STEERS COMMANDING GOOD PRICE, SNYDER REPORTS

Marcus Snyder reported Saturday that good range steers were commanding a good price on the market now and that good stuff was actually becoming hard to obtain. Snyder has recently leased a large ranch in Kent county and shipped several cars of cattle to pasture there.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE IN FORCE

Chase Brothers, who own large and Geary county schools, stated Saturday that the compulsory school attendance law would become effective and head of the opening of school after year-olds from the ages of four to fourteen years, inclusive, were required under the law to attend school for five consecutive months, he said.

GOLDEN BOOZER CLUB TO MEET THURSDAY, JANUARY 4TH

The January meeting of the Colorado Booster Club is scheduled for Thursday night, January 4th. Because of the absence of the president, J. H. Greene, who is spending the week with relatives in Arkansas, no announcement can be made concerning the program. Mr. Greene will return to Colorado Friday or Saturday and details of the coming banquet will be then worked out.

SCHOOLS OPEN TUESDAY AFTER XMAS HOLIDAYS

The Colorado schools will open Tuesday, January 2, after the Christmas holidays. The compulsory attendance law becomes effective at that time and the enrollment is expected to be large.

ONE LICENSE A DAY IS COUNTY CLERK'S RECORD

County Clerk W. S. Stoneham stated Tuesday morning that during the past twenty-six days a total of twenty-six marriage licenses had been issued. This is an average of one a day for the period.

WEST TEXAS CITIZENS TO ORGANIZE FOR A. & M. BILL

MEETING TO BE HELD FRIDAY, DECEMBER 29

The meeting of citizens of four counties interested in passage of the West Texas Agricultural & Mechanical college bill will be held Friday evening, December 29, at 7 o'clock, according to a message received by the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday from John McCurdy, secretary of the Sweetwater Board of City Development. Visitors are to be guests of the Sweetwater Luncheon Club at a banquet at the Hotel Wright. Colorado will have representation at the meeting.

R. M. Chitwood of Sweetwater, representative of this Legislative District in the State Legislature, will call a mass meeting of citizens representing the towns of Hamlin, Roby, Kotan, Snyder, Colorado, Lorraine, Rosebud and Sweetwater, to meet at the Hotel Wright at Sweetwater within the near future for the purpose of organizing an association composed of the counties of Mitchell, Scurry, Fisher and Nolan. The purpose of the association will be to fight for the passage of the proposed West Texas A. & M. college bill by the Thirty-eighth Legislature, soon to convene.

A representative of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce has recently made two trips to Sweetwater to confer with Chitwood and George H. Sheppard, mayor of Sweetwater, about the bill and to outline plans for working for its passage. He spent some time at Sweetwater Friday afternoon and night of last week in conference with these men.

Such an association has the approval of Dr. P. C. Coleman of Colorado, chairman of the West Texas A. & M. college committee appointed by A. B. Spencer, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Coleman will attend the Sweetwater meeting.

The proposed association will not advance any claims at this time as to offerings for location of the college, but the entire activities of the organization will be devoted to an educational campaign, seeking to show to members of the Legislature the needs of such an institution in West Texas.

ASSAILANT EMPTIES GUN AT FLEEING NEGRO MAN

Will Lewis and H. C. Smith, negroes, figured in a shooting affray at the passenger station Friday night just after the west bound train pulled in. Lewis alighted from the train and the other negro, who is alleged to have been waiting for him, opened fire with a pistol, emptying the magazine. The first shot, which was fired at close range, struck Lewis in the breast, and the other shots went into his arm and leg.

Dinner For Guest

Miss Mildred Coleman entertained with a dinner Tuesday honoring her guest, Miss Thompson of Atlanta Georgia. Besides Dr. and Mrs. Coleman, the guests were: The Misses Riordan, Mrs. Carlton, Miss Gertrude Chambers of Dallas and Miss Caroline Chambers.

GOODFELLOWS IN ROLE OF SANTA CLAUS AT COLORADO

If there was a home in Colorado in which Christmas cheer failed to find its way it was because that nothing human kindness could do was capable of bringing the true spirit of Christmas to an enjoyable culmination, because the Colorado Goodfellows spent several days in collecting data as to the needs of the poor and sick of the city and distributing gifts and words of comfort and cheer to them.

T. W. Stonerod, treasurer of the Goodfellows fund, reported Monday that a total of $468.00 was raised by committees last week. Members of the committee state that with but one or two exceptions, every citizen approached gave a liberal contribution, and many hunted up the committee or telephoned their subscription, in order to have a part in the worthy benevolence.

Ladies representing the several churches of the city composed a committee which sought out the poor and sick of the city, and ascertained the nature of gifts best suited to bring cheer to each individual and family. Under direction of J. H. Greene, chairman of the Goodfellow organization, scores of baskets and packages of good things to eat, including dressed poultry, fruit, candies, etc., were distributed. In addition to this, toys and other gifts were distributed to the children of the poor, and in several instances clothing and shoes were left for scantily clad little bodies and bare feet of the children.

The distribution of gifts was not confined to the poor, but the sick and shut-ins of the city were also remembered and received a gift at the hand of the Goodfellows. Every sick room in Colorado received a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

The entire population of the city was included in the campaign to carry Christmas cheer to the poor and sick. The Mexican section of Colorado and the negro population came in for a large distribution of the good things for Christmas. After a committee of ladies had distributed fruit and nuts among the Mexican children, a little boy, approaching one of the ladies, remarked: "Me no gotta shoes." The little dark skinned fellow had a pair of shoes on the following day, as it was the wish of the Goodfellows that every deserving need be met.

It was one of the best Christmas seasons in Colorado for a long time. The recipients of those gifts from the Goodfellows probably did not enjoy the occasion with any more pleasure than did the scores of citizens who made the gifts possible. It was truly a demonstration of that Scripture, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

The Goodfellows are in Colorado to stay and their ministrations to the poor and sick will not end with passing of the Christmas holidays. A substantial fund remains in the treasury and needs of our unfortunates will be looked after throughout the year.

MITCHELL GIN RECEIPTS LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Gin receipts in Mitchell County prior to December 1st were 1,347 bales less this year than at the same time in 1921, according to a report received Tuesday from the Department of Commerce at Washington. Receipts this year totaled 21,235, as compared with 22,582 bales last year. The report shows that Howard county gin receipts December 1st were 12,050 bales; Nolan county 15,282, and Scurry county 22,760 bales.

SLATON PLUMBER WILL OPEN COLORADO OFFICE

George Huth of Slaton will open a plumbing and heating equipment office at Colorado within the near future, according to information given the Record last week by Mr. Huth. Huth has the contract for the plumbing and heating in the new ward school.

CHRISTMAS IS OBSERVED QUIETLY AT COLORADO

Christmas was observed in a quiet manner in Colorado and throughout the Colorado territory. The usually expected reports of accidents are missing and in so far as could be learned Wednesday afternoon no one was seriously injured from fire works or over indulgence in other Christmas festivities. The weather was like spring, the most beautiful for Christmas known here for many years. Merchants of Colorado report an unusually heavy holiday trade during the last few days just before Christmas. In fact, some of the dealers carrying heavy stocks of holiday goods practically sold out everything. The Christmas shopper this year did not spend all of his time shopping at the toy counter and novelty shops, as the dry goods, hardware, and general stores, as well as the grocers, druggists and confectioners, all report a brisk trade during the week preceding Christmas.

The popping of fire crackers, including all sizes, formed a continued roar throughout the residence section of Colorado for two or three days. At night the sky was almost continually illuminated with exploding rockets and Roman candles. A city ordinance prohibited the shooting of fire works in the business district.

Most of the churches observed the occasion with special Christmas programs and trees. Several trees were also set up in private homes and there left for retaining the gifts to be left by Santa Claus. Some of the churches made special offerings for denominational orphan homes, or other benevolences, in connection with the Christmas programs.

WORKMAN INJURED IN FALL AT NEW BANK BUILDING

Gus Gunther, brick foreman on the Colorado National Bank building, was painfully injured Tuesday morning at 8:30 when a large cornice stone being placed on the building became overbalanced and fell, crashing through the scaffold on which he was standing. Gunther fell a distance of twenty-seven feet and landed on a pile of stone. Two ribs on his right side and his left arm near the wrist were broken.

Gunther was picked up and carried to the office of Dr. R. E. Lee where he was given medical attention. It was feared he was injured internally but an x-ray examination Wednesday disclosed that such was not the case.

STORK PLAYS SANTA IN THREE COLORADO HOMES

Christmas gifts to be very much appreciated were left at three Colorado homes during the Yuletide season. In each of these instances the stork acted as Santa Claus and left a fine young American at each of the three homes.

The first visited by the stork was Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Moody, to whom a fine girl was born on Christmas eve. On Christmas day another fine girl arrived in Colorado at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Pritchett. On the day following Christmas, the old faithful stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Coffee, leaving a boy, which the proud father states is the finest boy in all Mitchell county.

COLORADO SUSPENDS ALL BUSINESS FOR CHRISTMAS

All of the stores, the banks and offices of Colorado were closed throughout the day Monday for Christmas. Scores of Colorado business men and their employees spent the day visiting with relatives and friends elsewhere. It was one of the quietest Christmas holidays known here for several years.

Picture Show Benefit

The Standard Club has secured the film, Julius Caesar, which will be presented at the Palace Theatre New Year's Day, both in the afternoon and the evening. Besides seeing a splendid picture the proceeds will go for the Legion hut. Don't fail to see the picture and help the boys secure their hut.

ONE NEW LOCATION FOR WEEK REPORTED IN FIELD

Another new location was made in the field this week, placing the total number of wells in the Mitchell County field at nineteen. This newest test will be drilled by the California Company in the southwest corner of Section No. 27, Block No. 28, approximately two and one-half miles north of Westbrook. The outlook in the field was never more promising, according to local oil men who are watching development closely. Conservative operators who have been identified with the Mitchell County field for the past several months are of the opinion that the big pool will be found in the vicinity where the new locations were made this and last week.

The Petroleum Operators Company are drilling at 2712 feet in Zilpha Morrison No. 1. Indications are excellent for a good producer in this well. A fine sand was drilled through in this well at 2570 feet and would have afforded a good commercial pumper, but the company believe that production will be large by drilling to the Morrison sand. Sloan et al are drilling at 1360 feet at Smart No. 1. Looney et al are rigging up to spud at their T. & P. No. 1, a location recently made in Section 39, a short distance north of the town of Westbrook.

Dan J. Lewis was here from Iataa Thursday and stated that operations at Foster No. 2 of the Colorado-Tex. Company were temporarily shut down awaiting arrival of fishing tools. A bit was lost in this well several days ago. Lewis, who has contracted to complete this well, expects to clear the hole and resume drilling early in January. The test is down 2600 feet.

The Crescent Drilling Company is running packer to 2415 feet at Smith No. 1 to shut out water. This well will be drilled to the Morrison sand. Drilling has been suspended for the holidays at several tests in the field.

COLORADO CAGERS HAVE STIFF WORKOUT AT LORRAINE

Last Thursday afternoon the High school basket ball team journeyed down to the fair city of Lorraine and engaged the basketers of that fair city in a thrilling game. A good crowd was out to see the teams play and many say it was the best game they have seen in a long time. Coach Foster, who has the local team in charge, tried out several new combinations of his men and for this reason the score for Colorado was not very high, being 34 to 8 in favor of Lorraine. The Gist brothers continued their brilliant work as forwards for Colorado and show signs of being able to bring home the bacon when they have proper support at center and guard. The line up for both teams was unobtainable at the time of writing.

PARTNERS

Mr. Stork seemed to be a partner of Santa Claus this week for he made glad numbers of homes in Colorado along about that time. On the 24th, a sweet girl baby was brought to Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Moody; on the 25th, one to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pritchett; on the 26th, he left a fine boy for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Coffee; on the 27th, he visited the Reynolds ranch and delighted Mr. and Mrs. John Brown by leaving a dear little girl. Goodness knows just what he will do before the Old Year dies.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Adams had as guests for Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphry and son, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Powell and little daughter all of Plainview, Mrs. Humphry is a sister of Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Powell a niece.

Miss Georgia Cooper of Tyler is spending the holidays with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Cooper, and brother, W. S. Cooper and family. Mrs. Cooper will accompany her daughter to Tyler Sunday for an extended visit there.

PLAINS CHAMBER AFTER WEST TEXAS A. & M.

AMARILLO, Dec. 28.—The Panhandle-Plains counties will unite behind some one city located within these counties as the location for the proposed West Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College if the suggestion made at a meeting of the directors of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce here Friday is carried out.

A call will be issued for a meeting to be held at 2 p. m. January 8, in the Longhorn to decide upon a location which all sections of this territory will unite.

The suggestion is that each of the 40 counties embraced in what is termed the Panhandle Plains country will have one vote in the mass meeting to determine the question of the location.

Several cities in this section are already avowed candidates for the school. The list includes Lubbock, Post, Plainview, Floydada, Amarillo, Canyon, Memphis, Clarendon and perhaps other towns.

KELLOGG EXPRESSES APPRECIATION OF RECORD

Colorado Record, Dear Sirs:

We've got a heart full of appreciation for the way the newspapers have gotten behind the Kellogg products the past year. We had a wonderful distribution and sales increase, thanks to our newspaper friends' co-operation, and we want to put a lot of the credit right where it is due. Kellogg's Corn Flakes have enjoyed the very biggest twelve months in all our history; Kellogg's Bran, truly a benefit to humanity, has won an enormous clientele; Kellogg's Whole Wheat Krumbles have steadily increased and now we anticipate making Pop, the remarkable new Kellogg product, the greatest seller of them all.

Yes, we've got a whole lot to be merry about these glad Christmas days—and, just as a token of our happy anticipations for the New Year, accept with our best holiday compliments the package of Kellogg products sent you under separate cover.

You'll find a supply of Kellogg's Corn Flakes and Bran and Krumbles and Pop,—all nestled neatly for your home use. Please enjoy them with your folks.

And, at the very same time accept the hearty best Christmas wishes of,

Truly yours,
 W. K. KELLOGG.

SWEETWATER POULTRY SHOW OPENS WEDNESDAY

Premium catalogues of the County Poultry Association show, which opens at Sweetwater Wednesday for three days, have received in Colorado. W. C. C. president of the association, that hundreds of the best birds West Texas are to be on exhibit throughout the exhibition.

The association extends an invitation to Mitchell County poultry breeders to show their birds at this poultry show. "I hear that Mitchell County breeders are producing some excellent birds," Calvert writes in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, "and we trust that at least some of them will be exhibited here next week."

E. M. McCreless on the Wing.

I left Colorado on the night of the 17th December. My first stop was at Sweetwater. I then visited my daughter and family at Sylvester and returned to Sweetwater the 21st, then pursued my journey eastward rambling in a crowded train. I soon found out what ups and downs meant also what it meant to go east and then west. When I was in Sweetwater it looked as if everybody was there except what were on the train. But when we got to Ft. Worth there was another crowd of folks leaving there. We soon found our destination in Denton county among our kind-folks and acquaintances, found all well and to say we have had three squares a day would be enough. They have been heaped up and running over and today (Christmas) I sit at Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dobins' table loaded with many kinds of good eats, and lots of more in sight. With my brother sitting at the head, I on his right facing the only dear sister on his left. Imagine my feelings and my actions well! I acknowledge I was feeling well and in good plite for the job that confronted me. Times and things generally are not normal in this county it really seems that every people and country has its sweets and bitters and the easier and better we take it is the better for us. Now in conclusion and according to what is proposed me I am again expecting to need help so you may send L. W. Sandusky to help out peanuts and C. W. Simpson to help take care of the o'possums.

STEERS COMMANDING GOOD PRICE, SNYDER REPORTS

Marcus Snyder reported Saturday that good range steers were commanding a good price on the market now and that good stuff was actually becoming hard to obtain. Snyder has recently leased a large ranch in Kent county and shipped several cars of cattle to pasture there.

Snyder left the following article at The Record office, which was taken from a leading livestock journal:

Chase Brothers, Eugene and Fred, who own large pastures in Morris and Geary counties in Kansas, last week bought 2,000 three and four year-old Texas steers at $55 a head, for grazing next summer. One thousand head of four year-old steers were bought from Russell & Ariego, Concho county, and the 1,000 three year-olds from George Allison, Sonora, Texas. The total price for the 2,000 steers was $110,000. Neither the amount of money involved in the deal nor the number of steers purchased is unusual but to buy steers five to six months before the grazing season opens indicates that there is a scarcity of three and four year-old steers in Texas. They are the kind that do the best and make the greatest gains on Kansas grass. Chase Brothers keep in close touch with the Southwest cattle situation the year around.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF DICK AND OPHELIA

The following poem was composed by J. D. Wulfjen, life long friend of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Arnett, and presented them upon their fiftieth wedding anniversary, recently celebrated at Colorado. The poem was written in longhand with pencil by Mr. Wulfjen and is published by request:

Solomon said to rejoice in "The wife of thy youth". Pro. 5:18 Fifty golden years have past Loved ones; what have we to say Simply this that many more Happy years are yet in store. Years of pleasure, without pain, Years of sunshine, without rain, Years of rapture and delight Years that mock the coming night. Hand in hand, and heart to heart, Near each other, ne'er apart. May you know no saddening tears, In your life's declining years. Take her in your arms and say Ophelia fifty years today You and I through smiles and tears, Have traveled through these fifty years.

Friend look into their eyes See the love that never dies Learn the sweetness of all love, Love is love, for evermore. When at length, the fluttering heart Gives the signal to depart; In that long, last earthly kiss, May you find supernal bliss. Sons, daughters and neighbors true Wish you this to be sure This is what we have to say. On your Golden Wedding Day, ANON.

PEARSON CANTRELL HELD FOR FORGERY AT SWEETWATER

Pearson Cantrell, 27 years old, alias C. E. Woods, C. E. Brady, and several others, is in the county jail here awaiting trial in the March term of the District Court. He was brought here Tuesday from Grand Saline, Van Zandt county, by Ed Bardwell, sheriff, after a chase of two years. Cantrell was indicted in Nolan County in 1920 upon a forgery charge. He is alleged to have forged the name of Arch Clark, a farmer living near Roscoe, to a $6 check and then leaving the country. He was identified by Clark after his return here.

He has been located at various places since his flight from Nolan county two years ago. He was located in Kensley, Kansas, in August 1922, when he was being held upon a felony charge. He escaped from the Kansas jail and was apprehended recently at Grand Saline and the authorities here notified. He is wanted in Kansas at present, according to officers here.—Sweetwater Reporter.

FORMER ATTORNEY WRITES ON COURT HOUSE BONDS

A prominent citizen of Texas, who for many years was a practicing attorney of Colorado, writes an interesting letter on the Mitchell County court house question, which, because of the fact that many of the suggestions in his letter are to be carried out in the plans adopted by Commissioners' Court, is printed.

The letter follows: "Having learned that an election for the issuance of one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars court house bonds has been ordered, and believing that it will carry, I am taking the liberty of offering you gentlemen a few suggestions for your consideration in regard to the kind and character of courthouse I believe the county needs and should have.

My long residence at Colorado, and the fact that my heart is still there, I am sure, will keep you gentlemen from classifying me as a mere "butter-in."

In the first place and fundamentally, the amount of money you will have available is not enough to build a great big courthouse, especially since the cost of labor and materials is by no means back to a pre-war basis. This means that in order to get the most for your money the construction should be of the plainest type. Every useless cupulo and tower—and they are all that—costs money, and is the first thing to disintegrate. You are no doubt familiar with the type of courthouse at Big Spring. With some modifications based upon my experience and observation of many courthouses in county seats all over Texas, that I believe is the type and character of structure best suited to Mitchell County.

I am sure that you appreciate the fact that the county clerk's office is the heart of the building, and the department that grows fastest and the most. If I remember rightly Snyder has a good feature in the clerk's office in that both the basement and the clerk's office are one solid vault, so the older records can go down in the basement and the newer ones be kept up stairs. The clerk's department in the Big Spring courthouse is entirely too small and cramped.

Another thing is that the district court room in most western court houses is too large. It is an invitation to the public to hold various gatherings, including conventions and Sunday schools in there, which results in considerable wear and tear and damage to the furnishings. El Paso county with over a hundred thousand population has three district court rooms, none of which are anything like as large as the present Mitchell County district court room. A big court room is an accommodation only to the idle who hang around criminal trials, when they ought to be at work.

Another thing, the court room should be so arranged as to give it a southern exposure, and if possible an eastern one also. Big Spring has a southern and northern exposure. An office for a district judge should be provided opening directly into the court room, and large enough for him to maintain a library therein. The county court room should be on the first floor, and made comparatively small.

Care should be taken to provide for a district clerk's office because beyond a doubt the office of county and district clerk in Mitchell county will have to be separated.

The natural place for a justice of the peace office is in the basement, and by all means he should have a vault. Perhaps you don't know it but at least half of the justice court records of Mitchell county have disappeared. They are supposed to have been given to the boy scouts as old paper. A few years since I undertook the collection of a judgment for the Colorado Mercantile Company and to my amazement discovered that not only this docket but others had disappeared.

Every window in the building should be equipped with Chamberlain weather strips which keep out the dust and sand. They will if not guarded against, ruin any public building.

Permit me to suggest that the building be planned on the unit system and set far enough from the property line to permit in the future the doubling of the building if needed. That is the character of construction followed in this and other places in the construction of public school buildings and when they are added to only an expert could tell which is the old building and which is the new. If the oil development in your county materializes you will perhaps need an addition for court purposes, or it may be necessary to include the jail in the same building, which could all be heated from the same heating plant and would be more economical. From what you have given out and what I have seen and heard it seems that it is our desire to get as near a fire-proof structure as is practicable. That being the case the roof should be some form of asbestos roofing, best adapted to resist the high winds you are exposed to, which will be impervious to water, and will be an insurance premium saver. In my courthouse experiences I have noticed that the counties who made the mistake of having offices and bed rooms in the court house had a bad state of affairs, and I trust old Mitchell won't make that mistake. It is no part of the counties duties to help save some short citizen room rent, or to compete with office buildings and hotels. But the main thing is, if you have money enough to build a good big court house, then build a good little one, so planned and constructed that another unit can be added to it when increased population and business justify and require it. Colorado has a forty year history of being badly stung on public buildings, and I sincerely trust and believe this court house will be a change in that state of affairs, and that every body is going to be proud of it.

TACTICS OF AMARILLO

From Amarillo comes the information that the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, an organization presumably for the general welfare of the forty counties embraced within the Panhandle, but first working for the interests of Amarillo, has decided that the West Texas A. & M. College should be located in that section of the State, and accordingly issued a call for a mass meeting to be held at Amarillo on January 8th to select a site for the college.

found anywhere. There is not a county in West Texas where it is not possible to provide water in abundance so that intensive agriculture may take the place of dry farming methods. In many counties the great underground lake that underlies so large a part of West Texas may be tapped only a few feet underground, and motor pumps will lift the water for the fields. In other counties it is possible to impound flood waters in reservoirs.

This issue of the Record is the fifth issue in December and coming on holiday week between Christmas and New Year makes it extremely hard on the force to get out a paper at all as the entire force is somewhat out of the running because of too much turkey and festivities. Will start the New Year 1923 and greet our many readers on January 6th with renewed energy and hopes and in doing so we ask the cooperation of the public.

thing—failure. He will wake up some day and find that the city has advanced so far that he is left entirely behind. That is the reward of no cooperation. His competitor across the street believes in co-operation with the other merchants of the city in an effort to make it a better town in which to live. His business will grow while the other fellow fails. That is the reward of civilization, men saw that co-operation was necessary in order to protect themselves from the wild animals and ravages of nature. The same thing was true two thousand years ago. Co-operation is necessary in order to preserve your business. Times and conditions change but the fundamental laws of nature stay with us forever.

Why do we make a special holiday of the beginning of the year and why do we greet it with so much clamor and exultation? Because, as far back as records or legends run, man has always done so. Barbarians who had some crude way of reckoning time had a New Year's celebration. The custom of marking the first day of the year by festive rejoicing appears to have prevailed among all of the ancient nations.

the new year was retained; but considerable variety prevailed both as to the time and the manner of celebration.

Christmas Day, the Annunciation (March 25), Easter and March 1 have all at different times and places shared with January 1 the honor of opening the new year; nor was it till late in the Sixteenth Century that January 1 was in most countries accepted as the first day of the new year. The early fathers—Chrysostom Ambrose, Augustine, Peter Chrysologus and others—in reprobation of the immoral and superstitious observances of the Pagan festival, prohibited in Christian use all festive celebration; and on the contrary directed that the Christian year should be opened with a day of prayer, fasting and humiliation. The mandate, however, was but partially observed.

The social observances of the day appear to have been in substance the same in all ages. From the earliest record celebration we find notice of feasting, exchanging of gifts and visits, and masquerading. There are some customs which time seems not to alter, and those of New Year's are conspicuous in this class. Do we notice any change in the manner of celebrating the occasion? Do we observe any lessening of its festive characteristics? No, it goes along pretty much as of old, excepting that each year it becomes a little more important and a little more widely kept. There is a mysticism about it bound up with the mysteries of time and space. Like the savage and the barbarian, we feel the mystery, and like them we beat the tom-toms, ring the bells and go through other rites as if to fend against or appease the spirits which rule over it.

The Record cannot see the consistency of selecting the site for an institution until that institution is created, but this is what Amarillo proposes to do. The fact of the business is a fight confronts the people of West Texas in obtaining passage of the proposed bill by the Thirty-eighth Legislature. This is the opinion of some of the leading members of both the lower house and the Senate, who have given the matter much consideration. The first thing for Amarillo or any other town or city in West Texas to do, if they really desire to work for the general interest of West Texas would be to cooperate with other sections of this part of the state in working for passage of the bill creating the college.

A meeting of representatives of Mitchell, Scurry, Fisher and Nolan counties will be held Friday evening at Sweetwater to form an association to work as a unit for passage of the proposed bill by the next Legislature. The people of this section of West Texas believe that the college will be properly located after final passage of the bill, and do not at this time propose to pose as a locating committee, a task which will, no doubt, be superintended by authorities at Austin and not Amarillo.

Irrigation to Aid West Texas.

Irrigation in West Texas will make that immense agricultural area one of the greatest producing sections in the whole country. Irrigation will bring the difference between uncertain and generally just fair crops and certain abundant crops of the finest quality.

Stress would not be given to the importance of irrigating the crops if it was not possible to make West Texas the greatest irrigated district of rich agricultural lands to be found anywhere. There is not a county in West Texas where it is not possible to provide water in abundance so that intensive agriculture may take the place of dry farming methods. In many counties the great underground lake that underlies so large a part of West Texas may be tapped only a few feet underground, and motor pumps will lift the water for the fields. In other counties it is possible to impound flood waters in reservoirs.

It should be an easy matter to obtain the capital for such projects if landowners in the section to be benefited merge their interests and share in the benefits. Not only will they participate in the profits enhanced by irrigation, but protection from floods will be afforded to thousands of acres of bottom lands.

Mineral Wells, Cisco and Abilene have followed the example set by Fort Worth and Wichita Falls and have built large reservoirs in which to store water for municipal use. They furnish also sites for amusement parks, for boating, fishing and bathing. Other towns and cities have smaller reservoirs for various purposes, but large or small they always provide a place where the people may enjoy outings.

The go-it-alone policy will not get you anywhere in this day of mass formation. There might have been a time that one could paddle his own canoe but that day has passed. No matter how great the publication of the publisher he needs and must have the good will of the public if he is to attain the success desired.

Commenting along this line the "Spirit of Progress," official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of Sioux City, Iowa, says: "The world is too big for any one person to get all there is in life by himself. Now and then we find a man who imagines that he can start a business and make it go without the help of anybody else. These men are getting scarce for bitter experience has shown that it cannot be done. He will struggle along for maybe a few years paying no attention to what his city and his neighbors are doing. He makes no effort to serve his community other than for profit, he takes no part in public activities and does not seem to care whether the world moves or not. That man is doomed but for one

It is possible in Southern California is possible in West Texas and more so. Every county has its damsites at the head of canyons with large natural basins stretching out above where flood waters could be gathered in varying quantities. Such dams might call for an expenditure of $50,000 or $100,000 and impound enough water to irrigate 1,000 acres. Or the cost might be $500,000 and 15,000 acres or 20,000 acres of land be irrigated. Again, the cost might be $1,000,000 or more, resulting in the impounding of enough water to irrigate 30,000 or 40,000 acres or more.

Premium catalogues of the Nolan County Poultry Association poultry show, which opens at Sweetwater Wednesday for three days, have been received in Colorado. W. C. Calvert, president of the association, writes that hundreds of the best birds of West Texas are to be on exhibition throughout the exhibition.

The association extends an invitation to Mitchell County poultry breeders to show their birds at this poultry show. "I hear that Mitchell County breeders are producing some excellent birds," Calvert writes in a letter to the Chamber of Commerce, "and we trust that at least some of them will be exhibited here next week."

Our Long Suit

AMID the vicissitudes of this changing time and with the consciousness of temporariness that comes with the flight of a year, it is pleasant to think of the enduring character of the best thing in life, unflinching love, as does the writer of the following verses:

CARDS and the game are ours as time flits by
And deals us chances on the uncertain stage,
But, while our wisdom may increase with age,
We seldom win, however hard we try.

Clubs promise most to our insistent youth,
And diamonds glitter to our later gaze,
But melancholy spades our hopes amaze
And leave them buried after all, forsooth.

We count the riches of the passing days,
Our gains, our losses, and our gain withal,
Our greatest gain, the one that once so small,
Ever increasing, stays with us always:

Joy after joy approaches and departs,
But we have kept the fellowship of hearts!

IN SOCIETY AND AT THE CLUBS

Announcement Tea
Mrs. C. M. Adams entertained her intimate friends with a tea Tuesday afternoon. The pleasant surprise was when her niece, little Jane Powell, of Plainview passed little cards with Dutch figures announcing the marriage of Miss Byrd Adams and Mr. Roy Buchanan in January, the day has not yet been set. Mr. Buchanan holds a responsible position in Dutch Guiana and the only regret is that he takes one of Colorado's most charming young ladies so far away.
Mrs. Joe H. Smoot entertained with bridge Wednesday afternoon honoring Miss Thompson of Atlanta, Georgia, and Miss Steadham, the high school English teacher, who is a guest in her home during the holidays. A salad course, fruit cake and coffee were served.

MARRIED
At the Christian parsonage, Mr. O. W. Watlington to Miss Arnta Brasswell, December 20th. Ceremony performed by Bro. Hardison. Several good friends were with the young couple to witness the wedding. We feel sure these young folks will succeed in life because of their ability to meet and solve the problems of life.

Junior Missionary
The Juniors met at the residence of Mrs. Tom Allmon with Mrs. Garrett as hostess on last Friday afternoon. There were 30 children present, 3 visitors. After some Christmas readings by some of the children, the Christmas story was told; sentence prayers by all present. Our mission study was conducted by Mrs. Garrett. Exa King acted as Santa Claus, each child was remembered with a Christmas card. A good time was had by all present. Hostess served hot chocolate, whipped cream cake and home made candy. The children have done a good year's work, they deserve much credit for their work meeting all the requirements of our higher officers, which places them a second year on the honor roll.

Reported.
Married at the court house, Mr. Charley Bishop to Miss Aileen Dozier December 26th, the ceremony being performed by Rev. D. R. Hardison in the presence of a number of friends who were present to wish them a joyous voyage over the sea of life.

Married
Mr. Wesley Teurcella and Miss Dannie Lee were united in marriage last Saturday evening at the Baptist parsonage, the pastor, M. C. Bishop, performing the ceremony.

Young People's Society.
The young people's missionary society of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Lucian Maddin Tuesday afternoon. The book, "In the Vanguard of a Race" was completed. The hostess assisted by little Alice Blanks served sandwiches, cake and coffee. The meeting next week will be with Mrs. Appie Baker.

Married
W. C. Clifton and Miss Velma Ennis were married last Wednesday evening at the Baptist parsonage, Rev. M. C. Bishop officiating.

Entertains Missionary Society
Mrs. J. E. Dobbs and Mrs. A. P. Baker entertained with a lovely party for the ladies of the Y. P. M. S. at the residence of Mrs. Dobbs Thursday, December 21, at 4:15. As the guests arrived they were asked into the living room, which was decorated in red and green roping, red and green balls, holly wreaths, and lighted candles of red and green. In the adjoining dining room was a Christmas tree in the center of the table. The tree was loaded with gifts for the guests from their capsulls, red horns which were used as souvenirs made a circle around the tree, with each guests name on the horn tied with red ribbon which led to the gifts. The guests went one at a time for their gifts which were opened and caused much excitement. The young lady that was most pleased tried to blow her horn the loudest. There was then a contest of ten questions on missionary work. Miss Sallie Herrington answering the most questions was presented with a Mandolin. Refreshments of fruit juices topped with whipped cream and cherries, red brick cake and fresh coconut, English walnuts filled with red candy, were served to the following guests: Mesdames A. B. Blanks, J. S. Vaughan, Floyd Quinney, Charlie Thompson, Ed Jackson, Lucian Maddin, Boyd Dozier, A. E. Barcroft, Abrey Herrington, Hope Herrington, Jack Norris, L. B. Elliott, Harry Ratliff, Clarence Dutton, Misses Sallie Herrington, Alma May, Jessie Stell, Mattie Dorn, Jewell Chesney, Birdie Womack, Hazel Costin, Earl and Claris King.

WITH THE CHURCHES
FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
The Christmas program and gift trees were presented to a packed house Sunday evening. The decorations were beautiful. Mrs. Hardison gave the design and Willing Workers finished the most beautiful decorated outline ever given here. The young people did their part well. This following the generous giving to the orphan home amounting to over $300, made all feel that we had the greatest Christmas in the history of the church.
We have just one more service for the year that has grown old and is ready to pass away. Let's make it a great day. Let us profit by the victories of the past and if our failures are so serious as to prevent forgetting, may we remember where-in we failed and use these mistakes to make greater efforts to succeed during the coming New Year. Come at 10:00 for the Bible school, at 11 for the morning worship and 7:00 for the evening services.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
The Sunday school at 9:45, J. M. Thomas, superintendent. Mr. Thomas has been away at Austin visiting his family but will be home for next Sunday.
Preaching by the pastor at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

At the eleven o'clock hour we will have a New Year service. Begin and form a habit of going to church and Sunday school.
Sunday school at Horns school house every Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Mr. Jerold Riordan, superintendent. A cordial welcome to all who will come and worship with us. W. M. Elliott, pastor.

TEXAS TON LITTER CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED HERE

Organization of a Texas Ton Litter Club will be perfected in Mitchell County early in 1923, according to W. A. Dulin, county agent. The purpose of the club is to induce farmers of Texas to lend an impetus to hog production in this State. The movement is fostered by the Texas Swine Breeders Association and the A. & M. college of Texas.

"One farmer produced a litter of pigs weighing 3040 pounds in 180 days in Indiana last year, and the Hoosier State becoming chesty over this record challenged Texas to beat it," Dulin stated.

"Realizing the vast field and possibilities in the Lone Star State for swine production, the Texas Swine Breeders Association in Co-operation with the Extension Service A. & M. college of Texas have decided to accept the challenge from Indiana and consequently have inaugurated a campaign to demonstrate to the farmers of Texas the value of pure-bred livestock and the economy of proper feeding methods, also convince the farmers of Texas that hogs can be produced which will show as great weight in six months as the average scrub hog reared under scrub methods will show in a year.

"In order to start the movement in a systematic manner and give it impetus the Texas Ton Litter Club has been adopted and the Texas Swine Breeders Association are offering a gold medal for a litter of pigs that weigh 2,000 pounds (a ton) or more when six months old."

Rules and regulations governing the club may be obtained by any interested party of Mr. Dulin. He stated that medals will be awarded by the Texas Swine Breeders Association, as follows, the litters to be farrowed between February 1st and May 15th, 1923, and reach the weights when six months old:

1. Gold Medal—For a litter weighing 2,000 pounds or more.
2. Silver Medal—For a litter weighing 1,800 pounds and less than 2,000 pounds.
3. Bronze Medal—For a litter weighing 1,600 pounds and less than 1,800 pounds.

Dulin stated that his several years experience with hog production in Mitchell County had convinced him that no section of Texas could produce better animals than this county. There is no visible reason why several of these medals should not be won by farmers of this county, he stated. Members of the Boys Clubs should be especially interested in the Ton Litter organization.

NOTICE TO THE MERCHANTS

This is to certify that we, D. J. Fuller and E. A. Stokes feel it our duty to thank the good merchants of Colorado for their past hauling, hoping to continue their hauling in the year of 1923 as we are in better shape to serve the merchants by putting on the third truck. ABILENE GIRLS MAKE
"FLYING VISIT" TO FRIEND

How would you like to make a flying little trip to some city of West Texas, make a few hours call on your friends and fly away home. In former days a "flying trip" meant possibly a short one, but not so any more, as Miss Elsie Lee Majors of Colorado City found out Saturday morning when her friends, Miss Laura Pearre and Miss Frances flew up to her door with Major Cantrell in his airship.

The visitors expect to return to Abilene this afternoon, as the trip in the airplane takes only a short time to make and they will enjoy their week-end visit in Colorado, with the least amount of time consumed in going and coming and the "said-to-be" exhilarating delight of the flight in the airship—Abilene Reporter.

Of all the Season's Greetings received The Record appreciates the following very highly:
My dear Friend:

As the Christmas season quietly slips in upon us, our thoughts naturally turn to our friends. I am writing this little note just to let you know I am thinking of you and yours.

Your friend,

NEW YEAR GREETING:

Imbued with the spirit of this joyful Christmas season we are eager to express our best wishes for your welfare during all the New Year. Our business the past year was fine and we shall ever strive, with service, courtesy and honesty to make the coming year better. Let us scatter sunshine and in its glow remember it is friendship alone that keeps this old world happy and on this gladsome day nothing expresses friendship like the good old-fashioned greeting. We send to you a hearty New Years Greeting.

LONE STAR

This writer has been too busy to write but we should never be too busy to represent our community.

Everyone seems to be enjoying the Christmas holidays.

Quite a few of the young people went to the salt well Christmas day and had a real good time kodaking.

Mrs. John Richburg and baby are spending the holidays visiting her father and other relatives who live at Kemp, Texas.

Mr. Sanford Fraser's father and mother of Abilene are visiting him.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dale gave the young folks a party Friday night, and Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Henderson gave one Saturday night and Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Hamilton gave a singing Sunday night.

Mr. Hiser and family have moved into our community we give these folks a hearty welcome.

Mr. W. H. Long is building a new house and there are other new dwelling houses in the community.

Joe Richburg, wife and son spent Sunday in Loraine.

Mrs. C. C. Nance and children of Big Spring are spending the holidays in the N. L. Henderson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClintey of Tuscola are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Draper.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

THE storm-wind sank, the moon rode high,
Set round with silver haze,
Where, late, sky-spaces wonderful
Shined green as chrysopease.

Within the old gray church steeple
I met the old year on the hill,
And bade farewell to it.

The woods around stood stark and dim,
But at my feet white birds
Plattered, the wraiths of kindly dead
And sweet, remembered words.

Above me, from Orion's belt,
A great gem flashed and fell,
Was it a scraph prize—sped by Michael, or Gabriel?

Then, though my lonely heart must mourn
For some that come no more,
White sails of Hope I seemed to see
Set to a sapphire shore.

As he who dreamed a New World sailed
On an un-barred sea,
From Idaho with his caravels
Lured by a mystery.

So, under flaming Asian skies,
Or by the still, white Pole,
That Great Adventure, the New Year,
Beacons the human soul.

Pulling the Throttle

By Christopher G. Hazard

(By 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

IT IS the custom of a certain railway engineer to have his boy with him now and then in the engine cab. The youngster states that he has "finged the bell and blown the whistle," but that he has not yet "pulled the throttle."

This seems to be the matter with a good many older ones of the present generation, and it may explain their lack of progress. They have rung the bell and they have blown the whistle, but they have neglected to open the throttle.

That invisible force that is in us all responds wonderfully when we call upon it, but is only a useless and diminishing energy until we do. Bell and whistle may advertise that we have steam up, but they cannot get us along. They may both be active while we are really slowing up, like the train that approaches a stop.

The station may be a permanence for us when we could go a good deal farther, we may arrive at a dead line in life while yet young, because we have shut the throttle instead of opening it, turned off steam instead of turning it on.

There never was more chance for progress than this New Year is offering. Never before did opportunity beckon so much in demand, never was capacity so much needed. Never was ability so largely rewarded. Great positions wait for those who can fill them. Ambition may plan. Aspiration may hope.

But I wouldn't want a fast young man on my road. I wouldn't have a loud young woman in my office. Cigarettes shut off steam. The call is not for noise, but for efficiency! I can watch a young man's smoke when that is about all there is of him. I can hear a belle's ring when I would prefer to have her busy!

"They're not human, mother, dear! they're only tame gorillas." Much as I feared the rumormongers, I feared gorillas more, and I was I to come again back to my beloved shore.

"When home once more my son remarked: 'You'll want to see the play at the Olympia theater; it is this matinee.'"

"I think I'd like to stay indoors," I said, "and stay awhile."

"Oh, well, you need not leave the house," she answered with a smile. "We do not go to theaters like the canaries."

I hope, just dawned, close my drawing: From open the door, and you will see the actresses, the corollas and frieze. Beside it stands the telephone and you can hear with ease."

"What is a dioscope?" I cried.

"A small, objective lens, so placed as to command the stage (as all world now kens), connected by electric wire with your white plate of glass that's framed in panel on our wall and over this will pass the scenery and actors both until the play is through."

By electricians it was tried in 1882. But that is quite old-fashioned, so I show you something new. You'll want to ride in my balloon directly after tea; I'll take you, if you're not too tired, up to the Polar sea."

His kindness overpowered me, and I began to weep, when someone shouted in my ear, "You are crying in your sleep."

The Globe had fallen on the floor, the lamp was growing dim, so what my son might yet have said is known to none but him.

*A fact.

BANISH THAT STRAW MAN

Supposing you thought you had been able to ward off all bad luck during the coming year by merely throwing a straw image out of your house on the last day of December. You would have thrown out not only one image, but a dozen. And supposing that with the discarding of the straw eddify you had thrown away all your sins. This is what the people of far-away Korea believe. On the day before New Year's the wise and far-seeing head of each family carefully makes a rough image of straw, which, with great ceremony, is taken to the door and thrown away with all the vigor a man would exert when he threw away ill fortune.

NEW YEAR OF ANCIENTS

The ancient Egyptians, Phoenicians and Persians began their new year at the autumnal equinox (September 21) and the Greeks, until the Fifth century, B. C., began the year at the winter solstice (December 21). In 452, B. C., the Greeks changed the festival to June 21, the beginning of summer.

THE JULIAN CALENDAR

In the Julian calendar New Year day occurs 12 days later than in the Gregorian and the countries in which the Greek church predominates observe the holiday on January 13.

The Idyll of a Tug Boat

By Christopher G. Hazard

(By 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

THE matter with Andrews is that he cannot keep upon any one course. He tacks all over the bay but does not make any port. Shifting as a weather vane, he is as contradictory as a weather vane. He started upon the road to a profession, but landed in a brick-making concern. Then he concluded that he was meant for big business, but he tried to start too high up. A chicken farm was his next employment and it netted him a large amount of costly experience. He now thinks of trying mining, but will undoubtedly dig up disaster. If he ends as a good shoeblack it will be at the bottom, where he ought to have begun, and he will be nearer to true progress.

The tug boat that was proceeding up the river was named "Patience." It was tugging a long following of canal boats at a slow pace. It was making its way towards a definite point and over a prescribed and limited course. And it was going to get there. All its energy was pledged to perseverance in the practice of the proverb, "It's doggedness as does it." The eagle over the pilot house had its wings spread, although it could not fly yet. The boy who stood at the bow said, "I'm only a ship's boy now, but I'll be a man tomorrow."

Can success find such a leap year as will enable it to land at the end of a twelvemonth without plodding towards it from its beginning? Is there any recipe that will enable a young fellow like Andrews to obtain his father's position and wealth without pursuing his father's path of long and patient toil? Must not the well of a bucket stop run dry? Can a gambler finally break the bank?

And can a Jack-at-all-trades be a master of any? No! The times call for specialists, rather than general practitioners. It will be a New Year indeed for everything in general when it becomes something in particular. Better the patient, persistent tug boat than the more exciting but less profitable airplane. The ship's boy of today must precede the captain of tomorrow.

NEW YEAR'S CALLS

From old Dutch times to the middle of the Nineteenth century New Year's day in many American cities was devoted to the universal interchange of visits. Every door was thrown open and it was a breach of etiquette to omit any acquaintance in the annual calls, when old friendships were renewed and family differences amicably settled.

NEW YEAR GIFTS

The custom of giving and receiving gifts on New Year day, which originated in Rome, still survives in France and Scotland, although in most countries the exchange of gifts at Christmas has taken its place.

Christmas Evening With The Lutherans

The Christmas tree program was observed by the Lutheran folks on Monday evening at the church. After a Christmas hymn by the congregation there was a short talk by Rev. A. J. F. Meier on First John 4:19, "We love him because he first loved us." Then came the lighting of the tree which was beautifully decorated after which a duet, Silent Night, was given by Mesdames A. J. F. Meier and E. P. Kuck. The program by the children was rendered nicely. All of the Sunday school children and also other children which were present were remembered with a paper bag well filled with fruit, nuts and candy.

New Year's Dream

(NOTE.—This article printed in the Boston Globe in 1883, predicted many things which have become a reality in much less time than anticipated.)

THIS New Year's eve while I lounged with nothing else to do, I scanned each column of the Globe and almost ere I knew a growing dimness stole across the printed page; I drew it nearer, and behold! 'twas yellowed o'er with age. My hands, I found, had wrinkled grown, my locks were changed to gray; my form was bent, my vision dim, my teeth had passed away. And as I gazed I heard a voice, "Good morning, grandma, dear! I wish you many, many times a Happy, Glad New Year." Then tall men said they were my sons, and daughters fair to see told me this wasn't ninety-three, but nineteen forty-three.

Said I: "My memory has failed; how goes the world today?" "You shall go out this afternoon and see the town," cried they.

At that the tears flowed down my cheeks. Quoth I, "The days are ended when these poor eyes could see the sights."

"Oh, no! we'll have them mended." A grown-up son then seized a knob and gave three pulls upon it.

"The lenses crystalline have grown too flat with age," he said. "We must put new ones in."

With that he hypnotized my mind in some peculiar way, such rare sweet visions floated by, then quickly passed away.

I woke, my eyes were strong and well, and hastening to depart, we paid the fee and entered next a gallery of art. But as to pictures, when I turned, so very strange they seemed, I thought the artist must have sketched the stories he had dreamed.

"We never think of painting now," my guide said, with a laugh. "These are but landscapes in the moon, taken by photograph."

"What! are there people in the moon?" "Oh, yes, indeed!" said he. "Here is a lunar telescope; look through and you will see."

I gazed, and to my great surprise distinctly saw them walking. I listened at another tube and there I heard them talking.

"You see," said he, "we've learned to catch such swift, intense vibrations in the thin ether that we hear their slightest intonations. You look surprised," my son went on. "I'll show those eyes of yours a sight worth while, our famous scheme that beats the Paris sewers. These little gutters ramify through all the streets and streets and catch the rain and hail and melting snow. These tiny gratings match, conducting down to pipes beneath, which take it miles below straight towards the center of the earth, where the great heat, you know, will turn it into steam of course, and up it comes again, by other pipes, to spin and weave and cook and print for men. It feeds the factories through the land with no expense for fuel; it polishes for artisans full many a precious jewel. We've laid large pipes through all the streets to warn the winter weather, so rheumatism's out of date and done with altogether.

"Now, mother, we will go and lunch in Africa's sunny clime," and drawing out his watch he said, "I see there's ample time. The sub-Atlantic tunnel's done; we'll take it over there. The cars are sent through every hour by the force of compressed air." He placed me on a cushioned seat within an egg-shaped car, suspended in an iron tube. I felt a sudden jar, and then, to my astonishment, conscious of nothing more, I found that we were standing upon the farther shore.

And soon we reached a city near the Mountains of the Moon. (They told me Ethiopia would be admitted soon as one of the United States, for China late had been.) We found a place to order lunch, by three tall men brought in. They served us well, but spoke no word, while gravely howling low.

Quoth me: "I thought that slavery was done with long ago."

"So 'tis" said he. "Then who," I asked, "are these three stalwart fellows?"

Corner Third and Locust streets.
Reverend F. B. Eteson, priest in charge.

Order of services for Sunday, December 31—the first Sunday after Christmas:

This is not the regular Sunday for services, being the fifth in the month, but as Reverend Eteson was unable to fill his appointment Sunday, December 17th, he will be with us next Sunday.

Order of services:
Holy communion 8 a. m.
Church school 10 a. m.
Morning services 11 a. m.
Evening prayer 7:30 p. m.

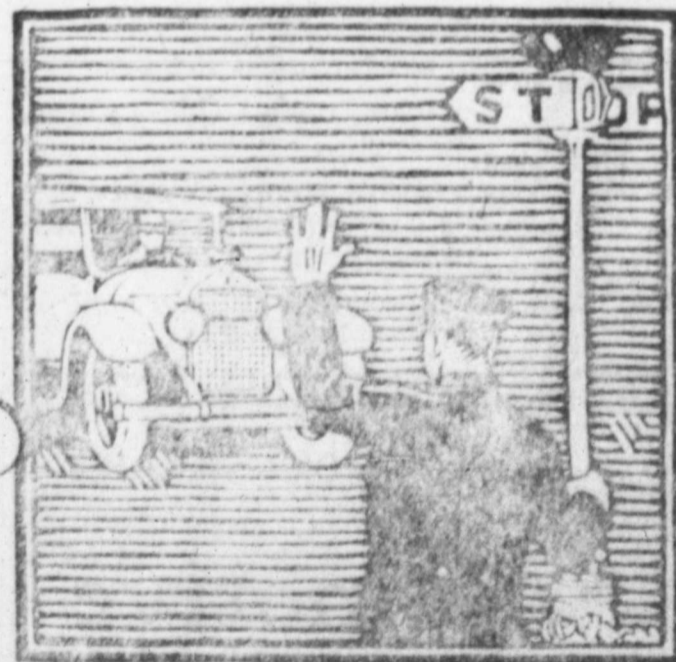

On Thursday afternoon, January 4th, at 4 o'clock the Woman's Guild and Auxiliary will meet at the church. Mr. Eteson will be present at this meeting, which will be the last regular meeting before convocation. Mr. Eteson postponed the meeting he had called before Christmas until this date (Jan. 6) so that every member of Auxiliary and Guild might attend.

The children Christmas program was held Saturday night of last week. Each did his part well after the program, gifts and bags of candy and fruit were distributed from the tree. The Christmas celebration of Holy communion was held at mid-night

Christmas eve. The service was beautiful.

LEGION EXECUTIVES WILL MEET WITH LIONS TODAY

Executive officers of the Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, have been requested to meet with the Colorado Lions Club at luncheon today at noon to discuss with members of the club the proposed hut here and outline plans for raising the additional finances needed. Following addresses by C. M. Adams and L. W. Sandusky last Friday, in which the appeal was made for renewed efforts upon the part of the citizens of Colorado to build the hut the invitation to attend the luncheon was unanimously extended by the club membership.

It was pointed out in these addresses that had the general public of Colorado and Mitchell County responded to the appeal for funds with which to build a hut as liberally as had the Lions club, the funds would have already been subscribed. At the meeting Friday noon plans will no doubt be worked out for making an aggressive campaign to raise the deficit in the hut fund.

The greatest achievement that Colorado could set as its goal would be to make real men of the boys who are now growing up in the city, Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and local scout master stated in addressing the club on activities of the scout movement at Colorado. He read the different points in the boy scouts preamble and also the oath a boy takes when becoming a member. Friday, January 26th, was designated as Boy Scouts Day by the Colorado Lions Club and discussion of the work here will form the business of the club at that meeting.

The proposed West Texas A. & M. College bill, water conservation, the court house bonds, good roads and the coming annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at San Angelo on April 21, 22, and 23, were discussed.

R. M. Hardison, local representative for the Pierce Oil Corporation, was elected as a member of the club, placing the membership at thirty-three.

W. M. Beaver of Hereford, Kans., and N. L. McKenzie of Crystal Lake, Illinois, are spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McKenzie. Mr. Beaver is an uncle and Mr. McKenzie a brother of F. E. McKenzie.

Old and New Year
by Mary Graham Bonner

"HELL, well, well," said the Old Year. "It is so nice to see you, New Year. I congratulate you, and as the good people say, I wish you a Happy New Year."

"Thank you, thank you," said the New Year, in a sweet young voice. "I have great respect for you, Old Year. You have been so wise and good. You have done so much that is fine. Now, how I shall be I do not know at all. I feel so uncertain of myself."

"Oh, you'll get over that," said the Old Year; "you are a little nervous now, but you will be all right in no time at all."

"Why, I remember last January—my very first month of all—I was all over my nervousness before the month was over."

"Were you, indeed?" said the New Year. "Well, that is most encouraging to hear."

"Yes," said the Old Year, "one gets over one's nervousness very quickly when one is a year. I don't know how it is with people, but I know how it is with a year."

"Of course, I suppose a person might need more than a few weeks to get over nervousness, but then a person is about so much longer than a year. After all, a year isn't so long."

"Where are you going now?" asked the New Year.

"Why, don't you know?" the Old Year asked.

"I've never been told," said the New Year. "You see, I have lots to learn. I'm so young," and the New Year sighed a little.

"Oh, you mustn't sigh," said the Old Year. "It's so beautiful a thing to be young, and strong, and new, and brisk."

Of course, too, it is especially nice for a year, because so much is learned in advance, as it were.

"You don't have to begin and learn everything over again, as though you were the first year that had ever been. And people help you so much, too. They go on just as they were going on before, and try to keep you from feeling sensitive and shy."

"People make it so easy for you. You'll discover that."

"But you were asking me where I was going, so I must tell you."

"I would so much love to know," said the New Year.

"I am going," said the Old Year, "to the Beautiful Valley of Memories. Oh, they tell me it is so wonderful a place, and because it is so beautiful no one minds growing older or anything of that sort."

"That is why I am not sad and why I can greet you so gayly and so cheerfully."

"The Beautiful Valley of Memories has ever so many living there. Of course, all the old years are there, and what good times they do have comparing notes."

"Then they have hurried visitors from away, too. You will notice from time to time how people will remember some lovely thing that happened some time ago."

"It is then that we receive hurried visits from these people, so hurried, sometimes, they scarcely realize they have come to visit us as they're so quickly off again."

"But they are with us long enough to know how beautiful is this Valley of Memories."

"You can't imagine how lovely it is until you have been there. I was given just a little look at it today, and you see already I talk as though I were an old inhabitant."

"There are houses there, and they are so sweet and so pretty, with lovely flower gardens filled with favorite flowers. All our flowers have wonderful memories. There are forget-me-nots in one bed, because they are the favorite flowers of one who has so many memories about them."

"The trees are favorites. There are favorite pines. And there are all sorts of lovely things there."

"Oh, the Old Year is not sad to leave, for the Old Year is going to have so good a time. And you have no idea how our valley is loved. Everywhere around it is known and many people know of it, though they do not know just where it is."

"The Beautiful Valley of Memories," they say, "oh, it seems to me I know of that. Didn't I spend a part of my childhood there? It sounds so very familiar. I am sure I spent happy

BEGAN NEW YEAR MARCH 25
March 25 was the usual New Year among most Christian peoples in early medieval days, but in Anglo-Saxon Europe December 21, was New Year day. William the Conqueror, ordered the observance on January 1, at the time of the German conquest, but later England, with the rest of Christendom, began her new year on March 25.

THE GREGORIAN CALENDAR
The adoption of the Gregorian calendar, in 1582, restored January 1 as New Year day and this was accepted by all Roman Catholic countries at once; by Germany, Denmark and Sweden about 1720 and England in 1751.

UNBUCKLING ARBUCKLES
Will Hays has reinstated "Fatty" Arbuckle, pleading the good will of Christmas-tide to justify his action. It is not the first time that sentiment or sentimentality has been used as a cloak to cover up a nasty job. Mr. Hays asserts that the fat comedian should have "a chance." He neglects to say whether he believes that millions of young boys and girls should have a chance, young boys and girls in whose mind sordid images will be reviewed by every showing of Arbuckle on the screen. Arbuckle's films will not be shown until late next year, according to Hays. That seeming delay merits no applause. Months must elapse before new films can be prepared, and canny producers doubtless desire time to weigh public sentiment before investing heavily in Arbuckle features. Mr. Hays has been popularly regarded as the "director" of the moving picture world. Is that supposition erroneous? Is he merely the mouth-piece of the profit-seekers? After all, the question of Arbuckle's return to the cinema is not up to Mr. Hays. It is up to the American theatergoer.
