"I am going to carry off first prize on my pure bred pig at the fair this fall," a young chap, perhaps twelve years of age, stated here Saturday afternoon in discussing the record he is making in feeding a registered pig under supervision of the county farm agent. There are sixty other boys in the county, comprising the club members recently organized by the farm agent, who, like the boy referred to, plan to carry off a prize at the Mitchell County fair. Then, there are twenty or twenty-five young Americans on the farms of Mitchell county who are feeding registered calves and will show them among the exhibits to be entered at the fair. "The records will show that I have paid more money into the school funds of Mitchell County than any other citizen," Dr. P. C. Coleman stated in an address Wednesday afternoon at a mass meeting held for the purpose of discussing the school question. "I have never complained about taxes and in case it be necessary to carry on the schools here, I call upon the school board to double my present valuation of property, or increase it three times, if necessary."

The same spirit was evidence by all others present at the meeting who expressed themselves on the school question. According to data submitted by H. L. Hutchinson, president of the school board, and E. F. King, superintendent, taxes from the present property, valuations in the district will represent approximately fifty per cent of the amount to be required in maintaining-the schools for a term of nine

Property valuations of the district is assessed for taxes on the rolls total two and one-quarter millions of dollars, Hutchinson stated. To conduct the schools nine months and take up a deficit in the sinking fund this valuation must be placed at more than four million dollars.
