WORK ON $125,000 COMPRESS FOR COLORADO STARTS
NEW DEPARTMENT STORE WILL BE OPENED SATURDAY
CALVERT MAN IS NAMED SUPERINTENDENT OF COLORADO SCHOOLS

MODERN PLANT TO REPLCE ONE DESTROYED BY FIRE RECENTLY

Old Site Cleared and Press Being Raised; Work Rushed, Said

Work was begun Monday on the new $125,000 compress to be erected here by John Guitler to replace the old plant destroyed by fire some months ago.

The old press is being razed. About a dozen men are at work on this. A large tower built of heavy timbers 12 by 12 inches has been erected and is being used to lower the heavy press parts, many of which weigh tons.

D. T. Perkins, superintendent of construction for the John Guitler interests, is here in charge of the work, and he is being assisted by W. R. Perry of the Webb press factory of Ann Arbor, Michigan.

R. R. Harryman, manager of the compress, stated Wednesday that the plant to be erected would be a modern plant and would be constructed in a way to expedite handling of cotton. Many features of the new plant will be in advance of the old one burned. Capacity of the plant will be about 50,000 bales per season, which is in excess of the old one. The old plant handled 42,000 bales last season and operated at almost full capacity.

Harryman says it is planned to construct a two-track plant, but changes may be made in the plans later. Where two tracks are used, one for incoming cotton and one for outgoing cotton, the plant can handle much more staple, and the Colorado plant should be this type, Harryman says.

The new plant will be completed and in operation for the coming season, according to J. H. Guitler, manager for the Guitler interests here.

Twenty cars of cattle have been shipped to market from Colorado within the past few days, according to W. B. Ralph, local agent for the Texas & Pacific. All the shipments except one car went to Fort Worth and Kansas City. Six cars went to the latter market, all being shipped by John Guitler from his fattening pens here.

W. J. Tubb recently shipped two cars, Roy Conner one, Less Terry three, J. L. Thomas one, Lay Powell three, Wylie Farnsworth one, E. Barber one, and H. E. Lowellen one car, all to Fort Worth market. John Guitler shipped six cars to Kansas City and one to El Paso.

Mrs. T. W. Stonerod, Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett and Roddy Brooks Merritt chaperoned the following young ladies to Christoval Monday: Misses Margaret Mann, Catherine Price, Mary Dixon Smith, Lady Byrd Fowles, Virginia Thompson and Virginia Stonerod. They expect to return Friday.

Coach "Big Jim" To Remain With Colorado School

"Big Jim" Cantrill, for two years coach of the Colorado Wolves, will not go to Abilene, but will remain with the Colorado schools and coach the Wolves the coming season, he said Thursday morning. Rumors had been heard here that Cantrill would go to Abilene high school and friends and admirers here got busy and requested the coach not to be an applicant for the Abilene position, and he decided to withdraw his name from a list of acceptable timber for the Abilene position, even though the salary there would probably exceed that offered here.

Coach Cantrill has been by far the most successful and most popular athletic coach the Colorado schools have ever had, and the citizens of this city insist that he stay with the school here, and will be glad to know that he has definitely stated he would remain in this city and will continue to lead the Wolf pack.

CHAMBER COMMERCE SPONSORS COTTON GOODS WEEK HERE

Secretary Greene Urges All Merchants to Join in Movement

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Cotton Goods Week in Colorado and is urging the merchants of this city to join in a movement to create a greater demand for cotton goods. J. H. Greene, secretary, is advocating a nation-wide movement to put on a Cotton Goods Week in all the cities and towns of the country, and has sent out considerable correspondence on the subject.

In conversation with the Record editor Wednesday, Greene said: "Will Cotton be king?"

"The continued custom of American people to discard cotton wearing apparel in favor of the more delicate fabrics, together with an over-abundant cotton crop last year, brought upon us the inevitable result: Cotton too cheap to bring the producer a living and equitable wage for his labor, therefore we should, all of us, try to eliminate this trouble by buying and wearing cotton goods upon every occasion.

This, however, should not be a sacrifice for the pendulum of fashion has again swung to cotton fabrics. From Paris' fashionable openings also from the New England style shows and fashionable centers there is reflected the good news that cotton is in the ascendancy.

"Improved manufacturing methods together with exhaustive scientific research have enabled the modern mill to produce fabrics in bewildering array of fast colors and to design fabrics that discerning women should admire because of their style and beauty. Cotton fabrics are necessarily American. The very warp and woof of progress is woven into this material. So then let's all pull together and try to improve this matter.

"Let the merchants declare a Cotton Goods Week, selling these goods as cheaply as is consistent with good business, and then, let the people buy freely of this material, and when sufficient people adopt this method in my opinion Cotton will again be King."

Piggly Wiggly Installs Modern Frigidaire Cooler

In order to meet the demands of Colorado and surrounding territory for grocery and meat supplies, which only a higher class of refrigeration will keep, the Piggly Wiggly Store has installed during the past week a large Frigidaire system in their big cooler box, which was purchased from T. M. Garrett, local dealer for this General Motors product. Garrett installed the machine.

J. W. Randle, owner of the Piggly Wiggly store, is well known through this territory for his constant desire to give his customers the best of values in vegetable, meat and dairy products. Through the use of the efficient fin coils of the Frigidaire cooling system, he is able to present to his many patrons better preserved and more wholesome foods. The near-freezing dry atmosphere maintained by Frigidaire almost eliminates the growth of bacteria and greatly lessens the danger of contamination so frequently found with poor refrigeration. Meats and dairy products will retain their original delicious flavors which is not possible with temperatures above 50 degrees.

Another advantage Piggly Wiggly customers will gain is the use of the large reserve stock of vegetables now possible and any unexpected shortage in the wholesale market will not affect the purchasers' supply one way or the other.

Mr. Randle invites the public to inspect the installation at any time convenient and will gladly give any information or answer any question desired.

SURVEYING FOR HIGHWAY PROGRESSING VERY SATISFACTORY

Plans and Specifications For First Section Almost Complete

Work of surveying the route of the Barkhead highway through Mitchell county to build the paved highway recently authorized by the voters is progressing satisfactorily. Engineer Hiland and his crew having worked from the west county line to Westbrook. The first section of sixteen miles from the west county line east has been practically finished and plans and specifications for this section will be completed in a short time, and Judge C. C. Thompson says the commissioners' court is anxious to see the contract let for construction of this first section.

Engineer Hiland says plans and specifications are being prepared for a real highway across this county and that he is using every means to hasten the work.

Judge Thompson said Wednesday afternoon that the work was progressing very satisfactory and that as soon as plans and specifications were finished bids would be received for construction, with approval of the State and Federal departments.

It is said that the section from the west county line to Westbrook will be the first to receive actual work, which is indeed a good plan. All of the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, however.

ACORN STORES, INC. INSTALL UNIQUE AND MODERN SYSTEM HERE

Part of Big Chain Store Merchandising Concern Fifty Years Old

GOODS ARRIVING DAILY

Part of Stocks Not Yet In; Big Opening Day Expected

Colorado's newest department store will open Saturday morning, after having spent three weeks getting the building and stock in shape and will present an unique system of department store merchandising to the people of this section.

This store is the Acorn Department Store in the Earnest & Thomas building, next to the Colorado National Bank. A large crew of workmen and clerks have been busy getting the large stock of goods in shape for opening Saturday, and despite the fact that some of the stock has not yet arrived, the store is full of merchandise of all kinds and most every kind of household necessity, clothing, etc., can be bought there.

The Acorn Stores are backed by an old merchandising concern with millions of capital, the local manager states, and the Colorado store is one of a big chain of stores all over the country, many of which are in Texas. The company owns stores at Lubbock, Abilene, Big Spring, Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, and other places, and the management states that the Colorado store will carry exactly the same kind and quality of stock as these stores and will sell at an equally low price.

The system used by the Acorn Stores is an unique one, and one that is new to the people of this section. The management invites everyone to call at the store on opening day and view the new store and the stocks and see the prices, which are marked in plain figures on all goods in the store.

The arrangement of the stock is so that customers may be served conveniently, and as far as possible the stock is displayed so the customer can see the goods and the price without assistance.

J. T. McCullough is manager of the Colorado store and he is making every effort to have the store completely stocked and arranged as per schedule for the Saturday morning opening. J. B. Miller, district manager for the company, has been in Colorado this week assisting in getting the store ready to open, and directing the work, and he is enthusiastic over the outlook for this store. He says Colorado is the best town of its size he has found and he has no fear but that his company's store here will do a very satisfactory business.

The managers from the Big Spring and Plainview stores have also been here and a large number of local men and women have been employed all week in arranging the stock and preparing the store for opening.

Headquarters for the Acorn Stores is in New York, where the buying, shipping and general offices occupy nineteen complete floors in several large buildings, and employs hundreds of men and women. The concern claims to have millions in resources and to do a gross business yearly running into hundreds of millions.

The Colorado store has a page ad in this issue of the Record, and those

Dorn's Chapel Revival Started Wednesday Eve

A revival meeting is being conducted at Dorn's Chapel (Union) Methodist church, beginning Wednesday evening, June 15. Rev. L. E. Northcutt, pastor, is doing the preaching. Miss Jessie Stell of Colorado is assisting with the music and has charge of the young people's work.

The meeting will run through two Sundays, ending June 26.

The public is not only invited, but urged to attend.

CITY PARK ON LONE WOLF IS POSSIBILITY IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Proposal to Build Small Dam and Interest City in Park is Made

A beautiful city park on Lone Wolf creek north of the highway leading east out of Colorado is a possibility and it is probable the park will be established in the near future under supervision of the city officials, if proposals made this week are carried out.

Suggestions from citizens of the city who see the crying need for some kind of park have been placed before the Chamber of Commerce and it is likely that something will be done to at least to bring this matter before the city authorities.

Colorado is the largest town in the State that has no park or place for recreation, and since this city is considered an important point on the greatest transcontinental highway in the United States, it is imperative that a park of some kind be provided, which would be used more by local citizens, but would also be an inviting spot for tourists.

It has been stated that a local citizen has indicated he would donate a fund to create such a park, and the suggestion or statement has been made that a memorial park would be created and named for this individual. At any rate, this city needs a park and should have one of the best in the country. Lone Wolf creek would be valued at millions of dollars if it were as near many cities as it is Colorado. There is no question but that a fine park could be created on this creek with a small outlay of money and The Record would urge those who are advocating the park not to let up until the arrangements are completed and the park is established. We know of no other one thing that would be of greater value to the city than a good park on this creek. What say you?

Mr. and Mrs. Tol Sheffield and daughter of San Angelo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stonerod. They were very much delighted with the improvements in Colorado since their last visit here.

Interested in prices should read this ad. Readers can get some idea of the values offered from this advertisement.

The store will open Saturday morning, and although a very large crowd is expected, arrangements are being made to care for an unusual volume of business and the management hopes to be able to serve all customers promptly.

Mills Chevrolet Co. Launches Used Car Sale Today

J. B. Mills, owner of the Mills Chevrolet company, announces a big O. K. Used Car sale to begin today and close Saturday, June 25, during which time 40 used cars will be sold at great sacrifice prices.

Mills says all the cars offered have been reconditioned in his plant and have the Chevrolet red O. K. tag on them, which means that any car purchased under this O. K. guarantee may be driven for five days and if for any reason purchaser is not satisfied he may turn the car back on purchase of any other car provided the car is returned in as good condition as when bought.

The company advertises that they sell used cars for what they actually are, and tolerate no misrepresentations, and guarantee the truth regarding used cars sold by them.

CHAMBER COMMERCE ENDORSES FLYING SCHOOL IN COLORADO

Will Back Promoters in Their Efforts to Establish Field Here

The Colorado Chamber of Commerce will get behind the Student Flying club and place its unconditional endorsement on the proposition.

At a meeting of the board of directors, held on June 10, L. B. Collier, J. Ralph Lee and J. H. Greene were named as a special committee to look into the proposal to establish a student's flying field here and to pass upon the assistance, if any, that the Chamber of Commerce would render. After fully investigating the matter and finding the enthusiasm manifested, this committee pledged the Colorado Chamber of Commerce to cooperate with Barber, Coles et al to the extent of giving its unconditional endorsement to the organization, assist them in raising the necessary funds and, if needed, to make a liberal contribution toward completion of the hangar.

This is as it should be. There is no livelier subject before the American people today than aeronautics and its development. So important does this appear that the Abilene Chamber of Commerce thought it worth while to send a special committee to Los Angeles, California, to confer with the Aero Corporation there relative to making Abilene a landing field. Other towns are exerting themselves and Colorado should not lag behind.

Whether Colorado succeeds or not in its efforts to be named as a landing field on this transcontinental route, we are close enough to the field that will be so designated that we shall receive much benefit therefrom if we have a suitable landing field and maintain a plane here. Then, too, there is always the possibility of emergency landings and soon Colorado will be a station on the aerial highway.

With a suitable landing field, fuel equipment, hangars and one or more planes here it will be but a matter of time until Colorado will receive due recognition. In the meantime many of our young men and women will be learning the secret of the air and will be trained for handling commercial transport planes. We are glad to see the Chamber of Commerce backing the efforts to establish this field.

Methodist Class Picnic Tuesday Was Enjoyable Affair

One of the most enjoyable events of the season occurred Tuesday evening at Seven Wells, when Mrs. J. E. McCleary's Sunday school class of the Methodist church were hostesses to T. W. Stonerod's class of men at an old-fashioned barbecue and picnic.

The barbecue was an outcome of a contest between the two classes in which the men were the victors. The two classes comprise the largest classes in the Methodist church and the event was largely attended.

The beef for the occasion was donated by Sam Wulfin and was barbecued under his direction and from expressions from those present was "done to a turn." Cakes, pies, salads and black coffee comprised the balance of the menu and there was an abundance of the "eat."

The crowd gathered around the long table at about 8 o'clock and after the invocation by the pastor, Rev. M. M. Beavers, proceeded to do justice to the ample spread, after which for an hour or more the crowd enjoyed various games, such as skipping the rope, dropping the handkerchief, etc., in which amusement the grown-ups joined in.

Five Steps In Successful Poultry Management

ARE AS FOLLOWS—

- (1) Keep only pure bred birds.
- (2) Weed out the non-producers.
- (3) Give them a clean, comfortable house.
- (4) Feed a perfectly balanced ration.
- (5) Keep records to show you which feed to use to make the most money.

The best way to make sure of feeding a perfectly balanced ration, is to feed Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow, packed in Checkboard Bars. If fed the year 'round, they will produce the most eggs and largest profits for you—

BECAUSE—

- (1) They contain the best Variety of ingredients.
- (2) They contain the highest Quality of ingredients.
- (3) They contain the proper Proportions of ingredients.
- (4) They are mixed Thoroughly and Uniformly by Machinery.

Purina Chows Produce the Most Eggs for you at the Least Cost

Poultry Raisers Learn Ways of Making Their Flocks Pay Better Profits Than Before

"Keep only pure-bred birds. Weed out the slacker. Give your birds a comfortable house. Feed a perfectly balanced ration. Keep records of the feed used and results produced and figure your profit."

This was the theme of the intensely interesting lecture on "More Profitable Poultry Raising," as presented by W. M. Wood, Poultry Field Man of the Purina Mills Poultry Educational department, at the City Tabernacle Thursday night.

Instead of the usual dull lecture, the points were brought out very forcibly in the form of an interesting play in four acts, entitled, "The Lay of a Hen."

The hero of the play was W. R. Luce, Field Service Man for the Purina Mills, as "Mr. Lett M. Russell."

The Poultry Field Man took the part of "Phil R. Baskett," Jimmy Logan was Red E. Serviss, the feed dealer and poultry service man.

The play itself was educational, the plot being worked out to show how the average poultry raiser loses money every year by his hazardous methods in feeding and caring for his flock.

"Lett M. Russell" brought many good laughs from the audience by his characterization of the fellow who is utterly disgusted with his luck raising chickens.

His wife, however, realizes that one can make a comfortable income with their poultry and persuades him to call on a neighbor, Phil R. Baskett, who is a successful poultryman and who gladly offers Russell advice and assistance toward making his flock more profitable.

Phil R. Baskett's plan for success with poultry raising as presented to Lett M. Russell, was as follows:

First: Keep only pure-bred birds. A pure-bred layer backed by years of successful breeding is far superior to a scrub-hen, the result of haphazard crossing of all varieties.

Second: Weed out the slackers. Keep only the producers. Approximately $230,000,000.00 are thrown away by the farmers of the United States every year in feeding culls.

Third: Give the birds a comfortable house. The following factors are essential to a comfortable house: 1—Good location 2—Plenty of room 3—Well ventilated 4—Dry and sanitary 5—Properly equipped with mash hoppers, water fountains and nests.

Fourth: Feeding a perfectly balanced ration one that supplies an equal number of yolks and whites above bodily maintenance.

Fifth: Keep records and feed your flock the way that your records prove makes you the most net profit.

The play was original and unique in every way and was greatly appreciated by an enthusiastic audience.

Legion and Auxiliary Meeting

The American Legion and Women's Auxiliary met Friday evening in the Hut. The Legion had a business session in the body of the Hut, and the Auxiliary met in the library. No delegates to the State meeting in Houston, July 4, 5, 6, were elected by the men, but the women named Mrs. A. L. Whiskey, Mrs. J. G. Merritt and Mrs. C. C. Thompson as delegates, with Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Williams as alternates. No delegates were to be paid by the body.

Visits were reported by the Auxiliary's adopted boy and every member was urged to visit him. A box of children's clothes was reported sent to Kerrville. Letters were read from the rehabilitation chairman, from the Lubbock Auxiliary and from chairmen of committees asking for reports. It was voted to send a box of old silk stockings and other silk scraps to the boys in an Arkansas hospital who make rugs. The Auxiliary makes a plea to every woman in Colorado for old silk hose and silk underwear, to help these invalid soldiers employ their time.

It was voted that the two bodies meet at the same time during the summer months. At the conclusion of the business sessions, the two bodies came together and Mrs. Merritt reported on the fifth division meeting at Lubbock, telling of the beautiful manner in which the town was decorated, the lovely arrangements in the Presbyterian church, and the inspiring sight of the more than two hundred Legionnaires marching in the inspirational speeches and the plans for more members. Texas Legion is pledged to get 20,000 and on June 2 had only 17,733, and the books close on June 19. Neither the Oran C. Hooker post nor the unit have reached their quota of 60 each. Without members the work cannot go on as it should.

She told of the sixteenth district meeting in San Angelo, the delightful entertainment of the post and unit, and the need of extra work in our district right now for more members. At the close of her talk, Mrs. Benton Templeton joined the Auxiliary. Refreshments of delicious pie and iced tea was served by the unit. Mrs. Walter Stoneham, Miss Ruby Lynch and Miss Muncure Carter were guests.

The treasurer reported flowers bought for several sick members. A number of visits to sick and strangers were reported. Mrs. Doss had offered herself and her car to help locate places for this work. Special prayer that the Christians of the town might meet their obligations to transients was led by Mrs. Arnett and Mrs. Gustine.

The class enjoyed as visitors Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Gustine, Mrs. Conzel Watson, and were glad to have Mrs. Costin, who has been sick, out again. The hostess and her little daughters and son served sandwiches and iced tea.

The treasurer reported $1,100 made during the year, a wonderful achievement, all felt. This was the time for the yearly election of officers and the following will serve for the coming year: President, Mrs. Sam Armstrong; vice president, Mrs. L. Allmond; secretary, Mrs. Ed Jones; treasurer, Mrs. L. W. Sandusky; special treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Jones. Each member pledged her support to the new officers and also pledged to get the absent members to attend all meetings. Adjourned.

Presbyterian Mission Study Circle
The Mission Study Circle of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Monday with Mrs. Daugherty. The devotional was led by the president, Mrs. Moffatt, the subject being "Christian Mothers." Timothy's mother and grandmother were used as examples. Mrs. Jerold Riordan conducted the Bible study from Psalms. The lesson was led by Mrs. Oscar Smith. The subject was Industrial and Educational Missions. Miss Nell Riordan told of the educational school in Kiang Yung, China, also how the king was treated for fever at Bulaki. Mrs. Jerold Riordan told of the industrial school at Chin Kiang, China, also of the girls' industrial school in Korea. The ladies were particularly interested in this last, since they have been selling some of the products made there. Mrs. Dolman gave a general survey of industrial schools in China. Miss Mamie Riordan told how a converted Korean mother brought her family to Christ. Mrs. Elliott told of missions in Mexico. The study closed with the Mizpah benediction. The hostess served ice cream and angel cake. She had as guests her daughter, Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Guitard.

The next meeting is with Mrs. Moffatt.

Presbyterian Church Picnic
Last week the Presbyterian church folks had a very delightful picnic out at the Van Tuyl ranch. About one hundred and fifty Presbyterians and their friends gathered at the church and drove out to the ranch. First, they viewed Mr. Daves' golf course, then they went down to a grove where Mr. Daves and Mr. Thomas had arranged seats and tables. Here a calf donated by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Maddin had been barbecued. The Sunday school furnished bread, coffee and lemonade. The ladies each took cakes, pies and salads, and a delicious feast was enjoyed. The church is especially grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Maddin for their contribution. The barbecue was the very best part of the whole picnic, and all of it was just as nice as could be.

Home Department
The Home Department of the Methodist Missionary society met Monday in the basement of the church with Mrs. S. O. Wulfjen as hostess. The chairman, Mrs. W. L. Doss, called the meeting to order. Mrs. McCleary acted as secretary. Mrs. Arnett led in prayer. The parsonage committee reported papering and new furniture, and some painting needed. It was voted to fix the up-stairs room and paper the downstairs bed room. It was voted to have an ice cream supper Friday night on Mrs. Wallace's lawn. A committee was appointed to arrange for this. Music will be furnished and a good time promised all who come. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. Dues, flower fund, and donations for cream was collected, while those who would make cakes promised to do so. Mrs. Pidgeon and Mrs. Winn served ice cream and wafers and the meeting adjourned.

Baptist Woman's Missionary Society
The Baptist women met Monday at the church for their regular monthly Missionary program. Mrs. A. L. Whiskey was leader. She had Psalm 117 read in unison, after which Mrs. Gustine led in prayer. The program was on Children and Missions, and the work of the young people that was discussed from different angles, by Mesdames A. L. Whiskey, Jack Smith, H. P. Slagel, and D. W. Morgan. Mrs. Robert Terrell gave a splendid original paper, "Tools," which closed the meeting. All were invited into the Sunday school parlors, where Mrs. George Huth and Mrs. C. P. Gary served cherry punch and two kinds of cake. The meetings Monday will be in Circles. Circle One meets with Mrs. O. Lambeth, Circle Two with Mrs. Green Delaney, Circle Three with Mrs. C. P. Gary, and Excel Circle with Mrs. D. W. Morgan.

Class Picnic
The Woman's Wesley Bible class very delightfully entertained the Methodist Business Men's class on Tuesday evening at Seven Wells with a barbecue and picnic. The very nicest thing about it was the calf given by Mr. Sam Wulfjen, one of the winners, for the party. The ladies provided cakes and salads and a lovely supper was enjoyed. Games were played. The "mothers" and "business men" became little girls and boys again and jumped rope and did other childish stunts, but all had a mighty good time.

Country Club
Club night will be observed tonight (Thursday) with Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Price and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mills as entertainers.

Ladies day is the first Wednesday in July with Mrs. Randle and Mrs. Ralph Lee as hostesses.

U. D. C. Meeting
The U. D. C. will meet Tuesday at 3:30 with Mrs. R. N. Gary. A good attendance is desired.

Christian Aid
The Christian Aid of the First Christian church met Monday in the church parlors. Mrs. Ed Jones led the devotional. The usual business was transacted. The treasurer reported $1,100 made during the year, a wonderful achievement, all felt. This was the time for the yearly election of officers and the following will serve for the coming year: President, Mrs. Sam Armstrong; vice president, Mrs. L. There Are More Miles Per Dollar In A Used Car Than In A New Car

When you purchase an automobile, whether high, medium, or low in price, you invest in the mileage that car was built to stand. The mileage you secure expressed in terms of dollars and cents is the return on your investment. Necessarily, the lower the first cost in comparison to the mileage of your car contains the greater your return.

The Chevrolet is recognized as a standard of comparison for economical quality transportation. All of our Used Cars have been thoroughly checked and reconditioned where needed and carry the Chevrolet O. K.

Why are We Willing to Stand Behind Our Cars

The Used Car Department is today the most important part of the automobile business. Very nearly everyone who buys a new car has a car to trade in on it, and as a general rule the Used Car taken in by the dealer represents all of his profits on the sale of a new car, and then some more. Consequently the dealer who is not careful finds himself with all his capital tied up in Used Cars.

We have always been careful not to accept in trade any car that the public would not buy or that we could not conscientiously recommend to our trade. We have also been cautious in our trade allowances as it would be unfair to our trade to ask more for Used Cars than they are worth. These business policies are essential to us as they mean satisfaction to our trade and dollars in our pockets.

COUNTY PARKS

The article written by Mrs. J. G. Merritt in the last issue of The Record suggests the improvement of a park on Lone Wolf creek. This is entirely feasible and should arrest the attention of all Colorado people. It will be remembered that some years ago the Texas Legislature passed a bill making it possible for counties to vote funds for the purpose of improving county parks. Many counties have already availed themselves of the right and have established and improved parks under control of the county. We believe the time is ripe for such a move in Mitchell county. The creation of a park and its maintenance is of interest to the whole county. The need is increasingly apparent. The site is a matter of choice and should be selected with an idea of beauty and permanency. The Record favors the creation of one or more of these county parks in Mitchell county. Whether located on Lone Wolf creek, Seven Wells or elsewhere in the county, but that we begin now to improve the site selected and it will take some years to bring it to a completed state.

It is designed to be a playground and beauty spot for the whole county. We all know the difficulty that now exists to find within easy distance a suitable place for gatherings. If Nature had been rather negligent in providing a natural situation, one might be improved which in time will be suited to the needs of the fast-growing county. While we are spending large sums of money on other items, let a small sum each year be devoted to the creation and improvement of county parks for the comfort and use of the people when they desire a few hours of duty.

There are some things in life worth while that do not yield a financial return. We need now and then to have the opportunity to steal away and commune with nature and enjoy the rest and refreshing that a few hours in a quiet and lovely retreat will furnish. That there could be developed on Lone Wolf creek such a cozy nook every one familiar with the ground knows its possibilities. We would have you think it over.

WHEN OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS AT YOUR DOOR

Two years ago Colorado was the mecca of the oil men for this section of West Texas. Had we been far-sighted as we should have been it would still be. Opportunity knocked vigorously. It came this way, as it always comes, but once. There is no earthly reason that can be given why other towns were able to make inroads into our rightful territory, save the fact we were not alert as we should have been. Now our neighboring towns to the west of us have pulled a lot of business away from us they never should have gotten, and they are still getting it.

Years ago we lost the packing houses and railroads that really wanted to come to Colorado. When once lost they were lost for all time. Will it be so with the oil business? One cannot find fault with the oil operators for moving to towns that provide roads put up in condition to be traveled in all kinds of weather. There are times when conditions at the well make it imperative to be able to transport machinery and supplies quickly and in large quantities. Had we built good roads to the field at that time, we would now have the oil business controlled in this field. It is true that we have now voted to pave the Bankhead highway but that means that for two years, or approximately that time, the highway will be an incomplete condition which men will avoid if possible. During this period of time the towns that have their roads built will get the business.

We are in grave danger of losing still another golden opportunity. A group of forward-looking young men have been trying to promote a flying club for Colorado, that might have had a national significance had they received the enthusiastic support from the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations that would have put Colorado on the map. Some day we shall see the mistake when too late. No town is so great or so favorably situated it can afford to beguile itself with the conviction that it is so strategically situated or of such commercial importance that it can dictate its own terms to either business ventures or progressive measures. No town is squarely in the way of any project. Most any of them can find a convenient way around or over if they choose to go that way. In these days of keen competition and struggle for commercial supremacy, business goes where it is wanted.

A town is not built by one act, nor does it live by one industry alone. Everything must fall at times. There are periods of recession in all lines of commerce. When one fails the town with varied interests is able to go ahead. The more varied the industries a town has the surer its avenues for revenue. Quoting an ancient scripture, "Man cannot live by bread alone." Diversity in business is as essential as diversity in farming. Welcome every legitimate industry, but do not damn it with feint praise.

"PLANT MORE COTTON"

That sentence is being heard throughout the South, and that very thing is liable to bring the cotton price tumbling down this fall to a level far below the cost of production.

The Record quotes the above from the Portales Valley News of Portales, New Mexico, in which a half-page ad appears, signed by six leading merchants of that town advising farmers to plant more cotton. When anyone sees such advice handed out to farmers by home merchants, it is impossible to believe that Wall Street is altogether behind the price decline of cotton. The South itself and her farmers and merchants are responsible for the price decline, in our opinion, by their planting of more cotton in the face of ruin and just following a period of depression caused by over-production of cotton.

The ad in the Portales paper reads: "Plant more cotton. Cotton now above 17 cents per pound, and going up.

"Having the permanent good and up-building of Roosevelt county foremost in our minds, and an earnest desire to work and push in that direction, for the good of all; we believe the best interest can best be served by doubling our cotton acreage this year, and believe it will double our prosperity and the price trend is upward.

"Last year many of our best farmers raised Bale Per Acre which is remarkable and to those in old cotton country unbelievable. At the present price, which is about double the price received for our trashy cotton the past season, one such cotton crop will pay for a farm and have money left. We believe that every farmer and ranchman should plant and properly cultivate from 20 acres to 200 acres this year.

"In making this recommendation we have carefully considered all facts broadly. During the past 30 days there has been six million acres cotton lands flooded, and half million people are homeless in the Mississippi Valley. This with average weather from now on will reduce the crop two million bales, yet the floods continue. Government experiment stations over the South report 25 per cent increase in boll weevil this spring. The home consumption of cotton is much ahead of last year, and exports about 20 per cent increase. These and other facts have caused the price to advance until now cotton in Texas is bringing above 16 cents per pound. Cotton is becoming scarce. The price outlook is bright, and many cotton men and manufacturers expect further advance in prices.

"We believe all farmers should carefully consider these facts when planting their various crops.

"(Signed) J. Rex Forrest Insurance Agency, The Famous, Portales Lumber Co., Universal Motor Co., First National Bank, Joyce-Fruit Co."

It is the opinion of the Record that such publicity is detrimental to the South, because farmers and everyone else is aware that the more cotton raised the less money it will bring. We cannot refrain from questioning the sincerity of the merchants or business men who will advise farmers to plant more cotton at this time. Rather, they should—and many of them are—advise farmers to plant less cotton and more feed and food crops. A program of living at home is the only thing that will save the cotton farmers of the South, and when that is done it will necessitate less cotton acreage. It is possible that some merchants and other business men want to keep the farmers under the heel of mortgages and debts and crush the life out of the farmer's family with labor in the cotton fields, but they are few. The business men and bankers of Mitchell county are advising the farmers to raise their living at home and stay out of debt as much as possible and to plant less cotton and more other crops and launch out on a diversified program, and farmers who are able to do so are doing that very thing.

We would ask the Portales merchants what would become of the South if every community and its farmers and business men would preach and practice the very thing they are doing? The South would be ruined. "Plant more cotton?" No! These same merchants would be yelling, "cut out cotton!" Why, gentlemen, should you wave a red rag in the cotton bull's face, when he already has you and the entire South at his feet? Wake up. These Portales merchants say "Cotton is getting scarce," when as a matter of fact, the stock on hand now is larger than in the history of the world. Government reports show that there is close to 20,000,000 bales of American cotton on hand in addition to other cotton. Don't be misled, because many of the statements in the Portales ad are not backed up by facts.

The Alpine Avalanche and the Portales Valley News, two valuable Western papers, come to our desk this week in a new dress. Each of these papers have installed new model 14 Linotypes. The Alpine Avalanche is published by T. Rush Moody, formerly with the Record, and a son-in-law of A. L. Whipkey. Moody has owned the Avalanche for more than three years and he has made good there. He has built the printing plant up from almost nothing to one of the best in West Texas. Last year he installed a new drum-cylinder press, new automatic feeder and job press, and the addition of a modern four-magazine typesetting machine makes this plant one of the city of Alpine may feel proud of. The Avalanche has improved continually in point of news and advertising service and the Record editor takes pleasure in congratulating the publishers and patrons of that paper.

The writer on return trip from vacation in the eastern part of the State, stopped at Baird Saturday to see Col. W. E. Gilliland, publisher of the Baird Star. The Colonel is still active in his office after having spent 42 years "putting out" the Baird paper. He talked at length on the condition of the West when he first settled at Baird and told of trips to Colorado and this vicinity in the early days. He can relate some very interesting experiences and this editor always enjoys a chat with that venerable publisher.

JACK HOLT FEATURED IN ZANE GREY'S GREAT STORY

Out in the barren pitiless wastes of a California desert, men and women are struggling desperately to wrest a living from their arid homesteads. They find that whatever title they have to the lands is jeopardized when Cliff Harkness obtains a Spanish land grant superceding their claims and notifies them that he is owner of the land. He offers to sell them his title for $25,000 and the ranchers turn to Bent Wade, a leader of the desert colony for advice. He advises them to scrape together the money and buy off Harkness to clear their titles. After desperate efforts the money is raised and turned over to Wade.

But in the meantime, Mark King, a big city capitalist, representing a big power company, offers Harkness $150,000 for his Spanish grant as the land is needed in the power company's program. Harkness double-crosses Wade by accepting the ranchers' money and giving him a receipt in disappearing ink. Then he resells the grant to King. The ranchers are notified by King to evacuate. They turn to Wade. The receipt he shows them has become a blank piece of paper. Infuriated, they are about to lynch him, when his pal, Lem Spooner, pushes him over an embankment, down which he rolls. He makes his getaway on horseback. With the mob hot behind him, he comes upon King's daughter, Dorothy, trapped in a bed of quicksand into which she has been thrown by a balky horse. Although it means capture by the mob and perhaps his death, he rescues her. The ranchers overhaul him but before they can lynch him, Lem rides up and covering the party with two guns, forces them to take Wade back to town and put him in jail for trial. The sheriff's small son lets Wade out of jail at night. He becomes "The Mysterious Rider" who dashes from ranch to ranch masked in a serape, warning the ranchers not to give up their homes without a fight in the courts. He visits Harkness' office and is going through his papers when Harkness arrives, and papers when Harkness arrives, and then Wade beats him to the draw. It's a great story and the climax is good. It will be seen at the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday, June 24 and 25.

THE IRIS

(By Travis Elizabeth Donald)
When the flags begin to bloom,
Things don't seem so full of gloom;
They will brighten up the day,
They will keep the tears away.

The Iris has a delicate hue—
It's of the very finest blue,
No prettier flower was ever seen
Than the Iris with its blades of green

When the spring-time comes
And the Redbird sings,
Then this beautiful flower
More gladness brings.

Our hearts regret when its time is done,
And the bright spring days have all passed by
And left its stalk in the burning sun,
Then we shall miss it from dark till dawn.

TRUTH ON VEXING SUBJECT

Ever more in the public mind than Mexico, or China, because seeming to touch us closer as individuals, is the question of enforcement of repeal of the Volstead act—prohibition.

Some of us foolishly thought that when the eighteenth amendment was adopted this old problem was settled. But it has bobbed up again more troublesome than ever, and the press and air are filled with wild assertions from both factions, so that the mass of the people now do not know what to believe.

What, then, more timely and worth hearing than a discussion of this great question from an unbiased viewpoint by a nationally recognized authority, a man who spent months in investigating the question for the Curtis publications, Mr. A. B. McDonald. He will deliver two timely lectures on this subject in his one day's visit to this city during the Chautauqua program. He will speak on "Is Prohibition a Failure," and "Choose Your Poison."

MISS SUSAN LANDON DELIVERS AN ADDRESS ON FARM CONDITIONS

Educational Worker Tells of Success of Denmark Farmers
GIVES FACTS ON FARM
Says Dollar Must Come Back To Grower and Not Stop in New York

"The farm dollar must come back to the grower, and not be stacked up in New York banks. Money must be circulated on a different system if the country is to prosper," was the statement of Miss Susan Landon, educational worker with the Farm Bureau, who spoke at the district court room Wednesday night. Miss Landon, whose home is in North Carolina, but who has spent several years in Denmark and other European countries studying the cooperative marketing question and the problem of agriculture, is an authority on the subject and delivered a very interesting and instructive address. She spent some years teaching in public schools and her work is devoted to the improvement of farm conditions and increasing the educational facilities.

She gave a brief history of the wonderful improvement in the school system in her home State and told of the excellent roads in that State. She gave a graphic description of the farm conditions in Denmark, where more than 75 per cent of the farm products are marketed through cooperative organizations, and gave as a contrast the farm conditions in America. She says the wasteful system of marketing farm products must be replaced by some more modern and more successful plan and offered the cooperative plan as the best that has been devised.

The address of Miss Landon was indeed an able one and was based on facts and actual knowledge of the speaker. All those who heard her were pleased with the talk. Miss Landon spoke at Valley View Monday night and at Loraine Tuesday night.

J. D. Coghlin of Ennis, field representative of the Farm Bureau cotton association, former superintendent of the Ennis city schools, but now a farmer of Ellis county, spoke briefly and introduced the speaker. He gave a brief outline of the history of farm progress and suggested that something must be done to relieve farm conditions and bring the proper share of the consumer's dollar back to the farm. Mr. Coghlin is a forceful speaker and he has spoken here several times and always holds the interest of his audience.

Graham Brothers Trucks Win Reliability Race

First and second places in an international reliability run from Puno, Peru, to Lapas, Bolivia, were won respectively by a Graham Brothers 3-ton commercial car and a Graham Brothers 1-ton truck, according to word just received from South American race officials. The time for the 300 kilometers over dangerous mountain roads was 15 hours for the winner, 28 hours for the second Graham, while the third to finish, a light truck of another make, required 54 hours. The race, which was open to all makes, included miles of travel over the boulder-strewn beaches of Lake Titicaca, high in the Andes Mountains and treacherous trails winding up precipices—a test for dependability, power and stamina. The winning Graham Brothers entries are shown below on the shores of Lake Titicaca. Inset shows silver cup awarded as first prize.

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

County Federation

The County Federation met Tuesday in the American Legion Hut. The hour set for the meeting was three o'clock, but long before that time the building was filled with people interested in the women's house dress contest and the Girls' 4-II clubs appropriate dress contest, which together with the presence of Miss Susan Landon made this one of the most interesting meetings of the year.

Mrs. Harrell, vice president, called the meeting to order. The minutes were read and treasurer's report given. The library chairman reported four new memberships for June. Fourteen new books bought. She asked for magazines to be left at the library to be passed on to those who want them.

The Civic League reported book shelves bought for the library, and everybody asked to write an article on the needs of our town; the negro women helped to plan summer work.

Self Culture club reported having entered the State Federation and had their program ready for fall.

Daughters of the King had met twice with their club girls. Visiting and carrying on the usual program.

1921 Club closed the year with a called meeting at Mrs. Hardison's when the delegate from the District meeting gave her report. One of their numbers won second prize in short story contest and another won third prize for the best poem. The course of study for next year is to be drama.

The Pioneers reported the following: Sweetmilk $292.50; butter $221.85; eggs $98.75; cream $29; turkey eggs $3.70; canned chicken $38.50; hens and chickens $41.51.

The president announced that the County Federation would meet no more until September and adjourned for Miss Ivey Belle Jones' clever prelude to her clothing contest. This was called the "Folly of Fashion." Miss Mary Broadbent introduced the characters. She said, "The year brings a change from the old to the new. In the fashion of women we find this to be true. From the fads and the fancies of years that are past the styles of the day have evolved at last. Many a fashion book, could it but speak, would tell us a story of many a freak. Dame Fashion's a tyrant we all must obey, to none of her whims we dare to say. So, let us glance back at things we once wore and get a good laugh from those fashions of yore." While Mrs. O. B. Price played appropriate airs, the Indian maiden in her blanket marched across the stage. This was Mrs. Henry Vaughn. She was followed by the Puritan maid, Miss Mary Plaster; Colonial ruffles—Miss Marjorie Way; Empire dress—Mrs. Bill Broadbent; Bustle—Miss Mary Terrell; Waup waups—Miss Vivian Powell; the old-fashioned grandmothers—Mrs. Shewen. This was especially beautiful. With her trailing black robes, lace cap and knitting, she was seated and a footstool placed under her feet while, "When You and I Were Young Maggie" was played. In contrast to this was the flapper grandmother, Mrs. A. L. Whiskey, who to the tune of "Red Hot Mama" strutted her stuff, painting her cheeks the while. She was followed by the flapper, Talva Mae Hart. All were grouped for the curtain. Following this, the women in the house dress contest marched to the stage from the library. There were nine of them. They were followed by the girls in their Four-II appropriate dresses, ten in number. The judging on these had been done by Miss Chambers, home demonstration agent of Taylor county. The announcements were made by Mrs. Merritt. Mrs. U. D. Wulfjen won first prize in the house dress contest. Mrs. Ed Roach won second prize, both from the 1923 Club; Mrs. Jim Lee, Bauman Club, third. Four-II Club girls winner were: Ardath Byrd, Conaway, first prize, a trip to the short course; Mary Bamsham, Seven Wells, second; Marion Booher, Colorado, third. Only one prize. The winners in the house dress contest each received a prize, the first a mirror, second jelly glasses, and third mixing spoon. In the butter judging contest Mrs. Will Hines received first prize, a trip to short course at College Station; Mrs. Carolyn second, and Mrs. Chester Hart, third. Miss Susan Landon was now introduced by Miss Jones and made a wonderful address in the most charming and convincing manner. Miss Landon is the Educational worker of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association. She speaks from first-hand knowledge, having been reared on a farm in North Carolina. She said the motivating power in her life was eighteen car loads of green corn shipped by her father to New York for which he received $3.00. The South is playing a losing game on cotton, she says. She told of her studies in Belgium, of the Texas women who are this summer going to California and points in between, and urged Mitchell county to send one to study conditions; cost $250.00. No more interesting speaker than Miss Landon has ever been heard in Colorado. Several men, including W. W. Porter and Mr. Foster, were present.

At the conclusion of Miss Landon's speech a refreshing cup of punch was served by Mrs. Ralph Beal and Mrs. C. C. Thompson.

Mrs. Joe Mills Entertains

Mrs. Joe Mills entertained Saturday morning with a bridge luncheon in honor of her sister, Mrs. Millaps of Anson, who was her guest. She had four tables of players and at 12 served a delicious two-course luncheon. This was a very delightful party.

CALVERT MAN IS NAMED SUPT. COLORADO SCHOOLS

reputation for efficient management, organization and control of the schools where he has worked, and it is said he has shown exceptional ability in building up those schools and putting them on a high plane of scholarship and accomplishment.

Statements from State Superintendent Marrs, Dr. J. D. Sandefer, and many other prominent educators of the State, indicate that the Colorado school board used wise judgment in selecting the Calvert man. Certainly no man could come more highly recommended and everyone who knows him has only a good word for his work. His scholarship is beyond question, as the board investigated this phase of his claims very thoroughly.

Prof. Peek said Monday that he would move his family here about July 1 and would purchase or build a home immediately. Two boys, one eight years old, and a three-months old son, with Mrs. Peek, compose the balance of the family.

In speaking of school affairs, Prof. Peek said: "It takes more than a superintendent to make a school. Cooperation of the patrons, teachers and pupils are necessary, and I am not worrying but that I shall secure this in Colorado. There is a wonderful opportunity for the schools of Colorado and I believe the future shall show marked improvement. All I ask is a chance. With the help of the people of Colorado and the teachers I can make a real school here, and I feel that the help will be forthcoming. I will at least be on the job always working for the best interest of the schools."

President E. H. Winn of the school board is of the opinion that the man just selected will prove to be the best and most capable man ever to head the schools here, and is enthusiastic over the outlook for the schools in future. Every member of the board joined in this decision and Peek was elected unanimously.

Saunders of Sweetwater, district manager of the Postal Telegraph Co., was in this city Monday and stated to the Record that his company would have offices installed and would be open for business in the Thos. Hughes building July 1. Miss Walker will be the local manager. The Postal will have direct wire to El Paso, Fort Worth and Dallas, and intermediate points which will insure prompt and efficient service in this section. Mr. Saunders assured Colorado people that they were in earnest in soliciting business and would endeavor to prove through the service rendered their merit to a share of the patronage.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS REGULAR MEET MONDAY

The city council met in regular session Monday night and attended to routine work and considered some new propositions.

The street and alley committee was ordered to investigate the proposition of cutting down the alley through block 32, which runs through the Chrysler agency. This committee was also ordered to investigate the proposal to install new street lights in Northeast Colorado and some other sections of the city.

The map for marking streets and numbering houses was presented by W. A. Bandy and was accepted and approved by the council. Committee composed of J. Ralph Lee, G. B. Slaton and R. L. Spalding was appointed to see that ordinance is drafted and presented to the council for consideration. W. A. Bandy and City Manager L. A. Costin will assist in the work.

Report of R. C. Winters & Co., auditors, who audited the books of city secretary, was read, accepted and approved. The report shows the condition of the books as excellent and all the funds of the city in proper shape and accounted for.

Flying Port Is Assured And Site Has Been Given

Two sites have been tendered for the flying field to be established at Colorado, and the flying port has been assured, reports from the Chamber of Commerce say.

One of the sites is offered by Louis Miller, three miles east of Colorado on the highway, and the other by Earl Morrison, two miles east of the city.

The above sites were inspected Tuesday by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, and it was found that at least one of these sites is an ideal place upon which to establish a class "C" government landing field.

Sam Sloan, a successful operator and business man, is also assisting in the establishment of this field. Mr. Sloan is an experienced aviator and the promoters are fortunate in being able to get his expert advice in this enterprise.

Mr. Morrison is a successful rancher and oil man and interested in every enterprise to help build and boost Colorado.

Mr. Lewis Miller is a successful farmer who is always ready to assist in putting over anything to build up the county and town.

The above men are to be commended for their liberality in assisting the sponsors of the Colorado Flying Club to establish this field.

Messrs. A. C. Coles, Dewey Tidwell, and R. H. Barber are handling the matter of raising the funds with which to buy and operate the plane. This committee reports that there is lots of interest manifest by the young men who are ambitious to learn to fly.

Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, states that with such men as Messrs. Sloan and Morrison assisting, the field is practically assured.

A. C. Cole, who is to have charge of the aviation, is an expert flying instructor, having had several years' experience.

PROSPECTIVE SITES FOR FLYING FIELD INSPECTED

Since the Chamber of Commerce has approved the plan to establish a flying field and school at Colorado, officials of the organization and other citizens interested have inspected several sites for the flying field and report that several desirable locations can be had. Steve Owen and Sam Sloan, both experienced flyers, who are interested in the proposition, accompanied Dr. Coleman, J. H. Greene, R. H. Barber, Dewey Tidwell and others on these inspection tours, and place their endorsement on the proposal to establish the field here. Sloan and Owen are enthusiastic over the encouragement being received and are backing Barber and Tidwell in their efforts to put the proposition over.

RECORD SCRIBE BACK ON JOB AFTER TRIP

The Record official pencil pusher is back on the job this week, having arrived back in Colorado last Sunday, after a two weeks' trip to East and South Texas, where he fished and caught nothing, and where money slips through your fingers like jelly fish.

The Reid family visited relatives and friends at Commerce, Ladonia, and other East Texas towns, then went to Waxahachie where they visited Miss Mae Goodlett, who accompanied them on a trip to Corpus Christi, Port Aransas, Rockport, San Antonio and other places. Miss Goodlett is teacher in the Colorado high school. She is leaving this week for Chicago to enter Chicago University for a summer term, before returning to Colorado for the opening of school here.

GID CAPSHAW BRINGS IN COTTON BLOOM WEDNESDAY

Gid Capshaw was the second man to bring in cotton blooms for this season when he came in about two hours behind M. L. Smith. Capshaw planted about 12 acres of cotton on April 6 on the Lockhart farm south of Spade and the late freeze killed all of this but a few acres, and the blooms brought in Wednesday were from this patch. Capshaw says this cotton has had no rain since it was planted.

All of the rains in this vicinity had missed the Lockhart farm, he says. The blooms were small and the limbs short, indicating dry weather.

Production Fertile Eggs Lose Farmers Hundreds Dollars

The farmers of Mitchell county are losing hundreds of dollars every week by the production of fertile eggs, according to U. G. Hardison of the Colorado Produce company. Hardison is starting a campaign to purchase and ship every old rooster in Mitchell county and is offering a good price for these birds.

Hardison candled out his egg purchases last week and threw out 250 dozen of 3,000 eggs from the lot that had ruined before they were brought in by farmers. Hardison says incubation in hot weather starts quickly and that fertile eggs ruin very quickly. He says if the eggs had been infertile they would have kept nicely and the 3,000 eggs could have gone to the market instead of the garbage can.

This movement to produce infertile eggs which Hardison is sponsoring should be encouraged and farmers who sell or use eggs should get rid of roosters and produce eggs that will command a market and that will be worth marketing.

Sell the old roosters now while there is a good market for them and thereby protect and help the egg market as well.

MORRIS FAMILY TAKE TRIP TO SAN ANTONIO

J. F. Morris and family left Sunday for San Antonio to take Roy Morris and Edgar Burrus to Fort San Houston to enter the government military training camp, and to spend a short vacation. Mrs. Morris' sister, Mrs. Robert Dollar, and children will return to Colorado with them the latter part of this week. It will be remembered that her husband, Robert Dollar, and a daughter were killed in the Rock Springs storm and Mrs. Dollar and other members of the family were seriously injured. Mrs. Dollar has been in a hospital at San Antonio for several weeks.

ROAD IN BAD SHAPE

Tourists passing through Colorado recently state that the road between Sweetwater and Abilene just after a rain is so slick and treacherous that it is almost impossible to get over it in a car. They say, without doubt, it is the worst stretch of road between Dallas and El Paso. The road is built mostly of clay and is so slick after a rain that chains on the tires are necessary to get over it, and then when the road begins to dry up it is so rough one has to drive over it very slow to prevent breaking the car springs and blowing out the tires.

Lower Freight Rate Schedule To West Texas

CISCO, June 13.—Lower freight rates to West Texas will result from the newly promulgated common point schedule, U. S. Pawkett, traffic manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, told directors of that organization at their meeting here on Monday.

A careful analysis of the recent Interstate Commerce Commission's decision indicates that such points as Cisco, Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado, Big Spring, San Angelo, Lubbock, Lamesa and Amarillo can get freight from the wholesale centers of St. Louis, Kansas City and New York at rates lower than if shipped to Dallas and Fort Worth and reshipped, Pawkett said.

RAIN WORTH MILLIONS COVERS WEST TEXAS MONDAY

WHITE MAN SHOT SUNDAY BY NEGRO MAY RECOVER

WELCOME MOISTURE BREAKS DROUGHT IN MITCHELL COUNTY

Weather Man Comes To The Rescue of Farmers; Crops All Planted

FALL AT COLORADO 40

Sections of County Report More Than Inch; Range Greatly Benefitted

Million-dollar rains fell over West Texas Sunday night and Monday, breaking droughts which loomed threatening, and making a rosy outlook for the farmers.

The rain was general, and a good yield of cotton and feedstuffs is possible in every locality, reports indicate. Every county from Dalhart to Del Rio received moisture which ranged from light showers to more than three inches.

The drought in Mitchell county, which had held up planting in many sections of the county, was broken by the Monday rain, and farmers are jubilant over the present outlook as compared with that of two weeks ago. Most of the county was visited by a good rain about ten days ago, but some sections, particularly the west end and the northeast corner of the county, did not secure rain at that time, and the Monday rain which covered these sections thoroughly, was indeed welcome and greatly needed.

The rain Monday added to that of last week puts the farmers in this section in pretty good shape. Most of the farmers had planted following the rain of Sunday, June 5, and the rain this week will serve to bring these crops up and get them growing off nicely.

Hope Is Revived The worst drought the South Plains country has experienced in years was broken by the downpour. Farmers many of whom had lost hope, viewed the future optimistically Monday as they prepared to begin the planting of crops—an impossibility since the planting season opened because of the drought.

The rainfall in Colorado was 40 inch—much lighter than that recorded in virtually all other points. The downpour began early Monday morning and continued intermittently through the day.

Heavy Fall on Plains The South Plains, which needed rain the most, received the heaviest precipitation, reports indicate. Dawson county, where nearly all planting has been held up for lack of moisture, received two inches. Gall, Ackerly, Sparrenberg, Patricia, Seminole and Florey, in the Lamessa territory, got a similar drenching. Brownfield reported an inch, Stanton from one to three, and a half inches. Lockney 1.50, Slaton 2.50, Midland .75, Floydada 2 to 3 inches, Big Spring 1 inch.

The downpour, which began at Dalhart on the north, moved southward through Amarillo, Plainview, Lubbock, Winters, Ballinger and San Angelo; west to Barstow, and north along the Wichita Valley railway to Wichita Falls. The precipitation apparently was lighter to the east of Abilene.

All points in Jones county reported good rains. Although this area received rains a week ago, it fell quickly and most of the water drained off into streams.

Farmers Optimistic The rain, coming in the nick of time, probably will be worth a quarter of a billion dollars to Texas. Although it is not sufficient to make a cotton crop, farmers in the central section surrounding Abilene are especially optimistic. Occasional showers during the next two months will be sufficient to produce a good cotton yield, they believe.

Maize and corn crops, which need rain, especially during June and July, were given an upward boost and benefited in this section much more than cotton. A great deal of maize was planted early and is far ahead advanced that the present moisture is sufficient to make at least a fair yield. Most of the feed, however, will need rain within the next three or four weeks.

Range lands, which had suffered for lack of moisture, are expected to stage a comeback. Cattle and sheepmen had begun to move their stock in search of grass. A press report from San Angelo advised that the precipitation in that territory was sufficient to make removal of any more stock unnecessary.

C. C. Berry of near Cuthbert reports three-quarters of an inch of rain Monday all over that section of the county.

Mrs. C. S. Larkins was in from the oil fields Tuesday morning and reported a good rain, covering all the oil field and Westbrook territory, Monday.

Chester Jones reports that rain fell Monday from Coahoma to Colorado, as he came over the road. He says the fall was heavier west.

Lee Connell of Austin came in Tuesday to visit his brother, A. C. Connell, and reports rain from four miles north of Sterling to Colorado, with the fall getting heavier towards Colorado.

John Dozier of Little Sulphur, north of Colorado eleven miles, said: "We are sitting on top of the world. We had a good rain Sunday, June 5, and Tuesday of last week another good rain, and Monday of this week we got a good rain, so we do not need any more rain now. Everything looks good in our community."

L. D. Teaff of near Inadale, who was in Colorado Tuesday, said only about a half inch of rain fell there Monday, which was the first for some time, and that farmers in his neighborhood could not get a stand with present moisture. He says feed crops are looking good, however.

FARMERS PROFIT BY POOLING THEIR PRODUCE

W. E. Clardy, S. E. Meadows and several other farmers and poultrymen around Lorraine, are pooling their eggs and shipping them. They sell nothing but No. 1 white fertile eggs and guarantee every egg. It is reported that they receive a premium that nets them about ten cents above the local market price.

M. L. Smith Is First to Bring Cotton Bloom

M. L. Smith, farmer on the J. M. Radford farm, four miles east of Colorado, is the first to bring in cotton blooms from this year's cotton. He brought three fully developed cotton blooms to the Record office Wednesday afternoon and said he had 200 acres of cotton that he began planting April 5, but did not get a real good stand. All of this 200 acres is beginning to develop large squares and some blooms. Mr. Smith and family have been in Mitchell county four years, coming here from Red River county. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have raised nine children. Eight of these are at home now and are fine young men and women. Mrs. Howard Gross, a daughter, is living west of Colorado. Mr. Smith and his family are hard workers and are what might be termed hustlers and they are making good in the West and like here fine.

HIGHWAY INSPECTOR HERE SAYS MUST GET LICENSE

Koonsman, of Abilene, district highway inspector for the State, is in Colorado this week in interest of enforcement of the highway license law and reports that all parties operating cars or motor vehicles of any kind must have license plates displayed on front and rear and those operating vehicles without proper license plates will be arrested and prosecuted. He warns all persons to acquaint themselves with the laws and refrain from violations.

Christian Church To Hold Annual Encampment

At the annual meeting of Christian churches in the Second Missionary district of Texas, just concluded in Haskell, among other important decisions reached in their deliberations was the proposal to create an annual encampment to be held somewhere in the district. Judge Fritz R. Smith of Snyder was appointed a member of the locating board to locate a permanent site for the encampment. The proposal comprehends a three week encampment each year and will be quite an item to the town or locality fortunate to be named.

This matter has been referred to the local Chamber of Commerce to pass upon, and Colorado should be an applicant. The Seven Wells site is one of the most ideal to be found anywhere. It is accessible and within easy distance of the town and with a little effort could be made into a most desirable location. It has plenty of water, good camping facilities and enough historical value to prove attractive.

The encampment would bring a large number of folks here every year and some of the most celebrated ministers and workers of the Christian church would be named from year to year to appear on the program. With this proposition as an incentive, doubtless sufficient funds could be raised and would be raised to put the tract into serviceable condition to be used for many other gatherings.

JOHNSON PARTY HAVING FINE TRIP THRU CALIFORNIA

He reports good roads to El Paso and fine roads from the Arizona line west.

Local Women Are Elected To Teach In City

Mrs. J. F. Quinney and Mrs. C. R. Earnest were chosen as teachers in the Colorado schools by the school board Monday night, according to W. R. Morgan, secretary. Mrs. Quinney will teach in the third grade and Mrs. Earnest in the intermediate grades. Both of these women are competent teachers and have had several years' experience, and the board members feel that no better qualified teachers could be secured.

Mrs. Quinney was principal of the Horn's Chapel school, three miles west of Colorado, during the term just closed. Mrs. Earnest has not taught for some time.

The Record is glad to see these local teachers given position in the city schools, and commends the board on the action taken.

NEW ZANE GREY FILM TRULY GREAT WESTERN

Man's battle with the desert, his never ending fight to wrest a living from the arid wastelands, is the background into which is woven Zane Grey's story, "The Mysterious Rider" which will be at the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday, June 24 and 25.

The fast riding Jack Holt plays the title role of Bent Wade, whose life is in danger at the hands of the homesteaders because of his suspected duplicity. The sequences in which he proves his innocence, at the same time gaining them back their meagre lands which they were in danger of losing, form one of the most exciting motion pictures of the year.

Three Injured In Car Wreck Sunday Evening

A wreck that might have proven serious, and one in which three were injured, occurred last Sunday afternoon near the Presbyterian church when two cars collided at the intersection of Chestnut and 5th streets. One of the cars, owned by D. V. Nainey and driven by his boys with a Miss Pate in the car with them, collided with a car in which Miss Mary Belle Brennan and Miss Marie East were riding. The car which the two young ladies were driving was not damaged. The other car was badly wrecked and the occupants sustained painful bruises, but no serious injury.

J. W. CURRANT IN HOSPITAL WITH EIGHT HOLES IN HIS BODY

Zack Chappell, Negro, Admits Shooting; Said Fight Was On

J. W. Currant, 19, white man, local teamster, is in the Colorado Sanitarium with eight perforations in his abdomen and a fair chance to recover from effects of gunshot wounds inflicted by Zack Chappell, negro, living on the Howell farm four miles southwest of Colorado. The shooting occurred near the Franklin filling station in South Colorado, Sunday afternoon. Currant was rushed to the sanitarium and it was thought his injuries would prove fatal, but later reports say he will recover.

Witnesses say the negro that did the shooting and three other negroes drove up to the filling station in a battered car, and Currant who was there with another white man, and two of the negroes engaged in an argument. During the argument Currant is said to have struck one of the negroes on the hand with a wrench and Zack Chappell, who was sitting in the car, jerked up a pistol and shot Currant.

The negroes jumped in the car and fled south of town with Chief of Police Dick Hickman hot in pursuit. Hickman caught the negroes about six miles out and brought them back and turned them over to the county officials. Chappell was charged with assault and attempt to murder and the others released.

A GREATER TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR TEXAS

Texas Telephone News

A Journal of Telephone Information Published by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company

Vol. II No. 6

HOME IS AS NEAR AS THE NEAREST TELEPHONE

Like Soldiers On Guard

To telephone people in the business of providing telephone service, most days and nights pass without event—giving telephone service, maintaining telephone lines becomes a matter of well-trained habit. But suddenly danger looms and this habit of telephone service rises to courageous endurance. During the recent floods, telephone service was maintained throughout the inundated areas after other means of communication had been cut off.

Forgetful of self, operators and linemen continued at their posts, and their untiring efforts helped to relieve the suffering and distress of the flooded areas.

PROGRESS

The Bell Telephone Laboratories, located in New York City, are a part of the Bell System. In these laboratories, scientists and engineers work on problems of perfecting telephone apparatus, enabling the Bell System to give the best and most economical telephone service in the world. The convenient desk stand instrument, and, more recently, the dial telephone, are products of these laboratories.

The Southwestern Company, as one of the Associated Companies of the Bell System, receives the benefits of all inventions and improvements in telephone equipment and methods produced in the Bell Laboratories.

On Your Vacation Remember Those At Home

It is in the evening when twilight creeps over the landscape, in that calm interval between strenuous day and festive night, that thoughts of home come to us. Back there amid the familiar scenes, engaged in their accustomed duties—maybe you feel a little conscience-stricken in your vacation freedom. Cheer up and cheer them up—telephone. Reduced rates on station-to-station calls start at 7 p. m.

Go to the telephone and give the operator the name of your home town and your home telephone number. And for your convenience you can have the call charged to your home telephone.

TOURING

If you plan to tour this summer, remember that hotel accommodations are limited. Be sure of a place to sleep—call ahead and make reservations.

You can do this economically by using station-to-station service and placing your call during the evening reduced rate periods—after 7 p. m. Just give the telephone number, or, if you don't know it, the name of the hotel in your next stopping place.

More Service

The talking period for trans-Atlantic telephone service has been extended four hours. You can now talk to London from 5:30 a. m. to 3 p. m., Central Standard Time.

Baptist Sunday School Picnic Last Thursday

The picnic held by the Baptist Sunday-school last Thursday afternoon was a most delightful affair. The day was not too warm and the recent rain had settled the dust so that the grove was a cool and inviting place. Gathering at the church about 4 o'clock, ample conveyances were provided for all who chose to go. On arriving at the grove the picnicers found that several of the "brithers" with ever-chilling prepared awaiting them. A truck load of soda pop, plenty of ice water and the air filled with the scent of barbecue and steaming coffee.

While the tables were being dressed, the Colorado Band played several selections, friends engaged in animated conversation and the kiddies and grown-ups drank soda pop and played rinks upon one another.

Heretofore we have always used a hackneyed phrase, "Chasing the devil around a stump," but from now on we will change our metaphor. Jim Greene, who seemed to be master of ceremonies, announced that all should chase around the tree and see what results would follow. On complying with his mandate the feast that was served proves that chasing the (prince's) devil around a tree is a very happy experience, for the devil.

It would be hard to tell to whom the honors of the occasion belong in the eating marathon. Luther Pond and Pastor Morgan, while very unequal in avoirdupois, seemed to be well matched for long distance endurance and came under the wire neck and neck. Monte Owen timed his arrival just at the conclusion of Rev. Mr. Beavers' invocation and got away to a fair start. In fact, we did not see anyone throwing off in the race.

There was a good crowd, plenty to eat and everybody was happy. Altogether it was a most enjoyable affair. The acting editor is under many obligations to the Baptist brethren for the invitation to be their guest. Many thanks.

O. B. ROBINSON, BUS OPERATOR, SUICIDES

O. B. Robinson, formerly of Colorado but who has recently been operating a bus line from Vernon to Stamford, died of a gun-shot wound in the heart at a hotel in Vernon early Thursday morning. The coroner's verdict was "Death from a gun-shot wound self-inflicted." Financial difficulties was the only motive that could be determined at the inquest.

Mr. Robinson formerly lived in Colorado and for a time was in active charge of the Dodge garage. His step-daughter, Bernice DeMorrow, has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. John T. Smith here. She left as soon as she received word, to take charge of the remains. A phone message Friday stated that deceased was buried at Vernon Friday afternoon.

Who She Is

"I want a package of Aunt Jerusha's Rolled Wheat."
"Here it is, Madam."
"This isn't what I want. This is Uncle Josh's Cereal Food."
"Yes, ma'am. It's exactly the same thing. Uncle Josh is Aunt Jerusha's other name."
"Who is Aunt Jerusha, anyhow?"
"Aunt Jerusha is a couple of old millionaire bachelors in Michigan!"

The Beginning

"Why do they always give a shower to a girl who is going to be married?"
"Merely a quaint old custom to symbolize the beginning of a reign."

Parking Room Scarce

"Why do you rise so early in the morning?"
"I have to get down town early in order to find a parking place for my car."
"But do you not then have a good deal of time hanging on your hands?"
"Oh, then I take the street car home and have breakfast."

ANTICIPATION

"Anticipation" is a blood brother to "appetite," and appetite is nature's aid to digestion and health. Willie has just peeked into the ice box. His mind is a big picture of GOOD eats. He knows when Mother has delicious things in the refrigerator they will just "hit the spot" when dinner is served.

Active, romping boys and girls need plenty of fresh, invigorating food. Give the youngsters all they want. They need it. But always be sure their food is clean, wholesome, and freshly purchased. Keep it with ice, clear, sparkling, pure.

HICKS RUBBER LAUNCHES BIG SUMMER SALE HERE

An unusual success is being reported by representatives of Hicks Rubber company, of their million dollar summer sales campaign. From records so far available, they report that last Saturday was the largest in point of actual sales made in the history of this already big and constantly expanding organization.

It will be remembered that this group of Texas business men only a few years ago, started in Waco on a rather small scale—but today is an organization with stores and associated stores spread over Texas. The Hicks stores and associated stores now number over forty.

Members of the firm feel highly elated over the progress of their campaign, even though the peak season in the retail business has not as yet been reached. Much could be written of the huge volume of business done by this concern.

Volume Tells Story
It is claimed by their representatives, that they attribute their success and big expansion to merchandising methods—by combining volume buying with volume selling. The Hicks Company has had to open two new stores in San Antonio to take care of new business in that city during this campaign. If the sales of this concern increase, as the tire season advances, this same policy will have to be followed in other cities of the State.

CHEVROLET DEMONSTRATION

Eight members of the Washington section, Society of Automotive Engineers, demonstrated the advantages of standard automotive parts recently by assembling a half-ton Chevrolet chassis in the record time of six and one-half minutes, in competition with six other teams similarly engaged. The stunt was a feature of the society's annual summer meeting at French Lick, Ind.

While the assembled delegates derived much amusement from watching the seven teams vie for a record in a line of work with which they were unfamiliar, except in theory, the performance also carried its lesson to many of the watchers. But for the perfectly-fitting parts, the assembly might have required hours instead of minutes. The elapsed time was strikingly short, in view of the fact that none of the assemblers were connected with Chevrolet nor familiar with its mechanical details.

Three of the winning team were engineers of the United States Bureau of Standards. The slowest team required only a few minutes longer than the fastest, and its hurry added amusement to the contest. As a test of each team's work, each car had to be run five times around a loop in the nearby driveway before the results were certified.

The seven trucks were shipped to French Lick from the Chevrolet factory at Flint, Mich. Such parts as the distributor assembly, the wiring system, gasoline tank, carburetor, a front and rear wheel, and various other units, together with a miscellany of bolts, nuts and screws, were then removed and tossed into boxes in the pits adjacent to the assembly space. Equipped only with two sets of tools such as are furnished with each Chevrolet truck, each team had them to select the parts and put them in their proper place.

"The quick assembly job performed at French Lick offers a hint as to the reason for the Chevrolet truck's popularity," said J. E. Mills of the Mills Chevrolet Co., of Colorado. "Trucks are business vehicles, and the owner loses whenever they are laid up for repairs. The seven teams at the S. A. E. meeting demonstrated that the owner himself can make the needed replacements, in most cases, with no equipment except that furnished with his truck, and thus keep his Chevrolet making money for him with a minimum of interruption and expense."

HERMAN FINLEY MARRIED

Herman (Chiney) Finley of Lorraine and Miss Gilla Lawrence of Big Spring were quietly married at Sweetwater Tuesday evening, June 6, at 9 o'clock, Rev. H. W. Hanks performing the ceremony. Only one couple, Miss Fannie Jarrett and Mr. Frank Crowover, were present.

The wedding came as a surprise to the many friends of "Chiney" in Lorraine as he has been working in Colorado for some months, and they have been unable to keep such close touch on his "coming and going."

The bride resided southwest of Big Spring several miles, but has been teaching school at Coahoma for the past four years. She is beautiful and accomplished and has a great host of friends in her home community and at Coahoma where she has been teaching. "Chiney" has lived in Lorraine for many years and has hosts of friends there. He has been living in Colorado for some months, employed by the Colorado Drug Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley will spend the balance of the week visiting at Lorraine and Big Spring, but will move to Colorado Monday. They will make their home there in future. Friends and acquaintances of this young couple join in wishing for them many years of happiness and success.—Lorraine Leader.

attempted if Currant died, but Sheriff Gregory and County Attorney Mason discounted the rumor. However, precautions were taken to spirit the negro out of town or protect him if any attempt on his life was made. After reports were issued at the sanitarium that the white man would recover no longer against the negro was expressed and he was released on bond to appear again Wednesday for examining trial.

It is said the negro is under two and that punishment may be reduced to a reformatory sentence.

Chief Dick Hickman did quick work in capturing the negro, while he reports the negroes gave him a chase after they had a flat tire on their battered car which is probably the only thing that resulted in their capture in so short a distance. Late Wednesday Currant was doing well at the sanitarium and was thought to be on the road to recovery.

Plain English

The girl had evaded his persistent proposals of marriage with soft words intended to ally the heart of her definite and inevitable refusal. Exasperated, he turned upon her. "In plain English, will you marry me or not?" "Hell, no!" she replied.

A. C. Connell, manager of the Colorado store of the Hicks Rubber company, left Wednesday morning overland for Waco for a short visit. He will return Sunday.

Local Baptist Church Reporting Progress

A Record scribe in searching for news items discovered that at least one church in Colorado is making commendable progress in developing the religious life of the town. The Baptist church, under the leadership of Pastor D. W. Morgan, is going forward. They had five fine accessions to the church Sunday, making 17 in the last three Sundays and bringing the total additions since the present pastor took charge to approximately 200 accessions. The congregations have grown so large that the building is inadequate to care for its throngs that come to worship and this has fired the membership to proceed at once with the erection of a modern building.

To an outsider, yet to one who has the religious interest of the community at heart, this is most heartening. Notwithstanding all that is said to the contrary, religion has not and will not perish from the earth. It continues to be the greatest drawing force in the world and men instinctively turn to the church for what they can find nowhere else. This forward move among the Baptists is indicative of what any evangelical church can do under competent leadership and a hearty cooperation of its membership. The territory is by no means exhausted and "there remains yet very much land to be possessed."

We congratulate the Baptist brethren on their progress and commend their example and industry to the other churches of the city.

Lee Connell of Austin was here first of the week for a visit with his brother, A. C. Connell, en route to Littlefield, where he owns "Tarn lands." He said the citizens of Colorado should feel proud of this city, as it is the best town in this part of the State. He complimented the city highly and praised the Record for its equipment and efforts.

Methodist Church Notes
The Sunday school at the Methodist church was well attended Sunday morning and all reports were good. The general interest is increasing. The special service for the college young people and teachers was a success, judging from the well-filled house and from the interest on the part of the congregation. The sermon delivered to these young people was appropriate and pointed. The points stressed were: The need of an education, the kind of an education needed, and the use to which an education should be put. The young people generally and many of the older people expressed their appreciation of the message. On Sunday night last the Epworth League enjoyed a good debate on "Resolved, That the Work of Home Missions is More Important Than That of Foreign Missions." Glynn Smiley and Miss Isla Bruce discussed the affirmative while Oscar Bruce and Pico Beaty championed the negative. Keen interest was manifested throughout the discussion and a number of real worth-while points were made. The four speakers acquitted themselves well and handled the subject in a manner that showed thought and preparation on their part.

The Woman's Missionary Society had but a small attendance Monday afternoon on account of the falling rain. Those present, however, proceeded with the regular lesson which was the last of the book studied for that year, "From Over the Border."

The presence and helpful suggestions of Brother Edwards added interest to the lesson and gave new light on the subject. The society plans to begin another study book at an early date.

NOT THE WAY TO REPUBLICANS IN 1928

(James E. Payne in Dallas News)
According to the views of many who write letters there is only one man in the democratic party who would have any chance to beat Mr. Coolidge in the next national election, and that man is Gov. Al Smith of New York. If this is true, may God help the democratic party.

That Gov. Smith is a splendid American citizen and a good democrat, none will gainsay. But so was Gov. Cox of Ohio, yet Senator Harding, assisted by Al Smith's friends and backers in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Illinois and elsewhere, beat him by nearly 7,000,000 votes. In 1924 the democratic nominee, John W. Davis, the equal of any man in the party in these qualities that constitute greatness was beaten by Mr. Coolidge largely through the treachery of Mr. Smith's friends in New York, Illinois and elsewhere.

There has been no rehabilitation since 1876 as thoroughly discredited as that of President Harding. The Federal courts, with all their machinery, are not yet done with the numerous malfeasances of that administration, yet when John W. Davis went before the people and pleaded for purification of the body politic, Mr. Smith's friends turned a deaf ear and voted for Coolidge, not because he was capable, patriotic and honest, but because Mr. Davis had been a true supporter of President Wilson. There is plenty of "raw tackle," let us get down to them.

What chance has any democrat of winning in 1928, unless the most unheard of change should take place in the American mind? Ever since Harding's inauguration the money power and big business have controlled both government and the electorate; they still hold the reins and are stronger today than ever. In former years the people were taught to dread the rule of those powers, and many a spellbinder has worked himself into a fine frenzy of red-hot fury warning his fellow-citizens of the dire calamity to befall them when money and big business should dominate. But up to date, so far as this correspondent's observation reveals, no such condition has come, no dire calamity has befallen; on the contrary, seem as far away as ever. So there is one booger-bug evidently taking a rest, another child-like creature to the limbo of dead entities.

It will not be worth while to hark back to the old Jeffersonian requirement of "Is he honest, is he capable?" for indeed, the states of Texas, Missouri, Oklahoma and South Carolina two years ago gave Jeffersonianism as black an eye as it had met Jack Dempsey in the prize ring.

At New York in 1924 Miss Brennan of Chicago was the first to inject churchism (I can not call it religion) into politics by charging that Gov. Smith was being opposed because he was a Roman Catholic. In a measure, that was true, and no person on earth can keep that issue edged in case he should be nominated next year. Moreover, prohibition, which does not love with a temperature as high as 40 degrees below zero, is a moral question. Nominate Al Smith and see what would happen when an exigency arises and that exigency calls for lofty pretenses of white-souled virtue and high-strung godliness, the grand old republican party can give the devil odds, then inflict him with cold feet and drive him out of the game with all his chips stacked on the table. Despite the millions of moonshiners, bootleggers, rum runners and their customers in that party, it would stand up on its hind legs and howl in righteous indignation. Spellbinders, billboards, and sermonizers would fluninate the most horrible prognostications, predictions that if Al Smith should be elected the capital at Washington would be turned into a distillery, the Senate and House office buildings into breweries and the pope would be pictured jumping into an airplane and coming to Uncle Sam's home to take charge of affairs. Would the gullibles take it all in? Aye, and rush to the Coolidge camp as thrifty housewives speed to a bargain counter.

Everyone is familiar with the presence of hailstones at this season of the year, but few men have ever stopped to think how they are formed and why they are large and small.

J. M. Sherier, meteorologist of the United States weather bureau, Denver, is authority for the following interesting story of the way they are formed:

"Hailstones are caused by the upward draft of wind. This causes the formation of heavy blue-black clouds, known as thunderheads to the layman. In the clouds are small pellets of snow as there are in most clouds.

"Each pellet contains a vortex in its center, and the strength of the vortex determines the size of the stone.

"The upward draft catches these pellets, and sends them to a higher atmosphere where the temperature is below the freezing point. There they are frozen and form the nucleus of the stones. When they freeze and grow heavier, their weight carries them down toward earth. As they descend, however, they are again caught by the upward draft and ascend again to the cooler air.

"They have picked up a lot of moisture in the trip through the thunderheads, and this again freezes. Again they descend, and again they are caught by the upward draft and propelled to the cold air region.

"This process continues until the stones become so heavy the draft will not support them, and the fall to earth begins.

"If one were to cut a stone in half, he would find the center composed of the snow pellet, with a number of concentric rings around it. These will inform you of the number of times the stone made the trip between the higher cold air, and the lower thunderhead cloud.

The thunderhead that sent the hailstones down on Denver last Thursday was an extraordinary blue-black one, and was quite low in the heavens. These clouds are sometimes as low as 500 feet from earth and average between 1000 and 2000 feet up."

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The following requirements must be met by all high school pupils for the school term beginning in September:

To be classified as a Senior a student must have 11 credits, to be a Junior he must have 6 credits, and 3 credits will be required before a student may be classed as a Sophomore.

If you are uncertain as to the number of credits you now have, you had better call at the high school and have this matter cleared up for you. If you do not have the number of credits required for the different classes you may enter the summer school this summer and make the required work.

You should attend to this matter at once before the summer school is so far advanced that you will be unable to make the required work. It is especially important that all Seniors should see that they have the required 11 credits.

Baptist Church Notes
The meeting will continue through this week. We had a great revival. The interest has continued to grow and congregations holding up fine. We have had several conversions and 17 folks have joined the church.

An all-day Sunday school picnic has been planned for Saturday. The picnic will meet at the church at 8 o'clock and all go together to the place designated. Conveyances will be provided for all.

Bridge Party
Mrs. M. M. Wheeler delightfully entertained with a bridge party on Friday afternoon. The home was prettily decorated with flowers. The color scheme was carried out in pink and white. Four tables of bridge were played and at the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments of sandwiches, olives, potato chips, iced tea and pineapple sherbet and cake were served.

Fifteen Club
The Fifteen Club was entertained by Mrs. Dell Cooper at her home on Tuesday afternoon. A short business session was held, after which bridge was enjoyed. Wild flowers were in profusion, in vases and baskets and accompanied with the novel score pads and table markers it made a very delightful occasion. Delicious refreshments were served, but the biggest surprise of all was a beautiful hand-painted picture done by Mrs. Cooper, herself, and was awarded Mrs. A. W. Nixon for first honors.

GREAT BAPTIST CONFERENCE AT SNYDER JUNE 19 TO 21

Snyder, Texas, June 9. June 19-21 Drs. L. E. Finney and P. M. McConnell, two among the greatest Texas Baptist preachers and leaders, are to lead the Great Baptist Church in Snyder in a three-days' inspirational conference.

Locally we count ourselves fortunate and desire to share this rare privilege out to our association. We all know it to be a special privilege to have in our midst two of the most eminent and outstanding denominational brethren. Feeling as we do that we shall be greatly benefited by their messages, the desire we have for the buoyancy of the fellowship with our neighbor pastors and our brethren, certainly no pastor in our fine associational group could fail to assemble with us for these conferences. Nor can any good Christian brother, for that matter, and more especially the deacons and church officers. As to the Sunday school, B. Y. P. U., and W. M. U. officers, we are counting on them strong.

Very prayerfully we are urging that all who possibly can, make this conference next week a distinct part of your program and refuse to budge from it, thus you will rejoice all of our hearts and we believe please the Lord. Our brother pastors, then will surely URGE that at least their entire official membership attend both Monday's and Tuesday's sessions.

The First Church of Snyder will provide entertainment, hospitality to all who will come. Overnight guests will be thrice welcome. In fact, we urge upon all a most cordial invitation, assuring you a most joyous reception, a happy stay, a great fellowship and a real heartful inspiration. Come. "Don't skip it."

MISS HOWELL WEDS COLORADO MAN

On last Saturday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wallace of Colorado, in the presence of a few friends and relatives, Miss Bill Howell of Lorraine and Mr. Bill Howell of Colorado were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the Rev. Deavers performing the ceremony.

The couple left Lorraine with the intention of being married at the parsonage, but Mrs. Wallace, a sister of the groom, had prepared a little surprise for them, and when they arrived at her home they found everything in readiness for the ceremony. The house was beautifully decorated, and after the wedding was over, refreshments were served to the young couple and their friends who were present for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Falkner of Midland, close friends of the young couple, "stood up" with them, during the ceremony.

Immediately following, the newlyweds left for Abilene for a short honeymoon before returning to Colorado, where they will make their future home.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Nell, and one of the most popular young ladies of Lorraine. She has been raised here and numbers her friends by her acquaintances. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. DuBois of Colorado, and a driller working in the Westbrook oil fields.

These young people have a great host of friends in Lorraine and Colorado who wish for them many years of happiness and success.—Lorraine Leader.

SHOWER GIVEN FOR BRIDE

Mrs. R. E. Bennett and her Sunday school class gave a shower last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. J. Coon, honoring Mrs. Bill DuBois, a new bride.

Mrs. Virgil Henderson and Misses Ora and Faye Coon served the guests with delicious fruit punch as they arrived. Then Mrs. W. R. Martin and Miss Ora Coon furnished some beautiful selections of vocal music while the guests were waiting for the guest of honor, who upon her arrival was introduced by Mrs. W. W. Rowland.

Mrs. R. E. Bennett then gave a very tasty and appropriate toast to the bride and Mrs. W. W. Rowland followed with a toast for the groom.

The bride was then told that there was an oil well in the corner of the room and as she was an oil man's wife it would be turned over to her to use as she saw fit. A large number of gifts and beautiful gifts were taken from the well which all the guests examined and admired. After the gifts had all been seen the bride thanked the givers in a few well chosen words.—Lorraine Leader.

Paid up for life at "65"

At age 36 the rate for 20-payment life insurance is $26.10 per thousand, per year. "Too high," say many men. So they buy ordinary life at $17.76 per thousand, and hand themselves to pay annual premiums until death or the age of 85. "Why can't you give us insurance with 20-pay life features, that will pay out at about 65?" This question has been asked of Southland Agents a thousand times. Our answer is: "We can." For only 95c per year per thousand more than for ordinary life, or a rate of $18.71 at age 30, you can buy insurance with 20-payment life advantages, pay for it entirely during your productive years, and be all through at 65. No insurance idea in years, has met such a popular acceptance. Ask your local Southland Agent to explain it to you, and quote the rate for your own age.

Bad Color (liver trouble)

"OCCASIONALLY I am troubled with spells of constipation and inactive liver," says Mrs. John L. Pence, Broadway, Va. "I always use Thedford's Black-Draught when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, for it saves me a bad headache. My color gets sallow at times. I get real yellow, showing that the trouble comes from the liver. "I have found Black-Draught to be the finest kind of a remedy for this. I take Black-Draught and make a tea out of it, and take it, along in small doses for several days. I have never found anything that served me so well. "Since I have known about Black-Draught, I have not suffered nearly so much with headaches, caused from indigestion. If I find my tongue is coated, and I wake up with a bad taste in my mouth, I know I have been eating indiscreetly, and I immediately resort to Black-Draught to straighten me out."
