George Washington Tea Given by D. A. R. Chapter

Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Greene, The Lieut. William Halbert Chapter of the D. A. R., gave a beautiful tea, with all the friends of the members as guests.

The guests were met at the door by Miss Dimple Way, who was dressed as George Washington. Mrs. Greene presented them to the receiving line, in which stood the officers, Mrs. Harry Hyran, Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, Mrs. M. Carter, Mrs. Robert Ferrall, Mrs. O. Lambeth, Mrs. C. E. Way, Mrs. Peek, Mrs. Harry Ratliff, Mrs. G. W. Hubbard and Mrs. Bill Martin, all of these were in handsome Colonial costumes. The flowered brocades, the laces and patches of other days, with white wigs being most effective. The gay costumes of the house party were further enhanced by the fact that those on the program were also fancifully arrayed.

The program was begun by Mrs. Kirk Taylor of Loraine, who gave a piano solo "Madriena and Rustle of Spring." Miss Ora Coon of Loraine sang "Tonight." Mrs. Will Roland of Loraine gave a very clever negro reading "De Clisoville Hop." Mrs. Cecil Meskimen played two delightful numbers "By the Waters of Minnetonka" and "Cowboys Turkey in the Straw."

"When Grandmother Danted Long Ago," was given by little Misses Major, Grace Callen, Frances Elaine Price and Maurine Morris, who were also dressed in Colonial costume.

A red, white and blue dance was very cleverly done by Allie Wado. "Gavotte" by eight little girls in George and Martha Washington costumes with Mrs. J. H. Guitar at the piano and Miss Beulah Ashford playing a violin obligato was very pretty indeed. The children were: Moncure Carten, Mary Ellen Lambeth, Helen Snyder, Mary Frances Dupree, Harry Eta Landers, Catherine Stigel, Frances Wade and Terry Scott.

Mrs. W. R. Martin sang a song she had composed and has dedicated to the D. A. R. Chapter, "Spinning Wheel Days."

Spinning Wheel Days

(Song composed by Doris Mullin Martin, dedicated to the Lieut. William Halbert Chapter of the D. A. R.)

In the olden golden yesterdays, Gallant men and maids of winking ways,

Found romance in perfumed gardens 'Neath a lover's misty moon.

Thru the dear old stately minutes, They would dance with light and graceful step,

And in the evening's twilight glow, Sang quaint old songs of long ago.

Oh! Those spinning wheel days of long ago;

Oh! Those story book days that I love so,

When all of the world seemed satisfied with romance,

And life was a happy dream. Oh! Those sweet charming ways of grandmother's days,

Oh! The grace of the dance and roundabouts,

In sweet reverie they come back to me,

Those old fashioned spinning wheel days.

As an encore she sang "No Sir," Her little daughter, Gloria, three years old, gave a reading and a little drama. The reading was "When Grandmother's Grandmother was a Little Girl."

She sang "The Old Fashioned Evening" and "The Old Fashioned Evening."

Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, with Miss Halloway at the piano, sang very sweetly "Mighty Laka Rose," Miss Logan played "Ostro Kamenon."

In the dining room, from a lace covered table, centered with red carnations, with beautiful silver service at either end, tea was poured by Misses Martha Reba Hubbard and Lucille Ashford. Sandwiches, mints and macaroons were passed by Misses Mary Belle Brennan, Connie Lupton, Margaret Mann, Katherine Price, Virginia Thompson, Beatrice Logan and Nellie Harper Green. The favors were little red hatchets.

About three hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Luncheon Club

The Luncheon Club met Thursday with Miss Mildred Coleman. Her tables were decorated with carnations, the favors with little globes filled with candles, the tallies with pictures of George Washington.

The next meeting will be at the Colorado Hotel at 7:30 P. M., with Miss Martha Earnest as hostess. The husbands of the members will be guests.

Mrs. Whitmore was to discuss a national question and she very appropriately took the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Mrs. Mahon gave a patriotic reading.

The club sang "The Eyes of Texas," after which Miss Lois Eloise Burdine gave a piano number, which was much enjoyed. Miss Hatcher was a guest.

The hostess served fruit salad, crackers, coffee and little cakes. The favors were little cherry tree hatchets.

There were six tables of bridge players and three of "42." Before beginning the games delicious refreshments in two courses was served. This consisted of veal loaf, molded salad, rolls, pickles and coffee, followed by cherry pie and whipped cream.

After a number of enjoyable games, the tables were folded up, a punch board passed and stunts performed by everyone. Four Months From Now

WHAT chicks get in their feed will have a lot to do with keeping them alive and growing. More than 2,500 hatcheries say, "Feed Purina Chick Startena." There's a reason.

Every ingredient that goes into Startena is carefully chosen and tested. Startena is rich in life-giving and growth-producing vitamins, proteins and minerals. Every ingredient in Startena has its job to do. Every ingredient does its part in keeping chicks alive and growing.

Start your chicks on Purina... keep them on Purina... you'll get more grown-up chicks and have more money left after all chick raising costs are paid. Tell us how many bags of Startena you need right now:

BANKERS IN NATIONAL MOVE FOR UNIFORM FINANCIAL PRACTICES

Would Promote Greater Consistency Among All the State Laws in Respect to Banking Conditions—Uniformity of Practice and Understanding Will Make for Greater Convenience, Efficiency and Safety for All Business.

By S. J. HIGH

RAPID interchange of business and the quick transportation of goods in the United States, coupled with almost instantaneous means of inter-communication by telegraph, telephone and wireless, have welded the country into an economic unit. The nation is not, in a business sense, conducting its affairs in water-tight compartments, as in a measure it did in the days of slow travel and remote places, but styles, methods, commodities and business practices flow freely today in all directions. Therefore it is desirable that finance, trade and industry throughout the country operate along generally uniform or at least consistent lines, so that a contract or an agreement or obligation in connection with business transactions shall mean virtually the same thing in all parts of the country. Particularly necessary in this connection is the establishment of uniform financial and banking practices so as to facilitate the flow of trade along accepted and understood lines.

S. J. HIGH

Banking in the United States is recognized as a semi-public type of business and is therefore subject to laws to define the scope and character of its activities. These laws at present set up a great diversity of conditions under which banking is conducted in various parts of the country since they come from both state and federal authorities. The national banks are all chartered by the federal government and therefore operate on the same lines in every state of the Union, but there is no such regularity in respect to the conditions under which the state banks chartered by the respective forty-eight states must conduct their business. All state banking codes, while they have similarities, also have many great dissimilarities in respect both to the national bank laws and the banking laws covering state bank operations in other jurisdictions.

Bankers Move for Uniform Laws
The State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association, which latter includes in its membership banks of all descriptions throughout the country subject to all the variations of state and federal banking laws, is committed to the effort to bring about greater consistency and uniformity among the statutes of all these various jurisdictions. This body is conducting a vigorous nationwide campaign urging that active steps be taken to secure greater co-ordination in banking legislation, more equitable conditions and more uniformly efficient public supervision of banks in the several states.

The organization is particularly concerned with fostering this movement to bring about more uniformity desirable conditions throughout the United States in respect to the public supervision of banking institutions by the state banking departments. It is on record as favoring the policy that the important office of state bank commissioner should be kept as free from entangling partisan politics as the judiciary itself and should be completely detached from all other functions of state government.

It is also on record as favoring the policy that the tenure of office of state bank commissioners should be made more secure and lasting than is now the case in many state jurisdictions and that this important public officer be granted sufficient compensation and discretionary power so that the office shall attract and retain the services of men of outstanding executive ability and successful banking experience.

It is also a part of this policy that the bank commissioners' ability to serve well should be strengthened by providing him with adequate forces of bank examiners, selected on the basis of merit from men having the requisite qualifications of honesty, ability, training and banking knowledge to carry out the duties of their offices on the highest plane of usefulness to the public as well as to banking.

The Trend of State Laws
The Association's State Bank Division has recently concluded a nationwide survey of state banking legislation and conditions and in general has discovered a definite trend along the following lines:

There is a distinct tendency among the states to raise the minimum capital required for banking institutions to $25,000 and also to give the bank commissioners or the banking boards sole power as to the granting of charters for new banks, thus enabling them to use discretion as to the need or desirability of added banking facilities or the fitness of the organizers to enter the banking field. In this connection many states are creating banking boards to act in an advisory capacity with the state bank commissioners.

There has also been observed a tendency to increase the compensation of the bank commissioners and to lengthen their terms of office and to give them power to appoint necessary deputies and examiners so as to build up an adequate force to carry out their responsibilities and duties. An important augmentation of the powers of "Bashful Mr. Bobbs," which is the Junior play to be given Tuesday night, March 5, is a comedy based on the well known mix-up resulting from mistaken identity. Two young men, cousins, both named Bobbs, one very bashful, one very bold, appear on the scene at a small town hotel. There is located the fiancée of the bold one, who is delayed in keeping an appointment. It develops upon the bashful Mr. Bobbs to straighten things out. His efforts are enough to convulse the audience who hears him.

George Tate is the picture of bashfulness in his efforts to fix things up for his cousin, played by William Green. Pete Smith, as Obadiah Stump the fresh country product, is a whole comedy in himself. The part of Jean Graham, engaged to the bold Mr. Bobbs, is played by Fayrl Plaster.

The play is full of humorous situations and the lines are good. The audience is promised many laughs, whether they are very much instructed or not.

Others in the cast are: Katharine Henderson, a young wife, Mildred Johnson; Frederick Henderson, her husband, W. R. Powell; Mrs. Wiggins, the landlady, Lulu Franklin; Frances Whittaker, an athletic girl, Mary Hughes; Rosalie Otis, a society bud, Juliana Smith; Celesta Vanderpool of the movies, Martha Reba Hubbard; Julie, her French maid, Juliet Phillips.

The fact that Texas cities are building with local capital particularly impressed one man, H. F. Callaway of the New York Trust Company.

"General business conditions are much better in this State than in any State in the Union," he said. "This is reflected especially in the real estate business. Big building is being done on local capital, which shows there is plenty of available money in the State. And I have been told we did not visit many of the richest portions of Texas."

Mitchell County Farmers To Grow Pure Line Seed

J. F. Bodine of Buford and J. T. Draper of Lorraine have secured some of the pure line "Higear" seed from Chillicothe Experiment station through the county agent and will specialize in the production of the pure seed by bagging the heads before they bloom in order to keep the seed from crossing.

Mitchell county now has men producing all the better known types of grain sorghums which is quite an advantage to farmers as they can secure the best of seed already acclimated and they can visit the seed plots and see the kind of seed they are buying. Where seed is ordered it sometimes proves to be very poor seed and often it is mixed with weed seeds.

The men who are growing the pure grain sorghum seed are:—Dwarf Maize: A. K. McCarty and E. B. Zait; Spur Fecerita: C. H. Thomas; Blackhull Kaffir: John Dozier and Emmet Blasingame; Hecari: J. F. Bodine and J. T. Draper; Red Top Cane: W. J. Manly.

SCHLEY ORDERS CAR LOAD POWER PLANTS

W. B. Schley, Delco light dealer of Colorado has ordered a carload of Delco farm lighting and power plants for the farmers in this county. There are over thirty plants in a car and the cost of the equipment is approximately ten thousand seven hundred dollars.

Schley says that the farmers are improving their farms and living quarters as well as making the wife's burden much lighter by installing a lighting and power plant.

Schley has the assistance of O. L. Tullis, one of the field supervisors in closing and getting his car out. According to Mr. Tullis, it is quite an achievement; the handling of an entire carload of equipment in a thirty day period and Mr. Schley as well as the farmers who have improved their farms are to be congratulated.

POETRY BY JIMMY GREENE

"Jimmy" Greene, who is unexpectedly showing signs of poetic genius these days, has composed the following on "Farm Relief without Legislation":

Diversity, and by your labors, Prove it pays to all your neighbors Help get the best, Plant seed that will stand the test For it isn't the acres you will sow, Its the quality of produce you can grow

When the harvest days are done, Get your level and terraces run From the water that rushes thru, Preserve the moisture, and save the soil too

For the level rows across the fields, Stores the moisture and makes the yield

Prepare well the soil and sow the seed, Through your livestock market your feed

For if you are wise, and know how, You will keep a hen, a sow, and a cow.

AVIATION AND COWS DISCUSSED AT C. C. LUNCHEON MEETING

 the detour west of town, which was welcome news.

L. B. Elliott, chairman of aviation reported that the resolution offered to the Executive board of the Chamber by this Club had been accepted and he would likely have more definite report next week.

Mr. Wulfjen announced that the main issue of the day was a discussion of the Jersey cow movement. R. B. Morgan was the first speaker. Morgan states that we are making a living off of cows, but said he would like to impress the fact that for anyone to do so he must first make up his mind to work seven days per week.

S. O. Wulfjen believes in good cows, when one can get his wife to attend to them, he says and he thinks good cows are very valuable on the farm. Mr. J. M. Thomas says bankers are always willing to assist the man who is willing to properly care for the cow, provided, the people secure the right kind of cows.

James T. Johnson refused to address the club on cows, but stated if terracing were the subject, he would talk. W. M. Elliott, Pastor the First Presbyterian Church, Tom Johnson, Manager Berry-Fee Lumber Company, W. L. Doss, Druggist, Jno. A. Thompson, the Bewley of Mitchell County, Rev. W. C. Ashford, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, and U. D. Wulfjen, all spoke of the advantages of livestock and poultry on the farm, stressing the point, however, that proper housing, proper handling, and the proper balanced feed necessary to successfully operating of dairy cows on the farm.

J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, emphasized the fact that the Chamber is sponsoring a movement to get real high grade cows with registration papers, which also have a record of merit back of them. Greene stated further that our farmers are fully conversant with all details of the dairy cow proposition, and that education really should start with us people living in town.

Club was dismissed by an alarm clock at exactly one o'clock.

"One of our customers came in the other day, we hadn't seen him for some time: 'I'm going to confess,' he said. 'I fell for a sign two weeks ago that offered me a tire for $13.60. Well, the man told me that it was a regular $22.00 tire. I bought it. Day before yesterday it blew up. I took it back this morning, and guess what that slicker said:

"Sure I will make it right," he told me. I'll give you another tire just like that one."

"But I don't want another tire like that one," I said.
 "Oh, you just happened to get a bad one," he said. "Here's another—now, all you do is pay me the difference between the regular price and the bargain price, just $8.40, and you get a brand new tire."

Strange as it may seem, there are lots of folks who think they can get a $22 tire for $13.60. Our policy is to offer the best tires we know—Federal Tires at fair prices. We don't have bargain days where we put $13.60 on a $12.00 tire and try to make anybody believe it's really worth $22.00

We do business on the up and up every day in the week, and if an adjustment is necessary—which is very seldom—we handle it on an honest, satisfactory basis. Remember, when you are tempted with a bargain—Remember also Federal Tire Service is FREE here, too.

Two Schools Affected By W. E. Reid Bill

John Tarleton Agricultural college at Stephenville and North Texas Junior Agricultural college at Arlington would be consolidated at the latter city and the Texas Junior Agricultural, Mechanical and Industrial college and the John Tarleton plant utilized for a new institution, the Central Texas State Teachers college, if a bill introduced Monday in the house of representatives by W. E. Reid of Colorado is approved.

Authority to use a fund of $75,000 donated by Stephenville citizens to John Tarleton, which like the Arlington institution, is state-supported, and a branch of the A. & M. college of Texas, as a student loan fund for the proposed Teacher's college, is also provided in the Reid bill. The bill cites that the Arlington and Stephenville institutions already offer the same types of courses and serve the same portion of the state and that the section surrounding Stephenville is in need of a state teachers college. The Stephenville institution is one of the oldest colleges west of Fort Worth. It was originally a privately operated school, having been founded by gift and land and money provided in the will of John Tarleton, a pioneer of Palo Pinto county. For a dozen years it has been supported by the state and is reputed to have one of the largest student-bodies of any junior college in America. Although a heavy majority of its students are men it is co-educational. Within the past five years several large buildings have been added to its physical plant. Stephenville and Arlington are approximately 85 miles apart. The former city is 110 miles southeast of Abilene.—Abilene Morning News.

RANGE CONDITIONS IN TEXAS REPORTED GOOD

Range conditions in most Texas sections are good and cattle are in good shape despite recent severe weather, according to reports from inspectors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. "Enough moisture has been received to guarantee a good ground season for the spring," said E. B. Spillier, secretary of the association. "That means much to the cattlemen. Of course the range feed has been insufficient to entirely feed the cattle, but it has been found profitable anyway to feed the cattle to a certain extent while they are on the range."

Among the late reports from the cattle ranges are: W. W. Treadwell, inspector stationed at Menard—Range good, light rains over wide area. A. T. Jeffries, Clarendon—Range very good, weather moderating and cattle holding up well. Lee Bell, El Paso, range very good. R. F. Kelton, Pecos—Range good; one-half inch of rain over a wide area. John Sheerer, San Angelo—Range very good, three-tenths of an inch of rainfall. J. W. B. Hogan, Midland—Range good; one-half to one inch of rain which has just fallen will benefit grass and weeds.

FARMERS TOLD HOW TO TERRACE WHILE FARMING

County Agent Foster says that farmers who wish to terrace their land can keep from getting behind with their farming operations by running terrace lines, then bedding their land and constructing the terraces when they have finished breaking. Quite a number of men tried this system the last few years and find that it saves time and allows them to terrace even though it is late in the season.

Gone But Not Forgotten

Dear Golda, how we miss you, our hearts are filled with pain, yes, we miss you but our loss is Heaven's gain. Your life was always sweet and beautiful. Not one dark spot can we look back and see. Always helping what you could in words or kind deeds.

We cannot call you back, but with the help of our dear Savior, we will always try to bear up the life, that you have lived before us. And we would say to the loved ones who are left to mourn your going—"weep not, as those who have no hope" for we see a sure way of your hope was secure. "I am in the arms of Jesus, safe on His gentle breast, there by His love I'm shadowed, sweetly your soul shall rest." Words cannot express the beauty of your life to me, a life He yours was helping to hold up the Banner of Christ, and we trust, that there will be a number of others who will try their best to take up where you have laid down and help press on with the battle till Jesus comes again. Written by one who knew and loved her.

Hoover's Head Is Full Size Larger Than Lincoln's, Hat Chart Shows

Lincoln was rarely seen without his black "stovepipe."

Herbert Hoover has discarded his dark felt hat for a grey fedora.

A Study of the Head Sizes of Our Presidents Provides Interesting Information About Their Heads and Hats.

CORRESPONDENTS who have spent much time in describing President elect Hoover's double breasted blue serge suit have overlooked, his friends say, the Californian's most obvious sartorial effect—his grey felt hat.

Mr. Hoover has forsaken almost entirely the dark felt hat of other years—a style for which he showed partiality on the most informal occasions. During the six months the President elect changes to a stiff American straw and, and of course, on formal occasions wears his silk topper.

It is no secret that the President elect does not take kindly to the high silk hat, just as he does not take kindly to anything stiff or formal in business relationships. Some early pictures show Herbert Hoover in a black derby. On rare occasions he has been seen in a rough fisher fur felt.

Mr. Hoover has no bumps or protuberances on his head as has Al Smith. Al, it will be remembered, once told a municipal court judge that the reason he wore his hat on one side of his head was because it hurt to wear it absolutely horizontal.

Mr. Hoover's head compares favorably as to size with the heads of former occupants of the White House.

Stylists of the John B. Stetson Company of Philadelphia have assembled some interesting "head facts" about our former Presidents as well as about other notables of history.

Measured in eighth's, Mr. Hoover's seven and a quarter is a size larger than Abraham Lincoln's, and a size smaller than Ulysses S. Grant's, according to Stetson officials. Of the eleven presidents about whom information has been secured, Rutherford B. Hayes takes first honors in small sizes with 7 1/16. James A. Garfield had the largest head and wore a 7 3/4 hat. William McKinley and Calvin Coolidge are credited with size 7 1/2. Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison each wore a size 7 1/4 hat. Warren G. Harding's size was 7 1/8, while Chester A. Arthur wore a 7 1/4 hat.

Johnson's Head Irregular

Lincoln's head is described as small, well shaped and almost a perfect oval. The general character of the contour pointed to firmness, caution and the domestic virtues. President Johnson's head was larger and more irregular with a big bump of concentration. Grant's head was also large and wide across the front showing special genius for construction and generalship.

That the appearance of heads may be deceiving is seen from a comparison of the measurements of Cleveland's and McKinley's skulls with those of the other Presidents. Cleveland's hat size was supposed to be very large, but in reality it was not as large as that of Harrison's. McKinley, who seemed to have an abnormally large skull, actually had a small one. It was, however, extremely long and had a pronounced bump of concentration.

"T. R." Had Conscience Bump

Some of the statistics the Stetson Company has compiled run true to popular conception, while others are at variance with what the layman is prone to believe. For instance, Joseph Hume, the philosopher, required an 8 1/2 hat, while the size of the head of the former German Emperor is listed as 6 1/2.

Probably the late Theodore Roosevelt never heard of an inferiority complex, yet phrenologists insist that the formation of his head showed a tendency to despondency. They also state that Teddy had a big conscience bump.

Mr. Hoover's frontal development is pronounced. It conforms with the orthodox theories of phrenology as to the proper shape of a highly trained executive's cranium.

'DOG STORY' CONTEST FEATURE OF LIONS MEETING LAST FRIDAY

Jimmy Greene Wins Prize For Story; Receives Honorable Mention

A "dog story" contest was the feature of the entertainment when the Lion's club had its regular luncheon Friday noon at the Colorado Hotel with J. Ralph Lee, president presiding. Other entertainment features were the singing of two songs by Dr. Goodpaster, with Thomas Dawes at the piano.

While the judges admitted that it was hard to determine whether Rev. J. D. Harvey or J. H. Greene deserved the prize, they finally decided on Greene, whose previous record somewhat influenced the judges, and he was awarded the prize, honorable mention, for the following story:

Two Marriage Bills Pass In Legislature

By W. E. Reid

The agencies created under which the legislature has scrapped at nearly every session for years, became part of the law of Texas Saturday when Gov. Moody approved the marriage license bill, carrying a requirement of medical certificate for any man securing a marriage license.

This provision, tacked upon the bill requiring persons to give notice of intention to secure a marriage license, apparently was offered as a sure method of killing the bill. Through a quirk of chance, it has become a law, with little discussion or controversy. The same caused a near riot in past sessions, when it failed to pass.

The marriage bill requires all couples to give three day's notice of intention to secure marriage license, and requires that the application shall have attestation of at least two reputable persons. A man must present a doctor's certificate that he is free of certain diseases.

The legislatures of the past shied away from this requirement as "freak legislation" and it was tied upon the new law as an amendment after preliminary skirmishes showed the bill likely to pass. But supporters of the measure readily accepted the amendment and thereby beat the opponents at their own game. Women are exempt from the doctor's certificate clause.

CLOUD SUNDAY NIGHT WAS DESTRUCTIVE

The cloud which brought the first "spring shower" and hail to Colorado Sunday night visited destruction and death to other parts of the state, according to reports by Associated Press in State papers. Reports were that, besides the deaths in Texas, not less than twenty people were killed in a storm that swept over North Mississippi, doing most damage in the little town of Duncan, Mississippi.

Wind, rain and hail hurtled down on Northeast Texas Sunday night and early Monday, leaving in their wake four dead, six seriously injured and property losses estimated at more than $250,000. The storm was the first seasonal disturbance of any consequence in Texas this Spring.

Shortly after Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Jones had been killed at Cooper, 60 miles northeast of Dallas when their home collapsed, two negroes, Alfred Gibson and his wife, were battered to death as the wind wrecked their house at Grand Prairie, 13 miles west of Dallas.

At Cooper three persons, Troy Young, 21; Mrs. Wakefield, a tourist, and Mrs. William Duncan, 60, were injured seriously. Three others, Mr. and Mrs. John Trigg and their daughter, Leona, 19, were injured at Grand Prairie. Mrs. Trigg and her daughter may die, it was said, at a Dallas hospital where they were taken for treatment.

Melba, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mize, is recovering from operations for mastoids which she underwent in Sweetwater some time ago. She is still under treatment.

Farmers Plan To Buy Good Cows At Saturday Meeting

Decision was made to secure names of all Mitchell county farmers interested in buying high-grade and registered cows was made when several of Mitchell county's most progressive farmers met Saturday afternoon at the office of the Chamber of Commerce. Purchase of the cows, will follow the securing of these names.

W. S. Foster, county agent, explained the plan of securing the cows, which will have Records of Merit. When the names of those interested in securing such cows are secured, if there be a sufficient number, a car of the cows will be ordered. It was recommended that a committee be appointed to go out and inspect such cows of this class as are offered for sale.

B. O. Joyce and J. C. Franklin, two farmers who have had dairy experience, stated that they consider it worthless to buy anything less than a registered cow with a record of merit back of her.

CLUB BOY OF THIS SECTION WINNER OF SCHOLARSHIP

College Station, Texas, Feb. 28.—Three college scholarships, each worth $300, offered annually to 4-H club girls working under supervision of home demonstrating agents of the Extension Service, A and M College of Texas, have been awarded this year to Farris Stevenson, Hermleigh, Scurry county; Alma Kindt, Wheelock, Brazos county; and Ardell Watkins, Atlanta, Cass county. In announcing the awards, Miss Bess Edwards, assistant state home demonstration agent, explains that the first two named winners are recipients of scholarships given by the State Fair of Texas while the other award is given by the Texas Home Demonstration Association, composed of home demonstration clubs of the state.

Competition was keen for these scholarships, awards of which were made on the basis of the application the girls made at home of their club work and on their State Fair exhibits. Each of the girls selected cleared more than $1,000 from her club work in three and four years besides receiving the training which they declared to be the greatest benefit derived. Girls club work consists of learning by doing in the fields of food preparation and preservation, clothing, home improvement and in production, such as gardening, dairying or poultry raising.

Farris Stevenson, whose work was done under the supervision of Miss Jessie Lee Davis, home demonstration agent in Scurry county, earned $1,039.90 in three years of club work, exclusive of prizes. Alma Kindt, of Brazos county, whose home demonstration agent is Miss Lucy Givens, is a fourth year club girl whose four years record of work shows net profits of $1,205.54 to which she added $327.50 in prizes. Ardell Watkins, whose work was under the supervision of Miss Leona Ray, Cass county home demonstration agent, made a total profit in four years of $1,022.27, in addition to prizes.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR ABILENE SPRING EXPOSITION COMPLETE

ABILENE, Texas, February 28.—All arrangements for the Spring Exposition and Fashion Show, a new kind of entertainment feature for West Texas, which is to be held in Abilene all next week, have been completed and those in charge of the affair are now waiting for the time to arrive and for the people from over the territory to come in and enjoy the various programs.

An outstanding feature of the week will be in elaborate Fashion Show at Fair Park Auditorium on Tuesday, March 5. This program will be given at 3 p. m. More than two dozen beautiful women will be used to model the new Spring wearables and accessories. Musical numbers and other amusements will be included in the two hour program, which will be the most ambitious offering of the kind ever given in Texas outside one of two of the larger cities.

Six Abilene department stores are participating in this show and have pooled their resources in order to give the people of West Texas a real fashion show.

The opening attraction of the week will be the Fine Arts Concert at Fair Park Auditorium at 8 p. m. Monday, March 4, in which members of the Fine Arts faculties of Simmons University, Abilene Christian College and McMurry College will be represented in a brilliant, balanced and interesting program of musical numbers and dramatic offerings.

Other attractions of the week will include a special presentation of new ideas for Spring in furniture and home decorating to be given Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the week, from 7 to 10 p. m. each day, by the eight members of the local furniture association. An automobile show in which over 15 dealers will take part will be held on Thursday and a radio show will be given on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

In addition, Abilene manufacturers will hold their annual exhibit during the week and will have a very interesting display in which everything from butter to bricks and from boilers to lingerie will be included. All the attractions will be given free of admission and from the interest being manifested over the county, indications are that large crowds will see all of them.

Miss Ruth Dorn and Phelan Dorn left Friday for Mission, Texas, in the Rio Grande Valley. Phelan will remain there to work, and Miss Dorn will return after attending to some business.

HIGHWAY NOW OPEN ON BOTH SIDES OF MITCHELL

February 18, 1929 may be remembered as an epoch-insofar as development of a connected system of public highways for Central West Texas is concerned for shortly after noon Monday state highway No. 1, the Bankhead, was finally opened for traffic its full length across Taylor county.

The last gap around which traffic has been detoured was approximately four miles immediately west of Abilene. The contractors, Southwestern Bitulithic company, finished uncovering the fresh concrete slab, which had been buried with dirt to cause it to "season" properly, and L. A. Fletcher, district maintenance superintendent of the state highway department, was one of the first motorists to drive over that section of the road.

Highway 1, east of Abilene to Calahan county was finished early in 1927. Then the stretch from near Mulberry creek, ten miles west of Abilene through Merkel and Trent to lastly the ten miles immediately west of the Nolan county line, was built. This stretch was started. The work progressed from west to east, traffic having been allowed on the strip from an underpass of the Texas and Pacific railway four miles west of town westward several weeks ago.

The Bankhead is now continuously paved from Dallas to Mitchell county and west of that county into El Paso. Paving is under way in Mitchell and the first trans-state all-weather paved highway will soon be an actuality.—Nolan County News.

W. T. C. C. MEET DATES TO BE CHANGED TO SUIT HOOVER

EL PASO.—Following a conference with El Paso Chamber of Commerce officials, Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced that the dates of the chamber convention would be changed to suit the convenience of President Herbert Hoover, should the president accept an invitation to attend the convention and to meet President Gil of Mexico in El Paso. Dates first decided upon were May 13, 14 and 15.

The invitation to President Hoover will be extended during inauguration march week. Plans are being made to have the West Texas delegation at the inauguration parade. Wade said that Judge R. B. Creager, Brownsville, national committeeman from Texas, has assured the West Texas Chamber of Commerce of his cooperation in Washington in getting an audience with the president to present the invitation. The dates for the convention will be announced after the conference with President Hoover.

Plans also are being made to take the Simmons Cowboy band, the official band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to Washington to march in the inaugural parade.

The invitation to President Gil already has been presented. Last November the El Paso Chamber of Commerce sent a delegation by Ford Trimotored plane to Mexico City to meet President Gil at the time of his inauguration and to present the invitation to him.

Plans for the entertainment and program for the convention are now being formulated by the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, H. L. Birney, president, said today.

CONOCO-ETHYL
is weatherproof

B-r-r-r-r! Whew!

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline performs at its best twelve months out of every year. It knows no seasons.

It gives the same quick start in February as it does in May—and it follows through by delivering steady, sustained, "knockless" power against the piston heads.

That's important! It's not hard to find a motor fuel that will start easily. Your chief concern should be in what it does after starting.

Being a combination of Conoco, the Triple-Test Gasoline, and Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound developed by General Motors, Conoco Ethyl is the ideal motor fuel. You'll feel the difference in the operation of your car the very second you switch to Conoco Ethyl.

So why not join the thousands of contented Conoco Ethyl users? Why not get out of your car all of the power which its designers put into it? Start the habit today by drawing up to a Conoco Ethyl Pump—at service stations and garages.

PRESENT LEGISLATURE IS BEING TURNED INTO 'SLAUGHTER SESSION'

Record Representative At Austin Writes Of Bills Repealed

By W. E. Reid, Representative

This session of the Legislature is being termed the "slaughter session" and there is considerable ground for this statement. This session has passed fewer general laws, repealed more laws, and come nearer refusing to be stamped than any regular session in history. There are only a few more days of the regular session and the 41st session will probably kill the largest number of bills in history by failing to reach them before final adjournment.

Only two general bills of relative importance, one authorizing 7-dormitory construction program at the University and the other regarding West Texas land titles and University oil lands have passed.

Moody's Bills Go Down

Five general policy measures of Governor Moody's administration all have failed. These measures, all more or less revolutionary in Texas, have failed to arouse interest in the two houses, and seem to be getting scant support from the folks "back home." The highway bond plan, generally admitted the biggest item before the session, has little chance of passing. It has not passed in the senate and doubtless will not be considered further in the house. The Moody prison relocation plan has been definitely killed in the House and amended so in the Senate that the sponsors refuse to father the bill. The Short ballot, third Moody proposal, is not seriously considered and will not be taken up. Civil service was killed outright in the House and public utility commission, another Moody plan, has been abandoned for this session.

Moody has indicated that he will call these up for consideration at the special session, with the possible exception of the highway bond plan which could not properly be presented. If the governor does this the special session will in many ways be more important than the regular. It is my prediction that all these measures would meet certain defeat at the special session.

All general appropriation bills are to be passed to the special session despite efforts of the Senate to dispose of them during this term.

A horde of local and special and nearly 300 general bills die on the calendars of the two houses at the end of this session. The University land lease bill will be passed, giving control of University lands to two members of the board of regents and the land commissioners, the three composing a leasing board.

The state pharmacy law is in process of final enactment. The anti-bolter bill and the "freedom of conscience" bills have been killed.

A general summary, incomplete as to general measures and disregarding the vast number of special and local bills that will not receive a vote, lists the following as probably dead through failure to be taken up; through direct action or through being left on the calendar when the final gavel falls:

Four racing bills, killed outright.

All general appropriations, deferred.

Public utilities control, abandoned.

Ice control bill, killed.

Oil proration bill, withdrawn.

Auto license fee reduction bills, gas tax, and other highway bills not taken up because of delay forced by proponents of bond issue plan.

Search and seizure repeal, two bills awaiting the senate action, may pass.

That cities may collect tax to advertise.

That counties may collect tax to advertise, killed by committee.

Purchase of land for new state office building, die on calendar. Appropriations for repair of capitol and erection of office building abandoned for session.

Water priority measure, water improvement districts, and interstate water compact, may not be reached.

Many of the land bill series will die on the calendar.

Other measures apparently doomed to die on the calendar are:

House read policy measures.

Authorizing creation of junior colleges.

Create state museum, awaiting senate action.

Wirtz bill giving political parties full control of primaries, voters and candidates.

Full time, nine members supreme court.

Abolishing industrial accident board.

Authorize voting machines; also series of bills regulating election returns and holding elections.

State "blue sky" law.

Create board of education and appointive state superintendent.

Sell Legion hospital.

City sanitary code, sponsored by medical profession.

Ratifying lease of state railroad to Southern Pacific.

Create state nautical training school.

Create labor and industrial commission.

About 20 bills on court procedure. Sunday motion picture regulation, may be reached.

License fossil hunters for museums.

Prevent dentists from advertising.

"Doodle bug" bill excluding geologists from land.

Changing game laws.

Regarding fishing in gulf waters.

Program for dormitories at A. and M.

Authorizing governor to accept gift of land from John H. Kirby for state experiment station.

Declare fur-bearing animals property of state.

Several bills regulating and restricting truck loads; regulating motor buses.

Oil conservation law sponsored by major oil companies and railroad commission.

Prohibit deep-sea oil loading pipe lines in Gulf.

Limiting time for stopping payment of checks.

State inspection of potatoes for sale.

Pay John W. Hornsby $10.00 for assisting state in prosecution of road

ENTHUSIASM FOR JUNIOR COLLEGE HERE IS STILL ALIVE, WORKING QUIETLY

Enthusiasm over the possibility of Colorado's securing some time in the future a Junior College is still with Ben S. Peck, superintendent of Colorado schools, who first sprang the proposition on Colorado citizens a little more than a year ago and who is still working quietly to help make the proposition a reality.

Judging from the expressions of taxpayers of this county, Peck says, it seems that there are several people who realize the importance of and benefits to be derived from such an organization.

"When one takes into consideration that only a small tax would be required to operate a Junior College," Peck states, "and to keep up a place in which the boys and girls of Mitchell county could get the first two years of college work and at the same time remain at home under the influence of mother and father, one sees the many advantages of a Junior College in our midst.

"In view of the fact that children finish high school and go away to college so young now, the Junior College close to home takes on a double advantage. And then there is the personal interest of the teachers given each student in a small Junior College.

"Many parents would prefer to send the son or daughter to the University, but because of their youth when finishing high school start them off at some other school. Very often they decide to leave the children in the school in which they began college course, and they therefore never get a University course.

Let's have an expression—many of them—on this proposition. Do you consider this a proper move or are you opposed to it? Let's have some open discussion."

HEN NO. 40—RECORD 314 EGGS IN ONE YEAR
NO. 40 LAID THREE MONTHS AND 18 DAYS IN SUCCESSION—102 EGGS

This photo taken December 20, 1928. She laid on until the first of January and then molted quick. Began laying again February 15th. Poor layers start molting first of September and molt all Fall and Winter, and start laying again in the Spring.

I have a pen of hens in the State Egg Laying Contest at Stephenville, Texas. My high hen is only 6 eggs below the best White Leghorn in the three State Egg Laying Contests in Texas, in three months laying, November, December and January.

I have three hens above 300 eggs a year, and 15 above 270 eggs a year. Those who need pedigreed chicks from 270 to 310 egg hens I can furnish them at a better price than you can get that grade elsewhere.

Every nest on my ranch is a trap-nest. I am trap-nesting 900 this year. When you get chicks from the W. B. Franklin ranch you get none from loafers, as you do when you buy from breeders who do not trap-nest. It always pays to get the best if you can get it at a fair price. The biggest trouble I find is that men will say "Well, I am only going to spend a little for chicks," and then get anything they happen to see. There should be the same business in buying good chicks as there is in selecting a good breed of cotton seed or milk cows.

I have "Strated" chicks ready now—3 days, one week, two and three weeks old. "Started" chicks are a better buy than baby chicks and the price is not much more and you lose very few chicks after they are a week or ten days old.

Have plenty of baby chicks from these trap-nested hens at 12 1/2 cents each. Would like for you to see this good egg-bred stock before you buy. My 12 1/2 cent chicks are headed with pedigreed cockerels from 250 to 300 egg dams and my pedigreed pen is headed with a cock from a pen of 300 to 331 eggs a year. This cock is valued at $100.00.

BARREN YARDS IN COLORADO

ough Winter has not yet appreciably let up on his this section, there are balmy afternoons and occasionally when one's thoughts are drawn to the ring of moist, fertile earth and the beginning of green and growing things.

As has been stated before in this column, Colorado boasts a large number of beautiful homes. That is, they are beautiful insofar as the house itself is concerned and perhaps its furnishings, but there the beauty begins to fade, for it must be admitted that the number of beautiful yards around new homes in Colorado is pitifully small in comparison.

And it isn't the proper thing to confine these generalizations about yards in Colorado to those of the newer homes. A short drive through the residential section of the city will reveal to the most prosaic-minded observer any number of houses whose home-like appearance and beauty could be enhanced by a smooth green lawn, a few well-spaced trees, a few shrubs, a well-kept hedge, or even just some neat and well-laid-out beds of flowers.

It would probably be a blow to many Colorado citizens who boast new homes of pleasing architecture but with no or little yard improvement to hear remarks made by those who pass by and for whose benefit, whether we admit it or not, we mostly want pretty homes.

And then there is the added pleasure of resting on a cool porch at the end of a torturing hot day, with the fragrance of roses or honeysuckle or four-o'clocks mingling with the sound of water spraying on cool green leaves and grass and the rustling of tree leaves to soothe one's nerves.

Last but not least there are the folks driving by who will say and think, perhaps with a degree of envy, the little flattering things every home-lover wants to hear. They will feel the better for having raised their eyes on a green and cool and inviting yard, and you will feel the better for having been its owner and creator, thereby having added not only to your personal but your civic pride.

HIGHER ESTEEM THAN BEFORE THE CHARGE

The State Highway Commission of Texas, its engineer, Mr. Gilchrist, and the rank and file of its personnel at today vindicated, and more than vindicated, following the remarkable abandonment of the remarkable investigation at Austin into charges against the men who are making the roads of Texas.

They were charged with buying a princely automobile for a millionaire's pleasure, and it turned out that the car was required to transport as many as ten men at a time over thousands of miles of rough road and that the "millionaire" furnished the chauffeur at his own expense, in addition to many long railroad trips for the State, paid for out of his own pocket, and the free gift to the department of headquarters in Houston worth in rental more than $200 per month. Instead of profiting from his post, Mr. Sterling is actually proved to be a benefactor of Texas hitherto without announcement and without credit given or sought.

They were charged with ignoring the recommendations of the equipment engineer, and it is shown that he is in charge of repairs and not of purchases, with no duty to choose equipment. They were charged with favoring certain counties in allotting roads, but it was demonstrated that these counties pay out of proportion to what they receive, and that the moving interest of these counties is a connected highway system over the State instead of isolated roads nearer their principal cities only.

They were charged with favoring a gasoline and oil contract unfavorable to the State, but the facts disclosed show absolutely nothing to discredit their original recommendations or to convince a sound business man that they ought to have recommended otherwise. Indeed, subsequent developments so proved their contention that the execution of the arrangement adopted over their protest had to be modified in the interest of economy and convenience.

In fact, investigation winds up with the investigationists trying to explain how they ever got the idea that there was anything wrong in the department anyhow. The authors of the charges remain in the background. Mr. Tennant, who was loud in criticism a short while ago, says he is not responsible. Mr. Walthall says he isn't. Mr. Geron, who sponsored the resolution of investigation, says it isn't former Governor Ferguson. Mr. Geron himself says that the evidence fails to sustain the indictment. But he does not say where the indictment came from.

In any case, the investigation is a service to the State, since it reveals a department functioning with extraordinary zeal, extraordinary vigor and extraordinary honesty. There have been mistakes. But the amazing thing is that there have been so few. Texas has the right to be satisfied with the outcome. Indeed, the State may well rejoice over it. We can now get on with the business of good roads with full confidence in the men directing it.—Dallas Morning News.

OLD-FASHIONED IDEAS WILL NOT STAND THE GAFF OF MODERN BUSINESS

Before he could dream of discovery Columbus had to cleanse his mind of superstition and prejudice. Only the man willing to free himself from the shackles of "what used to be" is ready to entertain the new ideas which lead to progress.

In every branch of science, of business, of art, and even of sport, this is true. Community progress is not less in the hands of the discoverers. The great advances have been made by men who explored new fields, unfettered by prejudice or tradition, for a prejudice blinds a man to the truth and, too, to a prejudiced man no argument appears reasonable.

The advice of scientific business is to investigate yourself, your business and your town. New business, new towns, are fortunate in not being fettered with old traditions and ideas, fortunate that they have no barnacles on their ships; but many towns date back a long way and too often refuse to accept new ideas and new ways of doing things. For that reason they fail to grow, fail to advance and keep pace with modern times. Existing in a modern day with thoughts, ideas and ways of doing things of the past modern opportunities are not recognized.

Old-fashioned ideas will not stand the gaff of modern business. If you are going to grow and do business with modern people you have to be modern, for new-fashioned buyers avoid old-fashioned sellers. The old-fashioned people and old-fashioned business will soon be gone and then "What is, will cease to be," for the town that has not kept up to and ahead of date.

Old-fashioned does not necessarily mean older people. It does mean those people who, because their grandfather before them did a certain thing in a certain way, think that that is the only way it can be done; the fellow who says his way and his idea is always right and the other fellow wrong; the fellow that, because he cannot do it or see how it is done, says it can't be done. In other words, it means the fellow who condemns everything which is beyond his range.

The only old-fashioned people who can be considered assets in the world of today are those that retain the boy mind; that is, those that are still capable of wonder, enthusiasm and experiment. When these three elements fail, the man who is out of his grave is out of place as far as progress is concerned, for a man can appreciate only that which he knows.

Things are changing these days, and changing fast. Good roads, automobiles, trucks, busses and airplanes are responsible for much of it. Radio and telephone are rushing us along to a new day, and the town that doesn't start DOING will some day be a village of the past.

Thinking people recognize that there is a new order of things, but the recognition is more evident in business than in the development and conduct of civic affairs. Business science has changed man from a fighting, hunting, furtive biped, traveling on foot or paddling a canoe along winding rivers, painfully and slowly through the solitude of the great spaces, to a ruler of the earth, flying through the air, sailing under the sea, sending messages around the world without messenger or wires. You KNOW this, because you have seen it.

This same science will bring forth even greater strides-of development and change in the ways of doing things when applied to cities, towns and communities. It WILL be applied—IS BEING applied. Because you have not SEEN it you may not KNOW it, and not knowing it, fail to appreciate it.

Every town should recognize the advantages of this new order of things and start NOW to DO that which is necessary to capitalize on the opportunity; but to do it, old superstitions and prejudices, if you have any, must be wiped out and a realization of a new order of things kept uppermost in your mind.

This Town Doctor Article, one of a series of fifty-two, is published by Colorado Record in cooperation with the Colorado Lions Club.

Colorado may be at fault when it comes to furnishing places of amusement for her younger citizens, but she seems to have held her native sons as well as the average town. Witness the number of business concerns in Colorado operated and owned by men who were raised here.

MYSTERY OF 'DRY STREAMS' OF THIS STATE DISCUSSED

MANY PLAINS STREAMS RUNNING NO MORE; SAND FILLING SOME NEAR HERE

A query which has often been voiced by older Colorado citizens and some of the younger ones concerning the one-time streams around Mitchell county was discussed but not answered in an article in the Abilene Reporter-News last Sunday on the mystery of "dry streams" on the plains of Texas.

Even younger residents of Colorado can remember when the Colorado river afforded several excellent swimming holes close in town. Notable among these was the place familiarly known as Round Rock and a place, once dangerously deep, near the south bridge. Today both these places are filled in with sand which has accumulated to a depth greater than the height of a man in less than ten years. The holding back of the water at the Texas Sand and Gravel plant has much to do with the lack of water in these holes, of course, but how the sand has filled in so swiftly in recent years when the holes had stood for years before is the question.

People who crossed this section before Mitchell county was hardly a county recall that Lone Wolf creek was once continually full of clear water, except in the driest of seasons. This section is not experiencing any extreme droughts at present, yet this creek is hardly more in its normal state than a succession of water holes.

"What makes 'em quit running?" is the question which opens the article in the Abilene paper, and it continues as follows:

"Old timers gathered about a red-hot stove tried to solve the mystery of two dry streams in the South Plains. "When my father came to the Plains fifty years ago," one premised, "Sulphur Draw ran a perennial stream. Indians told how this stream was always filled with water. "But today neither watercourse has water. Even the holes contain no water. Only after unusual rains do snail-moving freshets move down them.

"On the other hand retired stockmen nearing the discussion provoked further discussion with the query why there is so much grass on the South Plains when fifty years ago grass was a luxury.

"Solution offered by one newcomer was that innumerable wells bored on the plains had tapped the fountains of these streams and diverted the water.

"And the condition which obtains here seems to have duplication in other parts of the West. Recently The Morning News told how Elm creek, once a veritable little stream of water, was now torrid and horrid dry. The News correspondent can vouch for the truth of that statement. Thirty-four years ago the writer was a resident of Buffalo Gap. Elm creek ran a goodly stream of water, even through the summer. As boys we used to bathe in its waters all the way from the present Abilene Lake to a point two miles below the Gap. Likewise we used to fish quite a deal in the summer time. Among the more prominent "holes" which came in for bathing was the "ford," about a quarter of a mile from the old courthouse square. There were overhanging it great limbs of a giant elm. Today the tree has been obliterated. The 20-foot hole of water has filled with sand and there's not enough water in the stream for a mile to moisten the web of a duck.

"The writer well remembers one February when Elm was frozen over hard and he with two other foolhardy youths broke the ice and took a bath. Fear of possible pneumonia did not enter our minds. "It was to get jeans if a fellow went up Elm with a pole and line and return with the usual fisherman's luck. Many a time the writer returned with long strings of sun-perch, trout and catfish. "One time the writer—then a boy of 10 years of age—a "dare-devil among kids"—jumped into the Elm just behind the present Presbyterian Encampment ground. Elm was rising rapidly. Hardly had he plunged into the stream than an eddy whirled him down stream where he was rescued only after much labor by a cousin. All this goes to show that Elm creek was once an animated stream. If today it could qualify as a navigable stream under the holding of the attorney general's department, it could then have met the geographical qualifications of a second Pacific.

"But what made 'em stop running?" "That's the question. "Can you answer it?"

Middle Life Troubles

"ABOUT twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and sometimes would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time. I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. We have all been better for having taken it."

Lesson for March 3

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

LESSON TEXT—Eph. 1:22, 23; 4:4-6, 11-16.

GOLDEN TEXT—We, who are many, are one body in Christ.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Serving God in Our Church.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Serving God in Our Church.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Meaning of Church Membership.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Nature and Function of the Christian Church.

I. What It Is.

It is the body of redeemed men and women, Jews and Gentiles, called out from the world, regenerated and united to Jesus Christ as head, and to each other by the Holy Spirit.

1. It was unknown in the Old Testament time (Eph. 3:5, 6).

There were saved people in that time, but people occupying the peculiar position as members of Christ's body only could enjoy such relation after the crucifixion, and coming of the Holy Spirit.

2. Predicted by Christ (Matt. 16:18). Shortly before Christ's going to the cross, the church was spoken of as still in the future.

3. It began at Pentecost (Acts 2). That which Christ predicted as to the church began to be historically fulfilled on the Day of Pentecost.

II. Christ is the Head of the Church (Eph. 1:22, 23).

Christ is to the church what the head is to the human body.

III. The Unity of the Church (Eph. 4:4-6).

1. One body (v. 4).

United with Christ by faith, all believers are members of one body, of which He is the head.

2. One Spirit (v. 4).

The Holy Spirit is the agent in regeneration, and is the life uniting believers to Christ and to one another.

3. One hope (v. 4).

The hope of completed redemption at the coming of the Lord.

4. One Lord.

The one ruler of the church is Christ Himself (v. 5).

5. One faith.

Those who are under the control of the one Lord will more and more come into the unity of doctrinal beliefs.

6. One baptism (v. 5).

This is the baptism of the Holy Spirit, which is that sovereign act of the Spirit which unites believers to Jesus Christ as head and to each other as members of His body.

7. One God and Father of all.

He is the Creator and sustainer of the universe.

IV. The Ministry of the Church (Eph. 4:11-13).

1. The ministry of certain officials (v. 11).

Gifts were bestowed upon the church for its growth.

(1) Apostles. These were appointed by Christ to superintend the preaching of the gospel in all the world, and to create an authoritative body of teaching.

(2) Prophets. These ministers were given for the expounding of the Scriptures, the body of authoritative teaching (1 Cor. 14:3).

(3) Evangelists. These seem to have been traveling missionaries to gather in the members constituting the body of Christ.

(4) Pastors and teachers. The pastor was a shepherd and teacher—two functions inherent in the one office.

2. Object of the ministry of the church (v. 12).

(1) "Perfecting of the saints." Here is meant the mending of that which had been rent—the adjusting of something dislocated.

(2) "For the work of the ministry" (v. 12).

The perfecting of the saints has as its object their qualification to render a spiritual service.

(3) Edifying of the body of Christ. Edify means to build up the church, the body of Christ.

3. The duration of the church's ministry (v. 13).

This ministry to continue till:

(1) We come into the unity of the faith.

(2) Till we come into the knowledge of the Son of God.

(3) A perfect man, which is the measure of the stature of Christ.

4. The blessed issue of the ministry of the church (vv. 14-16).

(1) Not tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine.

(2) Speaking the truth in love.

Grandma King
Celebrates Her
92nd Birthday

By her Pastor, Rev. W. C. Ashford

The basement auditorium of the First Baptist Church was the scene of gay activity from 1 to 5 Monday afternoon as Grandma King entertained her friends with reminiscences of other days. Though far exceeding the three score years and ten mark of age she was as spry and happy as a sixteen year old school girl. It was a real pleasure to see the joy afforded her by the 50 presents given her by those who came. In addition to the presents 15 cakes were brought which were served to the guests. Beverages were in abundance; punch, hot chocolate and coffee. The birthday cake, immense in size, and containing 92 candles was beautiful. It was the gift of Whitaker's bakery.

Grandma King, whose maiden name was Martha Smith, was born in Tuskegee, Macon county, Alabama, Feb. 25, 1837. She became a christian at the age of fifteen uniting with the Missionary Baptist Church. Mr. John McCulloch and she were united in marriage July 4, 1858. To the union a son was born, C. E. McCulloch who now resides in Los Angeles, California. Thirty-two years later Grandma was left a widow by the death of her husband. On Dec. 11, 1889 she married Mr. Shelby King whom she now survives. No children were born to the union.

During the Civil War Grandma made her home in Louisiana. She was in the region of two hotly contested battles in which the Yankees, as she termed them, were defeated. She said: "It sounded like they were killing all the men, but I found later that they just up and shot over each other's heads."

Grandma came to Texas just after the war, locating in Wood county. She has been a resident of Colorado for 27 years. Her faithfulness in attending Sunday School and preaching is a continual source of inspiration to her church she loves so devotedly.

To Mesdames Goodrich and Doering assisted by Mrs. Charlie Farris and Mrs. Sam Franklin, the guests were indebted for the beautiful service of the refreshments.

Already Existent

The Christian ideal, when once it is clearly apprehended, becomes already existent.—The Times (London).

The Praise of Men

Among the chief rulers also many believed on Him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess Him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue; for they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.—John 12:42, 43.

When God Is Closest

God is closest to earth when His dwelling place is a consecrated human heart, a dedicated human intellect.—E. W. Donald.

INFANT DEPARTMENT
ANOTHER ADDITION TO BARGAIN HOUSE

Millinery And Ladies' Ready
To Wear Department
Also Improved

An infant department, done in soft pinks and blues, has been added to the Colorado Bargain House, and the millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear department in the upstairs section of the store has been enlarged and renovated.

The main feature about the infant department is a lighted alcove above a chest of drawers done in pink. The background of the alcove is a painting of the mythical stork flying with an infant against a blue sky, and in one corner of the opening is a life-like baby doll. All around the doll are dainty and novel baby things which will delight those who seek gifts for new arrivals. Among these are little celluloid "feeding time" clocks, in pink and blue, rattlers, handmade dresses, dress hangers, and any number of other little things. Other articles for infants are in the built-in drawers.

The millinery department has been enlarged until it is one of the most spacious and convenient in Colorado. All these changes are among a number which have been made in this store since the management had its whole front and part of the interior modernized last year.

ALL ELSE HAD FAILED;
THEN SARGON BROUGHT HEALTH TO BENNETT

"Sargon restored my health at a time when I thought nothing would help me," recently stated Frank Bennett, of 905 Macon St., Fort Worth. His full statement follows:

"My troubles started two years ago when I commenced to suffer with indigestion. I lost my appetite and what little I ate caused me lots of miserly. I suffered with gas pains around my heart, and could taste my food for hours. I seldom got a good night's sleep and was so nervous at times that I would shake all over. I felt tired, run down and worn out even before the day was half over. My liver was out of order, I was bilious and my vitality was very low. I took lots of medicines and treatments with no lasting benefit.

"Then I tried Sargon, and I knew almost at once that I had found the right medicine at last. My appetite returned and my strength and energy began to come back with the first bottle. Now, I sleep fine, eat anything I want and everything agrees with me. I am always hungry and enjoy my meals. My nerves are steady as a die, my headaches are gone and I feel like a man made all over again. I have gained nine pounds and just want to be on the go all the time.

"Sargon has built me back up so that I am stronger, and feel better than I have felt in years. I am a well man now, and the Sargon treatment is responsible for it."

Sargon may be obtained in Colorado from the Colorado Drug Co., in Westbrook from Mrs. Margaret E. Lassetter, and in Lorraine from Hutchinson & Hall. Adv-11

COLORADO CHAMBER TO BE WELL-REPRESENTED AT REGIONAL MEETING

Dr. Coleman To Preside; Judge C. C. Thompson On Program

A large number from Colorado will be in attendance at the regional meeting of the West Central Division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Snyder on March 5, according to J. H. Greene, secretary of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, who reminds the people that Snyder was well-represented at the meeting here last year.

Colorado will also be well represented on the program, as Dr. P. C. Coleman will preside during the meeting, and Judge C. C. Thompson, known far and wide as a good roads booster, will speak on "Good Roads and Aid to Agriculture."

The Scurry County Chamber of Commerce through its Secretary, Watt Scott, have advised that plans have been completed for the convention. Manager Homer D. Wade has sent invitations out to all member towns, and has also asked the Board of Directors to join in the Snyder meeting which promises to be one of the notable gatherings of the organization this year. Col. R. L. Penick, chairman of the Agricultural committee of the W. T. C. C. has also called an executive session during the Snyder meeting.

Terracing, the dairy cow, poultry and other subjects are scheduled for discussions and special legislative aid, calculated to encourage farmers of West Texas to terrace their lands through co-operation to a greater degree by the Extension Department, A. and M. College is to be recommended.

Col. Penick has been assigned the subject, "Poultry and Its Progress" a subject that he knows thoroughly as he has been an ardent supporter of the poultry program in his home county and has spent thousands of dollars to back up his ideas on the subject.

Members of the Aviation committee of the W. T. C. C. have also been invited to Snyder to note the new 200-acre airport that is building here.

Other speakers on the morning program include Rev. Hugo Haterius of Avoca who will speak on "Developing Rural Community Life" while President A. M. Bourland, Master Farmer President of the W. T. C. C.

will have as his subject, "Our Objectives."

During the noon day luncheon, Paul Vickers of Midland will serve as toastmaster and two well known road boosters will have addresses, H. W. Stanley of El Paso representing "The Broadway of America" and Judge R. W. Pittman of Seminole representing "The Dal Paso Cavern Highway."

AGRICULTURAL AUTHORITY AT SNYDER GIVES VIEWS

C. C. Redman, vocational agriculture instructor in Snyder High School and conceded by many to be one of the best authorities in his line in the State, has voiced some worthwhile ideas in the following article printed recently in the Snyder Times-Signal. It is about Snyder High School's vocational agriculture department, but is peculiarly fitting at this time when Colorado is thinking seriously of launching a similar department in her own high school:

If the farming conditions are what they should be in this community and in Scurry county, and if there is no necessity for improved farm practices, the writer of this article is in the wrong community and county.

I believe if the citizens of this community and county will look upon the farming conditions unbiased and unprejudiced they will agree with me that there should be improved farm practices and the teaching of vocational agriculture in the public schools for the further development of our agricultural industry. Every citizen of this community, whether he is a farmer, professional or business man, depends directly or indirectly upon the agricultural industry for his success. Then why not give the boys instruction in agriculture which is the greatest industry we have, and the vocation that the majority of them will engage upon for life?

There are too many people that do not realize the necessity of vocational agriculture departments in the schools because they do not understand the purpose and the work of these departments. Therefore, it is the duty of each and every one who understands the purpose and the work according to the Smith-Hughes plan to explain it to others.

The vocational agriculture students of Snyder High School have gone into the second semester with greater enthusiasm than what was manifested during the first semester. The students decided the first semester to select projects that would bring them a net profit of $5,000 this year. We have been unfortunate in that several of the students have withdrawn from school. This means if the class reaches the goal set up each of the remaining students will have to clear more money on his project. To show you what kind of farmers we have in our department, when this was discussed a few days ago, they decided they would reach their goal by the majority of them increasing the size or scope of their projects. With the projects selected they will be able to reach the goal by careful study, hard work, and improved farm practices.

The following is a summary of projects which are being carried on by the entire class under the supervision of the instructor:

- 28 Hogs for pork production.
- 23 Sows and gilts for swine production.
- 18 Dairy cows.
- 6 Baby beef calves.
- 2 Beef breeding cows.
- 3 Home gardens.
- 1 Dairy heifer.
- 375 Hens.
- 93 Acres of cotton.
- 646 Baby chicks.
- 10 Ewes.
- 30 Acres of grain sorghums.

We extend a cordial invitation to parents, business men, bankers, school-board members and all to visit our department. Each period is devoted to discussion, field trips, shop work, or laboratory work which can be applied to improved farm practices in this community. If the citizens will visit with us and learn more about the objectives and work, it will result in a more hearty cooperation; it will also stimulate an interest in establishing other vocational agricultural departments in the county.

Local Cattlemen At Hereford Sale In Sweetwater

Ranchmen from all parts of the southwest, among them three from Colorado, were in Sweetwater Monday afternoon for the semi-annual auction sale of the Mid-West Hereford Association. Fred Jones, Chester Jones, and Fred McKensie were cattlemen from Colorado's vicinity attending the sale. Approximately fifty head of the finest Herefords in Nolan county were put up for sale.

It adds to big mileage without sacrificing any of the benefits of low-pressure

Even the notable mileage records of yesterday—twenty thousand, forty thousand, sixty thousand miles, the far-life performances that are traditional among users of the General Tire—have now given way to a greater accomplishment.

Now, for the first time, the greatest possibilities of mileage and full efficiency in low-pressure have been brought together.

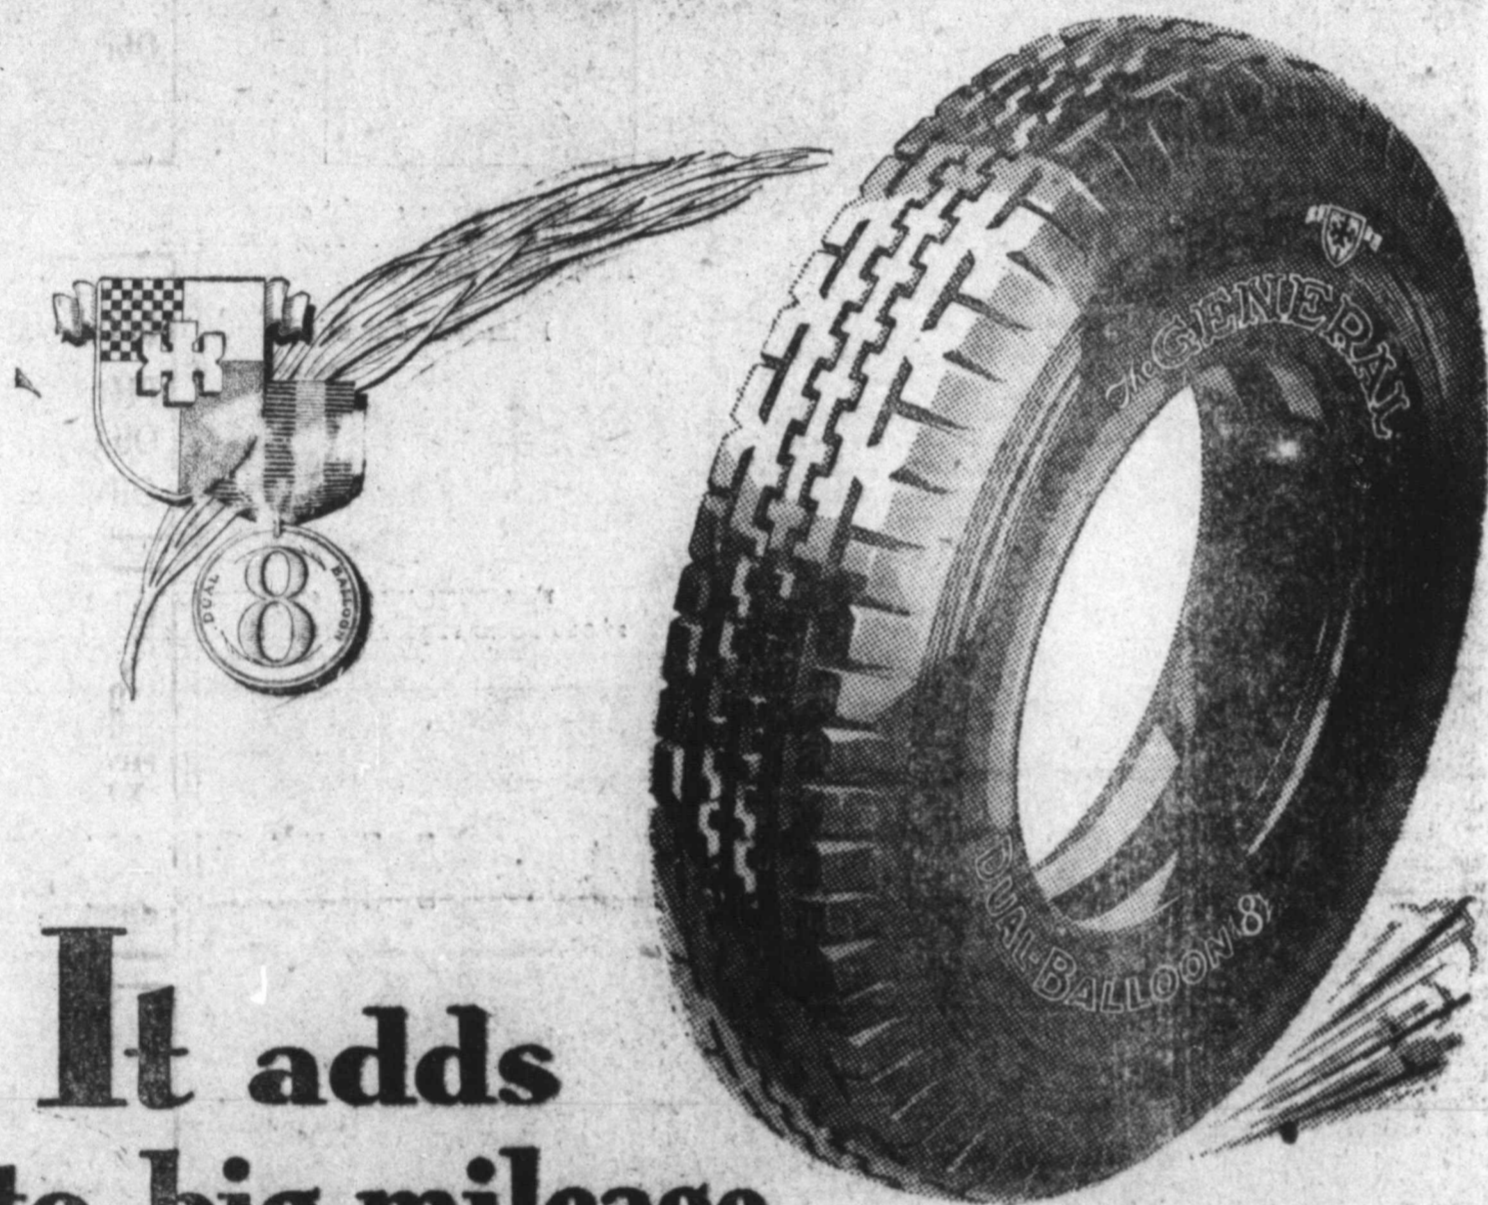

Lately, in the tire industry, efforts to feature big mileage have led away from the true purpose of the balloon idea—back toward the old standard of "high-pressure" or "moderate-pressure" in tires. But the Dual-Balloon completely reverses that tendency. It adds to General's already famous mileage without compromising in the least the comforts of low-pressure operation.

Thus, two great forward steps in tire progress have been achieved. The new Dual-Balloon principle alone has been successful in combining greater mileage with regular balloon low-pressure.

With the Dual-Balloon you do not "trade" riding comfort for the added miles. No tire that can compare even remotely with its great mileage capacity can offer its low-pressure advantages—its cradle-like riding ease and super-traction—the supreme comfort and confidence that mean luxurious travel.

LEGION IS HAPPY TIE BETWEEN WAR VETS

"A comradeship of men who have memories of squads right, submarine infected seas, and trenches of France, are enjoyments of men who belong to the American Legion," said J. Y. Frazer, Post Adjutant today.

"By paying dues and taking part in the Legion, a veteran engages in great national projects of service. The Legion works for relief of disabled comrades, their dependents, and orphaned children of veterans. The Legion, through a great network of ten thousand Posts, is engaged in the promotion of national defense, aviation safety campaign, a junior baseball world series, emergency relief, community service, and scores of worthwhile projects. The Legion stands in the front line trench of every field where the interest of World War Veterans is at stake.

The Legionnaire receives free upon payment of his dues to the organization The American Legion Monthly. This magazine, the product of one of the largest publishing plants in the world, is well illustrated. It commands the writings of leading authors. It is a delightful visitor to every man who shares the common memories of World War Service.

Membership in the Legion, in most communities, entitles the veteran to club privileges as many Posts own their own homes. Whenever a Veteran travels over the United States, and foreign countries, he finds Legionnaires. They are friendly and need no introduction beyond a Legion membership card.

The Legion is democratic. Its meetings afford a forum for self-expression. In the Legion there is no rank. Millionaires associate with men of the most moderate circumstances, many life-long business associations are formed through Legion acquaintanceship. The fraternal affiliation of the Legion is strengthened a thousand times by memories of World War Days.

Legion Posts enjoy assistance and companionship of the American Legion Auxiliary, consisting of approximately three hundred thousand patriotic women. Legion membership carries the privilege of joining the "Forty and Eight" the play and honor society of the Legion.

There are deeper benefits derived from membership in the Legion. The veteran soon falls into the swing of things. He begins to ask "What can I do to help?" The men of the Legion serve in peace as they did in war.

Free hospitalization of Veterans, whether or not their sickness is due to service connected disability, has been provided. The government, however, is sometimes severely pressed for hospital beds and facilities and this hospitalization can only be given if there is room. The greatest need at present is more hospital facilities for mental cases. There usually is room for all other purposes.

Whether the veteran needs hospitalization must be determined by the United States Veterans Bureau which is charged with the administration of relief measures. In emergency cases, provided there is room for hospitalization, the veteran will be sent to the hospital by a statement from attending home town physician saying that such hospitalization is necessary. Veterans should not go to government hospitals without first finding out through the Legion or the Veterans Bureau if they can be received.

When it has been determined that the sick veteran needs hospitalization, he is entitled to free railroad or automobile transportation to the government hospital designated by the bureau. Similar transportation is authorized for the return home when he has recovered. The government will also pay the transportation and subsistence of an attendant to accompany the sick man, if his condition is such that an attendant is needed.

Upon his arrival at the hospital, there is provided absolutely free, room, board, doctor's care, surgical care, nurse's care, medicine, physical examination, X-ray service, electrical treatments, and in fact free treatment for every known disease. The government hospitals now rank among the best in the United States in personnel and equipment.

In event the veteran's death occurs outside the government institution, and the veteran does not leave assets in excess of $1,000, after payment of all debts contracted prior to death, the government provides $107 towards funeral expenses. This sum is supplemented in many states by additional appropriations. A veteran is entitled to a free headstone from the government for his grave in event of death.

All of the above are offered free, regardless of whether the disability of the veteran is connected with world war service.

If the Veteran's disability is due to service he is entitled to many additional benefits. He may receive compensation, in amounts varying up to $100 per month, according to the degree of disability. In cases his death is caused by disability incident to service the dependents are entitled to dependency compensation. If the Veteran dies while receiving compensation from the government, his estate is entitled to the sum of $107,

HICKS ANNOUNCES ITS NEW SPRING TIRES

Payable toward funeral expenses regardless of financial status.

Through the Legion's influence the Adjusted Compensation measure was passed. It provided that veterans receive free paid-up 20-year certificate, similar to a twenty year endowment insurance policy. This certificate runs in value as high as $1,585, depending upon length and place of service. The length of time in which veterans may apply for adjusted Compensation has been extended through Legion efforts. If the veteran dies before twenty years have passed the face value of the policy will be paid to the designated beneficiary. These certificates, after two years from date issued have a cash value which increases every year.

Membership in the local post is only $5.00 per year without any special assessments. Every ex-serviceman in Mitchell county should belong to a post.

Presentation of the new Dayton "King of DeLuxe" tires, formal announcement of the purchase of the Star Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, and new spring prices are embraced in three announcements just made by the Hicks Rubber Company. Hicks Rubber Company of Colorado is one of the stores of the South's Largest Tire House, as the Hicks Rubber Company has come to be known.

The new "king of de luxe tires" has been given its regal name by reason of its extra size and weight, be the heaviest and toughest of all now on the market. The "super" and "deluxe" tires, The 33x6.00 "king" tips the beams at 39 1/2 pounds, has a cord break of 16 to 18 pounds, a thicker and tied in tread design, and extra cushioning around its layers of 6 to 8 ply cord. The new Dayton deluxe retains the colorful feature of the Dayton Thorobred—red stripe and white sidewall.

"Whether we have the heaviest and, at the same time, the most beautiful and colorful tire made," said Mr. Connell of the Colorado store, "can best be determined by placing an tire one man please up against the King of DeLuxe. We'll admit that we are proud of this new Dayton."

Purchase of the Star Rubber Company by the Hicks Rubber Company gives the South's Largest Tire House one of the oldest tire manufacturing companies in existence. The reputation of the Star Rubber Company among old line manufacturers of automobile tires has always ranked high. Its product has always been in the higher quality class, according to Mr. Connell, who went on to say:

"And now Hicks has taken every ounce of reclaim rubber out of the tread of a tire that was already considered one of America's finest tires. In addition to specifying the ingredients going into Star tires, the Hicks Rubber Company is putting its distinctive stamp of approval—the red stripe and white sidewall—on the Star tire. Hicks feels that this is the most emphatic way to tell the public that the Hicks Rubber Company assumes unqualified and unquestioned responsibility for every Star tire.

"The white sidewall has taken the place of the usual black wall, not only to answer the call for color and beauty," he said, "but because the white sidewall has proven to be the most efficient in thermal conductivity, expelling heat more readily than the black wall. The cost is higher, but Hicks knows how a tire must be made in order to stand the strain of hot Southwest roads, so, in keeping faith with the motorist, the black sidewall just had to go, as far as the Hicks Rubber Company stores and associated stores, numbering more than 100, are concerned."

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Many farmers of Spur, and others in Dickens county are planning to attend the Texas-Panhandle-Plains dairy show at Plainview in April some of them taking prize Jerseys. The Spur Chamber of Commerce has assisted in placing $10,000 worth of excellent cows in the Spur county.

Stamford is experiencing a remarkable growth in building with an addition of 1700 square feet to the city hall to house new fire fighting equipment, a $85,000 West Texas Utilities ice house, one pretentious six story hotel, and a six story modern office building.

A. K. Short, Federal Land Bank representative of Houston and M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer extension service, of A. and M. College will hold a one day terracing school in Haskell the first of March in cooperation with County Agent Trice. Other county agents will assist in the work.

The goal of $2500, for a library for Olney has been over subscribed $500 and the purchasing committee has listed a number of books to be published. Half the $2500 goal was furnished by ten interested citizens to be given when it was equaled in other donations.

Elmo V. Cook, a former Colorado boy, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Coleman high school, is making a success of evening dairying schools held in the school house. Farmers interested in improving and increasing their herds make up a large percentage of those attending. San Saba has been put on the wait-
