Introducing Marion McGinty—

Plains personalities on parade

Lifted from the cradle to the back of a Spanish pony, was Marion McGinty, our personality of the week.

Marion McGinty, born at Goliad, Texas, December 30, 1872, was the second of nine children. He had four brothers and four sisters. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. William Marion McGinty, who lived in the town of Goliad until Marion was about two years old then moved to the TZ ranch a few miles from Goliad. As they moved to the ranch, which his father owned, they had to climb a very steep hill. The buggy was loaded to capacity and was almost more than the horses could pull. As they neared the top of the hill the horses just could not go on. Mr. McGinty recalls that his father got out of the wagon and led the horses back down the hill and everyone got out of the buggy and walked up the hill making the load lighter for the horses.

Soon after they moved to the ranch, Marion was outside playing one afternoon when he heard shooting. Looking up he saw one cowboy riding out ahead of three or four cowboys. He sat there and watched as one shot rang out after another until they were out of sight. He now tells his grandchildren about seeing a real cowboy fight as they sit around and watch the cowboy movie on television.

One time when his father had gone to Louisiana, the grocery supply became very low. Marion, only six years old, and his mother saddled their horses and tied a large cotton sack to the saddle horn to bring the groceries home in and started to the store. Marion, liking to ride faster than his mother, would lag behind and play, then run to catch up. On one of these occasions his hat blew off but he just kept going, in hopes that his mother would turn back with him and get his hat for him. She refused and when he complained and said that the grocery sack would keep him from getting back on the horse, she told him to take it off. He did but it blew between his horse's legs and he started bucking. That was his first bronc ride and he said he probably would have never stayed up there if he had not had so much encouragement from his mother who called to him "Ride him, Marion, stay up there." The horse had always been known as a gentle old horse. Following the bucking incident they both turned back and found the lost hat.

Marion rode the range with the cowboys before he was six years old and was making a real cowboy at a very young age.

He attended a little country school near Goliad known as the Old Pickett School.

When Marion was about seven years old, the McGinty family moved to Correll County near Gatesville where his father

Caution motorists to use care near school crosswalk

An urgent plea that local residents take special care to watch for school children using the crosswalks over the highway was issued today by city, county and school officials.

"The near tragedy that occurred this week should serve as a constant reminder to all of us of the danger that lies in wait," Sheriff Robert Chambliss commented. The sheriff pointed out that the law requires a vehicle to come to a stop and allow pedestrians to cross within a crosswalk.

"There are mobile signs placed on the highway calling attention to the crossing for school children during school hours," the sheriff continued, "but it is only by making a definite effort to be conscious of the hazard that exists at the school crossings can motorists protect themselves and the children."

Near accidents have happened time after time at the school

Randolphs return from F U tour to Washington

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Randolph returned home from Washington, D. C. last Sunday where they attended the Farmers Union Convention, where they discussed farm legislation with congressmen from this area and visited other government offices.

Making the trip with them were 38 other delegates from Texas and about 80 other members of Farmers Union from Montana, North Dakota, and Minnesota. They traveled in 4 chartered busses, arranged by the state headquarters of their organization, and were the third of a series of such delegations going to the National Capitol this winter.

Mr. Randolph reports that his weeks stay in Washington was highlighted by developments on Capitol Hill looking toward passage this session of a new major farm bill.

Lawmakers from farm districts studied a number of bills to improve farm income. Two under special consideration were the "All Commodity Farm Income Act" by Rep. Lee Metcalf of Montana and the "Agricultural Income Equalization Act," introduced by Gen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia. We suggested that a combination of the two bills would be an acceptable program for the family farmer.

In talking with their congressmen, members of the four state delegation referred to the need for farm income improvement through more effective supply, control and consumption expansion, supplemented as necessary by deficient payments. Rural electrification, power transmission issues and the wider use of surplus food through special milk and school lunch programs and extensive foreign aid was also discussed.

In visits to the Department of State and Department of Agriculture, the delegation heard reports on the current world situation and some of the latest farm research efforts.

This is an annual affair when the women express their appreciation to these officials for their help in making this work possible to all women in Yoakum County, Mrs. Box said.

Willie Beggs is injured by car Wednesday noon

Charges of aggravated assault with a motor vehicle were filed Wednesday afternoon against Dallan G. Swilling of Plains after a six year old Plains boy was struck by the vehicle driven by Swilling.

The injured youth is Willie Beggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Beggs, who was taken to the Yoakum County Hospital for treatment of multiple cuts and bruises.

Bond of $1,000 was set in the case by County Judge Don Hancock.

According to highway patrolmen who investigated the accident, the youth was on his way home from school for lunch, and was using the crosswalk across the highway. One car had stopped at the crosswalk to allow the children to pass by, the patrolmen reported, when the Swilling vehicle passed the car and struck the Beggs child.

SNOW AND ICE which struck this area the past week made a winter wonderland of the landscape, before thawing winds and warming temperatures caused its disappearance. Mercury dropped to a low of 15 degrees Sunday, but by Tuesday the temperature had risen to a high of 41.

Four members added to local fire department

The Plains Volunteer Fire Department reported an attendance of 16 at their weekly meeting last Monday night. Four new members added this week are: Mutt Ryan, Buddy Hanna, Hoss Newsom and Don Cooke.

The Department made two runs last week. Both were of small consequence, we are glad to report. Trash blown from an open barrel burned dry grass and weeds beside a garage at the J. D. Campbell residence causing slight damage to the wall.

About 10:30 Thursday night they were called when wiring in the chicken house at the rear of the Donald Bookout residence shorted causing minor damage.

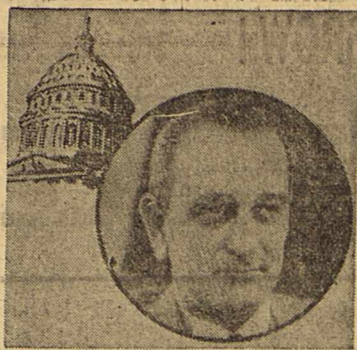

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kennedy were in the city Tuesday. They visited their children while here. The Kennedys farmed the Turner place near Bronco for a number of years before moving to Terry County near Gomez two years ago.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Sen. Lyndon Johnson

January 27, 1959

Dear Friend: Water—the dominant problem in Texas—is the target of new attack.

Legislation creating the United States Study Commission on eight great river basins in Texas was enacted into law by the last Congress. It was my privilege to introduce the bill.

Now, as one of my first acts of the new Congress, I have introduced an amendment broadening representation on the Commission by:

Adding to the Commission, a Member-at-Large, appointed by the Governor of Texas, who would represent the Texas Board of Water Engineers.

Separating the Guadalupe and San Antonio River basins to provide a Commission member for each.

In cooperation with State agencies, the Commission is responsible for preparation of plans aimed at fullest utilization of Texas' land and water resources.

This is good. But it is not enough.

Texas is not alone in facing a water problem. Nor is the Southwest. This is a problem of the Nation. It calls for total attack. The formula for success in

Visiting the Review plant

Last Friday afternoon were several dens of Plains Cub Scouts. The boys were taken on a complete tour of the plant, seeing how pictures were reproduced for the newspaper as well as how other machines operate. Shown above, front row, are Billy Taylor, Reg Trout, Ed Lee Hunter, Wayne such an attack was blueprinted two decades ago. Survival of the free world was at stake. The Nation was threatened from without. The answer was found in the "Manhattan Project." The goal was to unlock the inner secrets of the atom. The project succeeded.

Box and Jerry Hartman; back row, Rex Swann, Myron Goehry, Noel Claude Clananah, Jr., Tom Bedford and Mrs. Louise Goehry, den mother of Den No. 5. All the boys are members of Mrs. Goehry's den with the exception of Wayne Box and Jerry Hartman, who are in Den 3.

A new era of opportunity was opened to all mankind. Today, the water problem threatens the future of the Nation from within. Piecemeal attack is not enough. Successful solution demands unity of spirit and unity of action.

It is my firm hope the Senate will—during this Congress—lay before the President and offer to the people a program through which Texas and the Nation may solve our dominant common problem.

The time has come when we must dedicate the resources, the mental talent, the can-do spirit of our Nation to a second "Manhattan Project" — a Manhattan Project on water.

It's always open season for the man who didn't know it was loaded, or the man who rocked the boat.

Dirt Gardeners entertain Thursday at Silver Tea

The Plains Dirt Gardeners entertained with a Silver Tea Thursday evening in the County Club Room. Fifty eight guests registered and contributions were presented to the Fine Arts Club to apply on payment of the piano bought for use in the club room.

Mrs. W. M. Overton presided at the register and "Silver Tray."

The table was laid with a white Canadian Linen cloth and decorated with a red carnation valentine arrangement. Six miniature arrangements created around tiny angels playing musical instruments was one attraction.

A "Purple People Eater" (made of carnations) stood on his one toe and looked around with his one eye at the twenty other arrangements interpretative of the following song titles: "Wagon Wheels," "Home On The Range," "I've Got Spurs," "Desert Song," "On The Beach of Waikiki," "Springtime in the Rockies," "Old Gray Mare," "I Tot I Saw A Puddy Tat," "Cruising Down The River," "The Touch of God's Hand" and "He's Got The Whole World In Hand."

Marsha White, at the piano, furnished background music during the evening. Billie Bacon sang "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," and "Good Night Sweetheart," accompanied by Marsha.

Mrs. A. H. Bacon, club president, poured hot tea and coffee. Bread and butter sandwiches, cookies, and mints carried out the color scheme.

Hostesses were Mrs. Roger Harvey, Mrs. Leon Lewis and Mrs. Roy Stockstill.

Sin's Grip

How deep in the filth are you? Does sin have you in its clutch... under its control? Have you ever stopped to determine what is sordid and what is sublime in this life? God said, "the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous." Maybe it is time, right now, to consider your plight... that you are bound by the strong hand of sin. God is always ready to cast a life-line to those who call upon Him. He will lift you out of the murky confines of sin and loose the grip which has you entangled. It's a good time to about-face, to start going to church. Why not pledge to spend each Sunday in worshiping the Lord during the rest of this year. He said to cast your burdens upon Him and He would sustain you

Judgment is filed on contest of election case

Judgment on the motion for summary judgment hearing held in connection with the contest for election case filed by Paul Loe against Clyde Trout was filed with the district-county clerk.

The judgment as rendered by District Judge Truett Smith has been included with the transcript and forwarded to the appellate court at Amarillo for appeal. The judgment: Or the 9th day of January came onto be heard before the court in the above styled and numbered cause, the motion for summary judgment filed herein by contestant Paul Loe against contestee, Clyde Trout, after due and proper notice as required by law, and came the parties in person and by their duly authorized attorneys of record and announced ready for trial and hearing upon such motion. Whereupon the court duly and properly considered the pleadings of the respective parties, the agreed stipulations of fact entered into by the parties, said motion for summary judgment together with the ballots attached hereto and introduced in evidence hereinto and the arguments of counsel thereon and finds as follows:

1. This suit is an election contest, duly instituted by Loe as contestant against Trout as contestee, for the office of county commissioner of precinct 4 of Yoakum County. All parties are properly before the court at this time and the court has jurisdiction to proceed herein both under the pleadings and upon said motion for summary judgment.

2. In the general election held in Precinct 4, Yoakum County on November 4, 1958, contestant was the Democratic nominee for the office of county commissioner of said precinct. In such election, the returns showed that contestant received 58 votes for such office and contestee received 69 write in votes therefor by reason of which contestee has been certified as being the duly elected county commissioner for such precinct and has qualified and taken oath of office thereto.

3. The pleadings of the parties hereto were and are sufficient in law to authorize the opening of the ballot and stub boxes in each of the voting precincts in said county precinct and to authorize an inspection of the various ballots and stubs cast therein.

4. That the ballot and stub boxes in each of said voting precincts were opened and ballots and stubs found were inspected in full compliance and accordance with law.

5. Said ballots were retabulated in the manner required by law.

6. Contestant's motion for summary judgment is predicated and based upon the pleadings of the parties and the stipulations of fact entered into concerning the ballots and stubs found, which said ballots and stubs boxes, which said ballots are referred to and incorporated in said motion for summary judgment, together with the ballots and stubs themselves.

7. The retabulation of said ballots conclusively establishes that contestant received a majority of the legal votes cast in said election, unless votes Nos. 497, 476, 483 and 490 are entitled to be counted.

8. If said ballots are entitled to be counted then issues of fact are properly raised by the pleadings which would necessitate a trial hereof upon their merits.

9. On each of said ballots, the voter scratched the name of Loe as candidate and wrote in the name of Clyde Trout in the space provided therein for the office of justice of peace, but did not write in the name of Trout in the space provided therein for the office of county commissioner.

10. That said ballots are not entitled to be counted as a vote for the contestee, Trout, for the office of commissioner.

11. That contestant's motion for summary judgment is well taken and should be granted.

12. The contestant, Paul Loe, did in fact receive a majority of the legal votes cast in said elec-

NOTICE

The Yoakum County Farmer's Union will have their regular meeting February 12 in the club room in the old court house at 8:00 p. m.

1,685 obtain poll taxes by deadline

A last minute surge before the Saturday deadline upped the total of poll tax holders to 1,685, it was reported this week by E. W. Craig, chief deputy tax assessor-collector for Yoakum County.

"We feel that's a pretty good number," Craig's commented, "considering this is an off election year. It indicates a healthy interest by the residents in the affairs of the county and city."

It is estimated by officials that there are possibly 2,500 residents eligible to vote in the county. A few more than 2,100 held poll tax receipts last year, however, 1958 was a major election year and interest in voting is always higher at that time.

Craig also reminded owners of motor vehicles that license tags are now on sale, and may be obtained at his office in Plains or at the sheriff's office in Denver City.

Mr. Foy Cogburn was in Lubbock on business Wednesday.

CONGRATULATIONS
Birthday and anniversary congratulations this week to: Jerry Jones, Linda Taylor, G. P. Beane and Roy Lowery on February 9; Beth Ann Hale on February 10; Gerry Anderson on February 11; Mrs. Leo White, D. M. Gray, Georgia Gray and Berry Fisher on February 12; Bill Lattimore on February 13; Darlene McDonnell, Brenda Sudderth and Don McGinty on February 14; and Carol Rowland on February 15.

Mrs. Myrtle Patterson returned home on Monday after being at the bedside of her grandson, Bradley Redwine, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Redwine who had been critically ill in a San Angelo hospital. Mrs. Patterson reported he had rallied remarkably fast and was doing fine when she left.

WE SALUTE THE CUB SCOUTS OF PLAINS

FEBRUARY 7-13

49th ANNIVERSARY

CONGRATULATIONS

on the splendid Progress and Achievement of your organization during its first months of operation

A GREAT BIG "THANKS"

to our wonderful Cub Scout Leaders . . . Den Mothers . . . Assistants . . . and all citizens who are giving so generously of their time and talent, or lending support toward making a Scouting Program possible for our Plains youth.

High school band presents concert at Ft. Worth rodeo

On Saturday, January 31, the Plains High School Cowboy Band presented a concert in front of the Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth. The concert was presented from 1:00 to 1:45 p. m. just before the 2:00 matinee of the Fat Stock Show Rodeo. Since 8,500 people attended the rodeo that afternoon, around five or six thousand people probably heard the Plains band play at least a portion of it. Many strangers, including band students from other schools, complimented the program highly.

Numbers played included King Size, Overture for Youth Fantasy for Band, South Pacific, My Fair Lady, Bird Dog, The Black Knight, and Storm King.

After enjoying a most pleasant and educational trip, the group returned to Plains. On the return trip, snow and ice were encountered at Snyder and slowed the busses down considerably, although there were no skids or near accidents.

Adults accompanying the band to Fort Worth were Mrs. P. W. St. Romair, Mrs. Gene Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Belk, Mr. B. J. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Campbell.

Caution

crosswalks, as many motorists fail to slow down or watch for children, it was pointed out. Especially dangerous times of day are just before school opens, during the noon hour, and after school is dismissed.

City officers also are asking the cooperation of parents in seeing that their children refrain from shooting BB guns within the city limits. Much damage has been done of late by BB guns, they point out, and complaints have been received from some sections of town from parents who express the fear of letting their small children outside to play because of the BB guns.

Baptist Juniors on skating party

The Junior Classes of the First Baptist Church Sunday School were hosts to Junior age youngsters of the community for a skating party at the Denver City Rinks last Saturday afternoon from 3:00 to 6:00 p. m.

Approximately forty-five boys and girls enjoyed the recreation with the following sponsors: Mesdames Rod Duff, Carl Lowery, Tommie McDonnell, Clifford Anderson, Sherm Tingle, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brian and Reverend C. J. Coffman.

Plains Cub Scouts

visited the Review plant Friday afternoon, learning how a newspaper is produced and seeing the linotypes and newspaper press operate. Above are, front row, Alton McGinty, Gayland Alberding, bought a ranch. His father raised horses as well as cattle. They remained there about three years and moved to Mason County near Fort Mason.

McGinty

Marion's father liked to explore new country and when several families moved in, he'd take his family, cattle and horses and move on to newer country. In 1886 they moved to McCullough County near Millburn from there to Stonewall County in 1888.

In Stonewall County at Rainier, Marion hauled rocks and helped build the court house there.

He spent about two years doing trail work, driving herds of cattle from Knox County to Woodard, Okla. From there they were shipped to Wyoming then they would drive them to Helena, Montana.

In 1891 they moved to King County and worked on the 8 ranch. Marion helped organize the Texas Cowboy Reunion, Association at Seymour in 1896. Mr. McGinty has an honorary lifetime membership in that organization, now located at Stamford. He says that is the only big rodeo he ever entered; however he won first place in the bronc riding contest. There were twelve entries and he told the second and third place winners that if it suited them, they would all put their winnings in a pot and divide it equally among all twelve entrants. So they did.

It was in King County that Marion met Addie Morrison at an old time singing. She, too, was reared on a ranch and lived in Knox County but was visiting relatives in King County at that time.

On March 6, 1898, Addie Morrison became the bride of Marion McGinty at Gilliland, Texas. Marion was working on the 6666 ranch known as the 8 ranch until it sold in 1891 and the name was changed. He had always been a bronc buster and continued to do so, as well as help do all of the other work on the ranch. Mrs. McGinty began cooking for the cowboys and I imagine her Chess pies were a favorite of the cowboys just as they are with so many of us who know her today.

They lived in King and Stonewall counties until 1907 when they moved to Post and helped organize that county the same year. The people all lived in tents until houses were available. You signed up for a house as you moved in and they were rented in that order. Mr. and Mrs. McGinty and their five sons, Oscar, Preston, Durwood, Fred and Rufus lived in a tent about one year before they could get a house. It was at Post that their sixth son, Algie, was born.

Mr. McGinty did carpenter work about three years helping build the court house there and also helped build the homes.

In 1911 they moved to the ranch near Post and remained there until the fall of 1914 when Mr. McGinty bought a ranch in Yoakum County and moved his cattle here leaving Oscar here to take care of them while he returned to Post to bring the rest of his family to Plains.

Mr. McGinty bought his present home place in 1927 and built his home there about a year later. He delayed building his home there because he really had no desire to live right on a highway. So he waited until he thought they had decided to put the Morton highway one mile west of its location, but it was not long until they made a highway out of the little country road he built his home near.

Mr. McGinty has had a little experience in politics along with his ranching. He was appointed to finish the term of county treasurer after the death of J. B. Long in 1922. In 1924, he was appointed to finish the term of tax-assessor after the death of their son, Preston.

Death has taken three of the McGinty boys leaving Rufus (Rusty) and Algie (Dick), who both live near Plains and Fred who lives at Tahoka.

Mr. McGinty ran for the office of tax-assessor and was defeated by Jess York. He says he has no intention of completely retiring from ranch life. He still maintains a small herd of cattle and rides his horse occasionally.

Mr. and Mrs. McGinty are members of the First Christian Church.

Mr. McGinty has written several poems, some of these having been published in the Yoakum County Review in times past. Most of them have been written and given to friends.

The following poem is one of the very first that he wrote.

A Cowboy Among The Rocky Mountains

I've stood among the Rockies and watched the eagle soar; I've seen the elk as they passed and heard the lions roar; I've mounted many a bronco and chased the Texas steer;

I've caught the fleeing antelope and roped the little deer; I've driven many a Longhorn in days that are passed and gone, From the Gulf Coast of Texas to the banks of the Yellowstone. 'Twas there with gay companions I chased the Longhorn old, We spurred the bucking bronco, and got our pay in gold. With the broad sombrero and slicker for our roof, There I've swung the lasso with the wild gay whoop, Until the wearied Maverick would tangle in my loop, I've entered many a contest, and rode old "Whiskey Pete" 'Twas only in politics that I ever met defeat.

Washington impressed him with the value of strong organizations to keep congress and administrative officials advised of farmer's problems. He reports that many of the people in official Washington showed keen interest in the view points brought direct from the county by such means as the Farmers Union bus trips. If more farm people would make known our needs to our congressmen by letters and visits from farm people instead of business people who do not understand our problems, we could get a program that would be more beneficial to farm people, Randolph pointed out.

Farm income is not on a par with the rest of the economy and the disparity threatens to get worse. Mr. Randolph said that we hope to dispel any doubt that farmers are deeply concerned about this and do favor effective action. Congressmen and Senators really appreciate the chance to talk with bona fide farmers.

In addition to delivering a message from us and our neighbors to our congressmen, the tour of our Nations Capitol was most enjoyable, stated the Randolphs.

Mr. Randolph will make a report of his trip at the next meeting of the Farmers Union next Thursday night, February 12.

Rice, the major food staple for most of the world's population, can be used to make unusual dishes. Be sure and buy the rice which has been enriched to give the family more vitamins and minerals. Here are several unusual rice recipes for you to try:

Rice Almond Pancakes
1 egg
1 egg yolk
1 3/4 cup milk
1 cup cooked rice
1-2 cup ground, blanched almonds (Pecans or peanuts can be used)

1 cup flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter
Beat whole egg and egg yolk until thick and lemon-colored. Stir in milk, rice and almonds.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, brown sugar. Add egg-milk-rice mixture and stir until combined. Beat until smooth. Stir in melted butter. Bake on hot griddle. Makes 12 small pancakes.

Remember 1 cup uncooked rice equals 3 cups cooked rice. Use 1-2 cup as an average serving.

Carmel Rice Cake
1 1/2 cup uncooked rice
3 cup water
4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg yolks
4 teaspoon melted butter
1 1/4 cup sugar

Combine rice and water in sauce pan. Bring to a boil and simmer about 3 minutes; drain, add milk and vanilla to rice and pour into baking dish; cover. Bake at 350 degrees F. for one hour. Beat egg yolk thoroughly; stir in melted butter and 3/4 cup sugar. Add to hot rice mixture and stir until well-mixed. Pour the remaining 1-2 cup sugar in loaf pan. Cook over very low heat, stirring constantly until sugar turns a golden color. Tilt pan frequently as sugar melts to coat sides thoroughly. Remove from heat. Pack rice into loaf pan. Set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Cool in pan. Unmold onto serving dish. Serve with caramel sauce on light cream. Serves 8.

Ham with Fruit-Rice Dressing
2 cup hot cooked rice
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup orange segments, diced
1 small tart apple, diced
1-4 cup seedless raisins
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1-8 teaspoon cloves
2 center slices of ham, 1-2 inch thick
2 tablespoons honey

Combine rice and butter and toss lightly with a fork until butter is melted. Add oranges, apples, raisins, brown sugar and cloves. Spread in 10 x 6 x 2 inch baking pan. Cut ham into 6 pieces. Place over the dressing. Brush with honey. Cover. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. about 45 minutes, until apples are tender and ham is glazed. Serves six.

Commemorative stamp will be issued Feb. 27

The Post Office Department will issue a 3-cent Lincoln Birth Sesquicentennial commemorative stamp, the third in the series of four, through the New York, N. Y., post office, on February 27, 1959.

The 3-cent Lincoln stamp will feature a sculptured head of Lincoln by Gutzon Borglum, done in marble in 1906, and now in the rotunda of the Capitol in Washington, D. C. A facsimile of the signature, "A. Lincoln," appears immediately above the portrait. The denomination "3 cents" is shown in the lower right corner of the stamp and the wording "United States Postage" is arranged in one line across the bottom of the stamp, in dark Gothic.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the 3-cent Lincoln commemorative stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with a remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster at New York 1, New York. Collectors are reminded that the first-class rate is 4 cents and the remittance enclosed for each cover must be sufficient to cover this amount. As a convenience to collectors, the New York post office will affix one of the new 3-cent purple Lincoln stamps and one of the 1-cent value to be released on February 12. Since both stamps will feature portraits and will be arranged vertically they constitute an ideal combination. No other 1-cent stamps will be affixed at New York. However, those who desire a pair or block of the new 3-cent value rather than a combination may request them in the usual manner.

Envelopes submitted should be of ordinary letter size and each must be properly addressed. An envelope must not be sent for return of the first day covers. Collectors should refrain from requesting hand cancellations since covers will be machine canceled so far as practicable. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers 3 Cents Lincoln Stamp."
