FRASER SLATED FOR POST MASTERSHIP APPOINTMENT AT COLORADO APRIL 15TH

Assistant Has Been Employed In Local Office Since July 4, 1913

Joe Y. Fraser, assistant postmaster at the Colorado office, is slated for appointment as postmaster, succeeding R. S. Brennan at expiration of the latter's commission April 15. Fraser received notification from Congressman E. E. Thomson at Washington Friday stating that he would be endorsed officially for the place. Confidential messages received in Colorado three weeks ago indicated that Fraser would be given preference for the appointment. He will be named acting postmaster until the appointment is given confirmation by congress.

Fraser came to the local postoffice July 4, 1913 and has been continuously employed there since. He was made assistant postmaster on May 16, 1924. Before coming to Colorado Fraser had been employed eight years in the Baird postoffice.

His endorsement for the position was announced after consideration of the fact he was eligible for the veteran's preference right and also due to his high civil services status. Thomson states in the communication that the local man had been highly recommended by Colorado business and professional interests.

Elevation of Fraser to the office of postmaster will necessarily call for other changes in personnel of the office force. Edwin Mooser, in all probability, will be in line for the place of assistant postmaster and employees given advances.

FEDERAL CROP PLAN GETS REVAMPING TO PERMIT OF AID TO TEXAS PRODUCERS

Seed Loan Bill Considered By Conference For Both Senate and House

Two provisions in the $40,000,000 seed loan bill designed materially to aid Texas growers of winter crops and the Lower Rio Grande Valley passed through a major test Saturday, as the bill was approved by Senate and House conferees at Washington.

Interest here was attached to the bill by citizens of Mitchell county who have investments in the citrus belt of the Lower Valley section. There are some planters who will find interest in the winter crop feature also. In addition to the resident citizens owning properties in the Winter Garden area there are others who moved from this county to that part of the State who are in line for direct aid through provisions of the bill.

One, offered by Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo, House Agricultural Committee chairman, specified crops planted this year, but not harvested until 1935, would be eligible for loans despite the fact the measure as approved by the Senate had provided for loans only on this year's harvest.

The other, accepted at the request of Representative Milton West of Brownsville, exempted from a general provision limiting loans to $250 to farmers in any section classified by the President as a "distressed emergency area."

West explained the clause meant that valley growers, hard hit by last September's Gulf storm, would be eligible to unlimited loans, within the discretion of the administration.

He obtained Jones' consent to the

TAYLOR COUNTY YOUTH IN UNIQUE EXPERIENCE WHEN BOLT KILLS TEAM

Clarence Moody, well known Taylor county farmer living about one mile north of Guion, is recovering from a freak encounter with the elements of the sky, and at that considers himself lucky.

Plowing on the 254-acre farm owned by his father, J. H. Moody last Thursday morning, Clarence was knocked unconscious by a stroke of lightning which killed the five horses and mules—all livestock on the farm—harnessed to the plow. He was standing between the teams and the implement when the lightning struck.

Moody was unconscious for 20 to 30 minutes before rain and hail accompanying the element display revived him. The body of one of the horses was lying across him. He crawled several hundred yards of the

The lightning burned the insides of his eyelids severely, and even slightly seared his eyes, but doctors who have examined him do not think the injuries will affect his eyesight. If that proves so, he considers his escape narrow but lucky.

G. R. LEACH IS CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR-COLLECTOR OF TAXES IN THE COUNTY

Westbrook Citizen In Pledge To Conduct Affairs Of Office Impartially

G. R. (Gilbert) Leach of Westbrook Saturday afternoon authorized The Record to make formal announcement of his candidacy for county tax assessor and collector. The candidate is offering his name subject to action of the Democratic primary election July 28.

Mr. Leach has been a resident citizen of Mitchell county since 1901 and during the past twelve years has maintained his residence at Westbrook where he has been engaged in business and farming. He is a son of Rev. A. D. Leach of Colorado, pioneer Baptist minister.

The candidate cited that he was qualified by experience and training for the office. He attended Brantley-Draughon business college and for six years did office work for the M. K. T. railway company.

"If honored by voters with the distinction of receiving this important county office I pledge that my efforts shall ever be to render a faithful and trustworthy stewardship to the public," Mr. Leach declared. "There should be no question as to my qualifications for the office and I invite your investigation of my record as a citizen of Mitchell county for more than thirty years."

Mr. Leach explained that during his several years residence in the county he had studied property values and believes he understands them to such extent as to be especially equipped for giving equitable renditions on taxable properties. He is personally acquainted with a representative number of voters in all parts of the county and hopes to discuss his candidacy with every citizen before the July primary election.

"If for any reason I should miss any individual voters during the ensuing campaign it shall be an oversight," he said. "May I solicit the vote and influence of the people, on condition I pledge to render in return an administration of which they might well be proud."

Twenty-Six Dead Over Nation Toll From Severe Cold

Record low temperatures in many cities along the Atlantic seaboard brought at least 25 deaths Friday, hampered shipping and communications and caused unprecedented suffering.

Weather experts could promise no relief over the week-end from the sub zero temperatures.

Unofficial minimum reading in New England reached about 50 degrees below zero. New York's coldest hour found the mercury at 14.3 below zero, the lowest in the weather bureau's 64 years of operation.

Pennsylvania, where the temperature in the Alleghenys fell to 46 below zero, reported nine deaths. Four died in upstate New York with unofficial temperatures reaching 60 below. Six deaths were recorded in New York City, three in Boston and Buffalo and one in Schenectady.

An ice-coated schooner was abandoned during a stiff northwest blow off Eastham, Mass., and the crew took off in a small boat in a hazardous effort to reach land.

Incoming liners were delayed. Lake Erie was frozen from shore to shore at one point and the Hudson river was in a similar condition at upper Manhattan.

Icebergs 75 feet long drifted past Monomoy Point-off Cape Cod, the first seen there since 1917.

The cold wave swept as far as the nation's capital where it was 6 below, a 13-year record.

MOTORIST KILLS WOLF WITH CAR: $50 RICHER

LAMPASAS.—Martin Phelan ran over and killed a large wolf on a highway several miles from Lampasas—as a result he was $50 richer today.

Phelan was the recipient of the $50 bounty offered for each slain wolf. The bounty offer does not include a provision as to the manner in which the wolf must be killed. In recent months sheep owners in this area have lost many of their animals as the result of the wolf's ravages.

February Brings Few Disasters To This Territory, Red Cross Survey Indicates

Unless the elements become unusually unruly, the month of February, for the tenth consecutive year, will provide disaster relief workers of the American Red Cross with their only breathing spell in 1934. This peculiarity in nature's year-round behavior is brought out in a comprehensive study of the frequency, types, and effects of disasters in the middle west during the last decade, Albert Evans, disaster relief expert in the midwestern area of the American Red Cross, describes February as "the seasonal calm before the storm."

Except for serious drought, no disaster can be foreseen months in advance with any degree of certainty. Yet, the long experience of the Red Cross in relief operations has taught its officials that some months of the year present far greater hazards than others. For example, Red Cross considers March, April, and May its peak disaster period. For the ten-year period ending June 30, 1933, about 48 per cent of the 259 calamities occurring in the middle west and requiring assistance from the national organization, struck during one of these three months. June ranks fourth among months when calamities are most frequent. Evans logically accounts for the lull in disaster work during February, as well as for the usual rampages of the elements during the 90-day period following this month.

"Ordinarily, February is the quietest month of the year, from a disaster standpoint," the relief director said. "In the first place, the month is fairly stable in weather conditions and obviously the weather is the greatest factor in natural disasters. Climatic conditions which produce tornadoes are infrequent during February. During rainy weather there may be a brood of tornadoes strike on the same day, but February temperatures are not favorable for hatching them. Moreover, the month rarely experiences a heavy sufficient to swell rivers and produce serious floods. Mine explosions are infrequent during the month because by then, coal production has been stabilized for the winter.

"The breathing spell which February affords gives opportunity to review our disaster preparedness plans. By past experience we know it is only the seasonal calm before the storm."

Tornadoes outnumber all other types of midwestern disasters combined. Altogether, the agency handled in ten years, 139 tornadoes, 67 floods, 13 explosions, and 12 fires. Epidemic occasional hailstorms, droughts, pestilences, and hurricanes.

Contrary to popular belief, a tornado and cyclone are not the same, according to Evans. Any atmospheric disturbance is a cyclone, he asserted, while a tornado is a small violent development associated with a general cyclonic movement. When, during the advance of a cyclone, a segment of cold air overrides a layer of warm, moist air, a too-heavy condition is created, causing the cold air to break through the warmer layer. This conflict sets up vertical air currents and a violent whirl is begun. The movement usually is from a westerly to easterly direction.

While certain types of calamities may visit some sections frequently and be almost unknown to other parts of the country, no state is immune as records of Red Cross relief operations will disclose. Perhaps because of its size Texas ranks first in the number of catastrophes requiring Red Cross assistance in the seventeen states of the midwestern area. The Lone Star state is followed by Arkansas, Oklahoma, Illinois and Missouri, in the order named. From the standpoint of natural calamities, Colorado suffered only five during the ten years. Disasters which occurred during the last half of 1933 are not included in Evans report.

In the ten-year span, Texas was visited by forty disasters, including tornadoes, floods, hurricanes and drought. Arkansas, a close second, required Red Cross disaster relief on 38 occasions, while Oklahoma was struck by 31; Illinois, 29; and Missouri, 23. No state in the area escaped without any disasters during the ten years.

MISS ZIVLEY, DAUGHTER OF EARLY DAY MINISTER, IS BURIED AT COLEMAN

Miss Pernella Zivley, 79, died February 7 at the residence of her sister, Mrs. R. V. Wood in Coleman. Death came on her seventy-ninth birthday. Funeral services were held Thursday in Waco with burial in the Oakwood cemetery there.

Miss Zivley was the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Zivley, both of whom are remembered by resident citizens of Colorado years ago. Dr. Zivley was at one time pastor of the Presbyterian church here, was a leader in church affairs in West Texas many years and at one time was moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A. Miss Zivley spent fifty years of her life teaching in the schools of Texas.

PER CAPITA ON CAR OWNERSHIP IS HIGH IN THIS TERRITORY

There are more automobiles in this part of West Texas in proportion to the population than in any other area of the United States, according to the figures released this week by the Texas Highway Department. Of course having more motor cars per family of any section of the United States means that there are more cars here per family than any section of the globe.

Eleven West Texas counties, including Tom Green, have 22,734 motor cars while the 1930 census shows these same counties to have but 20,484 families.

Twenty-four West Texas counties have 45,228 motor cars and have 46,280 families. With no north and south railroads between the Texas and Pacific, the Orient and the Southern Pacific, which run parallel northeast to southwest about 150 miles apart, the major part of the travel and freight in this great area is the size of Ohio has been forced to move by motor car.

The automobile business has become one of the major enterprises of the country and with the practical completion of a hard surface highway program, the motor car has become even a more important element in the business life of West Texas than ever before.

CONOCO BROADCASTS TO AID LOCAL TOURIST BUSINESS

General business in Colorado should benefit this year from an increase in tourist traffic which is expected to result from a series of unusual radio broadcasts by Continental Oil Company, sponsor of the Conoco Travel Bureau, beginning Wednesday night, February 14.

Figures just released show that the Conoco Travel Bureau during 1933 routed a total of 48,775 tourists to and through Texas, many of whom were visitors in Colorado.

Conoco's radio programs this year, while including some comedy and a wide variety of music, both vocal and instrumental, will feature dramatized vacation tours to outstanding scenic and pleasure resorts throughout America. Towns visited by these radio motorists will be described, thereby receiving some valuable publicity, as the broadcast will go out over 27 N.B.C. stations.

The February 14 program, 8:30 to 9 p. m., Mountain Standard Time; 9:30 to 10, Central Standard Time, and 10:30 to 11, Eastern Standard Time, will enact a thrilling trip from

Public Health Service and the State Health Department of Texas, the Health Department of Colorado, Texas, has made bacteriological tests from all the dairies supplying milk to this city for the month of February 1934 and is pleased to announce that the following list of dairies have as a whole the lowest bacteria count on record since establishment of the Standard Milk Ordinance in Colorado. Now Mr. Milk consumer it is time for you to display your milk drinking ability and do your part by these worthy people who spare no time nor effort to produce one of the finest grades of milk obtainable anywhere in Texas, because it is a fact they deserve your patronage. There is another fact we wish to call to the attention of the Colorado public and that is that each of these dairymen have spent several hundred dollars to enable them to produce standard grade "A" milk, and milk that you may feed to your growing children with absolute certainty that the child's health will not be impaired by some infection which might be brought to it through the use of milk of uncertain quality and grades. Please don't be deceived into thinking there is any cheaper milk than standard grade "A" milk, because the difference in price may be absorbed by the doctor's services or even the loss of the child by using milk, cream, butter and other milk products of inferior quality. Following is a list of the Grade "A" dairymen serving Colorado: H. E. Cochrell, A. D. Priddy, Jim Bodine, R. M. Hardison, W. H. Rogers, W. L. Reese, E. C. Murphy, J. M. Moates, H. G. Reese, L. S. ## Farmers Of County Sign Total Of 838 Cotton Acreage Reduction Contracts

By B. J. Baskin, County Agent
 Mitchell county has signed up and registered in the county agent's office 838 cotton contracts totaling 58,266 acres of land to the A. A. A. There are yet many contracts in the hands of the different community committees. These contracts, of course, are not listed in the county agent's office at this time, but will be in within the next 72 hours. It seems at this time that an estimate of 40,000 acres rented to the A. A. A. will be a conservative estimate as to the number of acres this county will lease in the 1934-35 acreage reduction program.

Of the 838 cotton contracts in the office 504 contracts for 23,807 acres have been approved by the county committee pending their final approval by the State Board of Review.

4-H Club Work for 1934
 All boys in the county that wish to enroll in the 4-H Club work for 1934 should write to the county agent at once. Upon receipt of a letter from the boy the agent will forward an enrollment card to him.

There are several changes being made in the club work in 1934. All boys enrolling for the first year will have to have at least two acres planted to the crop he intends to work in during the year. All boys enrolling upon their second year work will have to increase their acreage to five acres, and all boys entering into their third or fourth year will have to increase their acreage to fifteen acres. Some of the true of boys feeding hogs, calves, etc. First year boys will have two hogs or calves, second year boys will have five hogs or calves, and third or fourth year boys will have fifteen head.

All boys enrolling must also agree to keep a complete record of the work they are engaged upon, and make a final or annual report.

Corn-Hog Meeting Called
 All farmers interested in the corn-hog program of the A. A. A. are invited to a meeting to be held in the District Courtroom at 3 P. M., Friday, March 2nd, 1934. All farmers having three or more broad hogs per year, and marketing hogs commercially—either as feeder hogs or as finished hogs for market—are eligible to sign a contract. The contract is an agreement between the farmer and the A. A. A. in which it sets forth that the farmer will reduce his number of litters and market hogs by 25 percent, and for such reduction the A. A. A. will pay him certain sums of money per-head on those hogs sold in 1934.

'Lost Land' Found In West Texas Is Claim Of Operator

A long disputed theory concerning "lost land" in West Texas has been brought to light by a recent extensive survey in Upton, Crane and Crockett counties, according to W. A. Tunstall of Fort Worth, a pioneer oil operator in West Texas, who sponsored and financed the survey. The report and all data of the survey have been filed in the general land office at Austin.

The land in dispute, which is legally owned by the State of Texas, has become very valuable in recent years. It is located on the line of Upton and Crane counties, being the John McAfee and S. Hearne surveys. The survey shows that 346 acres of rich oil lands belong outside of the bordering sections on the east and west sides of these two surveys.

Presbyterians Observe 250th Anniversary of First Church

REHOBETH, Md.—Uniting for the first time since the Civil War, five thousand Presbyterians from the churches of the north and south gathered at the little red-brick Rehobeth church here the other day to pay tribute to the man who founded Presbyterianism in America 250 years ago. It was in 1683, when Indians still inhabited the eastern shore of Maryland, that the Rev. Francis Makemie arrived from Ireland with authority to establish Presbyterian churches. That at Rehobeth was the first and is generally known as the mother church of Presbyterianism in the United States.

As the little red-brick building, erected in 1768, marks the beginning of organized Presbyterianism on this side of the Atlantic, so monuments in the churchyard and in nearby family cemeteries, some of them probably among the first stones taken from the Vermont marble deposits, record the early pioneers who helped found this great denomination in the new world. There is, for instance, a simple marble slab over the grave of William Stevens, owner of the original Rehobeth plantation, who died in 1687. It records that Stevens was "for 22 years Judge of this County Court, one of His Lordship's Council, and one of the Deputy Lieutenants of the Province of Maryland."

Texas Farmers To Buy Larger Quota Power Machinery

Distributors of farm machinery tractors and related equipment used on farms report a healthy increase in their Texas business. At recent annual sales promotion meetings and educational sessions agents from the agricultural machinery industry are showing accounts of "improved sales in their respective lines."

Texas offers an increasing example of tractor market, for instance, when compared to some of the comparatively small Eastern States which are not regarded as of agricultural importance. It will be surprising to readers that Rhode Island leads the United States in number of tractors with one to each 116 acres of crop land. New Jersey is next with one to 125 acres. Massachusetts has one to 146 acres; Connecticut one to 162; California one to 191 acres.

Texas has one tractor to every 256 acres of crop land. The average for the United States is one to each 451 acres. The fewest number of tractors as a whole is in the South Georgia stands last with one to each 1,785 acres. Alabama has one to 1,764 acres; South Carolina one to 1,475; Arkansas one to 1,392; Mississippi one to 1,346; Tennessee one to 1,118; Louisiana one to 950 acres.

Texas under normal conditions has some 32,000,000 acres of crop land. There is much additional land in the State that could be put into crops whenever the need develops. Some of it is what economists class with the much discussed marginal or sub-marginal land, about which few can be found to agree as to what that may mean. At any rate Texas bids fair to become a better market for farm machinery, tractors and other equipment as time goes by. There has been much wear and tear to farm machinery in recent years and almost no money for replacements. Some day there will be a brisk demand. That day may be closer than generally realized.

Early American Bed Room In Maple Reproductions

AN INTERESTING arrangement of twin beds in a bedroom of early American tradition is shown in the accompanying photograph. The beds, made of maple with rounded corners and edges such as are found on genuine and expensive antiques, are an adaptation of a bed found at Sudbury, Mass. They date about 1790 to 1820.

The dressing table of the same sunny wood as the beds is a generous piece with ample storage space. Its tilt mirror was one of the first types used by the ladies of the program days and, like the most fashionable mirrors of that time, it rests on a stand resembling a powder cabinet.

The elegant wooden slatted chair matches a chestnut commode and the table. The light is a reproduction of the original and the lamp is a reproduction of the original of the splendor of the early American scene of the room.

LUHN JUDGEMENT WILL BE APPEALED, ABILENE CITY ATTORNEY STATES

It is apparent that Abilene does not propose to settle the small judgment given Mrs. Lottie Luhn, formerly of Colorado, for personal damages, until forced to do so by the highest court in the land. The case has gone through from the lower trial court in Abilene to the Texas appeals court with Mrs. Luhn winning over time.

In reporting developments in the case an Abilene newspaper Friday morning said:

The city of Abilene has lost another round in litigation with Mrs. Lottie Luhn and husband, but is not willing to finally "call it a day" and pay the judgment which Mrs. Luhn holds.

Wednesday the state supreme court dismissed for want of jurisdiction the city's appeal from a verdict returned in 42nd district court here and affirmed by the appeals' court at Eastland in which Mrs. Luhn was awarded judgment of $2,400 for injuries assertedly received when, in February of 1933, she stepped into a hole in the street at the Wooten hotel alley. Henry L. DeBusk, city attorney, said Thursday he will file motion for rehearing.

"If that is denied," he said, "I will make application to the supreme court of the United States for writ of certiorari, asking that court to review the findings of the state court on the ground that judgment was given on matters not pleaded and against decisions of the supreme court."

WASHINGTON TIGHTENING REINS ON CURB OBJECTIVE

'BANKHEAD BILL WILL BE PASSED,' BASKIN SAYS IN ADDRESS AT CLUB FRIDAY

Cotton Producers Failing To Enter Contracts Will Be Penalized, He Notes

The cotton curb bill recently introduced in Congress by Congressman Bankhead of Alabama will be enacted into law and there is no occasion for "passing the buck" in support of the theory it is a bluff, declared B. J. Baskin, county farm agent, in an address at the Lions Club Friday.

"We have attained splendid success in acreage control campaign in Mitchell county but there are others whom, I believe, should accept proposal offered by the government as solution of our stagnant farm status," he said. "The planter declining to sign one of those contracts will find himself up against a serious mandate later on. He will be taxed 12 cents a pound on every bale of cotton sold, it mattering not whether the staple be placed on the market when ginned or later after his production allotment has been reached."

The agent went on to explain that objective of the government was to curtail maximum production of each individual cotton farmer to 65 percent of his normal crop with no tax liabilities involved. The 12 cent levy would be assigned to each bale over that ratio.

Farmers of the South favor such compulsory control of cotton production, Baskin declared, "and Mitchell county is no exception to that rule," he continued. "Ninety five percent of the cotton planters in this county favor such a program. Questionnaires recently sent out to every section of the cotton producing South are being returned to Washington with approval of the plan written by the farmers."

Baskin recalled that six days remained in which the contracts might

This District First In Lions' Progress, Governor Says Here

District 2-T of Texas is making larger gains based on ratio of per capita population than any district within jurisdiction of Lions International, stated Del W. Harrington of El Paso, district governor, who was a visitor in Colorado Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"We are making commendable strides in all parts of the district and the Colorado club is setting a fine pace in that progress," Mr. Harrington said.

He accompanied delegation of Colorado Lions to Snyder Monday night where he was principal speaker at Ladies Night banquet. Tuesday night he was in Big Spring to attend a similar function.

LIONISM AT COLORADO TO ATTAIN GOAL OF HUNDRED STRONG BY MEETING DATE

Four New Members Voted And Eleven Applications, Record For Friday

Lionism continues to forge ahead in Colorado with a momentum never before demonstrated since the service club was chartered eleven years ago. Friday members of the organization unanimously voted membership to four and heard applications for affiliation read from eleven, making a total of fifteen.

"One of the most pleasing experiences I have had in a long time," commented President Joe B. Mills as he discussed phenomenal progress that is attending the club. "I have every confidence that our goal of one hundred Lions by time for District 2-T convention in April will be reached and even exceeded. Lionism is succeeding in Colorado because our ministry, business and professional interests are finding something of merit in its tenets."

The four new Lions voted membership Friday were W. C. Davis, Colorado garage manager; Van Boston, mayor of Westbrook; Boyd Dozier, barber shop, and O. H. Majors, Colorado jeweler. The four clubs are to be formally received at meeting today.

Applications for membership were read from J. B. Hoel, J. E. Hale, Phillip Berman, Jack Helton, D. M. Merritt, A. D. Kiker and R. H. Kattiff and applications for re-instatement from W. A. Rose, W. W. Porter, Dr. C. L. Root and J. Lee Jones. Secretary E. V. Grantland stated Friday afternoon that active membership had reached 79 and with election of the eleven applications pending action today this total would be boosted to ninety.

W. H. Rogers, Colorado dairyman, was introduced as a new member in address by George H. Mahon. Rogers was elected into the club the Friday before.

Coloradoans Assist Snyder Lions Club In Reorganization

Several members of the Lions Club were in Snyder Monday evening to attend reorganization banquet of the Snyder club. Featured on the entertainment program was the Chuck Wagon Surenaders. The banquet program, given at the Manhattan Hotel, was attended by some ninety people.

Principal speakers addressing the gathering were Del W. Harrington of El Paso, governor of District 2-T, and J. H. Greene of Colorado, deputy district governor.

President Joe B. Mills of the Colorado club, Rev. Dick O'Brien and W. S. Cooper of Colorado and C. Wedgworth, superintendent of the Snyder schools, were others to deliver address.

Jake Smith, editor of the Scurry County Times, was elected president of the reorganized club. Thirty-three members were reported listed on the club roster with several others considered good prospects.

ASSISTANCE GIVEN THE LIONS CLUB CALLED TO ATTENTION BY OFFICIAL

The Colorado Lions Club is making unprecedented progress and The Record is entitled to credit for at least a part of this ever growing universal popularity, Joe B. Mills, president of the civic organization, declared Friday. Mr. Mills called at the office of publication to personally express his feelings in the matter.

"It is certainly pleasing for me to note that Lionism is making phenomenal strides in Colorado and I wish to state that cooperation given the club by this newspaper has carried for substantial influence in attaining those ends," he said.

RAIN FALLS ON RANCH SOUTHEAST OF TOWN

Byron Byrne, rancher southeast from Colorado, stated while in town Friday that a good rain fell over his place Thursday morning of last week. The precipitation amounted to three-quarters of an inch, he said. The moisture will be of benefit to the range in starting an early Spring growth of grass.

FRIEND OF AGED NEGRO SUPPLIED DOLLAR BILL TO REGISTER HIS DOG

"I appreciate my friends and will never forget what many of the white men in Colorado have done for me," Walter Mitchell, aged Colorado negro, stated Tuesday morning while affixing a shiny new dog tag to the collar of an ordinary dog. He had just acquired the tag at the city hall.

"You see I was worried over what might happen to this worthless dog of mine, because the law said I had better get a tag for him and I did not have the dollar. A white man came along and gave me the money and now me and my dog will continue together at least for another year."

Mitchell who has lived in Colorado through many years, and his dog are to be seen on the street every day. The pet that has become as much attached to the aged negro as he is to the dog, are always together.

"Old Pup might not be worth much as a dog, but he is my friend and stays with me all the time," Mitchell continued as he ambled down the street on his cane, with his dog at his heels. "I wish Pup could realize just how much that white man has just done for him."

Annual banquet of the Future Farmers of America chapter to be given in basement of First Baptist church on the evening of March 2 will be attended by not less than 200 people, representing every section of Mitchell county, Doyle Williams, director, stated Friday. A program of strong interest will be rendered, according to Williams.

The affair had been originally planned for February 22, but was changed in order to not conflict with annual banquet of the chamber of commerce.

"Parents and other citizens vitally interested in the work being done by these boys from practically every community of the county will join with them in this annual program," Williams stated. "We invite your cooperation in making the affair the most successful ever held by the chapter."

FROM the land of bigger and better families... we call attention to those hearty, appetizing, satisfying foods that feed so many mouths and cost so little—Spaghetti, Macaroni and Cheese! Include them in your menus this week.

Caused Spaghetti saves a lot of time and work... and it's good.

Spaghetti Italiane: Simmer a large can of tomatoes to a thick sauce, cooking with it—1 minced onion—pepper—1 tbs. salt—1 tbs. sugar—1/4 cup of olive oil—touch of garlic and a bay leaf if you like 'em. Try your own variations, using tomato paste or puree of tomato to speed the preparation.

For a meat sauce, fry ground beef and add grease and all to the above. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese.

Macaroni: Bake it with cheese and milk. And remember—macaroni can be used in place of spaghetti in any dish... and both are excellent in soups.

Noodles: Try frying them along with pork chops! It's a fine combination. Almost as good as noodles and stewed chicken!

Cheese: A grand mixer! Cook it with Spaghetti, Macaroni or Noodles... with eggs for omelettes... as a Welsh Rarebit for Sunday suppers... on rye bread for sandwiches. There are many kinds of cheese... and all are good! Our advice—try them all!

"Put back my Telephone"

Every day former users of telephone service ask us to re-connect their telephones. Here are some of the reasons they give:

"My husband is working again... we missed the telephone more than anything else."

"We thought we would save money, but found it false economy to be without a telephone."

"... I found that running my household required at least three more hours a day."

"Frankly, we were beginning to be 'back-numbers.' Our friends couldn't call us, nor we them."

"... I didn't like to think of my wife and youngsters at home without a telephone. I kept worrying about fires, hoboos, accidents... they had no protection."

THESE people have realized how much they missed the convenience, pleasure and security that a telephone gives.

Do you miss your telephone? Call the telephone business office, now. Say, "I want a telephone."

PLAYING THE GAME

Don't get too lagging—fight straight through to the end; keep your eye on the ball, watch moves and signals—it is the steady play that lands the ball on the right side of the ledger. Observe the rules for keeping physically fit. Don't stay down just because you're knocked over—jump up and at it again. It isn't so much whether you win or not—how you play the game.

Cooperate—pull with the team. Store up some reserve power for emergencies. Be a good loser; play fair; if you lose one game prepare to win the next. Life is a game—be a winner for there is always some goal you can reach.

THIRD PLAY OF TOURNAMENT

The Freshmen are ready to present the third feature of the plays in the high school tournament. They will present "The High School Freshman," a comedy in 3 acts, by Charles Ulrich. Harry, the high school football star finds that he has a rocky road to travel when his bitter enemy, the spoiled son of rich parents, seeks to have him disqualified to play in the big "Thanksgiving game." The enemy's weapons are lying gossip and a treacherous attempt to pin an accusation of theft upon the rigidly honest Harry. But Harry's loyal friends stand by him, the cowardly attack fails and the game is won for the high school.

SWEETWATER WILL PAY HIGHER RATE ON FIRE INSURANCE

SWEETWATER.—As the result of an increase in fire losses in Sweetwater during 1933, Sweetwater will draw a penalty of either nine or 12 per cent in insurance rates, it is estimated by local fire insurance agents. This increase will mean that protection will cost local citizens approximately $6,000 more than was paid on the same property valuations last year.
The official rate has not been announced as yet by the State fire insurance commission. However the above figures were reached by local fire insurance representatives by a comparison of the ratio of premiums paid with losses paid, which during 1933 was approximately 85 per cent. No charge is expected in the key rate.
The new rate becomes effective March 1.

It means specifically that any and all deposits in this bank up to $2500 are guaranteed in full against loss.

We support and support heartily this plan as a part of the Emergency Program for National Recovery. It has already restored public confidence in banking institutions.

But as a permanent restorative of that public confidence nothing can ever take the place of Sound Banking Management directed to the Benefit of Depositor, Customer and Stockholder alike.

THE BEST PUBLIC WORKS

One-eighth of the huge public works program under the recovery act of last March was set aside specifically for emergency highway construction, yet there is no specific mention of road-building in President Roosevelt's recovery suggestions regarding 1934 and 1935. At least, no word of it has gained the public prints.

This is a source of just concern to many persons who believe that highway building has demonstrated beyond doubt its right to stand in the front rank of public works, from any practical standpoint.

Surely it is common knowledge, by now, that highways are our only public activity paying its own way; that in Texas, where all necessary materials are found, road work returns almost 100 per cent of its output, first or last, to labor; and that the rich rewards paid by highways both to the State and to private business are as certain as the fact that people will drive automobiles.

Every day of any year the machinery is oiled and ready to carry out emergency highway work, for the highway departments of the states are constantly attuned to the federal bureau of public roads through their normal federal aid negotiations.

It is true that only two-thirds of the $400,000,000 road program has yet been put to work, after nine months. Perhaps some criticism is due in that connection. But it was a huge labor, in which each state had to submit a complete and equitably distributed program before a single project was approved. And to some of us at least, there is comfort in the knowledge that so much is being obtained from those dollars, with so little waste.

Furthermore, no less an authority than O. S. Warden, president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, assures the public that the entire fund will be consumed by July 1.

This program, he estimates, will employ perhaps one million men nationally. That means about 50,000 in Texas.

Already there is a bill before the senate—the Hayden bill—proposing a return to regular federal highway aid of $125,000,000 yearly. This would cut Texas to about $7,000,000, reducing road employment by two-thirds.

But for one other fact Texas would not protest? She ranks thirty-ninth among the states in improved state highways, and she greatly needs to complete her trunk roads if she is to attract tourists to Mexico and to her centennial, yet she could quietly forego this need except for this:

For "public works," the president asks $1,667,490,800 in 1934 and $1,689,883,100 in 1935.

The best public works, for recovery, are highways. Congress should give them their due.

IMMORTALITY

"Unthinkable and untenable" are the terms used by a Columbia University dean in expressing his opinion of immortality of the soul.

In spite of the learning of the authority quoted, there are millions who refuse to accept his views, millions who believe that the charnel house, the grave, the ash fire, millions who believe that "dust thou art, to dust returneth," was not spake of the Soul.

Especially do they believe this when they remembered that man was created in the likeness of God, endowed with infinite faculties, able to think God's thoughts after Him, when they consider the spacious universe, which the mind of man cannot measure, as the amphitheater of His activities.

The learned professor has forgotten that man, by searching, cannot find out God, that the great abysmal facts of life and death are not demonstrable, are not subject to the laboratory, nor to the QED of the geometrician.

There are thousands yet, in spite of the dean's opinion, who will cry out with Tennyson, "Thou madest man, he knows not why, he thinks he was not made to die, but thou hast made him, thou art just," or with Bayard Taylor, "Death cannot keep what death has never made."

Yes there are millions yet, convinced by the logic of the heart, greater than the logic of the head, who will answer in the affirmative the age-old question, "If a man die shall he live again?"

If the education that universities give, tend to extinguish the greatest light in the universe, the light of faith, leaving the world in utter blackness, then the value of this education is indeed in doubt.

STATE PRESS

State Press in the Dallas News is quite an eccentric columnist. He says there are no fixed principles and believes the world is radish shaped and not round and thinks every man ought to wear whiskers and no man should own a dog and is opposed to girls painting their finger nails and warns them to be sure to use a non-poisonous dye or you may contract an infection when you scratch. He has a horror for bathing and that soap is an antidote for longevity. Hear him:

The bathing habit is like many another pernicious indulgence—one easily acquired and difficult to be rid of. The ancients did not bathe, and they lived for centuries. Methuselah wouldn't have known a bathtub from a laundry basket if he had seen both together. In all countries where there are mountains the mountaineers live longer than those in the lowlands. There is but one answer for this—the water in the mountains is so cold the mountain folk avoid bathing. Of course, water can be heated in a mountainous country as well as in a plains region, but whoever saw a mountain cabin with modern plumbing? Unless it happened to be erected by a millionaire, who wanted it for a lodge during three or four summer weeks and who imagined he wouldn't be happy without his daily bath. Soap is another unfortunate invention. The ancients did not know anything about soap. If there had been a cake of scented soap on the ark, Noah's children would have eaten it for candy. "These are my jewels!" replied the haughty Roman dame, Cornelia, when the military robber asked her for her diamonds. And she showed him her ten children. The robber didn't want them, nor did he want her. He wanted treasure. But Cornelia's ten children hadn't had a bath since the day after they were born. The Romans had great public baths, mostly for the patricians. The plebeians didn't know they needed bathing. Even the Caesars had no soap. It is high time the people everywhere were learning that bathing is dangerous and soap an antidote for longevity. Our prejudice runs against the bathing habit, let it be understood—not against the bathing suit.

We would like to criticize him about the ladies. We have been taught of the purity and elegance of the English language—our mother tongue, to the end that noble thoughts and high aspirations might be instilled in the minds of the rising generations. It came not to be ministered unto but to minister.

And so it is with men and women. Every person who has made society somewhat better, whose hands have met other hands helpfully, though its contribution to society may seem to him the most infinitesimal fraction of a product, has made a success of life and the future, of which we know nothing, need not scare his rest. "All goodness is of God."

Most women wish to be attractive. Youth is always beautiful, always attractive. But the mere beauty of youth is fleeting. If the girls and women of today wish to be attractive and beautiful in the years to come, they should remember that they are not here to be ministered unto, but to minister, and should know that disappointment and disaster will overtake them if they forget the error.

Time, to be sure, will leave its facial footprints, but accuracy and elegance of speech, accuracy and elegance of thought, purity of emotion and a noble life give to women a beauty, which the years cannot mar, nor make less attractive. And from her face even in old age, shine the beauty and glory of a life well spent.

OTHER DAYS

These are glorious days for the news forces, with our national capitol turned into a vast trapezia, where the leading GOP men perform acrobatic stunts, while contributing nothing to their own dignity as statesmen, add not a little to the gaiety of nations.

On to the scene comes the Happy Warrior, and lets it be known to all and sundry that he does not want any "baloney" money. Governor Al once ran a race for President, and also made a few political moves at the National convention which turned out disastrously. This developed in him a "baloney" complex, and since then he is shy of "baloney."

All this makes a wonderful noise in the air, in fact, there has been nothing like it since the grand cacophony of Joshua's rams horn blew down the walls of Jericho. Among the leaders he is besieged on one hand by the gold bugs, and bedeviled on the other by the inflationist, but a wise hero is His Excellency in keeping his monetary plans to himself. No general in a battle against such stupendous forces would wisely divulge his plans to his subordinates, and he has to be very careful in laying them before his staff. This writer feels confident that the President will do nothing to dishonor the good old American dollar, although some of our high financiers may need a little fumigating for the crimes they have made the unwitting dollar commit. The thing that he has to fear and this country has to fear, is the terrifying cry of the inflationists, who have great plans for starting up the printing presses, and turning loose barrels of paper which they somehow think might be money. Probably congress will give them a chance to get rid of some of their explosive.

This writer remembers well away back in the 80's when the Populist party was in its zenith with Cyclone Davis as its chief. All this furore about inflation of the currency recalls those days. The Populists were "hot numbers" politically. I used to attend their rallies for miles around. They carried in their pockets what they believed was the Congressional Record, and a Populist orator never talked long until he pulled out his little book and proceeded to put us Democrats on the spot. We were accused of all crimes, from robbing the Begum of Bhopal to purloining the sacred tooth of Buddha, and like the present what glorious schemes they had for printing money and handing it out to the dear people.

I remember attending one evening, at which a little fellow by the name of Douthitt of Bell county was a Populist speaker, he was also a candidate for the Legislature. In the middle of his elucidation of the money question, he said: "Gentlemen I have a bunch of goats over on my place, and I can tell you that we can have a law passed and have the Government stick a stamp on these goats and I will have a bunch of twenty dollar bills on my place." This Populist was consistent in his way of thinking. He could turn his money into the pasture instead of putting it into the bank. He knew by natural contact that a Billy goat is sometimes stronger than a bank and either one is apt to blow up from too much inflation.

Those were hectic days, politically speaking. The hot winds of Kansas blew Mr. Pfeiffer into the Senate, and the grasshoppers and a platform of "no socks for Congressmen" put Jerry Simpson into the House. In conclusion I think the idea of the man and the goats is about as sensible and consistent as many ideas advanced in Congress and we read of in the daily press.

Questions And Answers On Government Curb Contracts For This And Next Year

COTTON PLAN

Question—Who may enter into the cotton acreage reduction plan?

Answer—A. Any producer who is an owner, landlord, cash tenant or managing share-tenant and who operates or controls a cotton farm that fulfills one of the following three conditions: 1. Cotton was planted for at least four years of the base period 1928 to 1932 inclusive.

2. Cotton was planted for three years of the base period, one of which years was either 1931 or 1932.

3. Cotton was planted in both of the years 1931 and 1932. B. Any producer who is an owner, landlord, cash tenant or managing share-tenant and who, fulfilled an acreage reduction contract with the Secretary of Agriculture in 1933 and will farm land in 1934 on which such a contract was fulfilled. Provided in either (A) or (B) that the reduction shall not be less than two acres, and provided further that, on land planted to cotton for any of the periods specified, the average production shall not be less than 100 pounds of lint per acre.

Question—Is a producer who has moved from the land he farmed in the base period eligible to enter into a contract?

Answer—Yes, if he has moved to a farm which is eligible under the contract.

Question—Is a new farmer who wants to start producing cotton eligible to sign the contract?

Answer—Yes, if he is farming land which is eligible under the contract, otherwise the answer is "No."

Question—Can fertilizer be used on the acreage planted to cotton?

Answer—Yes. The normal amount of fertilizer may be used. Using or encouraging the use of more than the normal amount of fertilizer violates the spirit of the cotton acreage reduction plan.

Question—Will each farm be inspected and measured to see that the required cotton acreage reduction actually is made and that other terms of the contract are complied with?

Answer—Yes. Inspection and measurements are necessary before the second payment for 1934 or 1935 can be certified.

Question—If the producer's farm is mortgaged, must the mortgagee sign the contract?

Answer—No.

Question—Will the required reduction in cotton acreage be based upon the number of acres planted or the number harvested?

Answer—Upon the number of acres planted and in cultivation on July 1 in each year of the base period.

Question—If the producer had a partial or complete crop failure during one or more of the years in the base period, will his farm allotment be affected?

Answer—Yes, because his average production will be lower.

Question—Can a producer who is operating two or more separate tracts of land include them all under one contract and get a single allotment?

Answer—He can if they are all under one ownership and operated as one farm. If they are operated as individual farms or by managing share-tenants, the producer should make a separate contract and obtain a separate allotment for each farm so operated to be covered by a contract.

Question—What restrictions are placed on the cotton land rented to the Secretary of Agriculture?

Answer—The following restrictions will be in force: (a). Under no circumstances can any crop be grown for sale directly or indirectly upon the land taken out of cotton production. In renting this land to the Secretary, the producer should not expect to use for producing any product for sale any more than he would on land rented to a neighbor.

(b). Feed crops intended to be grown on other land for the feeding of livestock cannot be diverted to the land taken out of cotton production, thereby releasing acreage for the production of some crop or crops for sale. (c). The boundaries of the land taken out of cotton production shall be marked by the producer with stakes or other appropriate markers. (d). The land cannot be made a source of profit by renting or otherwise disposing of its use or by the sale or exchange, directly or indirectly of products from the land.

CORN-HOG PLAN

Question—Can a contract be signed by a producer for corn or hogs alone?

Answer—No, except as follows: (a). If his 1932-33 litters were less than four, he does not have to reduce hog production and does not receive hog payment. If such litters were less than three, he is not eligible to receive payment even if he desires to reduce hog production.

(b). If his 1932-33 average corn acreage is less than 10 acres, he does not have to reduce corn production, and he is not eligible for corn payment.

In any case where the average corn acreage is 10 or more acres and the average number of litters is more than three, a producer must reduce both corn and hogs.

Question—Can a contract be signed if the producer does not intend to plant corn or raise hogs in 1934?

Answer—(a). He may reduce his corn acreage in 1934 as much beyond 20 percent of the 1932-33 average corn acreage as he wishes, but he cannot receive payments for any reduction in excess of 30 percent unless otherwise authorized by the Secretary of Agriculture.

(b). He may reduce his litters farrowed and hogs produced for market by any amount in excess of 25 percent of 1932-33 average but he cannot receive reduction payments for such excess reduction.

The contract signer agrees that the farm under contract will be operated throughout 1934.

Question—A person owns sows which are placed with producers under an agreement whereby such person retains ownership and receives back the sows and a specified number of pigs at some future time. Can such person include the litters of such sows in his 1932-33 litters under a corn-hog reduction contract?

Answer—No, because he does not own the litters when farrowed and because the litters are farrowed on land not owned or operated by him.

Question—Can hogs produced under an agreement such as indicated in the previous question be included under any contract?

Answer—Yes, they may be included in the 1932-33 litters of the producer if he owns such litters when farrowed.

FREE COWBOY AND INDIAN KUTOUT OFFERED KIDDIES

MOVABLE CHARACTERS TO BE GIVEN BY GROCERS AS REWARDS TO BOYS, GIRLS

Free With Purchase Kellogg's Corn Flakes; Ask Your Dealer To Explain

Announcement of a feature that should be of special interest to the boys and girls of Colorado and this territory was received at The Record office Wednesday from the makers of Kellogg's Corn Flakes, known in most homes as a most pleasing cereal food.

Cowboy and Indian "Kutouts" is the name that Kellogg has seen fit to give the movable characters offered free to any interested boy or girl. Colorado grocers are cooperating in this novel plan to place one of the toys in the hand of every child. Suggest that you call at your grocer, purchase some of the popular flakes and ask for your Kutout.

In the group are cowboys riding broncos and playing the banjo and the American Indian is depicted on the warpath in his canoe and astride his pony.

The offer is to be good for a limited time. Better attend to the matter today if you would be among the boys and girls to receive one of the toys.

Also the number of friends who manifested such a beautiful spirit in offering their blood. And to Lester Manning, William Green and Robert Dunn who submitted to transfusions for her.

Barrier Holds That Pen System Should Be Industrialized

To the Voters of the 117th District:

If I am successful in my attempt to secure a seat in the Texas House of Representatives I will recommend that the Texas Penitentiary System be industrialized because of the following reasons.

First: The inmates of the penitentiary should not be allowed to produce farm products to sell in the open markets and thereby compete with free labor, as we already have an overproduction of all farm products. As it is the prisoners are producing cotton and many other farm products in competition with free labor. Those crops that are produced by prison labor sell for less due to the extra production and this causes a decrease in the farmers' income which is far below the cost of production.

Second: The prisoners should be employed by making the State motor vehicle license plates, which would be quite a large undertaking each year. This would result in a great saving to the taxpayers.

Third: The prisoners should make their own clothing. They could also make cheap cotton material and compete with the far-away New England cotton mills instead of the Texas cotton farmers. The price of land is increasing and the farms could be sold and the money received therefrom could be used in the purchase of machinery for the factory.

Fourth: If the men were working in a factory they could be guarded much more easily and with fewer guards and decrease expenses. This would prevent so many prisoners from effecting escapes from prison.

Fifth: Factory work would afford some valuable training for the boys that would be quite useful for them when they get out of prison, and some of them could grasp a new lease on life when they are free

W. G. SWEATT, AGED NEW HOPE CITIZEN, DIES MONDAY FOLLOWING HEART ATTACK

Pioneer Farmer Given Rites At Iatan Cemetery On Tuesday Afternoon

Death came to W. G. Sweatt, aged citizen of New Hope community, here Monday following a heart ailment developing a few days before. Death was at 1:15 P. M. at the Root hospital where the stricken man had been received for treatment.

Burial was in the Iatan cemetery Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Minister E. O. Stewart of the Sweetwater Church of Christ officiating. Burial was in the family plot there with Jones, Russell Company in charge.

Born in Panola county, November 27, 1852, Mr. Sweatt was a native Texan and had spent his lifetime in his native State. He and Miss Cindy Williams were married June 3, 1872 and together they established a farm home in New Hope community 26 years ago. The family has resided there since.

Survivors include his widow, five daughters, Mrs. E. G. Reed of Bangs, Tinnie Franklin of Big Spring, W. E. McCoy of Hartsfield, Ark., J. H. Burrow of Westbrook and C. J. Smith of Stanton; four sons, George W., T. G. and F. M. Sweatt of Colorado and Ed Sweatt of Hart, Texas, and one sister, Mrs. Annie Miller of Cleburne. There are 47 grandchildren and 37 great-grandchildren surviving.

Sons and grandsons of deceased acted as pall bearers. Six daughters were in charge of the floral offering.

This is a problem that should be solved in the near future. By decreasing the production of farm products on the Texas prison farms it would indicate that Texas is in sympathy with the Roosevelt Administration in the noble attempt to eliminate overproduction.

Yours respectfully,
H. B. BARRIER,
Candidate for State Representative.

CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Dick O'Brien will preach at Rogers Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and all are invited to come out and hear him as he will have a good message for us.

The regular Sunday night singing was enjoyed by a large crowd including several visitors from adjoining communities. We cordially invite them back again. Everyone is urged to come to singing next Sunday night and make it the best song service we have this year. It was decided by vote of the singing class that the song service would be held each second and fourth Sunday afternoons instead of the night service so that it would encourage singers from other communities to come and take a part in the singing and not interfere with church services. Everyone remember that the first Sunday afternoon singing will be on the fourth Sunday in this month.

Mr. D. M. Smith, Sr., underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Dr. C. L. Root hospital Monday afternoon. We hope he will enjoy a rapid recovery.

EDITORIAL

On Friday and Saturday nights the sectional basketball tournament will be held in Colorado gymnasium. We hope the Wolves will be there all the way and win the tournament as they did the invitation tournament. But we, as high school students, are going to be there and we hope we live up to the reputation of good sportsmanship that we have made for ourselves on previous occasions. Wolves, we're behind you all the time, believing that you can, and will, win.

WOLVES VS. HAMLIN

The Colorado Wolves won over the Hamlin Pied Pipers last Friday night in what seemed to be no set up for them. The Wolves played fair basketball, but way short of their best. Colorado led the score during the four quarters with Hamlin close behind. The final score was 26 to 17.

The Hamlin team gained revenge on the Wolves for the two previous defeats by beating them Saturday night by a score of 26 to 25 on the Hamlin court.

The Colorado girls swamped the Colorado ex-team or the "Home Town" team by a score of 46 to 5. The victory definitely settled an old argument between the two teams as to which was the best ball players.

SECTIONAL TOURNAMENT

The sectional tournament for the southern half of District 3 will be staged here Friday and Saturday. Those to compete in this tourney are: Big Spring and Forsan from Howard county; Abilene and Wylie from Taylor county; probably Colorado from Mitchell county; and Roscoe or Divide from Nolan county.

Drawing for the places in the tourney will be made at 6:30 Wednesday between representatives of the different teams. The winner of this tourney will play the winner of the northern half of the district in a game or series of games for the district championship. The tourney for the northern half will be staged at Roby and teams from Scurry, Kent, Fisher, Borden, Stonewall, and Jones counties will compete. The championship is very uncertain for there are many strong teams that will make high bids for the pennant and the race will be a tight one.

COUNTY TOURNAMENT

The games for the county championship were staged in the Wolves' gym Monday and Tuesday nights. The Wolves defeated the Westbrook team for the right to play Loraine who was the victor over Iatan by a score of 62 to 7. The winner of the Colorado-Loraine game will be the representative for Mitchell county in the sectional tourney to be staged in Colorado Friday and Saturday.

 Sefton P. (afraid to admit his real object): "I merely wanted to know what age woman is most fascinating."

Slow waiter (in London restaurant): "Your coffee, sir, it's special from South America."
 Diner (sarcastically): "Oh, so that's where you've been?"

 Mr. Coffman: "If everybody had to do that there wouldn't be so much reckless driving."

Miss Jennings: "Did anyone ever tell you that you had a pretty chin?"
 Edna Earl: "No, why?"
 Miss Jennings: "Then why are you trying to grow another one?"

Etta Harkins: "The man I marry must be bold as a lion, but not over bold, handsome as Apollo, industrious as Vulcan, wise as Solomon, yet meek as Moses—a man all women would court, yet devoted to only one woman—myself."
 Ed Morrison: "How lucky we met!"

Red Morrison: "Is Mettler a man to be trusted?"
 Marvin Jackson: "Sure; I'd trust my life in his hands."
 Red Morrison: "Yes, I know—but can you trust him with anything of value I mean?"

 Joe Coopre: "I asked you, darling, to keep our engagement a secret."
 June Cox: "I couldn't help it, that hateful Polly said the reason I wasn't married was that no man had ever been fool enough to propose to me. So I told her you did."

AMERICAN LEGION

The American Legion Post of Colorado sent several representatives to talk to the sixth and seventh grades on the points of the American Legion Honor Medal which is to be presented to the boy and the girl of the seventh grade who live up to the five points, honor, courage, scholarship, service, and leadership.

Commander Howell introduced the visitors and showed the plaque which is engraved on it the names of the winners of this medal in 1931, 1932, 1933 etc. He also explained that the Oran C. Hooker Post was named after Oran C. Hooker who was killed in the World War.

Superintendent John E. Watson made a speech on scholarship. In this he stated that scholarship used to be thought of as being shown in Socrates Plato and the books of long ago. To them we owe our culture and civilization. But the scholar of today will not be a cloistered monk who spends time copying. We must be a scholar in today's sense of the word. What is a scholar today? He must have many sides. The ancient scholar did only one thing and that one thing he did well. Good scholarship must have many rooms.

Today a good scholar must have a good physique, good mental habits, personality, ability to make friends, sense of humor, and thoughtfulness. The boy who learns with difficulty and learns a little is worth more than the one who learns easily but doesn't try.

President Roosevelt is a perfect example of a modern scholar. His health is not so good now, but he was perfect as a scholar until he lost his health.

He has the ability of liking to work. We must learn to like it for we will have to work and if we have all the assets of a good scholar then we shall be able to work happily.

In a poem he stated the following part was quoted:

"Build thee more stately Mansions, O' my soul
 As the swift seasons reel
 Leave thy low vaulted past."

Not all of the students in the seventh grade can win this medal, but all can be scholars.

Mr. C. H. Farris told the youngest legion member and stated that he had a perfect physique.

He also urged the students to drink plenty of milk.

Other legion members present were Roy Warren, Howard Rogers and C. M. Carter.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

A Book Report by Jane Meskimen
 This book is about a poor boy, by the name of Abraham Lincoln who by splitting rails and working his way up to fame and honor finally became the president of this nation during the trying period of the Civil War.

Lincoln's mother died when he was young and later his beloved sister died. After moving from place to place his father decided with the consent of Lincoln's step-mother, to make a permanent home in Illinois. There, Lincoln found odd jobs and at one time went into business with another man in a grocery store. It was unsuccessful, however, so he decided to be a surveyor. Lincoln found many friends and studied all of the books that he could get his hands on. He ran for the legislature as a Whig and held this office for ten or fifteen years. He also was post-master general of this small town and, including his surveying and his legislative duties, he still had to live on a meagre fare. Abraham Lincoln was a great speaker and, together with that and his ability to fight with the westerners, he was liked by everyone. He was a great hand to joke and tell funny stories. Since we have discussed the happy side of this man, let us see if he had any other moods. Yes, he did.

Abraham Lincoln often had melancholy moods, when his face would look as if it were viewing long memories gone and past. One reason for this was because of a girl's death, whom he loved very much. This death had a deep effect upon Lincoln but later on he married another woman by the name of Mary Todd. He had three sons but one died and the other went to Harvard; therefore, he had only one boy to romp and play with. Lincoln, later, became president of the United States and was re-elected once. This was a trying period of worry and distress because the Civil War was going on and Lincoln's entire nature changed. His Emancipation Proclamation is famous throughout the world.

Soon after his re-election Lincoln and his wife went to the theater in Washington and now the climax comes. An enemy of Lincoln by the name of John Wilkes Booth made a plan to kill Lincoln. He had a hole in the door leading to the president's booth. Then the terrible shot rang out and Lincoln was nearing eternity. How pale the people's faces became, for Lincoln was dead. Still the memories of this honest and kind President lingers with the people of his nation.

POEMS
 Abraham Lincoln
 We honor you, Lincoln
 We honor you all
 You stood up to fight
 And not to fall.

You did your best,
 Which was all you could do,
 And when you did it
 You were never through.

We know you had troubles,
 And worries as well
 You did what you could,
 And did not fail.

So as life goes on,
 We honor you, dear,
 On February,
 The best month of the year.
 BOBBY WRIGHT.

Lincoln
 Abraham Lincoln was brave and strong,
 His only fear was of doing wrong.
 He always explained things in a joking way;
 He began his work at the break of day.
 He loved to read, while a small boy,
 And a new book filled his soul with joy.
 LEON LEVENS.

Lincoln
 Oh, honorable a man as ever known,
 All through his life his truth outshone;
 He paid his debts in an honest way,
 And always worked before he'd play.
 Although his parents had little money,
 His younger days seemed bright and sunny.
 He never seemed to mind his work,
 And at a lesson never would shirk.
 He never feared when doing right;
 He freed the slaves in a very hard fight;
 He did not treat the South unfair,
 Which is a thing that is very rare.
 JAMES WYCHE.

CHAPEL
 Wednesday, February 7, 1934, the Abilene Christian College, with Mr. Berdorf as director, sang two songs by the German composer, Beethoven. The first part of the program was a religious one; the last part was very amusing. The male quartette sang "Come Thou Almighty King." The quartette sang two other religious songs. The chorus sang many other songs which were very beautiful and everyone enjoyed it very much. The male quartette sang other songs, too. They were "Dear Old Daddy," "Kentucky Bago," "Little Girl Just Over the Way," "Women," and "Sweet Adeline."

Side Quit Hurting, Got Stronger, Well; CARDUI Helped Her

Mrs. R. L. West, of Huntville, Ala., writes: "I was weak and run-down. I had a pain in my side, and I kept losing weight. I grew nervous over my condition—this was unusual for me, for I am very cheerful when I am well and don't easily get nervous. I knew I ought to take something. My aunt told me I ought to try Cardui, which I did. I began to feel better. I kept it up until I had taken three or four bottles. My side quit hurting and I was soon feeling strong and well."
 Cardui is sold at drug stores here.

News of Club Girls And Women

The Plainview home demonstration club met with Mrs. J. C. Hanklin Wednesday, Feb. 7th with 10 present, including visitors and members. The program for the afternoon consisted of a talk on refinishing floors by Mrs. Walter Averitt and a demonstration on repairing, refinishing and upholstering chairs was given by the county home demonstration agent, Miss Gunter. A progress report was given as to the number of members making quilts, tufted bedspreads and hooked rugs. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Averitt, the 16th.

Miss Gunter visited North Champion and Looney schools this past week when they asked her to come out and see about organizing a girls 4-H club in their school. These clubs will be the last girls clubs organized this year as the time is going so fast and the girls will not be able to complete their definite goals if later organizations are perfected. More adult clubs are planned to be organized as they can work faster than girls in their club work. Over 100 girls from the ages of 10 to 20 are enrolled in the 10 clubs listed at the present time.
