

CREATION ROAD DISTRICT IS ADVOCATED BY LOONEY

Creation of two road districts in the county and voting bonds with which to improve Iatan Flats and other roads in the proposed west end district was advocated by Judge R. H. Looney in an address delivered at the Lions Club Friday. Judge Looney attended the club as a guest and his address pleading for the proposed road districts and making permanent improvement to the Bankhead Highway were met with applause.

The two districts, as suggested by Judge Looney would divide the county into a west and east district, the dividing line running north and south at I. O. O. F. Cemetery east of Colorado. The speaker expressed the belief that road bonds to meet the present need could be easily voted in the district in which Colorado was included.

Other speakers, however, expressed the belief that the expense of making repairs to Iatan Flat should be borne by the entire county, since the east end of the county had benefited from the last bond issue for road purposes. Commissioner U. D. Wulfjen and County Judge J. C. Hall were called upon by President Adams to speak on the matter and each gave their endorsement to the claims that the county should build a hardsurfaced road over the Bankhead Highway in the western end of the county. Wulfjen is known to favor the issuance of deficiency warrants to finance this improvement.

No definite action was taken by the club membership on either of the plans suggested, but the Lions are pledged to support any practical solution of the county road problem.

F. F. DuBose, engineer, expressed the belief that the building of a gravel road through Iatan Flat would be unwise, owing to the long distance haul of material, together with the natural condition of much of the road bed over which the highway passes. In some sections of the flat, DuBose has found, it would be necessary to construct some kind of permanent base on which to lay the gravel surface, if the road should be expected to stand up. The construction of a concrete road, when compared to the cost and life of the proposed gravel surface, would be the most satisfactory and economical, it is believed.

Another guest at the club Friday and who delivered a most interesting address, was the Rev. J. E. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, who recently came to Colorado from Newcastle. The minister spoke on the beneficial results to come to the community through team work in all matters pertaining to the church and civic programs.

Sheriff I. W. Terry, recently elected to membership, was introduced by the club president and delivered a short address, in which he expressed pleasure in having become a Lion, "for what I can get out of it." "We are indeed glad to have you as a member," Col. C. M. Adams, president, replied, "but you have the whole program down wrong. We are glad to have you as a member for what we may get out of you."

PLAN EXTENDING PAVING ON MAIN AND ELM STS.

There is little doubt but that street paving will be extended on Main street between Walnut and Elm and at least one block north on Elm from Main to Second. Such is the belief of A. J. Herrington is taking the initiative in interesting the city and property owners in these two extensions and stated Monday that he was meeting with support.

The paving is also desired on Oak street from Main to North Fourth, and it is considered very probable that this street will be paved at least a part of this distance, probably from Main to Third. The court house faces oak street between Third and Fourth.

F. F. DuBose, engineer in charge of paving here, stated Monday that with favorable weather conditions the contractor expected to have Walnut street completed and ready for traffic by the time the convention opens Tuesday.

FIFTY TOWNS WILL SEND DELEGATIONS TO MEET

Fifty West Texas towns and cities will have representation at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce district convention here Tuesday, in the opinion of B. M. Whitaker, manager of the publicity department of the organization, who has been in Colorado all this week completing arrangements for the meeting. Whitaker arrived Monday night from Stamford and during the week has been in communication with representative West Texas citizens over a radius of 200 miles.

"I have every reason to believe there will be from 1,000 to 1,500 visitors here for the day," Whitaker stated Tuesday afternoon after having communicated with Chamber of Commerce and other officials in forty West Texas towns. With small exception every one of these forty places are to have representation here and some of them are coming strong and will bring their bands."

Whitaker stated that five or six of these West Texas towns had entered the contest for the convention in 1925 and he predicts much friendly rivalry among some of the larger delegations when selection of the district-convention city for next year is to be named. Selection of the next meeting place will be by ballot.

Whitaker talked 42 long distance telephone calls from here Tuesday and Wednesday, urging representative citizens in as many towns of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to attend the convention and bring delegations.

CLEANER CITY CAMPAIGN INAUGURATED BY COSTIN

Under the personal direction of L. A. Costin, city supervisor, work of cleaning Colorado of all trash and refuse was started Monday and this work will be continued until the town has been thoroughly cleaned up. Co-operating with the supervisor are several civic organizations of the city, including practically all women's clubs.

Costin stated Friday that he had caused to be distributed throughout the city printed copies of the city ordinances governing the handling of trash and garbage and would expect the citizenship to co-operate with him in cleaning up the town and keeping it clean. "We are going to do our best to enforce the provisions of the ordinances forbidding the promiscuous dumping of trash and garbage about the city," Costin stated. J. H. Barrington has been employed by Costin to remove all garbage from the city limits and will make visits to any premises, private or public, as often as desired.

Two representatives of the State Health Department were here last week and spent one day making an inspection of the various places at which food products are sold. According to statements of these officials some Colorado dealers were found to be violating the State sanitation code and were directed to clean up and make other provisions provided. No complaints were filed, the inspectors stating that they desired to first warn and give any one directly concerned an opportunity to comply with the law.

The city supervisor has made no statement for publication as to what policy he will follow in case further violations of the sanitation ordinances are reported. Inspectors, however, are liable to file complaints with the owner or occupant of any premises who permits garbage of any kind, waste paper or other refuse to accumulate. Under provisions of a recent ordinance it is in violation of law to burn trash or build a fire for any purpose on any paved street or adjoining the curb of same.

SHEPPARD POTASH MOVE CAUSES OPTIMISM HERE

The National News Service dispatch from Washington this week stating that Senator Sheppard of Texas would shortly introduce a bill asking congress to appropriate money for development of potash deposits in West Texas was received with enthusiasm at Colorado. Oil men and others who have watched closely development in the oil field in this county believe an immense deposit of potash underlies this entire section, since rarely a well is drilled but that indications of the mineral is found.

It became known Monday that the Chamber of Commerce has been interested in obtaining government recognition of these deposits during the past two years. Specimens of the deposit from two different wells have been submitted to the University of Texas and other institutions for analysis. Dr. Udden, chemical analysis expert of the University, in a report made several months ago on a specimen from Budget No. 1 of Bowser & Reed, states he found 11.6 per cent potash in the part soluble in water. Other tests have resulted in finding the mineral in smaller and larger quantities.

The fact is definitely determined that potash exists in this county and some of the most optimistic believe the quantity is sufficiently large as to be easily developed into a big commercial industry. Max Elser of Cisco, who controls large acreage northwest of Colorado, has repeatedly declared that development of the potash resources of Mitchell County could be made the largest industry ever started here.

WHY KILL THE GOOSE?

There is some discussion among members of the Commissioners' Court as to the advisability of continuing the services of the county farm agent in Mitchell County, it was learned Tuesday. The officials who are understood to at least be questioning within their minds whether the county should continue to pay out annually the sum of $1,000 for services of the agent, base their attitude upon the desire to curtail expenses.

Such action upon the part of Commissioners' Court would, in the belief of The Record, be suggestive of the old adage of the fellow who owned the goose which laid the golden eggs. In order to get the gold in a large sum, he killed the goose, only to find that no gold was hidden within the carcass of the fowl. To suspend services of a good county agent in this county would not curtail expenses, if the interests of the entire citizenship are to be considered, but such an action would result most expensively to the business man, the banker, the farmer and other classes of citizens residing in the county.

The value of the educational campaign conducted among the cotton planters of the county for several years to induce the planting of only pedigreed seed is of more value to the county today during one week during the marketing season than the cost of the agent for an entire year. It is a known fact that through direct influences of a county farm agent, Mitchell county cotton is producing from $10 to $15 more value per acre and at least $5 bale more than in former years when ordinary seed were used exclusively. The Colorado cotton market stands without a peer in West Texas, solely because of the quality of staple produced here. The county agent brought about this condition.

Within recent weeks the county farm agent has shipped to this county 3,500 bushels of pure bred cotton seed for planting by the farmers. This seed was purchased from the breeders direct at a saving of fifty cents per bushel to the farmers. This saving of $1,750 to the farmers of Mitchell county more than pays for services of the agent for one year.

During the year 1923 terracing work was done on 25 farms in the county under personal supervision of the agent. According to estimates of A. & M. College, this work alone increased the actual value of those farms $10,000, enough to pay the county appropriation for the agent ten years.

During 1923 the agent vaccinated 2,500 calves, the property of Mitchell county farmers and stockmen. He represented farmers of the county in obtaining 800 laborers to work on the farms during the planting and growing season and 1,000 laborers to assist in gathering the cotton and other crops. Because of the abundance of this labor in the county during the fall, farmers were enabled to gather their cotton without being called upon to pay exorbitant prices for labor. During the drought in 1917 and 1918, the citizens of Mitchell county saved $70,000 in the purchase of seed and feed through the co-operative purchasing plan of the Texas A. & M. College, through its local representative, the county farm agent.

There are other reasons, as The Record sees things, why Mitchell county could ill afford to suspend the services of a county farm agent.

The room was artistically decorated in colors of red and green, with long icicles hanging from draperies and ceiling, while two evergreen trees, beautifully decorated, stood near one end of the room for the groom and his bride-elect to stand between. At the hour of 9:00 p. m. the couple was beckoned into the room by the pealing tones of the Edison, the bride wearing a lovely gown of brown satin with brown and tan accessories to match, carrying a gorgeous bouquet of sweet peas, minutes and fern presented to her by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Terry. The groom was dressed in blue with brown accessories.

Immediately after the ceremony the late Mrs. Whitten was presented with a "Bride's Book" and Mr. Whitten with a marriage certificate, "Lest he Forget," by Rev. BURGLARS ENTER STORE AND HOMES AT LORAININE

The Loraine Leader reports appearance of burglars and petty thieves at three or more places there last week, as follows:

Sunday night burglars entered the store of the Loraine Mercantile Co., and carried off a small amount of merchandise. Four leather vests, a pair of shoes and a small amount of silk goods were all that were missed. It being impossible to determine if there was any greater loss.

The thieves made entrance into the store by removing, or trying to remove, the glass from one of the front doors. It seemed that they could not get the glass all the way out and just let it drop down on the floor leaving a small opening over the top of the door which was probably the reason that no more was carried away as it could not very well have been taken out over the door.

Saturday night while the occupants of the home were in town burglars entered the home of Roy S. Baird in the southeast part of town and carried off nearly all of the clothes on the place and quite a lot of bed clothes. All of Mr. Baird's clothes were taken, including two suits of clothes, a number of dress shirts and other articles. Mrs. Baird lost a suit and several dresses. All the toilet articles on the dresser were carried off and a large number of sheets and pillow cases that were taken from trunks.

Mrs. I. J. Pierce, a neighbor, reported that some one attempted to enter her house the same night at an early hour, but there is no other clue that would lead to the guilty parties, and so far there has been no arrests made in the case.

Saturday night two men went to the home of Aunt Jo Smith, who keeps roomers, and wanted a room for the night. She let them have the room and Sunday morning when they left they packed the blankets and part of the other bed clothes in the suit cases and tried to get away with them. Mrs. Smith missed the things immediately after they left and notified the officers at once. The men were caught in a short time and lodged in the calaboose.

BIG DRIVE STARTS TO DEVELOP U. S. POTASH

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas has fired the opening gun in what is believed to be the greatest battle for the development of a stifled United States industry in the history of the country, with the announcement that he is going to ask Congress to appropriate money for the development of the immense deposits of potash in Western Texas.

Senator Sheppard, through a long and honorable record achievement in the Senate has gained a reputation in that august body as a fighter. He is not the sensational type of fiery orator who plays to the gallery for newspaper headlines. He is what is known as a "plugger." He sponsors few bills that are not noted for their soundness and merit, but having once backed them, he sticks by them until the last gun is fired, utilizing in the combat the strategy of a skillful parliamentarian, a nimble and discerning wit, and a sincerity and force that wins support from his colleagues, regardless of party affiliation.

His backing of the move to have this country develop an independent supply of potash is the signal that the battle royal is on, and the American public in the next few months will learn more about potash and its various uses than it has ever had occasion to learn before.

Potash has been, and still is known as the particular baby of German industry. Up to the World War, and during the long years of strife, Germany enjoyed a world monopoly. It dictated to the world the amount of potash it should use and the price that should be paid for it. In this one mineral, or chemical compound, it was the most complete monopoly that any one nation has ever enjoyed against another, or group of others.

Growing Demand for Potash.

During the war, Germany boasted that if the contest lasted long enough, its potash supply alone would bring the enemy nations into humble subjection. According to the best authorities in this country, this was not an idle boast, but one contract that Germany could very well have carried out.

Since the war, potash as a basis for fertilizer has grown in favor and value, and the demand today is greater than ever before, with the immediate prospects of its being doubled in a couple of years.

American farmers use at this time about 250,000 tons annually. Of this amount less than 25,000 tons are produced in this country, and this local production comes in the form of a by-product. The remainder comes from Europe. After the war, France came into possession of the Alsation deposits, but local demands have restricted importation of Alsation potash until the home needs were satisfied, so virtually all the American potash still comes from Germany.

Discoveries in West Texas

The U. S. Geological Survey within the past two years has made discoveries in West Texas of unmistakable signs of immense potash deposits. Samples found, even after exposure to wind and rain, were found to be abnormally rich in K₂O. Prominent officials in the U. S. Geological Survey say without reservation that there is an imminent possibility of uncovering in West Texas a potash deposit far greater in value and size than the German mines which have been supplying the world market for seventy-five years.

To off-set any movement to develop the sources of this country, the farmers have been made victims of the most perfect example of consummate propaganda this country has ever witnessed. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in the preparation and distribution of a beautifully colored pamphlet which extols the praises and virtues of foreign potash. If there is one farmer in the country who has not received one or more of these booklets, he is a rarity. The impulse after reading the booklet is to think of nothing but foreign potash.

With the announcement that Senator Sheppard would undertake to have the natural resources of the country developed there has been additional evidence of the activity of propagandists unfavorable to the development of the industry in this country, and in the course of the next two months the country will receive a liberal education on the value and many uses of potash.

Immense Value to U. S.

Whether the Senate will act favorably on the bill of Senator Sheppard remains to be seen. Officials of the U. S. Geological Survey agree that there is in the making one of the major industries of the country, rivaling in possibilities the Mussel Shoals project and the oil and sulphur industries of Texas.

POWER & COMFORT

Senator Sheppard is naturally looking after the interests of his constituents. The discovery of commercial potash in Texas would result in the building of an industry that would be a lasting memorial to the efforts of the Texas Senator, but it is one phase of development, which like Mussel Shoals, would be of untold benefit to the farmers and to the country. There is now no single achievement, unless it be a reduction of the freight rates, which would result in more general good and benefit to the farmers of the country, than the development to a commercial basis of the deposits of potash which are believed to underlie the soils of certain sections of West Texas.

The farmers of the country have found a warm friend in the estimable Senator from Texas.

THE BEST THEATRE.
Emerson Hough's splendid romance of the Oregon Trail, "The Covered Wagon," pictured by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, continues to attract large audiences in New York, Boston, Chicago and Los Angeles, where it has been shown, and the management of the Best Theatre will present to their patrons on Friday, January 18th for one day only this epic production. Especially thrilling are the scenes showing the crossing of the Platte River by the hundreds of swimming oxen and horses drawing the wagons floated by great logs of wood lashed to the wheels. The making of this portion of the picture was undoubtedly the most perilous enterprise ever undertaken in the field of cinema art: Others thrilling scenes in "The Covered Wagon," that were almost as perilous in the making as the river scene, are the prairie fire, the Indian attack on the wagon train at Old Fort Bridger, and the buffalo hunt, which was made on an island in the Great Salt Lakes and in which the only herd of buffalo now in existence was used. The love story, which follows closely Emerson Hough's original narrative links together these episodes of high adventure in a most thrilling and dramatic manner.

The Winning Team

Down With Prices

In preparing a team for competition, first of all there must be the proper backing. It must have support, it must have the proper material, and it must have the right kind of morals in order to defeat the opposition. To conduct a store is more or less the same story as to condition a team. A store must have Quality, it must have the sort of principles which cause people to come there to trade, it must have the prices plus quality which will encourage a customer to trade at that particular store in preference of many others. Conforming with the above rules, the Colorado Bargain House

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Looking Ahead

LAST Spring a total of 350,000 people were disappointed in not being able to obtain deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks, as orders were placed faster than cars could be produced.

The demand for Ford Cars and Trucks this Spring will, according to all indications, be far greater than last Spring.

Winter buying has been increasing at a greater rate than ever before.

Actual retail deliveries the past 60 days totaled 308,170 Ford Cars and Trucks, an increase of 1,961 a day over a year ago.

Over 200,000 people have already ordered Ford products on our purchase plan, the majority of whom will take delivery in the Spring.

The above facts are given with the suggestion that you list your order promptly with a Ford dealer if you contemplate the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer and wish to avoid delay in delivery.

Ford Motor Company

Detroit, Michigan

You need not pay cash for your car. You can arrange to make a small deposit down, taking care of the balance in easy payments. Or, you can buy on the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan. This puts you on the preferred order list and insures delivery of your car at a time to be determined by yourself.

GREATEST OF ALL AMERICAN DRAMAS AT BEST FRIDAY, 18

All great American dramas of semi-historical origin seem to hit the times just at the right period and no fuller illustration of this can be shown than the phenomenal success of "The Covered Wagon," a Paramount production which is announced for the Best Theatre for Friday, January 18th.

This story is the picturization of the great Saturday Evening Post serial of the same title by Emerson Hough which is now in its thirteenth edition as a book and which was made for Famous Players-Lasky under the able direction of James Cruze.

Emerson Hough as everyone familiar with his works knows, was one of the foremost writers of the west and he said just before his death that he had reached the height of his dreams when he witnessed the screen success of his greatest endeavor. The timeliness of his theme in this particular is that it made its appearance when the country was saturated with war alarms, and the radicalism which came in the backwash of the war. Contrasted with that ill-timed movement of aggression, the story of how these men and women of great courage and high resolution set forth upon their perilous trip of 2,000 miles across the uncharted Plains and desert is inspiring. In the covered wagon drawn by oxen and reeling off an average of twelve miles a day they laughed and sang, and loved and suffered and fought to build what is now the greatest western heart of this greatest of all nations. Its appeal is the personal one of courage to do and hearts to serve that an unknown land might be opened up and the rich stream of wealth comes pouring forth each year in crops that reach to the ends of the world. There is romance and adventure in every forward move of the winding trains as they trek onward and toward the end of the trail and the golden west which was no mere rainbow or chimera but something that will live forever in our minds and hearts.

THE HOME INVENTORY AND ITS IMPORTANCE

Are your home and buildings, with all their contents, insured? Probably they are. But have you even a general idea as to whether you are carrying enough insurance? Or if the total amount is adequate, could you in case of total or partial loss, convince the adjusters who would visit you of the justice of your claim for compensation?

In other words, have you a complete and proper inventory of your property? Despite some opinions to the contrary, insurance companies are rather liberal in their dealings; in their settlements of losses they have often made it a policy to accept the unsupported statement of the policyholder, especially where, as generally happens in smaller communities, he might be vouched for by a local representative. This liberality has paid them, enabling them to resist competition, though it has undoubtedly tended to increase their rates.

But the fact remains that if your house were to burn tonight, or if the contents of several rooms were to be burned or damaged as a result of a fire which was later got under control, it would be distinctly up to you to be able to prove conclusively just what your loss had been.

Leaving aside for the moment the loss or damage to the building, or to other property on the farm, let's consider the matter of the household goods.

Suppose you have a seven or eight-room house, all furnished, with possibly an attic, certainly a few closets, a pantry and a basement. Unless you have moved quite recently, and had occasion to learn just how many loads of stuff there really was, it is doubtful if you have any idea just how much property you have under your roof, or what it would cost to replace it all tomorrow.

With some other member of the family to help, let's take a paper and pencil and start in one room and list what we find there. How about the living room. Take the chairs and the table, and perhaps a piano, or phonograph with its records, or radio, and bookcases or desk, the couch, lamps, clock and don't forget the rugs or carpet and the pictures and curtains—it runs into money doesn't it?

Then do the same thing in the dining room, and the kitchen, and in the bedrooms, not forgetting things like dishes and table-linen and bedding and clothing that may not show up so much, but that would make quite a drain on your pocketbook or on the chicken and egg money to replace. Then see just what's stored in the attic, perhaps there are a few things put away during the season when they are out of use that you wouldn't remember otherwise; and down cellar to see how many dollar's worth of food and containers, and perhaps washing machines and other utilitarian objects whose value the women-folks appreciate if you don't.

Probably you won't do this all in one evening, but when it's finally all down on paper check it over once more to see what you've missed, then place what you think is a fair value on each article, list it all according to the rooms it occupies, and after you've totaled it up to see how the amount compares with the insurance you're carrying on household property, put it away in a good safe place preferably with your insurance policies—and a good safe place doesn't mean in this case in the pocket of your Sunday suit or in a trunk in the closet, but some place that won't burn when the house burns—which event you may continue to hope as fervently as ever will never happen, even though you are now one step better prepared for that untoward event.

Herbina corrects biliousness, indigestion and constipation. It is a fine herbal medicine that drives out impurities and restores healthy conditions in the system. Price 60c. Sold by all druggists.

CITIZENS ROUTE ROBBERS AT ROWENA, TEXAS.

BALLINGER, Jan. 14.—Robbers blew the safe of the First National Bank of Rowena, eight miles west of Ballinger, at 5 o'clock this morning, but after exchanging shots with citizens, aroused by the explosion, escaped without obtaining any loot.

A posse went in pursuit of the bandits, who abandoned their automobile. The number of men in the robber band is not known.

Two weeks ago the Runnels County tax office here was robbed.

The blast penetrated only the first of the bank vault's two walls. Citizens headed by Deputy Sheriffs Goetz and Weisner, hurried to the building and fired upon the bandits, who fled empty-handed, after firing several shots, without effect, at the officers.

It is not known whether any of the robbers were wounded. Latest advices said the posse was following a "hot trail."

Jones county this week is all astray over the road question. But the "stray" seems to have its origin because of the lack of unity in the county. Anson is acting alone and asking for a district about eleven miles wide.

WITH THE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
The meeting is progressing nicely. Dr. Henry W. Burwell is giving us some fine messages. The first week is going and some people will wake up at the last and say they are sorry they have missed so much. This is what you will do if you miss these messages of Dr. Burwell's.

Services at the church every evening at 7:30 except Saturday evening. The morning services are held at the Palace Theatre every morning except Sunday. The 11 o'clock service will be at the church.

Remember all through this and next week at the Palace Theatre from 10 to 11. Don't fail to hear Dr. Burwell. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Next week the morning services will be on the "Diety of Christ." If you have any doubts on this subject come and hear what the Bible says about it. Dr. Burwell speaks from the Bible.

Sunday school at 9:45. You are invited.
W. M. ELLIOTT.

SUNDAY WITH THE BAPTISTS

Last Sunday was a good day with us. A good Sunday school and a good audience at church with three additions to the church. We are glad to have these good people live up with us in the work. There are several other Baptists living in town—we would like to see join this church. We dismissed the evening services and enjoyed worshipping with Presbyterians in the beginning of their revival meeting. Those who missed the sermon by Dr. Burwell missed a rare treat.

Come worship with us next Sunday morning.

MRS. LAGOW DIES

Mrs. William Lagow, Sr., died at Temple Thursday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lucindia Goode, with whom she made her home for several years. Her body will be brought to Sweetwater and taken to the home of her son, J. H. R. Lagow on Elm St. and carried to Lone Wolf cemetery near Loraine. She will be buried Friday morning beside her husband, Elder Lagow, who died fourteen years ago. He was a prominent Primitive Baptist minister and well known in this section.

Mrs. Lagow was 84 years old and had lived in Nolan County thirty-five years, coming here from Dallas County with her family and settling at Roscoe, where her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Ater now lives. Her former home at Dallas is the property on which the Dallas Fair ground now stands.
The Lagow children were all notified of their mother's condition Sunday and all but two of her sons were with her when the end came. Others will accompany the body to the city.

Mrs. Lagow was the mother of eleven children, nine of whom survive her: J. H. R. Lagow, Sweetwater; Albert of Gannon; Jess and Walter of Handley; Phil Lagow, Mrs. Will Hafer, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Lucindia Goode, Temple and Mrs. E. A. Ater of Roscoe.—Sweetwater Reporter.

The Lagows were former citizens of Colorado. Mr. Lagow owned the Van King property and Mrs. Goode owned the W. B. Ralph home.

BUY NOW CAMPAIGN

Important among other indications that the new year will see a vastly increased demand for automobiles is the "Buy Now" campaign which has just been launched by the Ford Motor Company.

Particular significance may be attached to this, coming as it does at the very start of the year, for no company in the industry is better situated to sense future conditions in the motor car field nor keep more closely in touch with the tempo of the motor buying public.

Through its great dealer organization, approximating 10,000, the company is able to obtain very accurate reports covering every part of the country. That the outlook indicates a greater demand than ever during the coming year seems apparent in the action of inaugurating a "Buy Now" campaign at this time.

In view of the company's experience last year the "buy now" campaign just starting comes as a warning suggestion to the car buyer and reflects a condition which presages an even greater car shortage during the coming spring and summer. There has been an unusual demand for Ford cars and trucks so far this winter. In some cases dealers already are compelled to designate later delivery dates on certain types of cars.

In this connection an interesting feature is the already feature is the already noticeable increase in enrollments under the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan. More than 200,000 have enrolled, for everywhere throughout the country people are more and more using the plan as a sure means of arranging car delivery at the time desired and as a result there has been a noticeable growth in the number of enrollments, particularly during the last few months.

PLOWS and TRACTORS

Will Pay for Itself in one Year

The Oliver Plow Pulled by a Ford Tractor is the Greatest Economy of the Age.

Lincoln--Ford--Fordson

A. J. HERRINGTON

"You have got to have a plow!"

"The pick and shovel never built up a country; you have got to have a plow."

The wagon train divides in the desert. One branch bearing of gold in California rushes southwest across the mountains; the main train continues northwestward to Oregon.

At this dramatic point in the film version of Emerson Hough's great story "The Covered Wagon," the old leader of the Oregon train gazes fondly upon his plow which he hopes soon to sink into Oregon soil. He is not distracted by thoughts of California gold. "The pick and shovel never built up a country," he says. "You have got to have a plow."

Since the days of the pioneers of "The Covered Wagon" Oliver plows have been helping build up this country. Sturdy and practical, three generations of American farmers have depended on them to prepare the land. As new methods in construction and improved methods of agriculture were discovered, Oliver quickly put them to the test and passed on to users of Oliver plows the most up to date implements.

You have got to have a plow. This is just as true today as in the days of which Emerson Hough wrote in "The Covered Wagon." Modern Oliver plows and tillage tools assure their users today largest possible yields as did their predecessors of an earlier day.

Club Visited.

Miss Sealy, home demonstrator, and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, president of Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs, visited the 1923 Club, changed from Helpful Helpers club, Wednesday afternoon. The club met at Mrs. R. Y. Haggerton in the Lowe community. The time was spent with Miss Sealy going over their year's program and a general get together meeting. Every woman asked for the standard account books to keep an account of household expenses and produce sold on the farm. Besides work these busy women take to discuss magazine articles and exchange magazines. A splendid program has been prepared and a good report is expected from month to month and at the county fair next fall. Mrs. Whipkey urged an attendance at county meetings with a monthly report. A visit was made to the cellar of this good hostess and they found canned fruits, vegetables, meats and relishes by the dozens of cans and we are sure other members have such quantities as many of the members have canners and save all things raised. Besides the good pie served them Mrs. Whipkey was presented with a can of delicious home made sausage. At the next meeting a demonstration in dyeing will be given. Miss Sealy also organized a girls club at Seven Wells with eight enthusiastic members to begin with. The efficient principal of the school, Miss May Thompson, will be the local leader of this club.

Mrs. Tressie Goldsticker of 802 W. Weatherbee street, Stamford, Texas, who is one of the district managers in this State for Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle, is here in the interest of that society. Mrs. Goldsticker reports that at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors at Omaha, Nebraska, many progressive steps were taken looking toward the progress of the society. Particular attention was given to the preparation of the plans for the home for aged members and orphan children, which will be erected some time in the future. Mrs. Goldsticker reports that the site for the home has not as yet been decided upon; but inasmuch as 40,000 of the members of the order are located in this State, she feels that the home should be located in Texas.

MEXICAN TOWN ORDERED MOVED BY CITY COUNCIL

An ordinance, declaring that that section of the city along the east bank of the Colorado river and between Second street and the Texas & Pacific railway, commonly known as "Mexican Town," a public nuisance, injurious to the health of the inhabitants of the city, and directing that all houses now located thereon be moved, was passed by the city council Monday night.

City Supervisor L. A. Costin stated Thursday that the city had not definitely determined when the ordinance would become effective, but stated it was the intention of the city to clean up that section of the city within the next ninety days.

Mexican residents in that vicinity were cited as "squatters" in the ordinance, it being shown to the city that the property on which the numerous huts stand belong to others and that the residents have no right under the law to erect huts thereon or use the premises for any purpose.

It is understood that the major portion of the Mexicans effected by the ordinance will move to the new Mexican town recently surveyed out northwest of the city limits by Joe Chalmers.

Civic organizations of Colorado have demanded for some time the removal of "Mexican Town" from its present location, because of the alleged unsanitary condition permitted to exist there and also because of the uncivic appearance. The property adjoins the Bankhead highway to the south.

HOOVER SAYS RAILROAD POLICIES VITAL

Comprehensive Plan Suggested at Transportation Conference in Washington

Washington. — Formulation of "long-view national policies in transportation" is a fundamental necessity for securing the economic future in the United States, Herbert Hoover declared in an address before the opening session of the transportation conference called by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The Commerce Secretary listed ten points of application for such policies, among which were a statutory revision of the Railroad Labor Board's power on a basis to be determined by agreement between labor organizations and railroad executives, reorganization of the rate structure, early consolidation of the railroads into a few powerful systems and inland waterway development under a national plan.

Mr. Hoover, in urging the need for "long-view national policies in transportation," declared "the solution of the problems in such policies is only in part a matter of legislation and governmental relations."

"They are in large part to be solved by initiative and voluntary cooperation amongst the business community," he declared. "If I were to attempt to express my personal views of such national policies—stripped of secondary considerations—I would enumerate them somewhat in the following terms, and much of your subcommittee reports support such conclusions:

"Railway service under private ownership in order to secure the driving force of individual initiative in efficiency and development.

"Government regulation of fair rates and railway finance in order to protect the shipper and to give stability to honest investment of savings.

"Recapture of excess profits in order to allow rates which will assure operations and service from railroads in less favored circumstances, yet prevent unjustified profits from any particular railway.

"The earliest practicable consolidation of the railroads into larger systems under conditions of maintained competition in service in order to secure greater economy in operation, assurance of development and lower rates, and greater stability in earnings.

"A basis of employers and employees relationship that will stimulate mutual responsibility as the first requisite to continuous service.

"Reorganization of the rate structure in order to secure a better adjustment of the burden between commodity, class and less than carload rates, most of which can best be accomplished after consolidation and consequent wider diversification of traffic.

"Co-operation between the shipper and the railways in order to secure a better distribution of traffic over the year and to avoid congestion of peak periods of car shortages.

"Definite development of relief in freight terminals, including coordination with motor truck feeders and distribution.

"Development of proper joint rates and service by water and rail transportation in order to relieve extension of railways where unnecessary and give the public the advantage of cheaper water transport.

"A comprehensive national plan of inland water way development in substitution of hit and miss activities, with priority in development to rivers and canals, where substantial traffic may be expected, including development of the St. Lawrence waterways."

Cows on Pasture Need Grain

Large extra summer profits may easily be obtained from cows on pasture. Two pounds of PURINA COW CHOW FEED on pasture will increase the flow of a good producer at least 6 pounds of milk per day, usually more.

At $2.00 per cwt. the extra milk will bring 12 cents per cow at an extra feed cost of only 7 cents per cow. This means 5 cents extra profit per cow per day or $1.50 a month. On a herd of 20 cows it would mean an extra profit of $30.00 per month. These figures are conservative. Make a test. Order PURINA COW CHOW FEED today and start tomorrow.

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time.
