Junked Vehicle Ordinance Passed by City Council

A junked vehicle ordinance was passed by the City Council in a special-called meeting of the City Council which is designed to rid the city of a health hazard and to promote the welfare of the city.

From the time the ordinance goes into effect, any automobile or other vehicle which does not have lawfully affixed thereto both a valid Texas license plate or plates and a valid Texas Department of Public Safety motor vehicle inspection certificate, and the condition of which is one or more of the following: wrecked, dismantled, inoperative, abandoned and/or discarded will be considered a junked vehicle.

Such vehicles are deemed to invite plundering, create fire hazards, interfere with the enjoyment of and reduce the value of private property, interfere with the comfort and well-being of the public, create extend and aggravate urban blight as well as being a safety and health hazard to children as well as adults.

The vehicle ordinance applies to junked vehicles on either occupied or unoccupied property, improved or unimproved property within the city limits, unless in junk yards or other appropriate places.

First, the city manager or his representative will order the owner of the real property, if in possession of the premises, or the occupant, if any, of the premises whereon such a vehicle stands to remove it. The order will be rendered personally or by sending copies by registered mail, return receipt requested.

If the occupant or owner fails to neglects or refuses to comply with the order issued, or the owner or his agent cannot be located, the city manager or his representative shall impound the junked vehicle and defray expenses thereof out of any moneys in the city treasury available for such purpose. All expenses incurred in the abatement of the junked vehicles shall be charged against the owner of the property and a statement of cost will be sent to the owner and will be due in 30 days.

In the event the bill is not paid within thirty days from the notice, the city manager or his representative may file a statement with the County Clerk of Bailey County of the expense incurred and the City shall have a privileged lien on the property for the amount of the expense together with 10 percent on the delinquent amount from the date the payment was due.

For such expenditure and interest, suit may be filed and recovery and foreclosure proceedings taken in the name of the City of Muleshoe.

Impounded vehicles will be returned to the bona fide owner if the owner pays the costs of the abatement and by paying a reasonable storage charge based on the period of time the junked vehicle has been impounded.

Junked vehicles will be kept impounded for a period of 90 days from the date notice is given the owner, or date of receipt of registered letter, then the vehicle will be deemed as abandoned and sold by the city.

Proceeds of such a vehicle shall first be applied to the storage charge, then remaining money applied to reduce the lien levied against the property. Should the vehicle fail to be sold for enough to clear the lien brought forth by the storage charges, the property lien will remain in full force with respect to any portion of this cost remaining unsatisfied. Thus, the property owner must pay the balance, should there be a balance, to clear their property of this lien.

Violation of this ordinance carries a penalty for those allowing this type of public nuisance to exist. Violations may be fined in the amount not to exceed $200 for each violation as each vehicle shall be considered a distinct and separate offense.

Many complaints have been registered with the City Council concerning such vehicles obstructing streets which should be clear of this type of parked-against-the-curb type fixtures, yards cluttered with from one to several stripped and semi-stripped vehicles and those abandoned in haphazard fashion at random throughout the city.

This ordinance grew out of these complaints over a period of time after a study by councilmen of the situation.

For a more detailed view of the ordinance, read the legal notice which appears in this issue of the Journal.

In other Council business, Jimmy Crawford was appointed to the membership of the City Planning Commission. He replaces Jim Jennings who resigned after taking a teaching position with the Muleshoe Independent School System.

A resolution was passed authorizing expenditure to be taken from the Auditorium Bond

Gin Totals Exceed 29,000: South Plains Harvest at Peak

A total of 29,865 bales of cotton has been reported ginned in the Bailey County area. The figure for 16 out-of-town gins stood at 22,689 Friday morning.

high grade having staple length of 1-3/32 and longer. Demand continued strongest for cotton having micronaire of 3.3 and better, and this cotton.

ton was selling at a greater premium over the loan. Cotton in the other micronaire categories was generally selling at $5 to $15 per bale over the loan.

Most of the gin yards over the area have only a few trailers of cotton left standing on the yard as the cotton harvest moves past the peak stage.

Harvest of South Plains cotton was at a peak when halted by overcast and damp weather this week, W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing office of the USDA said.

Cottonseed prices ranged from $52 to $70 per ton at the gins. Average price was $57 per ton.

Project Youth Draws Crowd

effort to fill the entertainment gap for area youths. After the ribbon was cut, the students filed down the stairs to the recreation room as the band played "The Gang's All Here."

The room was decorated in the Christmas holiday theme. Swags of Christmas swirled hung above the fireplace and a white flocked Christmas tree was lighted with colorful miniature bulbs. Christmas decorations dangled from the ceiling and arrangements in keeping with the season were placed on the tables in the room.

Youths wasted no time in taking of chairs for table games, dashing about the Ping Pong tables, visiting the Snack Rack for refreshments and seating themselves beside the fireplace for friendly conversation.

Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First Methodist Church, introduced guests, City Councilman and Mrs. Alex Williams, City Engineer and Mrs. Ralph Douglas and Mayor LeVeque to the group assembled in the foyer awaiting the opening of the room and program as a city-wide non-denominational "Storm sewers will soon be erected and city parks and recreational facilities are badly needed for a city such as Muleshoe."

"A city hall such as ours is almost a disgrace to the community and the need for a community center has been stressed many times and is needed badly and would be an asset to the community."

"A fire station and additional equipment is also on the list of items which could be obtained by a sales tax and something which is needed for the safety of the community," he related.

The police station, Chamber of Commerce building and public library were also discussed in explaining the need for a sales tax.

At least 50 percent of the sales tax collected will go into capital improvement which will not only benefit the actual residents of the city, but county residents as well.

A municipal election will be held December 16 to vote on the sales tax measure.

Others moved chairs in close to watch their favorite programs on a television supplied through the compliments of Harvey Bass Appliance. Hook-up and cable service is provided by Muleshoe Antenna. Wood for the fireplace is being furnished by Joe Ferris.

The first night of the program was called "Project Youth." However, it will take on a new name Friday, December 7. Each youth is asked to send the name of their choice by card or letter to Box 505, City. A name will be selected for the entertainment night and the winner will receive a $5 gift certificate from Cobb's.

This project is for senior high students, their dates, guests and hometown college students home for the weekend regardless of race, color or creed.

The project was born out of a survey of 125 adults and 60 youths which revealed the real need for it. The turn-out on the opening night proved the indicated need to be a reality.

The function will start each Friday night at 7:30 except those nights when a home ball game is scheduled, then starting time is 9:30.

Fire Never Takes A Holiday

With the reminder that "Fire Never Takes A Holiday," the National Fire Protection offers these suggestions for keeping home fire hazards at a minimum this Christmas.

Bailey County Fire Marshal Owen Jones urges citizens to carefully read and put the suggestions to use.

1. When selecting your Christmas tree, choose a fresh one. Saw it off at a sharp angle at least an inch above the original cut. Stand the tree in water from the time you buy it until you dispose of it. Don't rely on do-it-yourself "flameproofing" treatments --- none are reliably effective. Place the tree well away from radiators and fireplaces, and out of the escape path in case of fire.

If you choose an artificial tree, be sure it is made of slow-burning materials and carries a tag indicating that it is "flameproof." Metal trees will conduct electricity, so use only indirect lighting on them; strings of lights on a metal tree can create a dangerous shock hazard. If your tree has a built-in lighting system, it should carry the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label.

2. Decorative lighting requires the utmost care. Before using, check strings of lights for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Never use wax candles on or near the tree, or with polystyrene foam candle holders or decorations. Turn off all tree and other holiday lighting before leaving the house or retiring. For outdoor lighting, use only sets listed for outdoor use by the Underwriters' Laboratories.

3. Use noncombustible decorating materials --- metal, glass, asbestos, etc. --- as far as possible. If materials which burn easily --- such as cotton batting, flock and paper --- cannot be avoided, be sure they are marked "flameproof," which indicates they have been treated to make them flame resistant.

4. Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely. Never burn them in an indoor fireplace.

5. Be extra careful about smoking near the tree and other decorations.

Most important of all, plan in advance the escape measures and exit routes needed for the safety of your family in case fire should strike.

The year, 1968, may not be much different from 1967, but if we try a little harder we may save a life.

PIED PIPER---Mrs. T. R. White, Pied Piper for the Muleshoe Area Girl Scouts, is pictured receiving her flute from scout leader, Mrs. Walter Bartholf. Mrs. White, who worked with the original founders of Girl Scouting in Muleshoe, is wearing a 15-year service pin. She has served two years on the board of the Caprock Council. Her duties as Pied Piper include inspiring scouting, public relations and promote the growth of scouting and encourage leadership.

Goodfellows

Usable toys, money, food and clothing are needed by the Goodfellows to provide Christmas for the unfortunate who would otherwise be forgotten this year.

Along with this, the Goodfellows need the names of children under 14 years of age, living in the Muleshoe area, who are under privileged. Fill out the coupon in this issue of the Journal and mail it c/o City Hall, Muleshoe, Texas - 79347.

Goodfellows do not have time to repair toys or clothing and those donating are asked to give only usable items. Donations are to be made by taking them to City Hall.

Names and donations are needed by December 20 and distributions will be made December 22 and 23.

Food Is Objective Of Soil Program

Maintaining the capacity of our soil to produce food is one of the main objectives of a national soil conservation program, according to the newest publication of the Soil Conservation Service, "Our American Land."

Stopping sediment that is filling our streams and reservoirs, planning for orderly urban expansion and community development, and providing new outdoor recreational facilities are other objectives.

The booklet points out that America's farmers are producing food more efficiently than any other place in the world and because of this, we have the highest standard of living anywhere.

Quite a bit of our high production, however, comes at a high cost in tons of soil washed from the land. Much soil and water conservation work is still needed on the nation's farmland ranch lands. And that which is already in effect needs constant care and flexibility to adapt to changing needs and technology.

Copies of this publication may be obtained from Henry E. Stoneham, WUC, Soil Conservation Service, which provides professional and technical help to local landowners and operators in the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District.

A Salute to Area Clubs and Presidents

Vera Englekling

This is fifth in a series of Salutes to the clubs and presidents of Mileshee and its surrounding area. Vera Englekling was born in Iowa, moving to Texas at an early age. She has spent 48 years in and around Mileshee. She attended elementary school in the YL community and graduated from Mileshee High School. Her occupation is managing and taking care of her farming interests, caring for an invalid mother and taking care of her home. Mrs. Englekling was a former member of Pleasant Valley Social Club in 1960 and was elected secretary and reporter of the club in 1962. She has served as vice president and is now serving as president. She is a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, has taught Sunday School for eight years and is a member of Bailey County Farm Bureau. She also is publicity chairman for Bailey County Farm Bureau, first Area Pioneer chairman, member of the Library Board and a member of the Bailey County Historical Survey committee. The Progressive Home Club was organized in 1959 and at that time was called the Garden Club. Some of their accomplishments are purchasing glasses for needy children, sponsoring a girl at Girlstown for the past five years, remembering the senior citizens with birthday cards to continue to have the fellowship the club enjoys in doing something worthwhile for those who are less fortunate.

The slogan or motto of the club is "If We Do Our Best and Most Today, We Won't Have to Worry About Tomorrow, Just to Care Each Day."

Girl Scout Troop 89 Meet

Girl Scout Troop 89 had their regular meeting Monday, November 27. The program opened with the Pledge to the Flag and singing "America," and also sang "Grace." Troop 89 members worked and sewed on their badges. Patrol number two served cookies and punch to the members present.

Holiday Season Marketing Tips

COLLEGE STATION---Time seems to grow more important around the holiday season. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension specialist in consumer marketing, offers these suggestions to help save time and money, making "plans - ahead" for food easy.

To shell or not to shell may be a question regarding pecans. Compare the cost of the nuts in the shell and those shelled. Two pounds of well-filled out pecans will yield about one pound of nut meats.

If pecans in the shell cost 69 cents a pound, one pound of nut meats would cost $1.38. Shelled pecans cost about $1.70 a pound if bought in that quantity. If you buy three or four pound packages of pecans, then the cost per ounce is more, the Texas A&M University specialist said. Broken pieces may be less expensive than whole kernel - check prices. The pecan crop is late this year and better prices may be available later in the season.

You may also be wondering whether to buy canned cranberry sauce or to make your own from fresh cranberries. A one pound can of cranberry sauce is two cups and makes eight servings of one-fourth cup each. One pound of fresh cranberries will make three to three and a half cups of sauce and provide 12 to 14 servings of the same size. Of course, sugar must be added to the fresh cranberries when making sauce so add this to the cost of the fresh cranberries for accurate cost comparison.

To have all your cookies at their best on Christmas day, classify the kinds you plan to make according to their storage life. The first cookies to make are those that need to be stored for a time to mellow their spicy goodness (such as fruit cake cookies).

Next bake those that are ready for eating as soon as they are baked but keep well for several weeks -- these include refrigerator cookies. These are tender and store best in a loosely covered container. Rocks and hermits should be stored in a tightly covered container to keep moist and tender. Bake last, cookies you will use soon, such as rich butter cookies.

This is the peak season for coconuts, cranberries, and tangelos. Grapefruit, tangerines, navel and juice oranges, apples, pears, grapes, avocados, bananas and persimmons are other good fruit choices.

FLOAT IN MAKING --- Nancy Gentry, Elinor Yerby and Nonnie Howard were caught "red-handed" in the process of getting a float ready for the Christmas parade which was staged at 3 p.m. Saturday. Members of the ESA Sorority gathered in Red Barn Chemical warehouse where they put the finishing touches to the sorority float which they named "Vision of Sugar Plains." Others were Carol Johnson, Vicki Young, JoAddine Mayhugh and Marlene Martin.

Surprise Party Baptist Church honored their teacher, Mrs. Tobie Hatch, with a surprise birthday party Friday, December 1, 10 a.m. A shower of miscellaneous gifts was presented to her. Manville widow gets bulk of $1-million estate.

AGE-OLD CUSTOM---The highly decorated Christmas tree, the age-old custom observed at the celebration of the birth of baby Jesus, is shown here with Mrs. A. R. McGuire standing beside it in the living room of her home. Mr. and Mrs. McGuire have two children, a daughter, Mrs. Doyce Turner and a son, Gene, a junior at Texas Tech.

Jenny Tops Elect Officers

The Jenny TOPS met November 30, 7:30 p.m. in the Bailey County Electric community room for the election of new officers for the coming year. Those named to fill the officers slate were leader, June Vinson, vice leader, Evelyn Harris; secretary, Lauranette Mason and treasurer, Dena LaRue. Lauranette Mason presided over the business meeting. Fifteen members and three guests were present. Evelyn Johnson was crowned Queen for the week and her courtess was Corine Clayton. At the next regular meeting, the monthly queen will be honored, and the members are to remember to bring fruit for her.

Jerry Lewis plans to return to television next fall as the star of an NBC variety hour.

The Care of Your Clothes

by your Santone Certified Master Drycleaner

He Can't Tell You How To Make $40,000 A Year, But We Can Tell You How To Dress Like Someone Who Does.

This one executive who comes in our place fairly often must be in that bracket. When he brought in a suit the other day, I commented, "This certainly is fine material." (Like tailors, we drycleaners appreciate the finer things.) He smiled and said, "It's an investment. I buy the best suits I can afford. That way, I don't have to buy very many or very often." His smile broadened as he continued, "Of course, I'm pretty careful about who does my drycleaning." (That's how he got to be such a big executive -- he knows how to make people want to do things for him.) But that's his secret. He buys the best in clothes, then he has them drycleaned regularly. And he's found that our Santone drycleaning makes them look new longer. After all, Santone gets out more dirt than any other pre any other process. So the colors always keep their vividness. And Santone retentivizes the fabrics to make them even feel soft and new time after time. Now you can tell your husband how he can dress like a $40,000 a year man. We'll help him.

No Change Indicated In Vegetable Acreage

COLLEGE STATION-- It will take 296,600 acres planted to the 13 principal spring vegetables to supply the commercial market needs of these crops, points out John Larsen of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

This is the same acreage as was grown last year, he says, as he calls attention to the acreage-marketing guides just released by the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Texas and Louisiana are among the states that produce most of the spring vegetables. If growing conditions are normal in 1968, the recommended acreage will provide three percent less of these vegetables than in 1967 but two percent more than in 1966.

In addition, it is recommended that cantaloups be grown on 36,600 acres, about five percent more than last year. This acreage would provide a crop just slightly smaller than in 1967 but well above 1966. Output of late-spring watermelons on the recommended 63,800 acres would be 13 percent higher than in 1967 and above average.

CAMS market analysts said that if spring vegetable and melon crops are in line with the guides, and if harvest timing is normal, supplies should be adequate for anticipated needs.

The guides call for five percent fewer acres planted to broccoli, celery and late-spring onions; 10 percent fewer acres in carrots and five percent more in both early- and late-spring corn. No change is indicated for other spring vegetables: snap beans, cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers, lettuce, early-spring onions, green peppers, spinach and tomatoes.

County Extension agents in spring-vegetable growing areas have additional information on the guides, Larsen said.

Farm Bureau News... Concerning Social Security Program From: Facts For You!

BILL WEDEMEYER, DIRECTOR

Farm Bureau voting delegates at the county, state and national levels have had much to say with regard to the Social Security program during the past 30 years. When the program was started it was sold on the basis of having each individual set aside a small portion of his earnings during his active working years for retirement. The idea was to do away with the need for relief for retired citizens. At the time the present Social Security program was put into action, the need for public relief was little if any. Today, after some 30 years of operation, the program has advanced in all areas to a point that it actually threatens the nation's economy.

The following statement made by Paul Harvey with regard to the Social Security program is worthy of your consideration.

SOCIAL SECURITY SYSTEM

By Paul Harvey

"If any insurance company were administered as the government administers your 'Social Security insurance,' its resources would be impounded and its officers would be thrown into jail Period!

"Every stenographer, barber and bootblack in America figures, 'there's not much left in the paycheck after all those deductions, but at least the government is saving the Social Security part of my old age.' (What fallacy!) The government is saving NOTHING for your old age! The Social Security taxes you pay now go into the Treasury's GENERAL FUND! They are now used to pay Social Security benefits that are due NOW - plus administrative expenses! All that's left in the Social Security kitty for YOUR old age are a bunch of paper IOU's signed by your own grandchildren! Indeed, Social Security is presently so insecure that Congressman Tom Curtis says, 'I'm afraid it's going to hit the rocks in another ten years.' (And the rate is going up this year!)

"On the other hand, when you buy legitimate insurance from a private insurance company, that company, must under law, have IN HAND adequate assets to cover all obligations - present and FUTURE! Furthermore, private insurance is cheaper! Even Social Security Commissioner Robert Ball admits that, for a young worker, 'the benefits are NOT EQUAL to the contributions! Young employees do not get their money's worth.'

TO YOU AS A YOUNG ADULT

"IF YOU ARE NOW 25 - and you and your employer pay your Social Security tax until retirement time - you are entitled to $168 a month, if single, and $252 a month if married! Had you bought private insurance, for that same premium you could retire on $312 a month if single, and $263 a month if married!

"Your government is, understandably, very sensitive about this subject. If you send a copy of this column to Washington you will probably receive an official booklet entitled 'Your Social Security,' which declares that all Social Security taxes 'go into special funds,' and that when you retire you collect 'monthly cash benefits from these funds.' I am telling you that this is not true - that the government's 'insurance men' are making a FALSE claim which the government's insurance examiners would never permit a private insurer to make!

"For Readers Digest, Charles Stevenson made an in-depth study to determine just how secure your Social Security is and he concluded that 'the Social Security Administration is BANKRUPT!'

"Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler testified before Congress last January that unless Congress at once raised the debt limit, 'the government can only cover about half of the Social Security checks due to go out in March.' Your government is NOT saving your Social Security taxes for YOU! Your government expects to tax your grandchildren to support YOUR old age! If the taxpayers of that later date decide they've had enough of the big tax squeeze, you are going to wish you'd bought your insurance from a responsible source!"

John Tower

As you know, I am in Southeast Asia this week and I recorded this introduction before leaving. I'm very pleased to have as my guest the distinguished Senator from Illinois, Senator Charles Percy, Senator Percy is one of the nation's real experts in the field of housing for persons of low income. I've asked him to share with you some of his views on that subject. I'm very pleased to introduce Senator Charles Percy.

This is Senator Charles Percy from the state of Illinois. I'm very pleased to have this opportunity to fill in for my friend and seat-mate in the Senate, Senator John Tower. John Tower, as you know, is knowledgeable in the field of national security affairs and on his now, fourth trip to Southeast Asia; we are all anxiously awaiting his return to have the benefit of his latest observations and his analysis of the conditions in Vietnam.

I first knew John Tower in 1960, when we both served as members of the 1960 Republican Platform Committee. There was no man at that convention who impressed me more with his deep knowledge of problems, his compassion and understanding for human problems, and the extremely sensible approach that he had toward responsible conservatism, and I've had that deep respect and high regard for him ever since. I've been, therefore, extremely pleased that we've had the chance to work together on the Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee of the Banking and Currency Committee of the Senate. John Tower is actually the ranking member on the Republican side of that committee, he's my boss there, and I have taken my leads and directions from him.

We introduced together into the Senate, early in the session, a housing bill called "The National Home Ownership Foundation Act." This has become now a part of the omnibus housing bill that we have been guiding through the Banking and Currency Committee for many months. It embraces a number of ideas that John Tower feels strongly about. For instance, we feel that the whole concept of public housing has been wrong in many respects. For instance, there is no incentive for achievement. Everyone is crowded together in one tenement type building and so long as they fail and continue to fail they can stay there, but if they succeed economically, they're evicted. John Tower has felt, for instance, that people in those buildings should be offered the chance for home-ownership -- to buy that apartment. In fact, a group getting together in a non-profit organization should be able to buy an entire housing project or building and have condominium or co-operative home-ownership, just like middle-income and higher-income families.

John Tower also introduced the concept of the presidential commission to study housing for lower income families. This would offer greater opportunities to the poor and see if we can't change the direction of our welfare program from just hand-out programs to making them more a helping-hand to those that need help. This would also wean them away from government welfare programs and have them recognize the sense of dignity and respect that can normally be felt by a person when he stands on his own two feet.

This has been a very exciting year for me as a freshman senator and extremely helpful to sit alongside a man who I have known so long and respected so greatly. We don't always vote alike, and we don't consult ahead of time on how we vote many times, but I think we've been pleased at how many times we actually have voted together and seen problems in the same light. Certainly in the field of housing, I've been guided greatly by his expertise in this field and the long years of experience that he's had. Together I hope that we're going to be able to make a contribution to having a better way for us to live and work in our great urban areas. Thank you for the privilege of being with you today.

John Tower also introduced the concept of the presidential commission to study housing for lower income families. This would offer greater opportunities to the poor and see if we can't change the direction of our welfare program from just hand-out programs to making them more a helping-hand to those that need help. This would also wean them away from government welfare programs and have them recognize the sense of dignity and respect that can normally be felt by a person when he stands on his own two feet.

This has been a very exciting year for me as a freshman senator and extremely helpful to sit alongside a man who I have known so long and respected so greatly. We don't always vote alike, and we don't consult ahead of time on how we vote many times, but I think we've been pleased at how many times we actually have voted together and seen problems in the same light. Certainly in the field of housing, I've been guided greatly by his expertise in this field and the long years of experience that he's had. Together I hope that we're going to be able to make a contribution to having a better way for us to live and work in our great urban areas. Thank you for the privilege of being with you today.

TLCB Official Asks Baptist Apology

AUSTIN (AP)—A Texas Liquor Control Board member said here an apology was due to the board's "dedicated employees" from the Texas Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Replying to a November 4 letter from Jimmy R. Allen, secretary of the convention's Christian Life Commission, O. R. Crawford said the board welcomed the Baptists' investigation of the "powers, personnel and policies of the liquor control board."

But Crawford said he was "somewhat disappointed that your group did not better inform yourselves of the existing laws governing our operations before voting a recommendation concerning the private club situation in Texas."

same percentage to be in the Texas Legislature," Crawford said. "If this is true, the present laws must represent the thinking of the majority of your members."

The board takes no position on the rightness of the laws, Crawford said, but he went on to point out that "the liquor-by-the-drink bill as introduced during the last session of the legislature would have put the strongest controls ever placed on the sale and use of alcoholic beverages in Texas."

"I feel that an apology is due the dedicated employees of the Texas Liquor Control Board for your backhanded statement" that the Baptists "see no reason to anticipate fair and effective enforcement of an effort of liquor laws in this state with the performance of the present agency," Crawford said.

Crawford's reply was in a letter mailed Monday to Allen's Dallas office.

PURSUe THE TOPIC FURTHER

Dear Amy:
 I've been going with a real wonderful guy for about six months. He said he'd get me engaged in December and we would be married sometime after Christmas. Since the time he proposed, he's never said anything more about it. I'm too bashful to bring up the subject. Could you tell me what to do?
Too Bashful
Dear Bashful:
 The "Bashful Bride" went out with the horse and buggy. Pursue this topic further and find out if here is a "line" of truth in what HE proposes. . . .

Dear Amy:
 We are a one-car family and my husband has to use it to go to work. However, I do have a neighbor who offers me a ride every time she goes shopping or to the beauty shop. One day a store downtown was having a terrific sale on chicken (my husband loves chicken), and my neighbor called me up and told me to be at her house by one o'clock and that we would go together.
 At one o'clock I was coming up her front walk when her door opened up and there she stood, still in her night clothes, her hair in curlers, saying good-by to another neighbor. I was quite disturbed and angry and it must have showed because when I exclaimed, "You're not dressed yet, she said, "So what!" and slammed the door in my face.
 Now, Amy I have always been very nice to this woman for the favors she did for me. I have bought her small pieces of jewelry and have taken her and her husband out to dinner. I don't think I deserved that kind of treatment. Do You?
Disturbed
Dear Disturbed:
 No, I don't think so either. Perhaps your friend was annoyed at being held up by her neighbor so your remark added fuel to the fire and she exploded. By now she's probably as sorry about the incident as you are.
 Unless you learn to become your own chauffeur or have hubby run you around, you must overlook a lot, accept even more than you are.

PERSONAL TO Mixed Up (Los Angeles, Calif.):
 Intimacy, not sanctified by a marriage license, is WRONG no matter what a boy tells you. A girl your age needs a mother. Please tell your father so.

chapter. The girl who is selected goes to state contest, which is held in Lubbock this year.

The Muleshoe FFA Chapter Sweetheart is Susan Camp. She is a senior and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernis Camp. Susan has been the chapter Plowgirl the last two years. She is very active in Muleshoe high school.

Diane Bryant is Plowgirl who will assist Susan at the contest. Diane is a senior and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bryant.

during the contest on beauty, poise, and personality. The top five will then perform their talent and from this the judges will make their final decision.

Master of ceremonies for the event will be Bill Bradley, former director of the Muleshoe High School band, and present director of the Big Springs High School band. Co-ordinator of the pageant is Betty Harbin. The planning committee consists of Thespians Renee Dyer, Lyna Pitts, Dale Blackstone and Stan Johnson.

Freshmen are: Lance Puckett, Jerry Scoggin, Steve Black, Terry Gunter. Girls are Sherry Moore and Suzanne Byrd, Debbie Wagnon and Debbie Williams.

All proceeds from the event will go to the Thespians project for the year which is to build a speech and drama library.

As of Thursday, our boys basketball team has been defeated by Morton, 50 to 41, and has won over Littlefield, 58 to 34. Although we were defeated by Morton, we were pleased with the way we played since this was our first game.

I was greatly pleased with our man-to-man defense. In order for us to win consistently we have to play good defense. The thing that hurt us in this game was our inability to hit the basket. The second half we were able to hit only 24 percent of our shots from the field.

In the game against Littlefield, we jumped off to a quick lead and were able to maintain this lead throughout the game. We played a good game in spots, but on some occasions we were a little sluggish. Our strongest point in this game was our rebounding as we were able to pick off 40 rebounds. Our leading rebounder was David Davis with 15 rebounds. David played a real good game as he also scored 18 points.

Overall, I am very much pleased with the play of our teams this early in the season. We're looking much better at this point of the season than we did last year. If we can continue to improve and hit from the field more consistently, we will have a real good team and a good season. I would like to urge each of you to come out and support your basketball teams. These players spend a great deal of time practicing and they will represent your school and community to the best of their ability.

The 1967-68 Mule football season was difficult for both the boys and the coaching staff. In spite of winning only two and losing eight, we feel that a great deal of progress has been made. When you consider that we only had two offensive and two defensive starters back from a team which won only two games the previous year, you can understand why we have stated that a good foundation has been laid for the future by our 1967-68 team. Everyone hates to lose, but if you must lose, we hope that we lose with boys just like the ones we had this year. Not at any time did they quit. In spite of losing they would come back on Monday eager to learn and improve. Our association with these young men has been very rewarding for us. In short, we are proud to be a part of their team. The season has barely closed and we are already looking forward to next season. We shouldn't have a great team, but will be much improved. The success or failure of our ball club next year will hinge on our interior linemen and how hard we work between now and September. We lose six offensive and three defensive starters off of our 67-68 team. Most of our losses are in the interior line. It is nice to know that we have almost all of our starting backfield. (Roger Swint, Charles Beamon and Ronnie Barrett.) In closing we would like to thank all of you for your understanding and support. You have made a hard season much easier and we appreciate it. Please continue your encouragement toward our program in the months to come. Let these athletes know that you are behind them and you appreciate their efforts. Help them to think football over the summer.

Sincerely,
 The Muleshoe Coaching Staff

Faculty Gives Talent Show For Students

By John Gulley

The student body of MHS was treated to a faculty talent show on Wednesday as the Muleshoe school system closed its doors in observance of the Thanksgiving holidays. The show was a great hit as the many hidden talents of the faculty were displayed in an hour program.

Those teachers who appeared on a voluntary basis were Tom Jinks, Fred Mardis, Mrs. D. B. Lancaster, Keith Bray, George Washington, Mrs. Margie Kinsey, Mrs. Kendrick, Mrs. Lindell Murray, Mrs. "Hoot" Gibson, Byron Hardgrove, Bob Breckenridge, Burel Block, Dick Stafford, Royce Barnes, "Hoot" Gibson, Wayland Etridge and Kerry Moore.

Many students were heard to say that it was one of the best assemblies that they had attended all year. The student council reported that it was a profitable one as well, and that the money taken in would be used in the area of school improvement.

FHA Members Boosted 1967 Holiday Spirit

By Winn Watson

The Future Homemakers of America boosted Christmas spirit around MHS Friday morning by staging their annual Christmas card party.

All of the FHA members brought three Christmas cards which were stamped and ready to be mailed. These cards are sent to a state-supported institution. The patients in the institution then address them and send them to their friends and relatives.

The FHA girls dropped their cards in a red and white mailbox and then were ushered to the serving table. They were served cookies and punch by Barbara Whitte and Joyce Raney. The hostesses were Val Moore, Lyna Pitts and Winn Watson.

About 100 girls participated in this year's party. Two boys from the annual staff, Don Huff and Cary Purdy, managed to attend the party to take pictures. We wonder if this was their only motive for coming to the party!!!

Kerry Moore FTA Advisor

Kerry Moore, advisor of Blackman - Moore Chapter of FTA in Muleshoe High School, was re-elected to a third three-year term as District 13 FTA (Texas Future Teachers of America) advisor at the district convention in Lubbock on November 18.

Public college costs up 15% since 1964.

Moore, director of speech and drama department in Muleshoe, also girls' basketball coach, has been the advisor of the Muleshoe chapter of FTA for the past seven and one-half years.

Muleshoe FTA chapter presented a workshop on assembling a yearbook at the convention. The Muleshoe chapter has had the state championship yearbook for the past two years.

WASH AND WAILIN--All in fun, Wayland Etridge and Coach George Washington play their harps to the tune which sounded like "Skip to My Lou" for students during the pre-Thanksgiving holiday talent show.

AH-WALTZ--Complete with floppy cowboy hats, Fred Mardis and Tom Jinks give forth with a vocal arrangement of "Waltzing Matilda" in the strictest country music fashion. This was given during the recent talent show by the faculty.

Vietnam Casualties

The war in Vietnam continues to exact its toll of U.S. dead and 1967 has proven to be the most costly year of fighting so far. But many have an exaggerated idea of the death rate as compared to other wars.

This is partly because the fighting in Vietnam has dragged on for so long - for five years - and threatens to drag on for additional years. It is also a result of the sharp rise in casualties (and fatalities) which has occurred this year.

The Korean War, which lasted three years, cost the United States over 33,000 dead and more than 100,000 wounded. In five years of fighting in Vietnam American deaths have totaled over 15,000. Thus fatalities are less than half the number sustained in the Korean War.

Casualties (wounded) are running close to 90,000 in the Vietnam fighting and this figure is approaching the Korean War total. Most of the casualties, or wounds, are minor, however, and soldiers are often fully recovered in a short time.

One should not dismiss lightly or statistically the loss of 15,000 lives in Vietnam even though the five-year total is less than half the annual death toll on U. S. highways. There figures simply provide the reader facts upon which he can formulate a sound perspective.

This Little Town

Guest Editorial

As Americans last weekend expressed thanks for their blessed state, it is hard for most of us to conceive of how greatly different our lives are from those of most of the world. One of the best comparisons we have seen was that made quite awhile ago by Dr. Henry Smith Leiper and widely circulated by Freedoms Foundation. It deserves repetition.

In "A 1-Town World," he suggested that some magic wand compress the globe's 3 billion people into a small town of 1,000. In this imaginary town, there would be 60 Americans and 940 would represent the rest of the world.

Half of the 1,000 would have heard of Jesus Christ and his teachings.

About 330 in the town would be classified as Christians and 670 would not.

At least 80 townspeople would be practicing Communists and 370 others would be under communist domination.

The 60 Americans would receive half of the town's income. The lowest income group among the Americans would be better off than the average of the rest of the town. The 60 Americans would have 15 times as many possessions per capita as all the rest of the world.

White people would total 303, non-whites 67.

Americans would enjoy disproportionate shares of the town's food, electric power, coal, fuel, steel, general equipment and many more things - almost every comfort and convenience.

Now, as one of that 60 out of a 1,000 - have you really been as thankful as you should have been? Are you as dedicated to preserving this America as you must be?

WASHINGTON NOTES

Head Shrinks

Guest Editorial

Sometimes a good story can do more to convey a pertinent truth than a well-written essay or a pointed sermon. Here is one that was recounted by John B. Reilly in an issue of Roman Magazine, in answer to the question: "How do you salvage a good man who gets a big head?"

The owner of a big gravel outfit had such a man. He called him one day, "Bill," he said, "you're the best superintendent we've had and I'm giving you a vacation on full pay." Bill beamed, "How long?"

"There's no time limit. Stay away - well, until you're sure the business can get along as well without you as with you."

Bill grinned some more. Days and weeks passed. A month. No SOS from the boss. Bill got the idea all right and one day showed up - considerably humbled.

A CLEAN-AIR BILL

A $428-million, three-year authorization for a strong Federal crackdown on air pollution has been agreed by the House and Senate conferees. The bill gives the Federal Government possible powers to halt industry and travel in the event of an air-pollution emergency.

ON SOCIAL SECURITY

The Senate Finance Committee has voted to increase Social Security payroll deductions from 4.4 to 5 per cent next year. The maximum base would be from $6,600 to $8,800 to pay for the old-age benefits.

ON AGE BIAS IN HIRING

A bill has been passed by the Senate to ban discrimination in hiring and dismissing workers because they are over 40 years of age. Senator Ralph W. Yarborough (D-Tex), sponsor of the measure, said it would cover age discrimination between 40 and the normal retirement of 65.

RAT CONTROL AID

The Senate Labor Committee has approved a $59-million public health services extension bill of which $40-million could be used for rat-control projects. The House added the $40-million to the bill for a two-year rat control program.

Crumbling political patterns

Guest Editorial

Recent elections, limited in scope as they were, further confirmed a growing tendency in the United States. This is toward the weakening and breakup of long-established patterns.

The election of the first Republican governor in 20 years in the heavily democratic state of Kentucky, the choice of a Republican mayor in Democratic Hartford and the razor-thin defeat of a Republican in Philadelphia show a new flux in political thinking. And while the tinder-box issue of race played a dominant part in the races for mayor of Cleveland and Gary, the fact that those two overwhelmingly Democratic cities almost elected Republicans will not without some significance in future voting trends there.

In Massachusetts political outlookers see a swiftly widening split between two heavily Democratic groups (the Irish and the Italian) which used to work in fairly close concert.

Perhaps most surprising of all to many observers was the willingness of hundreds of thousands of Roman Catholics in New York state to vote against a constitutional package which, among other things, sought to ease the way for public financial aid to parochial schools. Although it is not suggested that the bulk of these Catholic votes indicated disapproval of such aid, it is significant that so massive a bloc of Catholic voters allowed other, nonreligious issues to predominate in their thinking.

This weakening of many political patterns is not, of course, something new with this year's voting. For some years now there has been a steady crumbling of the once-solid Democratic hold on the South. In 1966 California, which had seemed to grow more heavily Democratic with the years, elected a Republican governor by a swing of one million-vote majority. Elsewhere the swing has been at the expense of the Republicans, notably in the three northern New England states and in the farm states of the Middle West.

The principal reason behind this break-up of familiar patterns is the growing political independence of the local and national electorate. We doubt if, ever before, a larger percentage of the American people were less interested in political loyalty or more interested in issues and candidates. May this healthy trend continue.

De Gaulle's Excuses About Exhausted

Guest Editorial

Excuses for the conduct of President Charles de Gaulle of France have just about been exhausted. Few if any heads of state have been treated in such charitable manner as De Gaulle has been treated after he has insulted friendly governments, sought to take advantage of their financial difficulties, accused them falsely of starting wars, ridden their backs to prosperity and national security and then booted them out of his country and publicly advocated division within a foreign, friendly nation.

General de Gaulle has been excused on the ground that he is misunderstood, that he has good if mistaken purposes, that he seeks to fill a necessary role of a bridge between two warring factions in the world, that despite some obnoxious characteristics he is a strong man on the side of the free world. He knocks these excuses flat at frequent intervals. He has just held another of those press conferences at which he permits questions, then makes his prepared speech which may or may not answer the questions.

If anyone still thought he was misunderstood in what seemed to be a promotion of the separation of Quebec from the rest of Canada, M. de Gaulle demolished that thought. Canada, he said, must revise its constitution, something even Charlemagne II should not consider within his authority even to suggest. Quebec, he said, should have "The rank of a sovereign state" and "be master of its national existence like other nations throughout the world."

This was necessary for Quebec, he said, to be able to "stand up to the invasion of the United States." When Fidel Castro says things like this we call him a promoter of revolution.

Peace in the Middle East was broken, he charged, because the United States was fighting in Vietnam and cannot be restored until the United States stops the Vietnam war. Still another reason for the trouble in the Middle East was given as what he described as the failure of Israel to do what he told Israel to do.

Britain's devaluation of the pound was not enough to gain his permission for entry to the Common Market. Britain, he said, must change its entire nature to be compatible with Europe. Europe cannot afford to weaken itself by negotiating with Britain, he warned, because it had to remain strong to "counterbalance the enormous power of the United States." He will not be happy unless the American dollar is devalued.

General de Gaulle makes it mighty hard for others to keep on believing that he really is not hardened by some psychological need for revenge against Anglo-Saxons - particularly Americans - for coming out of World War II in better shape than the French. His great and commendable purpose is the restoration of the grandeur of France, but he seems to think the way to do it is to cut the Anglo-Saxons down to size.

Castor Bean Crop Best of Decade

By Orville Howard
Farm Editor, Amarillo Daily News

PLAINVIEW---Castor bean farmers marked time against the Plains area's first snow blast this week as combines were idled at the peak of the best harvest of the decade.

Though the shushy weather is not expected to damage the crop, farmers fear a major snowstorm which could shatter the fragile bean pods.

Johnson Anderson of Plainview, general manager of the Baker Castor Oil Co., said this year's castor bean crop is one of the best on record despite a slight reduction in acreage during the past two years.

"The yields and quality of the beans are absolutely excellent - I've never seen a better crop," said Anderson.

Anderson said there are between 20,000 and 25,000 acres of castor beans to be harvested in the area this season, with the crop expected to gross about $3 million.

The Plainview firm now has receiving points for the crop throughout the region. The beans are cleaned and graded in Plainview, then shipped to East Coast refineries for crushing.

"We are still importing about 85 percent of our domestic consumption, most of which comes from Brazil," said Anderson.

The average yield of Panhandle irrigated acreage this fall is expected to run about 2,200 pounds per acre. The price is $6 per hundredweight to the farmer. Last year's going price was $5.

Martin Schur of Plainview reported one of the highest yields of the area - 3,642 pounds per acre - with an average of 3,274 pounds per acre from a 62-acre field. The Donald Ebeling farm, 7 miles west of Plainview, was turning out an average of 3,000 pounds per acre earlier this week before harvest was stopped by the snow.

Wesley Schumacher, a farmer whose place is 5 miles southeast of Plainview, said his 55-acre field of castors averaged 3,135 pounds per acre, and James Taylor of Plainview reported a 2,400-pound average on a certified seed crop.

"Castor bean production is definitely one of the most promising crops of the Panhandle," said Schur, a veteran castor bean producer of the Plains.

Dr. Raymond Brigham of Lubbock, a research agronomist at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, said yields are running well above average in most of the Lubbock region, with harvest about 50 percent complete. He said most of the fields are turning out between 2,500 and 3,000 pounds per acre.

The majority of the Plains area's castor bean production is grown on diverted feed grain acreage. Under a revised farm program established in 1962, farmers may plant castors on diverted grain acreage by forfeiting about half of the diverted acreage payments.

The United States is the world's largest consumer and importer of castor oil, using about 158 million bushels of beans annually. Texas is the largest castor bean producer in the nation.

In the event that the amount due has not been paid within the applicable thirty-day period, the City Manager or his representative may file a statement with the County Clerk of Bailey County of the expenses incurred to abate such public nuisance, and the City shall have a privileged lien on any lot, tract or parcel of land upon which such expense is incurred, together with ten per cent (10%) of the delinquent amount from the date such payment is due. For any such expenditure and interest, as aforesaid, suit may be instituted and recovery and foreclosure had in the name of the City, and the statement so made, as aforesaid, or a copy thereof, shall be prima facie proof of the amount expended in any such abatement performed by the City.

SECTION 5. In the event that possession by the bona fide owner thereof of any junked vehicle or junked vehicles impounded in accordance with the provisions of Section 4 hereof, is not acquired within ninety (90) days from the date of the receipt of the registered letter or of giving public notice of the costs of abatement, such junked vehicle or junked vehicles shall be deemed to have been abandoned and may be sold by the City. The proceeds from any such sale shall first be applied to reduce or satisfy the storage charges computed in accordance with Section 5 hereof, and any amount of such proceeds then remaining shall be applied to reduce or satisfy the lien perfected in accordance with Section 4 hereof. Such lien shall remain in full force and effect with respect to any portion of the costs of abatement remaining unsatisfied.

SECTION 7. That if any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance, and all the remainder of this ordinance shall continue to be in full force and effect.
