Seniors To Give Class Play On Friday, March 21

The Senior Class of Plains High School will present their annual school play, "Going Palaces" Friday night, March 21, 1958 in the Junior High Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The play concerns the Maxwell family and the big question of where to go on their vacation. Daughter Betty Lou, Kay Smith, wants to visit Hollywood; son Wilburn, Ross Stotts, is raring to see some big league ball; Hercules Nelson, Wilburn's bosom pal, is played by Dwain Rowland. Daughter Connie, Joyce Riggs, wants to go to Grandmother's; and Pop, Jim Barron, is already visualizing battling bass flapping amid the cool waters at the mountains.

Indeed there is an exciting two weeks ahead. But mother Maxwell, Jan Sims, seeing Aunt Mary, Carol McKee, come back from her vacation completely exhausted; seeing Betty Lou's chum, Bernadine Smith, Barbara Kemp, struggle home from her vacation null and void; and remembering how exhausted and beat up the Maxwell family was after last year's vacation, gets the sudden idea that it would be best for them to spend this year's vacation at home. Father will be ready to return to work—the children will be ready for school—and they'll have a jump on the new year.

So, the Maxwells spend this vacation at home! It's practically a leap because Mrs. Maxwell's parents, mother Brown, Darlene Snodgrass, Father Brown, Travis Jones, pull in and Mr. Maxwell's parents portrayed by Rue Mauk and Julia Oats, pull in and his boss sends a special representative. ## Soil in Our Soil Conservation District

This is the eighth in a series of articles on the soils of the Yoakum Soil Conservation District, by Bill Dittmore, Soil Scientist, Soil Conservation Service.

The Potter and Kimbrough soils are very shallow soils that occur throughout the High Plains of Texas and New Mexico. In the Yoakum SCD we find them in a number of places. They are usually found in rather large areas of several hundred acres.

These soils are easily recognized because they are less than 10 inches deep and normally have many rocks on the surface. The shallow depth limits the growth of brush and they appear as a rolling grassland. Some catclaw and mesquite may be common in areas with a slightly deeper topsoil.

The Potter and Kimbrough soils may have either a fine See SOIL on Page 8

Nationally Known Company Here To Conduct Campaign

The Yoakum County Review has employed the Edwards Circulation Company, a nationally known firm, to conduct a circulation campaign which is being announced today. This is an old concern—18 years in the business—and is well recommended by publishers and press associations in many states.

Here to conduct the campaign personally is Mr. Orville Hendren.

The Review is taking this step as a means of doing a bigger and better job than ever before in covering its trade area.

"Why do newspapers put on subscription campaigns?" Edwards answers the question this way:

"Some have asked this very question in the past and there are doubtless many others who have been curious but never voiced the thought.

"It can best be answered by asking a series of other questions, such as: Why do insurance companies offer prizes to the agents who write the most insurance in a period of time? Why do utilities offer special premiums to employers who sell the largest number of new users of their particular service? Why do large manufacturers and wholesale concerns put traveling men on the road, calling on retailers?"

"All such efforts merely are modern forms of salesmanship. These methods have built up increased volume and brought many persons into possession of something they need and could have enjoyed but which they might never have possessed if it hadn't been sold to them through the personal contact of some person engaged in special sales campaigns.

DETAILS OF the circulation campaign, launched this week by The Yoakum County Review, are discussed by Mrs. Helen Hendren, news editor, and Orville Hendren, campaign manager. The campaign is open to contestants living in the county, and is being held in conjunction with The Denver City Press. Prizes and commissions totalling $3,000 will be awarded at the close of the campaign. —Review Photo

The Yoakum County Review today announces the beginning of a subscription campaign in the Plains trade area—a campaign of expansion in keeping with the progress of Plains and its place of influence in Yoakum County and West Texas.

In conjunction with The Review campaign, and being conducted simultaneously as a part of the same contest, is a subscription drive for The Denver City Press, the county's other weekly newspaper.

A list of candidates who have enrolled as solicitors in the campaign thus far can be found elsewhere on this page.

An estimated $3,000 in prizes and commissions are being offered to the residents of the Plains and Denver City areas, who, within the next few weeks will gather subscriptions to the Press and Review.

The first prize is a cash prize of $1,000, the winner to be announced on April 26th. Second prize will be $500 in cash; third $300; fourth $200; fifth $100; and sixth prizes $50.

In addition to the prizes, each contestant who does not receive an award will receive 20 per cent commission on all sales of subscriptions that person has made.

Only persons residing in the Plains and Denver City trade areas may take part in the campaign and share in the awards. It is hoped to have every home in the trade area as a Review and/or Press subscriber and booster.

In boosting their circulations, The Review and Press will be aiding Yoakum County and surrounding area in its growth as an important trading center for persons throughout West Texas.

This campaign is a business proposition. Both The Yoakum County Review and The Press are out to have more readers, and are willing to reward generously those who will become GOOD WILL boosters.

Any man or woman, except employees of The Review or Press, and managers of the campaign, can enter this contest. There is no entrance fee or charge of any kind. You need not even be a subscriber to either newspaper to enter your name as an enrolled worker.

An entry blank can be found in this issue. Clip it, fill it out, and bring it to The Review office, which will serve as campaign headquarters in Plains, or to the Denver City office of the campaign, which will be located at the LaVista Lodge on North Main St., Room 12. But remember.

We Recommend a 'YES' Vote

The voters of Yoakum County will go to the polls this Saturday, March 15, to cast their ballots for or against the issuance of Hospital Bonds to expand the hospital facilities of this county.

The bond issue, not to exceed $60,000, if passed will provide a clinic to be located in Plains. The building would include, according to tentative plans, a doctor's office, waiting room, two examining rooms, emergency room, X-ray room, laboratory, two patient rooms, and a storage room.

Residents of Plains and vicinity have a very definite and vital need for this clinic. Facilities for emergency medical treatment are now more than 15 long miles away, and a matter of 20 or 30 minutes' time can easily be the difference between life and death. The saving of just one life would certainly more than justify the entire proposed expenditure of $60,000. In addition, our rapidly growing community badly needs a doctor here at home to serve the everyday needs of our families.

Our newly-formed Plains Chamber of Commerce spear-headed the drive to petition the commissioner's court to put this matter before the voters of the county, and is endorsing the bond issue. The Review congratulates the Chamber on making this vital community need its number one major project.

We urge that every qualified voter go to the polls Saturday. YOUR vote is important. And THE REVIEW recommends you vote FOR the issuance of hospital bonds and the levy of taxes in payment thereof. —AN EDITORIAL

Election on Hospital To Be Held Saturday

County citizens will go to the polls Saturday and will decide whether or not the commissioners' court will be granted the right to issue bonds in the amount not exceeding $60,000 for the purpose of constructing and equipping an additional Yoakum County hospital building to be located in Plains.

The building, if approved, will be of the clinic type, and will include a waiting room, two examining rooms, a doctor's office, emergency room, X-ray room, laboratory, storage room and two rooms for patients.

Residents of various polling precincts will vote in the same polling places as in previous elections. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday. Only qualified voters who own and have rendered property for taxation in the county are eligible to vote in the election.

The election has been called as a result of a petition presented to the commissioners' court by the Plains Chamber of Commerce. The Plains Chamber has adopted procuring medical facilities and a resident physician for Plains as its first major project since its organization some three months ago. They have found it extremely difficult to get a physician without providing the facilities.

Plans for the clinic have not as yet been adopted. The Sears Foundation, whose services include that of recommending plans and assistance in getting a doctor, has been contacted. Two of their representatives were in Plains last week to survey the needs of the community and submitted several plans from which

Insurance Rate Cut Still In Future

No major insurance rate reduction is seen at this time for Plains, according to Mayor W. R. Curry and City Secretary Buford Duff who attended a meeting with Rate Engineer George C. Hawley at the insurance department office in Austin last Friday. The rating section has been working on credits for the new pumper truck, and also credits obtained for establishing a fire zone in the business district. Although they promised that the credits for those items would be given soon, the exact amount was not disclosed.

In regard to placing the city in a protected classification, the engineer told the mayor and city secretary that Plains was still lacking in six and eight-inch water mains and fire hydrants in the business area, as well as fire hydrants in the residential areas. He commended the city for the progress being made toward improving the water system and gave his assurances that his office was keeping close contact with the situation and would grant the credits as the system merits them.

Our Way of Advertising

Any newspaper which does not strive constantly to avail itself to more and more readers is open to criticism for failing to practice what it preaches—advertising.

The Review has no other way of advertising than to reach out into homes where we do not normally visit each week. You are one of the estimated 6,500 persons reading The Review this week—we hope you will become a regular reader and subscriber, if you are not now.

Since our staff is too busy preparing an interesting and newsy newspaper each week to be able to call upon you personally, we hope to reach more homes faster by having a campaign—a campaign conducted by a nationally known and highly recommended company.

We couldn't bring ourselves to try to reach you by drumming up your curiosity in us through tricky crossword puzzles or other types of contests that take up much of your time. Besides we would be late and greatly outnumbered by both daily newspapers and TV. The Review has made great strides in both increased news coverage and modernizing its typography during the past year and a half. It carries more local pictures than any other newspaper its size in the state of Texas . . . or probably anywhere in the United States. It is recognized in newspaper circles as one of the finest small-town weekly newspapers published in West Texas. We are encouraged by your compliments and your expression of interest in the welfare of The Review, which is Yoakum County's oldest newspaper.

We make no apology for offering prizes to stimulate interest on the part of contestants in this campaign. Mr. Orville Hendren of the Edwards Circulation Company has been building circulation for newspapers for 18 years. The Review feels proud to have him to conduct this campaign during the next few weeks.

There are no hidden gimmicks or fine print in the rules of the contest. Do not be misled into believing there are. All is open and above board. The rules set forth in the two page advertisement elsewhere in this issue are the identical rules used in hundreds of similar campaigns throughout the country.

The Review, in announcing this circulation campaign, has a two fold purpose in mind. The resulting increase in circulation will allow the sharing of news, features, pictures, advertisements, and editorial comment each week with an increased family of readers. An increased circulation will allow the advertising message of Plains merchants to find a better audience in the city and surrounding area.

It would take years for the staff of The Review to make the rounds personally to see each potential reader. In designating the contestants to be our go-between we can reach you much faster with this earnest message:

"We cordially invite you to join our happy family of Review readers."

The Press Battles for its Freedom

JOHN PETER ZENGER was arrested "for printing and publishing several seditious libels dispersed throughout his journals or newspapers...."

Zenger was a New York printer in the days when Governor Cosby ruled the colony. Governor Cosby ruled in such an autocratic, overbearing manner that several indignant citizens started a newspaper to arouse the public against his tyranny. Zenger undertook to publish the newspaper.

Zenger was thrown into prison, and his bail was fixed at 800 pounds, a large sum for those days and quite beyond his ability to furnish. He stayed in jail for months, and his situation appeared hopeless.

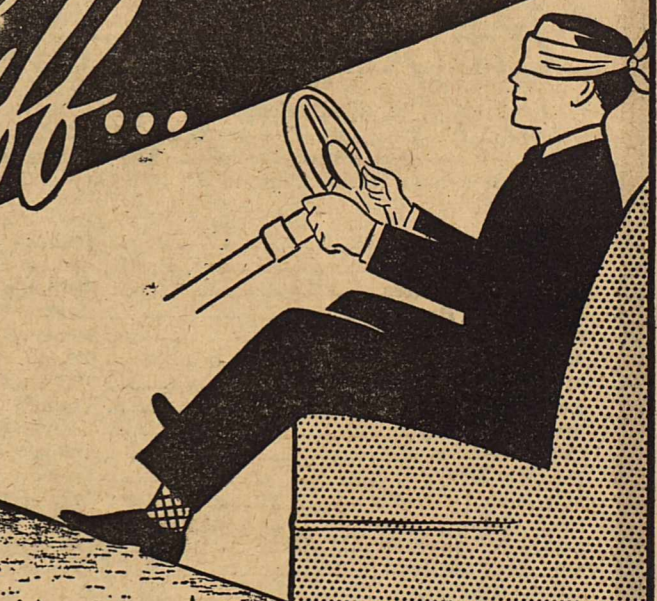

The case finally was called to the attention of Andrew Hamilton, a distinguished Pennsylvania lawyer, who took up Zenger's cause as a public service. Hamilton forced the case to trial, and his speech to the jury, which led to Zenger's acquittal, is a ringing statement of what the press in America must still vigilantly fight for.

All men have the right, Hamilton maintained, "publicly to remonstrate the abuses of power...and to assert with courage the sense they have of the blessing of liberty...and their resolution at all hazards to preserve it."

Today in our country encroachments by governments and private interests alike upon freedom of the press are counter to law. Nevertheless, even today the press must battle constantly to keep that freedom intact.

TSA MO GA CLUB HEARS EXCELLENT PROGRAM ON TEXAS MONDAY NIGHT

The Tsa Mo Ga Club met in regular session at the clubhouse March 10, 1958.

President, Mrs. R. K. Field, called the meeting to order and roll call was answered by telling something of each ones Texas Family Heritage. Several members are descendants of famous Texans and some told interesting tales of their families connection with original settlers, mostly by filing claims.

Mrs. Field stated that the sister of Sue Stevens had sent a donation of $25.00 to start a fund to move their original home to Plains and restore and equip it as a museum.

Mrs. Ty Field, incoming president, announced the year book committee for next year. She also asked that the year books be completed by the last meeting in May. The committee is composed of Mrs. J. W. Moore, Jr. chairman, Mrs. Bill Loyd, Mrs. R. K. Field, Mrs. R. B. Jones, Mrs. Alf Carpenter, Mrs. C. F. McCargo and Mrs. Wayne Chadwick.

Mrs. J. W. Moore, Jr. was program director for the evening. Texas and Texas History was the theme and Mrs. Moore introduced Mrs. Glen Cleveland who told the story of George W. Littlefield, Texas by J. Evetts Haley.

Briefly she said that George Washington Littlefield was a product, even more than most men are, of his time, soil and circumstances. He was an intent, practical man, of driving and determined purpose.

Littlefield was a man of action who left a meager record of his own extensive work while doing more than anyone else in the South to preserve the records of others and the culture of his own land.

When the Sante Fe Railroad made its cutoff from Lubbock to Clovis, slicing 32,000 acres from the main pasture, Littlefield added a like amount on the other side to make a square tract of 64,000 acres. The town of Littlefield on the railroad became the center of this tract. In 1912 Mr. Littlefield began putting the land on the market to farmers and by 1916 had sold 30,000 acres. Since Littlefield's death that sandy section rich in the production of feed, has achieved note as a cattle feeding area and fully justifies the prophecy of the founder of the town, made fifty years before.

Mr. W. B. Cox of Portales, New Mexico displayed his Barbed Wire Collection for the club.

Mr. Cox has been collecting wire for sixteen years and has 130 different kinds. He can relate some interesting tales, as the wire has been collected over a wide area.

Club was dismissed and Mrs. George Gray and Miss Sue Stevens served apple pie and coffee during the social hour to about twenty members and their guests.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Meixner and family spent Wednesday night in Paint Rock with Mrs. Meixner's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skipper. Mrs. Skipper accompanied them to Austin for the basketball games. They visited the Ladies brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Galbreath and family in Taylor, Texas Friday. Mr. Galbreath is assistant coach at Taylor. Also accompanying the Meixners was Claude Lee of Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Carman of Odessa were guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bearden last Friday.

BURL MCCLELLAN of Amarillo presented a film at the Farmers Union Meeting Tuesday night. Shown with McClellan are Neal Hickman, president, and J. L. Taylor, vice president.

Plains Cowboys Make Fine Tourney Showing

The Plains Cowboys were defeated in the state semi-finals by the Brownsboro Bulldogs 72-58. Brownsboro, by far the best team that the Cowboys have faced all year, used speed and shooting accuracy to build up a commanding lead that the Cowboys could never overcome.

The Cowboys scored 26 points in the final quarter but were unable to keep the Bulldogs from scoring. It was a torrid pace set from start to finish that saw the Plains Cowboys score on 47 per cent of their shots and still not be able to stay with a blazing pace the Bulldogs kept for the entire game.

Jim Williams, who along with Dwain Rowland had been sick Monday and Tuesday before the state meet, was the high scorer for the Cowboys with 19 points, backed up by Harmon Meixner with 17. Brownsboro was led by Lane with 22 and McQueen with 21. The Cowboys out-rebounded the Bulldogs 43-30 but failed to cash in on the free shots and the pressing defense that faced them. The speedy, good shooting Bulldogs were too much for the young Cowboys who started only one senior.

The Cowboys lost a close 3rd place game to the tallest team in the tourney when Boerne defeated them 56-46. The first half ended in a 27-27 tie but the height and experience of the Boerne team payed off in the final half and saw the Cowboys fall behind. Boerne, who some coaches picked to win the class A meet, controlled the game in the final half mainly because of the superior height. They scored 21 points in the third quarter to eight for Plains and that was enough to win in comfort. Jim Williams and Harmon Meixner each scored 10 points but it wasn't enough to keep up with Boerne's well-rounded, experienced seniors.

The Cowboys, making their first appearance in the jittery Gregory Gym, were determined to make a strong bid for the state crown and saw their chances slip away in the second quarter of the semi-final game. Coach Sewell stated that the physical condition of his team and the central Texas heat were important factors on the Cowboys. The Plains team made their first appearance in Austin a competitive showing with such desire and love of the game of basketball.

forage when properly watered and fertilized and it is tough enough to stand the punishment of overgrazing. It is a solid growing grass so the land would not blow out in pot holes because of a poor stand.

At College Station this grass produced 25,400 pounds of air dry hay to the acre under irrigation. If it will produce 18,000 pounds in Yoakum County during the 180 day grazing season that would be 100 pounds of dry hay per day. That should be enough feed for five cows and their calves. The five calves should sell for $50.00 each at weaning time which would give a gross of $400.00 an acre. That sounds like good money but it just won't work very well. The cost of wintering the cattle will eat up the profit. A steer program is better than a cow and calf program and perhaps a lamb grazing deal would be better than steers.

It is possible to run as many as 40 lambs to the acre on this grass. Forty lambs at $12.50 each would cost $500.00 and by Fall each lamb would be worth $20.00 each or $800.00 leaving a gross income of $300.00 an acre. About $100.00 would be deducted for water, fertilizer and labor leaving a net income of $200.00 per acre. In order to have $10,000.00 a year income a person would need 50 acres of this grass and $25,000.00 to buy lambs with.

That tremendous investment is the thing that is wrong with every irrigated pasture program. It makes it necessary for a man to start out with a small acreage and grow into the program as he is able to expand. People who have used Coastal Bermuda grass and Midland Bermuda grass have found that they need to start out with a small grass nursery and grow their own sprigs for increased plantings. These grasses do not produce seeds so there is a big labor bill involved in getting the grass started.

There is a possibility that winter wheat or rye can be planted in the grass during the early Fall and get some winter grazing from the same land. Any land that gets as much as 600 pounds of fertilizer a year should produce two crops a year. The same land could carry 20 lambs to the acre during the winter months with about half as much water. There is another $100.00 an acre if it will work. It will be tried as soon as we get enough grass propagated to furnish some grazing.

by LEO W. WHITE

It has been almost a year since anything has been mentioned in this column about coastal bermuda grass. Perhaps the main reason for not giving this grass a big build-up is the possibility that it would freeze out during the winter in this area. Some sprigs taken from Mr. Lefty Spears farm west of Plains and about two miles across the line into New Mexico were set out in 1956. They have done well on shallow Yoakum County sandy soil and they are in good condition to put out again this year. Some sprigs of this grass were set out on the Garland Swann farm last summer and apparently they are going to do very well this year. These sprigs came from Mr. Spears farm also.

The thing that we would like to do as soon as possible is to multiply this grass so that we could carry out some grazing trials. We know that it is a grass that will respond to fertilizer and that is a high water user. The thing that I think I am going to like about this grass is that it is a very high yielder of

...about Moons and Ministers

This is the day of man-made moons and other outer-space objects. First man reached for the clouds, then the stratosphere and now he is reaching for the moon. The very thought of these accomplishments "rattles" our nerves, makes us weak and an unexplainable nausea sets in. We think what next? But only one thing we know. God said, "Be ready, for we know not the day nor the hour." The day may be near when your account will be checked. Your record will reveal what your interests have been. Whether you have supported His church or helped a needy soul will be made known. Above, you see a severe storm with broken clouds lighted by lightning flashes. But what makes it worse... there goes a man-made moon. All this strange phenomenon makes it very clear that we should be about the Master's business... we should be ready... we should attend church.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Altar Society Gives Report On Month's Activities

Two visitors from Seminole, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Johnson, were among those present at the March 5th meeting of St. Williams' Altar Society, held in the rectory with 15 members and Fr. Walshe, spiritual director, present.

The dance of February 15 was reported as a success, and returns from this were added to the building fund for remodeling of the parish hall.

Two new members of the visiting committee, Mrs. T. C. Tubb and Mrs. George Reinert, reported visits made to the local hospital. Mrs. Reinert also gave a scriptural reading "The Sermon on the Mount" followed by a short talk.

Attendance at the CCD Teachers Training Course in Lamesa which was temporarily postponed by those from St. Williams in February, will be resumed again soon. Mrs. Frank Kimball, the driver, underwent a major operation but is progressing fine now. Prayers and Masses have been offered for her recovery in appreciation for the great service she has rendered in driving from Seminole each Sunday since beginning of catechism classes last fall. January 26 Mrs. George Reinert kindly took over this class.

The Feast of the Dedication of St. Williams March 17 will be celebrated with a parish get-together and covered dish supper Sunday, March 16, after the 7:30 p.m. Stations of the Cross at the Church. The supper will be held in the Community Building.

Thanksgiving Masses will be offered March 15, 16 and 17 for the Spiritual Blessings to the parish the three years since the church was dedicated.

A confirmation class will start in about two weeks for those wishing to receive Confirmation in June. Fr. Walshe will teach this class each Saturday, he announced at the meeting. The three Christian Doctrine classes taught each Sunday morning before Mass will continue as usual. The clothing committee reported some boxes for overseas would be packed soon with clothing brought in since the fall rummage sales, also that locally, hospital garments would be furnished for those who could not supply their own.

Mrs. B. G. Smith of Seagraves gave a short demonstration on how to prepare the sick room for a person to receive Extreme Unction (Last Anointing.)

After the business session, a shower was given honoring Mrs. Ted Noel of Seagraves, who is moving to Lamesa. The Altar Society members join in thanking her for the cooperation she has given in the short time she has been with them and extend wishes for happiness in her new home. Appreciation is also expressed to Mrs. Buzz Hudson of Seagraves, who will take over as chairman of No. 4 luncheon committee.

Mrs. Bill Richards, Mrs. Jerry Paquin and Mrs. Sonntag were named as the new committee for purchasing food for the luncheons. Mrs. T. C. Tubb also assumed her new duties as secretary of the Society.

Mrs. A. C. Copeland has been in the hospital at Brownfield the past two weeks. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Copeland, Jan and Joan visited her over the weekend. We are glad to report she is better.

Soil

sandy loam (mixed land) or a clay loam (hardland) topsoil. The Potter soils are limey, gray soils that are found on the slopes leading down to the draws. Kimbrough soils are very shallow red soils and resemble a very shallow Arvana. They usually occur next Amarillo on the upper edges and next to Potter on the lower end of the draw. Both soils are very shallow with less than 10 inches of topsoil. Potter soils have a subsoil of soft caliche, while Kimbrough soils rest on hard caliche.

These shallow soils grow a good cover of grass when they are in good condition but can go down hill rapidly from drouth and heavy grazing. Since this area does not grow shinnery these pastures are frequently grazed very heavily during shinnery season. Drouth, heavy grazing and other factors have enabled a very serious invader to become a problem on these soils. This invader is broom snakeweed or turpentine. This pest has spread rapidly on these soils during the past few years and is now a serious problem.

In addition to their shallow depth, lack of water storage for annual crops, steep slopes and low productivity of annual crops make these soils unsuitable for cultivation.

Tax Sam Sez:

The Internal Revenue Service offices are having tax information days every Monday morning again this year in the North Texas offices between January 1 and April 15. Every year more taxpayers are learning that the best way to figure their tax is to spend time studying the tax instructions and figuring out for themselves just what they owe. Once upon a time a few taxpayer took all their checks and a tow sack full of receipts down to the Internal Revenue Service office and the tax people spent a lot of time adding up their income and deductions for them. The Revenue folks decided, however, that it was the taxpayer's job to do his own accounting and that the tax folks should spend their time answering questions and showing the taxpayer where to put the figures instead of doing a while lot of simple accounting for a few taxpayers. If you have any questions or need help in getting your income on your tax return, the tax folks will be glad to have you come in. If you need help in doing your adding and subtracting, you probably need to find a good tax practitioner to help you.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crump and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Romans and Virginia, Maureen Phillips and Joan Fisher were in Austin with the Paul Cobb's for the Championship games last week.

TO EXPAND YOAKUM COUNTY HOSPITAL FACILITIES TO PLAINS

The People of Yoakum County have seen the need to expand the hospital facilities of Yoakum County by furnishing a clinic for and providing a doctor for Plains. They have petitioned the Commissioners Court to Call an election for the approval of issuing of bonds to provide the facilities, the election to be held Saturday.

The bond issue, which is not to exceed $60,000 will provide an office, examining rooms, X-ray equipment, etc., for the doctor in Plains, with the operating facilities and rooms at the Denver City hospital to be used for his hospitalized patients.

It is believed that the clinic for Plains will not only relieve the congestion of the waiting rooms in the Denver City hospital but will furnish the Plains people with the medical services which are needed.

WEST TEXAS C of C's TO HAVE OVER $2.25 MILLION IN BUDGET FOR '58

More than $2.25 million will be subscribed to local chamber of commerce budgets in West Texas in 1958, a survey by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce reveals.

The survey, conducted by the community services department of the regional chamber, reports that the combined budgets of 104 West Texas cities for 1957 were approximately $2 million. The results were published in the February issue of the WTCC's monthly magazine, WEST TEXAS TODAY.

Anticipated increases in budget support in 1958 in expected to push this year's total to more than $2.25 million. The total for all West Texas chambers of commerce would probably be much higher if all the communities with chamber of commerce had reported their budgets for 1957 and 1958, WTCC officials said.

The survey included information on cities ranging in size from 750 population to over 370,000. Highest per capita budget support represented in relation to the chamber budget was in Crosbyton with a $2.73 per capita average. Next highest was the Ochiltree County Chamber in Perryton with a $2.69 per capita average.

Sixty of the chambers reporting plan to increase the size of their budget in 1958, with the largest reported increase to be in Post. Post plans a 333 per cent increase.

Only one of 104 reporting cities plans to decrease its chamber budget.

Childress had the largest percentage of its budget raised in 1957, with 118 per cent. No city reported that it had raised less than 75 per cent of its budget; and only four cities did not raise more than 75 per cent.

The combined total budgets of the reporting towns for 1957 is $2,135,469. Anticipated budget increases for 1958, which are being planned by more than half the cities, will amount to about $161,627, an average increase over 1957 of more than seven per cent for the 104 cities.

The expected combined total budget for the reporting cities for 1958 will be about $2,297,096.

Local chamber minimum yearly dues ranged from $5 to $50 for individuals. Minimum yearly dues for businesses ranged from $10 to $60. Six cities require minimum dues from businesses of $60.

Fifteen of the cities included in the survey own their office buildings. Only 25 of the 104 chambers of commerce are not chartered under Texas law. Most of the non-chartered chambers are in the smaller communities, many of which do not have full-time, professional managers.

The 1957 survey is the sixth conducted by the WTCC community services department. Among the items included in the survey are population, percentage of budget raised, total salaries paid, percentage of budget used for salaries, per capita represented in relation to budget, anticipated budget increases for 1958, whether the chamber owns its offices, whether it is chartered under Texas law, the minimum yearly dues for both individuals and businesses and the total budget.
