The latter part of August is an ideal time to put in some rye or other small grain for cover next winter. When these are seeded early they have a chance to make a good growth before cold weather.

The benefits of small grain are numerous. They not only furnish cover to protect the land from wind erosion during the winter months but add organic matter to the soil and can be valuable for grazing or for seed. These winter crops enable the irrigation farmers to extend the use of his irrigation water and make his investment in irrigation pay during the winter as well as during the summer. Many people have thousands of dollars tied up in irrigation equipment which stands idle during a large portion of the year.

Some cooperators are planning to include some vetch with their small grain in order to have a legume growing with the grain to help add organic matter and nitrogen.

Cost share is available through the ACP program for seeding these winter cover crops. Prior approval should be secured before the practice is started.

Some additional information has been received concerning prussic acid poisoning of cattle from eating sorghum alnum.

Losses have been reported in Gaines County and at least one cow has been lost in Yoakum. Some care seems to be necessary when the grass is to be grazed. There are antidotes for prussic acid poisoning but you seldom have time to give them in time to save the animal. Research has shown that the acid content of Sorghum is highest during the first 12 to 26 inches of growth of the grass and then the acid content takes a sudden decline. Johnson grass starts with a low amount and the content rises with the growth of the grass.

From information received it seems advisable to not graze the grass until it is 26 to 36 inches tall and then to take precautions. When the grass is to be grazed the first time the cattle can be grazed for only a short time and observed closely for symptoms or allow two or three animals to graze on the area and observe them be-

Farmers asked not to plow within road right of way

Mr. H. C. McDonnell, Maintenance Foreman, of the Yoakum County Highway Department, stated that many of the farmers are plowing within the highway right of way. The Highway Department advises that they must take the necessary steps to blade down, smooth and otherwise eliminate plowing and planting work within the right of way, because they are attempting to resection and widen the roadway on all their roads as well as keep the roadway. This plowing and planting constitutes a hazard to the traveling public and it is a detriment to effort to maintain proper drainage along this area.

Mr. McDonnell also stated that it would be appreciated if farmers would avoid future plowing and planting within any highway right of way. He said, "If any of you are in doubt as to the limits of the right of way, we will be glad to consult with you and assist you in staking the right of way along your property."

AUSTIN, Tex.—Although the main bout of the political summer is over, there's still considerable commotion ahead.

Generating a little extra heat during the scorching weeks ahead will be these events: STATEWIDE RUNOFF: Only one race for statewide office, a place on the Supreme Court, remains to be decided at the Aug. 23 primary.

In a one-contest race like this, the candidates' big problem is likelihood of being ignored. A tiny segment of authorized voters could tip the election.

State Democratic Chairman Jim Lindsey has reminded county chairmen that the law re-decided. Twelve incumbent representatives are involved in these runoff.

SPEAKERSHIP RACE: Hanging in the balance of the 30 House of Representatives runoff races is the outcome of months of persistent campaigning for one of the key posts in state government—Speaker of the House.

Speaker is elected by fellow House members. Candidates are Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, seeking a second term, and Rep. Joe Burkett Jr. of Kenville.

After the July primary, each claimed to have 45 per cent of House members pledged to his side. This is not literally possible since only 80 per cent of the total membership has been elected.

But it illustrates the nip 'n tuck nature of the contest that probably won't be over until the last chip is down.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION: Climax to the precinct and county conventions—and all the struggle that preceded them—will be the state meeting in San Antonio Sept. 9.

It's known traditionally as the "governor's convention" with the nominee for governor and his supporters taking the lead in deciding on officials, committees and policies for the next two years.

Gov. Price Daniel, who worked harder at rallying moderate-conservative Democrats of precinct conventions than at his own race for renomination, predicts a comfortable margin of supporters at the state meeting.

BETTER DAYS—More students, more prosperous profits are in prospect on the campuses of Texas state colleges and universities this fall.

Commission on Higher Education predicts a total enrollment of more than 81,000 at the 18 tax-supported colleges, up from last year's 77,913.

Pay raises up to 20 per cent will begin in September for the state college teachers. It will put the "average" professor's annual salary between $5,000 and $7,000.

DRAGNET FOR LOAN SHARKS—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson filed suits in an Austin district court in an effort to squelch a new scheme for charging excessive interest on small loans.

Wilson's sent attacked "brokerage fees" being charge by some small loan companies in Austin, Texas Constitution limits its interest rates to 10 per cent. But "loan sharks" have been getting around this, says an assistant attorney general. They charge a legal rate of interest, then tack on a large "broker's fee," presumably for arranging the loan.

Until last spring, when credit insurance rates were sharply reduced, excessive insurance charges were regarded as the favorite dodge of lenders in getting around the 10 per cent limit.

Attorney General Wilson is asking the court to enjoin the loan companies from using "any indirect methods" of evading the law.

Efforts to pass measures strengthening the state's anti-usury laws have had up-hill going in past Legislatures. New tries are certain next year, some probably aimed at establishing a higher legal interest rate for small, unsecured, short-term loans than for long-term, secured loans.

A special state regulatory agency for loan companies, as for banks, also has been suggested.

WHO MOVES THE POLES?—A test suit is set for Aug. 12 to determine who bears the cost of moving utilities to make way for new interstate highways.

Attorney General Wilson filed suits in an Austin district court. Defendants are cities of Austin and Dallas, but the decision will ultimately affect many cities across the state.

Last Legislature passed a law permitting use of the federal-state highway funds to pay for necessary utility moving. But Wilson contends such payments would violate the constitutional prohibition against "donating" public money to corporations and individuals.

City governments, regarded as "municipal corporations" under the law, are vitally concerned with the outcome of the case. Texas League of Municipalities has predicted an adverse ruling would result in some $20,000,000 in utility moving costs for cities.

SELECTIVE SERVICE BIRTHDAY—Texas Selective Service system marks its 10th anniversary this summer.

Since the present Selective Service Act became effective in 1948, the state's 137 local draft boards have kept tab on millions of young men. During this period 117,000 Texans have been drafted—70,000 of them during the Korean action.

Little insect trouble reported in cotton fields

(Editor's Note: The following insect infestation report as of July 31 was prepared by the county agents, voc ag teachers, personal of Texas A&M and U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

Rains fell throughout the area during the past week. While only showers fell across the southern counties, good rains fell in most other localities. The added moisture improved the outlook for cotton which has an excellent set of fruit. Little insect trouble was reported.

Fleahoppers were present on cotton in most fields. While medium infestations were reported on scattered plantings in Hockley and Lynn Counties, populations were generally light. The heavy fruit set indicates little damage by the insect.

Bollworm activity increased somewhat in the southern part of the area. In most fields infestations were not sufficient to require control. Insecticides were applied to scattered plantings, where populations were somewhat heavier. The worms were reported in light infestations in most fields in other localities.

Cabbage loopers were present in most fields but populations were light in most instances. While occasional plantings had light egg populations, both eggs and loopers were scarce, even where heavier infestations had been observed earlier.

Aphids and false chinch bugs were reported on cotton in scattered fields. Such infestations were not reported as sufficient to seriously damage cotton.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

LOOKING (LEGALLY SPEAKING) You can tell a lot about people by the way they regard time. Do they put stock mostly in the past—their record; the present—their direct job in work or play; or the future—their plans. Why not use all three dimensions of time? Past experience to guide, the present for zest, and the future to realize dreams.

Lawyers report a sharp shift in the way people regard time and the law: Of old they thought of law in terms of past facts like failures to meet legal duties, misdeeds, etc.—facts useful chiefly in lawsuits. You still have to think of the record, since you may have to go to trial some time. So keep good records of your affairs. But more and more people now also think of the law in the future tense—in terms of built-in safeguards or plans which they want to go through without legal hitches.

Our heavy income and death taxes have made people plan ahead legally, rather than wait for the ax to fall. Any time you buy or sell a home or a business or make an investment you have choices of how you may do it—some wise, some not, in view of your circumstances. Should you insist on an abstract or accept or offer instead a title insurance policy? Your lawyer has a definite part to play in either event.

Should you do business as a sole proprietor, a partnership, or corporation? Do your contracts set out ways of meeting unexpected events? How best may you serve your estate (and also carry out our wishes)—by a will or a trust, or by direct gifts? While all of these point forward, the past in the form of court records can serve you by showing where trouble may come from.

As more and more people know the symptoms of legal trouble—where to look for legal hitches in plans before big trouble starts, there will be fewer law suits and better human relations. And where does trouble sometimes start? Most often where you lack a clear grasp of your relationship, your rights and duties, and your own and the other fellow's resources—in transactions involving large personal or financial stakes. (This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Social security man to be here Thursday, Aug. 14

Even though you continue working after reaching retirement age (65 for men and 62 for women), you may still, under certain conditions, be entitled to social security payments for one or more months according to John G. Hutton, district manager of the Lubbock social security office.

Mr. Hutton suggests the four-point test below for all persons who have sufficient social security work credits at retirement age and who have delayed filing application for old-age insurance benefits because of continuing employment or self-employment. You don't need a high score. A single "yes" answer may mean you can receive social security benefit payments for one or more months in a year.

- Here's the test: 1. Will your earnings this year be $2080 or less? 2. Have you earned $80 or less in any month since reaching retirement age and within the last 12 months? 3. Were you at least age 72 within the last 12 months? 4. If self employed, was there any month this year or within the last 12 months in which you did not carry on any business activity? "Don't forget," said Mr. Hutton "if you scored one 'yes' or better, call at the social security office with facts and figures as to your earnings. An expert interviewer will review your record and let you know if you qualify for payments." A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Plains on August 14, at 1:30 p.m. at the Co. Service office in the Courthouse.

'Posters USA' to be special exhibit at '58 State Fair

"Posters USA," an exhibition of more than 70 American posters ranging from the earliest in America through World War I, will be a featured attraction at the 1958 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 4-19. "Posters USA" will occupy the entire exhibit space in the huge Texas Hall of State of State Fair Park in Dallas.

The exhibit at the State Fair will be the only showing in Texas and one of 20 exhibitions of "Posters USA" planned in the United States during a two-year period. The nationwide tour began in September of 1957 at the Detroit Historical Museum and the exhibition is being circulated by the American Federation of Arts.

The posters to be exhibited were selected by the editors of American Heritage, The Magazine of History, from the Levi Berman collection. "Posters USA" is the first national showing of this unique collection.

Mr. Berman spent over 30 years assembling more than 5,000 posters, some purchased from other collectors and others rescued from attics and barns.

The outdoor poster came into its own about fifty years after the earliest known American example was produced—"The Great India Elephant" in 1832. Gradually, posters became the most important item in the budgets of competing circuses, outgrowths of the early wild animal shows.

"Posters USA" is divided into nine sections. The largest, "The Bright Lights," presents over thirty examples devoted to the theater and its stars, among them Lillian Russell, Anna Held, Frank Mayo as the over-popular Davy Crockett, and James O'Neill as the Count of Monte Cristo. Other categories show children offering the products of industry, minstrels with the colorful costumes and ingenious musical instruments, the pretty girl as salesman circus and animals shows, recruiting posters fashion posters, and a "pot-pourri" group selected for artistic or historic merit. This last section includes the only poster Toulouse-Lautrec designed for an American firm.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

Now is the time to put the second application of commercial fertilizer on lawns, trees and shrubs. Plants need extra plant food at this time of the year in order for them to build up into a good state of health before going into the winter. Fertilizer put on about the middle of August will become available to the plant during the next three months and this added plant food will cause increased growth and vigor.

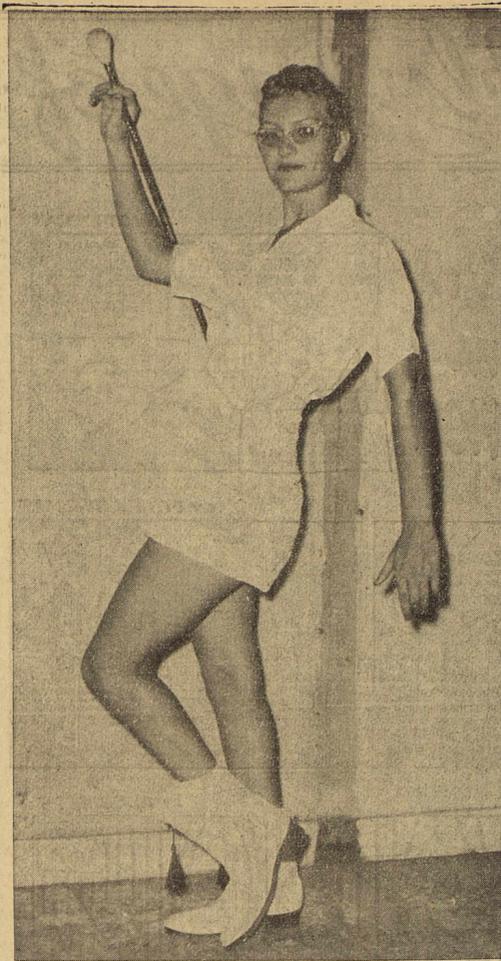

Frequent applications with light amounts seems to do more good than one heavy application each year. Two or three applications of fertilizer during the growing season should be sufficient. Each year some phosphorus should be added but when three applications are made each year, it is not necessary for phosphorus to be in each application. Perhaps the first application should contain phosphorus and the remaining two applications could be straight nitrogen. Three to four pounds of fertilizer to each 100 square feet should be enough for the entire year. Then, if three applications are made during the growing season one pound for each 100 square feet would be considered a light application.

People are inclined to be saving with their water during the latter part of the summer. Usually if fertilizer is added they will be more liberal with the water because they know that the moisture is necessary to dissolve the fertilizer. Another thing, when they spend their money for fertilizer they want to be sure that they do not get any burning effect from it so they add water to prevent the fertilizer burn.

Actually, the fertilizer should be a saving of water. When fertilizers are applied properly they will make the plant more drought resistant. When plants are large and thick they have a very high water requirement and water should be applied whether fertilizers are added or not. One large tree can use as much as 100 gallons of water each day. When large trees are growing in and around the yards, there is a very heavy drain on the soil moisture.

People who had peach trees enjoyed a crop of fruit this year. Most peach trees die at an early age in this area because of the wood borer that attack them. These borer are not bad to work on a healthy tree but they certainly like a tree that has a slow growth and low resistance. Any peach tree that produced a crop of fruit this year is likely to be in a run-down condition due to maturing a heavy crop. Unless these trees are fertilized and watered well between now and the frost date, they will invite the wood borer next year. This is another case where an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Fifty cents worth of fertilizer is a small reward to pay a tree that furnished you with three bushels of fine peaches.

Dream comes true as resident finds mother

A dream come true is what Mrs. Johnny Jones said when she was recently notified of her mothers whereabouts.

Mrs. Jones, formerly Helen Caperton, learned six years ago that her mother was believed to be living when her grandfather passed away in Arkansas and relatives tried to locate Mrs. Jones' mother who had moved to California twenty-four years ago and had not been heard from since.

Mrs. Jones, living in Houston at that time, notified the Traeger of Lost Persons who went to work trying to locate her mother. After a year had passed and she had received no word, she gave up hope of ever finding her mother.

Only a few weeks ago she received her mother's address. She immediately wrote to her and received a phone call from her mother, now Mrs. W. J. Walsh, telling her that she and her husband would come to Texas as soon as possible to see Mrs. Jones and her family. That dream too was fulfilled recently when Mr. and Mrs. Walsh arrived to Plains for a few days, visit to get acquainted with her daughter, son-in-law and two grandsons.

Mrs. Jones also has an older sister living in Kansas City, Missouri who she has never seen; however she has been corresponding with her since she learned her whereabouts. Her sister, Mrs. Spencer, was reared by a couple in New Mexico and Mrs. Jones was reared by her father and stepmother in Brownfield.

The whole family is looking forward to a family reunion next summer when the two daughters and their families are planning a trip to California to visit their mother.

PRESIDENT OF REBEKAH ASSEMBLY OF TEXAS MAKES VISIT TO PLAINS LODGE

Mrs. Pauline Ragsdale of Coleman, Texas, President of the Rebekah Assembly IOOF of Texas was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Plains Rebekah Lodge No. 158 last Friday night at the Plains IOOF Hall. Other Lodges participating included Tahoka No. 290, Brownfield No. 56, Seminole No. 42, Denver City No. 116 and Seagraves No. 51.

Mrs. Jewel Blevins, district deputy president, introduced Mrs. Ragsdale and also recognized the Plains lodge deputy, Ruth Maynard, and the visiting lodge deputies from Denver City, Seminole, and Brownfield.

Mrs. Ragsdale's theme is "Knowledge." Her slogan is "Knowledge as the Key to Friendship, Love and Truth." Her symbol is a Golden Key.

A floor drill was given by the Denver City Rebekahs, at the climax of the drill they formed the letters F. L. & T. and closed by forming a cross.

Mrs. Ragsdale stressed interviews between the different lodges as a means of promoting fellowship and better attendance.

At the close of her talk she read the following poem:

The Golden Key
By Carrie Jacobs Bond
"I found a golden Key one day
Upon the path I trod
And it unlocked a golden door"

The door that led to God
And as I looked inside I saw
These words upon the wall
"Your God is Love and Love
Brings Work
There's Love and Work for all."

No idle life can happy be
We all should do our part
Should work awhile and play awhile
With all our soul and heart
For all who do their work with joy
Grim toil can live no more
And in their hand they'll find the key

That opens every door."
Fried chicken and all the trimmings, served by the Plains Rebekahs, was enjoyed by seventy three members of the different lodges.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ryan, Mike and Debbie visited relatives in Levelland, Sunday.

Friends of Precinct 1 and Yoakum County -

It may be a bit unusual for a person not making a political race to take this means to convey to you their thoughts at a time when newly-elected officials and candidates are expressing themselves through means of this newspaper, but I have a sincere desire to thank you for the pleasant way you have cooperated to make my administration as your County Commissioner a pleasant one during my tenure in office.

My desire is to serve in a fair, impartial manner with decisions that will help make Yoakum County a better place to live and at the same time keep within the county budget.

Please let it not be said that this is a political announcement, as I don't believe any individual can tell you what his or her desires might be politically speaking, that far in advance. I merely take this means to thank each of you for your kindness to my employees and myself.

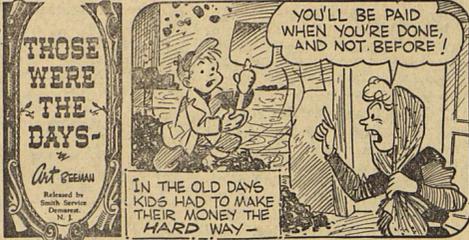

Do not hesitate to call on me for anything you may have in mind, and I'll give it every possible consideration.

Thanks again, Folks, for many, many pleasant hours and all the kind words of encouragement.

Warm Springs Foundation faced with desperate need for funds

In the next 60 to 90 days, Texas' famous physical rehabilitation center, the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, must either make the grade financially or close its doors to handicapped Texas citizens. Approximately 4,500 patients have received comprehensive treatment since the center opened in 1941. Faced with a deficit of $100,000 as the result of a dramatic shift from polio care to the treatment of numerous other handicapping injuries and diseases, the Foundation's state-wide board of directors was called into emergency session Sunday. While polio care has been extensively financed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, few funds are available for patients suffering brain damage, spinal cord injury, strokes, and such diseases as cerebral palsy, muscular dystrophy, and multiple sclerosis.

fore the herd is allowed to graze. As with any green feed it is a good practice to make sure that the cattle have a full paunch of dry feed when they are first turned into the pasture so that too much green feed will not be taken at one time.

Most of our Sorghum Alum is above the early growth stage now but the prussic acid content of sorghum is raised anytime there is a disturbance of growth. This may be a long dry spell followed by a good rain when rapid growth resumes, or following frost. Plants killed by frost generally have a high prussic acid content for a week or so and during this period it is not advisable to graze on sorghum.

Grain sorghum crops over the District are looking good and not only have prospects of a good grain yield but are producing some good cover to hold the soil together when the winds come next spring. This stubble can be a valuable asset if it is managed in such a way to be most effective against wind erosion. The height of the stubble has a direct bearing on how effective it is in holding down the speed of the wind. The higher we can leave our stubble the more good it can do. When cutting feed for bundles, ensilage, or grain a little higher stubble in the field may be of more value to you next spring than a few extra pounds of stalk hauled in for feed.

The history of a civilization is not the history of its battles; it is the story of men's struggle against starvation.

The new program of the National Foundation will not provide patient care help for patients other than polio in the immediate future, spokesmen from the Foundation told the Warm Springs board.

No child whose condition could be helped by the non-profit center has ever been turned away for lack of funds, and the Welfare program has also been extended to adults.

"It is our fervent hope that the Foundation's many friends, when appraised of this need for additional funds, will come to the aid of this truly outstanding work," R. I. Payne of Dallas, president, said.

Stringent economies in the center's operation, special efforts to raise funds for immediate needs, an emergency public information and fund-raising campaign, and the establishment of a long-range fund-

Commemorative stamp features conservation

The 4-cent Forest Conservation commemorative stamp, which goes on First-day sale on October 27, 1958, at Tucson, Arizona at the Annual Meeting of the American Forestry Association, will be printed in three colors on the Giori press in yellow, brown and green. The stamp, 0.84 by 1.44 inches, arranged vertically, features the major aspects of forest conservation, including new growth of young trees and the harvesting of mature timber under scientific forest management; home and shelter for wildlife and birds; and protected watersheds.

This first forest conservation stamp in history commemorates the 100th anniversary of the birth of Theodore Roosevelt, one of the earliest forest conservationists in the country. It also salutes the many private and public agencies which have played a larger part in the progress made in the protection and wise use of the Nation's natural resources.

The Forest Conservation stamp was designed by Rudolph Wendelin, staff artist for the United States Department of Agriculture. Mr. Wendelin has specialized in art and illustrations of forestry conservation and was given a Superior Service Award in 1957 by the Department of Agriculture for outstanding excellence in this field.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Tucson, Arizona, together with money order remittance it over the cost of the stamps to be affixed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap turned in or sealed. The outside envelope to the Postmaster at Tucson should be endorsed "First Day Covers Forest Conservation Stamp." Collectors should bear in mind that this is a vertical stamp and envelopes should be addressed in the lower left corner, particularly when blocks are desired.

The first day cancellation at Tucson, Arizona will portray the head of "Smokey Bear" and the wording "Keep America Green."

Texas schools to get increase in federal lunch funds for this year

First installment of $5,488,245 of federal funds for Texas schools in the national school lunch program will be released by the food distribution division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Dallas, around September 1, reports John J. Slaughter, chief of the Dallas AMS office.

Texas Public schools will get $5,166,017, an increase of $661,499 over last year and private schools will get $322,228, an increase of $72,570, according to Slaughter.

Funds appropriated by Congress for the program are released to the states according to the number of children between 5 and 17 years of age, inclusive, and the relation of the per capita income in the U. S. to the per capita income in the state.

The public school allotment for Texas will be used by the Texas Education Agency to reimburse schools in part for the food bought from local merchants. Texas private schools secure their allotments directly from Slaughter's office. Last year about 3,000 public and 131 private schools operating under the school lunch program spent about $20,780,935 with local merchants for food, Slaughter said. They served 90,860,139 meals, nearly all with a half pint of milk and the average cost was about 25.4 cents during November, the peak month of participation last year.

"With the use of USDA funds and foods, schools can keep the cost of lunches at the lowest possible level," Slaughter said, emphasizing that each school determines the cost of its lunches on a non-profit basis.

The program is designed to improve the diets of school children and to enlarge the market of farmers. At the same time, it creates local business and jobs.

Texas public schools which have not been in the program but wish to participate this next school year should contact Charles M. Hicks, Texas Education Agency, Capitol Station, Austin.

Feature races on tap at "Downs"

Friday, August 8, will feature an Allowance race for three and four-year-olds going a mile. This event is designed as a prep race for most of the eligibles of the Thoroughbred Derby and the Thoroughbred Maturity. The Maturity is to be run August 16 and is for four-year-olds exclusively. The Derby is to be decided August 30 and is for three-year-olds.

Top contenders for the Maturity, at the present time, seem to be Biflash, Nascent, By Ganny, Vole, Bolopere and Porne Right. Biflash has been competing with the best here and has won. Nascent is a recent arrival from Agua Caliente and has won his only start at Ruidoso. He ran well on the West Coast during the '57 season and is highly regarded by his owner. Several of the other eligibles may earn a starting place, should they run creditably.

Several promising three-year-olds are on the grounds and should make this year's Derby one of the better races of the summer. Hana Chief, owned by Roy Gaines of Sinton, Tex., has indicated her fitness by winning her only two starts of the meet in clever style. This rugged filly won last year's running of the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity and the $8,729 purse. Dust Bowl is also a two-time winner at this meet and closes in a manner to suggest that the mile distance will be no handicap to him. Other eligibles include: Spring Dawn, Sleepy Ned, Aeronet, Gallikapi, Tail Beauty, Bangs Victory, Floy's Delight, Diamond Dipper and Sharp Steel.

Saturday's feature is "The New Mexican" a 6 furlong Handicap. An early favorite for the race might well be No Gal, recently purchased by W. L. McDonald of Artesia, N. M., who has had the pleasure of seeing him win three races on three successive weekends. Apparently in the best form of his career this son of Tim Signal has developed a strong stretch run that has proven to much for his rivals.

The eligible list for the New Mexico Bred Thoroughbred Futurity is headed by the fined filly Nosey Josey, winner of the open Futurity for the youngsters. Winners of seven races to date this fleet filly may be the best New Mexico bred that has ever raced at the 'Downs'.

To hold hearing on field consolidation

A hearing will be held by the Railroad Commission of Texas on August 19, to consider the advisability of consolidating the Wasson 72 and the Russell (7000 ft. Clearfork Sand) Fields, in Gaines and Yoakum Counties.

If such a consolidation is found feasible, further action will include the adopting of special field rules for the resulting field.

Public hearing on county budget set for August 18

A public hearing on the proposed budget of the County of Yoakum for 1959 will be held Monday morning, August 18, at 10 o'clock, in the commissioners' court room at Plains.

Date for the hearing was set at a meeting of the commissioners Monday.

In other action, the commissioners approved the list of delinquent or insolvent taxpayers, errors in assessments, list of land and lots delinquent as of June 30, 1958, for taxes for 1957, and the supplementary assessment roll, as submitted by Robert Chambliss, tax assessor-collector for Yoakum County.

The court also approved the appointment of Charles Davis as a bonded deputy sheriff for the purpose of Davis' operating a bonded Patrol for the business houses of Denver City. The appointment was effective as of August 1.

The deputation of Mrs. Lela Craig as a deputy tax assessor collector at a salary of $270 a month, effective August 1, was approved, and hospital and medical bills in the amount of $279.80 for Mrs. Alva Babcock were authorized to be paid.

August 23 is date of Democratic primary run-off

Although there is but one state-wide run-off and Yoakum County has only one run-off election, all nine voting boxes in the county will be open for voters for the second Democratic primary Saturday, August 23.

R. W. Woodward, county Democratic chairman, said Wednesday that voters in most of the county will be balloting only on the choice of Robert Hamilton or J. Edwin Smith as Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Place 1.

However, voters in Box 4 (at Court House in Plains) and Box 5 (at CG&S Gin) will be selecting a Commissioner of Precinct 4. The run-off race between Clyde Trout and Paul Loe for the post is gaining considerable steam and interest is high in the voting area. In the first primary, Trout, who is seeking another term as commissioner, received a total of 102 votes, with Loe garnering 72. The other 52 votes balloted went to the third man in the race, Johnnie Fitzgerald. Just how the vote will go in the second primary is a matter of speculation, and one which is the topic of conversation not only in the north part of the county, but elsewhere as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bookout and Sue, returned home Saturday from a two weeks visit in California. The Bookout family accompanied an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Yoakum Democrats seek unified party movement

Yoakum County's delegation to the state Democratic convention at San Antonio September 9 will go to the meeting working for a unified party and solid front in the 1960 presidential campaign.

The county's delegates will go uninstructed to the state convention, where policies of Texas Democrats are formulated.

Delegates to the meeting were elected at the county convention Saturday at the courthouse, and together with alternates, are A. B. Carpenter, Bruce Boyd, Vernon Townes and Claude Freeman.

The convention, County Democratic chairman R. B. Woodward reported, took the attitude of seeing no reason to favor either side "to the extreme" in the state meeting, in regard to support of either Governor Price Daniel or Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Democrat leaders who may get into a pitched battle at San Antonio over party leadership in Texas.

"We favor trying to mend the sores of our party," said he. He referred to the split in the Democratic party in 1952, effects of which were felt again in 1954 and 1956.

In 1952, many Democrats splintered away from the party to support Republican Dwight Eisenhower for the presidency.

The convention discussed the proposition of party registration which would provide for the elector's declaration of party preference when obtaining the poll tax or exemption receipt but it was decided to table any action until context and plan of the resolution was clarified.

The convention did go on record as soundly favoring the majority rule as to seating of delegates, and adopted precinct resolutions.

T. A. Elmore named to head sorghum group

At a meeting of more than twenty farmers last week in the district court room, Mr. T. A. Elmore was elected as temporary chairman of the Yoakum County Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Mr. Bill Nelson of Amarillo, who is field man for all organized groups was speaker at the meeting. He stated that 19 counties now have county organizations whereby the farmers could work together to promote the commodity they produce.

Mr. Elmore will be in charge of making contacts with grain buyers and farmers and setting up a permanent organization if the people so desire. Farmers who wish to contribute to the organization may do so by donating two pounds of grain sorghum for each 1,000 pounds of grain that they sell.

REAPING

"And they took the fruit of the land in their hands and brought it down to us." Deut. 1:25. Isn't that just like God's children...

always ready to lend a helping hand, or to give an extra portion — all if necessary. When the crop is ripe, the reaping done and the bounties stored away, do you ever stop to thank God? Maybe your inventory still shows all you ever possessed. Better realize it all came from God and give back a portion. How is it right now with you and yours? It is reaping time but what will your harvest be? Do you support His cause, His church, or, are you one of the would-be self-sufficient? Why not begin right now to use your harvest to help bring in the Kingdom?
