

WILKINS SAYS GAME THANKSGIVING DAY BE BEST SEEN HERE

Gives Inside Dope on Condition of Wolves; Dope May Be Up-Set

C. A. Wilkins, principal of Colorado High school, one of the strongest backers of the local football team, has given The Record some inside dope on the team and some facts relative to the coming football game between the Wolves and the Big Spring Steers. He says:

"There is no championship at stake when the Wolves meet the Big Spring Steers on Cantrill field Thanksgiving day at 2:30 for the last game of the current season, as these teams are in different conferences this year, but the game promises to be the best game of the season. These teams have met five times in the past five years and Colorado has emerged victorious in three of the encounters. They are going to give all they have to make the fourth victory this year.

"Big Spring is playing Class A football for the first time and has made a creditable showing in the Oil Belt district, the strongest district in the State. Big Spring has a smooth working team that boasts of two of the best men in the Oil Belt in their respective positions. These two men are Buster Bell, left half, and Captain Barley, center.

"The Wolves have played erratic football this year. They have had quite a bit of hard luck for the first time in several years. Yater, the most promising halfback of the team, had to undergo an appendicitis operation at the beginning of the season and the best end on the team, suffered a broken collarbone just before the Snyder game and has been out since then. Captain Smith has been hampered all season with a bad knee that has slowed his game materially. In spite of all these reverses, the Wolves have played 500 per cent football, playing eight games and winning four of these.

"Coach Cantrill has been working the team hard ever since the Snyder game in preparation for this Thanksgiving day game. He has given them a number of new plays which should work well against the Steers. The Wolves are going into the game very muchly the underdog and they must upset the dope book for once this year.

22,363 BALES COTTON GINNED IN COUNTY UP TO NOON WEDNESDAY

Cold Weather Slowed Harvesting; Crop Is Practically All Gathered

Figures compiled by The Record shows a total of 22,363 bales of cotton had been ginned in the county up to noon Wednesday, a gain of only 681 bales since last Thursday noon, when the total stood at 21,682. Cold weather most of the past week has slowed down harvesting, while reports show the crop is practically harvested. Not more than 2,000 bales remain to be ginned and some doubt as to whether the balance of the crop will total more than 1,000 bales is expressed.

Lorraine had ginned 5,192 bales, Buford 1,703, and Westbrook 2,957, with the Guitart gin handling 1,458 of that number and Williams-Miller gin 1,499 bales.

The 12,511 bales ginned at Colorado is divided as follows: Lambeth, McCleary & Grubbs, 3,290; Cooperative gin, 1,779; Williams-Morgan, 2,310; Concrete, 1,398; Farmers No. 3 plant, 2,708, and their No. 1 plant, 1,026. The No. 1 plant closed down for the season last Saturday.

Terracing Be Demonstrated At Silver Farm

A terracing demonstration is to be held at the W. Hudgins farm at Silver at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, December 3, the county agent announces. About 25 of such demonstrations have been scheduled for different parts of the county within the next few months.

Farmers are taking great interest in this work, and much farm land is being terraced. Farmers have found terracing pays big dividends when done right with a farm level, and the purpose of these demonstrations is to teach farmers how to properly terrace.

STATE HEALTH NURSE REPORTS HER WORK TO COMMISSIONERS COURT

Miss Olga Buresh Completes Work In Mitchell County

Miss Olga Buresh, State health nurse, who for six weeks worked in the schools of Mitchell county, turned in to the commissioners a report when she had finished her work.

The report shows much work done, every school visited and 1581 children examined, 1172 of whom were defective. Many defects were found, most of them the kind that could easily be remedied by a visit to a doctor or dentist.

The biggest thing Miss Buresh did was to give a demonstration of health work to the Lions club and interest them in a health campaign, and then to get together a health committee to carry on the work begun and do even more to protect and safeguard the county's most valuable possessions—its children.

Mrs. Lee Jones, chairman of the county executive committee, heard Dr. Sutton of Atlanta, Ga., last week and has a plan for health work as outlined by him. The Mitchell County Medical association, the Lions club, and the women's clubs are all back of the work, so surely good work can and will be done.

HEARING ON CHESTNUT STREET PAVING IS HELD BY CITY MONDAY NIGHT

Preliminary Legal Matters Finished; Work To Start At Early Date

Public hearing on the proposal to pave Chestnut street from Third to Fourteenth street was held by the city council Monday night as provided by law, and other legal matters finished preparatory to beginning work on this street.

Seven property owners on this street appeared in protest against the paving. The council had previously presented a petition bearing signature of 63 per cent of the property owners asking for the paving.

With the requirements of the law met, it is expected work on this paving will start at an early date. J. Ralph Lee, street and alley commissioner, said. The paving will be the same type and width as that on Hickory street just finished and will be put down by the West Texas Construction Co., contractors on the Hickory street paving.

An extension of three blocks on Hickory from Tenth to Thirteenth street, were also involved in the hearing Monday night. This is to be finished before the Chestnut street paving is started, we are informed.

Scarlet Fever Claims Life Of Girl, Age Six

Scarlet fever claimed the life of Mary Jo Bryan, age 6, Sunday night, after an illness of ten days. Mary Jo was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Bryan of Westbrook.

Funeral services were held Monday and burial was in Westbrook. Rev. J. E. McDermett was in charge. Besides her parents, Mary Jo is survived by a brother and sister. At the time of her death both her mother and little brother were seriously ill with scarlet fever.

Mrs. J. E. McCleary and Mrs. J. G. Merritt visited Mrs. J. Frank Potts in Abilene Sunday.

Young Couple Of Colorado Married On Last Monday

Miss Mary Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson of Colorado, and Mr. Grady Beach, son of Mrs. Theodora Beach of Colorado, were married Monday evening at the home of Rev. W. C. Ashford, pastor of the First Baptist church in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. After the last of the week they will be at home on the Jim Plaster farm, which is being managed by Mr. Beach.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Colorado High school, the groom finishing with the class of '27, and the bride with the class of '29. Both are well known and well liked in Colorado.

GASOLINE POURED ON FIRE CAUSES FATAL INJURY OF HART GIRL

Nora Mae Hart, 16, Died Monday From Burns She Received Thursday

Mistaking a can of gasoline for one of kerosene caused the fatal injury by fire last Thursday night of Nora Mae Hart, age about 16, in the Union church house. Death occurred at the C. L. Root hospital Monday.

A party of young people had stopped at the church house to warm, while on the way home from Colorado. Nora Mae found a bucket of what she took to be kerosene at the school house, and when she drew the bucket she took to her hands, burning her body terribly. Alvin Petty, 17, who was with the girl, received painful burns while extinguishing the flames. He brought the girl straight to the Root hospital.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, and burial was at Union. Rev. J. E. McDermett of Westbrook, and Rev. F. O. Garner of Colorado conducted the services. The girl's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hart, who live south of Westbrook. They came here from Dallas county about four years ago. Besides her parents, Nora Mae is survived by four sisters and two brothers.

'Turkey Day' To Be Well Observed By Coloradoans

Aside from gatherings around the festive board graced by traditional turkey, Coloradoans will enter into the Thanksgiving spirit by suspending business for the day, attending a union Thanksgiving program at the high school Thursday morning, and boosting for Colorado at the football game between Colorado and Big Spring on Cantrill field in the afternoon.

The union Thanksgiving program at the high school will begin at 10 o'clock. Appropriate musical numbers will be given by the school orchestra and the high school chorale. The main address is to be given by Bro. J. D. Harvey of the Church of Christ.

Most all houses of business in Colorado will close their doors for the day.

SHIPPING ASSOCIATION NEEDS TEN HEAD CATTLE TO FINISH OUT CAR

U. G. Hardison, who has charge of pooling the livestock for the Mitchell County Cooperative Shipping association, announces that ten head are needed to fill out the car of cattle to be shipped to market December 3. He asks those who have cattle to sell list them with him at once. He says the market is not favorable for shipping but that many farmers have a few head they want to sell and the car is being pooled to get these farmers the best price possible.

J. E. McCleary went to Abilene on business Sunday.

CITIZENS PETITION COUNCIL TO PROCEED WITH WATER EXTENSION

Voters Sign Petition Asking Council To Go Ahead With Plans

Several citizens of Colorado have signed a petition to the city council urging the council to proceed at once to protect the citizenship against a threatened water shortage and to take such action as they see fit relative to extension of the city waterworks system of Colorado.

The petition recites that the duty devolves upon the council to provide water for the city and asks that no further delay be permitted. Text of the petition is as follows:

"To the Honorable Mayor and City Council, City of Colorado:

"We, the undersigned citizens of the City of Colorado, hereby petition your honorable body, setting forth that:

"Whereas, this city is facing a grave situation as affecting its water supply, not immediately, but certainly by the summer of 1930, at which time, as we understand, the present supply of water will not begin to meet the demands that will be made upon it, as estimated by the demands that were made upon it during the summer of this year;

"And, whereas, it has been suggested that an election be held submitting to the voters the question of whether City Council should proceed to handle this problem in manner and form as has heretofore been considered by City Council, that is, to endeavor present water system to secure funds for extension, as provided for by statute, by obligations of the City, without taxation, and without any charge against the City or its citizens, other than a charge against present and future plant;

"It is believed that such an election would cause an unnecessary and perhaps dangerous delay, and would after all be a fruitless election in that it would decide nothing substantial for this reason:

"If at such election, the vote should favor the proposition, it would only confirm what is already the right and the duty of the City Council to do; and if such vote should be unfavorable to the proposition, it would still, nevertheless, be the duty, and within the power of the City Council to endeavor to provide water for this emergency in this manner or in some other manner.

"We believe that the City Council has made a study of the situation as now confronting the city, and are therefore in better position to act than an electorate can advise; and your petitioners having implicit faith, both in your ability and integrity, respectfully request that you proceed to meet the situation without further delay, having in mind the shortness of time between this and next summer when it will be necessary to meet the peak of demand for water."

The following names have been signed to the petition:

J. W. Randle, C. H. Earnest, John L. Doss, Thos. R. Smith, C. M. Adams, Mrs. Jno. L. Doss, J. H. Greene, Roy Dozier, W. L. Doss, C. A. Wilkins, W. C. Davis, J. B. Mills, J. F. Morris, The Colorado Record, John R. Baze, James Guitart, Boyd Dozier, Piggly Wiggly Store, Joe H. Smoot, R. J. Wallace, Mrs. E. J. Wallace, R. L. Richardson, J. F. Merritt, J. F. Quinney, W. W. Cagle, R. R. Lovejoy, D. M. Logan, Vernon Logan, James Logan, J. W. Johnson, Earl H. Cook, R. F. Fee, Max Bertram, Louis Landau, W. R. Morgan, Geo. B. Root, R. H. Cantrill, L. B. Collier, J. D. Harvey, H. F. Ward, G. H. Sargent, O. E. Price, R. B. Merritt, U. G. Hardison, R. P. Price, T. R. Homslay, Farris Lipps, C. L. Gray, E. A. Stokes, Harris Toler, Wilborn Lewis, J. P. Nowell, T. B. Russell, J. Chemah, R. O. Pearson, T. J. Radtiff, G. W. Hubbard, H. C. Doss, W. L. Doss, Jr., O. H. Majors, E. M. Majors, H. C. Broadus, J. A. Sadler, L. B. Elliott, A. C. Connell, Frank Lupton, Mrs. J. H. Greene.

J. H. Greene, who circulated the above petition, says he encountered practically no opposition and feels that practically every citizen of Colorado would sign this petition if given the opportunity. Further circulation of the petition may be omitted because of this apparently unanimous opinion.

Fairview Church Contract Be Let Saturday, 2 P. M.

Contract for erection of a new church building at Fairview will be let Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the committee opens bids at the Colorado National Bank, according to O. L. Simpson, member of the committee.

Plans and specifications are in the hands of lumber yards of Colorado and contractors are requested to file bids with them or at the bank, the committee informs us. This committee is composed of O. L. Simpson, L. A. Strain, B. W. Jackson, W. W. Jenkins and Will C. Berry.

PREPARATIONS ARE BEGUN FOR ANNUAL PLAY TOURNAMENT

Sponsors Selected By Various Classes of High School

Preparations for the Play Tournament, which was held last year for the first time in Colorado High school, have been started with the selection of the faculty members who will be in charge of the play given by each class.

Mrs. E. M. Cantrill will be in charge of the Senior play, John W. Cobb of the Junior, Miss Arva Cummings of the Sophomores, and Miss Velma Barrett of the Freshman.

The plays are yet to be selected. Work on them will begin about January 18, and the plays will be given in succession in the early spring.

Last year the tournament excited considerable interest. The loving cup offered for the play adjudged the best of the four was won by the Sophomore class, but this cup must be won three years in succession to become the permanent property of the class.

HIGHWAY DEPT. LETS CONTRACT FOR PAVING LORRAINE UNDERPASS

Dallas Concern Awarded Job For $28,095; Covers Half Mile

The State Highway department Tuesday let contract for grading and drainage structures and concrete paving for a half mile of new road which includes the underpass under Texas and Pacific railway just west of Lorraine and a short section of the Bankhead highway changed to reach the underpass.

Crocker & Fisher of Dallas were awarded the contract for a total of $28,095. According to Judge C. C. Thompson, work on the grading will start at an early date. The new route runs directly west from Lorraine and where the old highway crosses the railroad after turning north, the new route will run on west and pass under the railway, coming out on the old highway on the hill, about one and one-half miles west of Lorraine.

W. N. CROSTHWAITE RECEIVES BUCK HEAD

W. N. Crosthwaite on Wednesday morning received a seven-point buck head from his brother, Harvey Foster, who is ranching in the Carrizo mountains west of Ruidosa, New Mexico. The buck was killed on the brother's ranch. Bill says he will have the head mounted.

HUNTING IN DAVIS MTS.

Dr. E. F. Dulaney and Harris Toler and a friend from Snyder left Saturday for Van Horn on a hunting expedition. They were expected back Wednesday, but had not shown up here at noon Wednesday.

are members of the citizens committee appointed recently to investigate this matter, and the above petition is based upon their report in which the other citizens join them.

LADIES NIGHT FOR LUNCHEON CLUB WAS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Banquet At Hotel Tuesday Night Had Splendid Program

The first annual Ladies' Night for the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club held at Colorado hotel Tuesday evening, was a big success.

The program was enjoyable and the attendance was good. About 70 were present.

Judge C. C. Thompson presided as toastmaster in his usual free and easy manner.

Invocation was by Rev. W. C. Ashford.

Mrs. C. A. Wilkins and Miss Ruth Hightower sang beautifully. A playlet entitled, "Two Manines," was given by Eugene Smith and Freida Merle Reid, members of the high school dramatic club, under direction of Mrs. R. H. Cantrill.

Mrs. Wilkins and Miss Alice Summerhill gave a duet and an encore, with Miss Hightower at the piano. This was a very enjoyable part of the program.

Judge Thompson filled in the program with jokes and anecdotes on some of the guests and by calling upon several for impromptu speeches.

Dr. P. C. Coleman was the first to be called upon. He praised the women in business, and told of the progress made by women in every line of work during the past few years.

Col. C. M. Adams, called upon without notice, in his usual witty and dignified manner, told about Dr. Coleman "going to the dogs," and denied any intention of following him. All this was elicited because of Dr. Coleman's full hunting.

Doyle Williams, instructor of vocational agriculture in the Colorado High school, was the object of many jokes told by the toastmaster. Williams refused to be worried because, as one faculty member remarked, "he was stepping out."

The women came in for a good portion of the talking. Mrs. J. E. McCleary, president of the Business and Professional Women's club, was the first woman called upon. Other women who spoke were Mrs. J. Lee Jones, Mrs. R. H. Cantrill, Mrs. W. L. Doss, Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, Mrs. J. H. Greene, Mrs. W. H. Elliott, Miss Ruby McGill, Mrs. A. L. McSpadden.

Jim Johnson, Ralph Lee, and Judge C. H. Earnest were also called upon and they each said a few words.

Everyone present who gave an expression was delighted with the program and the excellent turkey dinner served.

After the toastmaster ran out of jokes he turned the program over to J. H. Greene, who spoke for a few minutes and explained the new plan for election of directors of the chamber of commerce. He also handed out a sheet of paper on which hold-over directors names were printed and asked those present to write in names of others they wanted to nominate for directors.

The first annual ladies night of the Luncheon club was indeed a success and an affair that exhibited a fine spirit of cooperation and good will. Members expressed the hope that other such events will be held during the coming year.

EASTLAND COUNTY SCHOOLS WANT TO COME TO DEBATE TOURNAMENT IN COLORADO

John W. Cobb, director of debating in Colorado high school, who arranged the debating tournament to be held in Colorado on December 7, has received letters from R. M. Cantrill, superintendent of the schools at Desdemonia, and W. A. Warford, principal of Alameda school, asking permission to enter two teams of girls and two teams of boys in the tournament.

These schools are in Eastland county and Mr. Cobb did not send them special invitation because he expected the distance would keep them from entering. He has advised the teams they will be welcomed. Notice of the tournament was seen in the State papers by the Eastland county men.

Robert Terrell was among those sick this week.

SOCIETY

MRS. J. G. MERRITT, Editor
Phone 144
would appreciate report of all social and club meetings. Reports must be phoned in not later than Wednesday afternoon each week
PHONE 144

Methodist Missionary Society
The Methodist Missionary society met Monday in the Daughters of the King Sunday school class. The meeting was opened with a chain of prayer and a short devotional by the president.

Mrs. Garrett gave a good report of the Junior work, the all-day meeting, week of prayer program, study course and Junior church work. Two lessons have been held in the study, "What Next in Home Missions." A box of towels is being packed for the Rebecca Sparks Inn. The Juniors are also packing a box.

A letter was read from Mrs. Withers regarding the Harvest Day meeting to be held on December 6th in Sweetwater. Mrs. Boyd Dozier and Mrs. Van King were made delegates. Mrs. Mattie Merrill and Mrs. Lucian Maddin were named alternates.

A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. Metcalf, superintendent of Juniors, to the Sweetwater district Juniors for making her baby son a life member.

After a prayer for guidance, the yearly election of officers was held. Mrs. J. G. Merritt was re-elected president; Mrs. A. D. Kiker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Van King, recording secretary; Mrs. J. W. Shepherd, treasurer; Mrs. E. B. Willbanks, superintendent of young people; Mrs. Milburn Doss, superintendent of the Juniors; Mrs. Jeff Dubbs, social service; Mrs. Boyd Dozier, study; Mrs. Chester Jones, supplies; and Mrs. Everett Winn, agent of Missionary Voice. Mrs. Lucian Maddin was made chairman of a Young Matrons' Circle.

A large number were urged to go to Sweetwater December 6th.
D. A. R. Meeting
The Lieutenant Wm. Halbert Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. H. Ratliff. The regent, Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson, presided.
The chapter welcomed Miss Mary

Broaddus as a new member. The finance chairman, Mrs. Lucy I. Way, reported $38.00 made from rummage sale. She also reported good sales on the gas gun and Christmas cards.

A card had been received acknowledging the box sent to Ellis Island by Mrs. Dolman. The chapter voted to send $5 to assist in payment of the bronze doors of Constitution Hall at Washington, D. C. The chapter also voted to set aside $25.00 for the beginning of a student loan fund and this is to be known as the Lucy I. Way Student Loan fund.

Mrs. Doris Martin conducted a drill on the correct use of the flag. Mrs. W. M. Elliott gave a very interesting paper on "Jack-Knife Industry," which told how our forefathers made articles. Mrs. Hubbard gave the heroine, Rebecca Mott.

The hostess served a delicious salad course at the conclusion of the program. The meeting in December will be with Mrs. Doris Martin.

League Party and Business Meeting
Thursday evening the Methodist Epworth League held a very interesting business and social session at the home of Mrs. W. H. Garrett. The president, Miss Mattie Dorn, presided over the business session. Good reports were given by all officers. All pledges are paid up to date. A committee to select a study course was appointed.

Miss Anna Cummins had the social features of the evening in charge. A peanut race, a contest of Bible characters, a nine-pin apple game, and other diversions were enjoyed by about 30 young folks and the preacher—who was the best spot of them all. At the conclusion of the most enjoyable evening, hot chocolate sandwiches and cake were served.

Bridgettes Entertained
Mrs. O. B. Price and Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon very delightfully entertained the Bridgettes on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Price. The house was gay with autumn foliage and chrysanthemums. The tables and score pads were adorned with turkey. There were seven tables of players and on each table were dishes of candies.
High score was won by Mrs. Bill Dorn, who was presented with a pretty cut-work guest towel.
A mould salad with hot tea and fudge cake adorned with a turkey stick up, was served at the refreshment hour. The club will hold no meeting this week, because of holiday—Thanksgiving.

Shakespeare Club
The Shakespeare club met Friday with Mrs. J. M. Thomas in her beautiful new home. Mrs. Richard Pearson led the lesson on the third act of Shakespeare's Richard Fourth. Mrs. Anthony Van Tuyl gave a very interesting talk on England.

At the refreshment hour, hot pecan waffles with maple syrup and honey was served with coffee. Then the ladies were shown over the attractive and convenient new home.
This club will have no meeting Friday, but the next week will meet with Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett.

Hesperian Club
The Hesperian club met Friday with Mrs. S. H. Millwee. It was reported that the club lacked only two of being 100 per cent on Red Cross membership.
Mrs. A. L. Whipkey and Mrs. Paul Tens will assist the County Federation with the sale of health seals.
Mrs. Ralph Lee was named as the club's member of the town health committee.

The president gave a report of the splendid health plays put on by the Buford and Latah health clubs at the Lions club. These health clubs were organized by Miss Buresh in her school examination work.
Mrs. Lee reported that she and Mrs. D. M. Merritt had visited the Looney school, taking the victrola given by Mrs. Bandy, some books, and a number of magazines. She reported the school was found to be well equipped but more books are needed. Mrs. Doss, Mrs. Whipkey, and Mrs. Prude will be the visitors for the next two months.

Mrs. Johnson reported a visit to Seven Wells school and a number of magazines given. Mrs. Whipkey led the lesson for Mrs. J. L. Pidgeon.
Roll call brought out many interesting items. Miss Hilma Joyce of the high school public speaking department, gave a splendid talk on the subject, "There Is Glory Enough for Any Man to Live and Die in America." Mrs. Otto Jones read a good paper on contrasting history's King Henry and Shakespeare's Henry. Mrs. Whipkey had a very interesting one on contrasting the Bishop of Winchester and other famous Shakespearean men of God. Act three of Henry Sixth was studied.
Mrs. R. J. Wallace was a guest. At the social hour the hostess served a salad plate with coffee and pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream.

Successful Shower
Thursday afternoon the people of Colorado most generously showered the two Nessmith families that were burned out, both the father and son losing their homes and household goods. The shower for them was given by Mrs. Mildred Smith and Mrs. Monroe Herrington at Mrs. Smith's home from two until six.
Bedding, furniture, and money were given most liberally. While there will be many things needed when these two families begin housekeeping again, the articles they have received will be a very great help and will be a constant reminder of the two good friends who gave the shower and the neighborliness of Colorado people in times of need.

1921 Club
The 1921 Club met Friday with Mrs. Bob Fee. The hostess surprised and pleased the guests by inviting them into the dining room on their arrival and serving hot coffee and cake, because it was such a cold day. Mrs. R. P. Price was named on the health program.
Plans were completed for the Thanksgiving Bible day program. The ministers and their wives and about 24 elderly women have been invited to be guests of the club.
The Federation program of the day was given. Roll call was answered with the name of a Federated club woman, and telling what she does. With Mrs. Hooks at the piano, "Texas, My Texas" was sung.
Mrs. C. C. Thompson reported on the business sessions of the State Federation meetings in a very comprehensive way. Mrs. J. M. Doss described the social affairs, particularly Fine Arts evening. The lighting effect, which was marvelous, showed stars, the moon, with little children as rain drops. Mrs. Broaddus reported the board meeting and changes made.
The meeting this week is to be in the Christian church parlors.

Baptist Church Groups
Circle 1 met with Mrs. Lasky with five members present. Mrs. W. R. Morgan led the devotional, and prayer was by Mrs. Lambeth. Mrs. Lasky led a most interesting Bible lesson from II Kings.
The "District Skule" play recently given netted the ladies $53.00 and same will be applied on the church pledge. One dollar per month is given to Grandma Barnett as a love gift. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Bowen, and program will be on the December week of prayer.

Circle 2 met at the T. E. L. classroom with 10 members present. Mrs. Johnson presided and Mrs. D. L. Buchanan led the devotional. The reports of officers and committees were given and usual business transacted. A new shipment of Italian Balm beauty lotion is now on hand and finding ready sale. Fifty dollars has recently been paid into the building fund, and a rummage sale planned for near future. Mrs. Smoot conducted a most interesting lesson on "Royal Service." Next meeting is December 9 with week of prayer program.

SANTA CLAUS TO BE IN COLORADO SAT.
A letter from Santa Claus to Bernman's Variety Store advises that old Santa Claus is on his way here and will arrive at their store Saturday at noon, where he will establish his headquarters. The letter follows:
Dear Sirs:
I am now on my annual tour to distribute cheer and happiness throughout the country. My pack of Toys and Gifts this year contains a larger assortment than I have ever carried, and I'm sure that this Christmas I will fill every heart with gladness. My dolls, toy furniture, dishes, wheel goods, musical toys, as well as gifts for grown-ups will delight everyone.
I will arrive in Colorado on the eastbound T. & P. train at 11:55 Saturday morning.
I will establish my headquarters at your store, where I'll display my entire collection.
Please see that every boy and girl in Mitchell county, as well as their parents will be there to meet me and pick out just what they want me to bring them this Christmas, as I am anxious to bring them just what they want and not disappoint them.
Wishing you a Merry Christmas, I remain,
Your friend,
SANTA CLAUS.
In reference to the above, Bernman's Variety Store invites everyone to visit their store Saturday and meet Santa Claus. Itc

Looking forward to the time when he would retire from the ministry, the Rev. J. R. Ritchie, Methodist pastor at Livingston, bought some cheap land several years ago for a chicken ranch but he won't have to worry with chickens for the tract is only 400 yards away from the discovery well at Van.

Three kittens were born at Jefferson with their eyes wide open but evidently didn't think much of what they saw for they only lived two days.
glass and a buffet supper was served. This consisted of roast turkey, dressing, gravy, cranberry sauce, peas in potato nests, baked ham, assorted relishes, hot bread and coffee, with a dessert of pineapple meringue cake.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warren, Miss Sanders and Miss Swope were the guests. High score for the ladies went to Carrie Pearl Mills. This was a filled cookie jar. High score for the gentlemen went to Willet Foster, a beer stein—empty. Low for ladies was received by Sally Lowe Ragan, and low for men by Jim Cantrill, both prizes hand-painted wall plaques.
The next meeting is with Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Doss, December 10.

Entertainment Art Hits Peak With 'Rio Rita'

"Rio Rita," the all-talking, all-musical Radio Pictures' extravaganza which appears at the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, December 4 and 5, is evidence—tuneless, colorful evidence—that the screen has touched a new high mark in entertainment.
As the first operetta in sound and color, "Rio Rita" opens up a great new vista of entertainment to great cities and towns geographically barred from the Broadway spectacles of Ziegfeld and the Shuberts.

Yet it is questionable whether Ziegfeld himself ever so "glorified" a show as Radio Pictures has done to "Rio Rita." Certainly the wider limitations of the camera have given to the gay romance of the Rio Grande more movement and action than could ever have been accomplished on the stage.
Interesting as is the story, lavish as are the sets and costumes, it is the singing and acting of the large cast of principals that lift "Rio Rita" to the peak in audience appeal.

Bebe Daniels, in the title role, is no less than a sensation with her new-found voice. No heralded prima donna of the opera ever so fascinated an audience as did Miss Daniels as she sang more than a dozen of Harry Tierney's beautiful melodies.

John Boles, erstwhile musical comedy star, is excellent as leading man with Miss Daniels. Pressing these leading characters for honors of the piece, however, are Bert Wheeler, Dorothy Lee and Robert Woolsey, who give to the show not only a generous share of comedy, but contribute much to its large share of the dancing and singing.

Helen Kaiser, one of the girls Mr. Ziegfeld "glorified" in the stage version of "Rio Rita," Don Alvarado, George Renocant, Nick de Ruiz, and Eva Rosita are others who add much to the appeal of "Rio Rita."

ROSCOE DRUG STORE ROBBED OF $600.00

The L. L. Medlock Drug store at Roscoe was robbed of $600 in cigarettes and jewelry when thieves entered the store Monday night through a transom over a rear door. A truck was used in hauling off the loot, officers say. The officers think out-of-town parties perpetrated the robbery and they are checking up on sales of cigarettes in towns in West Texas.

Chief Hickman of Colorado is on the lookout for the burglars.
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whipkey, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Price and daughters are going to Alpine Thursday morning to visit the Rush Moodys.

DAWSON COUNTY TO VOTE ON ROAD BONDS
LAMESA. — Saturday, December 21, is the date set by the county commissioners' court for residents of Dawson county to vote on the proposed bond issue of $1,250,000 with which to pave highways in this county.

Six Roads Affected
If voted, the bonds will be used to pave the six important highways to market in the county: Highway No. 9, north and south; Highway No. 83, east and west, and the Brownfield and Stanton highways.

LUBBOCK TO VOTE ON BIG ISSUE ALSO
LUBBOCK—Lubbock county voters will vote December 17 on a county-wide bond issue of $1,960,500 to build new highways in the county and refund the road district bonds of the different districts.

Total of $991,000 will be used to refund district bonds and the balance, if the bonds are voted, will be used as follows:
State Highway No. 7 from Hockley county line by Shallowater, Lubbock and Slaton to the south line of Lubbock county, $325,000.
State highway No. 9 from Lynn county line by Woodrow and Lubbock to Abernathy, $247,000.
State highway No. 53 from Crosby county line by Idalou and Lubbock and Wolforth to the Hockley county line, $370,500.

WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

We are thankful for the many hundreds of readers of this paper. Thanksgiving day will find us really thankful for the many things that have blessed us the past year. We are indeed thankful for the liberal way in which our subscribers have responded to our annual "head chopping" campaign. We are thankful that we have not yet been forced to chop the head off anyone.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Neel came in Tuesday and paid for The Record and the Star-Telegram. They live out on route 1 northeast of town. They are good citizens and people who help to make a community a worthwhile place in which to live. We thank them kindly. They said they had several turkeys for the Christmas market. They brought in a big fat turkey Tuesday and sold it for 20c per pound because the buyer wanted the best.

Bert Wulfjen is one of the fellows who would get the axe if he didn't pay up pronto. We don't fool with fellows like him. When they read this paper they have to kick in, and Bert kicked in and we had to shut up. Thanks, boy. You need a lickin', but we won't give it to you now.

Our old friend H. C. Mann came in and paid up again. He has been taking this paper so long we have forgotten the time when he started, but we will remember the time when he stops. He will either be broke or in Arkansas when we refuse to send the paper to him, and we don't think there is any danger of either.

J. L. Strain of Cuthbert comes in and pays up for the Star-Telegram and Record on bargain days. Those Strain boys are among the best in the fine Cuthbert community and they all read this paper. We are thankful for such fellows. They help us to keep the wolf from the door and help the county by making good citizens and prospering.

Kirby Rice, who handles more money every day than we make in ten years, rushed in and subscribed for the Star-Telegram and we marked him up under the bargain rates for this paper, too. Kirby is a Mitchell county boy who is making good at home. He didn't have to go off from home to make good. He just stayed right on here after graduating from high school and got a job in the City Bank, and he is now climbing right up. We are back of you, boy. Keep climbing, and if our account runs in the red, bear it and grin and come over and pay up another year.

That little sawed-off guy that works for Howard Rogers is a Rogers also. He is the working part of that firm. Murry Rogers is little but he is a big-hearted and hard-working fellow. We collect off him regular and don't have any trouble. We would not talk rough to a little fellow like him; they can hit harder and faster than anybody, but Murry is our friend and we know it. Like Zacheus of Christ's time, he is little in stature, but he will climb a tree to find out what he wants to know.

J. B. Jones, our good farmer friend on route one, came in Tuesday and paid up for his paper. Jones knows we need the money and he makes plenty so he divvies up. He's the kind of fellow we want to meet up with.

G. D. Bynum, pioneer of this county, came in Saturday and paid up for his paper. He has lived in this county 33 years and has been taking this paper ever since we started 23 years ago. He's the salt of the earth. None better. And we are glad indeed to keep him on our list and know he wants the paper bad enough to pay good cash for it. He said practically all the crop in his community is gathered and that it was not so bad this year, although some short.

W. B. Schley is another fellow who is little but loud. He is the local Delco-Light dealer and, believe me, he sells 'em. He is ordering a full carload of these contraptions and he is selling them like hot cakes. "Gawnow-days" to where the people of the 'country are high falutin' like town people and have to have electric lights.

O. C. Cox, the Klassy Kleener, plunks down cash for his paper. We had threatened to chop his head off, but he got busy and paid up. Cox is a good fellow and hard worker. He is making good money in the tailoring business. He sells good clothes cheap and presses them right.

L. C. Hinton is another farmer of the Longfellow community who pays up and says let the paper come ahead. The only thing against him that we know of is the fact that he lives neighbors to T. H. Westbrook and he is honest enough to admit it. We didn't think he would admit it, but he did.

J. H. Wagoner of Westbrook is another good man whom we are glad to

New Marketing Coop To Be Set Up Soon Is Said

FARM BOARD TO BE IN TEXAS IN DECEMBER; FARMERS ASK WAIT

WACO, Nov. 21.—The Federal Farm Board will come to Texas in December, or early in January, to set up co-operatives which is expected will appeal to farmers in a more popular way than organizations now in existence, it was announced by Lawrence Westbrook at a meeting of Central Texas farmers held Wednesday afternoon at the Waco chamber of commerce. Westbrook, chairman of Governor Moody's committee to work with the farm board, said the governor talked with him last night and expressed hope that "farmers will not obligate themselves with any other organization until the farm board announces its plan."

The farm board is selecting Texas as the first of the cotton states in which to set up its organization, Mr. Westbrook said. "While I do not know the exact nature of the plan they will approve," he added, "as a member of the governor's committee, I have been in close contact with the board representatives, and know that they contemplate a number of regional organizations in Texas, rather than one big State organization. The State is too big for a single group." Pointing out that only two per cent of Texas farmers are members of a cooperative, he said that "the chief of the bureau of cooperative marketing and one of his assistants came to Texas a month ago, and remained until a week ago, studying the situation, and I have confidence that the plan they will submit will be acceptable to a majority of the farmers and also to a majority of the business men."

'Family Night' To Be Held At Ritz This Week

"Family Night" will be observed at the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday nights of this week, according to announcement of the management.

The occasion of this unique feature will be the beginning of the new serial motion picture, "The Ace of Scotland Yard," which is to appear in installments at the Ritz Theatre every Friday and Saturday night for some months to come.

On these opening nights, an entire family will be admitted for only 50 cents. By "family" is meant a father, mother, and their children. Other relatives and "in-laws" will not count as members of the family.

This form of admission is only for the opening nights, November 29 and 30th.

FIRST PROCLAMATION FIXED THANKSGIVING ON THURSDAY

It is a far cry, indeed, from the dangerous, and frugal days of the Pilgrims and Puritans of 1621 to the era of 1929. Yet, America, snug and contented among all its conveniences and pleasures, must not forget to be thankful!

Well might each American read and ponder on the Thanksgiving day proclamation of the Father of His Country, who wrote:
"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these states to the services of that great and glorious Being, who is the beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be. That we then may all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country and previous to becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interposition of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degrees of tranquility, union, and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been able to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness.
"And also, that we may then unite credit up another year. He wants this paper and we are glad to give it to him in exchange for the long green.
New subscribers this week include R. H. DeLaney, Miss Maggie Lewis, Westbrook; S. S. Burrows, and J. H. Jackson, Westbrook.
A. L. Geer is another new subscriber. Buck is the son of our good friend, Lon Geer, general manager of the Texas Electric Service Co. Buck married one of Mitchell county's finest daughters, Miss Dale Hall.

in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private stations, to perform our duties properly and punctually, to render our national government a blessing to all the people, by constantly being a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, directly and faithfully obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations, especially those as have shown kindness unto us, and to bless them with good government, peace and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and generally to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.
G. Washington."

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCullough very delightfully entertained the Senior B. Y. P. U. Tuesday night with a social. After many interesting games and contests were played Bro. McBermett gave a splendid talk on the B. Y. P. U. work. The hostess served delicious cake and hot chocolate. The Blanch Rose Walker Circle met Nov. 25 with Mrs. E. J. Boatler. After a brief session Mrs. Holder gave the devotional, reading the entire eighth chapter of Romans. The next meeting will be with Mrs. McDermott. The charming hostess served dainty refreshments of coffee, sandwiches, and pineapple salad. The Lucille Reagan Circle met with Mrs. Lucas. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Logston. The Jewel Howard Circle met with Mrs. Homer Gregory, Mrs. Shannon leading the devotional. Mrs. Naugle, former correspondent for The Record at Westbrook, has moved from the city and the new correspondent will not start active work until next week.

GENERAL NEWS

TAKEN FROM EXCHANGES

One cow near Robstown has presented her owner with two sets of triplet calves in the last 13 months. When her husband refused permission for her to be operated on, a San Antonio woman appealed to county authorities, who informed her that they had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Boxes containing money given for the poor were looted in a Laredo church, not even a penny being left.

Informed that a strange dog was wandering around in a pen of his thoroughbred sheep, a Belton man grabbed his shotgun, fired, brought down one of his best ewes and the intruding canine scrambled through a hole in the fence and got away.

Instead of building a new school in a more central location, men of the Sims school district, near San Angelo, got a moving outfit and hauled the old building a mile and a half to the new site agreed upon.

It cost a Runnels county man $35 to hunt for wild turkeys, for he shot two prize tame gobblers by mistake.

Cafe handits at Houston broke and ran when a patron of the place they were holding up, having a bad cold, made a hip pocket move for his handkerchief.

Inside a Hallettsville church attracted passers-by, a 10-day-old baby was found in one of the pews and is now being taken care of by the night watchman and his wife.

Home Coming At Conaway Sunday Was Successful

(By Conaway Reporter)
The morning program last Sunday was given over to the ex-students. There were about 75 ex-students in attendance and they each made a speech.

It was a joy to all present to see the warm feeling expressed among the friends who were together for the first time in many years.

Some of the speakers stirred our hearts with their stories of the limited educational advantages of their day. And then we were convulsed with laughter to hear some of the pranks of our dignified patrons when they were school children.

Mrs. Byrd (Miss Willie Conaway) gave a complete history of the Conaway school. Mrs. Byrd has seen the school grow from a one-room shack to the modern brick construction. The teacher's salary has grown from $10 per month to the present total of $455 per month.

The feature of the morning program was the address by Mr. Pat Bullock, who is now the county superintendent of Scurry county. The people of this community enjoyed the talk very much and are indeed proud that Mr. Bullock is one of us. There have been many successful people gone out from this school.

During the noon hour tables were arranged in the halls, and about 250 people enjoyed the nice lunch prepared by the good ladies.

A large number of people came for the afternoon program. This program was surely an inspiration to all. The following program was rendered:

Song—Congregation.
Invocation—Rev. Ted Norton.
Special music—Mrs. Cecil C. Meskimen.
Dedication address—Rev. W. C. Ashford.
Dedicatory prayer—Rev. J. E. McDermott.

Stone Company Store Announces First Sale Here

The C. E. Stone Co. store of Colorado announces the first sale attempted by this store since its establishment here last year.

The big Pre-Holiday sale of this store will open Friday, November 29. W. W. Cagle, manager, announces. In speaking of this, Cagle said:

"C. E. Stone Company breaks all its precedents by offering the people of this county such a sale as has never been seen in this part of the country. Why? Because from our opening day this store has enjoyed a remarkable business built upon the people's desire for true values. As a result of your confidence in us, we are giving you an opportunity to do your winter buying and Christmas shopping at these drastic price reductions. If you will remember, C. E. Stone Company has never staged a sale in this city. Hence this great value-giving event is all the more remarkable."

First Sale In 16 Years For Sam L. Majors

Sam L. Majors, jeweler, this week announces his first sale in 16 years. The sale which opens next Saturday is to be a big store-wide, price smashing event, Majors announces.

The Majors store has been in business here many years and has always held the reputation of offering high-grade jewelry at low prices, but this price-slashing event will be more than has ever been attempted here, Mr. Majors says.

The store will be closed all day Friday to prepare for the opening of the sale Saturday.

Every item in the store, including new Christmas goods, will go into the sale.

STOCK GAMBLERS HIT BOTTOM WITH A COLD THUD

One New York writer, in an article surveying the recent stock market break, tells us that while a little money has been made on Wall Street, money has been lost by the billions.

You can pick up a yacht or an automobile almost at your own figure, says this writer. A new Rolls-Royce was seen parked at a Long Island railway station with a hand-painted sign which read:

"This car for sale for $300 down. No one paid any attention to it.

On the evening of the first panic one theatrical agency in the Broadway section—one of dozens—received 174 cancellations for theatre tickets. The hardest thing to get in New York ordinarily, is a ticket to the opening night of the Metropolitan. Speculators will pay any price for them.

This year the papers carried advertisements of season tickets for sale not only for the opening but for almost any evening of the week following.

Steamship agencies who advertise de luxe cruises to the Mediterranean and to the Orient found themselves flooded with cancellations. There were orders to stop the work on fur coats at various smart shops.

Chorus girls stood in line outside a bank on 44th street, minus their diamond sparklers, their bracelets—and their smiles—bargaining for a little actual cash. No one has seen an "angel" for days.

Five and ten cent stores felt a real boom in business. Ten cent purchases were about all anyone felt like making after the panic.

A grim bit of humor was reported by the head of a large brokerage firm that lost everything. Asked how things were going, he said:

"We'd be darn glad to sell the whole island back to the Indians for $24—if the Indians could pay cash."

Broadway producers are having cold shivers. When the "bills" roamed the range, the play bet came to depend more and more upon "the street" for backers and "angels." But the angels have had their wings clipped and the backers have lost their fronts. It's a chilly day for a fellow who wants to raise money for a theatrical production. Reports indicate that many a play which has been sliding along on prospects will close hastily and that many a drama which was to be produced will never see the bright lights.

Up and down Mazda Lane, the story is repeated over and over—"Yeah, but where yah going to get the money?"

The Methodist Sunday school was well attended last Sunday, with 161 present and $5.83 offering. Though it was dismal and cold outside, there was spiritual refreshment and genial warmth on the inside.

Rev. J. M. Cochran filled his regular 11 o'clock appointment, choosing as his text the 15th verse of the 17th chapter of Psalms, "As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness."

Rev. Cochran, with the help of his good wife, has labored faithfully and untiringly with us for a whole year. That they have been deeply interested in the work is evidenced in the fact that they have put forth every effort for the advancement of the Kingdom. They have been interested in the welfare of all, young and old, and have inspired and encouraged many to take the training courses offered by the church. They have performed well their duty of visiting the sick and strangers, regardless of religious belief, and we believe we voice the sentiments of every one of the church in saying we are glad the Conference favored us with their return to Loraine for another year.

We also have a good Sunday school superintendent, Mr. J. M. Bruce. His every-day life is a great lesson within itself.

So let us all be present at Sunday school at 10 a. m., and bring some one with us. If the school is not what you think it should be, come out and help make it so.—Reporter.

The parents and teachers of the school met in a "Get-Together" meeting at the school building Thursday evening at 7:30 and organized a Parent-Teachers' association with the following officers: Mrs. Essie Blackard, president; Mrs. Exa Hammond, secretary; Emmet Blasingame, treasurer; Curtis Rogers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Annie Glover, first vice president; M. L. Campbell, second vice president; Mrs. Blasingame, third vice president; Miss Johnny Chesney, fourth vice president. It was voted to meet twice each month. Next meeting will be December 5. Be sure and attend. After the business session, a very interesting program was given by the pupils. This was greatly appreciated by all.

J. V. Glover and mother, Mrs. Annie Glover, attended the home-coming at Conaway school last Sunday.

Misses Johnny Chesney and Burnice Ramsey spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bodine.

Rev. J. F. Farmer, new pastor of the Methodist church, visited in the Buford community Sunday.

Miss Aldred Bodine is very ill with tonsillitis.

Mrs. Luther Feaster, who was operated on for appendicitis several weeks ago, came home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Prentice of Ft. Worth have been visiting in the home of Mr. Prentice's brother, Mr. J. B. Prentice, the past week.

A party was greatly enjoyed by the young folks of this community at the home of Mrs. Minnie Evatt Friday night.

Misses Sadie Simpson, Fay Bedford, Etta Mae Padgett and Hazel Fortenberry, look birthday dinner with Miss Royal Collins Sunday.

There will be a box supper at the church house on the night of December 6th, for the church and B. Y. P. U., the funds to be used to make repairs on the church. Come and bring your boxes.

We have two new pupils this week, Hubert Feaster and Elizabeth Crabtree.

The Powells and Briggs had a reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Powell Sunday. There were 53 present, and a most wonderful time was reported by all.

Claude Cordell of Lubbock spent Sunday with Mrs. Exa Hammond.

Mrs. Curtis Rogers was very ill on Sunday and Monday, but is better at this writing.

Clifton Dennis of Big Spring visited in the homes of J. H. and Reece Bedford last Monday.

E. M. McCrea visited Reece Bedford and family Sunday.

Several persons from other sections and communities were at the singing at China Grove last Sunday afternoon, one of whom was Mr. Lee Roberts of Snyder.

The box supper on Friday evening was well attended, considering the bad weather. The amount made was $48.50. Principal Earl Powers of the Rogers school acted as auctioneer. A cake was given to Miss Ruth Hart, she receiving the most votes as the most popular girl of this community.

Mrs. J. A. Webb and son Harvey and Olen Hart left Monday for an extended visit to Ellis county.

Buck Costin of Chalk City visited his mother, Mrs. J. N. Calaway last Sunday.

Miss Estelle Sheppard of Big Spring visited friends here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rogers and family visited in Longfellow Sunday.

Carson Haller of Abilene attended the program Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Glover and son Vernon of Buford attended the program at Conoway Sunday.

Everyone is doing nicely in our class. Our parents are getting much enthused over the work we are accomplishing and are proud of our good grades. We are liking geometry fine.

Aubrey Morris, Atale Glass and Jay Cooper were absent from class Monday. They are missing much by not being here for algebra. We are liking Spanish better every day, and getting so we can hardly speak in English now.

The Conoway girls played Westbrook girls an interesting game of basketball Friday. The scores were 17 to 4 in favor of Westbrook. The weather was very inclement.

We are working and planning on a real team this year.

The Conoway boys were defeated by the Westbrook boys Friday, by a score of 16-29. The Conoway boys had had only one week of practice.

Spade Spuddings

We are having some beautiful weather this week.

The box supper given by Methodists for the purpose of raising funds to pay for a piano was a great success. Though the night was cold and rainy, there was a large crowd in attendance. The stage of the auditorium was lined with beautiful boxes. There was a good bidding spirit prevailing throughout the evening and considerable interest.

Miss Faye McDonald of Hyman won the cake for the prettiest girl, and Mr. G. W. VanZandt carried off the "pie" for best looking (?) man. Dr. C. L. Root auctioned the boxes. The Hyman singing class favored us with class singing, duets and quartets. Dr. Root also favored us with two good Irish songs. A good time was enjoyed and a total of $107.07 was realized. This was sufficient to finish paying for the piano, and everybody is happy.

Rev. Garner filled his regular appointment here Sunday morning and night, and large crowds were in attendance. Rev. Garner has been returned to Spade for another year and everyone is rejoicing over this fact.

Rev. A. D. Leach will preach at his regular time this week-end. Let's all come out to church and hear Bro. Leach.

Sunday school at both churches at 10 o'clock, and preaching services at Baptist church at 11 o'clock. There will be a course in Sunday school work at 3 o'clock.

The Senior B. Y. P. U. of Westbrook church will send a program at the Baptist church here Sunday afternoon, following the teaching of the Sunday school course by Rev. Mr. Leach. Everybody should attend.

School is progressing nicely. All the teachers and pupils are endeavoring to make this the best school year Spade has ever had.

The P. T. A. met Tuesday night of this week. This is not regular date, but we did not meet last week on account of the box supper.

The Spade school was dismissed on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the week, in order that the pupils may observe Thanksgiving.

Some of the Spade people are now away on deer hunting trips, and others will be away for Thanksgiving.

Valley View Visits

By J. C. ANGEL

The box supper at the school house Friday night was a great success. Despite the bad weather the house was crowded and the music rendered by the Loraine Band was enjoyed very much by the audience. Homer Rieburg of Loraine, who sings those Jimmie Rogers songs, entertained the audience with his singing and yodeling. Valley View does not take the credit for putting over the box supper in such a big way, but thanks those outside the community who so generously helped. Especially do we thank J. H. Greene of the Colorado Chamber of Commerce, who brought merchandise from the Colorado merchants, and helped with the sales. We also thank Judge C. C. Thompson who helped with the auctioning, and Judge J. C. Hall of Loraine for bringing the Loraine band; also Mr. Allen Kuykendall who brought the fine black-eyed peas; also the merchants of Loraine, Colorado and China Grove who furnished merchandise to be sold; also patrons of the school who furnished canned goods to be sold.

The box supper was given under auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association, and the proceeds of $95.00 will be used by the association for the school.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Witt and family visited relatives in Roscoe last Sunday.

The Tom McGuire place was purchased by Ernest Brown who will probably move to the place the first of next year.

There will be a community Thanksgiving dinner at the schoolhouse at noon Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Davis and son, Leonard, visited in the F. W. Beights home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sheffield of Burnaker visited in the home of F. W. Beights Sunday.

Brother Lockhart of Abilene filled his regular appointment at the Valley View church Sunday.

ANOTHER HUNTING JOKE OUT

Another joke on Sam Venable is out. One of the hunting party composed of Venable, G. W. Womack, Will Berry and Chester Berry, which returned from Mason county Friday, tells that Venable chased an armadillo a half mile and finally caught it by falling over a rock and on top of it. They said Sam thought it was a young deer but we know better than that. He might have thought it was a big terrapin—doubtless did. He had to kill something, so he shot the armadillo and brought the game into camp.

WHY EVERY VETERAN SHOULD JOIN LEGION

By JOE Y. FRASER

Every veteran of the World War should join the American Legion— Because your interest in disabled comrades can be expressed effectively through the American Legion. —Because the American Legion caused the organization of the United States Veterans' Bureau. —Because every piece of legislation for the benefit of the ex-service man has found the American Legion behind it. —Because the adjusted compensation certificate which you have and which has been the means of collateral for making loans at cheap interest was put through the Congress by the American Legion. —Because when you do not belong to the American Legion you are letting those fellows do all the fighting and you are doing the Gold Bricking. —Because the American Legion is fostering and promoting patriotism. —Because in 1922, during the unemployment crisis, the American Legion assisted 700,000 veterans to obtain jobs. —Because your membership in the American Legion entitles you to a subscription to the American Legion Monthly. It is among the largest of the magazines of its kind in the United States. —Because you will become a member of the strongest organization of World War veterans in the U. S. —Because Legionnaires are daily giving their time, money and labor to constructive work for the benefit of the public. —Because the American Legion's highest purpose is to insure that the ideals and traditions for which we fought may be preserved in our country now and for all times to come. —Because the Local, State and National dues all combined is only $5 per year in Grant C. Hooker Post No. 127, Colorado, Texas. —Because members of the American Legion in Colorado have assisted hundreds of veterans in securing loans on their adjusted compensation certificates, assisted in presenting their claims before the Veteran's Bureau and have assisted many stranded veterans in a financial way. You fellows who are laying out of the Legion but have received Veteran's Bureau benefits are the same fellows who were late at Reveille, late at Retreat, laid up and slept while your buddies did the policing and were late everywhere except for mess call and "pay day."

There are a few things you guys who do not belong to the American Legion ought to know and you would never know unless you read some paper which had an article in it by a Legionnaire telling you these things. December 31, 1929, is absolutely the last day in which a veteran may apply for adjusted compensation. It is doubtful that the American Legion will ask the Congress to extend the time further. Mothers, wives, sisters, fathers and brothers should ask their veterans whether or not they have applied for adjusted compensation and if not they should be urged to do so. If a veteran is for any reason unable to make application personally, some one may do it for him. Claims for compensation for disability connected with service may be filed by a veteran himself, for a dependent wife, for dependent child, for dependent parents or for dependent sons of deceased veterans. Certificate in lieu of lost discharge will be supplied by the War or Navy department. Many men whose service was "honorable" received the "blue" discharges when they left the service. Where facts justify, the blue discharge will be exchanged for the honorable discharge certificate by the Adjutant General, U. S. Army of Washington, D. C.

In case of death of a World War veteran, the Veteran's Bureau ordinarily is authorized to pay $100 for burial expenses, plus $7 for a flag to be placed on the coffin. Burial allowance is made where decedent had a total assets of $1,000 or less. Hospitalization may be obtained by application to the Regional Office of the Veteran's Bureau at Dallas, Texas. If disability is not service connected, special application forms are provided. With these forms should be submitted statement by applicants physician showing physical condition and need for treatment. World War Veterans disabled by disease or wounds and temporarily incapable of earning a living are entitled to residence in a National Soldiers Home. Full information may be had from President, Board of Managers, National Military Home, Dayton, Ohio.

All deceased United States Veterans of any war are entitled to be buried in the National Cemetery or entitled to headstones wherever they are buried. All Confederate Veterans who have died are also entitled to a headstone to be furnished by the Quartermaster General of the Army, Washington, D. C.

In 1929 there are over 800,000 Legionnaires. If you were not one of them last year, be one in a Million this year.

CLIMAX OF FOOTBALL SEASON TOMORROW IN WOLVES-STEER GAME

Colorado And Big Spring, Ancient Grid Foes, To Meet Here

The high light of Colorado's football season comes tomorrow afternoon (Thursday), Thanksgiving day, when the Wolves meet their ancient grid foes, the Big Spring Steers, on Cantrell field. The game begins at 2:30 p. m.

No game in this section, according to the Big Spring Herald, offers more color or more assurance of a fight from the first whistle to the final gun. The Southwest conference may have its ancient foes and there may be keen rivalry between Harvard, Yale and Princeton, but there is no more tradition surrounding collegiate matches of any region than exists between Big Spring and Colorado.

Until this year, Colorado and Big Spring were both Class B schools, and, therefore, clashed in the struggle for district championship. This year Big Spring has stepped up into Class A by reason of her enrollment, but the rivalry between the Wolves and Steers has abated not a whit.

Although neither team has had a season to crow about, the winner in the match Tuesday will feel that his past defeats of the season have faded into comparative insignificance.

A special train will run from Big Spring to Colorado for the game on Thursday.

The Wolves did the best work of the season at Spar last week, although they were defeated. Since a clash with Big Spring always brings out the best fighting spirit of both

Weight of Hog Is Object Of Guessing Test

The guessing contest at the Poultry show last Friday and Saturday, wherein the weight of Mitchell county's largest hog was the object to test the guessing ability of many visitors, attracted unusual attention. D. M. Logan & Sons, Purina Chow dealers, offered a prize of $5.00 to the first person guessing the correct weight or the nearest correct weight and this prize was won by M. C. Ratliff, who guessed 857 pounds, the correct weight of the hog.

The hog was raised and is owned by Jim P. Hestand of Buford. It is registered Duroc Jersey boar, two years and five days old. At the age of 18 months the hog weighed 756 pounds, which was the last time the hog had been weighed until Saturday. The hog had been fed Purina Pig Chow and home-grown feeds.

The hog and guessing contest attracted unusual attention. The size of the hog was the major attraction, of course.

opinion is that the Wolves will do the most strenuous playing of the entire season Thursday when they go up against the Steers. Last year, when the Wolves met Big Spring on Armistice day in Big Spring, they snapped out of a dull season to score six against Big Spring and hold that team down to a score of 12, the Steers' second touchdown being made in the last few minutes of play.

Officials for the game here Thursday, according to Coach R. H. Cantrell, will be: Harry Taylor, T. C. U. referee; Mose Simms, Simmons University, umpire; Mr. Spikes of Texas University, head lineman.

DEATH CLAIMS ANNIE STARR POND, 13, AFTER YEARS OF ILL HEALTH

Funeral Services Are Held at Home of Parents Friday

The death angel entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pond and took from them their only daughter, Annie Starr, aged 13, on Tuesday night, Nov. 21, 1920.

Annie Starr was born in Colorado on July 12, 1916. She had never been a strong child, and her remaining with us even these seemingly few years was due to the watchful and tender care that her father and mother bestowed upon her, giving every medical attention and change of climate, hoping thereby to nurse the tender bud into full womanhood. But the all-wise Heavenly Father had other plans for this gentle, winsome child and she leaves behind her a vacant place and broken hearts that only time can heal and leave a tender memory.

Annie Starr Pond was a member of the Baptist church and lived a cheerful Christian life during all of her suffering. She is survived by her father and mother, a brother, Billy, her grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Starr Johnson of Meridian, Miss., who were unable to be with her in her last illness. There are a number of other relatives in Mississippi, as well as a large group of Pond relations in Colorado.

Annie Starr was laid to rest Friday at 3 p. m., Mr. Elliott of the First Presbyterian church conducting the services at the home. Her schoolmates and teachers attended the funeral in a body. A host of friends and neighbors offered their sincerest sympathy to the grief-stricken family in this dark hour of bereavement, and attested their love and sympathy by their beautiful floral offerings. Spade Ships 15 Cars of Yearlings To Lubbock Ranch

The Spade ranch shipped 15 cars of steer yearlings to pasture near Lubbock Tuesday. About 750 head were in this shipment which moved from the Spade pasture south of Colorado.

About the same number of heifer yearlings will be shipped to the Ellwood feed lots at DeKalb, Illinois, next week, according to O. F. Jones, manager of the Mitchell-Sterling county Spade properties.

Mr. Jones said Monday that the Spade has over 100 sections of pasture that is pretty barren. About half of the Spade is in fair shape but the rest is short of grass, he said. Recent moisture has brought up some weeds but additional moisture will be needed to make this range carry any number of cattle, he said.

Mr. Jones and W. L. Ellwood purchased about 3,000 head of calves south of San Angelo for fall delivery and a total of about 5,000 head were purchased by them. Most of these have already gone to the Spade pastures near Lubbock. Jones still has about 700 head of the yearlings purchased south of Angelo.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS FINALLY GET RINGS.

Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 20, the Seniors received their "long-awaited-for" rings. The last rings were paid for Wednesday, and now 55 proud Seniors can be seen gallantly sporting them around.

The Seniors believe that their rings are the most beautiful finger ornaments that any Senior class in Colorado High School has ever had.

EIGHT HIGH SCHOOLS HAVE ENTERED TEAMS IN DEBATE TOURNEY

Number of Contestants In Meet To Be Held Here In Dec. Growing

With teams from high schools of eight towns in this section already entered, contestants in the debate tournament to be held in Colorado High school and sponsored by the public speaking department of the school are growing in number daily. Early this week forty-eight teams had been entered in the contest, and letters had been received indicating that other high schools would have contestants at the meet, which will probably be the largest gathering of debaters ever held in Texas.

The following schools have entered teams in the tourney up to date: Roscoe, ten teams; Stanton, nine teams; Sweetwater, eight teams; San Angelo, eight teams; Cisco, five teams; Winters, two teams; Midland, two teams.

John W. Cobb, debate coach in Colorado High school, is training 14 teams to represent Colorado in the meet.

The general purpose of the meet, according to Mr. Cobb, is to encourage more and better debating in West Texas high schools. The specific purpose is to give students something to work for besides the Interscholastic League.

"It is hoped," Mr. Cobb stated, "that this tournament may stimulate the interest in debate to the point of bringing about the formation of a permanent debating organization. Should this happen, students would be urged to debate the entire year, rather than about two months as is ordinarily done."

Balanced Ration For Hens Pays Mrs. W. H. Gregory

Mrs. W. H. Gregory of Westbrook, Texas, is featured in an article entitled, "Ration That Brought Eggs," in the December issue of Capper's Farmer, a national farm magazine published at Topeka, Kansas, by Senator Arthur Capper.

In this article the author says that 35 days after Mrs. W. H. Gregory started feeding her flock of 130 White Leghorn hens and pullets an egg-laying mash, the production had increased two-thirds. According to the author, she had been feeding grain sorghums with a small amount of skim milk, but it was not sufficient amount to balance the grain. The first ten days she fed the mash she gathered an average of 30 eggs a day. The last ten days of the period the hens averaged 50.2 eggs a day. "The flock now lays enough eggs in 2 1/2 days to pay for a sack of feed," Mrs. Gregory said.

Colored Health Nurse Inspects Negro Children

Fifty-two colored children were inspected last week by Annie Maie Mathes, State colored health nurse, according to her report. The most common defects found in these children were bad teeth and diseased tonsils.

Several home visits were made by the State health nurse concerning defective children, and infant and pre-natal visits have also been made.

She reports that but few of the children inspected had been vaccinated against smallpox.

FOOTBALL GAME BE PLAYED BY LUNCHEON CLUB AND LIONS CLUB

Challenge Made By Luncheon Club Accepted At Last Meeting of Lions

The challenge to a football game from the Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club delivered to the Colorado Lions club was accepted by the latter last Friday noon and President Randle appointed Joe Pond, Rollins Clark and W. A. Rose as a committee to confer with the Luncheon club committee and make arrangements and set date for the game.

The game is to be played on Cantrell field and Coach Cantrell is to be referee. The game will be played some time after Thanksgiving.

The main feature of this game will be that "beef" will be pitted against more "beef" and brawn against brawn. If there is to be any brains in the line-up it is to be discovered, because the line-up has not been announced. It is almost certain that Thos. Dawes, Willie Porter, Everett Winn, Allen Connell, and Charlie Thompson will be in the line-up for the Lions club. What the Luncheon club expects to do against this line is beyond hazzarding a guess. If they do anything it will be a surprise.

When these two teams meet on Cantrell field the slaughter will be great and the dentists and physicians who are members of these clubs are urged to be present with emergency kits, because the game will likely result in somebody getting "banged up," but it will be fun anyway, not only for the fans but the players.

We use filtered rain-soft water in laundering your CLOTHES —and that is just one reason why things washed OUR way come back cleaner and last longer!

Six hundred gallons of filtered, rain-soft water is our average for each family washing. The water is changed over and over again—from nine to twelve times depending on the article.

Each fabric receives the laundering process proved best by scientific tests. Colors that are suspected of not being fast are washed separately. Silks, woolsens, etc., are given special handling.

Such care as this insures longer life for your clothes. And it costs surprisingly little. Call for a routeman and let him help you choose the particular service that fits your requirements and your budget.

3:30, "Evangelism, the Life-Giving and Sustaining Power of the Church"—W. F. Ferguson.

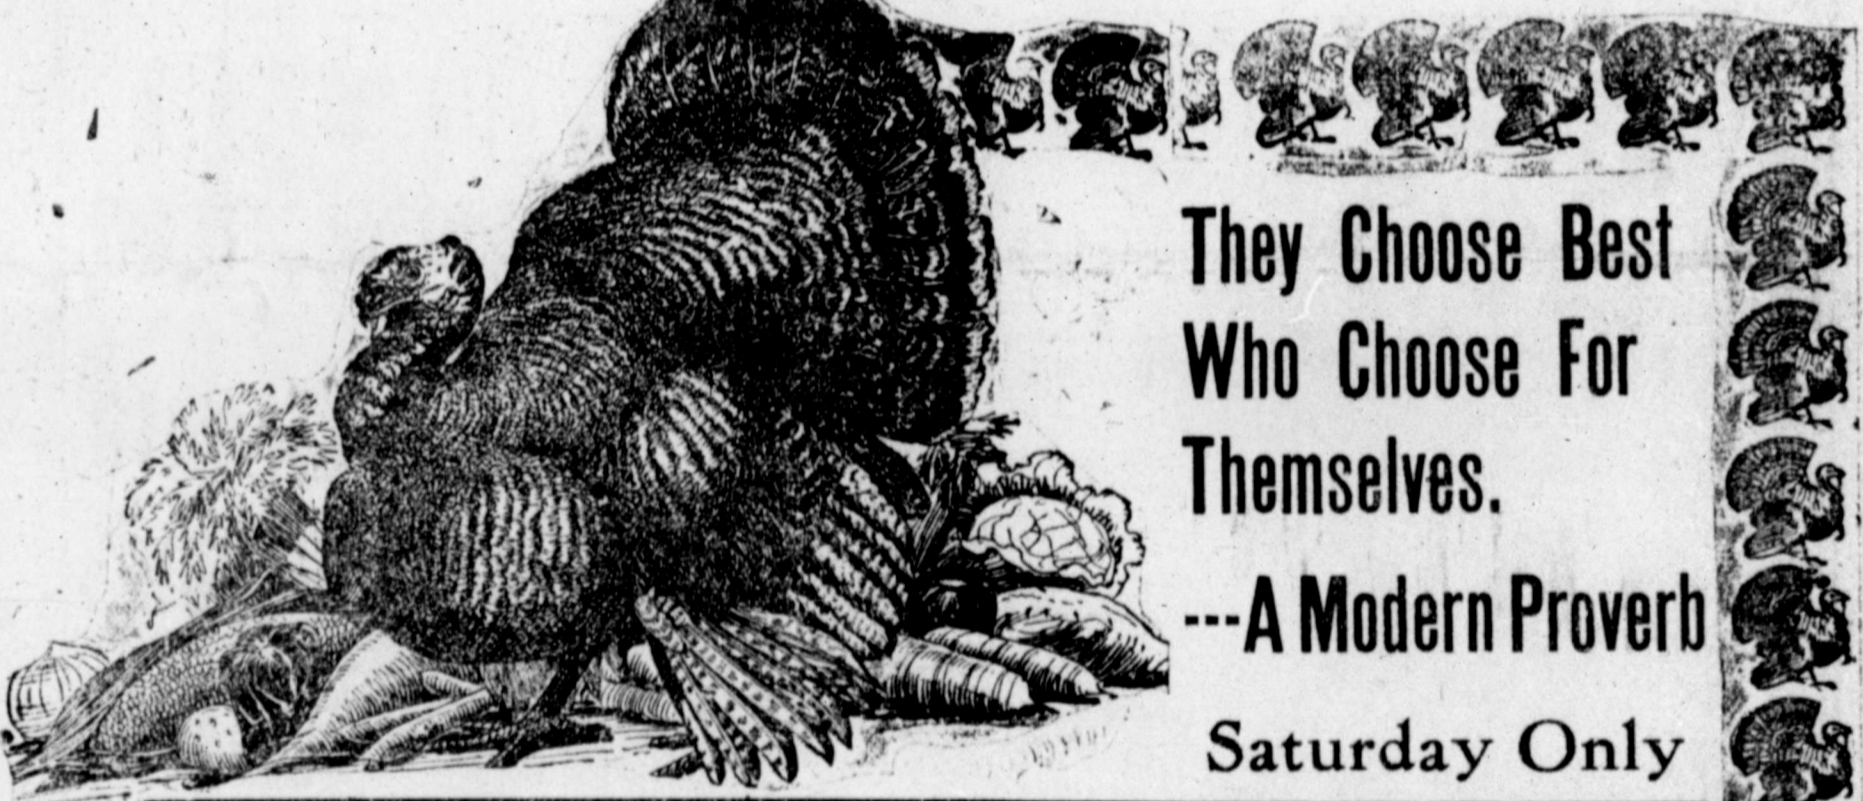

4:00 p. m., Next place of meeting.

'Rio Rita' To Be Shown Here During Dec.

"Rio Rita," with Bebe Daniels and John Boles, the successful talking picture from the famous musical comedy of that name, will be shown at the Palace Theatre during the first part of December, according to announcement of the management.

This picture stars Bebe Daniels and John Boles, who made such a hit in "The Desert Song." It is hailed as a wonderful talking and singing picture, and the costumes and settings are gorgeous.

This picture has just completed a four-weeks' run in Dallas. Watch for the date.

A beautiful collection of Western landscapes done by a Mr. Teel of El Paso were on exhibition and for sale at the Colorado hotel Friday, Saturday and Monday. These were in charge of a Mrs. Waller and were well worth seeing.

Of interest to Colorado people was the fact that Mr. Teel married Miss Belle Chaplin of this town, and has become an artist since their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomas, with whom Miss Chaplin lived, purchased a picture.

Mrs. W. N. Crosthwaite's mother, Mrs. C. C. Dawson and sister, Mrs. Hamlin of Colorado Springs, Colo., who have been visiting here, left on Tuesday for San Antonio, where they will spend the winter.

Treatment is based on three fundamental steps

CLEANSING • TONING • NOURISHING

The cleansing—with Venetian Cleansing Cream—rids the pores of all impurities which cause blackheads and coarseness. The Toning—with Ardena Skin Tonic and Special Astringent—clarifies the skin and firms the contours. The Nourishing—with Orange Skin Food or the delicate Vela Cream—rounds out lines and wrinkles. These three steps, which supply every need of the skin to keep it naturally clear and lovely, should be a part of your daily care of your skin at home.

HEALTH PROGRAM BY BUFORD AND IATAN IS HEARD BY LIONS CLUB

Pupils Present Playlet and Conduct "Nature Court" As Part Program

The program at the Lions club meeting Friday noon was decidedly the best enjoyed in several weeks, according to statement of members present.

Pupils of the Buford school under auspices of the Buford Junior Health club and members of the Iatan Junior Health club conducted a health program that was indeed enjoyable as well as instructive. This program was arranged under direction of Miss Olga Buresh, State health nurse, who has been working in Mitchell county for six weeks, and who left Monday for Vernon to begin six-weeks' work in Wilbarger county.

Miss Hazel Fortenberry, president of the Buford Junior Health club, gave a splendid talk on the work of the Junior health clubs as conducted by the health nurse.

The Buford club conducted a court in which those charged with violation of "nature's" laws were tried and sentenced to death or long suffering and shorter lives by "Judge Nature" who presided behind an improvised court bench erected on the stage. The scene was impressive, but called forth much fun. The cast of characters in this follows:

Judge Nature—J. V. Glover, principal of Buford school.

Prosecuting Attorney—Joe Leonard Blackard.

Hank Smith, who used bunion pad as shield for vaccination wound—Horace Padgett.

Silas Jones, who was not in business for his health—Bruce Redman.

Miranda Jenkins, who drank milk which contained the germs of typhoid. (The town council did not require the milk to be pasteurized)—Opal Rogers.

Si Wilkins, charged with harboring a pair of diseased tonsils—Mardell Feaster.

Jesse Sims and Sam Hicks, who had total disregard for Nature's laws—Kermit Hoover and W. G. VanStory.

Mary Lewis, who abused her baby because she did not know how to care for it—Ethel Padgett.

Jennie Perkins, who had a little growth on her lip that turned out to be a cancer—Edna Fortenberry. A playlet, "Mother Learns a Lesson" was featured by Iatan Junior Health club. This playlet portrayed the visit of a Junior Health club girl to a home of a mother with a small baby and the grandmother, who still clung to the old haphazard way of caring for the baby.

The play provoked much merriment, besides being an instructive feature. Miss Myrtle Gregson, a teacher of Iatan school, portrayed the eccentric grandmother; Miss Ruby Galtiff, the mother, and Miss Josephine Barker, the Junior Health club girl.

Seven Wells Boys Speak

Three small boys from the Seven Wells school were brought in by Urda Wulfjen at request of Col. C. M. Adams, chairman of the entertainment committee. Each of these boys delivered a speech on boys and their troubles. The speeches were funny and the boys sure got a laugh from the Lions. The three boys were Jack Wallace, Bubba Hughes and J. D. Wulfjen.

Other guests who were introduced and spoke were Roland Burchard of Washington, D. C., a guest of J. M. Thomas; Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent; Mrs. J. G. Merritt, publicity chairman of the county health program; Miss Olga Buresh, State health nurse, and Mike Porter.

Miss Buresh spoke on her work in the county for the past six weeks and gave statistics on the number of defects found among school children of the county. Every school in the county was visited by Miss Buresh, and she said many of the defects in teeth, vision, etc., had already been corrected. Dr. R. D. Bridgford, local dentist, accompanied Miss Buresh on many of these visits and conducted the dental examinations. The nurse has accomplished much good in the health program during her short stay in Mitchell county.

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Merritt appealed to the Lions club members to support plans to secure a health nurse for Mitchell county for full time.

Dr. R. D. Bridgford, dentist, was introduced as a new member of the Lions Club. He was elected to membership three weeks ago, but this was his first time to be called upon. He expressed satisfaction at becoming a member.

Williams Urges Farmers Adopt Crop Rotation

Doyle Williams, instructor of vocational agriculture in the Colorado high school, at request of this paper, has given us a splendid article on "Crop Rotation." Williams urges farmers of Mitchell county to seriously consider the matter of proper crop rotation and fertility of the soil. Every farmer should heed the advice offered in this article so far as possible, which is as follows:

"Farmers of this county have been enjoying fairly high yields from their land in the past but will these yields continue under the present system of soil management. The farmer should begin, with his next crop, a program which will maintain and restore the fertility of the soil. Take time to observe the farmers who have a good system of soil management and observe if he is still enjoying a comparatively high yield. The first thing to consider in planning a system of soil management is crop rotation, which may be defined as the planting of different crops at recurring succession on the same piece of land.

"Some of the benefits of crop rotation are first aids in the control of insects, diseases and weeds; second, makes possible the growing of soil building crops; third, distributes labor evenly throughout the year; fourth, distributes plant food over a longer period of years; fifth, rest the land by growing shallow and deep feeders; sixth, add organic matter to the soil; seventh, helps control erosion; eighth, keeps land occupied the greater part of the time; ninth, systematizes farming; tenth, improves physical condition of soil.

"The two factors which determine a good rotation are proper crops and the planting of these crops in their proper order. Every rotation should include at least one legume with as many other crops as the climatic conditions will permit. The farmers here can easily practice a two or a three-year rotation by increasing their feed crops and introduce cowpeas, soy beans or peanuts as the legume."

COMMERCIAL WORK IN G. H. S. BEGAN IN TERM OF 1924

Department Has Now Grown To Place of Great Importance

In reviewing the history of department in Colorado High School, the commercial and vocational commercial department cannot be overlooked.

Commercial work was first placed in the Colorado high school in 1924. Typing was the first subject of this kind in the school. Shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial law, commercial arithmetic, and commercial geography worked their way in later, and now every course in the Commercial department is affiliated.

Mrs. McDaniels, who now lives at Fortson, was the first teacher of typing. She taught in 1924.

The classes had many hardships to contend with the first year. The room which they occupied was very small, about 8x16. It was part of a north hall in the old high school building. There were no windows, and only one door. They used a small oil stove for heating. The room was often too cold, because of students coming in and out. They had no typewriters. For substitute, a shelf was nailed to the wall and the eight Underwood typewriters were placed on it. About 48 pupils took typing the first year—Clyde Cook, Moco Grantland, John Helton, Cona Oliver, Edith Simpson, Fern Thompson, Minerva Wyatt, Walter Carr, Paul Hargrove, Ruth Helton, Laura Louise Person, Frank Pidgeon, Lillian Pond, Elmer Lay Powell, Ed Young, Ardal Bandy, Harold Brennan, Ethel Luce, Jewell McDonald, Narcisse Riddell, Naoma Rogers, Ervin Plaster, J. W. Chase, Mildred Cook, Joe Key, Lois Price, Kirby Rice, Margaret Sandusky, John Henry Stoneham, Elizabeth Terrell, Hugh Elliott, Sue Roberts Stoneham, Rosa Lee Leslie, Mary Abbey, Raymond Gary, Huron Gist, Berrie Grabbie, Grace Hunter, Perry VanZandt, J. E. McCleary, Maxine Root, Beatrice Logan, Harold Brown, Lenora Shurtleff, Dudley Snyder, Edna Mohler, Douglas Barber, Thomas Allen, and Irma Womack.

The second year there were very few changes made. Several town students entered: Dick Delaney, Homer Hutchinson, Sallie Miller, Jack Hale, Lula Helton, Willis Jones. The other students were: Mary Hughes, Evelyn Moser, Maxine Thomas, Edna Mohler, Opal Miller, Lilla Neil Freeman, Margaret McCorkle, Kathryn Price, Katherine Thompson, Jimmie Deal, Vera Gaskins, John Doss, John Edwards, Edwin Folkes, Frank Pidgeon, James Venable, Finis Vowell, Perry VanZandt, Elizabeth Terrell, Dimples Way, Douglas Barber, Helen Hamer, Murray Jordan, Eula Gross, Willie Fay Hall, Lee Dorn, Loucious Smith, Juanita Hart, Jessie and Mildred Cook, Sue Roberts Stoneham, Ben Lee Costin, Fred Hutchinson, Mike Porter, Irma Womack, Vera Gaskins, Geraldine Baze, Alice Spalding, Virginia Webb, D. W. Morgan, Mary Basham, Charles Delaney, Riggs Sheppard, Bert Walflen, Arstead Spalding, and Taft Morris.

The middle of the second year they were moved to the new high school. Here a room was given to the typing class. Bookkeeping was taught that year.

In the second year after Christmas the shorthand class was taught by Mr. C. A. Wilkins. At this time, 18 students entered this class because they thought it was a "snap course." When Mr. Wilkins made them study like a shorthand student should study to get anything out of the course, all the students got or got married except seven or eight.

The typing department had 70 students this third year and Miss Vea was teacher. Mr. Hall finished out the third year and began the fourth year commercial work. In February, the fourth year, Miss Cooper came. She has made many changes for this department, and has helped more to build up a real Commercial department than any other teacher. It was during this year that the vocational classes were added for the employed people of the town. Its object is to raise the standard of efficiency among the clerks, salesmen, stenographers, bookkeepers, and managers of business by giving them such work that will enable them to carry on their business in a more efficient way.

Miss Cooper is with us again this year, the fifth year of the commercial work in the Colorado high school. She stands ready to do anything she can to help the students and business houses with their work. This year three noiseless typewriters were added. One of these was put in Mr. Peck's office. The Remington he had in his office was put into the typing room along with the other two new noiseless machines.

The Vocational department is so new it has not been able to function as well as it will in the future. There are plans being made this year to have Miss Laura Murray from the University of Texas to come to Colorado in January and make a business survey of the town. From this survey the commercial department of the high school, and the Women's Business Club of the town, hope to give the business men real service.

Those that joined the Vocational class February 1, when the class was first organized, were Leone Alliford, Kate Bean, Clippie Bennett, Mrs. Lois Prude Bennett, Annes Berry, J. W. Chase, Hazel Costin, Mrs. Thomas Day, Elliott Dixon, Mattie Dorn, Beatha Duke, Ruth Edwards, Marie Elliott, Eula Gross, Helen Hamer, A. J. Haines, Mrs. Clyde Haney, Marie Henderson, J. M. Herrington, Mrs. R. M. Jones, Eril King, J. Ralph Lee, M. Levinson, Lena Lipps, Lena Smith Mann, Mildred Martin, Lila McCurry, Sallie Miller, Violet Messer, Florida Nolen, Kirby Rice, Ed W. Robinson, Laundry Smith, Mrs. J. W. Sheppard, Marguerite Stoneham, Sue Roberts Stoneham, and Mayme Taylor. Some of these found it impossible to remain in the class to the end of the year, but most of them have remained and have become excellent students. The following given in outline form shows the progress that the pupils have made in four months:

One-half hour, four days of the week, was the time given to each subject except commercial law. This subject was taught one hour a week on Monday only.

In typing in a year's time at college, the students are required to hand in 30 lessons and make a speed of 30 words per minute. They are given an hour's lesson, five days per week. Our vocational commercial students with one-half hour per week for four days a week, handed in according to the time they could give to the subject outside of school, from 12 to 30 lessons and their speed was from 12 to 31 words per minute.

One student who just started the work in February received her certificate from the Underwood Company for having averaged 30 words or more per minute, writing for 15 minutes, with less than five mistakes. Another outstanding pupil who started her typing in September received her certificate with an average of 39 words per minute.

Mrs. Sullivan Is Dead
 Mrs. Spencer Sullivan, 21, died at the hospital at Sweetwater last Saturday morning at 5 o'clock. The body was sent to Haskell for burial. Mrs. Sullivan is survived by an infant baby, her husband and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bledsoe.

Will Try to Get Championship Game
 At the Lions Club Thursday at noon a committee was appointed to canvass the town to see whether or not Roscoe wants the championship game played here. Stamford has made a proposition that in case she wins Friday from Merkel she will give Roscoe one-half of the gate receipts and $100 bonus for the game there. The committee will try to raise a bonus of $100 or more to offer either Stamford or Merkel in addition to half the receipts for the game to be played here.

Methodist Church Has New Pastor
 As a result of the annual conference of the Methodist church held last week at Pampa, the Roscoe church will have a new pastor for another year. Rev. M. B. Norwood has moved to Rotan and Rev. FIRST THANKSGIVING DINNER SERVED 308 YEARS AGO

The first Thanksgiving Day dinner in America was served 308 years ago by the settlers at Plymouth. These Pilgrims had at last been permitted to make new homes in a new land away from the persecution of the Church of England. So in order to express their heartfelt gratitude for safe passage through threatening perils and for the bounties they were enjoying a celebration was held. But it was a day intended for religious purposes only and not for social merry-making.

They had completed their first year in a wilderness. It had been a long, hard year. They were surrounded by savages with whom, fortunately, they were at peace.

Their fields had yielded them enough grain to support them in comfort during the coming winter, and their houses were warm and strong.

Therefore, with religious fervor which had prompted them to many sacrifices, they considered it fitting that they should return to God some thanks for what they considered His many blessings.

Accordingly, Governor Bradford, in the autumn of 1621, set aside a day to mark the beginning of a season of prayer and gratitude.

"They began now," wrote Governor Bradford, "to gather in the small harvest they had, and to fatten up their houses and dwellings against winter, being all well recovered in health and strength and had all things in good plenty; for as some were thus employed in affairs abroad others were exercised in fishing about cod and bass and other fish, of which they took good store, of which every family had their portion. All the summer there was no waste."

"And now began to come in store of fowls, as winter approached, of which this place did abound when they came first (but afterward decreased by degrees) and beside water fowls there was great store of wild turkeys, of which they take many, beside venison.

"Beside, they had about a peck of meal a week to a person, or now since harvest, Indian corn to that proportion."

And this those sturdy settlers considered an abundance of blessing from which they felt duty bound to show their gratitude.

Edward Wilson, one of the early settlers, has left a description of that first Thanksgiving celebration:

"Our harvest being gotten in," he wrote, "our governor sent four men on fowling, so that we might after a special manner rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit of our labors. They four in one day killed as much fowl as, with a little help beside, served the company almost a week.

"Many of the Indians came among us, and among the rest their greatest king, Massasoit, with some 90 men, whom, for three days, we entertained and feasted; and they went out and killed five deer, which they brought to the plantation and bestowed on our governor and upon the captain (Myles Standish) and others.

"And although it be not always so plentiful as it was at the time with us, yet by the goodness of God we are so far from want that we often wish you partakers of our plenty."

In that first celebration the ceremonies extended over several days. In fact, it was so much like the harvest festivals that are still held in the country districts in many lands. The people were thankful for the success of their colonization efforts.

Two years later, after a severe drought, rain came in answer to their prayers, and another day of thanksgiving was observed.

Then again, three years later, when help arrived in the nick of time from England, a day was appointed to mark the gratitude of the people and after that the custom seems to have been observed annually.

Gradually the idea spread into the colonies of New York and Pennsylvania and all through New England, and when George Washington made his first Thanksgiving Day proclamation it was taken up all over the country.

President Lincoln's proclamation of 1863 was the first to name the last Thursday in November, and ever since then that day has regularly been observed as Thanksgiving Day.

Senior Class Is To Promote School Annual

On last Monday afternoon, Nov. 18, the Senior class met in a very interesting class meeting to discuss the possibilities of having an Annual this year. After Supt. Peck and Mr. Wilkins made a complete analysis of things pertaining to having an annual, it was decided that there would be a 1930 edition of "The Lone Wolf."

Tuesday morning following the class meeting, the Seniors signed a pledge giving their entire support to the putting out of the annual.

The following staff had already been selected:

Editor-in-Chief — Martha Reba Hubbard.
Assistant Editor—Iris Tunnell.
Business Manager—William Green.
Assistant Manager—W. R. Powell.
Sales Manager—Fayrel Plaster.
Snap-Shot Editors — Jannie Fay O'Neil and Mildred Johnson.

Picture and annual salesmen for the Seniors are Fanny Fay Womack and Juliette Phillips.

The completion of the staff will be announced later.

The Seniors hope to publish the best "Lone Wolf" that has ever been published.

Plans Being Made For Orchestra Meet To Be Held Here

Although definite plans and invitations have not as yet been made public, rumor has it that an orchestra contest—to be participated in by many West Texas orchestras—is to be held in Colorado in early spring.

Mr. Ben S. Peck and Mr. Roy Hester are drawing up plans for the undertaking, which will be one of the largest publicity moves ever made by Colorado. The contest will bring to the city orchestras from all over the State, and while not only giving the city desirable notice, will also stir up musical feeling, and will lend an impetus to the movement in Colorado.

Of course, hopes are high, and popular opinion has it that the C. H. S. orchestra has an outstanding chance to win. Mr. Hester, musical director, is highly enthusiastic over the proposition.

Where They Are Going To Spend Thanksgiving

Mr. and Mrs. Peck, Miss Cooper, and Miss Cummings are going to the meeting of the State Teachers' Association in Dallas.

Miss Davis is going to Fort Worth during the holidays.

Miss Barret is going to Sweetwater for Thanksgiving dinner.

Miss Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins, Mr. Bennett, Mr. Cobb, Mr. Ham and Mr. Foster have not disclosed their plans as yet.

Eighteen Students Withdrawn From High School

There have been eighteen pupils who have withdrawn from school this year. Some of these have entered other schools, some have gone to work, and others are staying at home. Below is a list of those who have withdrawn:

PAPER ADVISES BIG SPRING CITIZENS TO SEE STEERS WIN GAME

The Big Spring Herald in Sunday's issue tells Big Spring citizens to buy a ticket on the special train to Colorado on Thanksgiving Day and "see the Steers whip the Colorado Wolves."

The paper, of course, did this in a spirit of boosting the Big Spring team and we take the statement that will whip the Wolves. In fact, we are still believers in the Wolves and until they are downed by the stronger class A team we will not admit defeat.

The Herald said: "Spend a dollar for a round-trip ride to Colorado Thursday on the Steer special—and see the Steers whip their ancient gridiron enemies, Colorado Wolves."

Expose Of Spur Game Is Made In Assembly

At the earnest invitation of the student body, Mr. Geo. D. Slaton, football player and member of the team which lost to Spur last Wednesday to the score of 24 to 0, kindly consented to "give air" to his opinion about the game, players, etc.

While most of George's views should not be given publication, all were indeed humorous, and his talk was highly applauded.

When we learned that the Spur team outweighed the Wolves by 20 pounds to the man, we felt indeed proud of the Colorado team, and grieved at their predicament Wednesday. Mr. Wilkins complimented the players on their hard fight, even

MEETING AT CHURCH FRIDAY NIGHT ASKS FOR CITY ELECTION

Wants Waterworks Extension Proposition Voted On By Citizens

About fifty or sixty citizens met at the Methodist church last Friday night in response to a call for a city-wide mass meeting to discuss the water situation, and passed a resolution asking the city council to call an election to vote upon the proposition of authorizing the council to proceed with the work already under way on the waterworks extension.

Mayor H. L. Hutchinson presided at the meeting. He invited those present to discuss the proposition pro and con. Little discussion was entered into. A few citizens asked questions on the proposition and Commissioner W. W. Whipkey read a report from the Kelley Water Well engineers on the finding of an underlying water sand northeast of town, different and separate from the present water-bearing strata.

This report showed the water sand found at a depth of about 250 feet is softer and more plentiful water producer than the sand the present supply is received from.

After some discussion Dr. P. C. Coleman read a resolution asking the council to call an election and moved its adoption. A. J. Herrington seconded the motion, and the resolution carried.

Mayor Hutchinson explained that the election is not legally required. The council has absolute authority under the law to proceed without an election or any advice or consent of the citizenship, but he explained that he and the council wanted an expression from the people before proceeding with the proposal.

The resolution read as follows: "Whereas, the City Council of the City of Colorado, has diligently searched for and has apparently discovered an adequate supply of good quality water and has secured options on lands underlain by this water, and

"Whereas, it is apparent the present water supply is diminishing and the City of Colorado is liable to be faced with a serious water shortage next summer, and

"Whereas, the installation of extension to the city water works system will be necessary to secure this adequate supply of water, and

"Whereas, the Brown-Cummer Co. of Dallas, Texas, has offered to finance said extension to said water system in any necessary amount up to $350,000, taking a closed mortgage on the city water system and its net revenues to secure these City Revenue Warrants, the same to bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent annually, and

"Whereas, this is a big problem that vitally affects every citizen of Colorado, and because of the fact the present system of waterworks was constructed from tax revenue bonds which must be paid by the taxpayers of Colorado, and about $70,000 of tax revenue bonds or warrants are now outstanding against the present water system, and in view of the fact that every water user in Colorado will be called upon to pay a part of the cost of the new system through the use of water, and

"Whereas, it would not be fair, democratic nor just for the few citizens assembled here to definitely decide such a big city-wide problem and authorize the mortgaging of the city water plant and the expenditure of approximately $300,000, now, therefore,

"Be It Resolved, that this meeting of citizens assembled respectfully petition the City Council to order an election at the earliest possible date for the voters of Colorado to express their wishes, the proposition being, "Shall the City Council be authorized to Contract for Extension of the City Water Works and Issue 6 per cent Revenue Warrants Secured by Mortgage on the City Water System to be repaid out of the net revenues of the system, the sum to be expended not to exceed $300,000. The laws governing elections for issuing bonds to govern said election, qualified property tax-paying voters being allowed to vote as provided by law."

LORAIN MAN OPENS BRANCH OF WHOLESALE HOUSE IN COLORADO

Joe Whirley of Loraine, wholesale candy dealer, has opened a branch office in Colorado at the Palace Theatre lobby above, according to D. C. Russell, who is to manage the Colorado branch.

Russell was formerly with the C. I. Colorado Wholesale house owned by Kay Womack, and is well known here. He invites friends to call at the new place and see him.

Barbers Start Operation Under New Law Dec. 1

The State law regulating all barbers and barber shops will become effective December 1. Local union barbers tell The Record that they will welcome the new law and will comply with its provision.

The sanitary clause of the bill alone is sufficient to make it worth while," said Boyd Dozier, a well known barber and prominent citizen of Colorado. "It provides for the regular examination of all barbers, the same as food handlers. Habitual drunkards, drug addicts and immoral persons will have to be good or get out of the barber business," he said.

Barbers who have been actively at work for two years will be entitled to certificates as registered barbers without examination. Others must be at least 18 years of age, of good moral character, and pass the required examination of the State Barber board. The board will have the right to refuse a license or revoke one already issued in cases of conviction of a felony, gross malpractice, gross incompetency, continued practice by a person knowingly to have an infectious or contagious disease; advertising by knowingly false or deceptive statements, practicing under another name or another's trade mark, and immoral conduct or drunkenness.

Mr. Dozier stated that there are lots of people who do not understand the law and have stated they see no need for it, but that later they will find that it will work out to be a good law, for both the barbers and the public.

F. B. Whipkey Attending Big Dallas Dinner

F. B. Whipkey, managing editor of The Record, was an honor guest at a dinner given Tuesday night at the Baker Hotel in Dallas by the Chamber of Commerce honoring George B. Dealey of the Dallas News, for his long service to Dallas and Texas.

Whipkey attended as a guest of John W. Carpenter and Beeman Fisher of the Texas Power & Light Co. He received the following telegram from Beeman Fisher, advertising manager of the Texas Power & Light Co.:

"George B. Dealey of the Dallas News is to be honored with an informal appreciation dinner sponsored by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce in recognition of his great services to Dallas and all Texas, on Tuesday, November 26, at 7 o'clock, at the Baker Hotel. I am sure that you would enjoy this dinner and would like for you to attend with a group of other prominent Texas newspaper men as guest of John W. Carpenter and myself."

Whipkey left Tuesday morning for Dallas and on Wednesday morning will go to Austin to eat Thanksgiving dinner with friends there.

Womack Family Enjoys Turkey At Big Reunion

A family reunion at the G. W. Womack home at Cuthbert Sunday, attended by the Womack children and grandchildren except Rupert Womack and family of Clovis, New Mexico, was the occasion for a real turkey dinner.

The turkey for the occasion was a monster wild turkey gobbler which G. W. Womack killed in Mason county while on a hunt there last week. He and Will Berry, Chester Berry and Sam Venable returned Friday from a hunting trip in Mason county. They got one buck deer and some turkeys. The turkey killed by Uncle George Womack was the prize of the lot, and the big tom furnished plenty for 32 present at the family reunion Sunday and some was left over.

Those attending the reunion and partaking of the excellent dinner were Ed Womack and family, B. W. Womack and family, Claude Womack and family, E. S. Womack and family, Mrs. Myrtle Womack and son, Miss Eula Carter, and R. H. Smith and family.

Uncle George Womack likes to hunt and fish and he always has success on his trips. He always comes home with the game, and he is a jolly fellow on a trip. All the hunters like to go out with G. W. Womack.

Texas is producing 256,000,000 barrels of oil annually valued at $270,000,000. Oil manufacturers now bring the total value to nearly $700,000,000 a year.

SUPERVISOR OF RURAL AID TO VISIT SCHOOLS OF COUNTY IN DECEMBER

Rural Schools To Be Scored; Trustees Asked To Meet Supervisor

Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, announced this week that Mr. John Olsen, rural aid supervisor, will arrive in Mitchell county December 2, 1929, for the purpose of visiting and inspecting State Aid schools.

The State Department asks that the trustees of each school meet the supervisor at the time of the visit to their school to discuss matters of interest to the school and community. Teachers are also asked to have their certificates at school on the day of the visit, and to have their free text books grouped so they may be easily counted.

The program followed by Mr. Olsen while in the county will be:

Monday, Dec. 2
1 p. m., at Carr; 3 p. m., at Westbrook.

Tuesday, December 3
9:00 a. m., Lone Star; 10:30, at North Champion; 12 at Valley View; 3 p. m. at Longfellow.

Wednesday, Dec. 4
9:00 a. m., Shepherd; 10:30 at Little Sulphur; 12 at Buford; 3 p. m., at Dorn.

Thursday, Dec. 5
9:00 a. m., Seven Wells; 10:30, at Payne; 12, at Lowe; 3 p. m., at McKenzie.

Friday, Dec. 6
9:00 a. m., Bauman; 10:30 at Silver; 1 p. m., at Landers; 3 p. m., at Looney.

Saturday, Dec. 9
9:00 a. m., at Conaway; 10:30 at Iatan; 1 p. m., at Rogers; 3 p. m., at Horn's Chapel.

Tuesday, Dec. 10
9:00 a. m., at Spade; 12 at Hyman.

Wednesday, Dec. 11
9:00 a. m., Fairview; 10:30, Cuthbert.

Mr. Olsen will also score the rural schools while visiting them, to determine those which come up to standard. In the scoring all points are awarded on the basis of 1,000 for a perfect record. There are two different scales, "A" and "B." In the first group is included mechanical equipment, such as grounds, outbuildings, school house, and equipment. Scale "B" includes teachers, pupils and community.

In the first topic, grounds and outbuildings, the location depending on accessibility, nearness to main highway and the building's location regarding annoying and dangerous conditions counts 15 points; flag and flagpole count 10 points; playground depending on size, attractiveness and adaptability counts 20 points; two sanitary toilets count 20 points; the playground equipment counts 15; pure adequate water supply counts 20 points, and walks surrounding the building leading to outbuildings, and the highway counts 10 points.

Fifty-five points is awarded for construction of school houses and general repair such as paint, foundation, locks and oiled floors counts 30 points credit for attention. Heating and ventilating systems count 20, and cloakrooms count 20. An insured building, auditorium and extra rooms such as closets, library, work room or fuel room may gain a total of 65 points.

In the equipment classification, seating counts 40 points, blackboards count 20 points, maps and globe counts 15, window shade count 15, primary equipment counts 20, library counts 30, drinking and washing facilities count 25, and miscellaneous equipment counts 35 points.

In scale "B" pertaining to teachers and pupils a total of 320 points may be gained in this manner: teachers' training 50 points, certification 20 points, experience 20, professional spirit 30, management 70, attendance 30, housekeeping 30, attitude of pupils 30 points.

In the community classification of scale "B" there is a possible 180 points divided in the following manner: Parent Teachers association 25 points, attitude of trustees 25, the length of term 20 points, the teacher tenure 25 points, teachers' home 25 points, salary 25 points, and community cooperation 25 points.

Special points of merit may be obtained by providing hot lunches at noon, stereopticon and slides, stereoscope and stereographs, piano and song books, photograph and ten or more suitable records, school garden, health crusade, nine months term, or other similar desirable features not elsewhere listed.

Mrs. O. G. Jones of Pontotoc, Mississippi, wife of Dr. O. G. Jones who conducted the evangelistic meeting for the Presbyterian church here, a brother of W. M. Elliott, visited the Elliotts and Mereweathers over last Sunday. She left Monday for Big Spring.

Mitchell County Teachers Attend State Gathering

Schools of Mitchell county are to be well represented at the Texas State Teachers' association in Dallas this week by a number of the teachers and educators of the county.

Supt. Ben S. Peck of Colorado public schools left Monday with his family for the meeting, which is held over the Thanksgiving holidays. Other Colorado teachers attending are Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Holman, Miss Ara Cummings, Miss Octavine Cooper, Miss Alwilda Crothwaite, and Miss English.

Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, is also attending, with the following rural school teachers: Mr. and Mrs. J. Dewitt Wilkes of Lowe, Miss Mabel Walker of McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Darnell and Miss Charlie Ritchie of Looney; Mr. J. V. Glover of Buford, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Fisher of Iatan, and Miss Eula Carter of Rogers.

Since last week the following schools have joined the 100 per cent membership roll of the association: Buford, Payne, Seven Wells, and Valley View.

COUPLE MARRIED IN JUSTICE STONEHAM'S OFFICE MON. MORNING

Mrs. G. W. Davis of Colorado and Miss Juanita Gerth of Rotan were married in the office of W. S. Stoneham, justice of the peace, who performed the ceremony.

During 1928, the United States built 29,252 miles of improved highways. Texas led with 2,356 miles.

HARVEY AND NORTON TO PIONEER MISSION WORK IN WINK FIELD

Church of Christ Ministers Will Hold Series of Services in Western Oil Fields

J. D. Harvey, minister for the Church of Christ, and Ted Norton, worker with this church, will conduct pioneer mission work in Wink, oil field town in Winkler county, beginning Thursday.

This work will be undertaken similar to that done at Crane last spring by Harvey. When Harvey went to Crane to conduct a meeting, there was no church organization and no church building in Crane. He organized a church and raised money to purchase a lot for a church building.

Wink is being pioneered in this work by Harvey and Norton also.

Norton will start the meeting on Thanksgiving day and Bro. Harvey will join him next Monday.

Speaking Tuesday of the coming meeting, Bro. Harvey said: "Wink is very virgin soil for mission work."

Mrs. G. A. Cole Opens Christmas Toy Shop Here

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Cole who recently made a trip to market to select a shipment of Christmas toys, have opened a toy department at the Cole Battery station on Elm street, where they have a nice selection of Christmas dolls, mechanical toys, etc.

Mrs. Cole is offering a special for Saturday only that will doubtless appeal to Christmas shoppers. With every $2 purchase a nice gift will be given free and for Saturday is selling $1.98 dolls for only $1.00.

FOUR ARRESTED AT PASSENGER STATION CHARGED WITH VAG

Four men were arrested Saturday night at the Texas & Pacific passenger station and locked up on charge of vagrancy, and are still in jail awaiting trial on this charge.

Duncan's Flock Beats Standard Egg Production

T. A. Duncan's 36 White Leghorns again beat the standard set for demonstration flocks during October when his hens averaged eight and one-third eggs each for the month. The standard requires that a hen lay only five eggs during October. Mr. Duncan sold 25 dozen eggs for $12.50 and his feed bill was $4.65 which leaves a profit above feed cost for the month of $7.85, or 21 cents per hen. It required 18 cents worth of feed to produce a dozen eggs worth 50 cents.

In 1900 Texas led the Southern States in public school expenditures, total $4,465,000. In 1910 it led the South, total $11,777,000. In 1925 (estimated) it still led the South with a total of $65,128,019.

"What do You Mean . . . Penetrates Metal Surfaces?" A Plain Answer to a Reasonable Question. THE Germ Essence, imparted to highly refined paraffin base crude under a patented process exclusively owned by the Continental Oil Company for North America, actually penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, forming a permanent, protective film.

CONOCO GERM-PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL. No matter how long a motor stands idle or how cold it gets, this film is present and immediately lubricates the moving parts when the engine turns over. It takes five to ten minutes—often longer—for the oil in the crankcase to fully flood the bearings in the starting operation. During this period, automotive engineers agree, from 40% to 60% of motor wear occurs. This wear is reduced to a minimum by the ready-and-waiting lubrication which the Germ Essence imparts to CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oils, retaining it on and in the surface pores. CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil stands up under every condition of stress and strain. It will not break down or burn nor will it evaporate to any appreciable degree. No other oil possesses these qualities. So positive are we in our convictions, so positive have been our tests of this remarkable lubricant, that we are perfectly willing for you to select any operating condition—no matter how extreme—and we will meet it with CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil so satisfactorily that you will never consider using any other oil. Go now to stations and dealers displaying the CONOCO Red Triangle—have your crankcase drained and begin immediately to profit through the use of this remarkable oil.

HEALTH CLUB MEMBERS TO RECEIVE AWARD OF CERTIFICATES SOON

Mitchell county Junior Health club members are to receive certificates from the State Health department within a few days, according to Miss Olga Buresh, State health nurse, who organized the health clubs here. The following members have passed the final examination and are entitled to certificates, Miss Buresh said: Iatan Junior Health Club—Lillian Bruce, Rena Harris, Anna Bell Johnston, Josie Barker, Oneta Knowles, Ruby Gatloff, Agatha Harris. Buford Junior Health Club—Hazel Fortenberry, Juanita Killiam, Elizabeth McGee, Ethel Padgett, Vernon Feaster, Raye Collins, Lotty Lou Prentice, Fay Bedford, Etta Mrs Padgett.

Clubs of City Help Red Cross Annual Roll Call

STANDARD CLUB FIRST 100 PER CENT; PUBLIC HAS NOT RESPONDED

The annual Red Cross Roll Call is getting strong support from the clubs of Colorado, according to J. H. Greene, chairman, who says practically every club in the city is working to get 100 per cent enrollment of the membership.

The Standard Club of which Mrs. C. M. Adams is president, has joined 100 per cent and is the first club to thus qualify.

The Hesperian club, of which Mrs. A. L. Whipkey is president, lacks only two members of being 100 per cent.

The Business and Professional Women's Club, the Shakespeare club and the 1921 Study Club have made only partial reports.

No report is in from the Self Culture club, nor the Federated club.

The Colorado Lions club has turned in the largest number, and W. R. Morgan, chairman of the committee, is striving to make this organization 100 per cent. With only six members who have not yet joined, he expects to do so this week.

Colorado Chamber of Commerce Luncheon club is running a close second. A. L. McSpadden, chairman of this committee, is putting forth a strenuous effort to make this club 100 per cent.

Public Not Responding
The public is not responding to the call. Very few people outside the above mentioned club members have answered the call of the "greatest mother of them all."

"The quota for Mitchell county of $350 should have been reached the first day of the roll call by volunteer memberships," J. H. Greene said. "People are not showing the interest they should show and are not taking the interest that our neighboring cities are taking. This is a deplorable fact, too, because this county has been the recipient of aid from the Red Cross that we should never forget."

If the quota is raised a local chapter is to be organized and half the money will be left here by the Red Cross to take care of local work.

"Those who have not answered the roll call should leave a dollar at the bank, or the Chamber of Commerce office at once and enroll. Colorado can not afford to fall in this undertaking. If you see a man or woman with a Red Cross button on, hand them a dollar and ask them to have you enrolled at once. That would be the easiest way to put the roll call over the top."

Don't forget the big Thanksgiving feast and program at the schoolhouse on Thanksgiving Day.

Everyone be sure and come to the box supper Friday night, Nov. 29. A very interesting program was given by the P. T. A. Friday night, November 22. These meetings are given monthly and everyone is invited to attend.

Sixth and Seventh Grade Report
The sixth and seventh grades entertained in chapel Thursday morning. A very interesting play was given, the title being "Swallowing G's."

Fourth and Fifth Grade Report
Come and hear our chapel program next Tuesday morning, and you will hear something.

Of Community Interest
A. A. Daniels has made a date with the county agent to hold a terracing demonstration on his farm the latter part of the month. During the last two years a number of farms have been terraced in this community. Among those whose farms are terraced are T. L. McKenny, T. M. Grant, W. G. and G. W. Sweatt, R. M. Jones, Sebe Jones, Tom Jackson, and W. O. Jackson.

Limestone county leads Texas in the number of farms, the Census Bureau showing 6,755 in 1925. Texas leads the States with 466,395 farms.

J. H. BURKETT OF CLYDE TO SEEK OFFICE OF STATE COMMISSIONER

CLYDE, Nov. 28.—J. H. Burkett, pioneer horticulturist of Clyde, will be a candidate for State office next year, he said here yesterday. "I will make the race for commissioner of agriculture," he said, "because I think I can do the people of Texas a real service in an official capacity. If I win it, it will be my first experience as an office holder—my first time as a candidate." Mr. Burkett has lived in Clyde 21 years, and in West Texas since 1865.

THANKSGIVING

The spirit of Thanksgiving lives today as it did in the days of the Pilgrim Fathers. Though the modes of living have greatly changed since the time of Plymouth Rock, the human heart is still given to the same measure of thankfulness as the New England Pilgrims of long ago. We are thankful today for your Friendship and your Patronage. We are thankful for you. We, the following firms and individuals of Colorado, in the real spirit of Thanksgiving, desire to express a word of appreciation to the public for their patronage as well as to Him for His Goodness to us all.

The First Thanksgiving

(From Painting by J. L. G. Ferris in Independence Hall, Philadelphia)
In Plymouth colony, after the first dreadful winter, of 1621, summer brought a plentiful crop and in the fall Governor Bradford set aside a day for thanksgiving. Great were the preparations—the few women in the colony spent days in baking and cooking and even the children helped. As guests, more than four score Indians were invited, who furnished venison and wild turkey for their share of the feast. The tables were set out of doors and the company sat about them as one big family. It was the first Thanksgiving.

Hand of God Reached Out to Pilgrims

The Pilgrim Fathers were more than pioneers in body. They were spiritual pioneers. And this it was that sustained them when so many others failed. And so their homely Odyssey of exploit and discovery is thrilling. From the ship, after its arrival in Provincetown harbor, where they first thought to land, a small boat went scouting. It encountered Indians, who tied. It brought back baskets of corn discovered buried in the sand. This seed it was that saved them from starvation later. Six months afterward (as they had supposed when they took it) they found the owners and paid them for it. Next the small boat started on a circuit of Cape Cod bay.

"The weather was very cold and it froze so hard as the spread of the sea lighting on their coats, they were as if they had been glazed." They camped ashore in a barricade of logs. At midnight came an alarm. It was only wolves. But at dawn, after prayers and breakfast, the Indians made a furious attack. They beat them off and gained the boat. Next it began to snow and rain. Wind increased and sea roughened. The rudder broke. "It was as much as 2 men could do to steer her with a couple of oars." The storm grew worse. Night was coming on. Their mast broke in three pieces. They tried for a harbor. It proved a trap of deadly breakers. Rowing for their lives, they barely got clear. "And though it was very dark and rained sore, yet in the end they got under the lee of a small island and remained there all night in safety."

Promised Land at Last.
Next day on this island they kept their Sabbath. Monday they explored Harbor, cornfields and running brooks. Here or nowhere was their Promised Land. They returned to their ship. On December 21 the Mayflower sailed into Plymouth harbor. The pilgrimage of these refugees had ended. The pilgrimage of a nation had begun. Their settlement was a very blind of woes. One month after they landed, pestilence broke out. In three months half their number were dead. "There was," says Governor Bradford, "but 6 or 7 sound persons, who, to their great commendations be it spoken, spared no pains, night or day, but with abundance of toyle and hazard of their own healths, fetched them wood, made them fires, dressed their lousy clothes, clothed and unclothed them; in a word, did all the homely and necessary offices for them which dainty and queise stomachs cannot endure to hear named; and all this willingly and cheerfully, without any grudging in the least."

One of these good nurses was that gruff soldier, Capt. Miles Standish. The Indians, meanwhile, skulked about and stole the colonists' farming implements. Finally came two who could speak broken English, which they had learned from crews that came to fish off the Maine coast. One was Samoset, the other Squanto. Both remained loyal friends, Squanto acting as interpreter and pilot, teaching them how to plant corn and where to fish. Through these two red-skinned friends they met the great sachem, Massasoit, with whom they made a treaty of peace which lasted half a century.

Additions to the Colony.
In April the Mayflower sailed for home. And now it was bare hands against the wilderness. Their first harvest seemed fairly good; beans and Indian corn to the amount of "a peck or a nail a week to each person." Then in sailed the ship Fortune, adding 35 unprovided men to their number. By putting every one on half rations they would have barely enough to hold out for six months. Next, the warrior tribe of Narragansett sent them "a bundle of arrows tied about with a great snakeskin." It was declaration of war. They sent back the snakeskin with bullets in it. This gave the Narragansett heart disease. They declined to accept the bullets and sent them back.

By May, 1622, food was exceedingly scarce. Anxiously, day after day, they scanned the blank sea horizon for a ship. The one that came was an open boat from a fishing vessel off Maine, bringing them no food, but seven more hungry mouths. Hard on the heels of this came a ship from England which unloaded 60 more men on the colony.

"Put not your trust in princes," remarks Bradford ("much less in merchants.")
Providential Interventions.
And now begins that extraordinary series of interventions, seemingly pure chance, whereby time after time this colony, in its extremity of need is just saved from extinction. Bradford is so sure of their authorship and grows so used to them that he merely remarks: "Behold now another Providence of God." One or two or half a dozen coincidences of chance may be pure coincidences. But when these befriendings go on, month after month and year after year, seemingly in response to firm reliance that they will so come, then what are we to call them? Let us first consider the bare facts of this phenomenon.

The plight of the colony was now desperate. Actual famine impended. At this pinch in sailed a boat bearing a letter from a man and a settlement they had never so much as heard of, telling them where food could be had. They sent a boat to the place directed and obtained enough to sustain them till the next harvest by dint of all living on one-quarter of a pound of bread a day.

The harvest of 1622, when it did come, was meager. Markets they had none, and no commodities to trade for corn from the Indians. Again the cadaverous face of famine glared them in the eye. And, again, a seeming chance befriended them. An adventurous ship, sent to explore and trade, sailed in with a supply of English beads and knives. These the colonists obtained in return for beaver skins, and traded off to the Indians for enough corn to keep them alive for another space.

Saved From Treachery.
Next came two befriendings of chance even more startling. The colonists hear that their friend, the great Sachem, Massasoit, is ill. They send him food, medicines and attendance. He recovers. Visited by compunction he tells his benefactors that he had been party to a conspiracy to wipe out both the Massachusetts Bay and the Plymouth settlements. As if to engrave the faith in an unseen power on the very hearts of these religious folk, at the same time comes a messenger from the Massachusetts Bay colony with the same tidings, and under the following extraordinary circumstances: he knew not one foot of the way to Plymouth, yet he reached the place. On the journey, however, he lost his direction, and this was well, for the Indians were pursuing him and had he known the trail and kept to it, he never would have reached Plymouth. Ignorance itself befriended them.

Then back came their grisly visitor, famine. Corn they had none. They were reduced to living on ground nuts, such shellfish as they could dig at low tide, what wild fowl they could shoot, and now and then a deer. When spring did come there was a drought from May 21 to mid-July. Their crops were burning up. They appointed a day for prayer. On the afternoon of that very day, fell "sweet and gentle showers."

True to Their Principles.
In their dealings with that ruffian humanity which forever gravitates to frontier settlements these religionists adhered to a principle which the doubting world proclaims to be insane. And time they were wronged and betrayed by people whom they had befriended at grievous cost to themselves. Their betrayers would shortly come to grief, struggle back to Plymouth, beg forgiveness and fresh assistance, receive both; then turn around and betray their benefactors again, and again come to grief. Such were the episodes of the second-rate Thomas Weston, John Lyford and John Oldham, and the untrustworthy steward, Isaac Allerton. All these and many more stabbed the colony in the back, yet the colonists always forgave the injury and recovered from the wound. It was as if they deliberately "tempted Providence", as if they said: "We are told that God takes care of His own. Let us try it." All that human hands and hands could do they did. This done, they befriended their enemies, forgave their foes, and, for the rest, relied on Providence.—Boston Globe.

EDITOR KELLY EXCUSED

The Record called attention of Editor Kelly of the Graham Leader to a mistake he made in associating Coleman and her old dilapidated court house with Mitchell county, and Editor Kelly apologized last week as follows:

"We beg the pardon of The Colorado Record for charging Mitchell county with so great an offense as would leave the impression to the stranger it had a dilapidated courthouse. The error came about in this way: We had just finished reading these two highly prized exchanges that came to the Leader—the Colorado Record and the Coleman Democrat-Voice. We are always hungry to digest the food that is contained in the columns of these two enterprising newspapers, and with the thought of Colorado lingering in our mind when we laid down the Coleman Democrat-Voice and picked up the Record, we penned the item of which the Record says we mixed up. We are coming down to Colorado some day and then go over to Coleman. We dare say it will be a task for us to tell any difference in the two towns except for the courthouse at Coleman."

Editor Kelly has been getting out a mighty good paper and for the past few weeks he evidently has been swamped with work and thus is very liable to make the mistake above referred to. The explanation is satisfactory because we know what a big job Editor Kelly is up against. We are glad to note Coleman county is to vote on the proposition of building a new courthouse and doubtless will soon have a new county temple of justice that will compare favorably with the new courthouse in Mitchell county.

Did you ever notice that as soon as some people get on the band wagon they want to do the driving and direct the music, too.

Compliments from his friends do not make a man feel any better after he has heard his wife's description of him.

If it takes turkey dinners to make people happy, all Mitchell county should be able to get in that frame of mind, because the turkey crop is plentiful and the price is low. Please pass the turkey—a little of the dark meat and a big slice of fat off the breast.

AN EXPENSIVE LESSON

The recent "market break," characterized as the most severe since the panic of 1914, has taught thousands an expensive lesson.

The prevalent practice of buying stocks on loan margins, by persons without reserves to weather reverses, is basically unsound. Leading financial authorities and major stock exchanges and their members have continually warned and ruled against this practice. Even margins normally considered safe did not stand in the late crisis.

The fact that short-sighted speculators have been wiped out in the general decline, is no argument against the institution of modern corporate finance. Our progress is made as more of the public income finds its way into business. Investors who own interests in standard, established industries, bought thru recognized channels on values rather than tips, have nothing to fear.

As Arthur Brisbane says, "Do not gamble," and you will not get hurt in wild stock speculations. If you wish to invest in the stock market, buy some real shares at the lowest price you can get them, and then hold onto them, especially when the market is down, and you can't very well lose, because strong institutions are doing good business and the stock of such concerns is valuable.

THE SMALL TOWN IS LEADING AMERICA

Not long ago the nation was stirred by the drift of population away from farms and rural areas into the great cities. Young men, attracted by high wages paid by industry and what appeared to be the superior social and economic advantages of urban life deserted the soil for the city.

In the past quarter-century rural America has made tremendous progress. Better schools, good roads, the automobile, telephone and radio have created a rural civilization greater than any in history.

Industrialists, attracted by such factors as lack of labor difficulties, low taxes and uncongested, pleasant living and working conditions, were barred from entry into the small town only because of lack of power.

Then rural electrification on a large scale was inaugurated. And now, according to authorities, the smaller towns are on the road to industrial leadership of America and the countryside is staged for the next scene of our industrial progress. The drift of population has turned. At present the only pronounced gain in industrial wage earners is taking place in the country.

It is safe to say that many towns which are almost unknown today will be the great industrial centers of the future. The industrial revolution of the eighteenth century apparently doomed rural progress—now the electric revolution of the twentieth is reversing the process.

FORT STOCKTON CREAMERY

Would you believe it? Look it up on the map. A few years ago Fort Stockton was right in the middle of the leading longhorn cow country in Texas, and a Jersey cow was an unusual sight as an elephant. In two months there will be a model modern creamery there, and the farmers are reported as being "jubilant about it. Not very far back a proposal to establish a creamery would have been answered with jeers. Now $125 Jersey cows are being shipped into the country.—Santa Anna News.

BOYS AND BULLETS

In the midst of the hunting season, we feel it timely to caution fathers against leaving guns, shells or ammunition of any kind lying around where the children can get hold of them. Only last week four small boys in an eastern town were injured while attempting to drive a bullet from a cartridge shell with a hammer and nail, the cartridge exploding while they were huddled over it. This is but one of the scores of like incidents happening all over the country. When weapons are kept in the house they should be put away where the children cannot get them, and especially is this true of the ammunition intended to be fired in them. To keep them loaded and within reach of the little ones is nothing short of criminal. Weapons have their place, and they are all right in that place. But they are a menace in the hands of the youngsters under any and all conditions.—Tulsa Herald.

COURT REFORM

While there has developed a great hue and cry for court reform, and it has been taken up in discussions of the Texas Bar Associations, it is barely possible that the legal profession is not overly anxious for such a desirable move. The training of lawyers is calculated to make them content with the law as it stands. Therefore Texas, looking for legal reform, doubtless must follow the lead of England where reform has come thru initiative of the laymen and the press.

Certainly the gentlemen of the legal profession are not making any large howl about the costliness and slowness of justice. There is more bread and butter in that than could possibly be gleaned through speed or the elimination of the subtleties adopted in the State courts.

It is the layman and not the legal profession bringing the most complaint. There are too few members of the bar actively seeking reform to bear influence where it is needed—in the Texas legislature. Lawyer members predominate there and they have been instrumental heretofore in blocking reform efforts.

Lawyers outlined court practices. Lawyers will continue to keep them unless there is a determined lay effort.—San Angelo Standard.

BENEFITS OF TERRACING

With the completion of harvesting in Mitchell county, farmers are naturally turning toward plans for the next crop, and among these plans the matter of terracing lands should be uppermost. There is no work on the farm that costs so little that brings such great returns. That has been proven not only by the county agent and farmers of this county, but by experts as well as actual dirt farmers all over the country. In this section of the country preservation of the moisture is the greatest benefit in the saving of the soil.

The sandy soils of this county are easily washed and deteriorate rapidly unless terraced and properly cared for. On the other hand the moisture disappears rapidly from washed lands and crops are burned up. All of this can be helped a great deal with proper terracing, and Mitchell county farmers are learning this and last year several thousand acres were terraced and this winter and next spring will see much terracing done in this county. Mitchell county already had much land terraced according to instructions of the county agent, and terracing schools and demonstrations held in the county have increased interest until almost every farm owner is doing some of this work. A large tractor outfit is now at work terracing lands for farmers and the time of the county agent is engaged several weeks ahead.

All this shows the farmers are awakening to the real need and benefits of terracing lands and are adopting this method of preserving the soil and conserving the moisture. Of course, terracing is only one of the many services performed by the extension service which is represented by the county farm agent and the home demonstration agent. All of the work these agents carry on are important, but terracing is one of the most important sponsored by the extension service, and The Record is indeed glad to see Mitchell county farmers engaging more freely in this work.

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

WILL THEY GET IT?

The highway commission is getting their agitation ready for a big $200,000,000 bond issue to be made by the State of Texas for the use of the said Commission in building roads et cetera. Just how far they will get with an issue of this magnitude, or of any magnitude, is a question. Members of that commission have not kept their ears close to the ground to hear the rumblings against them, we suspect, or they would not spend any time just now on bond issue propaganda, or at least that is the way it seems to us.

We notice that Ray Holder seems to have the same idea about the Commission and its administration of affairs, and in last week's issue of the Lancaster Herald he has quite a bit to say about them and their activities. Here are some of his comments about the matter:

"There are dozens of things about the administrations of the Highway Department that we consider more important than the voting of a bond issue. Just a little courtesy, common courtesy and tact and judgment and things like that will make the Highway Department more loved in the great State of Texas. Just now the Highway department reminds us of the Czar of Russia's government before the Soviet held their shooting match in Tsarkoe Selo and exterminated the Czar from the mundane sphere of things.

"We have always been curious to know just how long the people of Texas would tolerate a dictatorial highway department like we have had for some ten years. When will they rise up and throw the whole affair into the discard or reorganize it? There are seventy-nine counties in Texas that have declared war on the Highway department on account of the high-handed way the department has routed roads around their towns. That all makes for hot opposition to any program proposed by the Highway department.

"The wise boys around the capitol told us that the meeting held in Austin last Friday was virtually an announcement of Ross Sterling for Governor. Let him announce. It won't do hi ma bit of good. He won't carry one single precinct in some of the seventy-nine counties that the department has high-hatted. The High-

"She took her husband unawares ... and learned a lot!"

Mrs. Kirk's husband wasn't expecting her back from Fort Worth until Sunday morning, but she came home on Saturday night.

"I'll surprise them," she told herself, slipping her key into the latch and entering the house quietly.

Savory odors came from the kitchen and she heard voices behind the closed door.

"Yes, sir; your mother's the best cook on earth," she heard her husband saying to her son, "but, my boy, she certainly doesn't make good coffee. She's such a dear, good woman, though, that I have never liked to tell her so."

"Well, it's good that we found out about this White Swan Coffee and laid in a good supply while she was gone, Dad," her boy said. "I think she'll notice the improvement."

Mrs. Kirk was a 'good sport' and a wise woman. She slipped back to the front door again, slammed it and shouted, "Look who's here!"

Mr. Kirk and his son raced to meet her and immediately after the embraces were exchanged, she said, "By the way, I ran across the most wonderful coffee in Fort Worth. It's called White Swan and ..."

Yes, indeed—a wise woman!

"I'll surprise them," she told herself, to the science of roasting and the art of blending—each playing its important part in achieving that uniform, delicious flavor which has made White Swan so popular wherever it is served.

By controlling every step in its preparation, the Waples Platter Company—importer, roaster, packer and distributor—makes certain that every sealed tin of White Swan reaches you with its full appetizing quality kept intact.

White Swan Coffee always comes to you fresh. After roasting and packing, distribution is promptly made to its 10,000 dealers—all within convenient shipping distance of one or more of the 22 strategically located Waples Platter Houses. Fleets of motor trucks operate over a network of routes, making regular deliveries from all the units of this institution of the Southwest.

Now, and whenever you need a fresh supply, White Swan Coffee is available at your grocer's freshly packed in one and three pound cans.

Snyder To Hold Annual Poultry Show Dec. 5-6-7

(From Snyder News)
At least 500 birds are expected to be entered in the tenth annual Seury County Poultry show, which is to be held in the Snyder city tabernacle December 5, 6 and 7, according to Horace Holley, president of the county association.
The big feature this year will be a "Flock Show," in which entries will include 12 females and one male in a breeding pen. These will be put in a special yard, and five prizes will be offered. Charlie Green, who is in charge of entries for this event, states that six entries have already been made for this division, and many more are expected.
Seury county home demonstration clubs, under direction of Miss Jessie Lee Davis, will make the Egg Show a success, according to officers of the poultry association. The women also promise to take an active part in placing the chicken and turkey exhibits in the show.

Woodmen Meet
State Deputy Robert J. Vider of Dallas will be a guest of the Modern Woodmen of the 30th district when they convened in Snyder on Monday night, November 25. Visiting Woodmen were here from Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado, Roscoe, Rotan and points in this district.

New Methodist Pastor
Rev. C. C. Wright, pastor of the Methodist church of Baird for four years, will preach his first sermon as pastor of the local Methodist church next Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Wright was chosen to fill Rev. G. S. Hardy's pulpit at the Northwest Texas conference, held at Pampa last week.

The new pastor is described as a man of power and consecration. He is moving with his wife and children to the Methodist parsonage.

Rev. Hardy left Wednesday for Chillicothe, where he will live at the home of a daughter. He will serve this Methodist district as collector of superannuate dues in the various churches. He states that since this work will require only about eight months of his time each year, he will probably go to South Texas several months.

When Rev. F. J. Lawless, who had been pastor of the local church for 18 months, died last spring, Rev. Mr. Hardy was sent to fill the vacancy.

GREATEST NEWSPAPER IN ENTIRE WORLD
There are some publications in the large cities which "admit" that they are the world's greatest newspapers. In an address at the M. P. A. meeting by G. S. Crane of the Campbell-Ewald Company, one of the largest advertising agencies, the following interesting statements were made:
"The greatest newspaper in North America is not published in New York City. Chicago has none that compares with it. Florida or California's large cities know it not. For the greatest newspaper in North America yields ten times the influence, is read by a hundred times more readers, carries inestimably more pages of advertising than any newspaper in any great city on this continent of ours."
"The greatest newspaper in North America gets closer to its readers, is read longer, believed in more confidently, determines the outcome of more elections, exerts a greater power for progress, sells more merchandise and rights more wrongs than any metropolitan daily ever published.

"The greatest newspaper in North America is issued in 11,500 editions, 52 times a year, published in 11,000 separate newspaper offices in 8,000 different towns and villages throughout the United States, which office occupies a combined floor space far in excess of that afforded by the great Woolworth building of New York and the great Wriggley building in Chicago.

"The business of this greatest newspaper in the aggregate would astound even the president of America's largest industrial corporation. The greatest newspaper in North America is the home-town paper, better known to most of us as the old COUNTRY WEEKLY."

WITH DEATH NEARING CONFESSES KILLING

From Pecos Enterprise
Told that he had only a short while to live, J. P. Campbell, a sign painter known in this city as C. E. Douglas, confessed that he had killed "Big John Farris" at Whitesboro, Texas, some 37 years ago, and then passed on a victim of heart failure.
Coming here several weeks ago, the deceased began work painting signs, and accepting jobs of this type. The few people he met, liked him immensely, and held him in high esteem. He was conscientious, and capable and energetic.
Wednesday afternoon he became quite ill, and after examination by Dr. J. H. Camp, at his hotel, asked the doctor about his condition. He was told that he had only a short time to live. He then called on his friends there, and asked them to take his confession which he wished published in the event of his demise, and kept confidential if he recovered.

He told his real name, that of J. P. Campbell, of his killing Big John Farris some 37 years ago, and that he had a brother living near Whitesboro. He succumbed to another attack soon after his confession.
His brother, Hugh, was located in Ontario, Calif., and when told the details said that the deceased was his brother. He arranged for disposition of the remains.

METING OUT JUSTICE

A mob at Eastland took Marshall Ratliff from the Eastland county jail, shortly after 9 o'clock last Tuesday night, tied a rope around his neck and hung him up over a cable in a street just back of the Connellee Hotel, where he hung until pronounced dead.
Ratliff and his brother, some years ago, planned a bank robbery at Valera, Coleman county, which "they executed in broad open daylight. A "benign and forgiving governor" pardoned him and told him "to try and do better next time." He did. A very few months later he pulled off a bigger and better bank robbery at Cisco, he and his gang killing Bedford and Carmichael. This is all a well known story.

The straw that broke the camel's back (and incidentally Ratliff's neck), was when he shot and killed Tom Jones, his jailer, in a break for liberty Monday night. And that was the "straw" that incensed the public mind—result, a mob.
Mob action is to be regretted. Mobs do not act on reason. The mind of a mob is frenzied, furious, fiercely wrecking vengeance upon the object of hate. It is like a lighted match tossed into a powder barrel. Mobs are moved by force, not reason. Ordinarily, mob violence is charged up against a community. Peaceable, law abiding citizens ordinarily shun a community where criminals are thus dealt with. Good citizens say, "Let the LAW take its course." And in that statement of "Let the LAW take its course" lies the "kernel" in the Ratliff case.

Yes, Eastland county people, like all other good citizens, did LET THE LAW TAKE ITS COURSE. Instead of taking its course, the law TOOK ITS TIME. The local courts meted out swift justice. The higher courts dilly-dallied. They shook the electric chair in his face—nothing more. They took nearly two years to do—well, what did they do?
Ratliff, back home, granted a "sanity hearing" (what a joke), killed him another man. Eastland county citizens, in despair of getting justice from the courts, incensed by the new outrage, took the matter in their own hands.
When Texas courts learn to eliminate red tape and deal with criminals in keeping with other American ideals of efficiency and expedition, mobs will occur less frequently. Texas needs court reform.—The DeLeon Free Press.

Miss Nelda Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garrett of Colorado, will visit with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Merton, in Strawn during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Garrett is a sophomore in the Texas Woman's College, Fort Worth. She is a member of the Hughes West Texas club, the Scribblers' club, and the Woman's Athletic association. She played on the sophomore hockey team, and is a reporter on The Hand-out, the college weekly.
She sends in reports on the Endav-

Hargrove, former professor of Bible in that institution.

HUNTERS GET DEER

G. W. Womack, Sam Venable, Will Berry and Chester Berry returned Friday from a hunting trip to Mason county, where they secured one deer and several wild turkeys. Uncle George Womack killed a gobbler that weighed 25 pounds, the largest of the kill. They all report a big time and a fine trip. Sam Venable is a little reluctant at describing his feelings when he got lost in a canyon. One member of the party tells the story that Venable could not believe the water in a creek was not running up hill and continued up the canyon from camp and insisted he was going in the right direction to camp. When he came out at the mouth of the canyon several miles up-stream, he got his bearings and drifted back to camp, claiming he had been chasing a big buck, but the member of the party who had a big turkey over his shoulder met up with Sam just as he turned back and let Sam carry the gobbler part of the way.

stomach trouble that I simply felt like giving up. Nearly everything I ate disagreed with me; I had terrible pains in my right side; my color was bad and I was finally told that I needed an operation on my gall bladder. "But I'm feeling so much better since taking Sargon that I fully believe that I am a well woman. I never suffer the slightest with indigestion now, and that dreadful pain in my side has completely disappeared. The Sargon Pills that go with the tonic, seemed to have a stimulating effect on my liver and gall bladder, and my complexion was improved wonderfully. WHEN CHILDREN Need a Laxative
"We have used Theford's Black-Draught in our family for nineteen years. I have found it of great help in raising my family."
"I have given it to all six of my children. Whenever they complain of upset stomach, or begin to look pale and sickly, I make a tea of Black-Draught and begin giving it to them. In a day or two they are all right."
"I give it to them for constipation, and my husband and I both take it. I always give it for colds in winter, for I believe a way to prevent them is to keep the system clean."

DIPHTHERIA CAN BE PREVENTED FOR TEN CENTS, ARTICLE SAYS

Dr. Coleman And Supt. Peek Call Attention To Information

Dr. P. C. Coleman, city health officer and Superintendent Ben S. Peek of the Colorado schools, join in calling attention to an article published in the Dallas News, wherein a great deal of information on the prevention of diphtheria is given. Colorado has not experienced an epidemic of diphtheria but the health officer and the school authorities are doing everything to prevent spread of diphtheria from a case discovered here. The information contained in the article in the Dallas News is worth reading. It follows:

Tate-Lax

Eliminate improperly and you will have rheumatism. TATE-LAX restores elimination through its action on the liver and bowels, thereby removing the internal poisons which cause many diseases. Sold by your druggist. If not, write the Dr. N. F. Tate Medicine Co., Waco, Texas. 1May '26 portunity, one might almost say that no child need die of diphtheria, is the opinion of Mrs. Do R. B. Foster, director of the Presbyterian clinic for infants and children.

Since diphtheria antitoxin came into general use for the cure of diphtheria, only one person in every ten who contracts the disease dies, as against four in every ten who died before that time, she said.

"There are certain glaring facts concerning those fatal cases that definitely place the blame," Mrs. Foster said. "They might be mentioned briefly as failure to give anti-toxin, failure to call the physician early enough, and the giving of antitoxin in doses too small to control the disease. While antitoxin, if given early enough in sufficient amount, will always cure diphtheria, the disease continues to be as prevalent as it ever was because very little effort has been made toward prevention. Physicians now have the means to seek out every child who will contract the disease and make it immune for life. If this practice is employed extensively enough, all of the susceptible children will be immune. This is attacking the disease from the correct angle, because it is recognized by everyone now that it is far more economical from the standpoint of money and life to prevent diseases. In this respect, the old maxim, 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' understates the fact, because the cost of preventing diphtheria in one of our patients is less than 10c, while the cost to a family of curing a single case of diphtheria is several hundred times that.

Disease Strikes Young
"Diphtheria occurs most often in the child of pre-school age, which makes it a difficult task for health officials to prevent the disease. Of course, a tremendous advantage is gained by immunizing school children, but there are many children of school age who resist the disease and carry germs home to little brother and sister. Diphtheria seems to be more prevalent in those families who can not afford all the necessities of life. Our clinic is making the effort to extend medical care to these. It seems an immense opportunity is afforded here, to protect the young children, because we are able to reach the class of children most frequently affected and safeguard the young child at the age when the disease most often occurs and before it comes under the protection of school workers. Since a large portion of the young children of Dallas in need of free medical care come to the clinic, a distinct safeguard is extended to children of people in better circumstances, by removing the usual source of the disease. In other words, by removing diphtheria from the unfortunate children there will be less exposure to those whose parents can afford proper precautions.

All Children Tested
"The clinic is now making a test on every child admitted. Four days later it is possible to say with certainty that the particular child will or will not contract diphtheria if exposed. The reason for this procedure is always explained to the parent and done with their consent. It is our experience that people fear something they do not understand, but are always anxious to protect their children when assured that no harm can come from it."
Mrs. Foster suggested that the subject under discussion be demonstrated by a visit to the laboratory by those who would like to know more of the process. The children are lined up to start, each having the sleeve of one arm rolled up. Then a small spot is scrubbed on each forearm by a nurse with a bit of cotton saturated with disinfectant. The children are then taken in charge by another young lady with a hypodermic syringe filled with a solution of diphtheria toxin diluted to a known amount. A small bit is injected just beneath the outer layer of the skin. When the children come back for the reading of the tests, four days later, given with a positive test are each given a dose of toxin-antitoxin or T.A., as it is termed by the laboratory workers. This mixture is injected in three doses. Several weeks afterward it will be impossible for the child to take diphtheria, a protection which lasts for life.

Many Take Chances
"This immunity that may be had for a few cents and less pain than results from a sore throat is rejected by many parents," Mrs. Foster said, "and probably for two reasons. One is that man is shy of anything that is strange or new. The second is that most of us are gamblers. Knowing how to prevent diphtheria and how to cure it, most people gamble on their own child escaping. These are high stakes. Fifteen thousand people pay the debt yearly in the United States with loss of life."

Club Boys Grow Cotton At Cost of 7 Cts. Pound

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 26.—While the Texas cotton yield was falling to a new low level of 108 lbs. of lint per acre this year, Texas 4-H Club boys went their winning ways undisturbed and according to preliminary reports will average at least twice that yield. A summary of the yields on 26 club acres scattered over the State shows that these boys averaged six times as much lint per acre as the average farmer did, or 611 pounds to the acre.

The average cost of production per acre for the boys was $40.66, which means that they produced the fleecy staple for 6.6 cents per pound. These costs include, according to Extension Service authorities, labor at 20 cents per hour, horse labor at the same figure, fertilizer, picking, ginning and rent of land at $5 per acre. The boys made an average acre profit of $85.84 from average acre returns of $126.50.

How was it done? In the first place, most of the cotton was grown on good land, made good by terracing, cropping to alfalfa, peas or other legumes, and turning under old crop refuse. The seed bed was prepared late last fall or winter, and in nearly every case pedigreed cotton seed was used. Only two boys of this group planted half-and-half cotton and their profits did not exceed the average. Fertilizers played a big part in these yields, especially in East Texas, where most of the boys applied several hundred pounds of various fertilizers with emphasis on the high nitrogen kinds. As for the rest, it is just the old story of clean cultivation and shallow, with a little poisoning of insects thrown in where it was needed.

The highest yield per acre thus far reported to Extension Service headquarters is that of Bill Flynn of El Paso county who picked 3700 pounds of pedigreed seed cotton from one acre. In East Texas the high yield

Stock Market Break Benefit To Texas, Said

AUSTIN.—The recent break in the stock markets will benefit agriculture and other Texas enterprises, is the opinion of Texas Banking Commissioner James Shaw.

Many of those who played and lost in stocks are wishing they had used their money to buy lands, bonds and secured notes, he commented in declaring he considered general conditions in Texas sound and "no serious trouble brewing in Texas business."

He announced the Oct. 4 consolidated State bank statement showed total deposits of over $270,000,000, a gain over the $267,000,000 of a year ago. Capital, surplus and undivided profits showed a gain of more than $4,500,000 within the year, to a total of $55,500,000, he said.

No Serious Setback
"The recent breaks in the stock markets did not and will not cause any serious setback to Texas banks or Texas business, Commissioner Shaw said.

"Stock market speculations in this thus far is credited to Homer Thigpen of Rusk county with 2652 pounds of seed cotton on an acre. State are confined to a comparatively few people, and, in my opinion," he declared, "the losses sustained were with few exceptions taken by those who were able to do so, either by having accumulated profits in the stocks or by reason of the fact that they were able to bet and lose."

"The thing that hurts Texas this year is that its cotton crop, which is normal five million bales, will not exceed four million bales, and that means that one hundred million dollars in money that just comes up out of the ground will be missing this year from Texas' wallet."

"While the income from cotton will be less this year, still the expanse of Texas is so great and its interests so diversified that regardless of the smaller cotton crop, the State as a whole has progressed wonderfully."

Light
Visualizer. Decorator. Artist.
Possibly the greatest contribution which has been made to modern civilization is the electric light. It has turned night into day, increased the efficiency of man's work, made possible comfortable and healthful hours of reading as far into the night as man has felt the urge to follow his studies or his pleasures.
The modern Texas home is a palace of light. Through the use of proper light the simplest home becomes a shrine of beauty. Light is a decorator and an artist.
The home with light, properly located and rightly diffused, is made comfortable, healthful and beautiful with very little expense. Simple furnishings, simple decorations take on new qualities when given the proper lighting background.
The Texas Electric Service Company has made a special study of lighting for the modern home and would be glad to work with you in giving your home the best possible lighting arrangement at the lowest possible cost.
When you have really given serious thought to the lighting possibilities of your home you will be delighted with the changes that can be economically made.
