COLORADO SCHOOLS GIVEN PRAISE IN REPORT FILED WITH STATE DEPARTMENT

Efficiency of Teachers And Economy of Operation Cited in Report

Under authority of official report recently filed with the State department of public education at Austin by Miss Sue B. Mann, deputy State superintendent, the Colorado city schools are to continue in rank as among the most efficient in Texas, it is outlined in communication received this week by John E. Watson, superintendent, from J. W. O'Bannon, director of supervision.

In report filed by Miss Mann it was suggested that commendations be expressed for efficiency of the school organization. "Limitations that have necessarily come in the financial depression have proved incentives for a more systematic planning of work," the report stated. "Teacher-load has been distributed more carefully; teaching material has been used in a more economical and effective manner."

"The teacher tenure is one of the attractive features of the school organization," Miss Mann went on to say. "Teachers are apparently more superior in both personality and teaching skill. The elementary school organizations appear to be in line with the best educational theories and practices. The emphasis given in this school to reading deserves commendation."

It was recommended that the board of education be encouraged to enlarge the library and improve the school grounds. Campus of the elementary schools are in need of beautification, it was outlined. "It is directed that the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools be informed that the Colorado high school meets all major requirements. Certain classes have an enrollment of over thirty pupils, but the teaching staff load is well distributed, as stated above."

Deceased was a nephew of Rex Smith.

BAPTIST LEADERS OF TWO COUNTIES WILL ASSEMBLE AT DUNN CHURCH SUNDAY

Major Objectives For Months Of November, December To Be Discussed

Major objectives written into program of the church during the months of November and December, centered for the most part about the "Every Member Canvass," are to be given consideration by Baptists of the Mitchell-Scurry association attending area meeting at Dunn Sunday afternoon. The conference will be called to order in auditorium of the Dunn Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock.

Associational leaders are expecting representation from every Baptist church within the two counties, the Rev. Dick O'Brien of Colorado announced Tuesday morning. Several are to attend from the Colorado church, he stated. "Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for the Every Member Canvass which is to be conducted by Texas and Southern Baptists late in November and early in December," Rev. Mr. O'Brien said.

The Colorado pastor is to deliver one of three scheduled principal addresses before the conference, speaking from the subject, "The Bible Background for Tithing." T. C. Gardner of Dallas, prominent in affairs of the State convention, will speak on "The Budget and How to Put On Every Member Canvass." Rev. P. C. McGahey of Snyder, will address the group on "Our Texas Baptist Program."

SWEETWATER, TOO, HAS "HOT" RADIO ANNOUNCER NOLAN NEWS INDICATES

Secretary Jim Greene of the Colorado chamber of commerce evidently is not the only West Texas radio speaker credited with ability to warm things up when he performs before the mike. A few days ago while Greene was delivering address on fire prevention week from studio of Y.L.D. Colorado, a building in South Colorado burst into flames and burned to the ground.

The Nolan County News, Sweetwater, informs its readers that fire broke out in studio of Station SWTX in the Macie Hotel the other day, inflicting painful injury to Harry Phelps, announcer, and the studio equipment.

RANCHER BELIEVES THE RECORD IS GOOD PAPER

SORGHUM GRAIN PRODUCED ON MITCHELL FARM HOLDS DISTINCT QUALITY RECORD

A. K. McCarley Continues To Win First Prize On Maize At State Texas Fair

Again, Mitchell county grown milo maize has stepped ahead to achieve the distinction of first quality in the State!

Specimens of the grain exhibited at the State Fair of Texas by A. K. McCarley and his daughter, Miss Blanche McCarley of Longfellow community were awarded first, second and third places in the fed maize division. These grains, produced and exhibited by McCarley, have won a number of distinctive prizes at the Dallas Fair, Fat Stock Show, Fort Worth, and the Mitchell County Fair.

Ten heads of the grain exhibited by Miss McCarley was awarded first place. An exhibit of one head entered by her was given third. McCarley was given second place for the division on an exhibit of ten heads. Ribbons, along with prize remittance checks, were received by the exhibitors Wednesday morning.

This marked the third time that McCarley had won first place at the State fair on his red maize. For two consecutive years he won the grand champion award. He exhibited his grain at the Fort Worth Fat Stock show two years ago and won grand champion award there.

KEY LIONS TO RECEIVE RECOGNITION TODAY ON SERVICE CLUB PROGRAM

Members of the Colorado Lions Club who have received the distinction of "Key" Lions are to be given special recognition in program to be given at meeting of the service organization Friday at noon.

There are eight of these Lions affiliated with the club, including C. L. Gray, B. L. Templeton, C. H. Earnest, E. V. Grantland, W. S. Cooper, Dr. D. G. Bridgford, J. Ralph Lee, and E. O. Elliott. Hyman Youth Writes That He And Other Recruits Are Pleased With Life In Camp

Earl Jackson of Hyman, one of the young men to recently be given employment in the government reforestation camp at Magdalena, N. M., writes The Record that he and the other recruits from this county are finding their work and camp environments most pleasing.

"There are a number of people in Mitchell county, including my own family, who read your paper regularly, and since they are interested in the work of us boys, I am taking the liberty of writing you, expecting to find the letter in print with the next issue," Earl states. "We have been given every consideration. On the train from Big Spring to Fort Bliss we boys were kindly treated. We spent a day at the fort and were made to realize that we were among friends. After spending one day at Fort Bliss we were entrained for Magdalena and were transported by trucks to our camp. "In traveling from the station to camp we traversed some beautiful country. For a time we were in a wide expanse of level plain; then were in towering mountains with heavy timbered sides and winding valleys in between. We passed over one point 9,000 feet above sea level and then dropped 1,000 feet into camp. "Our camp is situated in a picturesque part of New Mexico. Surrounding on all sides are hills rising to about 1,000 feet high. Due to higher mountains to the east we do not see the sun rise until about 8:30. We have a pet bear as our mascot. He was captured in a nearby canyon. We have a piano and radio in camp and both are kept on the go most of the time. "We boys would appreciate the courtesy if you would send us The Record."

TOTAL OF 16 LICENSES TO WED ISSUED DURING THE PAST DOZEN DAYS

The time-honored prophecy that a young man's fancy turns to love in the Springtime will apply to the Fall in equally as strong terms, according to B. L. Templeton, county clerk and custodian of the county marriage license bureau. During the twelve day period ending Wednesday a total of sixteen certificates to wed had been issued at his office.

Repeal of the Texas "Gin" law, making it mandatory for prospective brides and grooms to file application for license three days before obtaining the coveted certificate is attributed by Templeton as the big factor lending strong cooperation to Dan Cupid just now.

GINNERS OF COUNTY HAVE BOOSTED RECEIPTS ABOVE 10,000 BALES FOR YEAR

2,456 Bales Handed During Week; Cotton Prices Up Slightly Thursday

Mitchell county ginner Thursday noon reported 10,843 bales received from the 1933 crop, an increase of 2,456 for the week. Favorable weather continued to obtain in all communities of the county. Picking is well along toward end of the harvest in some localities.

Colorado reported 4,855 bales received; Loraine 4,171 bales, Buford, 1,083 bales, Westbrook 544 bales and Hyman 190 bales.

The Colorado seed market has remained unchanged during the week, and Thursday noon was quoted at $11 per ton. Cotton, however, advanced fifty cents during the seven days, selling at around $9.60, strict middling basis.

SINGING PROGRAM WILL BE GIVEN AT LORAIN

An old-fashioned "Fifth Sunday" singing program is to be given at the Loraine Baptist church Sunday, according to announcement received by The Record from W. O. Kinnison. Those directing plans for the affair cordially invite the public to attend. Singers are especially urged to be present and take part in the program.

HUBBARD ATTENDS AREA MEETING OF EMBALMERS

Loraine Club Girl Takes First Prize At Dallas Exhibit

Miss Lois Mearse, third-year club girl of Loraine, was the only Mitchell entry to win prize at annual 4-H Club exhibit during the State Fair of Texas. She was awarded first prize on lounging pajamas. Miss Mearse also won first place on her club dress, entered in annual county contest at Colorado last July.

Other club girls competing in the State Fair exhibits from Mitchell county were Misses Geneva Campbell of Buford and Irene Leach of Conaway. They entered canoes, foods, linens and clothing, along with histories and record books.

"BUY EARLY" CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED BY G-C ON EVE ANNUAL YULETIDE SEASON

Pageantry To Attend Arrival Of Santa Claus Dec. 2; Merchants Cooperate

Santa Claus is to pay Colorado another visit by airplane during the Yule season soon to open and will again swoop down from out of the Northern sky, as he did last Winter. Reception of the beloved patron will be attended by a colorful pageantry participated in by practically every merchant and shopkeeper in the city.

Such is the tentative program outlined at meeting held at the chamber of commerce Monday night. Several merchants pledged to cooperate with that organization and other agencies in making annual visit of Old Saint Nick to Colorado this year one of the most colorful and pleasant in history of the community. Santa is scheduled to arrive on December 2 for his first official inspection of holiday stocks to be on display in the stores.

Launching of a "Buy Early" campaign was result of the meeting. Purpose of the organization is to lend special importance to appeal that Christmas shopping be attended to early, before the usual last-day rush and the stocks have been picked over. Jim Greene, chamber of commerce secretary, was named general chairman.

Sub committees named include W. S. Cooper, W. E. Reid and L. D. Yates, publicity; J. Rirdan, Philip Berman and E. R. Bibby, fanatics; O. H. Majors, H. I. Berman and A. W. Taylor, unveiling, and Bob Hubbard, A. D. Kiker and Burt Crozier, Santa Claus.

Friday, November 17, was designated as Show Window Day and all cooperating merchants will be requested to employ special effort in decorating their show windows in attractive manner. After having been closed through the day, the windows are to be unveiled at 7:30 p. m. Stores are to remain open as usual, closing at the usual hour, but will reopen for the evening at 7:30 as the windows are brought into display.

"While detailed program for this occasion is yet tentative, we hope to have band concert and other attractions in the business district during the evening on which the show windows are unveiled," Greene stated. "We are confident that every merchant in Colorado will cooperate in making this pre-Christmas buying season one of the most successful we have ever known. We plan definitely to make the occasion of special interest to the youngsters. They will be in town that night expecting to receive inspiration from the true spirit of Christmas, and they shall not be disappointed."

Anticipating heavy demand for holiday merchandise local merchants have bought extensively in all lines represented. Much of this merchandise has been received at the stores and other shipments will be arriving regularly from all parts of the country. Display of the holiday stocks will be coming into vogue before passing of many days.

Two Prominent Young People Who Met At O. U. Four Years Ago Married Here

Romance that had its beginning on the campus of Oklahoma University at Norman four years ago came to a fitting climax here Saturday in Spring to Mr. Donald Wallace of Colorado. The nuptial rites were solemnized at home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wallace, East Ninth and Hickory streets, with Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist church, officiating.
Only immediate members of the family were privileged to witness the ceremony, said at 10 o'clock a. m. in well appointed parlors of this attractive home. Immediately following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace left by motor car for Arlington Downs to attend the races. They returned Tuesday evening and are at home to their friends at 933 Hickory street.

Mrs. Wallace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Eddy, popularly known family of this section of the West. During her college days at Oklahoma University she was most popular among the student body, having conspicuous parts in campus affairs and sorority organizations. She has visited in Colorado frequently and is popular among the local younger set.

Mr. Wallace, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wallace, attended high school at Colorado and four years ago matriculated at Oklahoma University, where he, too, was a popular student. His parents are among the outstanding citizens of the community. He is employed at Col-Tex refinery.

A series of receptions and other social affairs have been in order during the week at which the newly weds were honor guests. Climaxing these was the reception given on Wednesday evening at the Country Club by Mrs. Snyder and Wallace and attended by a large number of friends of the bride and groom. Guests report this one of the outstanding social events of the season.

Ladies Of Dorcas Circle Sponsor Tea Given At Home Of Mrs. Howell Tuesday

The Dorcas Circle of the W.M.U. of the Baptist church gave a silver tea at the home of Mrs. W. M. Howell Tuesday, October 17th from three until five o'clock.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Alexander O'Brien, Sadler, Mann, Lynch and Dawson with Miss Frances Williams at the register. As the guests registered they were invited into the dining room by Miss Frances Williams and Mrs. Cooper. Mrs. Craynes and Miss Wilma Barnett gave violin numbers.
Misses Frances Williams, Lena Smith, Belina Jean Hardestein, Mildred Walker, Marie O'Brien and Frances Rose Ratliff favored the group with readings.

The Circle made almost $12.00 on their tea and had a number of apples brought as the invitation asked, those being for Buckner Orphans Home.

Three Baptist Circles Meet During The Week

The Lucile Reagan Circle met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. L. Seal with nine members present. Mrs. Green Delaney presided and brought the devotional. During the business session the ladies worked on aprons and cup towels. Mrs. Terrell taught the lesson the Bible study. The hostess served pie and hot tea. Next meeting will be with Mrs. R. B. Terrell. This Circle changed the name to the TEL Circle.
The Lottie Moon Circle met at the home of Mrs. J. Lee Jones, with seven members present. Mrs. R. O. Fearson brought the devotional. Mrs. Lasky taught the lesson on the book of Galatians. Next meeting will be with Mrs. J. M. Green.

The Alice Bagby Smith Circle met at the church offices, with eight present. Mrs. Paul Cooper brought the devotional and Mrs. E. S. Hubbard presided. After the reports and business Mrs. Simon taught the lesson 1st, 2nd and 3rd John.

Presbyterians In Bible Study During Meeting

The Bible study class of the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Monday in the church parlors for their study in Psalms. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. Daugherty. The lesson was taught by Mrs. Elliott, the Nature Psalms being the topic.

Most of the women gave one of these beautiful Psalms from memory. The meeting closed with sentence prayers. Having missed a lesson in this study, the class will make it up next Monday which happens to be a fifth Monday.

Two Quilts Completed By TEL Class Members

The TEL class of the Baptist Sunday school met Thursday morning in the church and put up two quilts. Each of the twenty women brought a covered dish for the luncheon hour. The quilting progressed splendidly. At noon the lunch was served and by three o'clock the quilts were out. Mrs. C. H. Earnest and Mrs. Mills were guests and proved to be excellent quilters.
At 3:30 the regular monthly class meeting was held. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Lasky led in prayer.
It was decided to sell the quilts at $3.50 each, the money to go upon the church building fund. One was sold and the other is ready to keep someone warm this winter.

What we need is an automobile that is afraid of trains.

Madalynne Joyce Williams Honoree At Halloween Affair Given By Mrs. Evans

Thursday afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00, at 543 Locust, Mrs. Roy B. Evans, and Mrs. Mack Evans entertained with a Halloween party, the occasion being a surprise birthday party for their little niece, Madalynne Joyce Williams.
At the door, the little guests were welcomed into "The House of Spooks," by a weird-looking ghost, with a command to "Enter, and speak not a word."

Once inside, amidst yells and shrieks, the ghost presented each child with a Halloween cap and mask, then seated each guest in a circle on the floor, after they had hidden their gift in "The Witches Cave." When all were there, the ghost handed the honoree the box of gifts from the cave, which were opened, and passed around the circle. The gifts were lovely and made little Madalynne very happy.
Following this, the children engaged in a lively "Cracker Race," the winner being La Vada Barber, who won a bag of orange and black jelly beans wrapped in Halloween style. The "Apple Biting" contest was next, and caused much laughter and merriment. Lila Lee Manning won the prize in this game. The peak of the fun came, however, with the game "Pinning The Tail on the Cat." Mary Kinard, the winner was presented an enormous jointed black cat.

The rooms were in Halloween decorations of orange and black wall festoons, black cats, owls, witches and pumpkins. The children were next invited into the dining room, made spooky by dimmed lights and jack-o-lanterns. The five tables, with each place card, held in place by an apple, jack-o-lantern, encircled the campfire over which the old cauldron steeped the "witches brew."

When the children found their places, they opened their place cards and found a pumpkin jig-saw puzzle, which they put together while being served punch and cake. While seated at the tables, the children sang "Happy Birthday, and "The More We Get Together," and each child gave a toast to the honoree, or a reading.
Before leaving, each guest registered in the guest book, which was a big pumpkin face. Those who helped Madalynne Joyce celebrate her birthday were the following:
Devada Barber, Dana Marie Merritt, Harriet Ann Pritchett, Beulah Francis Robinson, Jonell Thorpe, Marie Womack, Lela Louise Manning, Marjorie Tidwell, Mary Louise Whiskey, Maggie Plaster, Mary Jane Kinard, Marion Britton, Inez Custer, Ruth Cooper, Mary Beth and Maxine Evans, Gene Wallace Manning, Yvonne Williamson.
The splendid little ghost when unveiled proved to be Agnes Cawthorn.

MRS. DONALD WALLACE IS HONORED AT BEAUTIFULLY APPOINTED SOCIAL AFFAIR

Mmes. R. J. Wallace And D. H. Snyder Entertain At Country Club

Wednesday afternoon from four to six o'clock, Mmes. D. H. Snyder and R. J. Wallace very beautifully entertained with a reception at the Country Club honoring Mrs. Don Wallace with a musical tea. Mrs. Wallace was married Saturday morning. During the evening members of the younger set enjoyed dancing and bridge.

The club rooms were decorated in Autumn leaves, floor baskets of Fall flowers with vases of roses and chrysanthemums upon the tables for both the afternoon reception and evening dance program.

Upon arrival for the afternoon affair guests were met at the door by Mrs. T. W. Stonerod who presented them to the receiving line, in which stood Mmes. Snyder, E. B. DuBois, Wallace and the honoree. Others included in the house party were Mmes. Joe B. Mills, Frank Kelley, A. B. Blanks, R. P. Fee, Dick Carter, John Deffebach, L. G. Mackey and Frank Mackey.

A most appreciated musical program was rendered under the direction of Mrs. C. A. Wilkins. Among local artists presented were Mmes. E. L. Latham, Walter Wilson, N. H. White, Peden Deter, Cecile Meskimen, Wilkins and Austin Bush.

Tea was poured in the dining room by Mmes. Lloyd Mackey, Frank Mackey, Kelley and Deffebach from a lace covered table, centered with a basket of yellow chrysanthemums. Cookies, candies and spiced tea were served. About 200 ladies called during reception hours.

For the evening program there were sixteen tables of bridge for ladies and gentlemen. High scores were won by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Nix who each received a deck of cards. Dancing was enjoyed following the bridge games. A delightful salad plate with sandwiches and coffee was served.

Mrs. H. B. Smott Hostess To Standard Club

The Standard Club met Friday with Mrs. H. B. Smott. The president, Mrs. Y. D. McMurry called the club to order. Roll call was answered with quotations from late writers.

After reading of the minutes, the leader, Mrs. J. E. Pond conducted the lesson on Henry Eighth, act one, scene four. A very interesting paper "Henry's Wives," was given by Mrs. Smott. Sir Thomas Moore by Mrs. Terrell was equally interesting.
Those present were Mmes. Adams, Roy Buchanan, J. A. Buchanan, Pond, McMurry, Smott, Sherwin, Way and Terrell. Mrs. Gary was still ill and unable to attend.
At the social hour the leaders were invited into the dining room where a delicious luncheon was served. The table was centered with a bowl of yellow and white corsages resting on a silver tray on which were clusters of grapes which were served the guests.
The next meeting is with Mrs. Terrell.

Young People Attend District Meeting

The Sweetwater young people held a union meeting Thursday evening in Rosee with fourteen young people from Colorado. Miss Marie Givvin arranged the program. Miss Lillian Bean gave the devotional on Ruth and Naomi. Paul Kniff sang. A business session then a social hour was enjoyed.

News of Club Girls And Women

BY MISS EMMA GUNTER
Home Demonstration Agent

Visits are being made by friends and co-workers this week to see the pantry or storage place of Mrs. Geo. Vanzandt. This year on account of drought the quantity of canning that has been done will not compare with last year but what each person has canned will surely be worth all the cost and trouble it took to can it. Mrs. Vanzandt has more than filled her goal on corn and peas. However fruit and tomatoes are almost lacking. She will be able to exchange dried peas for dried pinto beans. With her dried butter beans and dried cream peas she will have her dried vegetables in sufficient amounts to last one year. Cashaws, and pumpkins and gubbers are also in Mrs. Vanzandt's storage.

The Hyman club will have open house also for Mrs. Carl Lowry to show what she with the cooperation of her husband has done to improve their bedroom. Mrs. Lowry has been able to improve her room at a cost around $10.00 and from the appearance of it I feel sure she has not wasted her money. Besides making a new closet, fishing woodwork and floor, papering walls, she has worked on better bedding, buying a mattress protector, bed spread, new curtains and shades and place rugs, have also been purchased. Of course Mrs. Lowry has not been able to complete her improvement; 100 percent but it is hoped that this year will not end her demonstration but that she will continue to improve.

The Home Demonstration Club met in regular session their last meeting and elected officers for 1934. Iatan and Plainview have reported the result of their elections, the other clubs not reporting as yet. The programs for November will still be on the 4-H Pantry, taking up for special study canned chicken and canned fish. A demonstration will be given on sticking and dry picking of chickens for marketing purposes.

Three clubs will set up educational exhibits in store windows in Colorado during the next week, bringing out points that have been studied during the year work. A fourth exhibit will be placed later in November on gifts from the farm or the 4-H Pantry.

WORLD WAR

BY "YARNS"
LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

"N. G."

The patronizing attitude toward the National Guard by the regular army is as old as the history of this republic. It cropped up from time to time during the World war, even though National Guard outfits, fused into the A. E. F., repeatedly proved that it was justified. A typical illustration of this ancient prejudice is told by William Shinnick, a lieutenant of infantry then, now writer of financial news on the Chicago Tribune under the name of "Scrutator." He says:

"I was at a town about seven miles behind Chateau-Thierry with Regimental Ordnance Sergeant Gammon, an old-timer in the regular army, of the Fourth Infantry.

"While we waited near a ration dump where scores of mess sergeants had gathered, a German aviator dived down toward us, spraying the surrounding countryside generously with machine gun bullets.

"Every soldier there grabbed rifle and pistol and blazed away at the hostile aviator. One man so far forgot himself as to snatch the pin from a hand grenade and hurl it into the air at the flying plane. He missed of course. It was only by good fortune that none of us were wounded by the exploding grenade. Sergeant Gammon grabbed me as the grenade burst.

"Did you see that?" he exclaimed. "It's terrible. It's a wonder we aren't all killed by that d--d grenade." Then he glared at me.

"It's what comes, Lieutenant," said Sergeant Gammon, "of letting these National Guardsmen into the army."

WORLD WAR

BY "YARNS"
LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

The Passing of a Sea Power

Exactly ten days after the Armistice, the Germany navy surrendered. Sailors aboard the New York, Texas, Wyoming, Arkansas and Florida (the Sixth Battle Squadron) on November 21, 1918, participated in the surrender.

The five American battleships were in what was known as the red line of two groups which maneuvered into position so that a highway of victory was formed down which the German vessels steamed to lower their colors at sunset.

Directly ahead of the American ships that day was the British Fifth Squadron. The British destroyer Cardiff went ahead to pick up the German vessels. This it did and the long black forms of the enemy boats were first sighted by the allied fleet shortly after nine o'clock. It was an impressive sight as the German fleet, led by the Seidlitz, Moltke and Hindenburg, passed by. The Allied vessels were in complete silence. Every man was at his post. Every gun was manned.

The lines closed in behind the fleet which had passed in surrender. A band aboard Admiral Beatty's flagship, the Queen Elizabeth, played "The Star Spangled Banner." A second band, on Admiral Rodman's flagship, played "Hail to the Chief." German sea power was no more.

Baptist General Convention Opens Ft. Worth Nov. 7th

DALLAS, Texas.—The Baptist General Convention of Texas which will hold its eighty-fifth annual session at Fort Worth beginning November 7th, will this year celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the beginning of Baptist work in Texas. The convention program will give large space to "Our Century of Progress," and will present the story of the first Baptist organization in Texas. This church was organized in Illinois and moved to Texas as a unit, crossing the Sabine river in November 1883.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, General Secretary of the convention, announces that Texas Baptist will celebrate their "Century of Progress" with a great mission offering amounting to $134,000.00. Some $50,000.00 of this fund has already been paid in, and Dr. Williams expressed himself as being very hopeful that Texas Baptists would raise the remaining $85,000.00 within the next two weeks.

During this Fall Texas Baptists have held 107 associational meetings all over Texas, with record attendance in almost every instance, demonstrating the progress of the past century. When the first organized group of Baptists came into Texas one hundred years ago, there were less than fifty Baptists in the State.

At this time there are more than five hundred thousand Baptists, and a total of more than a million of all races according to Dr. Williams. At the Fort Worth meeting, representatives from various mission fields will speak of the work Baptists are doing there, and the convention will receive reports from the work of Baptists all over the world. More than five thousand visitors are expected to attend the convention.

COTTON OPENS SLOWLY IN THE CUTHBERT AREA

Cotton is opening slowly in Northwest Mitchell county, according to W. E. Burrus who was in Colorado Monday from his home a few miles north of Cuthbert. Mr. Burrus stated that with small exception the crop there only began to open during the past few days. He had gathered his second bale when here.

MARVIN MAJORS GUEST ANNOUNCER FOR CLUB

Sunday morning at the usual time, 8:30 o'clock, the Scribblers club will be on air, over Station YLD. If you like good old Irish stories, do not fail to listen-in. You have no doubt heard of the high tempered Irish and some of the troubles they get into. Well, that is just a tiny part of the program on the Scribblers half hour Sunday morning. The story will give you a few facts about an Irish boy who is in love with a most beautiful Irish girl who is very "conventional." You just can't afford to miss this broadcast. Then too, there will be some of those beautiful Irish songs. You know, "My Wild Irish Rose," "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and many others. The Scribblers have endeavored to obtain the best talent for these songs possible.

The artists: Mrs. Vick Harrison Blanks, reading an original story, "The Irish versus Convention." Mrs. C. A. Wilkins singing good old Irish songs.

Marvin L. Majors, guest announcer.

WORLD WAR BY "YARNS" LIEUT. FRANK E. HAGAN

Victim of "Ol' Debbil Sea"
District of Columbia troops of the hard fighting Fort-second division (Rainbow), are fond of relating an incident which occurred while they were on the way to France aboard the Covington, a transport boat which later was sunk by the Germans during a return voyage to America.

Just as with other troops who listened to the "You can't stand here, soldier" of the high seas, men of the Rainbow were ordered to stand by in "gunboat slip" drills at least twice a day, at odd hours.

At such times, the soldiers must appear at their allotted stations on deck with the regulation "full pack" as described in army regulations.

Private Henry Buffington, one of those typically fine fighting men, whose home was in an outlying section of Oklahoma, was caught at a disadvantage one day when the alarm sounded. Hurrying frantically, he appeared at his station minus a hat.

All the other soldiers were dressed properly so Buffington was singled out at once by Major Bryson, a stern disciplinarian. In his best military manner, the Major demanded:

"Private Buffington, where is your hat?"

Instantly, the soldier spun around, clicked his heels smartly together, raised his hand smartly in salute and replied:

"Sir, I'm sorry, but it blew off into the crick."

LEGIONNAIRES TO GO TO SNYDER NOVEMBER 4 AND 5

A program that includes such notable as Lieutenant Governor Edgar E. Witt, and entertainment that includes football, boxing, horse racing, dancing and feeds, has already been arranged for the 18th District American Legion convention, which convenes in Snyder November 4 and 5.

Although Snyder is the smallest city that has ever entertained the veterans of this prodigious district, Commander Lee T. Etinson and other members of the local post declare that it will be one of the hottest sessions on the records. All Snyder is making plans to parade, to decorate, to entertain and to perform in order that her guests might go home pleased.

Among Legion notables who are making plans to be present for the two-day session are: L. Van Perkins of Cameron, department commander; George E. Hughes of Austin, department adjutant; A. Garland Adair of McCombe, department historian; George E. Broome of Amarillo, alternate national committeeman; M. J. Benefield of Brady fifth division commander; G. O. Spear of Childress, 18th District executive committeeman.

Since Snyder is on the extreme southern tip of the district, many legionnaires are planning to attend from adjoining districts. The host city is not far from the center of West Texas, 80 miles from Lubbock and Abilene, 40 miles from Sweetwater, 65 miles from Big Spring,

Renew Your Health By Purification

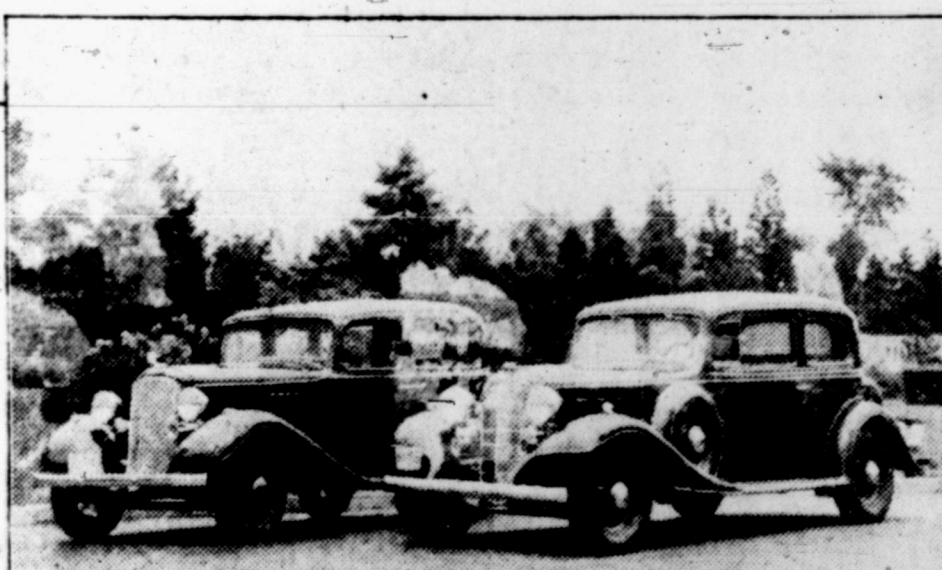

Any physician will tell you that "Perfect Purification of the System is Nature's Foundation of Perfect Health." Why not rid yourself of chronic ailments that are undermining your vitality? Purify your entire system by taking a thorough course of Calotabs, once or twice a week for several weeks--and see how Nature rewards you with health.

Calotabs purify the blood by activating the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels. In 10, 25, and 35 ct. packages. All dealers. (A-2)

120 miles from San Angelo. Three state highways and one national highway meet here, and the S. P. and R. S. & P. railroads traverse the city limits.

People want to buy Buicks and Pontiacs

Do you want to Sell them?

PONTIAC is the fastest-selling Straight Eight in the world today--and the leading car in its entire price class. Buyers all over the United States are turning to Pontiac in numbers that assure a good substantial market in any territory where a capable dealership is established.

Buick is outselling all other eights priced above $1,000, combined! Buick, for years, has been the most popular car in the medium-price field--it is a car backed by a 29-year reputation for value second to none in the whole automobile field.

We want a good business man to sell and service these two popular cars right here in this city! This is a real opportunity for the right man to establish himself in a pleasant and profitable business with a reasonable amount of capital.

Previous automotive experience is not essential--the man we want may be engaged in any line of business. We ask only that he have a reputation for fair and honest dealing among his friends and neighbors... an ability to sell and organize the sales abilities of others... and a strong desire to build up a live and aggressive Buick-Pontiac dealership. And, naturally, we want a man who has the ability to render the type of service that will help every Buick and Pontiac owner to get the most pleasure, satisfaction and economy out of his car.

If you have reason to believe that you are the man we want, write or wire us at once for complete information. We shall be glad to tell you all about the Buick-Pontiac franchise. Address--

Sunshine, Fresh Air And Exercise Urged As Health-Giving Factors By Dr. Root

In another series of his radio addresses on health, Dr. C. L. Root Sunday afternoon spoke on the subject, "What the People Should Know About Sunshine, Fresh Air, Exercise and Rest." The address was from studio of Station WLD, Colorado. Full text follows:

Friends of Radioland: I am going to talk to you this afternoon on "What the People Should Know About Sunshine, Fresh Air, Exercise and Rest." So important do I deem this subject that I am going to dedicate this message to Charles L. Root, Jr., Maxine and Julia Mae—my son and two daughters—who are students in the State University. They will read this address, I hope, in the Colorado Record, which goes to them each week.

It is exceedingly strange that people born with love for life and a dread of death, with a desire to live to a ripe old age and with a horror of becoming disabled or invalid, pay so little attention to Nature's beautiful gifts most conducive to health and longevity. Before God made man He made the earth a suitable place for his dwelling. When Adam first stepped on the scene, Old Sol had already been stationed in the firmament of the heavens and was pouring his sunshine down on mother earth in the Garden of Eden. A fresher, purer air enveloped the earth than ever again since his day. In the garden was every kind of fruit tree that was pleasant to the sight and good for food, and a river went out of Eden to water the garden. Then Adam was placed in the garden to dress it and keep it. And in order to make things more ideal the Lord caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam and while he slept the Lord did an operation, removing one of his ribs and then closing up the wound. Made Grandma her Eve out of the rib he had removed. So a surgical operation under general anesthesia is not so new a thing as you may think.

For Adam and Eve it was sunshine, fresh air, all kinds of fruits and the crowing factor of exercise obtained in the care and upkeep of the garden—just such things as really make life worth living. What combination of health factors could be more ideal to health scientists of today? Surely, however, the conditions for our first parents were God's ideals for these progenitors of the race would be still living today had they not disobeyed a divine injunction. And if Grandfather Adam carried a supply of aspirin tablets and pink pills for pale people in his vest pocket as if Grandmother Eve and Black Draught no mention is kept tanked up on Wine of Cardui made of it in the scriptures.

The sun is the great central dynamo of our solar system. It is estimated to be about one million times as large as the earth and about nine hundred million miles away. It is estimated by scientists that the temperature of the sun is about 11,000 degrees Fahrenheit. The sun is the principal source of light and energy for our earth. Science claims that only about one billionth of our light and energy comes from the stars. If the sun were cold and omitted no light and heat there would be no life upon our earth. Both plants and animals require a certain degree of warmth in order to live. Furthermore, plants require light as well as heat in order to exist. Under the action of heat and light plants gather up carbon from the atmosphere and build it into their tissues in the form of starch, cellulose and sugar. Activated by the actinic rays of sunshine the human body builds into its bones, muscles, blood and sinew, the different elements taken in as food and by so doing the body in childhood and youth grows and at all ages tissue waste is repaired and necessary heat and energy are supplied. Those of you who have studied physics have learned something about the spectrum. When a beam of sunshine is allowed to shine through a piece of cut glass—prism shaped—it is divided into 7 different and distinct colors: red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. The rainbow, so often seen in the sky, is an example of this. On one side of this spectral band of colors you notice red; on the other side violet, while the other 5 colors are between these. This means that the light from the sun is a very complex thing, and not simple at all. It is similar to sound vibrations or radio vibrations, but the light is composed of energy vibrations of different lengths. The red zone of the spectral band is the longest wave length vibrations that registers on the eye and the violet the shortest wave length vibrations that registers on the eye. But these different wave length vibrations of the spectral band do not represent all the different wave lengths of the sunlight at all. They represent only the ones that register on the retina of the eye. The ones longer than the red not registering is called infra red, while the vibrations too short to register on the eye are called ultra violet rays, i.e., the ultra violet rays also the infra red rays are invisible—never seen. It has been found, experimentally, that the very short wave length of energy vibrations of the sunlight have practically no penetration power. This ultra violet portion—non visible—of the sunlight is only about 2 per cent of the sun's energy. But when we consider 2 per cent of such incalculable quantity as the sun's light and energy we realize we are dealing with no little amount. Many doctors now have in their offices scientifically constructed machines for producing ultra-violet rays. These machines have come to stay because they have proven themselves of unquestionable benefit in the treatment of many diseases. In fact, the good results obtained from the ultra-violet ray treatment with these machines have stimulated a greater interest in the study of the beneficial effect, on the body in both health and disease of the ultra-violet rays of sunshine. It is just as natural for men to crave sunshine as it is to crave pure water, fresh air, and exercise. Without a source of supply for either of these cravings one's body would soon become worthless encased and life itself a despoiled burden. No artificial source of light is comparable to the sun, in either relative intensity or the nature of the rays emitted. Chemists have been trying for a thousand years to make honey as that made by the honey bee; they have been trying for an hundred years to make an artificial butter like is produced by the old fashion cow and churn dasher. They call it oleomargarine, very similar to butter, but it is not butter.

Chemists have been trying for about 100 years to make an artificial baby food as safe and wholesome for the baby as his mother's milk. They have failed and their failure has cost the lives of a million babies. It is a known fact that men make good moonshine, but they fall far short on making sunshine as well as honey, butter and baby food.

If there were needed anything better than sunshine for humanity, God would have made it. 'Tis the ultra-violet rays in the sunshine which prevent and assist in the cure of rickets in children by bringing about a deposit of calcium and phosphorus in the bones and teeth. Its ultra-violet rays in the sunshine that should be absorbed by the bare skin of children, tanning the skin and stimulating in some unknown way digestion, metabolism, the blood making organs and resistance to diseases.

It is sunshine—the location where the greatest number of sunny days in the year can be found—that the tuberculous patient needs with his fresh air and regulated exercise. It is the ultra-violet rays of sunshine that the pale anemic patient needs to tan his skin and stimulate his blood making centers to more vigorous functioning. Without sufficient sunlight the body growth is interfered with and the blood becomes pale. It has been proved that animals, in a fixed time, breathe in more oxygen and breathe out more carbon dioxide while in the light than they do in darkness. This is due to the effect of the light indirectly on the brain. The light effects the nerves of the eyes and these impulses are carried to the brain where the center of respiration is stimulated. It has been observed by different students of the effects of light that the health and strength of those suffer who habitually get up many hours after the sun, and live in artificial light many hours after the sun has gone down. Children and adults, especially children, should be out in the open sunshine every day there is sunshine. Remember that almost any clothing, however thin, also window glass of any kind, screens out the very part of the rays most needed (the ultra-violet rays.) Just remember, the naked sunshine to the naked skin is the need. The ultra violet rays from the sun are stronger from ten in the morning to two in the afternoon, and are much stronger than in the winter. No doubt the people of our city and surrounding territory, because they have never lived elsewhere, are not capable of appreciating the pure, unadulterated sunshine we have throughout the most of the year. In many large cities where factories, shops, plants, etc., are lo-ated and where coal is burned for fuel in such plants the smoke from cutting out the light of the sun, add even a greater per cent of the sunlight's ultra violet rays, become of much consequence. To this condition in certain places is added the factor of a great humidity in the atmosphere—added to these perhaps a heavy fog—and the sunlight reaching the earth is lessened almost 50 per cent. It is very obvious that all the inhabitants of such cities would move to West Texas if they only knew about it.

FRESH AIR: A few years ago I was in Chicago when that city had on a Fresh Air campaign. Many large electric signs that could be read a mile away were flashing such slogans, "Don't be afraid of night air." "Night air is not poisonous." "Night air and day air is just the same." "Too much fresh air is just enough." Men were making speeches, bands playing, trying to get the attention and teach a city of three and one half million people an important health lesson. Perhaps the memory of that campaign is my urge or incentive to speak of the need of fresh air on this occasion.

The composition of pure, fresh air is about 78 percent nitrogen, about 21 percent oxygen, and .04% of carbon dioxide and a small amount of water vapor, which varies greatly. Its physical properties include temperature and relative humidity. The temperature of the air, of course, varies with the climatic changes, ranging in this locality from 7 or 8 degrees below zero in the winter to 108 to 110 in the summer.

WHAT ARE THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE AIR WE BREATHE?

It should contain sufficient amount of oxygen, a sufficient amount of moisture, a temperature neither too hot nor too cold. It should be free from dust and dirt, smoke, fumes from stoves, furnaces and etc., and be free from excessive amount of carbon dioxide and poisonous organic substances exhaled from the lungs, as well as be free from contamination by odors given off from the body and clothing of those not as clean as they should be. The humidity—that is the invisible moisture in the air should be kept somewhere between 50 percent and 80 percent relative humidity.

Wine Air Damages

What is thought to be the first damage suit on record between owners of two airplanes crashing into a car has been won by L. M. Crannell of Dallas, pictured above. Testimony showed that Crannell's plane, and that piloted by A. V. Cox collided fifty feet above Love Field, when Cox went into a steep climb, crashing into Crannell's plane. The plaintiff received a judgment of $1,500.

Irony of War

Four stalwart sons of an elderly French couple who lived in a province of France adjacent to both Belgium and Luxembourg, were called to the colors by French authorities at the outbreak of the World War. For four years not a word was heard of any son by the parents. They properly had been occupied by the Germans after the first big push. Then came the Armistice.

Two of the sons, survivors of four years of fighting, were granted immediate leave, by the French because their parents were in territory that had been occupied. They started at once for home. At the same time the other two sons, who had been made prisoner in their first battle, were liberated from a German prison camp and began the journey to northern France.

The four boys arrived home the same day for a joyful reunion with their aged parents. Two of the boys had been through four years of almost continual battle; the other pair had survived the lack of nourishment inevitable to prison life. Yet, despite the vicissitudes they had borne, each of the four was square of shoulder, clear of eye. Each appeared fit to resume his life where he had laid it down in 1914.

And it is one of the horrible ironies of war that on the same day four boys returned, searched for, and taken away. For suddenly, with the reunion at its height, she had gone missing.

Such Taking Ways!

If some one says to you, "Why that fellow would steal a red-hot stove if you didn't watch him?" you'd probably laugh at that as a pleasant bit of exaggeration because it's obvious that no one could ever do that. But a captain of the Judge Advocate's court in our sector of France is the authority for this story:

"It happened during the recent cold spell when some of our troops were traveling from the seaboard to the interior. They traveled in semi-open horse cars and it was cold, d-d cold! One train stopped in front of a small railroad station and six soldiers with cold hands and feet jumped from the car and entered the waiting room.

"In the center of the room was a large square coal stove with red-hot sides. There was a whispered conference. Then one man stood on another's shoulders and disjuncted the stovepipe. At the same time two others placed poles under the bottom of the stove, lifted it off the floor and walked out of the room with it. They placed it in the horse car, stuck the pipe out of one door and were warm for the remainder of the trip. Of course, the French authorities raised a big row about it and presented a bill for 400 francs for the stove and the coal in it. When the commanding officer heard the story he ordered the bill paid without a murmur. He said it was worth every cent of it—for American soldiers to prove that you could steal a red-hot stove and get away with it.

A Hoodoo That Wasn't

If you are one of those timorous individuals who believe that the number 13 is a jinx, talk to a former member of one evacuation hospital unit which served over there. He will tell you that there's absolutely nothing to that superstition at all. If there had been, not one of the men who served with Evacuation Hospital No. 13 would ever have come home. That number alone would have been enough to prove their undoing, not to mention the other ways in which 13 figured in the history of that outfit. Here is what Jack R. C. Cunn, a former member, now a Michigan newspaper man, has to say about it:

"Evacuation Hospital 13 was organized by order of the War Department and came into being January 13, 1918. The first promotions were 13 privates to privates first class. We boarded ship at Newport News on the night of July 13, 1918 and took 35 days and 14 nights to cross to Brest. Thirteen ran so persistently through our company history that we began purposely contriving to evolve new situations in which the figures appeared—such as placing 13 tents in a row, and so forth.

"In January, 1919, we went 'on tour' in Luxembourg with a company vaudeville show which we called the 'Jinx Chasers.' With our drivers we had 13 in the company and showed in many outlying towns, in Berdorf, Luxembourg, using the porch of the hotel as a stage with the headlights of two ambulances as spotlights.

Sunshine, Fresh Air—

It is unquestionable that the greatest fault that could be found with the air we usually breathe in this country, within days in the winter time, is that it is too dry. This irritates the mucous membranes of the upper portion of the respiratory tract, i. e., the nasal passages, the pharynx, the larynx and their contained organs—the tonsils, vocal chords. This irritation is no doubt responsible for many "colds," coughs, slight temperatures and feelings of malaise.

Every room where people live or congregate, in the winter time especially, should be supplied with a thermometer, and some device for conveying water into steam by which the relative humidity of the air to be breathed may be kept within fair limits. As for your sleeping apartments, a stove or other heating contrivance should have no place. A heavy blanket, plenty quilts and blankets to keep your body warm, let in lots of outside air, and whether the mercury of the thermometer registers up in the attic or down in the cellar let it be the least of your worries.

It is not only our lungs, blood and other internal tissues that need fresh air, but our entire body surface as well. Everyone, time and again, has experienced the pleasant, invigorating, refreshing sensation that comes at once upon stepping from a stuffy room out into the open air. The skin, hair and nails when exposed to vitiated air for sometime soon lose their health luster and normal appearance, and the skin becomes swathed, the hair and nails dead like, and brittle. The only way to get plenty of fresh air is to live in it, sit in it, eat in it, exercise in it, sleep in it—stay in it day and night.

The air outside of doors, especially in this country, is practically always good and wholesome—suitable for breathing. The air on the inside of buildings such as homes, offices, school rooms, church auditoriums, picture shows et cetera, especially in the winter time, may become unhealthful, unless ventilation, the temperature and the humidity are properly regulated. The temperature should be from 68 to 70, and such temperature should be maintained with windows slightly open at top and bottom to allow movements and change in the air volume. The humidity of the air, i. e., the quantity of moisture it contains should be a relative humidity of from 50 to 80 percent.

Only one of nature's gifts is better than sunshine and that is the gift of fresh air. Fresh air and sunshine together is nature's gift supreme. 'Tis like the saving grace of the gospel—boundless and free. The poet has said, "God never made for the poor a thinner atmosphere or a paler sky."

Exercise and rest are relative terms, and one is just as essential to the welfare and physical fitness of the human body as the other. Some peoples, occupation and daily tasks furnish sufficient exercise for their health and vigor, while others do not. In this stage of advanced civilization occupations and professions have become so specialized that there is an increasing number of people who get but very little physical exercise in the performance of their daily work. This class must necessarily take an additional exercise for health's sake in order to keep the muscles, ligaments and tendons of the body at par in tone and flexibility. The value of well regulated exercise may be summarized:

1st. It burns out old tissue cells and replaces in their stead new. Every movement we make causes the destruction of certain body cells. Nature replaces all such normal waste and usually adds a little more than was destroyed. This is well demonstrated by the development of the blacksmith's arms and the runner's legs. 2nd. Exercise accelerates the heart action and thus pumps an extra amount of blood into the tissues. 3rd. It brings about deep breathing and thus opens up air cells in the lungs which have been collapsed and stick together, perhaps for weeks or months—a condition known as atelectasis. 4th. It builds up endurance and toughens the tissues. 5th. In the middle aged and old aged, exercise acts as a barrier to that condition called by the elite class, adiposity, called by the mediocre class, corpulency; called by the common herd, belly fat. Different classes, as to age, should choose different exercises. It is very obvious that the class of exercises suitable for the young, muscular man of 20 years may be too strenuous for the feeble man of 60.

For youth such exercises as bicycling, swimming, foot racing, wrestling, boxing, tennis, baseball and football afford ample expenditure and lay out of energy to keep the body strong, supple and physically fit. It should not be left unaided that every youth—male or female—should have a thorough physical examination by a physician before embarking on any strenuous physical exercise "try-out." One's heart may be faulty and under the ordinary stress and strains of life no ill effects have ever been felt but under strenuous physical strain the heart may break down entirely and death ensue or it may dilate and leave the unfortunate victim a heart cripple—a semi invalid for life.

For the middle-aged (45 years and older) such exercises as bowling, horseback riding, golf, croquet and walking furnish good exercise, and these entail no special danger to the heart—whether it be crippled or not. For the old, "Back to nature." Give them the care of a garden, the care of flowers and shrubbery. Have them plant seed in the ground and watch for its coming up. If they like it, give them turkey and chickens to care for and raise. This gives them exercise and furthermore keeps them out in the open air. They will like it, though old, they still have a real interest in such things of life. 'Tis not strange that when old age has overtaken us we naturally revert to a love for tilling the earth, planting seed, dressing the vine, etc. It is instinct inherited from primeval days.

Exercise should not be taken in less than 3 hours after a heavy meal, and a meal should not be taken less than one hour after exercise. Exercises are more beneficial when taken in the open air because there is more oxygen in the open air than in the air indoors. Exercises should always be terminated before one is tired out. To play a game or to do any kind of exercise until your strength begins to wane and you have a feeling of exhaustion the purpose and object of the exercise has been defeated and you've done your body more harm than good. Horseback riding is a good form of exercise, and is especially good for one having gastro-intestinal disorders. The rhythmic vibration which the gate of the horse imparts to the rider's body seems to benefit in some way some of the internal organs in certain diseased conditions.

Walking is one of the simplest of the outdoor exercises. It may be taken by practically everybody, and if properly supervised may be of benefit to those suffering of some disease of the vital organs. This is one form of exercise that can be taken in any season of the year—good in the summer, good in the autumn, good in the winter and good in the spring. Specialists in health problems claim that for the average person, in good health, a walk of from 3 to 5 miles daily, at the rate of 3 miles per hour is about the proper assignment.

Rest and relaxation are just as vital to one's body welfare, physical fitness and lasting ability, as sunshine, fresh air and exercise. The human heart is a marvel in the amount of actual work it does. By the time a man is 50 years old his heart has beat more than 31 million times and has done enough work to raise 6,000 pounds to a height of one mile. By the time he is 80 years old it has beat at over 50 million times and has done enough work to raise 10,000 pounds one mile high. This wonderful endurance and power of the heart, physiologists tell us is due to the fact that following each systole or contraction, the heart takes a short pause of absolute rest, during which time it builds itself up to a point of physical fitness for the following contraction. If people would just learn the lesson of work and rest—work and rest—for the tired muscles, rest for the tired nerves, rest for the tired mind and rest for the tired soul, so much better off they'd be.

When you lock your places of business—your shops, stores, offices, etc., at evening, leave business cares and worries on the inside of the door and then find some way, somehow for two hours of complete relaxation and rest. Then two hours after eating a light supper, retire to bed and stay there eight hours—sleep or no sleep—for relaxation and rest.

If you are middle-aged or older, after your noon meal retire to some suitable place and recline—without reading, and without thinking if possible, for one solid hour of "Blest repose," and let the world go by. Now I'm wondering if those of my clientele who are listening in this afternoon are actually giving credit to the things I've mentioned as being paramount factors in the support of health, physical fitness and longevity or whether they are weeks or months—a condition known as atelectasis.

Horseback riding is a good form of exercise, and is especially good for one having gastro-intestinal disorders. The rhythmic vibration which the gate of the horse imparts to the rider's body seems to benefit in some way some of the internal organs in certain diseased conditions.

Walking is one of the simplest of the outdoor exercises. It may be taken by practically everybody, and if properly supervised may be of benefit to those suffering of some disease of the vital organs. This is one form of exercise that can be taken in any season of the year—good in the summer, good in the autumn, good in the winter and good in the spring. Specialists in health problems claim that for the average person, in good health, a walk of from 3 to 5 miles daily, at the rate of 3 miles per hour is about the proper assignment.

Rest and relaxation are just as vital to one's body welfare, physical fitness and lasting ability, as sunshine, fresh air and exercise. The human heart is a marvel in the amount of actual work it does. By the time a man is 50 years old his heart has beat more than 31 million times and has done enough work to raise 6,000 pounds to a height of one mile. By the time he is 80 years old it has beat at over 50 million times and has done enough work to raise 10,000 pounds one mile high. This wonderful endurance and power of the heart, physiologists tell us is due to the fact that following each systole or contraction, the heart takes a short pause of absolute rest, during which time it builds itself up to a point of physical fitness for the following contraction. If people would just learn the lesson of work and rest—work and rest—for the tired muscles, rest for the tired nerves, rest for the tired mind and rest for the tired soul, so much better off they'd be.

When you lock your places of business—your shops, stores, offices, etc., at evening, leave business cares and worries on the inside of the door and then find some way, somehow for two hours of complete relaxation and rest. Then two hours after eating a light supper, retire to bed and stay there eight hours—sleep or no sleep—for relaxation and rest.

If you are middle-aged or older, after your noon meal retire to some suitable place and recline—without reading, and without thinking if possible, for one solid hour of "Blest repose," and let the world go by. Now I'm wondering if those of my clientele who are listening in this afternoon are actually giving credit to the things I've mentioned as being paramount factors in the support of health, physical fitness and longevity or whether they are

First Fighters on French Soil Company K of the Twenty-eighth Infantry has the distinction of being the first organization of the First division, the first combat troops of the A. E. F. to set foot on French soil. The First division sailed from New York on June 14, 1917, and the Twenty-eighth Infantry and the Sixteenth Infantry landed at St. Nazaire on June 26. Inadequate landing facilities held the other units of the division on board. The Twenty-sixth Infantry landed June 27, Field Hospital No. 18 and Ambulance company No. 13 on June 28.

To the Sixteenth Infantry belongs the distinction of being the first American combat unit of the A. E. F. to go into action and to give the first lives sacrificed. In a raid by the Germans at three o'clock on the morning of November 8, Company F of the Sixteenth Infantry, led by Capt. James B. Gresham of Evansville, Ind., Private Thomas F. Bright of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Private Merle D. Hay of Glidden, Pa. These three head the First division's roll of honor, a roll totaling 22,688 casualties.

"Courage, dash and victory is the First division's record," says the War Department. "It was the first division to reach France, the first to engage in trench warfare, first to fire a hostile shell, first to lose a man, first to capture a prisoner, first to repel a German raid, first to man any independent sector and first to capture a town (Caucigny) and hold it against all counter attacks."

A Joke on the President For sturdy hospitality, for unfailing courtesy, the honors must be awarded to men and women of Brittany.

They were the representatives of France who greeted President Wilson with a typically Gallic welcome in the salle de reception on Pier 3, at Brest. For days before Wilson's arrival the enthusiastic Bretons made ready for his coming. Only one detail was lacking as the big moment drew near—they needed a special emblem to display which would be of peculiar significance to the President.

"Is there not something by which Monsieur Le Presidente sets great store?" they asked. "Sure," remarked a Yank stevedore working at the pier. "Show the President an elephant of some kind—it's the emblem of his political party." The only elephant, or picture of one, in Brest was owned by the consul of Siam, the Bretons learned. That official was overjoyed to lend a flag of his native land. It presented a white elephant with gleaming tusks.

So the flag of Siam was hung in the salle de reception of Pier 3. The courteous Bretons smiled. They were ready to acclaim the President as one of their allies. Nothing was lacking to make the affair a huge success. President Wilson was smiling, too, when he arrived. He walked into the reception room and the first thing he saw, in welcome, was the Siamese emblem. Also the emblem of the G. O. P. (© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

Highly Colored, if True Most of the stories attributed to negro troops in the World War are difficult to trace to their source but it may be taken for granted that they will increase in volume as the years roll by.

L. C. Hines, a veteran of the Rain-how division, says that while waiting for orders to move forward for an expected attack he noticed a tall negro soldier walking his post in the most approved military manner.

Attracted by the man's neat appearance and soldierly bearing, Hines ventured: "Well, big boy, you look as if you could stop a whole German regiment."

Looking worried for a moment the soldier paused and then replied: "Stop 'em? H—ll I'm givin to noify ev'body in France dey's comin'!" It can be taken for granted that if the soldier in question made good on his threat he is the central figure in another negro yarn about the colored infantryman who decided he would get away from the fighting.

After hours and hours of night, so the story has it, the negro was halted by an officer, and was questioned about his actions.

Suddenly the negro asked: "An' who is you to be questionin' me?" "I'm the colonel," replied the officer firmly.

"My Gawd!" came the surprised exclamation. "Has I run that far?" (© 1930, Western Newspaper Union.)

Orizaba May 7, 1917, and arrived at Liverpool ten days later. On May 18 the members of this outfit were taken to Buckingham Palace where they were welcomed by King George, who said: "It is with the utmost pleasure and satisfaction that the queen and I welcome you here today... We greet you as the first detachment of the American Army which has landed on our shores since your great republic resolved to join in the world-wide struggle for the ideals of civilization. FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
For some unaccountable reason we were below normal in our Sunday school attendance last Sunday. The two preaching services were well attended, and a fine group was present for the Training Service. We are planning an enrollment campaign, which is to begin within the next few days. There are many of our members who are not regular in their attendance upon the services of the church, and many others who are prospective members of the church or Sunday school who are not enlisted. When the plan is announced and the program started we insist that there be the fullest cooperation on the part of every one to make it a 100 percent success.

Fine response has been given to the special Sunday night sermons on the Second Coming of Christ. Our Sunday night congregations have grown from the very opening of the Fall season. The subject for the next Sunday night sermon will be: "His Majesty, the Devil." Some pertinent questions concerning the personality, origin, nature, program and ultimate destination, will be discussed.

You are always welcome at our services.
DICK O'BRIEN, Pastor.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Another most interesting musical program is scheduled for Sunday evening. This time we are to hear the negro spirituals who are on a tour of West Texas. Beginning at 7:15 they will give an hour's pro-

WOLF STARS IN 'SWAN SONG' AT LOCAL FIELD FRIDAY

STUDENT AND OTHER FANS UNITE IN PLANS TO HONOR CANTRILLMEN HERE TODAY

'Dad and Mother's Day' Is Dedication Given Game With St. Joseph's

Colorado is being called upon to supply a rousing fan delegation of not less than 2,500 people at Cantrill Field Friday afternoon as the Wolves meet St. Joseph's Academy of Abilene in what for several stars of the local grid organization will be their swan song on the home gridiron.

In order to fittingly impress members of the Colorado high school grid club that their determined policy of bringing credit to themselves and honor to the school, the day has been dedicated as "Dad and Mother's Day." Reserved seats have been provided along the side line for parents of the Wolves.

Under plans of a city-wide ticket selling campaign, announced Monday by the athletic council, 1200 Colorado students are to witness the game free, on condition they sell a given amount of admission tickets. The condition calls for pupils in high school to sell not less than 100 of the admission tickets and students of the elementary schools dispose of a similar number. In the contest students of Hutchinson, Junior high and Coleman school are to work together.

In speaking of the special grid fest here Friday afternoon and leading strong urge that Colorado support the Wolves stronger than ever before, C. A. Wilkins, principal of high school, Monday afternoon said:

"Citizens of Colorado and supporters of the Wolves, here is your chance to buy a fifty cent ticket and see the final game of the season yourself, and assist 1200 pupils in getting into the game free. Will you help these youngsters? If one of these boys or girls has not already seen you, will you please call one of them and tell them that you will buy your ticket for the ball game. The Council feels sure that the pupils will experience no difficulty in selling the required number of tickets. It is expected that there will be over 2,000 people at this final home game of the season for the Wolves.

"The Wolves are playing St. Joseph's Academy, of Abilene, a private institution, coached by Mose Simms of West Texas baseball fame. Mr. Simms has a team of hard hitting youngsters who like to play football, and have been giving the college freshmen eleven of Abilene some lively tussles this Fall. They have played all the freshmen eleven of Abilene, as well as Abilene high school. They were defeated by the high school of Abilene 6-6.

"The Wolves in this, their final home game, have decided to dedicate

Cantrillmen Have Scored A Total Of 119 Points To Only 25 By Opponents

During four practice and one conference games played by the Wolves during the season, the Cantrillmen have run up a total of 119 points to only 25 for their opponents. Two of the opposing elevens were unable to score and only one was able to account for as many as two touchdowns. Their most decisive victory was staged last Friday afternoon over Midland, who recently withdrew from Class A for a berth in the lower bracket.

Schedule of points for the Wolves and their opponents follows:

Colorado 7, Roscoe 0; Colorado 38, Roby 0; Colorado 13, Winters

13; Colorado 7, McCamey 6; Colorado 54, Midland 6.

Elvy Stagner, last year rated as one of the best ball toters in Class A district 3 conference, is coming back for additional honors this year. During the five games played this man has accounted for 66 points. Red Moon Morrison has made 19 points, Red Church 16 points, M. C. Lowery 12 points and Brady Warren 6 points.

Stagner and other Wolf stars are going to add additional credits to this already commendable record Friday afternoon, should promises of ardent fans come true.

GOLDMAN AND HIS 'GOLD MEDAL' BAND WILL PLAY DURING GRID FEST TODAY

Famous Musical Organization To Add Its Presence To Featured Battle

Sam Goldman and his "Gold Medal" band, musical organization that during other years brought distinction to Colorado, will be out at Cantrill Field Friday afternoon to add its influence to backing the Wolves in game with St. Joseph's. Announcement that the band would have part in the featured gridiron attraction was made Wednesday afternoon by C. A. Wilkins, principal of high school.

"Coloradoans remember with keen appreciation the unique honor brought to this community a few years ago by this band," Wilkins declared. "After successive strides ahead the band won coveted distinction of the Gold Medal Band of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and as such became the official musical organization for the large area embraced.

"Members of the Wolf squad, the students and fans appreciate this consideration upon the part of Mr. Goldman and the Colorado citizens who go to make up personnel of this band. Their presence should inspire every loyal Coloradoan to attend the game."

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Luhn have gone to Waco to make their home. He left Colorado Tuesday morning on orders from general offices of the Gulf Refining Company in Houston to come into Houston for transfer to the Central Texas city. Luhn, who has been stationed here for some time as special field representative for the company, is being succeeded by R. A. Hildreth, recently of San Angelo.

FORMER COLORADO GIRL SINGS AT WORLD'S FAIR

Among the pleasing musical artists appearing on program at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago last week was Mrs. Hallie Carter of Corpus Christi, who sang in Spanish costume. Mrs. Carter, nee, Miss Hallie Roddy, was reared in Colorado. The Chicago Daily News for October 11 carried picture and news story of Mrs. Carter.

COTTON ACREAGE CONTROL PROPOSAL FOR NEXT YEAR ACCEPTABLE TO PLANTERS

Rental Contract To Pay From $3 Up On Lands Leased To Federal Government

Cotton producers of the Colorado territory are expected to accept readily the government's proposal to curtail acreage during the next year, expressions given The Record by a number of these planters recently would indicate. There are several farmers who express themselves as being more favorable to the lease plan, as outlined for 1934, than the plow-up contracts entered into this year.

One of the larger cotton producers stated while in town Monday that he had not given his endorsement to program of the administration to declare growing cotton, "but," he added, "I am heartily in accord with the new plan under which we will enter into contract with the government to curtail acreage to be planted to cotton."

County Farm Agent B. J. Baskin stated Monday afternoon that with less than $25,000 remaining to be paid Mitchell county farmers on plow-up contracts, he expected this routine to be out of the way soon. "But then we shall be looking for arrival of contract forms to be offered the farmers for reducing acreage planted to cotton next year." Under the 1934 contract farmers are to lease acreage to the government on an annual consideration ranging from $3 an acre up, based on average acreage yield during a stipulated time during the immediate past. The land under lease cannot, under penalty, be devoted to cotton production during tenure of the contract.

TWO-THIRDS BALE PER ACRE BEING GATHERED BY FARMER AT LORAINE

R. Berger, farmer of near Lorraine, stated while in Colorado Monday morning that he expected to harvest a total of 120 bales of cotton from 180 acres, or the equivalent of two-thirds of a bale per acre. Berger stated that he would have harvested about ninety bales by end of this week, on condition weather conditions continued favorable. He has employed a large crew of pickers during the past few weeks and Monday started fifteen more laborers at work in his cotton fields.

Westbrook Church Festival Friday Was Successful, Methodist Pastor Reports

Festival given Friday evening at Westbrook by the Methodist church was successful in every respect, the Rev. Ray Lee, pastor, stated while in Colorado Monday morning. The event, advertised as a style show, advertising circus and old fashioned box supper auction, was attended by approximately 700 people.

"We sincerely appreciate splendid cooperation given the church by merchants of Colorado and Westbrook, the Colorado chamber of commerce, Chuck Wagon Serenaders,

IMPROVED MIDLAND TEAM TOO SLOW TO CHECK BIG PARADE BY CANTRILLMEN

Score of 54-6 Registered In Non-Conference Tussle At Midland Friday

MIDLAND.—While the millifluous beauties of the Midland pep squad sang "Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolves?" the wild timber pack of Big Jim Cantrill Friday afternoon sent Messrs. E. Stagner, M. C. Lowery, Red Morrison, "Red" Church and J. C. Priestner in line-jarring, end-sweeping and aerial-matching sallies that brought Colorado high school's black jerseys a crushing 54-6 win over the Purple and Gold.

The harrying attack of the invaders allowed of no breathing spells, and seldom was the tempo of their goalward strides halted. The monotonous scoring accounted for three dashes into the Midland pay zone, in the first period, one each in the second and third, and three in the last.

Midland scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter, Gordon Jones bulleting a pass into the arms of Elwood McWilliams, great little end, after Jones had made a thrilling 24-yard run to the Colorado fifty-yard stripe and power thrusts at the line had failed to gain. A bad pass-back delayed Johnny Noblis' attempt to convert the extra point by placement, and the ball struck an upright, bounding off to the right. The Purple and Gold made no other serious threats, although at moments the club smoothly functioned and excellently timed its offensive. Too, it must be said the Barrymen exhibited the fight Midland likes to watch in its high school grid representatives, a fight that was futile so far as keeping the powerful Coloradoans away from the Bulldog goal—but which made the club look better in the 54-6 loss than it did the week before in losing 14-13 to Big Lake.

The big black team's success reads like a saga of Senor Stagner, a sensational hombre who played offensive half, and defensive end. Between these two duties, he leaped high into the air to bring down the bulleting pigskin for long gains, circled ends, ran off tackles, blocked punts and managed to score four touchdowns—also placing the ball in position for his mates to secure at other times. He individually blocked a punt and recovered in the end zone for one marker—besides being the hot spark for the entire Colorado offensive.

Lowry, left half, scored twice; Church, giant tackle, once and Morrison, quarter, once. Church, kicking for the first time this year, converted six placement goals into added points in eight trials. Once out of the two misses he had the disadvantage of a bad pass-back.

Colorado made 23 first downs, Midland six. Scoring began almost immediately after the first kickoff. Stagner snagged a pass and carried it down to the Midland 19-yard line, and Morrison dashed off tackle for the score. Church missed the try for placement.

Midland, evidently did not sense the value of passing about this time, when Colorado was opposing Mid-

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday school is falling off in attendance. We hope to see more next Sunday.

At the eleven o'clock hour Brother Lee brought us a splendid message. Scripture lesson, Isaiah 41. Topic taken from the first three verses.

Group meetings met at 7 p. m. with good attendance of both groups. These meetings are interesting and helpful to all. After these meetings Brother, Lee brought us another splendid sermon on prayer. Scripture lesson Acts 1:1-14. This being Brother Lee's last sermon before conference we wish more could have heard it.

The Missionary society met at the church at 3 p. m. to continue the study on Living Issues in China. Devotional led by Mrs. McDonald. Song, Prayer by Mother Rowland.

Topic, the Home. A number of passages of scriptures read on the home followed by our lesson led by Mrs. Gressett.

Fifth Monday the society is invited to meet with the Baptist ladies. Closed with our motto.

STAND BY THE WOLVES. Colorado should make it a matter of duty to stand by the Wolves in their last home game today.

Presence of four or five thousand fans at the game would register in the heart of every one of those boys the fact that Colorado appreciates them for what they have done.

Every Wolf who has brought credit to himself and honor to his school has done so by playing the game on a high plane. It cannot be consistently charged that these men have resorted to crooked tactics, as might be credited to some who they have opposed.

Be on the side line Friday afternoon and by your presence register approval of such a splendid record.

Not only should Colorado be proud of her fighting football squad, but there is another organization that in other days has brought considerable honor to the old home town.

Saffi Goldman and his Gold Medal band will be there to do their bit in adding morale to the Cantrellmen. Does Colorado remember with due appreciation what these men have done for this city and section?

Then there is Sinclair Lewis and Clara Bow, both red-heads. Does red hair endow one with an independent trait, making the wearer seem unattainable, therefore sought after? Are all red-headed people of an independent disposition? An independent person produces an air of capability, dependability. This perhaps is the reason a red-headed man was chosen to write the Declaration of Independence. Independence, no doubt was in Thomas Jefferson's blood whether his red hair was responsible or not. Both nature and circumstances prepared him to draft the Declaration.

DEPRESSION RELIEF

Tom Dees down at Midlothian in writing puts forth the best solution we have yet heard. He says: "The NRA will ease the pain for awhile but cannot remove the cause. The R.F.C. is another strong opiate, both of them very effective in relieving our own country of much of its distress, but that kind of relief can not be carried on long, for both of those agencies are charity, and people abhor charity. In our own country the most effective relief we can have and the one that will continue to relieve the longest is the one that will send 5,000,000 men and their wives and children back to the farms. This can be accomplished without one cent of charity and without a loss of a dollar to our Government, and make this a prosperous country for

RED HAIR

Red hair being unusual is a mark of distinction. A man with red hair—though his eyes be a watery-blue and his face a freckled expanse—has always had great fascination with the ladies. A Titian-haired girl even an ugly one, seldom fails to change her name. Of course, Queen Elizabeth, England's red haired sovereign, was not wedded, but everyone knows that she could have married anyone or more, of a dozen of her favorites.

Rare Ben Johnson certainly left signs of his popularity with the fair sex when he penned—"Drink to me only with thine eyes, and I will pledge with mine." His was a fiery, auburn crown and John Keats, also red-headed, in truth must have known feminine favors ere he wrote: "The day is gone and all its sweets are gone, sweet voice, sweet lips, soft hands and softer breast." And glorious Ellen Terry, queen of Shakespeare's lute whose reign of gentle sway o'er hearts of men was closed but days ago, her hair was red.

THE NEW DEAL

State Press in the Dallas News likens the NRA to a girl and calls it "The New Girl" says she is beautiful and bossy considering her youth. We read in ancient history that Minerva was born from the head of Jupiter full-panoplied with brains and beauty. NIRA is like that and not to be confused with the ancient Niobe who wept herself to death. Nor should Nirvana be supposed any relation to NRA. Nirvana is that blissful state achieved by the Hindus after they die and are absorbed into Divinity without body. Nirvana is incorporated whereas NRA is very much alive and starry-eyed.

ODDS AND ENDS

Once there was a king whose son was determined to marry a commoner, not a common scold or a common nuisance, but quite the contrary, a lovely lady without royal corpulence in her circulatory system. The King opposed the match, not because the bride to be lacks character or quality, but because she lacked the corpulence. "Did you get it?" Discouragement meets inspiration half-mile from home, Confidence encounters doubt around the corner. But after all the outcome is good. There are innumerable little up and downs but the general average is on the level. Did you ever stop to think that nothing worries a hen? She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs, regardless of conditions. If the ground is hard she scratches harder. If it's dry she digs deeper. If she strikes a rock she works around it. But she does dig up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits, as well as tender broilers. Did you ever see a pessimistic hen? Did you ever know of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface? Did you ever hear one cackle because times were hard? Not on

made from plants

Theford's Black-Draught is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat. In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

SEVEN WELLS NEWS NOTES

By R. L. Towery, Jr.

We are unusually busy this week preparing a program for Halloween and at the same time making an effort not to lose out on the regular school work. Our attendance is improving. Eight of those who dropped out to pick cotton are back for the rest of the year.

Mr. Wm. Adams is recovering from a stroke of paralysis. Ted Burdell is quite sick. An operation is pending.

L. L. Bassham with his wife and daughters visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bassham Sunday afternoon. They report that Mrs. Henry Bassham is improving.

The G. V. Hulec family with the Dossey family spent Friday in Sweetwater.

P. C. Hale is visiting his daughter in Arkansas.

Aunt Ida Bassham spent the day Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Bassham.

Mrs. T. Dossey is convalescing after a spell of sickness.

We are gratified to learn the Hesperian Club has adopted our school again this year. Again we will endeavor to prove ourselves worthy of their efforts in our behalf.

We have sent out a hundred invitations to our Halloween entertainment. If you haven't one here it is: Let's have a jolly Halloween.

With a box supper in between Come to Seven Wells at 8 o'clock And be prepared to get a shock.

Mrs. Carlock our former neighbor, now of Sheppard community, with her son Binn visited friends at Seven Wells Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Hayes opened her home to the young people Saturday night. They seem to have had a very enjoyable time.

Mrs. L. V. Bassham and little son, Morris Lanier, spent Friday afternoon at Looney with Mrs. G. L. Morris, Mrs. Bassham's mother.

Mrs. Godby visited Mrs. Cockerell Saturday.

Below is the program for the entertainment Tuesday night, Oct. 31. Dance of the Ghosts; Songs: On Halloween, Oh, 'tis Halloween, by the school; Reading: It Must be Halloween by Grace Dossey; A Warning by Virginia Cockerell; Playlet: Pumpkin Hill School Graduation; Ghost story: The Haunted House by Lula Mae Bassham; Coon playlet: Ghosts and Hootin' Owls, followed by box supper and Halloween stunts. Music will be furnished by the Seven Wells boys.

Come out and laugh with us. Good news is The Record advertising news.

Use This Laxative

made from plants

Theford's Black-Draught is made from plants that grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat. In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Now you can get Black-Draught in the form of a SYRUP, for CHILDREN.

Mr. Camp will be pleased to meet policyholders of this company and render them any service possible.'

No one who sees this rare character study of Vice-President John N. Garner can ever say again that he does not know what the rough and ready Texas looks like. Here is Cactus Jack as he really is, a weather-beaten, hard-fighting ranchman who has done much to put Texas on the national political map.

COUNTY T. B. ASS'N WILL SEND SPEAKERS INTO THE SCHOOLS THRU CAMPAIGN

Every Available Facility To Be Utilized In Fight On The Dread Disease

The County Tuberculosis Association met Tuesday afternoon in the county court room with Judge A. F. King presiding.

Dr. Ratliff made the opening talk. He stated that tuberculosis can be prevented, can be cured, everybody is susceptible. Cleanliness, teaching the patient to take care of himself and to protect others. He said the ordinance against spitting on the streets should be enforced and that it could be enforced if we made up our minds to do it.

Dr. Root's opening remark was "The human race is born in total depravity and is subject to tuberculosis." He said it was estimated that thirty five million germs were to be found in the sputum of one tuberculous man and that ninety nine percent of the cases were contracted by inhaling these germs that were spit out.

He said children were not so much a source of infection as adults but the child must be saved for its own sake. His advice was to keep talking about the danger of tuberculosis, get people scared, get them to thinking, to working and it can be curbed.

Mrs. Merritt moved that the law against spitting on the sidewalks be enforced. Mrs. Dobbs seconded this and after an amusing discussion as to how these sidewalk politicians would be able to settle affairs of the government without spitting it was unanimously adopted.

It was suggested that a speaker be sent to the negro school. Dr. Ratliff and Dr. Root flipped a coin to see which it should be and the speech was won by Dr. Root.

Four thirty was set as the hour of meeting to insure the teachers being present. A program committee composed of Mrs. Dobbs, Dr. Root, Mr. Bennett and Mrs. J. T. Fritchett was named by the chairman.

It was suggested that the doctors visit every school in the county. Dr. Root was asked to be in Loraine Monday. The others will go as requested.

APPLICATIONS OF TWO PROPOSED LIONS READ

Applications of Dr. T. J. Ratliff and Bill Thomas for membership in the Lions Club were read Friday by E. V. Grantland, secretary. Dr. Ratliff, a former member, is requesting reinstatement, while Thomas is coming in as a cub.

Ball Player Farming

People wonder what World's Series ball players do during off seasons. Here's the answer in the shape of Joe Moore, New York Giant, outfielder, busy hoeing up his cow pasture at Gause, Texas, a village near Cameron. Joe says he likes the country here, and when the season is over wastes no time getting back home. "Where I can see the sun rise," as he puts it.

Women Back Her

War clouds are brewing over the Texas State Teachers' association, after 3000 women members have determined to elect Mrs. Roy C. Owens, Tyler, (above) president at the November meeting. Of 54 presidents, only two have been women, although the organization has less than 1,000 men members.

Mr. and Mrs. Jule Henderson and little daughter of Seven Wells community were shopping in town Saturday.

EDITORIAL
Students of Colorado High school, do you realize that you are now beginning the second lap of your nine months course? You are unable to recall the past six weeks grades regardless of how hard you try.

PLAN FOR FRIDAY'S GAME
The four classes of Colorado High school are selling adult tickets for Friday's football game between the Colorado Wolves and St. Joseph's Academy of Abilene.

SENIOR NEWS
On Monday, October 23, the Seniors held a class meeting for the purpose of electing their candidate for Football Queen for the rest of the year.

FRESHMAN CLASS
The Freshman play will be two weeks from Friday. The name of the play is "Phillip For Short" by Kay Ziegfeld.

DEDICATION OF FRIDAY'S FOOTBALL GAME
The football game Friday, October 27, is to be dedicated to the fathers and mothers of the Wolves.

They will be taken to a bench on the side line where they are to sit by their boy during the game. The Wolves intend to win this game Friday against St. Joseph's Academy of Abilene and the honor of this victory is to go to their parents.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY
The Senior class play, which is to be presented on November 3, is being coached by Miss Barrett. The play is "Here Comes Charlie," written by Jay Tobias and consists of five Senior girls and five Senior boys.

LA TERTULIA
La Tertulia met at the usual class period Monday morning, October 21. An exceptionally good program was rendered by the members. Roll was called by the secretary, and answered with a Spanish proverb.

FUTURE FARMERS ATTEND STATE FAIR
Sunday night five members of the agriculture class of high school, Bill Galey, N. T. Berry, Ivy Jones, Wardell Feaster and Jesse Jones, returned from their trip to the State Fair.

FUTURE FARMERS INITIATION
The Future Farmers on Thursday, October 19, held their first regular meeting for the purpose of initiating the twenty four Green Hands.

JOKES
Mrs. Cantrill: "When do the leaves begin to turn?"
Maurine Morris: "The night before exams."

"SPEED"
By Sinclair Lewis
At two o'clock one morning, J. T. Bufin, world famous transcontinental racer, and his mechanic, Ray Bender, toiled into a small Nebraska town driving a Mallard car for the company of the same name.

GLEE CLUB
The Choral club under the direction of Mrs. Deter is now working on the harmony and voice blending. This organization has certainly made progress since school started and their latest piece is "The Chinese Lullaby."

PEP SQUAD
The members of the Pep club have been doing some mighty hard practicing so they can help the Wolves win their last game played at home.

HOME ECONOMICS
This week the Freshman clothing class has been handed back the finished seams and tea towels. A number of the girls have been required to do their seams and tea towels the second or third time to correct the many mistakes and then found room for much improvement.

literary consciousness of America. He underlined "Main Street" in 1922 with "Babbitt"; in 1925 he refused the Pulitzer Prize for "Arrow-smith"; "Elmer Gantry" got him in hot water with a church and a State. His newest novel is "Ann Vickers."

Sinclair Lewis is the son of a New England doctor who migrated to the Middle West where in 1885 Lewis was born. As ardently as a Chamber of Commerce booster, Lewis respects everything that comes out of America to be beautiful and splendid, its men and women to be courageous and true. His disappointments, makes the world go round, but, unfortunately it doesn't have the same effect on a $20 salary.

Miss Barrett found her Junior class reluctant at writing English compositions. At last she received a great idea to stimulate their interest—to write an account of a football game.

It seemed that she was successful. With one exception they evolved youthful masterpieces but Mumpsey chewed reluctantly at his pen and

Girls' Glee Club "Bools Song" "All Through the Night" "Theme Song."

TEACHER ABSENT
Miss Davidson, room teacher for 3-A, was absent Monday because of the illness of her mother. Mrs. Ford taught in her place. Miss Davidson was back Tuesday and was welcomed by everyone.

CUB GAME
The Cubs are going to play Big Spring on Cantrill Field Wednesday at 3:30. The Cubs won their game

CHAPEL PROGRAM
Wednesday we had a very interesting program. The following numbers were given: "America" Whole school "Hello Central" Nancy Price "O Ye Sinners" Oscar D. Roberts "Long, Long Trail" Each Grade We also had extemporaneous speeches upon the subject, "Why We Should Keep Our School Clean." These are to be regular features of our chapel programs in the future, as they are beneficial to the school in training speakers and in getting different viewpoints.

DE VADA BARBER TO HAVE CHARGE OF FLOWERS FOR HOME ECONOMICS DEPT.
I have planned to plant and care for the flower box in the Home Economics Department.

First the soil in the flower box must be replaced with fresh soil and then I am going to plant the box with red and pink geraniums, petunias, wandering Jew, and snapdragons.

I also plan to fix flowers in a hanging basket, fix a bowl of water plants and with the assistance of Eleanor Hagler and Agnes Cawthron have planned to plant flowers for our school.

In these flower beds there is to be planted flowers for the school room and for other uses. This work will begin soon and we hope it will be a success.

This week the Freshman clothing class has been handed back the finished seams and tea towels. A number of the girls have been required to do their seams and tea towels the second or third time to correct the many mistakes and then found room for much improvement.

was then stuck by a burst of genius. When Miss Barrett opened his paper it read: "Rain. No game."

Mr. Croslin: "What do we call a person who keeps on talking and talking when people are no longer interested?"
Jessie Jones: "Please, sir, a teacher."

Mr. Croslin instructing his class in composition said: "Now, don't attempt any flights of fancy. Don't try to imitate the things you have heard, but just be yourself and write what is really in you."

The following composition was turned in by Ed Morrison. "I ain't goin' to attempt no flights of fancy, I'm just goin' to write what's in me, and I got a harts a liver, two lungs, and some other things like that. Then I got a stum-bick and in its a pickle, a piece of pie, two sticks of candy and my dinner."

"I shall never forget. The last time we met. At night, where the roses grow. Our parting kiss now I remember—and how. You were standing on my toes! In church at the front C. W. Hagler was being christened. Eleanor Hagler (hoarsely): "Behind his ears, too, Reverend."

CHAPEL PROGRAM
Wednesday we had a very interesting program. The following numbers were given: "America" Whole school "Hello Central" Nancy Price "O Ye Sinners" Oscar D. Roberts "Long, Long Trail" Each Grade We also had extemporaneous speeches upon the subject, "Why We Should Keep Our School Clean." These are to be regular features of our chapel programs in the future, as they are beneficial to the school in training speakers and in getting different viewpoints.

DE VADA BARBER TO HAVE CHARGE OF FLOWERS FOR HOME ECONOMICS DEPT.
I have planned to plant and care for the flower box in the Home Economics Department.

First the soil in the flower box must be replaced with fresh soil and then I am going to plant the box with red and pink geraniums, petunias, wandering Jew, and snapdragons.

I also plan to fix flowers in a hanging basket, fix a bowl of water plants and with the assistance of Eleanor Hagler and Agnes Cawthron have planned to plant flowers for our school.

In these flower beds there is to be planted flowers for the school room and for other uses. This work will begin soon and we hope it will be a success.
