting out that feast that we afterwards enjoyed so much, we had quite a few visitors from other schools, and several from town. Chicken and ham went begging, while cakes and pies needed more attention than they got. Anyway, our minds traveled back to the scene several times and we thought of the little motto (I'd like) to "try it again."

Our evening program by the children was the best treat of the year. The program proper lasted almost two hours and every number was exceptionally good. The decoration of the school house and the patient training of these children most credited to Mrs. James Bodine, Mrs. Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Powell Mrs. Dockery, Miss Ruth Lindsay and several others. Of course, James Bodine was on the job all the time, and I am sure everyone feels these folks did fine, and the program rendered proved it.

The showers about preaching time scared some of us away from the Sunday night service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hines have a married daughter from Big Spring visiting in the home this week.

Mrs. Priestler from St. Louis is visiting in the Bedford home, and Miss Loree Dorn is spending the week end in the McGuire home.

You just ought to watch these chickens, taters, maize and cotton stalks grow! Also the "goat-headed burrs"—they are always on the job. And so are the farmers.

CARD OF THANKS.
We wish to express our thanks to our many good friends and neighbors who ministered to us in the sickness and death of our husband and father. Our prayer is that each of you may be so blessed when sorrow overtakes you.
Mrs. J. S. Vaughan and family.

Mrs. Taylor of Temple is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Root.

WHY SUFFER SO

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Colorado people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. Could you ask for stronger proof of merit?

Mrs. W. M. Cooper, Concho Street, Colorado, says: "About five years ago I suffered a great deal with severe pains across the small of my back. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they removed the pain and regulated my kidneys. I felt like a different person."

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy.
Every family should keep this preparation at hand for instant use when needed. Severe attacks of colic and cholera morbus often prove fatal before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The uniform success that has attended the use of this remedy and the prompt cures it has effected have made it a staple article of trade.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

Last Sunday was a great day with us. A fine spirit in the Sunday school. A little off on account of the rain coming at the psychological moment, but everyone seemed in great spirits. We want those who believe folks should know more about God and His word to work a little harder this week to get folks out next Sunday than you worked last week. If you now of any one or more folks who want to come and can't walk, and have no way to get there, just let Superintendent Greene know by Saturday and he will do the rest. We mean this, too.

Solomon said there is nothing new under the sun. If you will be at the Baptist church next Sunday morning we will show you something Solomon never saw or heard of in all his life.

The Baptists voted last Sunday to hold their annual revival meeting this year beginning the 3rd Sunday in July. We want the folks to begin right now to make preparations for a great spiritual time. God is willing and able to do great things for us if we are willing to receive them.

The music is fine but we want those who play instruments to bring their instruments and help make a great time in a musical way as nothing helps the services of a church as does good music.

It will take us some time to get well regulated and learn names for all the folks, but we are coming right along with it and only ask you to be patient and helpful. Don't be ashamed of your name when we meet you, and we can't call the name readily—you just say what it is and it will save us lots of embarrassment.

We are to have the basement finished by next Sunday and will have a great time in the Sunday school. Come and bring all the family. M. C. Bishop, Pastor.

A WORD FROM DALLAS.

Arrived in Dallas Friday evening. Yes, Dallas is some larger than Colorado. Seemed to be more people, but not much better town than Colorado. Rains most all the time, and is sweating hot. We have elegant rooms in the New Jefferson on the 10th floor; was afraid to get up any higher on account of the price, as we suppose the price goes up as you go toward the top.

A Western man sure appreciates that free ozone out there. Here in Dallas the air is cooled by coin fed fans, and even then is poor make-shifts. We attended the Dr. Gambrell funeral Saturday at the First Baptist Church and heard Truitt in his oration comparing the life of Gambrell to that of Paul. Attended the opening Saturday evening of the Palace Theatre, Dallas' million dollar play house. Paid $1.50 for a seat on third balcony. This house has 66 uniformed ushers, 30 musicians, 110 attendants and managers. The writer visited the Spreckels million dollar show house in Los Angeles, and the Palace is much finer of the two. 7000 were in attendance at the opening play.

We will likely stay here all next week expecting to spend next Sunday in Paris. It keeps Aunt Rose busy keeping me from getting run over while reading the signs and looking up at the tall buildings. Will attend big Masonic meeting here Wednesday; Most Worshipful Grand Master Randall will be here.—F. B. Whipkey.

Better order that good McAlister lump coal today. It will be hard to get, and much higher, later on—R. L. Spalding has it.

You can get the best shoe and harness repair work, shoe laces, polish, dyes and oils for any kind of leather at Herrington Bros. Shoe and Harness Shop.

NEW PLAYERPHONE—Worth $150 for sale at half price. See it at Ed Jackson's Shoe Shop.

CURWOOD'S LATEST STORY AT BEST THEATRE.

The Best Theatre has engaged Jas. Oliver Curwood's latest story "Nomads of the North," in picture form for Friday and Saturday. The story has been read by almost everyone and is recognized as a masterpiece.

The picture follows the story closely. The scenes of the great forest fire, the fight of a man with a wild bear, the difficult courses followed by the Northwest mounted police, and scenes of the far North are all beautiful and realistic.

The role played by Lon Chaney is very exciting. As Raoul Challoner, a trapper of the far North, he gives us thrill after thrill in the blinding snowstorms and other scenes of the same tone of interest. Many will remember Lon Chaney as he played opposite Priscilla Dean in "Outside the Law."

Curwood has written into the story many scenes of wild animal action. This forms a very particular and interesting part of the play. To have a bunch of wild bears and mountain lions actually assault, tear down and wreck a cabin is very wonderful. And above all are actual happenings and the picture is free from those trick pictures which commonly appear in the attempts of this type.

CARD OF THANKS.

We appreciate beyond the power of words to explain the many words of condolence and acts of kindness given us during our recent sorrow. We sincerely thank the former service men of Colorado, Big Spring, Loraine and elsewhere, and the many others who came to us, for all you did for our comfort and the memory of our boy, Oran C. Hooker. Especially do we appreciate the floral offerings, the addresses by Judge Jas. T. Brooks, Rev. Browning, and the solo by Mr. Shields.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hooker and family, L. L. Bodine and family, H. Canfil and family.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

Paige Makes a Clean Sweep

Breaks Every Official Stock Chassis Record From 5 to 100 Miles at Uniontown Track

The Paige triumph is now complete.

From 5 to 100 miles, all world's official speed records for a stock chassis were captured by the Paige "6-66" Daytona Model at the Uniontown, Pa., track May 29th, 1921.

Following a world's stock chassis record made January 21st, when the Paige "6-66" Daytona model covered a measured mile in 35.01 seconds, the Uniontown performance caps the climax to a long series of amazing records.

Paige, thus, has made a clean sweep and stands today the unchallenged master of power and speed—the supreme and unique example among automotive products for heroic stamina and endurance.

When the mile record fell in January, Paige determined to make the record complete. With the officials of the A.A.A. racing board in charge, the track at Uniontown, Pa., was selected and Mulford driving a Daytona "6-66" stock chassis was off to shatter records that had remained unassailable since July 28th, 1917.

A Clean Sweep

The first five miles were covered at a terrific pace, the electric timer recording 3 minutes, 15.48 seconds, a speed of 91.8 miles an hour.

From there on the Paige came roaring over the official's wire with clock-like regularity that ate up the miles greedily. Twenty-five thirty, fifty minutes went by and there was no noticeable slackening of speed.

When the Paige thundred across the tape at the end of the 100th mile the feat had been accomplished.

In the most consistent performance ever recorded the records had fallen. The five, ten, twenty, twenty-five, fifty, seventy-five, 100-mile and One-Hour records had been beaten in every instance by a handsome margin.

The official figures showed that Paige had covered the full century in one hour, 6 minutes and 53.26 seconds, or 89 miles, 1510 yards in 60 minutes—which is just 250 yards less than 90 miles. The former hour record was 83 miles.

And now for a brief review of "6-66" history.

Speed—Power—Endurance

When a Paige "6-66" stock chassis made the fastest official time of the season for the Pike's Peak climb, some idea of its amazing power and stamina was revealed under unusual circumstances.

When on January 21st the Paige "6-66" Daytona model traveled at a rate of 102.8 miles an hour, thus setting an official world's stock chassis record for a mile, the fleetness of the "6-66" was established.

When at 100 different points throughout the country 100 new local hill climbing records were made, the power of the Paige "6-66" became a country-wide sensation.

Now with these new records from 5 to 100 miles, made without a stop, Paige has incontestably established its supreme powers of endurance, as well as of speed. There could be no feat that answered all questions of supremacy with greater finality.

The lesson to the car owner is obvious. No matter what price he may be willing to pay he can find no car on the market today that offers him more than the Paige "6-66." The record is complete, and Paige stands as the undisputed leader of all American sporting cars.

In Your Own Interest—Make This Test

We ask you to take just one demonstration in a "6-66" model and judge it from the standpoints of power, speed, acceleration, spring suspension and general motor efficiency.

Get the facts—actual lapsed time of the tests—and make a record on the demonstration card furnished by our Dealer.

Then take a second demonstration in any other car, at any price, and compare results. That is all we ask—and we make no prophecies whatever in regard to your ultimate conclusions.

We merely want you to know the "6-66" in action. We want you to compare it detail for detail—performance for performance—with the finest and most expensive cars of the nation.

Then, decide for yourself whether the "6-66" is or is not the greatest dollar for dollar value ever offered to the motoring public.

UNION HAPPENINGS.

Since my last writing many have been the changes in this vicinity. From dry weather to good season—from poor crop prospects to lavish ones—from small water brooks for stock water, to overflowing ones from poor pastures to rich, green grass in abundance, but I haven't heard of a single pastor, layman, sinner or saint crying out for a thanksgiving day. To give God the praise and glory for all His goodness and benefits towards us. The farmers in this section I think have their crops reasonably well diversified. Necessity has brought about a great improvement on the one crop idea, and instilled into many minds that a self-supporting home is not a bad thing to have. Strike from your day book the word "can't" and "I can't" in its place.

This writer had the pleasure of attending Sunday school at Union last Sunday and when I arrived I saw the house was nicely cleaned and so far as I could discern, everyone had on their Sunday clothes and pleasant smiles galore; and some, I believe, were actually grinning. Our worthy superintendent is greatly responsible for all this improvement and we are expecting greater things to come, such as a great revival this summer, a newly painted church, etc.

Now in conclusion I will tell another one of my troubles. I do not reckon, Mr. Editor, you will say anything about it. One day last week our cooks went to school, and a few of the sap-headed men went along too, I suppose, just to be in the way. So I was left alone, and of course I wanted fried eggs for dinner, so the show opened; now how does anybody expect a man to know the eggs apart—or an old one from a new one? The day before there was a surgical operation performed among the stock, and I was sent after some lard and the vaseline bottle was found, which was claimed to be better, so I decided to fry my eggs in vaseline, and oh, what a mess I did have and I had to make out with it!

Next Sunday is children's day, but for some good reason I suppose was deferred to night. So come along, and let's have a good time.

Come quick while you can get plenty of good McAlister lump coal. It is going to be scarcer and higher—R. L. Spalding.

ROSCOE TRADES DAY AND BIG BARBECUE IS POSTPONED.

Every citizen in Mitchell county, has a special invitation to attend this big barbecue and Trades day.

RED-CROSS MEETING.

At the regular meeting of the Mitchell County Red Cross Chapter held Wednesday, there were several items of importance discussed and acted upon. Miss Hough, a Division Worker, of St. Louis, was present and outlined a program of nutrition work which is being carried out. After studying the program and consulting Mr. E. F. King, Superintendent of the schools, it was decided to take this work up on opening of the school in the fall. The Loraine Branch is enthusiastic about the work being carried out in that community and has accepted the work. An appeal was made for the flood sufferers in Pueblo, and, as Colorado has never turned a deaf ear to suffering or distress, an offering will be made from this Chapter. Mrs. H. B. Broadbuss is in charge of this work and every one will have the opportunity to help relieve the distress. She asks that every one have a part in this noble work and that the offering be made as soon as possible, so that suffering may be relieved. There are those out of homes and in need of food, and your offering might save a life, so let her know what you will do.

Rev. Guy B. Duff tendered his resignation and it was accepted with regrets, as he is soon to move from our city. He has rendered most efficient services and will be greatly missed. Mr. J. H. Greene, who has always been a faithful worker in the Chapter will take his place.

PHILLIPS-MOSHER WEDDING SOLEMNIZED LAST NIGHT.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Alice Mosher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stephen Mosher to Mr. Harvey Allen Phillips, took place yesterday at 8 p. m. at the First Congregational church. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Luther Reece of Paris.

Prior to the entrance of the wedding party Mrs. John F. Marquitz sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and P. J. Boyle sang "Because." Mrs. P. J. Boyle played the accompaniment on the organ and Verne Leonard played the violin obligato. Mrs. Boyle also played the bridal chorus from Lohegrin as the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional. Mr. Leonard played the violin obligato to both marches.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of white satin, with overdress of princess lace. Her long tulle veil, which fell from a wreath of orange blossoms, formed the train. Her flowers were brides roses and lilies of the valley, arranged in a shower bouquet. The bridegroom was attended by William S. Mosher, Jr., as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Mosher left immediately after the ceremony for their wedding trip. They will be at home in Dallas after July 1. The bride's going away costume was a dark blue tailored suit, blue braid hat trimmed with French flowers, and accessories to match.

The above was taken from the Dallas News, and Harvey Phillips is the eldest son of Mrs. D. S. Phillips of Colorado. He was born and reared here. His friends are numbered by his acquaintances, and all of them congratulate Harvey on his marriage and wish for him and his wife a long and happy life.
