

FORMER MITCHELL COUNTY WOMAN DIED LAST SUNDAY AT HOSPITAL IN MIDLAND

Rites Held At Colorado On Monday Afternoon For Mrs. L. H. Chivers

Funeral services for Mrs. L. H. Chivers, 43, were conducted from the Kiker & Son chapel Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock with Rev. L. A. Webb, pastor of First Methodist church, officiating. Burial was in Colorado cemetery. Mrs. Chivers died Sunday afternoon in a Midland hospital within a short time after having been given major surgery in attempt to save her life.

With her husband and children Mrs. Chivers moved to the Monroe Dawson farm in Midland county a few weeks ago. Prior to that time the family had resided in Rogers community and Colorado for several years. Mr. Chivers farmed at Rogers and while living here was associated with the Colorado Laundry.

J. Ralph Lee, manager of the laundry plant, accompanied driver of a Kiker & Son funeral coach to Midland Sunday night to return the body to Colorado.

The services were attended by a large number of relatives and other friends from this county and other sections of the State. Rogers school was dismissed Monday out of respect to Mrs. Chivers and many of the students accompanied by faculty members attended the rites.

Surviving are her husband, one son, Cecil Chivers, and two daughters, Misses Thelma Chivers and Estelle Chivers. Her mother, Mrs. M. F. Dillard of Grandbury, three brothers, C. S. Dillard of Dallas; J. L. Dillard of Grandbury, and H. V. Dillard of Weatherford, and three sisters, Mmes. Walter Short of Weatherford; Lowell Rogers of Poolville, and Stanley Hutchinson of Springtown, also survive.

Flower bearers were Joe B. Mills, J. Ralph Lee, George Callan, Hugh Callan, John McGuire and J. P. Morris.

Flower bearers were Hazel Reynolds, Maxine Dorn, Memphis Porter, William Bean, Mary Venable and Evelyn Stoll.

COLORADO LIONS ASKED SUPPORT MIDLAND MAN AS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

Midland, March 23.—Lions of Colorado have been asked by their fellow Lions of Midland to consider the candidacy of Marion F. Peters of Midland for governor of District Two-T.

Peters is said by his fellow townsmen to be one of the outstanding citizens of West Texas. He is now president of the Midland Lions club, the attendance of which jumped from an average of about 20 to about 50 under his administration.

Peters is a church officer, director of the chamber of commerce, welfare association and Red Cross officer, Boy Scout official and general civic leader. He is one of the most highly esteemed men in Midland. He is nationally known as a collector of cattle brand drawings from famous people.

The Midland candidate for district governor of District Two-T in which this city lies, originated and staged Lions inter-city chautauqua at Midland, Wink and Big Spring. He knows Lionism and practices it, his friends say. Peters is manager of the West Texas Gas Co. at Midland.

Mrs. Jim Merket was visiting Mrs. O. N. Laster of Longfellow Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Swan and son Thurber visited at Ira Sunday.

'Third Monday' Programs To Be Made Permanent

OPENING TRADES DAY WAS SOURCE OF SATISFACTION TO CHAMBER COMMERCE

'Fine And Dandy' Secretary Says Of Affair; Others Definitely Planned

Mitchell county's initial "Third Monday" trades day held at Colorado Monday was successful and the chamber of commerce trades extension department has already announced the affair will be sponsored regularly, Jim Greene, organization secretary, stated Tuesday.

"Fine and dandy," was stated by Greene when questioned as to success of the program. "There were more people in attendance and more livestock and other farm properties brought to town for swapping than we had anticipated. People were here from practically every community of this territory."

Horses and mules held sway with several scores of these animals brought in for trading. Farm tools, motor cars, dried vegetables and a varied list of other farm commodities were included in the array of articles offered for trading during the day.

Merchants have added their enthusiastic approval to the monthly trades day program. One of the largest Monday crowds known here in some time resulted in a brisk upward trend of trading at the stores. With continued success of the affair it is probable that plans will be undertaken to establish permanent quarters for staging the monthly trades day programs.

Two Judging Teams Will Attend Annual School Meet Monday

Two judging teams representing vocational and agriculture department in Colorado high school will participate in annual judging events at Texas Tech, Lubbock, Monday. The teams are entered in the livestock and dairy judging arenas.

The livestock team is composed of J. M. Kirby, Arlene Morris and Don Blassingame. The dairy team is composed of Bill Galey, Jewel Daughtrey, Homer Bodine and Ivy Jones.

Both teams have been entered in annual livestock and dairy judging events at College Station April 17, Doyle Williams, director, stated Monday.

NEW YORKER MAY OWE LIFE TO BANK HOLIDAY

Walter Brummer of Long Beach, New York, stated while stopping briefly in Colorado recently that he may owe his life to the bank moratorium.

Brummer was enroute to Los Angeles and other points in South California when the bank holiday forced a stop in Texarkana, because of inability to procure funds. While he was being delayed the quake struck.

Tom Ellett, among the pioneer farmers of Carr community, was in Colorado Friday.

Big Spring Jurist Outlines Measure To Bring Definite End To All Future Wars

There is only one avenue through which the nations of earth may realize permanent peace and find themselves enjoying for the first time in all history an environ of absolute serenity with not even the shadow of a war cloud passing about, Judge Jas. T. Brooks, of 32nd special district court stated while here Monday from Big Spring.

"I have a suggested measure that would bring an end to warfare and even talk about war as between one people and another," the jurist declared. Tersely told Judge Brooks suggests:

Enactment of a universal law—with teeth in it, too—by every world power that would compel every public servant, from president or king on down, who suggested or supported a declaration of war, to resign immediately from his office and be compelled to don uniform, take up arms and go into action on the front.

"Let these fellows who have the authority to vote one nation into war against another put themselves up for a target of the enemy's fire and see how quickly these declarations of warfare would cease to be. In event the "statesman" who votes to send others into battle is too old to walk and tote a musket, then have him carried to the front line on a cot and there be shot at by the enemy. That would stop wars and declarations of war for all time to come."

JONES COUNTY LEADER IN TEXAS COTTON YIELD FOR 1932, U.S. REPORT SHOWS

Total Of 107,000 Bales Are Ginned; Lubbock County In Second Place

Jones led all other Texas counties in cotton production from the crop of 1932, according to report received here Tuesday from the Department of Agriculture at Washington. A total of 107,265 bales are shown to have been ginned in that county during the season.

Lubbock county with a total of 94,221 bales ginned, is given second place in the State, and Haskell county with 82,295 bales third place. Another West Texas county, Runnels, came in for fourth place with a total of 78,172 bales.

Mitchell county is given high rank among the cotton producing counties of Texas in the report, exceeding production records credited to several counties normally considered as banner growing divisions of the State.

POPULAR SOLOIST AND PIANIST PRESENTED ON LIONS CLUB PROGRAM

Two of Colorado's popular artists, Mmes. C. A. Wilkins, mezzo soprano, and Cecile Meskimen, pianist, were presented on entertainment program at the Lions Club Friday.

With Mrs. Meskimen playing the piano, Mrs. Wilkins gave two Irish numbers. First she sang "Mother Machree," and as an encore sang "Sure They Call It Ireland," popular folklore songs of Erin composed by Ball.

COLORADO BAPTISTS ON DISTRICT S. S. PROGRAM

Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church, and Mrs. Joe H. Smoot, are to have prominent places in annual district Sunday school convention at Lamesa, March 26 and 31. Rev. Mr. O'Brien will address the convention on the subject, "Foreign Missions," and Mrs. Smoot will lead section discussion for the intermediate division.

MODERN SERVICE STATION BUILDING BEING ERECTED BY COL-TEX CORPORATION

Brick And Tile Structure To Stand At Corner Oak and East Third Streets

Excavations for a modern brick and tile service station building at corner Oak and East Third streets were begun Monday morning. The structure is being erected by the Col-Tex Refining company and will be known as "Col-Tex Station No. 2."

The service station will be modern in every particular. The building is to be of brick with tile roof. Four gas pumps are to be installed and service driveways to be of concrete will be large enough to handle three automobiles at a time. A greasing and washing department will be built in rear.

The building is being erected on property owned by A. L. Whipkey and O. B. Price. Lease transferring the property to Col-Tex was concluded Saturday. Wm. Brookover, official of the refinery directing construction of the building, made no statement as to how long the site had been leased.

The building will be constructed under superintendency of Fred Strong, local contractor. No announcement has been made as to who will take over management of the place.

Col-Tex entered the retail field here a few weeks ago by opening a station on West Highway near the refinery plant. So pleased were officials with the venture that the additional station was authorized. Jake Richardson is manager of Station No. 1.

Aged Coins Dug Up At Site New Station Building On Oak St.

Mother Earth may not have been charged with hoarding, as Uncle Sam has seen fit to say of certain individuals and corporations, but nevertheless, some aged coins were unearthed here Tuesday morning by workmen making excavations for the new Col-Tex service station at Oak and East Third.

Two nickels, both eroded through effect of many years in their constant contact with soil minerals, were found two feet under ground. One of the coins is dated 1868 and the other is so badly damaged as to render date of minting and other engraved features obsolete.

R. H. Ratliff recalled Tuesday morning that several years ago he found a collection of old coins at the same place. One of the coins, of Spanish origin, is dated in 1811, making it now 122 years old.

SILVER P.T.A. COMEDY DRAMA AS SCHOOL AID

"The Antics of Andrew" was title of a comedy drama staged Friday night at the Silver Peak school under sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher association. The cast was made up from students attending the school.

An admission price of 15 and 10 cents was charged. The funds will be used for making improvements at the school.

PEOPLE NEVER EVIDENCED STRONGER CONFIDENCE, IS VERSION LORRAINE BANKER

J. C. Hall Sees Rapid Return To Normalcy; Business Outlook Good

There was never a time in history of the First State Bank of Lorraine when the general public evidenced a stronger confidence in the institution than during Wednesday, and Thursday of last week, first two days the bank was open for business after the moratorium holiday, Judge J. C. Hall, vice president of the bank, stated while in Colorado Friday.

"It was impressive to note the feeling of absolute confidence registered by every customer calling at the bank during those two days," Hall stated. "Our deposits through Wednesday were increased over $10,000 and $6,000 of the amount represented currency and gold brought into the bank by citizens of that territory. We received several new accounts."

The Lorraine bank claims distinction of being in better financial shape than may be said of many institutions of the State. A recent financial statement, signed by C. H. Lasky as president and B. L. Hamilton as cashier, showed that the bank had no borrowed money, no red accounts and no bills payable.

That better conditions are already here and will continue for an indefinite time was asserted by Hall. Advance of cotton $5 per bale the day before, along with upward strides in practically every commodity produced by the people of this territory led the banker to believe that Mitchell county was on the verge of more prosperous days.

Ex-Students Pride In Progress Made On Texas Campus

Members of the Mitchell-Scurry Texas Ex-Students association are expressing elation in progress noted at the university campus. Among other improvements recently completed are nine buildings. The latter are to be dedicated during the fourth annual round-up of former students and parents, to be held at Austin April 29, 30 and 31.

The buildings are Student Union, Union Auditorium, New Law Library, Architecture Building, Geology Building, Home Economics Building, Physics Building, Engineering Building and Brackenridge Hall, a man's dormitory.

It is probable that former students of Colorado will attend the dedicatory rites.

NEIGHBOR IN TRIBUTE TO LIFE OF LATE J. D. WULFJEN OF COLORADO

"One of the most noble characters that I have ever been privileged to know, and a man ever possessed with rugged honesty in his dealings," were the words used here Monday afternoon by P. C. Hale, pioneer of the Seven Wells community, in reference to the late J. D. Wulfjen, who died at Colorado Sunday morning. Hale stated that for several years he and Mr. Wulfjen lived as neighbors in South Mitchell county.

Mr. Hale recalled that Mitchell county had lost in death of the late cattleman and banker one of the typical pioneers of West Texas to whom much credit was due for rapid development in this area.

Mr. Hale has been a constant reader of The Record for more than twenty years. He called at this office while in town and renewed his subscription for another year.

OVER $40.00 REALIZED FROM BARBECUE SALES

The Future Farmers' barbecue given Friday afternoon at Ruddick Park realized $42.75 gross returns, according to Doyle Williams, director. Funds are to be used in meeting expenses of sending judging teams to meets at Texas Tech, Lubbock, and A. & M. College at College Station.

Big Spring Pioneer Dies At San Antonio From Heart Attack

Robert D. Matthews, pioneer Big Spring citizen, died suddenly in San Antonio Monday morning from a heart ailment. In poor health for some time, Matthews left Big Spring Saturday with his wife for an indefinite stay in the A'amo City, hoping the lower altitude would prove beneficial.

Matthews is credited with having built the first cotton gin in Big Spring and buying the first cotton ever offered for sale there. He was an organizer of the West Texas National Bank there in 1903 and for several years filled the position of cashier.

WILL VISIT COLORADO

Presiding Bishop of the Missionary district of North Texas, Protestant Episcopal Church, will visit All Saints church Sunday. Bishop Seaman will conduct prayer and sermon services at the church at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

UNIQUE SALES OFFERS DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Saturday was another busy day at Piggly Wiggly. Special prices advertised by the management and the additional inducement that three times during the day a customer would be given complimentary $5 worth of groceries are assigned as the reason.

J. W. Randle, manager, states that his trade volume was good through the day.

W. H. Gregory of Carr community came to town Saturday.

STUBBORN COTTON BLAZE BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL AFTER OVER TWO HOURS

Seventy Five Bales Linters Burned Friday Morning At Old Compress

After fighting against odds for two and one-half hours Friday morning the fire department brought a cotton blaze at the old compress building under control. The alarm was turned in at 2 o'clock a. m. and it was 4:30 before the department had the flames subdued.

E. M. Majors, member of the department and former fire chief, stated that it was one of the most stubborn fires dealt with in Colorado in several years. Smoke issuing from the building in dense clouds handicapped work of the firemen. Majors estimated that seventy five bales of linters were burned.

That was the second call received by the fire department that night. At 10 o'clock p. m. Thursday a small two-room dwelling in West Colorado occupied by Bill Ward and family burned. The family was absent at the time but a part of the household goods were saved. The building was a total loss.

EARTH TREMBLOR MADE ONE FEEL BIT SHAKELY

A. R. Wood who returned recently from Los Angeles, stated Saturday that he was in the earthquake that recently rocked Southern California and "it was the most peculiar feeling I have ever experienced." One had the unique feeling that the ground was slipping from under him, Wood said.

Recently The Record published news article announcing that E. E. Venus was superintendent of both the Seven Wells and Payne Sunday schools.

The editor of the Georgetown Sun speaking on this subject said, "I once knew a man who was at the head of a large business concern."

Boys, you'll soon be men and I wish you would repeat with me these lines from the beloved J. G. Holland.

"God give us men! a time like this demands Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands Men whom lust of office does not kill, Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy, Men who possess opinions and a will, Men who have honor, men who will not lie, Men who can stand before a demagogue And meet his treacherous flatteries without winking Tall men, sun-crowned men who live above the fog, In public duty and in private thinking. For while the politicians with their thumb-worm creeds Their large professions and their little deeds Mingle in selfish strife, lo, freedom weeps— Wrong rules the land and waiting justice sleeps."

Other lines from a famous poet: Carve your name high o'er shifting sand Where the steadfast rocks defy decay, Build your pyramids skyward and

INSURANCE L. B. ELLIOTT

Recently The Record published news article announcing that E. E. Venus was superintendent of both the Seven Wells and Payne Sunday schools.

The editor of the Georgetown Sun speaking on this subject said, "I once knew a man who was at the head of a large business concern."

Boys, you'll soon be men and I wish you would repeat with me these lines from the beloved J. G. Holland.

"God give us men! a time like this demands Strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands Men whom lust of office does not kill, Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy, Men who possess opinions and a will, Men who have honor, men who will not lie, Men who can stand before a demagogue And meet his treacherous flatteries without winking Tall men, sun-crowned men who live above the fog, In public duty and in private thinking. For while the politicians with their thumb-worm creeds Their large professions and their little deeds Mingle in selfish strife, lo, freedom weeps— Wrong rules the land and waiting justice sleeps."

Other lines from a famous poet: Carve your name high o'er shifting sand Where the steadfast rocks defy decay, Build your pyramids skyward and

A green country rube walked into a large city store and addressed the manager thus—"Do you want a hired hand?" A big uncouth fellow so tall that he had to duck his head when he walked into the store.

THE UNKUNTED ROCK IN SOUTH-WEST TEXAS, A MOUNTAIN OF SOLID GRANITE, HAS PONDS OF RAIN WATER ON TOP IN WHICH MARSH GRASS GROWS AND MAKES LITTLE ISLANDS.

J. S. Barnes of Westbrook was a business visitor in Colorado Tuesday afternoon. He called at The Record office to renew subscription for another year.
