Still another cut- THIRD REDUCTION

At $1375, f. o. b. Detroit, the Essex offers a value that we believe no one buying a car priced between one and two thousand dollars will fail to consider.

The Essex has always been an outstanding value by every standard of price and quality comparison.

Since its reduction of price this advantage is even more evident. Especially interesting now is a price to price measurement of the cars you have regarded as comparable to it in quality.

Doesn't its low cost with such quality appeal to judicious buyers, whether they are considering a car slightly less in cost, or have been asking Essex quality in some much costlier car?

You must have many friends and acquaintances who own Essex cars. Ask them about it.

They will tell you that Essex at its present price is the greatest automobile value in the market.

Grateful Letter

It is trying cohditions like that related below by Mrs Geo. L. North of Naples N. Y. that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer," she says, "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion to another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone I thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cup-board. I gave him some of that and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger."

The Saturday Evening Post and The Ladies Home Journal are back to pre-war prices and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey is still the agent for them, and also the Country Gentlemen. See her or phone 157 and your order will receive prompt attention. She wishes to thank all her friends who have always given her their orders, and solicits new ones at all times.

COLORADO PEOPLE BELIEVE IN SAVING THEIR MONEY

"Don't spend it all! Save some of it!" has been a motto that has been followed pretty well here according to Postmaster Ben Van Tuyl.

"While some folks still have the idea that it is beneath their notice to salt four dollars and a few cents in war saving stamps, others have acted on the principle that 'what you save is yours, and what you spend is the other fellows,' and they have put Uncle Sam to work for them making their savings produce compound interest," said Postmaster Van Tuyl.

"The popularity locally of the new $25, $100 and $1000 registered Treasury Saving Certificates has surprised me, although I had every reason to look for a liberal buying of this security. Their safety, the fact that they produce interest every month, coupled with the fact that they are liquid and can not depreciate, accounts for this, I suppose.

The way people are turning from reckless spending to sure saving is certainly pleasing us at the post office because every dollar wisely saved in this community helps the people and the merchants alike. Money makes the mare go, according to the old saying, but it is safely saved money that makes a community and its people prosperous. Growing bank accounts, increasing sums invested in Government securities and economy in spending makes business better for all. We are indeed gratified to have played a part at the postoffice in increasing the asset standing of Colorado.

S. S. COMMITTEE NOT FAVORABLE TO PICNIC

Committees representing the Baptist, Christian and Methodist Sunday schools, convened Sunday afternoon at the First Christian church to determine whether the several schools of the city foster a co-operative picnic went on record as favoring the abandonment of the plan to have a picnic at Seven Wells, because of the fact the literary schools are now in session and the merchants and business men of the city are very busy.

The committees, however, recommended that a union program be arranged by the Sunday schools to be rendered on Friday evening September 30, at the Union Tabernacle and the Court House lawn. Suggestions were made that a parade, or pageant be staged, and that only light refreshments be served. Action of the committees are to be referred back to the Sunday schools Sunday for ratification or rejection. Should either one of the schools vote to reject the suggestion, no further plans are to be undertaken.

Death of Tas Dever

Mr. T. C. Dever died at the home of his mother, Mrs. W. P. Dever in this city last Sunday morning about one o'clock. His death was due in fact occurring early last February in directly to paralysis, the first at Colorado City. Mr. Dever was in apparent perfect health at the time and as every one knows was always a man of the most robust health and iron like constitution.

Soon after the break-down occurred Mr. Dever was brought home and hopes for his ultimate recovery were entertained. Even a week before his death Sunday morning he walked to town. Through the seven or more months of efforts to regain his health, including the services of several renowned specialists, and up to his last conscious moments he was the same uncomplaining, sunny, cheery natured man his friends and acquaintances knew him to be in perfect health, no complaint ever escaping his lips.

Mr. Dever was born in old Independence, Washington County, May 22, 1869; came to Georgetown with his parents, Capt. and Mrs. W. P. Dever in 1890 where he engaged in business until five or six years ago when he sold out here and engaged in the stock business in Mitchell County. He is survived by his aged mother, Mrs. W. P. Dever, two brothers and seven sisters. All members of the family except one brother who was detained at home on account of the serious illness of his wife and one sister who lives in Kansas were here for the funeral which occurred Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. A. Wade Hall. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Lee O. Allen, H. N. Graves, H. L. Price, W. R. Mood, R. E. Moore and J. M. Sharpe. The bereaved relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.—Georgetown Sun.

Henry Ford Was Right When He Said:
"The Tractor will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life. I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth."

This tractor has done much—very much—in bringing true Mr. Ford's prophecy; for in it is a machine which has harnessed one of the most dependable, efficient, adaptable, economical sources of power in the world—a machine that saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time—a machine which many farmers claim plows, harrows or drills as much ground in the same time as four, six or even eight horses. And more—a machine that takes care of every power job on the farm.

Call and let's talk it over, or telephone or drop us a card and we will bring the facts to you.

A Public Disgrace There are but few citizens of Colorado but who realize that the city owns and persists in displaying prominently before the public a disgrace in the eyes of any local citizen or visitor who comes here. This disgrace is becoming more and more promiscuous from day to day and every day in the week and Sunday too, tourists, coming from New England, Florida, Oregon, California and intermediate states, look upon this disgrace, endure it and drive through the city wondering why it is that Colorado would permit such. And these tourists remember the impression they received here long after they have reached their destination and you can bank on the bet that they are passing the information gathered from what they saw here on to others with whom they come in contact.

This disgrace to Colorado is depicted in the condition of the streets, with special reference to Second street over which tourists following the Bankhead highway pass through the city. There is not a country road in Mitchell County that is rougher than this street, from city limit to city limit. There is absolutely no necessity for a city ordinance against speeding over this street for if a driver attempted to make speed over this street his car would be wrecked.

The citizens of Colorado have spoken their shame because of the existence of such a condition here. You need only to advance the subject of streets before a public gathering, on the street, or in the home, and the universal denunciation will come. They all desire that a change in the present methods of permitting the streets to deteriorate every day be made. By the expression "they all" the Record refers to the progressive citizens of the city, who have that nature of public pride suggestive of making of the city an example of civic attractiveness and one of more substantial proportions in commercial, educational, religious and other lines that go to form the combination of a real community. To be sure there are those who would perhaps, object to any improvement in the city streets, if such improvement should cost anything. There never was a town, in so far as our information goes, but what there was among its citizenship at least a few who objected to any improvement program that would carry with it an increase in taxation. Colorado is no exception to the rule. Votes were polled against the school bonds against the water improvement bonds and sewer bonds, and when the election comes along for voting bonds to build a new school building they will oppose that. Of course that is their privilege. Every citizen has a right to suffrage and it is right to be thus. Perhaps we appreciate good and material things better when they come to us through some opposition. Every thing that we may have is considered of more value when it costs us something to possess.

The School Problem Problems confronting the school board are always conspicuous since there is not an office carrying with it duties more complex and technical than that of school trustee. The board of Trustees, Colorado Independent district, however, have at least one big problem confronting them and one which must be overcome or the inevitable is assured the schools of the city. This problem is presented in the crowded conditions of practically every class room in both the Grammar and High School Buildings. In some of the grades the classes are so crowded that it became necessary to divide the classes into two groups, one to come to school in the forenoon and one in the afternoon. There was nothing else for the board to do and the Record trusts that no patron will be so inconsistent as to criticize.

The only solution of this problem will be to vote bonds and build another school house. The Record believes that this new structure should be a modern High School Building, having departments for Manuel Training, Economics and other subjects dealing with some of the essentials of success of the pupil after leaving the school. In the words of Prof. King: "Train both the mind and hands of the student." Such a building will cost a little more than an ordinary ward building would cost, but the people of this city have already demonstrated their progressive spirit, and would, The Record believes, vote bonds by an almost unanimous count for such a building suggested. Colorado Independent should vote $100,000 in bonds with which to provide school facilities for the children, and the time to inaugurate a campaign is now—not next spring or summer when it shall have become too late to afford any relief for another year. The Record hears of complaints registered against the school board because of some conditions confronting the schools of the city, mostly because of the crowded nature of the class rooms. These complaints are wholly unjustifiable, since the school board has done everything within its power to meet this problem. A few months ago they appealed to the public for assistance and the result was a bond election for $30,000 with which to construct a new ward school. Through a technicality, made so through passage of an Act of the Thirty-Seventh Legislature, and the provisions of which were at the time unknown to the board, the Attorney General annulled the transcript and the issue was lost. It was then too late to ask for another election and build and equip a building for this term of school.

FORMER COLORADO GIRL HONORED BY ABILENE

Miss Lucile Henthorne, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Henthorne formerly of Colorado, was honored recently by the First Presbyterian church at Abilene, and also the Abilene Reporter in reporting the occasion of her visit to the city. The Reporter says: "The First Presbyterian church worshipping in the Carnegie Library has been successful in securing Miss Lucile Henthorne of Sherman, graduate of Kidd-Key College, to sing at the morning service Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service. Miss Henthorne has a coloratura soprano voice and has made a remarkable reputation, since her graduation from Kidd-Key College. She has studied grand opera and her singing has prompted several of the newspapers of the state proclaim her as the second Galli Curci."

COLORADO HAS NEW CAFE AND LUNCH ROOM

On a visit in the West Part of town we discovered that a new cafe and lunch room had been installed in the Lambeth building which has a sign out "Busy Bee" and we find that the place is all that the name implies as it is in reality a "Busy Bee". The place has a horse-shoe counter white enameled, and is equipped with a complete baking range, coffee urn, etc., and in fact a real nifty place to eat. It is owned by W. A. Grabbs of the Lambeth office and managed by J. B. Beardlee formerly chef at Davis Bros Cafe.

The Colorado Cotton Market is being stimulated by the strongest competition this year than ever before. There are more street buyers here this fall than last, and then, the Farm Bureau has its bat in the ring in big style. Bring your cotton to Colorado, Boys, where the gins and the markets are the very best, and where the merchants are catering to your patronage through the channel of dependable merchandise at prices not undersold by any legitimate competition.

A suggestion to the Colorado Booster Club: The Record will be pleased to co-operate with you in causing something to be done to the streets of the city. What do you say Porter? There is not a progressive citizen of the city but who will pat you on the back and say: "Go after it."

REVIEWING CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Summing up reports of the president and secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce as made before the annual business meeting held Thursday night of last week, we might note a number of accomplishments that have either directly or indirectly been of material worth to the city and county.

That the Chamber of Commerce has followed a policy of conservatism was fully explained and such a policy the Record believes, was the more commendable of any intent of the Chamber to permit fabricated reports of conditions or prospects here to sift through its office out upon the public.

It is much better from any angle that we might consider, that the Chamber sought to always be frank and relate actual facts in all advertising matter and in correspondence dealing with Colorado and the Colorado territory. The lesson taught us by what has been done in other West Texas towns should serve to dismiss any other thought. Then again, it is better for the organization to follow up a policy of telling just exactly what this condition is or it may be, for the simple assignment of equity and honesty in dealing with the public.

It was for those reasons that the Chamber of Commerce differed with some few citizens who contended that Colorado should have ten thousand people on her streets, because that we have here a great oil field. Had the Chamber attempted to foster such a boomerang in the face of an impending financial stringency and had the people actually come, the simmering down to conformity with actual conditions would have been a bitter pill of which every interest of the city would have partaken. The Record is pleased to note that truth and conservatism supplanted any superfluous additions to fact and that the Chamber of Commerce has the distinction of always telling it in such a manner as to avoid the embarrassment of forming excuses and explanations.

The Chamber of Commerce has during the past year declared war on all stock promoters who came to Colorado until they should produce evidence showing conclusively that the propositions they offered were authentic. A number of these promoters have visited the city but the record shows that not a one of them has met with success. The Chamber of Commerce has no consideration for the stock promoter who declines to come clean and show that his offerings are bona fide.

It was through representations of the Chamber of Commerce that gravel cars were furnished local contractors last fall who could not induce the Texas & Pacific traffic department to give them due consideration and appealed to the Chamber of Commerce for assistance.

It was through representations of the Chamber of Commerce that a discrimination between loading flat cotton on the Texas & Pacific wharf and that of the compress was removed.

It was through representations of the Chamber of Commerce that the present freight depot at Colorado is under construction although the Chamber was forced to go to the State Railroad Commission in order to obtain relief.

The Chamber has taken the initiative in making repairs to some of the roads leading from the Colorado territory into the city, employing competent overseers to take charge of the work. On one job alone a total of $317 was expended.

The Chamber of Commerce made an appropriation of $1,400 with which to finance surveys and estimates of Lake Colorado and the water extensions and sewer system, proposed for the city by the Booster Club.

The Chamber of Commerce has co-operated with the County Farm Agent, the Colorado Booster Club and the Civic League both morally and financially, in every way possible, in the consummation of projects for the betterment of this city and county and will continue to do so in the future.

There are perhaps some things out in the past that the Chamber of Commerce could not take up and develop, because of the limited finances available. There is not an organization in this city that should be of more worth to the commercial civic life of the community than the Chamber of Commerce, and thus the organization is entitled to the liberal support of the citizenship. It takes money to put any sort of a project over, and who knows that this city may be confronted with unusual opportunities during the ensuing year? Those opportunities, however, would be lost if funds so necessary were not available.

Every citizen of the city and those of the county, too, as for that matter, should manifest an interest in the Chamber of Commerce. It is an organization, founded and maintained solely for your benefit and to render a service to you. Why not affiliate and use it?

Christian Endeavor The following program will be rendered by the Christian Endeavor Sunday. Subject—Sins of the Tongue, Jas. 3 1-12. Leader—Juanita Pond. Song —Prayer—Mr. Wood. What are some of the sins of the tongue and how may they be avoided.—Mr. Dickerson.

AMERICA'S PREMIER QUARTET TO GIVE LOCAL CONCERT

At the San Francisco Exposition the prize of $3,000 was offered to the best male quartet or chorus. The Orpheus Four Male Quartet which is to appear here on the evening of September 20th at the High School carried off the grand sweepstakes at the Frisco Exposition and won this international grand prize generally known as America's premier organization. It is the official organization of the Orpheus Club of Los Angeles. It is an organization of splendid musical artists who have beautiful individual voices. It is an organization whose ensemble work is as near perfection as it is possible to be. The wonderful phrasing, tonal shading and delightful melody combinations is a musical treat long to be remembered. Lyon and Healy, well known music dealers of Chicago, through Manager L. C. Wiswell, made the following statement concerning the Orpheus Four: "Their ensemble work is exquisite diction and enunciation superb. Their harmony and blending is without question the finest we have ever had the pleasure of hearing."

Union Happenings
Since my last writing the severe drouth has been broken. Crops have received and are turning out better than was expected, and better prices added creates a reasonable good main spring. Cotton picking is the order of the day and the Farm Bureau the leading thought, and in my judgement the knockers on that move are only loosing their licks and losing their reputation for good.

The health in general of the community is fine and things are moving along nicely.

In my next writing I'll tell some thing of my early recollections.

NEGROES DEMAND $1.50 FOR COTTON PICKING

According to information given the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon by W. A. Dulin, county farm agent, there are several negroes at Colorado and vicinity who are out of employment but refuse to go to the cotton fields because their demands for $1.50 per hundred is refused by the farmer.

Mr. Dulin expressed the fear that in case negroes should be imported to pick cotton here some of the local negroes might seek to cause dissatisfaction among them in demanding that the maximum wage be paid. Should such conditions arise, efforts will be made to protect the interests of the cotton farmer of his territory since it is considered the price these farmers are offering for cotton picking is an equitable one

AUTOMOBILE TURNS TURTLE FROM COLORADO BRIDGE

An automobile driven by Ben Horn of five or six miles northwest of Colorado crashed over the embankment at the east approach to the Colorado bridge Monday at 8 p. m. but none of the seven occupants were injured beyond slight bruises.

With his family and a Miss Adams Mr. Horn was leaving the city for home and just before reaching the bridge saw an automobile driven by Joe H. Smoot approaching from the west. Horn stopped his machine until Mr. Smoot had passed and in starting up again steered too far to the right, the car falling from the bridge and landing several feet below upside down.

The top was completely smashed but small additional damage was done to the car. How that the occupants escaped serious injury is considered miraculous.

Mr. Smoot, noticing the accident, stopped his car and ran to the assistance of those who were pinned underneath the overturned machine, while Mrs. Smoot drove to the city to summon aid. Drs. P. C. Coleman and Reeves Coleman went to the scene but found that no one had been injured.

The car, a Ford touring car, was turned over upon its wheels, cranked up and by its own power backed up to the embankment and into the street. "You may disfigure a Ford, but you can't keep one down," Smoot stated in discussing the characteristics of a "flivver."

625,000 BOTTLES ARE SOLD IN NEW YORK

Biggest Thing of Kind Ever Seen in that State, Declares Big Wholesaler

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Evans-Snow Company, the well known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tnalac is sold in Colorado by W. R. Charters Drug Store and by all other druggists.

OVERHEAD HURTS CATTLE INDUSTRY

With the market price of cattle down approximately 50 per cent since May 1920 and the meat consumption since 1919, decreased eight pounds per capita throughout the United States the cattle industry faces a slow death with every step of the ranchman doubled and tripled. Such is the situation, despite the fact that this section of West Texas is stocked to within 80 per cent of normal on cattle and is fully stocked considering the great increase in sheep.

"The decrease in the consumption of beef has been one of the great factors in bringing about the present situation," says Ralph H. Harris, San Angelo Banker and cattleman, and a member of the executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, whose observations are given above. "Hoover urged food conservation and meat was the first to suffer.

"Then there is too wide a margin between what the butcher pays the packer and what he receives for his meat; yet this difference is not near so great as that between the prices paid by cafes restaurants and hotels and their charges on the bill of fare. Go into the average public eating house and you pay from $1 to $1.25 for a half a pound steak which probably cost the cafe or restaurant 15c or 20c."

One of the big packing companies in an advertisement in a magazine of a recent date pointed out that a 1,000 pound steer cost $117.90 in May 1920 and $76.30 in May, this year, representing a decrease of 35 per cent. The sale price of the beef at the packing house declined from $100.70 to $76.09 within the year, a drop of $24.61 or 25 per cent. The discrepancy is accounted for in a drop of 71 per cent or from $25.41 to $7.48 in the by-products of the steer, in other words the 450 pounds of hide, fat and waste. This decline it is shown, was more than double the live animals decline and nearly three times the dressed beef price decline. Stated in another way approximately one half the steers brought in May 1921, only about one-fourth of what it had brought twelve months previous. Since May the decline in the market price of live cattle has changed from 35 to 50 per cent.

When a stockman ships his cattle to market today he pays railroad rates that are more than 100 per cent higher than before the war. One dollar is charged for bedding a car and if the cattle are unloaded en route to be fed and watered the charge is $2. The railroads used to do these things free. On the way to market the car of cattle are fed three bales of hay, for which $7 is charged.

Yardage and commission rates are out of all proportion to the market price received for the cattle. Yardage has gone up from 25c to 35c per head for a grown cow and from 15c to 25c per head for a calf. The commission on a car of cattle has increased from $12 per car to $18 to $22 per car.

Cattle that brought 10c a pound in September last year, bring only 5c and 6c today, yet there exists in the United States a shortage of 15 million beef cattle, comparing the number in 1920 with the number in 1910, and there is an increased population. Cattle are as cheap as in 1902.

Nature must take its course and can be of most assistance in bringing about a return to normalcy. If rain fall in West Texas by October 1, grass will be revived, water holes will be filled and live stock will winter well. There are only 80 per cent as many cattle in the country as before the drought when the numbers were depleted 50 per cent, but the increase in sheep has balanced this. We have two good lamb, kid and calf crops and when prices do return the producer should be in position to "come back"

One encouraging feature in the present situation is that Texas live stock raisers are finding a market for their animals in Mexico. Up to August 1, it is understood that 5,400 cars of cattle were sent across the Rio Grande from Texas the bulk of the stuff going from South Texas. West Texas however has sent some cattle and within the last sixty days there have been several Mexican buyers in the San Angelo Country.

Mexico city has a packing house capable of slaughtering 500 animals a day. There is one big stock yard and yardage facilities are being increased in the establishment of a yard by Lee Russell of Fort Worth and Jim Primm of El Paso.

Shipping cattle to Mexico will better enable the Fort Worth market to handle the live stock that is sent there and in relieving congestion should somewhat stimulate prices.

Plant shade trees in November to get the winter rains. See R. T. Manuel, he represents F. T. Ramsey & Son at Austin, one of the oldest and best nurseries in the state. tf

They prefer Camels because Camels give them the smoothest, mellowest smoke they can buy—because they love the mild, rich flavor of choicest tobaccos, perfectly blended—and because Camels leave NO CIGARETTE AFTERTASTE.

Like every man who does his own thinking, you want fine tobacco in your cigarettes. You'll find it in Camels.

And, mind you, no flashy package just for show. No extra wrappers! No costly frills! These things don't improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons.

MITCHELL COUNTY FARMERS NEED 500 COTTON PICKERS

The cotton farmers of Mitchell county are in need of 500 cotton pickers immediately, according to W. A. Dulin, county farm agent. Mr. Dulin has appealed to the Chamber of Commerce for assistance in supplying this labor and the Chamber has forwarded the application to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with headquarters at Stamford.

Weather for gathering cotton has been ideal during the past week and farmers are offering a price of $1 per hundred pounds.

Mr. Dulin stated that the farmers would prefer to employ families to gather the cotton and most of them have either suitable houses or camping sites to offer.
