Interest and support in the contest to determine "Miss Golden Jubilee of Yoakum County" continues this week at a high level.

Two Youths Killed in Car Crash Near Tokio

DEATH VEHICLE — Two youths riding in this car were killed and two others injured when it smashed into a truck-trailer unit on the Brownfield-Plains highway west of Tokio Wednesday night. One of the dead youths was Gerald Fitzgerald, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzgerald of Plains. REVIEW Photo

Two teen-age youths were killed and two others injured in a tragic car-truck accident about 8 o'clock Wednesday night on the Brownfield-Plains highway, two and a half miles west of Tokio.

Killed instantly were Gerald R. Fitzgerald, 15, of Hawley, who had been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fitzgerald of Plains for the past several weeks, and Art Hersberger, 14, of Andrews.

Suffering injuries but not serious, were Jerry Brantly, 20, of Tokio, and Bob Lee of Andrews, 13, all four of whom were riding in the same car.

The vehicle, which was traveling west, smashed solidly into the left front wheels and bumper of a truck halted at an angle almost off the edge of the highway. The boys' car had met another vehicle moments before.

The truck driver, sitting in the cab at the time of the crash, was not hurt. He was identified as Milam B. Gray, 26, Odessa, and told the Highway Patrol he was preparing to turn and go back east, having passed by the Seagraves road where he had meant to turn.

The two injured youths were taken to a hospital in Brownfield for treatment. Bodies of the other two were transported to the Brownfield Funeral Home.

Funeral services for young Fitzgerald will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist Church here. Rev. C. J. Coffman will officiate, assisted by B. C. Stapleton, minister. See YOUTHS KILLED, Page 8

City Awards Electrical Contract

Members of the City Council, meeting in a special session, awarded the contract for re-vamping and completion of the city electric system.

The contract, awarded to B. C. Jones Electric Company of Brownfield, was in the amount of $47,689.33 with the city to furnish materials at a total cost of $14,944.78. The firm was given 45 calendar days to complete the work.

Members of the city council announced that if personnel could be secured to operate the plant by that time, residents on the north side of Plains would be ready to tie into the city electric plant in approximately three weeks.

The city's generating plant was completed in May and has been tested and ready to put on the lines. The plant consists of three 172 KW Ingersoll-Rand engines.

As the construction crew completes the primary and secondary lines, Mr. J. W. Willingham, city distribution maintenance operator, will connect service drops to those houses desiring to be furnished electricity by the city.

As soon as the plant is in operation and ready to carry the load, the meter loop from the present power source will be disconnected and the house will be tied onto the city electric plant. This phase will take only a few minutes, it was explained.

The project was originally begun back in September of 1956, when plans were initiated by the city to own its own electric plant. The project is now almost near to completion, after a number of extensive delays.

Several applications have been made to the council for the positions of plant superintendent and operators. However, no decision has been reached as yet, it was announced.

Hooks Rattler With Rod and Reel

We've heard of tall Texas tales, but this one is such a "big un" that we're convinced it must be true!

J. W. O. Aldredge, Johnny Grace and Martin Freeman went down this past weekend to the Patterson Ranch, 15 miles northeast of Gail, to enjoy some fishing. Aldredge wasn't having too much luck, so decided to take a hike to look for some arrow heads, taking his rod and reel with him. In his walk, he came across a rocky ledge, and in a crevice noticed a large diamond-back rattler.

Keeping some 12 feet away, Aldredge made a cast and the rattler struck on the Lazy Ike lure. He pulled him out alongside of the hill, but hesitated just long enough to allow the rattler to coil. Aldredge said, "Then I couldn't budge it, and finally broke the line."

Aldredge "high-tailed" it back to the ranch, returning with the men wellarmed with a shotgun. The rattler was still there, and was killed with a well-placed shot by Johnny Grace.

You don't believe it? Aldredge has the head of the snake, complete with lure, as proof!

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The value of soil conditioning and organic matter and the benefits of crop rotations and fertilizers are all shown by feed growing on Rusty McGinty's farm west of Plains. Rusty, who is Chairman of the Yoakum Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, has been working for several years in an effort to bring some fertility back to some land which was almost worn out.

The part of the field which has had no special treatment still produces a small crop and as shown in the pictures, grows the crop off very slowly.

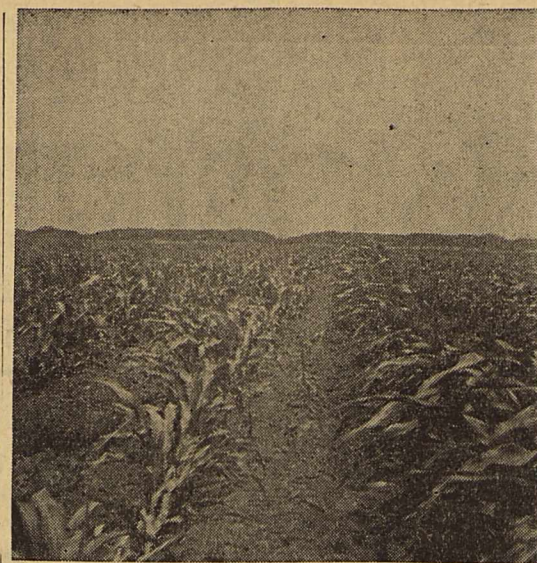

Four different treatments are shown and the effect on the following crop is very clearly shown.

1. No treatment.
2. No previous treatment but 200 lbs. 16-20-0 this spring.
3. 9 tons of cotton burs plus several tons of barnyard manure.
4. Alfalfa for several years.

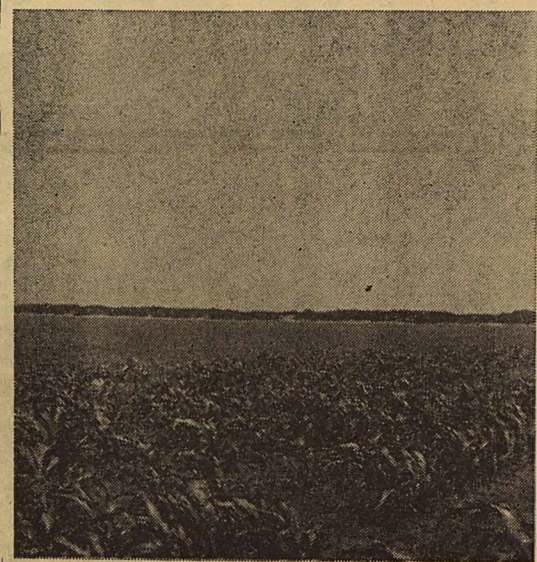

Each of these plots was seeded the same day and in some cases the rows cross the plots. None has had any irrigation.

Feed growing on the land with no treatment is about 6 inches high; Feed growing on land with fertilizer added is about twice that high; feed growing on land with burs and manure added is about 2 feet tall; feed growing on land following alfalfa is 3 to 4 feet tall.

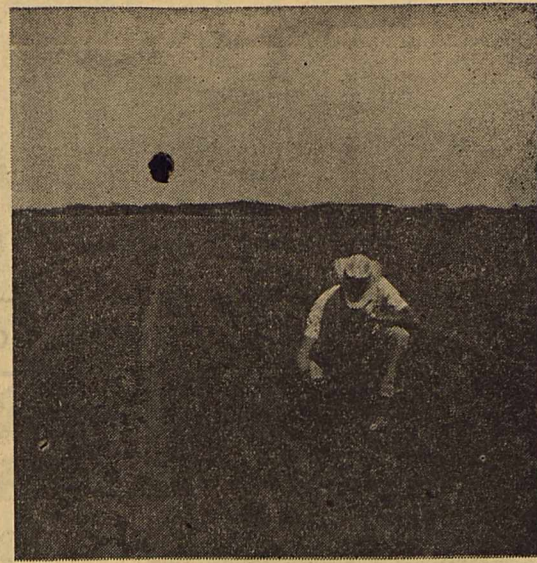

The size of the plant is not the only indication that some treatment has been done since the feed which has had previous treatment of organic matter or cover crops is a much deeper green while feed without prior treatment is a yellowish green.

SHOWS DIFFERENCE in size of feed on fertilized plot on the left as compared to plot with burs and manure on the right.

RUSTY MCGINTY indicating the height of feed following alfalfa, while Lipscomb indicates height of feed in the same row which received fertilizer only.

"Section 49-c. There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Texas Water Development Board to exercise such powers as may be prescribed by law. "Any or all financial assistance as provided herein shall be repaid with interest upon such terms, conditions and manner of repayment as may be provided by law.

"While any of the bonds authorized by this provision or while any of the bonds that may be authorized by the Legislature under this provision, or any interest on any of such bonds, is outstanding and unpaid, there is hereby appropriated out of the first moneys coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year, not otherwise appropriated by this Constitution, an amount which is sufficient to pay the principal and interest on such bonds that mature or become due during such fiscal year, less the amount in the sinking fund at the close of the prior fiscal year.

velopment Fund, and may be used for administrative expenses of the Board and for the same purposes and upon the same terms and conditions prescribed for the sale of such State bonds. No grant of financial assistance shall be made under the provisions of this Section after December 31, 1952, and all moneys thereafter received as repayment of principal and interest on such bonds or as interest thereon shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund for the State bonds; except that such amount as may be required to meet the administrative expenses of the Board may be annually set aside; and provided, that after all State bonds have been fully paid with interest, or after there are on deposit in the interest and sinking fund sufficient moneys to pay all future maturities of principal and interest, additional moneys so received shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund.

"All bonds issued hereunder shall require the approval of the Attorney General, registration by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and delivery to the purchaser, which shall be incontestable and shall constitute general obligations of the State of Texas under the Constitution of this State.

"Should the Legislature enact enabling laws in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment, such acts shall not be void by reason of their anticipatory nature."

Sec. 2. COUNTY WOMEN ATTEND CONVENTION OF HOME DEMONSTRATION ASS'N

Returning Saturday from the annual state meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, held at Houston July 31-August 2 were four county women, members of county home demonstration clubs.

Attending the sessions as voting delegates from Yoakum County were Mrs. B. J. Smith of Denver City, Mrs. Howard Mauk

Plains. Also attending the meeting was Mrs. Jess Murphy of Plains. A total of 69 women from District 2 registered for the meeting.

Six major projects were outlined as a plan of work for the 1957-58 year, it was reported. These included Citizenship, civil defense, education, 4-H, health, safety, and recreation.

Featured speaker for the first session of the convention was Rev. Grady Hallonquist of the Riverside Methodist church who spoke on the convention theme, "Christian Homes, Hope of the Nation." Rev. Hallonquist stated that parenthood is the greatest privilege which can be given, but that the privilege also brings the greatest responsibility. "The most priceless heritage we can leave our children is that of a Christian home," he stated. "Take care of the children and the nation will take care of itself."

Pending legislation was discussed for the delegates by Representative Paul Brashear of the 76th-District, and John E. Dickenson of the Social Security Administration explained how Social Security affects farm and ranch families.

A representative of the Texas Department of Public Safety explained the driver re-education program, pointing out that where such courses have been given, the accident rate has been cut in half. The convention also heard from Willie Ulick of the Extension Staff that farming is the third most hazardous occupation in the United States, with one person being injured every 19 seconds.

A very interesting workshop on civil defense was conducted during the convention. It was brought out that in preparing for a county civil defense workshop, to first study the needs, then study ways of supplying those needs, and share ideas with others.

Principal aims in the plan of work for the new year include Citizenship: Each club to observe National Citizenship Day Sept. 17; have at least one opening exercise on citizenship during the year; study the qualifications and work of an elected county official; study how property laws affect women and particularly married women; study water resources of Texas in relation to annual use and future supply, and study egg grading laws of the states.

Civil Defense: Family preparedness to meet disaster; each county sponsor civil defense work shops, continue to sponsor first aid and home nursing courses, sponsor community blood typing and donations; participate in mass care demonstrations.

Recreation: Each club woman cultivate the art of personal recreation; each family plan definite recreation to meet family needs; each club assemble kit of reference material and equipment; each club conduct at least two community-wide recreational events each year.

What makes it worse, you are trying to work out-of-it alone. You can't do it! Give God a chance! You are strong of body but what about that starved, selfish, shriveled soul of yours?

I tell you son, God won't let you get away with it. Right now He is inquiring about your church attendance, your Sunday School record, how many churches you have helped build and what you did with the tenth that belonged to Him?

Son, with all the love of a good father, and with the promised help of God... I beg you to make a change. Let your life count for Him because your business successes won't help much in the last hours.

'58 Wheat Acreage Reserve Signup To Start Aug. 26

The 1958 wheat acreage reserve signup is scheduled to begin August 26, and will close October 4, according to W. M. Overton, ASC office manager.

All farm operators and landlords have been mailed a notice of soil bank compensation rates for their farm or farms showing maximum payment rates per acre. Farmers that are interested in placing wheat acreage in the reserve should contact the local ASC office and make requests so that the required soil bank base may be established for the farm.

The 1957 cotton acreage has been measured on Yoakum County farms, the acres for harvest have been tabulated for the entire county, and it is expected to be approximately 32,000 acres. Farmers with excess cotton who intend to destroy the excess to come within their acreage allotment should keep in mind the 20 day time limit after date on official notice mailed by county committee for destroying excess cotton.

The county ASC committee has funds for issuing approvals on approved ACP practices such as deep plowing sandy cropland, water wells on range land, winter legumes and small grain cover crops (except wheat). Farmers who are interested should contact the ASC office and make required request before starting any practice.

All farmers and ranchers should keep in mind the 1958 committee election date (September 9, 1957). This is a very important election and all eligible voters should and are expected to cast ballots for the men of their choice.

VISITING WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

When Continental Airlines Flight 7 landed at 4:14 Thursday at Lubbock's municipal airport, it signaled the arrival home from Italy of the Joe Chisholm family. And on hand to greet the four travelers were some 60 members of the Crescent Hill Church of Christ. Chisholm and his family had left in May of last year to supervise the Frascati Orphan Home, situated about 12 miles south of Rome. The home is a Crescent Hill project, but, received support from numerous other Churches of Christ. Among the Brownfield delegation at the airport: George W. Chisholm of 1021 Lubbock Road, Joe's 83-year-old father. His son had returned.

A truck driver was fined here Monday for spreading oil on the highway while moving a storage tank from one lease to another. Gene Carpenter was fined $50 and court costs in Justice of the Peace court for letting oil flow onto a long strip of the highway while in the process of moving a tank from one location to another. This is a concentrated move on the part of the Highway Patrol and the Texas highway department to cut down on such incidents, it was reported by patrolmen Buff Angel and Bill Hyman.

Donna Coleman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Coleman, was taken to Cochran County Hospital Tuesday after she fell and cut her jugular vein. She is reported to be doing fine. Mrs. Coleman says she doesn't know for sure what Donna fell on, but she thinks it must have been a coffee can she used to feed her dog from. Rev. Coleman was gone at the time of the accident, and the family car was also gone. But luckily, a neighbor who was in the lot with the Coleman's son, Bobby, had his car. He rushed the child to the hospital after the mother had wrapped the wound. The baby, only a year old, had lost a lot of blood, and she was so tiny it was almost impossible to find the vein for a blood transfusion, but speed with which she was rushed to the hospital helped save her life.

No entry fee will be charged for floats in the 13th annual Andrews County Fair kick-off parade on October 3, it was decided at a meeting of the fair association Monday. The exact time of the parade will be announced later, since it depends on how it can be worked into the school schedule for use of the band, dismissal of students, etc. Pete Milican, chairman of the booth committee, stated that the cost of inside booths would be $20 and $10 for outside booths. Concession stands will pay $20 or 10 per cent of what they make, whichever is greater.

19,000 Bales Is Estimate of Cotton Crop in County

The first 1957 cotton crop production estimate for the Texas High Plains, as of August 1, shows an estimated 19,000 bales expected off this year's crop in Yoakum County, agricultural officials report.

The estimate for the High Plains area, including 23 counties, is given at 1,654,000 bales, based on allotted acreage, stands and crop conditions as of August 1. This is more than 200,000 bales higher than the first crop estimate off the 1956 cotton crop which actually produced the second biggest crop in history in this area—1,440,000 bales.

The Lubbock cotton exchange and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., in making the crop estimate said that the estimate is on the conservative side, due to the lateness of the crop and the fact that so much dryland is dependent on rain in August. Dry land was estimated at 160 to 200 pounds yield.

If the estimate is too low, and should it be increased by 75 pounds per acre for the dry land acreage, then another 100,000 bales or so could be produced and production will break all existing records. If the big acreage counties come through this year along with the high-yielding counties and the dry land equals one-half less than this year's crop could easily top 1,750,000 bales.

Estimated acreage in Yoakum County includes 756,500 dryland and 1,343,500 irrigated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dikes of Pioro, Ariz. are visiting in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson, this week.

Two Cases Filed in District Court

One suit for divorce and another for damages was filed in district court this week.

Ruby Lee Kopecky is seeking a divorce from Jack Kopecky, and is asking for the return of her former name, Ruby Lee McConnell, as well as court costs.

Bill Barnett has filed a $39,125 suit for damages against Humble Pipe Line Co., resulting from alleged damages incurred when a pipe used to transport oil broke, covering the property owned by him with oil spray. The plaintiff alleges that the oil permanently damaged the land which is in Denver City, as well as buildings on the tract.

The plaintiff alleges that at the time he was operating a used car lot on the tract in question, and asserts that the vehicles were covered with oil and partly damaged. He further charges that he was just recovering from a heart attack but the excitement of the damages precipitated another attack and caused him to be under care of a physician. He further states that he has been in constant pain since the relapse, and has had his earning capacity impaired.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Curry and family left last week for Los Angeles and San Diego, Calif., for a vacation.

Leader Blasts Move to Change Rural Road Laws

Gaines County may well have seen its last mile of farm-to-market road construction if a recommended change in the State's rural road program is approved, H. E. Mather, president of the Farmers' & Stockmen Ass'n. has declared.

Mather said the Texas Research League is advocating that laws governing construction of farm-to-market roads be changed. In a study made for the Texas Highway Commission, the League said the change would prevent the State from becoming burdened with a rural road program far in excess of its needs. It said that part of the funds earmarked for farm-to-market road construction should be used for maintenance.

"We have about 750 miles of unpaved rural roads right here in Gaines Co.," Mather said. "If the rural road program is changed to suit those who want to get our hard won farm-to-market road building funds, we may never see another mile of country roads paved in the county."

The county farm organization leader said that 26,000 miles of rural roads have been paved under the farm-to-market rural road program, but that more than 100,000 miles remain unpaved. He pointed out that the $36 million spent for farm-to-market road construction and improvement last year was less than one-tenth of the total State expenditure on highways.

Mather charged that the plan to use funds earmarked for construction to pay maintenance costs was a scheme to limit the building of an adequate rural road system. He further contended that rural interests, in lobbying for the rural road program, had to be satisfied with less than the amount thought necessary to finance the program.

ACROSS THE Cattle Guard

By LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

Cotton is the leading agricultural commodity in Yoakum County so it is only natural that the farmer is more interested in cotton than any other source of income that he might have. The 1957 crop has been badly mistreated. Most of our crop is late because of wind and rain at planting time. Hail storms and sand storms have damaged much of our cotton and gave it a further set-back. Lady Luck has been riding with most of the cotton farmers as far as insects are concerned. In some areas of the county the bugs have been bad but as a whole, the insect situation this year is much better than in previous years.

The second generation of leafworms were webbing up last week so it is likely many of our farmers will have applied one application of leafworm poison by the middle of August. The leafworm is fairly easy to kill and toxaphene is the most commonly used insecticide used for leafworm control. Since the bollworm season is just beginning, farmers are going to be using some DDT in the poison mixture in order to give the bollworm a set-back at the same time that leafworms are being controlled.

The irrigated farmer who plants one of the adapted varieties, uses adequate fertilizer, controls insects and maintains good soil moisture is going to make a good crop of cotton provided he does not get some damage by wind or hail or other elements over which he has no control. After the crop is made the farmer still has the harvesting and ginning problem. Harvesting and ginning for a good grade and staple is just as much of a problem for the farmer as production.

Large cotton trailers have replaced the old narrow wagon and there is no longer any need for packing the cotton in the trailer before it goes to the gin. Farmers who are going to the gin with three bales piled loosely in a five bale trailer have found that the grade has been improved enough to more than offset the extra trips to the gin. The term of "Cow Tromping" has been accepted as a good name for practice of packing the cotton in the trailer. Excessive tromping can cost the farmer $10.00 a bale in lowered grade. Some farmers will hire cotton pullers who have large trucks to carry the cotton to the gin. They require the pullers to empty their sacks without stepping in the cotton. They have to stand on the sideboard or stand on a plank laid across the top of the sideboards and they never get their feet in the cotton.

The American Cotton Congress is having their annual meeting this year on August 12 in the ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel. The emphasis of the Cotton Congress program this year will be on producing and processing a higher quality cotton. There will be some outstanding men on the program to discuss the various subjects related to improved cotton quality and cotton farmers are urged to attend. We would Message which concluded the afternoon program.

The Rev. W. P. Brian of Palmdale, California, another former pastor spoke at the Training Union Sunday at 7:00 p.m.

The Rev. C. J. Coffman, pastor of the First Baptist Church commented that it was a blessing to the Church to be host to the former pastors, members and friends. Many of the visitors commented on the progress of the church which included ninety-nine new members and the 6,415 square feet of additional building.

Like to have at least two car loads of farmers from this county attend the August 12th meeting in Lubbock. The meeting begins at 9:30 a.m. and will be over by around 4:00 p.m.

Each year it becomes more and more necessary for farmers to keep informed about new practices in production and processing of this important crop. Farmers have to look far into the future and use past experience as guide posts. It was Satchel Paige, a one time great baseball pitcher, who said, "Don't ever look back, you might see someone gaining on you."
