IMPRESSIVE RITES ATTEND COURT HOUSE DEDICATION

bond issue with which the new court house was financed, should be given praise for the new temple of justice. Judge Smith delivered a fitting toast of praise to his honor the court, describing Judge Leslie as "a real man" and to Dr. P. C. Coleman, "the county physician of pioneer West Texans in the long ago. 'Dr. Coleman is a man we of Snyder always take our hats off to,'" Judge Smith stated.

Hon. W. W. Beall of Sweetwater, former district judge, delivered an interesting address in which the Commissioners' Court, Judge Hall and all others having a part in financing and building the court house were praised.

It was just two years from the time the election to vote on bonds to build the court house was ordered by Commissioners' Court until the new building was dedicated.

ADVERTISING WEST TEXAS.

From Fort Worth Record:
West Texas needs co-ordination of its advertising effort, and it needs a greater and more effective campaign to set before the country, and the world, the opportunities it holds forth to the investor and the home-seeker.

Considerable publicity matter is being put out by the various Chambers of Commerce. Some of this is very effective and some of it and communities throughout West Texas, not so well planned. Just how well it is distributed is a matter that is hard to tell.

Very evident, however, is the fact that co-operation in planning, publishing and distributing publicity material would save much money to the West Texas communities and result in greater effectiveness for the matter sent out.

There should be one central publicity agency for the whole of West Texas, either in the rudimentary form of an advisory body, or actually to prepare, print and send out advertising matter, and to do what is still more effective, take newspaper space for the exploitation of West Texas opportunities.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is the logical medium for such co-ordination. It has had a publicity committee each year, but so far little has been done. The organization is comparatively new, the country is growing, problems come thick and fast, and the chamber has more calls for its money than it has funds.

But the time is at hand when this matter of publicity for West Texas will have to be taken up in earnest, and it is not too early to start to talk and plan.

It is almost impossible to exaggerate the possibilities of West Texas. There are millions of people in the United States who are looking for just the sort of opportunities that West Texas holds forth. We must get the message to them, and we must get it to them in a form that carries the maximum good impression and effectiveness.

It is time that we were making definite plans to advertise West Texas, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is the proper organization to initiate the movement.

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

AARON BURR AND THEODOSIA PREVOST

AARON BURR, who achieved political fame, was vice president of the United States, and later became an execrated name in American history through his slaying of Alexander Hamilton in a duel he forced upon him, was a devoted lover and fond father. The woman he married was a widow with two children, not beautiful and ten years his senior. Why he married her is still a puzzle, for he was a rising man and could have had his pick of eligible society beauties. Theodosia Prevost, widow of a British officer, was, however, a very cultured woman, and this probably fascinated Burr, who was himself a keen lover of the arts.

The following very prosey letter Burr sent his fiancée a short time before they were married:

"I confess I have still some transient distrusts that you set too little value on your own life and comfort. Remember it is not yours alone, but your letters shall convince me. I waive the subject. I am not certain I shall be regularly punctual in writing to you in this manner every day when I get at business, but I shall, if possible, devote a quarter of an hour a day to you. In return I demand one-half an hour of each day from you; more I forbid, unless on special occasions. This half hour is to be mine, to be invariably at the same time and for that purpose fixed at the hour least liable to interruption and as you shall find most convenient. . . . the children shall have their sheet and at the given hour write, if but a single word. Burr, at this hour, is to be a kind of watchword."

That Theodosia did not live up to these instructions, is evident from another letter after their marriage:

"I have lived three days upon the letters I expected this evening, and behold, the stage has arrived without a line from you. I have been through the rain and dark and mud, hunting up every passenger to catechize them for letters and I can scarce yet believe I am so totally forgotten."

At the age of twenty, when Burr was aide to General Putnam and garrisoned in New York, he had his first love affair. The lady was Margaret Moncrieffe, aged fifteen, developed beyond her years, beautiful, passionate and a vagabond in the modern sense. Margaret was the daughter of Major Moncrieffe, stationed with the English troops at Staten Island. Fearing for the safety of his daughter, who was with him, the major sent a soldier with a flag of truce to General Putnam, begging him to take care of Margaret. Putnam was Moncrieffe's enemy officially, but to Moncrieffe the father he was a friend and he gladly consented, to act as Margaret's guardian. Margaret was sent to Putnam forthwith and the general placed her with his family, who showed her every kindness.

While with the Putnams, Burr fell in love with Margaret and she presumably with him. But one day Burr discovered the English girl painting a bouquet of flowers. This was an occupation usually with girls of culture, but Burr, coupling this with the fact that Margaret seemed very fond of watching the maneuvers of ships in the bay with a telescope, got the idea that she was painting a message to the enemy in the language of flowers.

Burr was a lover but he was also a prudent man. He told of his suspicions to Washington, who had the girl removed to a place where she could do no damage and held her virtually a prisoner of war. That was the end of Aaron Burr's first love.

Conditions at Snyder are good according to Judge Fritz E. Smith, major of that city, who was in Colorado Wednesday on legal business.

SWEETWATER SECRETARY IS SERIOUSLY HURT BY TRAIN

Henry Bartlett, 48, and for 14 years city secretary of Sweetwater, was probably fatally hurt at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by west bound Texas & Pacific passenger train No. 5 at the Hailey street crossing in Sweetwater. The injuries included a crushed skull and severe bruises about the face.

Dr. C. L. Root, Colorado physician, was called to Sweetwater Wednesday afternoon in consultation with Sweetwater surgeons to attend the injured man. Dr. Root states that Bartlett was in a state of semi-consciousness and regards his injuries as critical.

Bartlett is a brother of Mrs. O. F. Jones of the Spade ranch, 20 miles south of Colorado. She went to Sweetwater Wednesday to be with her brother. Information from Sweetwater Thursday morning was to the effect that Mr. Bartlett's condition remained unchanged.

MIRACLES THEN AND NOW.

The young preacher sat in our sanctuary and discussed the present-day rage for higher criticism—the sort of criticism that wants to tear to pieces and destroy rather than build up, the sort of criticism that doesn't stop this side of God Himself but would rend the veil of mystery from the Great White Throne and lay bare the acts of the Supreme Being. The sort of criticism, in short, that would substitute Mind for Soul, Reason for Heart and Logic for Conscience.

As the young preacher discussed higher criticism and its shallowness, the flimsy nature of its "proofs" and the shakiness of its premises, he had an inspiration. He said suddenly:

"A week or two ago our Sunday school lesson dealt with the sermon which Christ delivered at the seashore, while standing in a boat with the multitude packed on the shore and hills roundabout. If tradition or the gospel story had told us that Christ's boat ascended from the water and flew with Him to the top of a mountain, and that from the mountain-top Christ preached a sermon which was heard in all parts of the world, the higher critics would ridicule the whole thing and assert that such a miracle was impossible. Just like they say His walking upon water was a figment of the mind, as well as His other miracles.

"Yet this very week many residents of Abilene were listening in on the radio to the president's speech, when another voice cut in and announced that it was the Shenandoah speaking, flying high over Abilene."

Do people, including the higher critics, doubt the facts in this modern miracle? Do they doubt, in light of modern-day miracles, that a man could fly in a boat from the sea to the mountain, and there deliver a speech to be heard by radio throughout the world?

Yet if you had told them twenty years ago that such things were being done, or were even possible, the higher critics would have torn your arguments to shreds.

They reject the Bible miracles because they cannot gage them with the measure of the mind. If the radio and the flying machine had been in use in Christ's time, and had been lost and not rediscovered the fact of their existence would have been denied by Reason and Logic.

Today we accept as commonplace things that would have been miracles to our grandfathers. Perhaps things that appear to be miracles to us were mere commonplace to the followers of the gentle Nazarene. Mind is finite—that is to say, Reason and Logic have their limitations beyond which the Soul rules supreme.—Abilene Reporter.

VETERANS OF WORLD WAR TO BENEFIT BY NATIONAL ACT

Joe Y. Fraser, official of Oran C. Hooker Post, American Legion, issues the following statement, which should be of interest to the public, especially those having friends or relatives directly affected:

"The Reed-Johnson law, which was passed by the Congress last spring conferred special benefits on sufferers from tuberculosis, mental diseases, paralysis agitans or shaking palsy, cephalitis lethargica or sleeping sickness and amebic dysentery. It extends the presumption of automatic service connection in such cases from three years after discharge to January 1, 1925. Under the old law the veteran had to prove by medical examination that he was suffering from one of these diseases within three years after his discharge. Now all the veteran has to show is that he is now suffering with one or more of the diseases mentioned.

"Veterans who believe that they are suffering from any of the diseases mentioned should get in immediate touch with the Veteran's Bureau for the district in which they reside as the time for filing applications is very short.

"Widows, orphans or dependent parents of veterans who have died or may die prior to January 1, 1925, of any of the diseases named are entitled to receive death compensation and should apply for it."

SEEK TO CONTINUE TEACHING THEORY OF EVOLUTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—At a mass meeting which overflowed the main auditorium of Native Sons Hall, a campaign was formally launched here last night under the auspices of the recently organized Science League of America to combat efforts of opponents of the theory of evolution to prevent instruction on that subject from being given in public schools and colleges.

Among the speakers at the meeting were Luther Burbank of Santa Rosa, California, "plant wizard" Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Stanford University; Dr. William E. Ritter, noted biologist; C. S. Muddell, formerly a Congregationalist minister, and Maynard Shipley, president of the league. The meeting was presided over by John D. Barry, a newspaper man.

President Shipley declared it was the purpose of the campaign to "keep evolution in the schools and the Book of Genesis out." In this Dr. Jordan disagreed with the aims of the organization.

"I would like in not only Genesis, but the whole Bible," said Dr. Jordan.

DEMOCRATS LOOK TO SMITH.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Democratic party may be down, but evidently it isn't out.

For at least one wing of the party even now is planning for the 1928 campaign and already has picked and is grooming a candidate for that contest. Eastern Democrats of the liberal sort, who backed Al Smith for the Democratic nomination this year, feel that his failure to land the plum and thereby put New York's electoral vote in the Democratic column—and perhaps some others—was due to the fact that up to that time he had been a state, not a national figure.

With him in mind as their hero for 1928, they purpose to remedy that condition, and having done that are hopeful of "better luck next time."

Briefly, the program is to enter Al Smith in the 1926 senatorial race in New York, against Jimmy Wadsworth.

It was Wadsworth who put young Teddy Roosevelt across as the Republican nominee for governor this year.

By defeating Teddy, Jr., even in the face of the heavy Coolidge majority on the national ticket, it is considered Smith also demonstrated his ability to lick Wadsworth.

In a purely state fight, such as that of 1926 would be, it is held the job would be even easier than this year. As a senator, Smith then would be expected to catch the national eye in a more effective way than is possible in a mere state office.

Two years of experience in the broader field of national affairs might enable him to overcome some of the local prejudices which played so great a part in blocking his nomination last July.

If he measured, nationally, up to his home state reputation, the problem of putting him across as the Democratic standard bearer in 1928 would be greatly simplified.

PIONEER CLUB WOMEN WILL SERVE THANKSGIVING FEED

Members of the Pioneer Club, of Valley View, ten miles northeast of Colorado, have announced that they will serve a Thanksgiving dinner at the club house. The dinner will be served at noon. Ladies in charge of the dinner promise to give all patrons one of the best Thanksgiving dinners for many seasons. A price of fifty cents per plate will be charged, the proceeds to be applied to fund for meeting payment on club building.

Miss Irma Sealy, home demonstration agent and who is co-operating with the club membership in arranging for the affair, stated Tuesday that a cordial invitation was extended the general public to visit the club on Thanksgiving and have dinner there. Reservations should be made in advance by those who expect to attend.

STATE TEACHERS ASSN.

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Nov. 18.—A distinguished group of educators from the foremost universities of the United States will co-operate with the officers of the State Teachers' Association in preparing a program at the annual convention to be held in San Antonio, November 27 to 29.

Among the prominent educators are: Dr. George Works of Cornell University, head of the Texas Education Survey; Dr. James F. Hosie, Columbia University; Dr. Edwin Seligman, Columbia University; Dr. F. J. Kelley, University of Minnesota; Dr. J. L. Henderson, University of Texas, and Supt. S. M. N. Marrs, State Department of Education. Each of the speakers will have a message that will be of great value to every teacher of Texas.

AUSTIN STATESMEN SOLD.

AUSTIN, Nov. 18.—Purchase of the Austin Statesman, afternoon daily newspaper of this city, for a consideration of approximately $100,000 was announced here today by the Austin American, morning newspaper of the Texas capital city. The two properties will be consolidated December 1st as a morning, evening Sunday combination.

TO ANY WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The Fifth Sunday meeting of the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association will meet at Roscoe Friday morning, November 28th, at 10 o'clock. The executive board will meet Friday evening at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. Our committee has in mind a missionary to recommend for employment at that date.

Any other churches, not already affiliated with us, and which will do so, are urged to meet with us in this meeting.

Brethren, let's have a full representation at the board meeting. Let's get acquainted with each other and with the work and make our new association go in a great way. Altogether for a great meeting.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or common cold, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the new Calotab tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, but far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No vomiting, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

Baptist Notes.

The pastor, Rev. W. A. Foster, preached two splendid sermons to appreciative audiences Sunday. The orchestra from the Methodist church added much to the music which was ably directed by Mr. S. C. Harris. There were three additions to the church, Mr. and Mrs. D. McCollum, and Mr. Tidwell. A pouncing which had collected during the week at the home of J. L. Pratt was presented to the pastor in the afternoon. After recovering from the surprise he offered words of thanks and invited all present to visit him soon while he had lots of good things to eat. Mr. Ben Shultz carried the pastor, his pouncing and Rev. Tatum to Abilene Sunday night. Rev. Tatum had just returned from Baumann, where he preached during the day. Rev. Foster's church in Runnels county honored him with a trip to the State convention so he left early Monday morning to spend the week in Dallas. Mr. Lark Crutcher was elected as delegate and Claude Willis as alternate to the State B. Y. P. U. Convention at Ft. Worth.—Reporter.

Church of Christ.

The Church of Christ has secured the services of Elder M. L. Vaughn of Abilene, as local pastor and he will serve the church here for the coming year. He will fill his first appointment here next Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday night and will preach the 4th and 2nd Sundays in each month hereafter. Elder Vaughn is one of the strongest gospel preachers in this section of the country and this local congregation is to be congratulated on securing his services. A movement has been started to build a parsonage so that he will be able to move here with his family and be on the field but the plans are as yet indefinite and may not be realized in the immediate future.

School Notes.

Last week at school was a very busy one. The work has reached a stage where the student body has about as much as can be carried. The various courses have begun to turn toward mid-term and next week-end is monthly test. We all dread this of course. Today we had the State inspector and of course we were on our Ps and Qs. Everything seems in good condition and we have a good report on our school. She said "that we were ready for classification and recommends that we be classified as a standard 4-year High school." Now that the board has met every requirement of the State department it is up to us as students and teachers to put over our work so that we are to have credit in same. Believe me if work means anything, we are certainly putting this over. We sometimes think that every teacher tries to pile on all that we can do. Here is hoping that we receive credit for all that we attempt. We hope to soon have our school up to standard and have 16 full accredited units.

Buick Continues its Leadership

For the seventh consecutive year Buick has first choice of space at the National Automobile Shows. This signal honor is awarded annually by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce to the manufacturer-member having the largest volume of business for the preceding twelve months.

In winning and in maintaining this enviable position year after year, Buick has demonstrated conclusively that the true value of any automobile is reflected in the consistency with which the public buys it.

Since the introduction of the 1925 Buick models, public patronage has increased to an even greater degree—

A tribute to the Buick engineering skill and manufacturing ability that have provided newer and better Buick cars without departing in any way from the fundamentals of power, economy and dependability for which all Buicks have been famous.

STEWARDS MEET.

The annual meeting of the District Stewards of the Methodist church was held in Sweetwater Tuesday at the home of Rev. R. A. Stewart, at 501 E. N. 4th street, with over 30 stewards and pastors from over the district present.

Over 20 stewards attended the meeting and many were accompanied by pastors of the various churches of the district.

Cities represented here at the meet included Blackwell, Roscoe, Loraine, Colorado, Westbrook, Stanton, Snyder, Dunn, Hermleigh, McCaulley, Hamlin, Roby, Rotan, Camp Springs, and Sweetwater.—Sweetwater Reporter.

The annual bargain rate is now on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, daily with Sunday $7.45; daily without Sunday, $4.95, by mail only. See your home town agent.—Roy L. Farmer, Agent. 12-12

Night Coughing— How to Stop It

Night coughing which, through loss of valuable sleep, often makes you feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, and by quickly weakening the system lays you open to the most dangerous infections, can now be promptly checked by a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed often after the very first trial.

This treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the cough goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. Excellent for children as well as grown-ups. For coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good druggists. Ask for

That awful burning inflammation is cooled and soothed by Heikell's Ointment. Heikell's Ointment will heal it just as effectually and does less serious skin trouble. At your Druggist, send for a sample. Johnson, Hottel & Co., Philada.

"HOLD COTTON FOR THIRTY CENTS," COMMISSIONER SAYS

"Hold cotton until you get 30 cents," was the word sent to farmers Tuesday from Austin by George B. Terrell, commissioner of agriculture. All conditions, both of production and selling, indicate 30 cents is the fair and proper price for this year's crop, he said. Anything less will mean a loss to producers, he explained, as it has cost 26 cents a pound to produce the crop.

"The recent government estimate of the total crop for this year is 12,816,000 bales," said Mr. Terrell. "Granting that this estimate is correct, though it is probably too high, it is still not a large crop and is only about the amount of cotton that will be consumed during the next 12 months. The crop of 1923 was 10,081,000 bales, the 1922 crop was 9,652,000 bales, and the 1921 crop was 8,000,000, which makes a total production for the three years of 27,733,000 bales. The domestic consumption and exports for the three years were 34,715,422 bales, or 6,982,422 bales more than was produced during the same period of time. Will anybody contend that with a shortage of 7,000,000 bales during the last three years that 12,500,000 bales is a big crop and should cause a reduction in the price?"

"Business has materially revived in Europe since the partial settlement of reparations which will cause larger exports of cotton.

"The 'captains of industry' in this country of the leading ministers identified with the church in the State are scheduled to deliver addresses. Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the Colorado church, is to conduct the devotional services at convening of the afternoon session. Several Presbyterians of Colorado are to attend the conference, Rev. Mr. Elliott stated Wednesday.

PRESBYTERIAN CONFERENCE TO CONVENE AT SWEETWATER

An important conference of ministers and laymen of the Presbyterian church is to be held at Sweetwater November 25th. Prominent Presbyterians embracing the territory from Brownwood to Clovis, and Abilene to Pecos are to be in attendance. Some of the leading ministers identified with the church in the State are scheduled to deliver addresses. Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the Colorado church, is to conduct the devotional services at convening of the afternoon session.

Several Presbyterians of Colorado are to attend the conference, Rev. Mr. Elliott stated Wednesday.

COLORADO HUNTERS BAG DEER AND WILD TURKEY

Several hunting parties formed at Colorado and vicinity have recently returned from hunting expeditions in various game rendezvous of West and South Texas. With small exception they were successful in bagging plenty deer and wild turkey. A large region in Central South Texas is said to abound in wild turkey this season.

COURT HOUSE LAWN WILL BE MADE PLACE OF BEAUTY

The grounds surrounding the new Mitchell county court house are to be made one of the beauty spots of West Texas, according to statement of Judge J. C. Hall in an address at the dedication ceremonies Monday morning. Hall stated that the old county mule barns, standing on southwest corner of the grounds, had been sold and were then being torn down.

The entire square is to be platted and set to ornamental-trees, shrubbery, grass and flowers. Meandering cement walks are to be laid about the grounds and several specially designed flower beds are incorporated in tentative plans recently submitted by a landscape gardener to Commissioners' Court.

NOTICE SCHOOL PATRONS.

Beginning December 1st all children between the ages of eight and fourteen years must enter school and continue in school each school day for five consecutive months, under the operation of the compulsory attendance law. If each patron will do his duty there will be no friction.—Colorado School Board. 11-28-c

Aviso A Los Ciudadanos Mexicanos.

El día primero de Diciembre todos los niños entre la edad de ocho a catorce años deben entrar a la escuela y continuar en la escuela cada día durante el término de escuela por cinco meses. Se impondrá una multa de $5.00 por cada día a cualquier padre que falte de observar esta ley.

La Directiva de Escuelas de Colorado, Texas. E. F. King, Supt.

"There seems to be a genuine revival of business in many lines. The price of wheat and corn has doubled since the low prices paralyzed the West. The textile industry is booming and there is every indication that the price of cotton will advance. The price reached 31 cents in 1922 and 36 cents in 1923, and the crop is as short this season, compared with the world conditions and consumptive demand, as it was in those years. This crop should have brought 30 cents from the beginning of the season, and it is a calamity that the farmers were not sufficiently organized to demand 30 cents, and hold the crop off the market until that price was received. They have the making of prices in their hands if they will act together and receive the co-operation of business interests.

"The price has materially advanced the last few days, despite the fact that the government estimate of the crop is larger than the former estimate. Recent reports sent me show that 18 per cent of Texas cotton is being held for better prices. If the merchants, bankers and cotton buyers generally would hold what cotton they have on hand and protect it from weather damage, it would materially aid in advancing the prices.

"M. H. Wolfe, a large cotton broker of Dallas, and others have recently called attention to the fact that the price of cotton should advance.

"W. B. Yeary, who successfully conducted the campaigns for the state department of agriculture for 30c, 35c and 40c cotton for the years of 1917, 1918 and 1919, is urging the farmers and business interests to hold for better prices.

"General business conditions and every factor entering into the making of prices warrants 30c as the minimum price, and if the growers are to have any profit, the price should be 30 cents, as it has cost 26 cents to produce the crop. "The amount of cotton held off the market and the length of time it is held will determine the price and show how soon or how long it will require to reach 30 cents."

Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Bishop, Mrs. A. L. Whipkey and Mr. and Mrs. E. Keathley are in Dallas to attend the State Baptist Convention. Rev. and Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Whipkey left Colorado Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Keathley left for the convention city Wednesday.

BUSY SHOPPERS THROUGH COLORADO STORES SATURDAY

Saturday was one of the biggest days Colorado has experienced during the fall season. Busy shoppers, who patronized every store and shop in the city, thronged the city for several hours. Merchants report a brisk trade for the day.

The Record will be published on Wednesday next week, so we may close up on Thursday and eat our four big Thanksgiving turkeys.

BUILDING MANHOOD

The drive to raise the annual budget for the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, is on. According to statements by Rev. W. M. Elliott, president, and W. S. Barcus, scout executive, respectively of the council, the citizenship of the four counties embraced within the district will readily pledge the quotas assigned them.

The ideals about which scouting is builded and projected are of such lofty attainments as to merit the consideration this work is receiving in Mitchell and the other three counties. The ideals of scout principles are correlated with the ideals of Christianity—building manhood.

WITH OUR CHURCHES

Ministers, Sunday school superintendents and other leaders in religious programs which are held from week to week in the different church buildings of Colorado have given the information that only a small percent of the population of Colorado is reached by direct influences of these religious agencies.

about one half the membership of these churches register attendance at the Sunday school and church services, with the mid-week prayer service bringing up an almost insignificant quota of membership attendance.

Of course, the explanation of this condition is couched in the fact that folks are not really interested in the church, even their own church, as they perhaps ought to be. So many and of such wide variation are the attractions diverging us into other thoughts and other duties that we, as a religious people, are becoming more and more less interested in the Sunday school and church.

Believing the church should be the first consideration in the estimation of this community, as well as in every community, as for that matter, The Record will begin publication of a series of articles next week in which we shall strive to better acquaint the public of this community with the church. We plan to have a member of the editorial staff personally visit the different Sunday schools, preaching and other religious programs, to obtain information as to what each of the several different denominational bodies of the city are doing.

The Record is interested in the churches of Colorado. It would be contrary to good citizenship for us to forget the traditions of the American forefathers who came to an unknown coast from the environs of Old England to found this great republic, and all the other outstanding epochs in the history of America.

While any campaign manager can win an election before the ballots are cast the trouble with the breed is that most of them lose out when the votes are counted.

The G. O. P. party of Texas will not contest the recent gubernatorial election, according to press dispatches from Dallas Tuesday, reporting a "secret" meeting party leaders. We have failed to note, however, whether Dr. Butte has conceded Ma Ferguson's election.

Procrastination is the thief of time, says an age old axiom. This is peculiarly true in its application to the duty Mitchell county owes to its own self and other counties of the State as to repairs to Iatan Flat. Something should be done to remove this stigma from the fair name of one of the very best counties in the Lone Star State.

Speaking of newspapers, it is refreshing to look through our West Texas exchanges these days. Practically all of them are reeking with advertising, and show that well-nourished condition which reflects the progress and achievement of West Texas. Where would West Texas be without her newspapers? She would not be anywhere—she would not even get started—Abilene Reporter.

THE SPIRIT OF JESUS.

I yield to none in zealous guardianship and proclamation of the central and fundamental doctrines of the evangelical faith, and I think there was never a time when there was greater need for those doctrines to be proclaimed. It is imperative that we be solidly united in sacred loyalty to all truth that is essential to the regeneration and sanctification of the soul and the creation of men and women in Christ Jesus.

CHESS TOURNAMENT NO PLACE FOR "ROOTERS"

Chees is one game, or sport, where the rooter is conspicuous by his absence. The stickler for golf etiquette, who frowns if a robin chirps while some one is attempting to putt, would be considered a noisy nuisance at a chess tournament.

Chees masters regard their pieces by the hour. Minutes will pass while all of the possibilities and eventualities are considered from every angle. There must be absolute quiet, for chess is a game for thinkers, and thinkers cannot be disturbed without serious consequences to their train of thought.

GET BEAUTIFUL EFFECTS FROM LIGHTED MARBLE

When an official of the United States bureau of standards was making an inspection of indoor lighting arrangements as used in Europe he was surprised to find an old church in Italy in which the daylight was filtered through thin slabs of delicate tinted marble.

CAUSE OF PETRIFFICATION

This process is called petriification. When wood or the carcass of an animal apparently turns to stone we say it petrifies. The word "petrify" itself means turning to or making into stone.

DESERT SHOWERS COUNT

The effect of a single shower on the southern margin of the Chihuahuan desert is noted by Charles Darwin: "The farmers, who plant corn near the sea coast, where the atmosphere is more humid, taking advantage of this shower, would break up the ground; after a second they would put the seed in; and if a third shower should fall, they would reap a good harvest in the spring.

Venetian Mirror Makers Once Had World Monopoly

In picturesque Venice, the center of the arts during the Middle Ages, a few clever experimenters rediscovered the old secrets of mirror making and even improved upon the ancient masterpieces. They made an amalgam of lead and tin with which they "silvered" their mirrors, and captured the attention of all Europe, and the other parts of the world then commercially known.

Venetian mirrors were almost priceless, so highly were they esteemed. Vincent de Beauvais, writing in 1250, declared that the mirror of glass and lead was a marvel and the best of all. Kings tried to make arrangements through special emissaries and ambassadors to have mirror makers come to their courts—but in vain. The Venetian doges proclaimed a law that any glass maker carrying his art into a foreign state should be forced to return; if he did not, his closest relatives were arrested and imprisoned as hostages.

Should he still remain at the court of a foreign king, special agents were sent to kill him and destroy his establishment. This state of affairs lasted until the reign of Louis XIV of France, when Colbert, the famous minister, began to break up the Venetian monopoly of mirror making. In the face of all the disastrous laws of Italy, he imported twenty artisans from the mirror guild of Venice, and established them in Paris, in the Faubourg St. Antoine, where they enjoyed the protection and patronage of the king.

Thus was the mirror industry firmly established in France. Later on, when it was safe, these artisans were distributed to other parts of the kingdom, and several manufacturing started in the provinces.

Creature of Mystery Found in Ant Colony

The most mysterious personage in a colony of African driver ants is a creature perhaps an inch and a half long and three-quarters of an inch high. It is not an ant. In fact, so far as science is concerned, says Prof. R. L. Garner in the Century magazine, it is as yet unclassified.

In comparison with the ants, continues Professor Garner, it is enormous. The creature—there is only one to a colony—looks for all the world like a tiny elephant in a circus parade as it lumbers along in the rear part of the line of march. Its body is about as thick as your finger, and its legs are proportionately heavy and help to increase the resemblance to an elephant. There is always a body-guard five or six deep round it as it marches.

The thing is hardly a prisoner, for it has never been found anywhere except in a column of driver ants. What its sex is is doubtful. Several of the driver ants were taken to Germany a few years ago and examined, but no important knowledge was gained. Personally I have never captured one of the creatures, but I strongly suspect that it is really the queen of the colony. For in all species of the hymenoptera, which includes ants, the queen appears to be an anomalous creature, many times larger than the other members of the colony and always different in form.

"Palatinate"

This term is a survival of feudal times. In the days when a man's house was actually his castle which he had to defend by force of arms, kings were not anxious to assume responsibility. Therefore they found it convenient to assign their adherents to districts, giving each the power to be master, collect taxes, and administer justice as he saw fit. The term "palatinate" was appropriately applied to such a holding as it comes from the same Latin root word as "palace" and "castle." Three hundred years ago palatinates were common. Many English counties have been palatinates and this form of government was common over here. For instance, Maryland was the palatinate of the Calvert family, Maine the palatinate of Ferdinand Gorges, etc. The Bavarian palatinate is the only territory of any importance which has retained the term.

Get Loans From "Aunt"

In Paris and other big French cities the pawnbroker is called "my aunt." In France one needn't blush in doing business with the pawnbroker, for he is the state; that is, the government conducts the pawnbroking business. It does it very well, too, if I am to believe the testimony of some Americans who have "traded" with "My Aunt" while awaiting delayed remittances from home. "My Aunt" has had a good year's business. She does little business nowadays with the workingman, for he is always in work. The center of poverty has moved. It is the white-collar brigade which, unable to make both ends meet, resorts to "My Aunt." Oddy enough, "My Aunt's" shop in Paris is on "The Hill of Pies." Not a misprint for pity.—A. B. L., in World Traveler Magazine.

Not Such a Bargain

A gentleman at a country fair was solicited by a lady attending one of the booths to buy something. He gallantly replied that what he would care to buy he feared would not be for sale—a lock of her hair. To his amusement and delight, she quickly cut off the coveted curl and smilingly received the price offered—$10. The proud purchaser was exhibiting his joy by the remark: "She rather got the best of the deal, for to my certain knowledge, she only paid $4 for the whole wig."

Samoa Women Happy and Not Overworked

The life of a Samoan woman is pleasant. She is neither overworked nor savagely treated, says Edward A. Salisbury, in Adventure Magazine. From her earliest childhood she is trained in the intricacies of the stove, and all her life the dance is a source of pleasure to her. Samoan women will always dance for you if you ask them, and they show by their smiles and songs how much they delight in granting the request. In their girlhood they deck themselves with flowers and garlands of leaves and are fond of coquetry, but, unlike their Polynesian sisters of the Marquesas and Society islands, they are chaste.

Before the coming of the Americans with new medical theories, the life of an infant was doubtful, and even now the old customs are carried out in some villages, it is said. The new-born child was laid on its back and three flat stones were laid around the head. To make the baby beautiful the family thought it was necessary to flatten the forehead and nose. Nothing is uglier, they feel, than our hideous, pointed "canoe noses." The baby was fed with filtered coconut juice for three days, while a "wise woman" tested the mother's milk. Often the child died.

Spices in Demand in Early Days of History

The tantalizing flavor and piquant qualities of spices have made them sought after from the earliest days of mankind, and an adjunct to civilization at all periods.

In the early days of history spices were worth fabulous sums, owing to the difficulty of obtaining them and the high cost of transportation.

When Alaric the Goth conquered Rome in 410 A. D., says the New York World, he asked as a ransom 3,000 pounds of pepper, their worth more than its weight in gold.

The first organization of dealers, it is said, was the "fraternity of pepperers," and it was in the fourteenth century that the name was changed to the "guild of grocers," which depicted on its coat of arms six cloves. Venice at its height traded in spices to the amount of $10,000,000 annually, and it vied with Portugal in securing cargoes from far eastern ports. Columbus was bound for the spices of the East when he chanced upon a new continent, and Vasco da Gama, the famous sea fighter, made one of his most important voyages to secure a cargo of pepper, cinnamon and ginger from India.

Fear Alligator's Tail

In several of the southern states alligator farms are maintained for the purpose of using the hides for shoes and other leather articles. It is said that the keepers of these creatures are more in fear of their tails than their teeth. When attacking an enemy an alligator will try to strike first with its powerful tail before using its cruel teeth.

Light and Dark Stars

Two hundred millions of millions of miles away is a star called Algol. It is the second brightest star in the constellation of Perseus and it has the curious habit of varying in brightness at regular intervals. After much research we know now that Algol consists of two stars—one bright, the other dark, says London TH-Bits. They are each about a million miles in diameter and about two million miles apart. They revolve around one another and when the dark star is between us and the bright one the light we receive from the latter diminishes.

There are several other stars of the Algol type, and it is simply through our researches that we are aware that there exist in the heavens dark stars—stars which give no light at all and are in themselves totally invisible.

How many there may be we do not know, for it is only by their eclipsing bright stars that we can recognize them at all.

Franklin's Thrift

We hear a great deal of Benjamin Franklin as the great exponent of thrift, remarks the Kansas City Star. Historians recall, however, that the great scientist-statesman was not always thrifty enough. In his refusal to patent his famous stove, he was wasteful of his own and the public's profit. He wished his idea to be given free to the world, and so did not protect his invention; an Englishman made some changes for the worse in the Franklin fireplace, secured a patent on it, and reaped a fortune from the sales.

Made Name as Sculptor

Clark Mills was an American sculptor, born in Onondaga county, N. Y., December 1, 1815. He died January 12, 1883. In 1846, when he was on the eve of leaving for Europe to study the art of sculpture, he received a commission to erect an equestrian statue of General Jackson. According to the story, Mills had never even seen an equestrian statue. He, however, set to work, designed his model and then found it necessary to learn the art of bronze casting, inasmuch as there was no one in this country prepared to mold his figure in bronze. The statue of General Jackson by Mills is in Lafayette square, Washington, and a replica is in New Orleans.

H. Berman, proprietor of Berman's Variety store at Colorado went to Sweetwater Wednesday afternoon on business, and while walking about the streets of Sweetwater apparently in normal health, was stricken with an attack of acute appendicitis and was rushed to a Sweetwater sanitarium and operated upon. At last reports he was resting fairly well but is said to be in serious condition.

NEW PRECEDENT IS SET IN NUMBER OF DIVORCE CASES

That all of the nuptial contracts affecting Mitchell county folk are not by any means wedded bliss may be ascertained by the number of divorce cases pending in district court, which opened here Monday morning. District Clerk W. S. Stoneham stated Monday afternoon that a total of twenty divorce suits were pending trial.

That record establishes a precedent for Mitchell county. Never before in district court channels, it is claimed, have there been so many suits seeking to annul matrimonial alliances.

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"It seems like it did me good from the very first. After I had taken half a bottle I noticed an improvement. I continued its use and I got better and better. The pains in my legs and sides disappeared and I began to gain in weight until now I weigh 155 pounds and feel better than I ever did in my life. I am perfectly well and strong. I have given it to my girls, too."

Cardui has relieved many kinds of pains and distressing symptoms caused by female trouble. It should help you, too, in the same way. Why not give it a fair trial?

Preventing Stinking
Smut of Wheat Crop

Series of Experiments Carried on in Northwest.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Bunt, or stinking smut of wheat, can be entirely prevented by sowing treated seed before the smut shower, and can be largely controlled by delaying the sowing somewhat, according to the results of experimental studies made by the United States Department of Agriculture. Infection from smut spores present in the soil may be partially prevented by treating the seed with copper sulphate or with commercial lime-sulphate applied full strength and allowed to dry. This protection is not afforded by formaldehyde. Much of the seed wheat sown in the semi-arid regions of the United States is killed by seed treatment, however, because of the threshing injury to the seed coat.

A series of experiments in the prevention and control of bunt was carried on in the Pacific Northwest and the results of these form the basis for a new bulletin just issued as Department Bulletin 1230, by the United States Department of Agriculture. According to the findings in these studies wind dissemination is the most important factor in the continued occurrence and spread of bunt in that region, where the biennial crop system is practiced.

In moist soil, bunt spores were found to lose their viability in 80 to 60 days, but in the dry air of the laboratory they retain their germinating power for 12 years or longer. Bunt spores in unbroken smut balls retain their viability throughout the winter months, and are capable of producing infection even after being subjected to alternate thawing and freezing. Spores have germinated and produced infection after lying one and one-half years in the soil.
A copy of this bulletin may be secured, as long as the supply lasts, from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington.

Sweet Clover Superior
as Soil Improving Crop

Sweet clover actually makes three kernels grow where one grew before, according to farmers with this land who have tried this legume for soil improvement.

One of the many examples of the value of sweet clover for this purpose on record at the Kansas State Agricultural college is that of John Fry of Independence.
A number of years ago he realized that he couldn't produce wheat profitably in Montgomery county with a yield of eight bushels to the acre. He heard of sweet clover and began to grow it for soil improvement purposes, where formerly he had been harvesting eight bushels of wheat to the acre. In 1921 he produced 22 bushels to the acre, in 1922, 22½ bushels, and in 1923 he produced 19 bushels to the acre. Mr. Fry has grown sweet clover since 1912. He says it is the greatest pasture crop for horses and will carry three to four head of cattle per acre. He believes from the standpoint of soil fertility sweet clover is the best crop that can be raised in that section.

Township Adopts Novel Plan to Improve Stock

A novel method of improving the live stock of Mount Hope township in the state of Washington is being introduced by the newly organized better-stock association. The plan of the organization as reported to the United States Department of Agriculture by E. D. Metcalf is to limit the farm animals in the township to one breed for each class of live stock.
Belgian horses, Guernsey cows and Duroc-Jersey swine are the breeds that have been selected. It is further planned that only pure bred sires be used in the community, and that before the end of a year each member

COMMITTEES TAKING BOY SCOUT BUDGET PLEDGES

After having accepted the quota of $1000 for the ensuing fiscal year for Colorado, local committeemen representing the Colorado unit of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, started the work Tuesday afternoon of raising the amount sought. The committees had not completed their work Thursday morning but it was believed Colorado would oversubscribe the amount sought.

Final plans for the drive were worked out at a meeting of scout supporters at the Barcroft Hotel Tuesday at noon. This meeting was presided over by Rev. Mr. Elliott, who briefly outlined success of the scout movement in the district last year and gave as his prediction that the work under direction of Mr. Barcus, scout executive, would continue to register an increase.

"Our first year of Scouting in the Buffalo Trail Council has ended most auspiciously," Elliott stated. "During the year ending November 1 the number of active scouts in the district has been increased more than 200 per cent. We have every reason to believe an increase of 100 per cent will be attained during the ensuing year."

Those attending the luncheon and who formed committees to raise the Colorado budget were as follows:
Rev. Mr. Elliott, M. S. Goldman, A. B. Blanks, L. B. Elliott, W. W. Whipkey, W. S. Cooper, J. H. Greene, C. S. Thomas, J. Riordan and W. S. Barcus.

Almost any farmer can tell you of the splendid crops he will make in 1925.

IN SOCIETY AND AT THE CLUBS

Missionary Meeting.

The women of the Baptist church met Monday afternoon for their regular missionary program with an attendance of twenty-four. Mrs. C. H. Lasky conducted the devotional on the "Possibilities of the Incessant." Mrs. L. R. Pond led the lesson on "China's Homes."

The many splendid talks and special music were enjoyed by all. The hostesses Mesdames Lasky and Miller served hot cocoa, whipped cream and banana cake.

The Standard Club

The Standard Club met with Mrs. Smoot. The program was given according to the year book:

Roll call—Current events. Paper—In the Plays of Hamlet, Lear and Caesar does Shakespeare conform to a general or a diverse law?—Mrs. Prude.

Lesson, Act 4, Scene 3.—Mrs. McMurry.

Guest for the social hour were Misses Anthony and Mrs. Van Tuyl. The hostess served a delicious buffet dinner. The club will meet with Mrs. Adams this week.

Have Dinner With Pioneers.

Come and eat your Thanksgiving dinner with us. Eat all you can possibly eat at one time and at the same time, by paying the small sum of fifty cents, help us to finish paying for our club house. Dinner served at the club house or if weather is unfavorable at Valley View school house.

The Pioneers.

The Pioneers met on last Wednesday. We had a most interesting meeting with Mrs. Chester Hart, the incoming president, presiding. Miss Sealy gave a demonstration in making and serving cottage cheese which was the very nicest demonstration we have ever had. Three kinds of sandwiches were served and there would have been still another had we had another loaf of bread. The whey, heretofore wasted, was used in making a most delicious punch. Our guests, Mesdames James T. Johnson, Lee Jones, U. D. Wulfjen, of Colorado and Mrs. Garvin Drake of Andrews county showed they were enjoying equally with us this most delicious repast. More than one little girl was heard to say she "wished she might take some home to Daddy." Mrs. Johnson, at the request of the president gave an interesting talk on Parliamentary law. Mrs. Jones talked on the effect of Club work on our everyday lives. The Pioneers knowing how people enjoy eating voted to serve a Thanksgiving dinner at the community house. If the weather is unfavorable it will be served at Valley View school house. For this dinner we will charge 50 cents each, the money to go toward payment for our club house. Come and have dinner with us. Eat all you can possibly eat at one time and at the same time help us to get out of debt.—Reporter.

Young Mother's Wesley Bible Class.

Mrs. T. W. Stoneroad was hostess to the Young Mother's Wesley Bible class Thursday afternoon at the Methodist church. Mrs. Pidgeon led the devotional service, using the Sunday school lesson for the next Sunday November 16th. It being the first meeting of the new conference year, special emphasis was placed on the work of the social service and membership committees. All members are urged to make more visits to the sick, strangers, new members, and prospective members, and especially, those who are members of the class, and report same to the chairman of the social service committee. The "Market Basket" the plan adopted by the class for raising funds was reported as meeting with success. Mrs. Frank Smith proved the lucky member in getting the Surprise package, drawing a big home baked cake furnished by Mrs. Brennand. Mrs. Blanks, chairman of social activities provided a clever diversion during the social hour, at which time the hostess served sandwiches, pickles, potato chips, cake and punch. These business and social meetings of the class are increasing in interest, and all members are especially urged to be present at each of them, as well as at the lesson period on Sunday morning. Mesdames R. L. Spalding and Burt Smith will be hostess for next meeting at the church.

Class Meeting

The Daughters of the King held the monthly class meeting with Mrs. Merrill last Thursday with a large number in attendance. Mrs. W. H. Garrett conducted the devotional exercises on Thanksgiving. Mrs. Dobbs gave an interesting report from the county federation. Besides the routine business several members reported bulbs planted for the sick during the winter. The counselor of the Girls Clubs reported the first meeting of the club this year. A committee was appointed to supply needs of a family in South Colorado. An offering of five dollars was taken for Sunday school equipment for the basement. The hostess served salad, sandwiches, cake and coffee.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Lois Prude Bennett at home Nov. 25, 1924, from two to six. Formal opening of Gift Shop. All ladies who have articles for the exchange have them at the Shop by Saturday, the 22nd, that they may be sorted and arranged.

The Shakespeare

The Shakespeare Club met with Mrs. Jerold Riordan. The lesson on Julius Caesar and Current History was led by leader. Mrs. Max Thomas, Mrs. Pearl Shannon and Mrs. Roy Buchanan were guests. The hostess served a two course luncheon. The meeting this week will be with Mrs. Jimmie Charlton.

Children of the Confederacy.

John Thomas McCall was host to the Children of the Confederacy for the November meeting. After the business a program with the Armistice thought was given. Mrs. Merritt read Governor Neff's proclamation and Mrs. Smith read the song that has been dedicated to the American Legion. Lenora Cook gave a reading Our Confederate flag, Vera Gaskins gave a reading, Sybil Dobbs told a true story of the Confederacy. The chapter was divided into juniors and seniors. Mrs. Jeff Dobbs will have charge of the juniors and Mrs. Jack Smith the seniors. The next meeting of the juniors will be with Juliana Smith. The place of meeting for the seniors will be announced later. The host and his mother served a salad crackers and brown bread sandwiches.

Honoring the Bride-elect.

Saturday was filled with social events honoring Miss Fannie Bess Earnest, whose marriage had been announced for November 18th. In the morning, Mrs. Marcus Snyder and Miss Mary Snyder entertained. The guests were the special girl friends of the honoree. The decorations were yellow and white was carried out in the two course luncheon that was served after several enjoyable games of 42 were played. Toasts were given by Mrs. Clay Smith to the bride, Miss Marcella Price to the groom and Miss Anna Mary Lupton to the girls left behind. A lovely bunch of white ostrich feather chrysanthemums was presented the honoree. The luncheon consisted of pressed chicken, potato chips, apricot salad, hot buttered biscuits, pineapple whip, cake and coffee.

Shower for Bride-to-be

Miss Marcella Price entertained with a miscellaneous shower at her home last Saturday at 4 o'clock for Miss Fannie Bess Earnest whose marriage to Mr. Sivals had been announced for November 18th. The idea of her husband's vocation was carried out throughout the afternoon. The game played was 42 and the score cards were hand painted oil tanks. After the games the shower was announced by Mrs. Pearl Shannon presenting the bride-elect a hand painted picture of an over flowing oil tank. In a few nicely chosen words she spoke of the overflowing love of all her friends for her happiness and prosperity. Then little Frances Elaine Price brought in a mail wagon on which was a miniature oil tank overflowing with dainty gifts of hand made linens, silverware, cut glass and many other gifts of love. The hostess served tuna salad, potato chips, sandwiches, pickles, olives and coffee.

The 1921 Club.

The 1921 Club met with Mrs. Ed Jones. Mrs. Earnest Pritchett led the lesson, the Statehood of Texas. Mrs. Harry Ratliff gave a paper on Reconstruction Days. Mrs. Quinney one on Texas Disasters. Mrs. Hardison on Important Legislation of the period. Mrs. J. T. Pritchett on Material Growth. Mrs. L. H. Gaskins was a guest. The hostess served chicken salad, pickles, potato chips, saratoga flakes and coffee. Mrs. Lambeth will be hostess this week.

Hesperian.

The Hesperian met with Mrs. Leslie Miss Sealy led the lesson, Macbeth, Act 3, Scenes 1 and 2. Mrs. Merritt told of Shakespeare's ghosts; their cause and effect Miss Sealy gave a memorized soliloquy of Hamlet. At the business session the club voted to furnish a pecan tree for the hut grounds in memory of Junius Merritt, son of one of the leading members, who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war. Also Mrs. Leslie and Mrs. Whipkey were appointed on library committee. A gift was made to Mrs. Barcroft, who is leaving town, as a token of appreciation of her work in the club. The hostess served pressed chicken, raisin bread sandwiches, saratoga flakes, orange gelatine in orange cups with whipped cream, white cake and coffee. Mrs. Jess Gage will be hostess this week.

Aid Society.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Christian church met Monday with Mrs. Root. Mrs. Pond led the devotional exercises reading the 12th chapter of Hebrews. The flower committee was instructed to send flowers to the sick. After the usual business the Aid adjourned to meet next Monday with Mrs. Sandusky. The hostess assisted by her little daughter, Julia May, served fruit jello, whipped cream, coffee and cake.—Reporter.

U. D. C. Meeting.

Mrs. Milwee was hostess for the U. D. C. Tuesday. The meeting was opened with the ritual and the regular business followed. The secretary read the yearly report to be given by the delegate at the State meeting in Houston December 2nd. This was very good indeed, showing that every department of work had been kept up. It was decided to buy a picture for the school and have it placed by Christmas. It was also decided to have the Veterans dinner early in December, since some are leaving before Christmas. This is to be held at Mrs. Roots and a committee was appointed to arrange for it. A most delightful and unusual treat was enjoyed in the talk by Mr. Carlock (Mrs. C. L. Root's father) who told of the battle of Shiloh in a most interesting way, being right in the thick of the fight with his flintlock musket and being fired on by his own troops the second day because the Confederate flag could not be distinguished from the Union in the cloudy mist. After this battle, the battle flag was changed. He told many things that thrilled and inspired the Daughters to continue their work of preserving Southern records. The hostess had as her guests, Mrs. Holt and Mrs. Plaster and served a fruit salad, cake and coffee.

Mrs. Barcroft Honored.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Oscar Majors and Mrs. A. B. Blanks entertained at the home of Mrs. Majors in honor of Mrs. Barcroft who left Wednesday for her new home in San Antonio. The guests were members of the Harmony club of which Mrs. Barcroft is president and other special friends. 42 was the amusement for the afternoon there being six tables of players. At the close of the game a salad course with hot rolls and coffee was served by the hostesses. Those attending this farewell party were Mesdames J. L. Henry and W. L. Doss, Dulaney, Eckeridge, McCleary, Stoneroad, Gage, D. C. and Byron Byrns, Winn, Pidgeon, Boyd Dozier, Lucian Maddin, Merritt, Landers, Goldman, Lupton, Edgar Majors, Mitchell, Norris, R. E. and A. H. Dolman.

SIVALLS-EARNEST

Marked by solemnity and simplicity the quiet home wedding of Miss Fannie Bess Earnest and Mr. Donald Clair Sivals occurred Tuesday morning at nine-thirty.

The house was decorated in roses and chrysanthemums.

In her sweetest manner, Mrs. Roy Buchanan of Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana, South America, sang, "At Dinning," with the bride's brother, Mr. Joe Earnest, as piano accompanist. Mrs. Buchanan was gowned in a black flat crepe, tapestry trimmed. Her hat was of lettuce green color and her flowers were white roses. At the first notes of the beautiful Mendelssohn's wedding march, Miss Hazel Costin appeared from the dining room door into the parlor. She was attired in a handsome straight line dress of rambler-rose color canton crepe, heavily braided in black and trimmed in Hudson seal. Her hat was black and her flowers were white roses. Following the maid-of-honor, the bride came on the arm of her father. She was frocked in a handsome dress of beige charmeuse, braided and appliqued in contrasting shades, and with squirrel trimmings. Her hat was of black velvet, black and silver lace and faced with blue. She carried a shower bouquet. As the bride and her attendants passed thru the parlor toward the reception hall, they were met by Reverend Eteson, the groom and his attendant, Mr. Francis Dunigan. Mr. Sivals wore a morning suit of grey; the best man, a morning suit of blue. Here the beautiful Episcopal marriage ceremony was read that united this popular couple. The pillow, upon which they knelt was of pink satin.

In the dining room the guests were welcomed by Mrs. Pearl Shannon. The table was covered with an embroidered cloth over which a bank of wild vines with red berries was laid. In the center of this foliage was a horse-shoe wedding cake, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hurd. The cake was white fluted and was decorated with the initials, F. B. E. and D. C. S. In the cutting, the groom secured the swastika pin, Miss Marion Adams the four-leaf clover, Mrs. Roy Buchanan, a lucky piece, Mrs. Eteson, the ring, and Mr. John Shaw, the button. Sandwiches and coffee were served by Misses Mary Snyder, Marcella Price, Willie Belle Williamson, and Zisile Lee Majors. Mr. Roddy Brooks Merritt resided at the bride's book. Others who assisted the host and hostess in dispensing hospitality were: Mrs. F. B. Whipkey, Mrs. Marcus Snyder, Mr. Jack Helton, Mr. John Shaw and the sons and daughters of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Sivals left for a short trip to Ranger, Fort Worth and Dallas, after which they will return to Colorado to reside.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest and has spent her life in Colorado. She was graduated from Colorado High school in June, 1923.

The groom is the son of J. T. Sivals of the Black, Sivals and Bryson Corporation of Oklahoma and Texas. He attended Stanton (Va.) University. Donald Sivals is a native of Ohio but has spent greater part of his life in Oklahoma and Texas. He has lived in Colorado for the past year and a half, being field manager for Black, Sivals and Bryson, dealers in oil tanks.

Sivals-Earnest.

From Ranger Times, Nov. 14: Announcement of the approaching marriage of Don Clair Sivals has been received in Ranger. Mr. Sivals is a former Ranger boy and has many friends here who will be interested in the event. Mr. Sivals is to marry Miss Fannie Bess Earnest of Colorado, Texas, on Tuesday, November 18th at nine-thirty in the morning. Miss Earnest is a daughter of Judge and Mrs. C. H. Earnest. Judge is a prominent attorney of that city. Reverend Mr. Eteson of the Episcopal church will perform the ceremony. Miss Hazel Costin of Colorado will be maid-of-honor, and Mr. Francis Dunigan, a former Ranger boy, will be best man.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Sivals will leave by automobile for Ft. Worth and Dallas, stopping in Ranger on the way.

Don Sivals is the son of J. T. Sivals, prominent in the oil and tank business in Oklahoma, Texas and Pennsylvania, and head of Black, Sivals and Bryson Corporation with offices in Ranger. Don Sivals is field man for the company in this district.

HUDSON-ESSEX.

The trend to enclosed cars is becoming a stampede. Before 1925 rolls in you will see the whole motor industry admit Hudson-Essex's leadership in first introducing closed cars at open car prices, said O. B. Price Hudson and Essex local dealer.

Mr. Average Motorist has to have a car today which will serve him in the stormiest weather as well as on the pleasantest days. He has wanted such a car for years, but it was not until the Hudson-Essex coach that he could have an enclosed car at less than an average $1,000 premium over an open one.

"Having $1500 to spend, let us say, he much preferred to put it into fine performance and reliability in an open car than in mediocre or inferior ability in the only enclosed cars which the market offered at the price. The Coach made the Hobson's choice no longer necessary. In the Coach, Hudson-Essex offered him the finest standard of performance and reliability, combined with closed car comforts at open car cost.

"The Coach hit the market about three years ago, sponsored solely by Hudson-Essex. It met with a good deal of ridicule and much misbelief. But regardless of the opinions of experts, so called, the public wanted it, and its growth naturally followed."

BOOZE BUYERS FAKED BY "BOOTLEGGERS," IS CLAIM

A correspondent for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram outlines that booze buyers at Loraine and Roscoe are as "mad as a wet hen" because of having been faked by a shrewd hooch seller. The correspondent says "Booze buyers between here and Abilene are as 'mad as a wet hen.' "A bootlegger in a fine car spotted a bunch of five or six likely looking customers in Loraine and sold two three-gallon kegs of what was purported to be "good" whiskey at $60 a keg. He sold a keg in Roscoe and one in Sweetwater, according to the booze buyers.

"The men were allowed to take liberal samples before buying. Soon after the bootlegger had departed the three-gallon whiskey kegs went dry. The thirsty ones broke in the heads of the kegs and found a baking powder can below a false bottom which contained about one pint of whiskey for sampling purposes. The compartment above the false bottom contained water.

"This is one time rum prochasers are aiding officers in the search for their bootlegger."

STERLING OIL NEWS.

A big crowd last Sunday afternoon witnessed the starting of the pump in Durham No. 2, 1 1/2 miles southwest of town. Perhaps 200 pairs of eyes were focused on the mouth of the discharge pipe when it began to vomit the "liquid gold" as Ed Crawford and Frank Swiger turned on the steam and the pump began to work.

As Mr. Odward, head of the Chicago-Texas Oil & Gas Syndicate, wished to test out the pump and adjust the machinery before the beginning of regular production, he invited the people to come and see for themselves the result of his patient labors and then draw their own conclusions. The pump was kept going about two hours, and at the end of that time, the output showed no reduction.

When the pumping had reduced the column of oil in the hole to what was thought to be the natural flow measurements were made with a bucket. By this method, it was estimated that the minimum output was 72 barrels in 24 hours, and 108 barrels as a maximum. Oil men say that when the well cleans itself it will double its capacity. As Messrs. Swiger and Crawford were engaged in drilling at the Hull well, the pump was stopped so that they might return to their work.

A more enthusiastic crowd was never gotten together in Sterling. Most everyone seemed to realize the vast importance of this fortunate discovery, and that it meant millions to Sterling. Of course, doubting Thomases were there with his system full of doubts, but the poor devil came away feeling that he had been slighted, for no one in the crowd paid any attention to his croaking.

At Foster No. 1, the drill is making hole rapidly. Surface indications lead one to conclude that Messrs. Cogdell & Ford selected an ideal spot for this test.

Good progress is being made at Hull well. A lot of cleaning and adjusting had to be made before starting the drill in this well.

The Meriwethers report they are making hole steadily at the Douthitt well and everything going steadily and smoothly.

Material for the rig for a new well in the L. T. Clark pasture is being placed on the ground. This location is one mile east and twelve miles south of town. We failed to learn the names of the parties making this test.—Sterling City News-Record.

IT HAS LASTED.

Colorado People Must Believe Such Convincing Testimony as Mr. Fuller's.

No one in Colorado who suffers backache, headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains or distressing urinary ills can afford to ignore this twice-told story of a Colorado resident. It is confirmed testimony, telling of lasting benefit from Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. It's evidence that no man or woman in Colorado can doubt.

G. W. Fuller, auto mechanic, 2001 East Ave., Colorado, says: "I was suffering intense pain from weak kidneys, which caused my back and side to ache. There were other troubles which are common to kidney sufferers. Doan's Pills entirely cured me."

Lasting Benefit. Over seven years later, Mr. Fuller added: "I don't have occasion to use Doan's any more. They have given me a permanent cure." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 15c

THEATRICAL ENTERTAINERS IN PROGRAM AT LIONS CLUB

Friday was among the banner luncheon dates of the Colorado Lions Club. In fact, so well did the Lions appreciate the splendid entertainment program arranged under direction of M. S. Goldman that permission was obtained from the president to prolong the usual sixty minute period to one hour and thirty minutes.

Messrs. J. C. Broadley, Bert Couch, Ralph Chase and Ted F. Chase, members of the Harley Sadler Entertainers, presented one of the most enjoyable song and reading programs ever given in the city. Each of the entertainers were called back for encores and each gave from two to three of the best numbers on their repertoire.

J. C. Broadley, vocal soloist, was the first to be introduced. With Ralph Baker, piano accompanist, he sang, "Just As Your Mother Did," and when called back for the second number sang, "The Parody on Smiles." Mr. Couch, the second vocal soloist of the visiting entertainers to be introduced, sang "Hard Hearted Hanna," and responded to an encore with that humorous tale in verse, "Ray and His Chevrolet."

Ted F. Chase, leading man in a number of the bills presented by the company here last week, was the last to be presented. His readings are without a parallel, in so far as offerings to Colorado is concerned. So well did Mr. Chase carry himself into the hearts of the club members that he was called back for the third number. The numbers given by him in reading were, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," "Hard Luck Henry" and "Blasphemous Bill McCoy." It was one-third when Mr. Chase completed his last number and insisted that he not be called upon to "bore" the Lions with further numbers.

Mr. Goldman, director of entertainment, promises that additional programs are to be given weekly. With the piano recently purchased by the club available, the Cub Orchestra will again render its concerts as a part of the social features of the club meetings.

OLDS MOTORS.

The Pritchett Motor Co. says: The factory sales figures submitted by Oldsmobile work shows that this company is one of the few automobile companies in this country that have made appreciable gains so far during 1924 as compared to sales over the same period of 1911. In fact the industry as a whole has failed to reach the record set last year.

It is expected that the gain shown by Oldsmobile will be continued, and probably increased, during the remaining two months of the year. Such a result will be due, in part, to the introduction of the Oldsmobile coach this fall, which set a new low price mark for a six cylinder 5-passenger closed car with steel body by Fisher. Factory production schedules call for 5,000 of this one body type alone for the two months of November and December. See these beautiful cars for free demonstration.

COLORADO WATER.

The fact that Colorado water is in demand, even in remote parts of the State, is evidenced in the following, which appeared in a recent issue of the Paris, Texas, Morning News:

There was an unusual shipment by express through Paris Tuesday. It was a shipment of a 200-gallon galvanized iron tank of drinking water that had been expressed from Colorado City, Texas, to a party in Cooper. As far as could be learned the water was ordinary drinking water and did not possess any medicinal properties.

It is uncommon to ship water by express in such a large quantity and especially to ship it from the west to the east. It was rather awkward for the express employes to handle. A motor truck had to be driven in front of the express room to unload it.

Everybody can ride now. Good used cars are easy to buy. Come and see our used cars at A. J. Herringtons; Ed Jackson, Salesman.
