BARNES CIRCUS DUE HERE OCTOBER 5 IS BIGGER AND BETTER

Performances Replete With New Novelty Acts; No Street Parade This Year

In connection with the enactment of laws for censoring of all forms of stage entertainment, the circus is the one style of show at which censorship has never been directed. The modern circus of today does not present any performances that contain any objectionable features.

Al G. Barnes Circus, which exhibits at Colorado Saturday, October 5, has always been noted for both the cleanliness and novelty of its performance, and this year finds the program replete with new acts and performers, among which are the Klinkert Liliputian Equestrians, 14 in number. These tiny performers have just arrived from Bavaria and present a distinct novelty. The spectacular feature of this year's program is termed "Aladdin and the Parade of Gold," and it is claimed by the management to surpass anything of this character heretofore presented under canvas. It requires the services of nearly one thousand persons, and the part of Aladdin is played by the Chinese beauty, Lola Lee Chong.

No street parade will be given by the Al G. Barnes Circus this year because of the amount of time required in preparation for the presentation of the spectacle. However, a free exhibition will be given on the show grounds at 1:00 and 7:00 p. m., at which hours the doors to the circus open, allowing ample time for the inspection of a mammoth zoo.

The improvement fund for Rud-dick Park, started a few weeks ago by a donation of $10.00 by Oscar Price, continues to grow. Forty dollars were added this week when four donors contributed $10 each, as follows:

Mrs. D. H. Snyder $10.00
F. B. Whipkey 10.00
Whipkey Printing Co. 10.00
J. H. Greene 10.00

Improvement Fund For Park Continues Grow

The Colorado Country club lake and the Boy Scout lake at Seven Wells are full and water went over the spillway of each in great quantities last week and again Monday.

Crops in Mitchell were materially benefited by these late rains. The cotton crop is estimated at figures ranging from 18,000 to 25,000 bales. Most guesses are ranging around 25,000 bales.

Late feed is good and feed is not going to be as scarce as some first thought.

SCHOOLS GET FIRST PAYMENT OF STATE AID FOR THIS YEAR

County Superintendent M'Gill Receives $4625 For Rural Schools

First payment on the per capita school apportionment for Mitchell county has been received by Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, and by trustees of the independent school districts in the county.

Miss McGill received $4,625 in all representing a $2.50 payment for the 1850 rural scholastics enrolled in the county. Colorado received approximately $3,600 for Colorado schools. This payment comes early, according to a letter from State Superintendent S. M. N. Marrs, because of a balance which was carried over from the preceding biennium. This caution is given County superintendents in Mr. Marrs' letter:

"In view of the fact that this large balance is available for the year 1920-30 and the further fact that possibly 100,000 six year old children will be enumerated for 1930-31, it is estimated at this time that the per capita apportionment for 1930-31 cannot exceed $16.50. The State Board of Education, therefore, instructed me to request the boards of trustees of school districts throughout the State wherever practicable to reserve a balance amounting to 50 cents per pupil, in order that the per capita expenditure for the school will be $17.00 for each year. Of course, this is impracticable in State aid districts, as the law requires an account to be taken of all of the per capita apportionment, but many of the independent districts by proper budgeting of their accounts may be able to adjust their expenditures according to the suggestion of State Board of Education."

Three Charged With Theft Of Seed Cotton

Jim Allison, F. J. Anderson, and J. L. Williams were released under $500 bond each Saturday after having been taken into custody on charges of stealing cotton from J. E. Vest and John Womack.

The complaint signed by Womack was made in Howard county, where it is alleged the cotton was sold. Vest signed a complaint in this county. The trio are also under bond in Howard county on the same offense, according to Judge W. H. Garrett, county attorney.

It is claimed they took 440 pounds of seed cotton from J. E. Vest's field and 570 pounds from the field of John Womack, near Cuthbert.

One of the men ginned a bale of cotton at Big Spring early Saturday morning, it was said. Allison has a crop near the Womack field.

Judge Garrett said the men would probably be summoned to appear before the grand jury at Big Spring, which convened yesterday.

We are NOT doing this because we really are in need of more subscribers, because our list includes a majority of the homes of Mitchell county. Of course we want all homes in the county to receive this paper, but our main purpose in this offering of free tickets is to see that the boys and girls under 16 years of age get a chance to see the big circus.

By doing a little advertising for the circus on a cooperative basis we can get these tickets for the boys and girls of Mitchell county and we are taking the proposition on that basis. Get a subscription and sign up the blank in another section of this paper and bring or mail to The Record with the $1.50 and you will get your free ticket and the subscriber will get $2.50 worth of reading matter for the remittance.

In her talk to the women, Mrs. Barry paid special attention to the more cultural phase of home demonstration club programs. She stressed the importance of studying art, literature, and the beauty in natural things around us. Miss Swift talked to the women about the 1930 plan of work, and outlined for them some of the demonstrations to be put over next year. She paid particular attention to the 4-H pantry demonstration.

NEW R. C. A. TALKIE EQUIPMENT FOR PALACE THEATRE IS DELAYED

Installation Be Completed Next Week And Formal Opening Oct. 3-4

The new R. C. A. "talkie" equipment for the Palace Theatre has been delayed in transit, according to Ross D. Dixon, manager, who is in Dallas, but installation will be completed next week, despite the delay.

Testing of the new equipment will take place next week and formal opening will be held October 3 and 4, Dixon announces.

Delay in delivery of the shipment is given as cause of failure to have installation for opening September 15. The equipment purchased by the Palace is second to none, Mrs. F. E. McKenzie said Wednesday. It is made by the Radio Corporation of America, under whose patents Vitaphone, Movietone and other talking equipment is said to be manufactured.

There is no more modern equipment made for talkie picture exhibition than the R. C. A. machine, it is said.

The Palace management feels positive the new equipment will be ready for opening not later than Oct. 3.

Seek Repeal New Pension Law And Re-enactment Of Old Law

The Colorado chapter, U. D. C., is seeking repeal of the new pension law passed by the regular session of the 41st legislature and re-enactment of the old 1928 Texas pension law, according to Mrs. R. N. Gary, president of the local chapter.

Mrs. Gary, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, and Mrs. C. C. Thompson composing a committee appointed at the regular monthly meeting of the chapter on Tuesday, has drafted resolutions asking Governor Moody to call an extraordinary session of the legislature to act on the pension law mixup, in accordance with the plan advanced by legislators who propose to go to Austin for a three-day session and pay their own expenses to correct the pension law.

W. E. Reid, local representative, who opposed the change in the pension law made by the 41st sessions, told the U. D. C. he would attend a two-day session to repeal the law and re-enact the old law; if the Governor would call the session.

There are 48 members of the Colorado chapter No. 1114, and all of them approve the move to get the law corrected.

Mrs. Gary, who has been very active in U. D. C. work for several years, said Governor Moody should convene the session immediately and challenge the governor's sincerity if he fails to do so.

The resolution adopted follows: "We, the 48 members of the Colorado chapter No. 1114, United Daughters of the Confederacy, realizing the urgent necessity for immediate change in the present pension law of Texas, and knowing that a great injustice is being done under the new law passed by the regular and second called session of the 41st legislature, whereby certain pensioners are not receiving a just apportionment of the pension funds, therefore,

"Be It Resolved, That we urgently request our splendid governor, Hon. Dan Moody, to call an extra session of the legislature pursuant to the proposal of legislators to serve free for a few days to correct the pension laws—or with pay if necessary—and, and it so effectively sets forth the Master's life that everyone is urged to be present. If you fail to hear this program you are sure to miss a blessing."

The Daughters of the King Sunday school class met Thursday in the basement, with Mrs. Q. D. Hall as hostess. Mrs. Jeff Dobbs received the guests. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Davis, a former member. Mrs. A. A. Dorn conducted the devotional. This was a beautiful lesson on World Brotherhood from "Spiritual Adventuring."

The secretary reported a most delightful picnic held in August, which all those who attended enjoyed very much. The president reported flowers sent to Mrs. Harlow's funeral, since her mother Mrs. Heard had formerly been a member of the class. It was voted to pay this.

Mrs. Garrett reported continued interest in the Mission Sunday school. Twenty-two present last Sunday and the best offering they had ever had. She told of giving a Bible to a child who was leaving town. The class voted to pay for this. Reported $25 on the church building fund had been turned in by Mrs. J. D. Wulfjen. Methods of heating the Mission church and having it insured were discussed. A committee, composed of Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Garrett, and Mrs. Costin were appointed to see trustees about insurance. The gains will be carried no further this year, it was reported, and plans for heating were deferred until the October meeting.

This was the time for election of officers and teachers. Mrs. Arnett was asked to lead in a prayer for those of the town in sorrow and for guidance in the class election.

Mrs. Barry Speaks to Colorado Club Women

Friday afternoon a number of club women, and women interested in home-making gathered to hear Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, Texas director in the General Federation of Clubs, talk on the workings of the Federation, with Mrs. C. C. Thompson, president of the County Federation, presiding.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. G. Merritt. Some of her own delightful poems were read by Mrs. J. E. McCleary, these including a number of phases of life as viewed by this accomplished woman. Mrs. Berryhill, with Mrs. C. C. Meskimen at the piano, sang very sweetly, "The End of a Perfect Day." Mrs. Thompson introduced the speaker of the hour, who told first of the Federation's policy toward legislation. She told many amusing experiences that had come to her in Washington, but impressed upon her the amount of power the General Federation does possess. She told what it did for each State, where the State's money went and the need of an endowment. The women received the cheering news that no longer would they be listed in the census report along with infants and idiots as having no occupation, but would be listed as Home-makers. She suggested that the County Federation take up a detailed study of their county's government, public school system, law enforcement, health and public improvements; that at every meeting they have something on art, religion and music; that minds and souls be fed as well as the body.

At the conclusion of her speech, all were invited into the church parlors where from a flower-decked table punch was served by Mesdames John Prude, Bill Broadus, Dick Carter, Pelfrey, and Jim Johnson.

L. B. Campbell of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was in Loraine Wednesday calling on the business men in the interest of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, due to be held in El Paso on October 24-26. Several promised to attend.

The Loraine Luncheon club meets twice a month, and has a regular attendance of from 50 to 75 members. Of West Texas Chamber of Commerce and is doing much that will be beneficial to Loraine and our trade territory. The club has been working for the past week to get cotton pickers for the Loraine trade territory, sending telegrams and radio messages to various departments of West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Labor and employment agencies all over the State are promising aid. It is estimated that we have 2000 bales of open cotton that should be picked at once. Loraine territory has as good cotton as will be found in this section of West Texas. Some crops will make around one-third bale per acre. We need help to gather cotton and feed. This club is very active in assisting our farmers to get better prices for their products. A fine spirit of cooperation exists between the Luncheon club business men and the farmers.

New buildings under construction to be completed soon, located on the Bankhead highway in the eastern part of town, is a modern stucco bungalow filling station and camping ground, owned by E. M. Armstrong. Near the east Loraine, an up-to-date drive in filling station of cobblestone construction owned by Mr. Haney, when completed will be one of the most modern of the kind in the country.

Loraine Methodist
Our church is in a very encouraging state of development. We have had a substantial increase in membership and the spiritual interest is gratifying, though not ideal.

Our people go to Sunday school and stay for preaching. With a resident membership of about 280, we had two hundred and fifty-eight in Sunday school the 15th. Very few if any, churches in the Northwest Texas conference can rejoice over such a record. Sunday, October 6th, will be Rally Day, when we hope to break all records.

The members are taking great interest in teacher training. Only a few churches in the conference leading us in this. Our great need is a building to properly house the church activities. This we shall have in the near future, as our ladies' societies are already raising funds.

Visit us when an opportunity presents itself and enjoy the wonderful fellowship.
J. M. COCHRAN,
Pastor.

DETAILED REPORT OF MRS. HOOKS SHOWS HOW SHE PROFITS ON CHICKS

Buford Woman Has Had Net Receipts of $507.57 Since February

A detailed report, showing just how she made her chickens profitable this year, has been turned in to Miss Abbie M. Sevier, county home demonstration agent, by Mrs. A. J. Hooks of the Buford community.

In February Mrs. Hooks bought 500 baby chicks, paying $80 for them. From various causes she lost 48 of this number. She sold 188 cockerels, realizing for them $72.07. Sixty-four of them she ate at home, and these amounted to $32.00 in value. Out of the original 500, Mrs. Hooks has left 200 pullets, which have been laying for some time.

In May, Mrs. Hooks bought 500 more chicks, this time paying $63 for that number. Out of this bunch she sold 115 cockerels, getting $34.50 for them. She used 45 for home consumption, this number being valued at $13.50. She has a flock of 206 pullets left from this bunch, and values each at $1.50, making $250 in all. Feed for this bunch cost $54.20 to marketing time, and feed for the pullets since the cockerels were sold has amounted to $30.05 in the oldest group.

A survey of results in the two groups shows that the total cost of chickens was $293, the total purchase cost being $143 and the total feed cost $150. The total receipts were $800.57, the cockerels bringing in $150.57 and the hens being valued at $650 in all. Subtracting the cost from this sum, the net receipts are found to be $507.57.

ALL ENTERTAINMENT FREE AT BIG SPRING AIRPORT OPENING

All Out-of-Town Visitors Are Given Free Eats and Hotel Accommodations

Big Spring did the royal thing when the Big Spring Airport was formally opened September 11 and 12.

For these two days out-of-town visitors were given booklets entitling the holder to free transportation to the airport, free lubricating oil for his car, free breakfast, dinner or supper at any cafe or hotel coffee shop in the city, free hotel accommodations for Wednesday and Thursday nights at any hotel in the city, two free tickets to the dance and reception and another ticket good for breakfast, dinner or supper at any cafe or coffee shop in the city. All entertainment at the airport was free.

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and individual citizens of that city made it plain to visitors that they were guests of Big Spring during the airport opening and were not expected to spend any sum of money.

The fly-leaf in the courtesy booklets entitling the holder to the best in the city free, contained the following: "These courtesy coupons are for your convenience. The dedication program will be held on the field two miles west of the city. You are invited to attend and participate in each activity. We hope your stay in our city will be delightfully pleasant. If you enjoy yourself—then we'll be happy—E. H. Farenkamp, general chairman."

A large 32-passenger parlor bus was furnished for the two days to transport visitors to and from the airport free. No one was charged fare on this bus.

DEPUTY RICE TRACKS MAN FOR MONTHS AND GETS HIM AT WINGATE

J. W. Bell, wanted in Mitchell county on charges of disposing of mortgaged property and swindling, and in Nolan county on charges of forgery, was apprehended at Wingate, Sherrills county, Friday by Deputy Sheriff Rice of Loraine.

The grand jury at the last session of the Mitchell county district court indicted Bell and Deputy Rice had been trailing him since that date. He was lodged in jail at Sweetwater.

Rice recovered a Ford car which Bell secreted from the Colorado Motor Co., local Ford dealers.

YOUTH--AND THE NEW LEADERSHIP

By CRAIG B. HAZLEWOOD, President American Bankers Association

LEADERSHIP is a picturesque word. With it, one pictures Hannibal fighting his way through the passes of the Alps—Napoleon in his campaigns—or Washington holding together his half-frozen army by the sheer magnetism of his character at Valley Forge. But I visualize something that holds a more astounding spectacle in many respects than any of these.

It is the crux of our business life. Our economic progress plunges ahead at a rate unheard of in the history of the nations of the world and every industrial and financial leader is daily brought face to face with new and perplexing problems requiring the highest courage and intelligence for their solution.

Ninety billions a year, they tell us, this country is now producing in new wealth. The rate of increase is even more staggering than the amount. It is difficult to say where it may lead us in even ten or fifteen years.

We are moving exceptionally fast. Our economic and industrial structure is placing before us problems of greater and greater magnitude. Few men can see far ahead. Few are in complete control, for this is a changing world, as even the most inexperienced business man will readily testify. Our methods of adjusting ourselves rapidly to economic changes and of cooperating are far from perfect.

What an opportunity the leadership of five, ten or fifteen years from now presents! What an adventure it will be! What responsibilities it will lay upon the broadest shoulders that may be found! This is the challenge to leadership as I see it. In the hands of the young men must rest the responsibility for this leadership.

Boys Who Reached the Pinnacles Business is full of the romance of youngsters whose chief characteristic was working hard and keeping at it. There was a green farmer boy who decided he would rather stand behind a counter than follow a plow. He seemed so obviously lacking in sales ability that for a time no merchant would hire him. He failed in his first position, and in his second his salary was reduced. He even agreed that he was a misfit—but he stuck. Out of his first five stores, I believe, three failed. But he persisted and worked hard. And that boy, Frank W. Woolworth, became the greatest retail merchant in the world with a store in every city of eight thousand or more population in this country.

There was another lad who clerked in a grocery store sixteen hours a day and studied mathematics in his odd moments. He became interested in the doings of the steel plant whose employees traded at this store. He began to study steel and sought a position in the plant. He carried a surveyor's chain and drove stakes. At night he studied mathematics and engineering. He did not despair. He kept the pressure on for seven years. And that boy, Charles Schwab, mastered the iron industry and became one of the country's great industrial leaders.

There was a lad who sold papers on a train. When he grew up, several million men and a score of billions of dollars of capital were given profitable employment through his inventions. Even in middle life, Thomas Edison continued to work twenty hours a day, if necessary to achieve his purpose.

Leadership is not play. Leadership offers countless positions of varying opportunity, of which the highest pinnacles will mean almost unbearable responsibility in the new era. There will be men with the fire and iron to qualify even for these places. Such men must have had the very finest preparation and the most grueling tests. Their reward will be the attainment of these highest pinnacles of achievement, and the rendering of an immeasurable service to their times.

MAIL BOX THEFTS AID CHECK FORGERS

American Bankers Association in Nationwide Warning Exposes Methods and Gives Rules to Combat Them.

NEW YORK.—Active operations in many cities of mail box thieves, who open bank communications to customers, containing details of their accounts and cancelled checks showing their banking signatures, and use this material in perpetrating check forgeries, have led the American Bankers Association to issue a nation-wide warning to its members with instructions for combating this form of crime. The warning was sent out by James E. Baum in charge of the association's Protective Department says: "Heavy losses are being sustained through cancelled vouchers and statements stolen from the mail boxes of bank depositors in apartment and office buildings, thus divulging the depositors' balances and supplying models for forged checks. As a step to put customers on guard against these methods, banks are urged to instruct every depositor to whom they mail statements of deposit accounts on the last business day of each month to notify them promptly if such statements are not received by the close of the next day.

"Also banks should educate depositors to safeguard blank checks and cancelled vouchers as they would money. Such paper stolen by forgers soon puts real money in their hands. If all blank checks and cancelled vouchers were securely kept in safes instead of filling cabinets or desks, the check crooks would be denied their chief stock in trade, namely, genuine blank checks and signatures. Warnings to depositors against leaving blank or cancelled checks accessible to sneak thieves or burglars should be sent out at once.

"Estimates broadcast by surety companies indicate that individuals, merchants, hotels and others outside of banking are shouldering more than 99 per cent of the total amount of forgery losses. The bulk of forgery loss on checks is sustained by those who are willing to risk accepting them without reliable proof of identity or title of the presenter.

"Years ago the Protective Department of the American Bankers Association adopted the slogan, 'Strangers are not always crooks, but crooks are usually strangers.' If those outside of banking could be prevailed upon to observe this rule and think about it when considering accepting a check for their merchandise or services, for which they are also asked to give a substantial sum in cash in change, one of the biggest aids to the forgery business would be denied the crooks."

SCRUB BULL IS HALED TO COURT

Placed on Trial for Hindering Development and Prosperity of Dairy Industry.

Indicted for robbery, larceny, and a few other such charges, Scrub Bull went on trial for his life at Laurel, Mississippi, recently. It seems that for some time people had suspicions that Mr. Bull was hindering the right and lawful development of the dairy industry, thereby "maliciously and wilfully lowering production and decreasing profits in the dairy business," says the Bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission in commenting on the case.

This, it says, was the first trial of its kind ever held in that section and was attended by several hundred people. The jury, representing every vocation within the boundaries of the Laurel trade territory, rendered a unanimous verdict of "guilty." The death sentence was pronounced, "but during the night, before the sentence could be carried out, friends of the convict secretly split him away and he has not been seen since."

The arraignment came during the Milk Products Show sponsored by the banks of Laurel. People attending the show had the opportunity of also attending the bull's "trial" and went away firmly convinced of the seriousness of lax and out-of-date methods in the pursuit of dairying. The purpose of both the Milk Products Show and the trial were threefold, namely: to develop public sentiment for more and better Jersey; to foster a more cooperative spirit for dairying and livestock growing; and to promote tick eradication.

The banks of Laurel entered into a cooperative arrangement in their efforts for fostering agricultural development and successful farming in the community, offering $2,165 as premiums to the outstanding farm workers throughout both the territory during 1929. An instructive booklet has been issued, showing the agricultural activity of the banks, together with announcements of contests for farmers, exhibits in the bank lobbies and prizes offered.

BANKERS DEVELOP NOVEL INSTITUTE

The Georgia Bankers Association in cooperation with the State College of Agriculture has sponsored a series of farmers' institutes in various parts of the State of an entirely new character. The principle feature is a large and comprehensive exhibit transported in four large trucks and set up at each stop. When set up it fills a space 40 by 60 feet and consists of panels, charts, and models on practically every phase of agriculture, including agronomy, horticulture, agricultural engineering, poultry, animal husbandry, soils and fertilizers, home economics and marketing. A large electrified farm model, showing the uses of electricity on the farm, model farm buildings and the ideal layout and landscaping of the farmstead, is one of the most elaborate and attractive exhibits.

Local bankers in each locality visited gave the money to cover expenses for the transportation and installation of the exhibit in their territory and assisted in the preliminary advertising and publicity. The College of Agriculture assembled the exhibit and conducted the tour through its various extension specialists.

PROMINENT BANKERS OPOSE FARMERS IN SEEKING CHEAP LOANS

President of Texas Bankers Ass'n Refuses to Help in Farm Relief Board

HOUSTON, Sept. 16.—Participation of Texas farmers in the $500,000,000 agricultural relief fund of the present administration was nearer realization here today when a definite plan was set in motion by Governor Dan Moody's statewide committee of bankers. After opposition to Gov. Moody's plan developed during a three-hour meeting today, it appeared for a time that the financiers would have no part in fostering an organization to avail farmers of the State of benefits of the recently enacted federal agricultural marketing act.

The object of the plan is to enable farmers to obtain four per cent loans on warehouse receipts for their cotton, through their local cooperatives, an old hold surplus for good markets.

Among bankers who strenuously opposed the plan during the session was A. A. Horn of Galveston, president of the Texas Bankers' Association.

Horn declared he would oppose the sponsorship of the program "with all the power I have."

Horn, after refusing Governor Moody's request to preside at the session, termed the plan "socialistic and paternalistic" and declared it was certain to fail in its purpose. "This whole thing violates sound economic principles," W. W. Woodson, Waco banker and former president of the Texas Bankers' association, charged. "The Federal act is wrong in its credit policy. It is wrong in its price fixing, and yet we (the bankers of Texas) are asked to tell the farmers of Texas to organize cooperatives. If you want to ruin the farmers give him plenty of 4 per cent money."

COTTON MAKES IN 60 DAYS

R. A. Weatherly brought in two stalks of cotton last week that were about a foot high and each held two or three well matured bolls. Mr. Weatherly said this cotton was planted on the 3rd day of July and had not had a drop of rain on it.

It illustrates how quickly cotton can make in this county and also shows that cotton can be made with little or no rain.—Rotan Advance.

AN OLD TIMER

A jelly bean asked an Old Trail Driver, "What is an old timer?" The trail driver replied: "My dear young man, an old timer is one who was there when side-saddles were in style when the wagon circus and Punch and Judy were the only shows; when sideburns and long droopy mustaches were all the rage; when plush backed photo albums were found in every parlor; when every fiddler could play "Nigger in the Canebrakes" to perfection; when mustache cups were in use; when the village barber shop had a wall case full of shaving mugs, each bearing its owner's name in gold letters; when a $40 broadcloth suit was in style five years; and buck boards, rawhide bottom chairs, gourd dippers and froes were found at every home. Yes, young man, there are several "old-timers" like myself galivanting around hereabouts that can tell you the old timer has seen more in his day than you would ever see if you lived to be as old as Methuselah. We've seen the ox-wagon, the auto and airplane, the telegraph and the radio. What have you seen, son?—Camp Wood Crony.

AL JOLSON IN 'SAY IT WITH SONGS' AT BIG SPRING TUESDAY

New Jolson Singing and Talking Picture at R. & R. Theatre September 24

Al Jolson entertains the unseen millions in "Say It With Songs," the Warner Bros. picture which comes to the R. & R. Theatre, Big Spring, Texas, five days, commencing Tuesday, September 24.

As Joe Lane, radio entertainer, the star has many opportunities to make himself felt—which he does not only at the broadcasting station, but from prison where he is sent as the result of an accidental killing.

Jolson does not resort to burnt cork in "Say It With Songs," since his audiences, supposedly never see him. Although he plays a part that will be known around the world, it is the part of a man who considers himself a hopeless failure. "Say It With Songs" is the most tenderly emotional of all Jolson's stories.

It was written by Darry Zanuck and Harvey H. Gates and the scenario is by Joseph Jackson. Davey Lee, four-year-old baby star, again shares honors with Jolson in a cast which includes Marian Nixon, Holmes Herbert, Kenneth Thompson and Fred Kohler.

The West Texas Fair at Abilene is offering every school pupil in Mitchell county free ticket to the exposition on "Public School Day" on the opening day, Monday, September 23, according to a letter received by Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent.

Miss McGill states that pupils may send in their names to her or to the fair at Abilene and receive tickets, or they may appear at the gates on that day and be admitted free.

The letter to Miss McGill reads: "Any public school pupil in Mitchell county will be admitted free any time during that day. By merely asking, tickets such as the enclosed will be sent to any public school student. Any student, whether the holder of a ticket or not, will be admitted without charge on that day."

Sweetwater Offers Tickets

A similar letter from the management of the Mid-West Texas Exposition at Sweetwater offers free ticket to pupils, teachers, and trustees on "School Day," October 1. Those wishing to attend the Sweetwater fair are requested to turn in their names to Miss McGill. Eight Clubs Organized In Junior High Perfecting student organization in Colorado's Junior high school, now in its first year, eight clubs have been launched and will soon complete their organization.

Each club, according to Hayes Holman, principal of the Junior high school, has a definite, instructive aim, and each club will be sponsored by some faculty member. The clubs being organized are the Vocational Guidance club, which has as its purpose the study of the various trades and professions; the Tattlers club which will train its members in writing for publication; the Needle Craft club, which will teach the first principles of sewing; the Dramatic Club; the Art Club; the Book Lovers' Club which will encourage pupils to read the right kind of literature, and the Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs.

Organization of the clubs will probably be complete by next week and names of the officers will be published.

PULL OR PUSH

A perplexing problem has arisen at the Chamber of Commerce and the officials desire the farmers and others posted on such matter to come to the rescue. This matter will probably be referred to the A. & M. College for proper information. J. H. Greene, secretary, is unable to answer, also W. S. Foster, county demonstration agent, and neither can Doyle Williams, the efficient agricultural teacher in the Colorado schools, clarify this mystery. It is hoped that Watt Collier or some practical man can assist, at any rate.

The public is invited to write Jimmie Green, secretary of the chamber, and advise on this all-important question: "When at work, does a horse pull or push?"

Junior Order To Be Formed By I. O. O. F.

HOUSTON, Texas, Sept. 18.—A ritual for a boys' lodge to be known as the Junior Order of Independent Odd Fellows has been adopted by the I. O. O. F. in its annual convention here.

While membership in the junior order will not be a prerequisite to or means of gaining membership in the Odd Fellows, its purpose will be to diffuse the principles of Oddfellowship among boys between 14 and 18. The order will bear the same relation to the I. O. O. F. as the DeMolays to the Masons.

The sovereign grand lodge decided several years ago to establish a junior order, but opponents of the move mustered sufficient strength to defeat the ritual, thereby delaying its creation. After the ritual had been considerably amended Tuesday, it was ratified with only a handful of dissenting votes.

The establishment of the junior bodies will be optional for the I. O. O. F. in each locality. The Rebekahs voted to recommend a similar organization for girls in their order and it may be considered by the grand lodge later in the week.

REV. GREEN TO HOLD MEETING AT LOWE

BIG SPRING, Texas, Sept. 18.—The commissioners' court has authorized the drawing of a petition calling for a road bond election for $900,000 with which to hard surface the two main highways across Howard county, Nos. 1 and 9. One representative from each precinct was named to compose the nucleus of a good roads committee that will be formed immediately.

The county will be divided into 20 road districts and a petition will be presented to each of these districts. Every taxpayer in Howard county will be given an opportunity to sign the election petition, which is the desire of the commissioners' court, according to County Judge H. R. Debenport.

The two highways when completed will give the county 70 miles of concrete road.

C. E. STONE COMPANY

DuBois and Terry Open New Station

E. B. DuBois and Jack Terry announce the opening Saturday of new Humble filling station west of the river next to the new Gulf station, where they are installing a stock of groceries, candies, etc.

This station was erected by O. B. Price and leased to the Humble company. DuBois and Terry formed a partnership to operate the station.

They are planning special service for Saturday and invite the general public to drive in and see the new place, which will be fully stocked by that date.

The place will carry everything to take care of tourist trade as well as the general public. They will sell Humble gasoline and oils. This company has become a strong factor in this territory, having recently put in wholesale station and are now erecting a modern station on East Second street.

Large Number Enroll In High School Clubs

One hundred and ten high school girls enrolled for the High School Choral club this week, according to Miss Ruth Hightower, who is to direct the club.

This number has been divided into three clubs, each of which will meet twice a week.

Twenty-five boys have joined the Glee club, which will be directed by W. D. Hamm. This club will also meet twice a week.

Membership in neither of these organizations is compulsory, according to Supt. Ben S. Peck.

SUGGESTED MEANS FOR HOUSEWIFELY LEISURE

A home maker must take short cuts to the necessary three meals a day if she has time left to enjoy her family, her friends, her club and have an occasional pleasure trip. In recognition of this, Texas home demonstration agents are showing housewives how to save time in preparing meals.

Among the methods demonstrated is the use of labor-saving utensils, and tools, such as fireless, pressure and waterless cookers, double boilers, dish drainers, food choppers, light-weight egg beaters, measuring cups and spoons, casseroles, toasters and broilers. It is shown to be important also that tools and fixtures be kept as close together as possible and convenient to the places where they are most needed. Trays and wheel stands are step and time savers in carrying food to and from the dining room, many women are finding.

One dish dinner is becoming popular among home demonstration club members, since they are easy to prepare, simple to serve and require little dish washing and clearing away afterwards. A casserole dish of meat and spaghetti or beans, or beef hash and tomato sauce, or Irish stew, or corn chowder make a complete meal when combined with a fresh salad, tea, coffee and milk and bread.

Meats, vegetables and fruits canned in season can be made ready for the table in a few minutes, and with this in mind hundreds of women are this year arranging emergency shelves in their pantries. They stock them with assortments of foods for use when company comes, when illness interrupts the routine, or on wash days. Gift shelves and picnic shelves are appropriately stocked by some women, and many are writing out several quickly prepared menus to hang in the pantry for reference.

Other time and health savers recommended are a high stool to sit on to save tired feet and back; the right height of working surfaces to save backache and fatigue; a small, soft, washable rug in front of sink to help tired feet; a hinged shelf for extra space; sharp knives; and the discarding of useless tools such as egg beaters that won't beat and sifters that slip.

For Athletes and Invalids

At Northwestern University, whose football team made such an excellent record last year, Coach Dick Harley made his players drink malted milk after football practice. This was doubtless for its energy giving qualities, but it imparts this energy impartially to both invalids and athletes.

Hot or Cold
Malted milk is milk combined with the extract of malted grain—generally of malted barley or wheat—reduced to a powder by the vacuum process. It is used chiefly to make beverages, but also gives a novel and delicious flavor to desserts of various kinds. Here are some recipes for its use which may not make you a football star, but which will undoubtedly taste good and do you good.

Plain Malted Milk—Hot: Stir two heaping teaspoons of malted milk to a paste with a little hot milk. Fill the cup with hot milk and beat until frothy.

Plain Malted Milk—Cold: Mix two heaping teaspoons of malted milk to a smooth paste with a little cold milk. Add cold milk to fill glass. Mix well in a shaker or with an egg beater.

Malted Egg Nog—Hot: Mix two heaping teaspoons of malted milk to a smooth paste with a little hot water or milk. Add one-half teaspoon vanilla and shake or beat until frothy.

Malted Egg Nog—Cold: Mix to a smooth paste two heaping teaspoons of malted milk with a little cold milk. Add milk to fill glass, an egg, and cracked ice. Mix in shaker or with an egg beater.

THE NEWSPAPER GAME ALSO HAS MANY UPS AND DOWNS

If you think that your line of business is the only one that has its ups and downs, you are all ket, as is proved by the story taken from an exchange dealing with a newspaper compositor who was given the task of getting up slogans in an advertising column with the name of the product immediately following the slogan.

The compositor knew his onions all right when it came to knowing all of the slogans which appear in national publications regularly, but in writing up the copy he in some manner got the slogans and products somewhat mixed with the following startling result:

- "Eventually, Why Not Now" — National Funeral Directors' Association.
- "Keep That School Girl Complex" — Gem Razors.
- "Good to the Last Drop" — Havifind China.
- "Has the Strength of Gibraltar" — Kraft Cheese.
- "The Quality Is Remembered Long After the Price Is Forgotten" — Plu-Water.
- "The Flavor Lasts." — Tasteless Castor Oil.
- "The Hams What Am." — Chicago Civic Opera.
- "The Danger Line." — Santa Fe Railroad.

TO MY FELLOWMEN

By LEILA RODDY
I would like to write a poem today to help my fellowmen along life's way:
Sometimes the road seems dreary and long,
Too, the spirit seems broken; the heart empty of song!

It is hard, my fellowmen, to live aright,
To keep from stepping into the darkest night!

'Tis hard to keep one's thought from going astray,
Also hard to say the thing we ought to say!

'Tis hard to do the things we ought to do,
'Tis hard to each other, my fellowmen, to be true!

We must face our eyes on the tall mountains
And feed our spirits on God's eternal fountains!

Most everything's complicated that is worth while,
So feel consoled! Give the world a smile!

Be loyal, true and brave, my fellowmen,
There will be a rainbow in your life until the end!

The skies are not always blue,
Brace up, the world's depending on you!

Smile when someone hands you an old shoe,
Be noble! The world cannot do without you!

DAGMAR OLSEN

GRACEFUL, well-rounded curves won for her the unanimous approval of judges and the title "Modern Venus 1929" at the Coney Island (N. Y.) Beauty Show. Hipless, flat breasted slappers who follow reducing fads, omitting sweets and other essential foods from their diet, were ruled out by the judges.

KEATHLEY IMPROVES

Ernest Keathley writes that he is getting along fine in the W. O. W. hospital at San Antonio. He has not been fully examined, so does not yet have any idea how long he will have to be there. He said his son, J. G., wrote him that he was operated on September 17 in the Southern Pacific hospital in San Francisco for appendicitis and would see be out again. Mrs. Keathley writes that her father seems perfectly happy to have her with him at Abilene.

How to Raise Poultry
By Dr. L. D. LeGour, V.S., St. Louis, Mo.
Dr. LeGour is a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, 1922. Thirty-six years of veterinary practice on diseases of live stock and poultry. Eminent authority on poultry and stock raising. Nationally known poultry breeder. Noted author and lecturer.

TO BUY OR NOT TO BUY—NOT "HOW EXPENSIVE?" BUT "HOW EFFICIENT?"

Poultry Raisers' Equipment Need Not Be Costly to Get Results; Homemade Devices Serve Admirably.
A man fed from solid gold table service will be no better nourished than if his food were taken from dishes of the heaviest and cheapest earthenware, neither will he rest any better in a bed made of mahogany than he would in a bed made of pine. By the same token, poultry get along no better if raised with the aid of expensive devices rather than something far cheaper. As a matter of fact, homemade devices serve just as well in many cases as anything one can buy.

Of course, there is ample justification for buying factory-made equipment made of such materials as galvanized iron or earthenware. As a rule, it is more sanitary and also more durable. It is often essential, however, to keep the investment for equipment as low as possible. If so, the right kind of home-made equipment will serve just as well as the most expensive factory-made article. Moreover, with but little more effort, if any, it can be kept clean and sanitary. As an example, I have some nests made from ordinary soap boxes that have given satisfactory service more than ten years continuously.

Troughs, which are undoubtedly the most generally used of all feeding appliances, are also easily made by the home workman. A number of excellent factory-made troughs are also available if wanted. The familiar V bottom trough made entirely of wood is, I believe, the most commonly used for feeding the wet mash as well as the easiest to build. It is very good, too, because feed cannot lodge in the corners. Whatever material or style of construction is used, a grating of some sort should protect the food so the fowls can reach it easily, but cannot roost over it or get their feet in it.

All feeding troughs and water vessels should be up off the ground or floor, on platforms or racks, so the chickens cannot scratch litter and dirt into them.

The reel hopper is best for dry mash feed. This can be made by making an open box 12 inches wide, 7 inches high at each side, and any length required up to 12 or 14 feet. Have the ends of this box project up 7 or 8 inches and hang a reel in the center of these end pieces four inches square, which will prevent the chickens from roosting on it and will permit them to get into the box or hopper with their feet and still permit them to eat the mash feed.

On the top of each side have a lip project into the box at least 3/4 of an inch. This will keep the chickens from wasting the feed. It should be upon a platform where the hens can jump up and eat from each side.

In addition to the various kinds of troughs and hoppers which can be of homemade construction, there are several very practical styles of homemade drinking equipment which are more or less satisfactory. Drinking vessels should be made of tin, galvanized iron, glass or crockery. A wooden vessel or trough is not easily cleaned or sterilized; therefore, it should not be used for either water or milk. An ordinary pan, bucket, pail or can can be used for a drinking vessel or excellent sanitary drinking fountains can be bought from any dealer in poultry supplies. If homemade equipment is used, be sure to protect it in some way so the fowls cannot get in the water with their feet or turn it over.

For watering poultry, the best plan is to build a platform 24 inches square and have it up 20 or 24 inches from the floor. Make a round hole in the center of this platform just large enough to let a tapered galvanized pail or bucket half way down in the hole, and the chickens can jump up on all sides of this platform and drink. A platform can be made 2 feet wide and 6 feet long, if desired to accommodate three pairs. Plenty of pure, fresh drinking water should be available at all times, convenient for the hens to find.

OAKLAND RUNS 190,000 MILES AND STILL GOING

More than 190,000 miles in 12 years, represents the service rendered by a 1917 Oakland roadster purchased in 1919 by L. R. Chippell of Comstock Park, near Grand Rapids, Michigan.

While the mileage on the car with itself is remarkable and noteworthy, the most unusual record observed, is that while all of the essential parts of the automobile, such as the axle, engine block, chassis, body and even the fenders are original equipment, there is not a single dent in the fenders.

With such a record, Mr. Chippell can easily claim to be the world's most careful driver until challenged by some worthy opponent.

Chippell is a carpenter with a flair for things mechanical. Recently he revealed a remarkable record with his Oakland when he called at a service station in Grand Rapids and purchased a new part. At that time Mr. Chippell stated that he had purchased the car after it had been driven 7000 miles by the original owner. Since then he has driven it 183,000 miles—a total of 190,000 miles in twelve years time.

During this time, he claims that the car has carried approximately 500 pounds of carpenter's tools on many long trips. It has been to the Pacific Coast more than once and never has been out of service.

In performance the car rides down to four miles per hour in high gear and on a recent trip to California, averaged 22.2 miles per gallon of gasoline. The car painted, polished and perfectly maintained, has acquired through the years a number of accessories that were unknown when it first came from the factory of the Oakland Motor Car Co. Among them are shock absorbers, motometer, rear vision mirror, fender, parking lights, windshield wings and four horns.

"It is the only automobile I have ever owned," stated Chippell, "and so far as I know it is the only one I shall ever own. Some parts have been replaced from time to time, but all of the essentials such as the axles, engine block, chassis, body and even the fenders are original equipment, but four undented fenders in 12 years of driving is probably a record."

"After all there is nothing very unusual about this record," stated Chippell. "It's just a case of taking good care of a good automobile."

Blanket And Quilt Week At Local Laundry

The Colorado Laundry is to hold annual special "Blanket and Quilt Week," beginning September 30, and ending October 5, during which time blankets and quilts are to be laundered at greatly reduced prices.

The laundry has held this special week each year about the first of October, and in the past has been swamped during this week with blankets and quilts being brought out of storage for the winter season.

With the new and modern plant the laundry this year is better prepared to handle this special Blanket and Quilt Week, J. Ralph Lee, manager, says.

Housewives are urged to remember the special starts on September 30 and ends October 5.

IT MEANS COOPERATION

Newspapers report the election of five officials of leading food manufacturing companies in the United States as directors of the new United Stores Corporation. The United Stores Corporation is to include two large tobacco companies which will merge with the tobacco chain store system, the United Cigar Stores Company, into a $200,000,000 organization. The United States Corporation is also to enter the field of food merchandising, expanding into a big chain store food retailing business.

The five new officials of the board of directors represent the Corn Products Refining Company, with assets of more than $120,000,000; the Gold Dust Corporation, with assets of $6,000,000; the National Dairy Products Corporation with assets of $110,000,000; the Ogilvie Flour Mills, with assets of $18,000,000; and the Standard Milling Company, with assets of $42,000,000; and the Flour Mills Company of America, with assets of $11,000,000. It is said that the election of these officials from the different companies may be the first step in the merging of all of the companies into one corporation.

What does all of this merging and combining that is going on almost every day in this country mean to the farmers? Almost all of these corporations directly affect the farmers' interests and are bringing solid organization of capital and business right up to the farmer's doorstep.

Yet hundreds of thousands of farmers go blissfully on in the old individual way of doing business without seeing the handwriting on the wall. There is a great deal of loose talk about farm relief and about what is the matter with agriculture. The fundamental trouble with farming is that each individual farmer is trying to go it alone, so far as marketing is concerned, against the whole organized world, and is pitting his five or ten thousand dollars of capital against the hundreds of millions organized in the corporations with which he does business.—American Agriculturalist.

HIGHWAY DEPT. AND SHERIFFS ASKED TO ENFORCE ROAD LAWS

AUSTIN, Sept. 17.—Tuesday the State Highway department was asked by Assistant Attorney General Rice M. Tilley to call upon the sheriffs and constables of the respective counties to enforce the traffic laws.

He said complaints to the Attorney General's office had become very numerous relative to the manner of operation of large freight trucks over the highways.

"There are now literally thousands of trucks passing over the highways of this State hauling cotton in quantities from 8 to 18 bales, the drivers of which have no regard or respect for the law, public safety or rights of the roads, which is a constant hazard to the welfare and safety of the drivers of vehicles who really bear the burden of constructing the highways," Tilley wrote.

Duncan's Flock Leghorns Makes High Egg Record

Thirty-six White Leghorn hens in T. A. Duncan's poultry demonstration have averaged 17 eggs a day for the first 17 days in September. This is at the rate of 46 per cent production and is 16 per cent better than the standard set for poultry demonstration flocks.

These flocks are supposed to average 9 eggs per hen during September, but Mr. Duncan's flock has averaged already 8 eggs each and they have 13 days left.

Mr. Duncan feeds an egg mash in hoppers and feeds a moist egg mash once a day. He uses corn or grain sorghums for his scratch feed.

C. C. URGES FARMERS NOT BECOME ALARMED ABOUT COTTON PICKERS

There will be plenty of laborers for cotton picking here within ten days, the Chamber of Commerce is advised by C. W. Woodman, director of the Federal Labor Bureau, with headquarters in Fort Worth and a branch office at Brady.

Mr. Woodman advises that cotton pickers are moving from South and East Texas toward this section and will probably be plentiful here about October 1.

Many farmers of Mitchell county had appealed to the Chamber of Commerce and the county agent to help them secure pickers, and both have been working to secure sufficient labor for this work. The Record has been asked to say that sufficient labor to gather all the Mitchell county crop is expected here in a short time, and that farmers should not get alarmed over prospect of a shortage of labor.

Mrs. Donagan visited Mr. Greene 10 years ago. She says she was surprised at the improvement, growth and development that has taken place here in the ten years. The paving, white way, new business buildings, hotels, and hundreds of new homes were especially noticed, she said.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Our good friend, Uncle Dick Arnett, came in Wednesday and paid up for the paper for his daughter, Mrs. Floyd Deal of Lubbock. Mr. Arnett has been a subscriber for this paper ever since it was established. He is one of the old timers of this section, having helped drive the Indians out of West Texas in 1860.

Mrs. T. E. Reed sends the paper to her son, Edward Grizzell, who is entering Tech for an engineering course.

E. Keathley writes from the W. O. W. hospital at San Antonio that he is doing fine and wants the paper sent to him there.

Prof. Thomas Dawes pays up for his paper and speaks kindly of our efforts to print a good paper. We thank him. For 22 years Aunt Rose Whipkey was a member of his Choral Club and he has much interest in the continuation of this paper.

E. P. Roney, who owns 1280 acre ranch south of Champion and a section of well improved farm land southeast of Colorado, is a cash buyer and he pays cash for his paper. We thank Mr. Roney for renewal of his paper. When substantial men like him pay up to get this paper, we feel good.

Jimmie Charlton of Dallas, formerly here with the California Co., sends in two bucks for this paper. Jimmie Charlton is one oil man whom we could associate with. He's a regular fellow and a good scout. He has a fine family and Colorado sure did regret to lose him.

Dr. W. H. Butler is another Dallasite who pays for an opportunity to read this paper. He owns oil lands in the Westbrook field. While there is little oil news now, he still wants this paper and says it is the best in the State.

D. H. Lewis, Colorado; H. K. Williams, Colorado; J. M. Williamson, Woodson, Texas; John Pond, School of Mines, El Paso; R. T. Manuel, Colorado; G. W. Harper, Colorado are new subscribers on the list this week.

FARMERS URGED TO CULL FLOCKS AVOID BOARDING NONLAYER

County Agent Says It Costs Ten Cents Per Month to Keep Cull Hen

Farmers are paying ten to fifteen cents per hen per month for the privilege of keeping cull hens in the flock, says County Agent W. S. Foster. They should be removed and the remainder of the flock should be fed a mash feed in order to get the maximum amount of eggs.

Recently a farmer made the statement that he could not afford to sell his culls because the market price was too low, but it is costing him money to keep them. Feeding culls that average four pounds in weight for a month will take up the profit there is in a "three-cent rise in the price of hens. There is only one thing to do with a cull hen and that is get rid of her.

T. A. Duncan has culled his flock three times this summer and has kept the culls up for several days to see if they would lay and not one has laid an egg.

Cooperative Pool Hopes To Show Farmers Profits Are To Be Made

A cooperative cattle feeding demonstration for Mitchell county is practically assured with the agreement of several ranchmen to furnish calves for the demonstration. The plan as worked out by U. D. Wolfen of the agricultural committee, the county agent, the secretary of the chamber of commerce, and some of the ranchmen of the county, is to pool a carload of spring calves, each man furnishing from five to six calves. Each man's calves will be weighed in and weighed out at the close of the test, and record of gains and costs will be kept.

Feed will be purchased cooperatively and a man will be hired to do all the feeding. At the close of the demonstration the cattle will be exhibited and sold and each man's share of the expense will be prorated. Each man retains ownership of his calves and all money above feeding expenses is paid to him.

The purpose of the demonstration is to show what a farmer or ranchman may expect by feeding out Mitchell county beef calves. There is very little data on the work and ranchmen do not have time to feed out four or five head and do not feel like taking the risk on a large number without more definite information. This demonstration is part of a movement to feed West Texas to West Texas cattle on West Texas land.

U. D. Wolfen, Byron Byrne, and S. O. Wolfen stated that they thought this was a good plan and that they would put some calves in the test.

Anyone interested in placing calves in the demonstration should see the county agent or the secretary of the chamber of commerce.

With the demonstration to be carried on by vocational agriculture students and 4-H Club boys it is expected that at least two cars of calves will be fed out this winter.

JUNIOR BAND PLAYS FOR LIONS CLUB AT FRIDAY LUNCHEON

Young Musicians Draw Loud Praise; Club Declines S. M. U. Offer

The Junior Band has made a hit. In a 15-minute program at the Lions club Friday this band, composed of school children from the age of eight years up, under direction of Roy Hester, rendered a concert that drew compliments and much favorable comment from the club members.

President Bill Randle was able to preside last Friday even if he could not eat chicken, because of a recent loss of his tonsils.

Dr. R. D. Bridgeford of St. Louis was a guest of Stuart Browning; P. B. Whipkey and Wilbur Lewis were guests of Dick Gray, and J. A. Wallace of Seven Devils community was a guest of U. D. Wulfjen. Each was called upon for a short talk.

The club failed to accept a proposition of the Mustang Band of S. M. U. to come to Colorado for a concert on a guarantee of $150.00. Club members expressed themselves as favoring plans to back the Colorado band and not take up the S. M. U. offer.

Rev. Elliott Attends Meet Of Presbytery

Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor of the Presbyterian church, left Tuesday morning for Clovis, New Mexico, where the fall meeting of the El Paso Presbytery began Tuesday evening, to last until Friday.

The Rev. Mr. Elliott spoke on the Tuesday evening program of the Presbytery on the subject: "Personal Evangelism." The Colorado pastor is a member of several prominent committees in the Presbytery.

COUNTY'S YOUNGEST 4-H CLUB BOY

AND THIS IS JOE!

Joe Leonard Blackard, son of Mrs. R. L. Blackard, is the smallest and youngest 4-H Club member in Mitchell county, Texas. He is only ten years old, and weighs but 60 pounds, but he made his club pig weigh 330 pounds at six months of age, and won a trip to the State Fair of Texas at Dallas over boys much older and larger than he is.

Joe Leonard's record is especially interesting since he used only five pounds of bought feed, and this was cottonseed meal, which is often considered a home-grown feed. The remainder of the pig's feed consisted of ground maize, with the chaffy portion floated out, and the skim milk and 985 pounds of ground maize. Total cost of the pig, feed and labor amounted to $21. It was sold for $30, which left a net profit of $9.

METHODIST HELD FOURTH QUARTERLY CONFERENCE SUNDAY

Good Reports For The Year Turned In By Local Church

After preaching a splendid sermon at the 11 o'clock hour, Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, presiding elder of the Sweetwater district of the Methodist church, held the last quarterly conference of the conference year at 2 o'clock that afternoon.

There was a good attendance of the official members. The elder read the names of those who had been present at every meeting, and commended them for their faithfulness.

Rev. W. C. Hinds' report showed that 102 members had been received into the church here during the year; number of professions of faith, 52 dismissed, 46; a net gain of 56.

Every department of the church was reported at work and the church expects to bring up every financial obligation.

A. A. Dorn, Sunday school superintendent, reported an average attendance of 320, with good council meetings and a special being maintained. The lay leader, Mrs. J. G. Merritt, reported services held in Westbrook, in her home church, and in private homes. She told of the work of the Mission Sunday school and the Junior church.

The stewards were not ready to make a final report, but expect to have all finances in full in time for the annual conference which meets November 1 in Panama.

The following were names as trustees of the church property: D. N. Arnett, J. A. Buchanan, J. L. Doss, I. W. Dorn, R. N. Gerr, A. J. Herrington, T. W. Stoner, E. H. Winn, U. D. Wulfjen, J. F. Clayton (who was a charter member of the church and who has been a trustee from the beginning), was made an honorary member of the official board, Mrs. E. A. Barcroft, J. A. Buchanan, S. W. Browning, A. C. Connell, Roy Dozier, L. B. Elliott, H. E. Grantland, A. J. Herrington, Tom Hughes, H. L. Hutchinson, J. Ralph Lee, J. C. Pritchett, Mrs. J. E. McCreary, B. M. Moore, J. W. Randle, T. W. Stoner, C. C. Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Shepperd, U. D. Wulfjen, and E. B. Smith were elected stewards for the incoming year.

George H. Mahon, charge lay leader; A. A. Dorn, Sunday school superintendent; Mrs. W. H. Garrett and E. B. Smith, assistant superintendents; J. W. Randle was made chairman of the stewardship committee; Mrs. J. W. Shepperd recording steward. J. Ralph Lee, president of the board of stewards, called a meeting for next Sunday afternoon.

Rev. Lipscomb, after asking those present of help him in every way possible to bring the district up in spite of adverse conditions, dismissed the meeting.

Valley View School Opens October 7th

Benton L. Templeton, principal of the Valley View school, announces this school will open October 7 for an eight-months' term, the longest term in history of the school. "This is made possible by the increase in State apportionment and the State aid we receive," Templeton said. "With this eight month term and our present prospects, we expect the coming term to be the best in the history of the school."

The Valley View school will teach only nine grades this year, having dropped the tenth grade which was taught last year. This was done to comply with the State aid law. The schools of this class to receive State aid can not teach more than nine grades.

In addition to the regular grades, Mr. Templeton will teach a class in vocational agriculture, giving instruction in feeding, crop rotation, terracing, budding, grafting nursery stock, and various other things, including club work.

A boy from this school, Garvin Craghead, last year was the State champion hog feeder, having made a State record in feeding a pig in his club work.

Mr. Templeton also announces the school is going to be a strong contender in the interscholastic meet, with a good team in tennis, basketball, debating, declaiming, etc. Last year the school was a heavy winner in these contests.

Teachers other than Mr. Templeton are Mrs. Templeton and Miss Opal Palmer. Templeton was principal there last year.

Major Green Seeks Change Pension Law

Major W. M. Green, head of the Texas Ex-Rangers' Association, has been working for several years to make it possible for frontiersmen and those who defended the South to become eligible for a Federal pension.

He received a letter from Congressman C. E. Hudspeth this week relative to the case of D. N. Arnett of Colorado. Major Green has been working in Mr. Arnett's behalf. He defended the people against Indians on the Texas frontier during the Civil war.

The present pension laws provide that frontiersmen of 1859 and earlier are entitled to a pension of $72 per month. Those of 1866 are also entitled to the pension, but during the civil war, or from 1859 to 1866 are not included, and Mr. Hudspeth says he is seeking to amend the pension law to include those frontiersmen between 1859 and 1866, who are now left out. If the amendment offered by Mr. Hudspeth is adopted Mr. Arnett and various other pioneers of West Texas will be entitled to a pension of $72.00 per month, Major Green says.

VALUATIONS SHOW SLIGHT INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

$170,530 Gain Despite Drop In Oil Properties; Poll Taxes Gain 56

Valuation of Mitchell county property for State and county tax purposes totals $9,521,350 this year, compared to $9,350,820 for 1928, according to Roy E. Warren, tax assessor, who has just completed the 1929 tax rolls. This shows an increase of $170,530.

Warren says there was a decrease of $150,000 in valuations of oil properties in the county, while one new pipe line, increase on railroad property and high lines, and the many new homes and a few new business houses in Colorado make up the increase.

During 1928 assessment of poll taxes were 3,587, while this year shows an assessment of 3,643 polls, showing an increase of 156 in poll assessments.

COLORADO GIRL AND MIDLAND MAN MARRIED HERE SATURDAY NOON

Miss Clippie Bennett Becomes Bride of Mr. Joe Bowlin

A beautiful wedding occurred Saturday at high noon when Miss Clippie Bennett and Mr. Joe Bowlin were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bennett, 941 Hickory street, by Rev. W. M. Elliott, a personal friend of the contracting parties.

The house was decorated in ferns in one corner of the living room a pretty altar had been improvised of ferns and torchiere lamps. The minister stood in front of this and while Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by Mrs. Dewey Tidwell, the groom and his best man, Walter Earnhart, entered from the back parlor. The bride and matron of honor, Mrs. R. W. McEntire, Jr., came down the hall, the bride and groom meeting at the altar. In an impressive manner the Rev. Mr. Elliott spoke the words that made them husband and wife, using the double ring ceremony.

Only the relatives and close girl friends of the bride were present. Immediately after congratulations and good wishes were offered, the beautiful two-tiered white and gold wedding cake, which was presided over by Miss Hazel Costin, was cut. This rested on a cut work linen cloth in the center of the dining table, the cloth being strewn with white asters.

Punch was served by Miss Farrell Plaster, a cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowlin left immediately after the wedding for their home in Midland. The bride was gowned in navy crepe with tiered circular skirt and eggshell blouse, with hat, shoes and gloves all in blue. Mrs. McEntire wore orange georgette with brown velvet jacket, hat and shoes of brown. Miss Costin wore navy georgette with trimmings of cream lace with matching accessories. Mrs. Tidwell's dress was blue transparent velvet.

The gentlemen wore dark business suits.

The many beautiful gifts of silver, glass and linen testified to the popularity of Miss Bennett, who has been reared here and is loved and admired by all who know her. Mr. Bowlin is with the California Co., and made many friends in his short stay in Colorado.

The good wishes of a host of friends go with these young people into their new life.

C. C. Dorn And Miss McCullough Married Monday

C. C. Dorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Dorn, prominent residents of the Union community, and Miss Erlene McCullough, daughter of Mrs. J. D. McCullough, near Westbrook, were married in Colorado Monday evening at the home of F. O. Garner, pastor of the Colorado circuit, Methodist church.

This young couple, representing two splendid families, has the best wishes of numerous friends and acquaintances.

They will make their home on a farm.

TEAS WELL DRILLING AT DEPTH OF 4,225 FT.

The Teas & Gant well, section 7, block 26, seven miles northwest of Colorado, is drilling steadily at depth of 4,225 feet. Teas said Tuesday the well would go to a depth of 5,000 feet unless oil pay was found at a lesser depth. This well is on the J. M. Radford land. It encountered a slight show of oil several months ago, and because of the efforts to encounter the Cisco series sand the well has been watched closely by oil firms.

RUBBER TUBES TO GAS STOVES ARE DANGEROUS

A warning to people who expect to have their gas stoves connected was issued today by Fire Chief Ed Majors, asking the citizens of Colorado to refrain from having rubber connections of any kind put on their gas stoves. They are a dangerous proposition and endanger both life and property, he pointed out.

The rubber tubing gets holes or is accidentally pulled off the connection and then either a fire or dead people are the result. The cost of metal tubing is a little more than the rubber tubing, but it is safe, whereas the rubber tubing is a constant fire hazard.

INVENTION BEING MADE ter worked on this invention some time, but has not made his plans public. The device is said to be one of the most convenient radiator drains ever devised.

MAP OF COLORADO IN 1883 IS DESCRIBED IN OLD NEWSPAPER

A map of Colorado as the town appeared in 1883 is described in The Colorado Times for January 11, 1895, as follows:

"Through the kindness of Mr. Walter Rogers, The Times was permitted on last Saturday to glance at a copy of a map of this city showing the town as it appeared in 1883. It is a bird's-eye view, and gives all the buildings, streets, river, creek and bridges, and shows a stretch of the country as it appeared north of the city.

"The town has, of course, undergone many changes, which would at once be noticeable to an old resident. The court house, for instance, appears in the middle of the street, and the old Randerbrook Hotel looks lonesomely located on an almost vacant lot. This map is the only copy left, and Mr. Rogers is thinking of getting a true copy of it, as it is badly worn. It is interesting to have him explain the points of change and note the alterations that a few years have made."

Local notes appearing in The Times for that date were:

"Miss Evie DeMoss of upper Lone Wolf is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. R. Warren this week. "Jim Jackson, well-known in cattle circles, spent a few days here this week.

"Mr. R. H. Griffin, who left here a couple of months ago for Alvin, has written back for The Times.

"At the examination of the eighth grade in the North Colorado public school, which preceded the Christmas holidays, the following students made an average of 90 per cent in the grade work: Douglas Burns, Miss Della Myers, Clifford Cobb, Miss Nettie White, James Clark, Frank Grant, Bert Wulfjen, Joe Wulfjen.

"Misses Lillian Fox and Frankie Riordan visited Abilene friends and attended the New Year ball.

"Col. E. Sheehan, an honored citizen zen of the "Tenth Legion" (so called on account of the Dunn community's loyalty to the Democratic primaries), spent Saturday and part of Sunday in our city.

"J. D. Mitchell, manager of the Square and Compass ranch, circulated here this week.

"Prince Hazzard returned Sunday evening from a business trip to Ft. Worth and Dallas.

"Mr. Sam Malin came in Sunday morning from El Paso and is spending a few days among his many friends.

"Agent William Derling of Big Spring graced our streets with his presence last Thursday.

"On last Friday night a dance was given at Latah at Dr. Davis' residence under the supervision of Mr. McKutchin and family. The following Colorado people participated: Gentlemen: W. N. Waddell, H. H. Hutchison, Fred Dearborn, Tom Powers, G. Wash Bond, and Will Dearing. Ladies: Misses Emma and Bettie Dale, Misses Mattie and Gertrude Cooksey, and Mrs. Dunn. A report comes to The Times that the dance opened as soon as the west bound train arrived and continued all night until the east bound passenger whistle called the visitors to return."

ROSCOE NEWS

(From Roscoe Times)

Roscoe Wins Over Loraine, 24 to 6 ROSCOE, Sept. 14.—The Roscoe Plowboys opened their 1929 Conference campaign here Friday by trouncing Loraine, 24 to 6, in a game featured by the dashing play of the Roscoe backfield.

Mike Hicks, fullback, made three touchdowns on gains of 30 and 40 yards, and Bert Frost made several spectacular runs. Robert Golden contributed the fourth touchdown on a line plunge from the 3-yard mark. Lovaine scored just as the final gun was fired, ending the game. The team showed much improvement over last year and played a scrapping game against the more experienced Roscoe eleven.

Next Friday Roscoe will play Ballinger at Ballinger. The two teams played a 12-12 tie last season in the first meeting of the two clubs.

Work will be started today toward moving the old Presbyterian church to its new site two blocks south of the First Methodist church building. The foundation on which it will rest has already been laid and everything is in readiness. Extensive repair work will be done on the building in the next few weeks. A manse also will be erected on the grounds.

Rev. M. H. Applewhite is pastor of the church.

Funeral of W. N. Hicks —Funeral services for W. N. Hicks 68, of Iowa Park, Texas, were held Sunday afternoon at Roscoe at four o'clock. Mr. Hicks died suddenly on Friday afternoon about 1 o'clock at his home in Iowa Park. He is an old resident of Roscoe.

Four sons —Lighters are surviving members of the family. One of the men, A. G. Hicks, lives here. Others are Willie Hicks, Ernest Hicks, Olen Hicks, Mrs. Will Spruiell, and Mrs. F. F. Burrough.

The Senior class of Roscoe High school completed its organization Tuesday morning, September 10. The officers are: Rex Pendleton, president; Larry Robbins, vice president; Fern Kelly, secretary and treasurer, and Denman Long, reporter.

The class of forty members is the largest senior class in the history of the school and promises to be one of the most active.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Sullivan of Spur and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bledsoe of Haskell, have taken charge of the Plaza Hotel and will operate it in the future. The change was made the first of this week.

Lions Offer Two Cows As everyone knows, the Lions Club in cooperation with Roscoe merchants, have advertised a registered Jersey cow to be sold in Roscoe on Thursday, September 19, for $1. The club decided Thursday noon to give two tested high production grade cows instead of one registered cow.

Gin Report

The five gins in Roscoe had ginned Thursday at 11 o'clock a total of 91 bales of cotton. Cotton was bringing 18 cents per pound and seed $35 per ton.

Mrs. Coon of Burkburnett, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Roy Prim, here for some time, took suddenly ill a few days ago and died Tuesday about noon.

The Roscoe Plowboys began their football campaign last Monday when about 20 boys reported for their first work out.

Crop conditions around Roscoe this year are bad. Both feed and cotton crops are going to be short. It is our opinion that between five and six thousand bales of cotton will be ginned here this fall, which is only about a half crop. With a good season and no insect pests to bother the Roscoe territory should turn out between 12 and 15 thousand bales of cotton. The shortage of feed, however, is the worst feature this year. When a farmer has a short feed crop and a short cotton crop, too, it makes it hard on him. To have to buy feed with a short cotton crop makes it doubly hard.

"Should a real good rain come within the next few days, however, things will not be so bad as it would make some more feed and possibly, some more cotton. A real good rain would also give the farmers an opportunity to sow some small grain for winter pasture which would cut his feed bill a great deal. Conditions here are not going to be as good as we have seen them, and they are not going to be as bad as we have seen them.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

McCRELESS BOOSTS MITCHELL COUNTY

To The Colorado Record:

Here I come again. This time rather in the form of a report. Last week I traveled in parts of seven different counties, namely: Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Nolan, Fisher, Taylor, Callahan, and while it is not my sole purpose to boost Mitchell county, I am disposed to give Mitchell county its proper place on the map, and suffice me to say that in my travels I saw nothing in the way of crop conditions to excel that we have in Mitchell, considering everything from a general standpoint. Small portions of Martin county has some fine crop prospects, but not as solid as Mitchell. As a hole crop conditions east are from bad to worse. From signs and general talk, I think there will be considerable small grain crops put in, which is as it should be, according to my views. For the least that may be said, the feed crop is bound to be short and in my opinion it will be well for the Mitchell county farmers to patronize the Colorado feed crusher in order to utilize every available particle of their feed.

Rules for 1930 Improved Living Room Contest Have Been Announced

Farm women of Mitchell county will no doubt be as greatly interested this year as in past years in the Improved Living Room contest conducted for them and other women living in counties having home demonstration agents.

Rules for the contest are explained in the following manner in the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News:

In this contest it is agreed by The Semi-Weekly Farm News and the home demonstration department of the cooperative extension service of the Texas A. & M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture, that:

This improved living room contest shall be under the direction of the cooperative extension service of the Texas A. & M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Aims of the Contest

1. To encourage interest in better living rooms by making them more comfortable and attractive.

2. To demonstrate the best use of what is on hand.

Contest Plans

1. The improved living room contest will be under the direction of the extension service of the A. & M. College of Texas and the United States Department of Agriculture cooperating.

2. The Semi-Weekly Farm News will offer prizes for the contest.

3. This contest is to be conducted by the extension service of the Texas A. & M. College, the home demonstration agent having direct charge in her county, including the selection of the county committee of judges.

The Semi-Weekly Farm News not taking part in the appointment of such committee or the rendering of such decisions as are to be made in regard to the winners of the contest.

4. The contest will begin immediately after the farmers' short course at A. & M. College. Registration cards must be sent in to the chairman of the State committee on or before December 1, 1929.

5. Any farm woman (in a county having a home demonstration agent) may enter the contest by registering her name with the county home demonstration agent and working under her supervision.

6. The contestant may enter one of two classes, namely:

Class I.—The living room making the greatest improvement in proportion to the expenditure (cost not to exceed $50).

Class II.—The living room making the greatest improvement in proportion to the expenditure (cost exceeding $50).

(a) In both Class I and Class II, the scoring shall be done on the basis of greatest accomplishment in proportion to the cash expenditure.

(b) A woman must register in Class I or Class II at the beginning of the contest. As her plan develops, if she finds that the expenditure will be greater or less than that prescribed in the class in which she has registered, she may be transferred to another class, provided she makes application to her county home demonstration agent.

7. Cards will be furnished the county home demonstration agent on which she will register the contestant, giving her full name and address and indicating the class which she desires to enter. A registration card will be filed in the office of the home demonstration agent and one will be sent to the chairman of the State committee at the college not later than Dec. 1, 1929.

8. A county committee consisting of two members shall be appointed by the county home demonstration agent. It shall be the duty of this committee to assist the county home demonstration agent in conducting this contest. This committee shall grade the living rooms at the beginning of the contest, according to a score card which is sent out by the college.

9. At the end of the contest, the original committee shall make a final score of the living rooms. The final judging in the county must be done between April 15, 1930, and May 1, 1930.

10. Each district home demonstration agent will visit the two winning living rooms in each county of a prescribed district and select the winner in Class I and Class II, for the district. The district judging will begin immediately after May 1, 1930, and will be completed as rapidly as possible by the district agent.

11. After the winning living rooms in each district have been decided upon, the State honors will be awarded by the State committee, which shall be appointed by the extension service.

12. Announcement of the State prize winners will be made, if possible, during the 1930 farmers' short course at A. & M.

13. The names of the county winners must be made public before the arrival of the district agent for the purpose of judging.

14. In no way must the district agent or members of the State committee be asked to assist with county judging.

15. The district agent or the State committee will notify the county home demonstration agent as to the time of arrival in the respective counties for judging, and the time asked for must be reserved for this purpose alone.

16. No expense need be recorded for voluntary labor performed or the use of materials on hand, although itemized lists shall be made of each.

17. Gifts shall be valued and considered as that amount expended.

18. If a new living room is built during the contest period, whether it is a new house or in a remodeled house, its score should be compared with that of the room actually used as a family living room at the beginning of the county contest. Due to the difficulty of estimating what part of the cost of building was spent on the living room, the contestant may be allowed the following without considering the cost:

(c) Unfinished wall.

(d) Any furnishings used previously.

Anything additional must be counted at exact cost.

19. The following information regarding each living room shall be filed in the office of the home demonstration agent. Copies of these records and pictures shall be given to the district agent upon her arrival for district judging:

(a) Story of the activity.

(b) Simple floor plan before improvement.

(c) Simple floor plans after improvement.

(d) Kodak pictures before improvement.

(e) Kodak pictures after improvement.

(f) List of improvements made.

(g) Use of materials on hand.

(h) Gifts and value of each.

(i) Voluntary labor performed.

(j) Cash expenditures.

It is suggested that the judging committee and the contestant assist as far as possible in collecting this data.

20. The county home demonstration agent will offer suggestions for improvement.

21. The Semi-Weekly Farm News through its columns will give information regarding the contest and reports of the accomplishments of the contestants.

FREE SESSION UP TO GOVERNOR MOODY, SAID

AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—It is up to Governor Moody whether there is a special session called for the purpose of correcting the Confederate pension law, changed by the third called session of the legislature to deprive 3,000 widows of veterans their quarterly pension.

Senator W. A. Williamson of San Antonio, who sent inquiries to members of the legislature to determine if they would come to Austin at their own expense and serve without pay while the statute was being restored to its former status, announced today that he was sending to the governor pledges from 77 members of the house and 26 senators, that they would attend the session without cost to the State.

SONORA LIONS CLUB WEAR PAJAMAS TO WEEKLY LUNCHEON

Sonora has gone pajama! It was not night, not time to retire; but at noon Monday there were 21 Sonoras clad in brilliant-hooded pajamas, marching up main street. They were members of the Sonora Lions Club, advancing the latest in styles to a town 70 miles from the nearest railroad; setting a style pace that hardly is out of the east and not yet seen in the larger cities of the State.

The parading Lions, all pajama-clad, were led by W. E. Caldwell, president of the club and a former mayor. The president's black and white pajamas of "crazy quilt" design shone brilliantly as he marched holding Old Glory, it the head of the procession.

They marched to the music of a portable phonograph, carried by Jno. Eaton, who was attired in a pair of

HAIL GETS GARZA CROPS

Many Garza county farms were swept clean of all row crops and cotton crops late Saturday afternoon when the heavy cloud which gathered in the west, hovered over the Pleasant Valley community for several hours, pouring forth from 1 0 to 12 inches of rain, accompanied by heavy hail and a strong wind gale.

The strip of cotton that was covered by a heavy rainfall and hail stretched eight miles wide and across the entire county, wiping out all the crops from three miles north of Post to 12 miles north, widening as it went west and extending as far as the Hackberry community in the extreme west part of the county.—Post-Dispatch.

PONTIAC BIG SIX
PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS
at $745

FASTER Today's Pontiac Big Six offers the highest top speed and the fastest acceleration to be found in any low-priced six. Proved by the "fifth wheel"—the most accurate speed measuring device known to automotive engineers.

SMOOTHER Because of the Harmonic Balancer which eliminates torsional crankshaft vibration—full pressure oiling which assures correct engine lubrication at any speed—crankcase ventilation which maintains the quality of engine oil—and many additional features.

MORE POWERFUL Sixty brake horsepower at 3,000 revolutions per minute. The greatest power offered by any car as low in price as Pontiac... developed at the moderate engine speed which assures dependability.

SAFER Because it carries two completely independent braking systems—internal-expanding four-wheel service brakes with non-squeak linings and a separate emergency brake acting on the transmission—because its bodies are of sturdy hardwood and steel construction—because it has full tread axles, front and rear.

MORE RELIABLE Because of its basic design, which includes moderate engine speed for any given road speed. Because of its greater smoothness which results in less wear and tear on mechanical parts. Because of the generous dimensions characteristic of all parts subject to stresses.

LONGER-LIVED Every Pontiac since the first has been famous for endurance and long life. And these features of design which gave early Pontiacs their unprecedented long life have been retained and emphasized in this greatest of all Pontiacs—today's Pontiac Big Six.

COLORADO RECORD

Colorado—Where The West Is "At"
Our Motto: "Keep Hoisting"
Official Paper of Colorado and Mitchell County
Published in Colorado, Texas, 123 Walnut Street...

A REAL INVITATION

True western hospitality is Big Spring's idea of opening an airport and inviting the public to attend. And that city certainly showed a generous portion of its old-time brand of hospitality when their new airport was formally opened Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

ed place for the traveling public for years and now with the 10 miles of concrete road, they will have no worry as far as the "Iatan Flat" is concerned.

It is learned the estimate of the attendance at this important event was in no way exaggerated, and the event was an important one for all travelers from Washington, D. C., to California, as Iatan Flats was the worst spot on the entire highway...

PROTECTING THE CAPITOL

The Travis county courthouse and jail rest on ground leased from the State over 50 years ago, for a period of 99 years. Travis county commissioners plan a new courthouse of six stories to cost several hundred thousand dollars...

Governor Moody has instructed the attorney general to see if something can't be done to prevent Travis county from constructing such a building on the site proposed, on the ground that it would detract from the appearance of the State Capitol—being, in a sense, right in the front entrance of the magnificent structure...

Don't worry! Travis county is only trying to bluff the State into paying the $40,000 for the old worthless buildings now on the ground leased from the State. Officials of that county have no more intention of actually building a new six-story court house on the State-owned land than we have of jumping into the Colorado river...

The parade depicting the evolution of traffic was indeed wonderful. It began with the Indian, coming on down with the pack animal, ox cart, buckboard, livery surrey, covered wagon, auto and airplane. This parade, arranged by the Chamber of Commerce, under direction of C. T. Watson and E. H. Farenkamp, general chairman, was witnessed by 25,000 people.

To say we commend Big Spring for this hospitality is putting it lightly. We heartily agree with them that when invitations are sent out inviting the public to attend a celebration admission charges should not be considered, but their furnishing $15 worth of eats, hotel accommodations and free oil is even more than any visitors expected, but the visitors appreciated it and will always remember Big Spring for it.

GOOD BUSINESS JUDGMENT

Fred B. Robinson, former editor of the Waco Times-Herald under the title, "With the Texas Press," has the following to say about the paving of Iatan Flats and Mitchell county:

The Baird Star, edited by Miss Eliza Gilliland, has the following regarding an important road event in the Star's section of the State:

The official burial of Iatan Flat in Mitchell county Monday was attended by 4000 people from points along the West Texas section of the Broadway of America. More than 2000 cars were parked along the highway at this point. This 10 miles of road has been a dread-the writer believes that would be the only fair thing for the State. Don't worry about Travis county building a six-story building in the front door of the Capitol. They won't do it, and it wouldn't be there anyway if they were to build on the site spoken of.

DEATH—AN OPEN DOOR

Col. Dick McCarty, editor of the Albany News, who has passed his 72d birthday and, of course, is nearing the dividing line between the activities of the present and the future world, writes on the above subject in the last issue of The News as follows:

"To us, death is only an open door to a greater life. Why call it the dreaded monster? It's true, the gods do not punch your ticket for a return trip—Gone on a long journey, and in the passing, the veil of mystery shrouds the whole. Communication lines are down. Bye me bye—will we meet again? That has been the query of all ages. Why should we dread that last ordeal? Here of late we have pondered over what life will be on the other side—have given more study to it than any other subject. Great minds differ on the subject of immortality. Some of the deepest thinkers in the world today think that the grave ends all. But, folks, that's a dark picture to us. We just can't believe it, can't conceive of it. Of course, these bodies of ours are just lumps of clay, quickened by life, that something that converted inanimate matter into muscle, bone, brain and blood, a walking, breathing, acting machine, and greatest of all, it thinks. And think of it, the mastery of it has been the concern of the ages. Look at the colleges, libraries, and laboratories, dissecting rooms, and the profoundest and deepest scientific minds have ever been baffled with this mystic structure, and as yet, they know very little about it. Then mystery of mysteries, this essence we call mind or soul, synonymous terms we think—what about it? When this mystic temple caves in, tumbles down, and again mingles with the dust will this light go out? The motive power that propelled and animated the physical house, gave cunning to fingers, and O God how they have carved, painted and builded this vast civilization. Have dugged down and uncovered, and solved the problems of this materialistic world, harnessed matter, gave wings to iron and tongues to steel, tanned the ocean waves, captured the electric spark and unloosed the kick in crude oil, and my, look at that vast complex machinery, carrying our load, doing our bidding, pulling the wheels of commerce. This wonderful mechanical age, it overwhelms us, it is so great and grand. The thoughts of men wrought in steel and iron and stone and wood. Intricate machinery, whizzing wheels down here on terra firma and up in stellar space. Bat, O God, speed maniacs—talking across continents and sailing among the stars. Then look at those vast libraries, mummied thought embalmed, poetry, fiction, science, philosophy, drama and oratory, all the creation of this mystic essence we call mind. We believe that this gray matter imprisoned in the pilot house of reason, is just a hello station, a ledger book of record like unto a phofo record, and that just a few men all along down the ages, with their ears attuned, have been able to hear the swish of the wings of fluid thought and they have wrote for all the ages. The rest of us are just copycats, memorizing the copy books—afraid to speak out in the meeting—void of diligence, industry, stickability, independence of thought, patience, and individuality to sit in the beautiful Temple of Reason and court the gods' and take down their dictations. Oh, yes, to us death is only an open door to a greater life. But my, won't it be a wonderful revelation when the boat is launched and the mystic veil is rent asunder and these earthly spectacles are laid aside. Then we will see and know. Go away agnostic and sit dipping your brush in the black ink of despair and blotting out this beautiful picture of HOPE—No, the grave for us is a flowery pit, a stepping stone to a beautiful habitation. Like unto the grain of corn, down in its dark tomb, the old garb is laid aside; and life, that something that is eternal, buds, blossoms and fruits out into a greater life, the tomb being the passage way, the open door."

The Stalonite which has been published twice a week for 2 year, has gone back to a weekly, the paper announces in the last issue. A good weekly is much better than a sorry semi-weekly or worthless daily, as the experience of the Stalonite would indicate. Not that the Stalonite was sorry, but because the Tuesday edition of the paper could not secure enough patronage to pay expenses. In making the announcement relative to the change back to a weekly, the Stalonite says:

"The management of The Stalonite is fully convinced that it can better serve the field as a weekly newspaper, and that efforts concentrated on publishing a good community newspaper once a week will meet with more approval than continuing the present twice-a-week arrangement.

"During the past year a number of semi-weeklies have been changed to the publication of a weekly newspaper. This in most instances has been caused by the overwhelming preference of the advertisers for the week-end edition. Such is the case in Slaton. The management feels that until such time as the growth of Slaton warrants a daily publication, the preference of local business concerns for the week-end newspaper has made publication of a Tuesday edition not only unprofitable but impossible."

The Alpine Avalanche, in line with its policy of improvement and progressiveness, last week changed from a six to a seven-column paper, taking on the appearance of a real up-to-date newspaper. Most of the weekly papers have followed the lead of city dailies and changed to seven or eight columns. The Avalanche is a better looking paper with the seven 12-cm columns. This paper is owned by D. M. Bennett and T. R. Moody. Moody is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey of Colorado. He is an artist at the printing trade and a splendid newspaper man, and The Record and his many other friends here are glad to know he has succeeded with the Alpine paper.

"BOMB" IN RANGER OFFICE
By United Press.
RANGER, Sept. 2.—A time bomb that might have blown the post-office here to bits was almost discovered by postoffice employees.

It all came about when a quiet licking sound was traced to a parcel post package. "Do you reckon it's a bomb?" queried the clerk.

The postmaster was summoned. He meticulously opened the package to find that the "time bomb" was not a time bomb at all.

Instead there was a quantity of Mexican jumping beans. The tricky little fellows had been bumping up against the tin lid of their container, Drive a Chevrolet Six!

—so Delightful to Drive! —so Economical to Own!

The Chevrolet Six delivers its power with that smooth, even, velvety flow which characterizes the truly fine automobile! At every speed, you travel without the slightest annoyance from vibration or rumble. Equally delightful are the comfort and handling ease. Four long semi-elliptic shock absorber springs, set parallel to the frame, provide the road balance found in the finest cars. The steering gear is equipped throughout with friction-free ball bearings. And the big non-locking 4-wheel brakes are quiet, positive and unusually easy to apply. Only a demonstration can reveal how delightful it is to drive this amazing car!

Many people still do not appreciate how little it costs to own a Chevrolet Six. The Chevrolet Coach, for instance, with its beautiful Body by Fisher, is priced at $595, f. o. b. factory, Flint, Michigan—with only the most reasonable charges for handling and financing. You can actually secure a Chevrolet Six for practically the same down payment and low monthly charges you would expect to pay for any low-priced car. In addition, the Chevrolet Six delivers better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline, with unusually low oil consumption! And Authorized Chevrolet Service is available everywhere on a low flat-rate basis, with extremely low-priced replacement parts. Come in to-day for a demonstration.

UNCLE FRED WRITES LAST LETTER BEFORE STARTING FOR HOME

(Note: The following letter was received from the "big boss," F. B. Whipkey while he was in California on a three-months' vacation, and notwithstanding the fact that he has returned home, checked up the cash book, and gone back to work, we are printing the letter because quite a number of his friends say they liked his communications. So here y' are):

RAMBLIN' ON

Our last letter left us at Long Beach, Calif., and I shall be brief enough in this letter as to bring us home, so I promise the suffering public this shall be my last.
After playing on the beach, riding the diving boats and ocean waves, we motored down the Ocean drive-way to San Diego. Here we crossed the bay to Coronado, passed the first lighthouse ever erected in the Pacific coast, spent sometimes in the great Balboa Park. Turning the nose of the car eastward, we drove to Yuma, passing out of California via the great Imperial Valley by the Salton Sea on our way to Phoenix, Ariz. Here we visited the capitol, turning north to the great Roosevelt Dam, 77 miles up in the mountains, back to Globe, on to Las Cruces and El Paso, thence to Big Spring, turning south to San Antonio, back to Austin, Waco, Fort Worth, Abilene and on home, making our tour through ten states and visiting seven capitols. We left home on the 27th of May, and returned on September 7, making 104 days, with the speedometer registering a little over nine thousand miles.

California sings eternally of her flowers. In the Yosemite Valley was the loveliest subalpine flower garden we had yet seen. Here we climbed through bright-colored luxuriantly-growing tangles of flowers, knee to waist deep, growing together are thick blankets of columbine, anemones, daisies, larkspurs, erythroniums. Below the timber line grow dense forests of fir, cedar, pine, spruce, hemlock, maple, alder, and the quaking aspen. In the lakes and pools at various levels fish flashed in their pellucid cells, swans reflected in their whiteness like snowdrifts; everywhere was a carpet of blossoms, beds of petunias in purple velvet, exhaling clouds of scent that drugged the air all overbearingly beautiful. Over the great Teton Pass (9000 feet) the sunlit valley rolled away to the distant sea and above us the sky leaped from the mountains to such roofless heights that the farthest stars seemed near.

Our drive toward Los Angeles after an hour of swift riding through the ranches that filled the city limits, the citrus forests gave way to a golf club, to a procession of hot-dog fountains, soft drink pavilions, dance resorts, gas stations, and to the billboard proclamation of the Zulu Hut; the Bull Pen Inn, the Mont Marte, the Rendezvous, the Lafayette, the Turkish Village, Young China, the Fig 'n' Whistle, Up Cahuena Pass, and drop into Hollywood, whose serenity and domestic beauty are at ways a dreadful disappointment to the tourists, hopeful of being horrified by the peculiar fable of its impossible viciousness. Miles of travel past countless actors' homes to Beverly Hills, to see Will Rogers, and on to the coast at Venice. We camped on the shores of Lak e Tahoe and a skiff ride by night, the moonlight breaking upon us in a silver cascade; the gigantic beauty of the earth and that blue sea and the stars lowered to the tree-tops on unseen wires from the dome of the universe, mere points of tremulous flame said to be suns of inconceivable magnitude, making one feel thinner, more ephemeral, unimportant. Looking shoreward to the sky-scraping trees and mountains against the sky, the strange glow of desert twilight was already turning the crags to heaped crushed violets and the heavens to lamplit velum.

The drive down the ocean beach was fragrant with orange blossoms, with spicy lemons darkling in the trees and with roadside hedges of roses. In the Beverly Hills country was a wilderness of palms and pepper trees, camphor trees, poplars, and flaming eucalyptus, firs and cedars; oleanders, roses in Persian profusion, cannas, poppies, petunias, all the flowers, shrubs of every region, smothering the ancient desert in gardens so dense that the homes were half submerged. In the moonlight the trees, the shrubs, and the flowers seemed all to be sculptured and stained with a patina of eternity.

Yes, vacation days are over. Vacation's over and I am back! Amid the town's congestion, with color, freedom, brand new car and chronic indigestion.

I've stood the summer hotel food, Survived the owners' shakedown I'm full of vigor, full of vim, And ready for a breakdown.

The ocean air has done me good, From July to September, And I'll plunge into work again, But not before December.

Farewell until next summer, F. B. WHIPKEY.

with growing traffic congestion in the big cities expanded to a greater volume than ever during the summer months, according to reports received from Willys-Overland dealers by Dockrey Whippet Co., local Whippet dealers.

This fact played a greater role in increasing sales of Whippet fours and sixes, due to their ease of handling in traffic, their economy of operation and increased roominess which solved the transportation problem of many families, the dealers say. The two-car-per-family idea evidently has taken hold more than ever due to the growing insistence and dependence of Americans on their own automobiles and the fact that women and grown-up children left in the house demand a ready and private means of transportation.

"The compactness of both the Whippet four and six with the speed and style appeal of these cars, has attracted this kind of buying," Dockrey said. "Both models possess unusual pick-up and get-away in heavy traffic while they may be parked in comparatively small spaces in the busy business district. In addition to this, they have an exceptionally effective braking power that enables the driver to come to an immediate stop at dangerous intersections."

"The Whippet Six also includes such important mechanical features as a seven-bearing crankshaft, full force fed lubrication, silent timing chain, invar-strut pistons and oversize balloon tires. In addition to the speed and hill climbing power of the Whippet four, it has a record of gasoline and oil economy that has seldom been approached in the automobile world, the Willys-Overland engineers declare. This is important to the owner in view of the frequent stops and starts necessary in congested traffic."

fly millions of miles without so much as scratching a man, woman or child, many people still laugh incredulously when you tell them that statistics prove that flying on scheduled lines is quite as safe as riding on a train or steamship," E. G. Rhenstrom, operations manager of Southern Air Transport and war flyer, said.

"Every day or so they read about somebody getting hurt or killed in an airplane crash, and they have not learned yet to notice that nearly all of these are private or student flyers and in no way engaged in carrying passengers on regular lines for air transport companies. They do not realize the system or precautions to which air transport companies subject themselves, over and above the requirements of the United States Department of Commerce, in order to make flying as safe as it is humanly possible for it to be and which I repeat, statistics show is entirely as safe as riding on a train or on a steamboat," Mr. Rhenstrom said.

"The secret of safe and successful operation consists of three things—new, modern, equipment, the proper maintenance and personnel. The Department of Commerce says a man must have piloted a ship at least 200 hours and passed a rigid examination if he is to carry passengers across the country. We insist on much more than that. To carry passengers a man must have a transport pilot's license, but just that does not mean a thing to us.

"To get a job with Southern Air Transport as pilot, or as an instructor, either, a man must have flown considerably more than the 200 hours required by the Government. During that time he must have built up a reputation as a safe and successful pilot. We investigate to find out whether he has had any crashes or not. He must have flown many and various types of equipment and under various and adverse conditions before we consider him good enough to be a Southern Air Transport pilot.

"Both the plane itself and the motor are gone over carefully from nose to tail-skid. The ship is examined for breaks in the fabric, and if any are found they are repaired. The wood and metal work is examined. Oil and gas lines are checked, as are all controls and control wires, the latter particularly to see if they are frayed where they go through the pulleys. If they are frayed in the least they are replaced. Batteries and lights are examined, although in our present policy not to fly at night with passengers. Every shock-strut is oiled, every tire is carefully examined and checked for the right amount of air. Every outside screw and cotter key is examined.

"If the public realized all this, I wonder if they would not have more respect for the statistics which show beyond doubt that riding in plane on scheduled air lines is fully as safe as riding on trains and steamships. I won't say automobiles, because we consider planes safer than automobiles and again statistics back us up."

Abilene Fair Opens Monday For The Week

ABILENE, Sept. 17.—Every day of the West Texas Fair, to be held in this city next week, will be a big day. Special entertainment features have been arranged for each of the six days, in addition to the regular program that will be offered all during the week.

Monday, opening day, will be "School Day." Every child of public school age will be admitted to the fair grounds without admission on that day. Two high school football games will be played. At 10:30 a. m., Roby and Merkel will play on the fair gridiron, and at 2:30 in the afternoon, the Abilene Eagles, State high school champions in 1928, will meet the Sweetwater Mustangs.

A rodeo, horse show, pony races and a polo game will be the offering for Tuesday afternoon. This program will attract some of the best riders and ropers in the Southwest and a big assortment of ring stock and fast polo horses will be shown. Wednesday will be the automobile race day. Indications are that this race will be one of the most warmly contested affairs ever staged here. Already more high-powered cars and daring drivers have entered than have been here for the past three years.

On Thursday, which will be "Ex-Service Men's Day," a military maneuver program, an artillery sham battle, polo game and pony race will be given. A big parade will be staged in the morning and the former soldiers, sailors and marines will be given a barbecue at noon.

McMurry College of Abilene and Randolph College of Cisco will play football at the fair Friday afternoon and Simmons University of Abilene will meet the Texas University team on Saturday afternoon.

SAYS HE'S LIKE A MAN MADE OVER NEW

"I feel like a new man—made all over again and I'm glad to tell the whole world what Sargon has done for me.

"For the first time in 15 years, I am free from pains and feeling fine. I have gained twelve pounds, too, and that's something worth talking about, because I certainly was in a terrible run-down condition.

"I had pains in my side for three years and they were so bad I could hardly stand them. My blood pressure was low and people my age know what that means, because it brings on all sorts of complications like headaches, shortness of breath, and low vitality. That's not worrying me any more for my blood has been built up and even though I am 52 years old, I feel fine and full of energy all the time.

"I am through now with losing lots of time and spending lots of money on useless medicines. I know Sargon does the work and I'm not going to be without a bottle handy from now on."—H. M. Curtis, 725 Frey Ave., Fort Worth.

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

One of the most destructive hail, rain and wind storms ever to have struck this country hit about 9:30 Wednesday night and laid barren fields covering approximately 30,000 acres. In the Ralls trade territory approximately 20,000 acres were swept as clean as the floor and approximately 50 per cent damage was incurred on approximately the same amount of land, making a total destruction of 30,000 acres of growing and matured crops. In other localities open cotton was blown out by the high wind and beaten into the ground by the terrific rainstorm.—Ralls Banner.

Ten years ago the women were trying to reform the men. Now it is the other way about. Here's a tale, told by a man whose word is not to be questioned. At a late hour he was returning from a business trip to a nearby city, and "coming down a lane that was a near cut to his home he saw a car parked. He stopped, thinking these had been a wreck, and saw two couples walking up and down. "Anything wrong?" "Naw," replied a young fellow. "The girls got too much liquor and were trying to sober 'em up." Ten years ago it would have been just the opposite.—Ropes Hustler.

And They Turned Him Loose
Over in Portales a few weeks ago a man calmly walked into a room in one of the hotels where his wife and daughter were staying. He pulled a pistol and shot them both dead. Last week a jury said in its verdict, "We find the defendant not guilty, for we believe him to have been insane at the time of the shooting." Yet this same fellow was sane enough just a few minutes before the shooting to try to persuade a hardware clerk to sell him a $15 gun for $12.50 and after failing he was shoved and sane enough to get six shells thrown in. He was sane enough after the shooting to ask for the protection of the sheriff when a bystander remarked that "We ought to get a rope and hang you."

We are not saying whether the murderer was or was not sane, but what we want to know is, if an insane man who goes about shooting people, especially his own wife and daughter, what is to prevent him in one of these moments of insanity to load up his blunderbuss and parade up and down the streets shooting anyone who he happens to dislike? We say that if they are insane, put them in the insane asylum where they can't harm anyone; if they are not insane, then put them where murderers are supposed to be put.—Dawson County Journal.

One can go out in the country in almost any direction from Tahoka and see many more Jersey cows than could be found in any previous year. Still there are not as many dairy cows in the county as there should be. Many of the dairy cows are of high grade quality but there are many that do not measure up to the best standards. We hope that both the number and the quality of dairy cows in this county may be steadily increased until Lynn county becomes famous for its dairy products. Dairying alone should make this a rich county.—Tahoka News.

Iatan Flat gave Mitchell county more publicity than that county desired. Every time a man passed that way in muddy weather, he shook his fist at Colorado and cursed that city especially and Mitchell county generally. This went on for years, and finally so much cursing got on those good people's nerves and they sat up and took notice. Then they got busy and paved that flat so that the Bankhead is now navigable in any kind of weather. Now, every fellow who travels that road praises Colorado especially and Mitchell generally. Fixing that road was a mighty good piece of business. Everybody, including Mitchell county, is glad of it.—Sterling City News-Record.

Can it ever again be called the Solid South, with Texas snubbing over a dozen candidates for the State's four thousand dollar job?—Demmit News.

Cheaper and Better Caterwauling
First Dad—I am spending a lot of money for my daughter's vocal and instrumental music lessons.

Second Ditto—That's foolish. A radio is cheaper, and you can get just as terrible stuff over it.

Grand for the Blacksmith's Chorus
Magistrate—Are you sure he was intoxicated.

Policeman—No, sir, not positive. But his wife says that he brought home a manhole cover and tried to play it on the victrola.

The Smartest Roadster of Low Price

The snappy Chrysler-styled Plymouth Roadster is all the vogue today. Among low-priced roadsters it easily cuts the smartest figure in appearance, just as it leads them all with its typical Chrysler performance.

Here is a roadster that is man-size, not boy-size—full-size, not toy-size. It has that length of hood and expanse of rear deck which go to make a roadster truly graceful.

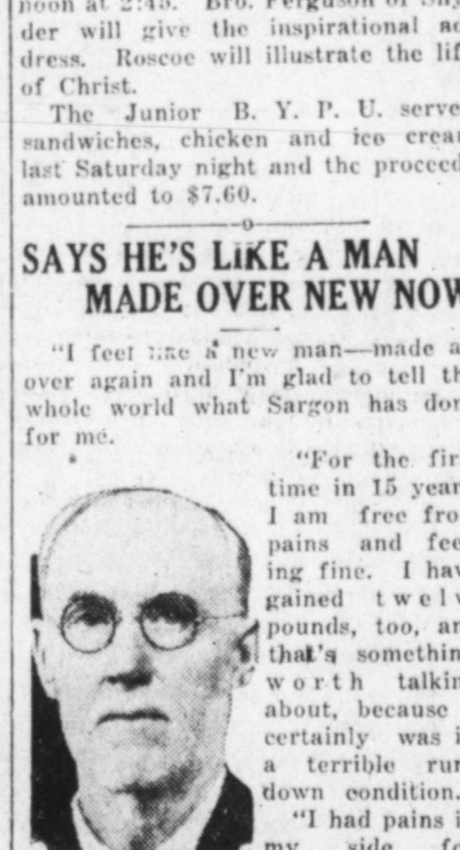

Engineered by Chrysler, it performs with a dashing swiftness and floating smoothness that are utterly amazing in a car so low in price.

The Plymouth Roadster is a quality car from first to last—in beauty; in engineering; in riding ease; in size and in behavior.

Six body styles—priced from $655 to $895. All prices f. o. b. factory. Plymouth dealers extend convenient time payments. 484

WHY

SAVE? Why not spend it while you have it? The answers are to be found in the personal histories of the folk who succeed and those who fail. Monied men almost without exception have built the nucleus of their fortunes by steadily feeding a savings account. And it is a safe bet that Mr. Down-and-outer isn't the sort who saved when he was earning. Yes, save!
