BAPTIST REVIVAL TO OPEN SUNDAY, JULY THIRTEENTH

Plans for the revival campaign to be conducted at Colorado by the First Baptist church are fast being completed, the pastor, Rev. M. C. Bishop, stated Wednesday morning. The revival will open Sunday, July 13, at Union Tabernacle and is scheduled to continue to Sunday, July 27th.

The evangelistic campaign will be under personal direction of the pastor, who will do the preaching. The choir and musical programs are to be directed by Chester Thomas and Mrs. A. L. White. A large choir selected from the several church choirs of the city will be organized for the campaign.

This will be the fourth successive revival campaign at Colorado in which the Rev. Mr. Bishop has done the preaching and the meetings in past years have proven wonderfully successful. The pastor has in the past directed his appeals largely to adults and these people, some of them heads of large families, have been reached and brought into the church.

Rev. Mr. Bishop and members of his congregation will deeply appreciate co-operation of the other ministers and congregations of Colorado in this campaign. The revival is being arranged and will be conducted with the ideal in mind of sponsoring a religious awakening throughout the entire community.

WILL GIST NUMBER 1 BE DRILLED IN AS-GASSER?

Considerable speculation is going the rounds in local oil circles as to whether a commercial gasser is to be drilled in at Gist No. 1 test, which is now drilling by M. E. Eddleman, 3 1/2 miles north of Colorado. Some oil men and geologists who have made surface surveys at the Gist location report conditions unusually favorable for such a well.

Even in case the well does not prove up as a good gasser, oil men are of the belief that should production be found the well will flow because of the presence of more gas in the paying strata than is found in the Morrison sand north and northwest of Westbrook.

Whether the Gist test develops a commercial gasser or not, it will mean much to Colorado and the field if a producer is brought in, whether it be oil or gas.

FARMERS CONTINUE FIGHT TO EXTERMINATE HOPPERS

During the past week it is estimated that at least one hundred cotton growers of the Colorado territory have called at the office of the county farm agent to purchase arsenic with which to combat grasshopper depredations on their farms. Because of the excessive hot weather all of last week the pests did not attack the cotton fields in such large numbers as had been expected. They were driven into the pastures and high weeds in quest of shelter from the burning sun.

It was announced at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning that the poison would continue to be sold farmers and other citizens at 15 cents per pound so long as the present supply lasted. Citizens who will need an additional supply of the poison were urged to obtain a supply before the available stock is exhausted.

ADDITIONAL YARDAGE TO BE BUILT HERE BY T. & P.

The Texas & Pacific railway will be forced to enlarge its yardage facilities at Colorado to handle the growing business here. A. E. Pistole, superintendent of the Rio Grande division, stated while here Thursday from Big Spring. The railway official expressed keen interest in the unusual development, both in the city and country, and predicted an unusually good year for Colorado during 1924.

Mr. Pistole is interested in further development of the oil industry in this county. His company is taking large consignments of fuel oil from the West Texas Refining Company at Colorado.

STOCK IN BUILDING-LOAN ASSN BEING FAST TAKEN

Stock subscriptions to the $100,000 unit in the Abilene Building and Loan Association, authorized recently by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, are being taken readily by local citizens, C. W. Gill of Abilene, secretary of the association and who is personally placing the shares here, stated Tuesday. Gill expressed the belief that the full amount would be placed this week or early next week.

When $100,000 in stock is subscribed by Colorado, the Abilene concern, one of the strongest in the Southwest, proposes to advance loans here for erection of homes. It is estimated that application for loans to erect not less than 25 new homes will be filed within a short time after the association enters Colorado.

The advantage of affiliating with the Abilene association, as pointed out by the Chamber of Commerce, lies in the fact that with the large resources of the association, there should be no delays on meeting applications for loans as fast as they may be approved.

Several Colorado citizens are subscribing to stock in the association because of the saving account benefit. Investments will pay a dividend of ten per cent, computed semi-annually, and funds paid into the organization may be withdrawn upon thirty days notice.

DENVER GEOLOGIST ELATED OVER FOSSILS NEAR CITY

E. L. Boyse, geologist representing the Colorado museum at Denver and who is conducting research work on Lone Wolf Creek near Colorado in quest of pre-historic fossils, stated Wednesday morning that he was unearthing some unusually important finds here. Several feet underground the expert has found bones of a pre-historic bison and is working carefully to recover all parts of the skeleton. Boyse stated Wednesday morning that he estimated the bones were from an animal which lived half a million years ago.

The Colorado Museum, one of the largest in the world, became interested in the fossils near Colorado when specimens were sent the institution by Nelson Vaughan. Vaughan is assisting in the work of excavating. Work at the present location will in all probability continue all summer, Boyse stated.

FARMER LOSES HOUSEHOLD EFFECTS AS HOME BURNS

Jim Jones, tenant farmer on the McGuire farm in the Buford community lost all of his household effects in a fire which destroyed the home occupied by he and family late Tuesday. Citizens of that community were in Colorado Wednesday circulating a list to raise funds to assist the farmer in replacing at least a part of the necessary items needed to resume housekeeping.

Origin of the fire is unknown. Some of the smaller children were alone at home when the flames were discovered.

TWO ICE FACTORIES MAY BE BUILT AT COLORADO

With the announcement last week by O. Lambeth that he had definitely determined to build an ice factory and cold storage plant at Colorado, it is practically assured that this city is to have two such plants in operation by next year. Representatives of the Southern Ice & Utilities Company of Dallas recently made the statement while in Colorado that their company would construct such a plant here within the next few months.

The plant to be built by Lambeth will have a capacity of 30,000 tons.

BUFORD HAS PROGRESSIVE RURAL SUNDAY SCHOOL

Buford, one of the leading rural communities of Mitchell County, is maintaining one of the largest and most active rural Sunday schools in the county. The school has a membership of almost 150 and during the past few weeks, during the excessive heat, an attendance of from 110 to 130 has been registered.

CITIZENS PETITION CITY TO ORDER HALL BOND ELECTION

Citizens of Colorado are circulating petitions this week, requesting the city council to order an election to vote on a bond issue of $40,000 to purchase building site, construct and equip a new municipal building and purchase fire equipment. The petitions stipulate that the bonds, if authorized, are to be serials, bearing interest at the rate of not exceeding five and one-half per cent interest, and maturing at such times as may be fixed by the city, not exceeding forty years from date of issue.

The need of a new municipal building at Colorado has been realized for some time and recently the demand for erecting a larger and more adequate building as the home of the city government, including the fire and water works department, received an impetus when the public learned that the fire department was handicapped because there is no room for storing the fire trucks at the station. One of the fire trucks is being stored in a local garage.

The fire hazard in Colorado will be materially reduced when adequate quarters for the fire department is provided, it is claimed. The proposed new building, in addition to housing all equipment in use by the department, will furnish dormitory facilities for members of the department, assuring that some of the fire boys in addition to the truck drivers will always be at the hall at night.

Citizens generally are enthusiastically pledging their support of the proposed bond issue and small opposition is expected to develop in carrying the bonds by an overwhelming majority. The city is expected to pass an order at the next meeting of the council, Monday, July 14, directing that the election be held.

In case the proposed bonds are authorized, the city contemplates selling the present municipal property and building the new building elsewhere.

4TH BE OBSERVED QUIETLY BY COLORADIANS TODAY

Colorado is expected to be unusually quiet throughout Friday, the Fourth, in so far as local observance of National Independence Day is concerned. There will be no public celebration here but Coloradians plan attending celebrations at nearby towns and cities. The day will be observed by the banks and stores by closings.

Quite a number of local race fans will motor to Abilene to witness the annual automobile races on the West Texas Fair speedway. Others will attend celebrations at Sweetwater, Big Spring and Midland. Along with other business institutions of the city The Record will be closed for the day.

TEMPERATURE SLUMPS 25 DEGREES WITHIN FEW HOURS

A preceptible drop in temperature was registered at Colorado within a few hours Sunday night. Late Sunday afternoon the thermometer stood around 95. Within 12 hours time it had dropped to 70, causing residents who had for the past two weeks sweltered from the unusual heat during the night to seek heavy bed coverings in order to slumber comfortably. Monday morning was the coolest registered here in several weeks and was a marked contrast in comparison with the heat wave prevalent during the three weeks past.

VETERANS USE PRINTERS INK FOR FINGER PRINTS

Former service men are calling at The Record office daily to make the required finger prints on applications being filed for bonus payments. The Record has the printer's ink for use of the veterans and the men are finding the services of our Mr. Woodard, expert in the art of making these cuticle impressions, of value to them in complying with this bit of "red tape."

The Colorado Record is for the veterans and the publishers are pleased to be able to render them this small service.

WESTBROOK TO VOTE ON INCORPORATING AS CITY

An election is to be held at Westbrook within the near future to vote on adoption of incorporation, E. C. Danner, president of the Westbrook Chamber of Commerce, stated Saturday. Danner stated that a committee of citizens were taking a census of the town and it was believed that not less than six hundred inhabitants would be found living within the district to be included in the proposed incorporation.

Westbrook is enjoying an unusual era of growth. The second brick business building has been completed and is to be occupied by the Harber Dry Goods Company. Foundation for another business building was started Saturday morning.

F. W. DuBose, county engineer and W. D. McAdams, maintenance superintendent for the Bankhead highway in Mitchell county, were in Westbrook Saturday to make preliminary estimates on paving four blocks on the main street with gravel. Citizens of the town, co-operating with the highway superintendent, will seek to induce the Highway Commission to improve the street through the principal business district.

Westbrook now has three drug stores, two lumber yards, two modern cotton gins, with the third contemplated. There are several modern grocery stores, dry goods stores and other shops, all of which are enjoying a good business.

The town boasts one of the best machine shops in West Texas. The plant of the Dunnagin Tool Company a $75,000 concern, is one of the big enterprises of Westbrook. The company carries a large supply of oil field supplies. Foundation for supply house to be built by the California Company has been completed. This company will also carry a large stock of oil well and field supplies at Westbrook.

With the Mitchell County oil field only about two to four miles from Westbrook and situated in the center of one of the most prosperous agricultural communities of the county, the town has a brilliant future. Should the people authorize incorporation including municipal improvement, including a water works system, is planned.

CROP OUTLOOK EXCELLENT, FARMER AGENT SAYS

The outlook for another good crop year in Mitchell County is excellent, W. A. Dulin, former county farm agent, declared while in Colorado Saturday from his place ten miles northeast of the city. "Cotton on my place and in fact, all along Lone Wolf Valley, is just as good as I have ever seen growing in this county," was the declaration of the former agent.

Dulin is of the opinion that if farmers would continue in their efforts to retard depredations by grasshoppers the county will produce the largest cotton crop this year in its history. Farmers in some localities report their crops as beginning to need rain but no community is yet reporting the crops to be suffering for want of moisture.

CHILD RUN DOWN BY CAR SATURDAY IS UNINJURED

The small child of A. L. Feaster was run down by an automobile at corner Second and Elm streets here Saturday afternoon and escaped uninjured. The child ran in front of the moving machine and was knocked to the pavement, the automobile passing over it. The fact that the automobile was moving slowly and that none of the wheels struck the prostrate child explains its miraculous escape from probable serious injury.

RIG BEING CONSTRUCTED FOR COLEMAN NUMBER 1

Coleman No. 1, in section 68 of the Dr. P. C. Coleman survey near Cuthbert, will be spudded about July 10, J. F. Carey, contractor to drill the test, stated Tuesday. Col. A. E. Humphreys, who controls considerable acreage in that end of the field, is financing the test.

COLORADO WIRES AID OHIO STORM SUFFERERS

One hundred fifty-eight dollars and fifty cents was telegraphed to Lorain, Ohio, by the local chapter, American Red Cross, Monday afternoon for relief of storm sufferers there. The money was donated by citizens of Colorado who subscribed to the fund in response to request of the Red Cross and Chamber of Commerce.

One of the most destructive cyclones known in the country struck Lorain, a city of 35,000 people late Sunday afternoon, taking a heavy toll in life and property damage. Hundreds were killed and maimed and millions of dollars lost in property destroyed.

Immediately upon receiving news of the disaster, Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce telegraphed the mayor of Lorain as follows:

"The citizenship of Colorado deeply deplore the disaster which swept your city and the local chapter, American Red Cross, is raising funds now for your relief."

CITY CONTRACTS FOR FOUR BLOCKS PAVING EXTENSION

Contract was awarded Friday afternoon by the city for paving of one block on Chestnut and three blocks on Third streets, the West Texas Construction Company receiving the award. Ed H. Aisles of Ft. Worth, who was in Colorado at the time, stated that work on the paving extension would be commenced without delay.

This will place Colorado's paving project over a distance of 22 city blocks, in addition to the bitulithic topping across Lone Wolf and Colorado river bridges. The entire cost will exceed $200,000.

Additional standards for the white way lighting system have been received and are to be installed at street intersections by the city. This system will be extended over the entire district paved.

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY HOLDING CHAMPION RECORD

Elmer Schultz, 13, who last year attained creditable success as a cotton farmer, bids fair to maintain the distinction of being the champion boy cotton grower of the county. At any rate, Elmer is making good at the game of having his own crop and producing a crop which would be a credit to any farmer.

Last year he marketed 7 bales of cotton from 12 acres. He has 12 acres planted to cotton again this year and stated while in Colorado Saturday that the crop was in excellent condition and promised to produce as much or even more per acre this season than last. He left some cotton blooms at The Record office and stated that his crop was fruiting splendidly.

The boy is a son of J. M. Schultz, who lives eight miles northwest of Colorado on the Cuthbert road.

THIRTY DAYS BEFORE NEW COURT HOUSE IS COMPLETED

It will yet be about thirty days before the new court house is finally accepted by the county and is ready for occupancy, David S. Castle of Abilene, consulting architect in charge of the building, stated while in the city Tuesday. Castle stated that delays in arrival of equipment for the building had necessitated an extension of the time allotted contractors in which to complete their work.

Castle declared that conditions at Colorado, as evidenced by the continued building and improvement program throughout the city and by trade conditions generally protracted the fact that things were in the forefront here. Colorado is one of the best small cities in West Texas and has an unusually brilliant future, the visitor stated.

LIONS CLUB ORGANIZED AT BIG SPRING LAST WEEK

Organization of a Lions club was perfected at Big Spring last week by business and professional men of that city. A. E. Stokes, automobile dealer, was elected president.

LIONS "UNCONDITIONALLY" FOR NEW MUNICIPAL BLDG.

Colorado business and professional men, in attendance at the Lions club luncheon Friday at noon, were unanimous in pledging their endorsement to a bond issue to finance the building of a new municipal building at Colorado. Action in which endorsement of the Lions was pledged, was taken after addresses had been delivered by Judge R. H. Looney, mayor and Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, outlining some of the needs for the proposed building.

"I am absolutely and unconditionally in favor of a new city hall and do not believe we will meet with any trouble in carrying a bond issue to finance the same," Dr. Coleman stated as he began his address urging the citizens of Colorado to provide their city government and fire department with adequate office facilities.

Judge Looney declared that the present building was entirely too small and urged that something be done to remove the handicap under which the city and fire department are laboring. He stated that a hall to meet the requirements of Colorado would cost not less than $35,000.

The old hall, which stands at corner of Second and Walnut streets, may be sold for an equitable figure, it was pointed out. Tentative plans, as suggested by a large number of citizens who have expressed an interest in relieving Colorado of this delima, would be to sell the building now occupied as a city hall and fire station and purchase a building site in some other part of the city, preferably a few blocks from the center of the business district.

"Today is the anniversary of first paving contract awarded by your splendid city," Ed H. Aisles, vice president and general manager of the West Texas Construction Company, stated, as he started to deliver an address in which much praise was expressed for the progressive spirit so much in evidence among the citizens of Colorado. He recalled that it was just one year ago when the city contracted for the first nine blocks of street paving. Since that time two additional contracts have been awarded, placing the total at 22 blocks.

"This city is known throughout the Southwest as one of the best small cities in Texas," Aisles declared. "It is up to you men to keep up this creditable record."

COLORADO LIONS WILL NOT OBSERVE LUNCHEON FRIDAY

There will be no meeting of the Colorado Lions Club Friday of this week. This announcement was made Monday jointly by Col. C. M. Adams, outgoing president, and E. H. Winn, newly elected presiding officer of the organization. Reason assigned for calling off the weekly luncheon this week was because a number of members had previously planned to be absent from the city for the Fourth.

ROWE-MORRISON ONE TO BE SPURRED JULY TENTH

Earl Morrison stated Thursday that Keynard No. 1 of Rowe-Morrison on Section 16, Block 28, T. & P. Ry Co. survey, would be spudded July 10th. Rig for the test has been completed and crew is rigging up. The test is located one mile north of production on the Smartt and Miller leases and in direct line between those wells and Coleman One and producing wells on the Humphreys lease.

IN SOCIETY AND AT THE CLUBS

Honoring Marie Maule.

Friday afternoon Miss Mary Bell Brennan invited nine little girls to attend a picture show party honoring Marie Maule, who was leaving Monday for her new home in Wichita Falls. After the picture show the girls returned to Mrs. Brennan's where ice cream and cake was served. They then decided to make it a "slumber party" as well. The mothers were notified and the fun began. They did not sleep but enjoyed themselves far more than if they had. Those attending were Marie Maule, Laura Bell Grantland, Rosalie Leslie Alice Blanks, Catherine Price, Virginia Stonerod, Susie Richardson, Frances Dulaney and Vera Gaskins.

Saturday morning at nine o'clock Miss Laura Bell Grantland entertained in honor of the same popular young lady. Games were played and an awfully good time enjoyed. A luncheon of sandwiches, fruit salad, and cherry-mint tea was served. Marie was one of the class graduates

Adult District Meeting.

An all-day meeting was held last Friday in Stanton for the western end of the Sweetwater district, Missionary society. Big Spring, Colorado, Hamlin, Loraine and Stanton, were the places having delegates. Mesdames E. H. Winn, W. P. Leslie, J. E. McCleary, W. H. Garrett, Laws, J. B. Dobbs, J. G. Merritt, Hope Herrington, Misses Jessie Stell, Nelda Garrett and Irene Dorn went over from Colorado. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Smith of Stamford and E. Clyde Smith of Hamlin, who had spent the night here. All went over in cars. An interesting meeting was held. Mrs. Garrett was appointed the superintendent of Junior work for the district. Good reports were given from all departments, and the advance in finances most willingly pledged. The conference superintendent of Young People, Mrs. J. B. Smith, brought two helpful messages, one on "Habits" urging us to acquire "the habit of church attendance, being at every service, at our missionary meeting. The other was "Service." At the noon hour a delicious dinner was served,

Honoring J. I. Payne.

Because of the good work she has done in the Sweetwater district, the adult, young people, and junior missionary societies sent her a beautiful cameo on her birthday. It was planned to present this at one of the all-day meetings held this month. At the first one she came and the one who was to present it failed to get there, Mrs. Payne was unable because of sickness in her family to attend the other two, so the gift was mailed to her and a telegram expressing her thanks received. The cameo was indeed a beautiful one, set in white gold with a diamond set necklace. Mrs. Payne has been a most faithful and efficient secretary and this gift will be a constant reminder to her that the women appreciate what she is doing for the missionary cause over her district. Quite Home Wedding.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strohbridge of North Orange street when their niece was quietly wedded to Harry V. Schroder.

League Party.

The Senior and Junior Endeavor had a lawn party Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garrett. Games were played, contests enjoyed and a Fourth of July oration given by the League president, Millard Smith. The young folks and their guests had a mighty good time and have planned a party every two weeks during the next three months. Refreshments of sandwiches and tea, little cakes and red lemonade was served. Mrs. Hope Herrington's home is to be the place of the next meeting.

Civic League Meeting.

The Civic League will meet Saturday at four o'clock in the Sunday school rooms of the Methodist church. The members are urged to attend.

Social Meetings.

Circle No. 2 of the Baptist auxiliary was hostess for the other missionary women of the church Monday in a delightful social meeting. There were over forty women present to enjoy the good things arranged for them. Among these was a Biblical guessing contest. The names of a familiar bible character was pinned on a lady's back as she stood for her audience to see and by questions from the others she guessed who she represented. Then all were given letters and in groups of five they must make words in three minutes when they failed a dunce cap was placed on their head and they were further questioned as to their quickness in thinking. A singing contest was also good fun. Each side had three contestants and sang separately then jointly a familiar song. The prize going to the side with the most volume, not the most ability. Ices and home made cake were served by the hostess circle.

Rummage Sale.

The Presbyterian ladies were very successful with their rummage sale held Saturday and Monday, clearing over $100. The articles remaining unsold have been stored and a little later they will collect others and hold a series of sales. The money goes into the church building fund.

Presbyterian Auxiliary

The Auxiliary of the Presbyterian missionary union will meet Monday with Mrs. S. N. Sherwin. Every member is urged to attend.

Christian Endeavor Party.

The Presbyterian church sent Mr. Burk and Samuel Womack to the Kerrville encampment from June 18 to 26 to study the young people's work. During the eight days of fun and fellowship these young men together with their leader, Mr. Elliott, received such an inspiration that they came home determined to reorganize their Endeavor and go to doing things. So all the young folks of the Presbyterian church and a number of invited guests gathered Tuesday evening on Mr. and Mrs. Jerold Riordan's lawn for a good time. Games were played, punch served during the evening from a prettily arranged nook on the lawn and at the close of the evening ice cream and cake served. The next move will be to reorganize and get down to work, but with such good times in store this should be easy.

Miss Delma Bishop Entertains.

Miss Delma Bishop entertained Tuesday evening with a slumber party in honor Miss Figh, Mrs. Smoot's niece who is visiting her from Dallas. In the afternoon Mrs. Smoot's Sunday school class of girls went on a picnic and swimming party returning to Delma's they played games, had music and did all the things slumber parties are supposed to do, with one unusual thing added—they slept. Mrs. Bishop sent them to bed before midnight so all were ready for more parties the next day.

Christian Aid.

Miss Vensible was hostess for the Christian Aid Monday. The usual business was transacted. One new member was enrolled. It was planned to have a party for the husbands soon. This will be upon Mrs. Root's lawn. Ice Cream and cake were served at the social hour.

IMPEACHMENT WAS LEGAL

The state supreme court last Thursday handed down a decision declaring that the impeachment of James E. Ferguson by the state senate was legal and constitutional, and the action of the senate is not subject to review by a court.

The decision of the supreme court finally settles all contentions of Ferguson, and leaves him with no support. He should now retire to private life, never have a word to say against politics nor public matters, for he is thoroughly repudiated and discredited.

Colorado Boy Married.

Friends of Champe Carter will congratulate him upon two happy events. First that he is able to leave the hospital at Ft Bayard where he has been for the past few years for treatment, second upon his marriage in May to Miss Frances McDonald, the daughter of a ranchman near Silver City, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. Carter are at home in Silver City after an auto trip through Arizona and Colorado and Mr. and Mrs. M. Carter are planning to spend a part of the summer with them, enjoying the new daughter, the new home and the cool climate. Since Champe was born and reared in Colorado he has many friends here to rejoice with him in his new found happiness and in his recovery from the gassing received in France. He was one of the boys who enlisted at the very beginning of the war, he entered the medical corps, was gassed then had a hip crushed by a truck, but his pluck and cheerfulness never failed and he won the fight for health and has now won happiness.

Mabel Spann, Nolan county home demonstration agent, judged the exhibits. In the forenoon an exhibit of the clothing was held in order that the public might examine the workmanship of the girls. In the afternoon the girls wore their costumes and as each contestant one by one passed across the stage so that judges and public might see her costume her name and the community which she represented were announced. The contest was divided into two classes. Class 1 including first year club members who made the "school girls costume" and class two including second year club members who made the "graduation or party costume". The winners in the contest were as follows: Exa King of Colorado, first place in class one. Rozelle McKinney, Colorado, second and Lela Roddy of Horn's Chapel, third. A good many years ago, in Virginia, I used to get bilious and I found that Theford's BLACK-DRAUGHT was the best and quickest relief I could get. Since I came to Texas I have these bilious attacks every now and then—a man will get bilious anywhere, you know—and I find that a little Black-Draught soon straightens me out. MINISTER'S FISH STORY IS OUTCLASSED BY PHYSICIAN

The fish story told in The Record last week, in which Rev. John E. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, was represented as having caught a "bushel of fish" within the short space of a few minutes, is no fish story at all, according to Dr. T. J. Ratliff, member of a party of local nimrods who returned the first of the week from a fishing trip to the San Saba river near Menard. "I caught an even hundred fish in less time than it would take to tell the story," was the declaration of the Colorado physician in advancing the claim that he could successfully cross swords with any local fisherman. Judging from the claims being advanced by some local nimrods, as to what they can really accomplish with the rod and reel, The Record may be called upon to publish a really interesting fish story before the season has passed. In the party with Dr. Ratliff were Ed Majors, Sam Majors, E. H. Wins, John Garner and Frank Newman. The party reported fishing unusually good on the San Saba.

A. J. Herrington is in Hico this week to be with a sister who is seriously ill.

M. E. YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD DISTRICT MEETING HERE

The Young People of the Sweetwater District met Thursday at nine o'clock for an all-day session at the Methodist church at Colorado. The district president, Mrs. E. Clyde Smith of Hamlin presided. Miss Lena V. Kiker of Roby was secretary. The church and basement where lunch was served had been tastefully decorated in shasta daisies and sunflowers by the local society. Mrs. J. E. McCleary, local superintendent of Y. P., very cordially welcomed the visitors, giving as a part of her address an original poem, "West Texas." Mrs. Greene of Snyder responded to the welcome in a very pleasing manner. Miss Jessie Stell gave the Scripture lesson, and talked on this verse, "For as a man thinketh in his heart so is he." The reports of the district officers was most encouraging. The president told of the joy it had been to serve and of the growth of the work over the district, the crowning event being the organization of a Little Sister society a few weeks back in Colorado. The superintendent of Social Service, Mrs. Coffee of Loraine quoted the Social Service scriptures she had asked the societies to memorize, told of the pledge cards against dancing and card playing she had sent out and had signed. The fact was brought out that one missionary girl refused to be the duchess from her town to Brownwood because she knew it would mean for her to break her pledge not to dance.

Mrs. Coffee told of her plans to use home and foreign missionaries as "capsules" this year, carry literature to the rural schools, shut-ins, jails and hospitals, do some definite work for the negro and Mexicans and continue to help all in need.

Mrs. J. B. Dobbs, superintendent of Supplies urged that boxes of new material or a cash donation be sent the Virginia K. Johnson home and boxes of second hand garments be sent to our Wesley houses. All had sent boxes during the year. The superintendent of Social Activities said everyone knew what was the right sort of a good time, and to help all of the young people to have that sort. She recommended "Phrenology" as a help in entertaining. This was Miss Lena V. Kiker.

Miss Helen Lovett of Roby gave a most appropriate reading "When the Master Comes." A demonstration in mission study was given by Colorado from "Save America." Mrs. Merritt explained why law enforcement was being stressed right now. Mrs. Ernest Pritchett told of the battle for race survival. Mrs. J. B. Dobbs of reverence for law, Johnnie Chesney's topic was "In Defense of our future kindred." Exa King, "Shall America Go Back?" and Mrs. Blanks closed with a beautiful story, "Killing the Dragon." Miss Adams of Hamlin, superintendent of mission study, reported all the auxiliaries taking a Bible study, several as having finished both the foreign and home books, all taking some of the books recommended.

Lunch was served to about fifty visitors and the members of the local auxiliaries.

Mrs. Arnett gave the afternoon scripture reading and talked on Love. Misses Tommie Smith and Jessie Stell sang, "Throw out the Life Line." Miss Verna Smith drew a beautiful picture, "Fishing," while Miss Adams and others talked of the necessary pole, bait and line needed when one goes fishing for the souls of men and women.

Mrs. J. B. Smith, conference superintendent of young people, gave a wondrous address on "Stewardship." Our money, our time, our lives, our all belongs to the Master and if we love him we will offer no less. Since her own life is a beautiful example of service, all felt that by being like her they would be like their Master.

Rotan was chosen as the next place of meeting. Mrs. Smith was re-elected president, Miss Lovett, vice president; Miss Nobles, secretary; Mrs. Hope Herrington, treasurer.

The superintendents were retained since they have done such good work. They are Miss Adams, mission study; Mrs. Coffee, social service; Mrs. Dobbs, supplies; Miss Kiker, social activities. Mrs. J. B. Smith asked that all who wanted to reconsecrate their lives for better and bigger service to kneel around the altar and while prayer was offered to pledge anew their loyalty to Christ. Everyone in the house answered the call and were dismissed by Mrs. Joe Boyd.

The visiting preachers present were: Bro. Kuckabee of Rotan and Bro. Upton, Roscoe.

The young people ordered some stationery printed and are going to do business in a business like way next year.

POTASH PLATFORM ENDORSED WITH INTEREST IN MITCHELL

There is much in the Democratic platform which is of special interest to West Texas. Notably among these is the virtual commitment of the party to development of West Texas potash fields, as proposed in a bill passed in the Senate just before adjournment through efforts of Senator Morris Sheppard. The proposed bill is strongly advocated by Congressman Claud Hudspeth of this district and is expected to become a law early in the next congress.

Mitchell county is vitally interested in this proposed legislation which would authorize the federal government to conduct extensive research work in quest of the mineral in this section. Potash has been found in several oil wells drilled in this county.

OIL SHOOTS OVER TOP AT DUDLEY TEST, NEAR ABILENE

Oil went from twenty-five to fifty feet over the top of the derrick of the Dudley Oil, Gas and Development Company at noon Monday, according to information given the Reporter by General Manager Prewitt. "There is no news to keep back" added Mr. Prewitt, "she went over the top of the derrick and we shut it off until we can get the storage tanks there to catch the oil."

Oil was struck by the Dudley Oil, Gas and Development Company in their well at Dudley, twenty-one miles southeast of Abilene, Sunday morning at eight o'clock and 25 or 30 barrels of oil were bailed from the well during Sunday. The news of the oil discovery created nothing less than a sensation in Abilene Sunday and Monday and many people made the trip to the well.

When the oil sand was entered the well was standing in water and slush and all of this has not been cleaned out as yet. The slush pit at the well was standing full of oil Monday and the well was shut down, awaiting storage tanks. Arrangements were made for storage tanks Monday morning and it was believed that they would be brought to the well by Monday afternoon, at which time work will be resumed cleaning out the well and bailing oil into the tanks.—Abilene Reporter.

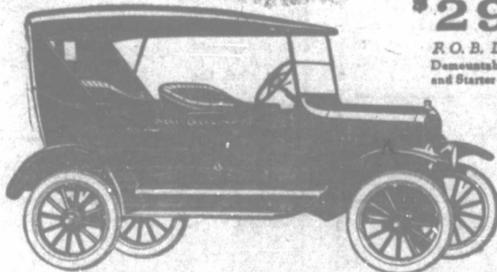

Col. C. M. Adams, S. L. Cooper and W. S. Cooper were in Big Spring Monday night to assist in completing organization of a Lions Club there. The Big Spring club has a charter membership of 22.

ARREST WOMAN BANDIT AND TWO MEN AFTER HOLD-UP

From Sweetwater Reporter:

With the arrest of a man and a woman in San Angelo and another man in Brownwood local authorities believe that they have finally cleared up the hold-up and robbery of the Santa Fe depot here the night of December 31, 1923, when night ticket agent D. D. Dixon was robbed of more than $600 in cash.

Those arrested in San Angelo were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Toland, while the man arrested in Brownwood gave the name of George Ayres.

Mrs. Toland became Sweetwater's first "woman bandit" when she took part in the robbery. Dressed in men's clothes, she carried out her part of the holdup successfully, and there was no suspicion here that a woman had taken part in one of the most daring robberies in the city's history.

Sheriff Yarbrough returned from San Angelo late Thursday night where he was present when Mrs. Toland was arrested. Following a severe questioning, she confessed the whole story to him, and the arrest of Dick Toland at San Angelo followed. A wire to W. L. Futch, special agent of the Santa Fe at Brownwood resulted in the placing of Ayres under arrest there.

The three will be brought to Sweetwater shortly where they will be tried in District Court, possibly at the October term. Robbery with firearms, a capital offense, is the charge that can be placed against the trio.

The capture is the result of six months hard chase. Many, many different clues were followed up and at several different times it seemed as if success was about to reward efforts of local authorities and Santa Fe special agents, only to have the case elude them again.

But Mr. and Mrs. Toland, it is reported, had a disagreement and separated. She was taken ill while staying in San Angelo. Toland wrote her a letter which fell into the hands of people with whom she was staying. This letter was turned over to the San Angelo authorities, and Willis Barbee, chief of police there,

Ft. Worth Colorado Club.
The Colorado Club held its annual garden party Thursday evening with husbands as guests at the home of Mrs. C. A. O'Keefe, 520 Summit Avenue.

A chicken dinner was served from a quaint fireplace in the center of the garden, Japanese lanterns and various colored lights cast a mellow glow over the scene. Tables where the guests were served held dainty vases of shasta daisies. The children were served in a beautiful nook in the garden.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Truman H. Conner, who while the men were having their smoke, granted the women the privilege of powdering their noses, with the familiar lines of Edgar Guest's poem "A Woman Powders Her Nose." After dinner speakers were Edgar W. Bounds, Joe Wilmouth and Judge Truman H. Conner. Mrs. Joe Wilmouth told an interesting story and Miss Wilabeth Floyd gave delightful readings. COTTON GROWING FINE, IS REPORT FROM NEW HOPE

Cotton in the New Hope community, fifteen miles northwest from Colorado, is growing fine and farmers there are optimistic over the outlook, was the message brought to Colorado Tuesday by G. W. Sweatt, farmer of that section who came to the city to obtain an additional supply of grasshopper poison. The hoppers, while numerous, are being kept down by continued poisoning to where they are doing small damage to the crops, Sweatt stated. Farmers of that part of the county are fast clearing their fields of weeds and with a few more days of favorable weather will have their crops cultivated in good condition.

HOME OF JEFFERSON WORTHY OF ITS BUILDER

Thomas Jefferson in his day had one of the finest mansions on the American continent. The author of the Declaration of Independence, said a celebrated Frenchman, was the first American to consult the fine arts in building himself a shelter. It may be truthfully said that Monticello is the personal creation of Thomas Jefferson; it is an architectural expression of his tastes and ideals. He drew the plans for the mansion, laid out the grounds and supervised in person the work, which was done by his own slaves, says a writer in the Pathfinder Magazine. The lumber was from his own forests, the nails were made in his own nail factory and the bricks were burnt in kilns on the plantation. Jefferson was born in Shadwell about three miles from Monticello. He became the head of the family at fourteen when his father died and left him with his mother, several sisters and an imbecile brother. When Jefferson returned from college he was the richest, the best-educated and the most conspicuous young man in Albemarle county. It was during this period that he conceived the idea of building a home on Monticello, which in Italian means "little mountain." The mansion was started in 1770, but it was not completed until 1802, after Jefferson had become President.

If possible, the visitor going for the first time to Monticello from Charlottesville should walk. Only on foot can the magnificence of the approach be appreciated. A sharp bend in the winding mountain road brings us to a gate with a lodge beside it. This is the entrance to Monticello. We are informed by the occupant of the lodge that we still have a good half mile to go before we reach the mansion on the mountain top.

Jefferson's Own Epitaph.
Well up the slope we come to a small graveyard enclosed by a high iron fence. Directly in front of the cemetery gate is a simple marble shaft bearing this inscription: "Here lies Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, of the statute for religious freedom in Virginia, and founder of the University of Virginia." So this is the tomb of Jefferson, the man who wrote the immortal Declaration of Independence, who served successively as member of the Continental congress, governor of Virginia, ambassador to France, secretary of state under Washington, vice president under John Adams and twice as President of the United States, and who spent the last years of his life as the revered "sage of Monticello." But why does the body of Jefferson lie buried here in this lonely mountain spot?

The answer is a beautiful story. From earliest boyhood Little Mountain was Jefferson's favorite resort. Here he and his friend Dabney Carr came in the afternoons to study, to talk, to dream and to watch the sun bury itself in Carter's mountain, which rises 300 feet above Monticello. Under an old oak the two boys built a rustic seat and many were the happy days they spent there together. Jefferson loved Dabney more than all his other friends. One day they made a boyish compact. They agreed that the one who should die first should be buried by the other under this old oak in full

Dabney Carr's Early Death.
Years passed by. The tie of friendship was strengthened by Dabney's marriage to Jefferson's favorite sister. Both Jefferson and Dabney were elected to the state legislature. They cast their lot with Patrick Henry and the anti-king party. One day young Dabney Carr, almost with the eloquence of a Cicero, made a speech advocating a union of all the colonies against the tyranny of Britain. Every patriot heart in Virginia was excited and Dabney Carr was their leader. But poor Dabney never saw the end of the struggle. The youth who so fearlessly headed the Hancock lion died before the Revolution had really begun. Jefferson was absent and Dabney's body was buried at Shadwell. When Jefferson returned he did not forget the compact of their boyhood. He could not break faith with his dead friend. So the body of Dabney was disinterred and laid to rest under the grand old oak on the slope of Monticello. Again time aged by. Over half a century elapsed. The great statesman died at the ripe age of eighty-three. Then Dorsey, the gardener at Monticello, dug a grave for his old master beside that of Dabney Carr and the second part of the compact was fulfilled. The mansion itself stands in classic simplicity among the trees on the very summit of the mountain. From the west it has the appearance of a stately one-story building surmounted by a white octagonal dome. This dome was originally intended for a billiard room, but before it was completed the Virginia legislature passed a law prohibiting billiards, both in public and in private. The dome was then converted into a ballroom. One of the most noticeable features about the estate is the absence of barns, sheds and out-buildings. Jefferson had such buildings erected far enough down the mountain slope so as not to mar the landscape on top.

Enduring Claims to Fame.
Jefferson dictated his own epitaph and it is interesting as an estimate by a great man of his own achievements. His title to the regard of posterity he based on the fact that he was "author of the Declaration of American Independence, and of the statute of Virginia for religious freedom, and father of the University of Virginia."

No mention of the fact that he was President of the United States for two terms, and might have continued in office if he had not chosen to follow Washington's wise and noble precedent and refused a third term. No mention of his purchase of the magnificent empire lying west of the Mississippi. No mention of his other high official honors, such as being vice president, secretary of state, minister to France, member of congress, and war governor of Virginia, when his courage and wisdom in sustaining the strategic policy of Washington in the North, in spite of danger and sacrifice to Virginia and to himself, were of great moment to the common cause.

These were doubtless all honors or services of less enduring significance than the authorship of the statute of religious freedom or the Declaration of Independence, and there is a certain pride in ignoring them. But in considering Jefferson's career we do not forget that his successful attack upon the law of primogeniture and of entail was a step toward the democratic distribution of property which was important. The purchase of Louisiana was the act of a far-seeing statesman worthy to be named in the epitaph of the greatest. But it was done in defiance of Jefferson's theory of constitutional authority, although Jefferson, rightly, took his theories very seriously. It was a conspicuous example of the truth that a great statesman, like a great commander, knows when to disobey.

BRITISH NAVY.

Temple Telegram: The fact that a British gunboat commander made a bunch of Chinamen of Wanshein march to the cemetery and pay proper respect to the memory of an American who had been slain by Chinese brigands, will not serve to weaken the tie of friendship between this country and England.

WITH THE CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
Our Sunday school is fine. New pupils are coming in every Sunday. We are forming new classes. The officers and teachers are greatly encouraged. All the Presbyterians in town are urged to come and join us in the service of our Lord, J. M. Thomas, superintendent. Remember we open at 9:45.
Communion service at 11 a. m. All members are requested to be at this service.
Evening service at 8:30. Christian Endeavor at 7:45. Our Endeavor is starting off fine. It was a great social that we had at Mr. and Mrs. Jerold Riordan's home Tuesday evening. About 50 young people present. Refreshments were served and all had a good time. Come and join these services with us.

Sunday school at Horns Chapel at 3:30 every Sunday afternoon. Preaching next Sunday at 4:30. Everybody is cordially invited to attend all our services.
W. M. ELLIOTT, Pastor.

BAPTIST NOTES.

We are always glad whenever we succeed in any legitimate undertaking. We really believe we succeeded during June in our church and Sunday school work. We had about 1,700 in school in June, 22 additions to the church. The church installed a set of electric fans and had a fine picnic and put screens in the basement for the Sunday school classes. The ladies work has done well. Their social meetings last Monday were well attended and all had a good time. Our young people's work is moving along very well considering the absence of some and the hot weather. The choir is fine. If you like good music you can find it here.

We want everyone to understand that our revival meeting is set by order of this church to begin July 13th, to run for two weeks. Some don't seem to understand it but that is the way of it. Of course there will be many things to side track folks but that will be true up to the judgment. Some folks will hardly have time to die, if it is left up to them. But folks will have time to die and meet God in judgment. What we are after is to help them get ready for the judgment. Many will be away on their summer vacation but there will be plenty of folks left at home if they will get busy.

Help us to make July a better month than June was in the work. You will feel a welcome at all the services. Folks let's get serious about the Lord's work and the future of the souls of men.
M. C. BISHOP, Pastor.

WITH THE METHODIST SUNDAY

Sunday school 9:45 a. m. Mr. A. A. Dorn, superintendent. Had a good school last Sunday and we are going to keep it up and going. so far and hopes to report a victory. About $150,000 is needed to complete the quota, it is said. The last city canvass to be conducted is closing in San Antonio on July 6.

The Texas Presbyterian Education movement was launched in the summer of 1923 for the purpose of securing $1,350,000 for the ten Southern Presbyterian educational institutions in this State. The last report of the committee in charge of the campaign shows that about $1,200,000 has been subscribed, and that it is necessary to secure an additional $150,000 in order to successfully close the campaign. A force representing the committee has been visiting a number of the communities and under the leadership of Dr. J. W. Skinner of Kingsville, moderator of the synod, a number of the wealthier Presbyterians are being visited in the hope that the needed amount will be reported at the committee meeting.

E. A. Peden of Houston, is chairman of the State Committee, D. A. Penick, Austin, vice-chairman; Ray Nesbitt, Dallas, treasurer. The work is under the general direction of Dr. Henry H. Sweets of Louisville, Kentucky, executive secretary of the Presbyterian committee of Christian education.

FISH STORIES.
Rev. John E. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, is all "hot up" over the fishing report given in last week's issue of the Record, and the implied inference that "a bushel of fish" was a "whale of a lot" of fish and a fish story that only a preacher could tell and get by with it. He solemnly avers that he is well backed up by the testimony of such expert fishermen as Ed Jones and Bob Price, and that any way it is no bigger fish story than the celebrated story of Jonah and the whale related in the Bible, which said fish story is sometimes called in question by supposedly good men. And more than that he is safe in saying the biggest fish got away this time, as is usually the case. The next time he goes he says he is going to take the Record man along and thus be able to verify his story before hand.

MITCHELL COUNTY CYCLONE RECALLED BY OHIO STORM

Press reports of the Lorain, Ohio, disaster a few days ago, in which such a heavy toll in life and property was taken, recalled the disaster in Mitchell County on the morning of May 14, last year, in which 27 persons were killed and 193 injured, 85 farm homes destroyed and crops and livestock in the path of the twister almost entirely obliterated.

Citizens of Colorado who subscribed to the fund raised Monday afternoon for relief of the Ohio storm sufferers were prompted in this act of mercy largely in remembrance of the splendid manner in which people of the entire country rushed money, supplies and trained nurses to alleviate suffering and rehabilitate the devastated territory. More than $57,000 was collected and expended for these purposes through the American Red Cross.

A copy of the official report of this disaster and of the part the American Red Cross had in meeting the crisis occasioned by the storm, as issued by the general headquarters at Washington, D. C., was received in Colorado this week. Quoting from the report, the following statements are given:

"Within 30 minutes of the time of the disaster news had reached Colorado, the county seat, the Mitchell County Chapter Chairman was organizing his forces for relief. As rapidly as possible automobiles were assembled and all available local medical and nursing personnel rushed to the disaster zone to render first aid to the injured. At the same time the Chapter chairman organized search squads who covered the entire devastated area searching for dead and injured. Red Cross Chapters in nearby counties assembled medical and nursing personnel and rushed them to the disaster zone. While directing these operations the Chapter chairman was arranging for the establishment of an emergency hospital in one of the churches in Colorado, with the result that within three hours after the cyclone struck a well equipped emergency hospital had been fitted up and all was ready to take care of the injured. By evening the entire devastated area had been completely covered by the search squads; the dead had been assembled in a temporary morgue; the injured were being properly taken care of in the emergency hospital, and the non-injured disaster sufferers, numbering approximately 300, had received necessary shelter, clothing and food.

"The next pressing problem was that of planting cotton. The cyclone had completely destroyed every field of cotton in its path and it was imperative that the cotton be replanted within a week in order to make a crop. The Chapter chairman and his associates immediately organized a team of volunteer men, 350 in number, and on the third day after the disaster this large force of volunteers under the direction of the chapter commenced the tremendous task of clearing the devastated area and replanting cotton. In less than a week these men, working day and night, had completed the gigantic task, with the result that every acre of cotton land destroyed by the cyclone was replanted free of all charge to the disaster sufferer.

"As soon as news of the disaster reached the Division office at Saint Louis the Director of Disaster Relief was rushed to the scene to offer the assistance of the National organization. Upon his arrival he found that the citizens of the entire community had organized themselves in a very efficient way by setting up a county-wide relief administration, which functioned through the Mitchell County Relief Committee, in charge of all the relief work. A meeting of this Relief Committee, the Chapter Executive Committee and many prominent citizens of the county was held, and as a result a resolution was unanimously passed requesting the Red Cross to assume direct control of relief operations. It was felt by all concerned that inasmuch as the disaster was over such a wide area of rural territory, that it would be best to have a united county-wide administration. The Relief Committee disbanded and by resolution of the meeting was reorganized as the Mitchell County Red Cross Advisory Committee. This Committee functioned in co-operation with the Director throughout the entire relief operations.

"As the outstanding need was medical and nursing service to the large number of injured, the Red Cross Representative concentrated on this feature of the work. The Emergency Hospital was completely standardized according to Red Cross standards; a supervising nurse was placed in charge and physicians were on duty day and night. A staff of Red Cross nurses was rushed to the area and assigned to duty in the emergency hospital and in private homes where patients were too dangerously injured to be transported to the emergency hospital. All together twelve nurses were assigned to duty. Physicians were placed on duty on an itinerant basis for the patients in private homes, and as indicated above, two physicians were on duty continuously day and night at the emergency hospital. An up-to-date, completely equipped operating room was arranged for and a number of major and minor operations were successfully performed.

"When arrangements for taking care of the injured had been completed, plans were set up for the introduction of the Red Cross family relief service. Two trained disaster family case workers were assigned to the work and relief headquarters was established at Colorado. The customary family case work was performed, the workers visiting all families and recording their losses, needs, etc. The family case work was necessarily made much more complicated because of the fact that so many members of families had been either killed or injured. New life plans had to be laid for many families. The entire future for many of the widows and orphans had to be taken into consideration in the family case plans.

"As soon as a plan had been developed in co-operation with the family, the Advisory Committee met and took the plan into consideration and, if approved, passed an award for the carrying-out of the plan. The awards included furniture, clothing, farm implements, live stock, feed and seed, maintenance, etc. As the work progressed it was seen that there would be enough money in the relief fund to assist some of the disaster sufferers in rebuilding their homes, so a rebuilding program was commenced. A number of houses that were completely destroyed were rebuilt and some of those partially destroyed were repaired. In this department, as in all others, the Red Cross based its award upon the needs of the family. The medical and nursing service to the injured, and the family rehabilitation work were so coordinated that by the time the injured were ready to return to their homes, the homes were rebuilt, furnished and everything ready for them to start life anew.

"As soon as news of the disaster was spread abroad, volunteer subscriptions began to pour into the county. By the time the Red Cross representative reached the area approximately $20,000 had been so donated. Immediately upon the reorganization of the relief work under Red Cross direction, a finance committee was organized for the purpose of raising a relief fund. It is gratifying to note by the financial statement * * * that a splendid response was made to the appeal. National Headquarters of the American Red Cross donated $6,500 to the relief fund."

Had Dieted 16 Years

"What the newspapers have said about Karnak is not half good enough. The medicine has freed me of sixteen years suffering and I would not be without it if it cost twenty-five dollars a bottle."

This is the emphatic way in which Mr. George Magness, 208 1/2 North Press St., San Antonio, expresses his opinion of the sensational new medicine which is causing such wide-spread comment throughout the country.

"When I began taking Karnak," continued Mr. Magness, "I had been on a diet for sixteen years, so you can realize what the medicine has done for me when I say that I now eat as I please, never have a particle of trouble afterward, and have gained eleven pounds in weight."

"I suppose I had as bad a case of chronic trouble and all run-down condition as any man in Texas. I could not eat even the lightest kind of food without suffering for hours with gas, biliousness and indigestion. I finally fell off to only 150 pounds and got so weak I would actually stagger when I walked. I hardly knew what a good night's sleep was and would get up every morning with pain and soreness all through my body and my back so stiff I could hardly straighten up."

"But it's a different story with me now. I eat three hearty meals a day, sleep eight or nine hours without scarcely turning over and feel fine and strong in every way. If anybody wants to know about Karnak, send them to me. It is as different from other medicines as night is from day. Karnak sold in Colorado by JNO. L. DOSS.
