EMPLOYMENT BUREAU SET UP HERE FOR BENEFIT OF CITIZENS DESIRING WORK

Relief Administrator Named Director; Must Register To Get Best Results

Organization of the Mitchell county unit of the U. S. Labor Employment Bureau was announced here Monday morning by J. H. Greene, administrator for the Relief and Rehabilitation Board, set up here several weeks ago under authority of the State board at Austin. The employment agency will maintain offices at the chamber of commerce.

Purpose of the bureau is to assist unemployed in obtaining labor, Greene stated. The administrator explained that no citizens would be given preference on any project financed by federal funds unless he has previously listed with the agency. Greene suggested proposed highway construction and other projects planned by the government in this county.

"If out of work and looking for employment, call at the chamber of commerce and register without delay, as this is most important," Greene stated. "We are going to offer every possible assistance in finding employment for our people who need the work."

Greene stated that veterans would be given preference. This rule, he explained, was not set up by the local board but rather by the government.

News of Club Girls And Women

Mrs. Geo. VanZandt reported having matured cashaws now. September found dozens of farm people in Mitchell county having their first fresh garden stuff. Such has been the case in the Spade community. Mrs. Geo. VanZandt reports that she is now having peas, okra, butter beans, pinto beans, squash and tomatoes from her Fall garden and expects soon to have corn, turnips and greens. She has been canning peas and will continue to can as long as she has some surplus. She says they prefer their butter beans dry instead of canned. Mrs. E. S. White has turnip greens, mustard, peas, pinto beans, okra and squash and will have corn later.

Mrs. J. J. VanZandt reports similar vegetables available in her garden as: tomatoes, beans, greens, corn radishes, green pepper and mustard and turnips planted. These women report they will have plenty of tomatoes to fill their required amount of containers for this winter. They are considered fortunate to most people have had no fruit and will have no tomatoes so they will have to buy theirs.

Conditions have been similar in the Hyman community with still later garden stuff. Up to date nothing but peas and corn have been gathered from their gardens. Mrs. Frank Andrews was most successful last year with her garden but this year up to date it had not produced a thing on account of drought. But she has planted some Fall garden stuff and hopes yet to harvest something. Mrs. W. G. McAlpine reported in her small irrigated garden that she had been having some fresh tomatoes. A report from one club member that she had planted some amber globe turnips sounded good.

All reports from the women seem to point to plenty of Fall vegetables provided frost is delayed and moisture is retained, also all are planning on canning their surplus.

"KEEP US ALIVE"

In these days of national and world readjustment every reserve of hope, faith, and courage are required to enable each of us to swim against the strong tides of life's demands. We cannot afford to cringe or retreat as we, individually and collectively, wage war on human selfishness and greed—the two evil influences that have brought this great nation of ours to its prayerful knees. With new determination, let us join the old Scotch clergman who, in a day of great need, asked:

News From the Colorado Schools

If numbers win the Freshmen will take all honors this year. There are thirty six girls in the first year clothing class and thirty three in the first year foods class. All first year pupils have had the pleasure of experimenting with personal grooming. They have had lessons and demonstrations on manicures, facials and hair dressing and after the demonstration different members of the class endeavored to put into practice what she had learned by practicing on other members of the class. Mrs. Jordan of the Modern Beauty Shop, will demonstrate a shampoo and set to the first year clothing class.

The majority of home economics pupils have had their teeth filled or pulled. They are doing this at the earliest possible date. They are doing this on time.

Additional books and equipment have been placed in the department to take care of needs of pupils.

Members of the H. E. department wish to express their appreciation for the tea towels donated by Colorado Laundry Company.

WELCOME TO C. H. S.

In this first issue of the Colorado High school paper the Howl wishes to welcome all Freshmen and new students. We want you to feel at home and as though you had always been one of us, for you are now, you know. Enter in this year's work with the same school spirit you have always had. Don't be shy or self-conscious and let us say this to the Freshmen: "Don't let those Juniors and Seniors run over you."

Colorado High school has always been glad to receive any new students. The motto in this school is, "The more the merrier." However there is plenty of work to do along with the play, but there is a time and place for everything.

We hardly have to say this to the old students but just as a reminder: Be kind and considerate of your new classmates for you were new once yourself.

COLORADO WOLVES

The Colorado Wolves, a comparatively large, but very green and inexperienced football team, will engage the Roscoe Plowboys in their first game of the season on Cantrill Field, Friday afternoon, September 22, at three-thirty.

Coach Jim Cantrill, wily Wolf mentor, had seventeen men report for practice the first week, but this number has steadily increased until the roster now contains twenty-seven names. Captain "Red" Church, tackle, a three letter man, looks like All-District material. Elvie Stagner, a three letter man at end, and captain of the Wolf squad of '32, is sure to be given consideration again this year at All-District end. "Red Moon" Morrison, only holdover in the backfield, is showing much promise this season. In all probability he will be the starting field general this year. He is known all over the district for his hard and vicious tackling. He is smart and is likely to make a good quarterback. C. W. Hagler, guard, is starting his third and last season in a Wolf uniform. Football fans will remember this mighty atom from last year. Jack Cox, end of last season, has been shifted to the backfield, the same position he played two years ago. Last season Coach Cantrill moved him up to an end position, but with a shortage of experienced backs he has moved him back into the backfield. Louis "Snuffy" Taylor, only other letterman, is getting the initial call at center. His year of experience is helping him considerably. Present indications are that he is going to be hard to handle before the first conference game.

Men who lettered as reserves last year include Mumpsy Wallace, who is likely to start the game Friday at guard; J. M. Kirby, lengthy end, who is doing good blocking and Wilburn Henderson, end, who is improving right along. New men who are showing much promise are: Priester, 165 pound back from the Junior High; Lowry, from Hyman, halfback, who will probably start against Roscoe; VanZandt, 190 pound tackle from Spade, who will probably start at the other tackle, and Omer Rodgers, senior, taking his first fling at football, is looking good at end. He is sure to give Coach Cantrill needed strength at left end. J. C. Garrett and Arthur Geffs will be sure to see action Friday at the guard positions. McCreight, big back from Spade, is improving daily. Other backs are Ed Morrison, Francis Connell, and Brady Warren. These last three boys are all small but are looking good. Reserve linemen are: Buster Aycock, Regal Porter, Jack Woods, big tackle from Rogers, Rush Neff, Leroy Adrian from Landers, James from Dunn; and Odis Mahan from Dorn.

All of the above mentioned boys will likely play in the game Friday with Roscoe. Coach Cantrill is expecting a hard close game, as games with Roscoe have always been.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: September 29, Roby 183; October 6, Winters here; October 13, McCamey at McCamey; October 27, Midland at Midland; October 27, St. Joseph's Academy of Abilene, here; November 4, San Angelo at San Angelo; November 11, open; November 17, Sweetwater at Sweetwater; Thanksgiving Day Big Spring at Big Spring.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES

The work of the vocational classes this year under the supervision of Miss Octavine Cooper, seems to have begun with more enthusiasm and interest than ever before.

Miss Cooper has two high school classes of beginners typing. All the machines are being used and several students were turned away because of the. There are twenty-five in beginners shorthand and they have begun their work very eagerly.

In the vocational classes, six subjects are being taught. The advanced and beginners typing classes are full with eight on the waiting list to begin typing if someone drops out.

Around thirty pupils are taking beginners shorthand and there are six in the advanced class. Twelve students are participating in the class of bookkeeping and around thirty-five in Commercial English which is a new course and is usually taught only in college.

Over a hundred pupils are taking the vocational work and many have been turned down.

This year's prospects of a fast and accurate typing team for Colorado High school looks very good. All seem very interested and are progressing very fast.

PEP SQUAD

The PEP club for the coming football season was organized Monday under the direction of Miss Barrett. The chief leader, elected by popular vote, is Iva Lee Pennington who is to be assisted by Sarah Melton and Melba Slaton. All three are very capable in their positions. Each and every member had pledged her loyal support and an organization of unusual ability is promised.

Our main objective is to create a pep squad worthy of the team they will support and the enthusiasm shown at the first few meetings confirms this desire.

The present cry of the Wolves is Yea Team! Beat Roscoe!

TEACHERS INTERVIEWED

After an interview with the teachers of Colorado High school we find their Summer vacation was enjoyed and well spent.

Mr. Watson is superintendent of the Colorado Public Schools.

Mr. Wilkins, principal of the high school and teacher of physics and chemistry spent most his Summer teaching in the Summer school.

Mr. Williams worked for the Federal government in cotton reduction program in Fisher county.

Miss Jennings, supervisor of Home Economics, attended the Summer course offered by Texas Tech at Lubbock. She spent the rest of her vacation visiting in San Antonio and at the World's Fair.

Miss Barrett, teacher of Junior and Senior English, states that she roamed over Oklahoma and Texas and had a wonderful time doing it.

Miss Smith, instructor in Spanish, attended the World's Fair at Chicago, visited in Battle Creek, Michigan and at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Coffman, teacher of tenth and eleventh grade mathematics spent his Summer visiting relatives in and out of the State and later worked five weeks for Crosthwaite Drug Co.

Mr. Foster, algebra teacher, attended the Summer school in Canyon, Texas.

Mr. Croslin, teacher of eighth and ninth grade English and public speaking, attended Summer school at Texas Tech and received his M. A. degree. Later he visited the World's Fair.

Miss Cooper, vocational teacher, visited in Oklahoma and then attended Texas University Summer course. She took her oral examination on her Masters Degree. Her thesis has been approved by two teachers and has to pass only one more professor's inspection before being approved.

Mr. and Mrs. Cantrill, teachers in history, spent the first part of the Summer in Taos, New Mexico. They then taught in Summer school and later visited relatives in McKinney. Mr. Cantrill made a trip to St. Louis.

THE FUTURE OF THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT OF C. H. S.

Of all the subjects offered in any high school, English is the most essential to an education. The Junior and Senior classes in Colorado High have the opportunity to study a new and interesting history of American and English literature and a new plan of grammar and writing craft. The purpose of these subjects is to train the mind.

To those who like to read and enjoy history this subject is a pleasure rather than a task. However that does not mean that English is a simple subject; it is far from that. English literature requires careful and deep concentration and a full appreciation of the old legends and poems by authors of the Mother country—England. The Juniors this year are taking their first step in this interesting course, and are studying the history of American literature and authors.

The students are cooperating with Miss Barrett in an effort to make this year's course more interesting and more educational than any other English course conducted in former years.

BABY TYPING CLASS

The baby typing class sponsored by Miss Cooper is going to type at the State Teachers convention to be held at Austin during Thanksgiving.

Among those who are to participate in this are: Bobby Matliff, Buddy Doss, Freddie and Martha Jane Watson, Bobby Fee, Dasa Marie Merritt, Iva Helen Lee, Billy Margaret Gregory, Betty Sue Vaught and Mary Frances Dorn.

COLORADO FUTURE FARMERS REORGANIZED

The old members of the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America met Tuesday afternoon, September 19, to elect officers for 1933-34.

The following officers were elected: President, Lenn Bodine; Vice-President, Bill Galy; Secretary, Ivy Jones; Treasurer, N. T. Berry; Reporter, Jesse Jones; Farm Watchdog, Homer Budin.

The club decided to stage a chicken barbecue on Friday night, September 29, for a farewell meeting to Bruce McCloud and a get-together for the vocational agriculture students. Plans are being made for the occasion.

RADIO STARS OF C. H. S.

It is time Colorado High school should recognize the talent which some of its students possess.

Very few people realize that a good number of the programs broadcast over our local radio station YLD reveal the talents offered by pupils in high school.

We are happy to announce the fact that we have in our midst one of the two shades of harmony, Margaret Jackson; a piano soloist, Elverie Sorrels; Mabel Cooper and Bob King also, portray their knowledge of musical instruments over the microphone, while Loyse and Louise Jenkins and Katherine Delaney entertain us with their voices; and last but not least is Lena Smith, who reads for us.

With all of these talented people in one school it should certainly call for good chapel programs.

Don't miss the laugh-fest of a lifetime!

"Hello Sister" Sunday and Monday "Hello Sister" featuring James Dunn and Boots Malloy, supported by Minna Gombell, ZaSu Pitts, and Will Stanton in comedy roles and Terrance Ray in the role of a questionable character, comes to the Palace theatre, Sunday and Monday. It is a big city story of boys and girls meeting, with a pick-up, learning to love and trust, complications entering, running their course and smoothing the way eventually for the expected and happy ending. James Dunn does well by the rapid and dependable popularity he has achieved for himself. Boots Malloy, the comparative newcomer, is highly attractive, slightly sacharine, heavily sentimental, and sustains a definite appeal of her own. Minna Gombell, ZaSu Pitts and Will Stanton handle themselves well and provide a good bit of liveliness to the picture.

"Terror Aboard" Tuesday and Wednesday What does the title "Terror Aboard" suggest? You will find it is as much and more than you expect when you see this picture at the Palace theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday—Regular Bargain Nights. It all takes place on a tramp steamer. It is a straight terror picture, wherein gasps override everything. A good bit of comedy relief is offered by our old friend Charlie Ruggles. The cast is large and headed by John Halliday, Neil Hamilton, Shirley Grey, Jack LaRue, Verree Teasdale, Stanley Fields and many other well known screen favorites. You can see this either matinee or night on Tuesday and Wednesday at Bargain Prices.

"I Love That Man"

Thursday and Friday "I Love That Man" comes to the Palace theatre Thursday and Friday, Sept. 28 and 29. Its cast is headed by Nancy Carroll, Edmund Lowe, Robert Armstrong, Warren Hymer, Dorothy Burgess, Lew Cody, Luis Alberni, Grant Mitchell and a host of others whom we all like. The picture has the quality of being decidedly different. It is more interesting than usual, it promises many laughs and thrills and it may force a few tears. There are stars in it to arouse masculine curiosity as well as feminine interest. Nicely balancing comedy and drama, flavoring both with a novel interesting brand of humor, "I Love That Man" has the entertainment elements that constitute strong program fare. Adding a unique love story further peeps up the show.

CITIZENS PAY TRIBUTE TO L. C. MCCLLOUD UPON EVE OF TRANSFER FROM CITY

Col-Tex Superintendent Has Gone To Los Angeles; El Paso Man Comes Here

Describing him as one of Colorado's most generally beloved citizens and a religious, civic and industrial leader contributing much to advancement of those interests during his more than six years residence here, twenty five men honored L. C. McCloud at an informal banquet at the Colorado Tuesday evening.

Mr. McCloud, who since February, 1927, had filled the position as superintendent of Col-Tex refinery, was being transferred to Los Angeles. He left Wednesday morning for his new post. M. H. Lipp, recently associated with the refining industry at El Paso, has been transferred as superintendent here. Lipp has been identified with the corporation several years.

George Burrus of Oklahoma City, general superintendent of Col-Tex refining plants, and who announced transfer of the two officials, stated Wednesday morning that details having to do with transfer of the Colorado man to California had not been definitely worked out. The corporation operates several plants in that State and McCloud will be assigned as directing executive of one of them.

The banquet was called to order by J. H. Greene, who presided. Invocation was offered by J. Riordan. The chairman announced purpose of the gathering and after dinner had been served called upon the men present to give expression of their thoughts regarding life and character of the honoree.

Joe B. Mills, president of the Lions Club was first to pay tribute to Mr. McCloud. He was described as a man who reflected in both his public and private life the ideals of Lionism. Joe H. Smoot, first vice president of the chamber of commerce, described Mr. McCloud as one of the most loyal friends this community had ever had. McCloud was second vice president of the chamber.

As a churchman no citizen in Colorado has been more loyal to the tenets of religion, J. W. Randle, chairman of the board of stewards, First Methodist church, declared. Mr. McCloud was a member of that board. T. W. Stonerod, teacher of the Sunday school class in which McCloud held membership, rated the refinery official as faithful to every trust. McCloud was an assistant teacher of the class.

The Presbyterians have learned to think much of Mr. McCloud and regret very much to see him leave Colorado. J. Riordan, superintendent of the Sunday school of that church, declared. Thos. E. Smith, superintendent of All Saint's Sunday school, was another church official to pay tribute to his life here. C. L. Gray, member of the board of deacons, First Baptist church, added his commendation to the honoree, as did Joe Pond for First Christian church.

R. J. Wallace, president of the Colorado Country club, described Mr. McCloud as one of the most congenial gentlemen with whom he has ever associated. McCloud held the office of vice president of the country club. Col. C. M. Adams, R. H. Cantrill, Judge C. H. Earnest, Max Berman, A. L. McSpadden, W. F. Cooper, E. R. Bibby, M. O. Chapman, W. W. Whipkey, Jake Richardson, E. V. Grantland, A. C. Connell, J. Ralph Lee, P. K. Mackey and Jno. E. Watson, were others to speak briefly of their appreciation of Mr. McCloud as a citizen.

"Mr. McCloud is one of the best friends the boys and girls of Colorado schools have ever had and it is with sincere regret that we note he is to leave," said Superintendent Watson of the schools. "The gentlemen whom we have come to honor here tonight, is to be depended on wherever you may find him. His family, too, are to be listed among the most beloved personages among our citizenship." At conclusion of his address, Watson presented McCloud with a box of cigars with compliments of the group.

Overwhelmed with emotion, Mr. McCloud spoke feelingly of his appreciation of his friends in Colorado and of the expressions coming from their lips during the program. Tears welled into his eyes as he stated he had never lived among a people quite so well beloved and that he and family would leave Colorado with regret.

COL-TEX OILERS CAPTURE ANOTHER VICTORY SUNDAY IN DEFEAT OF COWBOYS

Big Spring Punchers Routed After Closely Contested Diamond Exhibition

BIG SPRING.—Col-Tex played money ball Sunday to take a closely contested game from the Big Spring Cowboys and to pass up the command in the pennant scrap of the Tri-county race.

Hitting honors were about divided, although Martin took the longest blow of the day with his triple to right field.

The combination of Coffee to A. Coffee to Hutchinson flashed brilliantly three times for double plays. Two big bats of the Cowboys, Harris and Baber, were silenced for the day. Patton, Martin and Hutto each hit safely twice for four times at bat. Henderson, Woods and Hutchinson collected the same for Colorado.

Col-Tex drew first blood in the second on two hits, but the Cowboys knotted the score at 2 all in the fifth. In the sixth Colorado slid ahead for the winning margin.

Box score:

COL-TEX	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
A. Coffee, 2b	5	0	1	7	6	1

Col-Tex is in a tie for first place with Stanton in last half of the pennant race. Col-Tex won first half of pennant race and with the last two games scheduled to be played in Colorado, chances look bright for their winning the local title also.

Next Sunday the locals meet the Big Spring Tigers at West Side park, game to be called at 3:30 p. m. The following Sunday Stanton comes to the local diamond. These two games are sure to be hotly contested.

Where? To Rogers. When? Friday night September 22. Why? To see the best manly play of the season, Love's Magic.

This comedy-drama in three acts is played by the Ladies Sewing Club. The characters are:

Harriet Canterbury, housekeeper and companion to Hulda, by Mrs. O. L. Robison.

Harry Canterbury, Harriet's husband, by Mrs. Luther Carpenter. Harriet and Harry will furnish you plenty of comedy in their heated arguments.

Hulda Stone, a rich heiress, Mrs. John McGuire will show you how a rich and crabbed heiress can affect people.

Gene Marson, Hulda's cousin and favorite, Mrs. Will Locke, has been picked out as the heir to the property of Hulda provided he marries the right girl.

Victoria Sophronia Canterbury, Harriet's daughter.

Laverne Carpenter, the heroine who refuses Gene for the money.

Susan, the help (?), Mrs. Hugh Callan, more comedy.

Robert Gray, Clementina's son. Mrs. C. W. Burford, the hero proves the guilt of the real thief and shows his own true blue color.

Clementina Gray, Hulda's married twin and double, Mrs. John McGuire. You can't afford to miss seeing these ladies show you how Love's Magic works.

The Chuck Wagon Serenaders will be here. Admission will be 10c so BY THERE.

WOLVES, PLOW BOYS WILL OPEN GRID SEASON TODAY

CANTRILLMEN LOOKING UP ON EVE INITIAL CONTEST HERE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Admission Price Reduced As Special Inducement For Local Fans Attend

Big Jim Cantrill will go into his initial game here Friday afternoon with a much stronger team than could have been said of the Wolves of last year, but there is no definite assurance that the local gridsters are going to win over Roscoe. The Plowboys, like their opponents, have improved a number of weak points over last season.

Among the men who Friday afternoon will start another football season for Colorado are four veterans who during the last season played as good brand of football as any man in the district. Some of them made the all-conference mythical eleven. Backing these reserves are several others, some starring on the Wolf pack last year and some just merging into the limelight, from which a formidable eleven is expected to be formed.

The opening tilt will be witnessed by a large delegation of Roscoe fans. News from balliwick of the Plowboys carries the popular opinion that they are coming to Colorado with definite aims of taking victory from their opponents. The clubs have fought stubbornly in other days, with first the one and then the other taking coveted laurels. Friday's melee, while promising for the Wolves, is not a cinch. It ought to be one of the best games seen at Cantrill Field this season.

A pep squad of 85 members will be in their places to lend stamina to the Wolves. A special price of 25 cents to everybody alike will obtain. C. A. Wilkins, high school principal, in announcing the lower price Tuesday said that it was hoped that Colorado would demonstrate its appreciation of the Wolves by taking advantage of the saving. Last year an admittance of fifty cents was charged for the opener.

Probable starting line-up for the Wolves will find Stagner back at his old place at end. Rodgers will go in to defend the end position. Red Church, playing at tackle last year, will be retained in that position, with VanZandt carrying the other tackle berth. Hagler, who played guard last year and "Red Moon" Morrison who played in backfield, will return to those positions. At center will be Taylor. The left guard position remains yet to be definitely assigned. It is apparent that either Wallace, Garrett or Geffs will go into the melee against Roscoe in that position. In the backfield along with Morrison will be

Two Red And White Groceries Be Opened In Downtown Colorado During Week-End

Colorado's business district is to have addition of two modern retail grocery establishments during the week-end. Friday morning J. A. Pickens will be open for business in his former location on Elm, and at the same time B. M. Moore is to open a new store in the Roy Farmer building on Walnut. Both establishments will be modern throughout.

Pickens is coming back into the trade after spending the Summer vacationing. Last June he closed his store, announcing that he planned taking a much needed rest. The building has been newly remodeled and decorated throughout. He will maintain a market in connection.

Moore who has been operating a Red and White grocery on South Concho for some time, is opening his second store here. The place is new and attractive throughout. With Hill and Mrs. Lonnie Morgan will be connected with the store. Other employees are to be announced later.

Pickens has not yet announced personnel of the sales force to be employed at his store.

Both of the merchants have been identified with Colorado several years. Pickens is among the pioneer business men here.

PRESSURE ALARM SYSTEM GUARANTEES SAFE, EQUAL FUEL FLOW FOR PATRONS

Community Natural Gas Will Safeguard Interest Of The Public Here

Additional precaution against gas pressure fluctuations above or below efficient range had been added to the Community Natural Gas company plant in Colorado by M. O. Chapman, manager, who has installed a new type pressure alarm system recently developed. The alarm is located in the home of Mr. Chapman.

On guard day and night, the alarm signals the moment pressure goes too high or too low, enabling service men to rectify the difficulty without delay and making doubly certain an efficient and economical burning pressure 24 hours of the day. If the pressure should become deficient or excessive because of leaks, impaired regulators, or for any other reason, an electric contact is automatically closed by the alarm mechanism and a bell rings until the pressure is returned to normal.

"While the alarm may not be called upon to function for months at a time," explained Mr. Chapman, "it is just another precaution to give gas consumers the best service humanly possible. If, for instance, zero weather should suddenly strike this winter and freeze up a regulator and reduce the flow of gas, we would be warned in plenty of time to remedy the trouble before it could inconvenience a single consumer because the alarm is highly sensitive to the slightest changes and works unerringly."

'QUILT, BLANKET WEEK' TO OPEN HERE MONDAY

Annual "Quilt and Blanket Week" is to be observed by the Colorado Laundry during next week, J. Ralph Lee, manager, has announced. During the week special prices will be in effect on this work. Lee Carter, of Jones, Russell & Company, was downtown Saturday afternoon for the first time since given major surgery at the Root hospital several days ago. Carter states that he is regaining his strength slowly.

ANSON MADE CONVENTION HOST FOR NEXT MEETING OF DISTRICT 2-T LIONS

Hamlin Club Sends Twelve Delegates To Parley Thursday Night

After naming the Anson club as host to next quarterly group conference, to be held on second Thursday night in December, second of meetings sponsored by District 2-T, Lions International, was closed at the Colorado Hotel Thursday night. The Hamlin club sent twelve delegates to the meeting.

Entertainment features included two violin numbers by Mrs. Virginia Peden Deter, two vocal numbers by Mrs. C. A. Wilkins and instrumental and vocal entertainment by the "Baze Brothers" of Tuxedo. The latter were brought to the meeting by Hamlin delegation. The youths are artists at playing the guitar and singing.

The sum of $9.42 was realized from sale of hats, confiscated by committee of Joe Poad, Dr. Bridgford and John Watson. As the guests arrived they were met by a courteous Lion and invited to check his hat. The plot worked well and practically every Lion present was forced to buy his topper after John Watson, auctioneer, offered it for sale to the highest bidder.

Otto Berlin, Hamlin shop keeper, bought three of the hats. The enterprising merchant would pick out a hat that showed little signs of wear and run the bids high. "I am going to take them home and put them in my store to sell," he announced later with a broad grin beaming over his face.

Watson is reported as having invited indignation of Col. C. M. Adams when he offered his own hat for sale. "How much am I offered?" Watson cried. "Five cents," the auctioneer announced and immediately closed the sale, gave the tail twister a nicker and put the hat away. It is most probable there will be a reckoning at the meeting today.

"I want to thank you for all the favors shown me by you and all members of The Record staff during our seven years in Colorado," W. S. Foster, recently transferred to El Paso as county farm agent, states in communication received by the publisher Friday. "One could not ask for better cooperation and this was another factor making it hard to leave."

Foster declares in the letter that he has been in El Paso more than a week and had not yet visited Jaurez. "I suppose this is a record for new comers," he concludes.

He requests that The Record be mailed to him at 403 Court House building. He invites his Mitchell county friends to visit him when in El Paso.

MAN ARRESTED SATURDAY SHORTLY AFTER BREAKING INTO MAX BERMAN STORE

Police Believe Mexican Is Responsible For Series Of Robberies Here

Confession by Antonio Perez, Colorado Mexican, to burglary of the Max Berman department store shortly after midnight Friday and the veiled admittance by him that he was implicated in other similar jobs are being accepted as solution to a series of burglaries that through several months have baffled the authorities.

Perez was arrested at Oak and East Second street at 1 o'clock Saturday morning within a few minutes after he had slipped through r side door entrance to the Berman store to elude Night Patrolman Porter Mosley who detected him robbing the place. He left his loot, bundled in a jumper worn by him, in the store as he fled.

While the east bound Texas & Pacific passenger train, due to arrive at 12:40 a. m. Saturday, was pulling out from the station, the Mexican, according to confession later given before Dell Barber, county attorney, threw a large stone through one of the glass panels in a front door. Entering the store he gathered up several ladies dresses and was preparing to leave the building as Mosley came up. The man ran to the rear side door and escaped.

Mosley telephoned Police Chief Hickman who had retired for the night. Hickman hurriedly dressed and getting into his car drove east to Oak street and then south to East Second. There he accosted the Mexican and placing him under arrest locked him up in the county jail. A few hours later Perez confessed.

The Mexican informed Hickman Saturday morning that he ran by his home while the chief was dressing. "I see light in your room and you putting clothes on, and know you was getting up to get me," the man accused said. Passing the Hickman home, which is near the business district, Perez turned west to Oak and was headed for his home south of the Texas & Pacific yards when arrested. It is interesting to note that the arresting officer took the same route as his quarry. Perez was arrested within a few minutes after breaking into the store.

Hickman stated Monday that he was confident the man was responsible for other burglaries committed in Colorado. "He has admitted responsibility for one of them but as yet we have not obtained written statement covering any job excepting burglary of the Berman store," Hickman said.

O. E. Morgan, Sweetwater refinery employee charged in death of Jesse M. Moon, Iatan farmer, who was crushed to death in a motor tragedy at Sweetwater Wednesday, September 6, has been indicted by the Nolan county grand jury on the charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

Morgan was placed under arrest at his home in Sweetwater shortly after Moon was crushed to death when an automobile, claimed to have been driven by Morgan, crashed into a heavily loaded trailer. Moon, having difficulty in getting his car up a steep hill in West Sweetwater, was behind the trailer pushing when the tragedy was enacted.

District Attorney George Mahon was in Colorado Saturday but made no statement as to when the State expected to bring Morgan to trial. Moon, a tenant on the J. B. Farmer place a few miles south from Iatan, is survived by his widow, aged mother and several small children.

'RED' BARRETT TAKEN TO BIG SPRING LAST FRIDAY TO FACE BURGLARY TRIAL

Under Grand Jury Indictment Charging Robbery Of Drug Store Last Spring

W. M. "Red" Barrett, former Colorado drug store employee, was taken to Big Spring Friday by Sheriff R. E. Gregory for delivery to the Howard county sheriff, pending arraignment on the charge of burglary of a Big Spring drug store last Spring. Barrett was arrested in Los Angeles, California, and returned to Big Spring a few days after the alleged burglary was committed.

Since his arrest here a few weeks ago following sensational robbery of the Max Berman department store, Barrett has been held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond. He entered the store shortly after 8 o'clock on Saturday, August 13, while the place was crowded with shoppers and after threatening Mrs. Herbert Gunn, cashier, Berman and others, rifled the cash drawer. He was arrested at a house in North Colorado a few hours later.

District court was convened in Big Spring Monday. It was believed here that the Barrett case would be called for trial during the second week of court.

Watson And Cantrill To Attend Football Conference In San Angelo Next Saturday

The powers that be in District 3 Class A football are to form a huddle at San Angelo Saturday in first official get-together of school superintendents and mentors of the year. Superintendent John E. Watson and Coach Big Jim Cantrill, along with probably other local school officials will attend.

Call for the district parley was made the other day by H. B. McClain, superintendent of the Sweetwater schools and district committee chairman. In so far as is known here nothing of special importance is pending probing by the moguls, unless the old favorite diversion of accusing ineligible on roster of some member club be injected. Mr. McClain leaves the impression that smooth sailing is ahead, however.

In addition to Watson of the Colorado schools and Chairman McClain, superintendents at San Angelo, Big Spring and McCamey constitute the regional governing board. Incidentally the conference has been called for the same date on which the Brownwood Lions and Angelo Bob Cats are to open the season. No doubt the gridiron czars will take time out during the afternoon to witness the game.

Cantrill and other coaches of the district will, in all probability, get their heads together on listing officials to work games during the coming season. Prices to be paid these officials, will, no doubt, be fixed at this meeting. Admission prices were fixed at a meeting of the board several months ago.

All games, including holiday contests, will cost the sum of 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Last season a price of 75 cents was exacted for holiday games.

Outcome of the Wolves' opener here Friday afternoon is expected to have some bearing on the stamina of both Watson and Cantrill as they invade the Conejo city to attend the conference. Should Roseoe win, perhaps the officials will not feel quite so hefty. Should the Wolves rout the visitors, it is but natural to anticipate that both the officials will give out generously of the "I told you so" feeling and impress they are expecting to add additional trophies as the schedule progresses.

"When I get bilious, I feel sleepy and tired and do not feel like doing my work. I get awfully dizzy. I know then that I had better take something. That, to me, is a very bad feeling. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DARLING MARCELINE HENDERSON

By Mrs. Eual Henderson Though we linger here in sadness, Bitter tears now dim our eyes. Yet through these there cometh gladness, When we'll meet beyond the skies.

Loved ones hearts are breaking Mother dear's griefs untold. But our hearts shall cease this aching When the pearly gates unfold.

Now their home is dark and dreary Sadness hovers round the loved ones And their pathway seems so dreary Since you're gone Oh, Marcelline dear.

But up there will be no sorrow, There no tears shall dim our eyes, In that home we will dwell forever, Where we'll speak no more goodbyes.

Yeggs Operate At Bronte And Blackwell Friday Night, Taking Cash, Merchandise

SWEETWATER. — Robbers did their best Friday night to loot Bronte and Blackwell establishments, accomplishing little until they broke into the general store of T. A. Carlisle at Blackwell, taking a large amount of clothing and breaking into the safe to get some $20 in cash.

The group apparently broke into a filling station at Bronte first, getting 20 gallons of gasoline, two gallons of lubricating oil and a screw driver.

They came on to Blackwell and attempted to break into the post office, but broke a screw driver off in the lock and left it. The screw driver was identified by the Bronte filling station owner as the one stolen from his place.

Unsuccessful attempts were made to break into the Hunt Drug Co. and the J. E. Davis grocery and hardware store at Blackwell.

Their next visit was to a blacksmith shop, where they were able to break in, and with tools stolen from that place they had little trouble in entering the Carlisle store.

They took a large amount of clothing, leather coats, shoes and other articles. Opening the safe they took all the cash, leaving checks scattered on the floor.

The group broke into the lumber yard, removing a panel from the door and unlocking from the inside to gain entrance. The knob was knocked off the safe, but they were unable to get it open.

Having stolen a good supply of gasoline and oil at Bronte to get them out of the country, they entered Nabor's hamburger stand at Blackwell and stole enough food to keep them from getting hungry on the escaping trip.

Officers late Saturday afternoon said they had been unable to pick up any clues.

GOING, GOING, GONE!

The recent speech of Nation Recovery Administrator Johnson concerning the "buy now" campaign he plans to start late in September, should be of especial interest to the wise and thrifty property-owner.

The forthcoming campaign is not to be classed with sporadic campaigns of a similar nature attempted during the past few years. This one will have the highest backing—it will come at a time when recovery is really underway, and the public will go the limit in cooperating with the needs of the government. There is every reason to believe it will succeed. And the inevitable result will be still sharper acceleration of the price level.

There is, as General Johnson said, a tremendous latent demand for all the necessities of life—for auto repairs, for clothes, for new heating plants, for house and land improvement. Organized and directed, this demand can create the greatest buying wave since war-time. It will lower the value of the inactive dollar, by making it buy less. It will raise the value of the dollar that is spent wisely now, by increasing the value of the improvements.

This is fact, not theory. The day of bargains for standard commodities is going. It will be gone before we know it. The American property-owner is being offered his last chance to build a new home, repair an old one, and do similar things at extremely low prices.

It will pay you to read the advertising columns of The Record.

ceded that much of the fundamental and elemental training of their charges, the children of the nation, has been shifted onto their shoulders. This is the training the children should receive in their homes.

This not only adds to the teachers' duties but makes them more difficult. The parents, because of their relationship and therefore of their authority also have less resentment from their children as to the impartation of moral and spiritual instructions than does the teacher. Be it said to the credit of most teachers that his realization of the importance of such training has much to do with the willingness to assume so far as he can be a burden that should not be his.

The teacher knows that ethics and equity, spiritual development and moral tone must be a part of real education, and that to the extent that it is lacking, just to that extent will the child lack wisdom and character.

The thoughtful teacher knows that the best and most effective way to express evil tendencies is to develop to their maximum—the good. He knows that a child's best protection against the temptations that are to beset him is to have an abhorrence for the things that constitute them. To be able to convince and impress the child with the certainty of the penalty for wrongdoing, that suffering more surely follows violations of God's law than it does any other law, will do much to fortify him against the allurements of evil.

It is better still, perhaps, to appeal to his intelligence in the matter of showing him that right is both economic and ethical. How wonderful the opportunity parents have to do this very thing. Not much effort will the teachers efforts have unless the parents themselves act upon the realization of this truth in their daily lives before the children.

There is much satisfaction for the teacher in this fact. Just as surely as great opportunities confer great responsibilities, so great responsibilities bring to them great opportunities.

What one does with his opportunities for service is a sure index to his character. The teachers opportunity is constant, since his work is almost continuous.

Above the din of strife for wealth, above the bedlam produced by the struggle for political preferment, above the clamorous insistence of unholly ambition for place and name, the teacher hears the bugle call summoning everyone who has assumed or been trusted with the instruction of the young, to point the youth of the land at this present time to the crying need for real men and women.

The teacher hears this and the parents should hear it and be even more active in their efforts than the teacher, since it is their children developed into a nation's greatest asset, good citizens that the world is pleading for.

The most terrible waste the world has ever known has been and now is the waste of ignorance. It causes waste of time, waste of effort, waste of soul, waste of mind, waste of body. These bring about the waste of opportunity.

The greatest enlightenment anyone can have is that which induces him to see with horror the terrific waste and destruction which are the fruits of ignorance. Ignorance is "the pestilence that walketh in darkness, the destruction that wasteth at noonday."

We speak too nonchalantly of the appalling ignorance existing in our own dear land at this present time. We must realize that when we speak of it we are speaking of a calamitous situation constantly pregnant and which is being improved all too slowly.

To the extent of one's ignorance is he enslaved. The teacher is one of the great emancipating forces available to the youth of the land.

The pupil can be greatly impressed with the necessity for study and self-cultivation if it can be shown him that battles between armies are won principally by the preparation and that the battle of life is won in advance by getting ready. Not only by the acquisition of knowledge but by the contest.

At this time as never before, he who knows is the one who wins, provided he knows how to use what he knows. No use having a gun if you do not know how to shoot.

The teacher is summoned by the highest command in the universe to the most important task that is to be accomplished, and the great majority of them respond nobly to the summons.

"I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way thou shalt go." F. B. W.

CRAZY CRYSTALS Crosswhite Drug Company

Says Life Insurance Companies Will Surpass All Past Records President of Penn Mutual Cites Performance In Depression WILLIAM A. LAW A GROWTH in life insurance that will break all past records will be experienced when business returns to normal, in the opinion of William A. Law, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, a former president of the American Bankers' Association, and a recognized authority on financial subjects. Mr. Law said the future growth of life insurance is assured by the record of performance of the largest reserve companies during the last three and a half years and by the confidence which this record has instilled in the public mind. "During the depression, the life insurance companies have met one of the most trying tests in their history," Mr. Law said. "With business stagnated, with banks failing, with millions unemployed and with vast numbers forced to draw upon their life insurance reserves, the companies withstood the storm and are today in a position to meet several times over any legitimate demand that might be made upon them. "In the three years, 1930-32, the legal reserve life insurance companies paid out more than $7,000,000,000 in policy and premium loans, surrenders, values, and payments to policyholders and beneficiaries. Despite these tremendous payments, the life insurance companies increased their total assets by more than $2,000,000,000 in the depression period. "Those of us who have learned our lesson, as I am sure millions have, will save and invest far more carefully and intelligently than we have in the past. We shall seek safety of principal rather than big profits and we shall plan for security in old age. Too many of us have seen men and women lose their life savings to trust our future welfare to speculation. "It is in this that I see a growth of life insurance beyond anything it has yet approached. Life insurance will be purchased more and more as a form of investment as distinguished from the conception of it as solely a protection of one's family in case of death. More and more people are going to entrust their funds to life insurance companies that have demonstrated in the last few years that they have the sound management and the experience to take care of it."

'What People Should Know About Cancer' Is Subject Of Address By Dr. C. L. Root

Dr. C. L. Root, chief surgeon at the Root hospital, continues his timely addresses from Station YLD, Colorado, Sunday afternoon in the third of a series of studio addresses on health, he talked about cancer. The address follows:

WHAT THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT CANCER

Last Sunday at this hour I spoke from this studio on the subject, "What the People Should Know About Tuberculosis." In that address I emphasized Benjamin Franklin's proverb: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and assured you that an early diagnosis of the disease and an early entrance into a sanatorium maintained for the care and treatment of the tuberculosis should be your hope and reliance. I also stated that tuberculosis is the most curable of all chronic diseases, statistics showing that about 81 per cent of the cases get well.

This afternoon I'm going to talk a short time on "What the People Should Know About Cancer." Cancer is a malignant growth of new tissue, usually in the form of a tumor which tends to ulcerate, to return if removed, to infect other parts of the body and to prove fatal. Tuberculosis tends to get well. Cancer tends to kill.

A few years ago when Floyd Collins became incarcerated in the exploration of a cave up in Kentucky he lived a few days and died before he could possibly be rescued. Daily paper head lines, telegrams, telephones and radios kept every section of the United States informed as to just what was happening, so far as they knew, to this poor victim and to his chance of being rescued alive. Death, after a few days, ended the scene, and millions of hearts were saddened when the news was flashed across the country that Collins was dead. Such a tragic death is horrible for the mind to contemplate. Yet there are more than one hundred thousand dying every year in our country a much more horrible death than that of Mr. Collins. That number according to reliable statistics die every year in the United States of cancer. One hundred thousand dying horrible deaths, living horrible lives at the same time, dying, and living over a period of two to twenty years being literally eaten up alive slowly, gradually, by painful, bleeding cancer. The human mind shrinks from such contemplation and staggers at such appalling truth.

The history of medicine from the gray dawn of its advent—five or six thousand years ago—gives fragmentary mention of the ravages of cancer among the Egyptians during the reign of the Pharaohs. Notwithstanding the many wonderful discoveries that research medicine has made in modern years in finding the causation of many diseases and then in successfully preventing these diseases, as typhoid, malaria, diphtheria, smallpox, rabies, etc., still the cause of cancer is yet unknown. However for your information I wish to state that while the cause of cancer is yet unsolved, research men have in recent years gained much knowledge concerning the disease that is invaluable in the campaign against its

Smith, an attorney, for collection, and agreed to pay him the 10% attorney's fee stipulated therein, the same being reasonable and the usual and customary fee therefor. That the other defendants are asserting some sort of right, title, claim, interest or lien, in, upon and on said land and premises, the exact nature of which is unknown to plaintiff, but that if said defendants have any such, that same is subject, junior and inferior to the vendor's lien and superior title of plaintiff, which is a first and prior, valid and subsisting purchase-money lien. HEREIN FAIL NOT. But have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, together with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Dr. Maus Slye's monumental research work in the investigation of whether or not cancer is hereditary showed that by mating mice which are more resisting to cancer grafting, it is possible in a few generations to produce off-spring mice from such parentage in which no cancer grafting will take place; and on the contrary, that by breeding mice which are unusually susceptible to cancer-grafting it is possible to have baby mice born with cancer. Such experiment gives evidence that there must be something inherited from parent to child as resistance, lack of resistance, susceptibility or something else. Parties of two cancerous families have no business intermarrying for fear the offspring may inherit too much susceptibility to cancer. Charley Mayo says that if you want to know what you are likely to die of, look up your family history. What is your heredity? How long did your ancestors live? What did they die of? Your death is likely to be similar. In other words, if they died of tuberculosis, look out for tuberculosis. If they died of Bright's disease or diabetes look out for kidney disease. If they died of cancer, look out for cancer.

Believe it or not cancer is found throughout the animal and vegetable kingdoms—trees, shrubbery, plants and vines have cancer. The beast of the field, the fish of the sea and the fowls of the air have cancer. By research work it has been learned that chronic irritation often precedes beginning cancer. Now whether this chronic irritation is acting as complement of some unknown factor or acting as the sole cause of cancer in such cases is a debatable question. Cancer of the lower lip in men why smoke pipes have been too frequent to escape observation as to the cause and effect. In the Middlesex Hospital in London a record was kept and found that in ten years fifty cases of cancer of the lower lip of men were admitted, and during the same years not one woman with cancer of the lip was seen. The cause was ascribed to the fact that the hot pipe stem on the lower lip finally set up chronic irritation, with cancer as result. In our country more than ten percent of the cancers in women are found in the breasts, while in some of the countries where the women do not clothe the breast, cancer of the breast is seldom found.

Thus breast cancer, so prevalent with our American women, is supposed to be due, at least partly, to constricting or irritating clothing. Gall stones that remain in the gall bladder for a long time are very prone to produce a chronic irritation which finally results in cancer of the gall bladder and liver. In China there is a certain class who shave their scalps every day with a dull razor. Among this class cancer of the scalp is very frequent—resulting from the chronic irritation.

In the Kashmir mountains it is extremely cold and the natives wear for warmth over the lower abdomen, small baskets filled with live coals. Heat irritation results and cancer of the skin and lower abdomen as a result is very common among those people. It has been pointed out that in China where the men eat first, and the women have to wait, the men throw hot rice into the back of their throats with their chopsticks. This taking place every day for years many have cancer in the back of their throats as results of heat irritation, while the women being compelled to wait until the men have finished their meal—the rice having had time to cool—practically never develop cancer from this cause. But cancer at other times appears, seemingly, without chronic irritation.

Cancer occurs in any organ of the body, but more frequently in organs exposed to injury. One-third of cancer in man is cancer of the stomach. One-fourth of the cancers in women is cancer of the stomach. Two and one half percent of all cancers are on the surface of the body, ninety seven and one-half percent beneath the surface. Ten and one-half percent of cancer in woman is of the breast and 20 percent of the uterus. One good thing can be said of cancer; it always begins as a local lesion—that is, its beginning is never wide spread, but confined to one tiny point.

The cancers most frequently found are: Cancer of the uterus, cancer of the breasts, cancer of the stomach, cancer of the lips, cancer of the throat, cancer of the rectum, cancer of the prostate gland, etc.

Tuberculosis reaps its toll mostly between the ages of 17 and 40, cancer plays its big havoc between the ages of 40 and 70. In other words tuberculosis preys mostly on youth and middle age, cancer on the middle aged and old aged—thus there is always the fear of some scourge to take the joy out of life. Cancer more often chooses organs of the body after they have already served their purpose in life and have ceased to function—for example the female breast, and the uterus after the climacteric or menopause. Women have cancer of the breast and uterus, but more men have cancer of the stomach than do women. One woman out of every 7 after 35 years of age die of cancer. The cancer mortality of women is increased by unrepaired damage done in childbirth. Cancer often has its beginning as a tiny mold, or wart on the face or hands or some other part of the surface of the body. Wherever the skin and mucus membrane of the body meet, as the lips, eyes, nostrils, nipples, etc., there cancer often makes its beginning. Cancer often starts as a hard knotty mass deep under the skin, as in the female breast or elsewhere. This may prove to be sarcoma, the most malignant of cancer. Cancer often has its beginning as a very small ulcer or sore on the face, hands or neck, practically unnoticeable for months. I saw a cancer a few days ago on the inner side of the lip where an old tooth snag had been irritating for years.

Is cancer contagious? No, in no sense of the word. You may associate closely with none other but the cancerous, you may drink, eat and sleep with the cancerous, you may be buried in the same grave with a cancerous-victim, but you will never "catch" cancer. Cancer may be grafted from one person to another, or from one lower animal to another, but cancer is not contagious.

Cancer more often starts in the stomach as an ulcer. Every ulcer of the stomach is a potential cancer. Pain in the beginning of cancer is practically always absent. Pain in many other diseases is present and acute from the beginning. Appendicitis has for its first sign often severe, cramping pain. Pneumonia usually begins its course with intolerable pain. Tuberculosis is often attended by pleurisy pains that nothing but morphine will ease. Even when trouble sets up in a tooth, if it is midnight, you are soon up seeking relief. But in the beginning of cancer there is no pain. This lack of pain together with a lack of information as to what really should cause you to consult a physician often delays a timely examination and treatment to a very untimely examination and treatment. An early diagnosis of any cancer, anywhere in the body, is a prerequisite and prime essential in the hope of a permanent cure. Early diagnosis of cancer is never easy for a physician. When the diagnosis of cancer is easy and sure 'tis not an early diagnosis. All suspicious lesions, sores, knots, tumors and other conditions should be examined by a competent physician and treatment begun before the diagnosis is easy or sure. All crusty, scaly sores on the surface of the body that do not heal in ordinary time should, likewise be passed on by a competent physician.

All women should be taught and they should know that they are susceptible to cancer, from their girlhood to the end of an old age, but that they are peculiarly susceptible to cancer after having passed the menopause. After a woman has passed that epoch, and then has that which is, too often, considered a return of her former functioning, 'tis more probable that she has cancer of the uterus than it is anything else. 'Tis well to remember that in See CANCER ADDRESS Page 6 our automobile traffic, railroad service, and elsewhere, red is a danger signal. Red blood coming from the body from whatever source is nature's danger signal and demands an investigation. It may be cancer signal.

It is the consensus of opinion of those making a close study of cancer that its prevalence is on the increase, especially among the wealthy and those living in luxury. It is also true that the death rate of cancer is on the decrease. This decrease of death rate is due to earlier diagnosis and more efficient treatment. Forty four years ago Dr. Agnew, Professor of Surgery, at the University of Pennsylvania, stated publicly that he had never cured a patient of cancer of the breast. More than half of such cases are now cured of this condition by earlier diagnosis and more efficient treatment. Dr. Will Mayo, a man of preeminent ability and unquestionable authority, stated last year that 75 percent of cancer can and should be cured. Earlier diagnosis and more scientific treatment of many diseases including cancer during the past 50 years have increased the average life of man from 42 to 58 years. This increase has never yet received one iota from cancer quacks who endeavor, for their personal gain, to discourage the knife, the cautery, the X ray and the radium—the methods that are the reliance of one and all legitimized reputable physicians of the world.

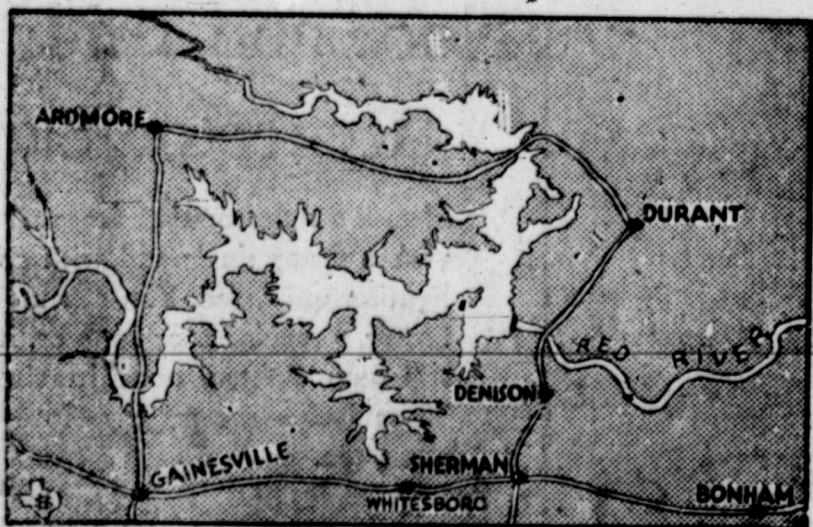

Now if any of my radio listeners today should have any kind of lesion that you are afraid is cancer and wish to try the paste of some of the cancer quacks in removing it—don't go 300 miles and pay $100.00 as scarce as money is now. Go to any drug store in town and buy one penny's worth of arsenic trioxide and one penny's worth of acia and mix it up into a paste,—or cheaper than that buy one cent's worth of zinc chloride, add to it three times a much flour and make it into a paste with a little water, bind it to the place for 24 hours.—Believe me! It will take the knee caps off a buffalo or the horns off a billy-goat and during that 24 hours no modern preacher need preach to you there is no hell! Lack of knowledge, blind ignorance and superstition have always led its class to fall quick for the unreasonable claims of the charlatan and the drag-net of the quack. Many of the cancer cure quacks are themselves so grossly ignorant as to really believe that they have a medicine or paste—a secret remedy—known to just a few select of the world, when every doctor and druggist in the land know what his remedy is. Many of them call everything cancer coming to them for diagnosis and treatment.

"All is grist that comes to the mill." Lots of their patients who never had cancer at all get well in spite of the treatment. Hence their reputation. Another poor victim of honest-to-God cancer, through fear of "the knife" or of the other recognized, standardized methods of treatment, together with the extortionate claims of the unscrupulous journey's propoganda makes a long journey to supplicate at the temple of those braggadocio mountebanks. For treatment cash is demanded. He pays the bill—from $100 to $500. The curtains fall. Usually about two years pass during which time the scene is changed. The curtain rises again. A poor, pitiful, cachectic patient, with unsightly cancer gnawing at his vitals is seen lying helpless and prostrate on his couch. His day is far spent. His money gone to the quacks. In his despair, he sends for his old family doctor again and asks, "Isn't there somebody, somewhere who can cure or help me by an operation, by X-ray, by radium or by the cautery or some

Dam Would Form Lake 1,000 Miles Around

The federal project, a dam across the Red river northwest of Sherman, Texas, now virtually assured, would create a lake having a shoreline 1,000 miles long, according to engineers. The above map shows the approximate shoreline of the lake. The dam would cost $25,000,000, would inundate 190,000 acres, and do much to control floods along the lower reaches of the river, besides generating 40,000 kilowatts of power.
