First Baptist Earns Town, Country Award

The First Baptist Church at Plains has been named winner of the Town and Country Achievement Award sponsored by the G. A. Y. Baptist Association, spokesmen said in Dallas.

The church is now competing with other associational winners in District 8 of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. Both district and associational winners will be recognized at the annual state convention in Fort Worth, Nov. 5-7, when the first place state award will be made.

The Rev. C. J. Coffman is pastor of the Plains Church, one of 335 Texas Baptist town and country churches participating in the competition this year.

The award is designed to stimulate interest in small-church work, to recognize outstanding achievements by pastors and churches and to help Texas Baptists broaden their concept of Christian responsibility.

Achievement competition is divided into three categories with points given for projects which help build a better church, community and world.

The association is one of 122 geographical areas in which the BGCT promotes such work each year. The denomination includes one out of every six persons in the state, with 3,754 churches and 1,524,000 members in Texas. Approximately two-thirds of the churches are classified as town and country congregations. Winning pastors in each district will receive a parchment scroll and the church a metal plaque which may be displayed in a

County To Issue Warrants To Pay Off Indebtedness

Time warrants in the amount of $150,000 will be issued by Yoakum County in the near future, the money to be used to "clear the books" of a consolidation of debts which has accumulated over a period of years, it was learned this week.

Members of the commissioners' court, meeting Monday, voted to issue the time warrants and amend the present budget for 1957 in that amount. Provisions for retirement of the warrants are expected to be made at the next meeting of the court.

It was also reported that county monies have now been separated into various funds, such as general, officers' salaries, sinking, road and bridge, hospital, etc., so that status of each fund is constantly known.

The commissioners also appointed Mrs. Norelle Sloan as assistant librarian at Plains and Mrs. J. S. Wade as assistant librarian at Denver City, upon recommendation of Mrs. Bert

Mr. Smith stated that there were two picking machines in his community but

Cowboys Lose To Tahoka; Meet Wilson Here Friday

The Plains Cowboys were defeated in their opening game last Friday night by Tahoka 7-0, the only score being made in the first quarter. Though outscored, the Plains team put up a valiant fight and certainly were not disgraced in the defeat by the revenge seeking Tahoka team.

Richard Brooks scored from the two-yard line and Weldon Calloway ran the extra point.

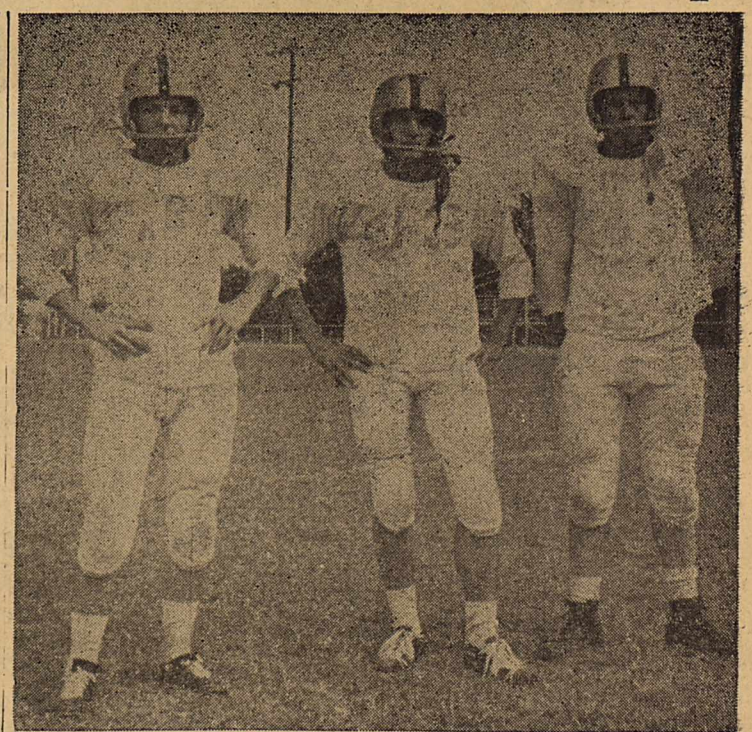

In a game played in a driving rain and high wind from the second half onward, Plains fumbled the ball seven times with Tahoka recovering three times. Tahoka fumbled only once and recovered.

Tahoka's outstanding payers were Karl Prohl, quarterback, James Adams at guard.

In first downs it was Plains 10 and 9 for the visitors, with the Cowboys piling up a lot of yardage minus the scoring punch.

Plain's outstanding players were Venum Fitzgerald, half back; Ronald Amonette, guard; Merle Todd, guard; Billy McGee, tackle.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

SHOULD LAWYERS REPRESENT THE GUILTY?

One of the cardinal principles of American law is that a man is considered innocent until proven guilty by proper legal proceedings. Practically every one pays lip service to this ideal, but many fail to realize that the right to be represented by counsel is a logical and essential corollary of that theory of justice. There is a good deal of criticism of attorneys representing defendants in criminal cases. Much of this criticism is unjust.

Should lawyers defend in court persons whom they know or have good reason to believe are guilty of the crimes charged against them? A few years ago a scientific sampling of the attitude of the public in Texas toward lawyers and law problems showed that more than half of all persons interviewed thought it was wrong for a lawyer to defend such a person.

Such an attitude is rather startling to many thinking citizens and to members of the Bar. Surely the guiltiest criminal has a right to a fair trial by the law of the land. Such a trial he cannot have without a competent attorney to see that a fair jury is selected and that only lawful evidence is introduced against him.

With reference to this feeling on the part of a sizeable portion of the public, a certain District Judge who tries many criminal cases, and who served eighteen years as a prosecuting attorney before his election to the Bench, once offered the following comments:

"The result of this survey is no surprise to me, in that during my eighteen years of prosecuting, this feeling has been made known to me by hundreds of persons.

"The feeling on the part of the general public in this regard is brought about to a great extent by the sincere efforts on the part of the defense counsel to see that his client receives the benefit of every legal safeguard to which he is entitled. These legal maneuvers are often misunderstood by the layman as an unethical effort to defeat justice, by delay of the trial, and by taking advantage of certain defenses that to the layman appears to be trivial technicalities.

"Attorneys are the only ones who can correct the erroneous feeling of the general public regarding the defense of one who appears to be guilty as charged. We attorneys should emphatically state to the inquiring person that it is one of the cardinal rights of the individual in a democratic society to be considered innocent until his guilt is established beyond a reasonable doubt by legal and competent evidence.

"The public must be brought to the realization that all who are charged with crime are entitled to the expert counsel and aid of an attorney, and that the sworn duty of such attorney is to see that each protective legal right, to which the accused is entitled, is afforded him."

Now and then a lawyer will overstep the bounds of his duty in defending those charged with crime. When that happens, the legal profession is even more indignant than the public generally, and appropriate disciplinary proceedings are instituted where warranted.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Civil Defense Week Is Designated as September 15-21

The White House has designated Sept. 15-21 as observance dates for the second annual National Civil Defense Week.

Theme this year will be "Government in Emergency" according to guidance bulletin issued by the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

"It is our feeling that renewed emphasis be placed on the increasingly important role of State and local governments in emergency preparedness, and this should be prominently interwoven into all civil defense observances.

"The emergency functions of existing State and local government service arms—police, fire, welfare, sanitation—provide an excellent point of departure for Civil Defense Week events," according to the guide.

According to plans, each day in the week's observance has been assigned to a different "area of activity." They included: Sunday—in churches; Monday—in places of employment; Tuesday—in schools; Wednesday—in clubs; Thursday—in your community; Friday—in rural areas; Saturday—review day.

A review of last year's Civil Defense Week showed that 901 government units and other or- cluded 42 states, 256 counties, 593 cities and interested organizations, and 5 territories and possessions. Governors in the Territory of Hawaii and half of the states as well as 89 mayors issued proclamations on the event.

Mrs. Roger Curry was a business visitor in Denver City Tuesday.

Tsa Mo Ga Club Hears District President

The Tsa Mo Ga Club held the first meeting of the new club year at the club house on Sept. 9, 1957.

Club was called to order by president, Mrs. R. K. Field; Mrs. Field welcomed a new member, Mrs. David Levens, and after roll call turned the program over to program director, Mrs. R. B. Jones. Mrs. Jones introduced Mrs. Ty Field who gave the Dedication of the year book to the husbands.

Response was given by Mr. Robert K. Field who assured the members that most husbands are tolerant toward the work of their club women wives.

Mrs. Jones presented Mrs. Robert R. Lindsey, President of Seventh District from Borger, Texas who spoke on Federation.

Mrs. Lindsey used her home town as an example of the wealth and beauty to be found in the Panhandle. There is found untold wealth in oil, crops, industry, churches, and schools, yet she stated that the greatest wealth to be found in all forty-nine counties of Seventh District is women with a purpose. The first club was organized long ago by a women reporter not allowed to attend news conferences with men. Seven Women attended that first meeting, two came the second time, yet from this humble start resulted the Federated Clubs, largest organized group in the world.

Through the efforts of club women, schools have progressed from the readin' writin', and rithmetic state to the modern times where a child can choose from a wide curriculum. Eighty-five per cent of the libraries had their start through a Federated club.

The first national park was made possible through club women, as well as the replanting of thousands upon thousands of acres of destroyed woodland.

Art galleries came under the guiding hand of club women, the speaker stated, and the model home they built in Washington D. C. has inspired more home designers and architects to improve the lot of women and their families.

Fifty-one years ago, women introduced the pure food law, and its passage protects the public today when we shop for groceries, cosmetics and drugs, said the speaker.

Compulsory school attendance was introduced by women, said Mrs. Lindsey, and the first start of the labor laws was promoted by women, and even though they were not perfect, it gave men the right to demand certain conditions to work under.

The interest of women in her fellowmen brought about the white divider lines in our highways that is in use every day.

Through the effort of club women the privilege to vote was extended to women and just recently the right to serve on a jury was brought about by their efforts.

Club women are at the present trying to make driver education in our schools compulsory, and to promote peace around the world through scholarships. Permanent national scholarships are Latin, Oriental, and Penny Art.

Seventh District scholarships are the Lola B. Mundy, through which a worthy girl is receiving her college education, and the scholarship for Boys' Ranch near Amarillo, through which funds are provided to obtain skilled craftsmen for teaching trades to these boys.

Mrs. Lindsey called attention to the fact that the American home, community affairs, international affairs, Americanism, Texas heritage, religions of the World, and friendship are a few of the subjects the club women will inform themselves about this club year.

In closing Mrs. Lindsey stated that all it takes to have a club is a group of women with a purpose.

Mrs. Bartlett, County Librarian, accepted the donation of books from the Plains club women.

Refreshments were served from a beautiful table by the social committee headed by Mrs. Glen Cleveland. About twenty-five members and their husbands attended.

NEW STATE LAW RESTRICTING SALE OF POISONS IS NOW IN EFFECT

Texas' new "hazardous substances" law is now in effect, aimed at restricting the sale of poisons that last year claimed at least 15 young lives in this state.

Chief target of the law is thallium sulphate, a potent insecticide and rodenticide. But all substances, with few specific exceptions, which are hazardous for humans are included.

The law was passed by the recent legislature with strong backing from the State Department of Health. The task of administering and enforcing it now falls to the state health commissioner with the help of city and county health officers.

In Houston alone last year, more than 50 cases of accidental thallium sulphate poisoning were reported. Almost as many occurred in San Antonio. In most instances the deadly material was mixed with graham crackers or vanilla wafer crumbs as a base, which made it especially attractive to children.

Even before the law became effective, Galveston authorities banned the sale of products containing more than three per cent thallium salts.

The substance can kill by absorption through the skin or by inhalation, as well as by ingestion. Compounded originally for use only by professional insect and rodent exterminators, there is no known antidote for the almost tasteless product.

Even when the cases of accidental poisoning doesn't end fatally, the victim's vision is often impaired and his sense of balance upset.

With the law now in effect, it will thereafter be unlawful to sell any product containing more than one per cent of any thallium salt.

It will also be unlawful to mix any poisonous substance with food or drink. Exceptions are water or a mixture which has lost its identity as food and is not likely to be mistaken as food for human consumption.

AGRICULTURE PRICES ARE HOLDING LEVEL, SAYS LEADING ECONOMIST

Agricultural prices and income have not enjoyed the rises that some segments of American economy have in recent years because of surpluses or lack of larger markets, but most phases of agriculture appear to be holding their own insofar as prices are concerned and probably will continue to do so—with usual seasonal declines—for the remainder of 1957.

These are two major observations of an A&M College System Extension Service economist, John McHaney. Synopsis of his studies were received in Denver City last week.

Comparing farm prices and income with those of some other segments of the economy, the economist said that prices received by farmers have increased only 1.3 per cent over those of May, 1956.

But prices paid by farmers have increased 3.5 per cent and parity ratio in May stood at 82 compared to 84 in May, 1956. Consumer disposable income in the first quarter of 1957 was more than 5 per cent above a year ago due mainly to increases in wages and salaries. Too, the cost of living stood a few percentage points higher than a year ago, says McHaney.

General business activity looks good for the rest of 1957. Business outlays for new plants and equipment during the first nine months of 1957 will be about 9 per cent larger than those for the same period in 1956. Apparently, businessmen are generally optimistic about their future sales prospects.

Credit Up

But the economist says that we should not overlook the fact that consumer credit outstanding in May was 7.3 per cent greater than in May, 1956; in some industries, inventories remain large relative to sales; output of durable goods and autos dropped 4 and 14 per cent respectively from December, 1956 to May, 1957; and steel mill activity has declined from around 100 per cent of rated capacity in the fourth quarter of 1956 to a low of 84 in mid-May. There was a pick up to 88 per cent of capacity in mid-June but the usual decline is expected in July and August, points out McHaney.

Agricultural exports through April of the 1956-57 fiscal year were estimated at $4 billion—an increase of 43 per cent over a year ago. Cotton exports were about 7.5 million bales, compared to 2.2 million in 1955-56.

Combined exports of grains and feeds showed an increase of nearly 50 per cent for the fiscal year 1956-57 despite a decline in sorghum grain and barley. Wheat exports through April were 82 per cent over last year and rice exports during July, 1956—April, 1957 totaled 22.6 million bags compared with 9.2 million during the 10 months ending April, 1956. Exports of fats and oils have been running a fifth higher than last year. Most export gains are due primarily to government export programs, adds McHaney.

Holding Own

Most phases of agriculture seem to be holding their own as far as prices are concerned and probably will continue to do so—with the usual seasonal declines—for the remainder of 1957.

Marketing of meat animals and grass cattle will be a little below the levels of last summer, according to McHaney. Hog slaughter will likely continue below the 1956 rate until later on in the year. No price drop is in sight, except for the usual seasonal declines, and meat animal prices should maintain a modest margin over last year. Steady to stronger prices are in prospect for fed cattle during the next few months, says the economist.

Prices of lower grades of cattle will decline seasonally. However, says the economist, they will be supported by a strong demand for feed lot replacements and prices should remain at a higher level than last year.

Hog Prices

Hog prices will probably continue above a year earlier during the rest of the summer and early fall. However, there is a slight possibility that prices at the end of the year may be a little below the prices of late last year.

Lamb prices this fall may average as high or possibly a little higher than last year, points out McHaney. Egg prices should also begin to increase. By late summer, prices are likely to be above a year earlier. Indications point to a wheat crop of about 971 million bushels in 1957—only 3 per cent below last year. Stocks of cotton owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation, or held as collateral, are the smallest since October, 1953.

The average weekly rate of mill use of apparel wool in the U.S. showed a drop in April—the sixth successive month to show a drop from last year.

The national average support price for 1957 is 60 cents per bushel for oats, 94 cents per bushel for barley and $1.83 per 100 pounds for sorghum grain.

If feed crops prospects continue favorable, feed grain prices will probably average somewhat lower the rest of 1957 than for the same period in 1956, adds McHaney.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Judas, the traitorous, perfidious, faithless Apostle who, under the semblance of friendship, betrayed Christ. How many good, sound, fair appearing persons do you have on your friendship list who are not friends at all but are worthless, deceptive characters... not to be trusted. How many Judases do you know?

What a chance this man had for greatness! What an opportunity for service to a world in urgent need! One of twelve to walk with the Son of God along life's pathway! What would we not give for his opportunity to do and to be! But Judas "blacked out." He failed and wrote his own name in "DEEP BLACK" across the pages of history for all time. He preferred thirty pieces of silver to the fellowship and blessing of Jesus; he failed to appreciate beauty and goodness and gracious companionship with the highest. His "sights" were low... his interests selfish.

Other men counted it an honor to carry a cross for the Master; JUDAS sent Him to Calvary to die in shameful agony. JUDAS might have followed Christ to the end and shared a martyr's death, but he preferred a disgraceful grave in the field of the nameless or shameless dead.

We have but one life to live, and that one life is too precious to be wasted. "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his life?" What is it to lose? What is it to gain? Jesus was thought to have lost, but in that self-sacrifice He saved a world of dying men. This man Judas gloated over his gain, but generations have wept for him as a lost soul. Are you and I really winning, or are we losing? Truly we have but one life to give... shall we not write it credibly on the pages of history for ourselves and for humanity? Shall we not hold it high for the service of men and for the worship of God? Attend your church; be faithful. Don't be a JUDAS.

At the last session of the Texas Legislature the Texas Egg Law was passed and it became effective August 22. This date does not mean that the law will be enforced after that date because there is a period of about six months for everyone to get prepared for the changes that are necessary in order to meet the requirements of this new law. The Texas Egg Law provides that no person can buy or sell eggs for resale without first obtaining a license from the Commissioner of Agriculture.

According to the statement above, it seems that it would apply to any producer who sold eggs but that is not true. Only those egg producers who sell graded eggs will be required to have a license. The person who has a small flock of hens and sells his eggs locally will not have to have a license. The producer who claims to sell eggs of a certain quality will have to have a license and the eggs that he sells will be subject to inspection to determine if they meet the standards as advertised.

other writing on the carton. As the price changes she has to keep up with such changes in order to know the quality of the products. After the grading system gets in full swing she can always depend on the quality of the product according to the grade that is marked on the carton.

The only Yoakum County people who will be affected by the Texas Egg Law are the retail stores and perhaps some producers who claim a grade on their eggs. There will be some schools held in the near future for anyone who wishes to become a qualified egg grader. Announcements of these schools will appear in this column and it seems that there will be some opportunities for some fairly good jobs for anyone interested in that work.

NEW ELECTRICAL DEVICE MEASURES NEED OF MOISTURE IN PLANTS

Farmers may some day tell when their crops need irrigating by using a simple electrical device tested recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It measures moisture stress—an indicator of a plant's moisture needs.

For a rapid reading of a plants water requirements, two small prongs of the device are stuck into the stem of the plant. The prongs are two stainless steel electrodes connected to an ohmmeter which measures the electrical resistance in the plant. The lumber industry uses a similar instrument to measure moisture in wood.

Methodists Will Meet in Austin For Conference

Methodists from throughout the state will gather as Houston-Tillotson college in Austin Thursday and Friday, Sept. 12-13 for an interracial leadership conference. "Christian Responsibility in Human Relations"—with particular attention to the place of the church in dealing with current social problems—is the theme for the meeting which is being sponsored by eight annual conferences of The Methodist Church in Texas.

Presiding bishops have invited representative Methodists from all sections to participate. In addition to the invitation only sessions, there is to be a special meeting for the general public on Thursday at 8:15 p.m., featuring an address by Dr. James K. Mathews, Associate General Secretary of the Division of World Missions, The Methodist Church. Dr. Mathews is responsible for work in Southern Asia and headquarters in New York City.

Highlight of the conference is expected to be the four workshops in which churchmen will sit down together to discuss on a personal basis the questions facing the church today. Conference will divide into 16 discussion groups to deal with "The Church Serving All The Community," "The Church's Responsibility In Preparing For Social Change," "The Church's Responsibility For Community Problems of Housing," "Employment And Education," and "The Relationship Between Jurisdictions And Things That Can Be Done Together."

Research papers have been readied and materials have been mailed to all participants in preparation for the conference—a first of its kind for Texas. Around 500 key persons are expected to attend.

Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones of Lubbock were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sherm Henard.

prominent position outside the building.

Top state award last year went to Pastor Robert Wimpee and the Taylor's Valley Baptist Church in Bell County.

The Plains Church just closed a revival meeting Sept. 8 which had been in progress for the past week. The Rev. E. F. Cole, Fort Worth, blessed the congregation with two messages daily.

Four people were baptized at the close of the meeting Sunday night, which brings the number of additions to the church since Sept. 2, 1956 to 107. This date was when the Rev. Coffman arrived in Plains to assume duties as pastor of the church.

The church is now busy making plans for the new church year. They are planning departments for every age group. The enlarged program will require 36 new workers. Rev. Coffman stated that the outlook for the coming year is very encouraging.
