OUTLOOK FOR GOOD RANGE AND CROP CONDITIONS FOR AREA IS BEING REFLECTED

Precipitation Totalling Inch Falls At Colorado, Other Localities In County

The outlook for good range and crop conditions in the area is being reflected by precipitation totaling an inch at Colorado and other localities in the county.

Uninterrupted periods of this section of West Texas toward a more stabilized industrial plane during the past several months received material impetus Wednesday night as sequel to a general rain that blanketed a considerable territory surrounding Colorado.

Rain totaling an inch is reported here at Westbrook, Buford and other communities from which reports were received Thursday morning. Farmers and cattlemen were united in giving expression to enthusiasm over the outlook for improved conditions. The rain was needed by both in all parts of the territory.

"One of the finest rains I have ever seen here," was the comment of Jim Boone, Buford farmer, when seen in Colorado Thursday afternoon. "The moisture came slowly and was needed as it fell. I am confident that the farmers of my community may now continue with their plowing preparatory to planting."

E. M. Bell of Westbrook stated that an inch of rain covered that part of the county. "Certainly looks good to me," he said. "Farmers now have moisture to plant early Spring crops and encourage feel that the range will be covered with a good grass crop before many days have passed."

Similar reports couched in optimism were coming into The Record office from all parts of the county as the edition of the paper went to press Thursday afternoon. As a rule, farmers were not troubled due to lack of moisture before the rain, but were glad to have the work of breaking and bedding their land for seeding later.

Local businessmen, bankers and others identified with Colorado were giving expressions of pleasure over the rain. "Look, sky was overhanging with heavy clouds Thursday afternoon, but our encouragement to the farmer advanced by some that additional moisture was due to fall."

Texas Interscholastic League Registers Continued Growth, Bureau Chief Reports

Membership in the Texas Interscholastic League continues at a high level, thereby actually recording a percentage gain, in view of the fact that each year there are fewer public schools in Texas, due to the large consolidation program that is sweeping the State, according to Roy Bedcheck, of Austin, chief of the University of Texas Bureau of Public School Interests. There are approximately 5,500 schools enrolled in the League this year. This indicates that the League each year is gaining as members, a higher percentage of the schools operating in the State. This, coupled with the fact that limited finances are keeping a considerable number of schools either closed or operating on a short term basis, illustrates the remarkable vitality of the League.

Approximately 1,400 high schools are participating in League basketball, also about the same as last year. This figure does not, however, cover anything like all schools which sponsor basketball teams. Mr. Bedcheck pointed out, since no fee is charged rural schools for this sport, and consequently no record is kept in the

Juggling Charged

"In taking the oath as a grand juror you gentlemen have assumed your places as one of the important branches of the court—a branch in the absence of which the court could not properly function," the court stated in addressing the twelve men. "The duty you are assuming is one in which you must face every condition and every issue involved as champions of respect to law and order."

"We often hear criticism directed against members of the grand jury, the trial court and other agencies charged with enforcement of the law, but I wish to state to you gentlemen that much of this criticism should be given those responsible for the legislative juggling that has made it hard in many instances for you and other officers to adequately enforce the law."

Judge Mauzey did not mention the Dean Law, but it was clear that he was discussing technicalities of the State liquor laws with members of the jury. That there has been entirely too much juggling and amendments featured by recent sessions of the legislature was charged.

"Without due regard to law our churches, schools, homes and our civilization could not stand," he stated. In paying his respects to the illegal liquor traffic the buyer came in for consideration along with the seller. "If we had no purchasers we would have no peddlers," the court declared.

G. B. Slaton, assistant vice president of the City National bank, was appointed foreman of the grand jury. Other members of the deliberative body include R. E. Beal, J. S. Boyd, W. W. Jenkins, J. Ralph Lee, A. L. Young, C. D. Taylor, J. Chester Hart, J. B. Mahon, I. W. Terry, C. M. Cosper and C. N. Stubbsfield.

N. T. Womack and Jim Payne were sworn in as bailiffs for the grand jury.

The grand jury was still in session Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and had reported to Judge Mauzey one bill of indictment. Court attaches advanced opinion the body would recess later in the afternoon, when additional bills of indictment would, in all probability, be reported.

Thompson Elected

George H. Mahon and G. B. Slaton. Speaking from an announced subject, "The New Deal," President Thompson in his annual address reviewed progress made during the past year in all parts of the country toward normalcy, lending emphasis to the appeal that every individual citizen, especially those identified with the chamber of commerce, support the organization during the months to follow.

"I believe that Colorado and the territory the city serves has opportunity to advance consistently along all lines of our social, civic and industrial life if you, the citizenship, will back with your influence the projects that are sponsored by this organization to attain those ends," he said.

After announcement of his reelection as president of the chamber, Thompson was called to the floor by the master of ceremonies. He was roundly applauded by those present.

"I did not mean to continue in this office," he stated, "but they used the steam roller out there just now. I told you a year ago when you elected me as your president to succeed Dr. Coleman that I appreciated the honor and I believe I did. I wish to repeat that statement again tonight, and bid for your active cooperation during the year."

Strong tribute was paid to Mr. Cline in an introductory address by George H. Mahon, 32nd district attorney. The West Texas chamber of commerce head was described as a man who was close and dear to the people of West Texas and one having a heart that beats in unison with those of his native section. Reference was made to Mr. Cline as a personal friend of the late King Albert of Belgium.

That every factor entering into this present civilization is more advanced and more decent than might have been claimed for the people of past generations was asserted by Mr. Cline. Opportunity for accomplishing the truly great service for humanity and civilization knocks with appeal at the door of every man and Colorado should not be found sleeping at the post in the general parade of West Texas, he outlined.

Ray Nichols of Verron, second vice president of the West Texas; D. A. Bauden of Stamford, manager, and Maury Hopkins of Fort Worth, assistant manager, were other officials of the organization to be presented.

Brief addresses were made by C. T. Watson, manager of the Big Spring chamber of commerce; John Hendrix, manager of the Sweetwater Board of City Development and Mrs. J. M. Perkins of Eastland, president of the Sixth District, Texas federation of women's clubs. Owen M. Murry of Dallas was another visitor recognized.

Entertainment features included two vocal solos by Mrs. Bill Martin of Lorraine, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. L. Latham of Colorado, and dance numbers by Little Misses Phyllis Berman and Iris Lovejoy, with Miss Margaret Cook at the piano, and by Miss Opal Martin of Lorraine with Mrs. Martin at the piano.

COLD SNAP RESPONSIBLE FOR CANTRILL DOMICILE BEING FLOODED MONDAY

That the weather man dished out some sub-freezing weather during Monday is to be attested by Big Jim Cantrill, Wolf mentor. It is probable this Colorado citizen received a lasting impression of what a frozen water pipe may bring about, when turned loose inside one's home.

Returning from their duties at high school Monday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Cantrill were perplexed to note water rushing out the front door of their home. Looking inside Cantrill found that a pipe in the kitchen had broken from freezing was turning loose a sluice of water under considerable pressure.

Water was three inches over floor of the living room, according to claims of the coach. Little damage resulted to furnishings in the home.

VETERANS OF JOURNALISM

Fred B. Robinson, in Waco News-Tribune; Editor Fred Whiskey of the Colorado Record, former West (McLennan County) editor, is still feeling old at 73, notwithstanding Editor McCarty of the Albany News, is three years older, and still writing as gloriously as thirty years ago, and Editor J. C. Son of the Palo Pinto Star has just retired, aged 87.

Editor Whiskey can't possibly be feeling old at 73. He lives in the exhilarating West, where men are regarded as juveniles until past 40 and are not considered middle-aged until 80. Colonel McCarty's 75 years sit so lightly on his shoulders he started a new paper at a near-by town a month or two ago, his work at Albany not being sufficient to keep him as busy as he wanted to be. As for Captain Son of Palo Pinto, he retired at 87, not because he felt his age, but because he wanted to do more fishing and hunting. For fifty years or more he has looked out upon the Palo Pinto hills, realized the Brazos River and considered the confluence streams in that general vicinity, but, being in the newspaper business, he didn't have time to fish and swim in the waters, or run up and down the hills behind baying hounds. Having sold his business, the Captain can now loaf and invite his soul. He has a soul. Most newspaper men have souls, and they are lucky if they get out with anything else. But, speaking of souls, how about Fred Robinson, above quoted? Fred was secretary of the Texas Press Association, and a benevolent-looking gentleman of long journalistic experience when State Press, in early youth, joined that organization. Mr. Robinson is still a journalist, but apparently no older than he used to be. His brother, George, however, is not quite as sprightly as formerly. The departure of his beloved country from Jeffersonian principles has disgusted and grayed George Robinson.—Sate Press in the Dallas News.

Seventy-Eight Years Young
Editor McCarty, of the Albany

Henry Herron was here from Dallas this week, visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jack Reynolds. Henry is now seventy-eight years young, says that he reads without glasses just as well as he ever did; he's straight as an arrow, and says that he often walks ten blocks in the city of Dallas. Laughing and telling us about driving to Throckmorton Friday night, some forty miles away to a domino party, playing until after midnight, then driving back to Albany, arriving at 2:00 o'clock A. M. But doggon folks don't grow old like they did in the long ago. Reading sometime ago about men getting old, while they were still young, so to speak, said that it was only a few years back, that in all of France there was not a man found who had reached the age of fifty—and here it is, in this wonderful age, the average span of human life is fifty-eight. Oh yes, diet, sanitation, the modern way of living, and the knowledge of the laws of health has lengthened out the human span of life. Lord Haldane, that great English biologist, says that it won't be long until man will be living a hundred and two hundred years. But gosh we wish that they would hurry up and find the serum that will restore youth to the aged, or the secret of the prolongation of a human life to one and two hundred years. Blast take it all we would like to stay here another hundred years.

In contrast to the above, Editor Whiskey, of the Colorado Record, Tribune, claims to be old at seventy-three, and even Rev. G. Lyle Smith of Waurika, Okla., formerly of Waco, admits being an old man at 70, while Dr. J. B. Cranfill, of Dallas, is sending out "invites" to attend his 100th anniversary, which will be in September, 1958. It has been stated a woman is as old as she looks, while a man is not old until he quits looking. Hence, "You pay your money and take your choice!"—Waco News-Tribune.

How Can We Carry Enough INSURANCE?

This problem is of more concern to the family of moderate means than to those in secure circumstances. To make a limited income provide enduring protection to the family is a matter that calls for careful financing on the basis of terms within their saving capacity.

Such a plan has been beautifully, securely and effectively worked out in the Search For Fabulous Riches Said Hidden In Cave Near Ranger Object Of Interest

RANGER—The quest for the legendary loot of Texas' most famous outlaw and bank robber, Sam Bass, has been revived here.

It is a well-known story here that the Jesse James of Texas, whose depredations and bold coups are the widest known in Texas history, used a cave near here as a hideout.

For years the tale of a buried treasure left by this 19th century outlaw has been told and retold here. The cave according to popular stories, was used as a haven after forays on banks and stagecoaches in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri.

The legendary cave has been located near here and many parties heretofore have sought the loot, said to be a large one, piled up in Bass's many raids.

The bold outlaw is comparable in Texas history to Billy the Kid in New Mexico. Twice-told tales of his daring made him something of a criminal hero. Even in his death at Round Rock, near Austin, when he shot it out with Texas Rangers, he immortalized himself in this State's history.

Many have been the tales in Texas of buried loots. Many have been sought in widely scattered portions of the State.

Another searching party has obtained permission from Dr. A. K. Weir to dig for the treasure on his 1,200-acre ranch south of Ranger. The names of members of the party were kept secret.

Fortune tellers, divining rods and various signs and omens have sent party after party to seek the fabulous treasure, Dr. Weir said, but none so far as he knows has obtained anything other than aching backs and calloused hands.

The present party did not reveal on what it based its claim, Dr. Weir said. The doctor agreed that the searchers should be permitted to keep all the gold they found within a limited space of time, but after that time any loot found must be divided with him.

Most searchers have concentrated in a restricted area on the ranch, Dr. Weir said.

"There's a patch of about four acres in which intensive digging operations have been carried on in the past and this plot has been dug over so much that it looks as if a barrage of shells has been fired into it," Dr. Weir said. "All these diggers ever found were red bugs and seed ticks."

Burton-Lingo Co., will have a car of screened Lump coal on the track Friday and Saturday at $7.60 per ton. Come and get it Winter has just begun.

L. G. Geer of Sweetwater was among the business visitors in Colorado Tuesday.

Newsletters Giving Over-Emphasis To Romantic Stories

Chas. A. Guy, editor and Publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal, two of the leading dailies in West Texas, offers some pertinent statements in Sunday morning edition of his publications. Mr. Guy says:

"When a big-footed Swedish girl, albeit a great actress, takes a week-end trip with her director, clattering presses in a thousand cities are speeded up to tell the story.

"When two second rate cinema performers, in a welter of cross-actions, denounce each other as 'inhumanly cruel,' etc., etc., and a score of wires hum with the bloody details.

"And when a neurotic director, after a drunken brawl, packs his bags and leaves a moronic, scenario writing spouse, a hundred front pages, in black and red ink, pass the word on to John Reader, his wife and their flapper daughter who doesn't know a biscuit recipe from a pattern service.

"That, readers, gentle and otherwise, is the Scene Americana as proffered by our newspapers. Your answer, probably, is 'so, what?'

"The whole point is, it's the fault of the newspapers, generally which is just another way of saying that the men who make the newspapers misjudge their public.

"And that is right, although it may be treason for a newspaper to admit the fact.

"There are certain types of newspapers, pandering to the altogether thoughtless, to which such stories are 'big breaks.'

"But there are hundreds of other journals, being printed and circulated for the great American public as a whole, to which such occurrences are nothing more than 'the ordinary run of the news.'

"In other words, the private doings of the Great Garbo are no more important than the listings of the day's ideal real estate transfers, or the prices being offered for stocker and feeder cows. Such stories must and should be carried, for the information of the people who lay their money on the line for any daily newspaper. But to make top banners or feature smashes of them is a fallacy."

ENTHUSIASM ATTENDS PLANS FOR LIONS CONVENTION

ATTENDANCE ESTIMATE TO HIGHER FIGURES AS PLANS FOR SESSION ARE MAPPED

Pond Completes Personnel Of Committee Groups; Lady Lions Will Help

Early attendance estimates of from 250 to 300 delegates at annual convention of District 2-T, Lions International at Colorado April 23-25, are being displaced with figures of larger denomination. Convention chairman Joe Pond and his corps of assistants are today formulating plans to entertain a considerably larger number during the two days.

Every member of the Plainview club, numbering some sixty, will be in Colorado for the sectional gathering, according to statement received this week from officials of the service organization in that Panhandle city. Plainview is one of the larger clubs to already announce that a model luncheon would be sponsored here during the convention.

Lubbock, another of the larger cities of the Plains, is to send a large delegation to Colorado. Lubbock Lions will offer Judge E. L. Pitts of their city as a candidate for district governor and they, too, are to give a model luncheon program.

Midland Lions are expected to be well represented at the annual convocation, due to fact that Marion Peters of that city has been announced as an aspirant for district governor. It is believed that delegates will be registered from seventy five percent of the 52 clubs in the district.

Among major attractions already announced for the two days will be a barbecue at Riddick Park Monday afternoon, April 23. Following the barbecue special stunts and entertainment features are to be given in the open air amphitheatre at the park, to be followed by a dance in the evening. Other high spots of the meeting are being worked out by local committees. Much of the entertainment will be furnished by visiting artists. Plainview club has announced that several talented entertainers will accompany delegation from there.

Pond and his convention committee chairman discussed plans for the meeting Monday night during conference at the City National bank. Reports brought to the meeting indicated that every Colorado Lion is vitally interested in the meeting and

ALEXANDER THE GREAT HAD NOTHING ON 'RED' COFFMAN, GIRLS COACH

As Alexander The Great paused that pivotal day in ancient history to be overwhelmed with grief due to realization there were no more worlds for him to conquer, he had nothing on "Red" Coffman, coach of Colorado's fighting girls' basketball club, so friends of the popular mentor are saying.

After winning his own invitation tournament here Saturday night by defeating Westbrook 60 to 39, Coffman longer for other fields of conquest in the realm of basketball. His girls had fought in more than twenty contests during the season and never for one time suffered defeat.

Coffman would pride in leading his fair subjects to do battle with any other girls club who might be so confident of their prowess as to hint they could put an end to this commendable record. He cannot understand why there is not a State-wide tourney this season, out of which he and his girls might emerge to rightfully claim ownership of Texas' championship pennant.

Mitchell County teachers are expected to be well represented at the Spring meeting of the Oil Belt Education Association, which is to be held in Big Spring Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17.

The convention will open at 4 o'clock on Friday afternoon in the Municipal Auditorium with the superintendent's and principals' section. Theme of this part of the program will be "Team Work in an Educational Program."

Speakers during the two-day meeting will include Dr. J. L. Henderson of the University of Texas; Dr. J. D. Sandefer, president of Simmons University, Abilene; Dr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; J. O. Guleke of the State Board of Education; and H. F. Alves of the State Department of Education.

Various entertainment features for visiting teachers are being arranged by Big Spring organizations. Feature of the entertainment program will be the banquet to be held at the Settles Hotel on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Price of each plate will be seventy-five cents, and reservations may be made through W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of public schools in Big Spring.

DISTRICT 5 HONORS TAKEN BY WOLVES IN SECOND OF SERIES WITH PIED PIPERS

Champions To Now Compete For Pennant In Region Two At Abilene

The Colorado Wolves Thursday night won pennant in District 5 Interscholastic League, by defeating the Hamlin Pied Pipers for the second consecutive round of the final series. The score was 36 to 15 with the Cantrellmen outclassing their opponents in all periods of the contest. Tuesday night before the Colorado basketballers won over Hamlin 37 to 12 in game staged here.

Win of the district pennant will send the Wolf pack to Abilene this week-end for competition in Region 2 to be pitted against champions from Districts 6, 7 and 8. Winner of the region title will go to Austin next week for competition in the State meet.

In taking victory in second series tilt at Hamlin the Wolves became champions for ten West Texas counties, including Kent, Stone, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan and Taylor. They are to open the regional tournament in Abilene Friday night at 7 o'clock with the San Angelo Bobcats, champions in District 7, as opponents.

The Brownwood Lions, champions in District 8, are to play Cottonwood, pennant holders for District 6, at 8. Brownwood defeated Rockwell and Cottonwood defeated Breckenridge in finals in the two respective districts.

Brownwood was one of the quarter-finalists in State meet last year, but went down in defeat before super playing by Athens. Last year the Big Spring Steers defeated Breckenridge for bi-district pennant, and San Angelo won over McCamey for bi-district championship.

Colorado and Cottonwood, accepted as strong contenders for region belt, are both new comers in the West Texas championship play.

DEATH PENALTY VOTED AS PUNISHMENT FOR SLAYING FORMER WESTBROOK MAN

Tarrant District Court Jury Convicts Alleged Killer Of Jack Sturdivant

W. D. May of Hamlin, under indictment as co-defendant in the triple slaying of Jack Sturdivant, formerly of Westbrook, and two other men near Hamlin on July 1 of last year, Saturday was found guilty and given the death penalty by a district court jury at Fort Worth. The jury received the case at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and reported a verdict at 9:30 the next morning.

Sturdivant and two other men, J. B. and Harry Rutherford, were claimed by the State to have slain on the May farm near Hamlin and their bodies hauled in a truck several miles and dumped into the Trinity river. O. B. Stevens and O. D. Howard are other defendants named in the first degree murder indictments.

The State's theory that the slaying culminated a quarrel over division of $71,000 loot taken in a Texas & Pacific mail robbery a few months prior to the killing was substantiated by defense testimony. May and the slain men were connected with the robbery.

Sturdivant was well known both in Colorado and Westbrook. He was a mere youth while living here. Father of the youth was in the drug business at Westbrook for about two years during peak of the oil boom here.

Since indictments were returned against the three men last Summer they have been held in jail at Dallas and Fort Worth without bond. The Rutherfords are slated to be brought to trial at an early date.

Affair With School Girl Lands Fairview Teacher Behind Big Spring Bars

N. E. Boatler Arrested Last Saturday In Midland To Face Charges Here

BIG SPRING.—(Special to The Record)—N. E. Boatler, principal of the Fairview school, 20 miles northwest of Colorado, was being held in the Howard county jail Monday for safe keeping after charges had been lodged against him in Colorado.

His arrest grew out of an alleged affair with a 13 year old girl of the Fairview community.

Boatler was arrested in Midland Saturday and brought here.

The girl was with Boatler at the time he was taken at a Midland tourist camp Saturday afternoon. The pair had come there Friday afternoon, officers said.

Members of the sheriff department here said the girl had made a statement.

Not long since the Colorado Lions club had fitted the girl, a student in the Fairview school, with a pair of glasses. Her parents are farm tenants and were unable to bear the expense.

Boatler, who is married, had been teaching school in Mitchell county for some time.

ALRIGHT FOR THE WARRIORS—
—BUT HARD ON THE SQUAWS

Among the Indians, the custom of the men was to hunt, fight, indulge in flowery speeches at councils, and loaf.

It was up to the woman to plant the maize, beans and tobacco, cure the venison, take care of the wigwam and log house, and rear the children.

It is no longer good sportmanship—or good economics—to burden a woman with heavy labors. Hard work robs her of attractiveness, and health, and wears her out at an early age.

The worst of these labors is the family washing. It is hard work, and the energy wasted on it can never be replaced.

It is our job to take this burden from the housewife; just telephone. We will do all the washing and part or all the ironing.

Action Has Been Keypnote Of President During His First Year In White House

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram for Tuesday carries a most interesting resume of the President's first year in the White House. The article was written by Frank I. Weller in Washington especially for this newspaper. The article follows:

"This Nation asks for action, and action now."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, speaking, March 4, 1933.

"Only a foolish optimist can deny the dark realities of the moment. . . We face the arduous days that lie before us in the warm courage of national unity. . . We aim at the assurance of a rounded and permanent national life. . . The people of the United States have not failed. . . In their need they have registered a mandate that they want direct, vigorous action."

Action!

That's what the new President promised when he took office. The next day he proclaimed a national bank holiday and started some of the fastest action this or any other nation had ever seen.

Just as he pledged himself and set the tempo on that inaugural day, so has he outlined in his own crisis words the swift developments of his first year in office.

Millions of words have been written about it. Millions more will be written. But the President's own words—here following—served not only to foretell the events, but also in a measure to record them—in themselves they constitute a history of "Roosevelt's first year."

"This legislation will mark the beginning of a new relationship between the banks and the people of this country." (March 9, 1933).

The bill passed unanimously by the House after but 40 minutes of debate, gave the President virtually full command of the Nation's currency.

In the first of his soon-to-be famous "My friends' talks to the people he said:

"We had a bad banking situation. Some of our bankers had shown themselves either incompetent or dishonest in their handling of the people's funds. . . It was the Government's job to straighten out this situation. . . We do not want and will not have another epidemic of bank failures."

Addressing Congress on his plan to lop 25 per cent off government expenditures:

"For three long years the Federal Government has been on the road toward bankruptcy. . . The very stability of our government, itself, is concerned, and when that is concerned the benefits of some must be subordinated to the needs of all. I am not speaking to you in general terms. I am pointing out a definite road." (March 10, 1933).

Roosevelt sounded the keynote of "new deal" strategy against depression in his farm relief message:

"I tell you frankly it is a new and untrod path, but I tell you with equal frankness that an unprecedented situation calls for the trial of new means. . . If a fair administrative trial of it is made and it does not produce the hoped for results, I shall be the first to acknowledge it and advise you." (March 16, 1933).

On refinancing farm and home mortgages with federal aid:

"I seek an end to the threatened loss of homes and productive capacity. . . (April 3, 1933).

"The broad interests of the nation require that special safeguards be thrown around home ownership as a guarantee of economic and social stability. . . (April 13, 1933).

Planned economy and planned sociology, indices to the Roosevelt "second phase" of recovery, were brought into bold relief in making Muscle Shoals the nucleus for developing the potential public usefulness of the entire Tennessee River basin:

"A few wise cities and counties have looked ahead and planned. But our nation has 'just grown'. . . It is time we extend planning to a wider field. . . If we are successful here we can march on step by step in a like development of other great natural territorial units. . . (May 18, 1933).

White House addresses revealed that a constantly bolstered public confidence was a tenet of the Administration:

"I come for the second time to give you my report about what we have been doing and what we are planning to do. . . I am going to be honest at all times with the people of the country. I have no expectation of making a hit every time I come to bat. . . What I seek is the highest possible batting average. We are working toward a definite goal. . . It is a partnership between government and farming and industry and transportation." (May 7, 1933).

On taking virtual control of the nation's business life through NRA codes and the "Blue Eagle" the President said:

"The law I have just signed was passed to put people back to work to let them buy more of the products of the farms and factories and start our business at a living rate again." (June 16, 1933).

Excerpts:

"Its goal is assurance of a reasonable profit for industry and living wages for labor."

"It seems to me to be. . . plain that no business which depends for existence on paying less than living wages to its workers has any right to continue in this country."

"The aim of our whole effort is to restore our rich domestic market by raising its vast consuming capacity."

"It represents a supreme effort to stabilize for all time the many factors which make for the prosperity of the Nation and the preservation of American standards."

"Their purpose (U. S. control measures) is to free business—not to shackle it."

"Workers, too, are here given a new charter of rights long sought and hitherto denied." (Blanket right of collective bargaining).

Of his move to carry out his gold policy—described as making gold the servant rather than the master of humanity—the President said:

"The United States must take firmly into his own hands the gold value of our dollar."

"Whenever necessary to the end in view we shall also buy and sell gold in the world market."

"This is a policy—not an expediency. . . We are thus continuing to move toward a managed currency."

"My aim in taking this step is to establish and maintain continuous control. (Of the dollar)."

"I am not satisfied either with the amount or extent of the rise. (In commodity prices). . . If we can do this in one way we will do it in another. Do it, we will."

"Our troubles will not be over tomorrow, but we are on our way and we are headed in the right direction." (Oct. 22, 1933).

On Jan. 30 title to all monetary gold in the United States passed into the hands of the Federal Treasury and the President, by raising the price of gold to $35 an ounce fixed the gold value of the dollar at 59.06 cents:

"Whereas, I find. . . that in order to stabilize domestic prices and to protect the foreign commerce against the adverse effect of depreciated foreign currencies, it is necessary to fix the weight of the gold dollar at 15.521 grains, nine-tenths fine. . ."

"By establishing permanent metallic reserves in the possession and ownership of the Federal Government we can organize a currency system which will be both sound and durable."

"We are constructing the edifice of recovery. . . the temple which, when completed, will no longer be a temple of money changers or of beggars, but rather a temple dedicated to and maintained for a greater social justice, a greater welfare for America. . . the habitation of a sound economic life." (Jan. 30, 1934).

After charges of fraud had permuted the investigation of air mail contracts and they had been annulled:

"The cancellation of these contracts has created an emergency. . . I do hereby order. . . that the Secretary of War place at the disposal of the Postmaster General such airplanes, landing fields, pilots and other employees and equipment of the Army of the United States needed or required for the transportation of mail, during the present emergency. . ." (Feb. 9, 1934).

HEART DISEASE LISTED BY STATE HEALTH OFFICER AS VERY DESTRUCTIVE ENEMY

Mitchell Counties Will Be Interested In Figures By Dr. John W. Brown

Due to fact that heart disease has in the recent past been responsible for the passing of citizens of Mitchell county, the local public, will, it is believed, find interest in the following statement given The Record for publication by Dr. John W. Brown of Austin, State health officer.

Dr. Brown lists heart disease as "public enemy number one" and gives the startling information that 7,200 Texans died from the disease last year. He says:

"While it must be admitted that the deaths attributed to heart ailments are increasing, the fact remains that when a person complains of his heart, organic disease infrequently exists. Organic heart disease causes shortness of breath, swelling of hands and feet and a cough. Usually these signs do not convey to the patient's mind even the suggestion that he has heart disease."

"So-called functional heart disease is usually traced to these sources, namely, nervousness, infections from another part of the body such as teeth or tonsils, to a disturbed function of the thyroid gland, to influenza and so on; and to the effects of the excessive use of tobacco, coffee or tea."

"In cases where there is a disturbed heart action due to focal infection the source of which is located, the infective cause when possible is removed, as in the case of diseased tonsils and teeth. The heart, possessing remarkable recuperative ability, once the poisoning agent is definitely eliminated, in time becomes normal once again."

"Good professional advice and a strict heading of it are the only things to worry about either in functional or organic heart disease. It is a well established fact that the great number of those who know they have a heart condition usually die from some other cause."

NURSERY AIDE TELLS OF INTEREST KIDDIES HAVE IN THIS CWA PROJECT

In making my round of calls last week, one woman remarked that she had wanted to come to the nursery and bring her children but just hadn't tried to make the long walk with her babies. I left her house about 10 A. M. and she said, "Be sure to send for us this afternoon."

We have had 32 enrolled in the nursery. As soon as the wave of sickness is over, we expect most of them to be present every day. We have had two sets of twin girls in the nursery, and several 2- and 3-year-old children. It will be worth one's time if you can come out and see our group at play.

We have a few pictures on the wall from which to give illustrated talks—bathing, teeth-brushing etc. We can use any that you may have and know that you, the public, are interested in watching us for progress. The children are rapidly learning numbers and figures from the blackboard. They enjoy the instructional side of the daily program as much as the play hour. We have a number of new toys, but the newsiness has worn off for the children and they are now enjoying old and new ones alike.

We appreciate any and every toy and other things people are sending us from time to time. Please remember that 2 1/2 dozen children need things coming in all the time. Send us more old towels and soap so that our children may keep clean.

CARD OF THANKS

We extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends and neighbors who were so kind and helpful during the recent illness and death of our baby. Also for the lovely floral offering.

HEADLINE FIRST TELLS MOTHER SON LOST HIS LIFE IN AIRSHIP CRASH

From a newspaper headline read over the shoulder of a fellow bus passenger near Detroit, Lieut. Durward O. Lowery's mother Friday learned that her son had been killed near Deshler, Ohio, while flying, via mail.

Seeing by the headline that an army pilot had been killed, she inquired who he was.

"Lieut. Durward O. Lowry," the holder of the paper said.

"Oh, my God! That's my son," she cried.

Sympathetic passengers assisted her from the bus into the depot.

How This Bank SAFEGUARDS Your Deposits

Since January first this bank has been a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This means that we have been—and are now—actively participating in the temporary plan for the guaranty of bank deposits as authorized by Congress in the Banking Act of 1933.

It means specifically that any and all deposits in this bank up to $2500 are guaranteed in full against loss.

We support and support heartily this plan as a part of the Emergency Program for National Recovery. It has already restored public confidence in banking institutions.

But as a permanent restorative of that public confidence nothing can ever take the place of Sound Banking Management directed to the Benefit of Depositor, Customer and Stockholder alike.

Sound Management enable this bank to weather the severe four year national crisis. And it is because of Sound Management that this bank will continue to safeguard its Depositors in 1934.

LOCAL GIRLS ANNEX 22ND CONSECUTIVE PENNANT TO RECORD DURING THIS YEAR

Fighting Misses Coached By 'Red' Coffman Win Own Invitation Tourney

For the twenty second consecutive time during the present basketball season Colorado girls have emerged victorious. They have engaged opposing sextets for that number of times and came to end of the tilt to rightfully claim championship pennant.

The most recent victory for these girls came Saturday night in finals at their own invitation tournament. They were pitted against Westbrook, runner-up, by the score of 60 to 39. It was the second time within a week that Colorado had fought through to first place in a tournament after defeating the young ladies from Westbrook. The other victory was in Roscoe.

Westbrook girls were pitted against Rogers in opening game of the tournament Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and won 54 to 18. Spade defeated Iatan in second round 50 to 26. Blackwell defeated Roscoe 49 to 16 in first round Friday night and Colorado won over Loraine 44 to 18.

In second round of play opening Saturday morning Colorado defeated Blackwell 56 to 46. At end of the first period the score was 33-7 in favor of the locals, but the Nolan county girls did some effective playing in the second and at half the score was 25 to 23 for Colorado. Colorado drew away, however, during the last half and soon ran up a ten point lead which they held. Westbrook defeated Spade 41 to 24. Outstanding players in the tilt were Salley, forward, and Faulkner, forward, on the Spade team.

Rogers defaulted to Iatan in first round for the consolation and Loraine defeated Iatan 17-13. Loraine won over Iatan 34-17 in finals Saturday night.

In the final contest between Colorado and Westbrook Saturday night the score was tied 22-22 at the half, a fact causing considerable interest among pay customers. The Coffman club easily moved ahead during the second and third periods to win the tournament. Colorado scored a total of 169 points to 193 for her opponents.

At the conclusion of the final game the awards were made, Colorado receiving the silver basketball as winner, Westbrook the statuette as runner-up in the championship round, and Loraine the loving cup for winning the consolation. There were no individual awards made.

The girls do not have any more games scheduled for this season. There is only one more tournament of any importance that they might enter, this being the A. A. U. tournament at Plainview, sponsored by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce. Followers of the local aggregation think that they would have a good chance of winning this tournament if they could enter it. It is to be staged on March 15, 16 and 17.

Patterson Elected Westbrook School Head For 6th Year

F. H. Patterson, superintendent of the Westbrook school during the past five years, has been reelected for another year. Mr. Patterson's association with the school has been featured with marked advancement.

Since assuming management of the school five years ago a number of improvements have come to the institution, patrons and board members note. The school now has an affiliated credit of fifteen units and this year will seek an additional unit each in physics and Spanish.

Mr. Patterson has given considerable encouragement to athletics as is reflected in reputation of some of the teams to represent that school. In winning finals in tournaments at both Roscoe and Colorado, the local girls were pitted against the Westbrook sextet.

ROSCOE ATTORNEY ENTERS CANDIDACY FOR ELECTION AS STATE REPRESENTATIVE

E. F. Duncan To Outline His Platform Later: Citizen Of Roscoe 20 Years

E. F. Duncan, Roscoe attorney, was in Colorado Wednesday and authorized the announcement he would be a candidate for representative from the 117th legislative district. Mr. Duncan outlined that his platform and the issues to be considered would be published in this newspaper at a later date.

The candidate has resided in Nolan county 20 years. He graduated from the Roscoe high school and later attended Baylor University, taking his academic and law degrees from that institution. During the time he was attending Baylor, Duncan was active in student activities, being president of the junior class and executive chairman of boys council.

In 1928 he was admitted to the bar by edict of the Supreme court and entered that profession in Big Spring. He was an active civic leader while a citizen of that city. Upon an occasion when the late Judge Fritz B. Smith was detained from presiding over the 32nd district court there, the Howard county bar association elected Duncan as special judge in his stead.

Duncan returned to his home city of Roscoe in 1931 and has since been engaged in the practice of law there.

He stated while here that he would inaugurate an active campaign in the three counties of Mitchell, Nolan and Fisher.

Hugh Johnson Hopes Realize Additional Shortening Of Hours, Hiking In Salary

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Hugh S. Johnson, who has asked a lot of questions of other persons during the last few months, answered a few himself today, during the course of which he told a House committee that he thought an arbitrary 30-hour week could not be applied to industry.

He went to the labor committee meeting early in its hearing and sat by while Gerard Swope, president of General Electric, voiced similar views against Chairman Connery's 30-hour work week bill. Both he and Swope took the attitude that hour reduction should come through the more flexible operations of NRA codes.

Before they had finished with Johnson a call came for the committeemen to go to the House floor to vote on the tax bill. They asked him to wait and then returned to ply him with interrogations until he was late for a mid-afternoon appointment downtown. Sitting at attention, Johnson told the committee he thought the NRA "a much more flexible and intelligent way" of reaching the problem of ever, "and it is my intention to do more."

He explained that further shortening of hours should be in proportion to the return of business, "not in one bite, but in two or three bites."

The administrator reported some of the NRA industries had come from the red and would make money this year. Then, he explained, it would be time to call on them to pass on further benefits to their workers.

He said, however, that if he had it to do over again he would not permit the automobile industry's maximum to be stepped up from 35 to 40 hours, as he said he was forced to do when its code was extended because he had promised to give the automobile people advantage of the approaching 40-hour average in other lines when they signed the first three-month agreement.

Bauman News

By Claude Willis

The services at Bethel church were well attended last Sunday. There were 55 people in Sunday school. If that many people will go to church on a day as cold as last Sunday, then we should have 100 on a pretty day. We want at least 90 in Sunday school next Sunday. Let us count on you to be there.

The members of the Young Peoples Sunday school class presented the play "Silas Snidge From Turnip Ridge," at Lone Star school last Friday night. The play was well received by a large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Cheek left Sunday for Dallas where they will visit for a few days.

Miss Ina Bess Lee visited with Miss Beulah Williamson of Sweetwater last Saturday night.

Mrs. Cleve Forbus and daughter Melverne from the North Champion community visited with her mother Mrs. O. L. McRae last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Black and daughter Doris visited in the home of H. W. Black at Colorado last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown and son Douglas visited with her mother Mrs. G. W. Foy last Sunday.

Remember the Great Bandanna Minstrel Show will be at Bauman probably Friday night, March 9. Read this paper for other announcements. This minstrel will be given by local talent in the community. We are using all the white negroes we can get.
