

SPADE SCHOOL ROW ENDS AS COUNTY BOARD MOVES TO ANNUAL PRIOR ORDER

Powell Injunction Restraining Independent District Is Reason For Action

The Spade "Independent High School District," created by authority of the county board of education June 2, was defined to come to naught. Acting upon recommendation of the Spade school trustees the board Tuesday afternoon rescinded its former decree creating the advanced school sub-division, reverting the school back to its original classification.

Action of the county board followed upon heels of a temporary injunction filed in 32nd district court a few days before by Lay Powell, property owner within the Spade district. Powell sought to restrain the county board and Spade school trustees from proceeding with creation of the independent district, alleging that such would entail unwarranted expense to him, in the way of additional taxation for school purposes.

In the absence of Dr. P. C. Coleman, chairman of the school board, J. M. Bruce, member from the Loraine district, was elected temporary chairman. The conference, held at offices of the county superintendent was attended by four members of the county board, several citizens of Spade community, including school trustees and R. B. Hood, principal of the school, and attorneys retained in the controversy.

R. H. Rathiff, attorney representing the plaintiff, stated Wednesday morning that in all probability Mr. Powell would now request Judge Mauzey of 32nd district court to withdraw the temporary injunction, thus ending the controversy.

"Since the county board has rescinded its action in creating the proposed independent school district, there is no occasion for the temporary restraining order to continue in effect," he said.

COLORADO GOLFERS TO ENGAGE SNYDER'S CLUB IN TOURNAMENT SERIES

The Colorado Country Club is scheduled to annex another trophy to its list of winnings in Sand Belt Golf association tournament when the locals engage Snyder on the Colorado club greens Sunday afternoon. The locals are now in second place in the district with Lamesa holding down first seat.

The tournament opened Sunday, April 10th, and is to close September 11 with Colorado engaging Lamesa on the latter's course.

LORAIN BIDDY NOT TO BE INFLUENCED BY THE FEELING OF DEPRESSION

W. H. Howell of Loraine has at least one hen among his flock of white leghorns that is not going to retrench because of depression or other causes. In fact this biddy has elected to increase her output of eggs during times when the contrary is the order of the day with most every other industrialist.

During a period of 134 days, when this hen was trap-nested, she laid 131 eggs. This is a record for which her owner may well be proud. The hen is of the Ferris strain.

NEWT MILLER CASE TO BE HEARD DECEMBER 12 ON MOTION FILED THIS WEEK

Continuance Granted Monday On The Plea Witnesses Were Absent

The Newt Miller murder trial, called Monday morning in 32nd district court was ordered continued on the docket after Judge A. S. Mauzey had honored plea filed by defense attorneys that important witnesses were absent. The case was set for trial on December 12, this year.

It was apparent when court was convened for the last week of this term Monday morning that motion to be filed by the defense would be honored, in that no special venire had been ordered by the court.

"I have three reasons for continuing this case," the court announced. "In the first place, the plea of the defense is legal and under the conditions set out are entitled to a continuance. In the second place I would be forced to bring those same 108 men, called here last week in special venire, back into court and keep them from their fields, where most of them are badly needed just now. Further, it is my desire to dispose of some important cases that have been pending here for months. I could not do so and try this case all within the remaining one week of court."

DRY PLATFORM DEMANDED BY WOMEN DEMOCRATS IN RESOLUTION PASSED HERE

Fight Of Other Years When Open Saloon Attacked Is Recalled By Voters

Asserting to favor repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the supporting its enforcement would be repudiation of all their teachings and struggles to rid society of influences of the liquor traffic, Mitchell county women Friday afternoon assembled at the First Methodist church Sunday school room annex to demand that the National convention write a dry platform into record of the Democratic party and then support such a platform.

Resolutions introduced at the meeting were unanimously passed and are to be circulated among women in every community of the county, then to be forwarded to the proper political leaders by Mrs. E. A. Barcroft, chairman of the local Christian Temperance Union.

The session was called to order by Mrs. W. H. Garrett who presented Mrs. Barcroft as presiding officer for the day. Mrs. W. M. Elliott gave the scripture lesson, followed by a chain prayer. Mrs. J. Riordan addressed the group on general conditions of the prohibition question.

"Local Conditions" was the subject of an address delivered by Mrs. H. B. Broadbent. Mrs. A. L. Whipkey addressed the meeting on the subject of "Law Enforcement."

"Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment would be to confess that the law-abiding citizens, churches, National and State governments are impotent and helpless and that the schools and all individuals who support law and order are in the hands and at the mercy of the criminal element," a section of the resolutions as adopted charged.

THIRTY SECOND DISTRICT COURT GRAND JURY FINDS CRIME ON WANE IN COUNTY

Total Of Nine Felony Bills Reported To Court When Body Is Adjourned

Final report of the grand jury as submitted to Judge A. S. Mauzey of 32nd district court late Friday would indicate that law violations are dwindling to lower proportions in Mitchell county. The body voted only nine indictments for the term.

All of the indictments returned were based upon felonies, a record maintained by grand juries here for the past several months. It has been more than a year since a misdemeanor indictment was voted by a grand jury here.

Only one citizen of Mitchell county is made defendant in the five bills returned Friday, when the twelve men came back to complete their work for the term after a recess taken on Wednesday, May 25. In its first report, filed at that time, the body reported four felony bills.

Joe Cramer was indicted on the charge of possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. Two indictments charging burglary were returned against Harlon Massie and Mink Yielding, Olden, Texas, youths who are alleged to have broken into the Loraine Mercantile Company store and the Texas & Pacific passenger station at Loraine a few weeks ago.

Massie was arranged before Judge Mauzey Monday afternoon, and after entering pleas of guilty to both charges, was given sentences of two years in each case in the State penitentiary.

Massie, arrested several days ago by an undersheriff at Eastland, is said to have confessed to the Loraine burglaries, implicating the other youth. Much of the merchandise, said to have been stolen from the store, has been recovered.

The term is to be concluded Saturday with a minimum of cases pending on either the civil or criminal dockets. Judge Mauzey announced as he opened court Monday, May 23, that he would frown upon any move calculated to waste time and thus add to expense of the court.

Civil cases were still being heard Thursday afternoon. No more criminal trials are to be called during the term.

Methodist Church Notes—

Layman's Day was observed last Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. The program, in charge of Lay Leader, J. B. Mahon, and local laymen had part in the services and it was indeed a worthwhile and inspiring program.

The pastor preached Sunday night on "The Pathway to Heaven." He spoke of other roads and highways people are traveling other than the "straight and narrow path."

He said there was only one way to Heaven, by the way of the Cross.

Bro. Hanks was a visitor among the unusually large crowd present.

Rev. Harrell will preach next Sunday morning. The young people will have charge of the evening service.

Be sure to go to church and Sunday school next Sunday. If you have visitors bring them to church. If you visit some one do not fail to attend church.

Bennett Class Entertains Bruce Bible Class—

The Bennett Bible class of the Baptist Sunday school entertained the Bruce Bible class of the Methodist Sunday school Monday night at the tabernacle with an ice cream supper.

A short program, consisting of talks by Judge A. S. Mauzey and members of the classes were enjoyed afterward.

Primitive Baptist Meeting—

The Primitive Baptist will hold a three-day meeting this week-end at their church in East Colorado.

The first service will be started Friday the 17th, at 11 a. m. and also 3 p. m. the same day and on Saturday at the same hours. Sunday at 11 a. m. The communion and foot washing as taught in the 13th chapter of St. John will be observed at 3 p. m. service Saturday. Visiting preachers are expected.

W. M. S.—

The W. M. S. met Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the church with 11 members present in the Bible study. The program follows:

Song, "What a Friend," prayer, by Mrs. O. E. Stevenson; Mrs. W. L. Hester discussed the lesson from the 12th to the 28th chapter of Exodus.

Monday week will finish the Book of Exodus. Reading of minutes, Mrs. J. E. Harrell; song, "Jesus Saves," dismissed by Mrs. J. E. Harrell.

Will meet at the church next Monday at 4 o'clock in a Missionary Voice program.

At the Baptist Church—

Sunday school met at 9:45 a. m., but we had some absentees again. Let us urge each and every one to be present and fill that vacant place in your class next Sunday morning. The lessons are so uplifting and unusually interesting.

Our pastor, Rev. A. C. Hardin, preached at 11 a. m. reading the 1st eight verses of the 1st chapter of 1st Peter. His topic was "The Joy that is Unpeakable and full of Glory." We wish that this sermon could have been broadcast and every Christian listening. Oh, how the scripture quoted and explained by Bro. Hardin encourages us to press forward.

The subject for the evening hour was, "If a Man Die Will He Live Again?" reading the 1st verses of Job—stressing the first verse of this chapter: "Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble."

B. Y. P. U. meets each Sunday evening just before the preaching service. W. M. S. meets at the church each Monday afternoon. Prayer service on Wednesday evenings.

5 reasons
for having a telephone

"They're opening the plant again? ... Sure I'll be there!"

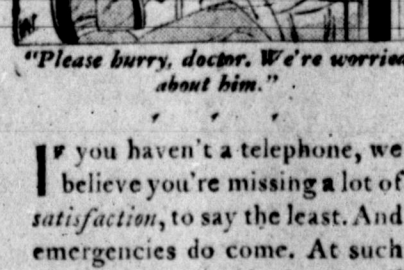

"Please change my appointment to Thursday."

"The train is 40 minutes late... I'll wait for them."

"Why yes, I found your keys on the dresser."

"Please hurry, doctor. We're worried about him."

If you haven't a telephone, we believe you're missing a lot of satisfaction, to say the least. And emergencies do come. At such times a single telephone call may be priceless.

For only a few cents a day, you can have a telephone of your own. No more trips to the neighbors, or the corner store. Call the business office. Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Use Typewriters in Regular School Work

Through the Typewriter Educational Research Bureau of New York more than 2,000 typewriters were lent to fifty schools in twelve cities, and the result, described in a report by Dr. Ben D. Wood of Columbia University and Dr. Frank N. Freeman of the University of Chicago. "An Experimental Study of the Educational Influence of the Typewriter in the Elementary School Classroom, indicates that children take to the typewriter readily, that it speeds up school work and has no bad effect on penmanship.

Johnny--Teacher, why is it in a rich country like ours that the government allows its citizens to suffer for want of food, clothes and shelter?
Teacher--Well, Johnny, such condition is admittedly unfortunate, but you are too young to realize that it takes time to appoint commissions, etc. to gather statistics and make recommendations.

TURNING THE SPOTLIGHT ON MEMBERS COLORADO'S PRIZE WINNING H. S. BAND

By I. C. EURFAULTZ

(By special correspondent and not to be reproduced without special permission of the author.)

Hello, West Texans! For your information the man seen hanging from the limb of a tree in the business section of Tombstone, is not of flesh and blood. He is stuffed with straw and merely wears all the regalia of a crooked and undesired person of the gold-rush days. Yes, this region has yielded much of the yellow pay-dirt. In 1877, while a scouting party of soliders were searching the hillsides for Apaches, Ed Scheffelin went with them due to the protection they offered him in his prospecting for gold. He finally went alone during the day and returned to the fort each night. The soliders continually warned him that he would find his tombstone instead of a gold strike. However, he continued his search alone, and after success, Scheffelin named his first location "Tombstone" in remembrance of the soliders' jovial warning. Later, Scheffelin and his partners sold out for a vast sum, but still he continued to be a prospector. Now, this town of 800 population is "the liveliest dead town in the United States," according to its mayor. The Chamber of Commerce secretary says, "This is the only place in the world where once each week a man can read his own epitaph." Mr. A. H. Gardner, who is the editor of that publication, is a man of much vitality. His work in boosting good roads deserves much credit. We met one lady of gray hair and smiling face. She has lived here for more than fifty years. You and I would have a real treat if we could listen to the many stories she may be able to tell of this mining and cattle raising country.

Benson and Vail are thriving communities serving the ranches of this section. Each is clean, inviting and has friendly citizens. Our time here is short and we learn only from observation rather than by hearing.

On the outskirts of Tucson, we stop at the U. S. Veterans hospital. Here, our Broadway of America band entertains the 341 patients, who are receiving treatment in the modern and beautiful institution under the direction of Drs. James and Beatty. It is our pleasure to visit a few minutes with Dr. Beatty. He tells us that they have the most efficient physical equipment for the treatment of tubercular cases. In addition to being a health center, the city of Tucson is known for its educational advantages. The State of Arizona is famed for its system of high schools, and also within the city of Tucson there is located the State University. Our first evidence of this is when we notice a single letter upon the mountainside, a large capital "A," which might stand for anything, but in this case its meaning is Arizona-State. However, one motorist expresses bewilderment that the "A" should be in that conspicuous spot. A native of Tucson advises that the entire State is kept for education and therefore it will soon place B, C, D, and so forth upon other mountains, so that the children will be able to learn the alphabet while touring through Arizona. Somebody always tries to get funny like that.

When travelling, good sandwiches are appreciated at all times—and when served with a generous supply of lemonade and fruit, they will take the good rating of those supplied the motorcade by the city of Tucson.

Florence, Arizona derived its name from the daughter of its founder. The city of 2,000 people has farming, cattle raising and mining as its most important industries. The valley is irrigated through the stored waters of the Coolidge Dam, with a capacity of 1,200,000 acre-feet. Feed, truck farming products and citrus fruits are grown here. Again our Broadway of America band gives a short program, and short speeches follow. Upon leaving here we wish for time in which to visit the Casa Grande ruins about twelve miles southwest of Florence. These remains of dwelling are considered the oldest in existence. The traditions of original inhabitants has never been definitely established. Prior to 1694, when Padre Kino visited this place, there is no exact record.

Mesa, Arizona is located in Maricopa county, claiming to have more paved roads than any other county in the United States. Here, the country is level and table like, therefore the name, "Mesa," the Spanish word for table. This city of 6,500 population boasts the entire state while doing its own advertising. The following is of interest concerning Arizona:

The name is derived from an Indian word meaning "Little Spring." It contains the largest unbroken stretch of yellow pine timber in the world, and also Arizona has more deer than any other state. We would like to give some figures, but they sound too much like a fish story. So you can go and count them for yourself.

It is now 6 p. m., May 11th and we enter the city of Phoenix. It is only natural that human beings connect cities with events. Phoenix marks the resting place of one motorcadist's father. His life was far from financially successful. At his request no monument has been erected over his grave. However, that simple, Christian life, with its many mistakes, but deep sincerity, has fashioned in the mind of a sinful son the comforting challenge, "Have Faith Always in God."

Away of Life

by BRUCE BARTON

IT MAKES THE WORLD GO ROUND

A young man burst violently into my office. His face was somewhat haggard, and his clothes disheveled, as though he had been up all night, which, in fact, he had. But there was electricity in his walk, and sunshine in his eyes. "Have you heard the wonderful news?" he cried. "I told him I had not heard any wonderful news since 1929. 'Well, you're going to hear some now,' he exclaimed. 'I have a boy. Yes, sir, seven and a half pounds, born at five-thirty this morning. Think of it . . . me . . . a son.' Whereupon he became almost inarticulate, waving his arms and emitting sounds that were half laughter and half tears. At length he gained sufficient self-control to impart the information that the baby had blue eyes. (I hadn't the heart to say that all babies have blue eyes. He wouldn't have heard me anyway.) 'When I looked down at him the first time, the little rascal looked up and smiled. And he reached out and grabbed my finger, and said, . . . well, I don't know how to express it, but when I felt him grip my finger, so trusting and everything . . . well, say, if I were worth five thousand dollars to my boss yesterday, I'm worth ten thousand today.' Did I treat his enthusiasm seriously? You bet I did. Any man who himself has passed through that experience and does not feel a reverent sympathy for a younger brother in the same situation has some serious lack in his soul. One night in 1854, Thomas Huxley, the great scientist, sat alone in a quiet room awaiting the birth of his first child. His spirit was on fire with great new resolves: 'In 1860 I may fairly look forward to fifteen or twenty years,' he wrote in his diary, 'and with the comprehensive views my training will have given me, I think it will be possible in that time to give a new and healthier direction to all Biological Science. To snuffe all humbugs, however big; to give a nobler tone to science; to set an example of abstinence from petty personal controversies, and of toleration for everything but lying; to be indifferent as to whether the work is recognized as mine or not, so long as it is done—are these my aims? 1860 will show. 'Half past ten at night. 'Waiting for my child. I seem to fancy it the pledge that all these things shall be. 'Born five minutes after twelve. Thank God.' Every night, somewhere in the world, hundreds of thousands of men sit waiting for their children. Thoughts come into their young minds, which never were there before. New purposes; new earnestness.

Not all of this impulse is permanent, of course, but a part at least remains of the urge to do something, and be something worthy of these children. It is a greater force than personal ambition. It makes the world go round.

CUPS AND OTHER AWARDS WON BY COLORADO BAND ON DISPLAY IN WINDOW

Trophies From District And National Meets Shown At Majors Store

Three loving cups, two certificates awards and one bronze plaque, trophies won by the Colorado school band in regional and National band contests during the past two years, have recently been placed on display in window of J. P. Majors jewelry store, 129 East Second street.

Two of the cups and both of the certificates were awarded the band after the local musicians had won first place in Class B at West Texas band contests at Abilene in 1931 and 1932. The other cup, to become permanent property of band winning first place for three consecutive years, was awarded Colorado this and last year. It was won by Ballinger in 1929 and Albany in 1930.

One of the most valued trophies in the collection is a bronze plaque awarded the band at Tulsa last year. This trophy stipulates that the Colorado musicians won seventh place in annual National contests, in competition with hundreds of school bands from throughout America.

In addition to these honors, the local band is official musical organization for the Broadway of America association a distinction recently given them for the second consecutive year.

All of these creditable winnings have been realized by the musicians since Roy Hester assumed directorship of the band three years ago.

Kin Of Coloradoan Killed In Cyclone Near Portales, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Pribble returned Sunday night from New Mexico where they had been called Friday night after a cyclone had killed two relatives of the Coloradoans at Bethel, 10 miles west from Portales.

Derrell Pribble, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pribble and Miss Bobbie Rogers, a sister of Mrs. Earl Pribble, were instantly killed at 6:30 o'clock Friday afternoon when a cyclone demolished the Pribble home at Bethel. No other members of the family were injured. Earl Pribble is a brother of B. L. Pribble.

A severe sandstorm had developed and no one suspected that a cyclone was approaching until just a few seconds before it struck the building. Mr. Pribble called to members of his family, but by that time the twister had struck, reducing the building to debris. No other damage was done in that section.

The building, a combination store and residence, had recently been constructed. Mr. Pribble had planned opening a general store there on the next day. He had been living in the Bethel home a year, going there from Merkel.

The boy was buried Saturday afternoon at Portales. The body of Miss Rogers was forwarded to Clyde where burial was had Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Pribble of Hamlin, uncle and aunt of B. L. Pribble, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Pribble to New Mexico and were present at both the funeral rites. The Colorado man is associated with the Shell Pipe Line Company.

Spade farmers are as busy as the proverbial cranberry merchant this week, according to Robert Northcutt, here Tuesday from that section.

Palace Theatre Has Interesting Program Billed During Week

Hundreds of books, plays and pictures have been turned out in recent years dealing with home life in this hectic age. The faults and virtues, the pleasure and pains of domestic existence today have been discussed from every conceivable angle—except one. That one is the angle of boyhood. How the youngsters of the nation regard our modern scheme of things and high-pressure mode of living constitutes a viewpoint that few writers have touched. Yet it is of vital significance to adults as well as to the youths who in a decade or two will be running the country.

What do these young folks think of our methods today? With such celebrities as Spencer Tracy, Doris Kenyon, Beryl Mercer, Ralph Bellamy and Sarah Padden in the leading adult roles and two juvenile screen "finds," Tommy Conlon and Raymond Borzage, as the youthful heroes, the film talkie, "Young America" will be shown at the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, June 16 and 17. See how they deal with the problem.

For Saturday, June 18, one day only, the Palace is showing Tim McCoy in a rip-roaring Western, "The Fighting Marshal." All those in favor of rip-roaring action, shooting, riding and fighting with dash and spirit had sure better see this one.

Tim kicks up plenty of dust in this one and gallops through with the help of pretty Dorothy Gulliver, as the heroine. Mary Carr, Mathew Betz and Pat O'Malley are others who contribute capable and interesting performances.

For the Sunday matinee and Monday night show, the Palace will show "Western Passage," with Ann Harding, Laurence Olivier, Zazu Pitts, Juliet Compton, Irving Pichel, Irene Purcell, Jule Haydon, Joyce Compton and others.

Olivier, a struggling novelist, is the husband of Harding. When she can no longer stand his constant bickering she leaves him, taking their child with her, and later marries Pichel, a life-long friend, who is endowed with more kindness. After living a peaceful life with him for six years along comes Husband No. 1, now a successful novelist, who is a changed person. He and his former wife are reunited and after a violent quarrel when she is ready to leave him again, she suddenly decides that she will be happier quarreling with him than living tranquilly with Pichel. You will appreciate this wonderful picture.

Tuesday and Wednesday, June 21 and 22, the Palace has booked an unusual picture, "Devil's Lottery."

The peculiar interest in "Devil's Lottery," lies in the fact that this picture tells a story of human beings, rather than in abstract theories of political economy. It demonstrates the effect of suddenly acquired wealth on those who have been previously happy without it. These effects are both surprising and startling.

Elissa Landi is supported by an all-star cast in this production. The "wild oats" sowed by youth form the structure of one of the amazing screen plays of the year in "Letty Lynton," in which Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery will appear at the Palace Theatre, Thursday and Friday, June 23 and 24. The picture is up to the Crawford-Montgomery standard and will prove interesting as well as an all-around good picture.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt has returned from a visit to points in the Panhandle and North Texas, where she had gone in interest of the W. M. S. Northwest Texas Conference, M. E. church, South.

BONUS MARCHER RESUMES JOURNEY TO WASHINGTON AFTER 'ATTACK' AT IATAN

Californian Claimed To Have Been Beaten And Robbed By Bandit Gang

Pete H. Hansen, World War veteran, resumed his bonus march to Washington Tuesday morning, after resting a day and night at a local hospital, recovering from head wounds claimed to have been inflicted by a bandit gang near Iatan Monday morning.

Passing motorists found the man, seemingly unconscious, beside the roadside one mile east of Iatan. He was brought into Westbrook where an examination suggested he might be seriously injured. A Jones, Russell Company ambulance was called and brought the man to the hospital here.

A few hours after reaching the hospital Hansen told how he had been attacked by Mexicans near Iatan, beaten into insensibility and robbed of a wrist watch and a small amount of cash. Officers detailed on the case were unable to locate the bandits.

"My home is in California and I am on my way to Washington to join the bonus army," he related to authorities. "When near Iatan some Mexicans came driving along in a green Chevrolet sedan. I halted them and asked for a ride."

"Where you going?" asked one of them in broken English. "To Washington to collect my bonus," I replied. "No sooner had I made the last statement when a couple of them pounced on me, one of them using a hammer."

Local authorities refused to accept the man's story in its entirety. He might have been attacked and robbed as claimed, but it was developed that a head wound from which the man was suffering was chronic and evidently several years old. It was found out that he had been released from an El Paso hospital June 6.

No effort was spared, however, to apprehend the supposedly gang who attacked him. Descriptions of the Mexicans and the car in which they were traveling, as given by Hansen, were wired throughout the country and a thorough search made in the vicinity of Iatan. Police Chief Hickman stated Tuesday afternoon that no trace of the Mexicans had been found.

Former Longfellow Farmer Buried At Dunn, Texas, Sun.

C. A. Gillis, 63, farmer of the China Grove community, died at a Colorado hospital Sunday morning after an illness of three weeks duration. An infected foot and complications are said to have caused his death.

Burial was in the Dunn cemetery Sunday afternoon following rites at the Dunn Methodist church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Magee, pastor.

His widow, one daughter, Miss Lois Gillis, 17, and a son, Andrew, 12 years of age, survive. Four brothers, W. A. Gillis of Hamlin, J. D. Gillis of Humble, Perry Gillis of Dunbar and Ove Gillis of Tarrant county, and a sister, Mrs. Fannie Evans of Muskogee, Oklahoma, also survive.

Mr. Gillis and family resided in the Longfellow community several years, where he farmed one of the C. H. Lusk places. Two years ago he purchased a farm home near China Grove.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Jones, Russell Company of Colorado.

A banquet at noon and dance in the evening were among entertainment attractions arranged by Hill Watson, manager of Hotel Colorado, host to the convention.

THIS BULL DOG SIDES WITH THE GAS MAN IN BARBER SHOP TUSSELE

Marion Chapman, district manager for the Community Natural Gas Company has found another staunch friend.

The other day Chapman and J. Ralph Lee became involved in a friendly tussle while visiting in the Roy Dozier Barber shop. Lee being the larger was getting the better end of the melee until the bull dog of H. B. Broadbudd took a hand in the affair.

"Pup" as the dog is known about the streets had followed Broadbudd into the shop just before the two men decided to determine who was the best man. He was resting stonily on the floor when the row started.

Just about the time Lee had torn the last shreds of Chapman's shirt from his back Pup let out a jungle howl, made a long swing through the air and smashed his teeth in the seat of Lee's pants. He repeated both persuasion and force on the part of the dog's owner and others to get him loosened from his hold.

Lee afterwards admitted that the dog's teeth did not stop with merely penetrating his clothing. He was feeling alright later, however, after a considerable portion of arnica had been applied to the wound made by Pup's teeth.

AGED MEXICAN LOSES OWN LIFE BUT SAVES SON IN RAIL TRAGEDY

Urbana Herrera, 60, respected citizen of the Mexican addition to Colorado, died a hero Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock when run down by a string of cars being switched in the local Texas & Pacific yards.

Accompanied by his son, a lad seven years of age, the Mexican was crossing the railway bridge spanning the Colorado river. Suddenly he found that a string of cars were heading down upon him. It was too late to outrun the train. The man grabbed his child and hurled his to safety just as he was struck and mangled.

Chas. Eberle, conductor in charge of the local switching crew, states that in so far as he is able to learn no members of the crew witnessed the tragedy. Story of the dead man's thoughtfulness of his child is told by the boy and two Mexican men who witnessed the accident. Herrera was dead when picked up. The boy was carried to a local hospital where it was found he was not seriously hurt.

ECONOMY IS NEED OF THE HOUR EASTLAND ATTORNEY SAYS OF TEXAS' OUTLOOK

Wilbourne B. Collie Enters Campaign For Senate In The 24th District

Standing on a platform demanding rigid economy in the administration of all State affairs as the only hope to which Texas taxpayers may look for relief, as "expenses of the government have soared to the greatest heights ever known," the Hon. Wilbourne B. Collie, who has for some time been campaigning in the district for State senator, is this week announcing his candidacy in The Record.

Mr. Collie is a former newspaper man. Was elected district clerk of Eastland county when a young man, and is said to have made an enviable record for efficiency and economy in his first public office. He retired after four years and was appointed assistant district attorney. Some of the sensational robbery and murder cases heard in the Eastland county district courts were prosecuted by him.

Mr. Collie returned to private life on January 1, resigning his position as assistant district attorney to enter the private practice of law. He is one of those lads who, through circumstances, was forced to make his own way in life. Left an orphan at four years of age, he faced problems of life with determination and is today among the successful practitioners of his home city.

"The people should elect men to office who are pledged to economy and whose records in public life demonstrate these pledges will be fulfilled," Mr. Collie states. "Especially should this care be exercised in the election of legislators, for it is the legislature that makes appropriations and raises the revenue for operation of the government."

DELEGATE TO ATTEND LIONS INTERNATIONAL NAMED BY CLUB TODAY

Selection of delegate to represent the Colorado Lions Club at International convention in Los Angeles, California, next month, is to be made at meeting of the service club today. Every member of the club in good standing, who has not missed three meetings during the past year, without reasonable excuse, will be entitled to a chance for this honor.

Names of all eligible Lions are placed on small ballots and these are put together in a hat or other container. The first number drawn represents the delegate selected. The second and third alternates are drawn.

Joe Pond, incoming president of the club, is automatically named as a delegate to the International convention. At the meeting last week Benton Templeton, secretary-treasurer elect, gave an interesting report of the State convention, held recently in Dallas. Templeton was official delegate from the Colorado club.

SEVERAL COLORADOANS WILL HEAR FERGUSONS AT SWEETWATER RALLY

Several Coloradoans, supporters of the Ferguson's, plan attending the Ferguson rally in Sweetwater Saturday night, according to announcement received at this office. Mr. Ferguson and his wife, the latter a candidate for governor, are to speak there in a West Texas political rally scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

With exception of in 1930, when Clint Small lead in Mitchell county, the Ferguson ticket has for some time taken the lead here in the first primary. Admirers of the Ferguson's claim that such a record is to be maintained in the July primary election this year.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEADER EXTOLS MEN TO 'CARRY ON' FOR GREATER GOAL

"In becoming associated with this splendid Sunday school class, you gentlemen have identified yourselves with an organization that stands for something in the moral and religious progress of this community, and your regular attendance upon this class can only result in making you an even greater force for the influences for which the church stands," George Mahon, superintendent of First Methodist Sunday school, stated in address at annual picnic and banquet attended by members of the T. W. Stoner road Men's class Thursday afternoon.

The outing was attended by about 75 men, with representatives from some of the other churches in Colorado. There was an abundance of barbecue, with all the usual other foods expected on such a menu. The program was given at Ruddick park.

Others to address the gathering included Rev. O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church; J. Riordan, superintendent of First Presbyterian school; Thos. R. Smith, an offi-

Hail Storm Damage At Hyman Reported Greatest In Years

Hail storm that covered a considerable portion of the Hyman community Friday night exacted a heavy toll from field crops and gardens. Farmers from that part of the county have reported. The losses were principally south from a line east and west by the Hyman school house. Feed is not believed lost and will come out, but cotton crops within the path of the storm are a total loss, according to reports. Scores of family gardens were destroyed.

Speeding Automobiles Upon Streets Here Twenty One Years Ago Viewed With Alarm

There were motorists in Colorado twenty-one years ago who actually drove their machines at the high speed of from 15 to 20 miles an hour, according to The Record for June 18, 1911. The city council, alarmed because of this menace to life and limb, had that week passed an ordinance regulating speed to not more than twelve miles an hour. The ordinance, passed June 14, was signed by C. M. Adams, mayor, and Ernest Keathley, secretary.

Studebaker and E. M. F. 30 motor cars were evidently the most popular here in those days. Display advertisements in The Record by A. J. Herrington, agent for the former, and P. S. Keiper, dealer for the latter, indicated that competition in the new vehicular trade was waxing keen.

Local distributors of fashionable buggies, however, were not to be outdone even in recognition of the fact the gasoline propelled vehicles were making serious inroads into their business. Merits of the John Deere buggy, in the "H. M. T." or family body widths, as still the most dependable and acceptable mode of transportation were advertised by Doss & Johnson.

Announcement of the approaching wedding of Miss Angie Lois Buchanan to Garner T. Hammock was carried in the paper that week. The rites were to be solemnized on June 28.

Construction work on the new high school building was expected to be started within the next few days, according to information received from the contractor. A part of the materials were already on the ground and all had been purchased, it was stated.

Death of Carrie Nation, famed "saloon wrecker," occurred that week in a sanitarium at Leavenworth, Kansas. Her efforts to close the open saloon were given praise. The Record devoted considerable space again this week to discussion of the liquor traffic in Texas, urging voters to go to the polls in coming statewide election and rid Texas of the saloon.

Mrs. J. G. Merritt was prominent in affairs of the Woman's Missionary Society then as now. In a letter received by The Record from Mrs. Merritt, then attending annual convention of the society at Childress, it was stated that the next meeting would be held in Colorado, and "the printing of the minutes were given you. I am the editor-in-chief." By way of coincident, The Record is this week delivering the minutes of the 1932 session of the Society, recently held in Abilene, and Mrs. Merritt is still the editor-in-chief.

The practicality of cross country travel by automobile had again been demonstrated that week. Dr. F. A. Peak and J. L. Wadley, a newspaper man, both of Hot Springs, Arkansas had arrived in Colorado by motor car from their home city, driving an E. M. F. 30. "The car made the entire distance without an accident, not even a punctured tire," The Record boasted.

M. C. Lowry of Hyman has planted his maize on the two-row-skip-one plan and is planting part of his harvest on the same plan and part of it every row to see which yields the most.

Laura Jane Salley of Spade is feeding three pigs maize and skim milk. They averaged 39 pounds gain last month.

Reeman Dockery of Conaway is one of the three boys with poultry demonstration and he reports that the pullets are growing off nicely. He captioned some barred rocks, red and white leghorns Tuesday to enter in the Capon Show next January.

Fred Harrell and Noel Jackson of Lofaine also have poultry demonstrations.

Boyd and Charles Hudson of Spade captioned some Rhode Island Reds for the Capon Show next January.

J. C. and Charlie Northcutt of Spade estimate that their eight pigs will average somewhere in the neighborhood of 120 pounds. At this rate of gain they are making pork that can be sold for three cents and show a slight profit.

A. D. Singleton, Jr., of the Spade club has a very tiny pig. He gained 26 pounds the first two weeks on feed. He is using maize and skim milk.

Each club boy may enter 2 pens of four capons each in the Capon Show. This gives each boy two chances to win the trip to the State Fair. If there are twenty entries two trips will be offered.

Questions and Answers about Conoco Germ Processed Oil

Q: WHAT DOES "GERM PROCESS" MEAN?

A: The words "Germ Process" describe the scientific method by which this oil is manufactured. Such processing adds immeasurably to the oil's lubricating properties. North American patent rights to this Process are owned by Continental—only CONOCO oils are Germ Processed!

Q: IS IT DIFFERENT FROM OTHER OILS?

A: Yes. It is the only oil of its kind, and does what no other oil can do. The Germ Process gives it the ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces in your motor. The Germ Process also gives more "oiliness" than any other oil. Any oil would be better off if Germ Processed.

Q: WHAT IS THE "HIDDEN QUART"?

A: The "Hidden Quart" is tangible evidence that CONOCO Germ Processed Oil penetrates metal surfaces and gives safer, safer lubrication. During the first 250 to 350 miles after your first fill with Germ Processed Oil, a pint to a quart seemingly disappears. On later fills, it does not. That's the Hidden Quart—it stays up in your motor and never drains away! Other oils drain away when your car is idle, leaving vital parts unlubricated during the starting period, when almost half of all motor wear occurs. CONOCO's Hidden Quart lubricates before your motor starts—cutting down costly starting wear!

Q: WHY SHOULD I CHANGE TO CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL?

A: Because, by cutting down starting wear, it gives your motor longer life, keeps it sweet-running and saves expensive repair bills. Because Germ Processed Oil's extra oiliness makes your car run better. It forms a stronger piston-ring seal, making starting easier and giving more power. It withstands crankcase dilution and high temperatures. CONOCO Germ Processed Motor Oil gives you the safest, surest lubrication you can buy. Change now to this better oil at any CONOCO Red Triangle station.

MITCHELL COUNTY FARM NOTES

Hugh Halmark and O. E. Allbright of Lorraine stuck a hog last week without shooting or stunning. They got a good stick and Mr. Allbright says it was the cleanest, prettiest looking meat he ever saw and that he never expects to shoot another hog to kill him. The hog is being cured in a brine solution.

C. C. Berry says they canned over 100 cans of dewberries recently and that they are planning to increase the size of their berry patch.

A. R. Northcutt of Spade says water ran over his terraces in two or three places, but they didn't break. What little repair was necessary they did with shovels.

W. S. Walker of Longfellow and E. E. Herrington of Sheppard report having home grown Irish potatoes this week.

Reports from 469 farmers show that they own 71 pressure cookers. These same farmers killed 209 beeves and 758 hogs last year.

A letter from one of the largest poultry houses in West Texas reads as follows: "Our company, for the past two years, has had a market at all times for capons and we are glad to assure you that you will have a market for Mitchell county capons. We can handle a 1000 head as easily as 500 and we suggest that you do not limit the number, but try to get all the capons you can, and we are sure you will agree with us that the producer is much better off caponizing his heavy cockerels than he would be in selling them on the prevailing market."

Hens fed milk and grain in the demonstration flocks in Texas in March returned a net income above feed cost of 11.39 cents per hen. Grain fed flocks 9.22 cents per hen for the same month.

A certain farmer in Mitchell county, who has killed two hogs the "A. & M. Way" has sold two sugar cured hams for 20 cents per pound. These two hams brought almost as much money as one of the hogs would have brought on market. It looks like quality products will sell even in times like these.

It may cruel to stick hogs without shooting, according to some people's way of thinking, but a case was reported Monday night in Mitchell county, where a fellow had to shoot a log the third time before it died. One report has it that they finally hit it in the head with a rock.

Ever hear of using a stalk cutter for a cultivator? J. R. Henderson does and if there is any doubt about it doing the work it will pay you to visit him while he's using it, for it does as good, if not a better job, than any other implement we have for crops while young.

Mr. Henderson uses a three-row cutter and drives right down the rows covering thirty acres per day with good day's run, with 5 head of workstock. The stalk cutter gets practically every weed in the field, except possibly a few right close to the cotton. The stand of cotton or feed is uninjured. Mr. Henderson follows up with knives. The ground is left in a rigid condition, which prevents sand blowing.

Several of Mr. Henderson's neighbors are also using the stalk cutter for the first cultivation.

THE PEOPLE OF TEXAS MUST DECIDE THE FATE OF TEXAS RAILROADS

● THE WELFARE of Texas and Texans has gone and will always go hand in hand with the welfare of Texas railroads. Their dependency upon each other is absolute.

In 1929 Texas railroads gave employment to 82,956 employes, to whom they paid annually $126,674,543 in salaries and wages. In 1930 this number decreased to 70,739 while the payroll declined to $109,892,226. In 1931 the number of employes fell to 57,098 and the payroll to $89,505,918.

This represents a decrease of more than $37,000,000 in purchasing power in Texas communities. There has been a corresponding decrease in purchase of materials and supplies by Texas railroads. The ability to have maintained railroad payrolls and purchases would have been a very important factor in overcoming the present trying economic condition.

The decline in railroad payrolls and purchases is due only in part to economic conditions. The revenues of the railroads have been affected not only by business conditions but to a very large extent by loss of traffic to trucks and buses using the public highways in competition with the railroads.

● The time has come when the people of Texas must decide whether the traffic of this state can best be carried by the railroads, using facilities which they built and maintain at their own expense, or by trucks and buses using the highways built and maintained at the taxpayers' expense.

HUMAN NATURE THE SAME

We hear a good many people remarking that the younger generation has no manners, that the boys and girls of today are rapidly sliding down to perdition and that things were so much better when these complaining individuals themselves were young.

We seem to remember having heard the old folks talk in a similar strain when we were young. We are strongly inclined to believe that the bad manners and worse morals of youth have always been a subject of complaints by their parents and grandparents from King Solomon's time, and perhaps farther back than that.

Our belief is strengthened by recently seeing a letter written in 1795 by an English woman, who said among other things:

"Our manners become more licentious, our men are indifferent, our women bold and assuming. The pettiness of fifteen is allowed to give her opinion on all subjects. She awes into silence her superiors and understanding, for who can wish to hold an argument with a flippant tongue? But a more serious consideration is the hideousness of the present day, for to be perfectly fashionable is to be half-naked."

In the same letter elderly women were criticised for resorting to cosmetics in the effort to make themselves look younger. We have heard people around here talk about how disgusting it is for a woman old enough to be a grandmother to try to look like a flapper. Regardless of whether it is disgusting or not, our point is that it is nothing new. A hundred and thirty-seven years ago people were saying the same things.

One thing is certain. That is, that each generation has to learn its own way about and find its own way of living. In other words, codes of manners and behavior generally are good only for the generation that subscribes to them. And when we consider that half of the people of the United States are under twenty-six years old, it seems to us young folks have about as much right to decide such things for themselves as the older ones have to prescribe for them.

ATTENTION NEEDED HERE

The practice of cutting corners, especially at Second and Hickory and Third and Chestnut streets, has developed into such proportions as to become a real menace. Every day—and most any hour of the day, a for that matter—speeding motorists race across these intersections driving on wrong side of the street. This should be stopped.

There is no justifiable reason for the practice. There are many reasons to demand that such not be tolerated.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST

Some poetical writer has a poem on "Love's Labor Lost." This was in error and this column contends that Love's Labor is never lost.

The story in the New Testament of the woman who broke her box of precious ointment to anoint the Savior she loved, has been misunderstood. Some have treated it as if Jesus' purpose in commending her was to guarantee earthly immortality to her deed.

But that was not necessary. Immortality belongs to infamy, as well as fame. The ace of treachery in Judas will be remembered as long as the breaking of the ointment.

Nero's crime will be remembered as long as Paul's martyrdom. Booth, the assassin, and Lincoln the martyr, will live in history together. When we read of McKinley the same pages will be befouled with the name of the man who murdered him. Jesus did not need to promise remembrance to this woman.

The meaning is found in the context. The woman's enemies figured the cost of the ointment in dollars and cents and reproached Jesus for allowing the waste of it. Jesus was simply saying that it was not wasted, that her sacrificing love would bear fruit through all the everlasting years. The doctrine that Jesus teaches in this story is, that no good deed, no kind word, no sacrifice of love is ever wasted. It is fundamental doctrine. If love can go unrewarded, or sin unpunished, God would not be God. This is His world. He rules it, and goodness cannot die.

There is both heresy and infidelity in the world concerning this doctrine—Shakespeare's lines have become some peoples' creed:

"The evil that men do lives after them,
The good is oft interred with their bones."

There is every reason for believing in the immortality of goodness. Science teaches the truth of the conservation of energy. Science tells us that nothing is ever lost, that we call lost motion is simply motion converted into something else. The burning coal passes into steam; the steam into speed; and the speed into electric fluid, and nothing is lost. Last year's fruit fell to the ground and rotted, but it was found again in this year's crop. Last year's leaves went sighing to the earth, but they enriched the soil for this year's harvest.

Must we believe that God will conserve the energy of the coal, the fruit and the leaves, and allow the fragrance of virtuous deeds to be wasted on the desert air, and their merit to go unrewarded? No goodness, once born, is alive forever. Kind words are more powerful than armies. The armies whose tread made the world tremble when Paul wrote his tender letter to his friend, Philemon, pleading for a run-away slave, are gone and forgotten, but the words of Paul live on and will until the world is called to judgment.

A beautiful true story is told: A poor man came to town, a stranger, his wife in a precarious condition. In a few days she gave birth to two babies, and he had not a dollar for the doctor to mitigate her pain or clothe the babies' nakedness. The doctor gave his service and another man gave $15 to clothe the twins. You tell me that such acts of kindness goes unrewarded?

The doctrine that love's labor is never lost is seen in every sacrifice that love calls for and is that much treasure laid up "where moth and rust doth not corrupt and where thieves do not break through nor steal."

Break your alabaster boxes often, in the full assurance that Christ is faithful, and that he who rightly motivated, serves a cup of cold water, shall not lose his reward.

A new preacher has come to town. We heard him last Sunday and that night we had a dream. Now, we are not laying the dream to the new preacher, but only record it as a strange coincidence:

A deafening sound as of mighty, swirling winds, demons of the nether world riding high, smote the sleeping ear. On rolled the vanguard chariot, crushing, crunching in its mad and sullen orary. Space fell away, there was no space, for the darkness of blackest night, a dismal abyss sinking, ever sinking, deep its pall everywhere, save for angry thunders, insane chortlings of those demons that e'er and anon rent the solitude, all was the silence of the tomb. Seething, seething bolts of lightning, drenched the murky night with fetid fumes of an inferno. In their train dangled legions of goblins, hideous their mein, phosphorescent their sightless eyes. Again a maddening rumbling issuing from the bottomless pit shook until there steamed forth sulphurous vapors, stenches of the damned. From the crevices lurid light crept, and by them a solitary watcher saw multifarious orbes beckoning and leading him away into a vast recess, whose boundary is eternity. Awe and numbness displaced all feeling. Flowing noiselessly at his feet was the river Styx, but he knew it not, nor its deep and cold lethal waters. A gleam of light surpassing the sun's brilliance sped, over the inky expanse. Amid stream, a lone boatman in somber garb, silently dipped his oar. Again and again he would have dipped that oar but the boat wavered, held still, and moved not at all. Somewhere on high a voice low and musical said, "Come unto Me." It was the voice of God reaching down, even to the blackened hinges of Hell.

After that a sweet stillness and—Oh, thank God, it was only a dream.

HEARD ALONG STREETS AT LORAIN SATURDAY

Saturday morning a representative of The Record made a visit to Loraine, metropolis of Eastern Mitchell county. Merchants and other business men were optimistic, as a rule, in anticipation of promise that prosperity so long forecast by Herbert Hoover was now in reality "just around the corner."

In the First State Bank we were somewhat surprised to find Judge J. C. Hall making a bank. He was busy at a teller's window and boastfully admitted that he had gone to work. Inside the cage we found A. L. McSpadden, of the Texas Electric Service Company at Colorado, busily engaged in counting currency and checks. It was evident that Mack had been out collecting.

John Colson of Colorado was found wearing a spotlessly white apron behind the market at John Mahon's grocery and market. "Down here to help Mahon out a bit today, as he is expecting business to be a little better," the Colorado man remarked.

Bill Martin, after spending several weeks at Hubbard City, where the Martins now have a drug business, was found back at his old place. Bill tried to tell us that business conditions at Hubbard City were better than out in these parts.

And there was Arlie Martin, too, until recently assistant cashier of the City National bank at Colorado, back at his old place behind the prescription counter at the Martin Drug Company. Arlie admitted there was some difference as between counting money and rolling pills.

"We are still here and expect to keep on the job," was the way Geo. Hutchins replied when asked as to how business conditions were at George's among the pioneer druggists at Loraine.

MALARIA

I believe that many of my readers will be interested in my topic this week, especially the great number living in the damp lowlands of our southern districts. The mosquito is the malarial carrier. Our broad policy of education of the masses will, in time, conquer the little demon that has wrought so much of unhappiness to our race.

Typical malaria is manifested by its periodical chills, and fever that follow immediately. Its paroxysms occur with the regularity, almost of the clock. Remember, irregular chills and fever point to septicaemia—pus somewhere—and NOT malaria. Your physician must decide for you; and a chill, of any kind, should send you post-haste to the doctor for investigation.

Science has identified the malarial poison, which is now easily disposed of, if your diagnosis is right. Quinine will turn the trick, if administered properly. I give it on chill-days only, getting in three doses (which should total at least ten grains), the last dose at least one hour before the expected chill. For instance, if the chill has been arriving at eleven o'clock every second day I give four grains of quinine at four, seven and ten on the day the chill is due.

Given in this manner it will dismiss the chill on that day. Then, on next chill-day, I repeat the little program, and do it for at least six "chill-days" after the last chill. The malarial poison will have been conquered. Of course the bowel must be looked after; and the diet kept in the bounds of good, easily-digested food. This outline is for the acute form of malaria, which will not become chronic if properly dealt with. Quinine is a specific for malaria. Space forbids discussing the "estivo-autumnal" type.

I have treated cases from the Amazon Valley in South America and the swamps of Louisiana with gratifying success.

in the county, on a prominent corner in Loraine. The house is to be modern throughout and contain three modern store rooms.

John Mercantile Company, was busy fitting a customer in the latest mode of gentleman's hat. His place was broken into a few weeks ago and a considerable amount of merchandise stolen.

"I don't know any news of interest, excepting that things are looking mighty good out in the country these days and it is evident we are going to make a bumper crop in these parts," said R. A. Edwards, manager of the Higginbotham-Bartlett lumber yard.

There were few farmers seen on the streets, while we were there. Merchants explained that these were taking advantage of the favorable weather conditions to get seed into the ground and work out the young crops already up. "They will be here this afternoon, however," came from several of our informants.

Hopper Formula Is Changed Somewhat, State Expert Says

A change is being made in the regular grasshopper poison formula, according to R. R. Reppert, A. & M. Entomologist. To the standard formula of 25 pounds bran, one pound white arsenic, six lemons and two quarts of molasses is being added 1 pound of table salt. Mr. Reppert writes as follows about the change:

"As to the addition of salt we have this to say: Correspondence with other entomologists of states heavily infested with grasshoppers brought the criticism that we did not add the salt which increases the effectiveness of the mash to some extent, so we are adding the salt, not as a result of our own experience, but from the experience in other sections. It is a matter of general observation that grasshoppers are attracted to a salty taste.

"It has been found, however, that while under general conditions salt increases the attractiveness of the poison, in some sections, where there is a great deal of alkali in the soil, which indirectly satisfies the craving of the insects for this material, the addition of salt is not attractive.

"I do not think the above condition applies to the greater part of our cultivated areas and I think we can with some added effectiveness, add the salt."

J. W. Henkle of Buford, G. B. Madison of Cuthbert and others in the south part of the county report numerous grasshoppers in the pastures and in some cases they are causing damage.

Mrs. C. J. Duhon and little daughter, Peggy, are here from Magnolia, Arkansas, to spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lark Costin.

FIRESTONE DEALER IN URGE THAT MOTORISTS PURCHASE TIRES NOW

Announcement was made today by Henry Vaught, Firestone dealer, that tire prices, now the lowest in history, will remain unchanged until midnight, June 20, when the new excise tax of from 10 to 15 per cent on tires and tubes becomes effective—the highest tax on any automobile accessory.

"A few days remain in which it is possible to save from 10 to 15 per cent by buying Firestone tires now," Mr. Vaught said.

"The new billion dollar revenue bill signed by President Hoover will have the inevitable effect of increasing many retail prices," continued Mr. Vaught. "The thrifty will see the wisdom of taking advantage of the prevailing low prices."

Plea of Children Saves Father

Charles R. Feagan took an automobile from St. Louis to Detroit and was arrested by Federal officials on the charge of taking a stolen car across a state line. Feagan says his friend asked him to sell the car for him. Anyway, other friends helped the three children to get to Washington, where they saw President Hoover, who was touched by their plea and ordered their father's release.
