3,000,000 FAMILIES

Distress in All Areas Met by Giving Food, Clothing and Other Aid.

More than 2,000,000 families throughout the nation were given relief of various types by the American Red Cross in the past winter, to aid them in their distress caused by unemployment, disaster or other misfortune.

A major relief task, due to unemployment and other unusual conditions in the bituminous mining counties in twenty states, was met by the Red Cross chapters alone, or participating with other agencies. In these 143 counties, the Red Cross aided 99,000 families through giving groceries, school lunches, clothing, flour and other necessities to combat privation.

Flour, milled from government wheat turned over to the Red Cross by Congress, was given to 15,000,000 persons in the period from March 8 to June 30, the close of the fiscal year. Flour will continue to be given through the winter of 1932-33, and Red Cross chapters also will give cotton clothing, made from government cotton turned over to the Red Cross for distribution.

"The Red Cross faces the busiest winter since the days of the World War," Chairman John Barton Payne said. "It is organized in virtually every one of the 3,072 counties in the United States, and will cooperate with all agencies to meet distress wherever found. The flour has proved of great benefit, and the cotton clothing will be given wide distribution."

While carrying on nation-wide these unemployment and other relief measures, the Red Cross also was engaged in its regular peace-time activities in public health nursing, service to ex-service men and their families, teaching home hygiene, life saving and first aid. The Junior Red Cross, composed of almost 4,000,000 school children, also aided for the support of the society's relief efforts, and the children aided others of their age in practical ways, formed sewing and food canning classes, and were of great assistance in chapter relief work.

While the wheat and cotton were given by the U. S. Government, no money was provided to pay for the necessary work entailed. The Red Cross will meet this expense of almost $500,000 from its treasury. Citizens can aid by joining as members of the local Red Cross chapter during the roll call from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

Your little city and surrounding country is a real one and commands the greatest love and respect and we locate our place here with you with a motive in our minds to help build your neighborhood and to add to it. It would, indeed, be a selfish motive in us to come here to take away and give nothing in return.

And these necessities are not only to Godliness for the happiness of life and the union of a happy and contented home. It is our every and earnest goal to offer you a real service in the line of merchandising that you do not have. In a business, as we are engaged to do we come to serve and to your earnest service in our service to all, great or small, and through our reciprocity, we will ever make known to you of our appreciation of your patronage with us. SIXTY DISASTERS IN 1932 ADD TO NATION'S DISTRESS

Red Cross Spends $2,760,000 To Help Victims of Catastrophes.

In a year of great misfortune caused by economic depression, in which the American Red Cross assumed heavy burdens of relief for the unemployed, the organization also responded to emergency needs in 60 disasters in the United States and its insular possessions.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1932, the Red Cross gave aid to 75,000 families (totaling 235,000 individuals), with expenditures of $2,760,756. These people were in distress because of drought, flood, forest fire, tornado, snowstorm, mine explosion, or other similar great disaster.

Prolonged drought caused the Red Cross to assist with help to 35,000 families in the north-west. Here in 14 counties in North and South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, Washington and Iowa the Red Cross spent $1,950,000 from its own treasury to feed and protect people through the winter and spring.

Other grave disasters were floods in southeastern states, where the organization spent $192,000 from its treasury and $46,000 local contributions to help 12,000 persons. More than 50,000 people were homeless from floods in tributaries of the Mississippi river and again the Red Cross faced a long relief task, aiding these people. The national organization gave $108,000 and local contributions were $10,000.

The Red Cross always maintains a state of readiness to meet these sudden emergencies, and funds and other essentials to this work are supplied, in part, by the annual roll call, held each year from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day. Every citizen can support this worthy activity through joining as a member in the local Red Cross chapter.

Clothes for the Needy

Women volunteers sewing for the needy under direction of the Red Cross produced 296,000 garments last year, and will produce millions of garments in the winter of 1932-33. These will be from the millions of yards of cotton cloth distributed by the national Red Cross from the 500,000 bales of cotton turned over to the organization by Congress. Cloth was sent to all chapters requesting it, and later it was proposed to send some simple ready-made garments, including trousers, overalls, underwear, stockings and so on.

MEDUSA, FAMOUS CHILD OF THE SEA, WILL BE IN COLORADO DURING NEXT WEEK

Quite often it is the privilege of we normal human beings to view the vagaries of mother nature. Occasionally these whims of nature are so astounding that even scientists who are continually striving for facts regarding such cases give up in despair.

One of the most unusual of these products of nature, "gone wrong," is Medusa, Child of the Sea.

Medusa was born in 1908 on a Japanese liner in mid-ocean and as a result of non-development of bones has lain in a prone position since birth and has never even turned over.

The young lady's body from the neck down is almost as pliable as soft rubber and can without the slightest inconvenience to herself, be twisted or coiled in almost any form. Despite this condition of the body, her head is perfectly normal.

Although handicapped to an extent that would cause most persons to give up without a struggle, Medusa has acquired considerable education and an enviable reputation as an entertainer and philosopher, personality that cannot be forgotten and a disposition that has given her the title, Sunshine Girl. She is often referred to as the human doll due to her tiny figure, she being only 30 inches in length. She owns and directs her own exhibitions and will be presented as a special feature with the T. J. Tidwell Shows that will be here all next week.

Wolves Facing Crucial Fight In Game With Midland

WINNING ELEVEN WILL BE FAVORED FOR ADDITIONAL PRESTIGE IN DISTRICT 3

'Support Colorado In Midland Game,' Is Appeal Made To Home Town Fans

Friday afternoon two Class A conference football games about which interest throughout West Texas will be centered are to be played at the Colorado Wolves in their invasion of Chesley Field, Midland, will be engaged in one of them. The other will be the Sweetwater-Big Spring tilt at Big Spring.

Colorado is facing a crucial fight Friday afternoon. The Wolves are to enter scrap with the Bulldogs with colors flying high. They have not lost a game during the season and among their number is the man who holds distinction of accounting for more points than any other pigskin carrier in District 3. To win from Midland means additional prestige in this and other districts of the State. To lose means the reverse.

'Support Colorado in the Midland game,' is appeal being sounded by ardent supporters of the home town eleven. Support from the sideline will do much to augment fighting qualities of the men. By all means Colorado is urged to supply ample motor transportation for the band and pep squad.

Colorado must eliminate the listless attitude that apparently dominated the Wolves' charges during the game here Friday with the Roscoe Plowboys. The Wolves did not fight with the tenacity portrayed in scrap with McCamey. It is going to require a determined fight spirit to assure victory in the game with Midland.

Sweetwater is organizing a special train to be operated to Big Spring Friday. The Mustangs, undefeated and still chesty over their 54-0 defeat of the Midland Bull Dogs Friday, plan to draw the Howard county club. 'They Can't Do It,' is slogan adopted by the Steers, who are announcing to the world result of that game will be the "biggest upset in District 3 this season."

Arrangements have been completed for a Colorado-Midland parade through the business district of Midland Friday afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. The Colorado band and pep squad, along with fans from home town of the Wolves, are to be in the line of march.

Wednesday afternoon a total of twenty nine Coloradans had pledged to furnish cars for the march on Midland. Twenty one more were needed to attain the goal of fifty. The appeal is urgent. Much depends upon the Wolves winning over Midland.

A Greater Colorado Expected To Come Out of 'Hard Times' of 21 Years Ago

It is very evident that popular usage of certain words soon pass into oblivion along with practically every other requisite having to do with the speech and habits of man. A neep into the recent past would serve to sustain the oft heard expression "we are living in a fast age."

Twenty-one years ago, according to the Record for Friday, October 13, 1911, we folk of this country knew farm and industrial reverses as "hard times." Later such a general state of affairs was termed "a panic." We now employ use of the term "depression" to convey that identical meaning.

The above historical analysis was suggested in story published in The Record for that week twenty-one years ago. Crops throughout the Colorado territory had been greatly deteriorated by drouth and farmers, ranchmen and business men were wearing long faces. But out of that season of "hard times" a greater Colorado was seen in the offing.

R. P. Price was given credit for launching drive to pull the old home town through the rough places. He had purchased a lot at Walnut and East Sixth on which a substantial residence was to be erected. "Brother Price, in addition to being a substantial business man, is a home builder and a town builder," the article outlined. "It is such unflinching men as he who may be depended upon to lead us out of the financial distress into which fate has left us."

Indictment Charges Parks With Murder; $15,000 Bond L. M. Parks, former soft drink bottler at Sweetwater, was released at Sweetwater Saturday under bond of $15,000 after the Nolan county grand jury had voted indictment against him charging murder. Parks is accused of having drowned his wife in waters of Lake Trammel, south of Sweetwater, last July 8, while he and members of his family were fishing.

Charges against the man were preferred within a short time after the body of Mrs. Parks had been recovered from the lake. Peace Justice Brashear at Sweetwater before whom preliminary trial was held ordered Parks held without bond. A writ of habeas corpus carried the case before District Judge Milburn Long of Abilene, who set bond at $10,000, which was made immediately.

At the examining trial it was brought out that Parks had taken out $10,000 life insurance on his wife sixty days before the tragedy taking her life. He has held that the drowning was accidental.

FAMED AUTHOR AND NEWS WRITER COMING NOV. 2ND FOR LECTURE AT SCHOOL Maj. Yeats-Brown To Appear But Few Times During His Visit In America American Lyceum managers are delighted to announce that they have at last succeeded in inducing Major Francis Yeats-Brown, author of "Lives of Bengal Lancer," now in its 18th edition, to come to the United States for a lecture tour. Much in demand in England as a speaker, he is certain to capture his American audiences with his vivid and colorful personality and rich and unusual material in his lectures.

A young Englishman with a tremendous gusto for living, Major Yeats-Brown is the kind to whom things happen. Like Kipling's heroes, he is a soldier, mystic and hunter, and connoisseur in human nature. When he rides pig sticking the story is like an old ballad. When he ventures into native cities disguised, there are authentic Arabian Nights.

When he plays polo, the game becomes epic. When he flies above a Turkish battle in Mesopotamia, the scene is more vivid than reality to lesser imaginations. When he chooses the WAY and becomes Yogi, the incongruity becomes convincing, because he is sincere. He is a restless soul in a still more restless flesh.

After the war, Major Yeats-Brown retired from the army and entered newspaper work, traveling widely in Europe, Canada and the United States. In 1923 he became editor of "The Spectator," the most widely read British periodical. He revisited India last year; has attended polo matches on Long Island, goes frequently to visit his mother who lives at the Castello, Portofino, and will arrive in this county as his third book, "Bloody Years," comes from the presses. Owen Wister, the novelist, is his cousin. His first visit to this country took place when he was six years old. His father was, at that time, serving as Consul General in Boston.

Lowell Thomas, famous world traveler, author and radio headliner, has praised Yeats-Brown in several of his "Tall Stories." He says: "He is an officer and a gentleman, tremendously well bred and jolly. He is exceedingly popular in the Indian army. . . his books are the finest things ever done about the mysterious and fabulous Hindustan by a writer from the West."

His book, "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," is now being made into a movie, with the largest number of male stars to ever be grouped in a single picture.

Yeats-Brown will speak at the high school auditorium Wednesday night November 2nd, at 8:30. He is coming under the management of Rod Merritt, who brought Don Blanding out to Colorado to lecture last year.

'What Have You For Trade?' Queries Committee In Charge of Move Reminiscences of other days when horse swapping was popular in Mitchell county are to be depicted as a feature of the livestock show being arranged for the fair in November. H. B. Broadbent, U. G. Hardison and O. F. Jones, in charge of this department, have designated Saturday, November 5th, last day of the fair, "Let's Swap Day."

If for any reason the owner of any article intended for exchange is not able to negotiate a satisfactory trade, opportunity to sell at auction will be given. An experienced auctioneer will be on hand to attend to this. No charge will be made by the committee for this service. Owner of any property entered, however, to assume full responsibility against loss or damage.

What Has LIGHT To Do With Education?

Boys and girls have enough unpleasantness during their school careers without deliberately adding to it with difficult study periods due to improper lighting. Eyes grow tired and weak, dispositions are ruined, little bodies fail to develop, and there is trouble all the way 'round, unless particular notice is taken of home and school lighting facilities. And it's so simple—so easy to have good light in proper proportions. All you have to do is add a globe here, change one there, move the portable lamp around a bit and keep all sockets filled. Inadequate lighting is nothing but false economy—there is no reason for it. Buy globes in cartons of six and save 10%.

Life is a cobweb, woven with the once delicate threads of character, self-reliance, honesty, dependability, and friendship. When the dewy drops of character, portrayed through the selection of friendship, fall upon the cobweb in a most pleasing manner, a delightful effect is produced. The slivery hue of happiness glimmers through and portrays the pastel colors of the rainbow on the beauty all about.

But when the cobweb becomes an entanglement of sorrow, anxiety, and care, let the skillful fingers of the Supreme Maker soothingly untangle these threads of perplexity, and leave the finishing touch of peace, security, and comfort.

Wolves Defeat Plowboys

The Colorado Wolves, after pinning their first two games, one of which was a conference game, bravely defeated the Roscoe Plowboys Friday afternoon. The Wolves started their second string which was soon replaced by the first team, both teams, however, having a hard time crushing the Roscoe lines. The Roscoe Plowboys are both large and well trained. They made many good plays during the game, although they made only one first down, while the Wolves made many. Hall and Burrows were the feature players for Colorado.

Wolves Will Undertake Midland

The Colorado Wolves will take on Midland Friday afternoon, October 21, for their second conference game of the season. The Wolves have not been defeated thus far and will go into the game against Midland with confidence, that will prove victorious if they will put forth the fight and pep that usually prevails among the players.

The High School Band

The high school band, although handicapped by the loss of two of its first-chair men, is still progressing. The number of members is seventeen, but still, it can make a lot of noise. It has been present at all three of the football games at home this season, and is planning to go to Midland Friday, October 21, along with the Wolves.

Last year the high school band was elected the official Broadway of America band and attended the convention in San Diego, California. It is planning to make the next trip to El Paso, Texas, next year.

The band has competed in two contests at Abilene, and won both of them. It has decided for the third time, that it will enter the next contest, and if the band doesn't win it will give the other contestants a fight.

In its contribution to the trophy case in the high school, we find two loving eggs, two certificates, one placard, and one cup that it has won twice. This cup must be won three straight years, to become the permanent possession of any band.

The band won its first contest by the margin of two-tenths of a point, and its second by five points. Who knows what the next will be?

Mr. C. A. Wilkins, principal, is probably the most enthusiastic backer of the band in high school.

La Tertulia

The Spanish club, La Tertulia, has progressed rapidly during the past six weeks. Each Monday the club reads one or two dramas. Also reports are given by different students. These reports, taken from "La Luz," a Spanish paper, deal with the important events of Spain, Mexico, Central American, and South America.

Our Spanish club, with eighteen members, hopes to be the best "La Tertulia" ever organized in the Colorado high school.

Personals

Memphis Porter is in Dallas this week on business.

Many high school students spent part of the week-end in Sweetwater to attend the football game between Sweetwater and Midland. Coach Cantrell and Mr. Wilkins also witnessed the game.

The school has just been allowed to share a deep, dark secret. One of its pupils, a Sophomore, is the third best diver in the State of the junior division. He is none other than Charles Smith, young nephew of Beatrice and Robert King.

The school is proud of its girls, Nellie Bess Lipps, who favored the dramatic cast of "Miss Blue Bonnet" with several musical number between acts last Thursday and Friday nights. Elverie Sorrells was at the piano.

Student's Little Theatre

The Student's Little Theatre has recently announced the postponement of its comedy drama, "All a Mistake" until next semester, due to the busy season at this time.

Commercial Department

The vocational advanced shorthand students wrote letters in short-hand to the shorthand students of Texas A. and I. at Kingsville. They are eagerly waiting for a reply to see if their letters could be read. The students are: John Tom Merritt, Tom Jay Goss, Annie Mosher, Mrs. L. B. Elliott, Juanita Cook, Helen Hester, and Ruby Lee Bohannon.

Miss Cooper has started her night classes and as they have an hour for each class, their progress has been very fast. New pupils may enter at any time. Until the cotton season is over, Carl Harkins is to transfer from the afternoon vocational class to the night class.

Saturday was a busy day for the typewriters as the high school students were getting in all the lessons they could before the first six weeks was over.

The high school bookkeeping class says that they feel very depressed and do not want any publicity this week.

Vocational Agriculture

Bruce McCloud, first year agriculture student, has started four choice baby beavers on feed. These calves will be fed for a hundred and twenty days on home grown ration.

Several other members of the class have indicated their intention of placing calves on feed.

Home Economics News

On Thursday October 13, the Home Economics class of last year began working on their Home Economics club. They elected the officers as follows: President, Aldred Bodine; vice president, Louise Jenkins; secretary-treasurer, Loyse Jenkins; program committee, Juanita Reese, Lyda Mae Viles; reporter (H.E.L.) Betty Ann Page.

The club planned to meet every first and third Tuesday night of the month. The dues are ten cents each month.

LOUISE JENKINS

The Home Economics 1-a class has been divided into groups to display exhibits in the downtown grocery store windows. The Jones, Russell and Piggly Wiggly stores have graciously consented to let us use their stores for the exhibits. A correctly set breakfast table will be display in the window of Jones, Russell by the first group. The contents of the window will be furnished by Jones, Russell store.

Pep Squad News

The Colorado-Roscoe game was supported enthusiastically by the Roscoe and Colorado pep squads. The Roscoe club formed an R for Roscoe and had a very successful formation. Then the Red and Black Peppers pivoted a W for Wolves and formed a P for Plowboys.

For the Midland-Colorado game Friday, October 21, the Red and Black Peppers intend to be there 100 percent strong. With the support of this "twelfth man" Colorado hopes to go on to victory.

NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat. In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to act the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

THOMASON GETS THREE OUT OF NINE PROJECTS AUTHORIZED FOR TEXAS

WASHINGTON—The decision of Congressman R. E. Thomason to return to Washington and try to hasten relief for the sixteenth-congressional district has resulted in aid for cities in the district already.

The congressman returned here from his home in El Paso last month and immediately began a series of conferences with members of the Public Buildings Commission which lasted for many days. Last week the list of new buildings to be started soon under the terms of the Garner-Wagner relief act was announced and of the nine in Texas, three are in Mr. Thomason's district. They are Pecos, Kerrville and Colorado.

Meanwhile, Mr. Thomason has received assurances from officials here that efforts will be made to hasten work on the El Paso federal building and on construction at Fort Bliss and William Beaumont Hospital, El Paso. War Department officials gave him assurance that local labor would be used on these projects.

Mr. Thomason has been trying to hasten the Big Spring post office building, plans for which are now receiving approval here, and said he would continue his efforts until bids are asked on the structure.

He has been assisting Brewster county and El Paso in presentation of their applications for relief loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Brewster county was granted $19,500 and El Paso $110,000. A. F. Robinson of Alpine and E. H. Simons of El Paso were here in the interests of their respective cities.

On account of the building projects and relief applications, Mr. Thomason has not gone out to speak for the Democratic National Committee, but he might do so later. He was asked by the committee to speak at a rally in Pennsylvania last week, but declined in order that he could stay here and finish his conferences with the R.F.C. officials on the relief loans.

HARRINGTON NICKLE PLATE CIRCUS IS COMING HERE

Harrington Nickle's Plate Circus, which is scheduled to exhibit here on Friday, October 21, is the largest motorized show on the road today. It takes 48 trucks and about 16 house and private cars to transport this circus.

The Sedalia Capital says in part regarding this show: "About 5000 persons lured to the Liberty Park show grounds by the call of blaring circus trumpets attended three performances of the Harrington shows yesterday afternoon and night. 3000 spectators crowded the tents for the first night show and 1000 were turned away to await the second night attraction. In addition to circus line of acting lions, elephants and monkeys, acrobatic stunts, horseback riding, a new innovation in shows in this section was seen in the circus. Lambs performed for the trainer."

THE DEPRESSION

For more than two years the world has been suffering from what we have been pleased to call a "depression." Depressions may present themselves from any of many different causes, reasons or be the acts of omission. The present depression (we hope it is passing and they tell us it is) was perhaps brought about by a cause, the cause by previous acts, and all in all is in fact a readjustment, the coming of a new era, a "shaking down" as it were, preparatory to a forward movement and we trust a better day.

All the results of a depression are not bad, as terrible as the price some must pay as a result of it. We know men today who are better off than ever before in their lives. We know men out of debt for the first time since they reached their maturity. We know families who for the first time realize the necessity of being careful about their expenditures and the virtues of thrift, of refusing to accede to the demand of their appetites for fineness, who realize for the first time what was meant when someone spoke of a "rainy day." We know artisans, farmers, merchants, bankers, professional men, stockmen, men of all walks of life who had spent all they made thinking that prosperity would back in their pathway all their days. They know better now, but what a lesson.

The way in which problems of readjustments, depressions, panics and peaceful social upheavals are worked out no one knows in detail. Broadly speaking it is the millions working out their own problems personally and these problems answered collectively answer the sum total of the problems to which we refer when we mention the subjects at the beginning of this paragraph. Just as upheavals in land may answer a question raised in our own country and vice versa. In other words cause and effect is the basis of all our problems and their answer. Life and all its variations is a checkerboard, we win or lose as we play the game, it is a game of chance and try as we will we, as individuals, in the larger sense are unable to shape our lives as we would.

Depressions have existed since mankind inhabited the earth. There were those who spent their substance without reckoning what the morrow would bring forth. So, also were there those who conserved their resources and sought answers to the questions of the masses unable to think for themselves. In the holy Bible, the book of books, it is recorded that Jerusalem was in ruins, its walls were crumbled, its shops closed, its farms and ranches abandoned. Nehemiah was cup bearer to a neighboring king, and full of grief for the cities of his fathers. Noticing this, the king asked the source of his sorrow and was answered "I wouldst that thou send me into Judah, and to the cities of my fathers' sepulchres, that I may rebuild it." His request was granted and he traveled thence. There a panicky and depressed people were urged to be up and doing, and with one acclaim they, with confidence shaken and with suspicion in their hearts, asked, "But Nehemiah, who will rebuild the walls?" "You will rebuild the walls," said Nehemiah, "You will rebuild them."

It would be well if you, believer or unbeliever, would get down your Bible, well worn, thumb-marked, or dusty from non use, and read this timely chapter, Nehemiah 2:18. In it you may get some light. In it you may find courage, and through it you may awaken to your duty.

No country was ever rebuilt save by the countrymen themselves. Leaders must be provided in some way. God produced Nehemiah, and he may again come to the rescue of His people. By our acts, that is, by the preponderance of the acts of the people, the situation through which we have been passing was created, and we believe as sincerely as we believe anything in the world that, as individuals and collectively, we are restoring that which we had lost.

"Let us rise up and build"—Nehemiah 2:18. That is as potent an urge today as when first uttered.

Signs that fundamental business conditions are actually improving are still painfully lacking. Bank debits so far have been most disappointing. A large motor company reports that business is getting progressively worse although improvement in the field is still hoped for. A class company home better ness in 60 days but has shown its gains to date. A concrete concern is getting ten times as many inquiries as it did a few months ago but no more orders. A carpet company is pleased with a small seasonal upturn and considers it a good sign because it had not shown in the last two years.

The ample optimism in evidence about the business outlook will need something substantial to feed on before long if it is to survive. New York houses with Chicago connections characterize reported improvements in the Chicago district as three-fourths air. They are apprehensive about the possible boomerang qualities of such propaganda.

We cannot depend on relief from Washington, those seeking National legislative places seem to have no conception of our problems other than prohibition and to get in office. Do they not know of the millions literally starving because of no employment? Can they not think of the destruction of our national trade, are they not aware that the markets for our products are below the cost of production? Prices afford small financial compensation to the raisers, but nobody is doing very well anywhere, at anything. There is a depression. A depression is a hole, and all of us are in it. Should we be unhappy on that account? No, at all. With so many in the hole there is no lack of companionship. The old fashioned miser loves company, any has been superseded by the new fellowship which loves equality of misfortune.

We wonder if the New York waiters who feel degraded if offered less than a 50c tip are any happier or any more secure in their livings than the $3 a week girls were. When we were there the public taste had been set on stilts. It is coming down to the ground level that is hurting the feeling of many. But the ground level is safer than the skyscraper altitudes. The kind of men who flump out of windows in New York hotels would have had little or no reason to flump had they been content to remain on the one-story standard of living. By the way, "flump" is a verb devised by a New York newspaper to express the action of those individuals who drop from upper stories and whose friends never know whether they fell out or jumped out. The newspaper says the unfortunate man or woman, flumped, leaving the reader to judge whether it was a fall or a jump.

It takes capital to supply the toll for the worker, without which he cannot eat. If all delved to produce their own food and spun to produce their own clothes and erected shelter against the elements, we might lead a simple life in which each, the producer of his own, need not ever suffer. But we would have to go along without railroads, steamships, telegraph, telephones, gins, sewing machines, radios, autos, airplanes, schools, municipal swimming pools, city parks, and pretty nearly everything else. Until we are ready to dispense with all of these, maybe we

Lionism Protects Windows Of The Soul When Caring For Eyes Of The Neglected

Among the several major activities sponsored by Lions International none can be of greater importance to humanity than that one having to do with attention to protection of eyesight. Jim Harvey, chairman of the Lions Club blind committee, declared in an address at the service club meeting Friday. "The eye is the window of the soul, permitting everything that is good and wholesome for building character to find its way into the very heart of man," the minister said. "I received a lasting inspiration as to the merits of Lionism when I first visited this club several years ago. The subject of doing something for unfortunate persons, made so by defective eyes, was being discussed. Eighty percent of the things we learn come through the eye, Har-

CHECKERBOARD EMBLEM SELECTED BECAUSE OF POPULARITY LONG AGO

Famous trademarks, like famous men, often evolve from humble beginnings. Such is the fascinating story of one of America's most distinguished business symbols—the Checkerboard of Purina Mills—a familiar design that for nearly 40 years has so prominently identified every bag of livestock and poultry feed manufactured by this international concern, and so familiar to those who visit D. M. Logan and Sons.

Known from coast to coast, the Checkerboard trademark traces its origin to a small country store in southwest Missouri. Here in this store his father's store—worked Will Danforth, the ad who was destined later to become founder and president of Purina Mills. Even at an early age young Danforth showed he had the instincts of a business man. He liked to keep store. Whenever a family drove up with the family he would see to it that with dispatch and economy they were supplied with all their needs.

had better stay put and wrestle with our apparently insoluble problems. A SECRET The price of bread has been reduced. For quite a little time. A nickel buys a loaf that used to set one back a dime. The cost of flour is falling fast, I know beyond a doubt, and yet the baker is the last to find it out. The price of meat is going down; Since many months I hear from folks around the town. That chops and steaks are now, But when a news dispatch I read, Which told how cheaply we Could purchase steaks, the butcher said That is news to me. F. B. W.

Ohio's Maschke Case

New York Democrats had their "Walker case" and now Ohio Republicans have their "Maurice Maschke case." Maschke, above, former G. O. P. leader at Cleveland, is now on trial with five others charged with embezzling $177,273.00 from the county treasury.

THE BIG CIRCUS

Harrington Nickle Plate Three-Ring Circus and Wild Animal Show will exhibit at Colorado on Friday, October 21, and two performances will be given rain or shine at the Show Grounds, West Side Ball Park. Long before the average boy and girl have had their breakfast the huge caravans on motor trucks transporting the elephants, camels, lions, hyenas, tigers, monkeys, horses, dogs, and ponies will have arrived in the city and the mammoth task of erecting the tented city will be under way. The circus is a city in itself inasmuch as there are superintendents for each department; while one crew of men are busily engaged in raising the three ring circus others are "putting up" cook house, menagerie and side show. Each man is allotted a task and with clocklike precision the tents go up and when Equestrian Director Bob Norton blows his whistle all will be in readiness for the people to see the only large circus coming here this year.

The Eyes of the Nation Are Turned Toward Texas

Three hundred Texans, battling against a thousand Mexican regulars, fought their way, inch by inch, for four days (Dec. 5 to Dec. 9, 1835), into San Antonio. The gallant Ben Milam was killed, but the victory was complete.

Let's Hold "Open House" and Invite the World in 1936

Texans have a right to be proud of the heritage of heroic tradition which is theirs. And they justly take pride also in the record of progress which Texas has made since its independence was established on the battlefield. The events of the Texas Revolution stirred the hearts of all Americans a hundred years ago. Today the whole nation is turning its eyes toward Texas because of the remarkable growth it has been achieving.

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Texas independence provides a fitting occasion to invite the world to visit us and see what we have done with our freedom and to behold the immense resources which still remain to be developed.

The Centennial Exposition will leave many permanent and worth-while monuments. The roads which will be laid to conduct our visitors over the State will endure for years to come. The buildings and grounds themselves will doubtless remain as public parks and community centers. And the visions of Texas' splendid future will bring us a rich heritage of men and women moving here to become adopted Texans in a State of so heroic a past and so glorious a future.

Depicting Doings of

WOLF PACK

By LOUIS COOPER

The Wolves second string backfield was promptly substituted by the first after about five minutes of play in the Bascom game. It took Central just that long to see that Ross was holding the age old jinx over the Wolves, and too the Wolves might be blafing just a teeny weeny bit. We fear that the boys were a little had his first taste of foot ball in Fridays game. He made a very nice showing and should re- sult in plenty of action during the season. The Wolves are to meet Midland Friday in the second conference tilt of the season. Both teams should be playing heads up football and to predict the outcome should be foolish. In spite of that however we are going to predict 19 to 12 for the Wolves.

The strong Sweetwater Mustangs beat Midland unmercifully 54-0 last Saturday and as the Wolves were held to 6-0 by the Plowboys, both teams are going to be playing super football in order to be reinstated into good standing.

We wish to congratulate Mr. Anthony of the Plowboys for the fine game he played. He did the punt ing, passing, and carried the ball in great style.

Wilson Gregory, big 190 pound tackle had his first taste of foot ball in Fridays game. He made a very nice showing and should re- sult in plenty of action during the season. The Wolves are to meet Midland Friday in the second conference tilt of the season. Both teams should be playing heads up football and to predict the outcome should be foolish. In spite of that however we are going to predict 19 to 12 for the Wolves.

Chapel News--
The fourth and fifth grade pupils had charge of the Chapel Program Monday morning. Readings were furnished by Bill Rucker and Iris Custin. A health song was then rendered by six pupils after which a short health play was given.

Class News--
The janitors have been doing excellent work and do not seem to mind the examinations to be given this week. They have several exhibits for the community fair.

Interest in their notebooks which are to be displayed at the community fair October 21-22.

Humorous Remarks--
We notice that Garth Fuquay is making eyes at a certain freshman girl.
It has been noticed by her classmates that Eula Bell doesn't like English.

Leroy Miller and a certain blonde-headed girl hold frequent conversations.
Reba--"I conversed yesterday with a Spaniard for three hours although I don't know any Spanish."
Prof. Patterson--"That was very clever. All by signs."
Reba--"No, he speaks English perfectly."

Baptist Church Notes--
Sunday School is surely on the upward grade now. The interest of those attending is increasing each Sunday now, but we urge everyone to be present promptly at 10:00 o'clock.
The spirit was indeed great at the church service for the eleven o'clock hour. The pastor was back from Knox City, and everyone was ready for earnest work. Rev. Allen briefly reviewed the life of Jesus. There were two additions to the church.

Sunday night Rev. A. D. Leach, a former pastor, brought the message on the old theme "Whatever You Sow That Also Shall You Reap".

The church is picking up the work after the summer months and going along fine. The treasurer has reported that back pledges on the pastor's salary are being paid in full now.

The B. T. S. is showing a gain in interest, and the average grades are beginning to look as if we could report at the Association's Meeting with a good record for the past three months.

Methodist Church Notes--

The Beginners class of our Sunday School had charge of the devotional last Sunday with their teacher Mrs. Bill Hague as leader. Mrs. Roy Messimer and Mrs. Van Boston's classes helped with the singing. Maranell Terry read the Scripture which was taken from the 28th chapter of Matthew. Then Mrs. Hague gave a short talk on "What it Means to have Christian parents."
Next Sunday Mrs. Van Boston's class which is the primary class will have charge of the devotional. Be sure to be there early and help these little boys and girls lead the devotional.

Next Sunday morning is our regular preaching day but the pastor will preach at Vincent in order to be here on the fifth Sunday which quarterly conference convenes. There will be a program next Sunday morning to observe "Childhood and Youth week." The parents of our church are urged to be present.

On Thursday afternoon of last week the Missionary Society had a most enjoyable social at the home of Mrs. L. E. Gressett. The house was quite "spooky" with its decorations of black cats and witches. Several cat games were played and enjoyed to the fullest extent. Then dining refreshments of pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee were served to 19 ladies. Black cats were used for plate favors.

Mrs. Boston and Mrs. Messimer took their Sunday School classes on a cotton picking expedition last Tuesday afternoon after school. The money will be used on the church benevolence.

The Lox supper and tacky party held at the Tabernacle last Friday evening and sponsored by Miss O'Kelley's class was a success. Basil Hudson and Mrs. Shannon were awarded the prize for being the tuckiest couple. Mrs. Melvin Ellis, Mr. Patterson and Mr. Lauderdale were selected as the judges for this contest and were given an "angel food" cake for their service, which turned out to be a "cotton cake" when cut. $14.03 was taken in and will be used on the church benevolence.
