SUNDAY CLOSING LAW IS RIGIDLY ENFORCED HERE

AUTHORITIES CLAMP LID DOWN AT COLORADO, LORAIN AND WESTBROOK

Colorado experienced its first 100 per cent enforcement of the "blue Sunday" law last Sunday. Not even a hamburger to satisfy one's palate nor a bit of gas to make the old family bus go could be had for love or money. The lid was clamped down and local authorities sat upon the lid to see to it that the law was rigidly enforced.

County Attorney R. H. Ratliff, Chief of Police Dick Hickman and other officials stated Monday the authorities were acting upon requests filed with them urgently demanding that the blue Sunday closing laws be rigidly enforced here. The requests were in the form of petitions circulated by Colorado church women, and endorsed by about 400 people.

Automobilists, including a number of tourists stranded in the city, evidently felt the brunt of the strong arm of the law stronger than any other class. A number of cars remained parked at the curb throughout the day because of the fact there was no gas to be had.

Local citizens in large numbers missed their usual Sunday cigar, cigarette or other diversion which heretofore was usually purchased at a convenient drug store or confectionery. Advocates of the law enforcement, however, optimistically declare that it will only be the matter of a short time when the people will become accustomed to the change and arrange to purchase their gasoline, cigars and other items placed on the legal shelf on Saturdays, the same as they now make their grocery and dry goods purchases.

Colorado was not the only Mitchell county town to come under the ban Sunday, Sheriff Terry stated Monday morning. At Loraine and Westbrook the Sunday closing law was enforced just as rigidly as in Colorado. The drive to close up on Sunday was drafted to include every part of the county.

After June 18, when a number of laws passed by the last legislature are to become operative, gasoline may be sold legally, the sheriff said. This means that next Sunday will be the last Sabbath on which motorists of Colorado, Loraine and Westbrook, along with automobilists stopping in or passing through those places, will be denied the privilege of refilling the gas tank on Sunday.

ANNUAL NATIONAL BOY SCOUT PARLEY WAS BIG SUCCESS

The National convention of officials and workers of the Boy Scouts of America, held in New York City last week, was one of the most successful and inspiring gatherings of the year, according to Rev. W. M. Elliott of Colorado, president of the Buffalo Trail Council, who represented his district at the convention. Rev. Mr. Elliott spent two days attending the meeting.

The scout president referred briefly to this convention in an address at the Lions Club Friday. Dr. James Rayburn, another guest of the club, spoke to the remarks of Mr. Elliott, stressing the importance of building manhood of the boys of America.

FOUNDERS OF M. E. CHURCH HERE RECALLED BY WRITER

Mrs. S. F. Annis of Merkel, sends The Record a communication relative to the founding of the Centenary Methodist church at Colorado in 1884, in which she recalls that the church was constructed under personal supervision of Rev. J. L. L. Annis, presiding elder and Rev. Bascom J. K. Thomas, pastor. Mrs. Annis says:

"Saw your notice in regard to remodeling of First Methodist church in your city. I wish you had mentioned that The First church was built by Rev. J. L. L. Annis, presiding elder of the Abilene district, and Rev. Bascom J. K. Thomas, who was pastor at Colorado at that time—in 1884. There is a memorial window to each in the church now. Abilene district took in Colorado then."

1000 HEAR DR. RAYBURN ADDRESS MEN SUNDAY

Centering his theme about the stories of Joseph and of Daniel, Dr. James Rayburn delivered one of his most powerful sermons of the revival Sunday afternoon when he spoke to men and boys only at Union Tabernacle. Fully 1,000 men and boys, who were held intently by the gripping deliverance, were in attendance. Delegations were present from Sweetwater, Snyder, Loraine and Westbrook, as well as from a number of rural communities of the county.

Reading the text, "Be thou strong, therefore, and show thyself a man," a dying king's admonition to his son, Dr. Rayburn scathingly denounced uncleanness in all of its malignant forms. Profanity and obscene language came in for parade before the large crowd and perhaps received the most uncompromising denunciation of all the varied evils catalogued.

"Christianity is not effeminate," Rayburn stated. "It is a list of the heroic men with magnificent acts. Jesus stands before the world the most masculine man of the centuries. He is a man in every sense. Purity is just as much a masculine quality as a feminine quality. God made goats, buzzards and polecats for filth, but He made man for purity."

Rayburn appealed to the men "to be men," in selection of their environments, associates and life department. Unclean pictures and magazines came in for a liberal share of consideration, he urging that the men hold only those things in literature and entertainment which would elevate the mind and soul.

He made a strong plea for protection of womanhood. "Your daughter is safe anywhere," he stated, "if she be in the company of a man. And she is not safe anywhere if she is not a man. Womanhood should be protected under all conditions, it mattering not if the woman be a total stranger. He drove home a battery of sharp thrusts at the cowardice of the fellow who is guilty of wrong doing.

He concluded his address by extending the first invitation of the revival. Five men responded.

RAYBURN PROMISED SUPPORT LIONS CLUB MEMBERSHIP

Support of the Lions Club in the revival campaign was assured the evangelist, Dr. James Rayburn, Friday by E. H. Winn, president. The evangelist was present at the luncheon Friday at noon and made an appealing address to the club membership on the virtues of religion and manhood. President Winn expressed appreciation of the club membership in having Dr. Rayburn present and extended him the invitation to attend the club each week while he is in Colorado.

The club expressed special interest in the Sunday afternoon service, at which Dr. Rayburn addressed men and boys. A committee was named by the president to advertise this service and co-operate with church officials in bringing out a large delegation of men and boys.

James Charlton, associated with the land department of the California Company, was voted membership in the club.

LIONS CLUB TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS FRIDAY, JUNE 12

The Colorado Lions Club is closing another fiscal year, the president, E. H. Winn, announced Friday, and officers and directors for the ensuing year are to be elected Friday of this week. A committee on nominations was named by the president last week to submit a proposed official roster Friday for action of the club membership.

PEOPLE OF COUNTY INVITED ATTEND RAYBURN REVIVAL

Personal invitation to attend the Rayburn revival was mailed Monday to hundreds of people in the county, urging that they have some part in the campaign which is now in its second week at Union Tabernacle. Every postoffice and rural route in Mitchell county received a large quota of this mail.

THREE ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD IN COLORADO JUNE 16

CITY HALL BONDS AND SCHOOL TAX CHANGE CONSIDERED OF IMPORTANCE

For the first time in years, Colorado voters are to ballot upon three distinct causes in special elections scheduled to be held Tuesday, June 16th. Three distinct ballots will be used by the voters, since neither of the propositions to be passed upon at the polls have any relation to the others.

One of the propositions upon which the voters will act is the proposed $30,000 city hall bond issue, requested by citizens to finance purchase of a site and erection and equipment of a new municipal building to be occupied by the city administrative departments and the fire and water departments. The proposed bonds are to be issued as serials and will bear interest at the rate of five and one-half per cent.

Another affects the Colorado Independent school district and the election was called on petition of patrons of the schools to determine whether the present tax limitation of fifty cents on the $100.00 valuation of property for school purposes shall be removed and the tax levy limit fixed at one dollar. This plan has been given the unqualified endorsement of officials of the school and other interested citizens who have given the matter their careful consideration.

The other question to be settled at the polls on this election day will be to elect an alderman to fill out the unexpired term of A. B. Blanks, resigned. Blanks was elected to succeed himself in office as a member of the city council in the municipal election in April but declined to accept the place. The alderman to be elected will serve to April, 1927.

The proposed city hall bonds and school tax change are considered of vital importance to Colorado. Need of both is being expressed by a large representation of the citizenship of both the city and school district. It is believed that both propositions will carry with a large majority. As to the city hall, the present municipal building has long been obsolete and wholly inadequate to house the department offices now located in the building. The fire department is the worst handicapped of all, however in the present building. In the crowded quarters at the present building there is room for but one of the two fire trucks and dormitory quarters occupied by the driver and his family are a disgrace to Colorado, according to findings of members of the city council who several weeks ago made a thorough inspection of the building.

The proposed change in the school tax rate is sought in that the present high valuations placed on property within the district be reduced in proportion with valuations accepted by the city and county. Under the present low rate of taxation, it has become imperative with the school board that high valuations be demanded in order to obtain sufficient tax revenue on which to operate the schools. Officials of the school board have publicly declared there will be no direct effect to tax payers, whether the proposed change is voted or not. In the event the higher tax rate is authorized, valuations will automatically be reduced. In the event the present rate is continued by voters, the bulky figures at which all property in the district is listed for taxation are to continue in vogue.

AUTOMOBILE REGISTRATIONS FOR 1925 REACHE 3,000

Tax Collector I. W. Terry stated Monday that registrations of automobiles, trucks and other motor vehicles for the present year had reached 3,000, an increase over the total number registered in 1924 by 200. Terry expressed the belief that a large number of motor vehicles would be registered during remainder of the year.

DRIVE AMERICAN LEGION ENDOWMENT FUND STARTS

ORAN C. HOOKER POST QUOTA OF $500.00 BE RAISED THIS WEEK

Colorado Legionnaires are standing by for the command to charge when the campaign to raise $500.00, Mitchell county's quota in the $5,000,000 Endowment Fund opens here this morning. Post Commander J. B. Pritchett has completed every detail of organizing local former service men for the drive and he and other post officials optimistically declare that this county will co-operate with them to the extent of going over the top in a most commendable manner.

The income from the American Legion Endowment Fund will be applied by the endowment corporation and under the terms of the trust agreement, to press forward the rehabilitation of disabled ex-service persons and to care for and to find homes for the orphans of ex-service persons. The drive is nation wide, being actively sponsored by the 11,000 posts of the Legion and the 6,500 units of the Woman's Auxiliary throughout the country.

In issuing an appeal to the people of Mitchell county to lend their moral and financial support to the drive, Commander Pritchett said:

"The American Legion, chartered by Congress, has carried during six years of reconstruction since the World war a large load, shared by governmental agencies, in the care and cure of the war's disabled men, and in the care, upbringing and education of the orphaned children of those who gave their lives in battle. This responsibility, welcomed by the Legion, has been shared by the people of the United States. The Legion has spent its own funds, has sometimes borrowed money, has often been unable to see very far ahead into the sources for financial needs, has received numerous gifts. The fiscal policy back of the largest war relief problem in America has been frankly "hand to mouth." Such a policy is neither just, adequate nor economical. For this work there must be nothing left to chance.

"Based on this six-year experience is the proposal to raise in 1925 the American Legion Endowment Fund of five million dollars, as a perpetual trust from which only the income shall be used as the financial backbone of the rehabilitation and child welfare work of the Legion, the central generating plant for the nation-wide activity of 11,000 Legion posts and 6,500 Legion Auxiliary units of women, which together throw more than 900,000 volunteer workers into this field.

"The endowment plan is a practical and business-like undertaking. Happily the common sense thing to do is also the thing which appeals to every sound and worthy emotion. It is a right and sacred duty to cure the disabled man. The Legion's motto of "Temporary Care—Permanent Cure" expresses the determination that every sufferer from wounds and disease should be made whole, should be restored in body and mind and spirit to become a self-supporting and self-respecting citizen, and not left to perpetual care in a public institution. That program is as sound and economical as it is appealing and humane.

"It is right that every child of a father who died for his country be given as good a home, as good education, as fair an American chance in life as if that father's sacrifice had not been needed. It is vastly less costly to save the child now, than to permit it to grow up in ignorance, poverty and neglect to a life of vice, pauperism or crime. Every needy child saved to healthy maturity in body and sound development in character saves thousands of dollars to society, which carries the heavy burden of criminality, pauperism, viciousness. Ninety-three per cent of criminals have a record of neglected childhood."

County Judge Chas. C. Thompson is general chairman of the teams selected to push the drive. Legionnaires named by the post commander to constitute the teams are Jack Hel-

TWO COMPLETIONS; ONE LOCATION THIS WEEK

The Sloan Oil Company announce two completions in the field this week. Location for another test has been made near Hyman and new rigs are under construction at locations announced last week.

Morrison 2-13 of the California Company is being cleaned out following a nitro shot of 374 quarts. The well made a small flow immediately after the shot.

At Butler 1-2, H. C. Miller No. 1 and Abrams 1-3, of the California Company the crews are rigging up to spud. Woniack No. 1, spudded this week, was down 47 feet Thursday morning. At Missouri State Life One the crew has completed digging cellar and are awaiting rig builders.

Miller Four of the Sloan Oil Co., drilled in two weeks ago, will go on the beam today. The well, in the heart of production in Section 22, will make 250 to 300 barrels. Smartt Seven of the Sloan Oil Company, completed and given a nitro shot during the past week, is being cleaned out. Smartt Six was given a nitro shot Thursday afternoon.

The crew at Scott One of Sloan, Owens & Stalker at Hyman was drilling at 2,308 feet Thursday morning.

Rig materials are at location for Henshaw & Barnum Scott One, in Section 32, block 17, S. P. survey. This location is four and one-half miles south of the well being drilled by Sloan, Owens & Stalker.

GOLD MEDAL AWARDED M. S. GOLDMAN RECEIVED HERE

The beautiful gold medal, awarded to M. S. Goldman at Mineral Wells as prize offered by the Texas Band Teachers Association for the best band director attending the seventh annual convention, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was received Monday by the J. P. Majors Jewelry store for engraving. The medal will be presented Mr. Goldman as soon as the necessary engraving has been completed.

O. H. Majors, manager of the store, stated Monday that the medal had a commercial value of $40. It is made of solid 14-karat gold and done in a most beautiful design.

Goldman also won the gold trumpet offered by the Whittle Music Co. of Dallas for the best band director attending the convention, as well as carrying of the highest award possible for his band. In the latter contest, the Colorado band defeated the band from Plainview by more than 23 points out of a possible 100.

"ALMOST SEE COTTON GROW," MITCHELL CO. FARMER SAYS

"You can almost see cotton growing these days," was the statement of Joe Church, farmer of near Colorado, as he came into the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon with specimens of the crop now being chopped to a stand on his place. The cotton stalks brought in by Mr. Church were about 12 inches in height and in a most healthy condition.

Church stated that he has 500 acres to cotton on his farm this year, 100 acres of which will average from eight to twelve inches high. With another rain this cotton will be lapping in the middles by July 15, he stated.

The extreme hot weather of this week has come as a boon to cotton farmers throughout the Colorado territory. The plant is up to one of the best stands ever known, is free of disease and as yet has not been damaged by pest depredations.

WALLS GOING UP FOR TWO BRICK BUSINESS BUILDINGS

RAYBURN TELLS CHURCH MEMBERS 'PAY THE PRICE'

IF LOST ARE BROUGHT TO THE MASTER, CHURCH MUST DO AS GOD DIRECTS.

Expressing keen disappointment over developments during the revival, now in its 12th day here, Dr. James Rayburn, evangelist, hurled a challenge to the professed Christian people of this community. Thursday evening to either get into the spirit of the work they proposed to do for God, or close the meeting. It could be noted from statements of Dr. Rayburn that he did not propose to continue the services longer, unless there was evident a deeper sense of duty among the church people of the city.

The statements of the evangelists were met with a barrage of "nos," "keep the revival going," "we must not close now," and similar expressions. He then put the issues at stake squarely up for consideration, declaring that if the Christian people of Colorado desired a great religious awakening, they must be willing to pay the price. He cited the fact that Jesus often spent all night in prayer, told of the Pentecostal prayer meeting of the Apostles and gave other scriptural authorities stressing the need of this devotion.

It was eleven o'clock when he closed the services at Union Tabernacle Wednesday night and it was by odds the best service yet held during the meeting. There were seven professions and hundreds of the large throng which packed the building and stood about the entrance were visibly affected. From the tabernacle 150 men and women went to the Methodist church to engage in prayer for the revival. It was 1:15 a. m. Thursday morning when this band left the church and went home.

The revival is just now on the verge of accomplishing great things for God in this county, one of the local ministers stated Thursday morning. It is believed that the crowds are to increase and with the determination of Christians to win the community for Christ, regardless of the cost, much is expected.

Sunday night witnessed assembly of the largest number of people at the tabernacle during the campaign up to that time. After all of the seats in the building had been taken several hundred stood outside the opening or sat in automobiles parked nearby in the street. The large choir loft was also filled for the first time. His advertised sermon on "Three Liars" evidently had aroused his hearers' curiosity. Basing his remarks upon excuses and their evident lack of sincerity, the evangelist delivered a penetrating indictment against the man who gave insincere excuses for not being a Christian.

Pleading that it was possible for a man to be a devout Christian and at the same time a successful business man, he cited a long list of big business men who had been successful in both the commercial life and in stewardship to their Master. He denounced the prevalent excuse, raised by so many non-Christian people that the reason they were not in the church was because of the presence of so many hypocrites. He asserted there are ten times as many hypocrites out of the church as there are in the church.

Rayburn ridiculed the idea ad-

153 MEN ATTEND OPENING DOWNTOWN RELIGIOUS MEET

The men's religious services being held from 10 to 10:30 each morning in the stores, banks and offices of the downtown district in connection with the Rayburn campaign were successful from the start. The first of these services was held Tuesday morning in the lobby of the Colorado National Bank and attended by 153 men.

Dr. Rayburn is making some of his strongest and most gripping appeals in these services. Since the services last but thirty minutes pastors and church workers are working to interest a large number of men and induce them to attend.

THE BUNCH.

A FORD STORY.

The Ford Motor Company reached the half-million mark in the production of Fordson tractors late Thursday afternoon May 21st, when Fordson No. 500,000 came off the assembly line at the River Rouge plant. The half-million tractor was completed at 4:23 o'clock, just a few minutes before the close of the day's work. It is planned to exhibit it at a number of State fairs during the coming summer and fall.

Manufacture of Fordson tractors today presents a striking contrast between the methods employed eight years ago when production began at the old plant at Dearborn. At the start only three or four Fordsons were produced each day and it took weeks to machine some parts. Today at the River Rouge plant, where all tractors are now manufactured and assembled, output is on a schedule calling for 400 Fordsons a day and the production cycle shows that 31 hours and 8 minutes after iron ore has arrived at the River Rouge docks it is converted into Fordson motor blocks and the blocks assembled into complete tractors.

Since its introduction eight years ago the Fordson Tractor has come into world-wide use and has brought a new efficiency into agriculture and the business of farming in nearly every country on the globe. It is estimated that a large majority of all tractors in use today are Fordsons and the Fordson is said to be the only tractor ever placed on the market without a subsequent change in basic design.

It is also a singular fact that long before he dreamed of manufacturing motor cars, Henry Ford was experimenting with engines in an effort to find some means of relieving farm drudgery. Born on a farm, his first glimpse of life was in the daily round of arduous farm duties and in his early boyhood he developed a strong feeling against prevailing agricultural methods.

His first experiments were with steam engines through which he hoped to find the power necessary to relieve the farmer of some of his burdens. That was back in his boyhood when steam was virtually the only power of the time.

LORAIN CITY COUNCIL ADOPTS BAND TAX LAW

At the meeting of the City Council Monday of this week that body adopted the band law that was passed at the last session of the Legislature allowing any municipality of more than five hundred population to assess a tax not in excess of three mills for the support of a municipal band.

Mayor Riden stated the first of the week that the Council would appropriate what funds were necessary for the support of the band, but that no definite portion of the three mills allowed had been decided on, and that the band would be supported as economically as was consistent with the advancement of the organization. He also stated that for the present at least the band would remain under direct control of the Chamber of Commerce and would continue to be known as the Chamber of Commerce band. Mr. Green was appointed from the councilmen as spokesman for the city government and he will co-operate with the managers of the Chamber of Commerce in the direction of the band—Lorraine Leader.

CITIZEN OF OTHER DAYS IS STILL PROUD OF COLORADO

George Y. Wilson, prominent cattleman of near Luther, north of Big Spring, was looking after business affairs in Colorado this week and meeting with his many friends in the city. Mr. Wilson came to Colorado in 1883, when "Colorado City" was the magic boom city of the West. As a building contractor he constructed many of the early business and residence structures of Colorado.

Wilson left Colorado in 1900, 25 years ago and has since been engaged in the cattle business. During this quarter of a century, however, he has never allowed his subscription to the Colorado paper to expire. He has been a subscriber of every newspaper ever published in Colorado, including the daily newspapers and trade journals issued here many years ago. He left his check for The Record another year.

"The Colorado Record is certainly an excellent paper and one the citizenship of your town should be proud," the visitor stated. "My subscription does not expire until July 1, but I do not wish to miss a single copy and am leaving my check for another year now."

As to the city which was his home for many years and of which he is still proud, Mr. Wilson declared that Colorado was one of the very best small cities he knew of in the State. The folks here, too, are not to be excelled by the citizenship of any section, he concluded.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the good people of Colorado and especially to my many white friends, I desire to express my heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses and sympathetic words extended during the illness and death of my beloved mother, Mrs. Mollie Taylor (colored). My mother was a true and faithful servant in the homes of Col. C. M. Adams and the late R. M. Webb and I was formerly here in the Greene & Co. tailoring department and it is with great pleasure and pride that I count so many friends among both white and black in Colorado and to these one and all I extend my thanks. In sorrow, her son,

O. Lambeth returned Saturday evening from Houston where he has been spending two weeks in attendance of the Anderson-Clayton Cotton school.

He is also erecting a modern office building on the southeast corner of this property to be occupied as an office for both gins.

Both of the Lambeth gins will be repaired and placed in first class condition before the new crop is ready to be ginned.

Mr. Lambeth believes in preparedness and it has always been his custom to have his gins equipped second to none.

In a statement Mr. Lambeth said "I have disposed of practically every interest I have except the gin business and will devote my entire personal attention to the operation of the two gins in Colorado and the one in Lamesa the coming season.

The two gins in Colorado will be under the local management of J. E. McCleary and Edd Grubbs who are interested in the properties, but the general supervision will remain with Mr. Lambeth and his policies as used in the past will be continued by McCleary and Grubbs under the direction of Mr. Lambeth, so the patrons of the Lambeth gins can be assured of the same service and courtesy as heretofore.

Lambeth stated that while he was moving his family to Lamesa and assuming the active management of the Lamesa gin he would be in Colorado very frequently during the operating season and would keep in close touch with the operations of his plants here.

DONATIONS TO THE SICK AND ORPHANS ARE EXPECTED HERE

EVERY COMMUNITY CONTRIBUTING TO THE NATIONAL AMERICAN LEGION ENDOWMENT FUND

This community is expected to give its share to the national American Legion Endowment Fund, as other communities throughout the United States are doing. The income from the Endowment Fund is to be used to assist and cure disabled former service men and to provide homes for the orphans and dependent children of war veterans, and the Fund, itself, is to be perpetual.

Thousands of Sick Aided. Those who are familiar at all with the American Legion work, know what this great organization has done to aid the disabled.

Good Home For Every Child. The Legion is determined that every child of a war veteran shall have as good a home, and a real mother's love, as that child would have had if his father had not died for his country.

RAYBURN TELLS CHURCH MEMBERS "PAY THE PRICE"

(Continued from page 1) ... by men that they do not have to serve the Lord and do the work of the church. Five women accepted the invitation and came forward to take their stand for Christ at the conclusion of the Sunday evening service.

Thursday night Dr. Rayburn was to speak on the subject, "The Two Ways," a theme considered one of his best sermons and in which the reward of sin and Christianity is well defined.

Friday night he will speak on the subject, "A Much Disputed Question" Saturday night, "The One Thing Imperative," will be his subject. Sunday will be one of the big days of the campaign. Literally hundreds of interested people from over this county and adjoining towns are expected to be in attendance.

PIERCING POINTERS Gleaned from Sermons by Dr. Rayburn.

The sin of ungratitude is one of the most abominable sins prevalent in the world today. Millions of people who profess to be Christians never thank God for the beautiful sunshine, the air they breathe, the food they eat or for any other bounty of God.

That church member who prefers the foot ball game to the house of worship on Thanksgiving Day, is ungrateful to the God who created him.

You can find regions wherein no small pox exists, another where there is no malaria, and still another where there is no tuberculosis, but no place may be found under heaven wherein sin does not exist.

Every man born under Adam is a sinner. And there are only two kinds of sinners in the eyes of God—the saved and the unsaved.

The president of a great university who spits upon the 18th Amendment has no right to preside over an institution which is moulding the future life of our young people.

Evidence in your city discloses the fact that the commercial interests of Colorado have outgrown your spiritual interests. You can pave your streets, build modern buildings, but the outstanding need in building a city is to build manhood and womanhood, such as the church stands for.

Some men get mad if told their word is not good for fifty cents worth of beef steak, yet they will take the church vows and then persistently disregard them.

It is a good thing to go aside for a while and be ashamed of yourself. God expects me to be just as good in the Fall of the year as He does in the Spring. I believe in Lent, but it should last the whole year through.

SEVEN WELLS NOTES.

Our item failed to appear the last two weeks on account of sickness. We always like to keep folks posted on how Seven Wells is progressing. We have had eight days of high winds have covered the scars of the sanders Field and babies walk and talk and play, who were not born when the last shell burst beyond the Meuse. But the casualty list goes on. During 1924 more than five thousand men died in the United States from disabilities directly originating in their World War service.

At each sunset we know that fifteen more have gone, "Dead on the Field of Honor" as surely as those who rest under the little crosses, row on row, in Northern France. Not mercifully "killed in action" but mercilessly scarred and maimed and tortured these long years, going at last to a rest they have earned not once but a thousand times. And the widows and the orphans are here in more numbers today than yesterday, and more tomorrow than today.

In 1922 the deaths "directly traceable to service origin" were 4,556. In 1923 they fell off to 4,304. In the first half of 1924 they rose again, to 2,721 for half a year. Where is the end to be?

In a hospital in Texas, built by The American Legion, the National Commander of the Legion stood last autumn by the bedside of a "case" in the final stages of tuberculosis. The boy could barely speak. To the strong man holding his hand he whispered: "I know, I am a Legionnaire. For God and Country. God is going along with you, Commander, in your work. See the boys through."

So it is that members of the Legion cannot forget about the war, and will not let America forget. Not so as there is a disabled man who may be cured. Not so long as there is a has been a pleasant visitor in the L. L. Bassham home for the past week and expects to stay next week. A. A. Andrews and family also visited M. Bassham, went to Spensburg, United States, today with Mr. whether evolution is or not. There is no court on the face of the earth that is capable of deciding the value of the theory of evolution; nor is there one having jurisdiction if that question were submitted for decision.

Its most ardent scientific supporters admit that evolution is, at its very best, only a theory as to the origin of mankind. They even admit its imperfections as a theory, and there is no practical value therefore in teaching it to any one. If any kind of guarantee could be given that it would be intelligently taught, as a theory and as nothing else, there could be little danger in such teaching. But the theory of evolution has its very foundation in religious infidelity—in the assumption that there is no God—and this makes of evolution not a sacrifice theory but a religious theory, and of its teaching not a scientific but a religious problem. No state has a right to enact legislation restricting the religious thinking or the religious talking of any man, and when the State of Tennessee said that evolution can not be taught in the public schools, it trespassed, in our opinion, upon the Constitutional guarantees of freedom of religious expression and belief.

Of course, all this argument is beside the point. The first thing to do is to determine whether Scopes is guilty of violating the law of Tennessee; then we will undertake to ascertain whether Tennessee is guilty of attempting to violate the national Constitution. And after this has been accomplished, the press and the pulpit and the people will continue their interrupted controversy over evolution, as though nothing had happened.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY. By ELMO SCOTT WATSON. When Dutch and Swedes Fought on U. S. Soil. When Gustavus Adolphus, the great king of Sweden, saw the success of other European nations in planting colonies in the New World, he resolved in America. Accordingly he formed a colonizing company for that purpose, but his death prevented the plan from being carried out.

Queen Christina and Oronsten, Adolphus' famous minister, however, renewed the project and in 1638 they sent out a colony of "pious, strong, industrious people," who settled in what is now the state of Delaware and called it New Sweden. There they built a fort, which stood near the present city of Wilmington, and they named it Fort Christina in honor of their queen.

The new colony was soon in trouble. This ground was claimed by the Dutch, who had settled New Amsterdam a quarter of a century before, and after several years of bitter dispute between the Dutch and the Swedes, Peter Stuyvesant, the chief of the Dutch, called upon Gov. Jan Rinsing to surrender, how the proposal was scornfully rejected, and how the Dutch warriors, following their ancient rule of always fighting upon a full stomach ate a mighty dinner in preparing for the fray. Then, according to this historian, "brimful of wrath and cabbage," they moved forward to the attack. Just before reaching the fort they paused, lighted their pipes, gave a furious puff and charged gallantly under the cover of the smoke. After an heroic struggle, in which Governor Stuyvesant vanquished Governor Rinsing in single combat, the fort was carried by assault without the loss of a single man on either side!

Although we cannot accept Irving's story unreservedly, the assault on Fort Christina must have been something of an opera bouffe affair, unique in the annals of warfare. But the triumph of the Dutch was short-lived, for in 1664 the English took possession of all the Dutch colonies in America and the British flag supplanted the Dutch banner over Fort Christina. Today no trace of the fort remains, but nearby stands the little gray stone church, built in 1695, the successor of the chapel in the fort where the Swedish colonists worshipped, as a reminder of the fort where once Dutchman and Swede fought in America.

SWEETWATER TRADE TRIPPERS VISIT COLORADO THURSDAY

Traveling in an automobile caravan almost one mile in length, 200 Sweetwater boosters, accompanied by the band, stormed Colorado a few minutes after ten o'clock Thursday morning and spent an hour here before leaving for Snyder on the last lap of a three days trip.

The visitors were welcomed to Colorado in an address by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. County Judge A. S. Mauzey of Nolan county and Will Wade, president of the Sweetwater Luncheon Club, delivered interesting addresses, in which the visitors expressed keen appreciation of the good relations existing between Colorado and Sweetwater.

Miss Stella Watson, assistant secretary of the Sweetwater Board of City Development, armed with a big six shooter and a pair of handcuffs placed Chief of Police Hickman "under arrest" and held him prisoner during the time the delegation was here.

ROGERS LAST OF COUNTY RURAL SCHOOLS TO CLOSE

Rogers school, nine miles northwest of Colorado, closed for the session Wednesday night with graduating exercises at the school building. This was the last of the 24 rural schools in Mitchell county to end the 1924-25 scholastic year. Several of the rural schools were closed with elaborate programs and all of them did excellent work during the year just closing.

1,239 MILES ROADS IN TEXAS TO BE IMPROVED IN 1925

AUSTIN, June 10.—The Federal aid highway construction program in Texas for this year calls for improvement of 1,239 miles of road, the third largest in the United States, according to the state highway department.

Missouri's program is the largest totalling 1,520, and Illinois comes a close second with 1,590 miles. Only two other states, Arkansas and South Dakota, will undertake the building of as much as 1,000 miles during the current year.

The Texas program is more than twice as large as that of 1924, when the total mileage construction was 557. For the entire United States, however, the total for the current year is only 17,322 as compared to 22,207 for last year.

Texas has the largest road mileage of any state, and of the total mileage 10,932 has been approved for Federal aid. The improved mileage is now 6,812 of which 1,696 has been built with Federal aid. Only two states are ahead of Texas in the number of miles of good roads already completed. New York leads the list with 9,783 and Minnesota is second with 6,898.

While Texas is third in improved mileage, she is sixth in revenue from motor licenses fees.

WHEAT HARVEST UNDER WAY IN KANSAS NOW

KANSAS CITY, June 6.—Wheat harvest is under way in Kansas. The whir of reapers and binders was heard in the fields of southeastern Kansas today, presaging the swelling chorus to come out when the gathering of the State's contribution to the national bread basket gets into full swing the middle of this month.

The horde of workers needed to harvest the grain is gathering already at various labor centers. It is estimated there will be employment for 30,000 harvest hands from outside Kansas.

STERLING OIL NEWS.

The recent heavy rains have delayed expected progress of some of the drillers this week.

The Reynolds well was reported yesterday at noon to be 1824 feet deep. They are drilling in lime, which is always interesting to oil men.

While progress at the Clark well has been hampered by high water and washouts in the roads since our last report, yet, Crit Clark reports that drilling still continues. The oil showings in this well around 1,100 feet have been cased off and drilling is going forward in the hope of striking a richer sand at greater depth.

The boiler was put on the ground at the Hardy location in the C. C. Reynolds Cedar Hill pasture. Messrs Hoover and Case expect to spud in at this location on the 15th, inst.

Owing to washouts in the road, transportation of machinery and materials to the Wrightman location on the F. G. Howard survey in W. L. Foster's ranch has been delayed this week. However, the cellar, water well and slushpit are near completion.

Drilling at the Hall-Northrup well in the Spade pasture continues. We learn they are encountering a lime formation alternated with red shale around 1350 feet.

Operations at Durham well No. 2 was resumed last Tuesday after a delay of several days pending the arrival of a new wire cable. This well is being cleaned and deepened with a view of securing a greater flow of oil. While this is being done, drilling in No. 1 is suspended.

Operations still continue at the Douthitt well.

We are told that drilling will be resumed at the Cogdell & Ford well five miles southwest of town soon. If oil is not struck in this well, it is planned to move the rig over to the vicinity of the Durham wells with which to put down a new well.

Everything is reported to be going nicely at the Sloan well.

County Surveyor Kellis has been instructed by the White Eagle Oil and Refining Co. of Wichita, Kansas, to survey out a location for a new well in H. M. Mills' pasture. This location will be in the northeast part of the southeast quarter of section No. 33, block 22, H. & T. C. Ry. Co., and lies south 70 degrees west 10 1/2 miles of town. H. B. McGuire has the contract for drilling this well.—Sterling City News-Record.

HYMAN HAPPENINGS.

Mrs. E. C. Britton went to Colorado Saturday last to meet her daughter, Miss Beulah Mae Britton, who has been visiting relatives at Slaton. Miss Beulah Mae is welcomed back home by a host of friends and says she is glad to be back home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dalton of San Antonio and little daughter Mary, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman of Hyman and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Chalk of Fairview. Mrs. Dalton, who was formerly Miss Lelia Chalk, is well known to the older residents of Colorado. She has not been here for a good many years, and says the country looks very different from what it formerly did.

Mr. J. A. Hardin of Fort Worth spent a few days in the Hyman community this week on business.

Progress on the Scott No. 1 of Sloan, Owens & Stalker has been somewhat delayed the past few weeks by reaming jobs. However, the drill is going steadily again, and interesting developments are hoped for in the next few hundred feet.

The derrick for the second oil test directly within the Hyman community, the name of which will be the Bill Scott No. 1 of Barnum & Henshaw, is being built in the center of the southeastern quarter of survey No. 32, S. P. block 17, belonging to Will T. Scott of San Antonio.

Rev. I. N. Barber of Hyman spent the week-end in Big Spring.

There is still no bridge on Hackberry Creek. We are still hoping for it, and working for it, but this community is becoming more and more alive to the fact that it does not absolutely have to get to Colorado to market its products, or buy its supplies, or borrow its money. Big Spring is only one mile further from the center of this settlement than Colorado is. Coahoma is ten miles closer to the center of this settlement than is Colorado. It is a good market, with gins, stores and banks. The Gossett farm, in the northwest corner of this community is only 11 miles by section lines from Coahoma, and that same farm is only five miles from Hyman postoffice. Reliable report reaches us that the commissioners of Howard county would look with approval on a petition to open a sixty foot road from Coahoma by the most direct route to the Howard county line, in this settlement, and to build a bridge across Beals Creek. At Coahoma this road would connect with the road to Big Spring. We are mostly Mitchell County men with Mitchell county learnings, but we are not sold on the proposition that Colorado is the only market in West Texas. We still want this bridge, and we need it and are entitled to it. We have helped to build every bridge in Mitchell county, and are still helping to pay for some of them. We have given the lands necessary to make our own roads. We have never heretofore asked that a dollar of the taxes we paid be spent in our community. Now we do ask it, and we expect it. We are confident that the Commissioners' Court realizes the justice and reasonableness of our request, and furthermore that they can find a way to give us what we ask. We appreciate the support that many of our friends in Colorado have given us on this proposition, and hope they will keep it up, because we sure don't want to change our trading place.

Mr. J. F. Black has just had a well drilled on his place here. Good water in sufficient quantity to run the place was found at about 75 feet. It is understood that there are several other water wells to be drilled here in the immediate future.

Mr. R. C. Scott, who has been for several weeks visiting in San Antonio, is again at Hyman.

Mr. Harry Hyman and Mr. Bob Scott spent Saturday in San Angelo on business connected with oil development here.

The crew at the old McCauley well on the Douthitt ranch, a few miles south of Hyman school house, is steadily at work and is said to be making good time. It is doubtful whether the whole history of oil development a bunch of men has stuck more persistently to a proposition than these men have done. They have stuck, too, when it was hard to stick, and we are all for them down here. We hope they will bring in the first well.

Final papers are being prepared for execution to insure the drilling of the third well strictly in our community on the H S Ranch. This will be in the Hayrick pasture, a few miles west of the store. It will probably be on land belonging to Mrs. Harry Hyman, or on land which she has recently sold, and in which she still has a part of the oil rights. Contract has been made with S. A. Sloan and S. S. Owens for the drilling of this well, and it is reported that a part of the drilling block has been turned over to the Deeprock Oil Co. who will put down the well. Lots of us down here are playing this well for a strong favorite. It will be in territory that has been spoken of most favorably, many times, by oil men.

Mr. Brown F. Lee appraiser for the Federal Land Bank, accompanied by representatives of the Colorado National Farm Loan Association, spent a couple of days in this community last week inspecting farms for loans in the Federal Land Bank. Both Mr. Lee and the local representatives expressed strong approval of the way the community has developed since they made their first trip here a little over a year ago. The proof of the pudding being in the chewing of the string, we are glad to report that the loans now being offered by the bank reflect this op-proval. They are considerably higher than at first authorized, but candor compels the confession that they are still far below loans made by this bank in other parts of Texas ranking far below Mitchell county as a producer of cotton. However, time cures many things, and we believe that Mitchell county, along with the balance of West Texas, will finally be ranked where it belongs by this bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Gates of Andrews county spent several days visiting the family of Mr. George Gates of Hyman.

H.A.H.

WEST TEXAS.

"I never saw better prospects for making a bumper crop in Mitchell County," is the expression of farmers from over Colorado territory who were in town this week. They declare that the young crops are coming up to a good stand, in most instances, and are growing off very rapidly. The rains of last week, totaling more than two inches, left another bottom season in the ground and could not have fallen at a more opportune time.

From all parts of West Texas, come the same reports. Crop prospects were never better in the history of this part of the State, and it is no idle statement when that is said. It can be backed up with the proof. In fact, the crop prospects of this part of the State are so alluring, that this section is attracting the notice of folks all over the country, and as a result many of them are coming out. West Texas is just beginning to get recognition as a great crop producing section. It is just coming into its own.—Abilene Reporter.

A GRAND DAUGHTER

Letter from Mrs. R. A. Clements down at Sonora asks us to announce the birth of a little granddaughter to Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Ferguson. Mrs. Ferguson is the daughter of Mrs. Clements. Aside from the allusion to this fine baby girl the letter says in part:

"Mr. Clements is building the Methodist church here. Pretty slow work as the basement has to be blasted out of almost solid rock. It's a very picturesque little town. Hill's rocks and live oaks along the little creeks with red birds mocking birds in the trees singing all day and all night. The town is enterprising enough to have it's own supply of lights ice and a never ending supply of the finest water I ever drank. The power house water and ice all on the top of a high hill. We are enjoying living here till the church is complete but I'd not like to stay always."

5 DAYS' RESPITE IS GIVEN THE NOEL NEGROES

AUSTIN, Texas, June 6.—Because their day of execution was set for Sunday, June 28, Frank Noel and Lorenzo Noel, negro brothers, given death for criminal assault on Mrs. Mary Steer in Dallas April 12, Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today granted the two men a respite of five days.

"The Sabbath is a day recognized by all civilized nations as day of rest and worship and mindful of the command 'Remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy' and believing it is in keeping with the sentiment of a people of a Christian nation that no criminals should be executed on the Sabbath, and out of reverence for this day and respect for its sacredness, these two men are given this respite," the pardon said.

GEMS FROM BIBLE.

And it came to pass as we went to prayer, a certain damsel, possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by sooth-saying. But Paul being grieved turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour. And when her masters saw that the hope of their gain was gone they caught Paul and Silas and brought them to the magistrates and the magistrates rent off their clothes and commanded to beat them. And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison.—Acts 16:16-23.

SWEETWATER MAN TELLS OF BATTLES IN WESTERN TEXAS

The several Indian tribes named above held a council at Medicine River, in Indian Territory, and determined to go on the warpath against the whites. They divided up into varying sized forces and went on the warpath, taking different directions. They killed, burned and plundered in Southwest Kansas; they attacked and killed whom they met in Western Indian Territory, right at their very reservations; they attacked Major Compton of the United States Army, with a small force of United States soldiers, near where Woodward, Ok., now is located, and were beaten off. They killed four buffalo hunters at two different camps near Adobe Walls and the fact becoming known that the Indians were on the warpath sent a number of the hunters into Adobe Walls. This was the situation at Adobe Walls early on the morning of June 27, 1874. There were twenty-eight men in the saloon and two store buildings during that night. In the very early morning of June 27, an unusual noise waked several of the men, including Billy Dixon, and they decided to stay up, and thus were able to detect the Indians in their attempt to deliver a surprise attack on Adobe Walls. The Indians attacked viciously the men in the several buildings riding right up to the buildings and firing. But every man in the buildings was a crack shot, else he would not have been there, and the hunters succeeded in fighting off the Indians. Several men on the outside of the buildings were killed and on the fifth day one of those on the inside was killed accidentally. Just how many Indians were killed or wounded was never known, as the redskins always carried away their dead and wounded whenever possible. But there were twelve or more killed right at or near Adobe Walls. The statement has been published that this attack commenced on Sunday morning. The calendar shows that June 27, 1874, was on Saturday. After the fight was over and when the stench began to annoy the men dug a pit for twelve horses which lay piled up together between Rath's store and the saloon and buried them in it. The other dead horses and the dead Indians were dragged off on the prairie and left to the coyotes and buzzards. (The Dixon Book) General Miles says that twelve Indian heads were sticking on corral pickets and their bodies lying where they were killed. All of the hunters' horses had been killed or taken off and so the hunters were afoot. But other hunters soon came hurrying in after the fight with horses. After about a week a party consisting of Dixon and several others set out for Fort Dodge, Kan., to report the situation. They went to Fort Dodge because it was nearer to that place than to any post or settlements in Texas. The Indians were under the care and protection of the Interior Department of the Government at Washington, and before the United States Army could take the field against them, though the Indians were on the warpath, permission had to be obtained from the Interior Department. This permission was granted on July 21. Immediately thereafter Gen. Nelson A. Miles, then Colonel in the United States Army, was ordered to Fort Dodge to fit up an expedition to make war on the Indians in the region of the Panhandle of Texas, Western Oklahoma, Southwestern Kansas, and Eastern New Mexico. His force consisted of about 900 men well equipped. Gen Miles was one of the best known Indian fighters in the army. At the same time Major Price was ordered eastward from Fort Bascom, N. M., the same fort from which Carson had come. He came down the Canadian with about 250 men. Lieutenant Colonel Davidson was ordered to proceed westward from Fort Sill with another considerable force and Major Buell and Lieut. Col. Neill took position with their forces near the reservation in Indian Territory. General Mackenzie was ordered up from Texas with eight companies of cavalry, using Fort Griffin as his base. There was not a more effective fighter in the whole army than Gen. Mackenzie. All of these several officers were ordered to a common point—the Panhandle of Texas, with orders to crush the hostile Indians wherever they were found. Thus there was placed in the field 2,000 or more men, of the best that the United States Army had, under officers as good as the army had. At least six of them had risen to the rank of Brigadier General or Major General of Volunteers in the War between the States, four of them subsequently became Brigadier Generals, three of them Colonels and two of them became Lieutenant Generals and commanders in chief of the United States Army—Miles and Chaffee. General John Pope was in command of the Department of the Missouri, with headquarters at Fort Leavenworth, and Gen. Augur in Texas, with San Antonio as headquarters. General Sheridan was in command of the military division of the Missouri, with headquarters at Chicago, and therefore in general command of the situation. General Pope reported that when the post traders and the buffalo hunters after the affair at Adobe Walls applied to him for protection to permit them to remain and continue in business, he flatly refused for the reason that they had no right in the region, that they had no trading license or permit of any sort to be there and that they had been selling whiskey and arms and ammunition to the Indians, contrary to law. Billy Dixon, one of those who was in the thick of the fighting when the Indians attacked Adobe Walls on June 27, accepted service under Gen. Miles as a guide and scout, and came back with the soldiers and continued in that position until 1885. The soldiers arrived at Adobe Walls just in time to ward off another attack by the Indians. When the post traders were refused the protection they had asked they abandoned their business ventures, hauling off some of their goods but leaving some of them, which the Indians were too suspicious to use. And thus the war in the Panhandle opened and continued until the spring of 1875. During that time there were twenty-five engagements between hostile Indians and United States soldiers in the region in question, and twenty of them occurred on Texas soil. One of the largest engagements occurred near the mouth of Tule Canyon, on the banks of Red River, between Gen. Miles' commanding twelve companies of United States Cavalry and a much larger force of Indians. The Indians had posted themselves in good military fashion so as to get the protecting benefit of the bluffs on the banks of Red River, and were in position to have given the soldiers more serious trouble than they did, but Gen. Miles surprised them, routed them and drove them out onto the open plains killing and capturing many ponies and killing quite a number of Indians, the exact number not stated. General Mackenzie, moving up from the south by way of Fort Concho and Fort Griffin, took position in Blanco Canyon, near where is now located the famous Hank Smith rock house, the first ever built in that region, and at which there was established later the first postoffice in that section of country and probably the first in all the Panhandle-Plains country. The land in that vicinity, by the way, now is owned by C. U. Conellee, vice president of this association. The military map of the period designates this headquarters of Gen. Mackenzie as Anderson's supply camp, and it was maintained as a United States Army camp for several years. Gen. Miles and the other officers and forces co-operating with him would hunt down the Indians, whip them and drive them to their reservations, or, if they managed to get away, they would be forced southward into Gen. Mackenzie's area of activity; and there he would catch and whip them. About a month after Gen. Miles' engagement at the mouth of Tule Canyon, Gen. Mackenzie had an engagement near the same place, when he killed and captured 1,400 to 2,000 Indian ponies, the battlefield being marked for years by the bleached bones of Indian ponies. The Indians were whipped, their ponies taken from them or killed, and they were sent into their reservations afoot. These are but samples of the battles and the manner of warfare that it took to clear West Texas of the Indians, that went on very earnestly until the spring of 1875. The Indians were given no time for rest. Regardless of weather they were hunted down everywhere. Even in January, 1875, when the thermometer was 25 degrees below zero and the streams of the Panhandle were frozen over so hard that the army wagon trains crossed over on the ice, the work of the army in subduing the Indians went right on and the loss inflicted on them in killed and wounded, in ponies, lodges and property of other descriptions was great and irreparable. No reports were made of the number of Indians killed by the soldiers. Gen. Sheridan was in general command, and he believed that there were no good Indians except dead ones. Their favorite haunts were cleared and occupied, and though they tried by every means to evade pursuit and make it impossible, they found no place of security, and as they explained when driven in to the agencies, they could find no place to have a quiet night's rest. Their usual depredations incident to a season of hostilities was, to a great extent, prevented while they were continually harassed, hunted down and whipped in every engagement of importance until the powerful tribes, that of few months before went forth in the possession of thousands of ponies, abundant weapons of war and their own prowess, were thoroughly subjugated, humbled, and impoverished and were finally driven to surrender their arms, their stock and their captives and place themselves at the mercy of the Government; and thus the Indian question for West Texas was settled, as it was likewise settled between 1874 and 1880, in a belt of country about 400 miles wide and extending from the Rio Grande to Canada.

The Power of Money
RIGHTLY USED

Money is a power for good only when it is used profitably and productively. It can be either a blessing to the community, or a constant source of misery to its owner.

Every dollar that is kept from circulation; that is denied the right to help others, through deposit in the bank, retards the progress of the community. Put your idle dollars in the bank.
