

HEAVY DAMAGE TOLL EXACTED BY RAINS IN WEST TEXAS MITCHELL FARMERS PROMISED RETURN OF PROSPERITY

18-CENT COTTON MARKET BEFORE JANUARY 1 SEEN BY FEDERAL BANK AGENT

Fred Grayum of Snyder Gives Optimistic Outlook In Address Friday

"I advanced the declaration a few months ago that America's cotton production from the present crop would not pass ten million bales and I am more convinced of the accuracy of that statement today than ever before. That means we are going to see cotton selling for 18 to 20 cents a pound before January 1."

That was the statement made Friday at noon by Fred Grayum of Snyder, district field representative for the Federal Land Bank, in an address before the Lions Club. Mr. Grayum stated that during the past sixty days he had visited in many sections of West Texas and the Panhandle and found conditions bad. "Deterioration of the cotton crop in those localities during the past forty days has been dreadful," he said.

Grayum advanced the belief that the next Federal cotton production estimate, due September 12, would place total crop at from 10,000,000 to 10,500,000 bales. "And when the next report comes around on October 12, you may expect an even lesser amount, not exceeding ten million bales."

This immediate section of Texas was described by the speaker as the garden spot of the Southwest. "We have already made a good cotton crop in this immediate section in which we live," he continued. "Let the worms come, if they will; we are going to harvest bountifully. I do not believe that I have ever seen such crops growing as we have in this territory right now, and I have lived in West Texas fifty years."

Thos. R. Smith, Colorado attorney, was presented by the program committee to discuss provisions of the Texas election laws, with special reference to procedure that would follow in case of a contest. Mr. Smith told in an interesting manner details of the Terrell election laws, and answered a number of questions fired at him by members of the club having to do with qualifications of electors, mutilated ballots, etc.

Dr. G. E. Burton of Petersburg, Florida, and Henry Rockwell of Rockwell Bros. Company, Houston, were other guests introduced.

President Joe Pond urged members of the club to take on added enthusiasm in the organization and all civic affairs of the community, looking to making the Colorado Lions Club more active during the Fall and Winter months than heretofore.

Lloyd A. Mackey presented the club membership with a box of cigars, with compliments to the young son born recently to he and Mrs. Mackey.

HARVEY TO DO PREACHING DURING CHURCH OF CHRIST REVIVAL TO OPEN SUNDAY

Seven Revival Meetings With Over 200 Converts Is His Record for the Year

Minister J. D. Harvey who is this week in a revival meeting at Olton, states in a communication to The Record that plans are complete for opening special evangelistic services at the Colorado Church of Christ Sunday morning. Mr. Harvey will do the preaching through the meeting, announced for all next week.

This Colorado preacher recently closed his seventh revival campaign for the year. More than 200 converts have been his reward for this special service in the ministry. In speaking of his meeting at Olton, the Enterprise there described him as one of the ablest preachers to ever conduct such a meeting in that town and concluded with the statement that every religious interest would be materially benefitted by his having come to Olton.

Harvey expresses the wish that this revival be accepted in Colorado as a community campaign out of which many souls may be born into the kingdom of God. Cooperation at all services will be appreciated by him and members of his congregation.

"My services in Colorado during the seven years I have been minister of the Church of Christ has not been confined to the church, but the entire community," he states. "My work there has not only been a pleasure but beyond that has endeared me to the people in a peculiar way. I not only desire to minister to their material being, but sincerely hope that my services may be the means of opening the door to their hearts and break unto them the bread of life."

"Out of this meeting I hope for the opportunity of a fair hearing and the support of the entire community. My style of preaching is known by most every one. I believe and preach nothing but the Bible, giving the chapter and verse to support every word spoken from my lips. I believe you will appreciate this kind of preaching. Never before in history of the world do we need God and Christ more than now. The gospel will bring us to those needed things."

The services are to be held twice daily, at 10 a. m., and 8 p. m., excepting Sunday morning, when the preaching services are to begin at 11 o'clock.

JOE R. SHEPPARD, AMONG STATE'S LEADING MASONS, DIES AT COLORADO HOME

Heart Attack Proves Fatal To Public Official and Fraternal Figure

Among the large and impressive funeral rites at Colorado is to be remembered services held Saturday afternoon at First Baptist church for Joe R. Sheppard, county commissioner of precinct No. 1 and prominent Masonic leader, who died Thursday night at his late home, East Fourth and Walnut, following a heart attack.

Mr. Sheppard was stricken at noon Thursday while preparing to eat lunch at his home. Mrs. Sheppard was in Lamesa to visit friends at the time. Apparently in his usual good health, he had gone home at noon to lunch. He was stricken while in the kitchen and came out on the front porch. A passerby was hailed and called a physician. His condition was considered with graveness from the start. He died at 10 o'clock that evening.

Mrs. Sheppard was informed of her husband's illness early Thursday afternoon and immediately returned to Colorado, arriving at his bedside about five hours before his death. A brother, M. Sheppard of Snyder, arrived shortly after his death.

Deceased was born in Brazos county, Texas, February 20, 1870, and was in his sixty-third year. He and Mrs. Sheppard came to Mitchell county twenty-six years ago and had made their home here since. Since becoming a citizen of Mitchell county, Mr. Sheppard had held the official position of deputy sheriff and county commissioner. He was elected

STERLING SUPPORTERS TO REPRESENT COUNTY AT DEMOCRATIC MEET

Delegates named to represent Mitchell county at annual State convention of the Democratic party, to convene at Lubbock September 12, like the great majority of such delegates, were favorable to the candidacy of Governor Sterling in recent primary elections. George H. Mahon, State's attorney for the 32nd Judicial district, and Miss Ruby McGill, Mitchell county school superintendent, are the delegates from this county. Alternates are C. C. Thompson and Mrs. J. G. Merritt.

This convention is expected to be the stormiest State assembly of Texas Democrats in history of the party. Introduction of a minority report from the floor, naming the party nominee for governor, regardless of report submitted by the State executive committee, is believed pending. Ferguson and Sterling adherents are equally determined to capture that honor.

RECORD CROWDS CONTINUE TO HEAR REV. DICK O'BRIEN IN FIRST BAPTIST REVIVAL

Twenty Seven Additions Are Among Results Obtained During Campaign

The First Baptist church revival, now nearing its second week, stands to be remembered as a great spiritual awakening among members of that and other congregations of city. Through Thursday morning a total of twenty-seven people had become candidates for church membership, eighteen of whom were to be baptized.

"I have never been privileged to preach to more attentive congregations and it would be impossible for me to make prediction now as to what the final results of this meeting may be," Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor-evangelist, stated Thursday morning. "I have hopes that a large number of souls are yet to be born into the Kingdom of God before close of the concluding service Sunday evening."

During the almost two weeks in which the services have continued attendance has been good regularly. One morning during the past week some 150 people made their way to the church for the 10 o'clock service in a downpour of rain, sustaining announcement by the pastor that parishioners of his and other churches were interested in the revival.

Sunday evening Rev. Mr. O'Brien delivered one of his strongest evangelistic sermons of the revival, building his address around the admonition to "Seek the Lord, While He May Be Found." The auditorium was filled to capacity, with pastors of other churches and members of other congregations joining in the service.

An interesting feature of the Monday evening service was the special women's choir. No men were allowed in the choir loft for that service. Singers were selected from among the leading musicians of the Baptist and other churches.

Then on Wednesday evening the men were privileged to do the singing. Select male voices made up one of the largest choirs heard in Colorado in several months. Another special feature of the musical programs is the junior choir. Several score-boys and girls enlisted in this choir occupy a section of the main auditorium adjoining the orchestra and are heard at almost every service.

Interest in the special prayer services, convened each afternoon at 7:30, has grown since the revival was opened. It is noted that the children are attending these services in large number. Sunday afternoon a total of fifty were present.

Twenty-five members of the Rural Mail Carriers Association for the 16th and 17th Texas districts were in Colorado Monday to attend Labor Day conference, called by E. C. Adcock of Merkel made the response. A musical program, arranged by Claude Womack was next given and Alford Conaway of Tahoka addressed the group.

ANNUAL RAINFALL RECORD NEARING NEW HIGH TOTAL FOR PERIOD OF 22 YEARS

More Than 32 Inches Posted By Chamber Commerce Up To Thursday

That a new high mark in annual rainfall is to be established here was evident Thursday morning when totals for the year were shown by the Chamber of Commerce to have reached 32.87 inches, a figure within 3.5 inches of the high peak reached in 1919 when 36.28 inches of rain was recorded for the year. Annual rainfall records have been kept since 1910.

Total rainfall at Colorado during the past ten days amounted to 7.75 inches, 3.75 of which has fallen since September 1. The month of August, this year, too, attained a new high mark in local rainfall, with 8.89 inches. The nearest approach to that record for August was in 1914 when 5.85 inches fell here.

The heavy rains of this and last week have done considerable damage to early maize crops that had not been harvested. Farmers report that the grain is sprouting and unless a change to fair weather is noted heavy losses are anticipated. Country roads over the county have been mired and some damage from washouts has resulted.

Damage toll running into the millions have been taken by flood waters in the Rio Grande Valley and in other sections of the State. Four people, Mrs. George Mullins and her three small sons were drowned in flood waters that swept Highway No. 1, three miles west of Abilene Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Mullins and members of his family were returning from a visit with relatives at Havana, Arkansas, to their home at Ontario, California, when their motor car was caught in a rushing swirl of water. The mother and children were carried to their death after the family had abandoned the car in attempt to escape.

The continued downpour was heavier east of Colorado. At Sweetwater an average of two inches a day has fallen since the first of the month. Traffic on all highways leading out of Sweetwater was tied up through Tuesday night and a part of Wednesday. Flood waters damaged bridge abutments in several localities.

Hundreds of acres of farm lands in vicinity of Roscoe and between Sweetwater and Abilene were inundated.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
by Charles E. Dunn

Israel Journeying Toward Canaan
Lesson for September 11 - Numbers 10:11-36
Golden Text: Numbers 10:29

The children of Israel occupied about forty years in their wanderings toward the land of promise. It is surprising how uneventful was their wilderness sojourn, although it was of supreme importance in laying the foundations of their religion and culture, and so preparing them for the momentous changes of their later history.

For the most part their life was fairly settled, with headquarters at Hadesh, a holy shrine on the southern border of the promised land, with an exceptional spring of water. Our lesson describes the departure of the Israelites from Mt. Sinai, where they had camped nearly a year, giving in detail the order of the twelve tribes in the route of march.

Then comes the charming episode of Moses' appeal to his father-in-law Hobab, elsewhere called Jethro, to act as guide. A member of the nomadic clan of Kenites or Midianites, he was thoroughly acquainted with the country through which the chosen people desired to pass. It is significant that he finally yielded to his son-in-law's urgent entreaty, despite his initial blunt refusal. That his services were not forgotten is indicated by Saul's counsel, many years later, to the Kenites to separate themselves from the enemy he was about to attack, because they, doubtless through Hobab, had been kind to his own folk. (See 1 Samuel 15:6.)

The Golden Text, "Come thou with us, and we will do thee good," the greeting of Moses to Hobab, is one of the Bible's gracious invitations. Hobab was a foreigner, but he is promised complete equality of treatment. "Come and be a pair of eyes for us," pleads Moses, to quote Moffatt's graphic translation, "and as the Eternal prospers us, so will we prosper you."

The Church of God might well make use of the Hobabs outside its fold capable of guiding its thinking into new areas of experiment. Let every household of faith welcome such with open arms in the generous affection of the Golden Text.

to the latter office in 1930 and in the July primary election of this year won nomination for a second term. His record as a public official was outstanding.

Deceased was among the prominent Masons of Texas. For fifteen years he had been a member of the "Committee on Work" of the Council. During recent years he had held the responsible office of chairman of that committee. In addition to his leadership in the Chapter and Council of the Grand Lodges of Texas, he was deputy grand master for the 79th district of Texas in the Blue lodge.

Development of the Masonic fraternities at Colorado to their high rating in Grand Lodge circles is due largely to leadership of the deceased, fellow members of the fraternity have stated since his death. Ben S. Cooper, master of the Blue lodge, Monday declared that Mr. Sheppard had for many years been the outstanding influence keeping alive the tenets of Masonry in all of the local bodies.

Mr. Sheppard held the distinction of not having missed a meeting of the Grand lodge at Waco during the past 23 years. Men prominent in Masonic circles from over the State were here Saturday to attend the rites and attest to his leadership in building principles of the fraternity.

There were 68 Masons present at special rites held in his memory at the local Masonic building Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Among the number were George R. Kimbrough of Fort Worth and C. A. Young of Abbott, both members of the State Committee on Work. Kimbrough paid a beautiful tribute to life of deceased in addresses delivered at the Masonic hall and later at the graveside.

Concluding the rites at First Baptist church, in which his pastor described Mr. Sheppard as a consistent Christian gentleman and a leader in public thought whose life work had contributed much to this section of the State, Masons took charge and concluded services at I. O. O. F. cemetery, where interment was had.

All offices in the Mitchell county court house were closed at noon Saturday for the remainder of the day out of respect to deceased. The flag was flown atop court house at half mast throughout the day. County, district and precinct officials attended rites at the church and cemetery.

Surviving are his widow and two brothers, Mr. Sheppard of Snyder and Clarence Sheppard of Smith county. Mr. Sheppard was the father of three children, none of whom survive.

The active pall-bearers were: Roy Dozier, W. J. Chesey, A. F. King, A. L. Maddin, Ben S. Cooper and Chas. Moeser.

Honorary pall bearers were: J. A. Buchanan, D. L. Buchanan, A. E. Maddin, J. M. Thomas, J. W. Bird, R. A. Hood, J. E. Sherwin, R. H. Looney, A. E. Soper, C. H. Earnest, J. C. Etheridge, W. S. calities water stood several inches deep over the fields.

The Colorado river after swelling to overflow the first banks reached its flood peak Wednesday night and Thursday flood waters that threatened for several hours to overflow the river channel were gradually subsiding.

Col. R. L. Penick, of Stamford, prominent civic leader in West Texas for many years, and his daughter, Miss Lilia Penick, endured a harrowing experience through Wednesday night. They were at Lilia Lodge, the Colonel's country home at Lake Penick on the Brazos river near Leuders, when flood waters completely surrounded the house. With eight feet of water rushing through the house, Penick and his daughter took refuge in the attic. Attempts to rescue them proved futile. One motor boat was lost as two members of the Stamford fire department attempted to reach the building.

The Abilene Reporter stated to The Record Thursday morning that Colonel and Miss Penick were still alive in the attic of their lodge. The flood waters had receded about a foot at 9 o'clock and attempt to rescue them would be made.

All windows and doors of the Penick lodge were torn away by the mad rush of waters. The building, built of native limestone, withstood the storm ravages only because of its sturdy construction.

LETTERS from Our Readers

MR. EDITOR:

In the dawn of history we find man in arid and semi-arid countries impounding water for agricultural purposes. In West Texas we usually have sufficient rainfall during the year to make a good crop if we had a way of storing the excess water for the dry critical periods. Now, I had heard quite a bit about what they were doing at the Experiment Station near Spur, and when the County Agent asked, "Would you like to visit the station," I said, "sure." So, on the 29th of August he and Doyle Williams with ten Mitchell county farmers left Colorado for the above mentioned place.

We went by the way of Snyder, Clairemont and Jayton. Between Snyder and Clairemont lay a rough, broken ranch country. After leaving Clairemont the road became rougher, the country more broken and isolated. To me, after living between the noisy T. & P. railroad and the busy Bankhead highway, the silence and isolation was a wee bit depressing. A good looking farming country lay in between Jayton and Spur. We arrived at the station a few minutes before 11 o'clock. The county agents, with a few farmers from Nolan and Shackelford counties were already there.

The man in charge of the station made a brief talk, telling what they were doing, namely, testing the feeding value of the grain sorghums, water and soil conservation and testing the different types of cotton, maize, kaffir and so on. After the talk we ate lunch, the visitors furnishing the sandwiches, the station coffee and fruit. I was "disappointed" they had no ice-cold cider pop.

We looked around at the barns and then piled into a couple of hay wagons to inspect the 418 acre farm. The first place we came to they had a lot of instruments, from which one could tell the temperature any time of the day and the average per day. Another dohickey told how dry and how wet the atmosphere was any old time. This was almost too much, it reminded me of Hoover and his noble experiment. One instrument was whirling around and around to beat the band—it told how much wind sailed by in a day. There was the doggonest rain gauge I ever saw. It told how much rain fell during each rain and how long it was falling. Over to one side were some rows of cotton and maize, a plot of grass and two bare plots. Some of these rows had a 3-inch fall in 100 feet, some two, some one and some with no fall. At the ends of

Methodist Church Notes—

We had a very good attendance at Sunday school last Sunday. There were 89 reported present and about 25 came in too late to be reported. Everybody try to be on time next Sunday.

There will be preaching next Sunday. Everybody is invited to the services. If you miss them you have missed a blessing.

Rev. and Mrs. Ray Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hague attended a meeting of pastors and laymen in Sweetwater Tuesday.

Baptist Church Notes—

The revival closed out with good spirit. Bro. Burton brought some good messages.

There was one conversion, eleven additions to the church and a number rededicated their lives as well as some reclamations.

Superintendent and teachers for Sunday school, R. T. S. and W. M. U. have been elected for the new year.

We hope that every member will cooperate with prayer and attendance throughout the associational year.

W. M. S. gave a splendid report for the associational year just ending, and in spite of the rain a goodly number from our church attended the association at Loraine.

Miss Mary Edna Gressett of Big Spring spent the week-end with relatives here.

These rows and plots were traps to catch the soil that washed away during each rain. The more all the rows had the more soil loss. The maize rows not as much as the cotton rows. Very little soil loss from grass plot. A good deal more soil loss from the bare plot not cultivated than the cultivated. Cotton on the level land was the best of all. They had been carrying this test on for six years.

The next we looked at were some small fields. One without terraces. One with terraces given a fall, another with level terraces; another with level terraces fixed to catch the storm water from other fields. The cotton on this field showed it had had a drink or two too much. However, the man in charge said over a period of years it was far ahead of any other fields in yield.

After leaving these fields we were met by the station's car. I said, "right here is where I get my ice-cold cider pop," again I was disappointed, nothing but water.

The next attraction was a long, high, level terrace, built to trap the storm water off of 1,200 acres. This water, through a gap, was turned on a 120-acre field. On this 120-acre were some terraces, built to convey the water over the field. On the lower side of the field were outlets to let the water out if there were too much. They had a way of telling how much water rain in and how much ran out.

Some places in the field the water did not go over. The feed there did not look very good, but where the "Writer of THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Success is always exciting; we never grow tired of asking what and how. What, then, were the principal elements in Jesus' power over men? How was it that the boy from a country village became the greatest leader?

First of all he had the voice and manner of the leader—the personal magnetism which begets loyalty and commands respect. The beginnings of it were present in him even as a boy. John felt them.
On the day when John looked up from the river where he was baptizing converts and saw Jesus standing on the bank, he drew back in protest. "I have need to be baptized of thee," he exclaimed, "and comest thou to me?"

THE HOPE OF A NATION LIES IN THE STRENGTH OF LABOR
The mills, the fields, the factories and the little shops along the highway are deserted for a day, while this great country pauses to give tribute to those who have worked there. It is a healthful sign, a constructive sign when a nation such as ours recognize the right of labor to such homage. For the laboring man is the strength of this land.
Rank upon rank he stands, ready to accomplish. He is quiet, he is steadfast, he is sure—the real source of stamina and power. A country with such integrity to draw on must move forward.

Per Capita School Apportionment $10.00 Less Twenty One Years Ago Than Today

Patrons of Mitchell county schools and other citizens interested in public education were keenly disappointed a few weeks ago when announcement was made at Austin that annual per capita apportionment for the current year had been cut from $17.50 to $16.00. Tax valuations had slumped in every district and scholastic enrollments were shown to have tumbled to lower figures than a year before, each combining with lower State apportionment to make available school funds assume smaller totals.
The present apportionment, however, is just ten dollars below the amount authorized by Texas twenty one years ago. The Record for Friday, August 8, 1911, was evidently proud of the fact that this allotment boosted to six dollars the year before, was to remain unchanged.
The State automatic tax board, however, had seen fit to boost the ad valorem tax assessment from 4 cents on the $100 valuation of property the year before to 12 1/2 cents for 1911.
The Mitchell county board of education had been organized that week with election of D. T. Bozeman of Cuthbert as president. Organization was perfected at a meeting held in the offices of Judge A. J. Cox, then county judge and ex-officio county superintendent of schools.
"Every day is labor day with us," said The Record editor that week after announcing that the banks and postoffice had been closed on Monday before because of Labor Day.
Superintendent W. H. Hart of the Colorado schools and wife had returned to Colorado after an absence of several weeks. Hart was concluding plans for opening school on Monday, September 18.

Hyman Happenings

By MRS. HYMAN

The protracted meeting, begun by Rev. J. I. Kelly of the M. E. church on Sunday August 8, was continued until Tuesday afternoon, when the heavy rains made Rev. Kelly discontinue the services for the present. In a letter Saturday from him he stated that as the rain continued he would hardly come out Sunday, so we had no services Sunday. We had a fairly good Sunday school, quite an improvement over last Sunday.

We have noted that some repair work is needed on the church and outbuildings, and it is hoped the men of the community will get together soon and repair the damage. A card came Saturday from the Roy Coles, who were then at Coolidge dam, Arizona, on their way home from California, where they went some two weeks ago.

Miss Alice Blackburn of Killeen, Texas, who spent a couple of weeks visiting her relatives, the Hyman's, left Saturday on the T. & P. for her home. Mr. and Mrs. Hyman accompanied her to Colorado.

Carl Lowry and Martin Jackson were in town Saturday on business. Mr. Hyman made a business trip to Colorado and Big Spring last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews and two of the Minor boys went to town Saturday, where they carried Misses Florine and Helen Andrews, who will attend Colorado high school this year.

I. Smallwood went into Colorado Sunday, taking with him his son, Johnny, and M. C. Lowry who will also attend the high school at Colorado. Mr. Smallwood returned Sunday afternoon.

Hyman will miss these young people, especially the church, Sunday school and singing, but we send them forth, wishing them every success.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Lane of Colorado were visitors at Hyman Sunday. Mr. Gossett, one of our most successful farmers, was circulating around Hyman Sunday.

E. P. Cochran and two sons, with Mrs. Cochran, of Enocks, Bailey county, came in Sunday afternoon and they expect to locate here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coles and Roy Jr., returned Monday from a trip of two weeks to California and back by motor. They reported only having three flats. They also reported lots of fruit—oranges selling five dozen for fifteen cents. They are missed when away and we are glad to welcome them back.

Mrs. John Black and Mrs. H. H. VanZandt were dinner guests Monday of Mrs. I. Smallwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson of Ross City were guests Sunday at the Hyman home.

J. D. McCullough, who has been in the employ of Philip Thompson, has returned to Hyman and is with the A. J. Roach family.

Walter Wilson, formerly of Hyman and Spade, but now of Westbrook, was in Hyman Sunday.

The weather for the past week has been very cool and wet, about five inches of rain has fallen. The old maize is badly damaged, but feed not fully ripe has been greatly benefited. The cotton crop is splendid, if nothing in the way of insects are ahead of us. A dry fall and a late frost would mean the best cotton crop in this section for many years. The farmers are rejoicing over the water tanks and water holes all being filled, for the two months drouth had dried up much surface water.

Lee Martin spent a few hours visiting Miss Juanita Blair Sunday. Miss Blair left Monday for State Sanatorium at Carlsbad, Texas, where she will receive treatment for the next few months. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Elbert Martin of Snyder spent Saturday night visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Richardson spent Monday visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Blair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Barnes of Wastella spent Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Linder.

Elbert and Etta Lee Martin spent Sunday night visiting their aunt, Mrs. Mae Martin and family.

Rev. Marvin Leach filled his regular appointment Sunday morning and night. An average crowd was present, due to the weather.

Lila Pearl Linder made her arrival in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Linder, August 26th.

The tincture with a couple of ounces of tincture of iodine in his kit, may feel absolute assurance that he has the best emergency application known for possible recent, open wounds. Indeed, no tourist-kit is complete without this time-honored, time-proven enemy of dangerous bacteria.

Let us remember that the skilled, modern surgeon, preparing to do a "capital operation," first cleanses the site of incision with soap, and water; then he swabs the entire field with tincture of iodine; then, a dash of pure grain alcohol to remove the stain—and the operation proceeds boldly and safely for the patient. Nothing can be better than perfection in antiseptics.

The uses of iodine are many. Internally, iodine ranks among our first agents as a blood-alterative. It purifies the blood by destroying the contaminating agent for agents. Iodine in the form of iodides combats the most serious of blood toxemias. I would think of iodine first, if I were to name humanity's greatest benefactor in the way of a medicine.

This week I was informed by a friend of a new use for iodine. He had acquired an acute case of sunburn, amounting almost to blisters. In agony, he took the first agent at hand. He put a teaspoonful of tincture of iodine into a glass of water and bathed the affected skin freely—"furiously," he said. He obtained immediate relief. He tried it again and again in similar conditions, always with perfect relief. Isn't that worth a trial?

I am very slow to abandon old reliable remedies for the new commercialized products.

Wolf Pack Maneuvering To Stage Another 'Come Back,' Says Dope From Fan Sector

By I. COOPER
 Are the Wolves maneuvering for another spectacular come-back such as the one enacted in previous years? The question is being answered in the affirmative by a number of fans who have taken time out to size up some of the hopefuls enrolled by Cantrill to don the Wolf uniform during the season soon to open.

function of advancing promises that cannot be sustained. In fact, the old Wolf mentor is quite modest when it comes to making statements about his club. That being true considerable emphasis is to be placed upon his recent declaration at the Lions Club that the Colorado high school would this season afford a foot ball team "of which the community would not be ashamed."

Whatever may be in store for the Wolves as to winning on the field, they are at it again in good fashion. Thirty men are already coming out

Two Crops Annually To Be Produced By Dallas Man On Irrigated Farm At Hyman

Agriculture, already successful in West Texas, is to be made more profitable when farmers and land owners make such improvements as may be required for conserving the annual rainfall, according to H. L. Lockhart, Dallas oil operator and land owner, who was here the first of the week in connection with his farm lands at Hyman.

Mr. Lockhart owns considerable acreage along Hackberry Creek, 25 miles southwest from Colorado. A few months ago he completed a dam across the stream and now has one of the largest artificial lakes of water in this part of the State. He stated Tuesday that water was backed up for a mile above the dam site.

Water will be taken from the lake to irrigate the fertile valley lands on this place. Lockhart stated that he could irrigate from 350 to 400 acres and plans growing two crops annually. In the Fall he will sow the lands to wheat and expects to plant June corn after the small grain crop has been harvested. He already has 200 acres ready for seeding to wheat and will begin planting the crop next month.

strong advocate of diversity on the farm, insisting that the farmer should produce much of the necessities of life at home. Large quantities of home-grown provisions were canned on the Lockhart farm during the recent past.

Lockhart refused to accept suggestion that the continued rains would be detrimental to the farming interests of Mitchell county. To the contrary, conditions are going to be improved, he declared. "With return of sunshine the maize reported as being badly damaged will not be found in such a bad state as many of us now believe," he said. "And we are going to produce best cotton and late feed yields this country has ever known. You will see that staple is going to be especially good here this Fall and I see no reason why our farmers should not realize a premium in exchange for that advantage."

Accompanied by Mrs. Lockhart, he arrived in Colorado late Sunday. He went out to the farm Monday expecting to hunt doves, but found the fields so boggy that he gave up that ambition and returned to town. They left Tuesday afternoon to return to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockhart formerly lived in Colorado. He was identified with oil development for a time, later moving to El Paso. He is now devoting his attention to the East Texas field where he owns and operates both producing and refining properties.

SOUTHLAND GREYHOUND

Through the night comes a call for help

THE alarm bell on the switchboard at Miss Freeman's head tinkled as the hands of the clock reached 4 one morning.

"Operator? Send Dr. Palmer out right away. We live four miles west, you know."

Miss Freeman was ringing the doctor when she noticed a reflection against the sky. The doctor didn't answer. What was wrong? Was that a fire in the north of town?

She stepped to the window. That shed by the Black place was on fire. It was out, by the road away from the house. It would burn before the firemen could get there.

As she tried to ring the doctor again, Miss Freeman realized that his telephone line had burned. Perhaps a life was in peril. She called a neighbor. No answer. At last a sleepy voice, two blocks down the street, said...

"Hullo?"

"Will you call Dr. Palmer, please. His telephone isn't working. An emergency call. The Bambergers' home. Four miles west."

Miss Freeman smiled at an item in the Hilldale notes of the local paper the next week:

"Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bambergers are the proud parents of a 9-pound son, born last Friday morning..."

The telephone is ready day or night... in case of fire... to call the doctor... to order a part for a machine... to get the price for eggs... to visit friends.

You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

for practice and others are to report within the next few days. The first turn out after this week furnished speculation aplenty for a number of Wolf fans. "Looks good to me," was to be heard from several Coloradoans who witnessed performance of the men.

"I am very well pleased with prospects for the season," Big Jim stated Tuesday afternoon. "Some of the men are from rural schools and will not show themselves up until they have had experience. I see in some of them, however, the makings of football players that should give a creditable accounting of themselves later on."

Wilson Gregory, 185-pound hunky from Westbrook, is making a strong bid for a tackle position. John Smallwood and M. C. Lowry from Hyman, and Wallace from Seven Wells are also showing up good.

Cantrill's back field is to be chosen from a fast, hard hitting group, Paul Kniff, P. J. Burrows, Dick Hall, Bill Viles, Red Morrison, Dick Shelton and others.

At ends another problem has arisen, for there is captain Stagner, Jack Cox, J. M. Kirby, N. A. Pennington and C. W. Henderson.

Cantrill has shifted Big Red Church from end over to tackle along with R. P. Ware, Wilson Gregory, Edward Bridgford, Louis Turner and Burnice King.

Among the men competing for guard positions are Leonard Alexander, C. W. Hagler, Woody Wilson, Byrd, Doss, Roberts, Wallace and Frank Smith. "Hot shot" Wiggly and Wilmer Barnett are out for center.

It is interesting to note that these men are entering practice meets with an expression of determination covering their faces. Big Jim should be able to build a strong first and second eleven from the number, with bench warmers aplenty left to guard the side lines.

Coloradoans are urged to support Cantrill and his Wolf squad. The people of Colorado are familiar with the fact that this mentor is among the best in Texas and that he ever plays the game fair. Cantrill has to his credit the record of never having one man challenged during the five years he was coach of the Wolves before retiring two years ago. His coming back to his old haunts will be accepted with satisfaction among foot ball enthusiasts, not alone at Colorado, but over the district.

Stay in there, Big Jim. The old home town is banking on you strong.

BANK, POSTOFFICE AND OTHER CONCERNS CLOSE ON MONDAY, LABOR DAY

The City National bank, the post-office, The Record, tailor shops, Texas Electric Service Company and the barber shops were closed Monday in commemoration of Labor Day.

Employees of these spent the day in varied diversions. Some went dove hunting, others motored to nearby towns to attend celebrations or visit with friends.

General closing was observed at Big Spring, Sweetwater and some others of the larger communities in this section of West Texas. Attractions arranged for the day in those communities drew hundreds of visitors from places in which no general program was observed.

BOB SCOTT NOSED OUT BY QUAILS IN FINALS AT BIG SPRING MEET

Bob Scott, veteran Colorado left-hander, after fighting his way through to finals in annual Labor Day invitation golf tournament at Big Spring Monday, was nosed out on the 18th hole by J. Up by Charles Quails of Post, another veteran of the links.

The two arch-rivals fought through a drizzling rain to afford spectators one of the best specimens of golf ever witnessed on the Big Spring course. Quails took the lead only to see Scott tie the score on the 13th. They fought to a tie through the 13th to 17th. Scott lost on the last hole.

COOPERATION REQUIRED FOR SUCCESSFUL YEAR, SPADE PRINCIPAL SAYS

If the Spade school is to come to end of another year to rightfully claim success, patrons, faculty members and student body must unite in the determination to work together, R. B. Hood, principal, of the school, declared in address there Monday morning as the school was opening for the ensuing term.

Hood has been principal of the Spade school several years. Other members of the faculty are M. P. Chambers, Perry VanZandt and Miss Verdie Bailey. The district owns a modern brick school plant and is equipped to give regular high school work in addition to the grades.

Visitors from Colorado were present and addressed the assemblage of patrons and students. Members of the board of trustees and several patrons were others to make brief announcements, all pledging full cooperation to Mr. Hood and his teaching corps during the year.

Cotton Estimate Is Advanced In Report Made By Uncle Sam

Coloradans who during the recent past have advanced the prediction that Uncle Sam in his September cotton report would top several thousand bales from the total of 11,306,000, estimated in the August report, found disappointment Thursday morning when the September cotton report was made public at Washington.

Effect of the government's enlarged report was reflected on the Colorado market Thursday, which closed at $7.85, 127 points below opening quotation noted that morning. Material declines were reported from the larger cotton markets of the country.

In addition to the considerable loss that farmers have already sustained to their maize crops, an additional damage toll in the way of destroyed cotton is to follow in event the rains continue, Col. W. A. Dulin, of ten miles northwest, stated while in Colorado Monday.

Dulin, a former Mitchell county farm agent, expressed concern over the outlook. In several fields inspected by him recently mature cotton bolls were found imbedded in the mud. These will rot, he claimed, unless sunshine is ordered by the weather man.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD IN MEETING TO CLASSIFY ALL SCHOOLS OF THE COUNTY

Institutions Listed In Five Distinct Divisions For Work This Year

All public schools of the county were officially classified at meeting of the county school board held Saturday afternoon at offices of Miss Ruby McGill, county superintendent. The schools were listed under five classifications, according to regulations stipulated by the State department of public education.

Buford, heretofore listed as an elementary school, was merged into the rural high school group upon application of the trustees there. A regular two-year high school course of study, including up to the ninth grade, was authorized. Seven Wells and Shepherd districts were, upon request, classed as elementary schools teaching only the first seven grades.

R. A. Northcutt of Spade was appointed as member of the board of trustees there. Other schools of the county not mentioned above were classed as follows:

One teacher schools, teaching the first seven grades: Cuthbert, No. 6; McKenzie, No. 22.

Two teacher schools teaching the first eight grades: Longfellow, No. 1; Payne, No. 5; Fairview, No. 15; North Champion, No. 19; Lowe, No. 20; Horn's Chapel, No. 21; Little Sulphur, No. 24; Landers, No. 27; and Silver, No. 28.

Three teacher schools teaching the first nine grades, Dorn, No. 8; Looney, No. 12; Bauman, No. 26; Hyman, No. 29.

Four teacher schools teaching the first ten grades, Lone Star, No. 2; Rogers, No. 7; Spade, No. 9; Valley View, No. 16; Conway, No. 23; and Carr, No. 4.

Schools teaching eleven grades, Colorado, Lorraine, Westbrook and Iatan.

The Devil's Shoestring

The "devil's shoestring," a heretofore Texas weed pest, is likely to serve a great good to mankind, reports the Department of Agriculture. The weed contains poisons fatal to insect life. Experts are now trying to extract the juices in quantities to be used as an inexpensive insecticide. If successful it will bring wealth to Texas and take the place of ten million pounds of pyrethrum flowers now imported each year.
