The Story of THREE LITTLE SHIRTS

The first little shirt stayed at home—A laundress came in to wash it and it hasn't been feeling very good for quite some time.

The second little shirt went out to a laundress' home. It's faded and shrunk . . . a few more weeks and it goes into the ash can.

But the third little shirt came to the COLORADO STEAM LAUNDRY. Its collar still fits . . . Its colors are bright and new. A button came off but it was sewn back on to stay. Its owner tore one sleeve . . . but it's mended so you can scarcely see it without a microscope. It's as old as the other shirts but it looks almost as new as it did the day it was purchased.

'WILD HORSES' CAUSE OF ONE THOUSAND DEATHS IN TEXAS DURING LAST YEAR

State Health Official Sounds Warning Against Careless Driving By Motorists

A herd of wild horses were responsible for approximately one thousand deaths in Texas last year, according to statement received Monday by The Record from Dr. John W. Brown, at Austin, State health officer. Under the hood of the automobile are from 40 to 100 horses, Dr. Brown outlines. "Whether these are tame or wild and dangerous to human life depends to a large extent upon the drivers."

Commenting further upon the menace to life that motor vehicle traffic is charged with, Dr. Brown said:

"In cities, hundreds of thousands of people in the aggregate deliberately and habitually throw caution to the winds by joy walking, by crossing streets at all points but at intersections, by dodging around streets cars and even by deliberately disregarding traffic signals. And highway walkers also are more likely to move with, rather than against traffic, which of course results in greater risk, especially at night. "The automobile driver himself, intoxicated by the joy of effortlessly stepping-up his machine to an excessive speed, and in hundreds of other ways violating the rules and the ethics of the road, makes of this magnificent invention the Frankenstein it has so sadly turned out to be.

"It needs to be more emphasized upon the average brain than it is today, that all the healthful living in the world is of no avail when one either as a driver or as a pedestrian takes chances with the automobile and loses. Moreover, proper water and milk control, as well as the many other safeguards to health and life, mean absolutely nothing to a dead man killed by his or another's automobile."

Ft. Worth And Dallas Unable To Agree On Favored Sons In Race For Governor

FORT WORTH—Fort Worth and Dallas can't agree even on the governor's race.

Dallas sees James V. Allred in the run-off next August, with either Edgar E. Witt or the home-town man, Maury Hughes, his opponent.

Fort Worth considers Clint C. Small out in front, with either Tom Hunter or Allred next; C. G. McDonald rather strong, and Witt and Hughes down the list, both substantially supported.

These composite predictions deal with the present standing of the candidates in the Dallas and Tarrant counties; but generally those who have so sized up the race locally believe the same relations likely throughout the State.

Both cities have taken notice of the colorful advance made by Maury Hughes since his announcement as the last of the six important candidates for governor. Dallas offering three candidates in three general races, and a bit enthusiastic about it, holds the suggestion that business will divide its support between Hughes and Lieut. Gov. Witt for governor.

Each city has a State senatorial race on hand which just now, along with the already-warm local races is claiming more attention than the general campaign.

Rep. Sarah T. Hughes, only woman house member, has made up her mind not to oppose Sen. George Purl of Dallas for the senate, and has announced for her return to the house.

The collapse of the political side of the civil works set-up dealt C. G. McDonald a considerable blow in these North Texas cities; but so far as Mr. Mills is concerned, he had not become a serious factor in the Dallas senatorial race. Sen. Purl will be re-elected, on the basis of the present line-up.

At Fort Worth, Sen. Frank Rawlings has offered for a second term in the race of the "three Franks," Rep. Frank Patterson, veteran and able member of the house, and Frank Ogilvie, attorney, and opposing Rawlings. One faction of the oil people, and some of the railroads folk, do not like Sen. Rawlings; but generally his constituents seem well pleased with his first-term services. As it stands now, he will be re-elected.

Fort Worth in Amen Carter claims the Texas most influential with the national administration. Mr. Carter has been in Washington and the east for several weeks. So far, he and the Star-Telegram, of which he is

FEDERAL AUTHORITY GIVES OUTLINE OF CONTRACTS IN APPLICATION TO TENANTS

Regional Consultant Offers Suggestion Matters Be Settled Locally

Leonard Long, who is farming on the old Tilley place south of Colorado, Thursday morning received communication from J. Ross Bell, regional consultant, cotton production section, Washington, that should be of interest to other cotton producers who have recently signed contract with the government to reduce acreage during this and next year.

The letter follows:

"The question involved is whether you are a managing share tenant under the provisions of the 1924-1935 cotton acreage reduction contract. If you are such a tenant you are entitled to execute the contract and receive one-half of the rental payments to be made thereunder, as well as your part of the parity payment.

"A managing share tenant is defined in the contract to be one who furnishes the work-stock, equipment and labor, and who manages the operation of the farm. A proper determination of this question necessarily depends upon all the facts in your case. Since we are not in position to pass upon this question, your county committee, in better position to obtain the facts in your case than we are, and a determination of this matter will, in so far as possible be left to your county committee. It is suggested you submit to that committee all of the facts in your case, and it is believed the matter will be satisfactorily adjusted.

"The contract further provides that the producers, in so far as possible, shall effect the acreage reduction as nearly ratable as practicable among tenants on the farm, and shall, insofar as possible, maintain on the farm the normal number of tenants and other employees.

"No contract will be accepted when it appears that the owner or landlord has adopted any device or scheme of any sort whatever for the purpose of depriving a tenant of his share of the payments or other right of the tenant under the acreage reduction contract.

"When a contract has been accepted, all reasonable effort will be made to enforce its provisions."

CWA NURSERY OFFICIAL NOTES PROGRESS DURING OPERATION OF CLASSES

Although the CWA nursery has come to an unexpected sudden close on account of lack of funds in the government department to carry it on, I know that much lasting good has been done. We have had sixty different children with us and had prospects of others should it have gone on. These children have the advantage of having been instructed in group play and association which will prove a great benefit when they start to public school in a few years. Many of them, too, had never learned to wait on themselves, nor to be away from their mother at all. So, though they were closely supervised, their different individualities were developed and self-dependence as well as self control, was stressed. Those who came with any degree of regularity certainly had a great advantage of getting an extra meal a day, one well balanced and prepared especially for children of their ages. It was with great pleasure that we watched each child and studied his need, then worked with that in mind.

We leave a nursery room with much equipment which can be carried over and used from year to year in a regular nursery in connection with the Home Ec. department, if Miss Jennings wants to give the mothers of tomorrow thorough and practical home training. Each and all of us again want to thank every individual and the public in general for the support we received and your response to our call for supplies that we needed.

We have received a number of pleasing comments and compliments about our work. It has been a source of pleasure to be with these little ones and learn to know them. For knowing children is loving them to me, since I am a born school marm. In telling me of the closing of our work, Mr. Greene congratulated us again, and said that he had heard many complimentary remarks about us and the nursery.

We want to thank everyone for the interest taken. Especially do we thank Mr. Greene again for helping us to make this work possible, and profitable too, to those who took advantage of it.

Wool Growers Will Support Tarriff To Protect Industry

Declaring that the sheep and goat raising industry must continue under a protective tariff if Texas growers are to compete with cheap Mexican wools, the executive committee of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association named two prominent Texans at a meeting at Sonora Thursday to go to Washington to aid the wool tariff cause there.

Sol Mayer, president of the San Angelo National Bank and president of the National Wool Marketing Association, and Coke Stevenson, speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, were the two men delegated to the job of insuring the desired tariff. F. R. Marshall, secretary of the wool association, said the aid of Senator Tom Connally would be sought in Washington.

A resolution allowing the president authority to negotiate tariff changes has passed the House. The present tariff on wool based on average Texas shrinkage of 60 to 61 per cent is 13.25 cents a grease pound.

The growers said at Sonora that they believed if the case of the industry was presented to the President in advance of the tariff proclamation should the bill pass, and some doubted if it would pass, that the growers would be safe from cheaply raised foreign wool. The bill pending in Congress would allow the President to raise or lower tariffs on all commodities by 50 per cent without investigation by the tariff commission.

APPRECIATION

The Easter service "The Life of Christ," presented by the high school choral club, under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Martin, was exceedingly beautiful and effective.

The choral club formed a choir whose music was well presented. Supporting them in a special set, "Come Unto Me," were Messrs. Lester Jarratt, K. L. Taylor, Bud Richburg, D. Fagan-Brian, Tommy and Gene Roberts, Glen Coon and Bob George. This number was beautifully rendered.

Mrs. K. L. Taylor played all-accompaniments and application. "Have Thine Own Way" and "Rock Of Ages" were orchestral numbers played by Messrs. Harold Martin, Walter Leggett, Otis Muns and W. E. Martin. The organ assisted with the "Rock Of Ages."

Outstanding was the beautiful living pictures following each scripture passage read effectively by Mrs. W. W. Rowland. The characters were excellently portrayed by Mrs. A. O. Fain, Mrs. Glen Coon, Mrs. Harold Martin, A. J. McCarty, Mrs. William Martin, Lela Layne Lawrence, Orla Edwards, Doris Glass, Louise Mulhaski, William Crutcher, Gloria Martin.

Sentinel's over Ruth Ann Hall and Billie Marie, Redland.

These effective pictures and costumes were worked out by Miss Willie Faye Hall and her assistants Mrs. Jno. Johnson and Mrs. Hall Hooker.

The church was artistically decorated in white and green ferns and real Easter lilies, burning candles and trelles work transformed the interior. Windows were darkened making the special lighting effects very colorful. These decorations were the thoughtful planning of Mrs. Ed Williams, Mrs. A. O. Fain, Miss Gladys Spikes, Mrs. Bill Honea, Mrs. Wade Praction and Miss Irene Brown.

A complimentary souvenir program was prepared by the Rev. Bruce Meador for which the program director expressed appreciation.

Stage building and much property work was done by Mr. Ed Williams and his efficient committee.

The splendid cooperation of all committees made this beautiful and effective Easter program the best ever given for our community. Our town folk have been profuse in their praise and we are very happy to have served them in this manner.

"Brother Arnett was a great man in affairs of the pioneer cattleman, in banking and through all the years maintained a revered love for his home and family, but his greatest attribute was that he loved God," the minister said.

Ten grandsons of Mr. Arnett were active pall bearers, as follows: McCull Merritt, Ford Merritt, R. B. Merritt and John Tom Merritt of Colorado; Eugene Payne, Jack Payne and Chas. Dudley Payne of Littlefield; Dick Curry and A. Foy Curry, Jr. of Talia, and Granville Johnson of Abilene. Dr. S. C. FEDERAL AGENCY PLANNED TO ENCOURAGE AMERICANS IN BUILDING OWN HOMES

Administration Interested In Proposal That Finances Be Made Accessible

Material changes in mortgage financing to cheapen and lend encouragement to home building were included Monday in Administration studies of national housing betterment to a recovery stimulus. The new ideas, still in a nebulous stage, were outlined by some savants as a "rationalization of mortgage financing." If found of practical application, they would parallel home renovation plans being surveyed by the National Emergency Council.

Underlying both movements is a belief that the housing field has lagged behind many phases of American development and if properly developed would supply the same stimulus to business and employment as railroad and automobile expansion have in the past.

In discussions in emergency council quarters elsewhere, two factors in mortgage financing have been stressed; the need for national appraisal standards which would safeguard larger first mortgage loans and the desirability of 20 and 30 years mortgage loans of the type long common in Europe.

As in the case of other housing studies, the plans contemplate the employment of private capital, probably with co-ordinating machinery set up in Washington.

Some advocates contend that with appraisal standards shielded from speculative influences; the big mortgage lenders—building and loan associations and insurance companies—could advance a much larger sum on first mortgages than the usual 50 to 60 per cent of appraised value.

By extending the length of such mortgages to 20 and 30 years, they believe a 4 or 5 per cent charge would take care of both interest and amortization and eliminate costly second mortgage and refinancing charges.

The theory held is that thousands of people with jobs and saving accounts would build homes if costs were brought within reach. In canvassing the plan, men important in the mortgage field have been consulted.

In connection with Emergency Council survey of home modernization as a special boost to heavy goods industries, some consideration is being given means of having the Government safeguard renovation loans by banks so that huge supplies of idle private capital might be tapped.

The effort is to find a middle-ground for insuring against loss which would not put loans in the class of gifts but at the same time

Cotton Options To Be Settled By May 1, Holders Notified

WASHINGTON—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration is notifying the holders of 14,500 cotton option contracts that the options must be exercised by May 1 or arrangements made for an extension. The option plan is a part of the 1934 cotton reduction program.

The administration executed options to 560,000 farmers, involving 2,400,000 bales of Government-controlled cotton. All but 90,000 bales have been surrendered to the cotton production pool and it is this amount covered by the contracts on which the administration is giving notice. The formal request for extension must be made on a form provided by the adjustment administration, which specifies that if obtained, the purchase price of 6c a pound is to be increased at the rate of 40c a bale a month or part of the month that the contract is carried after May 1 in order to cover carrying charges.

The first half of the payment of farmers in the 1934 reduction program already has gone to a few counties in the South but by next week are expected to be going in volume. The rapidly with which the payments leave the adjustment administration will depend on the receipt of contracts here. The cotton program calls for the expenditure of about $130,000,000. All but $30,000,000 will go for rentals on the basis of 3 1/2c a pound for the production abandoned and the remainder for parity payments on the basis of 1c a pound on 40 per cent of the average production during the last five years.

Under the contracts the first half of the payment is made to producers by April 30 and the second half between Aug. 1 and Sept 30 after compliance. The program is to reduce the five-year average of 41,437,000 acres to about 25,000,000. Texas would be reduced from a five-year average of 16,050,000 acres to 6,420,000. Texas farmers would receive $30,650,000 in rental payments and $8,757,000 in parity payments, a total of $39,408,000.

The contract contains provision for the protection of the tenant farmers, which is being disregarded in some sections of the cotton belt, and notice was given Monday by the administration that a certificate of performance is being prepared for execution by farmers who signed contracts, before the second payment is made. This evidence of compliance must be given during the summer, after the cotton has been planted, and any contract which can not be certified is subject to cancellation under the terms of the contract. The certificate will concern itself with the landlord-tenant relationship.

An effort will be made by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to determine whether the express policy of preventing undue economic dislocation by displacement of tenants or share croppers is being followed by contract signers. Included

"You Can't Buy Everything" Thursday and Friday

"You Can't Buy Everything" May Robson contributes another of her expert characterizations as the central figure in this drama of a woman with a mania for hoarding riches. She manages to inject a great deal of sympathy into the role; her attitude is the result of having contracted a loveless marriage through a misunderstanding. Her young son (William Blackwell), quarrels with her over her miserliness and proceeds to marry Jean Parker, the daughter of the man whom the mother had really loved. Out to ruin the girl's father (Lewis Stone) through revenge, the old woman is finally brought to her senses with a general reconciliation all around.

May Robson, Jean Parker, Lewis Stone, William Blackwell, Tad Alexander.

"Thrill Hunter"

Saturday—April 7

"Thrill Hunter." Here is something new in western drama, with Buck Jones in the top spot. The story of a cowboy Baron Marchausen, who gets himself into a peck of trouble by talking too much, but works himself out of it after a series of thrilling battles with bad and good men. This is excellent western fare, with Dorothy Revier taking the feminine lead.

"Counsellor at Law"

Sunday and Monday

"Counsellor at Law." Here is a swift-moving character drama in which John Barrymore delivers one of his best performances. As the lawyer who rose to importance from the East Side of New York, an interesting story is told in brisk and interpretative dialogue and in action scenes that all take place in his swanky Fifth Avenue offices. Highly successful, he is threatened with disbarment over an early case in which a false alibi is the charge. How he wins out and the activity and the interesting bits about the people that come into his offices make for exceptionally fine audience appeal. The tense action is adequately relieved by good comedy bits throughout. It is finely acted by a well-chosen cast of John Barrymore, Bobe Daniels, Morris Kenyon, Onslow Stevens, Thelma Todd, and Melvyn Douglas.

Tuesday and Wednesday

"Above The Clouds." A picture full of action, punch, and air thrills. This is a behind-the-scenes drama of the thrilling adventures of the news reel cameramen and their often risky jobs. There is a bit of comedy here and there, and the expected romantic interest, but with the effort and final success of the boy attempting to make good as a cameraman as the motivation, the shooting itself gives the film its real entertainment punch. The cast is composed of Robert Armstrong, Richard Cromwell, and Dorothy Wilson.

"Sons of the Desert"

Thursday and Friday

"Sons of the Desert." Laurel and Hardy provide a miniature sandstorm of mirth in this comedy of lodge

"Brothers" who duck their wives to have a carousing time at the annual convention. The title is the name of the order to which Stan and Oliver belong, and there is no desert atmosphere as the name might imply. Needless to say, the two culprits are discovered by their irate mates and it all ends up in a grand slap-bang climax. Mae Bush and Dorothy Christy are teamed with the two comedians to make a grand foursome of continuous merriment and hilarious. Charley Chase also contributes several excellent comedy bits. The cast is Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Charley Chase, Mae Bush, Dorothy Christy, Lucien Littlefield.

AT THE RITZ

"King Kong" Thursday and Friday

"King Kong," the thrillingly imaginative story of how a prehistoric ape is discovered, taken captive and brought to New York, where it escapes its captors, throws the metropolis in a panic and creates tremendous devastation, is due at the Ritz Theatre Thursday and Friday, April 5 and 6.

Fay Wray plays the girl whose frail golden beauty so entrances the great beast that he has, for the first time in its seven million years of existence, for Kong has lived since the Jurassic Age, known an emotion of tenderness and love. It is on the girl's behalf that he fights prehistoric dinosaurs and later ponies a great city.

Robert Armstrong and Bruce Cabot portray the two adventurers seeking to get a motion picture of a legendary ape and to make a drama out of his reactions to the beauty of a woman.

There will be a special matinee at 2:45 P. M. Thursday and Friday for the showing of "King Kong." Children are urged to attend.

"Tarzan the Fearless"

Saturday Only

Buster Crabbe, who plays the title role in "Tarzan the Fearless," the great jungle picture, is pronounced by physical culturists as the most perfect specimen of young manhood in motion pictures, if not in the world.

The remarkable young man is called upon in "Tarzan the Fearless," to perform what is said to be the most singular and varied series of hair-raising feats ever enacted on the screen. And in no instance does a "debile" complaint Crabbe. He is not only capable of doing everything called for in the script but insists on doing stunts that would daunt the most reckless stunt man.

"The World Changes"

Sunday and Monday

"Never trust a steer." That, in permissible English, was the gist of Paul Mann's remarks after a Texas lynch mob had huddled him across a movie street on the Warner Bros.-First National lot during the production of his current picture, "The World Changes," which comes to the Ritz Theatre on Sunday and Monday.

The scene shows a herd of steers on a street of Omaha during the pioneer days. Mann, with half a dozen cowboys is driving the herd.

While the cattle were milling about, one steer collided squarely with the rear of Mann's horse, hurling him from the saddle and across the narrow street.

Fortunately when the star picked himself out of the mud he found that nothing had been hurt except his dignity.

Local Women Were In Sweetwater At Annual Club Meet

An unusually good representation was had by clubs of Colorado at the annual Sixth District Convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Sweetwater Wednesday and Thursday.

The Colorado Music Club was prominent on the program of the convention. At the preliminary session Tuesday evening before the formal opening of the convention on Tuesday two numbers were given by members of this club. One was "In the Land of the Sky-blue Water," and the other was "Venetian Love Song." Mrs. Cecile Moskimon, directed, and Mrs. E. L. Latham was at the piano, with the following in the chorus:

Mesdames Doris Martin, J. W. Watson, Bob Fee, Will Doss, Jr., N. H. White, Lurline McClellan, Bob Petrecek, Van Boston, and Clark Melton. All nine wore eggshell crepe dresses, with vari-colored sashes and corsages matching the sashes.

Mrs. Martin sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Batham, and was also on the program of the luncheon Wednesday.

At the reception Wednesday afternoon at the Sweetwater Country Club Mrs. J. C. Richardson of Colorado represented the newly organized Viegathien Junior Study Club and was a member of the receiving line. The new club was well-represented at the Tuesday session by the following: Mesdames Bill Dorn, Austin Bush, Mary Lee Tidwell, E. A. Dierdorf, L. G. Maskey, and Richardson.

Mrs. H. B. Broadbuss, who is district chairman of Fine Arts, was to have presided at the Wednesday evening session, but was prevented by illness from attending. Her daughter, Miss Mary Broadbuss, was on Wednesday's program for a reading.

Among those from here who attended part or all of the convention were the following, besides those already mentioned: Mesdames Sam Majors, Ed Jones, Sr., P. K. Mackey, J. B. Pritchett, J. Ralph Lee, L. B. Elliott, W. A. Pelfry, W. T. Benton, C. C. Thompson, Geo. Mahon, Ace McShan, W. L. Doss, Jr., J. M. Doss, W. T. Whitmore, Bill Broadbuss.

improved by heavy rains in late February and early March. The soil in most areas is in good condition for the completion of land preparation and for Spring planting. Ranges are responding to the increased supply of moisture. Trading activity on the ranges has increased at firm to higher prices and the trend of prices at market centers continued upward.

During February the daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks rose to $728,463,000, which was $30,340,000 greater than in the previous month and $120,851,000 larger than in February last year.

Reserves of these banks with the Federal Reserve Bank totaled $126,427,000 on March 15, as compared with $110,622,000 a month earlier and $76,622,000 on the corresponding date in 1933.

Construction activity in the district continued at a low level. The valuation of building permits issued at the principal cities was 8 per cent less than in January and 34 per cent smaller than in the corresponding month last year.

The customary seasonal declines were evidenced in the exports of cotton through the ports of Houston and Galveston. The irregular trends in exports during the past few months, however, have had little effect upon the favorable balance in the cumulative shipments for the season.

Due to the short month, a sizable reduction was shown in the total output of crude petroleum during February. Production amounted to 27,384,000 barrels, which was 2,697,270 barrels larger than the corresponding month a year ago. Daily average production was 978,000 barrels, as against 956,289 barrels the previous month and 881,650 barrels a year ago.

UNDEFERRED THE SCENE AT JUSTIN By Gordon K. Shearer United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Proposals made by the late William J. Bryan were always a little ahead of the times. Many things he advocated unsuccessfully, later came about. A similar situation is to be seen in Texas. In the last State campaign, an aspirant for a seat on the Supreme Court advocated a change in its procedure. He was defeated but now the court has adopted the suggestion.

As a result the opinions written by members of the commission to assist the Supreme Court will become law when the Supreme Court adopts the opinion.

Heretofore, adoption of a commission opinion merely settled the one case. Reasoning of the commission in reaching the decision was not accepted as binding.

The same change in procedure has been advocated by Judge Hal Lattimore of Fort Worth in his campaign for a place on the Supreme Court. Dr. J. H. McLean, Fort Worth, has asked Gov. Ferguson to give primary study to the desirability of Texas joining other states in taking an active part in the national planning movement. A federal agency has been set up and most of the States have gone ahead under it. The purpose is to coordinate the relief building and improvement activities so that they will represent a general plan of improvement for the nation.

A Texas committee for the purpose soon may be named by the Governor.

The State Park Board has at last found an office place after numerous transfers. Once housed in a Senate Committee room, it was moved during a legislative session. It transferred to a House Committee room only to get a new order. Later, it was scattered along a corridor on the third floor of the State Capitol.

Now it has been given what it hopes to be permanent quarters in the Walton Building. The building, named for an Austin lawyer, is an old county court house remodeled into a State office building.

CONVENTION HEAD OFFERS PLEA THAT EVERY LION IN COLORADO DO THEIR SHARE

District Meeting Plans Are Entitled To Receive Full Response, Pond States

Joe Pond, chairman directing plans for entertaining annual district convention of Lions Club here April 23 and 24, Friday made strong appeal to every member of the organization to accept there was something definite for them to do if the meeting is to be successful.

"I wish to impress upon every Lion in this club that we will expect him to place himself wholeheartedly into our plans for entertaining the convention," Pond stated. "There is a job for every Lion, and I feel that every Lion will be zealous in meeting that responsibility," he concluded.

Jim Greene, deputy district governor, was presented with a Master Key plaque as token from Lions International for distinct service to the organization. The emblem was presented in an address by Bill Cooper.

Jim Cantrill, athletic director in high school, was formally presented as a key member in an address by J. Ralph Lee. There were 15 Key Lions present at the meeting.

C. E. Harris, elected to membership in the club the Friday before, was inducted into active membership by Minister J. D. Harvey of the Church of Christ. The speaker outlined some of the fine points of Lionsism, describing the fellowship feature as the greatest.

BOATLER JURY DISMISSED AFTER REPORTING FAILURE TO BREAK LONG DEADLOCK

Fairview School Teacher To Again Face Trial On Rape Charges At Colorado

Jury trying the N. E. Boatler rape case was dismissed by Judge A. S. Mauzey in 32nd district court here Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock after reporting to the court they were hopelessly deadlocked. The twelve men received the case at 10:30 Friday night.

It is reported that the jury disagreed on whether or not Boatler should be entitled to a suspended sentence, all of the twelve men finding him guilty as charged and favoring a light penitentiary sentence, but some of the number holding out for suspension of the term.

The mistrial means that Boatler is to face a second trial, probably during the October term of district court.

LIONS AT MIDLAND URGING CONSIDERATION OF PETERS AS GOVERNOR OF DIST. 2-T

Citizenship There Active In Campaign To Elect Gas Utilities Manager

MIDLAND.—Lions of District 2-T are being asked to support Marion F. Peters of Midland, candidate for governor of District 2-T of Lions International. The election of district governor will be held at Colorado, Texas, during the convention April 23 and 24.

Harry L. Haight, Peter's campaign manager, says if there ever has been a district governor elected from the central part of District 2-T, or within a 100-mile radius of Midland, he doesn't know about it, and he argues that it is to the best interest of Lionism in arousing new zeal and loyalty to get the officers from the various areas of District 2-T when men of ability like Lion Peters can be secured.

Peters is classed as one of the outstanding Lions and civic leaders of West Texas. During his administration as president of the Midland Lions Club, attendance more than doubled. What he did for Lionism in Midland he will do for Lionism in the district, friends say. Peters knows Lionism and works at the job.

How high Marion Peters is valued by people who know him best is shown by honors shown him in Midland. He is a past president of the Lions club; re-elected a director of the Chamber of Commerce for the past six years; Red Cross Roll call leader three years; Boy Scout official; church officer for several years; Welfare association treasurer and now a director of the relief board, and member of many committees.

As manager of the West Texas Gas Co., at Midland, Peters will have time to work among the Lions Clubs

NATION'S BUSINESS HEADS
ANNOUNCE THAT LONG ERA OF DEPRESSION IS ENDING

Definite Return To Normalcy
Seen By Industrialists
And Money Chiefs

Definite conviction that the country is emerging from the depression was supported Tuesday by two of the country's largest industrial units and chief of America's most powerful financing agency. Newspaper accounts of the note served to add further to the general feeling of optimism in Colorado.

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corp., told stockholders at their annual meeting in Hoboken that revival was no longer a matter of opinion, but a matter of fact.
Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors while critical of some aspects of the recovery program, said in his annual report to stockholders that "industrial recovery is under way with irresistible force."
Jesse Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation, in an interview in Washington, pointed to the now definite expectation that the RFC will send $500,000,000 under budget estimates for the fiscal year ending in June, as clear evidence of better conditions.
Jones said that bankers now were trying to make loans, that money could be borrowed through normal channels more easily, and that demand for government support was less than anticipated. He said he looked for further business pickup after congress adjourned.

The statements of these three chieftains of business and finance were viewed in Wall Street as distinctly significant at this time, inasmuch as April is often the month in which the peak of the spring business upturn is reached.
As a matter of fact, business observers have wondered whether the recent slackening in steel production may not have indicated that the spring peak has been reached. The American Iron and Steel Institute estimated steel ingot production at 43.3 per cent of capacity, a decline of 2.4 percentage points from a week ago.
But business does not always follow the seasonal pattern, and its leaders are counting upon the renewed disposition of banks to lend, to bring the long sought expansion of credit in coming months, thus tending to keep recovery in motion, and mitigate the usual industrial lull-down between mid-spring and mid-summer.
In the meantime, the movement to raise wages, and where possible to reduce working hours, is spreading. Prices in some lines, notably steel and automobiles, are rising. Business observers point out that a slow rise in prices may prompt more active consumer buying, similar to the buying which took place before the NRA blanket code went into effect last summer. Sharp, sudden increases such as might cause a buyers strike, it is expected, will be avoided.

WOMEN, GIRLS' CLUB NEWS
By MISS EMMA GUNTER, Home Demonstration Agent

The Spade home demonstration club met March 28th with Mrs. S. U. Salley with 8 members present. Mrs. Salley gave a talk on the treatment of bedroom windows and dressing tables. Mrs. N. A. Goss talked on a well dressed bed. The women quilted on a quilt Mrs. Salley had up and finished it while some of the others worked on their tufted bedspreads and hooked rugs. Mrs. C. O. White was enrolled as a new member. Mrs. J. L. Thompson of the Lowe community was a visitor. After refreshments the club adjourned to meet April 11th with Mrs. Geo. Vanzandt, at 2:30 P. M.
Mrs. M. A. Goss, club reporter.

Novalee Groom, bedroom improvement demonstrator of the Lone Star girls club surely has had encouragement in her work. Last Tuesday she was to get the material for the ceiling and frame of her closet, so March 28th Novalee writes that she has her room ceiled and the closet frame built ready to do further work. Novalee has more to do on her room than any girl, since she lives in a rented house and the room she occupies being a shed room needed everything done to it but putting in new flooring. She will certainly have accomplished much if she gets all done that has been planned. Her next work will be on her vanity dresser or bathing unity for her room. Each bedroom demonstrator must have some type of bathing facilities if there is no bath room in her home.

The rain came in proper time for Jauree Burford, bedroom improvement demonstrator to get her rug frame built by her father since he could not work in the field. She is going to use cotton material in making a 2x3 rug using the hit and miss design bringing out a shade of soft yellow as the predominating color. Another improvement that has been done in Jauree's room is the papering of her closet, the removal of relief in the Southern Presbyterian church will be on the program and will come on to Colorado to spend Sunday and conduct the Sunday evening services of the Presbyterian church.

POEMS
Walking Home
At the ring of the bell,
When school lets out
I start walking homeward,
With a merry shout.
"Attention," says the teacher calmly,
Turn in your desk and arise,
"For tomorrow," says the teacher,
"You shall look to unknown skies."
As I am walking,
I am thinking,
Of the joy if I could roam
But as walking I am also thinking,
Of the joy I get at home.
BOBBY WRIGHT.
Spring
In the morning just before sunrise
A few clouds are still in the skies,
Some purple, yellow, and red and blue;
I have been waiting, Spring, for you.
When the tiny weeds are turning green,
And the butter cups are to be seen
A little brooklet is cutting through—
I have been waiting, Spring, for you.
The daisies along the path we tread
Are nodding as each lifts up his head.
Spring is so pleasant there's ever to do,
I have been waiting, Spring, for you.
BLANCHIE BESS JONES.
CHORAL CLUB
The Jr. High Choral Club sang at the Lions Club last Friday. The girls sang first. They sang: "I Hear the Bees a Humming." The boys then sang: "Bells of the Sea." They all sang together: "Moving Along." Jane Meskimen played the piano for them.
JOKES
Evelyn: "What sort of a chap is Claude?"
Marie: "Well, when we were together last night the lights went out and he spent the rest of the evening repairing the switch."
Claude Morgan came to see Betty Hodge and he said, "Betty, I thought love was different from this."
Betty H.: "So did I. I thought there was more candy and flowers in it."
Bobby Wright: "You call that a hat? My dear, I shall never stop laughing."
Betty Hodge: "Oh yes you will. The bill will probably arrive tomorrow."
Joe Lee (to fair companion): "Have you ever tried listening to a play with your eyes shut?"
Voice (from behind): "Have you ever tried listening to one with your mouth shut?"
Ernest Smith: "What made you leave Mrs. Blah's boarding-house after living there for three years?"
John Colson: "I found out they had no bathtub."

Proposed Loop In Hard Sledding As Difficulties Arise

At the baseball parley held at Midland Sunday, little was accomplished in the way of smoothing out the difficulties facing the U. S. Eighty circuit.
The Odessa Oilers withdrew and the Midland team will probably do likewise. The Midlanders will reach a final decision Thursday as to whether they will stay in the Permian organization or join the new outfit.
A delegation composed of Lefty Babers, Big Spring; Leroy Gressel, Colorado, and Earl Reid of Coahoma visited Sweetwater, Roscoe, Lorraine and Snyder Sunday afternoon in an effort to recruit at least two more teams. Approximately twenty-five players and sportsmen attended the meeting at Midland Sunday.
Trade at home and help yourself.

Joe Lee: "Did you know I went down in history today?"
Dale Simpson: "How's that?"
Joe Lee: "I went down to 68."
It looks suspicious when Frances Merle Cooper starts liking a certain blond headed Freshman by the name of Earnest.
Visitor: "That was a lovely recitation, my boy. Do you like to recite?"
Bobby Wright: "Oh, no, I don't like it much, but mother gets me to do it when she wants people to go."
Elevator Man: "Here you are sonny—forty-first floor."
Dale S.: "Don't call me 'sonny,' my man. You are not my father."
Elevator Man: "Well, I brought you up, didn't I?"

EDITORIAL PEACE
 Peace is one thing that the American people appreciate most. We enjoy peace still more because we know that our American peace is absolutely assured. The typical American is a lover of peace, good will, and friendship.

In order to illustrate the standing of the peace-lover, we can use the leaders of local communities and local centers. The leaders of the community are usually, except in a few instances, the most peaceable and well respected men who are friends to everyone. The hot-headed radical group of the community or center is never a leader or a well respected man.

One of our American authors, Hawthorne, has set us an example of what a peaceful heart and nature will accomplish for us.

We know that our American peace is secure and sound because it is backed by one of the strongest nations in the world. But the fact that our National peace is secure does not assure us that our good will among our fellowmen is secure. This can only be made secure by true friendship that is free from conceit, jealousy, and pretense. As long as good will and good morals are observed, we are assured that our standing among men will be peaceful.

STAGNER WINS AT ABILENE

Stagner participated in the A.C.C. invitation meet held in Abilene Saturday. He was first in the 880-yard run of the High school division finishing with a time of 2:11. This was the second first class honor taken by him in important meets this year, having won in the track meet held in Fort Worth. Stagner is the District Record holder in the half-mile holding a time of 2:5, and by the looks of things, will break his own record this year.

DISTRICT TRACK MEET
 The District meet for District 5 will be held in Sweetwater April 7. This will be a very important meet with all the larger schools of the district participating. Colorado will have men entering many of the different races that will be staged.

This meet will decide the athletes to represent this district in the Regional meet to be held in Abilene in the near future. The Regional meet will decide the representative of the region in the State meet at Austin. Colorado is expected to have representatives of this school in all of the three meets given.

VOCATIONAL AG. NEWS

The dairy and livestock teams went to Lubbock Monday to compete in the first judging contest. These teams consisted of Lenn Bodine, James Pritchett, and Frank Blassingame on the Dairy team and Bill Galey, Romaine Hammonds and Homer Bodine on the Livestock team. They were not so joyful Tuesday and from the way they talked we suppose they didn't do so well. But we are sure they will do better next time. Friday these teams will go to John Tarleton to compete in another contest.

SPEAKERS TO DISTRICT MEET

The following people will represent Colorado high school in the District meet at Sweetwater on Friday of this week: Mildred Branden, extemporaneous speech; Joe Alford and Halvey Baker, debate.

The boys' debate team will go into the meet with a good record behind them. They began the year without any experience whatever, and lost a number of their first debates. However in recent contests they have redeemed themselves and have come out with a good total of victories. They have had nineteen contests, eighteen of which have been decision matches. Out of this eighteen, eleven have been victories.

Mildred Branden and Paul Knief won their right to participate in the District meet by defeating a broad field of entries in the County meet held here two weeks ago. The quality of their work shows promise of making a good rating in the Sweetwater meet.

VOCATIONAL NEWS

The whole Commercial department felt a vast relief last Tuesday (March 27), by the return of Miss Cooper from Austin saying that her thesis had been accepted, corrected, and bound. Mrs. Root and Courtney Snodgrass accompanied Miss Cooper to Austin.

The Colorado typing team, composed of Mabel Majors, Estelle Chivers, and Oren Wofack, won third place at the district typing contest held in Sweetwater last Saturday. They were defeated by Abilene, and Big Spring. Abilene won first place and Big Spring second. The student that made the highest rate of speed thereby winning first place individually was Miss Mary Burger of Abilene. She wrote 76.20 words per minute for fifteen minutes and making only five mistakes. Estelle Chivers made highest for Colorado.

The CWA vocational classes were dismissed Monday. Much work has been accomplished in the short time these classes have been running.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Eleanor Hager spent the week-end with Dorothy Daughtry, who gave a party in Eleanor's honor. Eleanor reported a lovely time.

We are wondering who the mysterious gentleman is who has been bringing Frances Jones to Glee club. It seems (for reasons unknown) that Buster and Betsy are having an awful time going steady.

I wish someone would ask Earnie Lou M., Elizabeth T., and Ora Jane W., why they go to town twice a day.

Will someone ask Leroy S., why he is so popular among the fairer sex? Everyone is wondering where Clyde G. was Sunday night.

Which one is it, Ora Jane U., or Earnie Lou M., that has a crush on "Defence" Porter?

Why is it that when Betsy Lee is absent a whole row of admiring young men scatter to all four corners of the room; but when she is back so are the young men?

The Big Bad Wolf Hughes is planning to spend the summer in Kansas City with his uncle and aunt. Girls what are you going to do? But we thought Mr. Hughes would go West (Berkeley) instead of East.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Thursday night Francis Elliott was trying to get rid of all her sisters because she said she was going to have important company. Wonder who?

Oh how those Freshmen girls crowd around Joe Leonard Blackard in study hall.

Drawing pictures of Mae West has become quite a fad among a group of Freshman girls.

Eloise Cooper was in Sweetwater Saturday and Sunday. Alyne Moore had the measles last week.

Elina Womack went to Vincent this week-end. June, Annetta, Virginia, Pete, Skinner, George, and Joe Cooper went out to Lucille Bodine's Friday night.

You can tell when a boy is absent by just asking the freshmen girls; for instance Marybel knows when Roy Key is absent.

Hazel Jim Gray spent the week-end in Rotan.

HOME EC. I-B

By Doris Wayne O'Brien
 The girls of our class are nearly through with their pajamas which are to be finished the end of the week. Friday we are supposed to have our second home project finished.

Next week we are going to have the try-outs of "Kind of toys to pick for different aged children." The girls who win in the try-outs here are going to go to Austin.

Our next class projects are going to be school dresses.

We are studying for the try-outs because we all want to go to Austin.

SECOND YEAR HOME EC. NEWS

By Arabelle Sorrells
 The second year girls went to town Monday afternoon to see the infant's clothing and to get the prices of the baby's layette. The girls expect to start working on their infant's garment this week. Some of the girls are making dresses, garters, wrappers, gowns, basques and kimonas.

The representatives of the home economics department goes to Austin and San Antonio the last week in April. Each girl is working very hard so that she may go.

HOME EC. News IIA

This week the Home Economics I-A class has continued menus. We have been given mimeograph sheets to study on the selection of toys, which we age to study in order to determine which of us shall go to Austin. We have read over the points in selecting toys and we have discussed them. We find the selection of toys very interesting.

We were also given sheets on muffin recipes and other cakes and also on "How to Make Tea."

Our six-weeks exam will be the cooking, serving, and eating of a heavy breakfast, as we have already had practice on a light and medium breakfast.

SENIORS IN FULL SWING

Underclassmen, take notice! The preoccupied expression on the faces of these dignified seniors is not the result of overmuch study, but is the natural consequence of the senior's realization of their own importance.

Things are really beginning to get underway. Nearly every day an important class meeting is held for things to be decided. Middle names, not heard in years, are being shaken out and dusted to be used on cards and diplomas. Caps and gowns have been ordered and the full business of graduation is beginning to swing into line.

COLORADO SECOND IN MEET

Colorado won second place at the Interscholastic League meet, held here last week. Loraine won first with a score of 242.5 points; Colorado second with 206 points; Westbrook third with 125 points; and Iatan fourth with 115 points.

In the ward school division Colorado Jr. High won second with 132.5 points to Loraine's 147 points. Colorado Hutchinson building made 30 points additional.

In the rural school division Valley View came first, Lone Star second, and Spade third.

GREENE TO LEAD GARNER OF ROAD BOOSTERS FROM SAN DIEGO TO CONVENTION

Colorado Man Taking Active Part In Plans For 1934 Association Parley

DALLAS, Texas.—The convention headquarters of the seventh annual meeting of the Broadway of America Highway Association, today announced that delegates to the forthcoming convention would travel to the convention city in two motorcades.

J. H. Greene, Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Colorado, Texas, will lead a group of good-roads enthusiasts from San Diego, California, the western terminal of the route.

R. A. Jones, Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas, will head a group leaving Knoxville, Tennessee.

Both motorcades are expected to reach Dallas, the convention city on the evening of May 7, prior to the opening of the convention on May 8.

With touring bureaus throughout the nation calling for literature and maps of the scenic route, the officers of the association expect a heavy flow of traffic this summer.

Before the close of 1934, the Broadway of America will be 100 per cent paved, from Broadway, New York to Broadway, San Diego. This is what is pointed out will be the first all paved Trans-continental highway in the United States.

"I'll answer it. It must be the wife."
 Famous last word "I do" when spoken by the groom in the end of the wedding ceremony.

Bill Loving: "What's your idea of clean sport?"
 Juanita Long: "Swimming."

Newsboy (L. J. Burdine): "Sir, my beautiful sister is dying of starvation. Will you buy the rest of my papers?"
 Gent: "No, but I'll take your sister out to dinner."

"I don't see how your eggs could be too hard," said the bride, "I boiled them in soft water."

Pat: "What do you charge for a funeral notice in your paper?"
 Editor: "Fifty cents an inch."
 Pat: "My heavens, man, my poor brother was six feet tall."

NEW Air-Cooled ELECTROLUX THE SERVEL Gas REFRIGERATOR

It is our sincere belief that the New Air-Cooled GAS Refrigerator has more to offer you than any other refrigerator. It costs less to run, because a tiny gas flame circulates a simple refrigerator. Ordinary air from your kitchen cools it. It is perfectly silent because it has no machinery, motors or other parts to wear. Only the GAS Refrigerator can offer you all these advantages.

Electrolux offers you many other conveniences in addition to those big advantages... ice trays that release at the trip of a trigger... split shelves to accommodate large bottles and roasts... temperature regulator that speeds freezing and defrosts without stopping... and many other modern features that the busy housewife wants.

ed himself or God. The reply was demonstrated to be true by Him who has the "Keys of death and Hell!"

"He is risen!" is the most important announcement ever made to humanity by man or angel. Man was certain of life and death because he had seen the enactment of both again and again.

Life in association with the Father and Elder Brother, loved ones and friends, throughout the endless cycles of eternity, made it possible to rob death of its terror and convert despair and hopelessness into realization and positive assurance.

For centuries the prophets had foretold the coming of One who would conquer death and the grave. Hosea had said: "O death I will be thy plagues; O grave I will be thy destruction."

After the advent of Christ the Apostle who said: "Have I not seen Jesus Christ?" exclaimed: "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

Before He came, death indeed was the "King of terrors." Notwithstanding all that had gone before, all that had been said by the prophets, he still was made to doubt because of the death of things about him.

Men wondered and trembled, hoped and feared, believed and doubted. But with the death and resurrection of Jesus of Nazareth his fears disappeared. He no longer shuddered with doubt, no longer trembled and hoped.

Fear had grown into courage because hope had become realization. "How beautiful were the works Divine That in Thy meekness used to shine That lit Thy lonely pathway trod In wondrous love, O Son of God."

The belief in immortality is natural, instinctive. It is a part of man's nature, but up to the coming of Jesus he had no proof that was apprehensible to his human, material sense, to his fleshly vision.

He answered the question: "If a man die, shall he live again?" by His words, by bringing to life several who had died, and at last by His own glorious victory over death and the grave.

There is both power and intelligence in life, but neither in death. Since God is the source of all power, life and intelligence, He must necessarily be opposed to death, and what He opposes can not remain.

When the Messiah came He gave evidence to man's normal faculties and to his inner spiritual vision that He taught, and demonstrated, made prophecies as to His advent no longer necessary. He himself declared as the end of the inconceivable agony and humiliation of the crucifixion came, "It is finished."

That sterling old hero, the Apostle Paul, because of the circumstances of his conversion and his conversation with the Master after His ascension, may be considered with much reason the greatest witness of man's immortality. He knew of a certainty the Savior's continued existence after His death and ascension. Paul's fidelity, earnestness, sincerity, heroic, self-sacrifice, patient fortitude and endurance during his wonderful ministry constitutes an item in the consideration of the authenticity and inspiration of the Bible record of Jesus that should have ponderous weight, and does to all who give it the thought to which is entitled. Thus his exclamation already alluded to was but the natural voicing of his vision of the Christ. "Have I not seen Jesus Christ the Lord?"

Oh thou wonderful Christ. Beyond human conception the love that impelled Thy advent upon earth. Infinite Thy sympathy and tender compassion. Unspeaking Thy suffering and humiliation. Glorious beyond all human understanding and appreciation Thy resurrection.

"All hail the power of Jesus name Let angels prostrate fall Bring forth the royal diadem And crown Him Lord of All."

There will be a resurrection. Life lies beyond the grave. He is risen. He conquered death. His followers will do the same.

Bandit Gangs, Like The Mad Dog, Must Be Exterminated, Dallas News Appeals

Offering comment on the reign of banditry in Texas, The Dallas Morning News for Tuesday says: Lee Simmons, general manager of the Texas prison system, voiced on a Dallas visit a few weeks ago an opinion that has been repeatedly proven correct.

"The life of a peace officer," he declared, "is worth nothing to today's criminal. He shoots to kill without warning." The assertion was given bloody confirmation in Sunday's brutal murder of Highway Patrolmen E. B. Wheeler and H. D. Murphy, attributed to Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker.

It is time for the general public to size up the situation and demand the remedy. The fugitive Barrow and his companions are only one of several small groups roaming the country with the instinct of mad dogs. Like the mad dog, the only remedy for their ailment is extinction.

They must be hunted up and disposed of—efficiently and completely—according to law. Their lives are forfeited by every rule of human justice and of the preservation of society.

The penalty is as clear in the minds of the community as it must be in the brute senses of the murderous hideouts themselves. But it can not be inflicted until the law proves more resourceful at capture than has heretofore been the case.

If the failure is due to unintelligent police work, it should have intelligence at any cost; if due to lack of co-ordination for detection and pursuit, that must be obtained. The first great need in this country today is centralized police administration, intelligently directed and intelligently served.

Back of this must stand efficient courts and conscientious juries to assure swift and condign punishment. Even then, society will have no protection, until it assures to itself the service of clear thinking pardon and parole authority that will loose no mad dogs to ravage and kill.

Until these elements are coordinated, men like Wheeler and Murphy will play heroic lives for the failure of society's support.

NO OBJECTION WILL BE MADE TO PLANTING OF COTTON FOR TERRACING

The replacement crops section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced there is no objection to planting cotton in strips, M. R. Bentley, Texas A. & M. College Extension agricultural engineer, has advised.

Cotton may be planted in strips across sloping fields with the strips so located as to permit the construction of terraces on the strips of land rented to the government, it was added.

The terrace lines should be run at once so that the direction of the cotton rows may be determined, Mr. Bentley said.

The strips of cotton may be uniform in width from end to end, making it very simple to measure the area in each strip, Bentley pointed out. With 60 per cent of the field planted in cotton strips, an abundance of space for the construction of terraces would be available.

WHEAT CROP ESTIMATE TO 30,000,000 BUSHELS

A Texas wheat crop approximating 30,000,000 bushels now is indicated for 1934 in reports received by this newspaper from various parts of the wheat producing belts.

Two weeks ago a crop estimate of 20,000,000 bushels was expected from those areas with several grain men figuring an even lesser production. The increased estimate is due to good rains and snow that covered practically all of Texas recently.
