Cowboys to clash with Farwell here Friday night

Turning in stellar performances this season in the Cowboy line have been Tommy Warren, Don Cook and Claude Lee. The local team meets a tough opponent this Friday night in the Farwell Steers, the game being rated as one of the top Class "A" contests on the South Plains. REVIEW Photo

The Farwell Steers come to Plains tonight for what promises to be a top Class "A" battle on the South Plains. Farwell and Plains are both untied and undefeated for the season. They bring an experienced team to Plains that has size as well as speed.

The man guiding their split "T" offense is Johnny Lovelace, a 190 pound quarterback. Lovelace is outstanding on both offense and defense. Also showing good speed and deception in the Steer backfield is 155 pound Charles Hoggins.

Top linemen for Farwell are Jimmy Lovelace, 165 pound center and Robert Carthel, 175 pound tackle.

The only common foe of both teams was Morton. Plains defeated Morton 20-0. Farwell defeated them 49-0.

Coaching for the second season at Farwell is J. D. Atwell. His record there to date is 12 victories and 2 losses. Coaching with Atwell is Shelby Jones, who is a former Plains Coach.

The Plains Cowboys hopes hinge on getting several injured boys back into action.

Don Todd is hobbled with a bad knee, Walt Coffman has an injured neck. Bill Lattimore has a bruised hip. It is hoped that all of these boys will be back ready for action this week.

In a game that was not as close as the score indicated the Plains Cowboys defeated the Whiteface Antelopes before a large homecoming crowd Friday night by a score of 48-14. The Cowboys were led by their three high scoring backs and a very stout defense.

Early in the second period Coach Pierce removed his first team and turned the remainder of the game over to the reserves. The Antelopes were not allowed a single first down during the time the first team was on the field and only made 2 in the first half.

Plains received the kickoff and did not give up possession of the ball until Cordell Huddleston passed to Jim Williams for 10 yards and the first Plains score. A pass from Huddleston to Walt Coffman was good for the extra points.

Joe Don Morrow ran 8 yards for the second touchdown after the Plains team had kicked off to Whiteface and held and forced the Antelopes to punt. This followed a drive of about 60 yds. The try for point or points this

Early days are recalled

An early day resident of Yoakum County, Mrs. J. V. Been says she thought that she had come to the "back side of nowhere" that November day in 1920 when she first saw the prairie around Plains.

It must have been quite a contrast to Mrs. Been, who had always lived in a wooded area. Mrs. Been, nee Lucy Poe was born December 17, 1889 in Columbia County near Magnolia, Arkansas, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Poe.

In 1893 Mrs. Been's father and brothers, Hosey and Sam, and a hired hand, Will McClain left Arkansas in a covered wagon and came to Carbon, Texas in Eastland county. They lived in a tent on the section of land her father had bought. From Arkansas Mr. Poe brought his work stock, two mares and a milk cow. The cow provided milk for the group as they traveled cross country in the covered wagon.

Two months later Mrs. Been's mother prepared to join her husband in Texas. Mrs. Poe and her younger children including Mrs.

Been, age four, and her sisters, Nettie and Emmy, and brother, Jim, boarded a train for Texas. They were met at Cisco, Texas by her father. She says that there was a "blue blizzard" raging in that area at the time they arrived.

When they arrived at the farm they lived in the tent until the two carloads of lumber her father had hired cut from his Arkansas land arrived and their house was built. The remaining lumber was used for improvements on the place.

Mrs. Been attended school at Live Oak school and Scranton Academy near Cisco.

It was while attending school at Live Oak that she met her future husband, Virgil Been, age 13 at that time. Her brother Hosey Poe was the teacher. Besides teaching the farm and broke work horses, Mrs. Been says that one day a recently "broke" mule kicked out of the traces and her brother jokingly told Mr. Been that if he would put the mule back in, the traces that he would give him the licenses when he married his sister.

Ten years later he made good his promise when Mr. and Mrs. Been were married in the home of her parents on August 13, 1911.

For the next nine years Mr. and Mrs. Been lived on a 46 acre stock farm near Carbon. It was here that their two children Alma Lynn (now Mrs. Rusty McGinty) and Travis were born.

On November 20, 1920 the family came to Plains to live on the almost four sections of land, thirteen miles west of town that Mr. Been had purchased earlier. Mrs. Been says that there was a drug store, a filling station, two churches, and two grocery stores that had less groceries in them than she now has in her pantry.

After Alma Lynn and Travis completed grammar school at the Moreland school Mrs. Been, Alma Lynn and Travis moved to Canyon to attend high school since there was no high school in Yoakum County. After Alma Lynn and Travis graduated from high school Mrs. Been and Tra-

One of the big changes taking place in agriculture is the change from diversification to specialization. A farmer in Yoakum produces cotton and grain sorghums and that is all. He buys all his needs from the other fellow and produces very little of his daily needs on the farm. Most farmers do not have a milk cow or any hens to furnish fresh milk and eggs for family use. They do not try to raise their own meat on the farm. Many of them will buy a 200 pound shoit from their neighbor, have it slaughtered and cured and put in their frozen food box for use as it is needed. They figure the pig cost them a few dollars more than it would if they had raised it but the trouble it would have been to raise the pig was all done away with.

That kind of business puts all the pork production on someone else and is the main reason for some people trying to specialize in the hog business. When the hog producer follows the same pattern as other farmers and does nothing but produce hogs, then he has to figure out how many hogs to produce each year to make a satisfactory living. If he is going to use the pig parlor system he needs to know how big to build the feeding parlor in order to take care of his needs and also pay some interest on his investment.

A pig parlor large enough to handle 400 pigs at a time would handle 1,200 animals during the course of a year. If he made a profit of $8.00 per animal, his gross income would be $9,600 per year. He would have something like $40,000 invested in animals, equipment and feed. At 5% then, $2,000 of that $9,600 would be interest on the investment. The $7,600 remaining would be his pay for his labor which is not bad for a years work.

One man should be able to take care of all the labor required by 400 animals. His job would include feeding and caring for all the animals, cleaning the feeding barns, hauling off the refuse, marketing the animals and replacing the market animals with young pigs. With 1,200 head going through the parlor each year he would sell 100 market animals each month or about 25 head each week. This 25 head sold each week would have to be replaced each week so he would need a constant source of young pigs.

This source of young pigs presents a big problem. This is where he needs a buddy in the hog business who keeps breeding stock and depends on selling weaned pigs for his living. His buddy would have to produce 1200 weaners each year and if he got two litters of six pigs from each sow he would have 100 sows on his outfit. I wonder which man would make the most money, the breeder or the feeder. If the breeder had a contract and could get $10.00 each for weaned pigs, each sow would produce $120.00 worth of pigs a year. His gross income would be $12,000.00 per year and in order for him to make as much

Issue warnings against passing of school buses

"Three persons were killed and 89 injured in rural traffic accidents involving school buses in Texas during the first six months of this year," Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today.

"These deaths and injuries were the results of 19 accidents," the state police director said. State laws regulating traffic on highways read as follows: The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children. . . . The driver of a vehicle upon a highway with separate roadways need not stop upon meeting or passing a school bus which is on a different roadway or when upon a controlled-access highway and the school bus is stopped in a loading zone, which is a part of or adjacent to such highway and where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

"This means that the driver of the passing vehicle is responsible for taking the due caution. He is responsible for knowing that his proceeding past the bus will not result in endangering any lives," Garrison said. "Texas drivers should drive even more carefully than usual around school buses. No one has a child to spare."

money as the other man he would have to hold his expenses down to $4,400 per year or $44.00 for each breeding female. That would be enough money to buy each sow 400 pounds of protein feed and about 1,400 pounds of $1.50 milo. The old sow could just barely get by on that amount of feed and he would still have some males to feed. If he could raise seven pigs per litter instead of six, he would make more money than the feeder.

The two men together would furnish a market for about 850 acres of irrigated milo.

Still in the first quarter Huddleston passed to Jim Williams for 12 yards and a third score. Try for point failed.

Early in the second quarter Huddleston passed to Williams for 30 yards and the fourth touchdown. Try for points failed and the Cowboy reserves began to take over. Ray Faught ran 86 yards after taking a pass from Mike Culwell for the 5th touchdown and again the try for points were no good. Morrow then intercepted a pass and returned it 30 yards for a score and a pass from Culwell to Meixner added two more points.

To conclude the scoring Faught ran 60 yards after a short pass from Culwell and Eldridge Tidwell ran across the two points.

Whiteface score twice late in the fourth quarter on a 8 yard run by Wayland McClellan after which he ran the extra points and again on a 3 yard run by Jimmy Collins after which the extra points failed.

Bill Lattimore and Don Cook were especially outstanding in the line for the Cowboys.

Early days

vis returned to Plains. Alma Lynn remained in Canyon to attend West Texas State Teachers College, and Travis helped his father operate the ranch.

On three different occasions droughts caused considerable financial loss. During one of the droughts Mrs. Been says that all their stock with the exception of two milk cows and two saddle horses were sold.

An amusing incident related to us by Mrs. Been occurred about 1923, when Mr. and Mrs. Been went to help take care of one of their neighbors Mrs. Townsend had been bitten by a rattlesnake. It was almost 3 a.m. before they started to return home and the weather was below freezing. By the time they reached Aultman's windmill located in Luna's pasture and some eight or ten miles from the Been home, the car radiator had frozen. After using tomato cans to fill the radiator and making a futile search for burlap to tie over the radiator, there seemed only one possible solution to the situation. Mrs. Been contributed her petticoat and the embroidery was cut into strings and used to tie the remainder of the garment over the radiator on the final portion of the journey home.

Among some of her early day neighbors were Mr. and Mrs. George Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fields, and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Tingle.

Mrs. Been is a regular attendant at the First Baptist Church. She has been a church member since she was thirteen, and a member of the local Baptist church since 1922.

Mrs. Been remained at the ranch west of Plains after Mr. Been's death on June 28, 1957. In January of this year she moved to town and now resides just south of the city park. Much of her time is spent caring for her pot plants and working in her yard.

If it be Possible

LET THIS CUP PASS FROM ME Matthew 26:39

Even the Son of God could not always have His way. The cup did not pass. He drank it in calm, deliberate and majestic mood. God did not take away the cup but He did stand by in loving sympathy. In drinking that bitter cup Jesus became the Saviour of the world. God gave Him strength for the heroic deed and through His suffering He became perfect. You and I hold back and cry the same prayer. We tremble at the ordeal ahead and our faith shrinks when we know we must suffer the fate... lift the heavy load. But suffering seasons God's children and links them to Him for high adventure and noble service through His church.
