L. G. Chambliss Dies In Oil Field Accident

L. G. Chambliss, 29, of Brownfield, relief pumper for Honolulu Oil Company, was fatally burned in an explosion and fire on Thursday morning on the Alexander B-4 lease seven miles north of Tokio.

Reports of the accident which happened shortly after 8 o'clock were still sketchy at press deadline, but it was understood the explosion took place in the Kobe house on the lease. According to an unofficial account, Chambliss was passing by when he noticed oil running on the ground, and stopped to check and correct whatever was wrong. It is believed the explosion resulted when an accumulation of gas was somehow ignited. Officials of Honolulu Oil Company were to make a thorough investigation on the site of the tragic accident Thursday afternoon.

Chambliss was alone at the time of the explosion, which was seen by other workers a half mile away. He was rushed to the hospital in Brownfield, where he passed away at 9:45 o'clock.

Chambliss was the nephew of Sheriff Robert Chambliss and the brother of Mrs. Carl Johnson of Denver City. He is survived in addition by his wife and two children, a girl 7, and a boy, 4 years of age, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Chambliss, two brothers and a sister, at home, and his grandmother, Mrs. L. D. Chambliss, all of Brownfield.

Local Resident Leaves on Trip to East and Canada

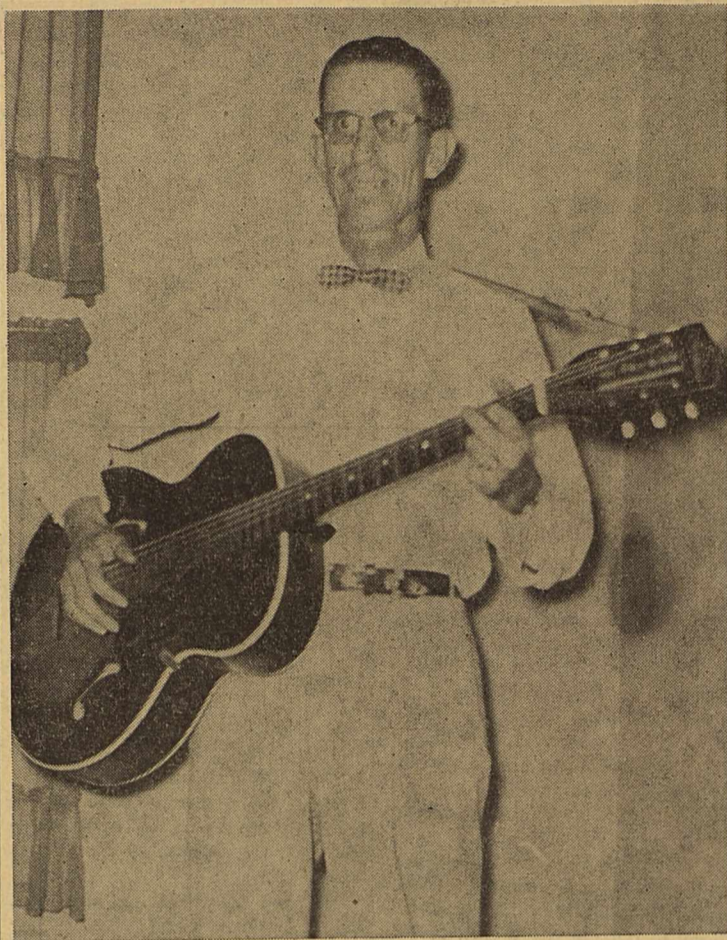

Mrs. John Robertson is one of 200 Texans who left Wednesday, from Dallas Union Station on a two-week WFAA radio farm and ranch study tour of the north-eastern United States and Canada.

WFAA Farm Director Murray Cox is spearheading the group of touring Texans across more than 7,000 miles of country, sight-seeing and studying agricultural developments.

Visiting points along the way of scenic interest or agricultural value, the Texans will make stops at Nashville, Tenn., the historical Civil War battle-grounds of Charlottesville and Fredericksburg; at Washington, D.C., New York City and Boston, with a side trip to New Hampshire for an excursion to Lake Winnepesaukee. In Canada, they will spend several days cruising the St. Lawrence and Saguenay rivers; then on their homeward journey, take in Niagara Falls and scenic places in Illinois. The group is expected to return about June 21.

Sixty-two years has proved no handicap for Mrs. Robertson, for she is nearly as spry as ever. A resident of Plains since 1930, she is a member of Tsa Mo Ga Club, Fine Arts Club, Eastern Star, and American Legion Auxiliary. However, her greatest amount of time nowadays is devoted to her three grandchildren.

She also represents a floral company, is Plains correspondent for the Denver City Press, and serves the local Lions Club at their noon luncheons.

Evangelist L. C. Reece

Visitor Recalls Life In 'Them Thar Hills'

It is "a fur piece" back "to them thar hills" and Evangelist L. C. Reece here in Plains for ten days of special preaching services at the Christian Church knows both "the hills" and the Llano Escatado of West Texas. He "loves 'em both" because he was born and reared "in them thar hills" and he has conducted evangelistic meetings up and down the Plains as well as from coast to coast during seven and one-half years' work as national evangelist among Christian Churches.

Perhaps nothing will ever eclipse the experience of "livin' in them thar hills" back in Adair County, Kentucky, 70 miles from Cumberland Gap through which Daniel Boone a generation before walked into Kentucky, and just 45 miles from the neighboring home of Sgt. York, one of the heroes of World War I.

In a log cabin tucked away in "them thar hills" Cay Reece was born nearly 60 years ago and grew up in the rough and rugged life of those who lived much alone, just "wiens" and "yuens", because he was born into it and lived it just "as she war." He knows the meager "livin'" and the limited "schoolin'" of those days when he went "fur" to school for "a little book larnin'" and to church to worship.

As a boy Cay learned "the guns." He learned 'em so well that under the teaching of Bruce Sloan, state champion shot of Kentucky, he learned to make white powder of Bayer and St. Joseph aspirin tablets while they were still "up thar in the air." One day Edd Toppwine and his wife, crack shots from San Antonio's famed Buck Horn Saloon came through "them thar parts" and found Cay when he gave them a demonstration of his shootin'. They taught him to become a trick rifle and pistol shot from both the shoulder and the hip. Cay became so proficient with "the guns" that he was asked to turn professional and accepted an offer from one of the nation's best known ammunition manufacturers.

When Cay was not out "with the guns" he was stringing a guitar and singing with a hill-billy band that helped train the listening ear of the world to the programs of the Grand Old Oprie and other Saturday night programs over the waves coming to us from the radio stations of America.

Cay also lingered out on the outside of the milling crowds and listened and learned the droning cry of the tobacco auctioneer so well that later he became a classified tobacco auctioneer and was offered as much as $100 a day. Then came another call, clearer and louder than any tobacco auctioneer could cry. The call to the ministry. Cay Reece answered and for many years has been known far and wide as L. C.

City Calls $35,000 Bond Election for June 22nd

The City Council met in special session Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the city hall for the purpose of calling an election to determine whether the citizens will authorize the issuance of bonds in the amount of $35,000.00 to be used in the revamping the city electrical distribution system. The election has been set for June 22 at the city hall. Judges appointed are, T. E. Coke, presiding judge, D. N. Taylor, judge, Mrs. Kenneth Hale, clerk, and Dr. May Gainer, clerk.

Issuance of the bonds would allow funds for paying of engineers fees, and for work to be done in making necessary changes in lines before the system can be put into operation.

The election was called following presentation of a petition at the city hall Monday signed by more than 10 per cent of the same amount and for the qualified voters in the city, halting the issuance of warrants in same purpose. The petition was signed by 113 persons, several of whom are not residents of the city, and several who are not qualified voters by reason of not having paid a poll tax.

Many of those who signed the petition calling for a bond election instead of a warrant issue have stated to members of the city council that they did so in order that the people might gain a better understanding of the need of the additional funds for completion of the system, and the manner in which these funds will be repaid from the utility revenues.

Although the bonds will be tax bonds, no new taxes will be levied, and the bonds will be paid from revenues of the utility systems.

Importance of bringing the issue to a quick vote for the approval of the bond issue was stressed in the meeting Monday. Payments on the electric system revenue bonds will begin in September of this year. Since the electric, gas and sewer are a combined issue, each dependent upon the other for payment, it will leave only the gas system in operation as the only source of revenue for payment of the bonds, unless the additional funds are made available for completion of the electrical system.

Although the gas system is paying a nice profit to the city, it will not pay for an electrical plant that is setting idle.

The generating plant is completed, and the city council is planning an open house with an operator on hand to run the engines, within the next two weeks. Those interested in seeing the plant at any time are invited to call at the city hall and have the plant opened for inspection.

Wheat Support Price Announced

The basic price support for 1957 wheat grown in Yoakum County is $2.01 per bushel for wheat grading U. S. No. 1 according to W. M. Overton, ASC County Office Manager.

He points out that the county rate will be further adjusted up or down for grade and quality when support prices for the individual producers crop is calculated. A discount of 20 cents per bushel for undesirable varieties of wheat is being continued in the 1957 program. A list of the undesirable varieties may be obtained at the ASC office.

Loans and purchase agreements may be obtained at the local ASC office from time of harvest through January 31, 1958 on both farm and warehouse stored wheat. Loans mature on demand but not later than March 31, 1958 and may be redeemed by producers any time prior to maturity by paying principal plus 3 1/2% interest from date of disbursement to date paid.

Farmers wanting other information about the 1957 CCC Wheat loan are urged to contact the local ASC office.

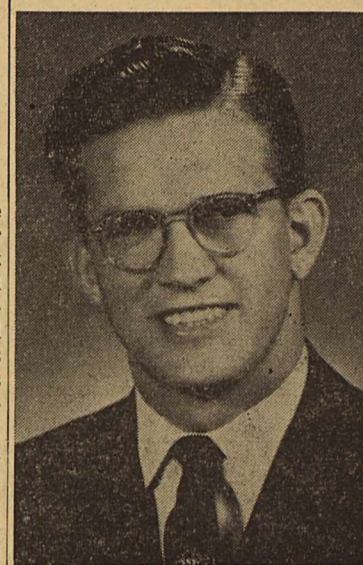

Bible School at Methodist Church To Close Friday

Vacation Church School is one of the highlights of the year for the children in the Methodist Church. They come happily and joyfully. If one child says something about school another will reply "This is not school, this is Bible School." For five days the campus is buzzing with activity.

Vacation Church School in the Methodist Church is being supervised by Mrs. Glenn Cleveland. It began June 3rd and continues through Friday, June 7th. The theme stressed in each class was friendship and neighborliness. Each session was opened with a devotional session in which some of the children led. A special class was held for the intermediates under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Cleveland.

The school terminates Sunday night with a short program rendered by the children. Parents and friends will be invited to view the work done by the children in the various classes. Attendance for the school ran about forty-five.

Workers in the school included: primary, Mrs. Charles Williams and Mrs. Kenneth Hale; kindergarten, Mrs. Guy Harrod and Mrs. Meixner; juniors, Mrs. Leo White; intermediates, Mrs. Glenn Cleveland. Helpers included: Marsha White, Oneta Jo Meixner, Susie Bookout, Betty Stewart, Sheila Smith, and Frances Payne.

Buford Duff

Accepts Crosbyton C of C Managership

Buford Duff, who received his BBA degree from Texas Tech will assume new duties Monday, June 10, as manager of the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce.

Duff is the son of Mrs. I. J. Duff, and a brother of Mrs. H. W. Taunton and Rod Duff. He graduated from Wilson High School in 1951 and has been a resident of Plains since July of that year. At Tech, he was a member of Delta Sigma Pi and served as treasurer of the Circle K Club.

The Plains resident majored in management in the business administration school.

Cotton Crop Outlook Still Good in County

The crop situation in Yoakum County is very similar to the situation existing in the entire South Plains area, according to Leo White, county agent.

Early planted crops were damaged by hail, heavy rains, and wind. Some of the cotton farmers have planted as many as four times and still do not have a stand on all of their allotted acres. Ironically enough, White said, there are cases among these four-time planters who have saved some of their first planting and it is still in fair condition.

Heavy hail which hit the area west of Plains Friday night caused extensive damage. Among those reporting their cotton to be completely hailed out were Russell Fulkenberry, Hayden Box, and Olan Edwards. Many other farmers also had their crops heavily damaged.

The cotton crops as a whole still have a good chance for another bumper yield in Yoakum County, White reported, even though the bulk of the crop will be late. The irrigation farmers are not likely to make the high yields that they received last year but the dry land cotton should get off to a good start and it is highly possible for the local gins to have another good season.

Considering that the bulk of the cotton crop is going to be late, the control of early season insects is even more important.

Gets Certificate

Joe A. Sneed of Plains was among those receiving military training certificates at ceremonies held Monday, June 3, on the Texas Tech campus.

17 Seniors Take Annual Trip

A year's preparation for the senior trip paid off for seventeen seniors and their three sponsors during the week from Thursday, May 23, to the following Thursday, May 30.

The group met at the Morris Lowe home early Thursday morning for a breakfast before boarding the chartered bus for a trip through a large portion of Texas.

Leaving Plains at 7:00 a.m., the seniors traveled to Austin. They arrived in Austin in time for supper at the Metamoras, a large Mexican restaurant in the state's capitol. Following the meal, the group went roller skating and played miniature golf. Upon returning to the Terrace Motel, many in the group took advantage of the heated swimming pool before the end of the first day of the trip.

Early Friday morning, the group toured the Capitol. Back on the bus, they settled down for the trip to Houston, the largest city in the South, where the group stayed in the Shamrock Hotel. That night the seniors enjoyed visiting the city's large amusement park. Before returning to the hotel, the members of the group went to either one of the two restaurants located across from the Shamrock. Some selected the Chinese restaurant, where the chopsticks slowed the tempo of eating considerably; others tried the colorful little Italian restaurant where they dined by candlelight.

Saturday morning, the third day of the trip, the group visited the San Jacinto Battleground, where Texas won her independence, the San Jacinto Monument, and the Battleship Texas. The group left Houston in time to arrive in Galveston for dinner.

Swimming in the Gulf was the main activity of the afternoon. Bowling and sightseeing completed the activities of the day.

Plans had been made for a day of deep-sea fishing. However, on the morning of the proposed trip, the weather was too bad for the long journey out; so the group went jettie fishing on the Dixie Queen Special, a boat equipped with a snake bar, a juke box, and a sun deck. A few seasick pills also insured a pleasurable trip. There were a few brave ones who refused the pills—that "bravery" and the constant sway of the boat encouraged some to spend the time in the cabin on a couch. Others reeled in trout at a fairly rapid speed. One member of the group caught a small shark. The half-day fishing trip ended in time to arrive in Galveston for dinner. See SENIORS on Page 6

SPECIAL SERVICES CONTINUE BY EVANGELIST AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The ten day series of special preaching services at the Christian Church under the leadership of Evangelist L. C. Reece began last Tuesday evening and will continue until Friday of next week.

The services begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock each evening with Rufus Aylesworth, Muleshoe gifted pianist, at the piano playing sacred music beginning at 7:45. All music lovers will enjoy this fifteen minutes of instrumental music.

His numbers on the opening night were "Sun of My Soul", "Onward Christian Soldiers", "The Church's One Foundation", "Nearer My God to Thee", "Jesus The Very Thought of Thee", and "Abide With Me", all with running and rippling variations superbly done. Before Evangelist Reece preached his opening sermon Mr. Aylesworth sang "I would Like To Tell You What I Think Of Jesus".

Evangelist L. C. Reece has the unusual ability of leading a rousing song service each evening before preaching just as enthusiastically as he leads the singing. He claims to be a "Tune Heighster" rather than a singer, but if Tuesday night's performance is a true indicator the song service is destined to be everything but a lullaby.

His opening sermon was a rapid fire, frank, and above board discussion of "When Is A Church A Church". He drove home to the congregation as a whole and individuals personally five direct hits. The Church is a church when it has a mission, when it becomes a serving institution, when it has a fellowship of great Brotherhood, when it has a missionary zeal, and when Christ is recognized as the Head.

Mrs. Reece briefly but very effectively outlined her attendance program as a basis for personal visitation and increasing the attendance each night. Special emphasis will be placed on various groups nightly. Wednesday evening was "pew night". Each member of the congregation was assigned a pew with a number. They were expected to fill that particular pew on that particular night. Thursday evening is to be "Women's Night", and Friday night "Men's Night" when the women are expected to bring women and the men bringing men.

Sunday is expected to be an outstanding day with Youth. Mr. Aylesworth has been very successful with young people and children and is working with Evangelist Reece in making the youth service center around a song choir after Sunday's emphasis on youth in the church school, the morning and evening services. This Youth Choir is not being organized alone, but all youth who are interested in singing and working with youth groups are urged to attend and become a member of this Youth Choir.

James Todd, local minister, made this statement: "We have planned to make this series of preaching services quite worthwhile not only for our own well-being but also for the community at large, and we believe that we have done well in selecting Mr. and Mrs. Reece and Mr. Aylesworth to lead us in this achievement. We urgently invite everyone who can possibly attend to plan to attend each night until the closing service on Friday, June 14th."

NOTICE

All interested parties are invited to meet with members of the Tsa Mo Go Club on Monday night, July 1, to organize a Cemetery Association for the Plains Cemetery.

Get in the fine-car swim at the low Ford price!

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three, yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not? Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!

Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most expensive automobiles go this far to bring you super-smooth performance.

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!

Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford. Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

A report of the Seventh Annual Bull Progeny Test was published in the May issue of Southwestern Crop and Stock magazine. The tests are carried on at Texas Tech's PanTex Farm near Amarillo.

The magazine article shows four charts which rank the animals according to performance of individuals and pens. All bulls were fed the same basic ration for a 112 day feeding period. There was 140 bulls in the test this year and some of them did exceptionally well. The highest gaining bull put on 396 pounds during the 112 day feeding period for an average daily gain of 3.54 pounds.

One of the charts in the magazine shows the amount of feed required to put on 100 pounds of gain. The most efficient gainers was a pen of three bulls that required only 783 pounds of feed for each 100 pounds of gain. The least efficient was a pen of four bulls that ate 1,333 pounds of feed in order to put on 100 pounds of gain. The feed cost $1.73 per hundred pounds so the most efficient gaining pen put on weight for a feed cost of $13.55 per hundred pounds in comparison to a cost of $19.06 per hundred pounds of gain for the least efficient pen.

Another chart showing the results of the tests gives the weight of the animal per day of age. At the end of the test, the top ranking weight for bull weighed 980 pounds and he weighed 2.79 pounds for each day of his life. This same bull was in a pen that required 1,012 pounds of feed in order to put on 100 pounds of gain so he was not so good in that respect.

The top selling bull of the sale was the one that ranked first in total gain, sixteenth in weight for age and he was in the pen that ranked twelfth among the 38 pens in feed efficiency. The bull sold for $1,500, to Max Blau of Follett and PanTex Farm.

I think that PanTex Farm is doing some good work for the beef cattle producers in their progeny tests. They are showing the value of selection for herd improvement and they are bringing out the fact that there are other things to select for besides body conformation, color and blood lines. It is my opinion that weight for age is the most important factor for the beef cattle producer to use in his selection of breeding stock. Next in importance, in my way of thinking, is the ability of the animal to efficiently convert feed into meat. The third item in importance would be body conformation. When a young herd sire shows to be excellent in all three of these characteristics, he should be a very valuable bull.

I have seen one bull calf that weighed 400 pounds on the day that he was four months old. With that kind of start in life, it would be possible for him to weigh 1,000 pounds by the time he is ten months old. That is what we are shooting at. It may be several years before a good type animal with that kind of gaining ability is ever produced but I believe that it will finally happen. It may as well happen in Yoakum County as anywhere else and it can if our producers will continue to select for herd improvement by the use of outstanding sires.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, TEX.—Fifth-fifth Legislators will have a shorter-than-usual "vacation." Gov. Price Daniel says he will call them back, probably about October, for a special session.

Final score showed 47 out of 51, or better than 90 per cent, of the governor's recommended bills passed in the regular session. But the missing 10 per cent are vital, says Daniel. He still wants:

1. His law enforcement commission, a sort of statewide grand jury to investigate official misconduct.

2. A lobbyist registration act, registration of persons who represent others before state agencies, and, possibly, other "better government" bills previously advocated.
3. A state plan for buying water storage space in federal reservoirs. A constitutional amendment to do this died in the past session. Since amendments cannot be considered in a special session, the governor said he is working on a statutory plan—possibly the creation of a statewide water district with authority to issue bonds and levy taxes.

4. Action on "other matters that may arise" after the Travis County grand jury reports. Jury is looking into any irregularities that might have caused the ICT Insurance Co. collapse and alleged payoffs to legislators by the Texas Naturopathic Association.

So, instead of the usual post-session lull, The Capitol faces a summer of suspense followed by a frenzied fall.

NEW JURY AT WORK—Texas has generated more troubles than one grand jury could see to in two months. Hence, a brand new Travis County jury begins this week where the old one left off after digging away all during April and May.

Its study of ICT's past and naturopathic legislation will probably last all summer.

A Dallas grand jury already has indicted BenJack Cage, one-time ICT manager, on charges of theft and embezzlement. Authorities are trying to get him returned from South America so he can be tried.

WHO, WHAT, WHERE AND WHEN?—Texas' off-again, on-again Insurance Commission is still a prime source of speculation.

Past legislature passed laws abolishing the old board and enabling the governor to appoint new members. It also directed the commission to move within three years from its leased office quarters into a building to be erected with insurance tax revenue. And it passed dozens of new restrictive insurance laws for the new commission to administer.

Old board members Mark Wentz and John Osorio promptly resigned. But Gov. Daniel refused to accept their resignations. He said they'd have to stay on until their successors were named.

Then Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled the insurance tax revenue couldn't be used for a new building. It goes into the general revenue fund and is already earmarked for other things, he pointed out.

And, until the new commission gets going, insurance men over the state are uncertain as to how to comply in detail with some of the new laws.

ETHICS QUANDARY—Just who should do what to comply with the new code of ethics is still being discussed in the Capitol.

Some 163 legislators and state officials have given the secretary of state statements about their connections with businesses under state regulations. Assets ranged from Cuban oil companies to small town dry goods stores.

Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley said failure to file such a statement could be grounds for removal from office, but that he didn't have authority to enforce it.

Gov. Daniel said he saw no need for his filing, since the constitution prohibits a governor's serving as officer or director of a corporation under state regulation. But, he suggested the secretary of state might ask for an attorney general's ruling to clear up other points about the law.

BONDS GO BEGGING—First sale of the second $100,000,000 issue of Texas veterans land program bonds attracted no takers.

In today's "tight money" market the constitutionally-prescribed 3 per cent interest doesn't lure buyers, said Land Commissioner Earl Rudder.

He said the bond would not be offered again until conditions improve.

CROPS LAG—After years of longing for water, most Texas farmers now are trying to "re-cover" from the rains.

State Agriculture Commr. John White estimates flood damage to crops at $50,000,000 or more. Cotton planting deadlines had to be extended by the state office because farmers were delayed in ploughing their wet fields. Even so, some crop loss was foreseen from inability to plant.

In some areas of North Texas small grains were reported hurt by too much water. But dryland cotton farmers in South Texas said they could use a little more moisture.

Texas already has received more rain in the first five months of 1957 than in the entire year of 1956. Sample totals for '57: Dallas, 36 inches; Austin, 24 inches; San Antonio, 19 inches; Greenville, 44 inches.

NEW BUILDINGS SLATED—From four to six new buildings are to go up soon, moving toward the eventual creation of a "state government center" clustered around the Capitol. In the offing are:

1. A State Courts Building, now under construction, to cost about $3,750,000.
2. A State Office Building, for which contracts have been let and site-clearing begun, to cost about $4,000,000.

3. A Central Power Building to furnish heat and air conditioning for the Capitol and other buildings. Authorized by Legislature with directive that it be ready by October, 1958.

4. A State Archives and Library Building for which Legislature appropriated $2,500,000.

5. A Texas Employment Commission Building and an Insurance Commission Building. Lawmakers told each to move from rented quarters, but money for new buildings is not immediately available.

SHORT SNORTS—June will see a rise in the number of job holders in Texas, despite layoffs from school endings, predicts the Texas Employment Commission. More jobs in industry will make up the difference. . . . Despite overcrowding, morale of Texas prison inmates is good—no longer "hopeless and forlorn"—reported Pardons and Paroles Board members after a week-long tour. More space is due as a result of a $3,500,000 appropriation last session.

HONOR THY FAMILY

...for how much you owe them! Certainly, you can never pay the debt incurred in the years of childhood. Money cannot pay for the night vigil by your bedside in the time of illness... nor for the wise instruction given you. You inherit the blood which flows through your body. You are forever a part of the body and mind of those who gave you birth. You owe a debt to life. Please pay some of it to your parents. Go to Sunday School and church with them, for life is of a piece and we belong to each other. You dare not dishonor your father, or mother, or family... or you dishonor yourself. If you neglect them the next generation will pass you by.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Seniors

for another swim in the Gulf before dinner at Gaido's, where the finest seafood is served. That evening a visit to Pleasure Pier and many rides on the roller coaster preceded bowling before the end of the day.

Monday morning, the fifth day, meant leaving Galveston for San Antonio where the group visited the Alamo. The amusement park in San Antonio profited immensely from the visit of the group from Plains. There is one Madam Shara, a garrulous fortune teller, who added much to her coffer after reading palms and gazing into her crystal ball.

The destination of the group on Tuesday was the Lazy H Ranch, located ten miles from Kerrville. There the seniors enjoyed swimming, horseback riding, ping-pong, shuffle board, movies, and a barbecue. The opportunity for walking was also unescapable. The boys had a cabin located on a steep hill that discouraged too many trips from the cabin to the main part of the ranch.

After breakfast Thursday, the group started the last part of the trip from Kerrville to Plains via San Angelo, where dinner was eaten at Little Mexico, and Big Springs, where the last stop was made for milk shakes. Plains was alerted by a continual blare of the air horn and by shouts of greeting as the seniors completed the Senior Trip of 1957.

The group was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Morris Lowe and Miss Colleen Leithausen. Seniors making the trip were Janelle Parks, Gwynette Pharr, Willie Mae Addison, Alice Stewart, Frances Payne, Gerald Anderson, Lowell Kinder, Bill Taylor, Jere Sink, Tony Baker, James Overton, Harold Smith, Gerald Kennedy, Douglas Payne, Joe Cobb, Jack Cobb, and Dallas Powell.

The members of the Class of 1957 express their thanks to the business firms and the individual in Plains who supported the class in the many fund raising projects throughout the year.

Visitor

A few years ago one night after preaching in a meeting in a West Texas small city in the home of his son-in-law chatting with him a long distance call came from Spartenburg, Tenn. One of the famed tobacco auctioneers had just died suddenly, and in the midst of the fall auction season. They needed Cay Reese — "just for three months." Would he come? NO. The call of the ministry was louder than the cry of the auctioneer. He hung up the phone and walked away from $6,000 to make $1500 for that three months as an evangelist because he is dependent entirely on the free-will offerings of the congregations he serves as evangelist.

Later his son-in-law, R. R. Holton, broke the silence. "That settles it," he said. "I heard. If you can turn down $6,000 for three months work to preach the gospel I can leave my business to do it. I have been fighting the call to the ministry long enough. This is it." Today R. R. Holton is working on his B. D. degree in Southwestern Baptist Seminary, Ft. Worth, and lecturing for Texas Alcoholic and Narcotic Education.

A brother, two sons, and the son-in-law are preaching today. His brother, Ashley Paul Reece, is minister of the Flora Heights Christian Church, Louisville, Ky., where Evangelist Reece just completed his eighth meeting in the 23 years his brother has been minister of that congregation.

A son, Charles M. Reece is minister of the Austin Park Christian Church, El Paso, Tex., and the youngest son, Frank L. Reece, is minister of the Christian Church, Aransas Pass, Tex. L. C. Reece, Jr., is a deacon in the Southside Christian Church, San Antonio, sings in the choir, and is one of the leading members of that congregation. This was the last pastorate of Evangelist Reece before he became one of the national evangelists of the Christian Church seven and one-half years ago.

The call of "them thar hills" comes again and again when they become "mostly what is your trouble" L. C. Reece becomes Cay Reese and goes back to "preach to 'em."

Dan Stotts, who has been attending school at Texas Western in El Paso, spent the week-end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stotts. He returned to El Paso Sunday to enroll for the summer semester.

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stotts Monday night was Mrs. Phoebe Mizell of Roswell, N.M.
