Cowboys lose out in final round of state cage tourney

The Plains Cowboys were defeated in the state finals 63-42 giving the Class A championship title to the Huntington Red Devils.

Except for the opening minute of play, Plains trailed all the way. Although the final score indicated the Red Devils had an easy time winning, the Cowboys were still very much in the contest early in the fourth quarter.

A long shot by Cordell Huddleston and a bonus throw by Bill Lattimore gave the Cowboys a 3-0 lead, but that was their last moment of joy.

Dead-eye outside shooting by Frank Williams quickly bolted Huntington into a 10-5 lead. The Red Devils then upped their advantage to nine points, 14-5. Jim Williams and Harmon Meixner each popped two baskets as Plains rallied to slice Huntington's lead to 21-19 with 3:30 left in the half.

Huntington spurred to a four point lead 23-19, but again Plains battled back. A long shot by Coffman and two free throws by Harmon Meixner left the Cowboys trailing only 24-23 with 2:06 remaining. This was as close as the Cowboys came to grabbing the lead thereafter.

The Red Devils led, 35-29 at halftime. Their margin soared to 44-32, with two minutes left in the third period, then dropped to 46-36 at the end of the third quarter. Then came the deciding quarter.

Plains cut Huntington's advantage to 46-40 on a basket by Walt Coffman and a pair of perfect pitches from the foul line by Jack Meixner with 6:30 remaining. However, Huntington outscored the Cowboys, 11-1, during the next five minutes of play to grab a 57-41 lead with one minute left.

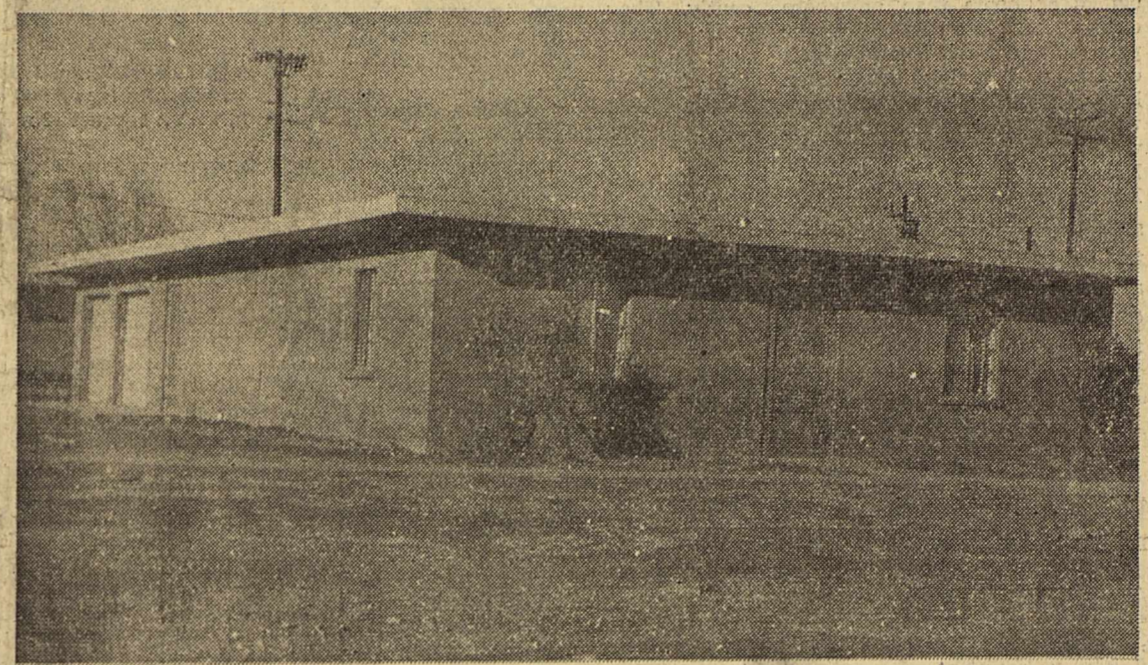

It was a poor second half that killed off coach Rip Sewell's cagers bid for the title after a fourth place finish last year. They connected on only 16.0 per cent of their shots in the second half after hitting a fine 48.0 clip in the first half.

The Cowboys also took a whipping in the battle of the boards, Huntington outrebounded them 8-36.

The Red Devils use a 2-3 sagging zone to effectively stop Plains leading scorer, Jim Wil-

Coca-Cola to add new 'king size' bottle here

On March 9, a new 10-ounce Coca-Cola bottle made its debut in the Plains market, according to an announcement by F. L. Lindsey, manager of the Lubbock Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

The new bottle is the first major packaging change made by the bottling company in over 40 years. Coca-Cola is now available in the standard 6½-ounce bottle and with the addition of the new King size, 10-ounce bottle, this is another step in our plans for packaging improvement and makes Coca-Cola available in King size bottles and regular size bottles throughout the Panhandle, Mr. Lindsey said.

"Our aim in providing the 10-ounce bottle is simply to make it more convenient for everyone to buy and serve Coca-Cola on any occasion. The large bottle is especially designed for convenience in serving home parties and for those thirsty folks who say the familiar 6½-ounce bottle just 'isn't quite enough'."

The new King size Coke will be packaged in six-bottle cartons which retailers will sell at the same price as other soft drinks in the Plains area.

The new bottle will be of the traditional "pinch-waist" design well known around the world. This bottle shape goes back to 1915 when a Coca-Cola official recommended, "We need a Coca-Cola bottle that a person will recognize even if he feels it in the dark."

Major changes in the public's consuming and buying habits have brought about the new bottle. People now drink more soft drinks at home than anywhere else—the reverse of the pre-war pattern. Six out of every 10 soft drinks sold today are taken home. And for home consumption, the public has shown it wants a variety of bottle sizes because of the greater convenience in serving and storing. Also, today more people are doing their grocery shopping one day a week. With a large bottle, they can carry home more drinks at a time.

Pattern contest entries presented at meeting of Tsa Mo Ga Club March 9

The Tsa Mo Ga Club met in regular session at the Yoakum County Library, Monday, March 9.

President Mrs. Ty Field called the meeting to order. Club Collect and Pledge of Allegiance were given.

Mrs. R. B. Jones, program director for the evening, introduced Mrs. J. W. Moore Jr., chairman for the Vogue Pattern Contest. Three entries from the club were presented. Mrs. Ty Field wore a beige pure silk suit with beige and royal blue accessories. Mrs. Bill Powell wore a Bates print in the popular tangerine colors made in a simple full-skirt style. Mrs. Gene Payne was selected to represent the club at the convention in Borger in April. Her dress was black sheer wool shadowed in pin-striped window plaid of rose. Rose hat, black gloves, shoes and bag complimented her costume. Mrs. Casey Brown, Mrs. M. C. Brian and Mrs. Leo White were judges.

Mrs. Wayne Chadwick spoke on "Private Endowment of Public Libraries". The part played by enlightened and devoted librarians aided by funds given by Carnegie, Rockefeller, Rosne-wald, Phelps-Stokes, Jeanes, Slater and Peabody has resulted in many good libraries, she said. Andrew Carnegie, the most widely-known, is recognized, chiefly, for his part in building and maintaining nearly 2800 libraries. These free libraries are distinctly an American institution.

Miss Sue Steven spoke on "Current Legislation" and called attention to the fact that efforts are being made to abolish The Un-American Activities Committee and to put Labor Unions under Anti-Trust Laws. Miss Stevens urged each member to write their Congressman and speak out on such vital legislation if we want to protect our way of life in America.

Mrs. Bert Bartlett illustrated her topic, "New Additions and how to use Our Library", by showing how the books are catalogued so that any book on a chosen subject can be found easily. Our library has about 7000 books now and are circulated at the rate of 2800 each month. She urged everyone to use the Library for pleasure and information. The slogan for Library Week April 12-18 is "For a Better Read, Better Informed America, Wake-up and Read."

Refreshments were served in the County Clubroom by Mrs. Robert Chambliss and Mrs. C.E. Poindexter.

Mrs. Hale hosts WSCS of First Christian Church

The Women's Society of Christian Service of First Christian Church held their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Hale, March 4 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Leo White gave the inspiring devotional on "Serving One Another in Love" from Romans 12:9-13. A prayer closed the meeting.

Mrs. Bruce White, study Leader, spoke on the Caribbean Area and West Indies. Jamaica, the largest island of the group, is location of most of the Protestant universities in that area she said. The Anglican Society sent missionaries to the British Colonies as early as 1701 but the Methodist Church wasn't started until 1893. After the Spanish - American War these were opened to missionaries and the church and government made rapid growth, with roads opened in the more secluded areas. Schools, universities, and clinics have been established in the West Indies, Cuba, and Jamaica, with the latter being the only one Protestant predominated.

President Mrs. L. O. Smith presided over the business session and closed with a prayer. Refreshments of spiced tea, coffee and cookies were served to Mesdames L. O. Smith, H. F. Barnes, Wayne Chadwick, Bruce White, Donald Lackey, Charles Williams, Leo White, and Dr. Mae Gainer by the hostess.

Willing Workers enjoy social meet

The Willing Workers, Class of the State Line Baptist Church home of Mrs. Terry Bacon, enjoyed a social on Monday night.

The hostess opened the social hour with a prayer. Mrs. Jimmy Wright, the class teacher, brought an inspiring devotional on "Service". The class sang the class song, "Our Best", after which a short business session was held.

Several games were played, then coffee and cake were served to the following members: Mesdames Ira Tidwell, R. I. Tidwell, Glen Darnell, Jack Stegall, Lewis Clay, Jimmy Wright, Tommy Ashburn, Loren Gayle, A. H. Bacon and the hostess.

WINNERS in the fashion sewing contest conducted by Tsa Mo Ga Club are pictured here. They include Mrs. Ty Field, Mrs. Bill Powell and Mrs. Gene Payne.

Plan launching of mobile library service in county

Plans for launching a mobile library service for the rural communities and towns of Yoakum, Terry, Gaines and Dawson counties were made at a meeting of the newly-appointed four-county library board in Seagraves Wednesday.

Bookmobile stops, a headquarters site for the demonstration, and other matters, were decided upon at the meeting.

Local board members include Mrs. Earl Matheson of Denver City and Mrs. Casey Jones of Plains.

Meeting with the board was Dorothy Schiwetz, supervisor of Regional Services for the Texas Library Service, who will direct the project.

The Rural Library Service is a division of the Texas State Library created to carry out the provisions of the Library Services Act. Under this program, the state will provide a bookmobile, books and the necessary staff to carry out, for a period of one year, a demonstration of first-class rural library service in the four cooperating counties.

This service is being provided without cost to the counties involved, in the hope that it will stimulate interest in reading among the rural people who have had inadequate library facilities in the past.

The bookmobile will arrive in this area during the latter part of April from the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where it has been operating during the past year. It will circulate a stock of some 6,000 books which will be placed in the headquarters. Actual mobile library service is expected to begin early in May.

All existing libraries in the four-county region are cooperating in the program, one of the main features of which is to demonstrate the value of an interlibrary loan system.

During the demonstration year, such a system will include the collections of those libraries, as well as of the State Library, the loan divisions of the University of Texas, Texas A&M College, and other institutions. In this way, virtually any request for informational books and materials can be filled.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Harvey, Rojanna and Mrs. C. J. Coffman drove to Austin Friday afternoon to attend the ball games. They returned Saturday night.

Joyce Riggs and Barbara Kemp of Brownfield, accompanied by Carol Rowland and Kay Smith of Plains enjoyed the weekend in Austin attending the basketball tournament.

Attend rites for Mr. J. O. Beane

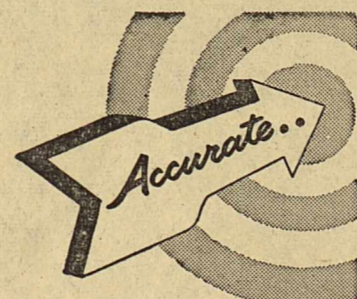

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Beane, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes, and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Dyer and Dana attended funeral services for Mr. Beane's brother, J. O. Beane at McCamey Sunday morning.

Mr. Beane passed away at a rest home in Big Spring, Friday night. Services were conducted at the Assembly of God Church, at McCamey Sunday morning with burial in the Lamesa Cemetery.

He was known by several here as he had visited here a number of times.

He is survived by one son, one sister, and two brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parrish, who have been farming east of town, have moved to Stanton. Mr. Parrish says he is going to just "rest and fish."

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Sen. Lyndon Johnson

Dear Friend:

The great peril to this Nation lies abroad.

It is spawned by the Soviets and symbolized in Berlin. We cannot wait for May to get ready.

We must move now. We must insure the greatest possible strength the day the showdown comes.

Our Nation and all the nations of the free world face a foe intent on one goal: to degrade the world, to reduce the relations between nations to the level of insults and humiliation, and to erase from our day and time the values of civilized men.

It is imperative as we approach the crisis of Berlin that we make this plain to the Russians:

Once the decisions are made this is a country united behind the President.

It is united behind and in support of the President of the United States in the policy and doctrine the Commander-in-Chief enunciates. We must have one firm, clear voice speaking for this Nation in relation to other nations.

We must look to the whole struggle. We must seek the total solution—not the giving away by bits and pieces of our heritage of integrity and freedom.

We can no longer sit by and see our strength—military, moral or economic—weakened by delay, defeat or retreat.

We must trim from the Nation's wasteful any bulge of wasteful fat. We must tighten our moral, spiritual, economic and military unity so as to squeeze out any waste of dollars, of manpower or of resources.

The question is: Shall Berlin be remembered as the deathbed of democracy—or as the graveyard of aggression?

I say: Let us use every minute, every second of every day to the best possible advantage to get this Nation as strong as we can, as fast as we can.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bacon transacted business and visited relatives and friends in Frankston from Thursday to Saturday. Mr. Bacon's father, W. O. Bacon returned home with them for a visit.

LOCALS

Seen giving the Cowboys their full support at the State Tournament were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Warren, Carolyn and Tommy, Mr. and Mrs. Chick Lee, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bryson, Dana and Jay Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sudderth, Brenda and Annette, Mr. and Mrs. James Warren and family and Bill Moorhead.

Reverend C. J. Coffman and son Larry, accompanied by Jeanine St. Romain, Karen Randolph and Buford Duff drove to Austin Wednesday night for the basketball games, returning Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass are visiting their son, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Endogress and Pat in Corpus Christi this week. They will visit their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Hays and family in Irving before returning home.

Gadgets or God

Scientific achievements of the world in recent years could very easily detract our minds from our Creator. Wonders of the laboratory have captured the adoration of all peoples. Lest we forget, and lest we start placing our dependance for livelihood in the marvels of science, let us take a second look. "For by him were all things created that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thorns, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by Him, and for Him: and He is before all things, and by Him all things consist." Col. 1:16, 17. Then let us stay with our true creator—let us serve Him. Let us attend and support His church.

Several farmers have come in to the office during the past two weeks asking about the possibilities of feeding hogs for added income from their farming operations. About all I can give them is encouragement because when the facts are examined it all looks good. The main reason for this trend toward more hogs on the farm is the possibility of selling the 1959 grain sorghum crop for about $1.31 per hundred pounds. The lowering of the loan rate has put some farmers to figuring.

Here is the hog feeding picture as I see it. Producing hogs on the farm is a big risk. The main reason for taking a loss in the hog business is bad management. Disease and parasites can cause the hog man to lose money but disease can be prevented and parasites can be controlled. So when disease and parasites are the cause of a loss, it just has to be called poor management. Market fluctuations can cause a loss and when a farmer goes in and out of the hog business because of market changes, he increases his risk which again can be called poor management.

The best money to be made in hogs is made by feeding the very thrifty weaner pigs up to the desired market weight. The price of feeder pigs go up and down with the price of market hogs and the demand for feeder animals is what sets the price. The only way to be assured that you will have a constant supply of feeder pigs is to produce them on the farm. When you produce your own feeder pigs you can be sure the pigs are as thrifty as possible. If they are unthrifty then you know who was at fault.

If a farmer has enough grain storage facilities on his farm to hold a one year supply of hog feed he has met the first requirement. The question is, how many hogs would he need to take care of his home grown feed? My thinking is that he needs ten brood sows and one boar for each 100 acres of dry land grain sorghum on his farm. Each sow should produce two litters a year with an average of seven pigs per litter. Each year he would produce 140 pigs from the ten sows. For the 140 market hogs, the ten sows and the boar, the farmer would use about 100,000 pounds of grain plus the necessary protein supplement. His 100 acres would have to make 1,000 pounds of grain per acre. He would have a little over $1,300 worth of grain to feed his hogs and the protein feed would cost about $700. If he sold the market hogs for 15c a pound weighing 200 pounds each his income would be $4,200 a year from hogs. His total cost was about $2,200 so by selling his grain through hogs he received an additional $2,000. By feeding his grain to hogs his land made $20 an acre more than it would have made by selling the grain as a cash crop.

When the market drops and hogs sell for 10c a pound he still makes $6.00 an acre. If the market is up and hogs sell for 20c a pound the per acre increase jumps to $34.00. It is easy to make money with a pencil and paper. Some people actually make their figures with their operations. When a farmer wants to feed home grown grain to hogs, all I can do is encourage him. I cannot tell him that it will not work because all he has to do is get prepared for it and take good care of his livestock.

Easter hat time is here, Spring hats are designed to wear level or tipped back on the head. Styles have a decided tilt worn at provocative angles. Big-brimmed, coolie or swagger-shaped hats are designed to conceal the face from the nose up. Veilings and chiffon drapes cover the rest of the face on some creations. However, a woman doesn't have to select a down draft brim, but will be in style with a little brimmed cloche, the straight brimmed sailor or the upturned brimmed breton.

Some hats are so big-brimmed or so covered with veiling that they almost completely hide the face. Even the so-called little suit hat is bigger than it used to be.

Then there are the high-crowned hats, with or without brims that add height to a woman's figure. These peaked shapes reflect an oriental influence. Nor is the little hat just a suit hat anymore. It may be shuttled around to go with almost any costume in the wardrobe except the most elegant evening dress.

Reason for the versatility of the little high hat is that suits, costumes and dresses all have the new low set-in sleeves, soft-collared, round shouldered look. A high crowned headpiece is necessary to give an upward effect, or an otherwise stylish spring outfit is likely to appear droopy.

Of particular significance are the hats geared to the cloffure. These have open crowns, a profile tilt, or are very small creations that ride high on the head, exposing the hair-do.

Straws highlight the material scene with great emphasis on smooth ones—balibuntal, bakusoies, toyo and panamalacs. Soft organdies and silk flowers are numerous as well as hair braids, straw cloth and novelty braids.

Tones of blue are particularly strong. A high fashioned shade is pernor, a green-yellow. Also on the scene are lavender to cherry shades, near-white, black or navy. The color plan is completed with shades of beige to mocha. Best test in selecting a hat is the mirror. It the hat looks right for you and your costume, it's right. If it makes you look pretty and feminine and catches and holds the glance of others, it has the top interest that fashion is playing up this season.

The high hat or deep crowned hat, whichever description the feminine shopper prefers, may be a cloche, a breton or a sailor. It may be a patent banded straw, a beehive or organdy, or a bouquet of flowers.

Deep crowned chapeaux need not be small however, but may be flower laden picture hats. Or the high effect may come from the slant of the wide brim rather than the extra inches in the crown.

WELCOME VISITING BANDS

In actuality the stamp marks the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of Adm. Robert Edwin Perry at the North Pole. It also notes the history-making feat of the U.S. Navy's "Nautilus" almost 50 years later in making the first under the sea crossing at the North Pole.

Collectors desiring first day cancellation of the 4-cent Arctic Explorations commemorative stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Cresson, Pa. A close fitting enclosure of postal card thickness should be placed in each envelope and the flap either turned in or sealed. Envelopes submitted should be of ordinary letter size and each must be properly addressed. An envelope must not be sent for return on first day covers. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Arctic Explorations Stamp". Orders for covers must not include requests for uncanceled stamps.

These stamps may be purchased at the Plains Post Office April 7, 1959.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Randall of Plains announce the engagement of their daughter, Nell to Wayland Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Powell of Plains. The wedding will take place April 3 at the First Baptist Church of Plains. Miss Randall is a graduate of Plains High School and is presently employed at Elliott & Waldron Abstract Company. Mr. Powell is a graduate of Lamesa High School and attended Rutherford Metropolitan School of Business of Midland. Mr. Powell is associated with his father in the H. C. Robert Greens are honored Sunday at farewell party

Reverend and Mrs. Robert Green were recipients of a lovely "farewell shower" when the First Baptist Church held a special social hour in Fellowship Hall following the regular church hour Sunday evening.

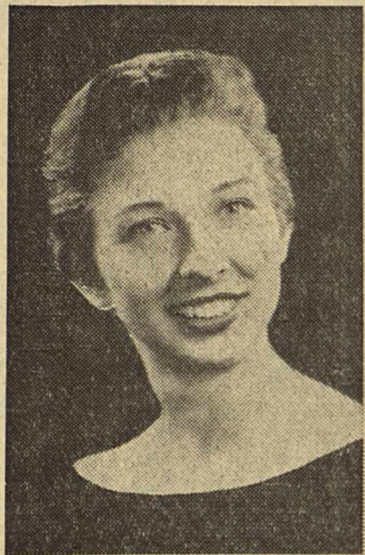

Many useful gifts, in addition to cash, were presented to the Greens who have accepted an appointment and call to go on the mission field. They expect to leave the first of next week for Tuba City, Arizona, about seventy miles north of Flagstaff, to work with the Navajo Indians.

Reverend Green, born in Arizona, has spent the past eleven years in Texas studying for the ministry and this special calling. He is married to the former Carolyn Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jones formerly of Plains and now of Lamesa. They have two small sons, Jonathan and Joseph.

Coffee, cokes and cookies were served to approximately eighty people during the fellowship hour.

Mrs. Tom Oxford, Mrs. Wade Warren and Mae spent the weekend in Monahans with Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Fowler and son, Brice, Jr. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Pat Gill and son in Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fowler in Midland.

Mr. Emory Longbrake and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Carter went to Austin the first of last week to attend business. Mrs. Longbrake and sons, Terry and Harry joined them Thursday to attend the ball games and visit friends and relatives until Sunday.

Engagement of

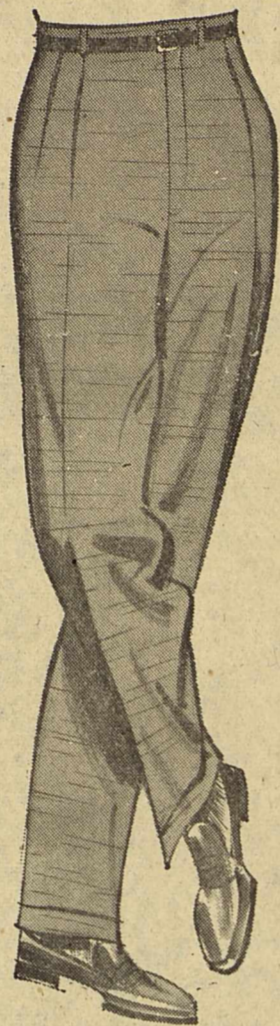

Miss Andre Sledge to Mr. Jere Sink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Sink of Plains, formerly of Denver City, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Sledge of Big Spring. Wedding vows will be exchanged April 3 in the First Baptist Church at Big Spring. Jere, one of the most popular members of the younger set at Plains, is a 1958 graduate of Plains High School and is presently a student at Howard County Junior College, Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Parks and Lela were in Austin and Brownwood from Wednesday to Sunday attending the basketball tournament and visiting their daughters, Kitty Lou and Janelle, both students at Howard-Payne College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Campbell and little son visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Campbell at Karnes City from Thursday to Sunday. Little Jimmy stayed with his grandparents while Jim and Mary Jo attended the ball games in Austin.
