TWO-COUNTY TEACHERS MEETING AT SWEETWATER

The Tri-County Teacher's Institute, composed of the teachers of Nolan, Mitchell and Fisher counties, will be convened Monday, Dec. 19, at 10 o'clock, a. m., in the auditorium of the Nolan County court house at Sweetwater. The institute will continue in session throughout the week, closing following the session of Friday, December 23.

Judge J. C. Hall, ex-officio county superintendent of Mitchell county, spent the day Monday in Sweetwater in conference with Miss Minnie E. Fowler, superintendent of Nolan county, and Henry E. DeBusk, superintendent of Fisher county, arranging the program to be followed during the session. Judge Hall estimates that 500 teachers from the three counties will be in attendance.

The Parent-Teacher's Association of Sweetwater are making elaborate plans for entertaining the visiting teachers. Hall stated, This association has already pledged to furnish without cost rooms for all these teachers and will also serve hot lunches at the court house at noon. Co-operating with the association in these plans are Hon. Geo. H. Sheppard, mayor of Sweetwater, and officials of the Sweetwater schools.

Some of the leading educators of the State are scheduled for addresses. Among them are the following:

Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of A. & M. College; S. M. N. Marrs, of Austin, first assistant State superintendent of public instruction; M. B. Johnson of Canyon, superintendent Training School, West Texas State Normal; N. S. Smith of Waco, State representative of the present writing system; Miss Dixie Wood of Waco, primary supervisor of the Waco schools; L. A. Inman of Dallas, director of music in the Dallas schools and others.

The institute will be called to order on the opening date by Miss Minnie E. Fowler, superintendent of Nolan county. Devotional services will then be conducted by Rev. T. Y. Adams, pastor of the First Baptist church at Sweetwater. The address of welcome will then be delivered by Hon. George H. Sheppard, followed by response by Henry DeBusk of Roby.

Every independent and common school district in the three counties are to have a part in the institute. Judge Hall stated, with the exception of the Colorado schools. The schools here are conducting teachers institute this year independently of the tri-county plan.

The several phases of school work are to be divided under topic heads and each of these departments are to be under the personal direction of a competent superintendent. In this arrangement three divisions are to be prominently distinguished—the lower and higher grades in the city and town schools and the rural schools.

Another feature of the work will be in regular periods assigned for the acclimating of the rural teachers from each county together for the study of special topics. This work will be under the personal direction of the county superintendents.

ROGERS BOX SUPPER NETS $93 FOR CHURCH ORGAN

$93.35 was realized from the sale of boxes at the community social and box supper given at Rogers school house, nine miles northwest of Colorado, Friday night. The boxes were auctioned by County Judge J. C. Hall. This fund will be used to supplement money already raised for purchasing an organ for the Sunday school and church there, and also to equip the building with good lights.

The school building was packed with people, many of them coming from a distance of several miles. Addresses were made by local citizens and some of the visitors, and music was furnished by the Lorraine Orchestra, directed by Will Martin.

AMERICAN LEGION MEET ATTENDED WITH IMPORTANCE

"The meeting of the Legion tonight at Legion Hall is to be an important one, and it is urged that all members and officers be present," Joe Y. Fraser, post commander, stated Thursday morning.

SHERIFF CHESNEY BRINGS ANOTHER STILL TOWN

Sheriff W. J. Chesney made another addition to his collection of contraband paraphernalia Saturday night when he captured a still six miles south of Colorado and brought the equipment to his office. A barrel of mash was found and destroyed and the still was ready for a run, he stated. No whiskey was found about the premises. Chesney stated Tuesday morning that no arrests had been made in connection with the find.

CHURCHES OF CITY PLAN CHRISTMAS TREE PROGRAMS

Tree programs at the several churches of the city are to be featured on the eve before Christmas, according to plans now being worked out. At least three of the Sunday schools have already begun to arrange these programs, and others will probably do so within the next few days.

The Epworth League is also arranging for a Christmas program, to be given on Sunday evening, December 25, at the auditorium of the First Methodist church. W. B. Crockett, president of the League, has announced.

4,000 BALES POOLED BY MITCHELL BUREAU

The Mitchell County Farm Bureau has received 4,000 bales of cotton at Colorado by farmer members pooling the product with the Commodity Marketing Department of the organization. This information was given The Record Wednesday afternoon by T. A. Dickerson, manager of the compress, where all the cotton pooled by Mitchell County members is concentrated for pressing.

A total of 2,300 bales of this cotton had been sold, Mr. Dickinson stated. Several hundred bales were sold from here direct, one shipment going direct to the seaboard for export to Japan. Most of the staple, however, has been shipped to Houston for concentration.

E. M. Baldwin, secretary of the county bureau, stated Wednesday that he was receiving reports on grades of the cotton pooled by Mitchell County members and that not one bale had yet been classified below strict middling. All cotton of the bureau is graded by experts at the Dallas offices.

WEST TEXAS EXHIBIT WINS FIRST PRIZE AGAIN

The agricultural exhibit, gathered from West Texas counties and arranged and exhibited by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, won first prize at the recent Horizon exhibition over strong competitors for the honor. This exhibit also carried off first prize at the Texas Cotton Palace at Waco.

A number of West Texas counties among them Howard, adjoining Mitchell on the west, contributed products for this exhibit. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce financed the displaying of the products and throughout the two expositions an expert was in personal charge to answer the thousands of questions about West Texas that were asked by people who thronged the booth at both cities.

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce has an enlarged photograph of the exhibit as shown at Waco. The names of all contributing counties of West Texas are shown in bold relief and the exhibits were, perhaps, one of the most effective advertising mediums of the possibilities of this section of the state ever brought before the general public.

WESTBROOK WOMAN DIES IN COLORADO SANITARIUM

Mrs. T. A. Stephens of Westbrook died Sunday morning at one o'clock in the Colorado Sanitarium. The remains were forwarded to Westbrook Sunday afternoon by J. H. Greene, undertaker.

Funeral services were conducted at the Westbrook Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. A. D. Leach, assisted by Rev. M. C. Bishop of Colorado. Interment was made in the Westbrook cemetery.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE THE RECORD'S AMERICANIZATION SERIES.

Let your imagination carry you back to the year 1776. You stand in the hall of the old Colonial Court House of Philadelphia. Thru the open door you see the Continental Congress assembled; the moment for a great decision is drawing near.

The first little impulse to the general upheaval of popular spirit, the Tea Tax, the Stamp Act, drop into insignificance; they are almost forgotten; the revolutionary spirit has risen far above them. It puts the claim to independence upon the broad basis of eternal rights, as self-evident as the sun, as broad as the world, as common as the air of heaven.

The struggle of the colonies against the usurping government of Great Britain has risen to the proud dimensions of a struggle for man for liberty and equality. Not only the supremacy of old England is to be shaken off, but a new organization of society is to be built up, on the basis of liberty and equality. That is the Declaration of Independence! That is the American Revolution!

It is a common thing at men of coarse cast of mind to lose themselves in the mean pursuit of selfish ends as to become insensible to the grand and sublime. Measuring every character and every event in history, by the low standard of their own individualities, incapable of grasping broad and generous ideas they will belittle every great thing they cannot deny, and drag down every principle to the sordid arena of aspiring selfishness.

Eighteen hundred years ago there were men who saw in incipient Christianity nothing but a mere wrangle between Jewish theologians, by a carpenter's boy, and carried on by a few crazy fishermen. Three hundred years ago there were men who saw in the great reformatory

13,265 BALES COTTON WEIGHED AT COLORADO

Receipts at the Colorado Cotton Yard Wednesday at noon totaled 9,265 bales and at the same time the Mitchell County Farm Bureau had received and weighed 4,000 bales here, placing the total yard receipts at 13,265. This was in excess of the total gin receipts here up to that time, which totaled 11,550 bales.

The Colorado Compress had handled 12,600 bales of cotton for the present season up to Wednesday afternoon and the wharves and yards were practically filled with cotton awaiting compression. T. A. Dickerson, manager of the compress, states that business with him has been good during the past several days.

GRAND JURY CONTINUES IN SESSION THURSDAY

The Mitchell County grand jury, convened Monday of last week by District Judge W. P. Leslie, was still in session Thursday, and it was not known when the body would complete its deliberations for the term. It was considered probable, however, that the jury would not file its final report before the end of the week. The report of finding one bill of indictment, a felony, against a negro, Green Garrett, was made. A large number of alleged law violations have been investigated and other bills will probably be voted before adjournment.

During the two weeks court has been in session nothing but cases of minor importance have been tried. These, for the most part, have been tax and divorce suits. The jury panel has been summoned to appear Monday and all criminal and other jury cases set down for this term will be heard next week.

ATTENDING STATE MASONIC MEETING AT WACO TEMPLE

J. R. Sheppard and L. E. Elliott are in Waco to attend the State Lodge Royal Arch Masons and A. F. & A. M. in session at the State Temple there this week. Sheppard is the Colorado delegate representing the local Royal Arch chapter and Elliott is representing the Blue Lodge.

movement of the sixteenth century, not the emancipation of the individual conscience, but a mere fuss raised by a German monk who wanted to get married. Two hundred years ago there were men who saw in Hampden's refusal to pay ship money, not a bold vindication of constitutional liberty, but the crazy antics of a man mean enough to quarrel about a few shillings.

And now; there are men who see in the Declaration of Independence and the American revolution, not the reorganization of human society upon a basis of liberty and equality, but a dodge of some English colonists who were unwilling to pay their taxes.

It is vain for demagogues to raise its short arms against the truth of history. The Declaration of Independence stands there. No candid man ever read it without seeing and feeling that very word of it was dedicated by deep and earnest thought, and that every sentence of it bears the stamp of philosophic generality.

It is the summing up of the results of the philosophical development of the age; the practical embodiment of the progressive ideas, which, far from being confined to the narrow limits of the English colonies, pervaded the very atmosphere of all civilized countries.

(Editor's Note—The articles appearing in the above space from week to week are taken from "Americanization" by Elwood Griscom, Jr. This excellent volume, which is a collection of articles upon the general theme of patriotism and good citizenship, is presented to the schools of Texas by the Bodies of Scottish Rite Masonry in Texas.) The Record has made arrangements to publish these articles during the coming year.

MITCHELL BENEFIT ASSN. ORGANIZED AT COLORADO

C. S. Thomas, secretary-treasurer of the Mitchell County Limited Benefit Association, stated Wednesday afternoon that the organization would be issuing policies within the next few days. Applications have already been received from 100 local citizens for membership, Thomas stated.

The Association, a local insurance and benefit organization, will issue life and indemnity policies the amount to be pledged the beneficiary of any policy being the equivalent of one dollar per member to be collected and paid by the association. J. E. Greene heads the association as president. Other officers are: Jas. T. Johnson, vice-president; C. S. Thomas, secretary-treasurer; J. C. Hall and G. B. Slaton are on the board of directors.

FREIGHT DEPOT CONSTRUCTION PROGRESSING SLOWLY

Construction work on the Texas and Pacific freight depot at Colorado is progressing very slowly and the structure, which was to have been completed in October, will not be finished for several weeks, at the present rate.

Colorado has been without the facilities of a freight depot for more than a year and when the new building was commenced in September railway officials pledged that the depot would be ready for use before the end of October. During the past year the Texas & Pacific has handled their local freight business from a few box cars standing on siding in the industrial yards.

271 MITCHELL CO. CITIZENS RESPOND TO ROLL CALL

271 citizens of Colorado and Mitchell County responded to the Fifth Roll Call of the American Red Cross, according to information given The Record Thursday. The annual membership dues of these totaled $340, approximately the same amount as received in the drive a year ago. The Fifth Roll Call was directed by Mrs. J. G. Merritt.

R. C. Dale, deputy sheriff of Lorraine, was in Colorado Tuesday.

MITCHELL IS BANNER COTTON PRODUCER 1921

According to statistics compiled by W. M. Stewart, director of the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce at Washington, Mitchell county is the banner West Texas county in cotton production this year. In a report recently received and giving ginnings for the various cotton producing counties of West Texas, this county headed the list. The nearest competitor for this honor was Knox county, with a showing of 450 bales less than Mitchell.

The report shows that prior to November 14 there had been a total of 21,650 bales ginned in Mitchell county for this year, as compared with 12,940 bales November 14, 1920. 8,485 bales had been ginned in Howard county.

TWO CASES OF DYPTHERIA REPORTED AT WESTBROOK

Miss Margaret Lasseter, postmistress at Westbrook, was in Colorado Friday afternoon and reported that two cases of dyptheria had developed at Westbrook.

The children suffering from the disease were not seriously ill, she stated, and no epidemic was contemplated.

BOND ELECTION TO BE HELD THURSDAY

The election ordered recently by the board of trustees, Colorado Independent School District, to determine whether bonds in the sum of $80,000 shall be authorized with which to build a new high school and repair the two buildings now in use, is to be held Thursday of next week at the city hall, F. A. Winn, presiding as judge of the election.

The proposed bonds are to be serials in the denomination of $2,000 each, bearing six per cent interest. The last of the serials will mature in 1962, should the issue be voted.

Small opposition has developed to the proposed transcript, and the opinion that the bonds will be voted by a good majority is prevalent. All persons offering to vote in this election must comply with provisions of the Terrell Election Law and also be entitled to vote under the classification of "property owner."

ROBERTS AUTO TOP CO. RECEIVES NEW EQUIPMENT

The Roberts Auto Top Co. has recently added a new top building machine to their equipment and are now prepared to build tops of the best design. This company is one of the best equipped auto top companies in the West and can give prompt and efficient service. They repair and build auto tops, remove dints from bodies and fenders, and carry a line of windshields, and spot lights.

MITCHELL GIN RECEIPTS TOTAL 22,000 BALES

The thirteen gins in Mitchell county had received a total of 22,000 bales of cotton of the 1921 crop Thursday at noon, according to data compiled by the Chamber of Commerce. Of this number, 11,000 had been received at Colorado. Total gin receipts in the county will approximate 23,000 bales for the season, it is estimated. This is 7,000 bales in excess of an estimate of the crop made in August by W. A. Dulin, county farm agent, and the Chamber of Commerce.

Farmers who have lived in Mitchell county during the past twenty years state that there was never, perhaps, a fall more favorable to the cotton farmer than the one now closing has been. Weather conditions have been most ideal throughout the gathering season, there having been no rain, wind storms nor hail to damage the cotton or retard the work of gathering and marketing it.

Figuring the 22,000 bales of cotton already ginned in the county at $100 per bale, places the value at $2,200,000.00. For a few weeks during the early part of the season the market value of the staple and seed averaged $127, and for one week during the latter part of September the daily average value of cotton receipts at Colorado was $36,000.00.

A striking feature of the cotton crop this year is the early date on which the crop has been gathered. It is estimated that the last bale will have been ginned before January 1, which is said to be a precedent in this county for those years in which crops as good as the one for 1921 were made. At this date last year about one-half as much cotton had been ginned in the county, although receipts for the county for the year's crop totaled several thousand more than will be the case for the present year.

The county farm agent is conducting an active campaign among the cotton growers of the county to create a more uniform demand for pure bred seed for planting. This campaign has been pushed by Mr. Dulin during the past three or four years and each season additional cotton growers have pledged to grow standardized staple cotton. Last spring several hundred bushels of these seeds were shipped to Colorado and Lorraine for the cotton growers and it is planned to place additional shipments with the farmers of the county this next spring. Dulin stated last week that 300 or 400 bushels of the seed had already been placed.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Majors and son, Sam Majors, and daughter, Miss Elsie, were dinner guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Majors, Thursday, and they remained over for the Elk's reception and dance that night at the Elk's Club.—Sweetwater Reporter.

MARRIED. V. R. Laycock and Miss Pauline Carter were married at the Methodist parsonage Saturday afternoon, Rev. C. L. Browning officiating.

Merry Wives. Mrs. Leslie Crowder was hostess for the Merry Wives this week. Her guests were: Mesdames Soper, Sandusky, Donnell and Misses Mammie Riordan and Marion Adams. At the social hour fruit gelatine, cake and hot chocolate was served. The meeting next week is with Mrs. Boyd Dozier. Instead of playing "42" it was decided to spend the time sewing as this will be the last meeting before the vacation for Christmas holidays.

Harmony Club. The Harmony Club met with Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson Wednesday afternoon. There were five tables of "42" Besides the members, Mrs. Johnson had as her guests, Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. R. B. Terrell, Mrs. M. C. Ratliff, Mrs. T. J. Coffee, Miss Bernice Terrell and Miss Katherine Justice. Delightful refreshments were served, sandwiches, pickles, coffee, pineapple ruche and fruit cake, and on each plate was a daintily wrapped favor. The Club adjourned until the first Wednesday in January because of the Christmas holidays, although the members are planning to entertain their husbands at Mrs. D. C. Byrne's during the holidays.

WITH THE CHURCHES

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH. The attendance at Bible school and church services were better last Sunday than we have had for some time. A few of the regular attendants were out, but hope they will be at all the services Sunday, Dec. 4th. The new pastor's study is now complete and the Men's Bible study class will dedicate it next Sunday morning. Hope every member will be there. Do not forget the hour, 10 o'clock.

The subjects for next Lord's day will be for the morning hour: "Manna," and for the evening hour: "The Bright and Dark Sides of Life." Come and worship with us. You will receive a sincere welcome. D. R. HARDISON, Pastor.

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH. A good increase in Sunday school attendance last Sunday. Let's make it better next Sunday. Time for Sunday school is 9:45.

Sunday morning is our regular communion service. A short service will precede this sacred duty of the church. Let every member of the church try to be present in the morning.

Sunday evening at 7:15, the subject of the sermon will be "Clubs and Club Members." The character study will be a Bible character for whom a famous club has been named. You may be a member of that club. Come out and see.

The Epworth League is prospering. All young people are invited to attend its meetings—Sunday evening at 6:30.

At the mid-week service we are studying the New Testament Epistles. The one for study next week is Paul's Second Letter to the Corinthians. You are invited to attend.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH. The pastor, Rev. M. C. Bishop, is in Dallas attending the State Baptist Association. It was not known Thursday if he would return to Colorado in time for preaching services, but all members of the Sunday school are urged to be in their places.

STEPHENS COUNTY TO BEGIN ON BANKHEAD ROAD SOON

Breckenridge, Texas, Nov. 30.—Construction will start the coming week on the Bankhead highway traversing Stephens county from the Pale Pinto line to the Shackelford county line, the length is thirty miles and will cost nearly a million dollars to build.

The winning bid was submitted by the Womack Construction company headed by John W. Kirby of Houston, whose figure was $100,000 less than the nearest of seven other competitors. Less the crushed rock the figure was $591,901. Stone available for the work is valued at $264,000 and with all other incidentals the work will amount to $862,291. This job is to be finished in 320 working days. It is believed by the manager of the Womack Company that the work will be completed in considerably shorter time and probably around 250 days.

Only Stephens county men will be employed and 175 will begin work in a few days. More than 132 teams will be worked. The state and federal aid on this project is $300,000. There is in a local bank here $2,000,000 for highway work of which some $300,000 is from a former bond issue.

When the stretch of the Bankhead highway in this county will have been completed there will be a perfect highway from Dallas and Tarrant counties through the oil fields to the West and on through Shackelford county into Taylor county.

Taking Desperate Chances.
It is true that many contract severe colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others to take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack and paves the way for the more serious diseases. Can you afford to take such desperate chances when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famous for its cures of bad colds may be had for a trifle?

NORFLEET SLUGGED BY "BUNCO MAN" CONFEDERATE

J. Frank Norfleet of Hale Center and well known in Colorado was slugged by a confederate of the fifth man identified with the famed stock scheme that defrauded him out of $45,000 at Fort Worth several months ago, according to information reaching Colorado.

Norfleet, with his son, was in Montreal, Canada, when the man wanted by him was seen and just as he made a dash to capture the fugitive, some one slugged "Hale Center Nemesis," knocking him down. His man escaped.

Norfleet has attained National prominence as a Nemesis in bringing to justice the men who swindled him. Joe Furey, one of the men, was arrested by Norfleet in Jacksonville, Florida, a few months ago, following a chase across the continent, and is now serving a sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary. Two others were also arrested and given the maximum sentences in the pen, one of whom, E. J. Ward, committed suicide while being held in jail at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Norfleet is a frequent visitor to Colorado and was registered at the Barcroft three weeks ago. His father lives southeast of Colorado in Coke County and was prominently identified with the pioneer citizens of this section.

LINCOLN DEFENDED FAMOUS BRIDGE AT ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 30.—Monument to the legal skill of Abraham Lincoln, and marking the spot where the Mississippi river was first spanned by a bridge, and where the first locomotive was ferried across it to its western bank, the Rock Island bridge here now rounding out a half century as government property, is also a silent token of almost fifty years of peace, established between the rival forces of railroad transportation and water traffic.

Most important of the cases in which Abraham Lincoln was employed as lawyer, the case of Hurd vs. the Rock Island Railroad Bridge Company, in 1857 also marks the height and the end of the struggle between the two interests, which in reality seemed to be a clash between the interests of the growing railroad city of Chicago, and the then metropolis and river town of St. Louis. Chicago had 100,000 inhabitants; St. Louis, 150,000.

From the first it had been the contention of river interests that building bridges across navigable streams was an illegal obstruction of traffic. Notwithstanding their vigorous opposition, a wooden bridge was completed over the Mississippi in 1855. Attempts had been made during the construction to destroy it and to intimidate the builders.

A cause for war in the courts was not long delayed. The steamboat Effie Afton, collided with one of the supports of the bridge and was badly damaged. Suit was brought in the federal court at Chicago, by the commander of the vessel, Captain Hurd against the bridge company.

Abraham Lincoln was retained by the railroad bridge company to defend its right to maintain the bridge. He won. The bridge was to stay. However, the court in rendering its decision, enunciated then that rule of traffic which holds to this day, that river boats have always the right of way. Because of the ruling every railroad train in the country today must stop at a bridge, and the bridge must go up, rather than require that the boat retard its speed.

First railroad trains to be propelled by their own power across the Mississippi river passed over the bridge that occasioned that ruling. At this same place, however, months before, six locomotives were ferried across, giving the west half of the continent its first iron horses.

Fifty years have almost passed since that bridge was torn down. The government, venturing into a new field of endeavor, in 1872 built its first public bridge, replacing it. The railroad company, which has become the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, joined with the government and shared the expense.

The first government bridge stood until 1896, when a larger and better steel bridge took its place. It was designed by Ralph Mojeska, son of Mme. Mojeska, the actress.

Distinction attached to that bridge also, in that its drawn span, at that time was the largest ever made.

The bridge as it now stands was completed in December 1896. Its construction by the government was deemed necessary because of the location here of one of the government arsenals, which since the war is said to be the largest in the world.

Ownership in the bridge is vested in the government but provision has been made that any other railroad may have use of it, by joining with the government and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad in bearing a proportionate share of the cost of construction.

PUBLICITY SCORES KNOCKOUT IN ANNULLMENT RAIL STRIKE

Publicity won another conspicuous victory when the railroad strike scheduled for Oct. 30th was cancelled by order of the railroad brotherhood executives.

On October 27th L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors, said that the unions had decided to call off the strike because of "the growing public opinion that the strike would be against the labor board, and consequently the government, and not against the railroads."

"It was evident also that the entire Washington administration was opposed to us and that we have had little chance of gaining our objectives," said Mr. Sheppard.

"We called this strike to gain certain rights to which our men were entitled," Mr. Sheppard told the Associated Press. "It soon became evident, however, that the roads were succeeding in their misleading propaganda to the effect that we really would be striking against the government."

"This railroad propaganda found its way to the United States Railroad Labor Board. This government agency told us that it would look on a strike as against it and the government and not against the roads, and that the full force of the government would be brought to bear against us if we walked out. Under such circumstances there was nothing to do but annul our orders for the October 30th walkout."

The significance of this incident has not failed to impress the public as well as railroad labor. Contrasting the relatively helpless position of the Labor Board unassisted by public opinion with its power when supported by the press, the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal says:

"Whenever by any means the larger controversies of the industrial realm can be bought fairly within the court of public opinion and adjudicated upon a basis of the common interests, then there is likely to be peace—and, what is more important, there is likely to be justice. Abstractly it is true enough, as critics of arbitration point out, that 'capitalists cannot be compelled to hire men, and men cannot be compelled to work. But given a concrete situation, where the facts are broadly known, the community's sense of what is reasonable and right will rarely fail to compel respect. It is upon this line, perhaps, that further advances in effective arbitration will be made."

ROGERS ITEMS.

The house was filled to overflowing Friday evening with a people who know how to make a box supper real successful. The stage was stacked high with pretty boxes so appealing that one had hard work to wait quietly until the time for auctioning Judge Hall and Rev. Cooper were present and added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by their addresses. The Lorraine band furnished the music, which was a veritable feast within itself and was greatly enjoyed by everyone. The boxes were auctioned by Judge Hall with his never failing pep and energy. The receipts were $90.00, which will complete the payment on the organ and furnish the means for lighting the school building. The hearty response of the people of Rogers and of the neighboring communities to this call proves that the progress and improvement of Rogers has behind it not only the good wishes but also the influence and abilities of her friends and since co-operation is one of the most essential factors in community welfare, we feel that our Sunday school must needs be a success.

The girls and boys basket ball teams met the two teams of Lorraine on the latter's court last Thursday afternoon. Lorraine won both games but we feel that it was well worth our while and we enjoyed the games.

Broiling bacon and toasting marshmallows over a camp fire on Thanksgiving night is one of the nicest things that one can do. The young people of Rogers built their fire on the flat rocks in the bed of the Colorado river Thursday night and enjoyed one of the greatest feasts known to young lives. Greasy hands and faces served only to make the spread more appetizing and it is said that they were still able to sing when leaving time came.

Rogers was well represented Sunday at the religious services at Horns Chapel. The splendid Sunday school being conducted there gave fresh inspiration to the visitors and they came home with the determination to put into their newly organized Sunday school all the earnestness and zeal that real success calls for.

Miss Pauline Smith of Colorado spent the week-end in the home of her grandfather, Mr. W. M. Green. Earnest Rhodes of Colorado spent Sunday with home folks.

Mr. Sam Smith and Miss Jewell Coles, teachers of the Horns Chapel school, visited the school here last Thursday.

H. L. Rhodes and son, Finley, accompanied Mr. A. D. Cross to his new home at Sweetwater Saturday.

Ocy Green and family of Colorado spent Sunday in the home of Mr. Green's father, W. M. Green.

SCURRY FARMERS TO BE PROSPEROUS

Snyder, Texas, Nov. 30.—Having already ginned approximately 18,000 bales of cotton in Scurry county, of which approximately half is represented in this city's total, the local Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the Dairy-Poultry-Beef Campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has put its plans into effect to have every farm in the county supplied with laying hens and dairy cows.

A good market is at hand. The county is in splendid financial condition, and local bankers predict that the county will be free of debt by January 1st, or as soon thereafter as the complete marketing of the present crop has occurred.

LEAGUE PRESIDENT APPEALS FOR SUPPORT SCHOOL BONDS

In a statement made for publication Tuesday by Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, president of the Colorado Civic League, she makes a strong appeal to the women voters of Colorado Independent School District to support the bond issue to be voted upon Thursday of next week.

The Civic League has a large membership, composed of leading club women of the city and the president feels reasonably sure that these ladies will poll a heavy vote for the bonds.

The statement of Mrs. Whipkey follows:

"When we were given the right to vote we lost the power to criticize. We now are, as far as our influence and votes go, responsible for public measures. Let us hold sacred our right as citizens and use our vote for the good of our children and our children's children."

"On Thursday, December 8, there will be an election held in Colorado to determine whether bonds in the sum of $80,000 shall be authorized with which to purchase a site and build and equip a new school building and to make needed permanent repairs on the two buildings we now have."

"The opportunity is ours to render a service worthy of our citizenship—to place within reach of not only the present generation, but those who come after, facilities fit to equip them for attaining success in life. Our time is here to help raise Texas from the 34th state in educational lines. Will you not do your best that a heavy vote be polled in favor of these bonds?"

WOULD ASK STATE U. FOR A SALE OF ACREAGE

Seminole, Texas, Nov. 30.—Arthur L. Duff, County Attorney of Gaines county, has taken up with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce the matter of persuading the Board of Regents of the University of Texas to actually sell the land owned by the university in Gaines and Andrews counties. The university now owns more than 500,000 acres of land in Andrews county alone. Ninety per cent of this land is suitable for agriculture and 75 per cent of this land is first class agricultural land. The Midland & Northwestern railroad bisects this great body of land for a distance of more than 15 miles. Mr. Duff believes that the university would net considerably more money out of the land if the same were sold to settlers than is the case now by leasing it for grazing purposes only to cattle men. However he advocates selling the land on a smaller basis than was the case in the sale of school land in West Texas during the past 20 years most of which was sold on a four-section basis. He would be opposed to letting one man have more than one section, and believes that if the sections were cut in halves or even quarters that most of it would be taken and by bonafide agriculturists who would build homes on this land. The sale and settlement of this land is a considerable factor in the prospects for the resumption of railroad traffic along the Midland & Northwestern railway, now in receivership and litigation.

When this land was put on the market the country around Seminole was supposed to be good for nothing except for grazing purposes, but the last few years has established the fact that it is a splendid agricultural country. It would be a serious mistake if this land should continue to be leased for long terms in the future rather than to sell it to bona-fide settlers. If such leases were made, at the expiration of leases now about to expire, this would mean that the country would be held back many more years from agricultural development and settlement.

OBSERVATION AN AID TO PREPARATION.

Did you ever stop long enough to look around you and study the characters of people about you? If not, do you not think it is worth while to make this one of your regular daily studies? If this is done we may be able to benefit our own lives and build our own characters into a better, fuller, more rounded building. If the real character of the different people we meet on the streets was known, the results would be surprising. And the difference in those who rub elbows would be as pigmies compared to giants or as great as the difference in the buildings along the walk—huts and dens compared to skyscrapers.

As this difference is quite evident the study should be worthy of much consideration. By making daily comparisons and cultivating the best we seen others and rejecting the undesirable qualities; ones own life is slowly but surely forged into a piece of metal that will withstand the test of time as a diamond withstands the "acid test."

Some time your acid test will come. some time you will be analyzed and what will be the result? Will you be as a steel rail correctly tempered having the proper requisites to uphold the enormous traffic that comes your way or will you crumble or give way as poorly prepared metal?

The world does not care for what you have done, but is muchly concerned in "what you can do now." If you can stand under the weight, your services are very desirable.

Whether or not you stand depends entirely with you choice. With many examples before you, you may be what you may be what you want to be, and above all you should want to be what you should be.

As Burns said: "If we could see ourselves as others see us." And upon this foundation build or add the more refined chemicals that are discovered as a result of our observation we would make a cable of our lives woven strand by strand, spanning across the chasm into the land of "Success" that would be stronger than the cable that spans the Hudson river and upholds the Brooklyn bridge.

Know thyself and build on a sure foundation.

Any Fire Insurance is good until you have a fire, then you want the best Companies. I represent only high-grade reliable Companies who pay claims promptly. Come in let's talk it over.—Walter A. Grubbs. Phone 204.

COMMON SENSE.

Look over your debts and your daily balance.

How much do you owe tomorrow? Nothing perhaps. Then it is a new day, the whole of which you can devote to work for your future and recreation, though which you can get enjoyment out of life as you go along.

Perhaps again you owe it four or five hours you have borrowed today or last week, by leaving undone some task that must be done by six o'clock tomorrow night.

It is a pretty good plan to keep square with tomorrow right.

It may bring new tasks and new uses for time that you don't know anything about.

It may bring new opportunities. All opportunities are brought by some tomorrow or other.

If you have to spend all or a part of it paying with your labor and time for dead horses, the new tasks will not be done, and the new opportunities will knock at your door in vain.

You will be to busy paying off the old debt to heed either of them.

But if you are all square—if you owe nothing, tomorrow may be the turning point in your life.

Very important things, with a critical bearing on our lives, can happen in a few hours, or in a few minutes for that matter.

If one of them is going to happen tomorrow it will pay to have the time account opened so there will be the minutes or the hours that you need for it.

Most of the night and the Sunday time that all men expend could be cut to a minimum if we never borrowed from tomorrow.

Yet we do—and right along. It is a bad and improvident habit.

We can cure it if we try, but we must try very hard, for of all the habits that fix themselves on our backs like the Old Man of the Sea, the habit of procrastination is the most persistent and deadly.

Keep the balance sheet under your eye all the time. And if you find tomorrow figures as a debtor, pay it off and do it today.

Then you won't get out of bed with a load on your mind in the morning, but with an easy conscience and a feeling that you at last are in a position to accomplish something.

"SCRIPTURE PUZZLE."

God made Adam of the dust. But thought it best to make me first; So I was made before the man, To answer God's most Holy plan. My body he did make complete, But without arms, hands, or feet, My ways and actions he did control. But I was made without a soul. A living creature I became, And Adam gave to me my name. Then from his presence I withdrew, And no more of Adam ever knew. From them I never went astray; My Maker's laws I did obey. Thousands of miles I have gone in fear. But never on earth did I appear, I labor both day and night,

To follow men is my delight. Thousands of people young and old Will by my death great light behold. My Lord in me did something see— 'Twas a living soul in me. A Soul of me my God did claim. And took from me the soul again. And when from me the soul had fled I was as when I first was made, So without feet, or arms or soul, I now roam from pole to pole. To Heaven's happiness I can never go, Never to the grave nor hell below. The Scriptures I cannot believe, Of right or wrong I can't perceive. Plenty of constriction paper at the Record office.

Everything in office supplies at the Record office. Adding machine paper at the Record office.

THE BOND ISSUE.

The election to determine whether bonds in the sum of $80,000 to be issued serially covering a period of forty years and bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, with which to purchase a site, build and equip a new high school building in Colorado and to make needed repairs to the buildings now in use by the district will be held here Thursday of next week.

All property tax payers of the Colorado Independent School district, who are qualified voters, are entitled to a voice in this election, and this includes all women of the district who are qualified voters and who either own property or have an equity in community property in the district on which taxes are paid.

The fact that many of the classes in the grammar school and a few of the classes in the High School are crowded beyond the capacity of the rooms assigned to them prompted local citizens to petition the school board for the bond election. The petition was signed by more than seventy property tax paying voters of the district, but only twenty of such signatures to the petition would have authorized the order calling for the election.

Some opposition has developed to the bonds, the principal argument of those opposed to the proposed issue being that the amount asked for is too large and that the public was not consulted in the matter before the order was passed by the board directing that the election be held. The fact is that about 80 citizens representative of the "public" were consulted in this matter, 75 of whom petitioned for the election. The amount is not in excess of what is needed, if the school children of Colorado are to receive the consideration justly due them. The entire issue, if adopted, is not intended to be expended for the construction of a new high school building. A suitable site for the proposed building will of necessity have to be purchased and the school board, in ordering that the election be held, outlined that the proposed bonds were for the purpose of purchasing such a site, erecting the building, equipping it throughout, and to make needed repairs to the two buildings now housing both the Grammar and High schools.

The school board states that the reason a site has not been purchased for the proposed new building and an architect employed to draft plans for the same is because of the fact that available finances to the credit of the district are now in arrears and that borrowed money, on which eight per cent interest is being paid, is being used to maintain the schools. They do not have the money with which to meet these expenses, especially so in face of the fact that the proposed bonds may be defeated. Under these conditions the board would act unwisely to place the district in debt for these. Should they do so and the bonds were defeated, who would be the first to criticize? There are 200 children attending the Colorado schools who, because of the congested condition in their class rooms, are attending school only a part of each day. One section of their class attends school in the forenoon and the other in the afternoon. In some of the class rooms of the High school building the congestion is so marked as to retard the student body in their work, no matter how hard their endeavors may be, nor how efficient the teachers in charge may become. It was to relieve these conditions that the people petitioned the school board to order the bond election.

AMERICANIZATION.

Down at Lords End is an interesting house which bears the legend: "This is the last house in England." On the other side of the house this inscription: "This is the first house in England." Much depends upon the viewpoint. Every intelligent American has "views" on the subject of Americanization and the status of the people whom we class indiscriminately as foreigners. Migration has been the habit of the race from dawn of history. It has been one of the most potent factors in the development of the race and in shaping of the social life and institutions of the people among whom the newcomers have settled. The most radical migratory movement in history is American immigration. America has been built up by a process of immigration. Jamestown and Plymouth Rock, as well as Ellis and Angel Islands, are in the long views of history alike; landing stages for prospective new Americans. It is of great importance that we shall understand that America is not yet finished. She is still in the making; in the light of recent events we need to re-study our history that we may have a true perspective by which to understand present-day affairs. It has become easy for us during the past four or five years to think in international terms. We need not only the international point of view but we need what is more fundamental—the universal; that is the Christian point of view. If we can get this point of view we will get the poet's vision—"The standards of the people plunging thru the thunderstorms; till the war-drum throb'd no longer, and the battle flags were fur'd in the parliament of man; the federation of the world." Let us notice some of the things that are not Americanization. It is not a war issue. If the war had not occurred the same necessity which we have had revealed so vividly to us would have existed. It has not passed with the passing of war. The danger is that we shall let the whole matter drop now that the war is over. The war has made it both easier and more difficult to achieve our ideal; easier because it has revealed our weaknesses; more difficult because it frees us from this selfish spirit. Americanization is a process, but not a mechanical process. One does not automatically become an American by becoming naturalized, learning the language, wearing American made clothes, or imitating fashions and customs. Let us fix our minds on the fact that Americanization is a spiritual process, and that spiritual processes are only spiritually discerned and are often slow, indirect and unconscious. When facing a matter like Americanization, we need the perspective of our history from earliest colonial days. We are not inclined to allow sufficient time for the development and maturity of great movements. The colonies passed through many trying and stormy experiences before July 4th, 1776, when they were able to promulgate the Declaration of Independence. English, Dutch, French, Spanish, Swedish, German, Portuguese, all had to learn to act together, Protestants and Catholics, Jews and Quakers had to find a common basis of co-operation. New England, New York, Virginia and the Carolinas had to recognize a common destiny. It was only through a long series of conflicts that a degree of unity at last emerged. Then after years, came the resort to arms in order to decide the issue between state and federal sovereignty. If we keep this historical lesson in mind it will enable us to rely with assurance upon democratic processes and to strive patiently for the fruition of our hopes. Americanization is the achievements of national unity for world service upon the plane of our highest ideals not yet attained but for which we are still striving. Our children must live in a nation which we are now making for them. Let us help to make it the best nation. Right now we have the opportunity of taking a stand for Americanization. From Dec. 4th to 10th has been set aside as American Educational week and we can show our interest in a great way by voting for the school bonds as the election is in this week, Dec. 8th. Let's help to put Texas higher in educational ranks. Education and Americanization go hand in hand.

GANGWAY.

Let no man stand in the way of (this town's) advancement.

With the intelligence and the culture of her citizens, knowing as they do, the possibilities of the future of our handsome little city, and imbued as they are with the spirit of modern progressiveness, a man should not be able to find a shorter road to public disfavor than by raising objections to necessary and reasonable public improvements.

Our rightful place is at the front. We will advance to that position despite the sophistries of the self interested, chronic kickers.

All believers in Colorado should stand up for her interests in the broadest, most liberal sense.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR.

Lots of times you are inclined to knock him and wonder why you didn't put him out of your life. He aggravates you terribly when he does not sympathize with your Sasparilla Tea Ailment. He looks at your tongue and feels your pulse and tries to look serious—but somehow he just won't take your diagnosis for what you think it is worth, and if he gives you one—you discount it.

But say—wait until that dose of overeating develops into a real malady and puts you weak and limp on the flat of your back and you begin to hear the flutter of angel wings—then take a real squint at this hard-hearted old monster—and watch the close-up fade away into something beatific.

Second only to the soothing influence of a devoted mother does the family physician hold sway over the hearts of the average household. He is primarily a man of contact. The emergency case in hand is the one which holds his undivided attention. His whole soul is centered and riveted on your well being. Science has thrown down the gauntlet as a challenge which he accepts without the slightest question as to how or where his compensation will come from. He does not stop to search for your credit rating when he enters your household. Palace or hovel hold equally precious the life he would succor. That little fluttering heart which his hand has stayed from eternity is his one greatest earthly triumph.

Is it any wonder that we are attached to him? Is it any wonder that his footfall dispels all gloom as he answers our call? He was here to greet us as we arrived on this scene of action and it will be his gentle hand which will close our eyes and bids us the last long farewell.

Kind Words.

Last week the Record printed a nice order of job work for parties at Georgetown, Texas and here is their reply: "Thank you very much for the promptness and the very low price. We appreciate your interest in our welfare."

1922 Promises to be a banner year for Colorado. Before the end of the year we expect to see "Lake Colorado" completed and filled with water and a modern sewer plant serving the business and most of the residence sections of the city. With the water supply to be afforded by the lake will come new industries here, one of which is already assured. Another "hit" on the program for 1922 and that will, like the other two projects, be applauded by the people for years to come, is the proposed new High School building. Bonds for this much needed institution are to be voted upon December 8, and The Record has no doubt but that the victory for them will be overwhelming and decisive.

Our City Guests Have Departed

WITHOUT COMMENT.

This is about the best example of pure and unadulterated NERVE that has been brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce in some time. A street peddler of honey, in direct competition with the legitimate merchants of the city who pay their taxes, build schools, support the Chamber of Commerce, the Fair and otherwise give their time and money to the upbuilding of the town and section, got very irate when he was told that he could not stay indefinitely in the tourist-park while engaged in this business.

He has been in the town for a couple of weeks, putting up in the park maintained by the business men of the city, through the various civic organizations. After living off their generosity he drives into town each morning and peddles his honey in competition with them and returns to the park to spend another night at their expense—and lots of folks bought from him.

A suit peddler was in the office this week trying to TAKE ORDERS for suits made in Chicago. He maintains no shop, pays no taxes, supports no schools, builds no good roads, does nothing for the good of the town whatsoever—and yet has the nerve to peddle his goods from door to door in the city. And some folks buy from him—and then cuss the town they live in.

Scalpners from various towns in the State come into the city with a few trunks full of goods, no better in quality or lower in price than the goods carried in stock by the regular merchants in the city, put up at a hotel and folks just flock down to look through them—and in many cases make purchases. These same folks cuss the bad condition of the streets, the fact that we haven't finer school buildings and a lot of other things. Yet buy goods from peddlers who pay no taxes, gives no time, thought nor financial aid to any of the constructive activities of the city—not even maintaining a responsible office or place for adjustment of any claims that may arise from the goods they sell while here.

Butcher knife peddlers, knit goods artists, rag salesmen, picture-enlargers, soap peddlers, low grade woolen hawkers—all of these and more have the run of the city and enough folks buy from them to make it profitable for them to come back year after year.

A certain citizen of this county whose name might be called bought about six yards of cheap grade, highly colored woolens from one of these street hawkers not so very many months ago—and then had the nerve to take it to a dry goods store across the street and ask them to wrap it up for him.

A razor peddler cussed the town, the secretary, the directors and most everybody else connected with the recent fair because he was not allowed to hawk his trash out to the visitors on the fair grounds recently. But he came down town and drew a nice crowd and disposed of enough of his junk to pay him a good income for the day—and not ten cent's worth of each dollar's worth he sold was ever used in the county on a safe bet—for it was worthless and had been so reported from Plainview, his last town of entry, before he got here.

The same thing applies to beggars, pencil peddlers on the street everywhere. They have heard that conditions are good through this section and they are out this way 'MAKING' these like a commercial traveler. And it is a poor day that don't pay them from $10 to $20. There is an organization here to handle all such cases and no citizen should waste his time nor money listening to their plea. If they have a worthy cause, let them come to the Red Cross or the Chamber of Commerce. If they are in need the Red Cross will investigate them and take care of their needs. If they are wanting to sell something, or take subscriptions for an orphan's home, a hospital, a maternity home or any one of the dozens of things they have to tell you about, the Chamber of Commerce will first determine if they really represent such an institution and then certify simply that they, as far as it is possible to determine, do represent such institutions, and you can do with them as you see fit. BUT don't DONATE or subscribe or endow unless they have been thoroughly investigated.

There is no use for this city being made the Goat for every Fake scheme, professional beggar, grafter, panhandler, soap, butcher knife, picture frame, razor, and junk hawk—er that has been starved out of their regular beats through East Texas and are now flooding this entire section with their trash and plausible tales of woe—and it is only through co-operation with the local Chamber of Commerce that such graft can be curtailed to the very least possible amount.—Lubbock Avalanche.

It is of interest to know that the question of an A. & M. college for West Texas is reviving in the minds of officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The following paragraph from the report of a meeting of directors of that body at Ballinger Monday night of last week gives us hope: "The subject of the West Texas A. & M. college was again revived and came in for some heated discussion. The directors went on record as pledging themselves to continue the fight for the establishing of this institution and called upon the people of West Texas to back them up in their determination to see the battle through to a successful conclusion."

Several West Texas towns are in the midst of a water famine, according to reports reaching Colorado. In one town not very far from Colorado it is a fine of from ten dollars to one hundred dollars to take a bath or wash an automobile between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. My, but we would hate to live in such an unfortunate place as that. Colorado still has plenty of water for all purposes and bonds voted with which to increase the present supply by several times. Come to Colorado, boys. We will furnish you water for bathing and a dandy place in which to live.

Another reason why The Record is so anxious for a big rain to come is based upon the statement coming from the city hall recently that the streets are to be rebuilt when "the drouth is ended."

Thirty states are about to inaugurate road building projects totalling over 6,000 miles at an expenditure of seventy-six millions of dollars. This will furnish employment to 150,000 men, it is claimed. The recently passed federal road aid bill is responsible for this great activity on the part of the states. Texas will do its share of this good work.

"Howard-Mitchell boundary dispute to be settled," says headline of an article under Big Spring date line and dealing with the joint meeting of the Commissioners' courts of the two counties held at Colorado recently for the purpose of having a survey of the boundary made. The fact is there is no dispute. The line has not been definitely located, and representatives of each of the two counties desire that the matter be equitably settled. No. There is no controversy to settle. Just the mutual desire of Howard and Mitchell counties to have the boundary established.

"What has become of the Booster Club?" is a question frequently asked the Record these days. Like other interested citizens, The Record would like to know. The Colorado Booster Club proved to be a vital asset to the best interests of the city, and did so from the very start, and should most certainly be kept aglow. There is no medium that will serve to weld so close together the citizenship of the city as the social intercourse afforded through the Booster Club.

"There are several West Texas counties in which no rain has fallen during the past month," writes a contributor to the Fort Worth Record. Perhaps this bird measures his months with a con skin and "throws in the tail." The Record knows of several West Texas counties in which it has not rained for about ninety days.

The open bird season opened yesterday and already several from Colorado have been out after quail. Better watch your step, boys, since Chas. McClintic of Sweetwater says all violators of the Texas game laws are to be pinched.

DO IT WELL.

Do it well, whatever your duty Make it a thing of beauty; Though the task be mean and humble Do it well and never grumble. In your toiling and your playing Its yourself that you're portraying In the things you're called to do Daily life discovers you.

Young man into battle starting, Heed these simple words at parting: If you'd rise to fame and glory, If success shall be your story, Do your humble duties gladly; Never pause and never rest: Until you have done your best. Let no needless method claim you. Let no finish labor shame you; On the work that leaves your fingers Something of yourself still lingers. Fame or shame are you pursuing Through the task which you are doing By your toil you rise or fall; Do it well or not at all.

Do it well! Whatever your duty; Make it a thing of beauty, Sigh not overmuch for pleasures. Take no pride in halfway measures. Slight no task, however humble Or with greater tasks you'll stumble Fame and glory shall be won If you leave your work well done.

When you get in a tight place and everything goes against you, and it seems as if you could not hold out a minute longer, never give up then. For that is just the time and place the tide will turn.

Results of Ideas.

The first question that comes to the mind when thinking of the results of ideas is what is an idea? An idea is a mental image or picture, an opinion or belief. What produces ideas or what do they produce? Thought. Since man is one who thinks, to be a man in the real sense one must have ideas. There are many sources that suggest and furnish sufficient material for man's thinking ability. Although there is a large field and every man is given the same amount of brain cells, yet the philosophy of the average man leads to failure, because he stores his talent under a bushel and ekes out a mere existence while the opportunities go peacefully by to the energetic person who really thinks so as to produce results.

The development of the human brain is like the molding of clay. We see the potter as he takes a piece of plastic clay and begins in a simple way to make something of value. Each slight stroke and element applied makes a great change. After all flaws and bad strokes have been eliminated and replaced with good ones, he has a finished product. Had he not used all care and skill there would have been no results but failure. Just so it is with a mind, if it be not developed properly, it were better it never existed.

"Not failure but low aim is crime," and has helped others by expressing his idea. The one who thinks and gets his aim high is sure to succeed. Let difficulties come. He can rise the next day a braver and better soldier for the rest of the battle. There are many real illustrations of this fact. The greatest men of the nation have risen to greatness by climbing over difficulties. How has Thomas A. Edison reached such a height on the ladder of fame? Has his time been that of mere leisure? No. He has a fixed program to follow daily. Besides the four or six hours of each day taken for rest and sleep he has eighteen of twenty for thinking and putting into use his ideas. What a great service he has rendered and still is rendering to fellow man. There are many other examples of great results of ideas that all can profit by.

While it is not such a task to recall the great men of great achievements, yet it would be one of the impossible tasks merely to mention all those who have sunk beneath the sea of inactive minds. Listen to what the poet says:

"Full many a gem of purest ray serene
The dark unfathomed caves of ocean bear;
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

Then shall the gems of opportunity not be taken from the dark difficulties? Shall the human mind, the greatest thing on earth, blush unseen on the desert waste of time and mentality?

These true living illustrations reveal what may be accomplished and in this age of almost unlimited possibilities each person ought to develop his mental ability with thought and ideas, thus reclaiming the desert of wasted brain material by acquiring the power of right thinking which produces positive ideas and positive ideas, right kind of action. Then when life's journey is o'er he may say, "I have made the world somewhat the better for my living."

AFTER FOUR YEARS

Colorado Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Colorado story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

J. H. Cooper, prop. of blacksmith shop, Sixth and Oak Sts., Colorado, says, "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills several times in the past for trouble with my back. I think they are a good reliable remedy and gladly recommend them."

Four years later Mr. Cooper said: "I can still highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

VALUE OF EDUCATION.

The bulwark of the nation is education, because:

It is a financial investment that yields the highest dividends.

It results in safe and sane citizenship.

It increases the ability and desire to serve others.

It adds to the appreciation and happiness of life.

With no schooling the child has only one chance in 150,000 of rendering distinguished service.

With the elementary schooling the child has four times the chance of the one without it.

With high school education he has 87 times the chance.

With college education he has 700 times the chance.

Fewer than one per cent of Americans are college graduates, yet this one per cent has furnished:

Fifty-five per cent of our presidents.

Forty-four per cent of our vice-presidents.

Forty-seven per cent of our speakers of the house.

Thirty-six per cent of our members of congress.

Sixty-one per cent of our secretaries of state.

Sixty-seven per cent of our attorneys general.

Sixty-nine per cent of our judges of the supreme court.—Wis. E. News Bulletin.

The New Stenographer.

I have a new stenographer—she came to work today.

She told me that she wrote the latest system.

Two hundred words a minute seemed to her just like play.

And word for word at that—she never missed 'em!

I gave her some dictation, a letter to a man,

And this, as I remember it, was how the letter ran:

"Dear: I have your favor, and in reply would state,

That I accept the offer in yours of recent date.

I wish to say, however, that under no condition

Can I afford to think of your free lance proposition,

I shall begin tomorrow to turn the matter out;

The copy will be ready August 10, about.

Material of this nature should not be rushed unduly,

Thanking you for your favor, I am yours very truly."

She took it down in shorthand with apparent ease and grace;

Thought I, "At last I have a girl worth keeping 'round the place."

Then said, "Now write it out; you needn't hurry."

The typewriter she tackled—now and then she struck a key.

And after thirty minutes this is what she handed me:

"Dear sir, I have the Fever, and in a Pile I sit,

And I except the Offer as you have reasoned it.

I wish to see however That under any condition

Can I for to Think of a free lunch Proposition?"

Roses Will Bloom Again.

Why feel so sad today? Roses will bloom again.

Think of tomorrow, today is almost gone;

When today has passed and your sorrows are ended,

Roses will bloom again.

The man, while on his death bed,

Called his weeping son to his bed

And said: "Son don't be sad;

Roses will bloom again."

The winter is on and everything cold and dreary;

Snow is on the ground and birds in their warm places.

We all feel that everything is gone,

But don't be sad, for "The roses will bloom again."

A NEW ACQUAINTANCE.

(From the Pittsburgh Chronicle.)

A minister tells the story of a strapping fellow who brought his demure young bride to the manse to have the matrimonial knot tied.

"According to my custom, I turned to the bridegroom at a certain part of the ceremony and said: 'John, this is your lawful wedded wife.' In the excitement of the occasion, John turned in the direction of his newly acquired partner and stammered: 'I am pleased to meet you.'"

DECIDE AND DO.
The easiest thing in a world of things
Is to sit and wait until somebody brings
Complete instructions on what to do,
And how to do it, and when, to you
It's easy then, to go straight ahead
And follow the facts just as somesaid."

If they come out wrong and your work's in vain,
Why, that's for somebody else to explain.
Yes, it's easy to sidestep and pass the back,
But the fellow who does it is out
of luck;
Since the big success always seeks
the man,
Who can plan his work and work
his plan.
The power of the man whom his would consult Is based upon this: That he gets results;
If you'd follow his footsteps, yes, you Must learn to DECIDE and decide to DO.—C. Henry.

MINISTERIAL BODY TOLD BENEFITS OF ADVERTISING

DENVER PASTOR SAYS CHURCH MUST COMPETE WITH OTHER ACTIVITIES IN ADS.

Denver, Colo.—That it pays to advertise, even in churches, is the opinion of the Rev. James Thomas, pastor of the Grant Avenue Methodist church of Denver, who talked on the subject of church advertising before the members of the Ministerial Alliance in the Y. M. C. A. building here.
"We ministers and church goers must face this situation fairly and squarely," the Rev. Mr. Thomas said,
"and one way to face it is by effective advertising. This is no time for denominational quarrels and petty jealousies, but it is a time when we must all work together for the right sort of religious education.

"Our churches should every one be crowded to the doors, and to do this we need to send out an S. O. S. to the citizens of Denver to co-operate with the churches.

"The forces of evil care very little about the churches or what they think about the commercialized entertainment of the city. But these same forces of evil would care if we had sufficient backing both as to quality and to quantity of our citizens.

"The church is different from what it used to be," Dr. Thomas continued.
"And consequently we have to take a different view. For one thing, the church is not so narrow in some ways but in other ways we must be thankful that it narrow.

"I am for a seven-day week program for our churches—a program when we can open our doors every day in the week instead of only on Sunday. We have to make the outsider realize that he is missing a good sermon, good music and good company by not going to church and if we can make him believe it, then on Sunday morning in pajamas, read ing the Sunday newspaper.

"This can only be accomplished by the united advertising of the churches and it is up to the ministers to work out some plan whereby this can be accomplished."

Dr. Thomas in closing suggested that the churches tie up with the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and that, with this as a medium, many local ideas for effective church advertising could be carried out.

He suggested that a committee composed of five laymen and five ministers be appointed to look into the matter and see what might be accomplished. At the close of his talk there was a brief discussion, when it was decided that the officers of the Ministerial Alliance and Dr.
Thomas act as a committee to work out some plan for a pre-Easter church advertising campaign.

CONGRESS, M. D.

President Harding has signed the Campbell-Willis bill, which ends the manufacture and sale of beer and wine as medicines, and it now lies with the courts to decide whether or not its provisions infringe on or exceed the Constitution. Contests that will take the measure before the Supreme Court appear inevitable.

No one is beat till he quits,
No one is through till he stops,
No matter how hard failure hits,
No matter how often he drops,
A fellow's not down till he lies
In the dust and refuses to rise.

ISN'T IT TRUE.

We saw her on the street in a nearby city the other day and we could not help turning to take another look at her. No, we were not rubbering in the usual way. We were not attracted by her make-up, we just felt sorry for her. Her front and back were protected by a string of pearls of doubtful value, her shoe heels were like stilts, her cheeks colored, her lips painted, her nose powdered and her eyebrows pulled to a thin black line. As she passed we got a whiff of a crushed rose mixed with some smell from a sachet bag. Her hair was bobbed and she had a hob-ble-wabble walk. She wore a sightseeing skirt and a catch-me-if you can, loose-hanging veil. She carried a large hand bag to prove her financial independence. With all these modern accessories and accelerators, she was gliding about the street, attracting the attention of the corner loafers like the hootchie-kootchie dancers at the street fair. But why worry about this silly sister, who seeks to follow the latest developments of style?

When a girl wants to make an honest appeal to a man worth while, she usually employs modesty. The real man loves refinement in women and when the real worth while man finds modesty and refinement, the minister gets his fee, the furniture dealer sells a new set, and by and by the milk man leaves an extra bottle of cream. Everybody in business enjoys the benefits of increased population.

So we wonder if the originators of Paris fashions, the men who make dolls out of our girls, are not really impeding industry. An advertisement will only pull the class of customers to whom you appeal, and after all, manners and dress are but a form of advertising.

BE THE FELLOW THAT YOUR MOTHER THINKS YOU ARE

While walking down a crowded city street the other day, I heard a little urchin to his comrade turn and say: "Say, Jimmie, you know I'd be as happy as a clam if I only was the feller my mudder t'inks I am. She t'inks I am a wonder and knows her little lad would never mix with nuthing ugly, mean or bad. I often sit and t'ink how nice it would be, Ge Whiz!
If a feller was a feller dat his mud-der t'inks he is."

So, my friends, be yours a life of toil or undiluted joy, you still can learn a lesson from the small, unlettered boy. Don't try to be an earthly saint, with eyes fixed upon a star, just try to be the fellow that your Mother thinks you are.—Earnest

THANKSGIVING OBSERVED BY COLORADO PEOPLE

Thanksgiving services, in which the several congregations of the city participated, were conducted Thursday morning at the First Methodist church, with Rev. C. L. Browning, Methodist pastor, presiding. The choir was directed by Thos. Dawes and in addition to the songs rendered from the hymnal, a special vocal number was given by Miss Byrd Adams.

Following the introductory remarks by Rev. Mr. Browning, the congregation was led in prayer by Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the First Baptist church. Hon. L. W. Sandusky then read the Thanksgiving proclamation by President Harding, after which the Scripture lesson was read by Hon. W. P. Leslie, district judge. Rev. D. R. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian church, then delivered the Thanksgiving sermon, taking his text from the story of Christ healing the ten lepers. The speaker outlined that conditions today were very similar to those in the days of Christ, when an inventory was taken of the number who turned away from the routine of life to give thanks unto God for the many blessings He has given us. Ten men were healed of their leprosy that day, but only one of them, and he a stranger, was thoughtful enough to turn and give thanks to God, he said. "Where are the other nine-tenths of the people of Colorado today?" he asked. Continuing his discussion on that thought, Rev. Mr. Hardison gave a resume of the good crops that had been made, harvested and sold in Mitchell county this year, directly resulting in good times for the farmer and the business man; that out of the bounty of God, no disasters had visited the local people and no epidemics had been prevalent, yet in the face of all these, only about one-tenth of the people seemingly were prompted to remember with reverence the occasion of Thanksgiving.

He praised the several social and benevolent organization of the city which had searched out the poor and neglected of Colorado for the purpose of providing them with provisions or other material blessings as a part of their Thanksgiving offering. Rev. Browning announced that it had been the custom in former years to take a special Thanksgiving offering at these services with which to bring cheer to the poor of the city, but that since the local chapter, American Red Cross, had recently taken over all benevolent work in Colorado, such offering would not be taken. He urged, however, that all those desiring to contribute to such fund make their remittances to the treasurer of the chapter.

Judge A. J. Coe, mayor of Colorado, was to have had a place on the program, but was detained in reaching the church. Throughout the day the banks and stores were closed and in a number of homes of the city special Thanksgiving dinners at which guests were invited were spread. Several hunting parties made expeditions to watering places in the county in quest of duck, but these report poor success on account of the small number of this game to be found.

SIX RULES OF SUCCESS.

"Boys, you can have a good time in life or you can have a success in life, but you cannot have both. And let me tell you right now that never before in history has there been such an opportunity for the success of man as there is today.

"The thing you want to do is to make up your minds what you are going to drive for and to let nothing stand in the way of its ultimate accomplishment. I am going to try to give what seems to me to be the fundamental requirements for a success in life:

"First: Unimpeachable integrity. This is the very foundation. With his as a starting point, the rest will be relatively easy.

"Second, loyalty. As a rule I find that the university men are loyal. Be loyal to the people with whom you are associated. Give credit always where credit is due, and remember always that it will attract credit to you to give credit to someone else. Make your employer believe that you are with him always, that you are proud to be with his department, in his company.

"Third, a liberal education in the finer things of life, of art, of literature, will contribute toward a success in life. Man needs imagination, and these are the sources for it.

"Fourth, make friends. Enemies don't pay. You will be surprised at the pleasantness that will surround you when you have made friends instead of enemies. Whatever your misfortunes in life, boys, just laugh.

"Fifth, concentrate. Learn to concentrate and think upon the problem in your mind until you have reached a conclusion. Don't be afraid of mistakes. Don't blame a man if he makes them, but it is the fool that makes the same one twice.

"Sixth, go at your work. Don't hesitate to change from distasteful work, but don't change because difficulties come up or troubles arise. Give the best that is in you. Let nothing stand in the way of your going on."

Mr. Schwab expounded conception upon which his great establishments are founded. "All young men," he said, "when they are starting life have to work for a salary, but the sooner they can get away from it the better for all concerned.

A good workman is entitled to more pay than a poor one, and whenever possible my men are paid for the work they do and proportionate to it. This is opposed to union principles, I know, but it is the proper economic basis and the theory on which all my establishments are run." —Schwab.

After all the guests had arrived the bride was sent for and on arriving was very much surprised to find that she was the honored guest of the afternoon as she had expected to attend the Y. P. M. Club Entertained.
The "42" Club met with Mrs. W. C. Farror Thanksgiving evening and to say that this was the most enjoyable meeting for some time, would be expressing it lightly indeed. Each member was allowed to invite her husband and they were served with a delicious turkey dinner. If the old rule of reaching a man's "heart through his stomach" still holds good many hearts must have been reached that night. The house was decorated with white and yellow crepe paper and white and yellow chrysanthemums. In the center of the table was a big basket made from a pumpkin, which was filled with fruit. After supper the guests played "42" till a late hour.

Do the tires you are now pushing merit your FULL confidence? Do you have the same confidence in them, year-in-and-year-out, that you have in your bank or your own ability as a tire merchant?

The Hood Tire proposition is based on mutual confidence between the Hood dealer and the Hood Company. You will then build your business on Hoods with full confidence as to future development.

For years the Hood Company has maintained the highest standards in all its products. It is solidly established, strong financially, progressive in manufacturing and steadfast in its distribution policy.

In brief, the Hood Tire policy is based on:

- 1. Uniform Distribution Policy
The Hood distribution policy is such as to render dealers prompt service. Hundreds of dealers who have been selling Hoods since they were first put on the market know how valuable this policy has been to them.
- 2. Uniform Quality
The proved design and construction, based upon correct engineering principles, assures uniform high quality at all times.
- 3. Uniform workmanship
The process by which exactly the same quality and quantity of materials carcass, whereby each operation has been standardized and the high inspection used in each tire of identical size, the improved methods of building the tions, step by step, insure tires that give consistent, rather than occasional, high mileage. As a result, the sale of one Hood Tire sell Hoods for the other three wheels.

HE WHO SERVES BEST PROFITS MOST

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before Kings."

We all know of the parable of the three servants who were given talents by their master, who was going on a long journey. One servant who was given five talents took them and invested them and when his master returned the servant had ten talents to give him. The second servant received three talents, invested them, and when his master returned, the servant had six talents to give him. The third servant, however, took the one talent given him, and buried it. When his master returned, the servant returned to him the talent he had received. The master was wroth, and rebuked him for his slothfulness, but to the other servants he bestowed the talents they had earned. "He who serves best profits most."

There are many illustrations about us, of the truth of the last words. Take note of the business men about you. Are they serving their business the best they can, giving their best energies and inspirations to it? Or do they make their business a "side issue" and let various foreign interests consume their best strength of both body and mind? If they serve their business like it should be served, where do they stand on the ladder of success? Not on the bottom rung, you may be sure.

Not only business men, but the followers of any other profession. How do they serve their profession? What among them has achieved greatness or success without a great amount of service on his part toward his profession? Now I know Shakespeare said: "some men achieve greatness, while others have greatness thrust upon them," but how many of us think we could retain such greatness, even for twenty-four hours?

Most greatness is achieved and it is so with the business man in regard to all profit. And the more service and the better the service rendered, the greater the profit. Because, if a man serves his business, he causes it to grow and become useful and necessary to the public, and it naturally evolves that it is a highly paid business, thus bringing him great profit, often in more ways than money. But how may a man serve his business to the best advantage? By doing all he is paid to do and giving his customers their money's worth. And in addition, by doing all that may induce the customer to "call again," as is said. For instance, I know of a young garage owner, who, when a man drives up to the shop and asks for a tire, the young man sells him the tire, then pumps it up and puts it on the car for nothing, except what work he hopes the customer may bring him in future. With travelers, especially, he tries to build up his good-will.

The other night a stranger's car stalled outside of the town. The boy went out, worked about an hour, and finally succeeded in starting the car. He then told the stranger that his charge would be $1.00 which was his regular charge for an hour's work, but the stranger gave him $2.50 and went on his way.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, he who serves best, profits most. —Charlotte Williams.

WESTBROOK ITEMS.

Death of Mrs. T. A. Stevens.
Sunday morning, Nov. 27th, the royal soul of Mrs. T. A. Stevens was transplanted and it left a great rent in our hearts when she was taken from our midst. Mrs. Stevens, (nee Miss Maja McKinney) was born in Hopkins County, Texas, September 1885. Her mother died when she was quite young. In her early girlhood she moved to Westbrook, Texas, where she was converted and joined the Baptist church, living a consistent Christian life, being loyal always to her church and pastor. She was married to T. A. Stevens on March 2nd, 1921. They established their little home on the east side of town. In her home she was a queen, no one loved her home more deeply than did she, always affectionate and thoughtful of her husband, she was his sweetheart to the end. She was sorry to leave her loved ones though she died triumphantly. She is gone, the dear girl, but we know where to find her; safely embraced in the arms of Jesus. Beneath the banks of beautiful flowers she was gently laid to rest in the W. O. W. cemetery at Westbrook, funeral services being conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. D. Leach, assisted by Rev. Bishop of Colorado. She leaves to mourn her going away, a husband, T. A. Stevens, and an infant son, a father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. McKinney; a sister, Mrs. G. B. Slaton of Colorado; and four brothers, T. M. McKinney, of Westbrook; T. L. and W. E. McKinney of Colorado and Spang McKinney of Red River County. A number

How to Bring About Disarmament.

The Committee on disarmament of the League of Nations in a report to the Assembly of the League says: "The limitation of armaments can never be imposed by the governments on the peoples, but it may be imposed by the peoples on the governments. It is only by creating an instructed public opinion in each country that the necessary strength of world opinion may be obtained.

"It is of great importance that the peoples of the world be made aware of how much money and personnel is devoted to armaments as the direct consequence of international fear and suspicion."
