COLORADO DOCTORS WARN PUBLIC AGAINST THE RAVAGES OF CANCER

STATISTICS GIVEN AT MASS MEETING SUNDAY SHOW APPALLING DEATH RATE; LITERATURE IS DISTRIBUTED THROUGH SCHOOLS

Observing Cancer Control Week, suggested by the United States Department of Public Health and the American Society of the Control of Cancer, the several churches of Colorado co-operated in a union service Sunday evening at the Methodist church, at which addresses were delivered by Drs. P. C. Coleman, T. J. Ratliff and C. L. Root. Each of the physicians quoted statistics showing the high death rate annually in America from cancer and described some of the preventative measures, only recently found by medical research.

The program was opened by Rev. J. F. Lawlis, pastor of the Methodist church, who spoke of the importance of such meetings and praised the practicing physicians of Colorado for the interest manifested in the physical welfare of the people of the city and county. "Jesus Christ, while on His mission on earth, realized the importance of founding a religion which would reach every condition of man, and thus looked after the healing of man's physical condition, the same as his spiritual condition," Rev. Lawlis stated.

In opening his address, Dr. Coleman stated that such a meeting was proper to be held in a church, and he suggested that the congregation listen prayerfully to the statements to be made by the speakers. Dr. Ratliff recalled the miracle of Christ, when he healed the man suffering from palsy, who was let down from the roof of the house to the place where Christ was preaching. "That happened in the church," the doctor stated. In closing his address, Dr.

Root quoted a Bible text, in which God commissioned man to be responsible for the physical, as well as spiritual condition of his fellow man. From addresses of the three physicians, the following statistics, compiled by the United States Department of Health, and doctors prominent in research work in America and other countries, were given:

During the great war the United States lost about 80,000 soldiers. During the same two year 180,000 died of cancer in this country. Cancer is now killing one out of ten of every persons over forty years of age.

Cancer begins as a small local growth which can often be entirely removed by competent surgical treatment, or, in certain external forms, by using X-Ray, radium or other methods. Cancer is not constitutional or "blood" disease. There should be no thought of disgrace or of "hereditary taint" about it. It is not a communicable disease. It is not possible to "catch" cancer from one who has it.

One woman in every eight over the age of thirty five has cancer, and every man out of twelve have cancer. The beginning of cancer is usually painless, and for this reason its insidious onset is frequently overlooked, and is too easily neglected. In commenting upon this fact, Dr. Coleman deplored the fact that cancer was not painless in its early stage. If it was painful from the outset, he said, people would thus be warned and thousands and thousands of lives be saved. Every persistent

MANGLED BODY FOUND ON T. & P. WEST COLORADO

The mangled body of the man found late Thursday of last week on the Texas & Pacific track a few miles west of Colorado was buried Friday after all attempts of local officers to establish some clue of identity had failed. No papers or marks of identification of any kind could be found. The victim was a white man, about forty years of age and weighing approximately one hundred and sixty pounds. He wore a light mustache and the nature of his clothing suggested him to have been a laborer.

That the man was the victim of foul play is believed by officers who conducted and investigation into the tragedy. Near where the body was found, officers located where a fire had been kindled and it is said that evidences of a struggle near the track were found. Not far from where the fire had been burning a pool of blood was found covered with sand in the attempt to destroy any evidence of foul play. That the man was murdered and his body then placed on the railroad tracks to be later mangled by a passing train is the belief of C. S. Thomas, justice of the peace, one of the officers visiting the scene.

Thomas stated Monday that the body was found by a negro late Thursday. Officers went from Colorado to the scene and recovered a part of the remains that afternoon, but because of rain and approach of darkness abandoned the work of gathering up pieces of the body until the following morning. The body was literally cut to pieces and scattered over considerable distance along the railway tracks, he said.

J. H. Greene, local undertaker who took charge of the remains, stated Monday that a number of enquiries from various parts of the state had been received by him requesting a description of the man.

BAPTIST PASTOR RETURNS FROM CONVENTION AT WACO

Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Bishop returned Sunday morning from Waco where they attended the Baptist General Convention last week. Rev. Mr. Bishop reports the convention one of the best ever held by the Southern Baptist church. He attended the convention as messenger from the First Baptist church here, of which he is pastor.

FARMERS, CATTLEMEN BENEFITED BY RAINS

The rain which fell throughout the day Thursday of last week was general over the county, according to reports received at the Record office from several communities in the Colorado territory. Rainfall at Colorado totaled sixty-eight hundredths of an inch for the day. Other communities report more rain, while in still others not more than a half inch fell.

The rain fell slowly and intermittently for several hours, resulting in practically all the moisture being absorbed into the ground. Scores of farmers of the county are arranging to commence their fall plowing within the next few days, since the fields are now in excellent shape for breaking. The crops are about all out of the fields and there will be no delay in starting the fall plowing while waiting to gather crop remnants.

The rain was also of much benefit to cattlemen of the county, in that stock water was put out in a number of surface tanks and water holes on the range. The water supply caught during the rains Thursday, however, is small and will, therefore, not be of a permanent nature.

With the excellent season in the ground it is expected that an unusual acreage will be sown to small grain in Mitchell County this fall. An additional rainfall of sixty hundredths of an inch fell here Tuesday night, placing the total at 1.28 inches during the week.

Mrs. H. B. Smoot is visiting relatives in Dallas.

FIVE NEW LOCATIONS IN MITCHELL COUNTY FIELD

Local oil men are considerably "pepped up" as a result of the recent rains over the field, which in several localities put out water in surface tanks, making it possible for some of the tests shut down because of water shortage to resume drilling. Five new locations are reported, as follows:

Northwest quarter Section No. 39, Block No. 28; southwest quarter Section No. 29, Block No. 28; northwest quarter Section No. 28, Block No. 28; southwest quarter, Section No. 27, Block No. 28. The fifth location is on the Harry Hyman lands in the southwest part of the county, but section number is not known.

S. A. Sloan and associates spudded their Smart No. 1 Wednesday. The Western Petroleum Operators Association resumed drilling at Zilpha Morrison No. 1 this week and will deepen this test from 2550 feet to the Morrison sand.

At Smith No. 1 the crew has completed drilling by tools and are now fishing. Prospects were good for recovering the lost string of tools Thursday morning. In case the tools are not recovered, casing will be run by the tools and the well drilled to the Morrison sand.

Considerable lease activity is reported for the week, among which is the purchase of the west one-half of Section No. 27, Block No. 28, by the California Company from the Underwriters. The report that a price of $10,000 was paid for this lease could not be confirmed Thursday.

The Magnolia Petroleum Company drilled into an excellent sand Wednesday in their Foster No. 1 near Iatan. The pay was drilled into at 2600 feet and penetrated a distance of twelve feet. Oil from the sand is estimated to gauge forty-one gravity. Boiler trouble was delaying operations at this well Thursday.

The crew at Coleman No. 1 has been delayed again this week on account of boiler trouble. Development is progressing in practically every part of the field and the commercial wells continue to produce initial production on the pump.

The many friends of Mrs. J. L. Doss will rejoice to know that she is doing well from an operation she recently underwent in the Baylor Hospital in Dallas.

LIONS TO ENTERTAIN LADIES AT BANQUET

The date for observing "Ladies Night" by the Colorado Lions Club has been definitely set for Friday evening, December 1, at 8 o'clock, it was announced Wednesday following adjournment of the regular luncheon at the Barcroft Hotel. The banquet will be held at the Barcroft dining room.

This occasion promises to be one of the principal social attractions of the season, as an elaborate program is being arranged under direction of the president, C. M. Adams, and M. S. Goldman, director of the Booster Band. Every member of the club will be required, under penalty, to be present at the banquet with a lady escort.

The luncheon Wednesday was one of the best held by the club. President Adams stated Wednesday afternoon. An attendance of twenty-five was reported and all of the lions present were full of the lion spirit. Two clubs, O. B. Price and Sam Majors, met with the club for the first time.

Visitors introduced Wednesday were G. D. Foster, and Rev. D. R. Hardison of Colorado; C. F. Scudder of Fort Worth; J. R. Patterson of Sweetwater, and S. C. Graham of Stamford, West Texas representative of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The club will not observe the regular luncheon Wednesday noon on account of the banquet coming on the following Friday evening. The president requests that all members see the secretary at once, and make reservations for the banquet. A total of forty reservations had been made up to Wednesday afternoon.

PETITIONS ASKING COURT HOUSE BOND ELECTION BEING SIGNED

ISSUE OF $115,000 WILL NOT INCREASE TAXES, IT IS DECLARED; COUNTY OFFICIALS ENDORSE CLAIMS FOR NEW COURT HOUSE

The circulation of petitions to Commissioners' Court, requesting that an election be ordered to determine whether bonds be issued in the sum of $115,000.00, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum and maturing after forty years from date of issuance, was begun Saturday by citizens of Lorraine and Colorado. It was announced Monday that the petition would also be circulated at Westbrook and in other communities of the county.

But few property tax paying voters to whom the petitions have been presented declined to endorse the request, those carrying the petitions state. One man obtained the signature of 150 voters the first day and the names represented many of the leading citizens of the county. Dr. P. C. Coleman, chairman of the committee representing Lorraine and Colorado citizens in the campaign, stated that Commissioners' Court would be asked to order the proposed election at the next term of court, which is to be convened early in December.

The campaign to vote bonds with which to build a new Mitchell County court house was inaugurated here a few weeks ago at a banquet at the Barcroft Hotel, attended by representative citizens of the county. Lorraine had a strong representation at the banquet and those men took an active part in launching the bond issue drive.

At this banquet County Judge J. C. Hall presented architectural drawings of a proposed building, of brick and concrete construction two stories in height with basement and containing sufficient court and office rooms for all needs of the county. Estimates of cost furnished him for constructing and equipping the building were given at $115,000.00. It is proposed to build the new court house, in case the bonds are voted, on the present court house square.

Judge Hall and Commissioner U. D. Wulfjen, who also attended the banquet, stressed the need of a new court house for this county, and the other three commissioners have expressed the same. In speaking at the banquet the county officials pledged to favor improvement to the court house grounds, in case the proposed new building should be authorized, and among other things, remove the mule barns from the grounds and convert the property into a place of civic attractiveness.

Judge Hall reiterated the statement Tuesday that the proposed bond issue would not increase the taxes in Mitchell County one penny, and submitted figures to support that statement. In part, the judge gave out the following statement:

"The present assessed valuation of Mitchell County property, as shown on the tax rolls, is $6,329,000.00. Based on this valuation, it would require a tax levy of 13 3/4 cents per hundred dollars valuation to pay the interest and create a sinking fund to take care of the proposed bonds. The amount required to pay interest and liquidate the bonds would be $8,625 annually, and the tax of thirteen and three-fourths cents would be equivalent to $8,702.00, leaving a surplus to take up any delinquent tax payments that might occur.

"The statutory limit for taxes for public improvement in this county is 25 cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, and the Commissioners' Court is now levying and collecting improvement taxes to that limit. This means that the rate for this purpose cannot be increased under the law. If the bonds are voted and Commissioners' Court sets aside 13 3/4 cents per $100.00 valuation to care for interest and sinking fund on bonds amounting to $115,000.00, it will retire the bonds in forty years and pay all interest. This will leave 11 1/4 cents to take care of public improvements in the county."

That the proposed bonds should not bear more than five per cent interest was recommended by a committee of bankers, S. E. Brown of Lorraine, and T. W. Stoneroad and J. H. Smoot of Colorado, appointed at the banquet to investigate the bond market. The saving of one cent in interest, as between five cents and six cents, would mean much to the tax payers of the county during the forty years the bonds were being liquidated.

The estimate of $115,000 is considerably less for the type of building desired than was at first considered. When the court house question was first introduced a few months ago, estimates of cost on the building needed were variously placed at from $150,000 to $200,000.

SEWER PLANT COMPLETE JANUARY FIRST, IS PLAN

The Hightower & Weeks Construction Company expect to complete the sewer contract here within the next few weeks, in all probability by January 1st, after which work on the water extensions will be commenced. Tuesday morning the company had only about 4,000 feet of ditch lines to complete for the sewer lines, but much of this calls for cuttings ten feet deep and it is presumed that some rock formation will be encountered on the hill near the High School.

A TRIP IN DREAM LAND.

(By R. H. McCARTY)

This dreaming business has never been satisfactorily explained. The Bible says that the old men shall see visions—well now we are neither old nor young, but we still have dreams. Jacob of old dreamed, and in that beautiful dream the angels tripped up and down the golden ladder. You know Joseph, the favorite son of Jacob dreamed his way to a throne, and being such a dreamer in his youth his older brothers were jealous of the kid, and one day they said yonder comes the dreamer, let's dispose of him, and so they sold him into bondage, but the dream spirit of this Jewish youth broke the shackles of slavery, and swung the prison doors ajar, and he walked up and down on a throne—and at last his older brothers had to pay obeisance to this dreamer, just as he had dreamed it in his youth, of which they were very wroth, but the dream God told him a truth, wherein his brethren would serve him and sure enough they did—yes, begged aims of the man who had cornered the world's corn market—hence everybody had to travel down to Egypt for bread. But speaking of an ancient trust, that gets us away from our dream subject which we want to talk about. Did you ever have a real plain dream, and everything was as real as life itself, meet folks that you know, now living or dead, and walk around with them and converse. Sometimes we have them so real that for days we can not banish it from our mind, and thus, we keep looking for the omen. What is it anyway, your body lying there wrapped in slumber, and yet in your dreams you travel thousands of miles? A long time ago, we had a dream, and we were transported through stellar space in an air ship like, just think of a place thousands of miles away, and we would be there instanter—had the dream god robbed our body of that mysterious essence we call spirit? Well, the question is too deep for us, but anyhow we dream, and visions too, just like Holy Writ said about it.

The county road crew have been working on the Buford road during the past week. County Judge Hall states this road will be placed in good condition to the Scurry county line.

"THE LONE WOLF" STAFF ORGANIZED LAST WEEK

The editorial and business staffs of "The Lone Wolf," annual to be published by the boys and girls of the Colorado High School student body for 1922, were organized last week at a meeting of seniors, juniors, sophomores and freshmen of the High school. The officials elected were as follows:

Millard Smith, editor-in-chief; Blandford Harness, art editor; Raymond Clements, athletic editor; Lois Warren, feature editor; Ed Jones, business manager; Roddy Merritt, advertising manager; J. C. Richardson, James Joyce, Clippie Bennett, Lillian Pond and Clarence Grable, subscription managers.

Class representatives were elected as follows: Juniors, Robert Whipkey; Sophomores, Jewell Collier; Freshmen, Ruth Helton, and Mary Franklin.

The annual was christened "Lone Wolf," because of the proximity of Lone Wolf Creek, which passes near the school campus on the south. The general contents of the annual are to be representative of school events, "Illustrated Diary" of C. H. S., half tones of teachers, students and group pictures of these, together with scenes of the school buildings, campus, etc.

The advertising department inaugurated its campaign to place advertising contract this week and reports are encouraging. Some two weeks ago the Lions Club unanimously pledged its moral support to the student body in publishing the annual, and the Chamber of Commerce and Booster Club have issued a like pledge.

TELEPHONE EXCHANGE HERE TO BE IMPROVED

The entire telephone plant at Colorado is to be improved, should recommendations made to the general offices of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company by the engineers department be approved. G. F. Scudder of Wort Worth, representative of the company, stated at the Lions Club luncheon Wednesday. Mr. Scudder, together with J. R. Patterson of Sweetwater, another official of the telephone company, has been in Colorado during the past week making tentative surveys as to the needs for improving the system.

Since coming to Colorado a few months ago as manager of the local exchange, W. J. Stewart has continually recommended to telephone officials the needs for improved service and the visit of the officials at Colorado this week is the third time within recent weeks representatives of the company have been here to personally investigate the matter. Many of the old steel wire lines in the city have been taken down and replaced with cables and it is understood that this improvement work will be carried over the entire system including installation of a modern drop battery exchange.

MITCHELL COUNTY PRAISED BY HOME DEMONSTRATOR

In her official report for November, compiled this week and furnished the Extension Department, A. & M. College, Miss Georgie Laceywell, home demonstration agent, gave an interesting resume of the several industries in Mitchell County. The report, which will become official and a part of the records of the college, follows:

Mitchell County, Its Resources and Possibilities.

Mitchell County has an elevation of 2077 feet above sea level, a fact placing the county in that delightful medium between the high altitudes further north and west, and the lower altitudes to the South and East. In summer the gulf breezes prevail with almost clock regularity both day and night, while the winter seasons are as a rule mild and bracing. From 58 to 95 is the average annual range of temperature registrations.

The county embraces 576,000 acres of land, eighty per cent of which is tillable and ideal agricultural soil. Of this amount, however, approximately one-third represents the acreage owned by farmers, the large cattle ranches still controlling two-thirds of the county area. 125,000 acres are under actual cultivation, 75,000 acres of which were planted to cotton in 1922. 40,000 acres were planted to the grain sorghum and Indian corn crops, with the remaining 10,000 being given to the cultivation of melons, fruits and truck.

The average rainfall in Mitchell County during the past nineteen years, since the Federal Government has maintained a bureau station at Colorado, the county seat and principal town, has been 20.87 inches. Only two crop failures have been recorded here during that time, and these were during the years of 1917 and 1918, when an abnormal drought prevailed throughout West Texas.

The principal staple crop is cotton. In 1919 Mitchell county produced 32,000 bales; in 1920 the crop totaled 32,500 bales, and last year, a semi-dry season, this county made 23,000 bales of cotton, an average of one-third of a bale per acre. The 1922 crop is not yet all gathered and no report is available as to the number of bales this year.

Other crops producing prolifically in this county are the several sorghums, including kaffir, milo maize, feterita, and cane. Indian corn and the small grains are also grown successfully. As a section peculiarly adapted to melon growing, Mitchell county ranks among the best in Texas, even with Parker county. Plans are being worked out by the County Agent to grow melons on a commercial basis. In the production of fruits and garden products, this county again ranks among the best in Texas and many farmers are devoting acreage to melon cultivation.

In the dairying and poultry departments, unprecedented progress has been made during recent years. Scores of citizens of the rural districts are replacing their chickens with pure bred poultry and their neighbors are selling off their scrub dairy cattle and purchasing only approved breeds. These industries are fast becoming important in this county.

Thousands of thoroughbred cattle are fattened every year on Mitchell county ranges for market. Hog raising is also becoming recognized as an excellent revenue producer for the Mitchell County farmer and some of the best specimens of pure bred porkers of the State are coming from the farms of this county. At the recent Mitchell County Fair at Colorado, entries of cattle and hogs were pronounced as rating with the best in this State. An attractive feature of the hog industry here is in the fact that disease is rarely ever known among the animals. There is no record of hog cholera in this county. The same might be said in connection with cotton growing here, as to boll weevils. These destructive pests do not hibernate in this section.

The soils may be divided into four classifications, as follows: Red sandy loam, black waxy, shinnery and the rough and broken areas. Approximately sixty per cent is comprised in the first, or red sandy loam classification, and are the most desirable for farming. The black waxy lands are usually low and level and like the red sandy loam, are very fertile. These lands comprise twenty per cent of the county acreage. The shinnery belts are those lands of a deep sandy formation, especially suited to gardens, orchards and vineyards. The shinnery lands are more drought resistant than any of the others. Under the other classification is to be found only a small acreage unfit for profitable grazing. All of these lands are well watered and in some localities irrigation is practiced.

In addition to holding the distinction of being one of the leading agricultural and livestock counties of West Texas, Mitchell county is promised wealth from another source—that of oil. Two years ago a "wild cat" well was completed in the county twelve miles west of Colorado, and came in as a producer. Since that time a total of eighteen tests have been spudded, ten of which have been completed. There are seven producing oil wells in the county and some of the larger old line companies have recently become associated with development here, among them being the Standard of California, The Gulf Production Company, Magnolia Petroleum Company, and the Texas Company. All these corporations control extensive acreage in the Mitchell County field which is to be developed.

McGowan-Satterwhite

Mr. Bill Satterwhite of Big Spring and Miss Roxie McGowan of this place were married at the court house at Colorado Saturday afternoon at five o'clock. Judge J. C. Hall officiating.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McGowan and has made her home in Loraine since childhood. She is well known and loved by a wide circle of friends.

We are unacquainted with the groom but congratulate him on his splendid choice of a life partner and wish for them both a full measure of success and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Satterwhite will make their home on a farm 12 miles north of Big Spring. They left immediately after the ceremony.

Quilting Bee.

The Missionary Society met with Mrs. F. M. Johnson Friday afternoon and quilted two quilts which had been pieced by Mrs. Johnson's S. S. class to be sent to the orphans home. Also there was $12.00 turned in for the parsonage fund. After the quilts were finished the ladies enjoyed a social hour of music and contests. The hostess served sandwiches and hot chocolate.

Rev. Hanks Founded.

The Methodist folks met at the church Monday evening with various and sundry packages which were taken to the parsonage for the new minister and family. A large crowd was present and Bro. Hanks and family expressed their appreciation of the many things which were brought them. Miss Inez Chapman gave several readings and the M. S. ladies served sandwiches to the guests.

Bridal Shower

One of the most delightful social functions of the season was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Pratt when she and Mrs. T. R. Bennett entertained with a miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Dewey Wilson (nee Miss Leona Pratt). The rooms were decorated in green and white crepe paper and cut flowers. As the guests arrived each wrote a recipe in a dainty little book. After all the guests numbering about sixty had arrived, greeted the honoree and spent a while chatting with each other, Mrs. W. R. Martin sang several appropriate songs, after which Mrs. Pratt invited every one into the dining room where another wedding was to take place. On the dining table stood a miniature bride and groom looking quite ready for the ceremony. On a small table near by was an immense wedding cake. Slips bearing numbers were passed and as Mrs. Wilson received the lucky number she was asked to cut the cake which proved to be a large box covered with white crepe paper and filled with numerous gifts. Of course no small box could hold them so the table was soon piled high as all the gifts were brought in. Mesdames Pratt and Bennett served delicious mince pie and whipped cream with coffee.

Bridal Shower

Mrs. J. W. Walker and Mrs. R. E. Bennett entertained with a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. B. A. Miller (nee Miss Nell Norman) Saturday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. Walker. As the guests arrived each wrote good wishes, advice etc., in a daintily decorated book which was to be presented to the bride. After which paper and pencils were passed and everyone asked to draw the likeness of Mr. Miller and of course as every body had a different idea of how he should look, this afforded much merriment. Next all the "old maids" present were blindfolded and taken to a wheel of fortune which had "prosperity," "fame," "matrimony" and various other "fortunes" on it. The one the blindfolded person touched being her fortune, Mrs. Miller was then blindfolded and carried to the wheel which disappeared, and as she reached for it she was led into the dining room where the blindfold was removed and she found herself standing by a table heavily laden with an array of beautiful and useful gifts, which her many friends had given in token of their love for her. Mrs. W.

R. Martin and Miss Ona Walker favored the guests with music.

After the gifts were looked over and admired the hostess served cake and hot chocolate.

Your Thanksgiving Table

Dear Madam: Do you have the family Thanksgiving dinner at your house this year? It seems early to be getting ready for it, doesn't it? Well, Thanksgiving is only four three weeks away. We are wondering whether you may want a new tablecloth for that big dinner, whether you may not want to use a dozen new napkins for the first time on that occasion. We never had a better line of table linen in stock than right now. Prices are down, too, to a very attractive level.

SCHOOL NOTES

The work on the new school building has been progressing very well until Wednesday. All brick work was stopped Wednesday on account of the rain. It will very likely be necessary to employ another teacher within the next few days to take charge of fourth grade work. Three teachers are now handling the fourth and fifth grades, but each of these grades has a sufficient number of pupils to justify two teachers for each grade. When another teacher is employed, it will be necessary to place the fourth grade on half day shift until the new building is ready. Mr. King had a letter from Brooks Bell this week and Brooks says he is getting on fine in dental school. Brooks is a graduate of Colorado High school. Emily DuLaney writes Mr. King that she is getting on very well in the Austin High school, but says give her old Colorado Hi every time. The High school will publish an annual this year. This is the first time that the Colorado school has ever tried to put out an annual, but the students are working like old hands at getting copy and selling subscriptions. It is estimated that the cost will be between $800 and $1200. This will be as great a piece of advertising for Colorado as has been attempted at any time, and the Chamber of Commerce, the Booster Club and the Lions Club have all assured the school that these organizations will give the effort to publish an annual their hearty support. We thank the members of these organizations very much for their co-operation. We hope the business men will respond heartily when the advertisement comes to secure advertisements. The work in the various grades is being done in a very satisfactory manner. The school has an able corps of teachers, and there is not a more co-operative student body anywhere. The two literary societies of the High school meet regularly each Wednesday afternoon, and the High school students are taking quite an interest in the work. Also, a great deal of interest is being manifested in the Interscholastic League work. The meet will be held at Colorado next spring. Notice to school children, get your pencil tablets at Record office at 3 for 10c or 40c dozen. Cedar pencils 25c dozen Record

COTTON 38 YEARS AGO.

On our first visit to Colorado in 1888, there was a bale of cotton in a glass case on exhibition at one of the banks. This cotton had been raised by some one near town and was ginned in one of the counties east and brought back and exhibited as a curiosity. The old timers had a great deal of fun out of that bale of cotton, and when the writer expressed an opinion that the soil around Colorado looked as good to him as that in the Brazos valley, and needed only a little work to make it produce like those famed valleys, the crowd roared in derision of a poor sucker who would even dream of such a thing. That was nearly thirty-five years ago. Last Monday we visited Colorado again, and the old timer who showed us the spot where that bale of cotton was exhibited informed us that over 25,000 bales of cotton had been ginned and marketed at Colorado this season. The taunts of those old timers never for a moment made us change our mind and we have and now predict that West Texas will one day produce the bulk of Texas cotton. Bill Kellis in Sterling City News-Record.

AT THE PALACE

Combining three of the most popular figures of the screen—Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson and Elliott Dexter—the two former stars and the latter a featured player for Paramount pictures—comes "Don't Tell Everything" which will be seen at Palace Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday. The most interesting feature aside from the exceptional cast is that it is typically an out of door story, breathing the fragrance of the pine woods, the life and action of the polo field, the charm of a California golf course. Sam Wood, the director is a keen sport lover himself. So is Wallace Reid and so, indeed, are all concerned. Dorothy Cumming, who plays a girl of the modern athletic type is an accomplished sportswoman. A real polo game was staged for the picture; and indeed nothing has been left undone to make this one of the season's most notable productions. Lorna Moon wrote and A. S. LeVino adapted the story to the screen. J. H. Parker brought two oranges to this office Tuesday afternoon, as specimens of citrus fruit grown in the Palacios vicinity. Mr. Parker owns property at Palacios and for more than two years he and Mrs. Parker, made their home there. They return to Colorado a few months ago.

COLORADO DOCTORS SPEAK ON CANCER PREVENTION

Lump in the breast is a warning sign. All of the speakers recommended that any symptoms of the disease should cause alarm and prompt the person having those symptoms to consult a competent physician without delay. Sores which do not heal properly, especially about the mouth and nose, are warning signs of cancer, they stated. "Quack" doctors, who claim to have a cure for cancer were flayed by the speakers, who claimed there was no cure for the disease after it had passed the embryo stage. While in this stage, however, they declared, cancer is curable. Dr. Coleman referred to a baby, two years of age, which developed cancer, and who through treatment of surgery, had been cured and was hale and hearty today. "The man who claims to have some "secret" cure for cancer is lying about it," Dr. Root stated, "and if I was not in a church, I might express my opinion of these fakers." All of the speakers impressed the fact that they had no mercenary motives in making the addresses, but advised the public if they could not find a competent physician in Colorado to "go where they could find one," when the first symptoms of cancer appeared. The pastors of the city also had a part on the program for the evening. Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the First Baptist church, pronounced the invocation. The Scripture lesson, the 24th Psalm, was read by Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. D. R. Hardison, pastor of the First Christian church, spoke the benediction. Give us that order for an Essex car while they are only $1195 delivered.—Price Auto Co. Now is the time to have your windmill repaired. Phone 280. The demand for light-housekeeping rooms and cottages continues to be large at Colorado. WESTBROOK ITEMS.

It is reported here that there has been some oil and gas showing in the Smith No. 1 being drilled by Messrs Cary and Lewis, five miles northeast of Westbrook. It is to be hoped that this well is soon finished and that it will be gusher as it has been a very expensive well. Contractors Airhart and Hastings have the contract to move the tools and other machinery from the Etta Brennan well to the location on the Underwriters lease near the Morrison No. 2 where they will soon begin two other wells within the near future. Badgett No. 2 being drilled by Thompson & Son is shut down awaiting arrival of some part for their pump which is broken they will resume drilling immediately after it arrives. Magnolia Company well south of Itan had a good showing of oil last week but we have not been able to ascertain the exact depth this was found or just what they are doing, drilling deeper or testing out this sand. Mr. Dainels with the Rio Grande Oil company, reports that the LeSure No. 1 is in good shape and pumping every day about eighty barrels or more since he has it in shape. Mr. Riley tells us he has a nice pumper in his Murphy No. 1 but did not state the exact amount of production per day however, we hope it is sufficient to warrant his drilling another well as we are of the opinion that he is one of the best operators in the Mitchell County field. Business in Westbrook is still good and everyone is in hopes of this soon being one of the great oil fields of Texas, and they certainly have a right to be. Henry Riley left Monday for Breckenridge to spend a few days on business. J. K. Hooks spent the week end in Colorado. Jack Hodges and son of Big Spring were guests of his brother, T. E. Hodges Tuesday. M. B. Wood left Monday for Colorado to spend a few days before looking for other locations. E. V. Bell is spending a week in Big Spring selling out a car load of mules. Mrs. E. C. Airheart was visiting relatives in Colorado this week. J. N. Stalling returned from Wichita Falls Saturday and is at his old post the Hamburger stand. Sheriff Chesney was looking after business in this end of the county Monday. We will sell you feed in quantities guaranteed price any month this year.—Oliver & Bell. Fresh Mackerel every day, the kind you like at City Market. John Lane of twenty-five miles southwest of Colorado was here Saturday. WASHINGTON COMMENT

The United States Government is whole heartedly in the school business—for its own benefit. At West Point is as fine a university for training young men as the educational world knows. At Annapolis is its duplicate, save as the Navy needs differ from those of the Army.

The reason the Government has these two universities is because it can not get men properly educated for the Army or the Navy from any existing school or college, except these which it maintains for itself. The Diplomatic Service long ago discovered that it was absolutely essential to maintain schools in various countries, to which young American college men might be sent, and in which they could learn the manners, morals, customs, language, history, and psychology of the country.

COMBATING T. B. IN TEXAS

The 15th annual tuberculosis seal sale in Texas will be conducted by the Texas Public Health Association December 1st to Christmas day. In Mitchell County the sale will be conducted by the Federated Clubs and at a recent meeting in Colorado plans for carrying the drive into every community of the county were perfected. The purpose of the seal is to combat tuberculosis in Texas.

crusade. It also supported thirteen local associations with their many other activities. The design of the 1922 Christmas seal is intended to make an appeal to the artistic sense of the public as well as to its sympathy and generosity. The design shows a Christmas tree in white in the left foreground, with the double barred cross, the emblem of the international crusade against tuberculosis, in front. In the right foreground is a mother and child. At the bottom of the seal are the words, "For Health," and at the top the numeral, "1922."

HONORING THE HEROES.

The first State of the Union to honor its soldier dead in fitting manner by erection of a monument upon a French battlefield is Missouri. The dedication ceremonies of the memorial are to take place at the village of Choppo, where thrice the sons of Missouri went through the fires of the hell of war that the spirit of democracy might prevail.

A woman is the sculptor, but that was not known until the decision of the judges had been reached, for all the models in a contest were submitted anonymously. Nancy Coonsman Hahn has wrought well. Her monument shows a heroic figure of victory—not the victory of conquest, exulting, but the victory of peace, exalted.

Thus on Armistice Day does Missouri pay tributes, lay her wreath upon the unforgotten brow, and stand a moment in contemplation of the sacrifice of her soldiers and of all that sacrifice meant. It is high time that this state was similarly observing the memory of the heroism of our boys. They fought as nobly as any in the world, and it is with high pride that we remember St. Mihiel and the Argonne. Next year's Armistice Day would be an excellent occasion for the dedication of such a monument.—Lubbock Avalanche.

It is gratifying to learn from those who are carrying the petitions requesting Commissioners' Court to order an election to determine whether bonds shall be issued with which to build a new court house are meeting with but small opposition. But a small per centage of the property tax paying voters approached have declined to endorse the petition which fact reflects endorsement of the proposed bonds by those who will be affected. That a new court house is needed by Mitchell county cannot consistently be denied by anyone, it appears to The Record. This is too good a county and the citizenship who make it too progressive as to not readily see the merits of the campaign. There would develop considerable opposition to the proposed bond issue, and such would naturally be expected, if by voting the $115,000 the people would be thereby increasing their tax rate over the present. But such is not the case. Judge J. C. Hall and members of Commissioners' Court have made the statement more than once that the less than fourteen cents required to pay the interest and create a sinking fund for the bonds would not inflate the taxes one mill. If you doubt these statements, these county officials would be only too glad to have you investigate for yourself. Consider the question in the light as to which is best for Mitchell County and vote your verdict in the election, if same is ordered.

West Texas field products have been drawn upon to complete a comprehensive agricultural exhibit for the Southern Pacific railway to be shown in all important towns and county seats in South, East and West Texas touched by this line, as well as

O. THAT STARRY, STARRY BANNER

By HENRI FORTESQUIRE

O that starry, sterry banner, Do I know its hallowed worth? Such as wrought its sacred birth? Have I felt the pangs of anguish Is it mine? Have I helped make it Emblem of fair Liberty? In those red bars, is there mingled Blood that was a part of me? Are those white bars made more stain free By my living, living right? Is it I who've helped to keep them, Keep them bars of spotless white? And that field of purest azure—Field of Heaven's high-born blue— Have I helped to guard that blueness By my living, living true? Born where hissed the searching bullet, Born where shrieked the deadly shell, Born amid the shouts of vict'ry And the agonies of hell, Bathed in blood of patriot husband, Bathed in tears of widowhood, Hallowed by the warm blood's crimson And the ties of brotherhood; O that starry, starry banner, O the red, the white, the blue! Do I love it with such passion As its birthright gives it due? Worthy, worthy, worthy banner, Or on land or sea unfurled, May thy spotless sacred glory Light with Freedom all he world!

such points in Louisiana and several other states. The exhibits have been furnished by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The entire agricultural exhibit will occupy a special car in a demonstration train that will stop at the points on that line, permitting the thousands to study it. The purpose of the operation of the train is to promote better farming and culture of superior field plants. Since thousands of farmers in other sections have already become interested in West Texas, it is likely that the demonstration car will be the concluding factor in causing them to migrate to West Texas.

THE MARATHON FOLD

From Texas Oil World: It is particularly gratifying to the Texas Oil World to notice the gradual growth of interest in the Marathon Fold area of West Texas, particularly as indicated by the publication of articles on the geology and oil prospects of the region in oil papers and magazines throughout the country. Eight months ago not one person in a hundred thousand had even heard of the Marathon Fold as a major axis and it was not until Texas Oil World became interested in the West Texas country that intelligent publicity began to appear. The discovery of oil in Mitchell County was, at the time, ignored by the greater number of these oil publications, although a few of them did publish the fact that the Underwriters Producing & Refining Company had found a commercial well in the Morrison No. 2, two and a half miles north of Westbrook and ten or twelve miles west of Colorado, Texas. Oil World was the only publication to scent the possible importance of this discovery and since that time has devoted no little energy to a thorough study of it and surrounding counties along the Marathon Fold. Had the Morrison No. 2 been a great and spectacular gusher of 5,000 to 10,000 barrels daily production its discovery would have been followed by a stampede and Colorado and Westbrook would undoubtedly have witnessed boom scenes so familiar now to many Texas communities. Neither the Morrison No. 2 nor succeeding wells, however, were big wells and thus the field has developed very slowly on its actual production worth alone, rather than on the possibly more rapid, but also less efficient methods of the boomer.

When the Morrison No. 2 came in showing 200 barrels a day the major producing agencies of the state sent some of their best men into the area and many of them have been kept busy there on scouting duty throughout the summer. Some of the companies did not buy, but the great majority of them did, and the result is that Mitchell County leases are now in the hands of people who will do the right kind of development work. Up to date no big wells have been found and the field has proven disappointing to the men who hoped to see another Burk Burnett, but production in the few producing wells is holding up nicely and the pay horizon is apparently one of importance from the standpoint of longevity. It must be remembered that the Underwriters were drilling over 100 miles from production when they started their initial work in Mitchell County and their success in their first tests, located on geological advice, shows how carefully the company had prepared for the work. The very fact of the discovery in the first hole however, lessened the prospects of many additional wildcat operations and little attempt has been made since to extend the field far from the original wells. Production has been found north and south of this producing strip, and it is just possible that nothing like the big producing area in the immediate vicinity of production, has as yet been found. Exploration work is now extending some distance south of the proven area and production, or what looks like good production, has been found in Sterling county, twenty miles south of the Morrison No. 2. A good commercial well was indicated at 2,500 feet in the No. 1 test on the Brennan ranch in Sterling county, but the company drilling the hole decided to go on down after a bigger well and the hole is now around the 3,000 foot mark. Sterling county has some very good structure and a very important strike may be recorded in this region during the winter months. The southeastern section of Mitchell county down toward the Coke County Terrace has never had a competent test and some geological work is being done in that section at this time. Preliminary reports have been rather favorable, but these were made after nothing further than a cursory study of the region. This part of Mitchell county should get some good tests, for quite a gaser was found several years ago in Coke county, a few miles to the south east. Interest will naturally shift to Crockett county the moment some of the proposed tests get started on the Sheffield Terrace for this is a region that has had much favorable geological comment. Many well informed men believe that one of the big fields of Texas will be uncovered in Crockett and Terrell counties and it is in this county that the big companies of Texas have recently taken such huge leases. Three or four wells are scheduled to start drilling during the winter and some-

JUDGE LESLIE EMPANELS MITCHELL CO. GRAND JURY

The district court of Mitchell County was convened Monday morning by Hon. W. P. Leslie, judge of the 32nd Judicial District. The court immediately empaneled the grand jury and after delivering to them a brief charge ordered the body to retire to commence its deliberations. The court made no specific charge as covering law violations, but outlined that it should be the duty of the grand jurors to investigate thoroughly violations of any character reported to them.

In his charge, the court requested that the jury make a thorough investigation into any law violations reported before returning a bill of indictment. Too often, he stated, it develops that a grand jury will vote an indictment following a hasty or incomplete investigation, bringing a case to trial unsupported by sufficient evidence.

The court directed that such defendants as might be bound over or be held in jail pending grand jury action should have their cases looked into first, in that if the evidence against them be insufficient to indict they be released or if they be indicted a speedy trial might be had. He charged that the jury return all bills of indictment as voted and not withhold the reporting of indictments until the end of this or next week.

The grand jury is facing a busy session, according to Sheriff W. J. Chesney. Monday morning it was reported that not less than 14 felony cases were pending probes by the body. The jury is composed of the following gentlemen:

J. T. Draper, foreman; H. T. Cole, R. E. Bennett, J. M. Bruce, H. E. Grantland, D. E. Gunn, S. H. Hart, M. C. Holt, R. C. Morgan, T. J. Newton, F. P. Roney and J. R. Oglesby.

U. D. C. Meeting.

The U. D. C. meeting was held with Mrs. Merritt Tuesday afternoon. Besides the regular business many things of importance were attended to. Mrs. B. Bobbs, Mrs. Jess Dobbs and Mrs. Davis were received as new members. Five dollars was voted to be sent to help buy a radio set for the Veterans Home at Austin. Plans were made for the turkey dinner to be given the home Veterans at the home of the president December 19.

Mrs. Jack Smith gave an interesting and a full report of the Annual meeting recently held in Fort Worth. Her mother, Mrs. E. W. Bounds was made State president. Mrs. Gary, president of this chapter, has been appointed one of the members of the State Extension Committee. This chapter is planning to show its appreciation by its fruits. A committee was appointed to write letters to the absent members. The chapter voted to take space in the High school annual. The hostess served sandwiches, plum-pudding and coffee.

MARRS PLANS AID SCHOOLS WHEN TAKES OFFICE

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 23.—Immediate relief for Texas schools will be asked by S. M. N. Marrs, recently elected State Superintendent of Public Instruction, when he takes office in January, according to his statement today to the Texas Educational News service. The largest emergency appropriation possible will be asked for the schools, which Superintendent Marrs believes should be at least $3 per pupil.

"Considering deficiencies, appropriations and tax rates, some $4,000,000 will be available early in 1923 which legislature can apply to school relief," he said. "The schools got $3,000,000 less through the per capita this year than last, and $500,000 less through rural aid. Hence there should be at least $3,500,000 soon available for appropriation to the schools. If that much is appropriated the schools will still have less money per pupil than in 1921.

"No backward step should be taken. So I shall recommend an appropriation of $3 for each pupil or as much more as may be possible. As there are 1,300,000 children, the minimum would be about $4,000,000. The best thing friends of Texas schools can now do is impress upon their representatives and senators the necessity of this appropriation's being made at once."

Permanent relief can never be obtained by the schools coming, tin cup in hand to legislature year after year, is the belief of the superintendent elect. He has concluded that school finances can be placed on a sound unfluctuating basis only thru far reaching changes in the laws of Texas. His preference is for a new constitution. He believes friends of Texas children should unite in working for constitutional or other changes necessary to give Texas children the kind of schools to which they are entitled.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN FLAG

A paper read at the Hesperian Club by Mrs. V. Shropshire and printed by request.

The custom of selecting some emblem of the National life and honor has prevailed among the nations of the earth from the earliest times. Assyrians, Egyptians and Hebrews had their banners and ensigns. The Chinese had flags as far back as the 12th century B. C. The Romans had their standards of which they were justly proud. Following this ancient precedent the nations of the world today, great and small alike, have their symbols of patriotism. In these chosen symbols we have come to see not only the countries they represent but the government, history, principles and ideals for which those countries stand. When the tri-color floats out to the wind, we see France and think, it may be, of her struggle for democracy, her hardships and of her heroes, her Lafayette, her Napoleon, and her Foch. When the united crosses of St. Andrew and St. George appear in scarlet background, we see England, her magnificence, her wealth, her power, her defeats and her victories. When Old Glory waves in the breezes we see America and her glorious ideals and history of the United States, the grand Republic in which we live. "The red, white and blue" is the most beautiful national emblem in the world. When the Chinese first saw it they called it the flower flag. This emblem was designed by a committee composed of George Washington, Robert Morris and Col. Geo. Ross, the task of making the flag was assigned to Betsy Ross of Philadelphia, who was an expert seamstress. With womanly taste she showed them how to make it even better with five pointed, instead of six pointed stars. She began work on the flag on June 7th and finished it in three days. It was adopted by congress on the 14th. That is why we celebrate June 14th as Flag day. The making of the flag has given Betsy Ross a place of permanent fame in our nation's history. The American flag is the symbol of the meaning and message of Independence day. Wherever it waves on land or sea men see the daybreak of liberty and the dawn of justice. For in unmistakable terms it declares "that all men are born free and equal and endowed with certain inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." It is a reproof to race hatred, lawlessness and anarchy, it condemns the exploitation of the weak and defenseless by the strong and powerful. It is the guardian of liberty, justice and fraternity and guarantees to every individual under its folds and equal right to an opportunity to succeed in life. Woodrow Wilson has said, "When I think of the flag which our ships carry, it seems to me I can see alternate strips of parchment upon which are written the rights of liberty and justice and strips of blood spilled to vindicate those rights and then in the corner a prediction of the blue serene into which every nation may swim that stands for great things." The American flag is a flag of justice, freedom and piety it is therefore a flag of victory. Our flag has never yet faded in the dust and so long as we are true to the ideals it represents it never will. Here is the flag that floated over the cradle of liberty, that watched over the babe in infancy, that sheltered her within its folds in child hood and guarded her until she grew to maturity and became a statute of liberty. The flag that excludes the red flag and every foreign flag and leaves no room for any other flag except that of the cross to which it yields glad and humble obedience, Washington's flag, Lincoln's flag, Wilson's flag, your flag and my flag. Let us twine each thread of this glorious flag about our hearts and catch the spirit that breathes upon us from the prayers and struggles of the founders of this Republic.

MAMIE ENJOYS PROGRAM OF THE EPWORTH LEAGUE

"Hello, is that you, Gwendolen? This is Mamie on the telephone, and I just wanted to ring you and tell you about the Epworth League, which meets every Sunday at 6:15 p. m. in the basement of the Methodist church.

"I wish that you had been at the League Sunday, as I enjoyed the program very much, and know you would have also enjoyed it. There were thirty-one young people present, in addition to four or five visitors, and everybody on the program came up with his or her part well. And sing—you have no idea how well those boys and girls can sing; especially was the special song by Tommie and Ila just fine.

"At the meeting Sunday it was decided to take up a study course among the Leaguers, in addition to the regular devotional programs each Sunday evening. They are to purchase copies of the League Hand Book, which treats of the League and its work, and the Methodist Armour, and make study of these books a fixed part of the League work.

"The pastor is meeting with the League regularly, Sallie Herrington, our president, told me Sunday, and she says he is a wonderful help and inspiration to the young people in this work. I could not fail to notice the large number of boys and girls who took part in the sentence prayer part of the program Sunday. It is just fine to see them taking such an active part in this important work of the church.

"My reason for calling you and telling you of the League, Gwendolen is to arouse your interest in this work and invite you to come. I feel so proud of what we are doing that I plan calling other boys and girls and tell them what I am telling you."

HOLDERS SHOULD PRESENT WAR SAVING CERTIFICATES

Dismore W. Hume, government savings director for the Eleventh Reserve District, in which Mitchell County is included, furnished The Record with the following information concerning War Savings Certificates of the 1918 series, which will be of interest to the general public of Colorado and Mitchell County:

War Savings Certificates of the 1918 series, held by residents of this reserve district in amounts totaling about $100,000,000 mature for paying January 1 at the rate of $5 for each 1918 series War Savings Stamp affixed.

The privilege of immediately exchanging their holdings of 1918 War Saving Stamps for Treasury Savings Certificates of the series 1923, or the cashing of them as of January 1, is given owners by the Treasury Department.

The stamps of the 1918 series, affixed to 1918 series War Savings Certificates should be presented to money-order postoffices, banks, Federal Reserve Banks or their branches for payment as of January 1, or in immediate exchange for 1923 series Treasury savings Certificates.

Owners are requested to ask their postmasters or bankers for detailed information and the proper forms (P D 750) which accompany surrendered 1918 series War Savings Stamps.

The securities for which these stamps may be exchanged are Treasury Savings Certificates issued in (maturity value) denominations of $25, $100 and $1,000 the cost of which is $20.50, $82, and $820, respectively, all of which are obtainable at Postoffices. When issued they are automatically registered in the owner's name against any form of loss or depreciation. They yield a total of about 21.95 per cent if held sixty months. They are readily convertible into cash at the owner's desire.

Exchanges will now be made as of January 1 upon application presented between November 15 and January 15. Immediate payment will be made in cash of any difference due the holder of War Savings Stamps if he takes the largest possible amount of Treasury Savings Certificates on the exchange. In other instances cash payments will be made as of January 1st.

Registered War Savings Certificates should be presented only to the postoffice where registered. When presenting War Savings Certificates of the 1918 series for surrender, the owner should sign on the "received payment line" provided therefor, dating the surrender January 1, 1923 or date of later surrender if after that date.

SNYDER-STERLING CITY HIGHWAY IS PROPOSED

That a campaign has recently been launched at Colorado to connect Snyder and Sterling City by a routed highway, passing through this city was indicated in articles appearing with Colorado date line in daily papers circulating here Tuesday. The report, as carried by the Abilene Reporter and Fort Worth Star-Telegram, follows:

The campaign to connect the Dixie Overland Highway No. 8 with the Colorado to the Gulf Highway by the construction of a hard surfaced highway from Snyder to Sterling City has been inaugurated here by the Chamber of Commerce and members of the Commissioners' Court of Mitchell county. The proposed highway would pass through Colorado and cover a distance of 76 miles. Much of the route of the proposed new highway passes over good macadam roads and it is claimed by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce that but little expense to the three counties through which the cut-off would pass would be incurred. The route is now being improved from Colorado to Snyder, a distance of 28 miles.

Such a cut-off would mean a great deal to automobile tourists traveling from the Northwest Texas Panhandle toward San Antonio and vice versa, it is pointed out, lessening the distance by several miles, even between Lubbock and San Angelo, and the proposed highway would traverse a section of West Texas not now served by a routed highway and one in which the road would be easy to maintain, on account of the general topography of the country and the abundance of road materials located at convenient distances.

Tourist traffic through Colorado over the Bankhead National Highway has been unusually heavy during the past few months. Much of this traffic represents tourists from outside the state. Recently automobiles, carrying number plates from eight different states, were parked in the tourists camp park maintained here by the Chamber of Commerce.

The concrete viaduct across the Colorado river here will be completed within sixty days. This structure spans the river on the route of the Bankhead Highway and will be one of the longest reinforced concrete bridges in West Texas, it being 375 feet long, exclusive of approaches on either side.

APPOINTMENT BROWN LEE URGED OF GOVERNOR NEFF

The election of Honorable Earle B. Mayfield to the United States Senate will create a vacancy on the Railroad Commission of Texas, which Governor Neff will be called upon to fill by appointment, after Senator Mayfield's resignation has been filed with him. In making a selection to fill that vacancy, those who know Governor Neff best and have observed the various appointments to office during his incumbency, know that he will do so with an eye single to the public service. It has always been and is the Governor's view that public office was a public trust and that those only should be selected who believe that the first and highest duty of any official is the faithful, honest, impartial and unselfish discharge of the duties of the office. The people of Texas have implicit confidence in the Governor and will accept his decision in the appointment of a Railroad Commissioner to succeed Senator Mayfield as the result of an impartial judgment, after a thorough, careful, painstaking and conscientious consideration of the men in Texas best equipped and qualified to discharge its duties.

The people of the Western part of the State believe and feel that no better selection could be made than in the person of the Honorable Brown F. Lee of Sterling County, and whose name we understand will be presented to the Governor by his friends, not only in the West where he lives, but from all parts of the State, for his friends are legion.

The western part of the State, as well as the other parts of Texas, are vitally interested in the work of the Railroad Commission. It is, perhaps, the one official body in the State, more than any other, with which the communities and industries of the West are continually in communication. The transportation problems more vitally affect its growing and extending industries, and it is but right and proper that it, with the other portions of the State, should have someone on the Commission who is familiar and in touch with the matters of the livestock and other industrial interests of the West. Mr. Lee has resided at San Angelo and in Sterling County for the past 23 years, engaged in the practice of law and ranching; he is an able lawyer, has given much time to the study of the livestock and ranching interests of the West and is loved, honored and trusted by the people of that section where he is best known, and they believe that his appointment would be indeed fortunate for this country, as well as the whole State.

Mr. Lee is a native son of Texas, born and raised in Bell County, where he grew to manhood and received his public school education, finishing at the A. & M. College of Georgia. After completing his education, he was selected by that noble Roman and one of the most loved of all Texas statesmen, Senator Richard Coke, as his private secretary, and he spent the first years of his young manhood with and under the influence and tutelage of that Democrat at Washington City where he drank at the fountain of the greatest American statesman of that age. It would have been impossible for one to have received his political education under Richard Coke without learning, feeling and believing that the first duty of the office holder was the people—all of the people whom he represented, and that his should be the life of service to them, impartial, faithful and untiring. Such was the first years of Mr. Lee's life. That he has throughout life followed the principles and teachings of Coke will be vouched for by those who know him best and most intimately.

After leaving Washington Mr. Lee was admitted to the Bar at Belton in 1884 and practiced in that county, where he was elected and served as County Attorney for several years, moving to San Angelo in 1899 on account of the health of members of his family, and he there engaged in the practice of law and ranching, retiring from the practice in 1917, and since has devoted his entire time to his ranching and farming interests.

He was elected a member and served in the 31st and 32nd Legislatures where his ability and worth were recognized and appreciated by his fellow members and the State. During the time he was in the Legislature he was appointed on the Penitentiary Investigating Committee, to which he devoted his entire time during the sittings of that Committee. In politics Mr. Lee is and has always been a Democrat, believing in and advocating the great principles of the Democratic party. He had always been active in the party councils and supported its nominees loyally.

We believe Mr. Lee's name to the Governor's appointment as Railroad Commissioner to succeed the Honorable Earle B. Mayfield, and sincerely trust that he will find it to the best interests of the State to appoint him to that position. We know that his appointment would be hailed with the greatest favor by the people of the West and his host of friends throughout the State.

HEARD OVER THE 'PHONE

S. A. Sloan tells this one: "A few days ago I called at the office of L. W. Sandusky and finding him absent, called his residence number on the telephone."

A voice, unmistakably that of a negro woman, answered with the customary greeting, "Hello."

"Is this Mr. Sandusky's residence?" Sloan asked.

"No sir," came the reply.

"Ya'as, this is number 343, but it aint de residence' of Mr. Sandusky," the colored woman replied.

Sloan rang off and again calling the operator at central office suggested that she had probably given him the wrong number and to "please ring 343."

"You were connected with 343 just now, but I will ring them again," the operator said.

The same voice answered again and when Sloan insisted that surely it must be the residence of Sandusky the negro woman exclaimed:

"No, sah! I tells you dis aint de residence' of Mr. Sandusky. He is done gone to town."

BIG BOOZE HAUL MADE BY OFFICERS SATURDAY

The second big booze capture to be made Deputies R. C. Dale and H. C. Cook arrested a man and woman on the highway west of Colorado and took from the car in which they were traveling eighty gallons of alcohol. Only a few months ago local officers apprehended two men, one at Westbrook and the other at Colorado, who had in their possession eighty gallons of the same kind of contraband.

Dale received a tip Saturday morning that the man and woman, who made a short stop in Iatan, might be transporting liquor and overtook them between Colorado and Westbrook. They were driving a Buick roadster and a stockmen's saddle was strapped on the hood. The alcohol was in 15 five-gallon and 4 one-gallon tin containers and a one-gallon canteen.

The man gave his name as E. J. Hoy of Fort Worth and claimed the woman accompanying him was his wife. Officers were of the opinion Monday that the name was fictitious. Both were placed in jail Saturday afternoon and the charges against them are being investigated by the grand jury, which was convened Monday.

NEW TAX SLSTEM FOR TEXAS SCHOOLS BEING WORKED OUT

DENTON, Texas, Nov. 23.—The voting of a constitutional amendment providing for the levy of not less than two mills on each dollar's valuation, or twenty cents on each one hundred dollars' valuation, on real and personal property in Texas; the voting, if necessary, of a constitutional amendment empowering the Legislature to levy special taxes; and freedom for the Legislature to make such supplementary appropriations from time to time as is necessary, is the plan for supporting the institutions of higher learning in Texas as broached in a bulletin just issued by the College of Industrial Arts.

A second plan suggested by the author is to vote a constitutional amendment providing for a three mill tax on each dollar's valuation or thirty cents on one hundred dollars' valuation as a partial solution for the problem of supporting the institutions of higher learning in Texas. In addition, it is recommended that the Legislature be left free to make such supplementary appropriations as are necessary from time to time. Such a millage tax, it is pointed out, would increase the present tax rate only a negligible amount, at most not more than ten cents on the one hundred dollars' valuation, above what is now being paid.

This survey of educational conditions is not merely the Lone Star State, but every state in the Union has been compiled by C. H. Judd, Ph. D. and director of the Department of History and Social Science in the college. Copies of the bulletin are intended for the voting citizenship of Texas, and will be distributed free of charge upon application to the extension department of the College of Industrial Arts.

The author of the bulletin, in suggesting the above plans, advocates special taxes to be derived from five sources: They consist of a state income tax on all business the net revenue from which exceeds $2,000 per annum; a still higher income tax on all business enterprises of certain classes such as moving picture corporations or shows, banks, insurance companies, soft drink businesses, candy corporations and the like; a small tax on the consumption of luxuries; a liberal inheritance tax; and a more rigid tax on intangible properties of all kinds. The latter would involve also a stricter enforcement of the rendition laws.

The bulletin, in addition to setting forth the reasons why the citizenship should be interested in this vital subject, provides a comprehensive review of the educational systems employed in every state in the Union. Especially emphasis is placed upon the use of the millage tax, and the absolute uniform satisfaction which has been gained in those commonwealths where it is used to provide revenue for the state schools.

Eighteen states, it is pointed out, make use of the millage tax-supplemented by legislative appropriations, and all are satisfied with the system. Millage taxes in vogue vary from one-eighth of a mill to two and two-tenths mills on each dollar's valuation. Of the thirty states whose educational institutions subsist through legislative appropriation alone fourteen are satisfied with their system, yet only three of these are southern states. Investigation however, discloses that the remaining eleven states enjoy large endowment funds for their institutions of higher learning.

Those states supporting their institutions of higher learning by both millage tax and legislative appropriations are Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, Ohio, Oregon, Tennessee, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

It is shown conclusively in the bulletin that the state institutions of higher learning have not been the cause of increased taxes in Texas. The average increase per annum in the rate for the past seventeen years, due to the support of the institutions of higher learning, is only 55-100 of a cent or a little more than one-half a cent on each one hundred dollars' valuation of property.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition.
