FARMERS FEEDING SHEEP CO-OP PLAN PLEASSED WITH RESULTS OBTAINED

Lambs Recently Brought Here From Ranch At San Angelo

Mitchell county farmers, who merged into the sheep business on the co-operative feeding plan, express entire satisfaction in results obtained so far.

E. Franklin has 600 head of lambs and T. H. Shurtliff is feeding 100. The animals were obtained from John Ringer, Tom Green county sheep breeder a few weeks ago and trucked to the farms of these two citizens.

Representative of The Record visited the Franklin farm Saturday morning with the county farm inspector and the city sanitary inspector. Both of the latter, after an inspection of the herd, declared the lambs to be making excellent progress in putting on daily poundage.

The sheep are being fed a ration of threshed maize, cottonseed meal and hezari. They are to be kept on feed about 110 days before shipping to market.

Ringer will receive market price for the sheep, based on weights at time of delivery of the animals to the feeder-farmers. Franklin and Shurtliff will give as their share the profits the market quotation of gains made during the feeding period.

Should the venture of these two prove profitable it is likely that other farmers having surplus feed will follow this same industrial program.

Tax Accounts Paid Before January 31 Free From Penalty

Tax collector, J. B. Holt, Tuesday again called attention of the public to the special legal proposal extended to the taxpayer of this state.

All delinquent taxes paid on or before January 31 will be free of the usual penalty and interest. The saving is not to be considered light.

This means that a property owner having not settled his 1930 tax account may now go to the tax collector's office and pay off in full by remitting the original amount.

After the last day of this month, however, the usual penalty and interest, as exacted by statute, will be annexed.

DEPRESSION WILL NOT DENY THIS WOMAN HER FAVORITE NEWSPAPER

The Record has a most appreciative friend in Loraine. She is a woman, who, due to financial reverses, came to the place wherein she is experiencing the biting pangs of depression.

Friday she wrote the publishers to continue her subscription, "as I am only making about $1.00 a week now washing. I will surely miss the Record, as it is like getting a letter from home."

In the communication she enclosed money order for fifty cents to pay up her back subscription.

No, the publisher is not going to discontinue sending the Record to this Loraine friend. Her subscription date has been extended another year in advance, with our compliments. Though poor in this world's goods, she is rich in the more noble things. Her rugged honesty in admitting that half dollar out of her meagre earnings sustains that claim.

POCKET KNIFE CAUSES PAINFUL HURT TO LEG

Lester Mannering, local confectioner, has found that even a pocket knife is sometimes a dangerous plaything.

While handling his knife recently at the Keybrook Confectionery, the keen pointed instrument was dropped from his hand. The protruding blade imbedded itself in fleshy part of his leg above the ankle.

Important Test In Eastern Howard Is Of Interest Here

Colorado oil men Monday were expressing considerable interest in the Lee C. Harrison No. 1, L. C. Denman, located in Eastern Howard county. The test was reported at that time to be in the crucial stage.

Drilling had advanced to 2,400 feet, when gas was struck. The rig was shut down and pipe run into the hole. The string lodged at 2,200 feet and it was decided to use the Halliburton process and cement the pipe there.

Harrison said it appeared producing formation had been tapped about 100 feet higher than in nearby wells. A good producer would open up a wide extension of an area south of Coahoma that barely has been scratched with development.

An interesting sidelight on this well is that the owner of the land, L. C. Denman of Abilene, has donated to Abilene Christian college, one-half of his eighth royalty under ten acres on which the test is located. He also gave the college 1-16th or 1-8th royalty on 30 additional acres of the immediate vicinity.

BANK STATEMENTS SHOW STABLE CONDITION OVER WESTERN AREA OF TEXAS

Colorado and Other Banks In District Indicate That Better Times Here

West Texas is making definite strides along the return road to normalcy and everywhere in the area conditions are shown to be considerably more stable than might have been said a few weeks ago.

That such is true is reflected in bank statements, made public during week on call of the comptroller for statement showing condition at the close of business December 31. The City National Bank at Colorado is no exception to the rule in indicating better times.

From some West Texas communities, including San Angelo and others that might be mentioned, bank deposits have registered a material increase since the last call. The difference at San Angelo alone was more than $100,000.

Newspaper comment on the bank statements indicate that bankers over the territory are viewing the immediate future with a greater optimism than for many months during the recent past.

ARRIVAL OF 1932 WAS OCCASION FOR DIN OF NOISE MAKING IN CITY

Colorado welcomed arrival of the infant 1932 with such din of noises as to awaken scores of citizens who had elected to sleep while the old year made an exit and the new one came into being. Sirens, whistles, bells, fire crackers, guns and other instruments of noise were brought into action as the clock tolled twelve o'clock midnight.

A special watchnight service was held at First Presbyterian church. Program to fittingly commemorate the calendar change was carried out.

At the Country club the younger set, and others, too, danced to celebrate arrival of new year.

Stores were closed Friday in honor of the holiday.

CERTIFIED WEIGHT OF MACHINES REQUIRED IN REGISTERING TRUCKS

Owners and operators of trucks should bear in mind that all these machines must be accompanied by a certificate of weight, as well as head light certificate, when making application for 1932 license registration numbers.

The tax collector announced Tuesday that the law requires these certificates and under no condition may registration be made without them.

Authorized light testing stations and accredited public scales are available in Colorado for convenience of the public.

SCHOOLBOY ATHLETES TO HOLD SWAY IN COLORADO DURING NEXT THREE DAYS

Several Teams Registered In Before Noon Thursday; Others Coming

Between 250 and 300 West Texas school athletes are to hold sway in Colorado Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. They are here from twenty-nine schools to compete in annual invitation basketball tournament, opening Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the high school gym.

The opening tournament game, started at one o'clock with the Roby and Rogers eagers arrayed against each other, was moved ahead a half day in order to have sufficient time to play the twenty-nine teams entered. The original tournament schedule was to have opened Friday morning.

Colorado will have her first say in the contest at 8:15 Thursday night, when the locals meet the strong Trent eagers. Should Colorado win that battle the Wolves are scheduled to come back for their second bracket Friday morning at 10:30 against winner of the Sweetwater-Lorraine tilt.

Playing will be continued through Thursday and until 11 Thursday evening. At 7:30 Friday morning the gridsters will be back for another day of contests, gradually eliminating the weaker clubs to single out the others for finals toward tournament championship. The concluding contests to be played Saturday, will be started at 7:30 a. m.

Trophies to be awarded winning teams and individual players in the three-day tournament are on display at the J. P. Majors jewelry store. The Chamber of Commerce, Lions club and other civic organizations have extended cooperation to the schools in providing these awards and also in entertaining the visitors.

C. A. Wilkins, directing the tournament program, stated Tuesday afternoon that an admission price of 15c for students and 25c for others would be charged. This price will be good for any one day of scheduled games. Season tickets, admitting the holder to all the games, may be purchased at 50c for school students and $1.00 for adults.

RETIRED RANCHER IS DEAD AT SAN ANGELO

Gerome W. Shields, retired Tom Green county rancher and identified with the cattle industry of this section since 1884, died Sunday at his home in San Angelo. Shields was well known among the pioneer cattlemen of Mitchell and other West Texas counties.

Colorful Career Of West Texan Is Closed In Death

E. K. Smith, among the colorful characters identified with West Texas for many years, died recently at his rooming house in Sweetwater at the age of 68 years. He was buried in a Sweetwater cemetery following funeral rites conducted by the Rev. Gary L. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Smith was a citizen of Snyder for many years. He was well known in Colorado, having organized the E. K. Mutual Insurance Association, here several years ago. The business at that time operated by Mrs. J. J. Sligh of Big Spring. The Colorado Mutual Insurance Association, now owned and operated by Dale Warren, is successor to the corporation organized by Smith.

At one time Smith was reputed to be wealthy. He received $10,000 cash many years ago for having captured a band of counterfeiters in South Africa and made money out of his insurance operations for a time. He was almost penniless at the time of his death.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE COMPLETES ORGANIZATION FOR WORK ANOTHER YEAR

Department Committees Are Named By President At Recent Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce was fully organized for another year's work at a meeting of the executive board Monday morning. Dr. P. C. Coleman, president, announced the appointment of department committees and some of the major objectives to which the chamber will devote its endeavor during the year 1932.

'COULD HAVE SOLD 40 PIGS FROM THAT ONE AD,' FARMER REPORTS

"Cut that pig out and by no means run it again. I am being swamped with requests for pigs!"

Jim Bodine, Buford farmer and dairyman, gave the above instructions as he hurriedly entered the Record office Tuesday morning. The Friday before he had run a small advertisement in the classified section announcing that on January 1 he would have a few pigs for sale.

"I could have sold forty pigs from that one advertisement. I did not fail to get results from that 40c investment."

That was not the first time Bodine had found that advertising in this newspaper pays. A few months ago he advertised that he could deliver Grade "A" milk to a few more customers in Colorado. His supply of milk at that time was more than the local demand.

Bodine received so many requests for milk that he was forced to go in to the market and purchase additional cows to build up the supply to equal the demand.

COLORADO YOUTHS ENTER CONFESSION OF GUILT TO BURGLARY CHARGES HERE

One Member Quartet Elude Arrest; Two Released on Bonds of $1,000

Officials believe that the series of burglaries reported in Colorado during the past several weeks were solved in the arrest recently of three local youths, two of whom are said to have entered confessions to breaking into the Gulf Refining company station west of the Colorado river bridge on the night of December 21.

The youths are Dean Shoemaker, Aubrey Lucas and Ralph Bassham; Shoemaker and Bassham have been released on bail bonds of $1,000.00 each, pending appearance before the grand jury. Lucas, involved in robbery of the Burrus Grocery in East Colorado on night of December 2, had not made bond Wednesday afternoon, the county attorney reported.

Loot taken from the Gulf Refining station included twenty-seven gallons of motor oil and other merchandise. In making a confession to this burglary two of the youths informed officers of a cache three miles northwest of Colorado on the river where the stolen loot had been hidden. About two gallons of the oil was recovered. W. H. Garrett, county attorney, stated Wednesday that a quantity of cigarettes, tobacco and candy, taken from the Burrus store, had been recovered by the police.

A fourth youth, implicated in the Gulf station robbery, was still at liberty Wednesday. The sheriff's department stated that his identity would not be disclosed, until the alleged fugitive had been taken into custody.

Officers will continue search for the 25 gallons of oil and other loot reported missing. Statements made by Shoemaker and Bassham implicate that the stolen merchandise was stolen from its hiding place on the Colorado river, after having been hidden there next day after the burglary.

Man Indicted Here Given Two Years In Sweetwater Court

Archie Kennedy, indicted by the recent Mitchell county grand jury on charge of forgery, was given a two years suspended sentence upon a plea of guilty before Judge Fritz R. Smith in 32nd district court at Sweetwater Tuesday.

The case was transferred on change of venue from Mitchell county.

Regular meeting of the city council is to be convened Monday evening, January 11, in regular session. This will be the first time Mayor Hutchinson has convened the council since motion to hold meetings on only once a month was adopted a month ago.

J. Lee Jones, city secretary, stated Wednesday that mostly routine business was pending.

New Law To Diminish Cattle and Fowl Thefts Is To Be Enforced Hereafter

Owners of Mitchell county herds will no doubt find considerable interest in the announcement at Austin Monday by G. L. Phares, chief of the State highway patrol, that a law passed by the 41st legislature and designed to lessen fowl and cattle thefts was to be rigidly enforced.

Local citizens have not been troubled much by inroads of cattle thieves. At any rate if the livestock has been missing, little was ever said about it. With the poultry raiser, however, things have been different. Several pedigreed flocks of birds have disappeared over night, as if by magic, due to unheralded visits by chicken thieves. These losses have diminished in recent months, due to vigilance of authorities.

The law requires all operators of trucks or automobiles carrying livestock to hold a permit or statement from the owner or care-taker of the livestock setting out the point of origin, the destination, the number of fowl or cattle and their description and also their marks or brands.

Failure of the operator to have the permit in his possession makes him liable to a fine of from $25 to $200. If the permit is false or forged a fine of from $200 to $500 and a jail term of from 60 days to six months may be imposed.

State Commander Earp To Address Legionnaires Here

"Every ex-service man in Mitchell county, whether a member of the post or not, is urged to attend this meeting," statement issued Wednesday by the post adjutant said.

ELECTRICAL AND WIND DISTURBANCES MIXED WITH RAIN AND MIST

A few weeks ago "old-timers" here were pondering what it was all about when they awoke one morning to find Colorado enveloped in a dense fog. The atmospheric condition was as much of a rarity in West Texas as it is common in London.

But now, we out here in West Texas are coming to the place in our experiences with the weather man that most any phenomena may be expected. Sunday and Monday there was a heavy mist, electrical disturbances, gusts of wind and intermittent rains. A combination that served to make things unpleasant for the pedestrian and others who might have been out of doors.

Farmers are arriving at the time when they would be pleased to note a cessation of winter rains, fogs, mists and the like. They are anxious to complete harvesting remainder of their crops and get into the work of breaking land preparatory for planting another crop.

MALE QUARTET SINGS ON LIONS CLUB BILL

One of the most popular musical organizations in town was presented on entertainment program of the Lions club Friday. It was the male quartet composed of Claude Womack, Elmer Pickins, Pete Pickins and H. A. Bruton, with Miss Alva Ferguson, playing the piano.

The club is to meet Friday of this week at the Baptist church, according to announcement made by the club president, Charlie Thompson.

RANCHER LOSES TO GRIM REAPER IN LONG BATTLE TO SAVE BABY DAUGHTER

Blood Transfusion Given 27 Times By Father Doris Mildred Hines

Concluding chapter in one among the truly dramatic revelations of devotion that a father could bear for his child was written Wednesday morning when Witt Hines, Mitchell county rancher, lost to the grim reaper his determined fight extended over a period of 3 years to stay the life of his little girl, Doris Mildred.

Doris Mildred had been an invalid all her life. She suffered of a malady with which the most scientific surgeons of the country were unable to cope. She was taken to hospitals and specialists in many parts of the country, as her parents desperately resolved with hope that somewhere, somehow, their darling baby would be restored to health.

During those three years Mr. Hines gave of his own blood for twenty-seven times in transfusion operations. He resorted to every other recourse out of which he had hoped a ray of hope would shine, only to lose.

Funeral services were conducted at the Westbrook Baptist church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with Rev. Oren C. Reid, pastor of the First Baptist church, Colorado, officiating. The services were attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the family.

Hines is manager of the Conaway ranch near Westbrook. During much of the time of the baby's illness, he has been with her in hospitals at Colorado, Fort Worth and other places.

For St. Patrick, the cloths were bordered with Shamrocks and the favors were castles. For June the favors were slippers; July, silk flags and for August, tennis racquets.

Pressed chicken, tomato jello, salad, braided potatoes, olives and hot biscuits was served in the first course. Coffee being poured from either end of the dining table by Misses Mary and Florence McCloud. BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday night the subject will be "What We Have Through the Blood of Christ." Had a great number of visitors at both services last Sunday. We invite you back. You help us when you come. A fine New Year's resolution would be to go to church somewhere each Sunday. Try the First Baptist.

OREN C. REID, Pastor

FIRST BAPTIST NOTES

We started the New Year with a fine spirit in every department of our church family. The Sunday school has set a goal of one thousand and in Sunday school before the close of 1932. There are twice that number in Colorado who should be in our Bible school and we should at least enlist fifty per cent of them. George Slaton as superintendent has set that as our objective and we are going to try and reach it. Had 592 last Sunday in spite of the rain and two fine congregations for preaching service. The choir and orchestra were at their best and we had a good day.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

ALIX B. HANSON

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

We did not attain the Sunday school attendance goal of 400 last Sunday morning, but hope to reach that number this Sabbath. There is no reason why Colorado Methodists should not register an average of 400 in our Sunday school classes every Sunday.

We are resuming our Wednesday evening services. These are among the most interesting programs at First Methodist.

The Sunday school and morning and evening preaching services at regular hours next Sunday.

THE COMMITTEE

CHURCH OF CHRIST

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Church school at 9:45 A. M. Come and bring some one with you. You can help to build up the attendance in this way, and that helps build up the church.

You as a member of the church school and the church along as a great service in this way. You have to sell the church to the community. The young people can sell the Christian Endeavor to the young people, and no one else can.

Let us all get busy and see how much we can do this year in building up our church and its various departments. We can easily have more people working with us if everybody is at work and always at work. Come on now and do your best. God will honor our effort.

Tell them that we have worship at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. every Sunday and that our young people meet at 6 P. M. and the children meet at 5 P. M. Invite your friends to all these services.

CANDIDACY OF WARNER SOURCE OF INTEREST AMONG LOCAL WOMEN

Announcement at Amarillo Saturday by Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, prominent Texas club woman and writer, that she would be a candidate for congress in the coming democratic primary election was the source of considerable interest among Colorado club women, scores of whom have known Mrs. Warner personally for a number of years.

"Announcement of the candidacy of Mrs. Warner was good news to me. I am for her in this campaign and hope that her election will be sustained at the polls," said Mrs. J. G. Merritt.

"Mrs. Warner is very popular wherever she is known and I have the utmost confidence in her ability. I trust that she shall be elected," was the statement of Mrs. H. B. Broadgus.

"I do not believe that West Texas could offer a better qualified candidate for this important office. I did not know of her announcement as candidate for congress, but I do know something of her sterling qualities as a leader." That was the statement of Mrs. Jeff Dobbs, president of the Mitchell County Federation of Clubs.

Several other Colorado club women have given equally strong endorsement of Mrs. Warner's candidacy. It was strongly suggested Monday that a "Warner for Congress Club" would in all probability be organized here.

Garner Would Divide Texas Into Five States For Added Political Strength

John Garner, Texas democratic leader in lower house of congress, will, no doubt, be responsible for another issue in political issues of the Lone Star State. At any rate he is sponsor of a question that during other years found prominent recognition from the stump and in the press. He suggests that Texas be cut up into four or five states. It will be remembered that Colorado voters were divided on the question.

It was the contention of some that to cut Texas up into more than one state would be to destroy effectiveness of the traditions of the Alamo and of Goliad. Others, more concerned about adding further prestige to the Democratic donkey, favored the issue, because such a plan would give Texas some eight or ten more congressmen and several more senators.

Garner suggested this division in a recent address before congress. His speech called attention to four or five sporadic attempts in the past 80 years to divide the state, and the threatened West Texas secession movement that was squelched when the legislature passed the Small streambed land title bill over Gov. Dan Moody's veto. Sen. Small and other West Texas lawmakers refused to take part in the movement.

Congressman Garner did not explain how state revenues or university royalties and other wealth located in some sections would be apportioned between the states of West Texas, East Texas, North Texas, South Texas and Texas, if the state were split five ways.

He favors the ultimate dividing up of the pure state, the speaker of congress and potential next president of the United States said.

He was quoted as making the following remarks:

"I'm just as much in favor of that division proposal now as I have ever been, and I believe that some day it is going to be brought about."

"Texas today is larger than five states in New England; it is 252 times larger than Rhode Island, and yet has but two senators, for instance, against the larger number of senators from these eastern states."

"There is no reason in the world why there should not be five states, each with its own state capital and legislature and presentation in both houses of congress, and so on, instead of one state as now. The cost would not be much more relatively probably not over $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 a year for their governmental expenses."

Confidence Attends Reopening Of Bank At Angelo Monday

The San Angelo National Bank, at San Angelo, closed last October 3, was reopened for business Monday morning with a capitalization of $400,000 and surplus of $160,000.

Reopening of the bank did much to augment the general feeling of confidence in that city and immediate territory, according to reports received in Colorado. Throngs of patrons, representing ranchers, merchants, farmers and bankers, crowded the bank throughout the day to make deposits and offer congratulations to officials for having successfully completed the task of reorganization.

The San Angelo Standard for Monday evening stated that bank deposits there had increased approximately $100,000 during the day. C. B. Metcalf, pioneer father of the San Angelo territory, received deposit slip No. 1. He deposited $100 in gold.

BANKERS DEVELOP NEW FINANCE AID

President of American Bankers Association Describes Plan and Services of National Credit Corporation

NEW YORK.—The National Credit Corporation, a billion dollar cooperative institution, is the method worked out by bankers to put into practical effect the central point in President Hoover's plan for renewing the commercial and industrial activity of the nation as proposed in his statement to the nation of October 7, Harry J. Haas, president of the American Bankers Association stated in a recent interview.

The corporation is strictly cooperative in character, he said, to unite the entire banking system and increase the effectiveness of the financial services of banks to their communities in the rural districts as well as the cities. The plan will marshal the banking resources of the country, he explained, by creating a national institution whose funds will be loaned when necessary to banks which have assets in their portfolios that are thoroughly sound but are not eligible for loans at federal reserve banks.

To Benefit Everybody

"There is no citizen in the United States but will benefit in very practical ways from the results of the operation of this forward-looking plan of cooperation, which may be regarded as one of the most constructive steps that have been taken toward revival of sound business activity," Mr. Haas declared, adding:

"The National Credit Corporation represents an instrumentality that should have far-reaching effect in restoring the confidence of the public. The plan not only has been formulated by the country's leading banking authorities, but also will be carried out locally as well as nationally by banking representatives who have given their time and thought to this undertaking as a real public service.

"The American Bankers Association convention was in session at the time the plan was proposed and unanimously endorsed it in principle. I have examined the detailed formulation of the working plans as developed by the National Credit Corporation and have taken to put it into practical operation in a single-minded devotion to the national welfare, and I am able to say without reservation that the National Credit Corporation as set up by them constitutes a practical, sound and efficient means for carrying out President Hoover's proposal."

HARD TIMES RENEW BANKER'S OPTIMISM

Former Bankers' Chief Finds Much in Past Year to Inspire Confidence in Financial Reliability

ROME C. STEPHENSON, retiring president of the American Bankers Association, declared in an address on the expiration of his term of office that, in travelling about among the banks from one end of the country to the other during the past year, he had "come out of it with a renewed faith in the strength of our banking structure and our banking situation, and a renewed faith particularly in the spirit and courage of the men in the banks that have enabled them to rise unconquerably over difficulties such as men never had to face before, or to accept with fortitude misfortunes that were beyond human power to prevent."

When he reflected, he said, that the "entire human economic structure has been brought to the verge of ruin under the difficulties that have swept over not only the nation but the entire world, and that the results of events of this kind react with particular directness upon the stability of our banks, and yet how few have succumbed, we may well renew our confidence in the banks of America; when we think also of how many of our bankers have stood up under the stress and storms of these times and how relatively few of them have been proved wanting in the series of crises that have assailed them, we may well feel a sincere pride in our fellow bankers." He added:

"So I come out of this year of somber experiences not as a pessimist, but as an optimist—as one with a renewed faith and confidence in the spirit of his fellow men under overwhelming difficulties. And particularly do I come out of this year as a banker who is proud of his fellow bankers for the undaunted way in which they have met their part of the great test through which the times have put the nation. I believe that this year has brought new honor to our banking traditions and our banking profession and has won for the banker new title to the faith and trust of all classes of his fellow citizens."

Wise Spending

Careful and wise spending will help solve our economic problems and will be of untold benefit to the farmer. Our troubles are not caused by the spending of money, but because it was spent unwisely.

Only Photosphere Seen When One Gazes at Sun

The scientists are introducing us to the sun. We never see the surface of the sun. When we look at it we see a layer of gas about 900 miles deep. This is called the photosphere, and lies just above the real surface of the body. It shines. On top of it is the chromosphere, that cannot be seen with the naked eye except during total eclipse. The third and top layer is the corona, magnificent beyond description. It completely surrounds both the photosphere and the chromosphere, and sometimes is twice as large as the sun itself.

We are chiefly interested in the sun as the source of our light and heat. Both of these come to us from the photosphere, the bottom layer of the three. What is boiling and burning under it we may imagine, but that is all. We know it is hot stuff, the hottest stuff in all creation so far as the world is concerned. If it would cease functioning we would be in darkness, and speedily frost and intense cold would put an end to all human activities. The ancients who worshipped the sun as the source of our blessings were not far astray. All they overlooked was the duty who gave it its photosphere.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Betrothal Ring First Constituted a Pledge

The giving of a betrothal ring was an ancient Roman custom. The ring was originally probably a pledge that the contract would be fulfilled. It was at first made of iron, the change to gold coming about the Second century, A. D. The ring was purely secular but received ecclesiastical sanction in the Eleventh century, from which grew an elaborate betrothal ceremony. A good description of this is given in George Eliot's story, "Romola." Its more spiritual symbolism probably rose at this time, too, in the days of chivalry, when a finer attitude toward women began to develop. How the custom grew to the giving of a wedding ring can no longer be traced, but wedding rings were used in Shakespeare's day. In those times men as well as women were both betrothal and wedding rings. The custom of putting the ring on the fourth finger of the left hand came from the belief that there was a nerve from there direct to the heart.

Nighthawks' Hard Luck

Years ago people credited the nighthawk and the whippoorwill with the power of sucking goats. They believed this myth so implicitly, says Nature Magazine, they called the goatsuckers, mainly because of the extremely large, wide-spreading mouth with which the nighthawk and its relatives are endowed. They did not bother to open a dead bird and find a hundred or more mosquitoes, forty or fifty millers and perhaps a few beetles in its crop. If they had, fewer nighthawks would have died and their beneficial habits would have been realized and appreciated.

Two Kinds of Honeydew

Honeydew is the name given to a certain sweet, sticky fluid which appears on the leaves of certain plants and trees during hot weather. One kind of honeydew is the excretion of aphids or plant lice, while the other kind exudes from the leaves themselves. This latter kind is a form of bleeding resulting from sap pressure in hot and humid weather. It may also be caused by the punctures of insects. Honeydew attracts bees, wasps and other insects to the plant or tree, but the honey made by the bees from this source is usually of poor quality.

No Dog?

Little Hugh was taking his first trip away from his farm home, with his aunt. In the first home they visited he was much entertained by an alert spaniel, which sat by his side at the dinner table, and ate each and every crumb that he happened to drop. At the next home his aunt was horrified to see Hugh deliberately drop some cake on the floor.

"Hugh, dear, why are you doing that?" she asked reprovingly. Hugh looked up with questioning eyes. "Isn't there a little dog?" he wanted to know.

Constitution and Religion

The first of the ten original amendments to the Constitution says in part: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." While it is exceedingly unlikely that this or any other provision of the so-called "Bill of Rights" will ever be limited by amendment, it is true that every part of the Constitution is subject to amendment, in accordance with Article V of the Constitution, if congress and a sufficient number of the state legislatures approve such change.

Stone Prize of War

While it is true that the Rosetta Stone (so named from the place where it was found in Egypt) was discovered by a French army officer, Bousard, in 1799, and that through its means the deciphering of ancient writings was made possible by another Frenchman, Champollion, the stone itself remained the property of the Egyptian government and was ceded to the English at the capitulation of Alexandria, Egypt, 1801.

Business Depression Will Find Abating Support Among Leaders of Opinion Here

The whole of Texas, and particularly this immediate section of the Lone Star State, judging by reports coming from all sections, is beginning to write a definite change in the heretofore prevalent program of lending encouragement to business depression.

Here in Colorado the community's banking resources have recently been made considerably stronger out of the merger of two already sound financial institutions and merchants are looking into the immediate future for appearance of a horizon that will reflect better times than this county has enjoyed for the past several months.

Even the gloomiest have had to admit that the home, veridian of Longhorn cattle, the Alamo, skyscrapers, grapefruit, orchards, too much oil for its own good and the cotton problem, hasn't suffered a whit compared to some other sections of the country. Now they are prepared to look a "long, hard winter" in the face—and wink.

Why? Even those who accuse Governor Ross S. Sterling of using the "unfiled fist" in declaring martial law in the East Texas oil fields, to curb production, have to admit that the price of oil is on the up and up.

Cotton is holding its own, for one reason because Texas bankers have pledged themselves to finance holding back more than 1,000,000 bales this year's crop from the market. Also, the state has a new law making mandatory a big reduction in next year's cotton planting. The cheapness of American cotton this season, compared to that of India and Egypt, has made it much in demand with European and Japanese buyers. Japanese cotton purchases this fall, according to reports to the Dallas Cotton Exchange, have been 100 per cent greater than at this time last year.

Incidentally, the cotton picking season just closed helped alleviate unemployment in Texas to a great extent.

The wheat movement from the Panhandle was large, after a recent advance in price, but later slowed down somewhat. Grain men estimated that from seven to ten million bushels were being held back by farmers.

Abundant fall rains cheered livestock raisers by putting winter ranges in good condition—and prices on cattle, hogs and sheep have held to reasonably steady levels.

The state highway department and city and county governments have started heavy programs of public construction work which have kept skilled workmen and day laborers employed to a great extent, where otherwise they might have suffered because of lack of private building operations.

Taken at random, but including most of the key cities of the state and territory roundabout, the reports show:

Austin: The Bureau of Business Research said in its report for November, in part: "Considerable evidence is seen that many farm families have preserved substantial quantities of fruits, vegetables and meats largely under the direction of home demonstration agents throughout the state, which assures these farmers ample food supplies. Just how much of their purchasing power will thus be available still for other purchasers remains to be seen. The turkey crop, which is said to be of unusually fine quality, started moving early in November. Livestock and ranges are in very good condition. During November, bank deposits in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, have been mounting steadily and announcements almost daily of bank reorganizations are playing no small part in building up a feeling of hope and confidence."

Fort Worth: Merchants report Christmas trade a big factor in increased business and cash sales are far ahead of any preceding period this year.

Grain trade at Fort Worth for the months of October and November showed an increase of approximately 175 per cent above the corresponding months of 1930. V. L. Nigh, chief federal inspector at the Fort Worth Grain and Cotton Exchange, said inspections by his department totaled 2,805 cars in November, 1931, compared to 1,016 cars in November, 1930.

Building is continuing at a good pace, with many men employed on construction projects which include a new $1,000,000 federal postoffice a $1,500,000 Santa Fe railway station, underpasses costing nearly $2,000,000 to care for railway improvements.

Livestock is moving to market at about the usual rate for the fall-winter season. Cheap feed and good weather have combined to help the industry. Ranges are in almost ideal condition.

San Antonio: Residents of San Antonio find themselves paying less for living costs than they have in 15 years. Merchants say they are beginning to release money they have held since the fall of 1929 and the San Antonio clearing house association reported that November revealed an increase in receipts of the old "blanket" size currency, which has been nesting in safe-deposit boxes and private hiding places for two years. Savings associations reported heavy withdrawals for Christmas spending.

Woman Loses Her Reasoning After Years In Prison

After eight years in a Chinese dungeon, years in which her mother believed her dead, Gertrude Wolters, once a beautiful American stenographer, has come back to her home at Vallejo, California, but not to the family and fireside she left 18 years ago. Instead she is a patient in a State hospital with her reason gone.

The story of the once young and comely woman was told for the first time Sunday as relatives sought, through the United States Consulate, to unravel the mystery that lodged the girl in a Shanghai prison, transforming her into a babbling maniac, incapable of speaking more than broken English and with an insatiable passion for playing cards.

Miss Wolters, now 38, inherited a fortune in 1913. She had worked most of her life, and her ambition—if she ever could afford it—was to see the world. When she came into her inheritance she set out to realize her dreams and sailed for the Orient.

For ten years she communicated with relatives here, telling how she was poking into the nooks and crannies of remote, exotic places, seeing strange things and experiencing the thrills of travel.

She liked China best and after a world tour returned to Shanghai.

Then, eight years ago, her letters suddenly ceased. Her mother, Mrs. Lillian Sears, and her aunt, Mrs. T. J. Morgan, became alarmed. They went to San Francisco seeking to establish through the Consulate there communication with the girl.

Mrs. Sears was in her hotel room one night when an anonymous note was slipped under the door. "You need not expect to hear from your daughter, Miss Gertrude Wolters, any more," it said. "She died out in China."

Mrs. Sears said a woman of foreign extraction delivered the note. She believes the woman was in league with a band of Chinese bandits whose ramifications extended to San Francisco's Chinatown.

"It is my opinion," Mrs. Sears said, "that this woman was one of a gang of brigands who must have lured her into some Chinese place. We gave her up as dead and believed her dead until three months ago, when Federal agents, trying to establish her identity, found us. They told us she had been found in an isolated dungeon. They said the bandit gang leader had died and his servant boy had told civilian authorities of the girl's whereabouts."

Miss Wolters was brought back to San Francisco secretly last Wednesday. After a sanity hearing she was committed to the asylum.

Mrs. Sears, who lives on a ranch on the outskirts of Vallejo, said Miss Wolters spoke broken English, mixed with a Chinese dialect. She said the woman had been confined so long, from people of her own kind, that she had apparently forgotten her own language.

"She's still beautiful," the mother said tearfully, "but her mind is broken. She plays solitaire by the hour even while she eats her meals. The heart-breaking part is that she does not recognize any of us."

Before her departure from America, Miss Wolters was employed by the Canadian Pacific Railroad. It was in this office that her desire to see far places was born.

Re-Election of Congressman William R. Smith Seen By The Record Jan. 10, 1908

The political arena was becoming an interesting spectacle for Mitchell county voters early in January, 1908. Candidacy of the Hon. William R. Smith, congressman from the "Jumbo" district, for re-election, was seen as assured by the writer of editorial comment in the paper twenty-four years ago this week.

A Smith for Congress rally had been held in El Paso a few days before. Support pledged the Colorado statesman by political leaders in the border city was accepted here as an inching return of the native of this city to the national congress.

Judge Smith, for many years a resident of Colorado, served as a member of congress through several terms. He left this place to accept appointment to the federal bench at El Paso. He was appointed to this office in 1916 by President Woodrow Wilson. He died in El Paso a few years ago.

The community was shocked, The Record for January 10, 1908, relates, over the tragic death of Z. V. Payne at Platau, El Paso county. He was the father of A. J. and V. D. Payne, both of Colorado.

Mr. Payne, who was postmaster at Platau, was killed by a freight train on the night of January 5, as he attempted to put out the mail pouch to be picked up by a passenger train about due. The body was shipped to Colorado and burial was in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, following funeral rites conducted by Rev. Holmes Nichols, pastor of First Baptist church.

In the social realm, Colorado continued to be active. Several club meetings and special social functions had been enjoyed during the week.

The school Literary Society held an interesting meeting the Friday evening before with Leta Morgan hostess. Alice Shuford and Lulu Merrill were to be the next hostesses.

The Hesperian club had held its first meeting of the new year in a most delightful afternoon program. Miss Viola Henry as hostess. Among the guests present were Mesdames Moore, Willis, Harness, Homan, Gross, Ed Henry, and Arbutnot and Misses Pearl Ruddick, Ruth Nichols, and Martha Earnest.

"The college boy and girl crowd" had been entertained at the home of Mrs. Arbutnot Thursday night. Joe Smoot, then a dashing young man about town, seemed to have been the most popular among the leap-year prospects present.

Miss Etta Doss entertained five couples on Friday evening of the past week with a chafing dish party in honor of Miss Jessie Foster of Sterling City. "This delightful evening, like so many others spent by the youngsters, only closed when it was morning."

Mrs. John Moore entertained at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon of that January week to commemorate her 23rd wedding anniversary. Several ladies of Colorado attended.

Singers of Colorado, along with those from practically every community in the county had converged at Lorraine the Sunday before to attend annual meeting of the Mitchell County Singing Convention. Colorado was named as the next meeting place.

Samuel Cooksey, pioneer citizen, had died at his Colorado residence the week before after an illness of only two days. He was among the most familiar characters in Colorado, having driven the street sprinkling wagon for seventeen years prior to his death. His widow and seven children survived.

BLACKARD HARDWARE STOCK SALE BEGINS

The Blackard Hardware company stock is being featured in a store-wide close-out sale opening Friday morning. J. O. Martin, sales promoter, is in charge.

Every item in the store has been marked down to rock-bottom prices, Mr. Martin has stated.

The stock is of hardware and furniture, including many items of attractive articles in home furnishings that should be in demand at this season of the year.

Following interesting notes of personal happenings of that week is reported.

"Word was received this week that Mrs. Bert Wolfjen is seriously ill with pneumonia at Georgetown.

"Sheriff J. W. Bird has appointed G. B. Coughran as office deputy.

"Miss Ella Dry returned Monday from Houston, where she spent the holidays with friends.

"Dud Arnett and Earnest Bernier left Saturday for Galveston to attend medical college.

"Miss Kate Vaughan, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. R. D. Ingram, left Thursday night for her home in Flatonia.

"Mrs. F. M. Burns and daughter, Dorothy, are visiting relatives at Oak Hill, Florida.

"W. R. Morgan, a pharmacist of reputation, is here this week from Waco to visit his brother, Ben Morgan.

"S. K. Gregory, the sage who lives out at Carr, called and renewed for The Record. He is here to attend district court.

"Mrs. D. N. Arnett is spending the week at Randerbrook with her husband.

"T. A. Kinnard, an old-timer in Colorado and who is now living at El Paso, came in Tuesday morning to attend the Payne funeral and meet old friends.

"Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Hutchinson have a very sick child this week.

"W. J. Hatch, cashier at the Colorado National Bank, suddenly became so badly troubled with his eyes that he was compelled to go to Dallas for treatment.

"Mrs. E. J. Wood, a sister of Mrs. Cooksey, and J. W. Wood of Big Spring, Mrs. Joe Lang of Portales, New Mexico, and Mrs. J. J. McGuire of Carlsbad, New Mexico, were among those here this week for the funeral of S. Cooksey."

TEMPLETON IS CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF AS MITCHELL COUNTY CLERK

"Have Given Office Best I Have," He States Of Record Made

B. L. Templeton, incumbent in the county clerk's office, is a candidate to succeed himself. Templeton stated Wednesday morning that he had entered the campaign for re-election, subject to action of the Democratic primary election July 23.

"I have ever been appreciative of the honor conferred upon me by the voters of Mitchell county, in having elected me to this important office," Templeton said. "I have given my very best to the office and whether or not I have made good is for the voters themselves to say. I am leaving that to their verdict as will be expressed at the ballot box."

Templeton, after several years of successful experience as a school teacher, entered political arena two years ago as a candidate for county clerk. He was successful. His record as a county official has been outstanding in that all matters handled by him have been given prompt attention and efficiency and courtesy have always obtained.

Templeton is active in the religious and civic affairs of his adopted home community. He is a member of the Lions club, an officer in the American Legion and teaches a class in First Methodist Sunday school.

The candidate hopes to see every voter personally before the July primary election. He stated Wednesday that he invited a rigid investigation of his record, as both a private citizen and a public official.

ROGERS' EFFORTLESS HUMOR IS ART THAT CONCEALS ART

After giving a course of twenty lectures on personality, a noted psychologist saw Will Rogers on the screen. "That fellow," he said, "demonstrates in twenty minutes what I've been trying to say in twenty hours."

When Rogers, whose latest Fox starring picture, "Ambassador Bill" is seen at the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, January, 14 and 15, first broke into fame as vaudeville's cowboy philosopher, he'd often finish a story and rope trick with the remark: "Good luck that time. The trick an' the joke came out just even!" He made it look like an accident, but it's an art.

Everything that Rogers does is the perfection of casual, effortless, natural art. On the radio, as syndicated humorist and front page paragrapher, in musical revues and in movietone comedies, he captivates millions. He's an American habit and an international hit. Where there's a Will there's a WOW!

Be sure to see "Ambassador Bill" Thursday and Friday, January 14 and 15 at the Palace, Colorado.

Hamlin Herald: "Whether we believe good times have started back or not, we do not care to listen to the fellow who tries to tell us the worst hasn't come yet. Maybe it hasn't, but if it has not we can't help it and we can keep our moral built up to face the problem that is here by talking and thinking the things that pull our fighting spirit down."

The snow in Martin county early this month was the deepest in years, says the Stanton Reporter. The fall was estimated at eight inches.

The Coleman high school band will give a Christmas program at school auditorium next Thursday morning, says the Coleman Democrat-Voice.

NATION'S FINANCE STANDS TEST WELL

Economic Policy Commission of Bankers Association Points Out How 22,000 Banks Protect Public Interest

OVER 22,000 banks all over the United States are "quietly and efficiently serving their communities, helping tide many business enterprises over their difficulties, helping many concerns to earn money, helping create the economic activities that mean payrolls and spending power in their zones of influence, and faithfully keeping guard over the working capital and savings funds of their depositors," the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association says in a recent survey, adding:

"It surely stands strikingly to the credit of the banking profession that, during a period of unparalleled international economic depression, this vast majority of bankers have so competently, so courageously and so successfully met their difficulties and obligations. The effects of the drought, the demoralization of agriculture, the stagnation of industry, the breakdown of trade, the inability of so many heretofore desirable customers to meet their obligations to the banks, the impairment of public confidence by mob-scares and false rumors resulting in unreasoning runs, the abnormal depreciation of quoted security values even to the most wisely conceived investment accounts, the utter collapse of real estate values—all these things have occurred on a nationwide and worldwide scale with unprecedented severity.

"The effects of every one of them have assailed the banks with destructive forces because they are of the very essence of a bank's economic substance. Yet, as we have shown, the great bulk of our banking deposits has been protected without harm, and our banks in a vast majority have continued to serve, support and strengthen their customers and their communities with unflinching and unquenched devotion."

WOULD ALTER OUR FINANCIAL HABITS

By ROME C. STEPHENSON
Former President American Bankers Association

THE most constructive action that can be taken toward bringing about greater stability in our business life is the development of a more balanced attitude in the minds of all of our people in regard to the right relationship between saving and spending.

There is more practical, workable economics in the sentence: Save during prosperity so as to be able to spend during depression; than in a whole library full of charts and tables and books on political economy.

I do not believe it is an impracticable dream to bring about an era of more intelligent saving and spending on the part of our people. It is not impossible to change the habits of the population. It has been done in many lines. The habits of our people have been improved and the health of the nation promoted in many ways by consistent programs of advertising and education that have brought about better hygienic understanding and practices.

The medical profession has virtually banished the scourge of some diseases by persistent, intelligent campaigns of preventive sanitary measures and inoculations, requiring new understandings, new habits among many millions of our people. Also a large part of this evolution of public health improvement has naturally developed through the intelligent advertising of many products that have to do with bodily care. I refer to the manufacturers and distributors of such things as more healthful shoes, more effective toothbrushes, food products with more wholesome values of nutrition and countless other practical ideas that have become commonplace of our daily business life,—and that have become a part, too, of the very texture of the personal habits and health of great masses of our people.

If it has been good advertising and good business for so many of our national producers to spend millions of dollars thus to inculcate new habits of personal hygiene and personal care, is it not good business and good advertising for our banking interests to lay similar stress during the next period of prosperity upon better financial habits and customs of our people?

Bankers above all are interested in stable, wholesome business. They have much to gain by a state of sound financial health among the people, and most to lose by epidemics of economic maladies such as have swept the country during the past two years.

The man who has in better times been favored with too much credit rather than not enough is finding it hard to pay his interest now with low prices for his products or labor.

Chorines Revive "Bobbing for Sweets" Game

BROADWAY, some folks seem to think, is the last place in the world to look for old fashioned ideas or customs. Maybe so, but believe it or not, those "pretty patooties" as the columnists say, who dance behind the footlights, have gone back to grandmother's diary for some bright new ideas on how to pass the time between acts and after. For instance, they take a long piece of string and fasten one end to the overhead plumbing, just like grandmother used to fasten package cord to the barn rafters. Then a bent piece of wire is hooked through a chocolate and tied to the string. From that point on, it's speed that counts. "The secret behind getting more than your share," says Ann Pennington who started the fad, "is to avoid the caramels. They slow you up. It's a great game and besides, it's one way of handing the girls an adequate ration of sweets."

Most of us you know, don't get enough of the sugared foods in our diet and if you don't believe they're necessary, try hooking it through three acts with nothing under your belt but a lettuce sandwich.

MOTORIST MUST PAY LICENSE FEE IN FULL IF MOTOR DRIVEN NOW

Motorists contemplating keeping the old cars in storage until later during the year before registering, in order to benefit in refund from the annual registration license fee, had better not use the machine at all during this month, the State highway department has warned.

If any motor car is driven at all during January, the full year's license charge must be paid and if the machine is not registered before February 1, the regulation penalty of twenty per cent additional will be added.

This ruling will hold good, it matters not when the owner or operator elects to register his car. Six, eight or more months from now will make any difference—full annual fee plus penalty will be exacted in registering all cars used at all during January, highway patrol officers have announced.

BAXTER, LOWE, PALS ON STAGE MEET AGAIN AS FOX MOVIE RIVALS

Little did Warner Baxter and Edmund Lowe dream back in the days when they were both struggling for a theatrical reputation as members of the old Morosco Stock company in Los Angeles that some day they would be favorites of millions of picture fans and again appear together.

But such is the case. They are now featured together and carry on their inimitable adventures of the dashing border bandit and his persistent enemy, this time in "The Cisco Kid," to be seen and heard at The Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday, January 8 and 9. This is a wonderful picture—Don't fail to see it.

BRILLIANT SCREEN STARS IN "THE YELLOW TICKET"

Directed by the man who gave the screen such memorable pictures as "What Price Glory," "The Cock-Eyed World," "Sadie Thompson," "The Man Who Came Back," and enacted by such scintillating stars as Elissa Landi, Lionel Barrymore and Laurance Olivier, Roaul Walsh's much heralded Fox drama, "The Yellow Ticket" is coming to the Palace theatre, January 10 and 11.

Based on Michael Morton's well-known stage play of the same name it tells the vivid story of a young and courageous girl who had to fight single-handed against the cruel intrigue and injustices of Czarist Russia's Secret Police for the romance and happiness that was rightfully hers. How she matches her wits against those of the hateful head of this insidious organization, and in the end kiddy him in self protection leads the film to one of the most startling denouements ever portrayed on the talking screen.

The entire cast is in keeping with Walsh's high standard of production and the picture itself is said to afford Miss Landi an opportunity to display her great emotional and acting ability.

The Stamford Leader says that what Mahatma Gandhi got out of hard-hearted England you could put in your eye and not feel it. At least he got away with his breechcloth intact.

Two Rotan men who started with nine hens and two toms, says the Advance, sold 126 turkeys for $290.55 and had 14 turkeys left. After deducting for feed and other expenses and counting in present stock the men figure their profit at $258.30.

EDITORIAL

Everyone should appreciate the value of good books. The librarian and teachers are trying to make our high school library better than it has ever been before.

The last two weeks, they have added several new books. They are: "Kim" by Kipling; "My Antonia" by Willa Cather; "O! Pioneers" by Willa Cather; "To Have and to Hold" by Mary Johnson; "Jane Eyre" by Bronte; "Scarlet Letter" by Hawthorne; "Ramona" by Helen Hunt Jackson; "The Lone Cowboy" by Will James; "Hula Moons," "Vagabond's House," and "Stowaways in Paradise" by Don Blanding.

How can you live in a library? Said a friend from afar, A dull public library Where row on row of dusty books Are fingered over by careless folks? Said I:

I do not live in a gloomy library; I live in Greece, where Plato wrote. I dwell in Rome Where Michelangelo wrought in color, form and mass; Where Cicero penned immortal lines, And Vergil sang undying songs! Think not my life is small Because you see a puny place. I have my books; I have my dreams; A thousand souls have left for me enchantment That transcends both time and place And so I live in Paradise, Not here!

ASSEMBLY PROGRAM

On Thursday morning, December 31, Miss Skeritt entertained the student body and faculty with several numbers on her accordion. Her first number was "Up That Lazy River," and then followed "Good Night, Sweetheart," "The Jumping Jack," "St. Louis Blue," and several others. Mr. Pearce had charge of this splendid program.

BASKET BALL TOURNAMENT

Beginning Thursday morning at 9 o'clock the seasonal basket ball tournament will be held in Colorado high school gymnasium. This tournament will last all day Thursday, Friday and Saturday. There will also be games presented each night of the tournament. Players from visiting teams are to be guests in several of the Colorado homes during their stay here.

FAILURES DECREASE IN HIGH SCHOOL

The high school honor roll is gradually gaining each month, and the list of failures is decreasing steadily. On the list of the failures, 13 per cent of the English students failed the last six weeks, ten per cent of the Math students, and ten per cent of the History and Civics students. The honor roll for the last six weeks had ten Seniors on the "A" honor roll and eleven on the "B." The Juniors had nine "A" honor students and fourteen on the "B." The Sophomores had eight students on their "A" honor roll and six on their "B." The Freshmen had nine on their "A" honor roll and seven on the "B."

Statistics show that the average number of failures in the majority of high schools is ten per cent. This shows that Colorado high school is above the average of the failures. This is a very good report of failures as the present requirements are more restricted.

SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST

On January 19, the Nation Wide Every Pupil Scholarship Contest will be held in Colorado high school. This contest will be sponsored by Dr. H. E. Schrammel, Bureau of Educational Measurements, of the Kansas State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas.

The first year typing students will enter. This includes both vocational and high school students. The contest will be held in the regular class room at the regular period. The participants of this contest will be voted on according to national and state standing.

The students of this department have been making an unusually high grade on the trial tests held recently and their faith in their ability to show in the contest is not wavering.

The students of this department have started the New Year by doing their best in the vocational department. Russell Seper, Guy Mosely, T. J. Goss, and Fannie Fay Womack, four students that help Miss Cooper for the benefit of the experience, are adding greatly to the success of the department, and their assistance has proven very beneficial.

The achievement of each pupil of each class may be compared with that of other pupils and classes from all parts of the country. The report of this contest is to be published three weeks after the date of the contest.

MEMORY

Memory Is a delicate-scented flower That never dies. Its petals open out at dawn, Enclose new thoughts, delights, and loves; Its dripping attar wafts sweet fragrance Through the day, But when night, With her crown of stars, Gives to the mind and tired eyes The bliss of peaceful sleep, That tiny flower closes its petals and heart Against unkind hands, Resting till dawn In sweet oblivion. —PRINCESS MARTIN

READINGS IN ASSEMBLY

On Tuesday morning, January 5, Miss Whitmore gave several entertaining readings to the assembly. "For Goodness Sake" was the first reading she gave. It was a clever selection in Italian dialect. Her second selection, "Little Al Sid" was in Chinese dialect. Other readings were "The Jealous Wife," and her encore, "Bill Says."

The ninth grade is glad to report a new pupil, Estelle Rogers, from Conaway. We are all back at work after having a good time during the Christmas holidays. Rena Harris spent Sunday with Juanita McKenney.

Eleventh Grade News

Kenneth Rogers enrolled in the eleventh grade Monday, January 4. The Senior rings are expected Saturday. The Seniors seem none the wiser for the holidays. Only two absences were reported on Monday, which is a good sign that the students are trying to make a glorious nine months of their last year.

Community News

Barker and family visited their relatives in Lamesa during the Christmas holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Mac Fisher and Ethel Fisher reported a fine time on their trip to Austin and Geopie Christi. Mr. R. C. Maybe we can find time to visit them occasionally as they are only moving to a farm near Westbrook. The Rogers family from Conaway have moved on the farm formerly owned by Will Gatliff. We are proud to have them. Mr. and Mrs. Hillhouse and two children, Bill and Oneta Knowles, spent Christmas with friends and relatives at Stephenville. Mrs. N. P. Kirby is visiting a son in Dallas. EVERY HOME SHOULD HAVE

CRAZY CRYSTALS

I am forty-one years of age and have had asthma for twenty-five years. Since beginning to take Crazy Crystals I have been entirely free from asthma attacks. I discovered that this trouble was caused by colitis. I also had a bladder trouble for the past year or so and this condition has been corrected to my complete satisfaction. My whole family is taking Crazy Crystals and I cannot pay too much for them. Crazy Crystals are more than you claim for them, and I believe that every one in ill health should at least try them regardless of what their trouble is.

DUNN DOINGS

Candy was served before the party broke. The telegraph operator of Iatan, Mr. Bradley McQuery, and his family, are moving from Iatan. We are very sorry to lose them. The Tate family of Iatan are leaving. We wish them good luck and happiness in the future. We cannot understand why Iatan must lose so many popular families and friends.

Mrs. C. E. Stutphen and two children, Olys Earl and Mary Helen, accompanied E. B. Gregson's family on the trip to Paris. Mrs. O. T. Bird and daughter were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. McElhannan, Sunday. The Gatliff family visited in Big Spring Sunday.

We are certainly pleased to hear that Irvin Munn made such a splendid record in Simmons University this past term. He made "A" in the following subjects: College Algebra, American History, Typing and Short-hand, Bible, and "B" plus in English. Irvin is the first pupil to graduate from Iatan since the school became affiliated with the State Department. We are very proud that Irvin has made good, and hope that he may continue to distinguish himself.

OUR PAST YEAR'S WORK

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thomas, and their son, Glen, report a very busy and profitable year for 1931.

"One-third acre in tomatoes, okra and pepper brought us about $100 in exchange for staple groceries and fresh fruits.

"About 600 cans, including many quart jars, have been put up for family use, the variety consisting of corn, peas, tomatoes, okra, pepper, catsup, all kinds of pickles, with many kinds of fruit, jellies and preserves, not raised on the place, but secured in exchange.

"Of the 600 cans, 80 cans are of beef, raised on the place and put up in roast, steak, chili and soup stock."

Much share canning was also done to help themselves and others and a total sum of 55 cans of products were given away."

"Four hundred chickens were raised the old-time way. Two hundred were sold as fryers, three-fourths of that number brought 60c each, over 100 were consumed for home use.

"One setting of turkey eggs at a cost of $2.00 for eleven eggs and set late in season hatched, with nine turkeys raised to maturity. Eight of these turkeys were sold for $13.75.

"We also milked several cows and sold some cream along, feeding the separated milk to chickens and hogs, that are to be butchered yet.

"Our cotton crop was very short, on account of the summer drought, but the 'Live-At-Home Program' kept all the family well employed and supplied our living, also furnished gasoline for a car and paid a few bills."

And so it is, with little in regular as a beginning, care applied regularly and sensibly, makes a little here and a little there grow into a substantial heap and in this case, no one sick, no one dead, no one out of a job, no one hungry, and no one blue. The estimated value cannot be in dollars and cents.
