NUMBER 21

Neil Taylor Elected Head of Lions Club

Neil Taylor, principal of the Plains High School, was elected president of the Plains Lions Club Thursday, May 16th. The election was held in a regular meeting at the American Legion Hall.

NEIL TAYLOR

Leo White, County Agricultural Agent and Lions Boss for the past two years, presided during the business meeting and the election was conducted by written ballot.

Taylor, with his wife, Margaret, and three boys, Bobby, 9; Billy, 7; and Jimmy, 5, has been a resident of Plains three years, moving here from Andrews where he was a member of the school faculty for five years. He is a native of Levelland and a graduate of Hardin Simmons University with the class of 1946. He has served the local club as program chairman during the past year.

Other officers to be installed at the first meeting in July along with Mr. Taylor are: 1st Vice-pres., G. D. Kennedy; 2nd vice-pres., Rogers Curry; 3rd vice-pres., Harmon Meixner; Sec., Wyatt Lipscomb; Treas., B. F. Bartlett, Lion Tamer, Amos Smith; Tail Twister, C. J. Coffman; Assistant Tail Twister, Sherm Tingle; Greeter, Leo White; Lions Club Sweetheart, Jeanine St. Romain; and four directors, A. B. Carpenter, James Warren, Johnnie Fitzgerald, and Amos Smith. Also serving on board will be all officers and appointed committee chairmen.

About twenty four members and guests were served the noon meal by Mrs. John Robertson, assisted by Mrs. John Anderson.

CALVIN BEACH TO GET DEGREE AT HOWARD PAYNE

Calvin Eugene Beach, son of Mrs. J. R. Beach of Plains, is among 108 graduates of Howard Payne College who receive degrees at commencement exercises May 31, in Mims Auditorium, at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, is to be the commencement speaker.

Beach, who majored in Bible and minored in sociology, will receive a bachelor of science degree.

Good Town To Be "From"

Leo White, Yoakum County agent, and his family, are counting themselves pretty lucky this week. They're thinking of what might have happened had they not moved to Plains from Silvertown.

The town of Silvertown was badly hit last Wednesday night, about the same time as the twister struck Plains. The home in which the White's lived was completely destroyed, and the Veral Vaughn family, to whom they had sold their home, were killed.

"The twister here came close enough", Leo said this week. "The funnel came across one corner of our yard."

SET MAY 30 AS WORK DAY AT LOCAL CEMETERY

Forrest W. McCargo Post No. 585 of the American Legion will sponsor a community work day at the Plains Cemetery on May 30th. Workers will meet at the cemetery at 9:00 a.m.

There now is water at the cemetery, and much can be done to beautify it.

Everyone is invited to come out and help to clean up the cemetery since it is Memorial Day.

Emory Longbrake, who is presently operating the Humble station next to Glovers' Hatters & Cleaners, will be in charge. He has been at his current location for the past three years.

Glenn Wershan, in charge of the construction, said the project would take from 75 to 90 days to complete.

The exercises opened with the procession, played by Mrs. E. L. Robertson, followed by Rev. James Todd giving the invocation. Willie Mae Addison presented her salutatory, after which James Overton spoke on "Service" and Frances Payne delivered the valedictory. Harold Smith used "A Challenge" as his topic.

Following a selection, "You'll Never Walk Alone" by the girls' high school chorus, A. E. McGinty presented the coveted American Legion awards to Janelle Parks and Dallas Powell. Special awards were announced by Supt. G. D. Kennedy, who also presented the class. Presentation of diplomas was by Ty Field and D. N. Taylor with the program closing with the benediction by Rev. R. H. Meixner.

Honor graduates who received special recognition at the exercises included Frances Payne, valedictorian; Willie Mae Addison, salutatorian; and Harold Smith, highest ranking boy, all of whom received scholarships and trophies. Sue Billings earned the highest scholastic honors, but was not eligible for recognition since she completed the last semester by correspondence.

Hobbs has been in the car repair business for about six years, and formerly was associated with Clyde's Garage as a mechanic. Resident's Nephew Killed in Crash

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, May 16th at the First Methodist Church in Brownfield for Douglas Green, 26, with the Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. Alton Polk of Meadow.

Green, nephew of Bert Bartlett, of here, and a resident of Brownfield since 1938, was killed in the crash of a crop dusting plane near Eagle Lake, where he had been working for about a month. He was a former post office employee.

Survivors include his wife; three sons, Cody, Dale, and Chuck; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Green of 1210 Tahoka Road, Brownfield; two sisters, Mrs. Tommy Ashburn of Meadow and Miss Judy Green of Brownfield and his grandmother, Mrs. Cora Bartlett, also of Brownfield.

WEIGH DAY IS POSTPONED TO SATURDAY, JUNE 1

Because of heavy rains over much of the county last Friday, the beef cattle weigh day was called off. The new weighing day is set for Saturday, June 1st, and arrangements will be made for any feeder to weigh their animals during the week following if it is impossible for them to be present for the June 1st weighing. Any animal that is weighed late will have to use that weight as though it was the actual weight on June 1st. This new weighing date will give a 265 day feeding period for the beef calves in the gain contest sponsored by G. W. Cleveland.

CORRECTION

Dr. A. J. Mabry of Seminole will be at the city hall from 8 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday, May 25 to vaccinate dogs.

It was incorrectly carried in the Review last week that the vaccination would be conducted throughout the entire day.

Price for the vaccination is $2.25 per dog, of which the Boy Scouts will receive 25 cents.

Owners of dogs are reminded that it is compulsory that their pets be vaccinated. Failure to do so makes the owner liable for a fine.

Tornado Damage in County Estimated at Many Thousands

Residents of Plains and the north part of the county are busy this week repairing damage resulting from the tornadoes and storm which hit here last Wednesday night.

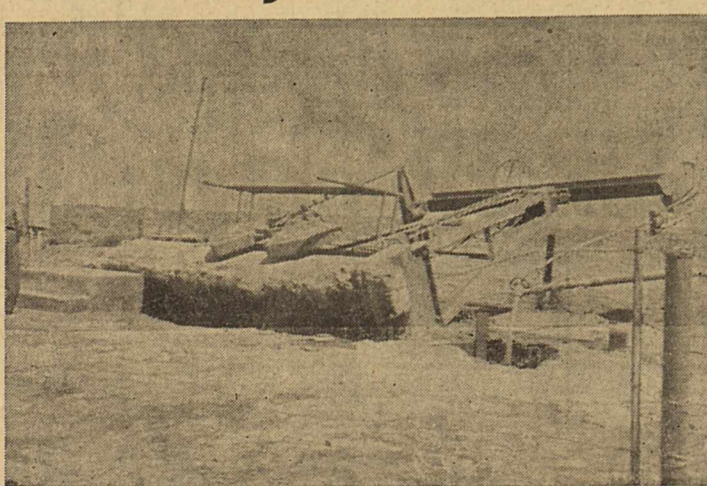

Damage was considerably more extensive than was first believed in the excitement which followed the twister, with reports still coming in on additional losses suffered. No definite estimate of the loss sustained has been given, but it undoubtedly is in the thousands of dollars.

Travis Been, owner of the Been Laundry which was almost totally demolished, told The Review this week that he did not plan to rebuild the plant. Vivian Short, car dealer here, whose shop building was badly damaged, plans to rebuild as soon as possible, it was learned.

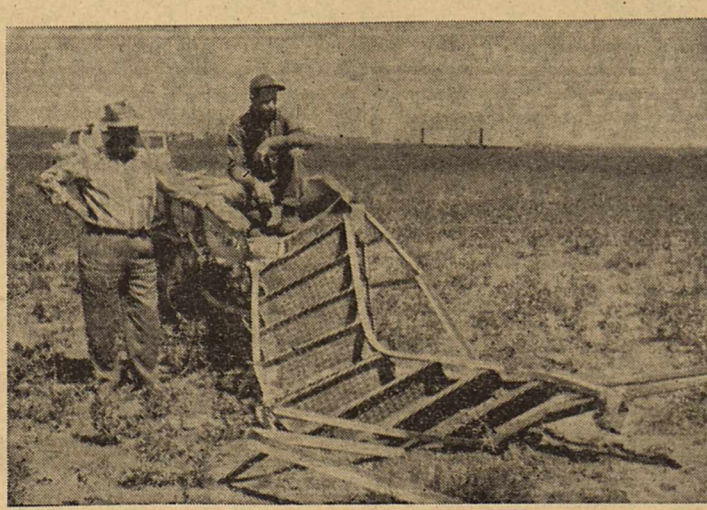

Only injury reported, the result of the storm was to Mrs. Polly Rushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore, who resides at Honolulu Camp near Tokio. She and her family were en route to a storm cellar a short distance away from their home, and ran into the brunt of the storm. The strong winds blew her off balance, against a wheelbarrow, painfully injuring a leg.

The George Alexander home, nearby where th Rushings were attempting to reach the storm cellar, lost the roof and ceiling completely, but the walls were left standing and no interior damage was apparently done. The Alexanders were not at home at the time. However, the windmill and all outbuildings at the place were destroyed.

At the Thomas Beardon farm, See DAMAGE on page 8

OLDTIMERS in the oil field say they never say it before. But here's proof positive. The pumping unit on the Cascade Lease in the Owenby field was completely upended by the tornado, despite being embedded in a block of solid concrete.

THIS STAIRWAY and walkway from a Shell tank battery in the Waples Platter field was torn away and carried more than 600 feet by the tornado which hit the area last Wednesday night.

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK TO BE OBSERVED MAY 26 TO JUNE 2nd

Supervisors of the Yoakum Soil Conservation District are cooperating with the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts and various national church organizations in the observance of National Soil Stewardship Week, May 26 to June 2.

Each minister in the District has been furnished with material concerning this observance and urged to devote some thought to this problem during this week and to bring out to his congregation that man has a responsibility as a steward of our God-given heritage—the productive soil.

Local churches of various faiths and soil conservation districts throughout the nation are joining in this endeavor.

The Supervisors throughout the nation are urging people to recognize the need for conservation of our precious natural resources and to realize that the soil and water are gifts of God and that each of us has a moral responsibility to care for and use wisely our soil and other natural resources.

The Psalmist tells us "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof". So we find that we merely hold a deed to His land and have a job to do in using it wisely.

The land is God's greatest material gift to man. The rich earth is far more precious than clothes. Yet those who would not a sack of flour or a suit of steal these are often guilty of robbing the soil which is the only means of providing food and clothing for all people. Sometimes we see God's earth washing or blowing away and recklessly used without any replenishment. Almighty God, in His infinite Wisdom, placed in the earth all the elements necessary for food and shelter and clothing for every human being. Those who mis-use the land interfere with this God-given plan. They actually steal from someone, somewhere, at sometime, the food and clothing God stored in the earth for man's use.

Explain Eligibility For Voters in Wheat Election

Yoakum County farmers were told today who will be eligible to vote in the June 20 wheat marketing quota referendum.

W. M. Luna, chairman, Yoakum County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, put it this way: All persons are eligible to vote in the June 20 quota referendum who will share in the 1953 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat acreage to be harvested, plus any acreage to be placed in the wheat Acreage Reserve, will be more than 15 acres.

Mr. Luna pointed out that such farmers are eligible to vote even though their names are not on the County ASC registers. Farmers eligible to vote include those who are entitled to share in the proceeds of the wheat crop as owner-operator cash tenant, standing rent or fixed rent tenant, landlord of a short tenant, share tenant, or

Senator Preston Smith

Practically every discussion concerning honesty in state government usually ends with a remark something like this: "Well, if the people would pay more attention to what goes on in Austin there'd be fewer dishonest officials."

That statement, true as it is, does not reveal exactly how such attention can be created, but it certainly does bring up a question that leads the way to better state government.

How can we get the voters more interested in state government?

If a successful answer to that question is found, Texas will be well on its way toward more efficient, honest government.

House Speaker Carr hit the nail on the head the other day when he said state government was "on its way back to real confidence and integrity." But there's a lot to be done before state officials can regain ground lost earlier this session when new tales of bribery and scandal made front page news.

Most state officials are hard-working conscientious people who do their jobs well. They are dependable, honest employees and representatives who command the respect of even the most demanding employer. But they don't make front page news. The dishonest ones, with their explosive schemes are the ones most likely to create widespread comment.

As for how to get more people interested in state government, there are many people thinking and working toward possible solutions.

This column was begun to furnish more information to the people of this senatorial district. There are similar programs by lawmakers in other parts of the state. The Texas Press Association releases an information column weekly, and news services are furnishing more complete coverage of government activities than ever before.

All these things help explain state government. But if we do the job we need to, someone's going to have to come up with more ideas.

SHED BURNS

A small shed at the O. L. Lusk residence, 408 Avenue B, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock. The fire was too far advanced for the members of the Fire Department to save the building. Cause of the blaze was not definitely established, but it was reported that there had been children playing in the building shortly before the blaze was discovered. The shed was located far enough from the Lusk home that there was no danger of the residence being threatened by the blaze.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

By LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

Last week there was an insect control meeting at Lubbock with special emphasis on cotton insects. One of the speakers had some information on the amount of cotton that is lost to insects each year because the farmers fail to apply insecticides at the right time. I felt very good about the situation because I knew that the cotton farmers in Yoakum County were not responsible for much of that loss. They do a good job of controlling most of the harmful insects that work on cotton.

Perhaps there is some room for improvement on early season control. Most of our farmers wait until the bollworms appear before any insecticide is used. The use of insecticides to control trips and fleahoppers is a questionable thing. These little bugs do not do damage every year and it is hard to tell whether they are present in sufficient numbers to justify poisoning. The damage to the crop is usually realized done before the farmer realizes that he should have treated for them.

Whether the cotton crop is irrigated or dryland may be a factor in determining if early season control measures should be used. It appears that the irrigated and fertilized cotton will give the farmer a profit from early season control every year, there will be two years out of five that he will not get enough extra cotton to pay for his labor and insecticides. The other three years, early season control will be profitable. If I was an irrigation farmer, I would treat for trips and fleahoppers every year, even though it would be a waste of poison about 40% of the time. If I was a dryland cotton farmer, I would use early season control measures only when conditions were above average, or when the insect population was great enough to justify treatment.

Early season control usually consists of three applications of dust or spray at seven or eight day intervals. Treatment should begin when the cotton is in the four leaf stage, and continue so that the last application would be put on while the cotton was in the eight leaf stage. This would give about 30 days between the last early season treatment and the first bollworm treatment. We can well remember the 1954 season when fleahoppers knocked off the early squares and started the cotton to growing tall and crooked, and it would not even set forms for the remaining fleahoppers to sting. This year it might not be the fleahoppers but it could easily be the thrip that does the damage. Thrips will multiply very rapidly in the flowering weeds that bloom in our pastures. Weeds have been blooming for three weeks in most of the pastures, and by the time our cotton gets in the four leaf stage they will have had time to build up to damaging numbers.

The 1957 Guide For Controlling Cotton Insects is available at the County Agent's office. It is not changed from 1956 on early season control. One to one and a half pints of 6 pound toxaphene per acre is recommended as a spray. Sprays are still recommended over dusts for early season control.

Damage

about 12 miles east of Plains, a large amount of irrigation pipe was twisted and torn by the torando, some of the pipe being found three miles away. At the Bill Powell ranch, six miles southwest of here, irrigation lvered and stacked was badly damaged by hail stones, some of the stones being as large as baseballs. That area did not have a tornado, however.

Here in Plains, it was discovered two days after the torando that a row of brick was missing from the west end of one of the school buildings, near the roof. The torando had evidently raised the roof, displacing the brick and set the roof back down in the same location.

At the Cascade lease in the Owenby field southwest of here, a pumping unit was completely pulled from the ground. The unit was mounted on a cement block about 15 feet long, four feet thick and about three feet wide buried two-thirds in the ground. A stairway and walkway on a tank battery owned by Shell Oil in the Waples-Platter lease also southeast of here was hurled from the battery and dropped some 600 feet away.

Someone is waiting for your invitation... a business partner... a club member... a neighbor. What sort of church member are you? Do you care enough to invite another to share its blessings with you? Do you get genuine spiritual uplift in the public worship of God's house? You are your brother's keeper. Then, you should want to invite him to God's house. You should long for an opportunity to pray with him. Strength gained through worship in God's house on Sunday fortifies us for the entire week ahead. Then, "Come Let Us Go Into The House Of The Lord." It is His day and our duty.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that the young and old alike are showered with benedictions stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.
