

1932 'HOME-COMING' FOR MITCHELL COUNTIANS PLANNED SEASON OF DEPRESSION SOON TO PASS INTO HISTORY

BETTER DAYS HAVE COME ALREADY, REFLECTS BANK PRESIDENT ON CONDITIONS

Note Of Strong Optimism Is Sounded By C. H. Lasky As Prices Climb

The era of depression that for several months has held the American people within its grasp has already passed the low ebb of its course and today is being gradually displaced with better times, especially in this immediate section of the country, C. H. Lasky, Colorado bank president and property owner, declared Tuesday morning.

"I have been through four of such times as we have endured in this country for the past eighteen months and observations of the past have influenced me to believe that better days have already arrived," Mr. Lasky declared. "Fair prices for our cotton and other farm commodities, along with a more stable market for livestock this fall will do wonders in bringing back better business conditions in this country."

Mr. Lasky places strong emphasis on recent upward trend in livestock and farm commodity quotations in the leading world markets. Press dispatches from Chicago last week to effect that prices of hogs and cattle on that market were soaring is accepted by him as definite proof to sustain belief that worst of the depression has passed.

Unless some calamity overtakes the farmer, Mitchell county will harvest a large cotton crop this year and should prices hold around six to seven cents conditions are destined to become better than Colorado has known for the past few years. Farmers, as a rule, have ample feed and grain to meet domestic needs. Many of them are canning vegetables and fruits in such quantities as to insure food supply for many months in the future. They have not been in position to purchase many items of staple merchandise that ordinarily are in demand in the average home. Better financial status for them means that trade in all lines represented here is naturally to follow.

Mr. Lasky called at The Record office and invited a representative to visit his truck farm, located near his home in North Colorado. Here he found corn, sweet potatoes, beans, peas, tomatoes, squash, melons, peanuts, okra, carrots, peppers, beets and others that might be interesting in profession. These he and Mrs. Lasky are canning for storage in the home pantry.

"Just wanted to show you what one can do in this country when one sets his best efforts to the task," Mr. Lasky said. "What I am doing here is being done on many of the farms of the county. The provisions now being preserved for home consumption during the months to follow will play an important part in returning prosperity to our people."

SCOTT MITCHELL CRUSHED TO DEATH IN SWEETWATER RAILROAD YARDS TRAGEDY

Driller Formerly Employed By Eastland Oil Company In Westbrook Field

Scott Mitchell, 45, oil driller formerly employed by the Eastland Oil Company in the Westbrook field, is dead from injuries supposed to have been received when attempting to alight from a moving train in Texas & Pacific yards at Sweetwater Monday night. Mitchell, in a dying condition, was picked up about fifty yards west of the passenger station at Sweetwater Monday morning at 1 o'clock. His only words spoken after being found were, "Mitchell, Colorado." Identification was established later by his widow, who with friends went to Sweetwater in response to advice that the dead man was no doubt Mitchell.

Details of the accident are lacking. No one, in so far as it could be established, witnessed the tragedy. Mitchell is supposed to have left Colorado shortly before aboard a Texas & Pacific train and received the fatal hurts in attempting to get off at Sweetwater. In addition to his widow deceased is survived by his mother, Mrs. M. E. Mitchell of Kansas City.

STATE TO MAKE FURTHER IMPROVEMENT ON HIWAY NO. 1 WEST OF COLORADO

Six Counties To Benefit Thru Appropriation Authorized At Austin Saturday

Six counties west from Colorado through which State Highway No. 1, The Broadway of America, passes, are to benefit from an appropriation of $610,886 authorized Saturday by the State highway commission. Improvements are to be made to the highway in El Paso, Ector, Crane, Martin, Midland and Ward counties. The improvement is to be made under direction of the maintenance division of the department. Right-of-way is to be widened to 100 feet, grades improved and the present choppy surfacing sacrificed. A new double bituminous surface is to be applied.

In El Paso county the department has agreed to pay entire cost of improving the highway between Ascarate and Yaleta. The estimated cost is $169,903. $123,513 was appropriated for this work in Midland county; $80,672 for Ector county; $8,150 for Crane county; $82,396 for Martin county, and $147,252 for Ward county.

The Big Spring Herald for Monday afternoon quoted Judge W. R. Ely, chairman of the State highway commission, as having pledged to make similar improvements to this highway as well as No. 3, through Toward county, on condition the commissioner's court provided a one hundred foot right-of-way. No action on the matter had been taken by the court, it was stated.

Paving of the approximately one hundred miles west of Colorado will do much to further popularize this transcontinental route, local highway boosters point out.

Broken Water Main Ties Up Service In City Several Hours

A broken main was responsible for water service in a downtown section being crippled several hours Tuesday and Wednesday. The trouble originated on Walnut street near intersection of Second.

The break was not discovered until several thousand gallons of water had passed through the broken line, located some four feet underneath pavement in center of the street. Pressure from the leak pushed water to the surface at either curb.

Several hours were required by workmen to locate the break. Repairs were completed Wednesday morning and water turned into the main again. The City National bank building and others in the block were without water service during most of the time.

Postal Employees Have Salaries Cut In 'Economy' Move

Employees at the Colorado post office, including Postmaster R. S. Brennan, have been given salary reductions the equivalent to 8 1-3 percent. The reductions, announced from Washington as in keeping with the administration "economy" move, became effective last week.

Mr. Brennan and Joe Y. Fraser, chief clerk, were given direct salary cuts with no time off. The other employees are to take thirty days "vacation" during the year with no salary allowance during the time. Rural and star route carriers out of the local office, too, have been informed that their salaries have been reduced accordingly.

Clerks are to take their thirty days off in rotation, with one member on leave five days out of each week. Miss Lottie Pritchett was out of the office from Monday to Saturday of last week. Edwin Moesser is taking time out this week.

VOTERS MOVING INTO TOM HUNTER CAMP, IS CLAIM OF SUPPORTER

That there is now in effect a State-wide landslide into the Tom Hunter camp, definitely assuring the Wichita Falls man of being in the run-off election and subsequently the party nominee for governor, was asserted here Tuesday afternoon by H. F. Wade, Sweetwater, who is actively supporting Hunter.

Wade supported his claim by voluminous collection of newspaper clippings and other data, gathered from various parts of Texas, purporting to sustain the fact that the Wichita Falls man was making rapid progress to the goal of either leading the ticket or running in second place at the polls Saturday.

MCKENZIE SCHOOL HAS MET REQUIREMENTS TO GAIN STANDARD RATING

The McKenzie school, located in a progressive ranch and farming belt, several miles southeast from Colorado, has recently been rated as a standardized rural school, meeting every requirement of the State department of public education to attain such a creditable rating. The other certificate was received later.

ELECTION RETURNS TO BE RECEIVED AND TABULATED ON THE RECORD BULLETIN

Public Is Invited To Attend 'Election Party' Here Saturday Night

The big attraction in Mitchell county this week-end is the election party to be given Saturday night in front of The Record office. Several thousand interested citizens are expected to attend.

The Whipkey Printing Company and other business interests of the city, along with several enterprising candidates, have made this event possible. Results of the balloting throughout the State are to be telegraphed to Colorado at regular intervals by the Texas Election Bureau at Dallas and posted on large bulletin board to be set up in front of the newspaper office building.

Returns from boxes in the county are to be made by judges of the several precinct elections. It is probable that winners in several of the contested races for county and precinct office will be announced within an hour or two after the polls close.

Two years ago several thousand people attended this party. In order to care for the large crowd, expected Saturday night Walnut street will be closed to traffic between Second and First.

In addition to the bulletin board, upon which votes received by the several candidates are to be posted from time to time, a public address system is to be installed for oral announcements. This will make it possible for persons anywhere in the block to hear audibly any special announcements made. This equipment will be furnished complimentary by L. J. Taylor.

A corps of efficient tellers will be on duty from the time the service is begun at seven o'clock until midnight or later. The returns will be received and announced as long as public interest is maintained.

'DEAD LINE' IN WHICH SCOLARSHIP TRANSFERS MAY BE MADE IS NEAR

On and after August 1, it will be too late for patrons of any common or rural school district to transfer children of scholastic age to another district for attending school, Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent, again reminds. Patrons planning such transfers are reminded that the matter should be attended to without additional delay.

Laws governing these transfers apply to pupils in the high school as well as those listed as grade school students, Miss McGill stated. Forms to be used in registering the transfers and such other information as may be required may be obtained at the county superintendent's office on second floor of the court house.

He was a brother of Tom Holmsley, until recently a business man located at Colorado. Fifteen other guests in the hotel escaped with their lives, but most of them lost their personal belongings.

Other surviving relatives are the following sisters residing at San Angelo: Mmes. J. Willis Johnson, S. E. Couch and R. E. Chandler.

Jack Miller and Knox Gentry, Colorado youths, were being held in the Mitchell county jail Thursday awaiting developments of burglary charges pending against them. They were arrested in connection with burglary of the Express office and a box car here Tuesday night.

Breaking into the Express office the thieves obtained several automobile tires and spare wheels. Officers later located the loot where it had been cached two miles west of the city.

Conaway Farm Youth Who Fought Stray Dog To Protect Poultry, Dies of Rabies

Tragedy has again stalked in the Conaway community to claim the life of one of its citizens. James Early Griffith, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Griffith, died at an early hour Sunday morning, the victim of rabies. A few months ago a school boy of that community was crushed to death beneath wheels of a heavily loaded bus.

Several weeks ago a stray dog came to the Griffith home and attacked a flock of poultry. Young Griffith armed himself with a stick and sought to frighten the animal away. The dog turned upon the young man and bit him. Nothing was thought of the incident until a few days ago when the boy became seriously ill. He recalled having been bitten by the dog and suggested to his parents that he was suffering of rabies. But it was then too late.

Funeral services were conducted at Westbrook Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock with the Rev. Mr. Fuqua in charge. Burial was in the Westbrook cemetery. In addition to his parents, deceased is survived by two brothers, aged 17 and 23 years respectively, and one sister, age 9, all of near Westbrook.

Funeral arrangements were directed by the Jones Russell Company

AUGUST 26TH DATE FOR SECOND ANNUAL JUBILEE HONORING 'OLD TIMERS'

Chamber Commerce Directs Plans For Celebration To Be Held Here

So successful was Mitchell county's initial home coming jubilee, held at Colorado a year ago, that the Chamber of Commerce has determined to sponsor another of those programs this year. Date for the celebration has been set for August 26th.

Several ranchmen of the county have voluntarily pledged to donate beavers and lend support in other ways toward success of the event. While the pioneer Mitchell county citizen is to be especially honored during this program, every resident of the county will be extended invitation to attend the barbecue, Jim Greene, Chamber of Commerce secretary, stated Wednesday.

Last year several hundred former citizens of the county came back home to enjoy the jubilee. Many of them had been away from this county twenty-five years and more. These, along with such local pioneers who had resided in the county a quarter of a century were guests of the community at the barbecue program given at Ruddick park. Approximately 2,500 people were fed.

Definite program for the day is to be considered at a meeting to be convened at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Following permanent organization of steering committee, all details having to do with the jubilee are to be given consideration.

Tentative plans for the jubilee call for a reception for the old timers on the evening of August 25th. Speaking will be in order during the forenoon of the day and in the afternoon a parade, reminiscent of other days, is to pass through the streets. At 7 o'clock the barbecue will be given.

"The Chamber of Commerce had not planned sponsoring such a celebration again this Summer until several of the leading citizens came to this office and suggested that such be done," Greene stated. "We invite every interested citizen to attend the meeting Monday morning."

MITCHELL YOUTHS WIN DISTINCTION AT CAMP BULLIS, SAN ANTONIO

The other Mitchell county youth to receive meritorious award was Houston C. Barr, who as captain of the camp indoor baseball team was one of the gold medal winners in that division of sports.

IN LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

There is a company in New York which rents Kolb-Royce automobiles. The charges are $7 an hour, $50 a day, $250 a week and $800 a month. If you decide to rent a car for several months, your monogram will appear on the door.

New York has a hospital for animals which attracts a good many children visitors. The youngsters are made welcome. Sometimes as many as 40 gather in the reception room of the institution to attend the recently started Saturday morning class in kindness and care of animals.

Rain has a noticeable effect upon certain trades in New York. When it rains the outdoor shoe shine stands close up. For some reason many people don't take time to stop at candy, fruit, ergate and pineapple juice stands when it rains. Even the sale of newspapers is affected by the rain because some newsboys have to leave their coats. But there is one man, the umbrella vendor, who welcomes days of wet weather.

Along Sixth Avenue there are to be found shooting galleries and during most of the day and until the early hours of the morning, they are well patronized. New York has many penny arcades and these are always well filled. In the Times Square district there are even side shows which charge ten cents admission. Palmists and phrenologists and what not operate near 42nd Street and Broadway. What succeeds in the small town usually succeeds here but it does not follow that what prospers here prospers out of town.

CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

We were much pleased to note the presence of the visitors Sunday morning. There were present friends from the Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian and probably others of our sister congregations. Come and worship with us when your pastor is out of town. You are always welcomed here.

Our Wednesday evening services are now being held in main auditorium of the church. It is cooler there. This service begins at 8:20 and lasts but 45 minutes. The Sunday evening services begin at 8:15.

Sunday school attendance was down a bit last Sunday morning. Let's keep the standard up during these hot Summer days.

THE COMMITTEE.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Visitors are welcome.

ALEX. E. HANSON.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We came home from the San Angelo revival with a renewed desire to give our best efforts to the building of a real church program for our local situation. We have never seen the power of the Lord more plainly demonstrated than we saw it in that meeting. We are more thoroughly convinced than ever that He honors and blesses His people when they meet His conditions in humility, prayer and service.

We are looking forward hopefully and prayerfully to our revival late in August. The meeting is scheduled to begin on the Third Sunday, August 21st, and continue until Sunday, September 4. We sincerely hope that our entire community shall receive a spiritual and moral uplift by reason of these services. Let us not forget that revivals, worthy of the name, are never accidents. They come as a culmination of prayer, humility, faith and right living on the part of God's people. You will find the necessary conditions plainly and logically stated in Second Chronicles 7:14. Read it and think upon its deep meaning.

The pastor expects to be in the pulpit for three consecutive Sundays. We shall continue our expositions of the book of First Timothy at the morning hour, and give the evening hour to a program of evangelism.

The Sunday school, with its seven departments and 40 classes, invites you to study the Bible with us. The B. T. S. invites you to have fellowship in Christian training with us. A welcome awaits you at both preaching services.

DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Jno. W. Tindell, Jr., of Cisco, will preach at the First Christian church Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. All members urged to attend these services. Visitors cordially welcomed.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS ABOUT LORAINNE AND VICINITY

MRS. ZORA DEAN, Correspondent

Mrs. Dean is also authorized to receive and receipt for subscriptions for The Colorado Record and to transact other business for Whipkey Printing Company. See her and take your County paper—The Record

Baptist Revival

The revival meeting under auspices of the Baptist church of Lorainne will begin Thursday night of this week and will continue through Sunday, July 31. Services will be held both morning and evening at the tabernacle and all Christian people are invited to attend and take part in the services.

Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor, will do the preaching and W. O. Kinnison will lead the singing.

Baseball Saturday

Lorainne and the Mose-Simms Oilers of Abilene will again tangle bats on the local diamond Saturday afternoon of this week. The game will be called at 4 o'clock and a small admission of ten cents will be made to pay expenses of the game.

Lorainne is in Abilene today for the sixth game with the Oilers, the games now standing 3 to 2 in favor of Lorainne. The Saturday game will be a hot one and will be well worth seeing.

Election Party

The Mitchell County News, in cooperation with other business men of Lorainne, will have an election party Saturday night so that the people of this community may see the returns of the election from over the State as well as locally as fast as the votes are counted. The board will be placed in front of the Mitchell County News office, with plenty of room in front of the building to permit all to see.

The party will start as soon after the polls close at seven o'clock as the first count is available and will continue until 12 o'clock.

Vote Saturday

Saturday, July 23, is the day set for the first Democratic primary in Texas. On this day voters throughout the state will vote for their choice for officers to serve them from Justice of the Peace to Governor.

Roquet Tournament

Lorainne roquet players and fans will have an opportunity to enjoy a full day, and perhaps two, of the sport this week when teams from all parts of West Texas will assemble here for a tournament. Playing will start about 9 o'clock Thursday morning and will continue until all teams represented have played. The loss of one game will eliminate a team. If as many teams are represented here as the local club looks for there will probably be two days of the tournament. Teams have been invited from Mineral Wells to Pecos and from San Angelo to Lubbock and intervening towns. The winning team of the tournament will receive mallets as the premium.

Five local teams will enter the tournament. They are composed of the following men: W. W. Rowland and J. H. Neill; Bernie Honea and J. Faulkenberry; Ira Warren and C. F. Glass; Jim Davis and Tom Heck; Clarence Rowland and Wiley Walker.

Methodist Church

Rev. J. E. Kelley, Methodist minister of the Colorado circuit, preached at the Lorainne Methodist church Sunday morning and Rev. Glenn Smiley of Arizona, preached at the night service, in the absence of Rev. J. E. Harrell, pastor, who is holding a revival meeting at Champion.

There will be no services at the Methodist church next Sunday on account of the revival meeting that will be in progress under auspices of the Baptist church. Sunday school and Young People's organizations will meet at the regular hours.

WORLD WAR BY YARNS

LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

Valiant Trenchermen All

The dense blackness of a night in northern France and a rapidly changing front line are credited with supplying a detachment of the Twenty-eighth Infantry with a delightful and unexpected meal in the fall of 1918.

From out of the darkness that night a German field kitchen, bearing food, coffee, cigars and cigarettes for 100 men, drove innocently to a battalion p. c. of the Twenty-eighth. It began to unload.

A poly-poly German cook was deeply chagrined when he learned the American front lines had been mistaken for his own. His only consolation was the knowledge that not even an enemy can hate you thoroughly if you bring him food.

The 25 Americans of the detachment prepared to set upon the food when a lieutenant popped from his nearby hole. He warned that this probably was a plot and that the German rations must be filled with poison for the Americans.

Among those disappointed at this alarm were the Germans. They were prepared to make the best of a bad situation by assisting in eating the food. As soon as the lieutenant popped into his hole again the fat German cook volunteered to taste the stum, coffee and other edibles he had brought along, as evidence of good faith.

This solved the difficulty. The Germans were permitted a taste only. Then the rations intended for 100 of the enemy disappeared before the determined onslaught of 25 Yanks.

The Majesty of the Lahr

BERT LAHR

MR. BERT LAHR (pronounced lahr) makes a very comfortable living making other people uncomfortable. Mr. Lahr accomplishes this by saying something, whereupon everyone within ear-shot titters. While this is going on Mr. Lahr says something else and wiggles, which usually causes convulsions, cramps and sometimes contusions, resulting from rolling on the floor in laughter.

In the case of unusually dreary persons, Mr. Lahr merely says something else and this settles the matter. The picture shows Mr. Lahr drinking iced coffee in his dressing room in the New York theatre where "Hot Chai" is playing. "I like iced coffee," says Mr. Lahr, "and often drink it in my dressing room. Especially to cool off after hot-chai."

Mrs. C. H. Lasky of Colorado visited Mrs. J. C. Hall Tuesday afternoon.

Ernest Griffith, William Griffith, Robert Bruce, Owen Nelson, B. D. Smith, Byron Boyd of Kansas City and Leonard Davis, were guests at a birthday dinner given in honor of Harold Bennett at his home Sunday.

Upshaw For President

Wm. D. Upshaw former Representative from Georgia, a stalwart dry, is the presidential nominee of the Prohibition Party. The convention

NAMED CAPTAIN OF NEW OCEAN LINER

Appointment of Commandant Victor Barthelemy to be captain of the new crack cabin liner Champlain has been announced by the French Line's New York office.

Captain VICTOR BARTHELEMY

The Champlain, largest cabin boat ever built, with a gross tonnage of 30,000 tons, will make her maiden voyage to New York this summer in her trial runs off the coast of France recently she developed 18.8 knots an hour, which makes her one of the fastest as well as the largest boat of her type afloat. Commandant Barthelemy has seen 23 years service with the French Line. He has been in trans-Atlantic service for many years. He was for seven years in the Vera Cruz service of the French Line running between Vera Cruz and France and speaks Spanish fluently in addition to French and English. He is famous with ocean travelers for an intuition about the sea that amounts almost to a seventh sense. Coming from a long line of hardy sea-faring Bretons—both his father and his grandfather captained French liners before him—he has on numerous occasions avoided hazards at sea by following what he terms his hunches. On one memorable occasion during the war he followed a "hunch" and for no ostensible reason changed the course of his vessel northward for 250 miles. Other ships 250 miles south of him, following the course from which he had veered, were torpedoed, while he escaped unscathed. He is 42 years old and when he steps on the bridge of the new Champlain it will be the sixth ship he has commanded.

West Texas Press Meeting Plans Are Made by Committee

BIG SPRING.—Arrangements for the annual convention of the West Texas Press association, to be held here Friday and Saturday, August 19 and 20, are being made by Wendell Bedichek, chairman and C. T. Watson of the program committee. Dorrance D. Rodderick, publisher of the El Paso Times, one of the most successful of the younger men in the newspaper business, will be one speaker. It is expected that Amos G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, will also appear on the program. The tentative program, to be submitted to the whole program committee at a meeting planned for July 31, in Sweetwater, calls for opening of registration at the Crawford hotel official headquarters at 8 a. m. Friday, August 19. Following a business session and round-table discussion of newspaper problems, a luncheon will be served. Friday afternoon a business session, the annual association golf tournament, and a social function for ladies attending the convention will be held.

There will, it is expected, be an industrial tour after the Friday afternoon business session, on which the delegates will be taken for an inspection of the Cosden refinery, the T. & P. shops and round house and the government experiment farm.

The annual banquet followed by a ball, will be held Friday evening. The convention will close Saturday morning with a round-table session, election of officers, reports of committees and selection of the new meeting place. Charles A. Guy, publisher of the Avalanche-Journal newspapers, Lubbock, is president; Ralph Shuffler, publisher of the News-Times, Odessa, is vice-president; and Miss Treva Miller, Rotan, secretary-treasurer of the association.

From what they're saying now, it would seem that a lot of people think the inflation bill is just a lot of hot air.

Fudge for the Bridge Table

By Jane Rogers

DOUBLED and redoubled! The game is close and there is no time for napping. After an exhausting day, when your energy is at a low ebb, have you ever noticed that you almost subconsciously reach for a sweet at the bridge table? Scientists, who delve into the why's and wherefores of fatigue, have proved that sugar gives the quickest energy reaction. Perhaps that is why we instinctively nibble as we play—and why we should always supply sweets in some form to our bridge playing guests. And nothing is more appreciated than home made fudge, which is so simple to make and so inexpensive in these days when sugar is selling at a price reminiscent of those days we refer to as "before the war." Here is a recipe which you may find tempting: Melt three squares of unsweetened chocolate. Add three cups of sugar, one cup of milk, a tablespoon of butter and boil until the mixture forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from the fire, add a teaspoon of vanilla and beat until the fudge begins to thicken. Pour into buttered tins and cool. The candy can be varied by pouring it over marshmallows, which have been cut in pieces and placed in the tin, or by adding chopped nuts just before it is poured out. If you like peppermint flavor, try beating in a drop or two of oil of peppermint, depending on its strength, after the candy has been taken from the stove. Four or five marshmallows, or four or five tablespoons of marshmallow whip beaten into the fudge while it is still hot, gives it a smooth creamy consistency.

LIONS DELEGATES WILL RETURN HOME SUNDAY; HATTON ELECTION SEEN

President Joe Pond and Dr. Dave Bridgford, Colorado Lions attending International convention in Los Angeles, are expected to return home either Sunday night or Monday. The delegates left here Saturday afternoon of last week for the convention city.

A. L. McSpadden, named as delegate to the convention several weeks ago, found that it would be impossible for him to leave his office at this time. Dr. Bridgford, alternate, is attending in his place. That Chas. H. Hatton, Wichita, Kansas, financier, would be elected to presidency of the International organization, succeeding Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth, was assured during closing hours of the convention. The convention is to hold its last session Saturday.

Children's Home Representative In City This Week

A woman with an interesting story called at The Record office this week, and began talking babies. She is Mrs. Hazel Taylor, of Fort Worth, who is investigator and field agent for the Texas Children's Home and aid society of Fort Worth one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the State, which was established in 1892 by the Rev. I. Z. T. Morris and was conducted by him until his death. During forty years of work this institution has found homes for 6,000 children, and the only effect of the depression has been to increase its responsibilities and multiply its difficulties.

Mrs. Taylor will be at the Hotel Colorado for the next few days, and is ready to accept contributions and to discuss babies with any one who may be interested. The Texas Children's Home and Aid society is an independent organization, without endowment but with a well equipped home in Fort Worth, and is doing its work with the support of gifts made by friends of helpless babies everywhere. Mrs. Taylor has been associated with the home for several years, and at the present is meeting with generous response from people who desire to have a part in carrying on the splendid work in which she and her associates are engaged.

fair, and the children had a royal good time. Mr. and Mrs. Scott, her parents, came out from Colorado, bringing her little friends from there to join her little Hyman friends. A treasure hunt was most eagerly followed and at the end each child found a gift.

Pinata was then enjoyed, it being a game where a large bag filled with gandy and nuts is suspended and each child, blindfolded and given a stick to strike the bag, and when broken every child scrambles to get the contents.

A beautiful birthday cake of pink and white, with eleven pink candles, filled the center of the table, which was served to the little guests with pink lemonade and large feed water melons and candy followed, the children being served bountifully.

Miss Bougie received many lovely gifts. The guest list was as follows: Misses Mose Carter, Mary McCleod, Henrietta Pritchett, Beulah May Robinson, Helen Snyder, J. B. Bowen, Jr., of Dallas. Sugar May Smallwood, Christine and Sarah Van Zandt, Ruth Andrews, Marjorie and A. J. Roach, Jr., Rayford and Howard Lee Boyd and the little hostess. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Scott, her grandmother, Mrs. Hyman, her aunt, Mrs. Heusinger and her cousin, Miss Mary Dalton and Miss Martha Jane Majors of Colorado.

Palace Theatre Has Interesting Program Billed During Week

Word comes from Hollywood that in the production of "While Paris Sleeps," Fox films has made the greatest step yet taken to incorporate the speed of movement in both dialogue and action that characterized the best of the old silent pictures. "Movie-wise" Hollywood is studying the picture to find out how it is done. Local audiences will be given their first opportunity to witness this swift-moving picture next Thursday and Friday, July 21 and 22 at the Palace Theatre.

Victor McLaglen is featured as the father who finally sacrifices himself to save his daughter. The drama and poignant appeal of this sacrifice is said to be greatly heightened by McLaglen's flawless interpretation of the role. Helen Mack, Fox films young emotional discoverer, and William Bakewell are paired in the romantic leads.

Colonel Tim McCoy, the screen's dashing western star and idol of many a young boy, is appearing Saturday, July 23, for one day only at the Palace in "Shotgun Pass," a Columbia picture. It is a story of vengeance and romance in which range wars play an important part in developing and unraveling the plot complications. A herd of stampeding horses is said to furnish much excitement.

Edmund Lowe, whose love 'em and leave 'em methods with women became famous in "What Price Madness," matches his strongarm courtship against the quiet, slow-eyed but highly inflammable wiles of Claudette Colbert in "The Misleading Lady," new attraction at the Palace Theatre for Sunday matinee and Monday night, July 24 and 25.

This is Paramount's talking adaptation of the Paul Dickey and Chas. Goddard play, "Misleading Lady," and is directed by Stuart Walker.

The story promises all the elements of surefire entertainment comprising generous portions of romance, thrills, action, mystery and comedy. It relates how a girl dupes a man into proposal to prove that her sex appeal is worthy of glorification in a certain play role which she cherishes.

Assigned her most important role since she left a social career to enter pictures as a Paramount contract player, Adrienne Ames recently terminated a New York vacation to hurry back to Hollywood to support Chester Morris and Carole Lombard in "Sinners in the Sun," to be shown at the Palace Thursday and Friday, July 28 and 29.

"Sinners in the Sun," a story of modern life among those in moderate circumstances, revolves around the efforts of two young sweethearts to marry and enjoy life above their station before accepting each other.

Call The Record office when you have guests in your home or may report other news happenings of general interest. The courtesy will be appreciated.

The most capable man in the race for State Senator is Honorable Wilbourne B. Collie. We invite your support of him when you go to vote Saturday. pol. adv. pd.

Veteran Carrier Is Forced Out At Big Spring By U. S. Cut

BIG SPRING.—Sunday morning is just another Sunday morning to most people, but it means more than that to Herman S. Meskimen, veteran rural mail carrier.

It marks the end of the first week's retirement for carrier of R.F.D. mail No. 1, forced from service after twenty-four years in harness. Mr. Meskimen fell victim to the recent congressional Economy Bill which, among other things, held that postal employees having more than fifteen years in service, and of a certain age, be retired on pension.

Under the rulings of the Civil Service Commission, Mr. Meskimen was due four additional years in service, but congress seeking to meet a financial emergency, was no respecter of such rulings.

It was July 1st, 1932 that Meskimen backed his horse into the shafts and started with buggy and all on his first run. It took all day to make the twenty-eight mile run and stop at all sixty-eight boxes.

For twenty-eight years he continued making his route without missing a single day, except Sundays and holidays. Not until 1921 did Meskimen succumb to the inevitable automobile. By then roads were sufficiently improved to warrant the use of a motor car in making the rounds.

But he was to enjoy this speed on his original route for only five years. In 1926 thirty additional miles were attached to his run. By the time of his retirement he was daily traveling fifty-eight miles, visiting 193 boxes, and serving 957 people.

Six cars have been worn out by Meskimen since he took to that mode of transportation. In all he has gone a distance of 277,848 miles. And it is a little more impressive when it is noted that he worked 7,344 days, or in carrying it still further, a total of 58,752 hours.

Sweetwater Justice Remands L. M. Parks To Jail Without Bond Following Hearing

L. M. Parks, Sweetwater soft drink bottler charged with the murder of his wife by drowning in waters of Lake Trammel near Sweetwater a few days ago, went back to jail Tuesday afternoon, denied bond, following preliminary hearing before Peace Justice Ike Brashear. Parks had been held in the Tom Green county jail at San Angelo following his arrest Monday of last week.

Judge Harry Tom King of Abilene, defense counsel, announced immediately after the hearing that demand that his client be allowed a "reasonable bond," would be carried to the first district judge he could reach with a habeas corpus writ.

Women Featured In Negro Battle Here Last Monday Night

LeRoy Davis, local black, is well along the road to recovery and should be out again within the next few days, contrary to reports Tuesday that he could not live. The negro was beaten into insensibility by Cliff Patterson, another Colorado "colored man," who resented Davis' attention to a certain dark-town belle.

The fight was staged on Elm street near offices of the Burton-Lingo Lumber Company. Patterson is meditating in the county jail while the other negro is nursing ugly wounds, said to have been inflicted by a tire tool.

She was taken to Sweetwater Tuesday for the preliminary trial of Parks. Mrs. Condit denies any knowledge or connection with the tragedy.

Parks' father and several brothers are citizens of Scurry county. The family is well known in this section of the State.

Eat Sweets to Offset Ill Effects of Office Din, Says Colgate Scientist

Research Shows Noisy Offices Lower Workers' Production, Increase Fatigue

If you feel thoroughly fagged out after a day at the office, although your work calls for only a comparatively slight expenditure of physical energy, the chances are your fatigue is due more to noisy surroundings than to the work itself. Noise increases fatigue and decreases the worker's production. The remedy is to fortify yourself against din by eating plenty of sweets and other energy foods that tend to offset the muscular tension caused by noise.

These statements were made by Dr. Donald A. Laird, Director, Colgate University Psychological Laboratory, in a paper read before the American Association For The Advancement Of Science, at its recent meeting in Syracuse. The paper covered Dr. Laird's findings resulting from research directed toward discovering the effects of noise upon office workers, and a possible means of offsetting any harmful effects. The "noise" research has extended over a period of several years.

Increased Production
Dr. Laird announced that a diet rich in energy foods—carbohydrates such as sweet foods, spaghetti, noodles, bread, potatoes—in addition to offsetting the ill effects of noisy surroundings, bettered the worker's production regardless of noise. During the days on which quiet was maintained in the experimental rooms, and the subjects were fed a high-carbohydrate diet, production was 15 per cent better than on low-carbohydrate days, under the same quiet conditions.

From the point of view of the employer's own, selfish interest, Dr. Laird said, "the worker's diet is just as important as modern, improved working environment, where, paradoxically the question of noise is frequently neglected. Our experiments have shown that noise at the average office level increases muscular tension, so that energy demands are stepped up greatly beyond the slight requirements of the actual work. The result is greater fatigue and lessened production."

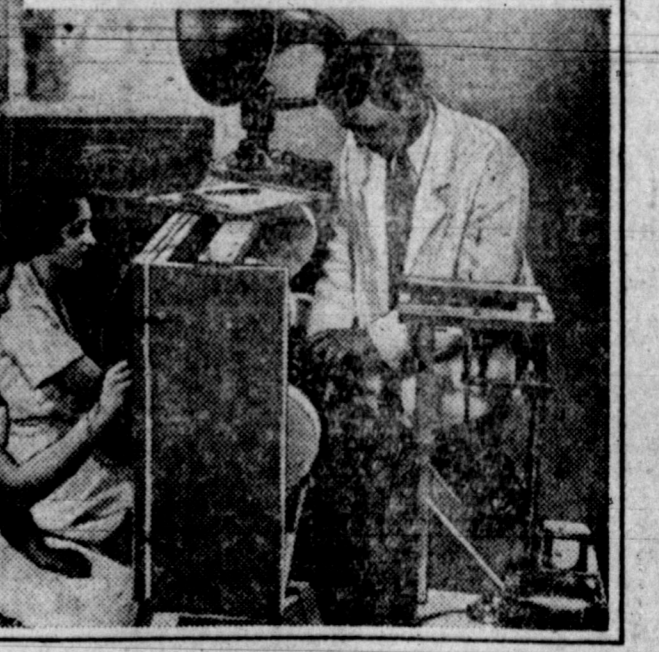

Cannibalistic Muscles
"Glycogen, or blood sugar, is essential for muscular activity. This the system creates most easily, and by preference, from carbohydrates. Carbohydrates failing, the glycogen is even made from the muscle proteins themselves, if necessary; but only at the expense of irritability and what may be called a transition shock period while the reserve carbohydrate in the liver is being lowered to the critical point."

"Workers' generous" supplied with carbohydrates seem to be able to work amid noise without the fatiguing muscular irritability due to the muscles eating themselves while converting their proteins into glycogen. Workers on a diet low in carbohydrates appear to suffer the transition shock as well as the general irritability associated with the conversion of the muscle proteins.

Subjects selected by Dr. Laird for the experiments were young women, experienced in office work. The time devoted to the experiments was divided into four equal periods. These were divided into high-carbohydrate and low-carbohydrate periods. During the former, the girls were not only served a predominately carbohydrate menu at their meals, but were fed cookies, or candy between meals. During the low-carbohydrate periods, substitutes were given in place of the carbohydrate foods.

Bathed in Noise
Complicated laboratory devices were employed in work tests requiring close eye-hand coordination—a requirement of major importance in many forms of office work. During two of the four periods into which the total experimental period was divided, the girls were bathed in noise made by a complex noise-making device known as a 3-A Audiometer, the noise being kept at the level of the average office. Fatigue was determined by using a check list of 54 criteria of fatigue.

"The worker who feels the urge to take a milk shake or a cream puff in the middle of his work spell," Dr. Laird commented, "will be less fatigued in general, in the light of the experiments, but it is probably more important to watch for an adequate intake of quick-energy carbohydrates at the regular meal and not rely solely upon between-meal snacks."

(Top) Dr. Laird giving one of the tests to determine the effect of office noise upon production. (Above) A test of eye-hand coordination. Pushing a stylus through 7000 irregularly shaped and spaced holes, passing before them on a long strip of adding machine paper, is the task of these two girls.

'Special Session To Come Early If You Elect Me,' Sterling

Governor Sterling's proposed special session of the legislature has been moved ahead another thirty days—conditioned upon stipulation that Texas Democrats support his candidacy in the primary election Saturday.

After considerable pressure had been brought to bear on the chief executive, he announced a few weeks ago that he would probably convene the legislature late this Fall, probably about the last of September.

The governor made no reference to the special session in his Colorado address, but a few days thereafter stated in his Mineral Wells talk that he then planned convening the law makers in session the latter part of August.

At Houston Monday, the governor is quoted in newspaper dispatches as having promised to convene the body the first days of August, on condition he wins in the first primary. Sterling made statement that nothing would be done until September in the event he does not emerge victorious in Saturday's election.

'BIG JIM' CANTRILL IS HOME AFTER ATTENDING TECH COACHING SCHOOL

"Big Jim" Cantrill, Wolf mentor, returned to Lubbock Monday morning where he is attending annual coaching school at Texas Technological college. He was in Colorado during the week-end to be with Mrs. Cantrill. A total of 359 coaches from 24 States are in attendance during the session, which opened July 11 and is to close Friday.

Masonic School Here Twenty One Years Ago Attracted Prominent Men To Town

The Colorado Masonic fraternities, along with the community's civic clubs devoted to activities of the women, has for many years been prominently identified with West Texas. The Record for Friday, July 21, 1911, recalls that a number of men prominent in the affairs of West Texas were guests in the city during the week to attend Masonic school then in session.

Pictured here are six candidates for State office who during closing hours of the campaign are all claiming victory. Above is shown the four leading candidates for governor. To the left Jimmie Allred and Clem Calhoun, fighting for the attorney general's office, are shown.

'TREAT WHISKEY SAME AS RATTLESNAKE,' MITCHELL WTCU PRESIDENT PLEADS

'Seductive' Campaign Should Be Stamped Out at The Polls Saturday

Charging that intoxicating liquor is the greatest enemy, the human race ever had and incorporating the urgent plea that Mitchell county Democrats go to the polls Saturday and register an overwhelming vote against the liquor referendum, the Colorado Women's Temperance Union, through its president, Mrs. E. A. Barcroft, Tuesday morning merged into the political arena.

Referring to referendum ballot on 18th Amendment, authorized by the State Democratic executive committee to obtain statement from the people of Texas as to their wishes on enforcement or repeal of the amendment, the union vigorously attacks this move as the beginning of a campaign to bring back to "the best corners of your town the wide open saloon." Negative vote on the question in Saturday's election will settle the much mooted question that Texas favors repeal, local temperance leaders state.

"The same seductive advertising that is now being used to create demand for cigarettes will be employed to influence the drinking of whiskey over and wine," the union declared. "Hit to kill every time. Vote against the amendment Saturday."

Vote For Only One When Making Ballot For District Judge

Confusion as to whether one or two names should be left on the ticket in voting for district judge is said to be prevalent in this and other counties of the 32nd judicial district. There are three candidates running for this office and only one to be elected.

The confusion has developed out of the fact there are now two district courts in the district. Judge A. S. Mauzey, judge of the regular court, is one of the candidates. Judge Jas. T. Brooks, judge of the special 32nd district court, is running for the place now held by Judge Mauzey. C. P. Rogers of Big Spring is the other candidate.

Wilbourne Collie Avers Both Supported Measures To Increase Taxes

The records of Senator Oliver Cunningham of Abilene and Representative A. M. Howsley of Albany, candidates for the senate berth, are attacked in an open letter addressed to the voters by Wilbourne Collie of Eastland, third aspirant seeking nomination in Saturday's democratic primary election for this office.

That both his opponents have supported measures that, if enacted into laws, would have added materially to the already heavy tax burden, is charged by Mrs. Collie in this letter, a copy of which he has authorized The Record to publish today. The expense of operating the State government has increased during incumbent's term, he asserts and suggests that it is about time the voters of this senatorial district demand a change in the senator's office.

LOCAL ORATORS AFIELD IN BEHALF CANDIDATES SEEKING STATE OFFICE

Judge Charlie Thompson and Jim Greene are among the local orators who have recently gone afield to take the stump in behalf of aspirants for State office. The two men delivered addresses Saturday in interest of Governor Sterling.

Judge Thompson addressed Saturday afternoon crowds assembled on the streets of Snyder and Post and at same time Greene was enunciating the merits of the governor at Rotan and Roby. Mr. Greene announced that he was speaking in the place of another man who had originally been scheduled to speak in the two Fisher county towns.

Saturday night the boys went to Butler lake to do some practice work in water sports, one of the interesting contest events that Colorado will compete in at Cisco. THREE TEXANS SLAIN; TWO OTHERS SUCCUMB OF WOUNDS ON SUNDAY

While Coloradans were sweltering under the torrid heat of last Sunday, at least three Texans were shot to death and others died of wounds previously received. The State seemed to have been bent upon establishing records in more ways than one.

Earl Bell, 40, was killed at Fort Worth when he went to the home of his divorced wife. Her mother, Mrs. Annie Evans, 38, surrendered. She said Bell had tried to enter the house by force.

Grady Hopkins, 28, a corporal in the United States army on leave after service in Honolulu, was killed at Vernon. Bert Ross surrendered.

White Garrett, about 25, was killed near Deport when he went to the home of a brother-in-law where his estranged wife was staying. His father-in-law, L. G. Bankford of Abilene, was charged with murder. Garrett's infant son was wounded.

R. Y. Pritchett died at Bonham of wounds received in an altercation at Dood City Saturday night. Grover Carter was arrested.

J. B. Blackstock, 54, formerly a traveling salesman, died at Corsicana of wounds received Tuesday. A charge of assault to murder, pending against Mrs. Blackstock, was changed to murder.

Burial was in the Sweetwater cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Livestock Selling Price Is Indicator Of Better Values

CHICAGO.—Just about the happiest industry at this stage of this great business, a steady advance deals with livestock.

In the "yards" of Chicago, focus of this great business, a steady advance of record length in the value of hogs has been closely watched. Observed, too, has been the gain which has made cattle the first farm commodity to top 1931 best price.

And on the farms, although an estimated $100,000,000 has been added to these gains, no stampede to sell has developed.

Last week there was a reaction on hogs, but it did not take place until 24 successive daily price advances had raised the top from $3.30 on May 28 to $5.55 a week ago. Cattle averaged $8.25 last week compared with $7.65 for the corresponding week last year.

President Charles A. Wilson of the Chicago Livestock Exchange, terms the livestock gains "seasonal" but added: "The rise, from the lows of last winter has been very marked. Hogs, which reached the lowest price in 35 years, and cattle have made a good recovery."

Others at the yards claim the upward movement has only started and some enthusiasts assist livestock men to use the position forecaster usually reserve to grains as bellwether for forward movement of commodity prices generally.

They point out that the shortage of meat is still acute and cite that June hog receipts were the smallest since 1883. The cattle shortage is accounted, the most pronounced since 1884.

The packers rejoice along with the producers and the railroads. And the farmer takes courage at these concrete results of the recent movement:

A carload of hogs sells $300 higher than a month ago.

A carload of cattle brings $650 more than at the low point in May.

COLORADOANS SWELTER AS MERCURY REGISTERS HIGH READINGS SUNDAY

Sunday is to be remembered by Coloradans as among the hottest days experienced here in many months—if not years. The heat was intense through most of the day and during the afternoon the mercury climbed upward to register reading in excess of 100 degrees.

The torrid heat prevailed until about midnight when tempering breezes somewhat reversed the order of things. Farmers and cattlemen here Monday reported that the intense heat had telling effect on field crops and range grass.

Howell, for his faithful and efficient service in our association. No pastor has been more loyal to all our associational work than he. He is a worker. A man who can be depended on. He is everlastingly on the job for all our work. He has been vice-Moderator of our association.

Be it resolved, further: That we express our appreciation for his willingness to work and to help carry on all our associational work. He has been faithful to the small task as well as the large. He has been a member of most every important committee that has been appointed in our association, and he has done his work efficiently and well. He has been a member of the associational organization for both, "The Every Member Canvass" and "The Baylor College Campaign," working hard to make them both succeed in our association.

Be it resolved, further: That we express our faith in his consecration and earnestness concerning the work of our Lord. No man among us is more consecrated than is Bro. Howell. More than that he is a real gospel preacher. A man with a soul passion for the lost, and for his church and his people.

Except for the above fact he could not have done the monumental piece of work that he has done at Roscoe the past two and one-half years.

Be it resolved, further: That we recommend him to the people everywhere, as a man of sterling character, rugged faith, tact and persistence. A preacher of unusual ability, safe, sane, loyal and true. Unwavering in his loyalty to all of the denominational cause.

Be it resolved, further: That we recommend he and his most splendid wife and family to the people everywhere. We commend them to the grace of God, and pray that some great church will call them in the near future. Our loss will be the gain of some other association.

As per the request of the Mitchell-Scurry association, we are preparing these resolutions for publication in all our denominational papers, and our local county papers, and a copy be sent Bro. Howell.

Respectfully submitted, PHILIP C. MCGAHEY, Moderator Mitchell-Scurry Assn. REV. W. S. BROWN, REV. A. D. LEACH, Committee

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well." The last series with credits of 750 each. Both clubs, out of four games played, have won three and dropped one. Last week the fire department pushed well ahead with a percentage of 1,000 as compared with only 500 for the fraternal club. The Masons won both of their games for the past week and the Fire Boys won one and lost another, evening the standing.

The Baptist aggregation, a team that early in the series threatened to be a formidable contender for league championship, is tugging far in the rear now. This club has yet to win a game since playing in the second half was begun two weeks ago. The Methodists have won two and lost two.

Thursday afternoon the Masons defeated the Baptists 6 to 3. Friday the Fire Boys took victory from Methodists 6 to 4. Monday the Methodists were victorious over the Baptist club, running up the heavy score of 13 to 6, runs for the Baptists. In Tuesday's game the Masons won 7 to 3 over the Fire Boys.

Capone Brothers Plan Purchase Of Miller 101 Ranch

GUTHRIE, OKLA.—The Guthrie Daily Ledger says in a story signed by its editor, Raymond Fields, that the famous 101 ranch near Ponca City is about to be sold to Al Capone, imprisoned gang lord; his brother Ralph, and allied interests.

Col. Zack Miller, last survivor of the ranch founders, was leaving today for St. Louis with E. E. Beach and Horace J. Smith of Pawhuska. The leader says, to arrange details of the transaction. The group has an engagement to be in Atlanta for a conference with Capone next Wednesday, the paper adds.

"The Capone boys are quitting the racket and are going to retire to active management of the ranch if the final purchase is made," the leader quoted Smith, a bond and real estate dealer.

"They will bring to the 17,000 acres a large group of Italian farmers who will divide the holdings into 40 to 80 acres and carry on intensive farming."

The 101 ranch show will be rehabilitated and sent back on the road as a Capone attraction," Smith said. "It is hoped that Col. Miller will accept a high place with the show if the negotiations are concluded."

Matthew Capone would come immediately to the ranch if the deal is completed, Smith said, while Ralph and Al would join their brother later.

Prizes were awarded by the business people of Westbrook.

Another interesting program is being arranged for Saturday afternoon. Everybody is invited to come and bring your donkeys, ponies, terrapins and violins.

One of the Federal Experiment Stations took ten cows and fed them a ration of alfalfa, corn, silage and pasture. They averaged 13,295 lbs. of milk and 464 pounds butterfat. The next year the same ten cows were fed the same roughage and 1 pound of grain for every six pounds of milk and they averaged 3,112 lbs. more milk and 112 pounds more butterfat and the profit was $25.00 more per cow. The next year they used the same ten cows and fed 1 pound of grain for every 3 pounds of milk, but the extra grain was wasted as the cows made $53 less profit than on the smaller grain ration.

Do You Want a New Senator From 24th Senatorial District?

History reveals the downfall of all governments in the past has been preceded by an era of excessive taxation; people have toiled long ages under insult, oppression and the burden of special privileges; but when ever taxation becomes so extortionate as to take from them the natural fruits of their own labor, they have eventually risen and spoken their minds in no uncertain terms. Is history repeating itself in Texas?

Did you know that expenditures in the State government at Austin have increased 200 percent in ten years? Did you know that by appropriations of the Legislature there will be a considerable increase for this year and next, as disclosed by the following figures: Expenditures for 1929 amounted to $33,498,724, while in 1930 there were $103,672,473; and for the two years 1932-33 they are set at $225,274,902.47?

Did you know that appropriations for State supported colleges and universities was $7,801,871.12 for 1932 and for 1933 they are $8,184,901.57, an increase for next year of more than three hundred thousand dollars?

Did you know that there was paid out of the public treasury more than $153,000.00 for meals for State employees in various departments, already drawing large salaries?

Did you know there are more than 100 employees in the Senate, most of whom draw $5 and $10 a day, when two-thirds of them are not needed and should be discharged?

Did you know that in the appropriations for the various departments many of them have increases for 1933? This in spite of depressed conditions when people are struggling for existence on the farm and in small business.

Did you know, and does not our representatives know, that the Constitution of this State, Sec. 48, Art.

2, provides that "The Legislature shall not have the right to levy taxes or impose burdens upon the people except to raise revenue sufficient for economical administration of government?" Has this provision of our Constitution been STRICTLY adhered to?

Did you know that Senator Cunningham and Representative Howsley voted for many of the large appropriations and were absent when others were voted?

Did you know that neither of these opposing candidates, who are now members of the Legislature, has ever done anything or said anything, so far as I have heard, with reference to doing away with many of the useless bureaus and commissions in Austin?

Did you know that Senator Cunningham and Representative Howsley, who are seeking to be returned in this office, each supported a gigantic bond issue in the last session. Senator Cunningham introduced two himself. One called for fifty millions! Not much, of course. But then, he introduced another which would call for five hundred millions of dollars! Representative Howsley wanted only $300,000,000 for good roads. Are you going to help them make pawns of yourself, your family, and unborn generations?

Did you know that Senator Cunningham was absent from the State Senate 215 times when important bills were being voted on? That Mr. Howsley was absent 257 times in the House of Representatives when important bills were being voted on there?

Do you want your Senator from this great district in Texas present, voting and fighting for your sake, or somewhere else in the City of Austin?

Do you want a change from conditions? I will do my very best in the interests of the people if elected. The people should exercise care in their hands lies the power to reduce or increase the burden of the people. Whom will you have—the old or the new? I invite your earnest consideration.

WILBOURNE B. COLLIE,
Candidate for State Senator

A "statesman" says that we must go back to 1912 habits. Judging from the jokes we hear over the radio, it would seem that at least a start has already been made.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

RED SEA DELIVERANCE

Lesson for July 24
Lesson Text: Exodus 14:10-16, 21, 22.
Golden Text: Exodus 15:12

The experience of God's saving power in a life does not mean that the conflict with sin is at an end. It explains why so many Christians fail in the hour of crisis. Here are two million former slaves, each one of whom had experienced in a marvelous way God's delivering power. They had found peace and security at a time when all Egypt was plunged in sorrow and tears, and yet, even with the memory of this mighty Passover miracle, they are so soon in a panic of fear and distrust. With the Red Sea before them and the pursuing Egyptian behind, they complained bitterly to God and to Moses. Thus often in the presence of physical, financial or other peril do we forget that God is not limited in resources and is equal to our every need.

Faith is paralyzed by fear. Faith is undermined when, like Israel, we dwell upon the difficulties before us, substituting reason for dependence upon God. While the sound of the chariot wheels of the Egyptians draws nearer and nearer and the fear of Israel reaches despair, the most unexpected of all things takes place. Unable to turn back because of the pursuing host, hemmed in by mountains on either side, let the Red Sea open, a God-given highway stretches before them; so that the slow moving host of men, women, children, and beasts of burden may pass over unharmed and in peace.

The experience, as we shall find, is typical of all Israel's journeyings. When they were willing to obey the word of God and go forward as the pillar of cloud led the way, their foes were always subdued. Nothing could exceed the discomfiture of these Egyptians who, with their chariot wheels removed, sank to death in the depths of the sea. The cloud which lightened the way of Israel was darkness to the pursuing host.

FEAR

For several years physiologists have written, talked and preached "don't fear." They have talked about "developing the child to be without fear." They have warned us in the most forceful manner to never use or develop fear in the child.

However, most of the statements have been overdrawn and certain fundamental facts overlooked. There are two kinds of "fear." The first is the destructive fear—fear that is of the mind and not actual. In the child this can be, the fear of the dark without reason. In the man it can be the fear of "something happening" to his business, his family or his health. In other words it is the fear of something that "might" happen and not something that is actual. This kind of fear is destructive and tears down our strength, mentally, physically and morally. Therefore, we should train our children to avoid this kind of fear. Help them to hold up their heads, looking life squarely in the face, and as long as they are doing their very best, as they see it, to have no fear for the future. The cure for this kind of fear is simple and wholesome—"faith." It is by having faith in the good and right things of life that we can overcome the destructive and harmful kind of fear.

The other kind of fear could be called by several different names, but they all mean the same. This kind of fear is the one that keeps us on the straight and narrow path that makes us honest, honorable and upright citizens. This fear is the fear of consequences. Children should be taught from earliest years to realize that when they do something wrong they are punished. This is the fear of consequences.

Today our fair land is swept with ruthless and heart-breaking lawlessness. This is because the criminal no longer fears punishment. We have turned our jails and penitentiaries into free county clubs and are making heroes of our criminals. In other words we have removed the sting from crime and made it a playful and remunerative game. The man or woman who starts on the road to crime no longer needs to fear the consequences.

to desire to turn that fanny knob, but because he fears having his fingers spanked. While fear plays a larger part in correct discipline, we should never use the wrong kind of fear. A spank on the hand as described above instills the fear of consequences, while on the other hand the fear that causes destruction of mental and moral fibre is best exemplified by thinking of the parent that locks his or her child in a dark room or closet, where fear of the dark something, is brought out the strongest, the fear of punishment would be here bright, but the fear of something unknown would be greater. Therefore, the force of will is greater than the force of good.

We fear the wrath of God when we do wrong, or we really fear the punishment for our sins. We fear we violate the law when we know we must suffer the consequences of our acts. We fear the storm clouds because we know the consequences. These are the fears of actual knowledge and experience. This is the fear that holds the whip hand and moulds our characters into right thinking and right acting. Anyone who claims that human nature can be moulded without fear has never studied or tried to raise a child with a heartfelt love and an honest desire to make that child a good and honored citizen. My heart bleeds for the child that is guided by a hand that believes in freedom at any expense. We might call this kind of fear respect, caution, or any other name, but it is all the same.

We often hear today the expression "This country has lost confidence"—that is why we are suffering this depression. If we have lost confidence it is because we did not have enough of the right kind of fear in the years past. During and following the world war we threw down the bars of restraint. We felt we could do anything. We had no fear of any kind. Money came easy, credit was easy and we spent like drunken sailors. We thought there would never be an end-to-easy-times. We did not reckon with time and place and the ever changing fortunes of man. We sped recklessly on without thought or fear until we found ourselves standing on yawning pit of destruction. Then we knew that other kind of fear. That soul-sickening, heart-rendering fear of failure. Perhaps if we had known a little of that other kind of fear (fear of consequences) we would not have known this destroying fear of failure.

Never in the history of the world have parents been equipped with such excellent tools of knowledge to guide and train their children as they have today. We have the best of theories plus the best of experience. Just how far this excellent opportunity will carry our world forward is hard to guess. This much is certain, in order to secure the pure gold the ore must be taken through the furnace. In order for man to build a better house the first first must tumble down, and then in the wreckage he will find the why and wherefore and be able to build a stronger and better house. Just how far you will go to depend on whether you build for yourself and your children a life of happiness and success or one of failure and despair will depend upon the kind of fear you possess. The choice is one for you, and your alone to make. Think this and every other problem through to the end. Look life and its problems squarely in the face and you will know if you teach your children the "fear of consequences" they will need have no fear of life. Because they will live squarely, honestly and uprightly.

TINKERING
MR. EDITOR:
The other day while I was tinkering with the canner I got to thinking about some of the dad-gummed tinkering of the three last sessions of the Texas Legislature. It is said "fools rush in where angels fear to tread," perhaps that is why I have the nerve to criticize our legislature. Dan Moody, during his last year in

To the Land

Here and there we run across a fact which shows that important social changes are working themselves out silently in a time like this.

For instance: The insurance companies are experiencing a rather brisk demand for some of the farms they have had to take over during the past few years.

So are the Land Banks. In one southern city a canvass of the unemployed revealed nine hundred families that had formerly lived on the land. These people were moved out to vacant farms and are being helped to self-support.

The president of a charity organization in a middle western city came to see me, with figures showing the abnormal growth of our cities, and particularly of the negro population in northern cities, in the two decades between 1910 and 1930.

Said he: "In my own city we are feeding many thousand people, including almost the entire negro population. The negro is the first to suffer in a time like this, for the white man is likely to be favored in the distribution of jobs. The negro is a good farmer. On an acre of land he can raise enough food for his family. Our city could well afford to build cottages and settle a large proportion of its unemployed on the land. For no more than it will cost us to take care of them in town another year we could make them permanently independent."

In the depression of 1873, the unemployment in our cities was almost one hundred per cent, but only a quarter of our people were in the cities; we were seventy-five per cent rural. The unemployed simply moved back to the land until the storm was over.

The expression "back to the land" is unfortunate; it seems to imply defeat in the city and subsequent retreat. I prefer "forward to the land," to a freedom and security the city too often fails to provide.

Certainly many men are now saying to themselves: "I should much rather have a roof over my head and potatoes and cabbages in the cellar than to be an ex-vice-president sitting on a cold curb stone."

Perhaps as a result of that thinking we shall find ourselves, one of these days, with a better balanced, less top-heavy social organization.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

BITES AND STINGS

Summer is the time to look out for biting and stinging insects. An author, friend of mine, mentions the mosquito and the bed-bug as the chief offenders. I shall not discuss the latter; he is taboo in our set this year. I confess I have grown rusty in my clinical data on the bed-bug.

But the mosquito—the malaria-carrier, you know. The more bites the more malaria. Keep out of his way. A strong solution of camphor with twenty drops of carbolic acid to the ounce is a good lotion for mosquito-bites; wet cloths with the solution and leave in contact with the stings.

The poison—almost a venom—of hornets, wasps and bees, is believed to be acid in nature; hence an alkali is the logical antidote. A bottle of aqua ammonia should be kept in the medicine-closet for stings, to be applied freely when needed. Coarse "bayonets" may be left in the wound, bear in mind. Get them out before the medicine is depended upon.

If a wasp-sting just chanced to enter a vein of the victim, as in case of a child, serious symptoms may be caused, and even death has been reported from them. The nests of these insects should be searched for, and destroyed. I know of nothing more agonizing for the moment than the sting of a hornet. They are plentiful in wooded districts in our country. Remember your ammonia solution.

I have seen quite a fever arise from bee-stings—in fact my last adventure with the little honey-makers was a case in point: I went to bed for several hours, aching all over, with temperature 103. I had had over a dozen bee-wounds before armistice was declared. We are never too old to learn, it seems.

office, called the legislature together so often, half the time the boys didn't know whether they were in Texas, South Missouri or North Arkansas.

To do away with the abuse of the call session and to attract men of greater ability, the 120-day law was passed and the pay was raised to $10 per day. There were to be so many days for introducing bills, so many days for arguing, and so many days for voting. Well, the boys introduced so goddam many bills and argued so much, they didn't have any time to vote. They had to have about 20 days more. The results of that 140 days of tinkering is indeed illuminating.

The highest tax rate, the largest appropriations, the cigarette tax law, the outrageous peddler's bill and the truck law, which has been tied up in the courts more or less ever since.

The boys went home and in a few days the governor called them back to see about the oil situation. Now, this couldn't have been attended to during the 140-day session. In fact, I believe if the governor had the constitutional right to place troops in the oil field after the legislature met, he had that right before. Gas and oil are now selling for nearly as much when cotton was selling at 20c and maize at 25c. Cotton is now hanging around 5 cents; maize 55c and eggs 7 cents. Save the oil man at the expense of the consumer seems to be the idea.

Last September almost every one acter meant to me. In the first place we were both natives of the same State (South Carolina). We were closely associated together for about 30 years. Our fellowship and association together was always pleasant, so was our business transactions. I recall very forcibly, while passing through the worst crisis of my life, namely the death of my companion, that the first time I met Mr. Burns was on the streets of Colorado. He took me by the hand and said God bless you. Among my many friends he was the only one I recollect to use such language to me, and I now pay the highest tribute to him that can be paid to any man, which is to say He was a Good Man.

AN APPEAL TO THE VOTERS

I wish to appeal to the voters, especially the ladies, to let us be very careful in our selection of officers to rule over us. Let us have economy, service, ability and unselfishness as our standards and do our best to help put people in office who are good, honest, sacrificial and unselfish enough to have interests of the great mass of common people at heart—who are willing to get right under the heavy loads (like unto Egyptian bondage) with us and help us out of this awful quagmire of depression into which we are now helplessly plunged.

I am wondering how many of us have made the unintentional mistake of just selecting a name and casting a vote for someone whom we knew nothing at all about? what he stands for? if he's held office before, how he's voted on important matters? etc. There is no virtue in a name without a righteous principle behind it. So wouldn't it be far better for us all to leave that officer to be selected by those who are better informed about the ones running for said office.

I think voters should be the most careful they have ever been in their voting, in weighing matters well and using the most careful judgment in the coming election.

Respectfully submitted, MRS. C. H. TOMAS, Loraine, Texas.

SAVE THE CORN

My sister, Mrs. J. T. Bryant, has used the following recipe for many years:

"Roasting Ears for Winter"
Prepare ears as for immediate use; put in boiling water, salt to taste, cook almost done. Then place ears of corn in keg or barrel. Add salt to water in which they were cooked until a GOOD BRINE is made and pour over the corn. Put a weight on corn and cover.

THIEVES LEAVE THESE OLD ROOSTERS ALONE AS HENS TAKEN AWAY

The poet who penned a description of that realm into which one naturally comes "When left alone to his thoughts," might have included a couple of old roosters owned by C. H. Lasky in the same category.

At any rate, these two old birds were recently left alone to their thoughts, after thieves visited the Lasky hen roost at night and took away the forty Rhode Island hens with whom the two male individuals in question were accustomed to keep company.

Mr. Lasky stated Tuesday that he was keeping the two roosters and forty hens in a specially arranged brooding compartment. The other morning he went to the lot to feed his flock. The two roosters, expressing about as much dismay as did their owner, slowly strolled from the house as the door was opened. During the night thieves had carried away the hens.
