

BAND GETS HIGHEST HONORS AT CONVENTION

GOLDMAN AWARDED $600 GRAND PRIZE

BAND DIRECTOR HELD BE BEST IN WEST TEXAS

GOLDMAN EASY WINNER IN BAND MASTERS' CONTEST AT MINERAL WELLS.

M. S. Goldman, director of the Colorado Booster Band has been with the organization for the past three years, and for twelve years with the Virginia Military Institute, won over all contestants, winning the beautiful $600 Gold Medal offered the best Band director, by the Whittle Music Company. Goldman was far in the lead in the score made by competing directors.

When the winning Band director was presented before the assembly Wednesday the assembly went wild with its applause and the reception by the vast cheering crowd showed that the decision by the judges was a popular decision.

Colorado is justly proud of its Band director and the Band he has so successfully led. He is not only an extraordinary Band director, the best in any man's country but he is a citizen of whom Colorado is glad to honor for his intense loyalty to its every interest. He is a tireless worker and a "regular fellow."

In winning this distinction for his organization and the large publicity for his town, Goldman has won on his merits, and we believe that everyone rejoices and will lend his hearty support to the efforts to keep Colorado's Band up to the high standard already set. Let us get behind this organization. The honors that have come to us through his efforts in winning over all competitors entitles this splendid organization and its director to every courtesy and consideration that can be shown. Goldman we are for you.

SINGING CONVENTION SUNDAY BEST EVER HELD

The annual meeting of the Mitchell County Singing Convention was convened in Colorado May 2nd and 3rd. The convention was called to order Saturday night at the Baptist church by W. L. Doss, vice president. After the opening song, "When the Roll is Called up Yonder I'll be There" Dr. M. C. Bishop, pastor of the Baptist church offered an invocation. A song service which was enjoyed by all followed, after which the annual election of officers was held and the following officers elected for the ensuing year:

T. H. Westbrook, president; H. W. Elliott, vice president; Miss Tommie Smith, secretary; Rev. M. C. Bishop, chaplain.

Following the election of officers, the president delivered a splendid address in which he urged us to continue to stick together and maintain these annual singing events.

Sunday morning, May 3rd, the convention met in the Union Tabernacle. Delegates were present from all the towns and communities in the county and from the adjoining counties. The crowd was estimated to have exceeded three thousand who were here for the convention and took some part in the singing. The V. O. Stamps Quartet from Jacksonville, Texas, a famous musical organization was present and rendered several numbers during the day, to the delight of all.

When the hour for adjournment came all felt that one of the most successful singing conventions had just been concluded. Everybody departed in perfectly good humor and will look forward to the time when they will be called upon to again convene.

NOTED JURIST TO LECTURE HERE DURING CHAUTAUQUA

JUDGE GEORGE D. ALDEN of Massachusetts, eminent jurist and lecturer, at Chautauqua this year.

"The Needs of the Hour," is the subject of a timely address which Judge George D. Alden, eminent jurist, will deliver in Colorado at the Chautauqua, the evening of May 29th.

Judge Alden is a lineal descendant of the Mayflower Pilgrims. His ancestors have figured prominently for generations in the history of New England.

During his long years on the platform, Judge Alden has spoken in every state, and there is hardly a city of importance in which he has not appeared as a lecturer. He is recognized as a great power in the shaping of character and in the moulding of public opinion. He is intensely human and his lecture is permeated with rare wit and humor.

At the close of a five month's tour by Judge Alden in New Zealand, the Minister of Education there said: "No American who has ever visited New Zealand has won so many golden opinions for his work as has Judge Alden; nor has any American speaker made so many friends through his genial personality."

His lecture will be one of the outstanding numbers on the lyceum course here, which opens May 26.

BUILDING PROGRAM HERE CONTINUES ON BIG SCALE

Colorado continues to build new homes and business building in line with the development program of the past four years. Never during the time has there been any inking of a boom but building has gone steadily ahead along lines of conservatism and permanency. Several modern brick cottages are under construction at the present, with the usual allotment of smaller frame structures.

In the business district work is near completion on the C. L. Root building at 104 Walnut street. The two-story building to be erected by Root on Walnut north of the City National Bank building will be assuming proportions within the next few days. The contractor, J. E. Pond, began work on this building last week. The West Texas Electric Co. announce that the cold storage unit of their large plant at corner Oak and Main is to be completed during this month.

The Farmers Gin Company will build another modern gin plant here for the 1925 season. The Williams & Miller Gin Company are completing their new gin here.

Nineteen twenty-five promises to be the best year this city has ever known, in both building and growth in population. Colorado is expected to reach a population of 6,000 by the end of the year and may exceed that number.

COLORADO BAND HERALDS OPENING OF ANNUAL MEET

(Staff Correspondence)

MINERAL WELLS, May 4.—Opening of the Seventh Annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was heralded throughout the convention city this morning by musical blasts sounded by one of the largest aggregations of bands ever seen in the Southwest, and among the most conspicuous of all these visiting bands is the Colorado Booster Band, which arrived here Sunday afternoon from Colorado.

That the Colorado Band will easily maintain its distinction as being the favorite among thousands of convention visitors was to be seen from the very opening of the convention. The first appearance of this splendid band on the streets today was met with enthusiastic applause. Hundreds of visitors immediately recognized the Colorado band, recalling with keen interest the part played by the band at the conventions at San Angelo and Brownwood.

And in making a big hit with convention visitors from the start, the band is doing it all. Creola Richbourg Vickers, the band sponsor, is playing a big part in putting this particular musical organization before the eyes of the thousands who are arriving in Mineral Wells from every point of the compass.

Arriving in Mineral Wells the band found that their camp location had been moved by the local housing committee. The new location is closer in and therefore much more satisfactory to the band personnel. The band boys, sponsors and others to come with them from Colorado arrived in fine spirits and were elated to find everything in readiness for their reception. Chas. King, charge-de-affairs at Camp Colorado, and his corps of assistants are doing everything possible to make the stay of this delegation in Mineral Wells pleasant.

Much speculation was rife even early this morning as to outcome of the band contest, to be played here this afternoon and in which the Colorado and Plainview bands are to vie for the distinction of becoming the Gold Medal Band of West Texas. Convention visitors, however, evidently are conceding that the Colorado Booster Band will prove an easy winner. Director M. S. Goldman and every man in his band are determined to give their very best in every concert to be played while here.

Colorado received a genuine Western reception by Ray Leeman, secretary of the Mineral Wells Chamber of Commerce, officials of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and other convention officials. "Make yourselves at home, boys," was the message they gave. "We are determined that you shall spend three of the best days of your life while attending this convention." With the exception of a few mud holes, mostly in Nolan county along the route of the Bankhead Highway where new road construction is under way, the 182 miles from Colorado to Mineral Wells was covered without any trouble or difficult driving. Of course some car trouble developed en route, including the ever to be expected puncture occasionally.

COLORADO BAND SPONSOR POPULAR AT CONVENTION

MINERAL WELLS, May 5.—Creola Richbourg Vickers, former grand opera star and who is attending the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention as sponsor for the Colorado Booster Band, is one of the most popular visitors attending the annual booster celebration. Mrs. Vickers, who has been most popular throughout West Texas for several years, is literally singing her way into the hearts of the thousands here as she appears in solo concerts on the street and platform, with accompaniment by the Colorado Band.

Mrs. Vickers is the wife of Paul T. Vickers of Midland, secretary of the Midland Chamber of Commerce. Director Goldman of the Colorado band states that his organization "borrowed" the singer for duration of the convention, "and, believe me, she is putting things over big for Colorado," he concluded.

Mrs. M. S. Goldman, Miss Clippie Bennett, as "Madam Colorado" and "Miss Colorado," respectively, have been taken in charge by the local entertainment committee and are facing a full social calendar for the ensuing three days. Mrs. Vickers, too, as sponsor for the band, is coming in for her share of this honor and will be one of the most popular visitors here among the fairer sex.

Colorado headquarters have been established at the Max Miller Shoe Store, in the heart of the business district. The Colorado delegation is expecting to receive additional recruits Tuesday when more people from there are to arrive here.

ENTIRE CITIZENSHIP OUGHT SUPPORT COLORADO BAND

"That citizen who fails to give his enthusiastic support to the Colorado Booster Band is falling short of his duty to his community," was the declaration of J. S. Bonner, manager of the Mission Theatre and chairman of the Lions Club band committee, in urging citizenship of Colorado to attend the Parent-Teacher Association and Band benefit program at the High school auditorium Friday night. Bonner spoke before the Lions Club Friday, in behalf of the band and its trip to Mineral Wells.

"Let's get in behind these boys and send them to Mineral Wells with full knowledge that every man, woman and child of Colorado is solidly behind them," Bonner stated. "I was at the band hall last night when this wonderful musical organization was going through rehearsal and I know the morale of the band was never in better shape."

Dr. Coleman spoke of the band going to Mineral Wells and closed with an appeal for the people of Colorado to give the organization every consideration.

Mrs. Creola Richbourg Vickers of Midland, who accompanied the band to Mineral Wells as sponsor, was present and enthusiastically pledged to do her very best to help Colorado in winning the distinction of having the Gold Medal Band of West Texas.

Information that Mrs. Vickers would accompany the band was received with applause. Bonner was profuse in his praise of Mrs. Vickers for having volunteered to accompany the Colorado band to the convention.

MAINTENANCE WORK ON 2 HIGHWAY BEING PUSHED

The Bankhead No. 1 and No. 101 highways in Mitchell county are scheduled for a considerable amount of work within the coming few weeks, district highway supervisor Day of Rotan stated while in Colorado Saturday. Day stated that Tom Goss of Colorado would represent the department in superintending highway maintenance in this county for the present.

Goss stated that the Bankhead Highway had been dragged over most of the 32 miles across Mitchell county and that some improvement to the road bed would be made. As to the north and south highway, Goss indicated that the county would do everything within its power to make such improvements as may be demanded by the highway department.

McCall Merritt made a trip to Dallas this week.

COLORADO BAND AWARDED FIRST PRIZE AND TITLE

ORGANIZATION NOW BEARS THE TITLE "OFFICIAL GOLD MEDAL BAND."

MINERAL WELLS, May 6.—The Colorado Booster Band has carried off every honor to be had at the Convention, winning easily over the Plainview Band, by 23 points, carrying the distinction of being the "Gold Medal Band" of West Texas for the ensuing year, and as such becomes the official band, and winning the prize money of $400. The band went so far also to make a better rating than the Weatherford band, the original Gold Medal Band, and considered one of the best bands in the entire Southwest.

The Colorado band has been making every convention for the last three years and is well known from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande. In the Booster Band parade this band was honored with first position, and also was invited to give a concert which was broadcasted by WBAP, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's big radio station. Mrs. Creola Richbourg Vickers who accompanied the band as sponsor did much to assist in achieving this signal honor.

Tonight at the convention hall Colorado and its prize winning band and director received the plaudits of cheering thousands of enthusiastic West Texans. This band has been the convention favorite for the past three days.

The contest judges who rendered the decision in Colorado's favor were W. T. Cox, Dallas; A. A. Cruze, Dallas, and W. C. Meadows of Fort Worth.

The winning of this signal honor for Colorado by its band has placed the entire county in its debt and has won a degree of publicity in which the entire county will share. When this victorious organization returns let's show them our appreciation by giving them an enthusiastic welcome home.

Amarillo wins the 1925 convention over Abilene and San Antonio. This decision is also a popular one. The largest crowd of the convention assembled at three o'clock this afternoon and for half an hour the delegations danced and yelled and sang, bands blared and favorites played waiting for the judges decision.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT TO PROBE PROPERTY LISTINGS

Monday County Judge Chas. C. Thompson will convene Commissioners' Court as an equalization board and all property listed for taxation for the current year will be passed upon. It is not anticipated that the court will demand any material raise in renditions as given to the tax assessor, but the total county valuations are expected to register a substantial increase over last year, owing to development throughout the county.

Tax Assessor Roy E. Warren stated several days ago soon after completing his work of taking property assessments in the county that a large number of new names had been added to the property owner rosters. Both the towns and rural communities share in this increased wealth.

Judge Thompson stated Saturday that it was probable that the Commissioners would be in session throughout the week.

Born on Wednesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Farris a fine ten pound girl. Charlie has been so busy all the week receiving congratulations that he has had no time even to write out an ad. Mr. and Mrs. Farris are indeed proud parents.

Mother's Day

"Who ran to help me when I fell,
And would some pretty story tell,
Or kiss the place to make it well?
My mother."

SUNDAY, MAY 10th

A day consecrated to devotion and duty to that noblest of all God's creation—the mother. For the sacrifices she has made, no tribute is adequate to lay upon the altar of her love, care and solicitude of a lifetime. And yet the slightest remembrance, the merest token of your affection will seem like a mountain of compensation to her. Neglect it and it will cut deeply into her heart though she will never harbor it or manifest her disappointment. Remember her with a pair of Silk Hose, Silk Dress, Satin Shoes, Silk Underwear or we have hundreds of numerous other gifts, she will appreciate your thoughtfulness.

BETTER HOMES.

It is in the home that character and high ideals are best developed. The right kind of home-life makes for true success in life, and means progress for the nation as a whole. To own a home and to make it convenient and attractive, a home where health and happiness, affection and loyalty prevail, brings out the best that lies in every member of the family. Saving for home ownership, for instance, develops thrift and self-denial; a thing of lasting value is kept in the foreground, and all energies are bent toward attaining it. Hours devoted to keeping a home in good repair, in making improvements that beautify it or lighten the burden of housekeeping, develop persistence and thoroughness, and bring more direct returns as well. Neatness, order, and cleanliness are invaluable habits, and the careful observation and forethought needed to insure lasting satisfaction from money spent for decoration, furnishing, and equipment can be applied in many other ways. Parents who save in order to own their home are able to look forward with confidence to a happy old age, whereas the great majority who do not save become dependent on someone else as they grow older. It is by the familiar experiences of family life that thrift, honesty, straight-forwardness, and self-discipline are best instilled. In the crowded life of today there is danger that we may lose sight of high standards for the home and the stimulus they afford. We all do better when we have a high ideal to live up to. The Better Homes in America movement aims to give practical demonstrations of comfortable, healthful, and attractive homes and to direct attention to the means by which family life may be elevated. It recognizes, however, that it is not the wish but the will; not sentimental desire, but vigorous, well-judged leadership, that moves our national life forward. The campaigns provide a means by which the men and women and children of our cities and of our farms may co-operate to encourage and facilitate home-building, reduce needless drudgery in household operations, increase good sense or balance in furnishing or decorating the home, raise standards, where necessary, in housing and family life, and, especially, foster the fine ideals of the American home.

CHAPTER I—The commission, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was sent to the town of Sisson, to investigate the disappearance of a man named Folly. It was a small town, a few miles from the border, and the police were not very familiar with the place. They were, however, very interested in the case, for it was a mystery, and they were sure that they would find something out of the ordinary.

CHAPTER II—The first thing that the police did was to go to the house of the man who was supposed to have seen Folly. It was a small, one-story house, and the man who lived there was a middle-aged man with a serious expression. He was named Estelle, and he was the only person in the town who had seen Folly.

CHAPTER III—The police were very interested in Estelle's story, for it was very strange. Folly had come to the house one day, and he had been there for some time. Estelle had seen him, but she had not spoken to him. She had been very nervous, and she had been afraid to go outside.

CHAPTER IV—The police were very interested in Estelle's story, for it was very strange. Folly had come to the house one day, and he had been there for some time. Estelle had seen him, but she had not spoken to him. She had been very nervous, and she had been afraid to go outside.

CHAPTER XIX
Flimsy Bars

Rathway confronted Estelle with bitter hate in his look as she came up to him.

"Well, where have you been?" he demanded roughly.

"What's that to you?" Estelle retorted.

"See here! You think I'm going to have you prowling all round the country, doing God knows what, when I'm keeping you here?" His eyes rained over her. He saw that her clothes were spattered with muddy snow. He saw the fatigue in her bearing.

"By God, you followed me!" he cried.

He seized her fiercely by the wrist. Estelle looked into his face, laughing contemptuously. Rathway's eyes fell. He swore under his breath.

"You think you can frighten me by violence, Jim? You ought to have learned by now that that doesn't pay.

"What have you done with Rathway?" asked Estelle quietly.

"Rathway's where he'll cause a further trouble."

"You mean you've killed him, after your agreement?"

"I—I don't know that, did you?" asked Rathway, turning back with fear. "No, I didn't kill him. If you want to know, he was with an accident."

"See here, Estelle," he continued, "you and me've got to work together on this game and not try to cause one another. Play fair with me and I'll play fair with you. I want you to make that girl an orphans. She's the only one left."

"You mean you've killed her, too?"

"No, I don't know that. She's the only one left."

"No, I don't know that. She's the only one left."

"What's that?" asked Rathway.

"Shorty hesitated. 'Well, ya see, Jim, and we kinder thought we'd let ya know the boys has been talkin' things over among themselves—'

Rathway smiled sourly. He knew the pair of them would not have hesitated to side with the mutineers if they had thought there was any chance of outwitting him. Pierre and Shorty knew Rathway's vigilance, his infinite resource.

"Well, Jim, I guess they're gettin' ready to rush you, now you've put out your light. They're aiming to tie you up and get away with the gold in the motor boat."

"Just to tie me? They wouldn't hurt me?" Rathway sneered, and the pair shuffled their feet uncomfortably. He laughed. And his plans to meet this situation leaped into his mind. He must let the men attack, and then, when he had finished with them, he'd make short work of Pierre and Shorty, and Estelle too. His confidence was coming back.

"They sent me and Pierre to see if you'd gone to sleep here."

"Well, I ain't," Rathway returned, laughing again. He knew his nonchalance at once discomfited and bound them to him through fear. "I've gone to the hut across the neck to say good night to the girl, and maybe, if she presses me, I won't be hurrying away. Get that?" he asked, as they gawgawed self-consciously.

"You'll go back and tell 'em I'm gone, Pierre. You got your gun, Shorty? All right. You and me'll have a quiet little session in the swamp, waitin' for 'em to come along the trail one by one—eh, Shorty?"

He clapped each one on the shoulder. "There's gold enough in that sack to make us three millionaires, and there'll be a de-n slight less sharking," he said. "And listen, boys, I've cashed it, so if I'm croaked, nobody'll get it. See? The men were fools anyway, but treble so when their cupidity was awakened. Rathway laughed the great laughing into their eyes, and laughed. He was waiting now. The hour would strike him at last. And in his mind's eye he saw the picture.

And what a picture for Joyce! No one could prove anything, either, even if they caught him. And the bodies of Lee and Betty would never be found. There was Estelle, of course, but whatever happened, she would never give him away.

Cautiously Estelle, who had seemed so prominently on the chief difficulty, now assumed an insignificant part in the problem. He didn't even consider what disposition he was going to make of her.

"You get back, Pierre, and say you met me going over to the neck," he said. "and half 'em twenty minutes."

Pierre departed. Rathway and Shorty went softly out of the hut among the pines. Rathway let out enough of the rumpus to walk in front of him.

They heard the voices of the men about the fire, the low loud declaration as they returned, then the sounds were cut off as they turned along the track through the pines. Presently the stables came into sight above the neck, and the hut beyond, with a light in it.

Rathway could see the illuminated figures of the two women, Joyce in a chair, motionless, and Estelle upon the bed beside her. He swung through his bed as he watched them.

"I guess this place will do," he said to Shorty.

They squatted among the pines, their pistols in their hands. It had been snowing intermittently through the night, and it was an eerie watch, even for the unimaginative in the bitter cold and blackness. The night wind rustled the dead stalks of the pines; the muttering, more treacherous for the surface ice that accumulated, but could never find a crack and become impregnably like a vast sea. Across the neck of land the flames of the camp fire flickered against the rocks.

Suddenly, after what seemed like an eternity of time, Shorty whispered hoarsely in Rathway's ear, pulled at the sleeve of his parkies, and pointed.

From where they lurked they could see figures moving against the background of fire in the direction of the neck.

Grapping their pistols they crouched motionless, tense with excitement. And of a sudden other figures appeared, moving toward the mutineers. They heard a sharp "Hands up!"

Jim?

He heard. His hands leaped to his pistol as two shadows glided in through the doorway. Shorty and Pierre advanced openly toward him.

"Stop there!" he growled. "What? What do you want?"

They shifted uneasily in front of him. "Well, there's been some rumormong' about that gold, Jim," Shorty volunteered. "The boys kinder seem to think you ain't plannin' to play fair with 'em. They've got Kraemer on guard to watch the motor boat in case you might be aimin' to get away with her."

"What's that?" snarled Rathway.

He sprang to his feet. From the door of the hut he could discern a shadowy figure near the parapet. For an instant he was about to rush at it in his rage. But then his cunning came to his aid. He turned back into the hut.

"What's their game—and yours?" Shorty hesitated. "Well, ya see, Jim, and we kinder thought we'd let ya know the boys has been talkin' things over among themselves—"

Rathway smiled sourly. He knew the pair of them would not have hesitated to side with the mutineers if they had thought there was any chance of outwitting him. Pierre and Shorty knew Rathway's vigilance, his infinite resource.

"Well, Jim, I guess they're gettin' ready to rush you, now you've put out your light. They're aiming to tie you up and get away with the gold in the motor boat."

HYMAN HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Ray, mother of Mrs. Howerton of this place, died Friday of last week, and was buried at Jayton, Kent county, her old home. Mr. and Mrs. Howerton are among our newest settlers, having been here only a few months. The entire community extended to them sympathy in their bereavement.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCollum Dragoo on Sunday last, twins, a boy and a girl. Mrs. Dragoo is doing splendidly we are informed, as well as the little fellows, and Mr. Dragoo, or Ike, is out trying to select a quarter section of land for each of the newcomers.

Sam Sloan and Steve Owen, joint developers of the Scott lease on the ranch here, were visitors at Hyman the past week. They report everything looking fine at Scott No. 1, and predict that it will make a real oil well. They act a little like they were in a receptive mood for other contracts. They are movers when they get started, and we would like to see them start other wells.

Mr. and Mrs. John Overton of Big Spring, visited Mrs. Overton's parents Mr. and Mrs. George P. Gates, at Hyman Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoard of Colorado visited the parents of Mrs. Hoard, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnett Sunday. Mr. Hoard is a prospective settler here.

Rev. Mr. Barber of Lees, Glasscock county, has located here having leased the Oglesby place which he will cultivate this year, and also having bought a section of land from Bob Scott. Mr. Barber's relatives from Navarro county will come out later in the year. He is to put in a farm of about 400 acres on the Oglesby place during the term of his lease. We are glad to see people like him and his family locate among us.

Progress on Scott No. 1 has been a little slow the past week, due to heavy roads, submerged water line pump engine, etc. However, work has started regularly again and rapid progress is expected.

Hyman is beginning to feel a good deal like it was situated in an oil county. Scott No. 1, five miles NE of the center of the settlement, is of course, the principal attraction; but in addition to this well the Douthitt well, only five miles SW, is steadily drilling, and is down about 2000 feet, the Magnolia is starting a well about 8 miles North, the Northrup Well, on the Spade Ranch is about 10 miles SE, and a location has been made for a well on the Reynolds Ranch, joining the Parramore and J. S. Johnson Lands, about 6 miles South. Other deals are also pending for two new wells on this Ranch, one in the Rayrick Pasture, the other in the RS. A real oil well at any of these locations will put us on the oil map, and we, of course expect real wells at several of them.

Geologists for one of the leading companies are at work in the west end of the ranch, and it is hoped that their report will be such as to induce drilling there.

Mr. R. C. Scott will leave for San Antonio this week on business connected with the drilling of an additional oil well on the ranch.

Cotton planting is the order of the day at Hyman this week. There are four tractors that we know of right around the center of the settlement running twenty-four hours a day. In a twenty-four hour run, with double row planter, one of these Fordsons can plant 40 acres of Cotton, and that is getting the seed in the ground and taking advantage of the season. This is Tractor and double row tool country down here.

Lee P. Adkins is the proud possessor of a brand new Fordson. This is his third. He always gets the best.

Mr. Morrison Van Zandt has joined the ranks of the 400 acre farmers. He has over 240 acres of fine land in cultivation on his place here, and about 160 acres on his place at Spade. He has cotton up and growing on his place here.

Mr. Tom Vowell, another 400 acre farmer, and a good one, was visiting his home at Hyman Saturday last. Tom has a splendid half section of land here, and 100 acres of it in cultivation. It is not big enough farm for his force however, and he is renting 400 acres of the C. P. Gary land until he gets his own place or nearly all in cultivation. He is having his place here worked on the halves, and was down getting things started off. He expressed much satisfaction at the way things down here look, and the way the country is developing.

If your guests are comfortable they are half entertained. With a G-E Fan to serve cool comfort your afternoons "at home" will be the most popular in town. You will get an electric fan eventually—why not let us send you one NOW for this summer's heat?

NEW EDITOR THIS WEEK.

W. S. Cooper, the local news editor more commonly referred to in newspaper parlance as the "office devil" is off again this week, this time to Mineral Wells, helping to advertise Colorado and Mitchell county at the great West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, and has again turned The Record over to the local preachers to edit in his absence. It will be remembered this was done last week and the results were that the paper received some very fine bouquets as to its improvement.

Editor J. E. Chase in charge and it is left for you to judge as to the fitness and fineness of The Record this week. The only fear we have is that the standard will be set so high Cooper will have a hard time when he returns keeping up.

However the mission Cooper is on means a lot to Mitchell county, and we are glad to loan him for a brief spell to this good work. Indications are that this is to be the most successful of any of the conventions held in point of benefits accruing.

The month of May contains two special days, notable days, which we are called upon to observe. Mother's Day and Memorial Day. Both are filled with tender memories and sentiments. Both are best observed and described in the language of flowers.

Both consecrate the memory of heroic deeds and prove that a people who cherish such sentiments are the finest people on earth. Mother's day, which has now come to be so widely celebrated in Sunday schools and churches of this and other lands, was originated by Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, a prominent international welfare worker. The inspiration of her idea seems to have grown out of the life and work of her own mother. Mrs. Anna Jarvis, who was an active Sunday school worker and church woman. Miss Jarvis wished to continue the life work of her mother and to make it an international welfare work for the homes of all lands.

Like a great many other good things, the project was not founded without considerable effort upon the part of the promoter. Many have thought it was but a mere suggestion which immediately took root and grew of its own accord. Authorities tell us, however, that far back of the international celebration of Mother's day Miss Jarvis had years of the hardest kind of work as well as being at considerable expense. Today, as president of the Mother's Day International association, she has the help and support of many active and honorary officers who are prominent in all the states.

The day observed for celebration by the Sunday schools and churches is the second Sunday in May. Day schools celebrate the preceding Friday; business, civic and similar organizations, Friday and Saturday. In the pulpit the theme is usually one commemorating her love and devotion. In the home the day is set apart for special acts of kindness and loving attention by the other inmates; or, if they are absent, by writing her letters of cheer and appreciation of what she has done for them.

The official badge of Mother's day is either the button badge, gotten out by the Mother's Day association, or the white carnation. Of the two the latter is no doubt most universally used, and surely no more appropriate choice.

Mother's Day falls this year on May 11th. The day was popularized by the example and endorsement of the late President, Wm. McKinley. Every man and woman cherishes in his heart the recollection of that best and truest of all earthly friends. Let every Colorado citizen manifest enough interest in the day to wear a flower in mother's memory. If she has gone to join that World's great throng of true and tender hearted men and women on the side, wear a white flower, if she is still living wear a flower of some other color. If you can reach her with a message of your love and affection by all means send it to her. Some little token, a letter or a telegram telling her you have not forgotten. Everybody go to church next Sunday and honor her by remembering your mother's God. This country is safe and will survive every disaster as long as we continue to cherish these sentiments and do not forget this duty that we owe.

Since petitions requesting an election to determine whether or not the present tax limit of fifty cents on the $100 valuation of property shall be removed, thus permitting the school board to levy a tax not exceeding $1, are being circulated, it is conceded that the election will be forthcoming. The president of the school board has made the statement that there is to be no additional cost to the property owner in this district, whether the tax increase be authorized or not. It will require so much money to operate the schools of Colorado and if the funds are not to be raised through increased tax rates, they will, on the other hand, be raised through increased property valuations. It would be the much better plan to authorize the tax increase and see our property values fluctuate back to a level with those demanded by the city and county.

NEW BOY SCOUT TROOP ORGANIZED

A group of men and boys met at the Baptist Church last Friday evening for the purpose of organizing the second troop of Boy Scouts in Colorado. Games and contests made up the program, together with short talks by the men.

The boys present were: Arthur Claybrook, Sherrod Smith, Jacks Wyatt, Cullen Wilson and Virgil Priddy. The scoutmaster, Elba Strong; Committeemen, J. C. Etheridge, G. B. Slaton and Bob Porter, and Jerold Riordan, who is helping to get the troop started.

The second meeting will be held Friday evening of this week and all boys of Scout age who are not now Scouts are invited to be present. Lewis B. Elliott, Deputy Commissioner, for this county will be present to assist. Officers of Troop 1 are also co-operating in getting this new group started.

INCREASED TAX RATE WILL NOT ADD TO SCHOOL TAX

The proposed increase in the rate of taxation of from fifty cents to one dollar on the $100.00 valuation of property will not cost the property owners of the Colorado Independent school district one dime more, H. L. Hutchinson, president of the school, board declared Friday while discussing the matter at the Lions club.

"The school board will have to have so much money to meet its annual budgets," he stated, "and there will be no difference in the amount of this budget to operate the schools, whether the proposed tax of one dollar be authorized or not. So long as the people demand a nine months school, we will attempt to finance such a term, and the only way to obtain the money under the present tax limitation is to raise the property valuations."

The main object sought, speakers explained, to eliminate the necessity of raising the property renditions to such huge proportions in order to finance the schools. In the event the voters authorize the school board to increase the tax rate to one dollar, these renditions will be automatically lowered.

Petitions requesting the school board to order an election to determine whether the present tax limit of fifty cents shall be removed and the board authorized to increase the rate not to exceed one dollar on the $100 valuation of property, was started at the Lions Club and will be circulated among citizens of the school district this week.

W. R. Morgan and A. A. Dorn, members of the school board, were present at the Lions club and pled for the citizenship to support the proposed tax change. Dorn cited other school districts of the county where in the voters have adopted such a plan, declaring patrons of those schools to be well pleased with the change.

All next week is paint week at W. L. Doss's. Come and figure on your paint job.—W. L. Doss.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT WILL ATTEND NATIONAL MEETING

Rev. W. M. Elliott of Colorado, president of the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, will attend the National council meeting of the organization to be convened in New York City May 28-29. Rev. Mr. Elliott has devoted much of his time to the interests of boys and is recognized as an unusual leader in boy scout work. He is serving his second term as president of the council, comprising the counties of Nolan, Mitchell, Scurry and Fisher.

He will be joined at Kansas City June 1 by Mrs. Elliott and their son John, where they will attend the commencement exercises at Park College. Their elder son, Marion Elliott, is to graduate from Park College at that time.

Another 'Bull' Durham advertisement by Will Rogers, Zigfield Folios and screen star, and leading American Humorist. More coming. Watch for them.

NEW YORK is building some more of those subways under the ground. No use building any more, people can't find their way out of the ones they got now. There's people down underground in New York that haven't been up for years. New York people are just like a lot of Gophers; every time they see a hole in the ground they grab a nickel and duck for it. If they keep on living underground, in two more generations their children will have fur like a rat.

What's this Subway got to do with 'Bull' Durham?

Nothing.

What do people outside New York care about how New Yorkers live?

Nothing.

But there is an old saying that one half the world don't know how the other half live, so I am telling you how they live, not as an Ad but as a fact. Five million Ground Hogs in New York rush through life missing one Train and being shoved into the next. The real trouble is that they can't smoke 'Bull' Durham down there.

CHASE HEADS COMMITTEE TO DIRECT CHAUTAUQUA

Rev. J. E. Chase was named chairman of the chautauqua committee at a meeting of guarantors held Friday afternoon at the Barcroft Hotel. Mr. Chase announced that he would begin immediately the work of organizing his forces to push sale of season tickets for the Redpath-Horner chautauqua, which is billed to play a week's engagement at Colorado the latter part of this month.

Ministers of the city, business and professional men and others are lending their support in the campaign to finance the chautauqua program, underwritten by 38 citizens of Colorado. The chautauqua program being brought here this season is the largest ever billed for Colorado and is claimed to be one of the best touring America.

The plan, as announced by Rev. Mr. Chase, is to sell the season tickets now. These tickets are sold at $2.75 for adult and $1.10 for child's season tickets, and are good for the entire week of twelve performances.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HOLD EXECUTIVE SESSION

The May executive session of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce was scheduled to be convened Thursday afternoon of this week at 6:15 at the Barcroft Hotel, it was announced from the office of the organization earlier in the week. Dr. P. C. Coleman, president, stated that he might not be able to attend, owing to important business calling him out of the city, but urged that every member of the board and every official be present.

It was indicated that date for the annual business meeting of the organization would be named at the meeting Thursday. The chamber is closing its fiscal year and plans are being formulated for electing officials and directors for the ensuing year.

P.-T. BAND CONCERT PROVES BIG HIT WITH LOCAL FOLK

Colorado people who were fortunate to attend the Parent-Teacher association band concert at the High school auditorium Friday evening received a rare treat. Every number on the well arranged program was a big hit. Every individual and group appearing on the program received applause and were called back for encores.

Merriment of the kind that will almost rattle one's ribs and pathos which so gripping as to bring tears to many eyes were the contrasting diversions of the program rendered. The reading of Mrs. Creola Richbourg Vickers set the house in a boisterous uproar for one minute and then, as she gave Edgar A. Guest's famous poem, "Home," there were few dry eyes in the auditorium. It seemed that the artist poured out her very soul in speaking the words of the poet in this most dramatic contribution.

The program was opened with a concert by the Colorado Booster Band. The first two numbers played by the band, a march, "Sons of New Zealand," and an overture, "Pique Dame," were the numbers played by the band in the contest at Mineral Wells.

Mrs. Will Martin of Loraine, talented soloist, sang beautifully, with Joe W. Earnest as piano accompanist. She was called back by an ever appreciative audience for the second number.

The Ford Quartet, vocal artists, with Miss Isla Tilley at the piano, sang their way into the hearts of every one present. These young men, all employees of A. J. Herrington, Ford distributor, appeared on the program for the second concert.

Other numbers were cornet solos by M. S. Goldman and a Saxophone duet by Richardson and Logan.

The Parent-Teacher Association and band shared in the proceeds.

CHAUTAUQUA PROMISES BE BEST EVER HEARD HERE

Printed programs have been received showing the full course for the Chautauqua which opens here for a week's engagement beginning May 26th. It so happens we are on the Premier Circuit and consequently we are to have some of the best talent that is to be had anywhere in the United States. There are twelve events on the program covering a period of six days, no Sunday programs.

Season tickets are offered, adults $2.50 plus the war tax, and childrens tickets, $1.10. Single admission for children, 20c; for adults, 50c 75c, and $1.00. It follows that the season ticket is much the cheaper, inasmuch as every number is a high class event and you will want to attend every session.

Following the Friday luncheon of the Lion's Club, a meeting was called of the guarantors on the Chautauqua contract that were present at the luncheon last Friday. An organization was perfected with Rev. J. E. Chase as chairman of the local committee. In the afternoon, Rev. Chase in company with Rev. W. M. Elliott, visited the women's clubs which meet on Friday, and presented to each of the clubs the urgency of putting the Chautauqua over, and were assured of the hearty support of good women of the city.

The ticket sales for the chautauqua will start immediately and it is believed that it will be a comparatively easy matter to dispose of the required amount to guarantee the success of the chautauqua. It is needless to say the chautauqua is the highest type of entertainment which is brought to a city. It stands for "our country, its government and constitution; for a cleaner social life."

A glance at the following program will convince everyone that it is something everybody will want to attend. The program printed is as follows:

First day: "Cathedral Choir," and Herbert Leon Cope, humorist.

Second day: "Burns of the Mountains;" the great farce comedy, "Give and Take."

Third day: "Clayton Staples Art Company," "Gov. C. W. Bryan."

Fourth day: "Guatemala Band," Judge Geo. D. Alden.

Fifth day: "Shananon Quartet, Stratford Trio." "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway."

Sixth day: "Fox and Taylor, clowns and comedians." R. B. Ambrose, mystery in electricity.

Childrens work—It must be supposed that the children's part has not been neglected. On the contrary a large share of the program is devised for children's entertainment. Of course, there will be a supervisor in

The Chautauqua is an institution and it has a full week of entertainment which while enjoyable is helpful and leaves a good taste in the mouth when it is over.

You are going to miss much if you fail to purchase season tickets and miss this great treat. The course we are getting would ordinarily cost a town $2300 but owing to the combination of towns in this territory the cost is equalized and we are profiting by it. DR. ETESON SPEAKS TO AUDIENCE UNION SERVICE

"Reformation is a slow process. God sees the end in the beginning and with infinite patience guides the course of events until that end is reached." This was the key-note of a very eloquent sermon delivered by Reverend F. B. Eteson, rector of All-Saints' Episcopal church at the union meeting held at the Methodist church last Sunday night.

Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, presided, and Prof. Thomas Dawes led the choir. Perhaps the largest audience was in attendance of either of the union services thus far. The day had been ideal, neither too hot nor too cool, and many chairs were required to seat the congregation. Rev. M. C. Bishop, pastor First Baptist church, read the scripture lesson from the fourth chapter of St. Luke, the story of the mission of John the Baptist. Rev. J. E. Chase, pastor First Christian church, offered invocation. Dr. J. F. Lawlis, pastor the Methodist church, pronounced the benediction.

Selecting for his text the question the people asked of John the Baptist, "What shall we do then?" Dr. Eteson drew some striking parallels between the mission of John the Baptist and the coming Rayburn evangelistic meetings which the speaker called a "Mission." Among other good things he said:

"The subject of John's preaching was Repentance. It resulted in calling multitudes to hear him. There were groups of many different types. A mission reaches men of every type. More than that it aroused great expectations. Great preparation produces this. Even our Lord had his fore-runner, and spent thirty years in preparation for his work. Christ's ministry resulted in but few comparatively speaking. Yet God took those few faithful men and turned the world up side down. The conditions then and now are very similar. People did not hesitate to criticize John the Baptist and even the Lord from Heaven. It was a sinful and pleasure loving age.

"What about our own preparation for this Mission? First of all men are talking about it. That is fine. Publicity is a great thing. But that is not enough. Effectual prayer is necessary. He called upon the members of the church to pray earnestly. A man cannot pray regularly and continuously for a thing without becoming vitally interested in it. Christ gives us the best gifts, not for ourselves but to pass on to others. All results are in the hand of God. The preacher like John, can only point his hearers to the One who is greater than he."

Dr. Eteson then described the several types of men who needed the help and blessing from the meeting. The nominal Christian, who did not believe anything very much and who had no spiritual power behind them. Useless members at present but who might become very useful to Christ. Then there are the lodge or club devotee who thinks that his lodge or club is as good as the church. The personal liberty fellow who says he can be as good a Christian out of the church as he can in it, but when the hearse is backed up to the front door always wants the preacher and church to minister. The snug man who regards himself as good as the church member, and finally the indifferent type, the Sunday pleasure seeking man who claims he needs the one day for recreation forgetting that if the church had not functioned he would not have had the one day.

The speaker closed his remarks with a quotation from the prophet Malachi concerning the Lord's Book of Remembrance which He is writing. "God is writing in His book your acts and mine. What will He write of us in the coming Mission?"

Announcement of a special Tabernacle committee was made, appointed by Dr. P. C. Coleman. This committee is to serve until the close of the revival. It is composed of Chester Thomas, Thos. Dawes, Joe Earnest, Robt. Smith and Hughwood Smart. From now on matters will move, and should move swiftly to its consummation.

Recommendations to City.

The following recommendations will be submitted to city council for their consideration and action. With the exception of the second division, which deals chiefly with the school and parents jurisdiction, the original reads:

"We, the committee appointed by the P. T. A. to find a possible solution to traffic problem near the schools, thereby lessening dangers arising from same, recommend the following:

1. That the city be asked to limit the speed of automobiles to eight (8) miles an hour within three blocks of schools; (b) to erect signboards within designated area with limit thereon; (c) that a week be proclaimed as "Safety Week," this week to be within the school session this year; (d) that city marshal assist peace officer now at school in directing traffic at closing time; (e) that road east of high school block which has not been designated as a street, be closed, thereby lessening the dangers to student-pedestrians to and from new play ground block.
  2. That drills on traffic regulations, both for drivers and pedestrian be held in each room at school during Safety Week; (b) that student pedestrians be made to take side-walks instead of middle of street; (c) that students living within reasonable distance from school be discouraged in bringing cars to school; (d) that publicity be given through local paper by publicity committee of P. T. A. of this movement so that our entire city will benefit.
- Mrs. A. L. Whipkey,
Mrs. W. P. Leslie,
Mrs. Stewart Cooper, Com.
- The above was accepted in full by Mr. King and his principals of schools together with Mrs. J. C. Smith, president of P. T. A.

SEVEN WELLS NOTES

Well, as May, the month of flowers is here, and the rains have come. We feel glad that we are here, and put new life in every thing makes able to work.

We are very anxious to see old Mitchell County swell with a bumper crop of all kinds once more.

The farmers are very busy planting feed.

Little Roy Bassham is able to be up part of the time. His parents are so thankful that his little life was spared, and they wish to thank each and every one, who helped so lovingly and faithful during his illness.

Our school is just doing fine we couldn't ask for better progress.

I believe the most exciting event of late was the wolf chase Saturday night. Mr. Wolf gently ventured up to Mr. W. H. Brown's Turkey roost Friday night and helped himself to the old turkey hen and sixteen young turks, so on Saturday night Dr's Coleman and Dulaney and nearly all the neighbors met at Mr. Brown's about dark with twelve hounds. And there the fun started. Some of the men stayed with the hounds until five o'clock Sunday morning. They captured two of the wolves.

Most everybody from our community attended singing at Colorado Sunday. All had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Walker from Midland were here visiting home-folk over Sunday.

Mrs. W. P. Bassham spent Saturday night with Mrs. U. D. Wulfjon. The Wallace girls spent Sunday afternoon with Miss Bertha Lane| Mrs. J.E. Wallace, Mrs. C. C. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Bassham spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. U. D. Wulfjon. They had ice cream and had a real good time.

Mr. U. D. Wulfjon has been to Itan looking after some business interest the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith spent the day Sunday with P. M. Bassham's family.

Seems as our rain isn't over yet, but we should worry.

The Bunch.

TOM MIX AND TONY IN NEW FILM SPECIAL AT MISSION

The usual interest attending the announcement of America's popular Western star, Tom Mix, and his famous horse Tony, is always sufficient to warrant an occasion of unusual entertainment value, but there is no doubt that the announcement of his newest special film success, "Dick Turpin," will create greater interest than probably any attraction the popular star and famous horse ever appeared in. They always furnish plenty of thrills, a fine story and lots of laughter, but is the new production it is said there is crowded into it more thrilling scenes and incidents, more comedy relief, and by far more spectacular scenic investiture than was ever seen in a Mix picture. The Mission Management is confident that "Dick Turpin" is going to be the most highly pleasing Mix attraction ever presented in that popular play-house. It is scheduled for a two day showing only, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

COLORADO YOUNG LADIES HONORED BY UNIVERSITY

AUSTIN, May 4.—Honoring those students whose scholastic records at the University of Texas during the winter term were exceptional, Dean H. Y. Benedict, of the College of Arts and Sciences, has made public a list of students worthy of distinction for excellent work in their studies. This list is divided into four groups, the leading group being designated as Summa Cum Laude, and including the best 67 students out of the 3,450 registered in the College of Arts and Sciences. The second group, Cum Laude Ampla et Magna, includes the best 155 students among the 3,450; the third group Magna Cum Laude, includes the best 218; the fourth group, Ampla Cum Laude, includes the best 308 students and the fifth, Cum Laude, includes the best 392.

From Colorado, the following students were mentioned on Dean Benedict's honor roll for making exceptionally high averages:

Miss Gladys Mae Dorn and Miss Alma Phillips.

This is the senior year for Miss Phillips, and she expects to receive the bachelor of science degree in home economics at the June Commencement. She has been prominent in many activities of the University, having served as secretary of the home economics club for two years, and as a member of the Woman's Representative Board, a branch of the student self government, for two years. She has earned her expenses while attending the University and was head of the dining room of the woman's building, dormitory for girls, for two years. She was also offered the position of business manager of the woman's building for the summer 1924. Miss Phillips has been active in religious work, having been a popular worker in the University Baptist church, and a member of the Finance committee of the young women's Christian association. She is recognized as an able executive, and was appointed on many committees by the home economics department where most of her school work has been done. She recently was head of a committee which successfully managed the series of lectures given at the University by Miss Edith Dean, nationally known interior decorator. Miss Phillips has been assistant in the department of art and design, and has won the praise of many of her instructors for her capable work. She was selected as one of the members of Delta Zeta, national sorority, when a chapter of that organization was established at the University.

FORMER COLORADO GIRL HONORED BY HOME CITY

Maybe a prophet is not without honor save in his own country, but the ancient proverb had no bearing on the reception accorded Miss Anne Bertner on her first recital in her home town since she became a professional singer.

Society was out in force and the High school auditorium was almost filled when George B. Rose entered the stage from the wings to introduce her. He declared that the famous singer, Oscar Seagle, should have selected her from the young singers of the whole United States to sing with him on his concert tour. He also announced her engagement to sing in opera in this country and at Nice, France.

Miss Bertner when living here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bertner, frequently was heard in concerts as an amateur and she had a voice so good then that it attracted the attention and high praise of Oscar Seagle. But with the notes of her first number last night, many were amazed at the great advance in her art since those days. She has everything in her favor, youth, an attractive personality, a fine stage presence, a magnificent voice and the physique to bear the strain of grand opera.

It was in the aria from "La Reine de Saba," at the close of the second group, however, which aroused the audience to the full realization of her powers both as to range and volume. She had to respond to an enthusiastic encore, giving De Busse's "Romance." Encores followed each group of songs and her negro folk songs and spirituelles which closed the recital met with a storm of applause. At the end of each group, including the last one, baskets of flowers, bunches of roses, baskets of lilies and other floral tributes fairly encumbered the stage.

After the recital Miss Bertner held an impromptu reception and was almost overwhelmed with congratulations. She will leave soon for Houston, where she will sing with Oscar Seagle, whose pupil she has been.—Little Rock Gazette.

Miss Bertner was raised in Colorado and her many friends here send congratulations.

WONDERFUL POSSIBILITIES SEEN HERE BY GEO. GIST

Mitchell county is one of the most wonderful places in the entire country, equaling in possibilities any part of the American republic, Harold J. Cook of Agate, Nebraska, geologist representing the research department of the Colorado Museum of Natural History at Denver, Colorado, declared here Saturday. Cook came direct to Colorado from Denver to check up on work started near here last year by the museum.

"I know of thousands of people in the Northern sections of America who are living under conditions not near so ideal as they might find here in the South. You have a most wonderful climate and your past record shows that this is a reliable country in which to farm as may be found anywhere."

The Colorado Museum of Natural history collected considerable specimens of pre-historic animals found near here last year and shipped them to Denver. This work is to be continued here, Cook stated. Nelson Vaughn of Colorado has accepted a position with the museum and will devote his time to research work for the institution.

Banking and Farming Money and Products

Banks do not pretend to teach farmers how to farm, any more than a farmer would try to teach a banker the principles of finance. Banking and Farming each have a distinct place in the community yet each is dependent for success upon the other.

This bank needs and urges the whole-hearted confidence and support of every farmer customer, and the farmer, in turn, needs the constructive and farvisioned assistance the bank has to offer. Let's pull together.

Aunt Joe Smith has returned from a visit with friends near Dunn.

At the city council meeting Monday night it was decided to enforce an old ordinance regarding the proper disposal of waste paper about the premises of the business houses. The ordinance says that all paper must be burned at the rear of the building in some kind of a container so that there will be less fire hazard. After Monday of next week Mayor Riden stated the ordinance would be strictly enforced and that the disregarding of same was a fineable offense.

FAMOUS VAUDEVILLE PONY TO APPEAR AT MISSION

Patsy, known as the world's most marvelously trained pony has been secured by the Mission management for a one day appearance at the Mission theatre. This famous little pony has played to audiences of thousands of people, delighting all with her funny antics and almost human knowledge. She travels with her master in a standard touring car through the country; and it true, strange as it may seem, that she understands traffic signals as thoroughly as anybody. She can never be thrown off her balance if her master gives the proper traffic signal. This unique attraction will be in Colorado for one day only, on Wednesday of next week.
