Farmers Union meets Thursday

The Yoakum County Farmer's Union held a regular meeting in the county clubroom, Thursday evening, March 12, with twelve present.

Union President, H. W. Taunton conducted a short business session with the following present: Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Randolph, Carl Lowery, Henry Williams, Bill Overton, William Worsham, Neal Hickman, Emory Longbrake, Roger Curry and Mr. and Mrs. Taunton.

Meeting of farmers held

Approximately 40 farmers, in addition to interested businessmen, enjoyed a very informative program held in the Plains Cafeteria Monday night, March 16.

Mr. E. O. Winkle of Goodpasture Grain and Milling Co. who sponsored the program in the interest of their farmer neighbors, introduced Joe H. Roussel, field representative of the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, of Brownfield.

Mr. Roussel, in turn, presented the principal speaker, Dr. Ivan E. Miles, Agronomist in the Plant Food Division of the Mathieson Corporation, in Houston.

Dr. Miles has visited and studied soils in most all of the United States and twenty-eight foreign countries.

The title of Dr. Miles talk was, Soils and the Need, Use and Value of Fertilizers on the High Plains.

There is a great deal of interest in fertilizers in this area, he said. Just as true of fertilizers as anything else, a farmer should understand the need, use, and value of it before using it, he pointed out. In this connection, there are several basic questions that should be answered including, what is fertilizer, what kind of fertilizer should be used, when should fertilizer be put out, and where should fertilizer be applied in the soil.

Fertilizer is a plant food. There are about 15 different plant food elements and each one of these has a definite and specific function to perform in the plant. Most of these plant foods are already present in sufficient quantities to feed the crops. However, different crops have different needs and vary widely in their ability to take their food from the soil. Then, too, the soils often vary from field to field. But in general, the plant foods that are most likely to be deficient in this area are nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. The functions of these three plant foods to improve the crop: Nitrogen produces vegetative growth, phosphorus stimulates early root formation, thereby enabling the plant to germinate and come out of the soil running and to keep going to early maturity, and stimulates fruit production.

Potash gives vigor to the crop, that is, a sort of health food like fruit juices are to man.

Soils vary in what they contain and crops vary in what they need and what they can get from the soil. In the clay or hard soils, the experiment station recommends, mainly, nitrogen and some phosphorus on crops like cotton, sesame and truck crops.

The loam or mixed soils, generally, need phosphorus along with nitrogen on most crops. A few crops like small grain for grazing and vegetable crops need some potash, also.

Seven candidates for school board election

Steve Johnson, 9, has grand champ

Nine year old Steve Johnson of Abernathy showed the grand champion barrow of the South Plains Junior Fat Stock Show at Lubbock Tuesday. The medium weight Hampshire was made champion Hampshire and then defeated all other breed champions to become grand champion over 875 barrows.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Avie Johnson who were both raised in Plains and attended school here. After his discharge from the Army he farmed southwest of Plains for 3 years. Steve is the grandson of Mrs. Mollie Courtney, and the great-grandson of Mrs. Sallie Hague.

The barrow was bred by Steve's father who had a top herd of registered Hampshires. Mr. Allie Liner, who judged the Yoakum Junior Livestock show, in 1958 and is County Agent of Hale County, supervised the feeding of the barrow.

Among the other winners was Rose Ann Duffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Duffey, who is widely known in this community. She exhibited the champion spotted Poland China of the Show.

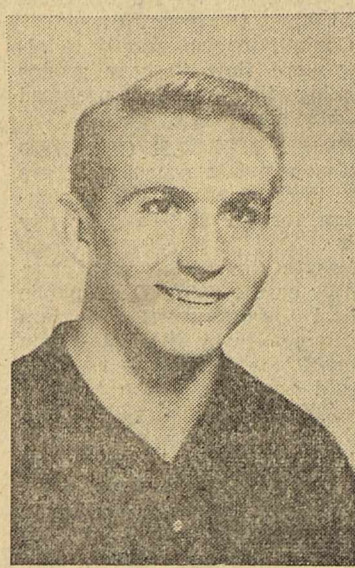

Chamber meets Thursday; highway project discussed

The Plains Chamber of Commerce met Thursday, March 12 in the Legion Hall. There was a fair attendance, but not near enough for the number of Members that the Chamber has, according to Membership chairman, Roger Curry.

Curry gave a report on the membership and also, the number of prospective members that should be interested in having a "Good, Hard-working Chamber of Commerce" in Plains.

A discussion was held on the widening of the highway through Plains. Mr. Buford Duff is to check on the amount of work yet to be done on this project.

The Chamber of Commerce meets each 2nd and 4th Thursdays at 12:45. D. N. Taylor, Chamber of Commerce president, asks that you mark these dates on your calendar and plan to attend all meetings.

Seniors to give class play purchased from any senior. Adult tickets are 75 cents and childrens tickets are 35 cents.

All through history infants have been named Ernest. It is safe to assume that the recipients of said moniker have grown up and found their niche in life. The same as the Johns, Bills, and other millions of labeled pedestrians that parade here and there.

There's nothing startling or even unusual about the name, except to one Henry Gilcrest. You see, the name "Ernest" sends Henry into a shock. The cause of this condition and the unraveling of all entanglements promise to keep everyone laughing and guessing right down to the last seconds of the play.

The cast: Henry Gilcrest, Jimmy Warren; Aunt Ethel, Judy Lowe; Margie, Brenda Sudderth; Pumpkin, Jeanine St. Romain; Jill, Darla Hickerson; Gladys, Sheila Smith; Aunt Stella, Karen Shobert; Clarissa, Jo Ann Bailey; Ernestine, Sally Yarbrough; Ernie, Don Cooke; Mr. Bumpass, Donnie Kissinger; Sleepy, Cordell Huddleston; C. Royce, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Randall, is a 1958 graduate of Plains High. A popular student throughout his schooling, having entered the first grade in the local schools, he invites his many friends to call on him and wants to get acquainted with new ones.

We wish to congratulate this home-town boy and wish him every success.

Mr. and Mrs. John Camp accompanied by Mrs. J. H. Morris and Donnie visited in Odessa last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Lamance.

676 students are counted in census

Plains scholastic count totals 676 students, as enumerations were turned in to the office of G. D. Kennedy, Superintendent.

Mr. Kennedy pointed out that this is the unofficial count and the figure may vary slightly when the official check is made.

This is a gain of 22 over last years count of 654, which points to the necessity of the additional school facilities now under construction by the school officials.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.—A possible shift of light has pierced the murky tunnels of legislative tax study in the form of an "in-between" type money raising bill.

An omnibus tax measure introduced by Reps. R. L. Strickland of San Antonio and Wesley Roberts of Lamesa would tax a raft of things not previously hit, but avoid the label "general sales tax." It is regarded as a possible compromise between Gov. Price Daniel's tax program and Rep. Frates Seeligson's general sales tax, neither of which have attracted widespread support.

Strickland and Roberts estimate their proposal would raise from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 an impressive sum even in the face of current huge needs.

New tax sources it would tap include sales of real estate, bonds, debentures, corporate stocks, transportation of persons and commodities, occupancy of a retail establishment, hotel and motel use, and trading stamps. It would increase the natural gas production tax and raise sales taxes on new cars, cosmetics, playing cards, radios and TV sets and raise taxes on telephone and telegraph companies.

"Strings" attached to the bill

Part of the governor's plan was to get this bill passed in time to take effect May 1 so the added revenue from it could help offset this year's deficit.

Committee also agreed to allow more time to hear groups wishing to oppose a proposed trading stamp tax.

FIRST HURDLE CLEARED—Texas public school teachers won the first round in their campaign for an $800 a year pay raise.

Senate Committee voted favorably on the $107,800,000 public school improvement program recommended by the Hale-Aiken Committee. Teachers' raises would account for the bulk of the cost, about $80,000,000. Other items would include lengthening the school year to 190 days, increasing transportation allowances, programs for the academically gifted and for non-English speaking children, driver education, etc.

Some 3,000 teachers, plus many citizens from other walks of life, came to the Capitol in behalf of the bill.

WARM ISSUE—Another crowd-getter was the Senate hearing on the bill to reduce maximum working hours of firemen and policemen.

With feelings running high, the committee voted to send the bill to subcommittee for a week's study. Same bill was voted out favorably by the House Committee.

Texas Municipal League is strongly opposed to the measure which they say is about as palatable as having the federal government set wages and hours for Texas Highway Patrolmen. The League's counter-measure would are that after the state deficit is paid off, the money raised could be used to provide school teachers a $600 a year raise, add $13,000,000 to higher education programs and $2,250,000 to the hospital program.

NO HURRY—In terms of decisions, the tax program has made no dramatic forward strides.

Rep. Frates Seeligson of San Antonio, introduced his 1.5 per cent general sales tax measure. It would raise an estimated $67,000,000 annually earmarked for the school foundation program. Informal surveys indicate a majority of lawmakers pledged opposition to a general sales tax in their campaigns last summer.

Despite urging from Gov. Daniel, the House Tax Committee showed itself in no hurry to get out the bill that would raise corporation franchise taxes. Committee declined, on a 15-2 vote, to order a report from the subcommittee which holds the bill.

abolish state regulation of city firemen and policemen.

NO PEACE ON THE TRINITY—State Board of Water Engineers is caught in the middle of a king-sized struggle over Trinity River water.

Houston asked the Board for a permit to construct a dam at Livingston and impound some 1,750,000 acre feet of water.

Trinity River Authority was joined by Dallas, Fort Worth and other Upper Trinity towns in howls of protest over Houston's "water-grabbing". TRA filed a petition asking that Houston's application be dismissed and also filed an application for the same permit Houston is seeking.

A hearing on Houston's application had been set for April 6, but the North Texans are asking for delay. Indications are that such a set-to between Texas' major cities probably cannot be settled for some time.

HIGHER TUITION ASKED—Commission on Higher Education is recommending the Legislature adopt a new system of automatic tuition increases for state-supported colleges.

By the Commission's formula, tuition would be in proportion to the college's spending. If legislative appropriations to the college went up, so would tuition.

It was estimated the formula would raise tuition for in-state students from $100 a year to about $125 to $137.50.

Many students protested that the hike would be an undue hardship on the 65 per cent who earn part or all their college expenses.

DON'T STOP NOW—Gov. Daniel's Statewide Water Committee is asking the Legislature to restore proposed cuts in the Water Board budget.

Governor Daniel told a meeting of the statewide water group that water development in Texas needs all the $1,700,000 asked by the Water Board. Legislative Budget Board recommended only $900,000.

Daniel said he felt more water planning had been accomplished in the past two years than ever before in the state's history. To cut back now, he said, would amount to "complete" surrender to federal control.

HANDS OFF LADIES' BILL—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson nimbly side-stepped efforts to get him to rule on the proposed equal rights for women amendment. Senators had dodged the issue by asking for an attorney general's opinion on how the amendment would affect existing legislation concerning women. Wilson said the question was too general and that he didn't feel he should tell the Legislature what it should do.

Minister and Mrs. Travis Boyd and family were in Rule Sunday where Min. Boyd assisted with a funeral.

Robert Chambliss and Kenneth Hale returned home last Thursday after several days confinement in the Yoakum County Hospital in Denver City.

Rev. Burns asked that a cordial invitation be extended to the public to attend all these inspirational services.

Men who make big money are careful with their small change.

Bob Writes From Austin

The present legislative session is now past the half way mark, and most all of the really controversial legislation is still pending. Thus, it appears that the last 60 days of the session will be fairly heated.

Appropriations - Taxes

The appropriations measures and the various tax measures are, of course, still pending in committees. If all the appropriations are approved which have been requested, then Texas would probably have to have both a state-income and a state sales tax.

Most of us don't want these type taxes so then we simply have to trim our budget. Of course, the problem is where. Everyone always says "don't trim me, trim somewhere else".

Taxes and appropriations will be our big headache during the latter part of the session.

Hale-Aiken Plan

Another big fight is coming up on the Hale-Aiken Committee's recommendations. Included in the plan are higher pay for teachers, extra assistant superintendents, sick leave for teachers, drivers' education courses, raising various allocations and allotments and some other items.

All of these would contribute toward better schools, but if ALL of the program is enacted for the whole state, it will cost an additional $83 million dollars the next two years. A 1 1/2 per cent general sales tax would only raise an estimated $67 million.

Dulin to service officers' clinic

Buford L. Dulin, Veterans County Service Officer for Yoakum county, attended a Rehabilitation Clinic for Service officers which was conducted in Lubbock, Texas, on March 12-13.

The purpose of the Clinics is to serve as a refresher training course for Veteran Service Officers and such topics as compensation, pension, insurance, G. I. Loans, and Vocational Rehabilitation, are dealt with during the course of the clinic.

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS

The average person does not often use the term "negotiable instruments" in his everyday conversation, and the words may not mean much to him. Actually, it is just a mouth-filling term used in law to describe certain important pieces of paper that we normally call by simpler names.

Even though we seldom use the words, we deal with negotiable instruments all the time. Every check we write to pay the gas bill is a negotiable instrument, and so is your paycheck or pension check. The note you sign to buy a new car, the money order you purchase at the bank or post office, or the traveler's checks you take with you on a trip instead of cash are all negotiable instruments.

It was all started by merchants who had to send large sums of gold or currency between cities or nations. They worked out a way to exchange money, or the value of money, by written messages, much of the time through a third party like a broker or bank. But when you deal in pieces of negotiable paper instead of hard money, there have to be certain standards and safeguards or the paper could lose its value.

Consequently, there developed a whole system of laws within nations and between nations, upon which all our business rests. Through the courts, if necessary, the owners of negotiable instruments may enforce the terms written on the paper.

In the United States things used to be confusing sometimes because of different state laws, but by 1924 all 48 states had adopted a Uniform Negotiable Instrument Law which sets up the same rules nationwide.

Since so-called negotiable instruments are so important, since they are ordinarily just like money in many ways, since they often are used like money, or are sold to other persons or companies, and since there are special laws defining the ins-and-outs of negotiable instruments which we wouldn't ordinarily have any reason to know about, there are one or two simple rules we should follow:

We should make certain we read what's on the paper, that we know what the words mean, and what the penalties and dangers may be, BEFORE signing our name.

Remember: You are the only person in the world with that signature, and the courts, as a rule, must take your signed promises at their face value.

Girl Scouts in meeting Tuesday

The local Troop of Girl Scouts held their regular meeting in the Tsa Mo Ga Clubhouse, Tuesday March 10, with fourteen girls present.

After the business session, refreshments of cakes and cookies were served by Mary Kerrick and Linda Taunton. Then the girls enjoyed a lively game of soft-ball. "All girls between the ages of 10 and 14 are invited and urged to join us", Jackie Hawkins, reporter said. "We always have fun and learn a lot", she added.

EASTER HOLIDAYS

The Plains School Easter Holidays will begin Thursday when school is dismissed at 2:00 p.m. Thursday afternoon and will continue through Monday March 30, according to G. D. Kennedy, Supt.

Several parties and egg hunts are being planned for the elementary grades.

Senator Preston Smith

With numerous tax bills piled up in the legislature, there are predictions by many capitol observers that any decision on tax proposals may take place in a special session.

Most of the tax bills under study fall into one of two major categories: those that advocate gross receipt taxes, and the bills that aim to spread the tax load on a selective sales tax system, a method of taxation already well established in Texas.

Leading proponent of the gross receipts taxes is Rep. W. T. Oliver of Port Neches. He has introduced a series of bills which would levy gross receipts taxes on hotels, motels and rooming houses; on newspaper, radio and TV and outdoor advertising; on air transportation of passengers. He has, in addition, offered a series of occupation levies on oil well servicing; on phonograph records; and on soft drink syrups.

Principal items under consideration by selective sales bills falls in the fields of tobacco products, liquor, beer, automobiles. A number of bills have been introduced on these subjects, including tobacco, liquor and automobile levies, proposed by the governor.

Time is running out on taxation plans. Friday, March 13, was the half-way mark of the 120-day legislative session, and bills introduced after that date must have approval of four-fifths of the House.

A solution to the tax problem is not in sight yet. There are indications, say legislators, that the ultimate tax proposal adopted might likely be a combination of the Seeligson general sales tax program and Governor Daniel's proposed program.

"We've Come a Long Way Together..."

A replica of the first Froelich tractor which was the "granddaddy" of the present-day complete line of John Deere Tractors.

One morning back in 1892, the peace and quiet of the little Iowa town of Froelich was shattered by an unfamiliar roar... the cough and clank of a one-cylinder engine mounted on the running gear of a steam traction engine. This one-lunger, the pride of John Froelich, proved a success and soon moved out of Iowa to the broad plains of the Dakotas. That fall it helped harvest over 72,000 bushels of small grain.

From that humble beginning has come the great line of John Deere Tractors... tractors that today offer advantages undreamed of just a few years ago. Time has changed... John Deere Tractors have "come a long way."

And through these years, as the John Deere Dealer in this community, we've been a part of this progress. We've seen changes in tractors, in equipment, in farming methods, in farms. We've made new friends to be cherished as old friends as the years passed by.

Yes... we've come a long way together in this community... you, our customers, John Deere, and ourselves. It's a winning combination that enables us to face the future with confidence.

Miss Sturgess, a high school student, had only minutes before arrived home on a school bus. Returning to Estancia in the family pickup, evidently a tire blew out, according to investigating officers, causing the pickup to over-turn.

She was thrown from the pickup, but it rolled over her, crushing her.

Services were held in the Methodist Church at Estancia.

Plans for rural library service in county are made

Plans for initiating rural library service in this area were completed as board members from Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson and Terry counties met in the Seagraves High School.

Seagraves was selected as headquarters and plans were made for scheduled stops to begin in May of this year.

Miss Dorothy Schiwetz, supervisor for the Texas Rural Library Service, explained that scheduled stops would probably include Allred, Sligo, Turner and Bronco for loaning books in those areas, and the Yoakum County Libraries in Denver City and Plains to deposit books as requested by the librarian.

Board members, appointed in each county, include Mrs. J. Earl Matheson of Denver City and Mrs. Casey Jones of Plains for Yoakum, T. Y. Martin and Mrs. Ruth McLaughlin for Dawson, Neil C. Vanzant and Travis Tyler for Gaines, Wayne Mullins and Mrs. Frank Weir for Terry. They are to direct the library service for each of their counties.

The service is provided without cost in the hope that it will stimulate reading interests and will develop permanent reading habits. The work falls under the Texas State Library's division assigned to carry out the library services act. The State provides a bookmobile, books and a staff to carry out the function for a one year demonstration. Seagraves will furnish the headquarters house and cost of utilities.

A definite schedule for stops for loan service and regulations for use of the books will be published soon.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Sen. Lyndon Johnson

Dear Friend:

This Nation faces the problem of cutting Government expenditures in the face of an exploding population.

Basically, the Nation's needs are multiplying faster than the replacements. Those of you facing the problem of buying clothing for growing school-age children know exactly what that means. What is bought today threatens to be too small tomorrow.

Housewives can picture the problem of setting an additional 8,000 places at the dinner table every night. That's what's happening over the Nation. Day in and day out, we're gaining almost 8,000 more persons than we had the day before. One more person is being added to the population about every 12 seconds. We're gaining at the rate of 7,855 a day . . . and the average is 2,864,000 a year.

That's how fast this Nation is growing.

And all of this growth creates new demands. There is demand for more homes, more schools, more churches, more hospitals. There is increased need in the broad fields of health, transportation, education, finance and welfare. All this places increased demands on both government and business.

There is also another important fact we need remember:

There are now in this Nation more than 14,000,000 men and women 65 or older. And this number is increasing at the rate of more than 400,000 a year. The majority of these people are no longer working. But here is a great reservoir of mature talent, experience and know-how. I wonder if this isn't a tremendous resource now being wasted.

This situation spells out both problems and opportunities. It means that in our search for the right road to economy, we must avoid short-cuts that could lead to national stagnation. We must recognize that this is a dynamic period of expanding needs as well as changing times.

Our job is to economize, to cut expenditures where spending can be cut. But in doing that, we must balance the tremendous needs of today against the known demands of tomorrow. That is the goal I expect the Senate in this session to achieve.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jo Parker of Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hobbs on Sunday. Their children, Danny Joe and Susie remained for a visit with their grandparents.

State Line HD club plans chili supper March 20

The State Line Home Demonstration Club met in regular session in the home of Mrs. Frank Spencer, Thursday afternoon, March 12 with club president, Mrs. Alton Billings presiding. Roll call was answered by "What I Do To Care For My Clothes."

Mrs. Hayden Box gave the Council report and distributed pamphlets concerning questions and answers about the bill on legal rights of women. The club voted to support the bill concerning enriched corn meal and grits.

The club will have a chili supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Box Friday night, March 20, at 8:00. Each couple will pay fifty cents and the children will eat free. It is hoped a large number will attend.

Mrs. White gave an excellent demonstration on putting in zippers and making belts and buckles. Such things make the home made garment look professionally made.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Alton Billings, Thursday, March 26. The demonstration will be "Making Seed and Spice Pictures". Those planning to make pictures are asked to bring clear glue, tweezers, all kinds of seeds and spices. Sandpaper was bought by the club. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

Ritz crackers with cheese spread, cookies and punch were served following the recreation period led by the hostess. Those attending were: Mesdames R.G. Hartman, Hayden, Tom and Lee Roy Box, Alton Billings, Ira Tidwell, Terry Bacon, Loren Gayle, Bobby White and the hostess.

Navy offers new openings for youth

Clifford W. Wood, GMI USN, reports the Navy recruiting service has opened its fields for high school or equivalent for this month.

"What does that actually mean", he asked. "Well, if you are a high school graduate and have a diploma and pass the exam you can be directed into a field of your choice."

These fields, he said, are aviation, electronics, high school seaman, hospitalman and nuclear power.

Woods reports that he will be at the Denver City post office each Tuesday morning, or he can be contacted at Room 206, Post Office Building, Lubbock.

THE LAST SUPPER

What a significant meal for these twelve men! What a privilege to be in such high company! They were chosen to carry on God's work and to help bring in His kingdom. Can we hear him say, as Dr. Gordon did, "I have no other plan, gentlemen, I am depending on you." Imagine the seriousness of the situation. Jesus was through. Tomorrow He would die on the Cross. These twelve imperfect men must carry on. One loved his money, one was afraid, two had unruly tempers, and the others sometimes ran away. But Jesus loved them and needed them as He needs you and me. His kingdom must come on earth. Thus, the Lord has no other plan but to count on you and me. The Last Supper has become a continuing supper. Churches call their members together about their Lord, and administer the ordinance, saying, "this do in remembrance of me."

A 'lark' which never ends

(Editor's Note: The following article, written by Wray Weddell, Jr., first appeared in the Austin - American Statesman. We are reprinting it here in agreement that "some things are so well said that they bear saying again.")

It's a quiet night and a carload of young boys are cruising the town in hopes of finding an antidote for boredom.

You'd call them "good kids"—no black marks against them on the sometimes rocky road from childhood to the teenage world. But what to do? No high school dances this night. Where's the thrill? No football game on tap.

Then comes tragedy. For a "lark", an automobile is stripped of hubcaps. And in that moment of absurd indiscretion a lifetime of regret may very well have been born.

Exaggeration? Not at all. It happens with sickening regularity in Austin and elsewhere.

The pity is that the youthful lark-seekers have committed a crime the consequences of which they haven't the foggiest notion. And the payoff for the theft is harsh and long lasting.

So here's a brief "snap" course on theft and its aftermath.

If it's just a "little" theft—stolen property being less than $5 in value—you land in Corporation Court. The minimum price there is $21—a $5 fine and $16 court cost. The maximum, including court cost, is $216.

Should you take something valued over $5 but less than $50, the judge of the County Court-at-Law will be looking down your throat. Minimum punishment in this court is a $31 fine and one day in jail. It can run as high as a full two years in the county lockup and a $500 fine.

If the product of your thievery is $50 value or more you're in criminal district court. Sentences here can run from probation up to 10 years in prison.

For a first offender, with the minimums in force all along the line, it doesn't look too rough. But look beyond the courts for what a theft conviction does for you, and rely on County Attorney Tom Blackwell as the authority.

If you go into military service you can never be an officer no matter how sorely your talents in that line may be needed. The military isn't commissioning any convicted thieves.

You will be barred from many jobs which may be your heart's desire. This would include any job in which the employer requires that you be bonded, and there are many. Bonding companies won't put their money on a person with a theft conviction, even petty theft.

And then some day you may be called to testify in court—either a civil or criminal court. They can put a cloud on your testimony in a jiffy simply by pointing out that you were once convicted of theft.

Or, as the county attorney puts it, "The showing of a theft conviction is the type of evidence admissible for the purpose of impeaching the credibility of a witness". And this could be years and years later—long after you had forgotten that night of youthful lark hunting.

A lark? Looks more like a buzzard on your shoulder.

The airport grounds at Plains has been leased by the county to C. W. Kiser, it was learned this week, following action taken by the county commissioners.

According to reports, Kiser plans to inaugurate a crop spraying service, using the airport as the base for his operations.

During the commissioners meeting, bills against the county as presented by the auditor were approved for payment, and Yoakum County Hospital bills approved.

Reports of February were also approved of the county clerk, sheriff, service officer, treasurer, auditor, and justice of peace of precinct No. 1. The report of the justice of the peace, Precinct No. 2, for January was also approved.

Report from Washington

by George Mahon

AGRICULTURE: On March 6, I joined a number of other Members of Congress in urging the Secretary of Agriculture to reconsider his action in slashing milo supports. We pointed out that the 31 cents per 100 pounds cut in milo for 1959 was all out of proportion to the support price for corn and that the heavy reduction would be disastrous to many grain sorghum growers.

We called Mr. Benson's attention to the fact that milo was corn and that the law requires that relative feed values should be considered in fixing feed grain supports. Mr. Benson pointed out that under the law he has the authority to consider other factors. He gave the group no encouragement. The next move will be a hearing on the problem by the House Agriculture Committee on March 13th.

NATIONAL DEFENSE: We are in the seventh week of hearings on the President's defense budget. Scores of witnesses have testified. From the facts presented, it is clear that the U.S. in the over-all, is militarily stronger than Russia. It is also clear that we are behind in the vital field of long-range ballistic missiles.

In the intercontinental ballistic missile race it is estimated that we will lag behind Russia through 1963. When we consider that the ICBM is, no doubt, to become the major weapon of the future, we cannot regard this second place role without concern. We are now giving much consideration to the problem of how to close the missile gap.

The situation is disturbing, but we must bear in mind that our bomber striking power is still quite capable of destroying Russia. In fact, each side is becoming increasingly more capable of destroying the other. This points up the urgent necessity for a genuine settlement of major international problems.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: Most Democrats and Republicans alike view the illness of Secretary Dulles as a serious blow to the country at this critical point in our foreign relations. No one is equipped to step immediately into Mr. Dulles' shoes. There is full agreement that we must stand firm in the presence of danger in the Berlin crisis. But more is required than determination. There must be day-to-day planning and decisions. The President is doing the best he can to meet a difficult situation. It is certain that he will be fully supported by Congress.

The Berlin controversy has become increasingly more serious in recent weeks as a result of Khrushchev's further demands and maneuvers. He appears determined to try to kick the Western powers out of Berlin. It is thought that he will stop short of war, but miscalculations in an atmosphere of threat and bluster constitute a real danger of a shooting war.

SPENDING: The President recently submitted a balanced budget for the coming fiscal year, but the balance hinges on some important "ifs." For example, the budget as presented would be thrown off balance if Congress, as now appears likely, refuses to raise the gasoline tax by 1 1/2 cents per gallon or rejects the increase in the first-class postage rate from 4c to 5c. Also, there are indications that the President's revenue estimates are unduly optimistic.

The controversy between the President and Congress over who is the chief culprit in big spending focuses public attention on a very vital issue. The unassailable truth, based on official Executive figures, is that the President has requested considerably more spending authority since he has been in office than Congress has provided. Had Congress followed the recommendations of the President, the Executive branch would have spent, or had on hand to spend, large additional sums.

I believe that Congress will moderately increase the President's defense budget, but I hope the over-all budget can be kept in balance. The government departments may spend money as a result of direct appropriations by Congress, or as a result of authority granted by Congress to withdraw funds from the Treasury without consideration by the Appropriations Committee, a system known as the "back-door" method. I am supporting legislation to block the back-door method. During the last two years, Congress cut the President's requested spending authority in appropriation bills by about $5 billion, but increased sums requested through the so-called back-door method by about $2 billion. If all spending authority were channeled through the Appropriations Committee of Congress, the Congress and the country could more easily keep tab on government spending and the pressures for economy would be greater.

TRENDS IN STYLING, FABRIC AND COLOR IN WOMEN'S SHOES and Handbags— Spring and Summer, 1959.

Although the pointed toe continues to predominate, the most exciting news coming in is the oval toe. This shoe is slender thin in profile and gently rounded at the toe.

In general toes are tapered but not needle-pointed. One manufacturer has developed an "ultra-new, squared-off toe". This shoe is a slim streak with the very tip of the toe squared-off.

Pumps and T-sandals with a light open look with cut-away sides and vamps are favorites. Heels are slender high, oval, and mid-high.

As always for spring and summer, patent is popular. The outlook is for patent as a year round shoe leather. A sensational new crack-resistant finish for patent leather has been developed. This improved leather has a deeper luster and can be washed with soap and water without harmful effect.

Shoes are offered in brocade, embroidered crepe, linen, and satins and other fabrics. A high note is to have a fabric shoe dyed to match the dress or suit.

If you are partying in a basic color, your shoes might provide a dramatic accent to your outfit. For the suit and for casual wear, look for the clean-cut modified toe and heel.

The handbags which you carry this spring will have a lady-like look. It has been scaled down in size.

The silhouette for handbags will vary from long and slim, both vertical and horizontal, to small and pouchy. There will be soft gathers, contoured corners and a generally flattened silhouette. This does not mean that those wonderful big handbags for travel are out. But even though they have taken on a new appearance of slim flatness, they hold as much as they ever did.

Decoration is held to a minimum. Where it does appear it serves a purpose. Eyecatching treatments are achieved through draping, seaming or folding of the leather.

As always, black, navy blue and brown are well chosen colors for handbags. Along with the basic colors will be found neutrals of bone and beige. For spring and summer many handbag manufacturer are concentrating on such colors as azalea, Paris pink, avocado and buttercup yellow.

Black patent leather is one of the leading materials for bags. Tanners have developed a new black patent that will neither crack nor scuff. Smooth calf will still be very popular. Other materials to be seen this spring and summer are grained calf, silky suede, textured straw, hopsacking and burlap.

Whatever you are looking for in accessories, it will pay you to check the new bulletin just issued by the Extension Service entitled "Accessories Around the Clock." This bulletin is available in the home demonstration office.

Commissioners in meeting Monday

Members of the commissioner's court met Monday in special session, with Commissioners Vance Brown, Gene Payne and Clyde Trout present. County Judge Don Hancock presided.

On motion by Payne and second by Trout, it was voted that the assessor-collector's budget be amended in the amount of $1000 to allow for the employment of a deputy assessor, and the budget of the Yoakum County Hospital be amended in the amount of $10,000 to allow for the transfer of that amount from the general fund to the hospital fund.

It was authorized to pay Gene Kinder, contractor, $1038.95 for repair of the Denver City bathhouse at the swimming pool, following a motion by Payne and second by Trout.

The court, following a motion by Brown and second by Trout, approved the amendment of the Blue Cross-Blue Shield service administrative agreement. According to the amendment, all new members who make application through this insurance group, said application will be effective on the first of the month occurring 30 days following their employment. Yoakum County also agrees to the payment of dues from the effective date established in accordance with the above, including retroactive dues, if any.

Mrs. L. O. Heald and Mrs. S. Streetman visited relatives in Eunice and Jal, New Mexico Monday.

Income TAX FAX

You can deduct the medical expenses you paid in 1958.

All drugs and medicines purchased by you in excess of 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income are added to all other medical expenses paid by you and the amount by which this exceeds 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income is deductible on page two of the tax return. If you are 65 or over and the expenses are for you or your spouse, the 3 per cent provision does not apply to you.

The deduction is subject to limitations of $2,500 per exemption not counting the exemptions for old age and blindness, and subject to the following further limitations, unless you are over 65 and disabled then "D" applies:

- A. $5,000 if the taxpayer is single and not a head of household or a qualifying surviving widow or widower.
- B. $5,000 if the taxpayer is married and files a separate return.
- C. $10,000 if the taxpayer files a joint return, or is a head of household or a qualifying widow or widower.
- D. 15,000 of you or your spouse are over 65 years of age and disabled or $30,000 if you and your spouse are both over 65 years of age and are both disabled. You are disabled if you are unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration.

You can deduct any sums that you spent for . . . the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease (or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance), or for transportation primarily for and essential to medical care . . .

Deductible as medical expenses are your costs for drugs and medicines to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income, costs of travel, transportation, rental of special sickroom equipment, etc., as well as *doctor's bills, nurses, hospital costs and other expenses directly connected with your illness or accident.

These costs can be for yourself or any of your dependents. The dependent does not have to have been your dependent at the time that the costs were incurred, but must be your dependent at the time they were paid. You can deduct medical costs you paid for a dependent even though you may not be able to claim the dependent as a tax exemption.

For instance: you help support your mother who worked part time and made over $600. Because she made over $600 you cannot claim her as a dependent. However, if you furnish over one-half of her support, you can still deduct the medical costs you paid for her. It does not matter when these costs were incurred. They are deductible in the year paid. You cannot deduct costs that you owe. They must be paid to get the deduction.

If part of your medical costs were reimbursed; that is, if your insurance company paid a part of them, then you can deduct only the part you actually paid and that was not reimbursed to you.

Many vehicles in county still not safety inspected

Only 45 per cent of the vehicles registered in Region No. 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety have been safety inspected for 1959, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspector Supervisor in this Region.

With slightly less than one month separating them from the April 15 deadline, 236,679 motorists of the sixty-county Region still have not obtained their stickers which have been available at inspection stations for several months.

"This number includes about 3037 vehicles in Yoakum County where there are six inspection stations to do the work," said Captain Johnson.

Many motorists are going to find long lines awaiting them as the deadline rolls nearer as the inspections will not be able to cope with the usual last minute rush.

He added, "It is as much a violation to display an old sticker as not to have one at all."

The Captain pointed out that the law provides a fine of from one dollar to two hundred dollars plus court costs for operating a vehicle registered in Texas without the current inspection sticker.

it should be applied before the crop is planted or very soon after it comes up.

In sandy soils, it is usually best to apply some nitrogen before planting and some as a side dressing. None of the nitrogen should be applied late on any of the soils because this tends to make the crop continue to grow too late thus delaying maturity.

Phosphorus in most fertilizers is lazy or slow to dissolve and does not move about much in the soil, thus slowing the availability. It pretty well stays where it is put so normally should be put well down in the soil before planting in order to get the most from it.

There is a water soluble type of phosphorus like Mathieson's Ammo-Phos, for example, (also manufactured by some other companies) that is immediately available and stays available longer than the ordinary phosphates used in most other mixed fertilizers. This water soluble type of phosphorus can be used very effectively as a side dressing, but should be put out as soon as practical after the crop has come up, because the little plant needs plenty of phosphorus available to it from the beginning.

Potash in its speed of action and movement fits in between nitrogen and phosphorus, since it is not as fast as nitrogen yet is available quicker than phosphates and moves more in the soil than phosphates.

Since fertilizer is food for the plants, it should be applied at such a place and in such a manner to enable the crop to get the most from it. This means that some of the nitrogen and all of the phosphorus should be placed near the seed and in a band, due to the need of both by the plant in early life.

There is another very important reason for banding the phosphate fertilizer, at the very best the plant or crop will not get over one-third of the phosphorus that is applied back in the first year's crop, and often gets much less.

The soils in this area contain an abundance of lime and this lime combines with the phosphate and makes it less available. When the phosphate is put out in a band it comes in contact with less soil and therefore less lime, and consequently stays available longer. He pointed out that this water soluble phosphate contains less lime in it, thus becoming available quicker and stays available longer than phosphates used in most mixed fertilizers.

Potash, normally, should be put out before or soon after planting in order to get the most benefit from it.

Dr. Miles' final analysis, "Fertilizers are used to make money and it is a proven fact that the right kind and proper amounts used will and has paid good dividends."

Following Dr. Miles well-received talk, coffee and doughnuts were served by the host, Mr. Winkles.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

by LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

Next Monday night will be the annual meeting of the membership of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agricultural Improvement Association. This organization is doing a great deal for the youth of the county. It sponsors the Junior Fat Stock Show each year which provides a place for the boys and girls to exhibit and sell their livestock. In 1959 they added to the junior show by having the first beef cattle breeders show for adults.

The breeders show allows those men who are producing registered beef cattle to compare their animals against those of the other breeders. It is a yard stick for measuring their progress. It is a starting point for those who desire fit and show their cattle in other shows or sales. I feel that the breeders show was one of the things that was needed to go along with the Junior Show.

The Junior Fat Stock Show and sale is a means of creating more interest among the young livestock feeders. The show and the sale is the climax of the year's work for them. The beef calf feeders have worked for ten or eleven months getting their animals ready for the one big day. Some of the lamb feeders care for their animals for eight months before the show and the pig feeders usually keep their animals about four months. During this time they learn many things. They learn some of the finer points of feeding and fitting. They learn a great deal about rations, disease and parasite control and, most of all, they learn that regularity and work are important in building a champion.

Before a person can become a successful livestock man he must have a natural love for livestock. It is hard for any modern young man to develop a love for livestock when he is reared on a farm that produces cotton and grain sorghums for the local market. In order to get this young man to feed his home grown feed to livestock when he gets to be a farmer, the love for livestock must be developed within him while he is quite young. It often takes ten years of feeding different animals before a youngster can really make up his mind about what he likes to do best. He may begin by feeding pigs for two or three years and then switch to beef calf feeding. He may follow that for several years before he ever tries to feed lambs. It could be that he could learn that he was better suited to lamb feeding than either pigs or cattle. He could be one of those few who make a success of commercial lamb feeding.

Certainly he could not handle them in the same manner that he did his club lambs but he would have all the essentials of commercial feeding plus the finer points of feeding and fitting for show. This knowledge would come in handy if he decided to become a registered sheep breeder and had to advertise his animals in shows and sales. The same would apply to any of the other farm animals.

Men who are past forty years of age were more than likely stock but the present generation of young people have little opportunity to learn about livestock unless they are in a program such as the 4-H club feeding program. The feeding program in any county will be no better than the organization which sponsors it and helps it along. In our case, that organization is the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association which has its annual meeting next Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvel Snodgrass and family of Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Snodgrass and family of Tokio, and Mr. and Mrs. Hank Goehry and children of this city were guests of the ladies parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cheek, Sunday. Also calling in the Cheek home were Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Smith.

Patrol checks one rural accident during February

The rural traffic accidents summary for Yoakum County for the month of February 1959 was released today by Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

The Highway Patrol investigated a total of one accident of which there was no property damage, one personal injury, and no fatal accidents.

The sergeant advised that too many look upon driving as a thing apart—something divorced from the code of morality which governs the other activities of their lives. The result of this split thinking is a staggering annual traffic toll.

To reduce the death rate during 1959, the Sergeant stressed the necessity for drivers, as well as pedestrians, to maintain vigilance and observe the lifesaving rules of the road. He urged greater compliance with the speeding and driving-while-intoxicated laws, pointing out that in 1958 these were prime factors in traffic accidents.
