FEDERAL BUILDING LOCATED AT WALNUT AND EAST THIRD COUNTY INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET PLANS COMPLETED

DATES FOR ANNUAL MEET ANNOUNCED HERE MONDAY BY DIRECTORS OF LEAGUE

First Events Set For March 24; Contests To Close On April First

The 1933 Mitchell county interscholastic league meet will be opened at Colorado on Friday, March 24. C. A. Wilkins, director general, stated Monday afternoon. Wilkins convened session of the county league directors here Monday to determine dates for staging the field and literary events.

Tennis contests are to open the school boy and school girl contests this year, with these events set for Friday and Saturday, March 24-25. Volley ball events for junior boys and girls will be staged Friday-March 24.

Friday and Saturday of the following week, March 31, April 1, the general county field and athletic contests are to be given. Practically every school of the county has entered for competition in one or more of the events.

Wilkins expressed the opinion that annual meet this Spring would attract several hundred students to Colorado. Attending teachers and coaches, along with rural school patrons, should swell attendance to several hundred people. Local school officials are advancing the prophesy that Mitchell county stands to send school boys and girls to competitive stages well along toward State champion goal in more than one event.

The director general and the chamber of commerce urge that the Colorado public offer such cooperation as may be required to make the league meet successful and at the same time provide every courtesy and convenience for visitors. All of the events will be centered about high school, with track and field tests at Cantrill Field and the literary events in the building.

'NAKED AND UNTARNISHED' TRUTH PROMISED BY REV. HAMBLIN IN HIS SERMONS

Evangelistic Speaker Would Denounce Sin Without Any Reservation

"It is time the church was getting back to the faith of our fathers and men were so deeply convicted of sin as to become genuinely converted," the Rev. J. H. Hamblin evangelistic speaker at First Methodist revival, declared Wednesday night as he delivered a scathing denunciation of "shallow" or two-faced religion. "I propose to preach the naked, untarnished gospel during remaining ten days of this revival and call upon Christian people of all faiths to forget formalities for the time and unite with me in saving the lost souls of this community."

Rev. Mr. Hamblin arrived from his home in Sweetwater Monday afternoon and delivered his first sermon of the revival that evening. He had been doing some strong, impressive gospel preaching, and as he announced Wednesday night does not barter with technicalities when it comes to question of following Biblical admonitions to preach the gospel as it is interpreted in the scriptures.

The evening services are being started at 8 o'clock, thirty minutes later than originally announced. The pastor stated Wednesday that 7:30 was too early for a number of people and the change was authorized. Prayer services are being held by four groups each afternoon at 7. The men meet in church basement, the ladies in the McCleary building, and the young people and children in the Sunday school building.

"Hell and Who is Going There," will be subject to be discussed by the evangelist Friday evening. Dr. Hamblin announces that he proposes to identify hell as it rightfully should be and will offer no apologies for what the Bible has to say about the folks who are headed in that direction.

Regular services are to be held Saturday morning and evening, it was stated Wednesday. Week-day morning services are held at 10 o'clock.

Harris was elected president of the association last year before moving to Austin.

"Was the trip worth while?" Harris interrupted when asked if he was not making an unusually long motor car drive just for the sake of attending a banquet. "I'll say the trip was worth while, and I expect to be back next year. It is fine to go into a huddle again with the men and women with whom I attended Texas."

FINANCIAL MORATORIUM IS ATTENDED BY ODDITIES IN COLORADO BUSINESS LIFE

IOU's Become Popular When Customer Has No Money; Public Optimistic

The financial moratorium made mandatory Thursday of last week by proclamation of the governor and again Sunday by a similar edict coming from the White House, has served to develop an endless array of oddities in Colorado business. Merchants, along with the general public, have accepted the new order of things as entirely proper and see through the temporary bank closing the dawn of better days.

Payroll and other checks, after proper identification, are being accepted at most stores in town on purchases and account payments. When change is required to square the transaction the merchant issues his personal check to the customer for the difference.

"There is absolutely no occasion to worry," might be given as the universal statement being given by business and professional men of the city. These men accept the moratorium the fact there was no occasion for the bank here to close, in so far protection steps for any depositor was concerned, but that the State and National proclamations have come as start of determined campaign to restore the entire country on a sound, sustaining basis.

Manager of a Colorado drug store reported Saturday that one of his regular customers expressed chagrin after finding that the twenty five cent coin, believed tucked away in his vest pocket, was missing, after having purchased some cigars. The druggist and his customer both smiled when the latter executed his check for a quarter, settling the obligation.

Roy Dozier, operator of the barber shop bearing his name, stated Tuesday morning that one of his customers had been coming around every day to get a shave, but minus the required twenty five cents. The problem was solved when the customer suggested that he would issue

'OVERSIGHT' FAILED IN KEEPING MAHON SILENT AT TEXAS EX BANQUET

Fact that the program committee did not include District Attorney George H. Mahon on list of speakers did not keep him from delivering address at annual banquet of Texas Ex-students at the Colorado Thursday night.

"I see by an oversight of the committee, my name was not listed as one of the orators for this occasion," Mahon announced as he arose from his place at the banquet table to address the chair. He then plunged into a spirited address.

The local county committee will hold sessions daily, Cooper stated. In cooperation with the chamber of commerce and the First State Bank at Loraine, designated for receiving loan applications from Mitchell county farmers, every effort to expedite this work will be made, according to Cooper.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY MAY BE ACCEPTED AS RANKING WITH THE BEST-BULLOCK

Inspector Well Pleased With Continued Progress Noted During Visit Here

Mitchell county continues to make commendable progress along educational lines, Pat Bullock of Austin, inspector for the Rural Aid division, State Department of Public Education, stated Friday afternoon just before leaving Colorado. He had that afternoon made official inspection of the last of twenty six schools making application for aid allotments.

"Fact that your public schools were among the most advanced in West Texas was not a new thing to me," Bullock stated. "During my long residence in this part of the State and especially while serving as county school superintendent of Scurry county, I had occasion to frequently note that here were some of the State's most progressive schools."

The inspector did not announce just what his definite recommendations as to the several applications would be. However, he admitted that the schools had acted with due consistency in filing aid application—not requesting too much money and meeting practically every requirement of the department.

SUM OF $10,000 IS PAID BY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT FOR BROWN, DODSON LOTS

Peters, Strange & Company Of Lubbock Named As The Architects

Colorado's new postoffice building will be erected at East Third and Walnut streets on property to be acquired from F. C. Dodson of San Angelo and John Brown of Colorado, according to a telegram received Saturday morning by the chamber of commerce from Congressman R. E. Thomson at Washington. The government is to pay $10,000 for the site.

The site is 160 by 140 feet in size and will include the Cobble Stone filling station building, erected a few years ago by Brown, and the property adjoining on the north on Walnut street, known as the old A. J. Coe home. Peters, Strange & Company, Lubbock, have been employed as supervising architects.

Selection of the site was determined by an inter-departmental committee at Washington, representing the postal and treasury departments. Information was given in the telegram as to when the government planned starting construction on the project.

The property has frontage of 140 feet on East Third street, extending from intersection on Walnut and East Third west to the alley between Walnut and Oak and 160 feet on Walnut, from the street intersection north to near the J. M. Terry Hotel.

The property includes three 50-foot lots and 10 feet along south side of the fourth. The corner lot is owned by Brown and the remaining 110 feet by Dodson.

A total of nine sites were offered the government by property owners. For the most part these were on Third street, with a few located on East Second. Inspection of the sites was made during third week of January by L. T. Coles of El Paso, inspector for the postal department.

An appropriation of $85,000 was made by the last congress for the building, including site purchase expense. However, the strict economy program announced by President Roosevelt may serve to reduce that figure.

Presbyterian Church
In our effort to bring about a spiritual awakening in our church we are compelled to recognize the fact of spiritualizing our possessions as well as that of our lives.

One of our weakest points as Christians is that of failing to recognize the necessity of worshiping God with our substance.

Until we do recognize this and seek to remedy it, we cannot hope for spiritual development.

We often speak of our "stewardship." What is stewardship?

Stewardship is a trust. A steward is a trustee, one who holds something in trust for another. What he holds is not his own. He only has temporary possession of it. Our Lord teaches that all men in their relationship to God are stewards.

Many Christians are not willing to accept what Christ says about stewardship but prefer to feel that they have it theirs. This was the attitude of the rich fool. It was his complete ignorance of stewardship that was for him this title of the "rich fool."

Why not be wise unto those things and honest with God? God requires the tenth of all we possess. Why not be a tither?

This is a challenge to our loyalty. A challenge to our faith. A challenge to prompted action.

Put the church first in your budget for this year and you will be glad for having done so.

Remember The Brooklyn Eagle has this to say "God is not broke". Christ is not depressed. The kingdom of Heaven is still solvent. The unsearchable riches of Christ, mediated through His church are still available.

The loyalty of church people are on trial. Of course the church goes forward. Of course you will do your part. It is no time for relaxation. It is time to show your faith, fearlessness and fidelity. Courage is the watchword.

You can count on God. Can He count on you when the pledge comes round? Meet the pledge card as though no one else had one. Head up! "Thy Kingdom, Christ look not us but to me."

"The Upward Look" will be the sermon subject Sunday morning. No service at 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 9:45. Young peoples meeting at 6 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.

First Baptist Church

In spite of the fact that we did not reach our goals last Sunday we were not disappointed. Taking into consideration the weather and other hindrances, we had a very fine day. It is days like last Sunday that really puts us to the test. The church member who cannot stand a test is not worth a great deal anyway. We had very fine attendance, especially at the morning services.

It was decided to make next Sunday visiting day. The pastor is in Ft. Worth for a revival, and there will be preaching, at neither the morning or evening hour. We hope all our folks will find their ways in to some other service in the community both morning and evening. There should be a minimum of 400 in the Sunday school, and not less than 100 in B.T.S.

We are enjoying our fellowship with Brother Reid and his church here, but regret that we are having to miss the Methodist meeting. We remember how faithful Brother Webb was to attend and help us in our meeting last summer. We pray that the meeting there shall be a great spiritual success, and that the whole community shall be brought closer to God by reason of the services.

The meeting here has a good start and we are hoping, praying, and willing to sacrifice and work for a great revival. Remember us in your prayers.

DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

First Christian Church
On account of the Methodist revival there will be no evening service March 12th, and no prayer meeting Wednesday 15th.

Morning services as usual. Bible school 9:45. Preaching at 11:00. Sermon subject: "The Price of The Best."

C. C. KLINGMAN, Pastor.

Y. W. A. Meeting
The Young Womens Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church met Monday night at the church.

The meeting opened with two songs followed by the scripture read by Nellie Watson and a prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Billy Wyatt, secretary.

We removed the patches from the apron and found that we had $2.05, which we are giving to the building fund.

The meeting closed with the Y. W. A. watchword, Daniel 12:3.

Next Monday we are going to quilt the quilt we made for the Buckner Orphans' Home. We wish to urge every girl to be present for this is to be a social affair and we expect everyone present to have a good time.

Don't stay away because you can't quilt. Come and learn how!

Old Newspaper Files Recall Coming Of 'Parson' Rogers To Colorado In 1881

The traditions of Colorado, especially those having origin during early days of the city's history, are replete with romance of pioneering in the West. This newspaper has from week to week published reminiscences of news events here twenty one years ago. That the feature has been of strong reader interest is well recognized.

While turning through pages of The Record for Friday, March 8, 1912, we came upon a story of more than the ordinary interest. One that had to do with the first religious service ever held in the new, phenomenal city that in 1881 was founded where the Colorado river and Lone Wolf Creek converge. The story was written by Haec McEachern, editor of "The Stockman," an early day publication, and published in "The El Paso Times." It is reproduced as follows:

The first dispensation of the gospel ever witnessed in the beautiful and thriving little city of Colorado, Texas, was handed out to a cowboy audience in a saloon and the man of God who delivered the exhortation to his hearers to lead better and purer lives was a Presbyterian "parson" who at the time was making his home in a dugout—a hole excavated in side of a hill along banks of historic Lone Wolf creek. "Parson" Rogers as he was called not only by the cowboys but by all others who knew him in the early days—in the early eighties—was a rugged pioneer Presbyterian preacher whose call to duty kept him continually on the front. Absolutely fearless, nothing had any terrors for him when on the mission of dispensing the gospel, and the gospel in those days did not command even the niggardly financial recognition attached in so many instances of the present day, "Parson" Rogers was compelled to labor with his hands at whatever he could find to do in order to provide for the little brood of Rogers that adorned his humble dugout home.

Soon after his arrival in Colorado and while he was upon the main street of the embryo city in which there was not one single church building, he was approached by John Birdwell, proprietor of the leading saloon. The preacher was invited around to the Birdwell saloon.

"Come around, Parson, and get acquainted with the boys. You will find them all there," said Birdwell. "I could have but one incentive to make such a visit," said the parson, "and that would be to carry the message of God's Holy Word."

"Come on with your message," said Birdwell. The result was that the invitation was instantly accepted, the preacher following the saloon keeper around to the saloon. Explanations were soon made. The bar and its accessories were covered with white wagon sheets, the saloon keeper announced that Parson Rogers had a message to deliver to all present, that during delivery of the message there would be a total cessation of all business in the establishment and that the proprietors of the occasion demanded that every man should pay strict attention and conduct himself as a gentleman.

It was a stirring message that Parson Rogers delivered to that bunch of wild and wooly cow punchers upon that memorable occasion. He pointed out to the young men present the dangers and temptations surrounding them in that new country, the fact that they were frequently face to face with death and exhorted them to bear in vivid remembrance those principles that had been instilled in their hearts in their distant homes. He played upon the emotions of his hearers until in a short time the Birdwell saloon resembled scene of an old fashioned camp meeting. When he brought his efforts to a close those sturdy men of the open cattle range pressed closely about him, grasped his hand and thanked him for all that he had said. The hat was passed and a substantial sum presented the Parson in token of appreciation of the first sermon delivered in Colorado. That is the way the gospel first came to Colorado City.

The article concluded in statement that Rev. Mr. Rogers was the father of Mrs. Jas. W. Smith and Miss Claudia Rogers, at that time living in Colorado.

Several Members Of FFA Chapter To Attend Show

Several members of the Colorado Future Farmers of America chapter are to leave Friday afternoon for Fort Worth to attend opening of the Fat Stock Show. Doyle Williams, director of the vocational agriculture department, stated Thursday that it would not be known until Friday morning just how many of the boys would make the trip.

Saturday is vocational agriculture day at the show and farm students from here expect to have an active part in features arranged for the day. The group will go to Fort Worth by automobiles, returning home late Sunday.

Swimming Pool Fund Will Benefit From a Palace Theatre Bill

"I Am A Fugitive From A Chain Gang," vividly depicting horrors of the chain gang as seen by Robert E. Burns, will be shown at the Palace Thursday and Friday as a special benefit for Ruddick Park swimming pool. The cast will bring one of the most strangely interesting productions shown at the Palace in some time.

There will be no increased charge at the box office. The Colorado public is urged to lend full cooperation with the theatre management and the chamber of commerce in raising funds to complete the pool.

It Pays to Terrace Cleared Land

Jesse Harcrow, Leon county, Texas, farmer, has found that terracing newly cleared timber land insures good permanent farming soil. For three winters Harcrow has been grubbing out stumps and terracing his land immediately after with a "V" drag. Eighty acres of similar land cultivated without terraces washed so badly that it is now hardly worth cultivating, while the terraced land produces more than double the unterraced in cotton.

OVER $250,000 ON BOND INDEBTEDNESS BE SAVED MITCHELL CO. TAXPAYERS

Refunding Act Will Aid In Relieving This Burden, Gilchrist Notes

Special To The Record AUSTIN, Texas, March 9.—Mitchell county taxpayers will save more than $250,000 on their outstanding road bonds through the refunding act of the legislature last year, according to preliminary figures compiled by the state highway department.

Gasoline tax revenues are providing the money for this saving, beginning this year. The law sets aside one cent of the four-cent gas tax, or more than $7,000,000 a year. Each month's portion of this income is to be divided in the proper ratio and paid against the maturities of each county for that month.

The ratio is to be set by the new Board of County and District Road Indebtedness. Gibb Gilchrist, its chairman, said that while payments already have been begun, the amounts thus far are too scattered to bear any real significance.

The highway department's records show that Mitchell county has contributed $280,748 to the construction of designated state highways and bridges since the department was established in 1917. Judge A. F. King has given state officials an estimate which covers a longer period, totalling $349,000. The amount finally approved will be somewhere between the two.

The total expenditures of this type by all the counties of the state, since 1917, total $90,345,267, according to highway department records. Estimates of county officials are still larger but highway officials believe the ultimate total will be about $110,000,000. On the basis now set by the legislature, from 12 to 15 years would be required to pay it from the gasoline tax.

The Texas Good Roads Association, which secured these figures from the department, pointed out that in addition to the one cent of the tax which goes to county bonds, another cent to the state school fund, leaving but two cents of the tax for its primary purpose—the construction and maintenance of roads.

MOVIES

The horror of the chain gang vividly shown on the screen. Terrors of the Spanish Inquisition pale before the hell lived by this fugitive! No wonder Robert E. Burns "hung it on the limb" fleeing twice in a hail of bullets! No wonder he dare not see the picture of the story he wrote. There's a price on his head because he wrote too much in this picture of the torture and hell one must endure in a chain gang. See "I Am A Fugitive From The Chain Gang" at the Palace Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10, and the proceeds go to help build the swimming pool for Colorado. Paul Muni, Helen Vinson, and Glenda Farrell heads the cast for this great picture.

"Wild Girl" with Joan Bennett, Charles Farrell, and Ralph Bellamy in the stellar roles comes to the Palace Theatre next Saturday, March 11. It is a dramatization of Bret Hart's famous story "Salomey Jane's Kiss." This story presents a picture of California in the days of the Gold Rush along with an unusual romance of that colorful period. Other notables of the cast are Mina Gombell, Eugene Pallette, Irving Pichel, Sarah Padden, and Louise Beavers. Raoul Walsh directed it. This picture will more than please the Saturday patrons.

Lew Ayres comes to the Palace Theatre on next Sunday and Monday in one of the most genuinely exciting pictures of his career. It is his best typical hero role too. The popular Ayres is starred in "Okay America." A newspaper story in which the hero is presented as a broadcasting columnist on a New York newspaper—a man who apparently sees all, hears all, and seldom fails to tell all as well. It is when the column writers activities interfere with the plans of local gangsters that the story reaches a high pitch of excitement. "Okay America" was directed by Tay Garnett, and Ayres' supporting cast includes Maureen O'Sullivan, Walter Catlett, Allan Dinehart, Margaret Lindsey, Henry Armetta, and many others.

The emphatic, dynamic Lee Tracy again comes to the Palace screen. This time as a certain New York personage, whom you will all recognize, in "The Night Mayor." Tracy is ably supported by Eugene Pallette, his political henchman extraordinary; Evelyn Knapp, the show girl for whom he tumbles without reservation; Warren Hymer, his gun totin' and loyal valet, who calls him "Pal"; Donald Dillaway, young reporter in love with Miss Knapp, who becomes the center of complications. Vince Barbett as the accented tailor to the Mayor supplies considerable of the attendant amusement. This picture shows at the Palace on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 14 and 15, regular Bargain Nights.

The coming of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's latest achievement, "Congorilla," to the Palace Theatre on Thursday and Friday, March 16 and 17, will be doubly important. In the first place it will mark the presentation of the one and only talking moving picture entirely made in the African jungle. Secondly, "Congorilla" which took two years to make, will disclose secrets the jungle has heretofore hidden from civilization. Gorillas eight feet tall and weighing over 1,000 pounds, vie with the earth's tiniest humans, the pygmies, sole inhabitants of the sunless country, present weird sights that go back to the primitive days. Huge elephants, slithering reptiles, floating islands of flesh, mad rhinoceros, ferocious lions, millions of birds, and, in fact, every conceivable sort of animal of the African jungle appear as they never have before in this pinnacle of sound entertainment, "Congorilla." This picture provides different entertainment. The humans and beasts of the jungle are presented exactly as they are, with natural sound.

The Rogers baseball team opened the season with a victory over the Carr nine Friday afternoon by a score of 8 to 7. It was a sweet revenge as the Carr boys whipped every time the teams met last year. The game was close and terminated at seven innings with the starting pitchers going the full distance for each team, but Marley Green, for Rogers had the edge on Wagner of Carr, as he struck out 13 men and walked one and allowed the visitors only seven hits. The Rogers boys got 8 hits and struck out by Wagner 5.

The teams meet at Carr Friday, March 17 for the return game.

Church News—Rev. J. D. Harvey came to Rogers Sunday afternoon and gave us a good sermon to a fairly good sized crowd. We were glad to have some Colorado visitors out for the service and we invite you to come back and bring some one with you as it shows us that you are interested in our welfare and rural church work.

Rev. Harvey announced that he would hold a revival at Rogers beginning with his next first Sunday appointment. Tell all of your friends and come out and give Rev. Harvey a good hearing at each service as it will be worth your while.

Rev. Dick O'Brien will be back the 3rd Sunday. Everybody come out and hear him.

Business has gone on as usual and no serious alarm was noticed due to the banks being closed for a few days by the governor. It seems that business is better since we have a new president. We hope that a great change will be noticed in the near future and it will be for better times.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burford carried their daughter to Colorado Monday morning for medical treatment. Several Rogers people attended the party at Mr. Ritchey's at Cuthbert Saturday night and reported a nice time.

Miss Jewel Bassinger, a former Rogers student, visited school Friday afternoon. Mrs. Joe Richburg, Mrs. H. B. Barrier and H. B. Jr., visited Mr.

Saturday Banking Scene in Port Arthur

The bank moratorium had little, if any, effect in Port Arthur, Texas, where thousands of men are employed at Texas and Gulf refineries. Payroll checks of these two refineries totalling more than $250,000.00 were cashed by Port Arthur banks Saturday, two days after the moratorium went into effect. The scene above is the Merchant's National bank where Texas company employees gathered to cash their checks.

Rogers Ramblings

Miss Ruby McGill, County Superintendent and Mr. A. A. Bullock, Rural Aid Supervisor came to Rogers Friday morning and found good work being done and excellent equipment in all grades. The Supervisor, who attended his first school at Rogers, was kind enough to allow us enough aid to assure us a full term of nine months, and we are very proud of it.

Good attendance is being maintained in all grades, but we were sorry to learn Monday morning that one of our best eighth grade pupils, Juan Burford, will be absent from school several days due to illness. We hope that medical treatment will be effective and she soon will be fully recovered and back in school. She has been on the "A" honor roll every month this term and that is a splendid record. She will continue her studies as much as possible at home.

Minnesota Is Great State, Conoco Oil Radio Artist Finds

How many people know that Lindbergh, Kellogg, Sinclair Lewis and Galli-Curci are natives of Minnesota and that this unusual state of more than 11,000 lakes was visited in 1362 by Viking explorers, hundreds of years before Raddisson, LaSalle and Marquette were born?

The foregoing are but a few of the unusual facts about the "gopher" state to be presented to radio fans throughout the nation by Carveth Wells, Continental Oil Company radio entertainer, in his regular Wednesday night broadcast on March 15.

To provide historical spice, Wells resurrects the ghost of Hiawatha and learns why this great war chief deserted his people. The Conoco program may be heard by local listeners who tune in on station WFAA, Wednesday night at 9:30 o'clock.

By Mrs. W. M. Vest The Plainview Home Demonstration Club met March 1st with Mrs. W. M. Vest. The president called the meeting to order and had the minutes of the last meeting read by the secretary. There being no old business, the new business was taken up. After the business was finished, Miss Gunter gave an interesting discussion on "Canning Budgets, and Menu and Recipe Files." She then gave a demonstration on bed linen and other linens in the bedroom. The use of different kinds of towels and scarfs and their durability, was an interesting part of the discussion. Draperies for the bedroom were fully discussed also. The meeting adjourned at the usual hour, and the next meeting will be March 15th with Mrs. T. W. Daughtry. Again we urge all old members to be at the next meeting and new members will be given a cordial welcome.

Sales Record for Past 54 Months Is Announced Dayton, Ohio, January 3, 1933.—A record of achievement which is possibly without parallel in business history was revealed here today when officials of the Sargon Laboratories, Inc., reported that fifty-four months ago these medicines, Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, were first placed on the market, and that up to date 7,417,425 packages of these two medicines have been sold. In explanation of this truly remarkable record Mr. J. J. Gibson, Secretary of the Company, said: "We spent two years' time and a considerable fortune in developing these medicines before they were placed on the market, and we had good reason to believe that as soon as the public became acquainted with their effects there would be a very large demand for them. This is what seems to have happened during the past fifty-four months. "As evidence of this," he continued, "thousands upon thousands of individual endorsements have literally poured in from all parts of the country, and we are shipping our medicines throughout the United States, Canada, and Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, Cuba, Jamaica, and several Central American countries. Only yesterday we received an order from Nice, France. Indeed a large part of our business comes from countries where our advertising has never appeared. This indicates that people who use our medicines are writing or telling their friends about them." When asked for a brief statement of what effects Sargon and Sargon Pills have on persons who take them Mr. Gibson replied, "These are new medicines and they actually accomplish many things which the older remedies were supposed to do. For instance, it is now conceded by the medical profession that colic and other laxative drugs have no effect whatever on persons who take them. Our medicines, however, actually stimulate the liver to cleanse itself by increasing its production of bile. Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills also promote general glandular activity; build up the red blood cells, and correct the most prevalent causes of indigestion and constipation and the many ailments resulting from these disorders."

HOW THE VACULATOR OPERATES Measured water in the bottom, pulverized coffee in the top, heating teaspoonful of coffee to one cup of water. Heat generates pressure that causes water to flow upward. The use of hot water hastens the brewing action. Coffee is brewed in upper glass where correct temp. is controlled. When upward flow of water stops, current should be turned off. Removing from heat creates a vacuum in lower glass which pulls down filtered coffee in a lift. Remove upper glass and serve. The coffee will stay hot upwards of thirty minutes in the decanter.

P.T.A. Enjoys "42"

The music studio of the Lorainne High School was the scene of the most enthusiastic group ever assembled at one time to enjoy "42".

As the players arrived they were directed to the auditorium until the crucial moment for the contest to begin. The entrants were very eager for this moment to come so that they could display the science of the game or "beat" as some would say.

Soon twenty three tables were seated and the signal was given for the start. The grab bag added much enthusiasm to the bidding.

If 84 was bid and the bidder succeeded in making it, he was given a grab in the grab bag, prizes consisting of soap, suckers, cigars, candy, popcorn, onions, lemons, etc.

Refreshments of fruit punch and cake were served to 120 guests. We wish to thank the public for making this event so enjoyable and we are grateful to you for helping the P.T.A. raise money to be used for the benefit of the school.

New Models In Lower Price Range Shown Here By Chevrolet; Cars Received Today

Chevrolet's new entry in the automobile market—"The Standard" Six—goes on public display tomorrow at dealer showrooms the country over.

Although certain models are priced much below the present series, now known as the Master Six to distinguish it from the Standard, the new car has a wheelbase of 107 inches.

Featuring air-stream styling, the new car resembles in external appearance its companion series. Three body types are offered—coach, coupe and coupe with rumble seat, all with Bodies by Fisher and all featuring the new Fisher air-draft ventilation system.

Powered by a valve-in-head six cylinder engine, the new motor develops sixty horse power at 3,000 R.P.M., and is said to have a top speed of 65 to 70 miles per hour.

It is of the same basic design as the six first introduced by Chevrolet in 1928 and now used in the Master series.

While certain features are identical with the Master series, a company statement emphasizes that the new Standard Chevrolet is an entirely new car, and not a smaller version of the Master nor a re-creation of an older model. It is the result of two years of development work, the company states, and is a companion car to the Master series designed primarily to consolidate Chevrolet in its position of leadership in the industry, which represented by people who want lowest first cost and operating costs. The new Standard Six, the company claims, will deliver more miles per gallon of gasoline than any other full size car now on the market and is ideally adapted to the needs of the fleet user and the commercial traveler.

his check for the first shave and make a new voucher daily, adding another two bits.

But there are certain individuals in Colorado who will have grief aplenty when the moratorium is lifted. Imagine the piled up work that will confront bank clerks when they set themselves to clearing the voluminous number of checks that will accumulate during the time. The bankers may have a holiday now, but they will make up for it later on.

Expressing opinion the financial moratorium had its origin with Franklin D. Roosevelt and that Governor Ferguson and the several other chief executives proclaiming temporary closing of all banks for a few days were executing the wish of Mr. Roosevelt as he undertook to restore prosperity to America once more, Colorado business men are looking into the future with an optimism not known here for more than two years.

Cermak Rites Set For Friday In Massive Stadium In Chicago; 30,000 Will Attend

In the massive Chicago stadium, used last year to house meetings of the Democratic and Republican conventions, the late Anton Cermak Friday is to receive last rites from his fellow citizens. It is expected that 30,000 people will attend the services. Special train bearing body of the former Chicago mayor arrived in his home city Tuesday from Miami.

Mayor Cermak died in a Miami hospital Monday morning at 6:55 o'clock, ending a determined fight to live after having been mortally wounded by an assassin's bullet nineteen days before. The pistol shot that ended Cermak's life was intended for Franklin D. Roosevelt, then president-elect.

"Tony from the coal mines," as Cermak was affectionately known by thousands of his admirers in Chicago and other parts of America, started his career as a mule driver in an Illinois coal mine when a lad 11 years of age. At the age of 17 he went to Chicago and opened a wood yard. His rise in the business world was rapid and during recent years he has been heralded as one of America's greatest men.

Giuseppe Zangara, naturalized Italian brick layer, charged with the death of Cermak, was indicted for first degree murder in Miami Monday night within a few hours after the mayor's death. Tuesday at noon he was arraigned and hearing set Thursday. He had previously been sentenced to 80 years in prison for the shooting of Cermak and three other persons during futile attempt to kill Roosevelt.

parliamentarian. She is also chairman of membership. Mrs. Crowder established the Elaine Shoppe in 1929 which she still manages. She is a very active church woman and was a charter member of the 1921 Study Club.

SAND BELT GOLF SEASON TO OPEN APRIL 2ND WITH LOCALS ENGAGING ODESSA

Colorado Captured Pennant In Area Contests Staged During Last Year

Date for opening third annual season of the Sand Belt Golf association has been set for April 2, with local linksmen engaging the Odessa club on the latter's course. Colorado won district pennant last year, eliminating Lamesa in the finals.

Tentative playing schedule was announced Saturday by Fred Stephens of Big Spring, president of the association. Definite schedule will be worked out at a meeting of associational officials to be held at Big Spring next Sunday.

R. J. Wallace, president of the Colorado Country Club, was out of town when news of the tentative playing schedule was received here and no statement was available from him as to plans for entering his team. It is accepted, however, that Colorado will be reckoned as a formidable contender for district belt.

Each member club of the association is expected to have representation at the Big Spring meeting Sunday when playing schedule and playing rules are to be finally accepted. But few rule changes from those of last year are expected. It has already been agreed that teams 100 miles apart may play on neutral links upon demand of either.

Colorado golfers were in Sweetwater last Sunday afternoon to play in a practice game with a team representing Sweetwater.

Tentative schedule for the season, as announced by Stephens, follows: April 2—Big Spring at Midland, Colorado at Odessa, Lamesa at Stanton, Snyder at Sweetwater.

April 9—Odessa at Big Spring, Midland at Lamesa, Stanton at Snyder, Sweetwater at Colorado.

April 23—Snyder at Midland, Colorado at Stanton, Lamesa at Odessa, Big Spring at Sweetwater.

April 30—Stanton at Midland, Big Spring at Lamesa, Colorado at Snyder, Sweetwater at Odessa.

May 14—Snyder at Big Spring, Lamesa at Colorado, Odessa at Stanton, Midland at Sweetwater.

Student Per Capita Cost For Operating Colorado Schools Below Texas Average

Student per capita cost of operating the Colorado schools is well below average of such expense in public schools of similar size and curricula, according to report issued recently by the State Department of Interior. Among the comparative figures given in the report are the following:

Under general classification, including educational administration, business administration, assessing and collection of taxes and census enumeration, the average cost per student is given at $4.69 annually. The cost in the Colorado schools for 1931-32 was $3.33.

Average cost of salaries, materials for teaching and other instructional service is given at $62.24 per student. These items represented an outlay of $40.10 per student during the year referred to.

The average per student expense for operation of plant, including wages of janitor, water, telephone, audit and freight, was $10.10, as compared to only $2.68 for the same items in the Colorado schools.

Maintenance of buildings and grounds cost an average of $2.69 per student attending similar schools during 1931-32. The same items at Colorado amounted to only 17 cents per student.

Library, home economics and other auxiliary agencies averaged a cost of $3.59 for the State, with only 15 cents charged to those items in Colorado schools.

Local Baker Agrees To Run After Solicitation By Voters of City

G. W. Whitaker, Colorado baker and property owner, Wednesday morning was announced as a candidate for alderman, subject to action of the municipal election Tuesday, April 4. The candidate stated that he had no issues to inject into the campaign and consented for his name to be offered solely upon his merits.

Methodist Church Notes—

Sunday school was quite well attended considering the weather and sickness. A little cold weather should not keep anyone at home. Brother Baker was to talk to the young people. The value of a human life. Scripture lesson taken from Luke 14:1-16 and Luke 15:1-7 from which he brought us an inspiring and helpful message as he always did. We had the best service of all. Followed by preaching service with another good message.
At the evening service the house was filled. Wish we could see it filled at every service and many souls saved but we had a good meeting and hope many have been strengthened and more determined to live closer to God.
We will have preaching Sunday morning and night by an old soldier of the cross that was sent as a missionary to the Indians in Oklahoma forty nine years ago. Come out and hear him.
Missionary society met at the parsonage Monday at 3 p. m. in a business session. Meeting opened with

Rugged Hills In Ruddick Park Changed To Civic Attractiveness Of Inspiring Kind

Transformation of rugged hills and unkept wooded plats into one of West Texas' most inspiring places of beauty is accomplishment credited to those directing improvement at Ruddick Park. Today the city's resort grounds, adjoining Colorado on the east, present an aspect of civic beauty seldom found in this part of the State.

The task of transforming this property, until a few months ago unnoticed and unappreciated by many Coloradans, into an environment that would bring pride to the heart of any lover of whatever may be beautiful, has progressed slowly through the past several weeks. Rugged quaintness, exemplified in native stone and strongly suggestive of architecture of Roman origin dominates in practically every detail.

"One of the most impressive sights that I believe one will find in all of West Texas," suggested Mayor Hutehinson Tuesday afternoon as he sat with a group of friends in a parked motor car on top of hill east of Lone Wolf creek and looked across at the large stone amphitheater, sunken gardens, ramps and other improvements now being completed. "I wish that we had funds available to add even more to the objective of converting this property into a recreation spot to be appreciated by every citizen."

Excavations for the swimming pool are going ahead. This feature at the park will be constructed in northwest corner of the park grounds. The chamber of commerce announced Tuesday afternoon that additional contributions of cement were needed to assure completion of the project. Any citizen desiring to have a part in this park improvement should converse with the chamber secretary.

Evergreen trees and shrubs are being placed about the grounds by enterprising clubs and individuals. Sunken gardens have been "adopted" by others and already the work of beautifying the spots have started. Terraces rising one after another from band shell entrance to crest of the hill have been sodded with grass and within a few days a carpet of green will bring additional hue to beauty of this place.

Coloradans who have not been keeping themselves informed as to improvements at the park are in-

Walter L. Largent Rites at Colorado Cemetery Saturday

BIG SPRING—Last rites for Walter L. "Buddy" Largent were held from the home of his sister, Mrs. F. F. Gary here Saturday afternoon. Mr. Largent succumbed to a stroke Friday morning. He had apparently recovered from an attack of pneumonia when afflicted Thursday with his last illness.

After services had been conducted from the home with Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, in charge, the funeral party left immediately for Colorado where the body was interred in the city cemetery.

Largent was sixty-two years old at the time of his death and had been a resident of this immediate section since early boyhood. He was intimately acquainted with every pioneer of surrounding territory. For twenty-nine years he was connected with the F. F. Gary and Son here.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Gary; two nieces, Mrs. J. H. Etheridge of San Antonio and Mrs. Charles K. Bivings; and one nephew McCall Gary of Dallas.

GRIF OF EDITOR EVEN MORE ACUTE WIFE LOSES HER PURSE

In addition to struggling with the problem of how he will make "both ends meet" during these times of depression and financial moratorium, Editor Jake Smyth of the Times at Snyder, finds that his troubles have been made even more acute. A thief is credited with the latest episode.

While Mr. and Mrs. Smyth were attending annual Texas Ex banquet at the Colorado Thursday night of last week a thief stole her purse from their motor car. In a letter to The Record Jake confides that unless the purse is returned he will be out some $20, and every newspaper man understands perfectly that such a sum is big money during these times.

The Snyder editor will, no doubt, receive sympathy from his many friends in the newspaper fraternity. But, sympathy will not return the stolen purse nor afford him the twenty bucks required to replace the purse and its contents.

Editorial

The dramatic season of the high school began with the presentation of the Senior play, "Safety First," last Tuesday night.

The annual play tournament is to be given in the middle of April, therefore each class is rapidly becoming play conscious. For the last four years these plays have presented the town with lively, wholesome entertainment, and the town has always been very cordial in its reception of them. We hope that this year's tournament will be even more popular than its predecessors.

La Tertulia

For the program of the Tertulia, Bill Hicks gave a report on the new road which is to be built to Mexico City. This new international road, from Laredo to Mexico City, is now under construction and was traveled by a motorist who wrote an account of his experiences. Although the International Highway is not completed he got through alright on this most amazing of roads, where lush tropics and snowy peaks are neighbors, where panots and machetes swing and where anyone from a lily vendor to a bullfighter may be met along the way.

This new road will pass through Monterrey, Moutemorcia, Ciudad Victoria, Linares, Mante, Valles, Tamazunchale, Jacala, and finally to Mexico City.

Golf Team

Twelve girls reported to Mr. Cantrill to begin working out for a golf team. Most of these girls are attempting the game for the first time, but hope to build up a fair team. Those reporting were Melba Slaton, Jane Axtell, Elizabeth Grantland, Frances Elaine Rose, Susie Beal Snyder, Kathryn Rose, Maurine Morris, Betsy Ann Page, Irene Powell, Florence McCloud, Dora Frances Harvey, and Frances Jones.

Senior News

Monday the Seniors had a class meeting to decide how to advertise the Senior play. While they were in the meeting J. M. Kirby, president of the Junior class, invited the class to the Junior-Senior banquet which is to be held in the basement of the Baptist church, March 24. The girls are going to wear wash dresses this year to the banquet. Mildred Whitaker wrote the allegory which will be included in the scrapbook. It is entitled "The Voyage of Miss Attainment." The allegory tells of the trials and adventures and triumphs of the Senior class during the school year.

Home Economics News

During this week, the Home Economics II Girls are serving fireside suppers. They are to be prepared at their own homes and be served to the members of the family or friends.

Monday night, March 6, Aldred Bodine served her supper to Miss Jennings, Mr. Croslin, Weldon Skinner and Mrs. Bodine. She served minced sandwiches, carrot salad, olives, fruit punch and cake.

The doll dresses made by the Home Economics Club will be on display at the different stores in town during this week. The dresses made from the material bought from the stores in town will be on display at that store. The dresses were judged last week and the winners are as follows:

First place—Mary Alice Gunn; second place—Melba Slaton; third place—Fay Moates and fourth place—Maurine Whitaker.

Miss Gunter met with the girls again in the Conaway school auditorium on March 2nd, at 10:30 a.m. We had a lesson on checking measurements for a foundation pattern. Miss Gunter had a chart for the measurements of the pattern and measured some of the larger girls so the smaller girls could understand the instructions given. She had some patterns with her that she demonstrated with. There was an enrollment of 19 in the club.

The two projects which each one is to work are a pair of night pajamas and a print dress.

The small girls are to make a pair of pajamas to sew the waist and pants together.

The assignment for the next meeting which will be at the Conaway school auditorium on Thursday, March 16, at 10:30 a.m. Miss Gunter has asked Miss Horter and Miss Hale from Texas University to attend the next meeting. We are going to entertain these two women in the very best way we can. We will be very glad to have them visit our club. Also for the next assignment, Miss Gunter has asked that two girls, one of the older and one of the small girls, to cut out the waist of their pajamas and be ready to have it tried on at the next meeting. Every girl has been asked to check her own waist pattern at home.

Miss Gunter has asked that three girls from the club demonstrate on these three things: the bedroom, the pantry and the wardrobe.

We are hoping to make this year's work a success.

"Central" sends help to a Frantic Mother

Jimmy Ratliff, 12 years old, went fishing with his chum. They took the little .410-gauge shotgun saying, "Gonna kill us a rabbit for bait." There was a report from the gun at the pond, a quarter of a mile from the house. Jimmy was shot... hurt badly. A frantic mother ran to the telephone...

"Central! A doctor quick!" Lucy Adams, at the switchboard, called the doctor's office. He wasn't in. She rang the telephone at his home, and he wasn't there. She tried the cafe, and located him. Within five minutes the doctor was speeding toward the Ratliff home. The little boy was weak when the doctor arrived. He dressed the wound... sent Jimmy to the hospital. The boy is out playing again now.

Twenty-four hours of each day the telephone is ready for your calls. Whether it be for the doctor, to get the price for eggs or cream, to order a part for a machine, or to visit a neighbor... the telephone pays its way. You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels. That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

ATTEND CHURCH SERVICES

There never was a time during which the church beckoned with stronger appeal to the public than now. Teachings of the Christ as are being interpreted from Colorado pulpits each Sunday morning and evening will be found to blend in a most pleasing manner with every ambition the individual may have to add a greater spirit of optimism and cheer to his routine of life.

Attend the church of your choice and make yourself a dependable parishioner therewith. Every tradition of character, good citizenship and Americanism is given support in tenets of the church. Colorado might well make the church a clearing house for an even more unified progress. America had its inception about an altar. And the altar has ever attended the home, school and other factors entering into the building and permanency of civilization.

SORROW IN HONOR

President Roosevelt came into the White House with shadows of deep sorrow hovering about him. In the midst of his glory, brought about when citizens of the American republic elevated him to highest office within gift of the people of this or any other clime, he bore the sorrow that ever comes in death of warm, personal friends.

During the inaugural rites in Washington Saturday body of Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana, among the leading Democratic statesmen of his day and who had recently been named as attorney general in the Roosevelt cabinet, lay dead in the National capitol, and another close friend, Mayor Cermak of Chicago, hovered near death in a Miami hospital, the victim of an assassin's bullet intended for the president.

While exultant in its praise of the new president the American public is at the same time sharing with him the sorrow that attended his elevation to the presidency.

THE JIG SAW PUZZLE, TOO

There are many Coloradans who are finding interesting diversion in the jig saw puzzle. Bridge, golf, tennis and other routine matters entering into the social and sports life of the community are supplying recruits to the ever increasing number of puzzle fans.

One good feature of the jig saw puzzle as seen by The Record is found in fact that while studiously engaged in attempt to solve one of the contraptions Mr. Citizen has less time to devote to reminiscences of the depression, moratorium and other disturbing elements.

Now that Colorado has registered another step ahead in move to realize a new postoffice building, why not revive campaign to build that paved highway to connect Snyder and San Angelo. Something definite ought to be done about this important matter.

The moratorium had one good result, in so far as the average Colorado printer was concerned. He was enabled to make purchases in exchange for IOU's, as in the good old days.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Not long ago I was in one of the many counties of Texas. A once fertile farming land was samed with ghastly gullies. The soil was piled up on fence rows and in the beds of creeks. The fences and buildings were run down and dilapidated. Gloom, bootlegging, and robbery were playing hand in hand. It has ever been that way. When the soil of any country is allowed to deteriorate, blow, or wash away, the prosperity, culture, and morality of its people sink to a low level.

In ages old and hoary, we find civilized man living in fertile regions like the valleys of the Euphrates and the Nile. The Nile valley is still a wonderful land, but the Euphrates valley, through neglect, is almost a barren waste inhabited only by nomadic tribes. The giver of all good things endowed the United States with many wonderful resources. Namely, fertile farming lands, fine grass lands, mines, forests, streams, and a world of coast line. We as caretakers of some of these resources have been careless, neglectful, and wantonly wasteful. The servant who was given the one talent kept it intact. We have not done so well. We tear our hair and rave about prohibition, war debts, farm mortgage foreclosures, tariff, taxation, short skirts, pool, dogs, and keeping kissable; and pay very little attention to the greatest problem of all: the conservation of our soils. However, there is an awakening along this line lately. Some farm leaders and newspapers are stressing crop rotation, terracing, and turning the marginal lands back to grass as ways of saving the soil. Putting marginal lands in cultivation was a costly mistake. This crops raised on them never did pay and only served to increase the surplus and lower the price. Planting land year after year in the same thing is a bad policy. For proof look at the black land belt. Even the newer lands of the west are beginning to show the bad effects of such a policy.

There are some things about terracing I do not like, such as short rows, crooked rows, so much twisting and turning, and you have to do quite a bit of work every year to maintain them. People who do not believe in terracing, and your own folks, will poke a little fun at you now and then. Even the chickens do that. The other day while I was working on a terrace, an old red rooster and some of his women folks came out there looking for worms. He walked upon top of the terrace and said: "cuck-coo." Anyway building terraces is safer than playing bridge with your wife. I never heard of it causing any separations or killings.

Terracing is one of the best ways of saving the soil. It will conserve the water and increase the yield. The desire to move will not be so great. You will be on better terms with peace, contentment, and security. Let's wake up and save ourselves, and not doom our descendants to a slave-like existence, as is the case today in some parts of China.

H. L. BARRELL, Loraine, Texas.

Cotton Queen

Miss Phyllis Matlock, president of the Students' association of Texas College for Women, Denton, has been named queen of the second annual Cotton Ball and pageant at Texas A. and M. College, College Station. The king will be named from the Texas A. and M. student body.

WOMEN

Woman's position in the world is higher than man's, and although she has often been denied the right of suffrage, she always does vote, and always will vote—by her influence, and her chief desire ought to be that she should have grace rightly to rule in the dominion which she has already won.

She has no equal as a comforter of the sick. What land, what street, what house has not felt the smitings of disease? Tens of thousands of sick beds, what shall we do with them? Shall man, with his rough hand, and heavy foot, and impatient bearing, minister? No, he cannot soothe the pain. He cannot quiet the nerves. He knows not where to set the light. His hand is not steady enough to pour out the drops. He is not wakeful enough to be a watcher. You have known men that despised women, but the moment disease fell upon them, they did not send for their friends at the bank or their worldly associates. Their first cry was "take me to my wife."

The dissipated young man at the college scoffs at the idea of being under home influence but at the first blast of typhoid fever on his cheek he says "where is mother?" I think one of the most pathetic passages in all the Bible is the description of the lad who went out into the harvest fields of Shunem and got sunstruck, throwing his hands on his temples, and crying out, "Oh my head, my head" and they said "Carry him to his mother." And the record is "He sat on his mother's knees until he died."

In the war men cast the cannon, men fashioned the musket, men cried to the hosts, "Forward March," men hurled their battalions on the sharp edge of the enemy crying, "Charge, Charge" but women scraped the lint, women administered the cordials, women watched by the dying couch, women wrote the last message to the home circle, women wept at the solitary burial. Men did their work with shot and shell, and carbine and howitzer. Women did their work with socks and slippers, and bandages, and warm drinks and scripture texts, and gentle soothing of the hot temples, and stories of that land where there is no pain. Men knelt down over the wounded and said "on which side did you fight?" Women knelt down over the wounded and said, "Where are you hurt?" "What nice thing can I make for you to eat?" "What makes you cry?" Tonight while we men are soundly asleep in our beds, there will be a light in yonder loft, there will be groaning down that dark alley, there will be cries of distress in that cellar. Men will sleep and women will watch.

No one as well as a woman can handle the poor. There are hundreds and thousands of them in all our cities. There is a kind of work that men cannot do for the destitute. Men sometimes gives his charity in a rough way. But woman glides softly into the house of want, and finds out all the sorrows of the place, and puts so quietly the donation on the table. Oh, Christian young woman if you would make yourself happy and win the blessings of Christ, go out among the poor, a loaf of bread or a bundle of socks may make a homely load to carry, but the angels of God will come out to watch, saying "Look after that woman, canopy her with your wings. Can you tell why a Christian woman, going down among the haunts of iniquity on a Christian errand seldom meets with any indignity?"

DeWitt Talmage said, "I stood in the chapel of Helen Chalmers in the most abandoned part of Edinburgh and I said to her do you come here nights to hold a service?" "Oh, yes," she said, "I take my lantern and go through all those haunts of sin, the darkest and the worst, and I ask all the men and women to come to the chapel, and then I sing for them. Can it be possible that you never meet with an insult while performing this Christian service and she said never."

Woman is especially endowed to soothe the disaster, she is called the weaker vessel but all profane as well as sacred history attests that when the crisis comes she is better prepared than man to meet the emergency.

When man comes to the end financially his wife stands by his side and reminds him that God sent a Deborah to meet the host of the Amalekites and scatter them like chaff over the plain.

There are scores and hundreds of households today where as much bravery and courage are demanded of women as was exhibited by Grace Darling or Marie Antoinette or Joan of Arc.

In every realm is every mother a queen? The eagles of heaven cannot fly across that dominion. Horses panting and with lathered flanks are not swift enough to run to the outposts of that realm and death itself will only be the annexation of heavenly principalities. When you want your grandest idea of a queen you do not think of Catherine of Russia or Anne of England or Marie Theresa of Germany, but when you want to get your grandest idea of a queen you think of the woman who sat opposite your father at the table or walked with him arm and arm, down life's pathway, sometimes to the Thanksgiving banquet, sometimes to the grave, but always together, soothing your petty griefs, correcting your childish waywardness, joining in your infantile sports, listening to your evening prayer, toiling for you with needle or at the spinning wheel, and on cold nights wrapping you up snug and warm and then at last on that day when she lay in the back room dying, and you saw her take those thin hands which she had toiled for you so long, and put them together in a dying prayer. Oh she was the Queen.

Home influences are the mightiest influences upon the soul. There are men who have maintained their integrity because there were home influences praying for them all the time. They got a good start. They were launched on the world with the benedictions of a Christian mother. They may track Siberian snows, they may plunge into African jungles, they may fly to the earth's end, they can not go so far or so fast but the prayer will keep up with them. What a multitude of women in heaven. Mary, Christ's mother is there. Your mother and mine is there and multitudes of others who have never been heard of on earth have gone into the rest and peace of Heaven. What a change it was from the small room with no fire and one window, the glass broken out and the aching side and worn out eyes, to the "House of Many Mansions."

To the millions of women we write to say: Some of you will have no rest in this world, it will be toil and struggle all the way up. You will have to stand at your door fighting back the wolf with your own hand and with carnage. But God has a crown for you. He is now making it and whenever you weep a tear, He sets another gem in that crown. Whenever you have a pang of body or soul, He puts another gem in that crown until after awhile in all the tiara there will be no room for another splendor, and God will say to his angel "The crown is done, let her up that she may wear it." The angels will ask "Who is she?" and Christ will say, "I will tell you who she is, she is the one that came up out of great tribulation and had her robe washed and made white in the blood of the Lamb. And then God will spread a banquet, and He will invite all the principalities of heaven to set at the feast and the tables will blush with the best clusters from the vineyards of God and crimson with the twelve manner of fruits from the tree of life and water from the fountains of the rock will flash from the golden tankards and the old harpers of heaven will sit there making music and Christ will point you out amid the celebrities of heaven saying, she suffered me on earth. Now we are going to be glorified together. And the banqueters, no longer able to hold their peace will break forth with congratulation, Hail, Hail, and there will be a hand writing on the wall, not such as struck the Persian nobleman with horror but with fire-tipped fingers writing in blazing capitals of light and live and victory.

God has wiped away all tears.
