

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS THIS WEEK ON MODERN NEW LAUNDRY BUILDING

Structure To Be One Of Best Of Its Kind In This Section

STRONG IS CONTRACTOR Erection Means Output of Some $15,000 In Building And Equipment

Construction began this week on one of the most modern and up-to-date laundry buildings in West Texas and the first of its kind to ever be built in Colorado when workmen began to lay off the space for the new home of the Colorado Steam Laundry, owned by J. Ralph Lee, on the southeast section of the block just north of the county court house.

Roy K. Hamberlin, architect of San Antonio, was here this week assisting W. W. Whipkey, local architect, who is associated with him in this work, in letting the contract for the building.

First bids on the work several days ago were considered too high, and the plans and specifications were revised. The two low men, E. W. Estes of Big Spring and F. H. Strong of Colorado, were selected to re-figure on the plans, and the contract subsequently went to Mr. Strong.

The building, including wiring, plumbing, and fixtures, will run around $15,000 in cost when completed. The work is to be rushed to completion.

The building will be modern in every respect, having a corner drive-in office, boiler and storage rooms, bundle and marking rooms, shower rooms, rest and lunch room, office, and public lobby space.

The structure will be of brick and concrete, and will have one of the best types of ventilated roofs used in this type of building. All outside windows will be steel sash glazed with clear glass and double ventilator, giving plenty of light and air.

Mr. Lee is due Colorado's gratitude for taking steps to give this town the modern and sanitary type of building which the new structure will be, and Colorado comes in for congratulations in being selected as the home of one of the best, specially built laundry buildings in this section.

PROMINENT REPUBLICANS TO VISIT IN COLORADO AT NOON NEXT THURSDAY

'Dutch Lunch' Being Arranged By Civic Leaders For Group of Guests

Colorado's need of a Federal building will probably be taken note of when a visit is made here at noon next Thursday, May 16, by R. B. Creager, Republican National committeeman from Texas, and a party of prominent Republicans, according to a communication which has been received from Leonard Withington, secretary of the State Republican organization, by T. C. Sloan of Lovaine, Mitchell county Republican chairman, according to R. S. Brennan, postmaster.

Mr. Creager and his party will be guests at a Dutch dinner given them here by Republicans, Hoover-Democrats, civic leaders, and all "good citizens," Thursday noon. Any citizen who is a member of one of the above-named groups is urged to make reservations through R. S. Brennan to attend the lunch, which will be held in Colorado Hotel.

Following is the letter which was received by Republicans here: "Following the meeting of the Republican State Executive committee, which will be called for Dallas, Monday, May 13th, Mr. Creager is undertaking to attend a series of meetings in various cities and towns throughout Texas for the purpose of getting in touch with the local organizations, conferring with various executive committeemen, county chairmen and other leading Republicans, informally meeting our allies in the late campaign, and generally increasing party enthusiasm.

"While we would like to be able to consult the individual desires of each community where meetings are to be held, the fact that we have only a few days for a long tour and that it must be held immediately after the meeting of the State committee has made it necessary for this office to make up a schedule and we look forward with confidence to the cooperation of those in your community.

"Mr. Creager and his party will arrive in Colorado by automobile, at about 11:30 a. m. We hope you can arrange a "dutch treat" dinner at your leading hotel at about 12:00 o'clock on Thursday, May 16, the date we will be in Colorado. Mr. Creager and his associates hope to have an opportunity to meet as many as possible of the local Republicans, Hoover Democrats, and civic leaders.

"Please notify me at once the hour for the dinner in your town and where it will be held, so that I can send out notices to our friends. Most sincerely, LEONARD WITHINGTON, Sec'y and Directory of Organization.

The bill was passed in 1927, but no appropriation was made.

Negro girls are given only short jail sentences, no matter what their offense, according to the Methodist women, while white boys and girls and negro boys are sent to training schools, where they may be given training for citizenship and the same opportunity should be given negro girls. Representatives at Austin are "getting told" of the desires of interested women.

The club was in high good humor over the fact that the Hesperian year book had won the prize in Brownwood. Another thing that made them most happy was that a member of the 1921 Club, Mrs. Harry Ratliff, had won the prize in the poetry contest.

The president was selected to present the $5 gold piece to the student in high school making the highest average. At this time Miss Hightower came in with 25 of her Choral club and as a part of her observance of Music Week they gave three very beautiful and much enjoyed numbers. This brought forth a cheer and a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. J. T. Johnson, chairman of the year book committee. Mrs. Millwee told of some of the outstanding speakers and their messages. Mrs. Johnson told of the social affairs. The beautiful dinner for the president, and the pretty American home luncheon, at which Mrs. Lee Jones presided.

The chicken barbecue in Coggin park, and the hospitality of Brownwood homes was told. She showed the club an autographed copy of "Red Heels," Lexie Dean Roberson's new book of poems.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

By J. M. BALLANTYNE

The chief reason why people of mediocre talents love to "show off" is because they are lonesome. Great talents have in them the fire and glory to satisfy their possessors, while little talents need the approbation of others. "I am least alone when I am alone," said a man of sterling abilities once.

For years, the following, from an unremembered source, has been of a great charm to me: "Silence, which some people cannot abide, because it reveals their inward poverty, is a palace of cedars to the wise, along whose hallowed courts the king in his beauty deigns to walk."

Silence that is not the preparation for good speech is simply vacuity and a waste of time. The man who is silent in company because he has nothing to say, is the negative brother to the bore who gabs also because he has nothing to say.

In the diversity of tastes and inclinations there lacketh not a signal sign of Providence. Suppose all men in town loved the same girl, or all one day took a notion to go fishing? Suppose all in a city were bitten with the flying bug or all loved corn beef and cabbage?

Two brilliant commanders of one army are in no wise a match for an army commanded by one brilliant commander loyally supported by obedient subordinates.

BUILDINGS AT SAN ANGELO NEARING COMPLETION

The general building contract on the Hilton Hotel in San Angelo will be finished next week, 15 days ahead of the schedule planned at the beginning of the construction.

The paper hanging work will be completed next week, and both elevators will be running. One of them is now in operation. Shades for the windows are now being hung.

The building is now ready, which, except for the kitchen fixtures, has not yet been received. Decoration of the lobby, the dining rooms, and the ballroom is expected to be completed by Wednesday.

Fixtures are also being installed in the drug store which is to be operated in the building by John E. Weeks, Ballinger and Abilene drug-gist.

Concrete for the tenth floor of the Western Reserve Life building, under construction by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burnett at the corner of Irving street and Beauregard avenue, has been poured, and preparations have been made for pouring the roof slab Monday. With three carloads of brick received, brick work is to begin about Tuesday.

The basement for the Baker-Hemp-hill department store building has been completed, and the slab for the first floor poured. Forms are now being erected for pouring the concrete for the first floor.—San Angelo Standard.

RANCHMAN KILLED IN MIDLAND CROSSING CRASH

W. H. Underwood, about 65, well known Midland ranchman, was instantly killed shortly after 10:20 Saturday night when his car was struck by an east bound passenger train at the 1-mile crossing near the stock pens.

The car, which was crossing the tracks to the south, was struck in the rear, and immediately burst into flames. Underwood was thrown clear of the wreckage for a distance of about 20 feet. His neck was broken and there were cuts on his face, head, and the body was badly burned in places.

The car was still burning when Newbie Ellis, driving an ambulance of his funeral home, arrived on the scene. The gasoline tank of the wrecked car exploded while Ellis was placing the body in the ambulance.

Mr. Underwood who owned a large ranch near Sterling City, is survived by several sons and daughters in and around Midland.—Midland Reporter.

SUGAR TARIFF BOOST URGED BY U. S. FARMERS

Farm Bureau Federation Demands Adequate Protection for Domestic Sugar Industry.

CHICAGO.—Recent action of the American Farm Bureau Federation, representing 750,000 farmers, in adopting resolutions at its annual convention here urging Congress to increase the tariff on foreign sugar and limit the duty-free entry of sugar from the Philippines and Porto Rico is seen as recognition that the present economic plight of the domestic sugar industry is also a factor in the farm relief problem.

S. H. Love.

"We urge that the situation regarding entry of sugar into the United States be brought to the attention of members of Congress without delay," the resolutions set forth, "and we respectfully ask them to use their best efforts to place a limit on the free entry of sugar from the Philippines and Porto Rico to a point which will guarantee reasonable protection to the United States sugar industry; and that the tariff rate against all foreign sugar be increased so as to give adequate protection to this great American enterprise."

Future of Crop at Stake.
"Future of sugar beet as a profitable American farm crop is at stake," said Stephen H. Love, president of the U. S. Beet Sugar Association. "More than 100,000 farmers in the United States raise sugar beets from which they realize annually from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000, while the beet sugar industry covering eighteen states represents an investment in factories alone of over $250,000,000."

"Interests of the farmers who raise the raw materials and the manufacturers who produce the finished product are identical. If the invasion of the United States market by foreign sugar produced by cheap labor under living conditions far below the American standard forces the price of domestic sugar below the cost of production, the American beet farmer and cane grower are faced with competition they cannot meet. Ninety-nine per cent of all the sugar imported into this country is supplied either duty-free from our insular possessions, or enters from Cuba, which enjoys a tariff rate 20 per cent below that paid by any other foreign country."

Cuban Situation Menacing.
"The Cuban situation is becoming menacing to the domestic sugar industry. This year with a crop restricted to 4,000,000 tons, Cuban raw sugar is selling in New York at 2 cents a pound, or approximately 3½ cents per pound less than it costs the American farmer to produce sugar in the beets even before the process of manufacture has begun."
"In 1929 Cuba will have no crop restriction and will produce at least a million more tons of sugar than in 1928. The only salvation for the domestic sugar industry is an increase in the tariff sufficient to keep Cuba from dumping this enormous increase on the American market at ruinous prices."

DUTY-FREE SUGAR THREATENS RUIN TO U. S. MARKET

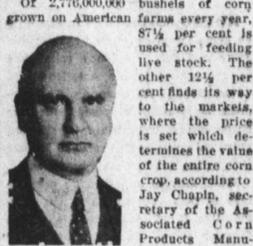

DENVER.—Expansion of the sugar industry in the Philippines at the expense of the beet sugar industry of the United States is the plan of Philippine leaders, who hope to erect a sugar producing empire in the islands rivaling that of Java, with 1,000,000 tons' production by 1935 and a potentially unlimited output in the future in spite of their present statements to the contrary, according to W. D. Lippitt, an official of the Great Western Sugar Company.

"Since the introduction of Congressman Timberlake's resolution proposing to limit the amount of Philippine sugar entering this country free of duty to 500,000 tons annually," said Mr. Lippitt, "Philippine leaders have declared that further expansion of their sugar industry is unlikely. Yet only four years ago a statement in the Central and Planter News, the official publication of the Philippine Sugar Planters' Association, predicted a crop of 1,000,000 and commenting on the unlimited possibilities of future exploitation declared: 'Another ten years of development will place us in a class with Java in so far as the production of sugar is concerned.'"

"Imports of duty-free sugar from the Philippines in recent years have shown the highest rate of increase of any source supplying the United States, while the domestic industry has suffered losses in the majority of sugar producing states. The problem is chiefly agricultural, due to the production of sugar in the islands under low oriental standards of living and wages, with which the American farmer cannot compete."

MANUFACTURE OF CORN SUGAR AIDS FARM PROSPERITY

CHICAGO.—Use of corn in the manufacture of sugar and allied products is helping to solve the problem of creating a profitable cash market for the surplus corn production of America's 6,000,000 farms.

Jay Chapin.

Of 2,776,000,000 bushels of corn grown on American farms every year, 87½ per cent is used for feeding live stock. The other 12½ per cent finds its way to the markets, where the price is set which determines the value of the entire corn crop, according to Jay Chapin, secretary of the Associated Corn Products Manufacturers.

"The corn products industry is using 85,000,000 bushels of American grown corn every year," said Mr. Chapin. "Of this about 30 per cent goes into the manufacture of corn sugar. If this great quantity of corn were not used for sugar making it would have to be exported and take its chances for profit in the world market in competition with foreign corn produced at a lower cost than American farmers can produce the crop."

"Greater development of the corn sugar industry would be to the interest of every American farmer growing corn. It would increase the market for his surplus corn, tend to stabilize the prices and add millions of dollars annually to the nation's farm revenue. Elimination of the present discrimination against corn sugar used in commercial canning and preserving would be an important step in this direction. The use of corn sugar in manufactured food products without being so labeled should be no more of an impairment of the nation's pure food laws than the use of beet or cane sugar for such purposes. The American Farm Bureau Federation recently went on record at its annual convention with resolutions urging that 'corn sugar be given its rightful place in the trade practices of the nation and so provide an increased market for one of our staple crops.'"

HOUSEWIVES FIND SUGAR COST EASY ON FAMILY PURSE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—American housewives can buy two pounds of sugar today for the same price that one pound cost their grandmothers back in 1876, according to Harry A. Austin, secretary of the U. S. Beet Sugar Association.

"Sugar is the only staple food commodity served on the American table that has not capitulated to the high cost of living in the last generation," said Mr. Austin. "Sugar has actually decreased 50 per cent in price, while the cost of thirty-one other leading food commodities has risen from 60 to 100 per cent."

"Fifty years ago the wholesale price of sugar on the New York market was 13.53 cents a pound. Today it is less than half that amount."

"Sugar supplies 13 per cent of all the energy obtained from food consumed annually by the people of the United States, while it costs less than 6 per cent. A pound of sugar will supply 1,820 calories of energy, while a pound of beefsteak, costing from eight to ten times as much, produces only 1,550 calories."

WRITE-UP OF MRS. C. A. WILKINS FATHER'S DEATH

The following write-up of the death of J. W. Gray, father of Mrs. C. A. Wilkins of Colorado, in Stephenville two weeks ago, appeared in the Stephenville paper:

J. W. Gray, long time prominent citizen of Stephenville, died at the family residence Saturday, April 27, at the age of 66 years. He had been in poor health for the past three years and his death was not unexpected. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist church Sunday afternoon, in charge of Rev. B. S. Culpepper, his former pastor and close friend. The body was interred at West End cemetery under the auspices of the Masons.

Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: Mrs. Joe Harlow, Berger, Texas; Mrs. Calvin Winters, Berger; Mrs. C. A. Wilkins, Colorado; Mrs. Harold Reagan, Cisco; Mrs. T. C. Harris, Barnhart; Mrs. Harve Boyd, Stephenville; Mrs. Hood Bryant, Brownwood; Miss Wessie Gray, Stephenville; Mrs. V. Gray, his mother of Cleburne, a sister, Mrs. Robert Derring, Cleburne; a brother, W. M. Parther, Mt. Pleasant, are other members of the family surviving.

Active pall bearers were J. Thos. Davis, Neal Gearreald, E. J. Howell, J. S. Nutt, J. E. Burnett and E. S. Howell. The entire board of deacons of the First Baptist church, members of the city council and the fire department were honorary pall bearers.

J. W. Gray was born in the town of Palo Pinto, December 13, 1863, but lived there only a short time, later going to Cleburne where he made his home for some time. In the year 1891 he came to Stephenville, a young man, and entered the insurance and loan business when he immediately stamped himself as one of the most capable business men in the country. He later added real estate to his affairs and followed this profession until a few years ago when he entered the services of the city as city secretary. He was a member of the First Baptist church and was loyal to every trust placed in him by this religious organization. He was also a prominent member of the Masonic lodge and served in various roles of the lodge during the thirty-eight years of his residence here. He also held membership in the Woodmen lodge.

Until three years ago Mr. Gray was active in his work and at that time was serving as city secretary. He was considered an expert on the tax question and had at his command information on almost every phase of the city's affairs by reason of his long experience in title work and in handling real estate in this city.

John Gray, as he was familiarly known, had the reputation of being a good man. This compliment was paid him on many occasions before his death. His character was never assailed and in any undertaking it was always considered that he would not betray any trust or confidence placed in him.

If there should have been chosen the most useful citizen of Stephenville, John Gray would have been a strong favorite for on many occasions he sacrificed his own interests and personal welfare in order to render service to the city he loved.

SINGING AT CHINA GROVE

A community singing has been announced to be held at China Grove Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30. Everyone is invited to come and bring their song books.

The Record has received several telephone calls, asking if it is true ed.

that Mary Gold is dead. Roy Farmer was interviewed about the matter, and he says there seems to be no question but what she has already been buried, and that Tom Carr is liable to grieve himself to death together with a lot of Star-Telegram readers before many days have passed.

The county of Howard will soon vote on road bonds to pave both highways out of Big Spring, and this course was highly recommended by those present.

RED CROSS CHAPTERS STRENGTHEN FORCES FOR DISASTER RELIEF

Launch National Campaign to Perfect Preparedness Plans in Every Community.

A nation-wide campaign to strengthen plans for preparedness against disaster and for emergency relief has been launched by the American Red Cross through its Chapters. The program is intended to perfect disaster preparedness committees in the ten thousand communities reached by Red Cross Chapters and their branches.

When carried out, through committees of men and women in the communities, it will insure that should a disaster come, an organization for emergency relief, including every modern method science has perfected—such as the radio, the airplane, the motor car and watercraft—can be mobilized to bring assistance, with the promptitude applied by the Red Cross in recent major disasters, such as the West Indies hurricane and the Mississippi Valley flood.

These enlarged and strengthened plans for disaster relief are set forth in the revised Red Cross manual, "When Disaster Strikes," which has been placed in the hands of every Red Cross chairman throughout the nation. The plan to encourage adoption of these added disaster preparedness methods was begun at this time because Red Cross records—covering 48 years of disaster relief—show that the period of the greatest number of disasters, large and small, ranges from the early Spring through the early Fall.

The Record of 48 Years
A historical summary of Red Cross disaster relief since 1882, shows that the society was active in giving relief in 938 domestic disasters and its expenditures in those relief operations were $49,594,000. The three groups of calamities appearing most frequently were: cyclones, tornadoes, hurricanes and other storms, 231; fires, 131; floods, 126.

During this period, the Red Cross also has given assistance to distressed peoples of other countries in 153 disasters. Total expenditures for relief at home and throughout the world, in 48 years, amount to $77,354,000.

In the four most recent major disasters, among the greatest which have ever visited the American continent, Red Cross expenditures for relief totalled $29,188,908. Only in the event of large disasters such as the Florida hurricane of 1926, the Mississippi Valley flood of 1927, the New England flood of the same fall, and the West Indies hurricane of 1928, does the Red Cross seek contributions from the general public for relief work; and frequently these are not ample, as in the four disasters listed, the Red Cross donated $1,338,201 from its own treasury to aid in the work. In the event of smaller disasters, the cost of the relief is met largely from Red Cross resources.

No Community Immune
No community is immune to great disasters of one type or another, the manual shows. One preparedness measure that can be adopted is a survey of the surrounding country, with the assistance of engineers and other experts to determine the type of disaster to which the section is subject. Hazards resulting from the presence of rivers and lakes, subject to overflow, of mines, munition factories, and other industries wherein dangers from explosion and fires may exist, are singled out for consideration.

Extension of existing disaster organizations in communities, and organization of men and women, trained in public health and community service, will result in the saving of lives and the prevention of extensive suffering, through privation, epidemic and other misfortune, should emergency arise through disaster. These organization plans, outlined in the manual, are similar to those now existing in most Red Cross Chapters, only strengthened in some particulars. They contemplate disaster preparedness and relief committees, under which function sub-committees on food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, registration of disaster sufferers and information service, transportation and communication and finance.

Co-ordination of all of the societies, organized groups and institutions in the locality is urged, so that all effort for emergency relief will be directed without conflict. Trained in advance, these committees can swing into action, and provide an orderly and systematic relief organization.

The following are expenditures made by the American National Red Cross for relief in the four most recent major disasters:

Florida hurricane, 1926	$4,477,170.07
Mississippi Valley flood, 1927	17,498,302.16
New England flood, 1927	1,299,773.93
West Indies hurricane, 1928	5,913,062.47
Total	$29,188,908.63

What Tires do you buy? Who sells them to you?

Two mighty important questions for every motorist now, because nobody can get out of a tire more miles than the maker builds into it.

And you are not likely to get all the miles that has been built into it unless the dealer helps you get it.

These are the two principal reasons why you should buy Federal Tires. They have proven the greatest mileage tires on the market—Compare them with any other tire in weight, beauty, traction and long life

More people in West Texas use Federal Tires than any other kind—There must be a reason they have the public acceptance.

Our business is built on the satisfaction of our customers with Federal tires and our Federal dealers service. Federal tires gives us the tire we want to sell—tested and proved in seventy-five billion tire miles of travel each year.

Federal gives us the Supreme Product of the world's greatest user of rubber—Almost 50 per cent more than any other manufacturer.

If you want the utmost in quality and tire service come to us like all of our good Federal users do. You will like both of us.

Planting of Shrubs Add To Beauty Of
Hi School Campus

The appearance of Colorado High school has been greatly improved this spring with the planting of several evergreen shrubs, including Euony-mos, arbor vitae, and others around the base of the building and along the walks.

The school campus is already well sodded, and several flowers grow in the beds around the sidewalks. The trees around the building are also thriving, and all these living things, together with the green sod on Cantrill Field at the back of the school, give Colorado High school one of the most attractive campuses in this section.

REPORT SHOWS TEXAS BUSINESS IMPROVED

DALLAS, Texas, May 9.—Savings deposits in ninety banks of the 11th Federal Reserve district amounted to $51,397,819 on March 31, a 5 per cent increase over the previous month and 12.1 per cent greater than the same date last year, according to the monthly business review issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

There were 294,449 accounts carried at 81 of these banks at the close of the month, as against 268,965 on February 28, and 262,983 on March 31, 1928.

Marked improvement in the agricultural situation during the past month stands out as the most important development in the business and industrial situation in the district, the report said. Heavy general rains broke the drought which was becoming acute in portions of northwest, west and southern Texas and Eastern New Mexico. The moisture stimulated the growth of small grains and present prospects for these crops indicate good yields.

Corn planting is practically completed with much of the crop up to a good stand. Cotton planting has become general in practically all sections except west and northwest Texas. Livestock is reported in good condition owing to rains which put ranges in shape for pasturing. Business also is becoming more active since the improvement in the agricultural outlook.

The March valuation of building permits issued at principal cities reflected a gain of 29 per cent over the previous month but was 46 per cent less than the record volume of March, 1928.

The department of agriculture estimated the April 1 condition of the Texas wheat crop at 87 per cent of normal. This compares with a condition figure of 74 per cent on April 1, 1928. The condition of the Texas oat crop was reported as 83 per cent as compared to 72 per cent on the same date a year ago.

The department estimated that the condition of cattle ranges was 85 per cent normal April 1, compared to 79 per cent a month earlier and 82 per cent April 1, 1928. Sheep and goat ranges were 87 per cent normal, a gain of 8 points during the month. Condition of cattle was 83 per cent, a gain of 3 points during the month.

Receipts of all classes of livestock at Fort Worth during March reflected an increase over the previous month. Hogs and sheep showed the largest gain. The cattle market turned sharply upward during March. The top price paid on some classes were the highest recorded during the current year. Top price was $11.15, paid for hogs, the highest level since last October. Sheep remained generally steady.

Production of crude oil in the district which amounted to 25,530,200 barrels in March was 3,123,300 barrels greater than in February and exceeded the previously high level in January by 1,280,000 barrels.

Completions were fewer but production from new wells was larger.

New Locations In Southwest Oil Area Main News of Week

New locations in the recently opened field south and southwest of Colorado constitute the main oil news this week. The following locations have been reported:

Republic Production Company's Bob Scott No. 1, on Southern Pacific blk 17, survey 20, is building derrick. This test is about six miles east of Hyman school. It is to be a deep test.

McGinley-Sigler's Sarah Minna Hyman No. 1, located on section 91, Waco & Northwestern, block 29, 3 miles west of Hyman, is moving in steel derrick for a test. This location is 990 feet east of west line, and 330 feet south of west line of section 91. The contract calls for a 1700 foot test, but it is understood the well will be drilled much deeper unless oil in paying quantities is found at lesser depth, and the character of the material being moved to the location justifies the belief that a real test is to be made. The contract under which this test is being drilled calls for a second test on Survey 27, S.P. block 17, within 60 days, if the test on 91 is a producer. This latter location is two miles west of Hyman.

McGinley-Seigler, 330 feet from west and 330 feet from north line, section 92, block 29, W. & N. W. Ry. surveys.

It is understood that the deals with Gibson & Johnson for three tests on the H. S. Ranch, east and northeast of Hyman, are going forward all right, and that the tests will all be drilled.

Magnolia's oil test, Harry Hyman No. 1, in survey 88, W. & N. W. blk 29, has reached a depth of over 600 feet. Fifteen inch casing was set at 550 feet. This well, located only 100 feet south of the old Deep Rock well, the first test to show oil in this part of the country, is one on which this community is building high hope. It is about five miles west of the center of the settlement.

Reports during the early part of the week were that the Simms test on Section 15, 3 1/2 miles northeast of the Renderbrook ranch and Simms gasser Ellwood No. 1, had a good showing of oil at 455 feet.

EGGS BROUGHT TO RECORD OFFICE GROW MORE FREAKISH

More and more freakish grow the eggs brought into the Record office, and the one brought in this week by Mrs. L. L. Welch of the Lowe community, is the worst so far.

It resembles a very miniature rough more than anything else, being larger at one end than the other, and very small and crooked in the middle. It was laid by a Rhode Island Red hen that usually lays fairly decent eggs.

Spring housecleaning hint for Husbands

RADFORD paused in the upstairs hall. "What!" he exclaimed, "not through yet?"

From amid the chaos of housecleaning, Mrs. Radford looked up in exasperation. "Get that coat off and help me put up this bed," she ordered, wearily shoving a stray lock of hair back beneath the towel about her head.

"How do you expect me to be through? I can't clean the upstairs, and spend the best part of the afternoon downstairs talking over the telephone, can I? I've been up and down those stairs forty times."

Radford had weathered many spring housecleanings. Wisely, he pulled off his coat and began to roll up his sleeves.

"I think," he observed sympathetically, "that an extension telephone up here in the hall might save steps and —"

"Then suppose," interrupted his wife grimly, "that you order one for me tomorrow."

Telephones where you need them save time, patience, housewifely strength.

Few know that one or two additional instruments cost considerably less than the single telephone they now have!

By a wisely-placed "extension" or two, and perhaps a rearrangement of the equipment you already have, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of your telephone service. Just mail the coupon.

FOX AND WOLF HUNTERS GATHERED IN ARCHER CITY

ARCHER CITY, May 6.—Between 500 and 600 hunters, members of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters Association, were in Archer City Monday, the first day of a three-day hunt of the organization. The hunt is being staged on the Will Andrews ranch, 9 miles south of Archer City.

The hunt, an annual spring affair, was held last year at Throckmorton.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Cook who are spending some time in El Paso have both been very sick but are improving at present, their son Clarence reports.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR POULTRY INDUSTRY IN THIS COUNTY FORECAST

General Manager Of Western Produce Predicts Growth In Next Few Years

Optimism was expressed concerning Mitchell county's poultry future by J. P. White of Abilene, general manager and vice president of the Western Produce Company, which last week opened a branch in Colorado, when he was here Tuesday looking into the matter of a permanent location for the Colorado store.

"The main purpose of our establishing a store here," Mr. White stated, "is to give the farmer as direct a market as possible. We have tried to make the route from producer to consumer as short as possible, cutting out the usual middlemen. We have direct outlets to the east for all the produce we can buy in West Texas."

"I am enthused over prospects in Colorado. We plant to open a turkey dressing plant here next fall, and if the business here grows sufficiently large, we will open a large poultry dressing plant. These, I believe, will be a great asset to Mitchell county."

Texas is just beginning, it seems to me, and Western Produce hopes to keep growing with it, just as we have in the past."

Mr. White emphasized the fact that the present location of the house in Colorado, two doors south of the Alamo hotel, is very temporary, as it is to be moved into attractive and sanitary quarters in the near future.

ANOTHER FREAKISH EGG SHOWS UP HERE

The Colorado Record is becoming a regular museum of freaks—not the employees, of course, but of eggs.

The most freakish of all the freak eggs that have been coming in to The Record office since Easter showed up this week when B. C. Cook, who lives three miles east of Colorado at the old Salt Works, brought in a hollow egg laid by one of his Rhode Island Red hens. The egg is very ordinary in appearance, but it is hollow, having in it only one or two small, light objects which rattle very much like smaller eggs when the shell is shaken. Of course, there is a chance that the small objects are diamonds, and curiosity of the writer will probably be the cause of the destruction of this egg before many people get to see it.

LORAIN FARMER TO DEMONSTRATE SPACING OF COTTON THIS YEAR

RICHBURG TO COMPARE RESULTS IN SKIPROW AND EVERY ROW

M. A. Riechburg of Loraine will have a demonstration in spacing of cotton this year, comparing cotton where every row is planted with cotton where the third row is left blank. He says that one of his nephews has been trying skip-row cotton for three years and it has outyielded the solid planting. There are ten acres in the plot where the test is being made, half of which will be planted with the third row left blank.

Other Mitchell county farmers who are experimenting with this method of planting are W. T. Brooks, Emmett Blasingame, A. K. McCarty, J. K. Mahon.

Mr. Riechburg is also making a test of terracing by placing his rows on the level and says that one of his neighbors almost doubled his yield last year by having his rows run on a level.

Tribute To Be Paid Mothers Of Colorado Sunday

Special numbers at all church services in the city next Sunday will be the main part of Colorado's observance of Mother's Day. The usual red flowers will be worn on that day by those whose mother is living, and the white flower by those whose mothers are not living.

At the Baptist church, tribute will be offered to mothers at the morning hour by J. H. Greene, at the evening hour by John W. Cobb. The Presbyterians will give over their morning hour to honoring mothers, while the First Christian church will have a sermon fitting to the day, and solos by Mrs. Berryhill and Dr. C. L. Root. Other churches of the town will also make due recognition of mothers in their service.

Gift counters of the town bear witness to the attention which this nationally observed day has grown to command, and the floral shop is preparing for a record day.

Liams, formerly of New Mexico. The shop has been owned for the past several months by Tom Buckner and M. E. Carter of Colorado.

WRECK AT BIG SPRING FATAL TO CONDUCTOR

BIG SPRING, May 4.—O. D. Rieder, conductor on the T. & P. Ry., was killed instantly at 7 o'clock Saturday evening and two companions were slightly injured when the automobile he was driving collided with another on the Bankhead highway a mile and a half east of Big Spring and crashed into a culvert. The other auto did not stop and the identity of the driver has not been learned.

REFINERIES IN WEST TEXAS ON INCREASE

Rapid increase in the refining capacity of West Texas is accompanying the greater trunk pipe line outlet, although proportionately on a smaller scale, with a resultant greater demand for crude. It is estimated that refineries now operating have a total daily capacity of 101,800 barrels per day. This figure will be increased to 117,800 barrels daily when four plans now under construction are completed.

The Texas Company is building a refinery at El Paso which will have a crude capacity of 10,000 barrels, topping and cracking.

The Del Rio Refining company at Del Rio is to double its present capacity of 3500 barrels. The plant now is running 2500 barrels daily, using Yates field crude supplied by Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas Company. It likely will be mid-summer before the new refineries and that being enlarged begin operating at capacity.

Of West Texas refineries built and in operation, a number are not running to capacity because construction has not been completed. Cosden's new plant, and that of Richardson Refining Company, both at Big Spring, are running a total of about 10,000 barrels daily, each plant having two units in operation. Combined capacity of these refineries ultimately will be 20,000 barrels.

The increased demand for oil resulting from the providing of greater pipe line and refinery facilities and declining production are the main factors indicating a possible early rise in prices.—San Angelo Standard.

Two Colorado units came in for a share of honor when the award for the best club year book in the Sixth District, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, went to the Hesperian club of Colorado at the annual meeting of the district in Brownwood last week. These were the club itself, and the Whipkey Printing Company, which made the book.

The year book committee of the Hesperians, which was composed of Mrs. J. T. Johnson, chairman; Mrs. H. L. Lockhart, and Mrs. Edgar Majors, was commended by the committee which awarded the prize upon having complied with every rule for year books as set forth by the Federation. The Hesperian book was also said to have by far the best construction of any year book in the district.

Calls have been coming in from all over the Sixth District for samples of the year book since it was awarded the prize, according to Mrs. J. T. Johnson.

The book has brown leatherette covering, with the club name and other outside printing in gold. There are 17 pages in it, and included in it are the club motto, colors, flower, officers, collect, time of meeting, order of business, committees, delegates and alternates, members and their roll call topic, programs for each meeting, the constitution, by-laws, and special rules.

The Hesperian Club was organized in 1892, being the oldest study club in Colorado. It was federated in 1897, and joined the General Federation in 1927. The course of study during the past year has been Shakespeare's "Richard III," also "Better English Drills," and "American Art."

The officers, as listed in the prize-winning year book were: Mrs. V. V. Shropshire, president; Mrs. E. L. Barcroft, vice president; Mrs. H. L. Lockhart, second vice president; Mrs. D. M. BUSINESS WOMEN HEAR TALK ON MODERN WOMEN AT THURSDAY LUNCHEON

Rev. Mr. Neal Addresses Club At Its First Regular Meeting

"Modern Women and Modern Time" was the subject of the main talk at the first regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Colorado Hotel last Thursday noon. The talk was delivered by Rev. T. Edgar Neal, Methodist evangelist; C. G. Spindler, singer, and Rev. W. C. Hinds, pastor of the Methodist church, were also guests.

Invocation was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Hinds, following which "America" was sung by the membership present. Piano solos were given by Miss Reubelle Smartt and Mrs. Cecil G. Meskimen.

In his talk, Rev. Mr. Neal emphasized the independence of the women of today, both politically and economically, stated that there are from eight to ten million girls working outside of the home today. This number, he said, can be classified into three groups, namely: First, those working for a living; second, those working for spending money but being provided necessities at home; third, those who turn away from their homes to choose the profession of their liking. He stated that there were 572 different vocations for men, and that women are engaged in 637.

After a response to this by the president, Mrs. J. E. McCleary, the meeting adjourned with the club good-bye song.

RULES AND POINTS FOR YARD BEAUTIFICATION CONTEST WORKED OUT

First Scoring To Be Made On On May Twentieth, Last On August Twentieth

A yard beautification program for Colorado during 1929 is to be sponsored by the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, which is acting upon the suggestion of the Luncheon Club, according to J. H. Greene, secretary of the chamber.

Rules of the contest have been made out and announced as follows: Three judges will be appointed, and these will inspect the lawns in the contest on May 20, June 20, July 20, and August 20, scoring them according to the score which is given below: The first prize is to be fifteen dollars, the second ten dollars, and the third five dollars.

The score card, which has been worked out by Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent, is as follows: Sanitation, 15; general appearance, 35; planting background, 10; foundation planting, 10; borders, 10; flowers, 10; permanency, 10; total score, 100.

From this it can be seen that the contest prize will go to the yard making the most improvement. This year is being done by the Civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in the hope that by next year sufficient interest will have been aroused to make the contest a permanent affair, and run it for 12 months, adding several points to the scoring. Further information will be given later concerning methods of entering the contest and other details.

FULL WEEK OF MUSIC PROGRAMS ARE BEING GIVEN IN COLORADO

Number of Entertainments On Increase As Week Nears End

Observations of National Music Week have been numerous in Colorado this week, and will be more so as the week draws to a close. Programs are being given each morning at the high school, with the exception of Wednesday, and others take place in the evenings and at other times. The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club was given over to music Tuesday noon.

Monday morning there was assembly singing, led by J. W. Treat, at the high school auditorium. The feature of the program that morning was a talk by Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen on the "History of National Music Week." A sketch of her address appears elsewhere in The Record.

Mrs. Meskimen gave two piano numbers at the assembly Tuesday morning. One, "Juba Dance," by Dett, an American negro composer, was typical negro music, and the other, "Navajo Warrior," by Reed, was typical American Indian music. Mrs. H. L. Lockhart sang two American Indian songs, "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," by Cadman, and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurance.

The Owens Brothers and Ellis quartette (Stamps Quartette) also sang several numbers on this morning, among them "Rainbow Around My Shoulders." They were well received by the student body.

Twenty-eight members of the Girls' Choral Club and several Colorado citizens went on the "barnstorming" tour Wednesday, leaving Colorado early to reach Abilene in time to sing at chapel in Simmons University. They visited several other points while away. On Wednesday evening there was the Owens Brothers and Evans Quartette program in the high school auditorium.

The Boys' Glee Club, under direction of J. W. Treat, furnished the program Thursday morning.

Tonight (Thursday) there is the concert on the lawn at the schoolhouse by the Colorado Municipal band, under direction of Roy Hester.

Tomorrow (Friday) morning, the Girls' Choral Club and the School Orchestra, both under Miss Ruth Hightower's direction, will make music during the assembly hour, and tomorrow night the whole week of music will be climaxed by the May Fete on Cantrill Field.

LOCAL CLUBWOMEN WON SHARE OF HONORS AT BROWNWOOD MEETING

Mrs. Harry Ratliff's Poem Adjudged Best In District

Besides the recognition coming to Colorado club women because of the year book prize won by the Hesperian Club at the Sixth District annual convention in Brownwood last week, they are fortunate to number as one of them the winner of the poem prize in the district, Mrs. Harry Ratliff of Colorado. Colorado women also were prominent in other activities at the meeting.

Mrs. Ratliff's poem was read by Mrs. C. C. Thompson of Colorado. As a prize Mrs. Ratliff received a copy of Lexie Dean Robertson's "Red Heels." The poem is printed elsewhere in The Record this week.

As district chairman of library extension work, Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson of Colorado presided at that phase of the program Thursday. Mrs. H. B. Broadus of Colorado, a past president of the district and Sixth District chairman, was recognized in several ways at the convention, being one of the honorees at the reception on Presidents' evening.

One Mitchell county club woman who played one of the most prominent parts among those from here at the meeting was Mrs. J. F. Bodine, adjudged one of the five Master Farm Home-makers in the State of Texas last year, and whose name was unintentionally left out last week. Mrs. Bodine talked on her work as a home-maker at the American Home Department luncheon Thursday, at which Mrs. J. Lee Jones, as district chairman of the department, presided. Miss Abbie M. Sevier, home demonstration agent of Mitchell county and district chairman of home demonstration work, was also on the program at this luncheon.

Other Colorado women attending the meeting were: Mrs. S. H. Millwee, Mrs. H. L. Lockhart, Mrs. R. N. Gary, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Ed Jones, Sr., Mrs. Ed Jones, Jr., and Mrs. Bill Broadus.

Mrs. Greenleaf Fisk of Abilene was elected president for the coming year, succeeding Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater. Mrs. Wigfall Van Sickle of Alpine and Miss Carrie Reaves of Brownwood were elected first and second vice presidents, respectively. Mrs. Fisk named as her secretary-treasurer Mrs. Robert J. Jones of Abilene. Coleman was then named as the 1930 meeting place.

A district scholarship fund to be known as the Ione D. Perry Fund, in honor of the retiring president, was started with an initial donation of $100. Among other business of the session was the adoption of a resolution favoring Brownwood as the logical site for the proposed Texas Presbyterian University.

The convention also went on record as favoring the establishing of a school or home for delinquent negro girls. It resolved to ask Governor Moody to again place a woman on the Texas University board of regents following the expiration of the term of Mrs. H. J. O'Hair of Coleman.

A resolution favoring the appointing of a dean of girls on each high school faculty was also passed unanimously. The Federated Club at Marathon won a $5 award for giving the best club report; the Brady Junior club won a like amount for its report; $5 was presented the Davis Mountain Federation for the best county federation; the best year book was put out by the Hesperian Club of Colorado, and printed by the Whipkey Printing Co., the club receiving an award of $5; Mrs. Nora Mahon of Eastland won a piece of statuary for writing the best district song; Carlo Phillips of Ozona, a young student working his way thru school, won a $5 award for writing the best essay on the subject, "Why I Should Vote;" Mrs. R. Harry Ratliff of Colorado received a book of poems for writing the best poem for the convention, and a loving cup was presented to the Alpine clubs for donating the largest amount to the loan fund.

The three-day session closed on Thursday night with a fine arts program at Howard Payne College, featured by poetry and song and closing with a pageant of shawls.

FEELS TWENTY YEARS YOUNGER, SAYS PORTER

"Sargon was a godsend to me, and I bless the day I first bought it; I feel like a new man," said J. F. Porter, of Keller, Texas. Mr. Porter is

J. F. PORTER

73 years old and has been a deacon in the Missionary Baptist Church 52 years. He is also a Mason.

"I suffered day and night for the past three years with stomach trouble. My gall bladder gave me serious trouble and pain. A most severe pain would strike me about two or three o'clock in the morning and would continue for hours. My entire system was out of order. I was so constipated I had to take laxatives almost every night.

"I put off buying Sargon for weeks, but read so many endorsements for it from good people in Ft. Worth that I bought some, and it has worked wonderfully for me. I would not believe such results could be accomplished unless I had had the experience myself. Those terrible pains are gone and I sleep the whole night through. My stomach is right now and I eat what I please. I am strong and feel twenty years younger. My gall bladder doesn't bother me; my liver is active, and I am no longer constipated.

"I feel it my duty to my fellowman to tell how Sargon has benefitted me." Sargon may be obtained in Colorado from Colorado Drug Co., in Lorraine from Hutchinson & Hall, and in Westbrook from Margaret Lasserter. Adv-1t

IN MEMORY OF Our Deceased Brother, H. L. GILL

WHEREAS, it has been the will of Almighty God to remove from our midst Brother H. L. Gill, to the Supreme Grand Lodge above where labor is no more, where sorrow ceases and trouble is over;

Be It Resolved, That we acknowledge the wisdom and goodness of our Supreme Grand Master, and bow in humble submission to the inevitable edict from the East, yet we mourn the death of our brother, whom we shall never meet at the altar of Freemasonry until we gain admission into the Celestial Lodge above where he has preceded us, we deplore his loss to the fraternity, his family and his friends.

He was a just and upright Mason, an useful citizen, a sincere friend and obliging neighbor, a man who endeavored always to perform every duty to his God, his country, and himself, faithfully and well.

RESOLVED, That in token of our sincere friendship and sympathy in this dark hour of this great affliction, and as a pledge of our fidelity to the memory of our deceased brother, we extend to the bereaved family the fraternal right hand of Freemasonry and with the assurance that the Great Light given by God to man will guide us and them safely to that Spiritual Building, that House not made with hands eternal in the Heavens, where the broken circle shall be reunited, never again to be parted, and where we shall dwell together in peace and happiness forever and ever.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished the family, a copy furnished the newspaper with request that same be published and a copy spread on the minutes of the lodge to commemorate his memory.

Respectfully submitted,
F. M. BURNS,
A. E. MADDIN,
J. L. DOSS, Committee.

IN MEMORY OF Our Deceased Brother R. W. MONTGOMERY

Whereas, it has been the will of the Supreme Grand Master to remove from our midst and from this subordinate lodge on earth to the Celestial Lodge above, our beloved Brother, R. W. Montgomery, who departed this life on April 20, A. D. 1929.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That in the death of Brother Montgomery, we have lost a just and upright Mason, his family a loving and devoted husband and father, and his country a good and useful citizen.

He was a loyal friend and his benevolence during the time he has been a member of this lodge has been unselfish and generous. He cheerfully responded to every charitable call.

While we bow in humble submission to His inevitable edict, we mourn his loss to the lodge, his family, his friends and his country. His example in everything is worthy of emulation.

Be it Further Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved family the right hand of fellowship and our deepest sympathy in their hour of sorrow.

Resolved, further, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of the Lodge, a copy furnished the newspaper with request that same be published, and a copy furnished his family.

May we say with the poet:
"Life's labor done serenely
To his final rest he passed,
While the soft memories of his virtue yet linger Live sunset hues when that bright orb has set."

Respectfully submitted,
F. M. BURNS,
A. E. MADDIN,
J. L. DOSS, Committee.

HAWLEY, TEX., FARMER ENDORSES IT

Says Orgatone Restored Wife's Health When Everything Else Had Failed

W. F. Rushing, who is a well known farmer at Hawley, Texas, a suburb of Abilene, talks interestingly of the benefits Mrs. Rushing has derived from Orgatone. In a conversation with Mr. E. L. Bournonville, and others, in the drug store, Mr. Rushing said:

"My wife suffered from stomach trouble, had no appetite and was in a general run-down condition. Her food would not digest properly and sometimes indigestion pain would double her up and she would get so sick she was forced to go to bed. For the past five years she has not been able to eat the simplest kinds of food without suffering afterwards. Gas would form on her stomach right after eating and give her such a bloated, depressed feeling she could hardly breathe. I can hardly understand how she lived so long, and she was so nervous for a long time before she began taking Orgatone she could not get a good night's sleep. We tried medicines and doctors all to no avail and she seemed to get more tired and worn-out all the time and so weak she was hardly able to do anything about the house.

"She has now taken four bottles of Orgatone and has improved wonderfully. She says she feels stronger and I can tell from the difference in her looks and the way she gets about her household affairs that Orgatone has done a great work for her. Her appetite is fine and she can just eat anything she wants and it don't hurt her one bit. The gas has stopped forming on her stomach, she don't have any more bloating sleeps and shortness of breath, and she looks like she has gained several pounds in weight. Her nerves are in good shape, she sleeps soundly every night and I can recommend Orgatone because it has restored her health when all other medicines failed to do her any good. A medicine that does so much for suffering people is worth recommending to the public and it's a pleasure for me to tell what I know about it."

Genuine Orgatone may be obtained at the Colorado and the City Drug stores. Adv-5t

MRS. MESKIMEN GIVES HISTORY OF NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK AT SCHOOL AND LUNCHEON CLUB

Particularly appropriate at this time, when National Music Week is little more than half gone, is the following talk on the "History of National Music Week," which was given by Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen at the high school Monday morning, and again at the Luncheon Club Tuesday.

National Music Week was inaugurated in the United States on May 4, 1924. In 1927 it was observed by 1400 citizens in our country. It has also been observed in Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, Canada and Scotland, and has aroused much interest in the European countries. There is little doubt but that in a few years it will be an international celebration.

I am so happy that the Colorado public schools are taking part in this great movement to promote better music in America. I congratulate you boys and girls on having a superintendent who sees the importance of music. You are very fortunate indeed in having a music supervisor, with the personality and musicianship which Miss Hightower has.

I shall discuss with you briefly what is Music and what it is for. We know what the art of Painting is. The artist sees the land, water, skies and his fellowman and copies their form and color on the canvas, at the same time idealizing them as they pass through his soul. The sculptor does likewise, except he only copies form. The art of music broadly resembles the art of painting and sculpture because it has its beginning in nature. Yet there is not very much in nature just like the melodies and harmonies we have in music. The composer spins his melodies and harmonies out of himself, just as the silk worm spins his cocoon of silk.

The history of music tells us that music had its beginnings in rhythm and song. Rhythm in its broadest sense means a succession of beats in regular order. An Indian is aware of it as he walks down the forest path. No doubt man learned to contrive all sorts of interesting rhythms to amuse himself, and while beating these on a piece of wood or on the dried skin of an animal, he had invented the oldest of any musical instruments, the drum.

Song is, of course, the raising and lowering of the pitch of the voice, according to some definite plan of musical intervals. Man when he was much moved by anger, fear or love, would naturally cry aloud or moan. It was from this emotional wailing that the earliest types of song grew. At first the song consisted of only an upper and lower note, with a sort of a smudge between. He then saw the advantage of making his notes more distinct, and in this manner the ladder of tones or scale was developed.

We have now incidentally answered the question of "What is Music?" It is an intelligent and beautiful way of studying, expressing and communicating emotions. But we have only discussed the vocal side of the matter. There is another side—the instrumental. Besides the drums there are two other simple instruments used by primitive man.

The first is the huntaman's bow. When this is twanged, it gives out a clear musical note. From this idea of the twanged bow string come all of the big harps, lyres and dulcimers.

The second instrument is called the river reed. It is nothing but a dried hollow reed with a natural knot every inch or two. The reed was cut underneath a knot, and when the player blew against the rim a sweet musical sound was given forth. The reeds could be cut of different lengths. When a set of these were tied together, the resulting instrument was a "Pan's Pipe." This instrument was used by shepherds and herdsmen to play pleasant little melodies while watching their flocks and herds.

So, these three simple instruments, the drum, bowstring and river reed helped the beginning of musical art. All civilized nations B. C., developed music past the primitive state. The higher the type of civilization the purer the music. The Children of Israel, the Egyptians and other nations of Asia passed their ideas of music to the Greeks; the Greeks on through the Romans passed it thru Western Europe into America.

Now, what part does Music play in American life today? According to an article recently published in The Musical America, written by Hiram Motherwell, each week eight and one-half million people listen to good music of some kind. Either in the concert hall, at home, over the radio, or from the many mechanical pianos or disc machines. A hundred years ago only the select few could afford the luxury of music, but now it is in the reach of all, and more people are demanding good music each year. When you find a condition like this, an increasing number of thousands and millions demanding a certain thing, you may be sure that that thing responds to a biological need.

To say that the demand for music is explained by the fact that people like it, is no more final than to say that the demand for food is explained by the fact that people like it. They like it because they need it, because it does them good. If people over a period of a hundred years demand good music it is because good music is wholesome and beneficial to them.

I shall now try to touch briefly some of the many ways in which the study of music is beneficial. Chas. W. Eliot of Cambridge says that "Music is the best mind trainer on the list." Whether it is the best or not we know it is one of the best. This fact is corroborated by the fact that many of our most successful business men received excellent music training while they were young.

"But," says Dr. Webster, superintendent of the School of Minneapolis, Minn., "music makes its greatest contribution to civilization not through training the mind, but in refining the soul."

"The greatest joy in music is felt while one helps make it. Appreciation comes to its complete flower in participation. When boys and girls sing in a chorus or play in an orchestra, they not only feel the joy of producing music, but learn the lesson of cooperation."

Many homes would be made much happier and more contented if there was more good music in the home. Let us as parents cooperate to the fullest extent in making life richer and happier for our boys and girls by encouraging them to listen to and play the most beautiful and refining kind of music.

I close with the National Music Week slogan, "Make Music, for Music Makes Happiness."

DANGEROUS—HEROIC—BUT "ALL IN A DAYS WORK" WITH LONE STAR

"Grab'er, Bill! THIS LINE'S GOTTA BE BACK IN BEFORE DAYLIGHT!"

A rushing slottam of driftwood struck a Lone Star pipe line which irrigation workers had exposed when digging a channel near Bonham, Texas. Trouble shooters bearing tools and fittings rushed sixty miles through the storm to repair the damage. Arrived, they must walk across a slippery ten-inch pipe which spanned the torrent of raging water. A single slip meant death. Over this precarious "bridge" of pipe they carried a three-hundred pound fitting, and repaired the breach on that wintry night by the light of blinking lanterns. Without food for twenty hours, without heat, often up to their necks in icy water, but no complaints

These trouble-shooters are the personification of a Lone Star ideal. Unremembered by the very public they serve, they offered during those dreadful hours, a touching tribute to that ideal.

And from the president on down, we of Lone Star wish to make this public acknowledgment of our gratitude to our trouble shooters!

Middle Life Troubles

"ABOUT twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Mat Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and sometimes would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time. I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. We have all been better for having taken it."

CHEVROLET BREAKING RECORDS

DETROIT, May 10.—Exceeding by approximately 10,000 units its best previous monthly manufacturing record, the Chevrolet Motor Company in April established a new all-time monthly production record with an output of 157,137 cars and trucks.
April was the second consecutive month during which Chevrolet set up a new all-time monthly production mark, March having been high with 147,273 units.

The sensational April achievement brings Chevrolet production in the first four months up to the record total of 511,837 units as compared with 477,967 for the corresponding period of 1928, a gain of more than 33,000 units over the best previous corresponding period in the company's history.

The most significant feature of Chevrolet's manufacturing performance during the first four months is the fact that during that limited period Chevrolet built more six cylinder cars than any other manufacturer has ever built in an entire year.

Coincident with the announcement of this latest Chevrolet production achievement was the indication that in response to the greatest demand Chevrolet has ever known, May will see another all-time monthly record established. Tentative schedules arranged for the current month call for a May production of 160,000 cars and trucks.

Sixteen giant factories located at strategic points from coast to coast are now working with all the speed consistent with Chevrolet's precision manufacturing methods to accommodate the greatest Spring business in the history of the company.

RAILROADS TO GIVE SPECIAL RATES TO THE
A. & M. SHORT COURSE

COLLEGE STATION, May 10.—
Cooperation of Texas railroads thru special rates in bringing crowds to the twentieth annual Farmers Short Course at the A. & M. College of Texas this summer, to be held the week of July 29, is assured, according to H. H. Williamson, vice director and State agent of the Extension Service under supervision of which the short course is held. A rate of one cent a mile in each direction has been announced by the Southern Pacific lines and other roads are expected to make attractive rates also,
he said.

Plans are under way here for taking care of the largest attendance in the history of this State-wide farm gathering. Last year's attendance numbered 5,000, of which one-third were boys and girls. Authorities at the college expect facilities here to be taxed to the limit during the coming gathering.

Instruction to be offered will follow much the same lines as in the past, courses to be available in field erops, gardening, horticulture, poultry raising, dairying, general livestock, insect and disease control, clothing, construction, nutrition,

BOTANIST GIVES WARNING
AGAINST POISON IVY

WACO, Texas, May 10.—A warning to beware of poison ivy, especially during this season, has been issued by the Botany Department of Baylor University to all those susceptible of poisoning by this plant.

At present the plant is blooming and is unusually dangerous, Dr. Cornelia M. Smith, professor of Botany, stated. Ellon D. Schultz, M. S., of San Antonio, gives the following description of the plant and methods of care for poisoning by it:

"A poisonous, climbing vine that climbs and creeps by means of aerial rootlets often to the tops of tall trees. It is just as often a low-growing plant. The leaves strongly resemble those of the Box Elder, variously and coarsely toothed, three on each stem. The flowers are greenish or greenish-yellow and are very fragrant and grow in dense clusters.
Fruits resemble tiny bunches of white grapes that hang in long bunches.

"All parts of the plant are poisonous to some people and dead leaves are dangerous as well as living ones.
The poison, caused by a non-volatile oil found in all parts of the plant, causes an inflammation followed by tiny blisters whenever the plant comes in contact with the skin. The water from the blisters is equally poisonous. The infected parts should be washed with soap and water. If the skin has become inflamed or blistered, bathing with a bit of cotton saturated with grain alcohol will dry the blisters in one or two days.

Prize Poem By
Mrs. R. H. Ratliff

"The Phantom Wild Horse Band," the poem by Mrs. Harry Ratliff of Colorado, which won first prize at the annual meeting of the Sixth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, in Brownwood last week, is given below:

THE PHANTOM WILD HORSE BAND
By (Isabel Smith Ratliff)

Faint beat of hoofs on the desert;
Light beat of hoofs on the sand;
In the cool of the night,
When the moon is quiet bright,
Comes the phantom wild horse band.

Skirting the deep arroyos;
Skirting the canyon, too;
Through the catclaw brush,
They come with a rush,
A phantom from out of the blue.

Seen one moment in the distance;
Heard for a moment close by;
Hear the yelping note
Of the lone coyote,
A silhouette on the sky.

The charm of the desert in spring time;
The spell of the desert at night;
On the moonlit range,
A witchery strange;
A fantastic, shadowy light.

Across the sands to the river;
Across the sands to the grass;
Hear them gallop away
At the first break of day;
Feel the faint whir of wind as they pass.

Thus, fancy flies with the dawning day;
And things lose their glamorous cast;
When it is moonlight and clear,
It seems you can hear
The faint beat of hoofs that have passed.

PONTIAC PLANT CAPACITY TAXED

PONTIAC, Mich., May 10.—A vivid picture of how the automobile industry is forging ahead beyond even the optimistic plans of those on the "inside" is aptly illustrated here at the modern plant operated by the Oakland Motor Car Company for the production of the new Pontiac Big Six.

When planned less than three years ago, the new structure was laid out on a production scale that was regarded as ample for years to come, yet during the past few months every operating division has been running at peak capacity. Day-and-night and Saturday afternoon shifts are still somewhat short of turning out cars to meet the demand.

Fortunately, the plant stands on a huge plot of undeveloped land which may be utilized as increasing sales volume renders imperative a further branching out of production facilities.

With new cars of the Pontiac Big

Six series rolling off three assembling lines at the rate of 1200 or more a day, Oakland officials announced the building of the 500,000th Pontiac Six during the latter part of April.

This established still one more record for the Pontiac line, which, since its introduction at the automobile show of 1926, has consistently shattered all records ever set by a new make of car.

The half-millionth Pontiac was built less than 40 months after the first model of the line made its initial bow to the public in January, 1926.

One of the greatest revivals of several years came to a close at the Baptist church Sunday night, after a two weeks' run, during which time the attendance was good with the interest increasing with every service. Baptizing was held at Butler tank Sunday afternoon, with 45 candidates. There were some sixty additions to the church, with several surrendering for special service. Rev. Howard, pastor of Baptist church at Canyon, who did the preaching, won his way into the hearts of his hearers with his wonderful gospel messages.

The program, which was presented by the music pupils from both Westbrook and Colorado, performed their parts remarkably well, thus reflecting credit on their teacher, Miss Alta Ferguson, who has labored with them the past year.

Baptist Church News The revival closed Sunday night with great results. Many souls were born into the kingdom. There were 50 professions of faith, 20 church members confessing backsliding, 10 dedications and surrendering for life service, one new preacher liberated by church. New members received for baptism, 46; new members by statement, 3; by letter, 27, making a total of 76 members. There were 43 baptized Sunday, and three to be baptized later. Cash raised during the meeting for all purposes amounted to $509.70. During the seven months of this pastorate there have been 92 additions to the church, and a total of $2,800.00 raised. As a token of appreciation, the church presented Bro. McDermott with a trip to the Southern Baptist Convention at Memphis, Tenn.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for May 12 THE EARLY MINISTRY OF JEREMIAH

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 1:6-10; 24:1-24. GOLDEN TEXT—We must obey God rather than men. PRIMARY TOPIC—Doing Hard Things for God. JUNIOR TOPIC—Doing Hard Things for God. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Taking a Stand for God. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Fidelity in the Face of Difficulties.

1. Jeremiah's Call (1:1-10). 1. It was prenatal (vv. 4, 5). Before Jeremiah was born, God ordained him a prophet.

2. His diffidence (v. 6). This seems to have grown out of his youth and inexperience.

3. His hesitancy overcome (vv. 7, 8). God graciously appeared unto him and made clear that he should (1) Go where sent. (2) Speak as commanded. (3) Be unafraid of their faces. The servant of God is called upon to face strong enemies. (4) Be assured of the divine presence.

4. The divine message given (v. 9). Not merely the thoughts, but the proper words to express the thoughts, were put into the prophet's mouth.

5. Nature of his ministry (v. 10). It was to be wider than that of prophesying. Six words are given as descriptive thereof. The first four are destructive in their implication—"root out," "pull down," "destroy," and "throw down"; two constructive, "build," and "plant."

II. Jeremiah's Grief (3:1, cf. 6:10). The unbelief of the people made him feel that his efforts were fruitless. Seeing so clearly the awful doom which awaited his people and nation, and their willful opposition, he wept sorely.

III. Jeremiah's Prophecy in the Temple Court (23:1-24). 1. Jeremiah's solemn warning to Judah (vv. 1-7). The Lord commanded him to stand in a conspicuous place in the temple and proclaim the judgment which was about to fall upon them because of their sins. The object was to move them to repentance (v. 3). If they would not repent, God would make the temple as Shiloh (v. 6). Just as Shiloh was once the dwelling place of the Lord and now fallen into decay and abandoned, so would it be with the temple.

2. Jeremiah on trial (vv. 8-11). (1) Cause of arrest (v. 8). It was for faithfully speaking all that the Lord had commanded. (2) The charge (vv. 8, 9). Thou shalt surely die. They charged him with a capital crime. According to this charge his guilt was twofold: a. Pretending to speak for God. b. Speaking against the temple and the city. According to this charge he was guilty of blasphemy and sacrilege. The one who prophesied without God's command was to be punished by death (Deut. 18:20). Blasphemy was also punishable by death. (Lev. 24:16).

(3) The princes sit in judgment (vv. 10, 11). Matters of state were not entirely in the hands of the priests and elders, but were in part controlled by members of the royal family.

3. Jeremiah's defense (vv. 12-15). Threats of death did not deter him from preaching, but only made him repeat his message with clearness. (1) Reiterates his divine commission (v. 12). He plainly told them that he was God's messenger and in opposing him they were opposing God. (2) His exhortation (v. 13). He urged them to amend their ways and obey God and thus turn aside the divine judgment. (3) He gave himself up (v. 14). He did not resist the powers of government (Rom. 13:1).

(4) Warns of fatal consequences (v. 15). He told them that God had sent him and that if they killed him they would be guilty of defying God. Jeremiah saved (vv. 16-24). (1) The judgment of the princes (v. 16). They found him "not guilty." (2) The speech of the elders (vv. 17-23). The elders pled for Jeremiah and adduced two cases in illustration: a. Micah (vv. 18, 19). Micah had prophesied against Jerusalem, but King Hezekiah instead of putting him to death, repented, and this turned aside the punishment which was impending. b. Urijah (vv. 20-23). Urijah prophesied against the city and the land and thus incurred the wrath of Jehoiakim, who even brought him back from Egypt and slew him.

(3) Rescued by Ahikam (v. 24). Ahikam must have been a man of influence, to be able to interfere.

Faith Faith is not blind acceptance of absurdity. Faith is the completion of a transaction in which we commit ourselves to a personal relationship with an unseen and living Master. Faith is such an adventure as every sailor makes when he sets out for an unseen port. Faith is our response to our yearning for the God who has made us for fellowship with himself. Faith is the answer of the vibrant human spirit to the music of Eternity. —Ozora S. Davis.

"EGGS IS EGGS" BUT NOT FOR HATCHING
Too Great Care Cannot Be Observed In the Selection of Eggs for Hatching—In Choosing the Right Eggs For the Purpose Lies Much of the Secret of Successful Incubation.

"Pigs is pigs," according to the famous story by Ellis Parker Butler, and to a great many people eggs is eggs, regardless of the way in which they are to be used. When it concerns eggs for any purpose but hatching, that view may be as good as any other, but eggs for hatching should certainly be selected with extreme care if best results are to be obtained. There is no great mystery about the process of making proper selection. On the contrary, it is a very simple matter. I have seen so much of random selection, however, that I am sure a few pointers on the subject will not be amiss.

First of all, let me say what kind of eggs not to use. Discard all eggs that are small, abnormally large, very dirty, irregularly formed and those with cracked, rough, thin or irregular shells. I would especially warn everyone against accepting the common belief that large eggs are best for hatching. Years of careful experimentation and close observation of the work of others has convinced me that the average size egg of regular form and color is the best for hatching. The exact size will vary, of course, with different breeds. The same is true of color. Any chicken raiser can easily judge the size of eggs to use according to this advice and detailed instructions are not necessary.

The hatching egg should be sound of shell. It should be smooth, free from uneven or rough spots; should not be mottled or uneven of color; it should not be thinner in one part than in another; should not have ridges, bumps, humps or bulges, but should be as near to the true egg shape as possible. A slight unevenness or variation from the ideal shape does not necessarily mean poor hatches, but if the unevenness of whatever kind you may use is very noticeable, better put such eggs aside for market or table use.

Eggs with unusually thin or porous shells are undesirable for hatching. The thin shelled egg is easily broken in turning.

To many people it will come as a surprise when they learn that dirty eggs should not be used. I speak from experience, however, when I say that such is the case. Slightly soiled eggs may be used if they are first carefully cleaned by rubbing lightly with a damp cloth or sponge. If that will not clean them, they should be put aside for other uses. Under no circumstances should eggs be washed thoroughly. The thorough wetting and hard rubbing will destroy nature's protective surface film, thus hastening evaporation of the contents and allowing harmful odors to penetrate the porous shell.

All eggs in any one hatch should be as nearly uniform as possible in size, weight and thickness of shell. They should also be of approximately the same age and from the same variety of fowl. Thin shelled eggs hatch more easily, as a rule, than the thick shelled ones. White eggs usually hatch more quickly than darker ones. Leghorn eggs will probably hatch 24 hours earlier than those from Plymouth Rock eggs. It will, therefore, be easy to see why uniformity in all the ways just mentioned is desirable whenever practicable. If this rule is followed, practically all eggs will hatch at or very near the same time, thus far greater chance of complete success than would be possible where eggs of widely varying characteristics are mixed together.

I do not recommend the use of pullet eggs for hatching. All breeding hens should be of good size for the breed and from 1 to 2 years of age. If pullets are used at all for breeders, they should be well matured, lay good size eggs and be mated to old roosters.

Another important factor that greatly influences the chances for successful incubation is the relative freshness of eggs. Those from 1 to 4 or 6 days old show little difference as to hatching quality, but after that they deteriorate rapidly. This is easily explained. A fresh egg contains just enough water to develop the embryo while it is gradually developing into a chick. As an egg-shell is porous, the water will evaporate more or less rapidly, the exact degree depending on the temperature and relative humidity of the place in which the eggs are kept. Exactly how long eggs may be safely held before hatching qualities are effected cannot be arbitrarily stated. It is worthy of note, however, that many commercial hatcheries show a very high percentage of eggs successfully hatched in each setting, and they are often set when from 19 to 12 days old.

T. B. HELD CURABLE BY NOTED PHYSICIAN

ABILENE, May 4.—Although tuberculosis is the most widespread of any known disease, occurring in all countries and among all classes of people, it is curable, Dr. J. B. McKnight, superintendent of the Texas State Tuberculosis Sanitarium, said Thursday night in an address before the annual Child Health and Parent Education Conference at the city hall here. Furthermore, the careful tubercular patient does not infect those with whom he comes in contact, Mr. McKnight said.

The second speaker was Dr. H. L. Pritchett, former Abilene public school teacher, now of the Southern Methodist University, whose talk dealt with "The Handicapped Child in the Home and School."

"It is not a disgrace to have tuberculosis but it is a shame to die with it," Dr. McKnight declared in stressing the fact that the disease is curable. "The more I handle tubercular patients, the more fully I am convinced that all people who have the disease should get well. If all cases could be diagnosed early, and the patients could then have proper treatment and care, they could get well," he said.

Tuberculosis is a malady which exists primarily among young adults and results in the greatest economic waste of any disease, Dr. McKnight said. Among 500 patients at the State sanitarium, 400 are under 30 years of age and there are no children, he said.

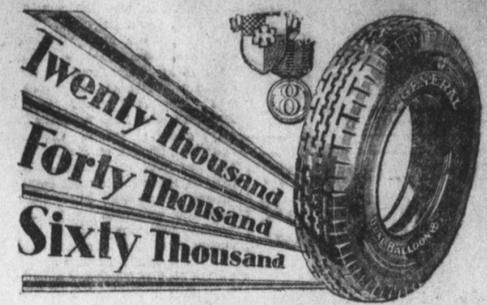

The disease is infectious but not hereditary, the superintendent emphasized. However, infection occurs only from persons who are careless or who do not know that they have the disease, he declared.

When the State tubercular sanitarium was established in 1912, there was only one private institution for tubercular patients in Texas, that at El Paso, the speaker said. Now there are many throughout the State.

At the outset of his address Dr. McKnight recommended County Hospitals, saying they are as essential as public schools, and prophesying that in 25 years all sick people will be cared for in hospitals rather than in their homes.
