CITY UNITES IN PROGRAM TO PAY MOTHERHOOD HOMAGE

PLANTERS RANCHERS HAVE BENEFIT SOURCE THROUGH PRODUCTION LOAN OFFICE

More Than $20,000 Loaned Here Through Mitchell County Organization

Farmers and stockmen of Mitchell County have benefitted more than $20,000 through the Sweetwater Production Credit Association, according to J. W. Watson, one of the Mitchell County directors of the association.

The Sweetwater Production Credit Association is a branch of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, and differs from other agencies of the "New Deal" in that it is strictly not a temporary emergency measure, Watson states, but is intended to be a permanent organization lending money on a business basis.

Included in the Sweetwater association are six counties, Mitchell, Nolan, Fisher, Scurry, Jordan, and Dawson. There are nine directors, and two of them are from this county, the other being D. H. Snyder.

Watson points out that this association was not set up in opposition to banks, but was rather designed to be of benefit to them. Its purpose is to loan money to farmers and stockmen to use in any way connected with the production of their crops, or the raising of their stock.

Money may be borrowed for the payment of taxes, to pay off debts, etc., but the association does not make land loans.

Loans are made on a basis of what the association thinks the farmer or stockman in question will be able to repay at the designated time. The interest rate is 5 1/2%. Crops and livestock are inspected in the case of each applicant. John Hale is crop inspector for Mitchell County loans, and Les Terry is livestock inspector.

"In loans made through this organization," Watson says, "the farmer or stockman can obtain money with which to pay off obligations at a low rate of interest and be assured that he has behind him a government which will not demand payment when unforeseen conditions cause failure in the year's work. And when he pays off one note, he can make out his budget for the next year and borrow again."

"It should prove one of the greatest measures in bringing prosperity and a feeling of security to hard-working, honest farmers and stockmen who have been victims of frozen credit these past few years."

Applications for these loans are made in the office of B. J. Baskin, county agent. Between 75 and 100 applications have already been made in this county, and fully 2/3 of this number approved and paid.

Mahon Candidacy Gaining In All Parts Of District, Colorado Supporters Find

That District Attorney George H. Mahon is gaining favorably in all parts of the large area is expressed by ardent supporters of the congressional candidate at Colorado. It is conceded that with continued aggressive work upon the part of his friends in this and other counties of the 32nd judicial district he will easily be swept into the runoff primary.

Strong urge is being offered that citizens of this immediate section get in touch with friends and relatives residing in other parts of the district, either by letter or in a personal way, soliciting their consideration of Mahon's candidacy. Such a campaign, it is pointed out, will do more to advance him in public favor among the voters than anything else.

CANDIDATES NEAR END OF CAMPAIGN CARRYING THEM INTO COMMUNITY CENTERS

Congenial Aspirants Furnish Major Attraction As Meetings Held

The some-one score and ten candidates seeking preferment at the polls for district, county and precinct office, will conclude another week of active campaigning at community gatherings at two leading rural schools during Friday. An all-day festival, featuring closing of school at Lone Star and Looney will draw representations of the congenial aspirants.

During the past week the candidates have continued with program inaugurated several weeks ago of furnishing much of the entertainment given at special community gatherings. They are usually all present and in turn mount the stump to briefly outline their candidacies. There is prevalent among them a strong spirit of comradeship that has not failed to impress voters everywhere.

Thursday night of last week they were heard by voters of Valley View section during program sponsored by the school. The speakers, as a rule, have respected the general rule of limiting their oratory to two minutes.

Friday night they motored to Iatan to attend function given by the Parent-Teachers' association. After the speaking had been concluded the candidates joined with citizens in patrolling liberally booths from which ice cream, cake and other delicacies were sold. Tuesday night they attended a similar program at Looney.

The speaking campaign itinerary for the week will be concluded Thursday night of this week at Hyman, where candidates and voters of that community will greet one another and the latter be supplied with a liberal collection of cards and solicitations for support at the polls. The usual speaking will be observed.

TRIBUTE TO MOTHER WILL BE GIVEN IN SERMON AND SONG AT LOCAL CHURCHES

Dedication Of Mother's Day With Solemn Religious Rite Is Planned

Colorado ministers announce that parishioners attending worship services Sunday morning are to be reminded of the significance of "Mother's Day," in sermon and song and that strong tribute will be paid to motherhood as the major influence in building character and citizenship.

At some of the churches the 11 o'clock hour will be given over exclusively to a program couched in homage to mother. There the minister will address his hearers on mother and special music in which the abiding love and devotion of man's best friend is exemplified will be given.

People attending the services are to be supplied with the conventional flower, a silent messenger denoting whether or not mother is still among the living. For those whose mother has passed a white flower will be worn and those yet having their mother a red flower will be in order. It is expected that scores of sons and daughters will occupy pews in the church beside their mother.

"We plan a general observance of the day at First Presbyterian Church but no special program aside from tribute to motherhood from pulpit has been arranged," Rev. W. M. Elliott, pastor, stated Wednesday morning. Church hymns having bearing on the day will be sung under direction of Tommy Dawes.

The Church of Christ will observe Mother's Day but since the visiting evangelist, Foy Wallace of Nashville, Tenn., had not arrived, Minister J. D. Harvey did not know just what the program would consist of. The evangelist will couch his Sunday morning sermon address about motherhood.

Rev. Alex B. Hanson, pastor of All Saint's Episcopal church, will be absent from his pulpit here Sunday morning due to meeting an engagement in Sweetwater. "We will have no specific program on Mother's Day,"

Each car was also told to bring back a card table, and a special bonus of 500 points was offered these cars bringing back a lock of hair from a red-headed person.

When the cars returned, after much merry chasing and hunting, each occupant was given so many points for each article found. After tabulation it was announced that the living cup which was to be presented to the driver of the car finding the greatest number of articles would go to Milton Lipp. The "living cup" was a large tin affair tied with an enormous pink bow.

During the bridge games which followed guests were serenaded by some mysterious parties, playing a mandolin and guitar.

A FAREWELL TO JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

We, the seventh graders of Colorado Junior High School, wish to give a farewell to the teachers and remaining students of this school.

A good many of us have gone to this school for three years and we are fully able to say that we are prepared for the coming years in high school.

We wish to thank the teachers and students in the lower grades for their kind and interested attitude toward us. We have all enjoyed immensely the Jr. High School days and some of us now do not want to leave the school and our classmates, but with the hope of striving onward, before us, we will leave our place for others to fill and we are sure that they will fill it just as well or perhaps better, let us hope, than we have.

JANE CLARE MESKIMEN.

FIFTH GRADE PICNIC

We took some ropes along on which we tied toe sacks stuffed with weeds and hung them in the trees. The site was at Deep Creek, south of Dunn. Since there was water, some of the boys went in swimming. The guests who were there were: Mrs. Cline, Mr. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. Colson, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Lantron, and Mr. Davis. About 30 of the girls rode in a truck driven by Mr. Holman.

All of the seventh graders enjoyed the picnic and thought it was a great success.

POEM—A LIFE WITH DUTY

Upon the pasture green
An old junk pile was to be seen
With a butter-cup in its midst,
A butter-cup the sky kissed.
It is more beautiful
Flowers with life so dutiful
Are ones I'd rather own
Than ones with beds so carefully sown.
They are so pretty there
Growing without help or care.

Mr. Holman: "You can work them in your head or feet, either one."

Cakes Are Given Mission School By Mome Ec Classes

A cake was the unexpected prize carried home by children attending the McColl Mission Sunday School Sunday morning.

Thirty cakes were given the Sunday School by members of the Home Economics Department of Colorado High School. This number was left over from the bake sale held by the department on Saturday, and Miss Evelyn Jennings, home economics teacher, and her girls decided to give them to Mrs. W. H. Garrett for her Mission School.

Mrs. Garrett in turn presented the cakes to her pupils Sunday morning to carry home for their Sunday dinner.

"The Home Economics class could not have done a nicer thing than this," Mrs. Garrett stated, later. "They deserve high praise for sharing their labors with those who do not have the opportunity for such study and training."

Tom Connally Should Remain In Senate San Antonio Paper States In Editorial

The following comment on Senator Tom Connally is reprinted from a recent issue of the San Antonio Daily Express:

The junior United States Senator from Texas has achieved and holds an even higher distinction than that of being an "old friend and stalwart supporter" of Franklin D. Roosevelt—as, in lately greeting a delegation of Texans at the White House, the President referred to Tom Connally.

"Achieved" is the word—and that higher distinction is that Senator Connally is a stalwart supporter, because a sturdy public servant, of his State and the Nation. The tribute of "friend" likewise may be emphasized: The essential legislation, the useful missions in behalf of the common well-being, the worthy causes which he has befriended actively since first he entered the public service as a Texas State legislator 33 years ago, are beyond numbering.

To this newspaper, to thinking citizens generally in Texas and all other States, the President's expression of gratitude to Senators Sheppard and Connally for their votes to sustain his veto of the independent offices (and veterans' compensation) bill, means something deeper and finer than an implied endorsement of a friend's and political ally's candidacy for renomination and re-election. It reflects something infinitely more important than any mere consideration of "party regularity."

Articulate public opinion throughout the Nation—the great consensus of it, both written and spoken—heartily approved, and approves, that veto and the action of those Senators and Congressmen who refused to aid in setting it aside. They—Mr. Connally among them—are not now in the pillory of public comment in almost every State, concerning the purely selfish, vote-seeking interests which animated most of the lawmakers, candidates for re-election, who overrode a veto patriotically and economically sound and necessary.

When Congress dealt that selfish, short-sighted, instantly hurtful blow to the Administration's economy and recovery program, and thus to the Nation's interests, San Antonio Express wrote:

Probably most of those who voted to pass the bill over the President's head did not look . . . beyond next November's election. All the Representatives and one-third of the Senators—excepting the few who will not be candidates—will offer for re-election at that time. Therefore, the citizen hardly can escape the conviction that the majority of those who voted for the increase were more concerned about their own jobs than about veteran welfare. They were afraid to antagonize the "soldier vote." If, along with grants to veterans and pay-raises for Federal employees, Congress had voted a tax to yield the revenue required, it could be credited with courage to face the facts.

Senator Connally—a veteran, an enlisted man, of the Spanish-American War, and all along a friend to both active and former service men from motives higher than those of political self-seeking—sincerely and fearlessly faces the facts of the Nation's financial condition and its basic needs under the recovery scheme. In numerous ways—both through genuine, intelligent co-operation with the President and his own constructive initiative—he has faced and is facing those facts. For one thing, San Antonio Express is urging the enactment of the Connally Bill for currency retirement as a sound means of breaking up the destructive hoarding practice, ascertaining the volume of, and replacing, lost or destroyed currency, and increasing the vitally necessary circulation of money in trade.

Mr. Connally's long service at Washington—as both Representative and Senator—has been placed and kept upon the high plane of, not alone State-wide, but Nation-wide, usefulness. For all that, he has proved his ability, and has taken the time, to do many a worth-while official act for the best interests of cities, districts and regions within his State.

When Senator Connally lent his thorough-going, practically helpful co-operation to San Antonio in its successful effort to keep the Federal Building on the present site—where the vast majority of this community desire the new structure erected—he also was acting, as a National official, in behalf of assuring the highest efficiency, the utmost usefulness and convenience, of Federal services that reach hundreds of thousands of his fellow-citizens here and throughout the West Texas district.

Motives as creditable—disinterested considerations of the public good—have distinguished Mr. Connally's service-record, State and National, through the years. He is strong at Washington; his ability is respected there; his personality is liked. He made an excellent Representative for six terms, and that House record has been carried over into, and even bettered by, his able, devoted work in the Senate.

That work is reward-worthy because it is altogether respect-worthy. Senator Connally throughout has earned re-election. San Antonio Express is confident that he will be accorded what he has earned—that he will be returned to the Senate. He deserves a great majority, expressive alike of his fellow-Texasan's appreciation of admirable public service and their regard for the advancement of their own best interests by the retention of such service in the United States Senate.

PLAY AT SPADE SATURDAY NIGHT

A comedy in three acts entitled, "I Will I Won't" will be reproduced by teachers, and outsiders of Fairview in Howard county. The play was given at the Fairview school several weeks ago and was much liked.

The setting of the play is in a girl's dormitory at Bernard college. Dr. Anthony King calls himself a chocolate fudge doctor because his work as a medical attendant to a group of healthy college girls seems idiotic contrasted with his ambition to establish a hospital for crippled children. He finds his job more interesting when he stumbles on a dormitory mystery. A play full of interest and comedy. All parts are good.

The characters are as follows: Dr. Anthony King, a school doctor—Gaylon Bailey. Mr. Howard, a lawyer—Jake Covington. Carney Underwood, Jr., a man about town—Mrs. Ernest Carlile. Elliott Fletcher, a man about school—Rip Bailey. Lucille Owen, a co-ed—Venetta Byrd. Joan Stevens, her cousin—Loretta Byrd Bailey.

Several Sources Of Revenue Bring Cash Into School Coffers

A multiplicity of sources are tapped by the State to provide funds to aid the local and rural schools.

The school system receives a part of the ad valorem, poll, occupation, gross receipts, oil and sulphur, cigarette permit, beer and taxes on horse races in addition to all of the tax of three cents per package on cigarettes. It receives also $2,395,000 annually in interest on its permanent fund and from land sales, leases and rentals.

The ad valorem tax leads in producing revenue for the schools. The last report showed a yield of $9,000,000 annually. The schools formerly received about $11,000,000 from this source but the homestead exemption amendment cut off approximately $2,000,000.

From the gasoline tax the schools receive annually nearly $7,000,000. Receipts from the cigarette tax rank third with $3,500,000 while the school's share of the oil production tax is a close fourth with $3,250,000. Interest on investments of the permanent fund produce $1,650,000 while the schools receive an even million dollars from poll taxes.

Other sources of school revenue are, miscellaneous occupation tax, $35,000; insurance occupation tax, $500,000; gross receipts tax, $350,000; sulphur production tax, $500,000; permits to sell cigarettes, $100,000; beer tax, $425,000; percentage of fees collected on wagers on horse races, $125,000; interest on land sales, leases and rentals, $700,000; interest on deposits, $45,000.

The legislature also appropriated $3,000,000 out of the general revenue fund for each of the next two years for rural aid.

George H. Shepherd, state comptroller, estimated school revenues during the present fiscal year would be sufficient to pay text book requirements of $1,384,343; the current $16 per capita apportionment and $1 on the unpaid school apportionment which probably will be lowered to $2 at the end of the fiscal year.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY OF BIG SPRING 'STAGGERS' INTO HANDS OF POLICE

BIG SPRING.—Officers have become reconciled to throwing adult drunks into the bastille, but when a four-year-old boy becomes intoxicated, it takes their breath away the same as the next man.

A four-year-old boy staggered into the police station Monday afternoon, announced his parents were drunk and he was in a like condition. He was taken home by a policeman and told to play around the house. He almost beat the officer back to the station.

Taken to the court house, he was unable to stand alone. He was placed in proper care by police while those who should have watched him sobered.

Vinita, recently celebrated what he said was his 110th birthday anniversary. He asserted he has lived in the cimpunity for 103 years.

She read scriptures from Isaiah, Mark, and Acts and in the first chapter discussed the Catholicity of the Methodist church as opposed to being sectarian or denominational. The second chapter was "The practical aim of Methodism." A fine presentation was given by Mrs. Doss. There were ten members present.

The Dobbs Circle opened by singing, "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Mrs. Buchanan led in prayer. The first two chapters of "Genesis" by Grace Saxe were taught by Mrs. Hart.

The treasurer reported $20.25 on hand. It was voted to pay some on furniture in the parsonage next month.

PARENT-TEACHER NOTES

Mrs. W. F. James, president of the Loraine P. T. A., called a meeting of the executive board in her home at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, April 25th.

Interesting reports were given by the president, Mrs. Clyde Bennett, and Mrs. Edd Williams, who attended the annual district P. T. A. meeting held in Abilene, April 19th to 21st.

An interesting bit of information was given as to the meaning of the P. T. A. National emblem which is the Oak Tree. The trunk of the tree is the national organization, its branches are the State organizations, and the limbs are our local organizations. The three roots are the three great fundamental principles of our organization: non-sectarian, non-political, and non-commercial.

Colors for our local P. T. A. were selected. They are white and green and the white rose is the flower.

A committee to choose and submit mottoes for the organization was named: Mrs. W. R. Martin, Mrs. H. H. Hobker, and Mrs. Clyde Bennett. All plans were completed for the reception which will close the P. T. A. year work.

Mrs. James served an appetizing refreshment plate of open cheese sandwiches with olives, potato chips, and pickles, with strawberry short cake as dessert.

This courtesy meeting called by the president complimented both the outgoing and incoming board members.

MITCHELL-SCURRY WORKER'S CONFERENCE

The Baptists of Mitchell and Scurry counties met with the Loraine Baptist church Tuesday, May 8th in their regular monthly workers conference.

A beautiful song service was led by Thomas J. Riden, followed by two very interesting messages on Soul Winning by L. L. Trotter and Layman Wren. The office work of the Holy Spirit by P. D. O'Brien.

A practical sermon that should last this association a lifetime, was delivered by Walter Dever of Snyder.

The Loraine women served a lovely lunch at the noon hour.

After reports of the W. M. U. work were given, Mrs. Jack Smith gave an account of the district W. M. U. Mrs. J. Lee Jones, new district president gave three beautiful lessons on Motherhood.

Brother A. D. Leach closed the meeting with an inspirational message.

These meetings are a glory for our master.

BAPTIST NOTES

Sunday School was well attended Sunday. There were several visitors. We were very glad to have them. If you are not in Sunday School somewhere else, we invite you to come and be with us.

Bro. Hardin brought a wonderful message at the morning hour. Bro. Willis J. Ray, District Missionary, brought the message at the evening hour from the 9th chapter of Hebrews. He took for his text: "Without the shedding of blood, there is no remission of sin." We were glad to have Bro. Ray with us. We hope he will be with us again soon.

The Workers conference met with the Baptist church during Tuesday. There were about 250 in attendance. A very interesting program had been arranged. There was a deep spirituality and interest manifest during the day. The program of the women's division in the afternoon was changed from the usual procedure to that of inspirational talks. These talks were enjoyed very much.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES

Sunday School was well attended there being one hundred and eighty-eight present.

Text for the morning hour was "Let Your Light Shine."

Administration of the Lord's Supper was given at the morning hour. "The Narrow Way That Leads To Heaven," was subject for the evening hour.

Next Sunday morning a special service for Mothers will be held.

Night service will be "Pay Tribute To Dear Old Dad."

FARMERS AND FAMILIES INVITED TO ATTEND BIG FEATURE SHOW MAY 16

Berry-Pee Lumber company announce that they have arranged for the showing of "Tom, Dick & Harry Co.," an interesting farm talking picture of 6,000 feet, at the Palace Theatre on the afternoon of May 16, beginning at 2 o'clock. Farmers and members of their families are cordially invited to attend the show as guests of the local concern.

The feature picture reveals the ups and downs of two young men in building a poor, run-down farm into a profitable one and is so skillfully handled that at times it seems that even the pigs are trained for their part. There is plenty of good, clean romance throughout.

Strong Entertainment Features To Be Given During Annual WTCC Convention

SAN ANGELO—Entertainment galore has been arranged for the registered delegation at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention in this city, May 14-16.

Walter E. Yaggy, chairman of the convention registrations committee has written the two hundred cities and towns in West Texas through their West Texas Chamber of Commerce directors and local chambers of commerce, advising them of the entertainment features and of the registration plan of the convention.

Yaggy said: "The registration fee at convention will be one dollar per person. We are very desirous of having everyone register who attends. The registration fees bear the expense of the convention, and to register is to become a part of the convention."

"Payment of the one dollar registration entitles the registrant to an official identifying badge, an official program, a map of the business section of San Angelo locating all the convention meeting places and features of the program, and a book of tickets of admission to the following entertainment events: (1) Rainbow Roundup in the City Auditorium each night; (2) Carnival of Venice on Concho river each afternoon; (3) motor boat racing on Lake Nasworthy, Sunday afternoon (5) dances at hotels each night; and (6) golf privileges at three golf courses."

Yaggy has asked the local chamber of commerce and directors to aid this committee in getting their respective delegations registered at the convention—either registering them in advance of coming to San Angelo, or collecting the fees and buying the registrations at one time for the entire delegation.

He also states there will be no free registrations—following a rule of long standing at West Texas chamber conventions. For several years, Yaggy stated, West Texas Chamber of Commerce conventions have been financed exclusively by the registration fees, costing neither the host city nor the organization any money from other funds, and it is the aim of his committee to see that this record is preserved at San Angelo.

President Mackey Enthused Over Prospects For Larger Traffic

Seventeen automobiles carrying fifty Broadway of America road boosters arrived at Colorado Monday morning at 9:45, as scheduled, for a fifteen minute stop. President F. O. Mackey of Douglas, Arizona was in charge of the trippers.

The visitors were welcomed to Colorado by C. C. Thompson, president of the chamber of commerce, and other civic leaders here. Members of the motorcade expressed keen disappointment when informed that Colorado was not entering cars in the caravan.

The road enthusiasts were enroute to Dallas to attend annual convention of the association, convened there Tuesday for two days. Another motorcade bringing delegates to the convention arrived from the East at same time this Western group reached Dallas Monday afternoon.

The trippers left San Diego, California, Saturday, with John S. Forward, Mayor of that city, Harry E. Willis, editor of the San Diego Progress-Journal, and other citizens making up the roster. Additional cars were added to the motorcade as the caravan moved eastward.

"The Broadway of America, is we believe, the greatest asset we people of this section of the United States may claim," said Mayor Forward while here Monday morning. "I have just received statement from manager of one of the leading hotels at Midland that since January 1, this year, more than 1,000 out of state tourists have registered there alone. The highway is a big thing for San Diego and it is likewise a big thing for Colorado."

The hall and banquet table was artistically decorated in the senior colors of blue and gold, which formed a colorful combination for the occasion. A table seating thirty-five guests was decorated with streamers of blue and gold extending the length of the table; and centered with a miniature May pole to guest covers, which were marked with small china dolls, dressed in caps and gowns. Place cards were miniature blue horse shoes marked with a gold "S". Blue glass bowls of yellow flowers alternated with tapers in matching holders the length of the table, and the four course menu reflected the same color scheme.

Johnny Moore was master of ceremonies for the evening. Ruth Miller gave the welcome address, responded to by Herbert Currie, president of the Senior class, giving parting advice to the Juniors.

Places were marked for Seniors: Marie Gressett, Florence Neal, Ada Jackson, Louise Skelton, Herbert Currie, John Rowland, Woodrow Leach, Weldon Moore, Herman May, Edwin Hall, Leroy Miller, James Berry.

The Meaning of Graduation

Graduation to many is the realization of a dream; to some it is a destination at which parents strive to send them, to some it is but another milestone by which they have found themselves drifting, but to most of us, graduation should be an end that is only a beginning. As a bud is the beginning of a rose, so is graduation the beginning of life. Graduation should not be a destination at which to stop and forget all, but it is a foundation on which to build a career.

To many students, graduation is a dreaded happening which will take them from their fellowman and happy school days; but to those who have reached the point of life where they desire other things and have higher ambitions, it is a great accomplishment.

COLORADO ENTERS STATE TRACK

Thursday and Friday of last week, Coach Cantrill with four of his track boys went to Austin to enter the State track meet. The boys that took part in the track meet were: Elvy Stagner, Red Church, Wilbur Henderson, and Francis Connell. Colorado succeeded in winning sixth place in the relay by these four boys. Elvy Stagner won recognition in the half mile race, winning second place.

Stagner, as well as the other boys, has done very much in helping to put Colorado on the top along the athletic line this year.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

May 4, Miss Cooper, head of the commercial department, gave a special program in assembly. She gave typing pins and diplomas to typists making 30, 40, 50, and 60 words a minute, writing for fifteen minutes, with less than 3 to 5 mistakes. These people that received the rewards were high school and town students. Miss Cooper then presented her Tiny Tot Typing class and later her Grade school typing class in a display of their regular work. Many town guests were present.

SENIOR NOTES

Audrey Iglehart, Mabel Majors, Polly Bellomy, and Charles Garrett, seniors of Colorado High School, have been selected to make the class will and to write the class history. Each senior has been requested to report what he wishes to will his fellow Juniors and what he wishes to be in the future.

May 18 the Seniors are to present an assembly program, consisting of the class will, the class history and other similar activities.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Junior-Senior banquet is still the top-notch discussion between the Juniors and Seniors this week.

Mr. Croslin arranged a contest by dividing the Juniors into two sides and each side is trying to get the most money by May the first. This money will pay the expenses of the banquet. The winner will be entertained with a picnic by the loser.

Brady Warren, as a group captain, seems to be the winner.

Aldred Bodine won third place in the selection of Family Diaries at Austin.

It is rumored that the sheik, Joe Cooper, about to lose his woman. Brady Warren runs over Charles Garrett by taking June Cox away from him.

What cute little Junior knows a "squat low Rebecca" who recently has a new hair cut which is very becoming?

Why did Sidney feel hurt when Charles Hutchinson paid a quarter to take her to the banquet?

Will the Senior girls get dates for the banquet? Mr. Coffman is doing his best to help the bashful girls obtain a gentleman escort.

FRESHMEN WHAT NOW?

There have been quite a few freshmen to say that this is the first year that they really hated to see close. They still have a number of things to learn that they have not yet accomplished, such as remembering to bring Mr. Wilkins an excuse at the proper time. Then too, all the lockers have all been "figured out," and they don't get quite so much attention as they did when they could not be opened.

The freshmen find that it is quite an honor to be "called down" in study hall by Mr. Cantrill. But strange to say it never happens but once. They enjoy drawing maps more this year than ever before, for they can trace them at liberty.

Although they have to write quite a number of themes, they enjoy bringing them in on time.

Then there are also those sentences in English that may not be so easily diagrammed, but by scattering nouns, pronouns, verbs and adverbs around on the diagram they don't have so much trouble after all. If Mrs. Cantrill were not there to help them there is not much telling what they would do.

The algebra may be hard to work, but by the time they have listened to Mr. Foster's instructions they glide smoothly along.

So after all who wouldn't be proud of being called a freshman. The freshmen hope that they enjoy next year as much as they have this one. So to the future freshmen the future sophs say: "Come one and all and you are promised an interesting year of work."

ELOISE COOPER.

FRESHMEN NOTES

Mrs. Cantrill, teacher of freshman history, went to Austin last week to attend the State interscholastic events. Mrs. Dr. Lindley substituted in Mrs. Cantrill's place.

CHILD GUIDANCE AND CARE

For the past week the first year class in home economics has continued their study on Understanding and Guidance of Children. Reports on child behavior have been given by members of the class and problems and situations set up. Each member of the class had to tell how she would meet these situations and give her reasons for meeting the situation in that particular way.

BETTER HOMES WEEK OBSERVED

The club women observed "Better Homes Week" by visiting the high school Home Economics department on Friday afternoon. Juanita Reese gave a resume of the phases of home-making in the three years' home economics course offered in the Colorado high school and listed the equipment that had been added to the department in the past three years. Loyce Andrews told of the trip through the Postex Cotton Mills at Post and the different steps in making Garza sheeting. Mary Frances Mackey told of the trip through the Home Economics building and the Practice House at Texas Tech. Jo Axtell reviewed the Battle of Flowers and described the gowns worn by the Queen and her attendants during Fiesta week at San Antonio. Arabelle Sorrells gave an interesting talk on the missions, the Alamo, and the old Spanish Governor's Palace. Eleanor Hagler described the Witte Museum, the Sunk-ent Garden and Brackenridge Park. Aldred Bodine told of the trip through the Lubbock high school and the Austin Junior high school. The latter is used as the training school for practice teachers of the university.

Lucille Bodine described the Capitol, the Elizabeth Ne Museum and the scenic drive sponsored by the Parent Teachers' Association, Chamber of Commerce, and State Home Economics Department for the eight hundred girls who attended the Home Makers Rally from towns all over the State.

Each member of the home economics classes entered a cake in the contest sponsored by the Rumford Company. A sample box of Rumford baking powder was sent to each girl and a recipe given for the cake that was to be baked. A number of good products were turned out and the judges worked faithfully to judge the scores of cakes correctly.

The following girls placed in the contest: Melba Slaton and Eleanor Hagler tied for first place; Aldred Bodine and Louise Smith tied for second place; Juanita Reese, Loyce Jenkins and Lucille Bodine tied for third place.

The cakes were donated to the department and the girls sold them, making twelve dollars for the department. The remainder of the cakes were given to the families attending the McCall Mission and to needy families in South Colorado.

The classes wish to express their appreciation to the Rumford Baking Powder Company for the samples of baking powder and for the awards to be given the winners; to Piggly Wiggly for the space in their store and for their cooperation in selling the cakes; to the judges who faithfully tasted each cake in order to judge them as correctly as possible.

MAURINE WHITAKER RECEIVES CERTIFICATE OF HONOR

The Home Makers Educational Service issues a Certificate of Honor each year to that pupil, in each school offering home economics, who has made the greatest advancement in foods, clothing, household management, hygiene, home nursing, child care, self improvement, and community relations. This year the certificate has been issued to Maurine Whitaker as evidence of highest achievement in the different phases of homemaking.

SENIOR'S SENTIMENTS

The school term now is almost gone, And so's our high-school life. Gone now is "study 'till almost dawn All struggle and all strife."

That's what we think, perhaps, as we leave
The place we've known so well,
But happy memories to our minds will cleave,
Of what we have known in that "cell."

This is the crossroad, that we now have met,
And each student will go his way,
But never the happy times we shall forget,
That we knew in our high school day.

LA TERTULIA BANQUET

Tuesday, May 1, La Tertulia gave their annual Spanish banquet at the home of Mrs. A. L. Whiskey. The entire membership including the sponsor, Miss Smith, were present.

The program was delightful entertainment. Louis Taylor, club president, presided as toastmaster. Lynn Bodine gave a piano solo, "Spain." Mary Ann Latham gave a tap solo accompanied by Mrs. Latham. Mrs. C. A. Wilkins gave two beautiful solos and Memphis Porter gave a reading, "The Tamale Man" by Mrs. Sam L. Majors.

After dinner, which consisted of cocktail frijoles, pickles, Spanish rice, enchiladas, pie, and coffee. Miss Smith requested the guests to play a game by writing in Spanish, all articles on the table. Cleo Shepherd was the winner of the prize given. The club then adjourned to a picture show party.

VOCATIONAL AG. NEWS

Doyle Williams, vocational agriculture instructor; Ben Baskin, county agent; Jesse Jones, FFA reporter; Ivy Jones, local ranchman, attended the Spur Experiment Station Feeding Exhibition, Friday of last week.

These test lots of calves were fed different balanced rations. Talks were made as to the value of different ingredients necessary to produce the maximum gain at the minimum cost on both cattle and sheep.

John Ennis, agriculture student, who won third place in My Home Town Speaking contest recently entered the District Future Farmer Public speaking contest. John has written an excellent speech and the class is hoping that he will win.

The calves fed by the first and third year agriculture boys will be shown at Sweetwater Thursday and Friday, May 9th and 10th.

WINNER OF CONTEST

May 6, the winner of "My Home Town" contest was chosen to represent Colorado at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Convention, San Angelo. There were five speakers. Three were chosen and given prizes of $5, $4, and $3 each. The winners are Paschall Lynch, first; Mirl Garner, second, and John Ennis, third.

FOURTH PERIOD STUDY HALL

The most disgusting, nerve wracking hour of school is from 11:15 until 12:00, or the fourth period study hall. At this time all of the studious pupils are trying to study but they have become so exhausted from strenuous morning classes that they cannot concentrate. They sit at their desks with open books and try to study but the poor children are so hungry that their back bones and stomachs are playing tag and I sincerely think they should be excused for being so restless. These poor victims have such haggard but determined expressions on their intelligent faces that it is plainly obvious how hard they are trying to study.

Occasionally one of these delicate pupils reaches over and punches his next door neighbor and all but knocks his neighbor out of the seat. Not a soul gets excited because all realize that he only wants to know what time it is. As Mr. Cantrill (study hall teacher) calmly scolds the pupil, the student turns many different colors and his pride is hurt immensely because he got scolded in study hall.

After these mistreated children have endured as much as they think they possibly can, lo and behold the bellings. They grab their books, sling them under one arm, and sit crouched ready to spring when the next bell rings and they look like lions and lionesses ready to spring on their prey.

Such incidents as the ones I've related take place in the fourth period study hall but I am asking you,

"My mamma says I can get at your house today—she never has time to sit, she works on wash day!"

HONOR MOTHERS-TO-BE, ALSO

Provision for adequate care for mothers-to-be, as a practical means of putting into effect the honor and reverence due all mothers, is being urged in connection with the nation-wide observance of Mother's Day. The day will be celebrated Sunday.

Because of the precious memory the day arouses each of us with wishes to pay our own tribute of homage to our mothers of the past and present for their unflinching love and devotion, their self-sacrificing service and their never ending influence on our lives. Those who are engaged in public health activities are thinking of the third group, also—the mothers of tomorrow.

A liberal share of public homage to Motherhood should be directed to the mothers of the future. Colorado and Mitchell county have prided in their splendid citizenship during the years that have passed. May we accept to pay due honor to every mother—that one of today and the one of tomorrow, in that the tradition commanding our highest devotion be kept ever foremost in our thoughts.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

I have traveled in nearly every State in the Union, and in some few foreign countries, and Colorado, Texas, of all the cities, towns, hamlets and whistling stations enjoys the unique distinction of being the only one having cars parked in the center of an 80 foot street. I have made an exhaustive inquiry trying to find who is the daddy of this freak and no one will own its paternity. Poor little waif, it must be one of General Johnson's codes, or perhaps an illegitimate of the "Brain Trust." It could not be the conception of a sane person.

One day this week, about the noon hour I repaired to the curb where my car was standing, and found myself hemmed in by an immense truck overshadowing me in my rear in the center of the street, no one in charge. I surmise the driver was in barbershop having his whiskers manicured, or next door playing ping pong, or perhaps the poor fellow got caught in a jam in a long line paying their subscriptions to the Record, or perhaps still he might have been waiting his turn at paying teller's window at the City National Bank. I am ordinarily not a busy man, and could afford to wait, but I did for about ten minutes; but it was nearly noon and my lunch was getting cold. Happily I was near the mouth of an alley, and I maneuvered and jigsawed until I got into this alley, and thus escaped.

Now this, to my mind, an abomination, it is literally a damn nuisance, and ought to be abolished or abated, and there are others who think as I do. Since nobody will father this innovation, am going to characterize it as "something the cat dragged in." Please look into this Mr. Traffic Officer.

RELIGION VS. DENOMINATIONALISM

In our last week's comment on Mr. Gage's new religion we had a great deal to say about denominationalism and some of our readers seem to think we were defending denominationalism.

From a human viewpoint only can denominationalism be defended but not from a divine. No truth is more prominent in the Bible than the unity of the saints. No point do the apostles more often and more strongly urge, and there is no duty more solemnly and more frequently enforced than the perfect oneness of believers.

It appears paradoxical for one to defend denominationalism and at the same time claim to believe the following scriptures: John 10:16: "There shall be one flock and one shepherd." John 17:21: "Neither pray I for thee alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word, that they may all be one." Heb. 10:12: "For by one spirit hath he perfected them, that are sanctified." Again we have, "For there is one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus." I Tim. 2:5, also "For by one Spirit we are all baptized into one body, whether we be Jew or Gentile, whether we be bond or free and have been all made to drink into one Spirit." I Cor. 12-13. "Now are they many members, yet but one body." I Cor. 12-20. "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling, one Lord one faith, one baptism, one God." Eph 4:4-6. "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you, but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment." I Cor. 1-10. "For ye are yet carnal, for whereas there is among you envying and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men? For while one saith I am of Paul, and another I am of Apollos, are ye not carnal?" I Cor. 3-3-4.

Defend denominationalism! With what do you defend it? Not with the word of God, for divine revelation was closed many centuries before the rise of modern denominationalism. How can one who believes in Jesus Christ defend a curse that has blighted the hopes and desires of a ruined race (unbelieving world) for the fruitage of denominationalism is an unbelieving world. Paul condemns it as carnal and sinful. Christ prayed that all who believe on Him might be one. The record says of the early church that "the multitude of them who believed were of one heart and one soul." The divine plan was unity, the human plan division and denominations. The wisest and safest course is to turn from creeds to Christ.

"Every plant which my heavenly Father has not planted, shall be rooted up."—Matt. 15-13.

In my last week's article on Mr. Gage's New Religion we tried to show it a false religion and I cannot see what anyone expects to get out of it to hide behind. It is only an imitation of a man. False religion imitates true religion for awhile and then fades away. The scarerow serves its purpose for awhile, the birds think it is a man standing there, and they will not come into the farmers field and pluck up his gain, but after a few days the scarerow betrays itself by standing in one place so long and never moving. The birds detect the fact that the man is lifeless and that they are misled.

Those who have a false religion are certainly deceiving others. Hypocrites are those whose "religion" is false. Such people as these are more injurious to the church than sinners. They have falsely made themselves members of the church, and hold places of prominence where they can do much harm if they are not true servants of God. Unbelievers in the church are in position to decoy even true believers into snares at times and incur trouble that could have been avoided.

Sinners know hypocrites much better than Christians because so often they are found in the sinners path. The church is hindered because so many who claim to be Christians render more service to the works of the devil than to the cause of Christ. As long as Christians are found in the way of unrighteous, they will always be a stubborn hindrance to the progress of God's kingdom on earth.

False religion is much like stained glass, it gives everything another color, the pure as well as the impure. People with false religion have no real desire to be servants of God, they are more in sympathy with things in the church. Nothing done by the church looks clear to them and they make room for criticism at any time.

There are those who desire to be members of the church but are not willing to live the church life, not willing to sacrifice and bear any responsibility. They demand their reward now, in some form or another, for whatever service they may render. If we have not the true religion, we will never have sufficient influence to bring sinners to Christ. We cannot expect sinners to become Christians while so-called Christians prove to be sinners. To associate with sinners in sin and then lead them to Christ is impossible. The religion of the Lord Jesus grows brighter and brighter as we grow older. This is the kind that makes our souls happy. It makes our yoke easy and our burdens light.

SEEKING HAPPINESS

When one thinks of the misery, sorrow, and sadness found in the world today, he is tempted to exclaim, "Is there really any happiness? If so where can it be found?" Yes, there is happiness for every one, but the person who is looking for it, simply from a selfish viewpoint will never find it. He who searches for happiness and happiness alone, though he travel the world over, will come back home heart sick with sorrow and disappointment.

Happiness is something that can never be discovered when it is the only object sought. It is a result. It comes from doing something for others, lifting a load for one who is weary, speaking a kind word to a discouraged soul, ministering to one who is sick, giving to one in need, doing little ordinary things about us that the other fellow dislikes and neglects. Happiness always lies hidden behind something else.

Have you never experienced the thrill of joy that comes when you have been to visit someone suffering on a bed of pain, and carried away with you a vision of his lighted face when you gave him a bouquet of flowers? Would you consider the little effort that you put forth commensurate with the happiness you then possessed? Or have you never felt that glad sensation that comes when you, whom the heavenly Father has abundantly blessed, send a well laden basket to the neighbor who is in need.

Doubtless you can call to mind many instances when happiness has come to you as a result of having spoken a loving word to a perplexed or discouraged traveler on the great highway of life. Perhaps it came as the result of saying a cheerful "Good Morning" to a friend you met, and seeing his face light up as he responded to your courtesy. Children are very susceptible to loving words and kind attentions. Who cannot remember how glad he was as a child, when some older person took time to give him a friendly pat on the shoulder, or told him a story, or presented to him some little trinket? How he cherished the memory of that person. Happy the man who wins the love and admiration of children.

Happiness comes also from a realization of one's having done his work well, giving value received for his wages. The man who shirks his duty and cheats in his work cannot be a happy laborer. Happiness does not come by doing the hard and disagreeable tasks. The man with a clear conscience, who loves God and his fellows, is a happy man. He is a friend to himself, because his is a friend to all others. He does not grow despondent or discouraged. He is happy.

He who searches for happiness, and happiness alone, will never find it. Happiness never stays alone, it is always associated with something else. Our happiness depends entirely upon our attitude toward others, our work, our surrounding, and all that has to do with life. And especially do real peace and joy depend on our connection with the true source of happiness.

He who pours happiness on another cannot help spilling a few drops on himself. He who would be happy must first make others happy. This rule never fails. Will you find happiness? It depends entirely upon yourself. If governors would pick out criminals they are going to pardon, and pardon them before they are tried and legislators would have their bills tested for constitutional defects before they are passed, enough would soon be saved to lower the tax rate. Frankly, I don't believe the governor or the law-makers will pay any attention to this suggestion, neither

WOMEN, GIRLS' CLUB NEWS

By MISS EMMA GUNTER, Home Demonstration Agent

The County home demonstration council meets Saturday at 2:30 P. M. in regular session. Plans for the Rally Day program for July will be submitted at this meeting. The Spade club will act as hostess at this meeting.

The women's home demonstration club of Iatan met at the home of Mrs. Ollie Harris, May 3rd, with 8 members and two visitors present. A report of the exhibit was given by several of the members. Mrs. J. M. Hahn gave something on the importance of correct accessories assisted by Miss Gunter, the agent. An illustrated talk and demonstration was given on collars and sleeves that can be cut by using a foundation pattern was given by the agent. Club adjourned after having refreshments to meet May 17th with Mrs. Alvin Lay. Reporter—Mrs. Dewey Phillips.

Miracles seem to have transpired at Marjorie Carlock's who is bedroom improvement demonstrator for the Shepherd girls club. Seemingly over night her little room has been made over from a very uninteresting little room used by the hired hand to one very livable and interesting for any girl.

The first big improvement, has been to paper the walls with a very pleasing all over patterned wall paper with a rich cream background. The woodwork and floor too, have had their new coats of oil and paint. A conglomeration with a vivid blue background has been placed on the floor, this helps to relieve the brightness that predominated the room from an extra dose of the western sun coming in from two windows. Scrim with a blue figure has been made into curtains that are hung for cottage windows. A very attractive vanity dresser has been concocted from scraps of lumber and a few yards of cretonne with a new mirror hung about 12 inches from the tables making a most usable ensemble any girl would be happy to use. Marjorie has a new magazine holder, a book shelf and has moved her typewriter and table into her new room. She can study, work, read or relax in her room now where as before it was just a place to sleep. One of the most important things in a girl's bedroom is her clothing storage place. Marjorie has made several important improvements in her closet, first papered the walls, added an extra rod for her coats and dresses not used often, added extra shelves, a rod for her belts and ties besides wall pockets for her hose, patterns, etc. The accessories of interest are her vases for flowers, her pictures and books. The bed will be her next work, she will check over her linens, make a mattress cover, spring cover and arrange her linens in her room for her own use. The contest closes the 30 and 31, of May so the girls will be busy from now on.

Since this is invitation month for the home demonstration clubs, the Plainview club was hostess at Mrs. Aycock's to the Self Culture club, Wednesday afternoon, with a program given on correct accessories by Mrs. B. H. Henson, showing the latest things from the stores. Miss Gunter gave a demonstration on new collars and sleeves changes for this year. The women were served refreshments and adjourned at 5:30 P. M. to meet May 16 with Mrs. W. B. Howell. Mrs. J. C. Shepherd of this club won the pot plant, a coral geranium with 5 blossoms on it given by the County Federation for getting the most people out to see the exhibit of last week. Mrs. Shepherd had on her list 63 people and 34 called to see the exhibit.

do I believe the tax rate will ever be lowered.
